Chapter 21

Ledger

I don't know what is happening. One minute both Cici and Spencer are biting into me and then my gums begin to itch, and next thing I know, my canines extend, and I have the urge to bite into Cici's neck. Something deep inside is saying the same word over and over again, 'Mate. The voice in my head is a growly mother fucker and won't shut up. I've never heard it before, but it just continues saying the same word until at last, I bite into Spencer, claiming him as my own.

I'm still pumping my seed into Cici while claiming my other mate, but something feels slightly off down below. Once we all collapse and Cici goes to climb off, she can't. She tries two more times but then her eyes go wide, and she starts to giggle.

"Oh, my Goddess Ledger, you've knotted me!"

I chuckle, "Thank bloody hell, I thought we would have to go see the pack doctor."

"You do have a wolf! I mean, between the knotting and you growing your fangs, it tells us that he's there, inside you." She says excitedly.

"Hm, I wonder if his wolf laid dormant until he found his mate, or in our case, mates. Which means, he may be able to shift as well." Spencer states with a big grin.

"Do you really think so?" I ask a bit skeptic, "How do we find out?"

"They both look at one another and shrug, "I guess we wait and see," Cici states, "after all, we are all new to this."

"I mean, you are half witch as well; that part of you may have overridden your wolf, so he wouldn't manifest." Spencer plays with my hair as he stares up at the ceiling.

Cici sits straight up, “You can’t go now! We need to watch for you to change, you can’t do that by yourself!”

“First of all, Spencer will be with me, love. I won’t be by myself, and second, do you really think I will change in the next twenty-four hours?” I grab her cute little face and kiss her hard, “I have to do this, Cici. Please, understand why I need this.”

Her little pouted mouth blows out a cute little sigh and she crosses her arms, “I know, I do, but that doesn’t mean that I have to like it.”

“I know, love. I won’t lie, I’m interested to know what they want with me if they left me for dead to begin with.”

“Yeah, that doesn’t make any sense.” Spencer states, “maybe it was the plan all along, to get you in here and then they could get in, only, they probably weren’t banking on you having amnesia.”

“Do you really think I would let someone do that to me just to get inside somewhere?” I ask but I’ve questioned my- self that same thing.

“Honestly, no. I got no sense of deceit from you when we claimed you. I think that was their plan and they decided not to tell you.” Cici says as she cuddles into my side, “I can’t wait until we get our hands on those two ass fucks, I’m going to pull each and every nail out of each digit really fucking slow, and then I will, shove Rani’s claw right into their groin, twist and then pull really slow, just to drag out the pain.”

Spence and I just sit here gawking at the petite blonde that we call our mate. She looks so innocent and yet she’s sounding a bit demonic and seems to be enjoying what she’s going to do to these two males. Both me and my mate grab our own crotch as she goes on, describing everything in de- tail.

“What in the actual fuck is that?” I ask Spencer.

“How the fuck do I know?”

“She’s your bloody mate!”

“She’s your mate too!”

“But you’ve been mated longer!”

“Well, she’s never had these thoughts until you showed up...”

“Enough!” Cici interjects mine and Spencer’s little argument, “First of all,” She looks right at me, “There is nothing wrong with me, but I will protect my mates and do whatever I have to do in order to do just that!” She then turns to Spencer, “Second, I have had those thoughts long before Ledger came to be here...every time you have pissed me off, I’ve thought of doing just that!”

I watch my mate flinch as he stares in bewilderment at our little she-wolf. I have a feeling that there will never be a dull moment with my two mates, and I really I hope I live to have a long life with them.

Spencer and I leave for the pack house soon after we all shower together. Cici looks like a lost puppy dog, no pun intended, as we walk up into the house without her. I didn’t realize how big the pack house really was, but I guess it needs to be enough to fit all the single pack members. The house is actually three floors with the living area on the first, the pack members on the second, along with the Alpha and Beta offices, and then the higher ranks are on the third floor. My mate explains all of this to me as we head up to the office.

The Alpha and Luna are already waiting for us since Spencer linked them to let them know we were on our way. I learned how to link with my two mates as we showered, and I must say, as convenient as it may be, it still freaks me the fuck out having voices in my head. Like the one from earlier, I think. it may have been my wolf, but I haven’t heard anything more since I marked each of my mates.

“What, no Cici?” Luna asks as we walk into the office.

“You told us not to bring her.” Spencer responds, confusion lacing his voice.

The Luna rolls her eye, “Since when has that girl ever listened to anybody?” she questions but then a knowing smile appears on her face, and she walks over to the window and glances down. When she returns to her mate’s side, she stares at the two of us but speaks to our other mate instead, “There’s no point in waiting outside if you’re going to eavesdrop, Cici. Get your ass in here so we can figure this out.”

A moment later, our little mate is bursting through the door, no embarrassment whatsoever over being caught, “Let me just say before we start, I’m sorry Quinn. I didn’t mean any of it, I was just angry, and it wasn’t at you. I just want to be able to spend time with our new mate without having to worry about anything. He has so much to learn..."

The Luna cuts her off, "I understand, and I'm sorry for not being more sensitive, but unfortunately, we don't have the luxury of doing any of that. I'm just glad that you have calmed down enough, so you can join us now. I don't think you would want to miss your mate being sworn into the pack."

