

Chapter 46

"Mam, we have arranged the wooden logs according to your desire. No one would ever be able to find that we are hiding here," The rogues in charge of their location said, and the lady he addressed turned around.

"What about the rogue on which we found that mini-camera? It was actually some good technology. Have our rogues developed something like that?"The lady asked.

"I am afraid they are still working on it. The model was probably a prototype, and thus, many loose connections don't make any sense. It's a bit hard to develop something from scratch when you don't have any idea about it," the rogue kept his head bowed, and the lady scoffed.

"The last time I checked, I wasn't paying you for giving me some shitty excuses. I pay you for doing what I tell you to. You have five days to prepare the model. If you can't prepare anything, you guys can see yourself out. I will find a new team. Dismissed," the lady turned around before walking to the other team.

"Lady boss, I have some information regarding Alpha -"The lady boss turned to the rogue, who immediately widened his eyes when he realized his mistake.

"About Simon's pack," The rogue quickly corrected himself.

"What is it?"The lady asked, wanting to know the information before dealing with his behavior.

"There was a rogue activity there. Someone placed four headless dead bodies on the borders of Bluestone and the heads on the borders of the Black Scar pack," The rogue said, and the lady raised her brows.

"This is an interesting way of threatening. Is there any news on who could be doing this?"The lady asked, impressed, and the rogue nodded.

"Judging from how they used the hiding scent drug, they are related to Cole. He had taken the drug to abduct Athena, which he failed. Maybe someone close to him is also."

"That's not possible. I don't think Cole can do it, but ask someone to observe his activity starting today. Find more about it. Ask the nearby rogues if they found something suspicious. For someone to play a trick like this, they are really gutsy," the lady said before she went to the backyard where she trains for twelve hours nonstop.

"It looks like my little brother has made too many enemies, She thought before punching the bag slowly.

Closing her eyes, she let the pain flow through her veins as she increased the pace of her punches with each punch. The speed of her punches reached more than 150 punches/minute, and the rogues looked at her in amazement.

Her unbeatable power and speed were one of the main factors why everyone was afraid of her. Money played an important role, but there was a reason, no one joined forces to attack this lone female-rogue.

Though no one knows this lady boss's real identity and why she was adamant about destroying the Black Scar pack, everyone knows she wasn't someone to be messed with.

This lady boss has connections. And apart from that, she had power and money.

Closing her eyes, the lady boss thought about all the memories of the Black

Scar pack that turned her into what she was today.

"Sister, can you please buy me candy?"

"Mom, sister is not giving me my toy,"

"Why do you hate the color red when you are Scarlett?"

"I will always protect you, sister,"

"Even if everyone leaves our side, we will have each other,"

The lady boss thought about all the good memories before scoffing in anger when the memories started to turn sour and filled with nothing but anguish.

"Simon, he is my mate. Please, accept him,"

"I will never accept a traitor as your mate, Scarlett. He betrayed the pack, and for that, he should be punished,"

"I can't let the pack down by letting him live among us. We have a reputation to keep,"

"If you love me, you won't harm him," "Scarlett, can't you see he is using you to harm -Fine. Get out! Get out of my sight and take your mate away with you! This Bastard shouldn't appear in front of me. Live in another house. I don't care. And when you are at it, tell him that another betrayal to the pack will cause the death sentence,"

"We will do as you say. I know you are tired after all this work. Don't worry, brother. Even after everything that is happening, I will help you with the paperwork,"

"Scarlett, let's not pretend to be a happy family anymore. Do you think I would hand the pack's important documents to a woman who is insanely in love with a traitor and can't even see what he is doing while living among us?"

"Simon, trust me. Fabian's mate must've had a misunderstanding. There is no way my love would do something so grave. He is not a spy. Even if he did that, please let him go for my sake. This pack isn't only yours. It belongs to me too,"

"This pack stopped being yours when you appealed for him. Now leave.

Let's not sour our relationship even more than it is. I will visit your house on alternative days. Don't be sad. Just ensure that he doesn't leak more information. I don't hate you, Scarlett. We are worried for you,"wWw.N@elworm.com

"Simon! What the hell are you doing?"

"What am I doing? The rogue attack on the pack is initiated by your fucking mate!! Tell him to drop the weapon and not hurt Fabian's mate, or I will kill him for sure,"

"Is your friend's mate more important than your sister's mate? He won't do anything if you just drop your weapons. Hear me out,"

"Simon!!! Aaaaaaah! My love!!"

