

Chapter 80 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

Alexa just left to go hunt and I needed to talk with Mac and Liam.

"I need you guys up to my office." I linked them both at the same time.

They both walked in a few minutes later. Although Liam had his daughter strapped to him.

"What's up, boss man?" Mac asked.

"We're leaving in a few hours for Julian's pack. We're going to take over the last warehouse. Liam, you're in charge here. Mac pack a bag you're going with us."

"Thank you, sir. My mate and baby thank you as well." Liam said and turned to leave.

"Alexa and I will be staying a few extra days. Nicki is having her Luna ceremony and they are also getting married. If Aubree wants to come and you guys attend as well."

"I will ask her and let you know. I don't want to push her too much."

"Ok well see you in two hours to leave."

I got up and headed to the hospital to see if any results had come back and see how everyone was doing. I walked through the front doors and headed to our little triage area where they last at. I walked through the doors and it was a little chaotic. People were running around and several people holding a man down.

"What is going on?" I yelled out as I ran over there.

"He is shifting and he is out of control. We need to sedate him before he hurts himself or someone else," one of the doctors explained.

I helped hold him down while the doctor gave him a shot of something and he eventually relaxed enough that we could let go of him.

"Thank you, Alpha."

"I would like an update on everyone we brought in last night."

"Certainly, if you will follow me to my office. I have all of their files there."

I followed the doctor to his office and sat down in one of the chairs in front of his desk. I looked around at his and it was a mess. I don't know how he got anything done.

"You brought us twenty people. From them, we found traces that five were injected with both wolf and vampire venom. Eight had just wolf venom and the other seven just have vampire venom. They all have different levels also. It seems like they were trying to figure out the correct amount to give them to turn them quickly and not kill them."

"Ok, we are leaving soon for Julian's pack. If there are any problems let Liam know. Roscoe will also be here if you have issues with the vampires."

"Thank you."

I got up and left his office. This whole thing was a mess but we were slowly getting it cleaned up. I got to my room and opened the door to my beautiful mate laying on our bed completely naked and her legs wide open to me.

"Mr. Alpha, I have a problem I need your help with." She said in a seductive tone.

"What is your problem, little mate?"

"You see Alpha I am wet and my pussy is throbbing and I think if you put your large hard cock in it, it would feel better," She said sitting up on her elbows.

"I think I better inspect it first to know exactly what is wrong with it," I told her as I took large strides to get to her.

"Alpha will you use your mouth to inspect it?"

"Of course."

"Alpha I'm scared will it hurt?"

"Oh no I make it feel all better."

I could smell her arousal. It was so strong and my mate had me so turned on with her little show she was giving me.

"Alpha it's really throbbing right here and when I touch it my pussy gets wetter and it makes me hot. Do you think something is wrong?"

"Let me check it out closer."

I brought my head between her legs and she spread her lips apart for me giving me the perfect view of her swollen clit. I brought my tongue to it and started licking at it. Her arousal was now pouring out of her.

"Alpha YES that's it. That's what makes me so wet. Can you help meeeeeee?" She screamed out.

"Does it feel better when I do this?" After asking her I instead two fingers and began thrusting.

"Yes Alpha something is happening, it feels good. Don't stop."

"Does my tongue help too?" I asked as I started to lick at her clit harder and curled my fingers in her to hit the magical spot.

"YYYYEASSS ALPHA!" She screamed out and started to buck her hips up and down.

She was so close so sped up my thrust and pushed my tongue harder against her clit and as soon as I did that her orgasm tore through and she squirted right into my mouth. I've never seen anyone do that and it was hot as fuck. My cock was painfully hard and ready to explode.

on

"Do you feel better now?" I asked her as I sat up. She was still breathing hard and had a nice pink flush to her face.

"Alpha, I still have a problem deep inside. I think you better use your cock to make it feel better."

I shredded my clothes as fast as I could and crawled up her body. She was fast to wrap her legs around me and pulled me down to her. I lined myself with her and slammed into her.

"Yes, Alpha that makes it feel better." position

She had me so turned on I wouldn't last long and there was nothing I could do about it. I continued to slam into her as hard as I could but it wasn't enough in this position. I pulled out of her and flipped her over and brought her up so she was on fours and I pushed myself into her as fast as I could. I started to slam into her as hard as I could and she was below me screaming each time I was in her as deep as I could be.

"Princess, I won't last much longer," I grunted out.

"Alpha fill me up with your cum."

That pushed me over the edge and my orgasm hit me fast and hard. I spilled everything I had in me into her pussy. I pulled out and laid down and pulled her to me.

"Princess that was amazing. Your little role-play there really turned me on."

"But Alpha I don't know what you're talking about. I just needed help and you really just helped me." She said and then we both started laughing.

"Come on, let's clean up and then we need to pack. We have to leave in an hour."

She rolled over and got off the bed and headed to the bathroom and swayed her hips as she went. At this rate, we would be late.

Two hours later and we were finally on the road. I had everyone else leave on time. So it was just my Princess and me driving which is what I preferred.

"Princess, why are you all the way over there? You belong in the middle next to me." I told her with big sad puppy dog eyes.

She unbuckled and lifted the center console up and scooted over. She wrapped her arms around mine and snuggled down. She wasn't saying much and that worried. She was usually talkative.

"What's wrong?" I asked her.

"I'm just worried about meeting my real father still."

"I know you are. Remember we talked about this and I promise it will be ok." I told her trying to reassure her.

She didn't say anything else and pretty soon she was asleep and not long after falling asleep she was drooling on my arm.

"Colt she may be our mate and we love her so much but the drooling is gross." Grey linked me.

"It's not gross we all drool in our sleep."

"Nope gross."

"Get a life, Grey."

I cut our link and focused on driving. Four hours later and I was pulling into Julian's pack. I rolled my window down to talk with the guard.

"Hello," I said as the guard approached.

"Alpha Colter, sorry I didn't know it was you. You can go in," He turned to the guard that was controlling the gate and motioned for him to let us in.

The gate opened and we drove inside.

"Princess we're here, you have to wake up,," I said and moved my shoulder.

She sat up and wiped her mouth and then looked turned bright red when she saw the drool on my arm.

"Sorry," quietly mumbled.

"It's alright anytime you want to drool on me you can. Although I do prefer if you drooled on another body part."

"Shut up!" She yelled turning even redder.

We pulled up to the pack house and she jumped out of the truck before I had a chance to. Julian and Nicki came out the front door to greet us.

"Hey guys glad you could make it. We've got dinner ready and then we can meet and set up our plan for tonight." Julian said.

"Sounds good I'm starving." Alexa said ignoring me.

"Princess I will be right there. I need to dry my arm."

"Go t,o hell Colter!" She said before turning red again.

I couldn't help it. I liked the red tint to her cheeks it was cute. I walked over to her and wrapped my arms around her.

I leaned in and whispered "You weren't singing that tune earlier today. I believe it was, help me Alpha."

"Yes and if Mr. Alpha doesn't be nice I won't ask for help again."

"Ok, Princess I will be nice but in all seriousness, you can drool on my dick anytime."

She turned even darker red and pushed out of my arms and stormed off to the dining hall. I followed behind her and fixed our plates and went and sat down.

"Princess I am sorry. You were just so cute. You cheeks kept turning red and I couldn't help it."

She just leaned over and kissed my cheek and we went back to eating and visiting with everyone. After we were done eating we all filed into Julian's office.

"Excuse me but Alpha Alexa can I speak with you in the hallway?" Lauren asked her.

She got up to go with her but I wouldn't be letting her do that alone and so I got up and followed them. Lauren just sighed but continued out to the hallway.

"I want to apologize for my actions. I was out of line and if I ever would have known how truly wonderful the mate bond is I would have never done what I did." She said sounding very sorry.

"You tried to kill me. Hell, you almost did. Why should I forgive you?" Alexa spat at her.

"I don't deserve it and you have every right to stay mad at me, but I want you to know how truly sorry I am and how much I Julian's regret my actions. I am just thankful that you spared my life." Lauren said.

"Thank you. I accept your apology but I'm not ready to forgive you."

Alexa turned and went back into Julians office, while Lauren walked away with tears in her eyes. I walked back into the office and Luca looked up for Lauren.

"Where did she go?" He asked when I closed the door.

"I'm not sure. She walked away a little upset." I told him.

"Damn it Alexa, what did you say to her?" Luca said standing up.

"Just that I accept her apology but I don't forgive her."

"She is truly sorry and has changed and worked so hard to be better. She just wanted your forgiveness because she knows what she did was wrong, and now she is going to backtrack." Luca said and by the end of it, he was yelling.

"Luca you better back off. You don't talk to her like that. Your mate tried to kill her twice. She is lucky to even be alive."

Alexa stood up and I could see that Storm had pushed forward. This was bad. Alexa stormed to the door and threw it open.

"Storm stop!" I yelled out.

She turned around and I could see that she was angry and hurt. More hurt than anything.

"Storm please give Alexa back control. There is no fight here. I know you are hurt but please let me talk to her." I asked her.

She closed her eyes and when she opened them I was met with Jade this time. I swear it was like having multiple personality syndrome.

"Hello, Jade."

"Hello mate. Alexa is upset and pushed me forward for now but I promise to be on my best behavior."

"Come on beautiful we need to go to this meeting."

I grabbed her hand and we went back to Julians office and pulled her into my lap.

"You can begin now."

Chapter 82

Chapter 81 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

After a few hours of discussing what Julian's team had found, which was a whole lot of nothing. We finally all agreed on a plan. Which was the same as last time. Create a distraction and when we saw guys go out, we would go in. We would be leaving in a few hours, but this time we had only seventy men with us. This place seems smaller than the last so I am not worried.

I was lying there with Alexa in my arms and she was asleep again. I swear sometimes this girl could sleep all the time. I was so in love with her. She was perfect for me. She challenged me and took charge when needed to and wasn't afraid to take anyone on. She was also a great leader. She was meant to be queen. I can see it now. I don't know why I let it bother me before, because it is what made her.

"Would you ask her to be our Luna and wife?" Grey linked me after listening to my thoughts.

"Yes, buddy, I am going to. I want to make her mine in every way possible."

"That would be ours, not yours."

"Yes, ours."

"Would you hurry up and do it already."

"I am working on it. I want it to be perfect."

"Nothing better than right now."

"I don't have a ring and she needs a ring."

"What about your moms?"

"She is getting that but I want to add something to it that represents her."

"I think you need to add three different blue stones to it. It would match all of their eyes."

"I like that idea. I will take it to the jeweler when we get home."

I cut my link with Grey or he was going to keep bugging me about asking her to marry me. I wanted to take her out on a fancy date and back to a hotel filled with flowers and then ask her. This would be happening as soon as we got back home. I couldn't wait.

I pulled her as close to me as I could get her to me and closed my eyes. I had set my alarm so that we wouldn't oversleep. The next thing I know my alarm is going off.

"No make it stop," Alexa growled out.

"Sorry Princess, it's time to get up."

"Ten more minutes please."

"No, or we will be late and we have already been late once today."

"Please I will hurry in ten minutes."

I just laid there and gave her ten minutes and rubbed my hand up and down her back. She went right back to sleep but the noises she was making would make a grown man blush, it was making my dick hard, but we didn't have time for that right now.

"Princess, it's been ten minutes, it's really time to get up now."

"NO!"

"Oh yes. Come on."

"Fine, but I am not happy about it."

She finally got out of bed and went to the bathroom and I went to the closet. I got dressed in my usual all-black and headed back out into the room to wait for her to be done in the bathroom. I sat on the bed and tied up my shoes when she came out looking sleepy still, but she had braided her hair like she has any time we had gone out and knew there would be a fight. She headed to the closet and I went to the bathroom to brush my teeth. She came back out of the closet in her usual black as well and sat down on the bed by me and tied up her shoes.

"I am so ready to put this part of our lives behind us," Alexa finally said.

"Me too Princess, but I would do it all over again if it meant that I got to be with you."

She stood up and held out her hands to me and I placed mine in hers and she pulled me up and right into her arms.

"Thank you love. I couldn't have gotten through this without you. I don't know if I would have survived without you."

