

3 Pup

Four Months Later

Scarlett POV

I can't believe I'm going to be a mother soon. Never in my wildest dreams did I think the worst night of my life would result in the best thing to ever happen to me. My rst ultrasound that showed me my perfect son wiped away all the hurt that the sperm donor caused. My parents have been amazing. My father couldn't be more excited about being a grandfather again. My brother's rst pup was born right after I found out that I was having a pup. I love being an aunt but I can't wait to hold my own pup. He will be nothing like his asshole sperm donor. I will be taking over my Alpha duties after I give birth. I still haven't decided on my pup's name, but I want it to be perfect. I roll out of bed literally because my belly is huge. After I'm showered and dressed, I head downstairs for breakfast.

When my dad sees me, he comes running. Dad, I'm pregnant, not handicapped. My mother smiles "leave him be Scar." "He was the same way every time I was pregnant with one of you." I laugh ok mom. Once I'm in my seat, Maggie brings me a plate over owing with food. Maggie, I'm eating for two not ten. "Scar, you can eat what you want." "I don't want my nephew hungry." I smile and eat a quarter of the plate before I hand it to one of the omegas. "Scar, what are your plans for today, I hope you are planning to rest" my mother says. I need to be up and moving around to help the pup come quicker. My mother laughs, "the pup will come when he is good and ready, no matter what you do." Don't burst my bubble mom, I'm ready to have my body back. "Have you thought anymore about the pups name?" I have but I can't seem to nd the perfect name. "You will know the moment you see that beautiful face what his name should be." I hope so because he needs a name.

Two Days Later

Scarlett POV

I just sat down at my desk when the phone rings. I pick up on the second ring and the voice on the other side makes me want to puke. "Alpha Scarlett this is Alpha Zane of the Halfmoon Pack your father told me I needed to speak with you about an alliance." Does he not realize it's me or is he just this arrogant? I do apologize Alpha, but I don't align my pack with Alpha's that don't value women. "Based on the fact that your father didn't threaten to rip my head off I assume you didn't tell him who I am." You are nothing to me or my pack. I hope you nd the allies you seek. I hang up and return to my work.

A few minutes later my father opens my oce door and I say a prayer to the Moon Goddess that he won't bring up the phone call. "How are you feeling Scarlett?" I feel ready to have this pup dad that's about it. "Scarlett I'm sure you realize why I came to speak to you." I'm sure to discuss the request made by Alpha Zane to form an alliance. Hopefully if I make this about business my father will let this go. "Scarlett, I have honored your wishes to not tell me who the Alpha was that treated your bond so badly but please don't lie to me." I would never lie to you dad I just want to raise my pup and be the best Alpha to the pack. I don't want to open old wounds that I have let heal. "I understand and I won't seek this Alpha out to seek justice." "I just need to know what your answer was to his proposal for an alliance." I told him good luck in nding other allies. My father comes around and I stand to hug him. "Spoken like a true Alpha, I'm very proud of the woman and leader you have become." "I also can't wait to meet my grand pup" he says as he rubs my belly. The shock that ripples through me must be evident on my face. "Scarlett what's" is all he gets out because he must realize my water broke. He must be linking my mother because then he scoops me up heading for the hospital.

Dad I can walk it will probably be hours. "I'm not having what happened with you happen again." I laugh as my father runs for the hospital. As soon as we are inside Dr. Stone and my mother are waiting. My father kisses my forehead, and they take me to the delivery room. My mother takes my hand "are you ready to see your little one Scar?" More than I have ever been ready for anything in my life. The doctor checks me and I'm at ve cm. After two more hours Dr. Stone checks me again "you're ready to push Scarlett." I nod my head because I want this pup out. After ten pushes I hear the most beautiful sound in my life. His screams ll the room and I see tears running down my mother's face when she smiles at me. "He is perfect Scar." After they clean my son up the bring him over setting him on my chest.

He has the most beautiful black hair and hazel eyes. He is perfect and he is mine. "Did the name come to you yet Scar?" I smile up at my mother as a run my ngers through his head full of hair. Yes, it did, Jackson Xander Wolfe. She smiles "that is absolutely his name without a doubt." I look down at me son. I'm so glad you're here Jackson. After we are both cleaned up my father and Maggie come into my room. My father the big bad Alpha has tears in his eyes as he takes his rst grandson into his arms. "Hello little one I'm your grandpa Xander." I smile and my father turns to me. "What is his name sweetheart?" I smile and tell my father his name. "Jackson, your mommy picked the perfect name for you." "I'm going to teach you all kinds of things and were going to be best friends." I smile because my child is never going to be without love even though he may not have come to be in a conventual way. Maggie wraps her arms around me "he is beautiful Scar, and you did awesome." Thank you, Maggie, Jackson is very lucky to have all of you.

Alpha Zane POV

I'm in my oce after that bh hung the phone up thinking about who to call next. My pack has been attacked three times by rogues in the past week and the crimson pack is closest to us. When I call packs farther away, they are going to wonder why the hell a closer pack refused to be our ally. That st happened months ago I was hoping she would just look past it; this is exactly why a woman shouldn't be an Alpha. I know Brutus isn't happy I took a chosen mate, but he agrees that we should be the only Alpha in a relationship. As if on cue my door opens and Vanessa walks in looking like a sl*t. I stand and come around my desk, what the hell is wrong with you walking around the pack house looking like this. "Zane get over it I told you when we mated, I wasn't going to change who I was for you." "I like these kinds of clothes." I take her by the throat go put something respectable on or you can spend the night in the cells. I throw her to the ground and return to my seat. She gets up giving me a death stare before she leaves my oce. What the hell is wrong with women that don't know how to listen or their place?