"What? You're swearing Ledger into Dark Moon?"

We all roll our eyes this time, "Love, had you been paying attention earlier, at the house, she said she would swear me in." I pull her into my side."

"Oh, my Goddess! You guys marked each other! How..." The Luna asks excitedly.

Spencer chuckles, "You see Quinn, when there are wolves that are fated mates, they have sex..."

The Luna growls at my mate's smartass explanation, "You know damn well that's not what I meant!" She then grins, "Congratulations to all of you, but really, how was Ledger able to mark the two of you?"

"I'm not one hundred percent sure, Luna, but I think that when they marked me, they woke up my wolf." I explain myself, "My canines extended, and I was also able to knot Cici, but what really gets me, is the voice I heard in my head chanting the word 'mate' over and over until I marked them as well. I haven't heard him since, though."

"Interesting," the Alpha pipes in, "I wonder if your witch side has kept it dormant all these years."

"That's exactly what I said as well, Alpha." Spencer nods in agreement.

"Hm, I wonder if you will shift too. You may have a wolf, but that doesn't mean you can shift, but that only means that you will have to live with one grouchy wolf, if he isn't allowed out to run every once in a while." The Luna chuckles, but I don't find it too funny at the mention of living with a grumpy wolf.

"Let's hope not, because then that will make for a very grumpy mate." Cici pipes in.

“Well, first things first. Ledger, I need you to come and kneel before me.” The Luna states.

“Uh, doesn’t it have to be Declan that swears him in now that he’s Alpha?” Cici asks as I go and do what the Luna told me to do, I kneel down before her.

“Normally, yes Cici, but I am the Queen, therefore, I’m not only bringing him into my pack, but I’m also bringing him into my personal guard, and besides, I have more power than De- clan.” She smiles shyly at her own mate, but he returns a smile that’s full of love and understanding, and that is exactly what I want with my mates.

“Wait, what? Your personal guard, but you barely know him! You wouldn’t even allow him into the pack house before!” Cici starts up once more.

I’m actually honored that the Luna wants me as her personal guard, even though I think it’s more to keep an eye on me, but I don’t care. I will do whatever it takes to prove to them that I am no danger to them or this pack.

“Cici, calm down. It’s okay, I understand her intentions and I’m okay with it. I will do anything to prove myself to all of you.”

“You don’t have to prove yourself to me or Spencer, we have seen your intentions...”

“As will I, Cici, as soon as I bring him into the pack. This must happen if you want him to stay with us.” The Luna responds as nice as possible, but I can see her annoyance with my mate.

“Cici, I want this, okay. Just sit down and watch.” I hate to do it, but my mate needs to know when to back down, so I put a little dominance behind my words, and she finally listens. I turn back to the Luna, “I’m ready.”

She smiles and then steps forward and looks down at me, “There is only one thing that I need to do first. I have a question, but you don’t have to answer. I need to know... what are your true intentions with this pack?” Suddenly, she places her hands on my head and I feel her aura filling my head. It doesn’t hurt and my eyes remain on her as she closes her eyes and concentrates on getting her answer herself.

Thanks for reading peeps! Here is a super chapter for you, so I hope you enjoyed it! =)

Chapter 22

Declan

“What are your intentions with this pack?”

I watch as my mate takes hold of Ledger’s head just after she asks the question. He doesn’t seem to be in any pain as he stares up at my mate in awe. In fact, Cici and Spencer have similar expressions on their faces that matches their mate’s as they watch the blue vein-like lines form and climb up Quinn’s hands and into her arms. Her facial expression goes from consternation to surprise and then a smile, but then anger fills her face as she pulls her hands away.

I’m about ready to seize the new wolf when she smiles sadly down at him, “You might have been living with witches, but you have been surrounded by wolves in sheep’s clothing all these years. I can’t say much for your father, but the two that you were sent here with are pure evil and they never planned for you to survive. They syphoned your magic before they left you for dead, and that’s why your wolf is coming out.”

“But did you see my intentions? Please tell me that I wasn’t as bad as the others!” Ledger really seems concerned on who he was as a human being before his accident.

“It’s the whole reason why they wanted you dead, because they realized that you were trying to protect us from them. Ledger, I got the feeling that you had found out a secret about something and that you are or were holding it dear to your heart, not wanting anyone to know. It would be interesting to sit down and pick through you brain and see if I can come up with anything, not only for us, but for you as well.”

“What do you mean, Luna? Do you think you can see my memories from before my accident?” He asks.

My mate chuckles, “I already know that I can, how else do you think I know your name?”

“Why haven’t you done so then?”

“Ledger, I’m not going to go around invading people’s privacy without their permission. I didn’t even know I could do it until I touched your arm that day.”

“I don’t like when you do it. It freaks me out when I start seeing the vein-like lines creeping into your skin. It’s almost like you’re using your life force.” I tell my mate frowning.

“Actually, I would have to agree with Alpha, Spencer states, “I mean, I was entranced watching you do it, but now that he’s mentioned it, I think that’s exactly what it was doing.”