"You would have because you are strong. You are the strongest person I know."

"OK, enough of the mushy, let's go finish this."

We walked downstairs and there was everyone loading things into the cars and saying goodbyes to their families.

"You guys ready?" Mac asked as he came up to us.

"More than ready. We're ready to be done with this," Alexa said.

"Me too. I am so ready to start a life with my mate. I want to mark her but she won't let me until this is all done with," Mac said.

"I understand that. She went through the worst of it." Alexis said sounding sad.

"Thank you everyone for coming on this mission today. We don't expect any issues. This should be a quick in and out and back home. Now let's get on the road," Julian announced.

I grabbed Alex's hand and we walked over to my truck and got in. She immediately went and got in the middle. I sent Mac a mind link so that he could ride with us as well. He came and got into the front seat. Our drive wasn't very far, maybe thirty minutes, and then another twenty on foot.

I reached down and turned the radio on and Alexa snuggled into me like she always does. We all remained silent on the drive there. I know for me I was anxious about finishing this and finally having my mate safe.

I pulled into where everyone else was and we hopped out of the car and walked to where everyone was meeting up.

"Alright everyone, let's get in our groups and get to your spots. You will wait for my signal to go." Alexa yelled out.

She and I along with Mac were in wereone group and would be headed in first. We took off on our walk hand in hand and made it to the point where we would wait.

"Colt, whatever happens in there, I love you."

"I love you too, but everything will be just fine."

"Everyone in place?" Alexa linked out.

Twenty seconds later, she closed her eyes and when she opened them it was Storm. She took a deep breath and then the distraction went off. We could see three wolves run out a back door and towards the explosion.

"Head in," Alexa linked out to everyone and we took off towards the door.

I was not prepared for what was in there. This was not the same as the other ones. This had no people in it. Apparently, the three people that ran out were the only people there. This warehouse was filled with drugs. Everyone was just standing around looking at each other not knowing really what to do. There was millions of dollars worth of drugs here.

"Princess, what are you thinking?"

"I don't know, this isn't what I was expecting. There are millions of dollars worth of drugs here. I don't even know what to do with all of this."

"Me neither."

The ones that created the distraction came back in with the three that went running out. Alexa was walking over to them and so I followed behind her.

"What is this place?" She asked using her Alpha command.

"What does it look like?" One of them snapped back at her.

"Lock them up, with silver." She growled out.

Julian and Mac came up to us just as confused as we were.

"Hey we have gone through every room and it's nothing but more drugs," Mac said.

"What the hell are we going to do with this many drugs," I asked.

"I don't know," Alexa said.

"Julian, do you have anyone in the police department that can help us?" I asked.

"I don't have any wolves but I know some humans," Julian answered.

"What about an anonymous tip?" Mac said.

"We could get the hell out of here and cover our tracks and in a couple of days' time we will call and leave them a tip and what they do with that is up to them. They won't find anyone because we already have them." Alexa said.

"That works for me," Julian said.

"Good let's get the hell out of here before anyone shows up."

We all walked back out to our vehicles and loaded up and took off. Alexa had taken the middle seat and snuggle right back into me and actually fell asleep on the short drive home.

"Is she asleep?" Mac asked me.

"Yes, she has been sleeping a lot lately."

"I am sure she has been stressed over this whole thing and now that it is over she will go back to normal."

"I am sure. I am just glad it is done with. I know she is nervous about meeting her real father."

"Her real father? How did you find him?"

"Roscoe actually knew who it was because of the two wolves."

"Well considering everything she has been through with her family I would be nervous too."

I didn't reply to him because we had pulled up to the pack house. I turned the truck off and opened the door and slide out pulling Alexa with me. I picked her up from the truck and she snuggled right back into me not even waking up. I walked us to our room and pulled the blankets back and laid her down and stripped her down to nothing. She seemed to prefer to sleep naked. I stripped my clothes off and crawled into bed with her. She rolled right over to me and laid her head on my chest.

I was woken up a few hours later by Alexa screaming out in her sleep. It scared me and made me jump up, effectively throwing her off of me. She sat up looking confused for a second before starting to cry.

"Princess, don't cry. It was just a bad dream," I told her as I came to the bed and she crawled into my lap.

"It was more than a dream. It was the truth. It was what I did."

"What do you mean?"

"I was killing my family again and again over and over in my dream and couldn't wake up. The only thing that woke me up was you jumping."

"Princess, how often do you have these dreams?"

"Every night lately."

"Is this why you are so tired lately?"

She just shook her head and kept crying.

"Princess, I really think you should talk to someone when we get back home. They can really help. It helped me when my parents died."

"Can we go for a run?" She asked.

"It's like four am."

"So I will link Julian and let him know."

"OK, princess."

We both got out of bed and threw on some clothes and headed downstairs.

"He said he would alert the guards on duty," Alexa said.

We walked out to the tree line and Alexa stripped down and quickly shifted. Jade was present and she was beautiful, but so was Storm. They were the same but different. It was their personalities that made them different. I started to run my hands through her fur and she started licking me in the face. I stepped back and stripped down and shifted and we took off running.

We ran and chased each other, nipping at each other occasionally. Jade would come and run her snout over us from time to time and lick us in the face. She was feeling very lovey. She took off running and I chased her until we came to the most beautiful place. It had a view of a mountain with the trees clearing out and would give us a perfect view of the sunrise, which would be coming up soon. Jade went and laid down and I went and snuggled up to her and we just laid there watching the sun come up. It really was a perfect view and the most beautiful morning ever.

Chapter 83

Chapter 82 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

I had yet to have a good night's sleep. My dreams were haunted by me killing my family. I relive it every night. I try not to wake Colter up with my nightmares and sometimes I am successful and sometimes I am not. I find myself taking naps throughout the day to compensate for the lack of sleep at night. Like right now, it was just after lunch and I couldn't keep my eyes open. Julian was making Nicki his Luna tonight and also his wife.

I am so happy they found each other and the fact that Robert had a spell put on her so that her wolf was weak so that she couldn't sense her anymore and wouldn't be able to recognize her second chance mate. He said he did it so that when she found her second chance mate and if he was strong he wouldn't know and wouldn't attack him in return. When he marked her it broke the spell and they were able to recognize each other. Although she hasn't marked him yet but I think that will probably change tonight.

I walked up to our room and crawled into our bed. Colter was hanging out with Julian this afternoon. I pulled the blankets over me and was asleep within seconds.

“Alexa, is this the wolf that you have mated to?” My dad asked

“Yes, now untie him and leave us alone.”

“No, my daughter will not be mated to a low-life Omega. You will reject him.”

“No, dad I will not reject him. He was chosen for me by the moon goddess.”

He walked behind him and let his claws out and put them on his neck and pierced his skin lightly.

“Either reject him or I will kill him, the choice is yours, Alexa.”

I looked at Mateo and tried to convey how sorry I was. I didn't want to do this. I just wanted to live my life with him.

“Alexa, reject me. I know neither of us wants this but please just reject me. I don't want to die.”

“See daughter he is weak. You need someone strong to protect you.”

Jade was crying in my head. She knew that my dad would kill him if I didn't reject him. We already loved him. It was the magic of the mate bond. It made you love them instantly, and the force of attraction that was there was amazing. I was openly crying now. I didn't want this.

“Please dad, don't do this.”

“No child of mine will ever have a weak mate.”

“Your brother went through this as well. Do you think that Aubrey was his fated mate? At least he didn't cry like a little baby and just went through with it.”

My father was truly a vile man. If I could overpower him, I would. I hated him. I hated my whole family. I had to get this over with before my dad killed him. I knew he would if I didn't hurry.

I stood up and squared my shoulders but continued to cry, as my wolf was too. Her emotions were pouring out of me, and I couldn't stop it.

“I Alexa Silver, of the Silver Moon Pack, reject you Mateo Black of the Silver Moon Pack.”

He let out a scream as his bond with me broke. He had to accept my rejection and reject me back in order to break my bond, and I had to then accept it to break it fully.

“I Mateo Black of Silver Moon Pack.....

He didn't finish the rejection, and I looked up to see why. When I met my dad's eyes, I knew this was over. He was going to kill him either way. He had tightened his grip on his neck, and his claws had dug in deep enough that he had blood oozing out of his neck.

“Alexa, this is on you. If you had just rejected him like I told you to first time, I wouldn't have to do this.”

He ran his claws around his neck and ripped out his throat. I felt the bond break immediately. I felt my knees screaming. The pain in my chest was unbearable. I was trying to take deep breaths to fill my lungs, but it wasn't working. Jade was crying uncountably as well. I couldn't breathe, and blackness was clouding my vision.

“Dad, why did you kill him?” I managed to croak out.

“Because you're weak and would have gone back to him.”

They all walked out of the room as I lay there.

"Princess wake up. You're having another nightmare." I could hear Colter yelling at me but I couldn't wake all the way up.

"Alexa, you have to wake up," he yelled again and began shaking my shoulders. This brought me all the way out of my sleep.

I looked up at him and he looked scared. I could tell that I had been crying in my sleep again.

"I am sorry. I didn't mean to scare you." I told him as I got up and headed into the bathroom.

"Wait, Princess. We need to talk."

"What?" I turned to him.

"We are going to head home tomorrow morning and you will see a counselor as soon as we get there. You can't keep doing this. It's getting worse."

"I know."

I turned to go take a shower and get ready. I didn't have the energy for this but I had to attend. I stepped into the shower and washed my hair and put some conditioner in it and washed my body.

I wasn't ready to get out yet so I sat down and just let the hot water hit me. The guilt of killing my family was catching up with me and eating me alive. I was doing ok until I killed Robert. I know that they deserved it but I couldn't move on. I was crying again. I let my guilt consume and the tears fall. I could feel the water getting cool but I couldn't bring myself to get out yet. I don't know how long I sat there for but the shower door suddenly opened up and I was pulled to my feet.

"Oh Princess, let's get the soap out of your hair and we are going to go home right now."

"No, we have to stay. I will be fine."

"You are far from fine."

"I will be ok for tonight."

He started to rinse the conditioner out of my hair and then turned the water off. He grabbed a towel and wrapped it around me. I stepped out of the shower and grabbed another towel and wrapped my hair up. I went to the closet and grabbed my dress and heels and put them on the bed. I grabbed a black Lacey thong and matching bra and put them on and walked back to the bathroom and blew my hair dry and then straightened it and then put my makeup on and walked back out put my dress on and then my heels.

"Wow princess, you look absolutely amazing."

"Thank you, you don't look so bad yourself," I told Colter.

He came over and grabbed my hand, kissed the back of it, and then led me out of the room. We walked down to the backyard and they had everything set up beautifully. Lots of twinkle lights and candles. They had red roses and white lilies everywhere. There was a stage set up to one side and to the other were tents that held tables and what I assumed was food.

Colt led us over to some chairs where we sat down and waited for the ceremony to begin. I rested my head on his shoulder and just let my mind wander and the next thing I knew the ceremony was over and everyone was clapping. I spaced out throughout the whole thing.

"Come on Princess, let's go sit down at our table and I will get you some food."

He led me to table and pulled my chair out and leaned down and kissed my cheek.

"I will be right back." He said and walked off.

Aubree was sitting there as well, but she didn't say much. Pretty soon Colter was back and placing a plate down in front of me. I didn't hear him come up and it scared me a little bit.

"Thank you."

I took a few bites and it was good but I wasn't super hungry. I just pushed food around my plate.

"Princess, do you want to dance with me?"

"Sure."

Colt took me out to the dance floor and pulled me into his arms and held me as close to him as I could be. His parents' scent was making me relax a little and feel a little better. I let him take me around the dance floor until the song ended.

"Come on Princess we are going home. You don't need to be here," he leaned down and whispered.

We started to walk away and he took us over to Julian's table.

"Congratulations. I need to take Alexa home."

"Is everything OK?" Julian asked.

He didn't think I was paying attention because I had my head on his arm and not really looking at them.

"No, she is struggling with her parent's and brother's deaths and I think she needs more help than I can provide her right now."

"Let me know how she is, please."

