

Chapter 151: More Presents

Claire

After a stressful morning and early afternoon, I have to get ready for my Luna ceremony. Tereshan is insisting that I become the official Luna before I go into heat, even with our very late night and everything that happened with the rogues today.

I feel better knowing that they weren't attacking us because they wanted to. They were attacking us because they were being forced to do so. Apparently, Alpha Eason was the one that was bringing them in, then Franco would take the she-wolves and put them in the brothel. The stress on the mate bond had the added effect of weakening the males. Franco didn't care if they died, he just wanted an army to attack Tereshan.

Elise comes to help me with my hair and makeup.

"How are you, Elise?" I ask her.

"Oh, I'm good Luna, thank you. Everyone is talking about what a wonderful thing you and Alpha Tereshan did last night. We're so proud to be a part of this pack."

She looks at me in the mirror. "You know it wasn't always like this. We, the omegas I mean, used to hope to leave this pack, to find our mates somewhere else. But not anymore. I heard Jacoby saying that he's heard rumors that other omegas hope they can be mated to one of us now, so they can come and live here.”

“Really? And what about you, Elise?”

“Oh, well, I’m too young, Luna, as you know. But, yes, I hope I find my mate here. I know some of the other packs are good, but this one? It’s become the best, I think. I mean, you’re teaching us to fight, teaching us to read, the library is great, you’ve freed the people in the brothel and helped them get back to their mates and you’ve done all of that in just a couple of months. I can’t imagine what you’ll do in the years that you and Alpha Tereshan will rule this pack,” she says smiling.

I’m not sure she knows how important her words are to me, how meaningful. We’re doing it. Tereshan and I are really doing it. We’re making this pack what it should have been all along. I send a silent thank you to the Moon Goddess for not only a second chance, but a third one as well.

‘Well, Magnor got his second chance and then I got mine, so technically, we each got a second chance,’ Damara says to me.

‘Both of your second chances gave me and Tereshan multiple chances to figure this out between us,’ I say to her.

Elise does my hair in a messy bun at the nape of my neck.

“Tereshan said he had something for me to wear.” I tell Elise when she’s done.

“I did, and I have it here. Nice job, Elise, but I’ll take it from here.” Tereshan says, coming to stand in the doorway of the bathroom.

"Thank you, Alpha. I'll see you downstairs, Luna. I can't wait!" she says, giving me a quick hug before racing from the room to go get herself ready for tonight.

I stand, walking to Tereshan. "Keegan and Zoey are downstairs."

"Oh good. I'm looking forward to seeing Zoey."

"She's looking forward to seeing you too."

"So, I have two surprises for you, which do you want first? The dress or the jewelry?" he asks me.

"You already got me jewelry."

"I did, and although you don't have pierced ears yet, I have someone here who can help with that, but not until you're dressed," he says, running his finger down the collar of my bathrobe, making me shiver.

"So, which will it be, baby?"

"Dress first," I tell him.

"Good choice."

He goes to the closet and pulls out a navy-blue dress. It's simple and elegant and I already know I'm going to love it. I take off my bathrobe and walk to him.

When I get to him, he doesn't move. I look up and see that his eyes are black with desire. "Little mate, you have to give me a few seconds preparation time before you drop your bathrobe like that."

I giggle at him, knowing that if he had done that, I would be acting just like him.

"Are you going to help me, Alpha?"

His growl sends shivers throughout my entire body. "What was it that I was helping you with, baby?"

My back arches and my head falls back as my eyes close.

"Fuck I love the way you respond to me. It's a good thing we're doing this tonight. I bet you only have a day or two before you're in heat. Turn around."

I do as he asks, feeling his heat at my back as he kneels behind me. "Baby, I don't have time to make you come properly, but if you don't stop smelling so delicious, I'm going to have to take you before your ceremony anyway."

I arch my back, needing my mate to ease the ache that is already starting to build inside me.

This time when he growls, I hear his pants coming undone and he lifts me up, moving to sit on our couch. He keeps me faced away from him as he slides me onto his length.

"Ride me, baby." He says and I do, letting him help to guide my rhythm, his hands on my hips, then when I find my own rhythm, his hands move to my breasts, tugging and plucking at my nipples until I'm screaming, my inner walls clamping down on him until I feel him release inside me, the warm, thick cum coating my insides.

I lean back against him, panting. "Better?"

"Yes," I say.

"Good, and now you smell like me, which is even better," he says, lifting me off of him.

"Go wipe yourself off and I'll help you get dressed."

When I'm done, he helps me into the dress, before bringing over the jewelry box.

"What's this?" I ask, as he hands it to me.

"It's what I had made from the quartz on our pack lands," he says.

I open it and see the heart shaped pendant and matching earrings.

"I love it. I think I love it more because it came from our pack lands," I tell him.

"The heart represents my love for you," he says, leaning in to kiss me.

"I love you too, Tereshan."

He looks at the clock. "We have just enough time to pierce your ears if you want to, my little temptress."

"Yes, I'd like to be wearing jewels from our pack lands for my Luna ceremony."

Tereshan calls the person into the room while he goes into the bathroom to get ready.

It's a quick snap, punching the hole in my ear then hooking the earrings on. "Your ears should heal by morning, Luna. After that, you can change your earrings any time you want, but for tonight, I would plan to sleep in these, even if it feels a bit uncomfortable."

"Thank you," I say, just as Tereshan walks out of the bathroom. His suits matches my dress. It's navy blue with a cream-colored button-down shirt. He looks...

'Sexy,' Damara says, beginning to purr at him.

Tereshan looks up. He nods his head at the guy who pierced my ears, waiting for him to leave before turning back to me.

"Damara, behave."

She pushes forward. "I don't want to."

He comes over, taking my chin in his hand and looking at Damara. "How close are you to going into heat?"

"It will be very soon," she says purring loudly.

"Can you be a good girl, and give Claire control for the night? I want to make you and Claire my Luna."

"I can be a very good girl," she says before running her hands up his chest.

He leans in, kissing a line of heat to her ear.

"If you're very, very good, maybe I'll take you in this form tomorrow before I let Magnor have you. And I know Magnor will take you as many times as you need to finally feel satisfied. Can you do that for me, love? Just one night."

"Yes," she says, her voice a breathy moan before she pulls back, giving me control again.

"Come on, the sooner we start this night, the sooner it's over. I don't want to risk killing our pack members because Damara goes into heat in the middle of your Luna ceremony," he says, taking my hand and walking me out of the room.