“Oh, you guys, I feel perfectly fine. Thanks for worrying but I think I’m good. Besides, it can’t hurt if I don’t use it all the time.” Quinn just blows off our feelings on the matter, and it kind of pisses me off but I know now isn’t the time to bring it up.

“Okay, now that we have that settled, let’s get on to swearing Ledger into the pack. We are losing daylight time and I would like to have this over with and be able to sleep in my own bed tonight.”

“Oh right! Yes... let’s get on with it!” Quinn jumps up and grabs the ceremonial dagger.

We don’t go outside and do it in front of the whole pack, we don’t have that kind of time. Instead, we do call Cam up since he is her Gamma and is in charge of Quinn’s personal guard, so he will also be in charge of Ledger. Once my Luna swears in the Beta’s mate, I also swear him into my pack. Since Quinn and I have yet to have the Luna ceremony, we don’t have the links to each other’s packs, just to each other. I want to be able to link with Ledger while we are out on this mission and to do so, he needs to be sworn into both packs.

“Please be safe out there and come back to me.” Quinn says as we spend a few moments together before we head out.

“I will always come back to you, little mate. I’ve waited too long to have you by my side, and I will not leave you to live. without me by yours.” I hug her to me tight.

“I can’t wait for all this Shikari business to be over. I want to start growing our family, I want to give you another pup...or two.” I can hear the smile in her voice as she says the latter.

I pull away from her and look down into her brilliant blue eyes, “I plan on having you grow with my pup at least once a year. Have we not had this conversation before?”

“We have, but I like talking about my future with you, so we will probably have this talk many times again.”

“You make me feel like the luckiest man and wolf alive by giving me your love, baby. I don’t know what I would do if we ended up not being fated.”

“Oh, I planned on claiming you regardless.” She states matter of fact.

“You would have given up the legacy bestowed upon you by the Moon Goddess herself?” I quirk a brow.

“If it meant having and loving you? I would do it a million times over.” She says breathlessly and I lose all control as I smash my lips against hers.

I can’t believe that I would come to love that fifteen-year- old girl that I saved from the safe room that fateful day. It sounds a little illegal when I say it like that, but my feelings. didn’t start growing intimate until her eighteenth birthday. when I saw her for the first time as a full-grown woman. It’s like something snapped into place that day, and only grew stronger with each day after that.

“I love you, Quinn Night Davis and soon-to- be Storm,” I grin and then press my lips against hers briefly, “My perfect Luna, my beautiful Queen, and my very desirable little mate. Know that you make me happy every single day that I’m gift- ed with waking up with you by my side.”

“Oh stop, my King, before you make me blush!” She gush- es playfully and adds a little giggle at the end of it, “Okay, I lied, keep going...”

I throw my head back and laugh, “Oh, baby, there is never a dull day with you around. I will see you when I get back. Promise me that you will behave while I’m gone.” I say sternly.

Gasping, she brings her hand to her chest, “Since when do I not behave?”

I pull her against me hard, “Every time that I’m not around.”

“Hm, that ought to tell you that you shouldn’t leave then.” Her eyes sparkle with mischief, and I have to step away, otherwise I won’t be able to make myself leave, and I need to do this with our Beta’s.

Yes, Spencer is still going because they threw a fit thinking that no one would be out for Ledger’s best interest either, so we have Peter, the head warrior coming. I had thought about calling Keenan over, but that would just waste more time with waiting on him to arrive. There are now four of us and I pray that’s enough for two Shikari. At least we hope it’s still only two of them.

“So, how long do you suppose we will have to wait?” Spencer asks.

“Who knows. You read the same note that I read, it never said a time or a place, so hopefully they are watching and won’t make us wait too long.” I have an army of warriors waiting just out of sight, past the tree line. One wrong move and they will attack.

We don’t have to wait long for the two fuckers to show up. About five minutes after stepping over the southern border, two burly men appear almost as if it is out of thin air. They’re just like Frankie had described. I glance over at Ledger to see if there is any kind of sign that he recognizes them, but I see none.

“We’ve been waiting for you to come back to us, Ledger. I’m surprised you stayed with the mongrels this long.” One of the two state.

“Kind of hard to come back to you when I don’t remember who the fuck you are, but I do know that you tried to kill me, so why the fuck do you think I would come back even if I did remember?”

“We are family, Ledge, and your father wants you to come home.” The uglier of the two pipes in.

Spencer steps up beside his mate, “Ledger is home. So, why don’t the two of you leave us in peace before this gets. out of hand.”

The two Shikari look at one another and laugh, “Look at pretty boy over here trying to act all tough! Tell me,” the ugly one stares right at my Beta, “who are you to speak for our boss’s son?”

“I am the Beta of the Dark Moon pack and Ledger is my fated mate. He’s found his way home; he doesn’t need the Shikari any longer.”

The other male doesn’t like Spencer’s answer, “The Beta? Pfft, you ain’t shit then. Why don’t you come talk to us when you’re an Alpha.”

I finally step forward, “Then you can talk to me. I’m Alpha Declan, Alpha of both the Dark Moon and Storm River packs, and I say that Ledger stays with us if he so wishes. Ledger, what is it that you would like to do?” I don’t take my eyes off either of the two males.

“I think I prefer to stay with my mates, Alpha.”