We walked away and went straight to our room where Colt went through everything and had it in our bags in about five minutes and we left. He must have mind-linked Mac to let him know. We walked out to the truck and loaded up. He pulled me into the middle and I laid down against his arm and let sleep take over again.

The next thing I know Colter is pulling me out of the truck.

"I am so sorry," I mumbled into his chest as he picked me up out of the truck and started taking me upstairs to our room.

"Princess you have nothing to be sorry about. I just want you to feel better."

He had made it up to our room and placed me in bed and crawled into bed with me. He pulled me to him and I just let sleep consume me again.

I woke up the next morning with the sun shining into our room. I reached for Colt but he wasn't in bed.

"Where are you?" I sent him a mind link.

"I am in my office, sorry I will be right up."

He cut our link and I just pulled the covers back over me. It didn't take him long to get up to our room.

"Sorry princess, I had to do some paperwork and wanted to let you sleep as long as you could."

"Thank you. I feel better."

"You need to see someone today and talk to them and also your biological father is here."

"Have you met him yet?"

"No, I was waiting for you."

"OK, I am going to shower, and then we can go to your office."

I rolled out of bed and then realized that I was still wearing the dress from last night. I was really out of it last night. I continued to the bathroom and turned the water on then slipped out of my clothes and stepped into hot water.

"I am sorry girl. This is my fault. I just feel guilty but I know it was needed or else I wouldn't have been able to show myself," Storm linked me.

"No, it's my fault I am the softer one of us and I should have prepared us better," Jade said.

"Girls, it's no one's fault we feel this way. We will feel better, I promise," I linked to both of them.

I cut our link and finally stepped out of the shower. I dried off and wrapped my hair up and walked to the closet and grabbed some leggings and a crop top. I wanted to be comfortable today. After getting dressed, I walked back out to the bathroom and ran a brush through my hair, and walked back out to our room where Colter was waiting for me.

"Princess, are you ready to meet your real father?"

"I guess."

Chapter 84

Chapter 83 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

I woke up early this morning and Alexa was still sound asleep. I needed to get some paperwork done and I needed to speak with a doctor about her. She needs to see a counselor. I had gotten an appointment set up for four pm and now we were headed back to my office so she could meet her biological father. I could feel her nerves. I had yet to meet him but Rosecoe has reassured me that he wanted to get to know her.

I walked Alexa to my office and pulled her down into my lap on a chair while we waited for them to get here.

"Princess, you have an appointment at four this afternoon with a counselor."

"Thank you, baby. I just don't know why I can't snap out of this. I was fine until we wrapped everything up with the last warehouse it got worse."

"I know princess and you will be ok. I will be here with you for everything you need."

She didn't get to reply as there was a knock at the door.

"Come in," I yelled out.

I could feel Alexa stiffen up and her nerves skyrocketed.

Roscoe, William, and another man walked into my office. This man looked a lot like Alexa except he didn't have her blonde hair. She must have gotten that from her mother. She had his eyes and nose that's for sure.

"My beautiful daughter," he said as soon as his eyes landed on her.

She didn't say anything but just stared at him for a long time.

"Gentlemen please sit down," I told them and they all grabbed a chair.

"Alexa, I am sorry. I never knew you existed other wise I would have been in your life."

"It's ok my mother wasn't a good person so I am not surprised you didn't know."

"What would you like to know? I am sure you have a lot of questions."

"What is your name?" She asked.

"Michael."

"Can you explain the dual wolf?" I blurted out before she had a chance to ask anything.

"Yes. We are a very old line of wolves that most people believe don't exist anymore. They don't teach about them anymore because they believe we were dangerous. We are more powerful than any other wolf because of possessing two wolves. A very long time ago we ruled over all werewolves. What is known now as the council tried to wipe us out so they could be in charge. A few of your family members escaped and went into hiding where we have been ever since. I don't even know how many grandparents back but you are a direct descendant of the King and Queen of them, as am I. That is why you can make any wolf submit to you and you should be able to mind link any wolf also."

"I don't even know what to say," Alexa mumbled.

"You don't have to say anything, but I would like to be a part of your life if you will have me."

"I would like that very much."

Alexa now had tears running down her face.

"Princess, why are you crying?" I asked her as I wiped the tears from her face.

"Because my parents never wanted me and it was very obvious, but this man who met me twenty minutes ago wants me in his life. I have a father who wants to be a part of my life," she sobbed out.

We all just kind of sat there looking at each other.

"Alexa, can you tell me about your wolves?" Michael finally asked.

"Well, I have Jade who has been with me since I turned sixteen. She is more sensitive and softer and then there is Storm who takes charge and is demanding and can be a little scary."

"They usually take on very different personalities," Michael said.

"They are very different. Sometimes Storm takes control and I struggle to get control back from her."

"She will get better with time. She is the more dominant one and she is very powerful. Well, all of you are."

We continued to talk. Mostly about Alexa and her growing up and what her life was like. Michael seemed to want to know everything about her. He seemed like a good guy. I really hoped this would make her feel a little bit better.

"Princess it is now time for your appointment. I will walk you over there." I told her getting up.

"OK."

"I will have an omega come up and show you to a room," I told Michael.

We walked out of the office and headed towards the pack hospital.

"Princess, how are you feeling about everything?"

"Actually really good. This man seems like a good guy and both of my wolves like him. I am hoping he can explain more about my heritage."

"I think he will tell you whatever you want to know."

We arrived at the pack hospital and I took her to the room they said her appointment would be in. I knocked on the door and someone came over and opened it.

"Hello, I am Dr. Smith, but you can call me Corrine. Please come in."

"Thank you I am Alexa."

"Princess I will be back as soon as you're done."

"I will link you when we are about to finish up Alpha." The doctor said.

I headed back to the pack house and wanted to talk to her father some more, but needed to take care of a few things first. I had some paperwork to finish up. I headed back to my office and ran into Mac and Liam.

"Hey man what's up?" Mac asked.

"Going to finish up some paperwork."

"Is Alexa doing better?"

"I think so. Why don't you guys come up to my office and I will explain everything."

They turned around and headed to my office with me. Once there I walked over and poured us all a drink and we sat down around my desk.

"So man what is going on?" Liam asked.

"Well Alexa's biological father is here and he just dropped a huge bombshell on us. He said that she is basically the Queen of wolves, or her descendants were. The council formed and tried to wipe them out and some escaped and have been in hiding since."

"Wow, I don't even know what to say to that," Mac said.

"Also she has extreme guilt over killing her family and she seems to be reliving it every night when she sleeps. She can't get past it. I have her seeing a counselor right now."

"That's good. I still don't know what to say. She is a Queen. Shit that makes you a King since you are mates." Mac said laughing.

"King Colter has a nice ring to it," I told them both and then we all laughed.

We continued to talk while I waited for Alexa to finish her appointment. It was an hour and a half later that I got a mind link from the doctor saying they were just wrapping things up.

"Alright, boys I need to go meet Alexa she is about done."

"OK, see you at dinner?" Mac asked.

"Yes, we will be there."

I headed back to the hospital and made a beeline for the office. I knocked on the door and a few seconds later Alexa opened it with a big smile on her face but I could see that she had been crying.

"You ok princess?"

"Yes, better actually."

"Are you ready for dinner?" I asked her.

"Yes, I am starving. I don't think I have eaten today."

"Well, let's get you dinner then. Mac and Liam and their mates will be there."

"That means that Alexis will be there. I could use some baby loves."

"Your father will be there also."

"Good I want him to meet my friends."

We had made it back to the pack house and into the dining hall and it was slowly filling up. We got in line and fixed our plates. Alexa had fixed herself a large plate. I was happy to see her eating a real meal again. We went and sat down at our normal table. It didn't take long for it to fill up and Michael came over as we were all eating.

"Michael please fix a plate and join us," I told him.

"Thank you I wanted to see if Alexa wanted to join me so we could talk some more."

"That would be great," she said.

"Great I will meet you at that table over there," He said and pointed to a table in the back corner.

She handed Alexis back over to Sloane and got up to head over there.

"Princess do you want me to come with you or are you ok by yourself."

"I am good by myself, but thank you."

She grabbed her plate and walked off and I watched her backside the entire time. She did have a great ass. I could watch her walk away all the time but I preferred it when she came back to me.

"Who was that?" Sloane asked.

"Her biological father," I told her.

"Oh shit, he really came."

"Yes, and I will let her tell you the rest."

I finished eating my dinner while watching them talk at the table in the back. Every once in a while she would throw her head back laughing and it brought me happiness to see her laughing like that. I finished my food and went and took care of my dishes and went and sat back down at our table while we continued to visit. Alexa finally headed back this way with her father.

"Hey guys, I would like you to meet Michael. He is my biological father."

She went around and introduced everyone.

"Why don't you guys sit down with us and we can all get to know each other better," I said.

Alexa came around and sat by me and wrapped her arms around my waist.

"Thank you for everything. I wouldn't have gotten through this without you." She mind-linked me.

"Princess, I will do anything for you." I linked back.

We all sat around visiting well into the night and had a great time but I could feel Alexa getting tired. She was laying her head on my should and kept yawning.

"Guys I think it's time to turn in for the night," I said.

We all stood up, said our good nights, and headed to our room. We got up there and both stripped down and crawled into bed.

"Colt, my father has invited me to go back to his pack and meet more of my family. I would really like to go."

"Princess I think that is great."

"Will you go with me?"

"Of course. You aren't going by yourself."

"Thank you. I have another thought and I don't know if it is possible but it should be done."

"What's that princess?"

"I want to overthrow the council and give my family back their rightful place in the world."

"How would you overthrow the council?"

"I don't know. They tried to kill off my family. As far as they think my family line is dead. What will they do when they find out they failed."

"I don't know have you talked to Michael about this?"

"I haven't, but I would like to tomorrow."

"I think we need to figure out a way to do it first."

She didn't answer me but snuggled down into me like she does every night. I lay awake thinking about how we could do this. It's not like we could just storm the council and demand that power be handed back over to Alexa's family. We needed proof of them killing her family and anything about a dual wolf had been taken out of our history. This could take months to do.

I could feel myself getting sleepy and welcomed the sleep.

Chapter 85

Chapter 84 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

I woke up the next morning wrapped up in Colter's arms. I was warm from his body heat and comfortable. This was the best night's sleep I have had in a long time. I wasn't haunted by nightmares. Meeting with the counselor was extremely helpful and it felt great to talk about things. I was able to tell her things that I haven't been able to tell Colter. My biological father showing up also helped. It seemed to fill a void in my heart that I didn't know I even had. I still had so many unanswered questions but the thought of overthrowing the council is something that I really want to do. I just hope that he will agree with me and help us. I knew that regardless of whatever happened Colt was on my side.

"Princess, what are you thinking about so hard?"

"Everything. I really want to talk with my father. I want to know what he thinks about overthrowing the council."

"I agree and no matter what he says I will support you and whatever you want to do."

"I know thank you."

"Come on, let's get some breakfast in you."

We both got out of bed and got dressed and ready for the day and headed down to the dining hall. When we got down I found my father and Roscoe and Emma all sitting there talking. I walked over to them.

"Hey, guys. I was hoping that we could all talk after breakfast. Roscoe, I think that it is a good idea that you come as well."

"I would be happy too. I would like to thank you for your hospitality. I need to be headed home in a few days." He said.

"Emma, are you going as well?" I asked her.

"Yes, he is my mate after all."

"I am going to miss you. You have become such a great friend." I told her meaning everything I said.

"Oh girl, you aren't getting rid of me that easily. We will be back to visit don't worry."

"Princess, let's get some breakfast and then we can all meet in my office."

An hour later and we were sitting in Colter's office and they were all staring at me waiting for me to start.

"OK, I had a crazy idea last night and I don't know if you would be on board with it or not but I think we should overthrow the council and let you take your rightful place back in this world."

The room was silent and I think their mouths had hit the floor. This was a crazy idea but if I could get these guys on my side then I think we could do it. Roscoe suddenly started laughing hysterically.

"I told you she was the one," he finally got out between laughs.

"What do you mean?" Colter asked.

"Do you remember I told you she was the most powerful person? I wasn't lying. She will be the one to overthrow them and rule over the supernatural." Roscoe explained.

