

Alex's POV

I woke up to a warm pair of arms wrapped around my baby bump. The babies were kicking like crazy, for some reason every time Gabriel is near me they kick a lot, but it's starting to get painful.

"Gabriel I need to use the bathroom please let me move"-I said and he groaned.

"Alex it's like 4:30! Why are you up this early?"-He whined.

"Stop whining Gabriel, I thought being a King was worse than being an Alpha but that's definitely not the case!"-I said and stood up quickly to use the bathroom.

I don't want to know what I'm going to do when I get closer to my due date, I won't even come out of the bathroom.

When I walked out I heard my phone ringing.

"Hey"-Aadhira said.

"Hey Ad. How are you?"

"Im good, Mark gave me this little box to call you"-She said and I chuckled.

"You mean a phone?"

"Yeah that"-She said.

"You don't sound good Ad... I heard Archer is your mate, are you okay?"

"No Alex I'm not"-She said sadly.

"Why?"

"Because I can't accept the bond between us. Not now that I will claim the throne to the Vampire Kingdom, I can't have a werewolf mate. That will only bring death to his door, I can't let that happen Alex"-She said.

"Ad are you sure about what you are about to do?"

"I don't have a choice Alex. I am the last Verlice, the throne belongs to me. If I let anyone else take it, it will mean war against the Werewolf Kingdom for what we did to my father and brother. I can't let that happen, not now that you are pregnant"-She said.

"Take care Ad. If you need anything please don't hesitate to call me, I can orb to where ever you are."-I said.

"Thank you. I will call you later, Mark is going to buy me one of these things."

"Okay Ad. Good bye"-I said. Her call left me really worried.

"What's wrong babe?"-He asked

"Did you hear what she said?"-I asked.

"I did"

"She's walking towards her own death Gabriel. I'm scared, I don't want her to be in danger."-I said sitting down in the bed.

"She will be fine love. We will be there to help her if she needs us."

"She's also not accepting the bond, that will make her and Archer weak."-I said.

"That's her decision to make babe, you can't interfere between them."

"I just want her to be okay Gabriel"

"I know"-He said wrapping his arms around me.

My phone started ringing again.

"Hello?"

"ALEXANDRA SILVER YOU FREAKING PSYCHO!"- Mark yelled.

"What did I do?"-I asked confused.

"You cut that fucking rogues dingdong like it was a damn banana! You are not allowed to get anywhere near me if you have a machete!"-Mark said and I laughed.

"Mark you are so dramatic!"

"I created a monster"-He said.

"WE created."-I heard Luke say and I burst out laughing.

"Thank you, now I have to double-think everything I say around her"- Gabriel said sarcastically.

"I feel sorry for you dude. I swear we only let her see how we tortured them."

"That was enough"-I said laughing.

"It was more than enough. Not gonna lie Alex, I had goosebumps through the whole video, once we got to the part of wee-wee cutting I almost puked and you looked freaking unfazed about it. I thought Luke's and mine torture methods were bad but yours are scary, I almost wanted to vow when you made him submit to you and that's crazy!"-He said.

"They had it coming"-I said.

"They sure did, remind me of never getting on your bad side. Anyway, how are you and the babies? How's King Stefan?"-He asked.

"They're fine, growing and kicking. Stefan is also okay, I healed him. How's Les?"

"I'm glad to hear that Alex, and she's okay, we found out yesterday we are having a little girl."-He said and I jumped out of the bed.

"Oh my goddess! Congratulations! I'm happy for both of you!"

"Thank you! Looks like we are having a second female Alpha."

"She will be an amazing Alpha just like you"-I said.

"And you, that's why we are naming her Alexandra, a er you... I mean if that's okay"-He said and my eyes started watering.

"You are naming her a er me?... I love it Mark. Of course, I'm okay with it!"-I said crying. Stupid pregnancy hormones.

"Don't cry Alex"-Mark said.

"Don't tell a pregnant woman not to cry when she's crying"-I growled and he laughed.

"Mark didn't you learned that last time when you ate Leslie's strawberries and she cried. She kicked your balls for telling her not to cry"-I heard Luke say and Gabriel and I laughed, Mark mumbled something making Luke laugh even louder.

"Okay enough laughing. We gotta go, Williams is here and Aadhira is not very happy about it. I will call you soon. Stay safe okay and stay away from the machetes. Take care of those little pups and drink your prenats too."-He said and I chuckled.

"Okay dad! Jeez, bye."-I said and he hanged up.

"Want to go have breakfast?"-I said.

"Alex it's 5:30 in the morning, the cooks arrive at 6:15"-Gabriel said.

"I can cook us something and maybe a er I can give you dessert"-I said winking at him.

"Okay let's go"-He stood up quickly and got a shirt from his closet.

I made eggs, bacon, and pancakes when I was almost done James and Steph walked in.

"Hey guys"-They greeted.

"Need help Alex?"-Steph asked.

"I'm almost done don't worry. But you can help me take this to the dining table."-I said giving her the scrambled eggs and the bacon.

I finished doing the pancakes and walked to the dining room. We ate and chatted for a while, James and Steph left to the royal hospital. Steph had an appointment to see how far along she is, James was ecstatic to see the baby.

We walked back to our room, as soon as we entered Gabriel picked me up wrapping my legs around his waist.

"Put me down Gabriel!"-I said

"You promised dessert"-He said smirking while he walked towards the bed.

"Gabriel not now!"

"You have n"-He said but stopped and I saw his eyes cloud. Someone was mind linking him.

"What's wrong?"

"My father wants us to meet him in his office in one hour love. We should get ready."-He said putting me down.

Now what...

Thank you all for reading ...

What do you think about this chapter?

Did you read the first chapter of One last chance already?

Continue reading next part