

Chapter 90 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

Alpha's started piling in for this meeting and what they thought was a ball but was really the Luna ceremony and our wedding. We've spent the month planning everything. We had over 300 Alpha's RSVP. It was more than we thought but it was good. It meant people wanted to hear what we had to say.

I was going through what we were going to present tomorrow when there was a knock on my door.

"Come in," I yelled out, and both Liam and Mac walked in.

"What's up, guys?" I asked.

"Well you're getting married soon and it's a right of passage to take you out and celebrate."

I groaned not wanting or needing a bachelor party.

"Thank's guys but I am good."

"Nice try be ready at eight," Liam said and walked out the door.

I tried as hard as I could to focus on my work but I really didn't want to go out tonight. I was content to stay in with my mate and son. I gave up and decided I would find them. I locked up my office and went upstairs and found her in our room dancing around with Callen and singing. She didn't hear me come in and it was the cutest thing. I snuck in behind her and started dancing with them.

"Princess I like when you dance. Why haven't I seen it before?"

"Because you've never taken me dancing."

"True but we may have to change that soon."

"Well I am going out with the girls tonight and you will with the boys so I am told."

"That's what I've been told as well."

She handed me Callen and headed into the closet.

"What are you doing?"

"I need to find clothes for tonight."

I followed her into the closet where she was sorting through her dresses and pulled out the shortest black dress I've ever seen. It was sparkly and was backless and her tits would be hanging out.

"You are not wearing that dress tonight," I growled at her reaching for the dress.

"Oh I, am wearing this dress and a pair of black heels."

"I don't think so. That is way too revealing."

"I am a grown adult and if you haven't noticed I can do whatever I want."

"Well, I don't like it."

She just shrugged her shoulders and walked out of the closet and walked to the bedroom with her clothes and threw them on the bed.

"Julian and Nicki are here. He just mind-linked me," Alexa said.

I grabbed her hand and we went downstairs with Callen. We hadn't met their baby yet either, it's been far too long since we have seen them.

"Hey man, so glad you could make it," I said as we got downstairs and they were walking into the house.

The girls were switching babies and talking about how cute each one was.

"You ready for tonight, Mac called and told me the plans."

"No, I was really ok with just staying in."

"OH come on, it will be a good time."

We all moved into the living room to visit. Julian and Nicki had a little girl that they named Ellie. She really was adorable. After several hours Alexa got up to go get ready. I had to find a way so that she didn't wear that dress. We headed to our room so that she could shower. While she was in the shower I hid the dress under our bed. She came out of the bathroom in just her bra and underwear and the sight had me getting a little hard. She grabbed a couple of things and went back into the bathroom and I heard the blow dryer click on.

I continued to lay on the bed until she came back out a while later still in her bra and underwear. She came over to the bed and I really just wanted to rip them off her and fuck her all night.

"Come here princess," I told her and I was fighting Grey for control he wanted her right now.

"No, where is my dress? I know you did something with it."

"No, I don't know," I feigned innocence.

"Yes, you did Colter. I know you didn't want me to wear it but my god it's a dress. We were going to dinner and then some dancing."

"And I won't be there to protect you when someone tries to put their hands on you."

"I can protect myself," She yelled.

I wasn't going to win this battle. I would just have to show up where ever they go. I can hang around in the background. I am sure the other guys won't mind since their mates will be there as well.

"Come on, Colter where is my dress!" She demanded.

I groaned and reached under the bed and pulled it out and handed it to her. She got a big smile on her face and went to the bathroom.

"You better show up to where ever they go dancing." Grey linked me.

"I will don't worry."

"Mac, I don't know your plans for tonight but we better be going where ever the girls are going dancing." I linked him.

"Don't worry we are. They don't know it but I just saw Aubree's dress and shoes and she isn't going without me."

"I told Alexa the same. Don't tell them. I want to surprise them."

"Don't worry, it will be a surprise," Mac said and then cut the link.

I heard the bathroom door open and out walked a goddess. My mouth was literally hanging opening. She was a knockout. I don't know what I ever did to get so lucky because my mate was not only amazing she was the most gergouse she wolf to ever live.

"Princess, I can't let you go out looking like that. You are way to hot."

She just laughed and walked into the closet. I got up and followed her. I wanted her to know how she was affecting me. I was hard as a rock right now and wanted her. She was looking for something and I walked up behind her and pulled her back to me so she could feel me. I bent down just inhaling her scent.