“There you have it, he stays. If his father would like to speak to him, he can either call me, or you can give Ledger his magic back that you syphoned from him, and he can contact his father on his own.”

They seem surprised that I know of the magic being tak- en, “You say you’re the Alpha? So, you are Queen Quinn’s mate.”

I nod, “That’s right.”

They look at one another again, “I’m gathering my boss would like to talk to you then.”

“Well, like I said, he can call me.” ”

“Nah, boss doesn’t like talking on the phone very much, so we will just take you with us now.”

Shit, this isn’t how I’m hoping it would turn out, but I try to keep my cool the best I can. When I go to tell them where they can go, something is blown into the air within our little circle and I recognize the smell of wolfsbane right away and think, ‘Fuck, this isn’t good’.

Since I wasn't able to post yesterday, not only did I make this a super chapter but if you keep scrolling, there's another chapter just for you! =)

Chapter 23

Spencer

I hear commotion all around me as I double over in pain. My senses are all out of whack at the moment as well but all I can think about is my mate. He doesn't know about wolfsbane and how it can be poisonous if it's ingested. I try glancing around but all I see is double of everything and I can't smell Ledger anywhere.

"Ledger, where are you? Call out to me!" I wait but hear nothing, "Ledger, call out to me!"

"Beta, he's gone, so is Alpha Declan!" One of the warriors informs me.

"What do you mean they are gone? Gone where, back to the pack house?"

"No, the Shikari took them. As soon as they blew the wolfsbane into the air, they grabbed them both and disappeared into thin air! We had no time to get to them before they were just... gone."

"Shit! Get me back to the pack house, now! Where is Peter?" I ask.

"I'm here, Beta! I'm in the same boat as you, my senses are fucked."

"Fuck! We had one job! One motherfucking job, protect Ledger and the Alpha, and we fucked it all up!" I punch at the ground multiple times, not caring that I'm cutting my knuckles all up."

"Spencer, Spencer!" I hear Cici's voice, and it crushes me that I've failed her. I feel the sparks as soon as her hands touch me, "Baby, talk to me! Are you okay?"

"Yeah, I'm okay, but..." My voice cracks and I can't finish my sentence.

“What happened, baby? Where are Ledger and the Alpha? Quinn and I can’t feel them any longer.”

“They took them! They blew wolfsbane at us and next thing I know, I’m on the ground calling out for Ledger but there was no answer. A warrior told me that the Shikari took them both, he said they just disappeared. I’m sorry, I’m so sor-ry that I couldn’t protect our mate!”

“Shh, it’s okay, baby. We will get him back; somehow, we will bring him back home.”

“How? We don’t even know where they are!”

“Hey,” she pulls away from me, “Are you giving up on our mate already?”

“No, but…”

“No fucking buts, Spencer! We will search high and low if we have to, but Ledger will come home where he belongs!” If anybody can move a mountain and bring our mate home, it will be Cici, but my worry is, will I lose her in the process?

“I’m sorry Quinn, none of us expected that they would pull something like that. I guess we underestimated them, but to be honest I think they used it as a last resort. Once they found out who Declan was, that he was your mate, that’s when they pulled their little stunt.” me.

“Who the fuck told them who he was?” The Luna growls at

“Uh, he did, Luna. When they learned that I was only the Beta, they said to come talk to them when I turned into an Al-pha, and that’s when Declan stepped up and told them that he was the Alpha of these two packs. They knew right then that he was your mate and he confirmed it.”

“UGH! That stupid Alpha! I love him to death, but I swear need to hold his hand sometimes.” She slams her palm down on the desk, “I guess all we can do is wait now. They will con- tact us.”

“How do you know?” Cici asks.

“Because I’m the one they want, that’s why they took my mate.” She answers my mate.

There is a knock on the office door and Dr. Sands pokes his head in, “Uh, a moment of your time please, Luna?”

“Now is not a good time, Jonah.” She rubs her forehead and closes her eyes.

“Oh, but I think now is the perfect time.” He responds.

Quinn sighs and opens her eyes, “Fine, what is it?”

“Well, Alpha Declan came to me this afternoon, asking me for a favor. And well, I thought he was a bit paranoid, but now I’m glad he was.” The doctor chuckles.

“Please Jonah, don’t talk in riddles, just come out and say it. Why did my mate come to you?”

“Alpha wanted me to put a tracker in him before he left, just in case.” He states.

We all perk up at hearing this, “Declan has a tracker in him? Like the one you used in Lila?”

Dr. Sands grins and then hands her a small tablet with a red beeping dot, “There is just one tiny problem, Luna.”

“What is it, and what exactly am I looking at?” Luna asks as I glance over her shoulder.

“Well, Luna, you are looking at your mate’s ass blinking.” Everyone but Quinn chuckles.

“You put the tracker in my mate’s ass? I didn’t realize he was that kinky.” She mumbles and Cici giggles.

“No, not like that, Luna,” the doctor corrects her with a chuckle, “I inserted it into his right cheek with a needle. The tiny problem is that the red blinking dot is no longer in the United States.”

“What?” All three of us burst out at the same time.

“Exactly what I said. That dot isn’t blinking anywhere in the U.S. of A.”