"What do you mean?" I asked not fully understanding.

"Daughter, I can feel your power. I know that you are also part vampire due to what that filthy man did to you but your wolves are so strong. You emit power that not just anyone can. I can feel it. I may be the Alpha of my pack but you outrank me by a lot. You just haven't learned how to use it yet. It is something I can teach you, and to answer your question yes we will help you overthrow the council."

"So you are saying I am the strongest wolf out there?"

"Yes by a lot. Have you given any thought about going to my pack to meet the rest of your family?"

"Yes but only if my mate can come."

"Of course. My mate and Luna wanted to come with me and it was hard to leave her but I wasn't sure what would be waiting for us so I made her stay and let me just tell you she can't wait to meet you."

"When do you want to leave?"

"Tomorrow. We have a few day's drives."

"OK, we will be ready."

"Well, it seems we have a lot to do in a little amount of time," Colt said.

"Yes, we do. I need to go talk to Sloane and can pack our bags."

"Thank you, princess. I need to get things lined up with our Beta's."

"I will leave you two to it and let me know if you need help."

"Alexa, you have my support and whatever you need," Roscoe said.

"Thank you."

I got up and left the office and went straight to Sloane's room. I knocked on the door and Liam answered it.

"Hey she is feeding the baby in the living room," he said.

"Thanks."

I walked into the living room and there she was with her boob out feeding Alexis. I went and sat down beside her.

"Girl we need to talk."

"Ya, your real dad?" She said giving me a questioning look.

"Yes, and I am going to his pack for a while to learn about my heritage and meet the rest of my family."

"What you're leaving?"

"I have to but it's only for a short time and Colter is going with me."

"When will you be back?"

"I don't know, but when we get back we are going to overthrow the council."

"What the fuck?"

"Apparently my family used to rule over all werewolves and the council thought they wiped them all out but some got away and have stayed hidden for hundreds of years. I want to give my family back their rightful place in the world."

"Shit, so you're like an actual princess."

"No, I am your best friend, your sister."

"I am going to miss you while you are gone. You can't be gone too long because Alexis will go so fast and I need you here."

"I won't I promise."

"Come on, I will help you pack." She said as she pulled Alexis off her and pulled her shirt back down.

"Liam, I need you to take Alexis, while I go help Lex."

"Good, I could use some time with my baby girl alone." He said taking her and smiling at her.

"Come on girl, we got to get you packed."

We took off to my room and we spent the next four hours packing bags for Colt and me. We had four suite cases clear full but I didn't know how long we were staying and I wanted to make sure that we had enough.

"I need to go get my baby. My boobs are going to explode." Sloane said grabbing her boobs.

"Let's go."

"Liam said he is in the Alpha's office in a meeting with her but we can go up there, just let me stop and grab a cover so I can nurse."

We stopped at her room and she grabbed what she needed and then we headed to Colter's office. When we got there I didn't knock and just walked in. He had Liam and Mac there along with my father, Roscoe, and William.

"What's going on here boys?" I asked as we walked in.

"Just getting everyone prepared for us to leave."

"It takes all of you to do that."

"Well no we were also talking with them about your plans to overthrow the council."

Sloane had gone over to Liam and took Alexis from him and went and sat on the couch. I walked over to her and sat down beside her.

"Please don't let us interrupt you guys."

They continued to talk while Sloane and I had our own conversation.

"Are you about done feeding that baby? I really need to get all the snuggles in I can until I come back."

After a few more minutes she finally handed me Alexis and I placed her on my shoulder and patted her back trying to get her to burp. It didn't take long for her to burp and that's when I noticed that Colter was watching me so much, love in his eyes.

"You look good with a baby on you." He mind-linked me.

"I like the feeling. I can't wait for our own."

"I know Princess and trust me we are trying and it will happen."

I just smiled back at him and continued to snuggle Alexis. Sloane walked over and sat down with Liam while I held that baby.

"OK, so I think we have everything set for our departure. Julian has agreed to help out if there is any type of emergency."

"That's good."

"How about you guys go get us some pizza for dinner and we can take it up to our room and we can all enjoy one last meal together," I suggested.

"That sounds great," Mac said.

"I will leave you to it." My father said.

"That includes you too, dad," I told him. I wasn't sure how he would feel about being called that but I couldn't help it. Something felt right about it.

"You called me dad."

"I am sorry. I can call you Michael or Alpha if you would like."

"No it's perfect, I just didn't know if we would ever get to that."

I walked over to him and hugged him with the free arm that I had.

"OK, let's go get pizza, my treat." My dad said.

We all walked out and the guys headed towards the garage and we headed for our room. I had sent Aubree a mind link to meet us there for dinner.

We walked into our room and Aubree was about twenty seconds behind us. She knocked and then came in. As soon as she got close enough I could see the new mark on her neck from Mac.

"OH, my goddess you finally let him mark you," I screamed out.

"Ya, I figured if I was going to have his baby then I would let him mark me."

"What?" yelled Sloane.

"Ya I found out yesterday and I let him mark me last night."

"You're having a baby?" I asked her.

"Yes but it's still early."

"Oh, he is in so much trouble when he gets here."

"He didn't tell you?"

"No, but in his defense, he was told that Colt and I were leaving for a while so he was getting a lot of information thrown at him."

"What you're leaving?"

"Yes, I found my real father who wants me to go to his pack to meet more of my family and we are going. I am not sure how long we will be gone."

"I am so happy for you Lex. You deserve to know them."

"Those boys better hurry I am starving," Sloan announced.

"What are they bringing?" Asked Aubree

"Pizza," I replied.

We all made it to the couch and sat down waiting for them. Aubree came and took Alexis from me and was snuggling her on the couch while we waited. Thirty minutes later and all of the guys walked into the room holding pizza boxes and several different drinks.

"MAC! You are in so much trouble." I yelled at him.

"What did I do?" He asked looking a little scared.

"First of all want to explain that giant mark on your neck? Also what else do you have to tell us?" I asked him.

"Baby I thought we were waiting?" He asked Aubree.

She just laughed and shrugged her shoulders.

"What is going on man?" Colt asked.

"Well, we're going to have a pup."

"That is fantastic news! Congratulations man" Colter said.

"Thanks, we're really excited," Mac said as he put his pizza boxes down and walked over, and kissed Aubree.

"Now you guys need to have one," Liam said.

"I am trying every night and most mornings and some afternoons," Colt said laughing.

"That is my daughter you talking about!" Growled Michael.

"Sorry, sir," Colt said sounding a little embarrassed.

"Why don't we just go and eat some dinner," I told everyone and headed for the couch so we could all get comfy.

Chapter 86

Chapter 85 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

6 months later.

It has been five months since I returned from my father's pack. We spent a month there before we came home. I met my father's family and forged a bond with him that is incredible. It helped heal me. He also taught me about our power and how to use them. His pack was small with only fifty people in it. Since we are going to try and overthrow the council they decided to move into our pack. My father gave up being an Alpha and everyone moved here and pledged their loyalty to Colter and me.

He didn't have a beta since they were so small, but the people that he had were amazing. They were all trained fighters and were just simply kind people. They have all fit into our pack. His Luna and wife Luna Melissa were just as accepting as he was. She has taken me in and treated me just like I always imagined a mom would. They never had any pups and so she told me that I was her daughter and she would love me like that. It was a touching moment.

I crawled out of bed and got a quick shower and headed to Colter's office. He is going to yell at me but he always forgives me as soon as I bat my eyelashes at him. I didn't knock and just went in when I got there.

"What the hell are you doing out of bed?" He said

"The doctor said that as of today I would be off bed rest but to take it easy, I needed out." I shot back at him.

He got up from his chair and came over to me. He walked me over to the couch where we sat down together.

"How are you feeling this morning?"

"Like a beached whale."

"Stop that. You are beautiful and I know it's been rough on you but this pup in here will be worth it once it is out." He said as he rubbed his hand over my belly. We found out we were pregnant a few weeks after getting back from my father's.

Flashback.....

I was so tired that I didn't want to even get out of bed. I have been feeling this way for a few days now. It wasn't the same as last time. I wasn't having nightmares and not sleeping at night. In fact, I was sleeping great. I finally gathered the energy to get out of bed and headed to the shower. I made it to the doorway of the bathroom when I was hit with nausea and ran to the toilet to throw up. After I emptied my stomach I brushed my teeth and stepped into the shower and let the water hit me. It always felt good. When I opened my shampoo bottle and as soon as some of my shampoo hit my hand I was throwing up again well more like dry heaving because I had already puked everything up. After a few minutes, I was finally feeling better and thought I could wash my hair.

"Hey, do you remember the last time you were puking for no reason?" Jade linked me.

"No, I, don't puke."

"Yes you do and you really don't remember. It's something you and Colt have been trying for a few months." Storm said.

"Oh, my goddess are we pregnant?"

"YES!" Both of them said.

I rinsed all of the soap off me and ran out of the bathroom and threw on the first clothes I could find and flew to Colter's office. I opened the door and found Mac and Liam and him deep in discussion.

"Sorry boys I need to talk to my mate for a few minutes," I told them as I kicked them out.

"Princess, what's wrong your hair is soaking wet."

"Colt, what is something we have been wanting for a while and were starting to think wouldn't happen?"

"Are you pregnant?" He asked.

"YES!" I screamed out with tears in my eyes.

He picked me up and spun me around. We're going to be parents!" He sang out.

End of flashback.

"I am just ready to have this baby. I want to know what I have been growing for the last five months."

"I know me too but they will be perfect because you are perfect."

"Stop that. We need to get back to planning how we are going to overthrow the council. I know we put a stop because of my pregnancy but I want to do this as soon as I can."

"I know princess and it will be soon."

"Your baby wants chips and salsa right now," I told him.

"Then the baby will get chips and salsa right now," he said smiling at me.

He held out his hand and pulled me up. We walked to the dining hall and I sat down while Colter went into the kitchen. He came back out with a giant bowl of salsa and a bag of chips. I went to town eating and Colt just sat there watching.

"Would you like some?" I asked him with a mouth full of food.

"No, I am good."

I was pigging out on the chips and salsa and didn't hear Mac and Aubree come into the dining hall and sit down.

"How are you feeling Alexa?" Aubree asked.

"Fat and hungry."

"I am sorry girl, I remember being there the last few days."

"How is my nephew doing anyway?"

"Kaden is doing great. Although I think he eats every hour."

"That's my boy, growing big and strong," Mac said.

They had Kaden a month ago and Alexis was now seven months old and was getting so big.

"When do you think your baby will come?" Aubree asked.

"Not soon enough. I am so ready to have it out."

Everyone just laughed and I continued to eat my chips and salsa. I knew dinner would be in a few hours but I didn't really care. I didn't eat a lot at once so I just kind of snacked throughout the day and napped a lot.

"Princess, what would you like to do for the rest of the afternoon?" Colt asked me.

"Nap please."

"I thought that might be what you want."

"It's what I always want."

"Come on I will tuck you in."

He helped me back up and we got to the stairs and he picked me up in one swoop.

"What are you doing?"

"I'm taking you upstairs."

"I can walk."

"I know but I don't want you to fall or something on the stairs."

I wasn't going to argue with him. It wasn't worth it over something so little. We made it to our room and headed to the bedroom.

"I think I will actually watch TV on the couch for a while, please."

"Of course Princess."

He took me to the couch and gently placed me on it and helped me get comfortable.

"Are you sure you can't stay and relax with me?" I asked him giving him the best puppy dog eyes I could.

"Princess I have to get as much work done as I can before this pup comes," he leaned down and gave me a kiss and then gave my belly a kiss, and for some reason, I didn't want him to leave. The thought of him leaving made me cry. I couldn't stop the tears they just started flowing out of me.

"Why are you crying?" He asked kneeling down.

I couldn't answer him. It was ridiculous and I knew it but I still couldn't stop crying. I hid my face in my hands as I kept crying.

"Princess talk to me please, why are you crying?"

"I don't want you to leave." I sobbed out.

He kissed my forehead and crawled behind me and just held me. I rolled over so I was laying on my side and my head was on his chest.