"Colt, I have to go or I am going to be late. I still have to take Callen to my dad and Melissa."

"You could take Callen and then come back here and we can both forget tonight and spend it tangled up in the sheets."

"Nice try, I am really looking forward to going out tonight."

"OK, fine," I mumbled into her neck and started kissing and sucking and she started moaning.

"Stop it, I need to go. If you're good when we get home tonight we can continue this." She said stepping away from me.

"What do you mean if I am good."

"Don't come home drunk."

"Have you ever seen me drunk?"

"No, but this night is about that."

"I promise I won't be drunk!" I said wiggling my eyebrows at her.

She just smiled at me and slipped on her shoes, kissed my cheek and went to grab Callen and his bag.

"Come on I will walk with you."

We dropped Callen off with her dad and Melissa and headed downstairs and they were all waiting for Alexa and everyone's mates didn't look happy with this. There were a few guards standing at the door waiting.

"Princess have fun tonight," I told her as I pulled her to me and kissed her deeply.

When she broke away from the kiss her eyes were black with lust.

"I will see you later baby," She said and kissed my cheek.

The girls walked out together and loaded into a few SUVs.

"Boys get ready. We're not leaving them for long," Mac said.

I headed back upstairs and showered really fast and went into my closet and pulled out some dark jeans and a black button-up shirt and put it on and rolled the sleeves up and threw my boots on and headed back downstairs.

Everyone showed up at about the same time as me. We piled in the SUV.

"They're still at dinner so I thought we could grab food and we will meet them where they are dancing," Mac said.

"Sounds good," I said but my mind was on Alexa in that dress.

We all ate in silence. I think everyone had the same thing on their mind. Their mates.

We hurried to eat our food and then rushed to the club the girls were going to. We were there before them. We were led right in and up to a VIP room. It was above everything and we had a bird's eye view for when the girls got here. We all ordered some drinks and sat down waiting.

"Where are they?" Whined Mac.

"I don't know! You and Aubree are the ones who organized this," I shot back at him.

"Guys chill, they will be here soon," Julian said trying to calm us.

I took some deep breaths to calm down and it seemed to be working some. The waitress came back and sat our drinks down.

An hour passed when the girls walked in and went straight to the bar to get drinks. I walked to the window and was followed by everyone else.

"Let's wait and see what they do," I said.

The girls downed a few shots and headed straight to the dance floor. They were all dancing together. It was cute.

The club started to fill up quickly along with the dance floor. The girls swept up in the middle. I couldn't take it any longer.

"Let's go boys!" I said and walked out and went down to the dance floor.

The whole place smelled like booze, sweat, and sex. I made it to the dance floor and found my little mate pushing someone off her.

I stormed over trying to push Grey back as I got to her. I grabbed his shirt collar and ripped him back and threw him to the ground.

I moved in behind Alexa and didn't say anything but started to dance with her. Her hips swayed and she rubbed her ass on my cock which was quickly getting hard. I leaned down and whispered in her ear, "Princess you keep doing that with your ass and you will find yourself bent over something with my cock shoved in you."

She just giggled and kept doing it. I placed my hands on her hips and slowed her movements and started kissing her neck. She laid her head against my chest and just let out a little moan.

I grabbed her hand and dragged her off the dance floor. I need to be in her now. I stopped in front of the bathroom.

"Colt, what are you doing?"

"I told you if you didn't stop dancing like that I was going to bed you over something."

She just giggled again and opened the women's bathroom door. It was empty. I turned and locked it and took her to the counter and bent her down and ripped her dress up. She had a thong on that I reached down and pulled to the side. She was soaking wet.

"Princess you're so wet for me. Do you want this in here?"

"Yes, Alpha. I need to feel your large hard cock pumping in and out of me."

I undid my pants and pulled my cock out and lined it up with her and slammed into her. She let out a small scream with the intrusion.

"Yes Alpha make me cum." She moaned out.

I was pounding into her as hard as I could. I had my hands gripped on her waist digging in and she was meeting each time I slammed into her.

She brought her hand down and started to rub her clit and it didn't take her long after that. I could feel her walls contract around me as her orgasm took over and she scream my name. As soon as she was done she pushed me back with her ass and turned around.

"We weren't done," I growled at her.

She didn't say anything but dropped to her knees and wrapped her lips around my cock and started to suck.

"Fuck, baby. You do that so well," I murmured out.

She brought her other hand up and started to massage my balls. It felt amazing. I grabbed the back of her head and held her in place while I fucked her mouth hard. She had tears streaming down her face but she was moaning with each thrust.

