

Chapter 61 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

We were back at Julian's pack and had a plan in place to get into the warehouse and take over. We don't know who is there, but I am hopeful that Robert will be. We are so ready to kill him and start our life. Leah was a great help, and we were able to get a good feel for the layout, but she didn't know what happened in some of the rooms.

"Princess, are you ready for dinner?" Colt asked me walking into the bathroom.

"Yes. I was just running a brush through my hair." I told him.

"OK, good because it's already started Julian's pack has tried to make tonight special since we don't know what tomorrow will bring."

"Well, we better go then."

We headed downstairs to where they had set up a huge BBQ for everyone and had a bonfire going as well. When we got down there it was in full swing. All of Julian's pack was here along with everyone we brought with us and the people from the academy. Alpha Jake was also here to help and brought warriors and the council was also here, but they wouldn't be going with us tomorrow but wanted to be here just in case.

"Let's fix our plates and find a place to sit down," Colt said.

I just nodded my head at him and followed him to the buffet they had set up. I didn't feel like eating. I was too nervous for tomorrow. I did a few things on my plate but not much. We found a seat by Julian and sat down.

"Princess, do you want a drink?" Colt asked me.

"Yes please."

He got up and went to get a drink while I pushed the food around. The more I looked at it the less I wanted to eat. Colt came back and placed a cup in front of me. I picked it up and the smell of the beer he gave made my stomach roll. I placed the cup down and took a few deep breaths trying to get my stomach to calm down, but it wasn't working.

I got up and ran to the bathroom and emptied the contents of my stomach and when I opened the stall door Colt was standing there waiting for me. I walked to the sink and rinsed my mouth out and washed my face.

“Princess, are you ok?”

“Yes, I think I am nervous about tomorrow,” I told him.

“OK let’s go back to the BBQ,” Colt said.

“Actually, I think I am going to lay down for a bit. You go back and eat, and I will see you when you come up.” I told him.

“I will come up with you.” He told me.

“I am ok, I am just nervous. Please go eat and I will see you when you come up.”

“OK, I love you and tomorrow will go just fine.” He told me and kissed my cheek.

I walked up to our room still not feeling amazing and I really just needed to lay down for a bit. I made it up to our room and laid down on the bed, but it didn’t last long as I was ready to throw up again. I ran to the bathroom and kept puking until I had nothing left in me. Once I felt like I wasn’t going to puke anymore I cleaned up and crawled into bed and closed my eyes. Sleep came easy.

“Princess wake up, you're having a nightmare.” Colt was saying and shaking me.

I finally woke up enough and looked at him. I could feel my face was wet from crying. I had the same dream I always did about Robert.

"I'm sorry. Every time I have to face him or anything to do with him I always have the same stupid nightmare."

"Princess it's ok and you know you can talk about it with me."

"I don't like talking about it."

He just pulled me into his arms and held me. I noticed he was still dressed.

"Are you just getting in from the BBQ?" I asked him.

"You've only been gone for an hour. I just wanted to check on you. Do you want something to eat?" He asked me.

"No, I just want to lay here."

"There's something I want to ask you," Colt said as he sat us up.

"Of course, you can ask me anything."

"Will you officially be my Luna? I want you to have a ceremony and everything you've ever wanted."

I knew I was supposed to be his Luna and it makes me so happy that he really wants me, but part of me says no because I am not a Luna, I am an Alpha. There was a time not that long ago that I would have been honored and I am but I have learned so much about myself and who I am capable of being and I was born to be an Alpha and this was something that him and I would have to work out.

"Colt, I love you so much but I don't know that I am cut out to be a Luna. I am a female Alpha and it's in my blood to be an Alpha." I told him. I was trying to be truthful and not hurt him but I could tell instantly that it did.

He got out of bed and headed for the door.

"Colt wait, you're taking this wrong. Will you please just listen to me?"

"Listen to what, that you don't me or my pack. That you're just using us to kill Robert." He screamed at me and stormed out the door.

I just laid down and started crying. He took that wrong because I did want him and his pack so much.

"Colt, please come back and talk to me. That's not how I meant it." I tried to mind link him but he put up a block.

I got up and threw on some leggings and headed back downstairs to find him but he was no where down there. I spotted Julian and walked over to him.

"Did you see where Colter went?" I asked him.

"No, I haven't seen him for a while."

"If you see him will you tell him I am looking for him."

I walked away from the BBQ and headed to the tree line looking for him.

"Girls, lets shift and one of you can go look for him. I can smell him out here." I linked both my wolves.

"No can do! Have you not figured it out yet?" Jade linked me.

"No, why can't we shift?" I asked really confused.

"For someone so smart sometimes you can be dumb. You're pregnant dummy. Why do you think you were puking earlier. It's very early but you are growing a pup." Storm linked me back.

"What no I am birth control."

"Well apparently it didn't work." Jade linked back.

I continued to walk deeper into the forest looking for Colt. I could smell him, he had been this way but he had to be so far ahead of me since he was in wolf form. I had to tell him. I didn't know how he is going to react since we haven't talk about this. I mean it was something I wanted but in the future. I had walked further and further into the forest following his scent but had yet to find him. So I thought I better turn around before I get lost.

I was walking back to the pack house when someone literally dropped down from a tree in front of me, scaring the crap out of me. I jumped back and into a fighting stance.

"Who are you?" I asked them.

"You must be the almighty female Alpha." This man said. As soon as he spoke it dawned on me what he was. A disgusting blood sucker.

"What do you want?" I said trying to sound confident.

"Well you. Did you know there is a price on your head?" He said.

"Let me guess, Robert is paying for my return."

"Well at least you are semi smart. He wants you back dead or alive and you smell so good I don't know if I will be able to resist you but the money will be nice. Maybe I will have a snack and then return you to him."

"Colt, can you hear me. Please take your block down. There is a vampire in the woods, it's just him and I and I don't know if I can over power him." I mind linked Colter but I was met with a block still.

"Julian, I am in the woods with a vampire. I don't know if I can over power him and I can't shift. Please hurry up." I mind linked him. I was never so thankful than I am now to somehow have to power to mind link anyone.

"Where are you?" Julian linked back.

"I don't know but hurry." I sent back.

"Stop your stupid mind linking. They will never get here in time." He said as he pounced at me.

I was able to side step him but he was fast. He jumped up and I couldn't tell where he went so I started running towards the pack house but he caught me quickly and jumped on my back.

"You smell so sweet. I must have a taste before we leave."

Before I could say anything he sank his teeth into my neck. I tried to push him off but he was so strong and I was feeling my strength go down. It was getting harder and harder to fight him. I was starting to see black spots when he finally pulled back.

"Perfect, now you're weak enough that you won't fight me. Let's go before your dumb mutts show up."

He placed his arms under me picking me up and took off at a speed I didn't know was possible. Between the blood loss and the speed he was moving I was getting dizzy and wanting to throw up. I had to close my eyes and concentrate on not throwing up. I couldn't move my body it was so weak.

"Girls protect our pup, don't worry about me. Just protect the pup please." I linked both my wolves.

"We will protect you both." Jade linked back.

I let the blackness take over as I kept feeling worse and worse. I woke up when this blood sucker dumped me on the floor and walked out of the room.

"Girls where are we?" I linked both my wolves but got no reply from either of them. I thought it was weird because he didn't inject us with anything to weaken them.

The door to my room was thrown open and in walked Robert. The man disgusted me. I couldn't wait to kill him and I guess it was going to be sooner rather than later.

"Well if it isn't the bitch off spring that my stupid wife had." He spat at me.

"What are you doing? Why are you doing all of this?" I asked him.

"Because I want to rule all of the super natural world and I am getting close with the army I have created. I have created hybrids and am working on a tribrid. They will be the perfect combination."

"Are you nuts? Why would you do that?"

"No dear I just want to rule the world and nothing will stop me." He said as he smiled at me sadistically.

I knew this man was capable of doing anything and he will not hesitate to kill me.

"What do you want from me?" I asked him.

"You cost me a lot of money and my pack. Now you're going to pay for that."

As soon as he said that he lunged at me and landed on top of me as he wrapped his hands around my throat. I didn't have the strength to fight him off thanks to that blood sucker. Robert leaned down and sniffed me.

"Oh god, your let him get you pregnant?" He asked me as he let go of my throat enough so I could speak.

"Yes, by my mate."

He let go of my throat completely and grabbed my hair and started to drag me out of the room we were in. I was trying to get my feet under me but he was moving too fast.

"Where are you taking me?"

"Shut up bitch, you are in no place to question me. If you would have just shown up that day like you were supposed to then you wouldn't be in this predicament."

He pulled me until we where in another room that had a bed in it but nothing else. He threw me in there and left and slammed the door. I tried to reach out to my wolves but they weren't there. I walked over to the bed and sat down on it trying to figure out what I was going to do, when the door flew open again but this time two large men that walked in and came straight at me. I jumped up and waited for one to get close enough and I would attack.

As soon as the first one was close enough I jumped up and hit him directly in the face but it didn't seem to bother him at all but I am pretty sure that my hand is broken.

"You're a fiesty one aren't you." He said to me as he laughed.

The other one came at me but I didn't want to break my other hand on his face either so I just backed up into the corer with nothing else to do. I stood there cradling my hand waiting to see what they were going to do.

"You will be fun to teach a lesson to. How long will it take to break her Jack?" The first man asked the other man.

"Not long." He replied.

They both grabbed an arm and it was all I could do not to scream about my broken hand. The dragged me out and down a hall into another room. Once in the room they tied my hands above my head and both of them stood back and looked at me.

"Were supposed to teach you a lesson about following orders. Most people around here that don't follow orders are just killed so I don't know what you've done to Alpha Robert but he said don't kill you yet."

As soon as he said that the other guy had a whip and started to use it on my back. I wasn't going to scream though. I don't know how long he used that because eventually I started seeing black spots and I welcomed the darkness that took over.

It didn't last long though because they threw water on my face.

"You know you guys are as good as dead." I yelled at them.

They didn't reply but one came over and punched me in the face several times.

"That should shut her up," one of them said.

"You guys are disgusting you know that. You had to tie me up to beat me. Didn't even give me a fair chance."

"Life's not fair and trust me Robert told us that your carrying a pup and he wants it gone. He wants you to lose everything like you caused him what he wanted."

Crap they know about the pregnancy. I had to do something but couldn't. They had my hands tied with silver and my wolves were gone. I was basically human.

A punch to the stomach brought me out of my thoughts. I couldn't stop them but I wouldn't scream or cry. I would let give them that satisfaction.

I spit some blood on the floor and they both looked up to me with their eyes glowing red.

"She smells pretty sweet. Maybe we should have a taste." One of them said.

They both came over and started to bite me. It burned everywhere they sank their teeth into me. I could feel myself losing consciousness again. I welcomed the blackness again.