"Then please, Doc, tell us where our mates are at, so we can go get them." I tell him, getting a bit irritated because he's beating around the bush.

"Well, then you better get some passports or find a witch because you need to go to Europe to find them."

"Un-fucking-believable!" I yell, so pissed at myself right now.

"Spencer, stop. There is no way any of us could have prevented this except for not going at all." Luna states.

"Well, maybe next time we should all listen to my mate because she's the only one that didn't want this little mission, as you call it, to happen!"

"Spence..." Cici's hand flattens against my chest, calming me down right away.

"Okay, I'm fine, sorry," I glance at Quinn, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to blow up like that, Quinn."

She gives me a sad smile and walks over to me, "I know Spence," she wraps me in a hug, "We will bring our mates home, I promise."

"How? They are witches, Quinn!" I'm skeptical on how this is all going to work.

"Have you forgotten that I am not without powers, myself?" She raises a brow at me.

"Can you teleport us there?" I smile for the first time in hours.

"Well, no. I don't think so anyway, but I can call on the elements and move things. That's all I've learned so far, aside from the whole reading a person.

I scoff amusingly, "That's all? You sound like a fucking witch to me."

"Hey, take that back or else I'm going to tell on you!" She uses the words she always used growing up when Dylan and I always teased her.

"Oh, if only we could go back to those days, Quinn. I would take getting an earful from our parents over teasing you any day over what we have to deal with now."

“Me too, Spence, me too.”

“Hey, if that was the case, then neither of you would have me in your life!” Cici pouts playfully.

I pull her into me, “You are one hundred percent right, babe. What was I thinking?”

“Oh, good Goddess, okay, let’s figure out how we are going to get passports ASAP, because I am not going to find a witch around here. Hell, I thought they were all extinct!”

“Uh, I think I may have a solution to that.” Cici speaks up, “Just call my brother, he can get you the passports and any other illegal document that you may need.”

“I’m not even going to ask how he knows how to do that, but thanks for letting me know.” Quinn chuckles and then her eyes go wide, “Oh shit! I haven’t called Carter to tell him about Declan!”

Quinn runs around the desk to go make that call as I pull my mate out into the hall for a bit of privacy, “You know he chose us before they took him.”

“What do you mean?” She asks.

“The Shikari told him that his father wanted him home and he refused, he said that he was home, that we were his home now.” My eyes tear up at the memory and I pull my mate into my arms once more so we can calm each other’s soul. There is still a huge hole that I can feel where Ledger is supposed to be. I will not feel whole again until he’s back home with us where he belongs.

Chapter 24

Ledger

I wake up with a nasty headache and my body hurts all over. The sounds of voices arguing nearby makes the throbbing even more intense and it's all I can do not to claw at my head until the pain goes away. Somehow, I fall back into a deep sleep and when I wake up next, some of the pain is still there but it's tolerable. I sit up and look at my surroundings. I'm in my room back at home in England and I'm trying to remember how I got back here.

Wait a minute... how did I know that this was my room and that I'm in England? Oh my God, I've got my memory back! I remember everything; everything down to the very last moment before waking up here! Cici and Spencer. Oh God, where is Spencer? I go to stand up, but I get dizzy right away. Damn, what the fuck did they use on us? I try using a spell to get me back to normal, but it doesn't work. Cursing, I remember now, Randy and Ronny, the Mitchell brothers; they siphoned my magic right after they beat me within an inch of my life. I remember how we were arguing about the Dark Moon pack. I was trying to lead them away, telling them that we had the wrong pack, but Randy had snuck behind me and hit me over the head. Suddenly I see clubs appear in their hands and they start beating me with them.

The bastards were laughing the whole time and chanting for me to die, and that I was nothing but a spoiled brat who needed to be taught a lesson. A voice inside of me growls, startling me, but then I remember my wolf. Closing my eyes, I concentrate on the presence within.

'Hello, what's your name?'

I get more growling.

'It's okay boy, I'm your human. You have been sleeping for a very long time, but now I want you to wake up. You are my wolf, are you not?'

'You are Ledger, my human.'

'Yes, I am, and you are my wolf, but I don't know your name.'

'I am Ares.'

'Ah, like the God of War?'

'I am no God, but I am a killing machine when it comes to war. Tell me human, where are my mates? I do not feel them anymore.'

'That's what I'm going to find out. I just woke up myself. Cici and Rani are back in the states but as for Spencer and Sterling, I'm not sure what happened to them after Randy and Ronny attacked.'

'I feel Alpha Duke close by...'

'You do? Damn, they must have taken Declan too; this isn't good.' I say more to myself but then realize that I said it to Ares as well, 'We need to come up with a plan. Father will never let me leave if he believes I have reverted to my werewolf side. Somehow, I will have to convince him that I still want to be a Shikari.'

'He will sense me, Ledger. He may lock us up like he did your mother.'

That's right. I had forgotten that I had found out shortly before I had left for the states that my mother is locked up somewhere. I had grown up hating her because I believed that she left me and my father. I was never told about my werewolf side or that my mother is a shifter. I didn't learn that little bit until I met my mates, but I did find out that my mother had never left us but that my father had her locked up somewhere.