"God baby I'm going to cum," I told her between thrusts and I did right after. I shot my entire load down her throat and she happily swallowed it and licked me completely clean.

She stood up on her toes and give my cheek a quick kiss before she pulled her dress down.

"Thanks for the quick fuck Alpa, I really enjoyed it," She said with a smile on her face.

"Just wait til I get you home and fuck you properly tonight Luna."

Chapter 92

Chapter 91 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa's POV

I woke up the next morning deliciously sore in all the right places. Colt showed up at the club and we had a great night but ended early to go home. The dancing and alcohol had us both ready to tear our clothes off each other and our little bathroom escapade didn't fulfill our needs. As much as I wanted to stay in bed all day I had to get up as all of the Alpha's showed and we had a meeting with them today and the council tomorrow. Today would determine our future. It was a huge risk but it was worth it.

"Colt, we have to get up," I told him trying to nudge him awake.

"Five more minutes," he said pulling me closer to him.

"No we need a shower after last night and I would like to see our son before we leave."

"Fine but no promises that I don't take advantage of you in the shower," he said as he pushed his hard cock into my hip.

"I'm beginning to think you're a bigger horn dog than me."

"The biggest one."

"Come on, shower and no funny business, horn dog."

As soon as I said that, I jumped out of bed and ran to the bathroom. I turned the shower on to warm up and brushed my teeth. Colt came in just as I finished and I tried to dodge him and get in the shower but he was faster than me and pulled me into him.

"Seriously we need to get ready," I told him with my most serious face.

He kissed the top of my head and let me go. I stepped into the shower and the hot water felt amazing. I started to wash my hair when he stepped in with me and took over washing my hair. After washing each other and some kisses we finally wrapped up our shower. I walked into the closet and found some skinny jeans and a blouse to put on and a pair of heeled boots. This was about as professional as I got.

I dried my hair, ran the straightener over my hair, and put on some makeup. I stepped out of the bathroom and found Colt waiting on the bed for me.

"Come on, let's go find our beautiful baby boy," I told him.

"Don't have to tell me twice. I miss him."

We walked down to my dad's and Melissa's room and found my dad sitting in a rocker holding him. I walked over and took him from my dad and sat down on the couch.

"How was last night? What did you guys do?" My dad asked.

I couldn't help it and looked at Colter and started laughing. I didn't know how to answer that questions. I couldn't tell my dad that it was spent drinking and fucking my soon-to-be husband.

"It was a great night, we met up with the girls and had some drinks and danced," Colt said saving me from what I was thinking.

"Was Callen good for you last night?" I asked, trying to change the topic.

"He's perfect!" Melissa said.

"He's not when he cries at two am," Colt grumbled.

We sat there visiting with them for an hour before we had to take Callen to Sloane and Aubree. They were watching the kids for us today.

"We should get Callen to Sloane and Aubree, so we can get to the hotel," I told everyone.

We all got up and we went to Sloane's room and knocked. I could hear the kids on the other side laughing and playing. Someone was headed to the door and Sloane opened it. She looked a little rough today.

"How are you feeling?" I asked her walking in.

"Exhausted."

"I know the feeling but in a few days we can catch up on sleep."

"I need it now."

We all laughed as I kissed Callen goodbye. I feel like I am leaving him a lot lately but as soon as this is over I will smother him with so much love.

I handed him over to Sloane and we turned to leave. When we stepped out of the room there was a guard there. We weren't taking any chances with so many Alphas in the area.

We loaded into the cars and made our quick twenty-minute drive. We arrived the hotel was full. There were people walking everywhere. Most of them I didn't know, but Colt seemed to know a lot of them. He just waved at the ones he knew and kept walking. We needed to get to the meeting room where this was being held.

My nerves were getting the best of me. I was so nervous I felt like I was going to vomit.

"Girl, chill. It will be ok, this is your birthright, you are just taking it back," Jade linked me.

"And if they protest I will put them in their place," Storm said.

"No we can't make them submit like that, it has to be their choice," I told Storm.

Colt lead us up on stage and we took a seat.

"Princess, it will be ok. Everything is going to work out I promise," Colt linked me.

I just looked at him and tried to give him my best smile but it failed me.