I felt like I was having an out-of-body experience. I could see what they were doing to me but I couldn't feel it anymore. They were delivering blows to my stomach and face. I could see the blood start to run down my legs and soaking through my pants now. I knew at this moment that they had accomplished what they came for.

Chapter 61

Chapter 62 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

I stormed out of our room after what Alexa said. It just hurt so much that she didn't want to be our Luna because she was a female Alpha. I get it I do but it's our ego she hurt. I don't know what we're going to do because we are marked and mated, and she doesn't want to be our Luna. Didn't she understand that when she let me mark her?

I made it outside to the tree line and let Grey take control. We were running as hard as we could through the forest. I don't know how far back we were, but I felt Alexa trying to mind-link me. I quickly put up a block. I didn't want to say something I would regret right now. We just kept going deeper and deeper. I felt her try to come through again later and I kept my block up.

Finally, we slowed down a little and found a little clearing and Grey laid down. He was panting hard from running so hard for so long.

"Colter, where are you? We got a mind link from Alexa she has been taken by a vampire," Mac mind linked me.

"What are you talking about?" I linked him back.

"She sent a link to Julian a little bit ago and said that she was being taken by a vampire and she couldn't shift or overpower him."

My heart literally stopped thinking how she was trying to send me a link and I had her blocked because of my stupid ego. She needed me and I wasn't there. Grey let out a loud howl and took off running toward the pack house. We were so far back here that it was going to take me a little bit to get there. Grey ran as hard as he could the entire way.

I got back to the tree line and found Julian, Mac, and Luca walking back out of the trees as well. I shifted and ran to them.

"Where is she?" I said panting.

"We are guessing the warehouse. I have trackers out on her scent. We're going to get the team together and head out." Julian said.

We went back to the house, and I ran up to our room and threw on my clothes, and ran back downstairs. People were running around trying to get things together so we could leave. I wasn't waiting though.

"Mac let's go. We will take my truck and meet everyone there." I told him and Julian.

"Colt, you have to wait fifteen minutes and we will roll out. Don't rush this or you guys will get hurt as well." Julian said.

“You better make it ten and then I am leaving,” I growled at him.

I took off to my truck to wait for them. Mac followed me out.

“Colt man wait up. You need to calm down and keep a level head.” He said to me.

I ignored him and got to my truck and started it. I would be leaving in ten minutes with or without them. I still didn't answer Mac and kept wringing my hands over the steering wheel. Finally Julian and everyone else started filing out of the house and I took off tearing through the driveway. It was at least an hour's drive to get there.

“Mac she has to be ok. It's my fault she was taken. She was out there looking for me and I ignored her mind links. She has to be ok.” I finally told him.

“She will be ok, she is the strongest woman I have ever met,” Mac said.

It was quiet the rest of the way to the warehouse. I pulled in a little bit back from the warehouse and turned the truck off and jumped out. It didn't take long for everyone else to get set up. The original plan was to gas the place and then go in but with Alexa, in there I couldn't do that.

“We are just going to have to storm the place. We can't gas it with Alexa in there.” I told them.

He just nodded and started to bark out instructions to everyone.

“Mac you're with me. We go in killing anyone in our way and find Alexa.” I told him.

Everyone got into position, and we stormed into the building. We got in with no problems and the first thing we saw were people in cages, they didn't discriminate against age either. There were children and old people and multiple people in each cage. People were walking around in white coats and others with guns. Mass chaos started. Bullets went flying and people were running around. Mac and I ignored them and started searching each room looking for her. We had gone through three rooms and still no sign of her.

“Mac, where is she?” I growled out. I knew he didn't know but I was just trying to hold in my rage.

“She is here man, she has to be.” He said.

We kept going through rooms and so far they had all been empty.

“Mac split up it will go faster,” I told him.

He went down a different hallway than I did, and we kept going through rooms. I could hear fighting going on in the main room, but I couldn't be distracted by that.

“Colt, I found her, hurry there are two vamps in here with her.”

I ran in the direction that he took off and finally found them. The sight before me was sickening. They had Alexa strung up by her arms and her body was bloody and full of whip marks, her face was swollen and black and blue. I could also see bite marks all over her body. She had a steady stream of blood running down her legs as well.

I ran and jumped at one of the vamps that were attacking Mac and knocked him off. We went tumbling to the ground and started to fight. I had to get my teeth into his neck and rip it out in order to kill him. I heard a few more people coming on our way. A few warriors appeared in the doorway and jumped in to help. As soon as they took over, I ran to Alexa who was mumbling something, but she was so out of it that she wasn't making sense. I went to her and tried to free her arms, but the chains were silver and locked with a key.

"Look for a key, I need it to free her arms," I yelled out and lifted Alexa, so her arms weren't bearing the weight of her. As soon as I lifted her, she started thrashing in my arms.

"Princess it's ok, I am here. They aren't going to hurt you anymore."

She calmed down a little and I continued to hold her until someone came up with a key. A warrior is the one who came in with it and freed her arms for me and that's when I saw how mangled her arm was. It was broken in several places, and she wasn't healing but that is from the vampire bites. It weakens our wolves for a few days, and she had them all over her.

I ran out of the warehouse with her and it looked like they had a handle on things in here. When I got out of the building people were standing around. I ran to an open SUV and put Alexa in the back and a couple of the people that were standing out there came running behind us.

"Get back" I growled at them.

"Sir, we are pack doctors and here to help." One of them said.

They started working on her. Hooking up an IV and doing other things. She started to mumble again, and I got down by her head.

"Princess it's ok, the doctors are helping you."

"The pup. Save it." She mumbled.

"What pup princess?" I asked her and as soon as she said those words her smell hit me. I was too worked up earlier to realize it but she was pregnant.

"She is pregnant. You are dealing with two lives and not one."

"We need to leave she needs the hospital." One of them yelled out.

Someone got in the front and started the car, and I crawled in the back with her and just held her the best I could without causing her any pain. It was the longest drive of my life. I knew whoever was driving was going well above the speed limit, but it wasn't fast enough.

"Princess just hang on for a while we will be there soon, and you will be all better."

"I'm sorry Colt. I want to be yours always and forever." She managed to get out, but it was with difficulty and her breathing was rapid when trying to speak.

"Princess, I know. Just rest, I am not leaving your side. I love you."

We finally arrived at the pack hospital, and she was unconscious at this time. I carefully picked her up and placed her on the gurney that was brought out to the car, and they quickly took her behind doors that I couldn't go. I walked to the waiting room and sat down but it didn't last long. I walked back to the doors that they took her behind and just paced back and forth.

Grey was close to pushing forward and finding her. I had to keep pushing him back. More people started to show up and it was a zoo. People running everywhere and yelling. Finally, I spotted Mac who came running over to me.

"How is she?" He asked.

"I don't know they took her back there as soon as we got here, and I haven't seen her since."

"She is strong she will be ok." He said.

"What happened at the warehouse? Did you guys find Robert?" I asked him.

"No, he was long gone by the time we got there. We lost a few warriors and have some that were hurt but there were so many people in cages that needed medical care. They are being brought here. There are so many that were injected with wolf or vampire venom or both. It's bad."

I was going to kill that man slowly and painfully when I got my hands on him.

"Sir, I have an update on your mate." A doctor that had walked over to me said snapping me out of my thoughts.

"She is in surgery but should be out soon. They had to fix her arm and also some internal bleeding. She is going to be very slow to heal because of the vampire bites and we don't know if any venom got into her system yet only time will tell."

"And the pup?" I asked.

"Sir I am sorry I am not aware of a pup or its condition." He said.

I grabbed him around the collar and threw him up against the wall.

“She is pregnant. I want to know how my pup is. You have about five seconds to find out.” I growled at him.

Mac came over and placed his hands on my shoulders trying to pull me away from this idiot doctor.

“Let this man do his job Alpha. You have to let him go.”

I finally backed off and let him go. He had pure terror on his face, but he quickly ran behind the doors and disappeared again. I started to punch the wall where he had been standing, and Mac just stood back and let me. I needed some way to get some anger out right now before I snapped the head off someone.

“Alpha, get a hold of yourself. Alexa is going to need you. Let's go sit down and wait.” Mac said.

We walked over to the chairs and sat down and that's when all my emotions hit me. This was my fault. If I wouldn't have left her in the room or if I had let her mind links go through, I could have gone back sooner so she wouldn't have gone out there. I don't know how long we sat there when another doctor walked out and walked over to us.

“Sir, your mate is out of surgery and in her own room. If you follow me, I will take you there.” She said.

Mac and I got up and followed her to a room that was up two flights of stairs and down several hallways. The doctor opened the door and as soon as I saw her my heart broke all over again. She was lying here because of me. She was broken because of me. I was stupid and thought she didn't want me, but she just wanted to be what she was born to be. I would let her do what she needed or wanted to after she was better.

I walked over to her bed and leaned down and kissed her head and grabbed her hand and just stood there holding it for a minute. Someone pushed a chair up behind me and I sat down.

“Tell me what all those filthy bloodsuckers did to her,” I asked.

“Sir, she has extensive whip marks all over her body, along with internal injuries from beating her, she is also covered in vampire bites. We don't know if they released any venom. She also lost a lot of blood between the whipping and them feeding on her.”

“And the pup?” I already knew the answer, but I had to hear them say it or it wasn't true.

“I am sorry sir, but with the extent of her injuries, the pup was gone before she got here. We couldn't do anything to save it.”

I just laid my head down on her bed and started to cry. I could hear everyone leave the room. Grey was also in my head crying. We lost what we didn't even know we had until it was too late. I would never let this happen again and anyone who laid a hand on her will die by my hands.

Chapter 62

Chapter 63 - Alpha Alexa

Julian's POV

We took down everyone in the warehouse. We lost some warriors because of the guns but we quickly killed them and everyone else backed down fairly easily. Robert had a lot of humans doing experiments on people. It was a big mess. First thing we did was get any wolf who needed medical care transported to my pack's hospital. We then sorted through those that had been injected with venom and those who hadn't and those who had vampire venom and those that had both.

The entire council was here and helping us. They would be dealing with all of the aftermath and figuring out what to do with everyone. This warehouse had over one hundred prisoners. After two days of sorting through everything and trying to make sense of it, I went home along with Luca. I didn't know how anyone was. We made the drive home in silence. I knew we had people in our dungeons that needed to be dealt with and also needed to figure out where Roberts was and his other warehouses because according to some people, he had others.

We got home and I jumped out of the car and went up to find Nicki. I didn't have to look far because she was busy in the kitchen helping the cook.

"Hi, Angel."

She dropped what was in her hands and ran to me throwing her body at me and kissing me like she hadn't seen me in ages.

"I missed you so much. I was worried the whole time you were gone." She said between kisses.

"I missed you too, but this is going to be short, I have to check on everyone at the hospital and I need to talk with Colter and Alexa before we talk with the prisoners."