"I'm sorry. I don't know what is wrong. I don't know why I don't want you to leave me. It just hit me suddenly."

"It's ok Princess, I don't want to leave you either."

He just ran his fingers through my hair. This was one of my favorite things. It always put me to sleep. It wasn't long before I was asleep.

I woke up sometime later and Colter was gone. I was crying again. It felt like he didn't want to be with me. He was working so much right now and I know it's because we left for a month because of me and now he is getting ready for the birth of this baby but I just need to be near him.

"Colt, where did you go?" I asked through mind link. Although it was broken by my sobs.

"I am on my way back up to the room."

"No, if you don't want to be around me, you tell me," I told him back but by now I was sobbing so hard it was uncontrollable. I didn't understand. Can't he just see how much I wanted to be around him?

"Girl, you need to calm down. This is your hormones going crazy right now. Take a few deep breaths." Jade linked me.

"No, he doesn't want us. I am a huge cow. He is disgusted with us," I linked back.

Before they could link me back the door burst open and Colt came running up to me. I headed for the bedroom and he was right behind me.

"Alexa stop. Why are you so upset?"

I just ignored him and shut and locked the bedroom door. He was on the other side yelling at me to open it up, but I was too upset. I was walking over to the bed and didn't see the clothes on the floor and my feet tangled up in them and I went down like a ton of bricks. I threw my hands out to catch myself and in doing so I felt the instant break of my wrist when I landed. I let out a scream as the pain hit me, but my belly didn't hit the ground. I brought my knees up under me and cradled my wrist and just cried harder.

The bedroom door was broken open and Colt came running to my side.

"Princess, what happened?"

I couldn't answer him. All I could do was cry.

"Please talk to me. I begging you what is wrong?" He looked so confused.

"Go away, I know you don't want us around anymore," I sobbed out.

"Princess, I want you all the time. I just have some work to finish. I am sorry. I shouldn't have left you."

"Just go away," I yelled again.

"No you are hurt and upset and I am not leaving you."

I let out a scream as a contraction ripped through me all of a sudden. I used my good hand to clutch my belly, but my broken hand fell and that hurt even worse so I let out another scream. The contraction stopped and so I grabbed my other hand again and tried to stand up but couldn't. I was stuck and needed his help but didn't want to ask him.

"Sloane can you come to my room ASAP!" I linked her.

"Colt just go away. I know you don't want to be here," I told him still crying.

"Princess, I am not leaving you. I want to be with you. I just had something to finish before the pup came."

Sloane came running into the room holding Alexis.

"What's wrong?" Sloane said out of breath.

I let out another scream as another contraction hit me. I tried to grab my belly but then I remembered my wrist and so I just kind of leaned over my belly.

"Are you having contractions?" Sloane asked.

I couldn't answer but just shook my head at them. Colt came over and got down on his knees in front of me.

"Princess, take my hand, let's get you up and we can go to the hospital."

"I can't. I fell and broke my wrist and I can't get up," I sobbed out.

I didn't want him here right now but right I needed him to help me up.

"Oh Princess, I am so sorry. If I knew you would get this upset by me leaving I would have never left you."

He got up and moved behind me and placed his arms under my armpits and lifted me gently under my feet were under me. Colt was quick to pick me up again.

"Please put me down," I told him.

"No, we're going to the hospital."

"I need to walk please put me down now," I told him but was still crying.

He put me down on my feet but didn't let go of my arm. Sloane came over to my other side and we walked out of the room and headed towards the hospital. We got to the top of the stairs and I stopped because I knew I would have another contraction in the middle of the stairs if I didn't wait.

"What's wrong, why did we stop?" Asked Sloane.

I just let out another small scream as the contraction hit me. Colt tighten his grip on me so I didn't fall. I just leaned over a little bit and tried to breathe through it. Once it was over we headed down the stairs. It took us a few minutes to get to the hospital since I kept having to stop but I had finally stopped crying. I noticed that Sloane no longer had Alexis and I don't even remember anyone coming and getting her. Colt lead us right through the door and to a room. He helped me up to the bed and a nurse and a doctor were right behind him.

"Hello, Luna. I hear it's time for you to have a baby." I just glared at her. I wasn't in the mood.

"Doctor, she fell and broke her wrist as well. I know it will heal quickly but we can get a splint so she can move it while in labor," Colt said.

"Of course. We should get an x-ray also."

"No, it's fine just splint it," I growled at both of them.

Chapter 87

Chapter 86 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

When I took Alexa up to our room so she could lie down and she started crying. I couldn't leave her, not until she was asleep. I had a pile of paperwork to go through. I was still trying to sort out merging her pack with ours. I also had to get the same done on her father's pack. He has offered to help but when he came here he officially retired and so I didn't want to make him do it.

After she fell asleep I gently got out from under her and headed back to my office. I got there and went back to my paperwork and had been at it for a while when she mind-linked me asking where I was. I could tell that she was crying.

That's when all hell broke loose. She thinks I don't want her, which is so far from the truth. She ran from me and fell in the bathroom and broke her wrist. I felt so guilty. If I would have just stayed with her she wouldn't be in extra pain.

We've been at the hospital for a few hours now and she is slowly making progress. The doctor said it could take a while since it was her first. She has been refusing all pain meds saying she doesn't want a drugged-up pup. Sloane and I've tried telling her it won't drug the baby or her but she is stubborn and won't listen.

"Princess, what do you need? What will help?"

"You should have never had sex with me. Go back and change that."

"If I remember correctly you are the one who started it."

She just growled at me and rolled away.

"Stop pissing off mate. She hurts and needs us right now," Grey linked me.

"She doesn't want me around her right now. Do you have any better suggestions?"

"Rub her back. Rub her head like she likes. Find a way to touch her. sometimes that helps ease the pain."

I got up and went to her bed and started to rub her back and I could feel her relax slightly.

"I'm so sorry. I know I'm not being nice but I can't help it. Something is wrong with me," She said as she started crying again.

"Sloane give us a few minutes," I mind-linked her.

She left and I crawled into bed with Alexa, she turned to me and I just held her as she cried and then a contraction hit and her whole body tensed up.

"Princess you need to relax as much as you can. Please consider some type of pain relief."

"No."

Ten hours later and we still didn't have a pup. The doctor was starting to get worried because she hadn't really progressed and is pushing for an epidural.

"Luna, I know you don't want it but I promise it will help. I think you're not progressing because you can't relax and you are going to run out of time before we have to do a c-section," the doctor urged her.

"Fine but I'm not happy about it."

I went back to rubbing her back as this seemed to help slightly. The doctor walked out and came back ten minutes later.

"Alpha please step outside while we do this."

I kissed her head and stepped out with Sloane.

"Don't worry she will be ok," Sloane said.

"I know but I hate seeing her in pain."

We both just stood there waiting for the doctor. It felt like forever before they finally came out.

"You can go back in," the doctor told us.

We walked in and for the first time in hours, she looked a little bit comfortable.

"How are you feeling princess?"

"Why didn't you tell me to get this sooner?"

Was she for real right now? We've tried so many times.

She started laughing and says "you should see your face right now!" and started laughing again.

"I can see you feel better!"

"Yes and I'm sorry I know I've been difficult."

"Princess you have nothing to be sorry for. You are doing all the work here and it's ok."

We all settled down and tried to get some sleep. I had crawled into bed with Alexa and just held her and rubbed her head like she likes. She finally fell asleep and so did I.

The doctor walking in woke us all up.

"Luna let's see if you've made any progress."

I got up off the bed and let the doctor do her exam. I had to look away because it was awkward as fuck.

"Luna the epidural is working. You are getting close. You are at an eight and need to be a ten. So it shouldn't be long."

The doctor washed her hands and walked out.

"Princess you're doing an amazing job. I can't believe we're going to be parents soon."

"I am going to let you guys be and just let me know when the baby is here." Sloane suddenly announced.

She got up and kissed Alexa's cheek and walked out.

"What was that about? I thought you wanted her here?"

"I want it to be us when this baby arrives and she understood."

I walked over and grabbed her hand and kissed the back of it. I had my ring ready to ask her to be my Luna and wife. I wanted to do this so much sooner but after she found out she was pregnant I wanted to wait until the pup was here.

"Have you thought about any names?" She asked me.

"No not really, what about you?"

"Well for a girl I really like the name Taylor but I have no clue if it is a boy."

"I like Taylor. If it's a girl that will be here be her name."

She just smiled at me. I was racking my brain for a boy's name but was coming up short.

"You could always name him Grey," My wold linked me.

"You want me to name my son after my wolf?"

"Ya, there is no better name!"

"There is I just haven't come up with it yet."

He cut our link and went huffed when he flopped down in my head.

"What about Kasen?"

"I don't know it's kind of weird." She said.

"Ok, I will keep thinking."

Nothing was coming to me. I don't know how long I had zoned out thinking but Alexa was letting out little snores. I closed my eyes trying to join her and I did for a while until she shook my hand to wake me.

"Colt something is wrong," She said through tears.

"What do you mean?"

"I can feel something. We need a doctor."

She looked terrified. I ran out of the room and grabbed the first nurse I found and dragged her back in.

"What's wrong Luna?"

"I don't know I feel something down there and it doesn't feel right."

"Let me do a quick exam and then we will call the doctor."

I turned so I couldn't see and the nurse did her exam.

"Luna everything is fine. You're just fully dilated and it's time to have your baby. I am just going to get the doctor here."

I turned back around and you could see the nurse mind linking.

"Ok she says to start pushing and she will be right here."

Everything became a blur. It was exciting and scary at the same time. I was feeling emotions I'd never felt before but I couldn't wait to meet our pup.

The doctor showed up and Alexa kept pushing but it seemed nothing was happening. I don't know how long she tried but I could see her energy leaving her.

"Ok Luna, you're going to have to push really hard. This is a big pup."

I was holding her leg and I could see everything but wasn't sure if I really wanted to but I wouldn't leave her ever.

She pushed hard and was screaming and I could see the head start to come out and then nothing.

I opened my eyes to a nurse waving something under my nose.

"Welcome back Alpha. How do you feel?"

"Did I miss it? What happened?"

"I'm sorry sir, you passed out and it's not like she can just stop what she was doing," the doctor said.

I jumped up as fast as I could and there sat a slimy bloody gross but the most beautiful pup I've ever seen laying on my mate's chest.

"I am so sorry. I missed it. I don't know how that happened," I said as I walked to her.

She had tears in her eyes as she looked at me.

"Come meet our pup," She said.

"What is it?"

"We waited for you before I looked."

She moved the pup and that's when I saw I had a boy.

"We have a boy. We have a son. Oh, goddess a boy."

I leaned down and kissed her. We were both crying now. The nurse came over and took him so he could be cleaned up and measured.

"Princess you did amazing. He is perfect. You are perfect. I can't believe we are parents."

The nurse walked back over and placed him in Alexa's arms and told us congratulations.

"He weighed 9lbs 7oz and was 23 inches long. A strong future Alpha," She said before leaving the room.

Alexa started crying again and just held him up to her face.

"Why are you crying, Princess?"

"I don't know. I just can't stop," She sobbed out.

I crawled into bed with her and just held both of them while she cried.

"Do you want to hold him?"

"Yes."

She handed him to me and I moved to the chair beside her. He was asleep and I could hear her yawning.

"Princess get some sleep. You have to be exhausted. We will be right here."

She closed her eyes and I stayed there looking at the both of them. I had a small wave of sadness hit me as I realized my parents would never meet him. They would have loved to be grandparents. Maybe we could give him my dad's name as a middle name.

I don't know how long she slept but our pup started crying and she was instantly awake.

"What's wrong with him?" She asked.

"I don't know."

"Hand him here."

I handed him to her and she dropped her shirt and tried to nurse him. It must have been what was wrong because he latched on and stopped crying.

I could see a wince of pain cross her face.

"Does it hurt?" I asked her.

"A little bit."

"You don't have to. He can formula."

"No this is better for him."

"Well, I was thinking about names. What do you think about John as a middle name? That was my dad's name."

"That's great but what about a first name?"

"I guess we need one of those don't we."

"What about Callen John?" She asked.