People were filling the room and taking a seat. I knew we didn't have enough seats and people would be standing, so hopefully, this didn't take too long. Five minutes later they stopped coming in and the doors were closed. You could feel all of the Alpha aurora in here. It was a little stifling. I could feel mine come out as well and I had to concentrate to bring it back in. Most here didn't know that I was a female alpha, let alone have two wolves, and were more powerful than them.

Colt stood up and went to the podium. I could feel his nerves as well. It was making mine worse.

"Welcome everyone. I would like to get started and we have a lot to discuss today so if we could keep questions to the end and please try to keep tempers in check," Colt said as he started.

"We are going to start with a little history lesson, now some of you may or may not know this but before the council was formed wolves were run by a King and Queen."

There were instantly a lot of hushed mummings about this. I am guessing most didn't know this. It doesn't surprise me. I didn't know and neither did Colt.

"The King and Queen were a special type of wolf called a dual wolf. They actually possess two wolves and could shift into both of them. It depended on the situation that was at hand but they were powerful because of their two wolves. They also possessed other powers such as being able to mind link with anyone. The council was formed and they annihilated everyone in the kingdom or so they thought. The Queen was able to escape with some of her pack and they have been in hiding since."

This had the crowd erupting in chaos. Colt just stood up there and let everyone talk amongst themselves. This was big news, that most didn't know. He started to try and calm them down. After a few minutes, people started to calm down and sit back down.

"Alpha Colter, I am sorry but you're full of shit," should someone in the back.

"I have proof. The council was good when they did it and destroyed any traces of them and that is why you have never heard of them. This was hundreds of years ago."

"My grandfather actually used to tell me a tale about a wolf who used to have two wolves and how powerful they were but he would end it with how violent they were also," someone in the middle shouted.

"They are not violent," Colt said getting a little upset.

"How can you be so sure? I am guessing you are asking us to boycott the council and follow this pack?" Someone else shouted.

"Yes, they deserve their rightful place as our King and Queen," Colt said.

"So they can wipe us all out," was shouted out.

"I can assure you that they do not want to wipe you out and are actually very kind people," Colt shouted back.

"Well then the council will wipe us out if we turn our backs on them and their pack will start a war, so it's a lose-lose situation for us. What have you brought us, Alpha Colter?"

"I assure you that they do not want a war and will not attack unless attacked first."

"How can you be so sure?" Someone else asked.

"Because they have been sitting on stage this entire time. Please the rightful King Michael and Queen Melissa."

They both stood up and walked to the podium and all hell broke loose in the room. Everyone was shouting and getting nervous. I couldn't take it anymore. They needed to let them show who they were. I stood up and went to the podium.

"ENOUGH!" I shouted into the microphone and put my Alpha command behind and everyone single person including my father and Melissa dropped to their knees and bared their neck at me.

"Please have some respect and hear them out. If you don't want to then you can leave but don't expect their support in the future." I turned to take my seat again when someone asked "how did you do that?"

"Please give them a chance to explain," were my words to them.

My dad and Melissa stepped up to the podium and everyone finally calmed down after my little show.

"Thank you everyone for giving us your time. What Alpha Colter has said is true. My great great great great grandparents were King and Queen. We have been hiding since the council ambushed us and ran us out. We are a small pack that has actually joined Alpha Colters and Luna Alexa's pack now. We are done hiding and we are ready to take our rightful place back. If you as a whole do not believe that we will rule over you and do right by you then we will not continue this but if you give us a chance then we can work together and make this work."

"This is a lot of information to process. How do we know we can trust you? Stories say you are violent." Said the same man as before.

"If we were violent then don't you think that we would have been attacking much sooner than this and wouldn't we have attacked when things got a little crazy a while ago?"

"He's right. I knew the King and Queen that ran off and they were good people just like these guys. They deserve to take their rightful place back," someone in the back corner said but they were walking forward. As they got closer I realized it was Roscoe. I didn't know he was here. People started to mummer about who that was. He walked right up to the podium and shook hands with my dad and hugged Melissa.

"If I may, I am the Vampire King and I can tell you right now that I knew them and they were great rulers. They were kind and fair and wanted what was best for the werewolf community. They were run off by power-hungry wolves and they deserve their rightful place back," Roscoe said.

"How do you suggest we overthrow the council? I had asked for help a while back and it wasn't answered. In fact, they seem to be slipping on a lot of things lately," someone said.

"It's easy, you just pledge your loyalty to them as Alpha and Luna's and there is a ceremony to go with it. I do believe that Michael has the correct procedure for this," Roscoe said.

