Chapter 63 "Andrew, you deal with the rogues of the West. Fabian, I want you and Cooper to go to the east wing. Samuel and I will handle things here. Drake, Timothy, and Jason, go to the south wing," Simon ordered one by one, and everyone nodded before leaving for their posts. The scene in front of them was beyond horrifying. Simon and his team found the godown of that scent-hiding shop and destroyed whatever was there. But according to the owner, more than 5 liters of scent was already delivered to the rogues. It is more than enough to hide the scent of the whole state for around 1 hour. That could be one of the reasons Scarlett attacked them at this moment. First, they might've thought that Athena was still in heat, but when they probably saw them at the supernatural Carnival, they found out the warriors hadn't arrived yet, and this was the perfect opportunity to use the element of surprise. $w(w)W.n\mathbb{O}Velworm.c\mathbb{O}m$ The other side could be that someone in the pack has been informing Scarlett of their whereabouts day in and out, which gives her the upper hand on the situation. Whatever the reason was, right now, it was important to save the pack members who were panicking. If they didn't handle the situation soon, things would turn worse than they could imagine. "Simon, we are fighting here, but someone needs to take care of the women and children in the pack. Send them to a safe place so their husbands can fight without worrying about them. Their safety should be our priority. Unlike us, those children and old people can't defend themselves,"Samuel said, and Simon gritted his teeth. How could he forget about them? Of course, he knows that. The main question was; was it okay to send the fighters there? "Beatrice, I want you to go with Savannah and take the children and old people to the safe dungeon in our pack, "Simon ordered. "Yes, sir, "Beatrice nodded before leaving. 'Athena, is she fine? I didn't even get the chance to explain everything to her properly. She just came out of her heat and is already recuperating from that blast and today's attack. She must be in panic mode too, Simon thought while fighting the rogues. Throwing the rogue, who was lunging at Samuel and pulling out his jaws, Simon tried to look into Athena's mind to see what she was thinking about. He just hopes she is inside the house. If what Samuel told him is true, everyone needs to come together to protect her because her life is in the most danger here. Scarlett might be coming here for the pack, but those rogues, if found out about Athena, would not waste a second in trying to get her. The rogues from teams seven and eight also arrived at the borders of the pack. When they saw Alpha Simon and the council's head's son fighting from the north side, they immediately turned on their heels and went to the other side to look for the weaker section through which they could enter the pack. WwW.noveIworm.čom After getting orders from Simon, Beatrice, and Savannah immediately started calling children and ladies out of their houses so they could be shifted to the safer dungeon of the pack. "Miss Savannah, nothing will happen to our husbands, right?" "The Alpha will handle it all, right?" "I don't want to die," "Mummy! Mummy!" The chaos was greater than what Savannah and Beatrice had imagined. Savannah nodded at everyone comfortingly, remembering when she was among those people when their former Luna was trying to take them to a safe place during the attack. "Don't worry. You are safe with us. We are taking you to a safe place. You are not allowed to exit till the Alpha's orders come, okay? This is not the first time. You guys know the protocols, right?"Beatrice asked, and they nodded in agreement. Everyone was scared. Their bodies were trembling with fear of what was about to happen and if they would get to see the morning sun. "Aaaa!"Another scream echoed in the pack with gunshots, and the ladies shook in fear. "Hurry up! We don't have all the time for this. We need to help at the borders too. If you don't want your husband to fight alone, help us with this task. Your safety is our priority. As soon as you enter the dungeons and we lock you guys, we will be able to fight with others,"Savannah shouted, and the ladies nodded before entering the hidden cave path made many years ago, just for this purpose. "Come fast! Run!"Savannah shouted to the ladies, who pushed each other and their crying children into the caves. "Miss Savannah, everything will be alright, right?"One of the ladies near her due date asked with her hand on her stomach protectively. Meanwhile, in the main farmhouse, Athena sat there, rocking her body back and forth. Since she mated with Simon, her wolf was feeling Luna's responsibilities even though the Luna ceremony wasn't done. This didn't need to be announced. Everyone knew she