"Alexa isn't awake. She hasn't woken up since her surgery. I go every day and take Alpha Colter food, but he won't eat. He is a wreck."

I took a big breath. I knew she was hurt but I didn't know that it was that bad. I needed to get over there and check on my friend.

“Let’s go check on him and see if he is doing any better,” I told her putting her back down.

I grabbed her hand and we walked to the pack hospital. She took me right to her room. I knocked lightly and we both just walked in. Colt had his head on her bed, and you could tell that he was crying. Alexa looked bad. Like really bad. Her face was swollen to the point of being unrecognizable, she had bite marks all over her, her arms had a cast on it and who knows what else that I couldn’t see.

“Colt, how are things?” I asked getting his attention.

“She won’t wake up. I think I am losing her,” he said with a fresh set of tears coming down her face.

I walked over to the other chair and sat down and pulled Nicki down on my lap. I sat there and explained everything that had happened over the last two days while he was here.

“Let’s go. I need to get my hands on someone that is responsible for this.” Colter said.

“I will stay with Alexa, and let you know if she wakes up.” Nicki said.

We both got up and headed to the dungeon. When we got down there, I could smell the fear of everyone that had been locked up. We had humans down here as well since they were the ones performing the experiments. I walked to the cell of a werewolf who was captured and was in charge while Robert wasn’t there. Colt grabbed him by the neck and dragged him out of the cell and to the torture room.

I knew at this point he needed to do this his way and I had to stand back and watch. He threw the man in the chair but didn’t even bother to restrain him.

“If you try to fucking move, I will rip off your limbs one by one and I will enjoy it. Now tell me where Robert is.”

“I don’t know.”

“Wrong answer.” Colt said and he jumped on him starting to beat him.

After a few minutes he stepped back and was breathing hard. I wasn’t so sure if the wolf we had in here was breathing or not.

“Colt, we need to get information out these guys before we kill them.”

He just looked at me and took off out of the dungeons. I followed him out and told a guard to check on the man and if he was alive to put in back in his cell. I saw Colt out by the trees before he quickly shifted and took off running. I knew where he was at. I had been there when I lost my mate. He was losing control and he needed to be alone for a while. He would come back soon because he wouldn’t be away from Alexa very long.

I returned to the hospital to sit with Nicki until Colter returned. I walked back into the room and found Nicki holding Alexa's hand crying.

"Angel what's wrong?" I asked her.

"I am just so sad. She didn't deserve any of this. From what I remember of her, she has always been so kind." Nicki said.

"You are right, she has always been kind." I walked over to her and picked Nicki up and placed her in my lap while she sat there crying and holding Alexa's hand.

We just sat here waiting for Colt to come back. I was so tired that I fell asleep with Nicki on my lap. I woke up when Colter opened the door and came in. Nicki was asleep in my lap still holding Alexa's hand.

"Colt, why don't you go get a shower and some fresh clothes and we will stay here," I told him.

He just turned and left again. He wasn't gone long maybe twenty minutes but when he returned he came back looking a little better and smelling a whole lot better.

I picked Nicki up in my arms and turned to leave. She wiggled a little and snuggled closer to me as we left. I walked her back to the pack house and up to our room where I put her on the bed and she stayed asleep. I walked into the bathroom for a much needed shower. I turned the water on hot and stripped down and stepped under the water. It felt amazing. I let the hot water run down my body and wash away everything. I knew tomorrow was going to be another busy day with the council and I prayed that Alexa would wake up.

I finally got out of the shower and dried off and went to crawl into bed with Nicki. As soon as I got in bed she rolled right over to me and was laying on my chest. I wrapped my arms around her and was asleep.

I woke up to the sun shining through the windows and Nicki, not in bed. I rolled out of bed and went and got ready for the day. Once ready I went downstairs figuring she would be down there eating but I found her in the kitchen helping.

"Nicki, what are you doing?" I asked her.

"Oh good morning. I was helping with breakfast since we have extra people and they are doing so much cooking." She told me smiling.

"Well let me help you."

"Nonsense, you need to go out there since there are a few council members out in the dining hall." She told me.

"Then you need to come with me. Since you will be our Luna they will want to meet you." I told her smiling at her.

"OK, fine but when we're done I will come back and help." She handed the stuff in her hands to someone and walked over to me.

She had some flour on her face. It was cute. I used my thumb and wiped it off, earning me the biggest smile from my mate. I grabbed her hand as we headed towards the dining hall.

"Angel, you know we need to announce you to the pack soon, and we need to start planning your Luna ceremony," I told her.

"I really don't need a party." She said with a genuine smile on her face.

"It's tradition and besides once I call my parents they are going to want to come home and I promise my mom won't let you not have a party."

"Where are your parents?"

"They travel a lot. Once I took over, mom wanted to travel so they took off and come by every once in a while."

"That's so nice. I am sure they are having a wonderful time." She said.

We had made it to the dining hall. I could see a couple of the council members sitting down, so I led Nicki over to them and cleared my throat to get their attention.

"Good morning council, I wanted to introduce you to my mate and soon-to-be Luna, Nicki."

They all offered a round of congratulations and we sat down with them.

"Do you have any updates any things?" I asked them.

"Well, we have twenty wolves that hadn't been injected with anything yet so we are able to send them home. We have 32 humans that have been injected with both wolf venom and vampire venom, 17 wolves that have had vampire venom injected into them, and then 23 humans that have had wolf venom injected and another 28 humans that were injected with vampire venom."

"Were there any humans that weren't injected?" I asked them.

"Unfortunately not."

"Have you interviewed anyone being held in the dungeon yet?" I asked.

"No everyone needed some sleep."

"I will go down there today and start interviews," I told them.

"We figured as much. Is there any news on Alpha Alexa?" Another asked.

"No change as of right now."

The Omega's started to bring breakfast out and as soon as it was set up we all got up and fixed our plates. Nicki and I went and sat back down with the council and ate our breakfast. We all made small chit chat staying away from the topic of Robert.

Once done Nicki went back to the kitchen to keep helping and I went to my office to get started on the mountain of paper I had.

"Luca, my office." I sent him a mind link to come here.

It wasn't long before he knocked and came in.

"Hey, boss man, what's up?" He said as he came in and sat down.

"We need to go down to the dungeon and start interviews. You're coming with me. I just want to make sure that Colter doesn't want to come also."

"How is Alexa doing?"

"No change."

"Crap I was hoping she would be awake. She didn't deserve this." Luca said with a sad look on his face.

"I know but we can't do anything but pray to the moon goddess now."

"I need to talk with Lauren before we go down there," Luca said.

"Is everything ok with you guys?"

"Never better. She just wanted to do some shopping but with everything going on I don't want her to leave the pack house right now."

"I agree. Tell her once things settle down we will take her and Nicki shopping. I am sure Nicki could use some things. I took her from her house with a bag of clothes and she hasn't been back."

"Luna is great. She is always helping somewhere in the house. I saw her at the daycare a few days ago playing with the kids." Luca said.

"Really?"

"Ya, I think she spends a lot of time there actually."

We had never talked about having pups but if she wanted them I would put them inside of her as soon as I could. I want a big family. I was an only child and it got lonely sometimes.

Chapter 62

Chapter 64 - Alpha Alexa

Julian's POV

We took down everyone in the warehouse. We lost some warriors because of the guns but we quickly killed them and everyone else backed down fairly easily. Robert had a lot of humans doing experiments on people. It was a big mess. First thing we did was get any wolf who needed medical care transported to my pack's hospital. We then sorted through those that had been injected with venom and those who hadn't and those who had vampire venom and those that had both.

The entire council was here and helping us. They would be dealing with all of the aftermath and figuring out what to do with everyone. This warehouse had over one hundred prisoners. After two days of sorting through everything and trying to make sense of it, I went home along with Luca. I didn't know how anyone was. We made the drive home in silence. I knew we had people in our dungeons that needed to be dealt with and also needed to figure out where Roberts was and his other warehouses because according to some people, he had others.

We got home and I jumped out of the car and went up to find Nicki. I didn't have to look far because she was busy in the kitchen helping the cook.

"Hi, Angel."

She dropped what was in her hands and ran to me throwing her body at me and kissing me like she hadn't seen me in ages.

"I missed you so much. I was worried the whole time you were gone." She said between kisses.

"I missed you too, but this is going to be short, I have to check on everyone at the hospital and I need to talk with Colter and Alexa before we talk with the prisoners."

"Alexa isn't awake. She hasn't woken up since her surgery. I go every day and take Alpha Colter food, but he won't eat. He is a wreck."

I took a big breath. I knew she was hurt but I didn't know that it was that bad. I needed to get over there and check on my friend.

"Let's go check on him and see if he is doing any better," I told her putting her back down.

I grabbed her hand and we walked to the pack hospital. She took me right to her room. I knocked lightly and we both just walked in. Colt had his head on her bed, and you could tell that he was crying. Alexa looked bad. Like really bad. Her face was swollen to the point of being unrecognizable, she had bite marks all over her, her arms had a cast on it and who knows what else that I couldn't see.

"Colt, how are things?" I asked getting his attention.

"She won't wake up. I think I am losing her," he said with a fresh set of tears coming down her face.

I walked over to the other chair and sat down and pulled Nicki down on my lap. I sat there and explained everything that had happened over the last two days while he was here.

"Let's go. I need to get my hands on someone that is responsible for this." Colter said.

"I will stay with Alexa, and let you know if she wakes up." Nicki said.

We both got up and headed to the dungeon. When we got down there, I could smell the fear of everyone that had been locked up. We had humans down here as well since they were the ones performing the experiments. I walked to the cell of a werewolf who was captured and was in charge while Robert wasn't there. Colt grabbed him by the neck and dragged him out of the cell and to the torture room.

I knew at this point he needed to do this his way and I had to stand back and watch. He threw the man in the chair but didn't even bother to restrain him.

"If you try to fucking move, I will rip off your limbs one by one and I will enjoy it. Now tell me where Robert is."

"I don't know."

"Wrong answer." Colt said and he jumped on him starting to beat him.

After a few minutes he stepped back and was breathing hard. I wasn't so sure if the wolf we had in here was breathing or not.

"Colt, we need to get information out these guys before we kill them."

He just looked at me and took off out of the dungeons. I followed him out and told a guard to check on the man and if he was alive to put in back in his cell. I saw Colt out by the trees before he quickly shifted and took off running. I knew where he was at. I had been there when I lost my mate. He was losing control and he needed to be alone for a while. He would come back soon because he wouldn't be away from Alexa very long.

I returned to the hospital to sit with Nicki until Colter returned. I walked back into the room and found Nicki holding Alexa's hand crying.

"Angel what's wrong?" I asked her.

"I am just so sad. She didn't deserve any of this. From what I remember of her, she has always been so kind." Nicki said.

