day."-Mark said.

My gaze concentrated on a pair of green and hazel eyes. Gabriel was looking at me with love and adoration. " You look so beautiful love."-He said through our mind link and I smiled. Mark walked me towards him.

Luke, Laura, James, and Steph. I could see Carlos waving at me standing beside Archer and his ranked members. I felt very nervous. I started to get slightly nauseous and felt a little pain in my lower abdomen, but I'm was heavily pregnant with 2 football players.

"Gabriel do you vow to protect and reign this kingdom with devotion, equality, and fairness?"-Stefan asked. "I do"

"I do" The crowd said in cheers. Stella took my hands and pulled me into a hug. "I'm so proud of you my little Alex. I wish your mother could see the

"Push, push, push"

I pushed as hard as I could.

I felt it coming again and I started pushing. I felt how his little head came out and it started burning so much, I felt like my poor cookie She placed my baby over my chest and if I ever said I saw anything more beautiful than my baby I was lying. His hair was white like mine decided to stay home, but she was the first one to video call me this morning. I am so in love with little Alex, she is a little version of Mark and let me tell you she is a little version of him. "Alex you're shaking"-Steph said. She said. Oh, I forgot to mention Steph is having a baby boy! James almost fainted when the doctor told them.

"Okay you are all done"-She said... I stood up and took a look at myself, I couldn't even recognize myself. If someone would have told me that all this was going to happen a few years ago, I would have I walked to my bed and picked up the dress. Steph helped me put it on, it looked so pretty. Knock. Knock. Mark, James, and Luke walked in. They all stared at me in awe.

"I wouldn't be the woman I am today without any of you. Having all 6 of you made me realize that we don't have to be related to become family. Thank you for listening to me when I was breaking down, thank you for the long talks and the laughs. For every time I fell and you were all there to pick me up, thank you for believing in me when I didn't. And mostly thank you for being my best friends, my family."-I said with tears threatening to fall. "Is this the day of making Mark cry?"-He said wiping a tear that rolled down his cheek. I went to him and hugged him. A er a few seconds, it turned into a big group hug.

"You mean so much to all of us Alex. We are just happy that a er all

We walked out of my room and Marks was waiting for me. "Ready little Alpha?"-He asked. "I think so" "Let's go"-He said. As we walked to the 3rd floor where the throne room was my heart started beating rapidly. I felt like I was going to get married.

"That gave me chills"-Ayla said and I laughed.

"You will be an amazing Queen. I'm proud of you little Alpha"-Mark said proudly. "Take care of her, you may be the King but if I ever find out you made her cry or hurt even one of her uncolored hairs I will make you regret it"-Mark told Gabriel and he chuckled. He did not just say that about my hair, I turned to glare at him. "I will always take care of her"-Gabriel said. I took Gabriel's hand and stood beside him. Mark walked towards

"Everything's going to be ok"-Gabriel said. "Hello everyone. Today is a very important day for the werewolf community. Today... I, King Stefan Allen, and my Queen, Stella Allen will step down from the throne. It is an honor to present our successors, King Gabriel Allen and Queen Alexandra Silver."-Stefan said and I felt chills through my body. The whole crowd started cheering and screaming. Howls fill the throne room in admiration and celebration. Stefan turned around towards us as Gabriel kneeled in front of him.

Cheers and howls echoed through the room. Stella walked towards me, I didn't have to kneel. A Queen never kneeled for anybody, or at least that's what Stella told me. "Alexandra, do you vow to protect and reign this kingdom with devotion, equality, and fairness?"-She asked. She li ed her crown and placed it on me. I heard a few people in the crowd gasp.

Stefan li ed his crown from his head and placed it on Gabriel.

"Alexandra, my Queen. All I ever wanted was someone to spend the rest of my life with, and who would have thought the little girl who used to cry when I had to leave was going to end up being my forever. I couldn't ask for anyone else because to me you are the definition of perfect, I have loved you since the moment our eyes met, and I will love you until my last breath. Even a er death, my love for you will always keep me alive. Alex will you marry me?"-He said and by now I was in full crying mode.

Everyone congratulated us, and the night went by real quick. I was

"Okay love we can leave now"-He said and took my hand.

As we walked towards our room I felt a sharp pain in my lower

"Alex what's wrong?"-Gabriel asked in shock. "Gabriel... I think my water broke. Take me towards our room so I can change! With this dress I won't even fit in your truck."-I said. I started to feel a slight contraction. "Oh fuck"-He said in panic. He li ed me in bridal style and ran towards our room. "Help me change"-I said and he helped me take o the dress and slip

"Well, I say that in the next hour or so we will see if you are completely dilated so you can start pushing, I don't recommend epidural since you are almost ready to push but that's up to you"-She "I don't want it."- I said. "Okay, I will come back in 30 min to check you out."-She said and walked out. The contractions started to get stronger and painful.

"I can't believe we are having our pups now"-Gabriel said holding my

"I can't believe these little pups are coming out today! It must be because Uncle Mark is here"-Mark said making me chuckle. "Does it hurt?"-Steph asked. "what can I tell you"-I said and saw panic flash through her eyes. A er about 30 min the doctor came in and everyone walked out except Gabriel. By now I felt a lot of pressure down in my poor cookie. I was in so much pain. I had promise Gabriel to cut his balls while I was going through a contraction. "You're ready! That was quick, I can feel the little head... Let me get