I mulled it over a few times in my head and I liked it. It was different but not so different that it was weird.

"I think it's perfect."

"Me too!"

Someone knocked on the door and in flew Sloane and Liam.

"Let me see that baby!" She squealed as she ran to her bed.

"What is it, a boy or girl?" Sloane asked as she sat down next to her.

"This is Callen John," Alexa said as she stroked his head. He was still nursing.

"I love that. I am so happy for you," Sloane said crying.

These girls and their tears today are killing me.

"Congrats Alpha," Liam said.

The room quickly filled up. Mac and Aubree showed up along with Alexa's dad and his wife.

After everyone had been here a while I kicked everyone out. I could see Alexa getting overwhelmed and she looked flat exhausted.

"Thank you," She said after everyone was gone.

"Princess why don't you sleep and I will have someone bring us some cheeseburgers and fries."

"I really need a shower."

She pressed the call button for a nurse to unhook her IV. She was finally out of bed and headed to the shower. I sat in the chair and just held my son.

Chapter 88

Chapter 87 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

It's been a week since we brought Callen home and it's been the longest yet the most rewarding week of my life. Labor and delivery is no joke. I still don't think I've caught up on sleep from when I had him.

"Colt, can you give Callen a bath and I will get ready for our meeting," I asked him walking out with Callen in my arms.

"Of course Princess."

I handed him Callen and went to our bathroom while he went to the other bathroom to bathe him.

I turned the shower on and stripped out of my nasty pajamas. I felt like a milk cow that was failing at her job. I was struggling to nurse him and am not sure why.

"Lex, you are doing an amazing job. Our pup is doing amazing. Don't be so hard on yourself," Jade linked me.

"I know. I just didn't know how hard being a mom is," I linked back.

"Well, you are the best mom ever," Storm linked to me.

They sure knew how to make me feel better. I cut my link and stepped under the hot water and it felt amazing but I didn't have a lot of time. I washed quickly and got out. I rushed to get dressed and ran a brush through my hair. I walked out into the pur living room and found Colt singing to our son and it was really the sweetest thing.

"Are you boys ready?" I asked.

"Yes, Princess we are."

We headed down to his office. We were meeting with my dad and Melissa and Mac and Liam. We were going to discuss what we all thought was the right way to approach the council.

As soon as my dad walked in he came over and took Callen from me. He took any chance he could get to hold him. He was the best grandpa ever.

We all sat down and Melissa pulled out a bunch of papers and some books.

"Ok we need to come up with a plan to approach the council," Colter said.

"This could be hard. We are going to need more on our side than just us," My dad said.

"Ya but how are we going to do that, most people don't even know you exist," I said.

"Then we tell them. We teach them about the history they never learned," Melissa said.

"Again how do we teach them that?" I asked.

"Well we need to get them all in one location," Melissa said.

"That's easier said than done," Colt said sounding frustrated.

"Do we know how many packs were talking about?" I asked.

"A couple hundred if not more and that's just the states," Colted said.

"What if we held an Alphas meeting and invited them for a meeting and a ball and have the council show up the day after the meeting and anyone who is with us can attend the meeting with the council and the third day we can hold a ball," I suggested.

"That's a great idea but where do we hold this? We can't house that many people," Colt said.

"The hotel in town can," Mac said.

"This may work," My dad said.

"We have to see how many the hotel can accommodate and we need to see how big of meeting rooms they have. We will also have to provide daycare for those with young pups." Colt said.

"We can do all of that," I said and just as I finished Callen started to fuss. I am sure he is hungry.

I walked over to my dad and took him. I walked over to the couch and sat down to feed him. I covered myself and he latched on and it had tears in my eyes. It was like this every time and I had yet to figure out why. Colt looked over at me and I could see the sympathy in his eyes.

"Why don't break for a bit and come back in an hour," He said.

Sloane looked back at me and saw me crying and was at my side.

"Lex, what's wrong?" She asked me.

"How did you get past the pain of nursing?"

"It shouldn't hurt. If it hurts that bad something is wrong. You need to see the doctor she can help."

"Thank you, I thought I was just being a baby about it."

"Come on Princess. We're going to the doctor's. I just mind-linked her," Colt said.

"How did you know?" I asked him confused.

"I could hear your conversation."

I just smiled at him and pulled Callen off me and it was like instant relief. I put myself back together as Colt took Callen from me.

We walked to the hospital and Colt took me to a room and we waited a few minutes for the doctor to come in.

"Hello Luna Alpha, I hear you are having problems nursing. What to explain what is going on?" The doctor asked as she came in.

"It hurts. Like brings me to tears every time and he seems to want to eat all the time."

"Can I see how he latches on?" She asked.

Colt handed me Callen and I let my boob flop out. You could see Colt was a little uncomfortable but wasn't saying a word. I brought Callen up and he latched right on and I wanted to cry. She moved his head around some and my boob.

"Ok let me take a look at him now."

I pulled him off and was filled with instant relief but he cried. He wasn't done. She did a quick exam on him and got his weight.

"Ok, guys I think there's a few things going on. He is latching correctly but I think it's just a very strong latch which can be painful. I also don't know that he is getting enough to eat and that's why he is eating so much. He is gaining weight but not where I would like. I want you to supplement with formula for a while."

"What would happen if I stopped nursing and went to formula?" I asked her.

"Nothing. He would be just as happy and healthy as he is now."

"I can't do it anymore. It just hurts and his strong latch isn't going to just get weaker."

"No, but you could adjust or it may continue to hurt. There's no way to know."

"Thank you, doctor," Colt said and the doctor left.

As soon as the door shut I broke down crying. Nursing was important to me but I just can't do this pain anymore.

"Princess, why are you crying?"

"Because I wanted to nurse so badly but I can't anymore and I don't want to fail him."

"You heard the doctor. He will be just as happy and healthy as he is now. You are not failing him but helping him by making this choice. He will get more to eat and not be as hungry. You need to do what's best for you and him."

"Are you sure I'm not a bad mother if I don't nurse him?" I asked between sobs.

"No, he is the luckiest pup ever to have you. I promise."

I was feeling better after my little meltdown. These hormones were still a little out of control and made me a crybaby but they were getting better.

We headed back to the pack house. The nurse came in and gave us some bottles and formula for a few days. We would need to order some.

We walked into the dining hall and found everyone eating lunch. I went and grabbed a plate and then took Callen from Colter and he went and got a plate.

"Everything ok?" Sloane asked.

"Yes, I will tell you later."

I got a few questioning looks but ignored them and tried to eat my lunch one-handed

After everyone finished we headed back to Colter's office to continue the meeting.

"Ok, I had someone reach out to the hotel at the time frame we talked about they have 250 rooms available. Their conference room can hold over 500." Colt said.

"So we should be able to do it there?" Liam asked.

"Yes. For those that the hotel can't room we will have them here. We should be able to make room," Explained Colt.

"Sloane we need to get busy preparing everything," I told her.

"Mathew, Melissa I am going to need your help with figuring out the best way to approach this with the Alphas," Colt said.

"Not a problem," My dad said.

"Does anyone else have any thoughts on anything?" Colt asked.

"I'm sure there will be as we plan this," Mac said.

"Why don't we call it a day and Mathew and Melissa we can meet tomorrow and get started."

"Sloane we can start tomorrow as well. Noon my office."

"Sounds good," Sloane said as we got up to leave. It wasn't even dinner time but I was exhausted and could really use a nap.

We walked upstairs to our room where I laid Callen down and took my pants off and crawled under the covers.

"Princess, are you tired?"

"Exhausted, want to join me for a nap?"

"Yes!"

He took his pants off and his shirt and quickly crawled into bed and pulled me to him. It didn't take long for both of us to be sound asleep. I don't know how long we had slept, not nearly long enough when Callen started crying. I groaned and started to get up.

"Sleep princess, I know you are still recovering. I will take care of him," he said and got out of bed.

This man was literally a godsend to me. He really took care of me and Callen and did it without complaints.

"Thank you, love," I told him rolling back over and going right back to sleep.

When I woke up from my nap I got out of bed and walked out to the living room and found that he had fallen back asleep holding Callen on the couch who was awake but seemed content right now. Since he was not fussing right now I was going to take this chance and get in the bath. I quietly slipped into the bathroom shutting the door as softly as I could. I turned the water on and filled the bathtub.

"How are you girls holding up?" I linked my wolves. They have been quiet since having Callen.

"We are good. We just wanted to give you time with your mate and our beautiful pup," Jade linked back.

"He is beautiful isn't he," Storm said.

"I sure think he is," I told them both.

"We could go for a run, however. It's been a long time since we've been out and we can now," Jade said.

"Yes, I will see if maybe my dad and Melissa want to watch him for an hour or two so you girls can get out," I told them.

"Oh yes please we need it," Storm said.

"Hey, dad would you and Melissa be willing to watch Callen for like two hours so my wolves can run? It's been a while since they were able to get out." I mind-linked him.

"I would love to watch my grandson. You never have to ask we will always watch him," he linked back.

"Thank you, it will be after dinner."

"We will see you then."

I cut my link with him and just enjoyed the hot water. I had added some bubble bath and I had bubbles going over the edge but I didn't care. I would deal with the mess later. I laid back and just closed my eyes. I didn't hear Colt open the door.

"What are you doing in here?" He asked and tried to refrain from laughing.

"Taking the most amazing bath of my life," I told him without even opening my eyes.

"Looks like it, do you want some company?" he asked.

"Where is Callen?" I asked him and opened my eyes.

If I would have opened my eyes sooner I could see that he had him in his bouncer all buckled up. He sat him by the door so we could see him and still have our bath. He stripped down and got in with me. He got behind me and started to rub my shoulders.

"Princess, you did the most amazing job ever bringing him into this world and I can never repay you for making me a dad."

"There is nothing to repay. I would do it again if it meant that we got him."

"So you are ready for another one?"

"You'll be lucky if you get any more."

"I would like a little girl, but let's wait until this one is out of diapers."

This man thought he was funny but I wasn't kidding. I don't know if I want any more kids, but that is an argument for another day.

Chapter 89

Chapter 88 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

It's been a month since we settled on our plans to take over the council. I worked with Michael and Melissa and we came up with a presentation to give. We were currently having the original history books put into digital copies so we could present it to everyone that showed up. After some research, it was easier than we thought. It was just a matter of Alpha's pledging their loyalty to us over the council and once we had more people than them, Alexa's family would rule again.

What Alexa didn't know was that the ball was actually going to be her Luna ceremony and if I had a say in it our wedding. I was planning on asking her tonight. She was finally feeling better after having Callen. She was a crying mess right before she had him and for a while after. Grey and I really didn't know what to do but we just tried to be there for her. She hasn't cried in two weeks now, it's been amazing. Not going to lie, it was so unlike her I didn't know what to do. I talked with Liam and Mac and they both said their mates weren't like that, but I guess everyone is different.

I had Sloan and Aubree helping me today. They had Alexa at a spa and they had strict instructions that they couldn't bring her home until six pm. They were supposed to take her shopping after the spa for a new dress. She is smart, so I am sure that she will figure out what is going on but still, I am going to try. I was currently placing rose petals on the bed in our room. I still had to go to town and get the flowers I had ordered for her and also pick up her ring. I also needed to set up our small dining area for tonight. I was trying to make the room romantic. I wanted to fill both with candles and more flowers.

"Mac, want to go to town with me, I have to pick everything up for tonight," I mind-linked him.

"Ya, man. I just got done with my training class. Let me grab a quick shower." He linked back.

I got Callen ready to go. He was with me today. Michael and Melissa are taking him for the entire night. This was the first time we would spend more than an hour or two away from him. I am not sure how we will handle that. We didn't like to be away from him. I got him changed and gave him a bottle and made sure that I had enough diapers and wipes in his bag and headed downstairs to wait for Mac.

It didn't take Mac long to get down here to head out. He had Kaden with him.

"I thought we could make it a boy's day," He said grinning at me.

"Did you ever think this is how our life would turn out? Were both toting our boys around. They are close in age like we were growing up," I told him laughing. It was strange to see both of us like this.

"Dude, are you going sensitive on me?"

"No just remembering back to everything we have been through together and knowing that our sons will be able to be there for each other."