"Yes, I do, but there is something else I would like to announce if everyone is on board with this. Please, if you would like to pledge your allegiance to the King and Queen, please stand."

The room was silent and people were thinking it over. Finally, someone stood up but they had more to say.

"I want to because the council has burned me in the past as well, but how do we know that you won't turn your back on us as well?"

"Well, I am an Alpha, or I was until I retired, and I plan on staying retired so the throne gets passed to my daughter and her mate. I do believe that you know them and trust them. There is more to the story. I didn't know I had a daughter until nine months ago. Please, my daughter Luna Alexa," he said, and everyone just stared at me.

Before I could even stand and walk to the podium, Julian stood and pledged his allegiance to me. Several others followed suit but most of them stayed sitting down. I got to the podium and walked up to the microphone to speak.

"I know that most of you don't know me but I do possess two wolves and I am also a female alpha as you saw earlier I am powerful but that power will only be used in times of need and I do promise to do right by each and every one of you," I told them trying to sway them to our side.

"You are more powerful than the council. I've never seen someone be able to make a room full of Alpha's submit and you're a female. I will pledge based on that alone," said someone off to the side. They stood up and a few more followed.

"Can you help with the rouge problem that I am having lately?" Asked someone else.

"We can work together to help you. It will take more than just me. We are a community and it will take all of us but we will do everything in our power to help you," I told them confidently.

After several more hours of questions, we had most of the people on our side. There were a few that were still having a hard time with this.

"Please everyone we have dinner coming soon and tomorrow I would like to announce that the party on Saturday night is actually going to be a Luna ceremony for my future Luna and also our wedding. We thought that since everyone was here we would change it to that and that we could celebrate with all of you. I would also like to inform you that the council will be here tomorrow and we would like everyone who is on our side to please be down here at nine am," Colter announced and walked over to me.

I was exhausted and we still had a long day ahead of us tomorrow and the next day. He led me off the stage and we went and mingled with everyone there, well into the night.

Chapter 93

Chapter 92 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

We talked with everyone until about midnight when we finally called it a night and headed back to the pack house. Alexa climbed in the front seat and scooted over to the middle and cuddled up to me. I think she was asleep before we even left the hotel. It was a silent ride home with Michael and Melissa, Liam and Mac. We were all exhausted but we had to do it all over again tomorrow with the council. This is what had me nervous. I didn't know how they would react and it seemed like we had a lot of support from the Alphas and their Lunas but you could never be too sure.

I finally pulled into the pack house and pulled Alexa out of the truck. She just snuggled into me and stayed asleep.

"Mac, I am going to put Alexa to bed and then I will be there to get Callen."

"Just leave him, man. He is asleep and there is no need to wake him."

I just nodded at him and headed up to our room. Once there I placed Alexa in bed and stripped her out of her clothes and then took mine off and crawled in with her. I set the alarm on my phone and passed out with Alexa in my arms. The next thing I knew my alarm was going off.

"Princess wake up. We need to get ready and head to the hotel. We need to be there before everyone else."

She just groaned but rolled out of bed. We both quickly showered and dressed not really saying anything. I could feel her nerves and I knew she could feel mine as well. Once dressed we headed to Liam and Sloane's room to see Callen. We knocked and Liam quickly came to the door.

"Good Morning," he said as we went into their room.

Alexa literally ran to Callen and picked him up.

"Thanks for keeping him, you guys. We really owe you," Alexa said.

We snuggled Callen for a few minutes before we had to leave again. She kissed him goodbyes and we left their room and headed towards the truck. Again it was a quiet drive to the hotel. We got into the meeting room and it was packed again. I was surprised, it seemed like everyone showed up again. I had told them that if they stood with us to be here to confront the council.

Alexa and I walked around thanking everyone for being here and we were welcomed with open arms. It was now nine am and I needed to address them before the council got here. We stepped up to the podium to begin.

"Thank you again for everyone being here again. I am going to take your attendance as your support for us. Does anyone oppose this?"

"After you left last night we all had a discussion and we also talked with the Vampire King and he explained everything to us again and we will stand with you," said someone in the back.

"Thank you, everyone, we will do everything we can for you. Now we need to discuss the council as they will be here in an hour. Our plan is to tell them our history and see how they react. Does anyone have any thoughts?"

Everyone remained silent. I stepped away from the podium. We had about thirty minutes until they arrive. I thought it would be best if they came in and we were all talking amongst ourselves. I grabbed Alexa's hand we headed to Roscoe and Emma.