"You are right, she has always been kind." I walked over to her and picked Nicki up and placed her in my lap while she sat there crying and holding Alexa's hand.

We just sat here waiting for Colt to come back. I was so tired that I fell asleep with Nicki on my lap. I woke up when Colter opened the door and came in. Nicki was asleep in my lap still holding Alexa's hand.

"Colt, why don't you go get a shower and some fresh clothes and we will stay here," I told him.

He just turned and left again. He wasn't gone long maybe twenty minutes but when he returned he came back looking a little better and smelling a whole lot better.

I picked Nicki up in my arms and turned to leave. She wiggled a little and snuggled closer to me as we left. I walked her back to the pack house and up to our room where I put her on the bed and she stayed asleep. I walked into the bathroom for a much needed shower. I turned the water on hot and stripped down and stepped under the water. It felt amazing. I let the hot water run down my body and wash away everything. I knew tomorrow was going to be another busy day with the council and I prayed that Alexa would wake up.

I finally got out of the shower and dried off and went to crawl into bed with Nicki. As soon as I got in bed she rolled right over to me and was laying on my chest. I wrapped my arms around her and was asleep.

I woke up to the sun shining through the windows and Nicki, not in bed. I rolled out of bed and went and got ready for the day. Once ready I went downstairs figuring she would be down there eating but I found her in the kitchen helping.

"Nicki, what are you doing?" I asked her.

"Oh good morning. I was helping with breakfast since we have extra people and they are doing so much cooking." She told me smiling.

"Well let me help you."

"Nonsense, you need to go out there since there are a few council members out in the dining hall." She told me.

"Then you need to come with me. Since you will be our Luna they will want to meet you." I told her smiling at her.

"OK, fine but when we're done I will come back and help." She handed the stuff in her hands to someone and walked over to me.

She had some flour on her face. It was cute. I used my thumb and wiped it off, earning me the biggest smile from my mate. I grabbed her hand as we headed towards the dining hall.

"Angel, you know we need to announce you to the pack soon, and we need to start planning your Luna ceremony," I told her.

"I really don't need a party." She said with a genuine smile on her face.

"It's tradition and besides once I call my parents they are going to want to come home and I promise my mom won't let you not have a party."

"Where are your parents?"

"They travel a lot. Once I took over, mom wanted to travel so they took off and come by every once in a while."

"That's so nice. I am sure they are having a wonderful time." She said.

We had made it to the dining hall. I could see a couple of the council members sitting down, so I led Nicki over to them and cleared my throat to get their attention.

"Good morning council, I wanted to introduce you to my mate and soon-to-be Luna, Nicki."

They all offered a round of congratulations and we sat down with them.

"Do you have any updates any things?" I asked them.

"Well, we have twenty wolves that hadn't been injected with anything yet so we are able to send them home. We have 32 humans that have been injected with both wolf venom and vampire venom, 17 wolves that have had vampire venom injected into them, and then 23 humans that have had wolf venom injected and another 28 humans that were injected with vampire venom."

"Were there any humans that weren't injected?" I asked them.

"Unfortunately not."

"Have you interviewed anyone being held in the dungeon yet?" I asked.

"No everyone needed some sleep."

"I will go down there today and start interviews," I told them.

"We figured as much. Is there any news on Alpha Alexa?" Another asked.

"No change as of right now."

The Omega's started to bring breakfast out and as soon as it was set up we all got up and fixed our plates. Nicki and I went and sat back down with the council and ate our breakfast. We all made small chit chat staying away from the topic of Robert.

Once done Nicki went back to the kitchen to keep helping and I went to my office to get started on the mountain of paper I had.

"Luca, my office." I sent him a mind link to come here.

It wasn't long before he knocked and came in.

"Hey, boss man, what's up?" He said as he came in and sat down.

"We need to go down to the dungeon and start interviews. You're coming with me. I just want to make sure that Colter doesn't want to come also."

"How is Alexa doing?"

"No change."

"Crap I was hoping she would be awake. She didn't deserve this." Luca said with a sad look on his face.

"I know but we can't do anything but pray to the moon goddess now."

"I need to talk with Lauren before we go down there," Luca said.

"Is everything ok with you guys?"

"Never better. She just wanted to do some shopping but with everything going on I don't want her to leave the pack house right now."

"I agree. Tell her once things settle down we will take her and Nicki shopping. I am sure Nicki could use some things. I took her from her house with a bag of clothes and she hasn't been back."

"Luna is great. She is always helping somewhere in the house. I saw her at the daycare a few days ago playing with the kids." Luca said.

"Really?"

"Ya, I think she spends a lot of time there actually."

We had never talked about having pups but if she wanted them I would put them inside of her as soon as I could. I want a big family. I was an only child and it got lonely sometimes.

Chapter 64

Chapter 65 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

I had planned on spending the entire day taking care of Alexa. I wasn't working or going to be talking with anyone. I would have all of our meals brought to our room. I think after our shower, and I washed her hair she finally believed me that I was here for her. I needed to be. She was hurt beyond belief.

After I brushed out her hair, I laid down on the bed with her and we just lay there holding onto each other. I was brought out of my thoughts when there was a knock at the door. I got up to get it and it was our breakfast. I took the cart from the Omega and wheeled it over to the couch.

"Princess, breakfast is here," I told her.

I helped her out of the bed, and we went to the couch but before we could sit down, she said she was going to get some clothes on. When she came back, she was in sweatpants and one of my T-shirts. She looked amazing wearing it. I fixed her a plate and handed it to her and then fixed my plate. We both sat on the couch in silence. When we were done, I cleared our plates and went back to the couch, and pulled Alexa down on me, so she was laying in my lap. I grabbed the remote and turned the TV on.

"What would you like to watch?" I asked her.

"I don't care."

I found some dumb chick flick I thought she would like, and we watched it. When the movie was over, she sat up and looked at me. I could see she was holding back tears.

"Princess please don't cry. What can I do?" I told her.

"Why don't you hate me? You should hate me." She said.

She was breaking my heart. I don't know why she would think I would hate her, but I don't, and I never would.

"I would never hate you. I just want to make you feel better."

"You should hate me." She said letting the tears fall.

"Why would I hate you?" I was so confused.

"Because it's my fault I lost our pup." She sobbed out.

"Princess, it is not your fault. It's Robert's fault. He did this to us. I love you with my whole heart, always have, and always will." I told her as I pulled her back to me.

"I love you too." She said.

I could feel a shift after that. I knew she believed it but it was also the truth. I was going to track down Robert and we would make him pay. We continued our day in our room just lying there and watching TV and eating anything that the kitchen brought up.

Nightfall had come and we crawled into bed. Alexa rolled over to me and I started to rub her back. It didn't seem to take her long to go to sleep. I knew she was still healing and needed rest and I am so glad that she let me take care of her today. I would continue to do this until she was better and when she was ready, I would happily give her another pup. She could have as many as she wanted. It took a while but sleep finally came.

When I woke up in the morning, I was alone in bed, but I heard the shower on. I rolled out of bed and went to join her. I went into the bathroom and got in the shower with her. When she turned around, I wasn't looking at Alexa but was staring into Storm's eyes.

"Good morning, Storm," I told her.

She smiled and me and wrapped her arms around me not saying anything. We stayed under the water for a while.

"I am so glad that you guys are back. I know Alexa missed you." I told them.

"She is hurting, I took control and will keep control until Robert is dead." She said in a deathly tone.

"OK Storm. We have to find him first." I told her.

"We start today. I want those involved with him brought here. I want to talk with them."

"Let me see what I can do about getting them transported here."

We both washed and I could tell that their body was healing. The bruising was about gone except where it was really bad and the vampire bites were all but gone. She went to step out but before she could I grabbed her arm and spun her back to me and kissed her gently. When we pulled away from each other she had a beautiful smile on her lips.

“Storm I love all three of you but can you give back control to Alexa for a while,” I asked her.

“No.” That was all she said and then stepped out of the shower.

I stayed in the shower for a little longer.

“Grey, can you reach Jade or Alexa?” I asked him.

“Yes, and I have been talking with Jade. Alexa is hurting too much and so Storm took control and we will have her until Robert is brought in.” He said

“That can’t be good. I’ve never seen a wolf take control for long periods of time.”

“She will be fine. She is trying to let Alexa heal. They both need this. Just treat her like you would Alexa.”

I got out of the shower and found Storm on the couch dressed for the day. I went to the closet and found some clothes. Once I was dressed, I went back out to the couch and Storm was still sitting there waiting.

“Are you ready?” She asked me.

“Where are we going?” I asked her.

“You are going to call Alpha Julian and see about getting people transferred here and I am going to start looking at maps and trying to figure out where Robert is hiding.”

“Let’s go,” I said holding out my hand to her. She grabbed it and we went to my office.

“Mac, please take this day with your mate, because I am going to need you a lot coming up. I am having the prisoners transported here.” I mind-linked him.

“Is she doing better?” He linked back.

“No, Storm has taken control, and this is what she wants so this is what I am going to do. It’s whatever she wants right now.”

“Thanks, man. Let me know if you need anything.”

I cut our link and opened the door to my office. I walked over to my bookcase and pulled down my rolled-up maps that were on the top. I walked over to the table and laid them out for Storm.

“Thank you mate,” she said.

I walked back over to my desk and pulled out my cell phone and brought up Julian's number. I hit the send button and waited for him to answer.

“Colt, everything ok?” He asked as soon as he answered.

“Yes, no, I mean it will be,” I answered him.

“What can I do to help?” He asked me.

“Storm would like all of the prisoners transported to our pack so that she can talk with them,” I told him.

“Who is Storm?”

“That is Alexa’s other wolf. She has taken control and will not give Alexa control back until Robert is found.”

“I have so many follow-up questions, but I will save that for later. I will talk with the council and see what I can do about getting them over to your pack house.”

“Don’t say anything about Alexa’s two wolves. They aren’t exactly aware of that yet.”

“You guys need to tell them, especially now with her second one taking control.”

“I know we will when they get here.”

We hung up the phone and I walked over to where Storm was looking at maps. I walked over to see if I could help her.

“Storm, what are you looking for maybe I can help.”

“I am trying to locate any abandon places where he could have more people or be hiding.”

“Let's look on google maps,” I told her.

“I don’t know what that is but if you think it will help.”

I pulled her over to my desk and onto my lap as I pulled up my laptop. I opened up google maps.

“See it’s a digital map and it will show us buildings and we can look anywhere in the world.”

“This is genius. Let's take this to the table and we can start marking places on the map that we want to scout out.”

"Alpha, I am looking for Alexa. She won't answer my mind links. Is she with you?" Sloane mind linked me.

"Yes, she is but Storm has taken over so fair warning but we're in my office come up." I linked her back.

It wasn't long before there was a knock at the door.