"Being a parent has made you soft," he said laughing at me. We got to the SUV and loaded the babies into their car seats.

I drove to town. It wasn't a far drive but had to be careful to not run into the girls. We stopped at the jewelry store first. We got the boys out and went in. I had given the jeweler my mom's ring and wanted the diamond taken out and placed in a new setting. I wanted the diamond on the top and the band to be covered in three different blue stones all the way around the band. The three different blues represented each of her and her wolf's eyes.

"Hello Alpha. I have your ring all done and ready for you. Let me just go get it out of the back," said Mrs. Becker. She was an older wolf who ran this shop when her mother passed away and then her mother. It had been in their family for years.

She came back out and handed me a small box. Mac came over to see what I was getting. I hadn't really told anyone yet. I opened the box and the ring took my breath away. It was exactly the way I wanted it and it was more beautiful than I could have imagined.

"Holy shit dude, are you finally going to put a ring on it?" He asked laughing.

"Yes, tonight that's what this whole trip into town is about and the girls taking her away for the day."

"Why didn't you say something, I could have helped you plan."

"It was something I wanted to do all on my own. What do you think of the ring?" I asked him as I turned around and showed him.

"That is beautiful. She will love it."

"I hope so. I am really nervous to ask her."

"Why she just had your son a month ago, do you think she is going to tell you no?"

"Ya kind of."

"That girl loves you. Trust me she is perfect for you and you for her. She won't say no."

His words oddly made me feel better. Grey was also helping. He was so excited about tonight. He has been bugging me to do this well since I found her but so much had happened that it never felt right until now.

"OK, I need to go to the flower shop and then I need to find a store with candles," I told him putting the ring back in the box and in my pocket. I paid for it and we left.

"What is your plan for tonight?" He asked me.

"Well I have the kitchen doing up her favorite dinner and we will have it in our room. I plan to fill it with flowers and candles and I also did up our bedroom to take the celebration in there."

"Sounds nice," he said.

We spent the next few hours getting everything in town and headed back to the pack house. We dropped the boys off with Michael and Melissa for a few minutes while we brought everything up. After getting everything brought into my room, we went back to get the boys from Michael and Melissa but both had a baby on them and they were sound asleep.

"You leave the boys with us. They are sound asleep and you don't need to wake them," Melissa said smiling.

"Thanks, guys. I will come back later for them."

They just waved at us to get out. We headed back to my room and started setting up everything. I filled the room with flowers and candles and had a single red rose on the table and also candles.

"Ok, I think we are done," I said and looked at Mac.

"Looks great to me, she is going to love this."

"Come on let's get our boys. I only have two hours until she gets here and I need to shower."

We walked down to Michael and Melissa's room and knocked on the door and when Michael yelled come in we opened the door and walked in to find them laying on the floor playing with the babies.

"We're having a good time here with the babies. Why don't you two spend the night with your mates. Both of you." Melissa said smiling at Kaden.

"That's very kind of you but you don't have to keep Kaden," Mac said sounding unsure of himself.

"Nonsense. We were never able to have kids so this here is my grandson and this one here is my adoptive grandson and you know what we are missing our adoptive granddaughter, but I don't know if we can handle all three of them overnight. We will take her another night," Melissa said smiling.

We both said thank you and ran out the door before they could change their minds.

"I think I love those two," Mac said laughing.

"Me too."

"Now I have to go and get ready because I am going to take my mate out tonight." He said wiggling his eyebrows at me.

We parted ways and I went and got in the shower and got ready for her to arrive. It didn't seem like it took long to get ready and before I knew it I got a link from Sloane letting me know they were headed down the driveway. I ran down the stairs to greet her at the door. I saw the car pull up and that's when I got nervous. I watched her step out of the car and holy shit she looked amazing. If we made it to dinner it would be a miracle.

I opened the door and took the longest strides I could to get to her. I had to touch her. She looked like a sex goddess. Her hair had grown out some and she had it curled in soft curls. She had on some makeup not that she needed it. But the dress and heels are what put me over the edge. It was red with a plunging neckline and was tight. I could see every curve of her body. I finally made it to her and pulled her into me and bent my neck so that I could inhale her scent. It has always done something to me. It was my favorite.

"Princess, you look absolutely gorgeous. I can't wait to peel this dress off you tonight," I whispered into her ear and started to pepper her neck with kisses.

"You think this dress looks good, you should see what I have on underneath," she whispered back.

I just groaned out because I don't know if I will be able to keep my hands off her. She looked so damn sexy in this dress.

"Come on, I want to show you something," I told her grabbing her hand.

I took her up to our room and stopped at our door.

"Colt, where is our son?" She asked me when we stopped.

"He is spending some time with his grandparents," I told her as I opened the door.

She let out a little gasp as she took in the room. It was lightly lit with candles everywhere and where there weren't candles there were flowers. Red roses and white daisies.

"The room looks absolutely beautiful, but what is this about?" She asked looking confused.

I took her hand and took her to the table and when we got there I couldn't take it anymore. I needed my lips to hers. I gently placed my lips to hers and swiped my tongue over her lips and she quickly opened up. We stood there for a few minutes just emersed in our kiss. She tasted so sweet. Like strawberries and cream. I brought my hand around behind her head and deepened the kiss. She finally pulled away and was breathing heavily. Her arousal was filling the room. I started to kiss down her neck and found her mark and sucked on it and her arousal got even stronger.

"Colt I need you right now," she moaned out in a breathy tone. I had her right where I wanted her. It was now or never.

I reached into my pants pocket and pulled out my box and dropped to my knee. I grabbed her hand and looked up to see tears brimming in her blue eyes.

"Alexa, I have loved you since before we even met. We have been through so much and have come out loving each other more every time. I want to spend this lifetime showing you every day just how much I love you and our beautiful son. Will you do me the honor of being not only my Luna but wife? Will you marry me, Alexa?"

I got the words out but they were shaky and I was nervous. My palms were sweating and my heart was beating so hard it felt like a jackhammer in my chest.

"Colter I love you so much but I'm not a Luna."

Was she turning me down? I can't handle her rejection. I can't believe that after everything we've been through and she would reject me.

"Colt, look at me please."

Chapter 90

Chapter 89 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

Colt had asked me to be his Luna and wife. I wanted nothing more in this life than that. I started to tell him that I wasn't a Luna but an Alpha but his head fell in defeat.

"Colt look at me," I told him.

He finally brought his head up and I could see he looked rejected.

"Let me finish before you go getting all mad," I told him gently.

He just looked at me confused.

"I am not a Luna because I have never seen myself that way. I had a horrible example of what a Luna should be. Once I found out I was a female Alpha that is all I ever wanted and with you by my side I became the best Alpha I could be but now it's time for me to learn how to be a Luna. Your Luna and your wife."

"Wait did you just say yes?" He asked looking confused.

"Yes, baby I did."

He dropped the box and jumped up and picked me up spinning around.

"Really you will marry me?"

"Baby I was getting a little nervous that you hadn't asked. I mean I pushed your giant son out of me and you still didn't ask."

"I've wanted to for a long time but was waiting for the right time."

"I love you so much."

"I love you too but let's make a compromise," he said.

"What's that?"

"Be my co-alpha. I know it's different and not traditional but female Alphas are also rare."

"I love that but I also want to be your Luna. Well, do it all together."

I wrapped my legs around him and smashed my lips to his. We both fought for dominance for the kiss but I backed off and let him have it. This was his night and he could Alpha me all night.

I broke the kiss and whispered, "why don't you take this dress off and see what's underneath it Alpha."

He just growled and walked towards the couch. He placed me on my feet and started to run his hands up and down my arms and shoulders. This caused goosebumps to break out over my skin and shiver to run down my spine.

"Princess you are so beautiful. I can't wait to see what's under this dress," he said leaning toward me and kissing my neck. I could feel his hot breath over my mark and it was making my pussy ache for his touch.

He ran his hands up to the straps on my dress and pushed them down and slowly pulled my dress down until it was under my breast. He was met with a red lacey bra that had slits cut out so my nipples were sticking out. He let out a small growl of approval and brought his head down and ran his tongue over each nipple and then blew on them causing them to get hard and a burst of pleasure to run through me. He started to pull on my dress again until it was around my ankles and he was on his knees, face right in front of my pussy. I had on a matching pair of red lacy crotchless panties.

"Princess, are you trying to kill me?" He asked

"No, I just knew you were up to something so I thought I would get up to something myself."

"Well, I like what you got up to. Now, let me examine all of you," he said as he stood up and made me spin around. He pushed me onto the couch and quickly spread my legs and ran his hand over my slit.

"Princess, I want to try something do you trust me?"

"Of course I trust you."

He didn't say anything else and thrust a finger into me and I let out a moan as it felt so good. I could feel myself getting wetter. He removed his finger and started to rub my clit but what caught me off guard was when his finger slipped into my ass a little. I shot my head up and gave him a questioning look.

"Princess, are you ok with this?" He asked with his eyes turning black with lust.

"I don't know. This is something I have never done before."

"Me neither but I want to try."

I just nodded my head at him and he started to slowly push his finger in a little further and started to rub my clit at the same time. It was a new feeling and it felt good. He pulled his finger out of me and flipped me over so my ass was in his face. He stood up and lined himself up with me and push his hard cock into my pussy and started to push his finger into my ass again. I felt so full having something in both of my holes. It was exciting and I wasn't going to lie I liked it.

"Yes, Colt," I screamed out.

"Do you like that princess?"

"YYEEEESSS!"

He started to add a second finger and thrust harder into my ass. Before I knew I was cumming and cumming hard. Colt pulled out of me and began to finger my ass hard and it was just turning me on even more. I could feel him start to stroke himself as he continued to finger my ass.

"Princess, do you want me to put it in your tight little ass?"

"I don't know," I moaned out. I wanted to try it. It felt good what he was doing but it scared me. I have never tried this but I was usually up for trying anything once.

He pulled his fingers out and spit on his hand and rubbed it over his cock. I turned my head back so I could see him. He placed the head of his cock at my ass and started to push it in slowly. It felt wrong but wrong in a way that was dirty and right at the same time.

He had gotten about halfway in and I was breathing hard as it hurt but I wanted him to continue. I wanted to know what the hype was about. At least I could say I tried it.

"Princess, are you ok?" He asked sounding concerned.

"Yes, just go slow please."

He continued to slowly move into me. The further in he got the more it hurt and felt good. He was finally all the way in.

"Princess it's in all the way, goddess it's so tight. Can I move?"

"Yes!"

He slowly pulled out and pushed himself back in and continued at a slow pace for a while so I could adjust. It took a minute for me to adjust but once I did it started to feel good, really good. It was different but I liked it.

"Harder Colt," I breathed out.

He picked up his pace and I could feel him getting close. I reached my hand down and started to rub my clit. If I was going to cum this was the only way I would get there right now.

"OH god baby it's so tight," he moaned out.

He was now slamming into me hard and I was close to cumming.

"Don't stop, fuck I am going to cum," I screamed out just as my orgasm took over and so did his. As soon as he was done he laid over the top of me breathing hard.

"Princess that was, I don't know but I liked it."

"Me too but it won't happen often I can promise. It kind of hurts but I liked it."

"Let's go clean up."

He took me to the shower and washed every inch of my body and then took my pussy in the shower and then again when we got out. We finally sat down to eat dinner. As soon as we sat down he got back up and went to his pants and pulled out the blue box again.

"I am sorry I meant to put this on you but we got a little distracted."

He came over to me and grabbed my left hand and slipped the most beautiful ring on my finger. It had a large diamond on the top and the band was covered in three different blue-colored stones.

"Colter, this is absolutely beautiful."

"The diamond was my mom's and the blue represents you, Jade, and Storms's eye colors."

"Mate is amazing," Jade said and smiling. I didn't know a wolf could smile but she was.

"Mate is the best," Storm said also smiling.

"Well, the girls and I absolutely love it. Thank you."

"Anything for my princess." He said kissing me.

He finally went over to his side of the table and sat down. He had the kitchen prepare a steak and potatoes. One of my favorites.