was Luna. "We should do something to help Simon,"Athena said before standing. However, as soon as she was about to step forward, she stopped. If she walked out of the house today, she might become something and do things that she might not be able to look at herself in the mirror. The people outside who have come to attack them are full of negativity, and once Celine, who was lying calmly sensed it, the monster of the warrior inside her would wake up, and there was no way she would calm down easily. She might become everyone's worst nightmare. Not only was she an untrained warrior wolf, but she was also an Alpha of the warriors. Celine's power would be no joke, and when mass murdering people, Athena knows that Celine won't think about anything else until this war stops. Was she ready for that kind of sacrifice? Everyone might praise her, but would she be able to look at herself after going on such a killing spree? Athena walked to the window before looking out. Everyone was running here and there, screaming in horror or pain. Despite the fighters constantly fighting to save the pack from infiltration of rogues, some rogues were still managing to enter the pack, and this wasn't a good sign at all. "Hey!"Athena widened her eyes when she saw a few rogue wolves circling one of their female fighters. Seeing one of those rogues lunging at her and biting her arm, Athena's blood started boiling. "Leave her alone!"Athena shouted before rushing out of the house and standing in front of the girl. "Athena, I mean, Luna, you shouldn't be here," The girl said. The rogues, when they heard that girl's words, looked at Athena with a scoff. "Luna? So you are that rogue girl giving us such a hard time?" One of the rogues changed back into his human form before he stepped forward. "Now that I look at you, you don't exactly look that great to me. What's the fuss about your beauty?"The rogue asked before extending his hand to touch Athena's hair, but before he could even reach her hair, Athena swung her hand. "Aaaaaaahhhh!" The rogue screamed in horror, and everyone looked at what happened in utter shock. Athena cut the man's hand from the middle using the sword she was hiding behind her. She was so fast that no one could see the shining blade until the man screamed. "You!" The rogues growled, and Athena chuckled. "What? There's nothing great about me. Are you all going to attack a single girl? Got scared?"Athena chuckled before her face turned dark, her gaze flickering to the blood flowing from that rogue's hand. Meanwhile, Savannah was about to push the button to close the cave to keep the woman and children safe when one of the ladies shrieked in horror while looking at something behind her. Savannah turned around to see a few rogues looking back at them with faces full of lust. "What the -"Savannah looked at Beatrice already fighting with, the rogues as more female fighters started to come there to fight the rogues. "Savannah, close the door. We will keep them busy,"One of the fighters shouted. "This is bad. How did they get in?"Savannah said to no one in particular. "Alpha Simon, we have a problem here. The rogues have entered the pack, and they are where the hidden path is, "Savannah said through the mind link. "Run further inside as much as you can," Savannah shouted, looking at her hands that were starting to tremble in fear of losing her life. "Stay there, Savannah. I am going there. Hold it till then. You can do this, "Simon said, and seeing the rogue biting the neck of one of the female fighters, Savannah stepped back. "I don't think I can," Savannah stepped back again, her lips trembling as the panic attack started to kick in. "Yes, you can. You are a brave fighter," Simon looked at Samuel, who nodded back in return. Savannah was a good fighter, but her trauma with the rogue attacks left her unable to fight the rogues when they were in a group, especially attacking the entire pack like this. "Si-mon, I can't," Savannah fell to her knees in defeat, and Beatrice and others looked at her in pity. For a fighter to drop to their knees in the middle of a fight was the most painful thing. They were already short on soldiers, and if people gave up like Savannah, things would turn bad. "Aaaahhh!"Beatrice shouted in agony when one of the rogues bit her leg, using her distraction against her. The rogue threw Beatrice away from the entrance of the hidden path, and Beatrice and others looked at the scene in horror. If the rogues entered the dungeon caves, it would be a bloody mess. No one down there is fit to defend themselves properly. "No! You bas*ard! Come, fight me. Have you got no balls? You coward rogues, going for the weak," Jessica shouted to attract the rogues towards her, and everyone looked at the girl who cut her hand to lure the rogues with her blood. "lessica!"Beatrice looked at her