"Come in," I yelled.

Sloane and Liam walked in.

"Hello Alpha," Sloane said.

"Alexa we had a doctor's appointment today and guess what," Sloane said very excited.

Storm just lowly growled at her not looking at her yet.

"Storm, can I please talk with Alexa?" Sloane asked.

"NO" Was her only reply.

"I just wanted to tell her that we found out what we're having today," Sloane said sounding disappointed.

Storm snapped her head up and looked at Sloane but I could tell by the look on her face that she wasn't happy.

"Really! You want to come in here and tell her about your baby when she can't even function right now because she lost hers. I had to force her back and take control. I thought you were her best friend but obviously not." Storm said to her and then went right back to the maps.

Sloane had tears coming down her face before she turned and ran.

"Liam I am sorry. I am trying to help her but Storm won't release control back."

He didn't respond but walked out of the room.

"Storm, what was that? She is your best friend and wanted to share her excitement."

"I don't care. Her excitement is Alexa's pain right now and I will protect her."

She went back to work on the maps and ignored me. Pretty soon my phone started ringing. I pulled it out and saw it was Julain.

"Hey man," I said when I answered the phone.

"They're on the way to you. 15 people and some of my warriors. The council said they will be there in a few days."

"When should they be here?"

"Four hours."

"Thanks, man. Keep me updated on anything you learn."

"Will do."

I hung up the phone and walked over to Storm.

"Storm, the prisoners will be here in about 4 hours or so," I told her.

Her eyes lit up with Joy. I knew she was always a little bloodthirsty but she is scaring me slightly. The look on her face tells me she is going to get this information out of them regardless of what she has to do.

"Storm why don't we take a break and go eat some lunch."

"No, I have work to do."

I don't know how to snap her out of this. I know she wants to find Robert but she needs to eat and rest as well. She still isn't healed up yet.

Chapter 65

Chapter 66 - Alpha Alexa

Storm's POV

When Alexa had a nightmare and was struggling to breathe and Colter slept through it, I knew I had to take drastic action, so when she woke back up that morning, I forced control and pushed her back. She needed to rest and to try and heal mentally. Besides I was pissed and wanted blood. I was trying to find anywhere that Robert would have more places but there were so many abandoned buildings. That is what I have been doing all day. Marking abandoned buildings on a map that I found on google. Colter has been helping but mostly trying to get me to give control back to Alexa.

"Storm, the prisoners are pulling in. When would you like to start talking with them?"

This brought me some happiness because I knew I would get to shed some blood with these fuckers and if there were any vampires they wouldn't live. They would be inflicted with the worst pain just because of what they are and what their kind did to us.

"Now. No need to wait." I said as I got up.

"Storm, you don't need to do this. I will take care of it. You can go rest." Colter told me.

"Are you serious right now? No one but me will be taking care of this." I told him with a glare on my face.

I turned and left his office and headed downstairs and towards the dungeons. They were leading them down to the dungeon. I counted fifteen people. They were all wolves I could smell them. I just stood back and watched each one trying to figure out who I wanted to start with. They got them all in and I finally walked down. I could feel Colter following me. He didn't say a word after I snapped at him that I would be doing this.

I walked into the torture room first to make sure it had everything I wanted. It seemed to. They had a table with an assortment of whips laid out and knives and gloves as some of the knives were silver. There were also some metal sticks there. They were thin like wire, but they were strong and didn't bend. When I picked one up, I could feel it was silver, but it didn't really burn our skin. I could feel some tingles but not like the normal burn.

"What is this?" I asked Colter showing him the wire.

"That is a silver wire. We really don't use that except for desperate times." He said.

I placed it back down and picked up a knife that I knew was silver just to see if it would burn me and it didn't. I felt the same tingles, but it didn't hurt or burn as it should. Maybe this is something else that the moon goddess gave us.

"Storm how are you doing that? That knife is pure silver, it should be melting your hand off right now." Colter said.

"I don't know. It doesn't hurt, it just gives me some little tingles." I told him.

"I've never heard of anyone being able to do that." He said.

"Me neither but let's get this started no need to waste time," I told him.

He walked out of the room and about five seconds later Mac walked in along with Liam.

"What are you guys doing here?" I asked them

Liam was shooting daggers at me for the way I spoke to Sloane but right now I had to do this. Alexa can make it up to her when I give her control back.

“We are the Beta’s this is something that we assist Colter with,” Mac said.

“I will be handling it. You guys can go.” I told them.

“We will stay it’s fine. We want to help.” Liam said.

I just continued to look at the table and figure out what I would do to this man because he was going to talk, or he was going to be in pain it was really his choice.

Colter walked in with an older man. He had grey hair and wrinkles on his face. I wasn’t going to let his age or anything stop me from doing this. Colter had him tied down and stepped back.

“What is your name?” I asked him.

“What does it matter? You’re going to kill me anyway.” He spat at me.

“Because if you cooperate with me, it might be a little less painful for you.”

“Rick.”

“Good, now where is Robert?” I asked.

“I can’t tell you that.”

Wrong answer I thought. I wasn’t ready to use anything on the table, so I used my fist instead. Right on the nose. You could hear an audible crack with it.

“Now let’s try this again. Where is Robert?” I asked again.

He just shook his head no at me, so I let my fist go flying again. This time his jaw. It didn’t break it thought. I wanted him to be able to talk.

“Who is in charge of everyone that was brought here,” I asked with as much venom in my voice as I could get.

“His name is Fred.”

“Now tell me where all of the warehouses are.”

He just shook his no at me. This time I grabbed his arm and snapped it with ease. He screamed out in pain.

“Tell me or your other arm gets it.”

He didn’t answer me, so his other arm got it as well. This time I pulled on it until his bone was sticking out. He continued to scream and had tears in his eyes.

“Take him out and bring me Fred,” I told all three of the men standing behind me watching.

Mac and Liam walked to him and untied his legs and arms and took him back out to a cell.

“Storm you really don’t have to do this,” Colter said as soon as they were out of the room.

“Don’t tell me that again. I need to do this, and you won’t stop me. If you don’t like what I am doing then you can leave.” I told him.

Fred was brought in and strapped down to the chair.

“Now Fred I am not in the mood for any bullshit so either you’re going to talk, or I will kill you,” I told him.

“Fuck you. Those vampires should have killed you.” He spat at me.

I could hear Colter growl and come forward, but I held up my hand to stop him. I walked over to the table and picked up a silver knife. I didn’t even ask him a question but took the knife and laid it flat against his neck and listened to his skin sizzle under the silver.

“Now tell me where Robert is.”

“You can go to hell.”

I pulled the knife back and slammed it into the front of his shoulder. He screamed out and I pulled the knife out slowly and did the same to his other side.

“Again, where is Robert?” I asked.

“He should have killed you when you were born.” He yelled at me.

I walked over to the table and picked up one of the silver skewers. Colter was watching me closely.

I walked over to him and grabbed his pointer finger on his right hand and looked up at him and smiled.

“You may be right, but he didn’t and here we are now. So, either you tell me, or you will find out what I am going to do next.”

He didn’t answer me. So, I took the silver skewer and shoved it under his fingernail. He was instantly screaming out in pain.

“How are you touching silver and not getting burned.” He panted out.

“You tell me where Robert is, and I will tell you how I do that.”

He still didn't answer so I grabbed another skewer and shoved it under his fingernail on his other hand. He screamed again.

"I can do this all day if you want."

"Where are the warehouses?" I asked him.

He still didn't answer so I grabbed a whip that had silver laced throughout it and started to hit him anywhere it would land. He was crying and screaming but never would answer me. I continued to ask, and he continued to not answer me, so I found other methods of torture. After twenty minutes I realized, he wasn't going to answer me at all. I walked over to him and got down in his face.

"This is your last chance to save yourself. Tell me where Robert is?" I told him in a quiet voice.

He just shook his head at me and refused to answer. I released my claws, ripped out his heart, and dropped it on the ground. I turned around to Colter, Mac, and Liam who were just staring at me.

"Bring me someone else," I told them.

"No, you are done for the day. Mac and Liam will continue." Colter said to me.

"No, I will do this," I growled at him.

"No, we need to talk right now." He said.

He came over to me, grabbed my arm, and started pulling me out of the room. I ripped my arm out of his grasp. I was pissed, he wasn't going to tell me what to do and I would be back.

He grabbed my arm again and led me up to our room. I was breathing heavily by the time we got up.

"You need to release control back to Alexa now." He said to me.

"No. I am in charge right now."

"What you did down there was extreme. You knew he wasn't going to talk to you and continued to torture him before you killed him. I am all for trying to make someone talk but when you have beat him within an inch of his life and continue to do so just to do it is too much."

"And what they did to us wasn't extreme." He yelled at him.

"They didn't do it. Robert and the vampires did. The vampires are dead, so you need to calm down."

“I will not calm down. They all deserve this. Who knows what they did to innocent people.”

“We may never know if you don’t calm down. Now I need to talk to Alexa right now.”

“No, I will not release control to her.”

“Don’t make me Alpha command you.” He said to me, getting even angrier.

I could feel Alexa trying to push forward but right now I am stronger than her and she can’t break the barrier I have up unless I let her, and I didn’t plan on letting her.

“You can’t, we are an Alpha as well.”

“Storm if you don’t give her back control, I will use force and drugs to do it. Don’t force me to do it.”

“If you do that, we will never forgive you.”

“Then please just give Alexa back control, I am begging you. I need her right now.” He was begging me now.

“No!”

He closed his eyes and when he opened them, I could tell that I wasn’t dealing with Colter but with Grey, my mate.

“Hey beautiful, you need to rest a little and let our humans talk for a bit. I promise that you can go back down there and keep questioning them. We will find them, and you will be the one to kill him however you want. For now, please give Alexa back control. My human is desperate and needs her just like I need you sometimes. Can you do that for me?” he said as he stepped closer to me and then pulled me into a hug.

I just stood there for a moment before I hugged him back, but it felt nice to hold him. He calmed my heart rate down some and I felt a little more in control. I closed my eyes, released the block I had up on Alexa, and gave her back control.

Chapter 67

Chapter 67 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa’s POV

When Colter told me to stay here I had to laugh at him. I waited a few minutes and then took off. If he thought I would stand by and watch our pack fight, then he still had things to learn about me. I picked up his scent as soon as I made it outside and shift. I let Storm take over.

We made it to the fight quickly and jumped in. This is what she was made for. She started tearing into any wolf she could get her teeth into. It didn't take long for Colter to notice us.

"I thought I told you to stay home." He linked me.

"If you thought I would listen to you and not help protect our pack you still don't know me very well." I linked back.

"No, I am not surprised at all, I just want to protect you and keep you safe." He linked back.