"This night has been perfect Colter. I couldn't have asked for anything better. I love you so much."

"Well how about we turn this ball next month into your Luna ceremony and wedding? Everyone will be here."

"I love that idea."

We ate the rest of our food in silence both of us hungry from our earlier events. I still can't believe he finally officially asked me. I wasn't sure if it was going to happen or not, but I am so happy that it did. I had to tell Sloane but it was late so it would have to wait until tomorrow.

After we ate we crawled into bed and quickly fell asleep. It was the best night's sleep that I've gotten since having Callen. When I woke up in the morning or afternoon I wasn't really sure what time it was, all I knew was that I missed my son and was ready to go and get him.

"Colt wake up. It's like noon and we need to get Callen." I said hitting his shoulder.

"I know but damn that sleep was amazing."

We both rolled out of bed and got dressed and headed to my dad's and Melissa's room. As we walked up to their room so were Mac and Aubree.

"Hey guys, what are you doing?" I asked.

"Coming to retrieve Kaden," Mac said.

"Did they watch him too?"

"What in the hell is that?" Screeched Aubree grabbing my hand.

"Well Colt asked me to officially be his Luna and wife last night and I said yes," I told her smiling.

She threw her arms around me and hugged me tightly.

"Congrats, you deserve this. You will make an amazing Luna." She said smiling at me.

"Congrats man, I told you that you had nothing to worry about," Mac said.

The door flew open and my dad was standing there staring at us.

"It's about time. Did you know that those boys don't sleep?" He said as he yawned.

"I am sorry dad, you could have linked us and we would have come and got him."

"No I will always watch him but he doesn't sleep."

We walked in and found Melissa laying on the floor playing with both of them. I walked over to Callen and his face lit up with smiles for me. I bent down and picked him up. Both my wolves were even happier than they were before. They loved him so much.

"Alexa, what is that on your finger?" My dad asked giving me a questioning look.

"Well Colt asked me to be officially be his Luna and his wife and I said yes," I told him with the largest smile breaking out on my face.

He came over and engulfed me in a huge hug and kissed the top of my head.

"Congratulations daughter. You have a wonderful mate and will make the best Luna ever." He said sounding so proud.

Melissa wasn't far behind him engulfing all of us in a hug.

"Now we get to plan a huge party!" Squealed Melissa.

"I am glad you are happy because we are going to need your help," I told her.

"I am so excited. This will be so much fun! When are you thinking?"

"Well remember how we planned a ball for after the meeting?" Colt said.

"Yes, we have to finish that planning as well."

"Well, now it will serve as her Luna ceremony and our wedding," Colt said smiling.

"Oh, that's perfect. Everyone will be here."

"No one say a word. I haven't told Sloane yet and she is going to be pissed she wasn't the first to know."

"First to know what?" Sloane said behind me.

I didn't know she had shown up here. She scared the crap out of me.

"When did you get here?" I asked her.

"Just now, Colter linked me to come up here ASAP."

I didn't say anything but just held my hand out and she squealed with happiness as she looked at it before pulling me into another hug.

Chapter 91

Chapter 90 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

Alpha's started piling in for this meeting and what they thought was a ball but was really the Luna ceremony and our wedding. We've spent the month planning everything. We had over 300 Alpha's RSVP. It was more than we thought but it was good. It meant people wanted to hear what we had to say.

I was going through what we were going to present tomorrow when there was a knock on my door.

"Come in," I yelled out, and both Liam and Mac walked in.

"What's up, guys?" I asked.

"Well you're getting married soon and it's a right of passage to take you out and celebrate."

I groaned not wanting or needing a bachelor party.

"Thank's guys but I am good."

"Nice try be ready at eight," Liam said and walked out the door.

I tried as hard as I could to focus on my work but I really didn't want to go out tonight. I was content to stay in with my mate and son. I gave up and decided I would find them. I locked up my office and went upstairs and found her in our room dancing around with Callen and singing. She didn't hear me come in and it was the cutest thing. I snuck in behind her and started dancing with them.

"Princess I like when you dance. Why haven't I seen it before?"

"Because you've never taken me dancing."

"True but we may have to change that soon."

"Well I am going out with the girls tonight and you will with the boys so I am told."

"That's what I've been told as well."

She handed me Callen and headed into the closet.

"What are you doing?"

"I need to find clothes for tonight."

I followed her into the closet where she was sorting through her dresses and pulled out the shortest black dress I've ever seen. It was sparkly and was backless and her tits would be hanging out.

"You are not wearing that dress tonight," I growled at her reaching for the dress.

"Oh I, am wearing this dress and a pair of black heels."

"I don't think so. That is way too revealing."

"I am a grown adult and if you haven't noticed I can do whatever I want."

"Well, I don't like it."

She just shrugged her shoulders and walked out of the closet and walked to the bedroom with her clothes and threw them on the bed.

"Julian and Nicki are here. He just mind-linked me," Alexa said.

I grabbed her hand and we went downstairs with Callen. We hadn't met their baby yet either, it's been far too long since we have seen them.

"Hey man, so glad you could make it," I said as we got downstairs and they were walking into the house.

The girls were switching babies and talking about how cute each one was.

"You ready for tonight, Mac called and told me the plans."

"No, I was really ok with just staying in."

"OH come on, it will be a good time."

We all moved into the living room to visit. Julian and Nicki had a little girl that they named Ellie. She really was adorable. After several hours Alexa got up to go get ready. I had to find a way so that she didn't wear that dress. We headed to our room so that she could shower. While she was in the shower I hid the dress under our bed. She came out of the bathroom in just her bra and underwear and the sight had me getting a little hard. She grabbed a couple of things and went back into the bathroom and I heard the blow dryer click on.

I continued to lay on the bed until she came back out a while later still in her bra and underwear. She came over to the bed and I really just wanted to rip them off her and fuck her all night.

"Come here princess," I told her and I was fighting Grey for control he wanted her right now.

"No, where is my dress? I know you did something with it."

"No, I don't know," I feigned innocence.

"Yes, you did Colter. I know you didn't want me to wear it but my god it's a dress. We were going to dinner and then some dancing."

"And I won't be there to protect you when someone tries to put their hands on you."

"I can protect myself," She yelled.

I wasn't going to win this battle. I would just have to show up where ever they go. I can hang around in the background. I am sure the other guys won't mind since their mates will be there as well.

"Come on, Colter where is my dress!" She demanded.

I groaned and reached under the bed and pulled it out and handed it to her. She got a big smile on her face and went to the bathroom.

"You better show up to where ever they go dancing." Grey linked me.

"I will don't worry."

"Mac, I don't know your plans for tonight but we better be going where ever the girls are going dancing." I linked him.

"Don't worry we are. They don't know it but I just saw Aubree's dress and shoes and she isn't going without me."

"I told Alexa the same. Don't tell them. I want to surprise them."

"Don't worry, it will be a surprise," Mac said and then cut the link.

I heard the bathroom door open and out walked a goddess. My mouth was literally hanging opening. She was a knockout. I don't know what I ever did to get so lucky because my mate was not only amazing she was the most gorgeous she wolf to ever live.

"Princess, I can't let you go out looking like that. You are way to hot."

She just laughed and walked into the closet. I got up and followed her. I wanted her to know how she was affecting me. I was hard as a rock right now and wanted her. She was looking for something and I walked up behind her and pulled her back to me so she could feel me. I bent down just inhaling her scent.

"Colt, I have to go or I am going to be late. I still have to take Callen to my dad and Melissa."

"You could take Callen and then come back here and we can both forget tonight and spend it tangled up in the sheets."

"Nice try, I am really looking forward to going out tonight."

"OK, fine," I mumbled into her neck and started kissing and sucking and she started moaning.

"Stop it, I need to go. If you're good when we get home tonight we can continue this." She said stepping away from me.

"What do you mean if I am good."

"Don't come home drunk."

"Have you ever seen me drunk?"

"No, but this night is about that."

"I promise I won't be drunk!" I said wiggling my eyebrows at her.

She just smiled at me and slipped on her shoes, kissed my cheek and went to grab Callen and his bag.

"Come on I will walk with you."

We dropped Callen off with her dad and Melissa and headed downstairs and they were all waiting for Alexa and everyone's mates didn't look happy with this. There were a few guards standing at the door waiting.

"Princess have fun tonight," I told her as I pulled her to me and kissed her deeply.

When she broke away from the kiss her eyes were black with lust.

"I will see you later baby," She said and kissed my cheek.

The girls walked out together and loaded into a few SUVs.

"Boys get ready. We're not leaving them for long," Mac said.

I headed back upstairs and showered really fast and went into my closet and pulled out some dark jeans and a black button-up shirt and put it on and rolled the sleeves up and threw my boots on and headed back downstairs.

Everyone showed up at about the same time as me. We piled in the SUV.

"They're still at dinner so I thought we could grab food and we will meet them where they are dancing," Mac said.

"Sounds good," I said but my mind was on Alexa in that dress.

We all ate in silence. I think everyone had the same thing on their mind. Their mates.

We hurried to eat our food and then rushed to the club the girls were going to. We were there before them. We were led right in and up to a VIP room. It was above everything and we had a bird's eye view for when the girls got here. We all ordered some drinks and sat down waiting.

"Where are they?" Whined Mac.

"I don't know! You and Aubree are the ones who organized this," I shot back at him.

"Guys chill, they will be here soon," Julian said trying to calm us.

I took some deep breaths to calm down and it seemed to be working some. The waitress came back and sat our drinks down.

An hour passed when the girls walked in and went straight to the bar to get drinks. I walked to the window and was followed by everyone else.

"Let's wait and see what they do," I said.

The girls downed a few shots and headed straight to the dance floor. They were all dancing together. It was cute.

The club started to fill up quickly along with the dance floor. The girls swept up in the middle. I couldn't take it any longer.

"Let's go boys!" I said and walked out and went down to the dance floor.

The whole place smelled like booze, sweat, and sex. I made it to the dance floor and found my little mate pushing someone off her.

I stormed over trying to push Grey back as I got to her. I grabbed his shirt collar and ripped him back and threw him to the ground.

I moved in behind Alexa and didn't say anything but started to dance with her. Her hips swayed and she rubbed her ass on my cock which was quickly getting hard. I leaned down and whispered in her ear, "Princess you keep doing that with your ass and you will find yourself bent over something with my cock shoved in you."

She just giggled and kept doing it. I placed my hands on her hips and slowed her movements and started kissing her neck. She laid her head against my chest and just let out a little moan.

I grabbed her hand and dragged her off the dance floor. I need to be in her now. I stopped in front of the bathroom.

"Colt, what are you doing?"

"I told you if you didn't stop dancing like that I was going to bed you over something."

She just giggled again and opened the women's bathroom door. It was empty. I turned and locked it and took her to the counter and bent her down and ripped her dress up. She had a thong on that I reached down and pulled to the side. She was soaking wet.

"Princess you're so wet for me. Do you want this in here?"

"Yes, Alpha. I need to feel your large hard cock pumping in and out of me."

I undid my pants and pulled my cock out and lined it up with her and slammed into her. She let out a small scream with the intrusion.

"Yes Alpha make me cum." She moaned out.

I was pounding into her as hard as I could. I had my hands gripped on her waist digging in and she was meeting each time I slammed into her.

She brought her hand down and started to rub her clit and it didn't take her long after that. I could feel her walls contract around me as her orgasm took over and she scream my name. As soon as she was done she pushed me back with her ass and turned around.

"We weren't done," I growled at her.

She didn't say anything but dropped to her knees and wrapped her lips around my cock and started to suck.

"Fuck, baby. You do that so well," I murmured out.

She brought her other hand up and started to massage my balls. It felt amazing. I grabbed the back of her head and held her in place while I fucked her mouth hard. She had tears streaming down her face but she was moaning with each thrust.

"God baby I'm going to cum," I told her between thrusts and I did right after. I shot my entire load down her throat and she happily swallowed it and licked me completely clean.

She stood up on her toes and give my cheek a quick kiss before she pulled her dress down.

"Thanks for the quick fuck Alpa, I really enjoyed it," She said with a smile on her face.

"Just wait til I get you home and fuck you properly tonight Luna."