I'm not sure if he found out that I knew of my mother's imprisonment and that's why he sent me to the states, but it was pretty coincidental that it just so happened that only a few days after finding out my mother's fate, I was sent away: and with dumb and dumber no less.

'So, how am I supposed to go near my father without him finding out about you?'

'Silver. You must find some pure silver and put it on. It will hurt like a son of a bitch but as long as you wear it, it will keep me back and he shouldn't be able to sense me.'

'I don't want to force you back just when you are finally able to come forward Ares.'

'Thank you for thinking of my needs, but I know that this isn't about me right now. Our species is at stake, and I must do what needs to be done. You must play nice with your father in order to free our Alpha. He will use the King to trap the Queen, and that can never happen.'

'How do you know so much if you have been dormant all this time?' I ask him. He just woke up and he already knows far more than I do.

My wolf chuckles, 'This isn't my first rodeo, human, and you're not my first human. I've been around almost since the beginning of time. My line goes back to the Dire wolves.'

I frown for a moment, 'Are you saying we are like our Queen?'

'Yes and no, we are cousins to the Dire wolf, we don't have their powers, but we have their strength, and we are much stronger than the regular shifters. You also have witch in you, so I guess you can say that we are as powerful as the Queen, but she will always beat us in everything once she learns how to use all of the powers bestowed upon her.'

'What happens to you if I were to get my magic back?'

'I am here to stay, Ledger. The spell that was keeping me at bay has been broken, so even when you get yours back, I will remain.'

'That's good to hear because I don't think I can give you up now that I have you, and I definitely can't give up my mates.'

'Thank you, you're not so bad yourself, human. Now, find the silver and then go find your father. The faster we can find the Alpha and get our magic back, the faster we can get home.'

I know exactly what I can wear that is made of all silver, and now I wonder if there is a reason that my father had made it into silver. I rummage through my drawer and find exactly what I'm looking for. I had taken it off when I had found out about my father's betrayal over my mother. It's a silver bracelet that he had made and given me for my eighteenth birthday. The inscription read, 'My son, my heir, my heart'.

I have just clasped the bracelet back on and flinched at the slight sting, when a knock sounds on my door. Walking over to it, I shake out my wrist and then prepare myself for whoever is on the other side of the door.

'Ares, are you there?' I get no answer, which only means. that the bracelet is working. Opening the door, I come face to face with the one person that I really don't want to see at the moment, "Hello Father."

“Ledger, I’m so glad to see that you are awake. How are you feeling?”

“I’m doing just fine, why do you ask?”

“The Mitchell brothers said that you had amnesia. That you had injured yourself and couldn’t remember anything. They told me how the wolves captured you but that they were able to try and make a deal in order for your return, only to capture the King himself.”

I scoff, “Well, as you can see, I’m perfectly fine. I mean, I was injured and actually, the wolves took me in and nursed me back to health, but I was never their prisoner.” My father knew my views on the wolves before, so I can’t pretend that I hate them now, but I still have to play it safe. “Where are the ugly bastards anyway? The fuckers syphoned my magic and I want it back!”

My father’s face pales a bit, “They what?”

“They took my magic after they clubbed me to near death. They are the ones that caused my injury.”

My father’s face is turning a deep red, “Those two fuckers will pay for touching a hair on your head! They were supposed to protect you!”

I snicker, “I suggest you find better guards next time.” I reach out and squeeze my father’s shoulder, “It’s good to be home, though, let me tell you!”

Chuckling, my father places his arm around my shoulder and starts walking us down the hall, “It’s good to have you back home, son.” 2

Chapter 25

Declan

I’ve been hanging by my wrists for hours down in one of the Shikari cells. The shackles are made of silver, so none of the bruises or cuts that I’ve procured upon my arrival have healed. My headache from the wolfsbane is still throbbing through my head since my wolf is not attainable at the moment.

Within ten minutes of being shackled, the head of the Shikari, Ledger's father, had shown up. His distaste for shifters very notable upon his arrival.

He had me beaten before he even started with his questions, and since they were all about my mate, I refused to give him anything. He had me beaten again and his threat that the next beating will be done with knuckles made of silver, doesn't sit too well with me, but nothing will ever make me give up my mate.

I'm glad that I'm in silver cuffs because that means that Quinn can't feel any of my discomfort, not that I think she could anyway because I overheard one of the ugly fuckers say something about how good it feels to be back in England. I'm an ocean away from my mate, and I'm not quite sure how I will be able to keep my promise about coming back to her.

When next I hear voices, it's the familiar voice of the head Shikari, but then there's another voice, one that I've come to know very recently. I lift my head up to see, but I can only see out of one eye. It's enough, though, that I can see both Ledger and his father approach. I don't miss the slight flinch from my Beta's mate before he hardens his features as his father turns to him.

"As you can see, we've been trying to get information out of him, but he's a stubborn fool." The head Shikari states.

"Father, how do you expect to get anything from him when he's almost done in for? I understand why you feel the need to beat him, but you won't get anything if he dies. You must heal him in order to question him some more." His father studies him a moment and then looks at me, and that's when Ledger gives me a slight nod.

"I think you may be right son, but not all the way. I want him to be in constant pain."

"Agreed father. Now, can we please go find the bastards who took my magic?"