"Thank you for last night. I don't know what you told them but it worked," I told Roscoe as soon as we got over there.

"I just told them the truth. Your mate is very powerful and she was meant to rule."

"She is pretty amazing."

We continued around the room and talked with more people. They were very curious about Alexa and her powers and her wolves. She answered them as best as she could and was truthful about them.

The doors suddenly opened and in walked the six members of the council. They didn't look too pleased to be here. They walked right over to where Alexa and I were.

"Alpha Colter, nice to see. It appears that everyone is here. You should get started we have a long day ahead of us," he said with a curt tone. I have a feeling he knows what this is about and he isn't happy about it.

I grabbed Alexa's hand and headed back up to the stage and welcomed everyone here again. I basically repeated the same speech as I gave yesterday and when I was done the councilmen looked pissed.

"You mean to tell me you brought us here to challenge us?" Yelled one of the councilmen.

"No we brought you here to tell you that all of the people here today have pledged their loyalty to us over you," I yelled in anger.

"You mean to tell me that this uncontrollable she-wolf who is part vampire and killed her entire family has gotten all of you to pledge their loyalty to her," he roared back.

He defiantly knew ahead of time and wasn't happy about it. None of them were. People were getting upset and starting to yell. Most didn't know about her killing her family but that was justified. She stood up and came to the microphone.

"STOP IT!" She yelled into the microphone with her Alpha command and everyone including the council dropped to their knees and bared their necks to her. The councilmen's eyes were huge when she did this. They knew she was powerful but not that powerful.

"Let me explain. As some know my family was not kind. The man who raised me was a vile man who kidnaped people turning them into hybrids. He beat and raped women and he killed my first mate telling me he wasn't strong enough to be my mate. He tried to kill me and caused me to have a miscarriage with my first pup. He then injected me with vampire venom and it's true I am part vampire, however, it is very dormant and very controlled. My mother and brother sat back and allowed this to happen, but I wouldn't. I won't allow our kind to hurt each other and so I did what any other normal person would do and I killed them, all three of them," by the time she was done she was openly crying. I knew all of this was hard for her and she would cry every time she talked about it.

I walked over to her and wrapped her up in a hug and stood there holding her. While my back was turned to the crowd one of the councilmen shifted and lunged on stage at me. He got his claws in my back but Alexa was quick and threw me to the side and quickly shifted and jumped on him. They went tumbling as they were snapping their jaws at each other. Everyone stood stunned watching them.

Before I could shift Alexa ripped his throat out as he was on top of her. His lifeless body fell on top of her. I rushed over and pushed him off her and she shifted back. I took my shirt off and handed it to her to put on. I looked up and everyone was still standing there watching us.

"See she can't be controlled. She has two wolves and she just killed a council member," yelled another council member.

"He attacked her mate, she had every right to do what she did," someone said.

"If you stand with her you are all fools. I won't stand for it," he said looking around at everyone.

The remaining council members stepped back from him.

"Alpha Alexa, I will support you and so will the other three members. We will pledge our loyalty to you. We were all very aware of what was done to your family. It is something that we were made aware of when we become a member. We were also aware of what you were long before you but were going to let it go unless you figured it out. The member you killed and this man here were against us," said another council member.

"If you stay you will all die at her hands," yelled the one man who didn't want this.

"Then you may leave, you are free to do what you want," Alexa told him.

"You are all fools and you haven't seen the last of me," he yelled and ran out of the room.

I wanted to chase after him but now wasn't the time, he would be back and I would take care of him then. I walked over to Alexa and wrapped her in another hug.

"My queen, you were amazing. Thank you for saving me."

"I will save you every day. I love you."

I brought my lips to hers and gave her a kiss with all the love I had for her. Someone behind us cleared their throats causing us to break apart. Alexa was turning a little red in the face.

"Alpha Colter, I know that you have a ball planned tomorrow, however, we would like to swear you and Alpha Alexa in as King and Queen during that time," said a council member, as soon as the crowd of people heard that they started cheering.

"Well actually we had planned to do Luna Alexa's Luna ceremony and also we planned on getting married."

"Well now it sounds like we have three things to do," he said smiling.

"Everyone I want to thank you for being here today. I would however like to end the day. Dinner will be brought in soon and everyone is invited to our pack tomorrow for the big celebration," I announced to everyone and they cheered again.

I lead Alexa out of the room and got into the truck. I knew that she was tired and she was upset about explaining everything to everyone. I just wanted to take her home and get our baby and spend the night together. I had sent Mac a link telling him to take Michael and Melissa home.