We both continued taking out wolves. Mac showed up with warriors and we started to get the upper hand. I looked around to see if anyone was in trouble. When I noticed a smaller wolf in trouble, I ran to them and slammed into the wolf that was pinning them down. The rouge wolf had sunk their teeth into the other wolf's shoulder and when I hit him it ripped the wolf apart. They were laying their shifting back and losing a lot of blood. It was a young boy. He couldn't have been older than sixteen.

I ran over to him and tried to help him but there was so much blood, and his arm was gone. I shifted back and picked him up and took off to the pack hospital.

"Colt, a boy's arm got ripped off. Find it and send it to the hospital. I am taking him there now." I linked him.

I ran as fast as I could to the pack hospital and as soon as I entered a nurse came running over to me.

"What happened?" She asked.

"We're under attack and he got his arm ripped off. Someone should be bringing it back soon."

"Follow me." She said as she ran through the door.

I followed her to a room where a bed was. I laid him down and that was when more people came rushing in. I nodded to the nurse and took off back out of the hospital and shifted as soon as I got outside and let Storm take back over. I was running towards the fight again when I was hit in the side and went flying.

I rolled a few times and as soon as I got to our feet, we turned to face the wolf that hit us.

"Robert," I said more to myself than anything. I had the upper advantage he didn't know what Storm looks like but again she is just the opposite of Jade so he may figure it out.

He shifted back to his human form.

“Now you look like a wolf I once raised but never loved, but you're not quite the same. Why don't you shift back so we can see who you really are.”

“Colter, Robert is here. I have him not far from the pack hospital.” I mind-linked him but didn't get a reply.

I shifted back not knowing if it was the smartest thing to do by I would fight him until my last breath.

“What do you want Robert?” I asked him with venom dripping in my voice.

“Now is that a way to talk to the man who raised you?”

“You may have provided me with things, but you certainly didn't have anything to do with raising me. You were nothing but a useless piece of trash who should have been killed a long time ago.” I spat at him.

“Now that is no way to talk to me! I am still your Alpha!” He roared and I could tell that I was getting to him.

“You were not much of an Alpha now were you? You ran the first time I attacked your pack and left your wife and only child to die by my hands.” I told him and then started laughing like a lunatic. I was really just trying to get to him and throw him off of his game.

“You could never kill your mother or brother. You loved them blindly while they tolerated you.”

“I wouldn't be so sure about that. I knew there was never any love for me and that was fine but how do you think I got into all of your computers and discovered all of your drop-offs and intercepted them? That's right your precious son squealed before I killed him with my bare hand.” I mean he didn't do that, but he didn't need to know that.

“He wouldn't do that. I trained him better!” He yelled, turning red in the face.

“The safe in your office, your computers, everything. The second that first whip hit him he was talking. You suck at training apparently.”

He didn't reply but I could feel his anger rolling off him and I could even smell it. I had him right where I needed him to be.

“Colt, I really need some backup out by the pack hospital.” I mind-linked him again.

“I am trying Princess, I have others headed your way.” He linked back.

I didn't have time to think anything through as Robert lunged at me. I shifted before he could reach me. He landed on top of me, and we went rolling. I tried to keep my momentum going so that I would stop on my back to kick him off. It worked but he shifted midair and came right back at me. We were circling each other and snapping our jaws but neither had attacked yet. I could hear someone in the distance barreling towards us from the fight. I am guessing that it is back up so we can take him down and get him in the dungeon.

I strike Robert first when I jump up and land on his back and sink my teeth into his back and pull with everything that I have trying to rip him apart. He let out a loud roar and someone in human form came up behind me and plunged a needle into me. It burned and as it spread throughout my body. I released my hold on Robert and fell to the ground. Trying not to move at all. Any movement brought out more pain.

He was standing over me and it looked like he was smiling. He shifted back and when he bent down to pick me up that wolf that was running towards us barreled into him and they went flying over me. Several wolves came out from hiding and started helping Robert and taking down the wolf helping me.

"Colt, help, please. I can't move. It hurts." I cried through mind link.

"I am on my way princess." He finally linked back.

Storm couldn't hold on anymore and gave up control and I shifted back to my human form. As I did, I screamed out in pain. My whole body felt like it was on fire. My insides felt like they were melting. I could see wolves coming our way but the one that showed up to help me was lying on the ground motionless. He was dead. I couldn't hear his heartbeat. The ones that killed him started to circle around me growling and snapping their jaws.

One shifted back and reached down and started to move me, but I screamed so loud that it startled him, and he let go of me for a second. That's when Robert shifted back and looked over me and then at the wolves that were headed our way.

"GET HER NOW!" He yelled out.

The guy who picked me up caused so much pain throughout my whole body that I thought I would die. I started screaming so loudly and my vision was blurred by the tears that were falling. They didn't have time to take me as my mate had shown up. I saw Robert shift and run, leaving his people to fend for themselves. Colter quickly shifted to his human form and walked over to the guy holding me.

"Release her now." He yelled, putting an Alpha command behind it but it wouldn't work because he wasn't part of his pack.

"No, our Alpha wants her, and he will have her whether it is today or another day. He won't stop until he does." This idiot said.

I don't know what happened because I was thrown in the air and landed on the ground with a loud crack. All I felt was more pain in my shoulder. I am pretty sure it is broken. I lay on the ground and listen to the fighting around me and focus on not moving. I don't know how long I lay there but the pain never got any better and I was just getting hotter and hotter. My entire body was covered in sweat.

"Princess, it's over. We've either killed them all or they are being taken to the dungeon. We need to get you to the hospital, you're hurt." Colter said as he leaned down by my head.

He reached down to pick me up and as soon as he touched me, he pulled his hands away. I am not sure if it was from my screaming or the heat that was radiating off my body.

"Princess, what did he give you? You are burning up."

"It hurts." That is all I managed to pant out.

"I am sorry, but we have to get you to the hospital. I am going to pick you up now." He said as he put his arms around me.

When he actually picked me up, I screamed so loud, but it quickly died down as my voice my getting hoarse from everything. He ran to the pack hospital and the air hitting my skin gave a little relief, but it didn't last long since we weren't that far away.

He slammed the doors open and yelled for a doctor. A gurney appeared next to him, and he laid me down. Someone threw a sheet over me, and they pushed me back to a room that was full of medical staff.

People rushed to the bed and started hooking things up to me and all I could do was scream although it wasn't much of a scream anymore. I could hear Colter yelling at someone, but I wasn't sure who.

Someone leaned down next to my ear and said, "Luna, we're going to give you some meds to help with the pain, it is going to make you sleepy." As soon as she said that she pushed something into the IV in my arm.

Someone else started placing cold wet towels on my body. Every time one was placed it brought extreme pain but was quickly followed by a little bit of relief from the heat and pain. I could feel myself getting sleepy. I didn't want to sleep because I didn't know what would happen when I woke up. I fought it.

Finally, everyone stepped back, and Colter came up to me. He reached for my hand, and I flinched in pain when he touched me.

"Princess, please just sleep. I am not going anywhere. We are trying to figure out what they gave you. You need to sleep so you can get better. Let your wolves heal you." He said so lovingly to me. I hadn't thought to ask my wolves what they thought was going on.

“Girls, what is wrong? What did he give us?” I mind-linked them both.

“We don’t know but we can’t heal you from this. It’s burning us as well.” Jade linked me.

She cut the link with me, and I just looked at Colter with tears still in my eyes. While the pain had eased a little from the meds I was still in pain and still burning up. Someone started to change the towels that were on me, and this brought a fresh batch of new pain as they were removed, and new ones were laid down. Once they were finally done, I closed my eyes and tried to sleep. It finally came but I could still feel the pain and heat even in my sleep.

Chapter 68

Chapter 68 - Alpha Alexa

Colter’s POV

Alexa had finally fallen asleep, and we got her moved up to a private room. They had turned the air as cold as they could get it and brought in fans and pointed them at her. She was covered in cold wet towels. Her body had cooled down some but not enough. You could feel the heat coming off her still. They had put two IVs in her and were pumping as much fluid into her as they could, so she didn’t get dehydrated. I wanted to hold her so much, but it seemed like every time someone or something touched her, she was in pain. The doctor had drawn some blood while we were downstairs, and we were waiting for it to come back so we knew what we were dealing with. Her shoulder was also broken but they didn’t want to fix it yet since we didn’t know what we were dealing with, and she seemed to be in so much pain already.

Someone knocked on the door and then came in. It was Mac and Liam.

“Hey man, do you know what happened to her?” Mac asked.

“No, we’re waiting for the blood test to come back. Did you get everyone locked up?”

“Yes, and Robert is chained down with silver. He isn’t going anywhere. I also have two guards outside his door.”

“Good. How many injured and casualties do we have?” I asked.

“We have five serious injuries that are being taken care of right now and a lot of minor ones and only one causality. The young man who was trying to help Luna before we got there.” Liam said.

“Who was it?”

“Sir, it was Rocky. He is a young warrior, and he didn’t stand a chance against them by himself.”

“Mac, go inform his family and see if they need anything. Liam, go see if you can find out what Robert injected her with.” I told them.

They both nodded and walked out of the room. I continued to sit there and just watch Alexa. A nurse would come in every thirty minutes and change out her wet towels. After about three times changing them, the doctor walked in.

“Alpha sir, I have the results of her blood work.”

“What is it?” I growled at him.

“It appears that she was injected with vampire venom and a lot of it. That is why her body is so hot and in so much pain. She has had too, much put into her, and I believe she is fighting the change.” He said.

“Can we stop it?” I asked but it was barely a whisper.

“I can try dialysis on her to help get some of it out of her but at this point, she is going to change. She has to accept it and soon.”

“Get it started now,” I yelled at him.

He turned on his heel and left the room quickly. I walked over to Alexa and put my head down by hers. I didn’t know if she could hear me or not, but I had to tell her.

“Princess, you can’t fight this. You were injected with vampire venom, and you have to accept the change. Don’t worry, I will love you and accept you no matter what happens. Just accept it and come back to me. We also have Robert in custody. You need to wake up so you can kill him. I promised that you could, and you will.” I just hoped that she heard me and would listen to what I had to say.

Liam came bursting through the door out of breath and panting.

“What is it, Liam?” I growled at him.

“It’s vampire venom. Sorry, it took so long some beatings to get it out of his rogues.” He said.

“I know. We got the blood test back.” I growled back at him.

The doctor came back in wheeling some type of machine and a lot of tubing.

“Alpha sir, we are going to have to thread a tube down her jugular in her neck. It is going to be bloody. I am going to give her some sedation in order to do this. I need you to step out of the room.”

“No,” I growl at him.

“Alpha sir, I am sorry, but it needs to be as sterile as possible. I just need you right outside the door.”

I stormed to the door and threw it open and turned, waiting for the door to close so I could watch through the window in the door. Laim was right behind me. I saw them pull the wet towels from around her neck and wipe it with something yellow and then place a blue towel over it.

