

Chapter Nine

Alpha Blade;

The audacity for a whore like her, to think she is special to me because I brought her to my pack to play a role in my revenge plan. This is my reason I hate to go easy on she-wolves. They get carried away and always forget their place, which is beneath my feet.

When I first saw Elara at the hotel bar, having a conversation with Alpha Arthur, the urge to rip her neck consumed me, because she had just interrupted my plan. Elara, surfacing at the bar that night, saved the life of that drunk bastard.

I was at the verge of striking Alpha Arthur, before she walked up to him. He was quite consumed with alcohol and was alone. That was my best opportunity to end his life. She spoiled my plans, but I let her live because I recognized her as my mate. Can't deny the fact that she is beautiful, and my only intention for her then was just to fuck her before I return to my pack.

But I had a change of heart when I found out the fucking Alpha Arthur is searching for her because he so desires her. I instantly knew it was the best time to claim her as my mate, shove her under my wings, and use her to my advantage. I know she is his weakness, and she will be my key to ending his life as a payback for what he did to me years back.

Alpha Arthur has always been a thorn in my flesh ever since we were kids. He had always made sure to take what rightfully belonged to me, depriving me of my rights.

Yes, our fathers were best of friends but we the kids turned out mutual enemies because of the stupidity of Alpha Arthur. His audacity of taking Leona away from me still hurts me to this day. He knows she is the only she-wolf I love, and want to be with, but he ruined her life because she decided to pick him over me.

He made me feel worthless by mocking me, when I knelt before him that day, requesting for him to go far away, so Leona could heal and have her life back. That was when I vowed to make him pay for it all.

As long as Alpha Arthur is still breathing, Leona will never heal from the pain that has consumed her for years. Alpha Arthur has to leave this earth, and I will use the woman he desires the most, Elara, to make that happen before I also destroy her.

I will also make sure to get a taste of her pussy. Fuck her as many times as Alpha Arthur fucked Leona, and made her scream his name, begging him for more. Such a scum.

Grrr...mmm! My hand grips Jasmine's hair, as her slick mouth keeps doing a good job on my cock, and succeeds in bringing me out of my miserable thoughts. "That's it, Jasmine. Shhh....ahh! Go harder, and suck it like you fucking want it. Ahh...ohh!" I grasp onto her hair, my left hand supporting my waist as I aggressively fuck her throat harder, and deeper causing her to gasp for air.

With force, she pushes her head backward, vomiting my cock from her mouth.

"What was that, Alpha? You fucking almost choke me to death," she clutches her throat, her heart racing faster.

"When has that ever been a problem?" My feet move backward as I gently stroll to the side. I cock my head in the direction of my wall, signaling her to go over there.

She rises from the floor and sexually ambles toward the wall in my order.

I slowly walk toward her, pin her on the wall, her back facing me as I slightly bend her over, revealing her pink dripping pussy before me.

In a swift motion, I dig my flesh into her pussy, gripping her waist with my hands, and thrusting her harder from behind. She moans, screams, and cries, just the perfect reaction I always want from my whores.

I love them feeling pain and pleasure while I fuck them. It gives me the satisfaction that I desire. I encircle my arms around her body, as the sexual pleasure in me increases, and I fuck her harder like a dog, causing her to beg for freedom.

"Aaaaahhh, ohh!" grasping her tightly as I reach my climax, releasing my cum inside of her. I pull my cock from her pussy, and push her off to the side.

I make to step away when she calls my attention, and my feet pause in-between to listen to her.

"Alpha!" She elegantly strolls toward me, stopping in front of me. Her fingers run through my body as she gazes at me, "I've never seen you take any whore to your bedroom, not even me. Even when I beg you to fuck me on your bed you refused. Tell me, Alpha, who is she? And what is she to you?"

A gentle chuckle breaks off my lips, and a grin spreads across my face, "She is a nobody, Jasmine. See her as a lucky whore who has the privilege to be in my bedroom. Don't worry about her, I will send her off soon," I take Jasmine's fingers off my body, and amble to my bathroom to wash up.

My worst mistake will be, if Jasmine ever finds out that Elara is my fated mate, and we are married. Jasmine will have her head cut off, and also make sure to ruin my life because she knows so much of my secrets.

She is someone I can't joke with because she is the mother of my pup, but I will never make her my Luna. No woman will be my official Luna, aside from Leona, whenever she chooses to accept me.

As for my marriage with Elara, and what she is to me, I will make sure it stays hidden to the end.

Coming out from the bathroom, and throwing a nice outfit on my body, I enter my living room. My head warrior, Ryder, walks in. He bows his head in respect, "Alpha Blade, a lady is here to see you."

"Lady?" I tilt my head to the side, my nose scrunches up, jerking in annoyance. "I didn't invite any of the whores, so what lady do you speak of?" I groan.

"You don't need to act mad over a piece of information, Alpha Blade," a familiar voice utters, and my head warrior shifts to the side, revealing Leona.

My eyes instantly go wide in shock.

She is the least I expect to see right now, because she has never shown up in my home, even when I pleaded for her to come around.

"H-How... are you here, Leona?" I find myself struggling with my words.

Spreading her arms wide open in the air, "Well, life happens, Alpha Blade," she ambles closer to me, wrapping her hands around my neck, and leaving a soft peck on my lips.

"I'm finally back, Alpha Blade. I have something very interesting for you. Something mind-blowing that will help you bring down Alpha Arthur, and make him finally bow to you," she softly utters, her cheeks run through her ears as a faint smile plays on them.