Alexa climbed into the truck and scooted directly in the middle. I got in and she laid her head on my shoulder closing her eyes. The twenty-minute drive went by in a blur and we were finally home. We got out of the truck and headed inside.

"Princess, go shower and I will go get Callen and we can spend the evening just us in our room."

She nodded her head and headed towards our room and I went to Liam and Sloane's room. I knocked on the door and Aubree came and opened it up.

"Hey Alpha," she said opening the door for me. I spotted Callen laying on the floor wiggling around. I walked over and scooped him giving him a kiss. He was all smiles to see me.

"How did it go today?" Sloane asked.

"Better than I could have ever imagined. We got support from all of the Alphas and most of the council. We have one person who is pissed and refused but he left. I am sure he will be back later but we will deal with it when that happens," I explained.

"So you are like King now?" She asked.

"No, not yet."

She just nodded her head and I grabbed Callen's bag and headed to our room. When we got there I opened the door and I could hear Alexa in the shower still. I called down to the kitchen and asked them to bring us dinner. I went into our room and got some comfy clothes on and went and sat on the couch playing with Callen.

"How are my boys?" Alexa asked as she came out of the room dressed in some cute pink pajamas.

"We are happy to be home with just the three of us."

She came over and sat on the couch and stole Callen from me, giving him lots of kisses.

Chapter 93 - Alpha Alexa

Epilogue

Alexa's POV

It's been five months since our meeting with the council and our wedding and being sworn in officially as Queen and King of the werewolves. It was the most magical day but mostly because I got to marry the man of my dreams. He is everything I never knew I wanted. He is kind and gentle and loves me even when I find it hard to love myself.

Callen has gotten so big, he just turned one and is about to be a big brother. Apparently, our night of fun for our bachelorette and bachelor party ended up with me pregnant again. I swore the first time that I wouldn't have anymore but jokes on me because this time we're having two. I thought I was a house last time it's nothing compared to how big I am this time. I really am a house.

I managed to waddle out of our room and head for Colt's office. Since becoming King he has tried helping everyone that needed it. We have taken over running the Elite University as well. They have come in handy because they have worked more into a royal guard and work for us. We are able to send teams to different packs to help. Finances are something that some packs have struggled with. We have been trying to help them figure out how they can generate more income. It's worked for some and for others it has been hard.

I finally made it to his office and walked in and went straight to the couch and laid back down.

"How are you feeling this morning?"

"Like a house whose ready to pop at any time."

"You are not a house. You are beautiful and doing an amazing job carrying those babies."

"Ya well they need to come out soon or I am afraid I might really explode."

He just chuckled at me and came over to the couch and grabbed my feet and putting them on his lap and pulled my shoes off and rubbed my feet. It didn't take long and I was sound asleep.

I woke up when someone came running into his office. It scared me and I jumped up looking around.

"Alpha sir, I am sorry but I need to leave, Sloane is in labor," Liam said out of breath.

I forgot to mention that she was also pregnant and due at the same time as me. The lucky bitch having her baby now.

"Go and I make sure it's covered. Let us know how things go."

"Tell her I love her and I will come to see you guys after she has had the baby."

He just smiled at me and took off running again. I closed my eyes but couldn't go back to sleep.

"Colt, I'm kind of hungry. Will you go with me to the dining hall?"

"Of course Princess, what would you like?"

"Some ice cream."

He just laughed because I am pretty sure these babies have been cooked on ice cream and tacos. That is what I have craved this entire pregnancy. We made it to the dining hall and I sat down, while Colt went to the kitchen and came back out pretty soon with a large bowl of ice cream. He must have wanted some too because I can't eat that much.

I had about ten bites of the ice cream before I was full and Colt finished the ice cream for me. I knew he wanted some. I stood up to go use the bathroom but when I stood my water broke gushing on the ground and the bench where I was sitting.

"Princess, did you need to pee?" Colt asked me with a questioning look.

"No jerk, my water broke."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, I am sure."

I stood there kind of frozen. I wasn't having any contractions but knew that they could start anytime and with twins they wanted me to come in right away.

"Come on princess let's go meet our babies," Colt said grabbing my hand.

We made it to the pack hospital and got settled into a room when the doctor walked in.

"I was wondering when those babies were going to make their appearance," She said.

"It's about time. I am over being pregnant and I swear we are having no more."

"I think I heard that last time you were here," she said laughing.