I couldn't watch anymore and turned around but about five seconds later we heard the most blood curling scream come from Alexa. I threw the door back open the nurses were trying to hold her down while the doctor threaded this thing in her.

“LET HER GO NOW!” I roared out.

“Alpha, I have to get this in. It's the vampire venom. Either out of the room or help hold her down.”

I walked over to her and placed my hands on her shoulders. I could feel the break in one of her shoulders and pressed the other one down as best as I could, and the doctor continued to do what he needed to while barking out orders to nurses.

I am done but keep her down. She can't rip that out. We have given her more sedation and it should kick in soon.

“Princess, please relax we are only trying to help you. You have to calm down so we can remove our hands from you.” I told her and you could feel her relax just a little bit but still fighting us.

The doctor was hooking up the machine and you could see that there were two tubes hooked up. One of them was pulling blood out and running it through a machine while the other was pushing the blood back into her system. She finally calms down and I can feel her relax more. I let go of her and grab my chair and pull it back to her bed and sit beside her just watching and making sure nothing bad happens.

“Sir, Sloane would like to come and sit with you and Alexa if that is alright?” Liam asked me.

“If she can handle it then it's fine,” I tell him never taking my eyes off Alexa.

Pretty soon I hear the door open, and Sloane comes in walking to the other side of the bed next to the dialysis machine. Liam brings her a chair and she sits down and reaches her hand out to touch her.

“Don't, it causes her more pain if you touch her.” I snapped at Sloane.

I could see the tears in her eyes. She wanted to comfort her friend just like I did but we couldn't, not yet anyway. We both sat there in silence and Liam stood behind her with his hands on her shoulders.

A few hours later the door opened, and the doctor walked in. He walked over to Alexa and started removing wet towels and taking her vitals.

“Alpha sir, the dialysis is working. Her temperature is down some. I am going to lighten the sedation and see how she does. We are going to have to turn the dialysis off in the next hour. Her body can only handle so much of it.”

I just nodded at him, and he walked out of the room. A few minutes later Mac walked in and pulled a chair up beside me and we all just sat around her bed watching her. She had so many people that loved her and would be there for her when she woke up. I just hope that she knows it.

An hour later the doctor comes back in and starts to unhook her from the machine. He flushed her blood back into her system with saline and then unhooked the tubes that connected to the tubes in her neck but left those ones in her in place. He cleaned the area and placed a bandage over it.

He walked out without saying anything to us and we just continued to watch her. It was well into the night when I started to doze off. Everyone else in the room was asleep already but I didn't want to take my eyes off her, but I couldn't keep my eyes open any longer.

I was woken several hours later by Alexa moaning and moving around in bed. I jumped up and ran into the hall and yelled at the first nurse I saw to get the doctor. I ran back into the room, and she was still moaning but at least she wasn't screaming this time.

I reached my hand out to hers to grab it and she calmed just a little. She also wasn't nearly as hot as she was last night. The door was thrown open and the doctor took long strides until he was standing beside me.

“What's happening, doctor? I asked.

"I think she accepted the change, and the transition is about to be complete. She should be waking up soon. She isn't in as much pain and her temperature is almost normal." The doctor said.

I sat back down holding her hand and Sloane grabbed her other hand and we all just sat there watching her again. She continued to moan in pain and move around in the bed. We couldn't really do much to help her at this point. She just had to accept it.

It had been two hours since this started, and she was finally calming down. The doctor just walked back in carrying a couple of bags of blood and laid them on the table.

“What are those for doctor?” Liam asked.

“Well, she has accepted the change and she is going to want this when she wakes up.” He said.

I felt sick to my stomach. The thought of someone wanting to drink blood is disgusting but I would have to get used to it as my mate is going to need it.

“I suggest that you guys all leave. I don’t know what type of state she will be in when she wakes up and she should be soon.” The doctor said.

Liam pulled Sloane up and took her to the door and Mac followed.

“Alpha please let me know when she wakes up and if she is, ok?” Sloane said and then they all left.

I sat back down taking her hand. She had all but stopped moaning in pain and moving on the bed. The doctor went and sat on the other side just watching her.

Two hours later Alexa’s eyes snap open and she looks around the room widely. She jumped up on the bed crouching. Her eyes went to the blood bags on the table, and she licked her lips.

"Princess, how do you feel?" I asked her.

She looked at me and cocked her head to the side and then let out a hiss. She fucking hissed at me. What the hell did they do to her?

"Alpha Alexa, you can have that blood. It is ok, you need to drink it and you will feel better." The doctor told her.

I reached over to the table to hand her the blood but she grabbed my arm with so much force I thought my arm would snap. She threw my arm to the side and lunged for the blood on the table. She stayed crouched on the bed and ripped open a bag of blood and drank the first bag down and then did the same with the other two. She finally sat down on the bed again.

"What the fuck happened to me?" She finally said.

Chapter 69

Chapter 69 - Alpha Alexa

Julian’s POV

Colter had just taken Alexa home. As soon as she was awake, she wanted to leave. I couldn’t blame her. The horrible thing that was done to her I would want to go home also but it left me with a big fucking mess to clean up. I had prisoners and I had people that had been injected with either wolf venom or vampire venom or some of both. I had no clue if they would transition or if they would die. The council was here but they were just watching. They didn't do much.

I was currently sitting at my desk trying to decide what to do. I don't know any vampires, but I had to get those that were injected some help. They would transition soon, and I didn't know what to do with them.

"You've met the vampire king; you should call him." Zion linked me.

"I know but we only met in passing and I highly doubt he would remember me." I linked him back.

"Still, it's a start. If he can't help with the vampires maybe, he will know someone who can." Zion said back.

"I will try but I hate to. He can kind of be an ass hole from what I have been told."

Zion cut our link apparently done hearing what I thought about it.

"Julian, what are you thinking?" Luca asked me, pulling me from my thoughts.

"Zion suggested we call the Vampire King."

"Do you even know him?"

"I've met him in passing but I knew who does so I can get his number."

"Then I suggest you do it because we have no clue what to do with them."

I reached into my pocket and pulled out my phone and went to Alpha Jack's number. He was someone who didn't live near us, but we met at an Alpha's meeting a few years back and every once in a while, we meet up. We also run problems and ideas off each other. I hit send when I found his number.

"Julian man, what is going on? I am hearing some weird rumors." He said as he answered the phone.

"I am sure they are probably true. Why don't you tell me what you have heard." I told him.

"That some crazed Alpha took people, and he is turning them into some weird hybrids."

"Pretty much and now I house those hybrids and I need to get in touch with the Vampire King. I have people that were given vampire venom and I don't know what is going to happen."

My office door burst open at that time and a warrior rushed.

“Sorry sir but we have a problem with some of our newest people here.” He said out of breath.

Luca jumped up and took off with him, while I continued my phone call.

“Listen I can call and talk to him, but I can’t give you his number, he would kill me. Plus, I don’t know if he will help you or not.” Alpha Jack said.

“Well, if you can tell me anything about these vampires?”

“No, I don’t really know much about them besides they like blood,”

“OK well call him and then call me back,” I told him.

We both hung up and I went downstairs to see what was going on. I didn’t find anything out of the ordinary.

“Luca, what is going on? Where did you go?” I mind-linked him.

“Pack hospital. They fell to the floor in pain and won't answer us.”

I started walking there when Nicki walked up to me from behind and scared me.

“Hey, handsome!” She said as she wrapped her arms around me.

“Hey, beautiful. What are you doing?”

“I was helping in the daycare and then came to find you.”

“Daycare?” I asked giving her a questioning look. That was a new one for her. She usually preferred to help cook. Not that she needed to do any of it.

“Ya, I wanted to be around kids. I don’t know much about kids, but I need to learn.”

“Why would you need to learn about kids?” I asked her really confused.

“Because my Alpha we are going to have a pup of our own.”

“What you’re pregnant?” I asked her shocked.

“Yes. Apparently our first night together, you knocked me up. It’s still so early.”

I picked her up and spun in circles. This is the happiest I have ever felt. I was going to be a dad. I finally put her back down and kissed her. Zion was in my head with his chest puffed out howling and prancing.

“Angel this is the best thing ever. I can’t believe we are going to have a pup. How do you feel?”

“Nervous and afraid. What if we're no good at it?”

“We will be the best parents ever! Now we need to officially make you, my Luna. I have wanted to since I marked you, but it's been crazy but let's do it this weekend.”

“I don't even know where to start with that. We can wait longer.”

“No, this weekend. Luca's sisters will help you.” I told her.

“OK,” she whispered to me.

I pulled her to me again and just held her for a few minutes. I was so happy. I had to tell someone, or I might burst. That's when my phone started ringing in my pocket. I pulled it out and didn't recognize the phone number. I was going to ignore it but then remembered that it could be the vampire king.

“Alpha Julian,” I said when I answered the phone.

“Alpha Julian, this is Roscoe the Vampire King, and I received a phone call from Alpha Jack about some issues you are having.”

“Yes, thank you for calling King Roscoe.”

“Please just call me Roscoe.”

“OK, Roscoe. Well, I have some humans that were injected with vampire venom, and they haven't transitioned yet, but I think it is starting and I don't know what to do for them. I want them to be safe while this is happening. It was no fault of their own.” I explained to him.

“Well, for starters want to tell me how humans got injected with vampire venom and how they ended up in with wolves.” He said, getting angry.

“There is a man in our area who is nuts and started kidnapping people and injecting them with all sorts of things. We were able to rescue these guys two days ago, and we are just trying to help them.”

“Do you have this man in custody or is he dead yet?” He asked

“No sir, we are still looking for him.”

“You need to put the people that are transitioning in a secure place alone. They are going to run really high body temperatures and they are going to be in extreme pain. There is nothing you can do about that. They will be unconscious, and you need to leave them alone. Do not touch them or try to help. When they wake up you need to have blood on hand for them. Once they drink some, they will calm down but until then they will be wild.”

“Sir the only place I have like that is my dungeon,” I told him.

“That is fine. Those are usually cold, correct?”

“Yes sir.”

“Good move them there and I am on my way. It will take me a day to get there.” He said and then hung up.

As soon as I hung up the phone it started ringing again. I really needed to get to the hospital and needed Nicki to get out of here where it was safe while we moved them, but I saw that it was Colter and I needed to know how Alexa was doing. She was in a bad way when she was here.

I answered the phone and Colter wanted me to send the prisoners to them so that Alexa could deal with them. That actually worked out for me since that would free up space for the ones that were transitioning.

“Luca, I need you in my office in five minutes.” I mind-linked him.

“Angel, I need you to go upstairs where it is safe. We are going to be moving prisoners and then moving the humans that are transitioning and I don’t want you or the pup to get hurt.” I told her.

“Let me arrange some beds for them. The dungeon is not comfortable.”