"Oh yes, of course! I thought they would have been down here, but first," he turns back to his son, "What can you tell me about the Queen herself?"

"Pardon? What do you mean?" Ledger asks acting confused.

"Well, you must have met her, did you not?"

Ledger shakes his head slowly, “No, not that I’m aware of. They kept me in a house on the outskirts of town. I was told that I couldn’t be trusted. I had only met the Alpha when they brought me to the exchange.”

I’ve got to give it to Ledger, he’s a good liar, and if I didn’t believe in what my own mate had seen, I’d be worried that he has deceived us, he’s that good. Even his father observes Ledger’s body language for any telling signs of deceit from him, but he must believe him because he grunts and then starts walking away.

“Aren’t you going to heal him a little, so he can recover some for next time?” Ledger asks before moving away.

“Oh yes...” His father waves his hand and I automatically feel my cuts start to close and I can see much better out of my other eye.

I give Ledger a slight nod before he disappears with his father. I’m not sure what he will be able to do once he gets his magic back, but I hope he will be able to get us the hell out of here. What I need to know is, where the hell is my Beta and head warrior, were they left behind? If that’s the case, then I feel a bit better just having to worry about getting myself and Ledger back home, but we can’t leave here until we are sure.

Ledger

“He’s lying boss! We would never hurt your son!” Randy squeals as my father twists his hand once again, causing both Mitchell brothers’ internal pain. They drop to their knees and beg my father for mercy.

“So, you’re calling my son a liar? Do you know what that will get you?” My father roars at the brother who called me a liar. He isn’t wrong, I have lied, just not about this part.

“Boss, ask him! Ask him about his mates! He told us that he wanted to stay with his mates!” Ronny, the uglier of the two bursts out.

I see my father’s disbelief on his face before he turns to me, “What are they talking about?”

I shrug, “How the hell am I supposed to know? I don’t know nothing of mates, and why would I say I have mates?”

“O-One of his m-mates, we left him behind because he was only a Beta.” Ronny stutters.

I make a face, “The Beta is my mate? He is a male, how is he my mate, besides, only wolves have mates. Ask him father, ask him about my magic!” I growl, trying to turn the table and get off the topic of mates.

“Yes, where is my son’s magic?”

“H-How are w-we supposed to know?” Randy answers this time before looking guiltily at me.

“You do know that I can just look inside of you and see if it’s there, right?” My father speaks the truth. His magic allows for him to look inside of anybody, and that’s why I’m hoping the silver is working, otherwise, he knows that I am deceiving him and he is playing along, waiting for the right time to strike.

The brothers’ glance at one another and then point to the other one, “It was his idea!” They both say in unison.

“So, tell me, did you plan to kill my son? Did you not think I wouldn’t find out?”

“No, boss. We didn’t plan on killing him! Why would we...”

“ENOUGH!” my father’s voice reverberates through the room, give Ledger back his magic, now!”

50 BAL

“But, boss, what if he’s like them?” Randy asks worriedly.

“You know nothing to what you speak of! He is an ordinary human now that you have taken his magic!” My father looks as though he’s about to explode.

“But...”

My father raises his hand, and a ball of light appears, “Fa-ther, wait!”

He looks at me in askance.

“I need my magic first before you kill him.” I chuckle. Had he killed Randy while he still held my magic, it would have been lost to me for good.

“Good call son,” he turns back to the brothers, “Well?”

Suddenly, I’m hit with a force that would knock a normal person down. I go up onto my toes as my body takes back the powers that were taken from it. I’m not going to lie; it hurts like a son of a bitch! When it’s over with, I drop to my knees trying to catch my breath. It feels so good to feel my power stirring inside of me again.

Looking up at the brothers from my place on the floor, I fling out my hand, sending an electrical bolt straight through Randy’s cold heart, killing him instantly. When I turn on Ronny, he pleads with me not to kill him as I stand to my full height. Something is different about me; I feel more powerful than I had before. Is it my wolf side, I wonder? Did waking up my wolf side, and my strength, make me more powerful?

“Did you have mercy on me as you tried clubbing me to death, Ronny?”

“Please, Ledger, it was all Randy’s idea!”

“Sure, blame it on the dead guy.” I chuckle.

“Ledger, you’ve proven your point. We can’t go around killing members of the Shikari. We are few as it is.” My father states and I gawk at him, “So, we just let him go and hope that he doesn’t succeed next time?” My voice is hard and menacing, even making my own father flinch.

“What has gotten into you, Ledger? You’re...”

“I’m what, father?”

“I-I don’t know. You remind me of someone...”

“Who, father? Is it my mother? Do I remind you of my mother, the shifter who you have locked away?” Shit! I never meant to expose that I know any of that. Getting my power back, I’m beginning to lose control of myself.

My father’s eyes are wide, “W-What did you just say?”

I roll my eyes at this point since I’ve already let the cat out of the bag, “My mother! She never left us. You locked her away because she is a shifter. You couldn’t kill her, because you love her, so you have her hidden away from the Shikari." I'm not sure how I know all of this but it's just coming to me from out of the blue.

"L-Ledger, I..."

"Tell me where she is father or I will take out every single hunter that I come across, starting with you!"