"Well, you better fix me so it doesn't happen again."

When I said this Colt just growled at me. He would have a whole pack of his own kids if I would let him but three was enough.

"We can do that but first let's check these babies, I want to make sure they are in the correct position. As we have talked about it is normal for them to move since they run out of room and sometimes one of them lays sideways."

She walked out of the room and quickly came back with an ultrasound machine. She placed the jelly on my belly and then the wand moving it around look at each baby.

"OK, here is baby A and they are not where they should be. They are sideways and here is baby B who has their feet pointing down. I am sorry Queen but we have to do a c-section."

I just groaned because I knew this was a possibility but I still didn't want it.

"OK, let's just get them out of me please."

"Some people will come in and start getting you prepped. It will take about an hour and we will start."

She walked out of the room and Colt wrapped his arms around me. He knew how much I didn't want this but I didn't have a choice anymore.

An hour later and we were ready to go. I was numb and Colt was dressed in blue scrubs. The doctor came back in and wheeled us to the OR. They got me on the table and everything ready to go.

"OK Queen, you shouldn't feel any pain but you will feel pressure and pulling but that is it."

"OK." That is all I said. I held my breath waiting for her to start. I could feel my heart beating a million miles a minute.

"Baby take some deep breaths. Everything is going to be ok. Just think we get to meet these babies in just a few minutes."

I did as he said and closed my eyes and took some deep breaths and tried to relax as much as I could. I could feel them working but it didn't hurt like she said.

"OK here comes the first baby," Announced the doctor and Colt stood up to look, and as soon as he did he hit the floor.

"Don't tell me what it is until he is awake," everyone just laughed and a nurse rushed to Colter to help him.

"Here is baby number two," said the doctor, and the nurse whisked it away to go be with their sibling and make sure everything was ok with them.

Colt finally woke up and looked up at me.

"I am so sorry, I can't believe that happened again," he said as he got up and came to me.

"Well were parents again twice over this time," I told him smiling.

"What are they?" He asked.

"I don't know I made them wait until you were conscious."

"He walked over to where they had them cleaning them up and took a quick peak and basically ran over to me and smashed his lips to mine.

"My queen, you have given me two beautiful little princesses, and they look just like you. They are beautiful and perfect." He said.

"We got two girls?" I asked a little dumbfounded. I really figured we would have more boys.

Two nurses walked over and placed both babies on my chest while the doctor finished putting me back together. She finally finished and they wheeled me up to our room.

"Sloane, how are you? Sorry I haven't checked on you sooner." I mind-linked her.

"I am good but you need to come meet your nephew," she linked back.

"I can't just yet, I am so sorry."

"Why is everything ok?"

"Well you will have to actually come meet your two nieces, I had to have a c-section and am stuck in bed for a few hours while the meds wear off."

"OMG!" she screamed back through the link.

"Baby, we need names for these girls," Colt said pulling me out of my thoughts.

"What about Lennox Storm, Everly Jade?" I asked him.

"You want to name them after your wolves?"

"Yes, besides Sloane and you, they are the only ones who have always been here for me and there is no other version of Sloane that I can use and she hates her middle name and we named Callen after your dad."

"Baby, stop I love them. Lennox and Everly, they are perfect names for our perfect girls."

"Have you let my dad know?"

"Yes, he should be here anytime actually."

Colt took a baby from me and we both sat there holding one and pretty soon we switched and he was right they did look just like me. It was like copy paste and paste again.

"Let me see those baby girls," Sloane said as Liam wheeled her in, in a wheelchair.

"Oh my goddess, I can't believe you have two daughters now. What are their names?"

"Lennox Storm and Everly Jade, and how about my nephew?"

"Asher Liam."

My dad and Melissa walked in right at that moment with Callen who squealed when he saw his dad. He really was turning into a daddy's boy. He wanted to spend all his time with his dad and Colter thought it was the best thing ever.

We introduced the girls to everyone and they took turns holding all three babies. Mac and Aubree showed up as well. I was a little surprised that they hadn't actually had another one.

My life has turned out nothing as I had envisioned it but I wouldn't change it for anything. I had the best kids, and the best mate, and I got to meet my real father. Who turned out to be the missing piece in my life. He wanted me around and most importantly he loved me. I couldn't ask for anything else in this life. As much as I hate Robert for trying to sell me off to Colter but if it wasn't for him I may have never met him and I wouldn't have this life now so I had to at least be thankful that he did that.