“Fine but you can do it from my office,” I told her and then kissed her.

I grabbed her hand and we went up to my office. I went to my desk and sat down and pulled her into my lap while we waited for Luca to get here. He finally knocked and came in and went and sat down in the chair in front of my desk.

"What's up, boss man?" He asked

"The Vampire King will be here tomorrow. We are going to be shipping the prisoners out to Colter and Alexa and they will be dealing with them. We also need to move anyone that is transitioning to the dungeon and let them be. We also need to have blood on hand for them for when their transition is over."

"Hold the fuck up. The Vampire King is coming here?" He asked.

"Ya, he is. He will be assisting us with the new vampires we seem to have on our hands."

"OK, I will get some SUVs ready for transport. When do you want them to be on the road?"

"As soon as possible."

"OK give me an hour to get them on the road."

"How many humans do we have currently at the pack hospital going through the transition?" I asked him.

"Ten."

"OK, Nicki is going to work on getting them some beds set up after the prisoners are gone."

"Anything else?"

"Yes, there is actually," I told him as I looked at Nicki. I wanted to tell him. He was my best friend. She shook her head yes at me.

"OK, what else?" He said sitting back down.

"Well, Nicki and I are going to be having a pup," I told him with a giant smile on my face.

"What! That is amazing. I am going to be an Uncle Luca. I can't wait to teach this kid all the bad things in life. He will be the most spoiled kid ever by me!" He said.

We all stood up and walked to the door. Luca grabbed Nicki and hugged her and then gave me a weird man hug as well.

"Congratulations you two." He said as he walked out the door.

"Luca, one more thing," I said before he got too far away.

"What's that?"

"Not a word to anyone about this," I told him.

He knew what I meant. The pregnancy and the Vampire King coming here, the transitioning vampires. Well, everything.

I pulled Nicki back into my office and started kissing her.

"Angel, I so badly want to celebrate in the same way this pup was made right now," I told her as I started kissing her neck.

"Me too, but we have too much to do. I need to get the dungeon ready and also a room for the Vampire King." She said stepping away from me.

"I know me too! Let's go" I told her as I grabbed her hand and walked out of the office to get started.

Chapter 70

Chapter 70 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

“What the fuck happened to me?” I yelled out.

I was sitting in a hospital bed and had just drunk several bags of blood. I needed it, I wanted it, and it tasted so good. Colter and a doctor were sitting there just staring at me. I didn't know what to say or do but I knew I needed to drink it.

“How do you feel Princess?” Colter asked me.

“Fine, but what happened?”

“Robert had you injected with vampire venom. You went through the transition. All that pain that you felt and how hot you were was the transition.” Colt said.

“So, you're saying that I am now a vampire?”

“Yes, but do you still have your wolves?” The doctor asked.

“I don't know.”

“Try to talk to them,” Colter said.

I closed my eyes trying to take all of this information in and not cry. How could he do this to me?

“Girls, are you still there?”

“Yes, we're still here. We would never leave you.” Jade said.

“Are you ok?” I asked

“Yes, we're both ok but we're now a hybrid,” Storm said.

I opened my eyes and just shook my head yes at both Colter and the doctor. You could see both of them look at me with relief.

“Did you get Robert?” I asked

“Yes, he is currently being held in one of our cells,” Colter said.

“Good, I want to talk to him right now,” I said. I could feel Storm pushing forward.

“I think we need to figure you out first. I don’t want you to go down there too soon. We don’t know what you’re capable of yet and we don’t know how you will react,” Colter said.

Storm was growling in my head, but I knew he was right. I needed to get answers and not just kill him like Storm wanted to do.

“I will leave you two alone, but you may go home as long as your vitals stay stable for the next few hours.” The doctor said as he got up and left the room.

I looked over to Colter who was still looking at me with so much love, but I don’t know why. I really was a monster now. I had two wolves and also was now a vampire. He stood and started to get into bed with me.

“Stop,” I told him but he had a look of confusion on his face.

“Why?” He asked.

“Because I don’t know what I am capable of, and I don’t want to hurt you,” I said looking down. I couldn’t look at him.

“Princess, you are not going to hurt me. I love you and I am not going anywhere. Now would you let me hold you for a minute?” He asked.

I just shook my head yes at him because as much as he wanted to hold me, I wanted him to just as much. He got in bed with me and pulled me into his lap. I could feel my whole body light up with sparks still. We just lay there for a while. I could hear the blood coursing through his body. I could hear his heart pump the blood out and into the rest of his body. It was a weird thing. I could always hear his heartbeat but not like this.

“What is going to happen to me?” I finally asked him.

“What do you mean?” He asked.

“Well I’m not just a wolf anymore and I am not just a vampire. I am both. What happens to those that are both?”

“Nothing is going to happen to you. You are going to stay right here by my side.” He said.

“What if I can’t learn how to control the vampire side of me then what? I will be a danger to everyone.”

“You will learn trust me.”

“One more question,” I told him

“You can ask all the questions you want.”

“What happened to those that we left at Julians that were also injected?” I asked him.

“I am not sure. We need to call him. I need to let him know what has happened and that we have Robert in custody.”

We continued to lay there waiting for the doctor to come back in. I could feel myself getting sleepy, so I closed my eyes and let sleep take over. I was woken up when the doctor came back into the room.

“How do you feel Luna?” He asked me.

“I feel fine. I just really need to go home.” I said.

“Let me just check your vitals and if they are good, you can go home.” He said.

He came over and took my vitals and listened to my heart and then stepped back.

“You seem to be just fine. You can go home.” He said.

“Thank you, doctor,” I said.

I got off Colter and off the bed and realized I had no clothes.

“There are clothes in the bathroom,” Colter said.

“How did you know?”

“Because I’m your mate.” He said, just smiling at me.

I walked into the bathroom and got dressed and walked back out. I was feeling a little nervous about seeing people. I still didn’t know how my vampire side would react.

“Please don’t leave my side,” I told Colter as we got to the door.

“Princess I am not leaving you and you are not going to hurt anyone.

We walked out and no one said a word to us or really paid attention to us. We made it to the pack house and headed to Colter’s office but before we got there Sloane saw us and before I could say a word she had her arms wrapped around me.

I could hear her blood coursing through her body and her heart pumping it out and honestly, she smelt so sweet and I wanted to try and taste her blood. It made my mouth water.

I pulled her arms off me and as soon as she stepped back the feeling went away.

"I'm sorry Sloane. I can't be that close to you right now." I told her.

"What happened? She asked.

"We have to make a phone call and then I will explain everything to you," I said.

She just nodded and walked away.

"See Princess I told you that you wouldn't hurt anyone."

"But I wanted to as soon as she hugged me, " I told him.

"But you didn't and it will be ok. Let's go call, Julian."

We got to his office and he pulled out his phone and dialed Julian's number.

"Hey man, everything ok?" Julian asked.

"No we were attacked again by Robert and well he got his hands on Alexa," Colt said.

"Is she ok?"

"Yes and no. He injected her with vampire venom and well now she is a hybrid. We were hoping you had information regarding those who were injected that we left at your pack."

"Well I sort of have the Vampire King here and he has been helping me."

"How the hell did you get him there?"

"I know a guy and he's actually pretty nice. I can see if he will come to you."

"Yes please!" I practically yelled.

"Ok give me a few minutes and I will call you guys back."

"Do you think he will come and help me?" I asked Colter.

"Princess, if he knows how amazing you are then he will be here so fast." He said with a giant smile on his face.

"So much has been going on but did everything get arranged with bringing my old pack here?" I asked. I had failed with that but we got called away to Julian's pack and then everything went downhill from there.

"Yes, Liam and Sloane took care of everything."

"Gosh, I owe them so much right now."

"Liam was just doing his job and since Sloane is his mate it isn't uncommon for her to help him with those things."

"Still that was a lot of work and I should have been there to help them."

"You were working on a much bigger job."

"So what happened with my pack members?"

"We only had a few that left and went to another pack. Everyone else is loyal to you. They all had nothing but amazing things to say about you." He said as he kissed my cheek.

His phone started ringing and he picked it up and answered it and put it on speaker. Not that it mattered because I could still hear everything that was being said.

"Hey man, that was fast," Colter said answering the phone.

"I said give me like ten minutes. Anyway, he said he would be happy to come. He will be there this evening." He said.

"Do we need anything special for him and does he come with other people? How many accommodations do we need?" I asked getting excited.

"He has three people with him. So three rooms. As far as food and whatnot they take care of that themselves. I didn't ask and I don't want to know." He said.

"Thanks, we need to go get everything ready," Colter said and hung up.

"We should also tell the pack and our Elite Academy guest," I told him.

"I will send a pack-wide link and we will meet at four." He said.

"I am going to find some omegas and have rooms prepared for them," I said and got up off his lap.

I walked out of his office and went to the kitchen to talk with our head omega and as soon as I got in there I could hear the blood pumping in their bodies and their heartbeat pushing the blood out so I turned right around and went back up to Colter's office and threw the door open.

"What's wrong Princess?" He asked.

"I can't be around people. I tried but it is too much." I told him.

"Maybe you need more blood?" He asked me.

"I can't do that. I can't bite someone and suck their blood out." I said feeling disgusted.

"Princess, you don't have to. We can have some blood from the hospital brought over."

"I will try it because I can't avoid them forever."

"OK, I will have someone bring some over. In the meantime, I have something I want to show you." He said getting up.

He grabbed my hand and took me out of his office and down the hall to the next door. He pulled a key card out of his pocket and handed it to me.

"What's this?" I asked him.

"Open the door."

I put the key card in the door and it unlocked and I opened the door. I walked into an office. It was painted a soft cream color with a giant beautiful desk and with a nice chair behind it and also some bookshelves and a table with chairs.

"What is this? I ask

"It's your office princess. I've been meaning to give you the key to it but we seem to have been really busy." He said.

"Thank you, babe, I love it," I told him

"Let me know if you need anything else for it. You have a laptop on the desk and I will start to show you all the programs we use later."

"Thank you. Really I love it." I said. I really did love it. I wasn't expecting something like this but it was nice to have.

"Ok, I will leave you so you can check everything out." He said as he kissed my forehead and walked out of the room.

Once he left I let out a big breath I was holding. I have got to get my vampire side under control. I wanted to bite into him so badly but I can't do that. I walked over to my door and made sure it was locked and went and sat at my desk.

"Girls, how do you feel about everything?" I asked both my wolves.

"It's kinda going to be amazing," Jade said happily.

"Why do you think that?"

"It's going to make us so much stronger and faster. Just learn to control your thirst and all will be good." Storm said.

I could be on board with the extra strength and speed but this whole blood thing had me a little freaked out.

I got up and walked around my office checking everything out. I could tell already I needed to add some pictures and my favorite books and some soft colors to lighten it up even more. I would make it my own space in time.