The lady boss opened her eyes abruptly as she remembered the scene when her mate was killed in front of her eyes.

Simon wanted her out of the pack. That's what he has been planning for a long time. He couldn't bear that the pack members believed her more than him. As a male, his ego might've felt hurt. That's why he went to such extreme measures.

Not only Simon brought her mate into this to frame her for a sin they didn't even commit, he even killed him. She would never forgive him for what he did just to get the reins of this pack, and that's why she would take away one thing that is dear to him. His Pack.wWw.Đv(σ)w0R.M.©σm

"Aaaaaaa! I will fucking kill you!"Scarlett increased the pace before she stopped abruptly.

"Manik! Ask the strategy team to gather in the meeting room. I want to hear what they have come up with so far," she shouted, and the rogues immediately started running around, knowing she was angry now.

After freshening up, she walked inside the room with her mask intact before looking at the large map in the center.

"Lady boss," everyone bowed to her, and she nodded.

"Tell me the plans you have come up with so far," she sat on her boss's chair, and everyone nodded before one of them walked ahead.

"Lady boss, this map shows the detailed areas near the Black Scar pack. After searching for seven days and testing it while risking our lives with difficulty-"

"Straight to the point," Scarlett said.wWw.NoV@()W0r.M.©σm

"The areas marked in red are the hideouts we can use. Unfortunately, these hideouts can keep at most 50 people without them getting noticed. That's why the first thing I propose is for a team to be sent there to keep an eye on the pack and their plans up close. We can have 7 such teams,"the rogue said.

It was good. If Scarlett could keep a close and keen look at the pack, they would strategize accordingly. Who is visiting the pack, if they took the help of any alpha, or if they are preparing some team, everything will be out to them.

"I will think about it. Sean, write this in the potential plan,"Scarlett nodded at the other rogue, who stepped forward.

"This is the drug that can hide your scent and change it. It is the same scent used by those 'mysterious'rogues who threatened the packs with those four bodies. It is a better version of the scent we used with Cole,"The rogue gave the scent to Scarlett, and she sprayed it on her arm before inhaling the weird smell.

"I have ordered the mass production for this scent, and the order will be ready in a month. We can use this scent to hide our scent and infiltrate those packs without being noticed. This will help us with the inside knowledge,"the rogue said, and Scarlett nodded.

"Make it 20 days at most. The more we delay, the more they get the time to become stronger. After the two failed attempts to get that rogue girl here and that betrayal from the rogue couple, I am sure they are on high alert and are preparing to fight back. These random threats from the rogues will make them even more alert," Scarlett said.

"Has anyone found out how this attack is related to Cole? Is that bastard double-crossing us and trying to get to Black Scar pack to get that rogue girl?"Scarlett looked at her subordinates.

"Permission to speak," the rogue raised her hand, and Scarlett nodded.

"I am in the intel team. That Cole isn't related to this attack. We asked a rogue to spread this rumor in that pack, and everyone was shocked, including Cole. No one knew about anything. This is the work of another pack,"the girl said, and Scarlett leaned back in her chair before closing her eyes.

The work of another pack? What pack wants to harm Simon and Andrew like her?

"Next," Scarlett's words made another rogue step forward.

"I have information about the ammunition we would be using. This is the best in the black market right now. According to your order, 75% of the consignment is ready, and the rest will be ready in 25 days. I will ask them to hurry up and work overtime to complete it sooner,"The rogue said, and Scarlett stood from her place.

"I can see that most of the consignment will be ready after twenty days.We would have to wait till then, right? Send your proposals to Manik and Sean. I will let you guys know what I liked and disliked. The incentives will be based on the feasibility of your ideas. We will have a meeting in ten days.Scarlett turned around to leave before pausing.

"I want you guys to gather many fighter rogues. Even if the rogues aren't fighters, if they are willing to fight, call them here. The more, the merrier. We will start building our strategy in twenty days. I don't want to hear any negative news after that," Scarlett said, and everyone bowed to her before she walked out. 'I will avenge your death, my love. After so many years of preparation,we are finally getting close to our target. Just one more month, and I will celebrate your death anniversary with Simon's blood offering.Scarlett smiled at the photo of her mate before walking away.W(w)w.©ĐvE@W0r.m.com