sister in horror and pain. It was no joke. The rogues in their wolf forms are always hungry for blood. Jessica was practically sacrificing herself to buy some time, and Beatrice wailed in agony. "Aahhh!"Beatrice placed her hand on the ground in frustration as she tried to stand as she saw her younger sister trying to save the ladies. The least she could've done was close the gates, but couldn't even move. It looks like the last throw hurt her spine brutally. "Haha, pretty girl. You look in good shape. You think we are fools and don't know what you are trying to do?" the rogues asked, but they still walked to her. "A virgin smell, brother," one of the rogues said, and evil smirks appeared on the rogues' faces. "We will enjoy this distraction for now. Thank you," one of the rogues said before he bent to Jessica and took her shirt in his hand, ripping it, making the females look at the rogues in disgust. The rogue held Jessica's hair in a tight fist, yanking her face up to look at her neck with a hungry gaze. $\boldsymbol{w}\boldsymbol{w}\hat{\boldsymbol{\mathsf{W}}}.\boldsymbol{n}(\circ)\boldsymbol{v}\mathbf{e}\boldsymbol{\mathcal{L}}\boldsymbol{w}\mathbf{0}\mathbb{R}\mathbf{m}.\mathbf{c}\mathbb{O}\boldsymbol{m}$ "Look at these big b*obs. They will go to waste once you die anyway, no? Let me make you a woman before that happens. Look, my soldier is already urging to get inside this b*tch and f*ck her senseless," The rogue said, and his partners laughed. "Guys, grab one each for yourselves. This one is mine," The rogue said. "No! Leave my sister alone!"Beatrice shouted in agony. Her sister was only 16 and was a new recruit. Seeing her sister trembling and not being able to do anything about it, Beatrice ruffled her hair in frustration. "Please leave her. I beg you. Moon Goddess!"Beatrice screamed at the sky in pain for the moon goddess to show mercy. Everyone held their breath as the rogues started to approach them, and that rogue's hands went close to Jessica's pants. "Aaaaaaahhhh!"A painful scream echoed in the surroundings, and everyone looked at the rogue who had been trying to touch Jessica, rolling down in pain. "I am not too late, am I?"The fighters heard the voice they least expected "Luna?" "Luna, you shouldn't be here. Alpha Simon gave strict orders to protect you,"Beatrice struggled, and Athena looked at her before looking at the rogues. "Hurting my girls on my watch? How can I let that happen?" Athena said, her hair blowing in the wind magically as she stood in front of the cave with swords in both hands. "Come at me if you dare," Athena's eyes were pure gold, and she looked like a devil barely controlling her wrath. Even the rogues were shocked to see such pure golden color of eyes that looked magical and scary. They didn't know what kind of power they were going to mess with now. "Not coming at me? Well, then I will come to you," Athena smiled before she raised her swords to attack. This was the day she trained so hard for. Athena took a deep breath before she charged at the rogues like a force not to be reckoned with. She was moving her swords so fast that the fighters couldn't believe she was the same girl who couldn't even beat Mason a few days ago. Beatrice looked at the woman fighting like a true queen and couldn't help but bow to her. "T-thank you," Beatrice touched Athena's feet for saving her sister's life, and Athena looked down before smiling. "Let's end this together. I can't do this alone. I want all of you to support me," Athena smiled. "Beatrice, I am sorry it is taking too long for me to come. The rogues are not stopping, and we are surrounded from all directions. What is the situation there? Why is Savannah not responding?"Simon asked through the mind link, afraid something bad happened. "We are safe, sir. Our queen is here to protect us,"Beatrice \(\mathbb{W} \) ww.no\(\mathbb{v} \) e \(\mathbb{I} \) w \(\mathbb{O} \) rm.c \(\mathbb{O} \) m answered, confusing Simon. He looked into Beatrice's mind while fighting the rogues to see what she was talking about, and when he saw the memories of Athena standing there with her swords, he only had one word for the situation. "F*ck!"Simon growled, knowing everything was about to go down now. She was not the queen who was there to protect them. She was Satan's daughter going to rain on the rogues like hellfire. It won't be easy to control her. 'Maybe it's for good? We can use her wrath to our benefit. It's not like she would hurt everyone. We will see how to control her later, but right now, let's use her powers for our benefit, Onyx said, and Simon scoffed. "It's not like we have any other option either, "Simon took a deep breath before smiling.

She looked beautiful standing like that. Simon smiled before his own anger started to take over, and he half transitioned into his wolf to fight even more fiercely.