Hello peeps! Only a chapter or two before my 3-day break. I hope you enjoyed this newest chapter. Now that Ledger's power and wolf have been unleashed, how is he going to deal with it all? Hope you all have an amazing day! =)

Chapter 26

Quinn

"What do you mean you won't get me a passport?" I growl at the Storm River Beta.

"I'm sorry Luna but the Alpha will have my head if I were to have any part in sending you into the lion's den!" Carter states as he shakes his head, "If anyone should go, it's me and Beta Spencer."

I scoff, "And who the fuck is going to protect you when they use their magic?"

"Come on Quinn, don't put me in this position, please!" the Beta begs.

"And don't put me in the position to have to use my command on you! I'm going and that's final!" I growl.

Carter glares at me, "Fine, but you had better protect me when Declan comes back and tries taking my head for putting his Luna and Queen in the line of fire!"

I roll my eyes, "You're exaggerating just a little bit."

“Are you fucking serious right now, Quinn? Declan has been head over heels in love with you since you turned eight- teen. You don’t know what it did to him when Lila fucked with him and then when you got with Gavin. He held on to hope, though, and now that he has you, he will take out anything and anyone who puts you in danger.”

I stare at the Beta, amazed at how passionate he is about all of this, “I’m sorry Carter, I’m not trying to get you into trou- ble, I swear, but we all know that I am the only hope in bring- ing back mine and your sister’s mate.”

“At what expense, though, Quinn? You know damn well that Declan would give his life for you. He wouldn’t survive losing you.”

“What? You think I would survive his death? Especially knowing that there was a chance that I could have saved him?” I stare at the Beta long and hard, “If you don’t get me those documents then I will have no choice but to relieve you of your duties! I want them on my desk at Dark Moon shortly after lunch!” I slam the door to his office and head back to my own pack.

I feel bad, I really do. Carter is my friend, but Declan is my mate, and his life is at stake. If I must choose, I will always choose my mate, Carter will just have to understand it. I am one hundred percent serious about relieving him of his duties. I will do it and then deal with the aftermath later once my mate is back at home.

“Well, what did my brother say?” Cici bombards me as soon as I climb out of my Camaro.

I laugh, “Down girl!” I joke.

“Did you just refer to me as a fucking dog? Now I see what Declan means!” My friend states offensively.

“The two of you are babies, that’s all. Neither of you can take a joke.”

“So? Are you going to tell me when we leave or what?” She asks.

I stop and face her, “First of all, you’re not going...”

“You can’t be serious! My mate is there too!”

“Yes, and I’m taking Spencer, but I will need you to stay behind and help Cam run the pack until I return. Besides, I doubt your brother will make one for you.”

“Why would he make one for you and not me?” She’s beginning to throw one of her famous Cici fits, but I don’t have time to deal with it.

“Because I threatened to relieve him of his duties as Beta if he doesn’t get me what I need. If you want to continue to act like a child, I will relieve you of yours as well!” Goddess, I hate that I have to argue and threaten my friends in order to get things done around here!

She gasps, “You didn’t, and you wouldn’t!”

“I really get irritated when people question my motives and then try telling me what to do. You of all people should know this, Carter should too! I may be a Luna and a Queen, but I am a mate first, and nothing will ever come before my mate and pups.” I continue into the pack house with Cici hot on my heels, “By the way, we need to cancel this weekend’s festivities.”

“It’s already done, and they all know why it’s being canceled and that they will be informed of the new date.”

“Thank you, anybody have any issues with it? Mainly my Luna ceremony being delayed? I know the Elders will have something to say about it.”

“Uh no, but some want to know what’s going on with the Alpha, his cousin in particular.” My friend states.

“Shit! I’ll need to call him and bring him up to speed.” I say just as I get to my office and begin to smell a familiar scent.

“Um, you won’t have to, because he’s already here, in your office waiting.” She grins, “Demi is in there keeping him company while the boys are down for a nap.” She gives me a knowing look, but I roll my eyes, always trying to be a match-maker, that one.

Walking into my office though, I surprise them, and Demi jumps away from Alpha Deke looking guilty as hell. I chuckle, “I hope I’m not interrupting anything.”

“No, Luna. I was just leaving...”

“No, stay, Demi, and If you call me Luna one more time, I’ m going to pull out all of your hair.” I muse. Turning to the Al- pha, I finally greet him, “Hello Alpha Deke. I was going to con- tact you in just a bit...”

“If you use my title one more time then I will have to tell my cousin to chain you up and torture you until you can call me by my birthname. Not only are you Queen and have the right to do so, but you are family, and I insist. Just like I would hope that you will allow me to call you by your name as well.”

“Of course, Deke. As I was saying, I just got back from Storm River after arguing with Carter about getting me a passport, so I can go after my mate and my Beta’s mate.”

“Yes, so I heard. My cousin, always getting himself into trouble.” He chuckles, “So, tell me, how did this happen?”

I go on to tell him everything, starting with how we found Ledger with his skull bashed in. When I tell him about them killing regular wolves and then threatening to kill one of our own if we didn’t return Ledger, Deke becomes really angered, “Well, once you get all the necessary documents, my jet will be on standby, and we can leave right away.”

“We?”

“Of course! You don’t expect that I would let you and Spencer go by yourselves, do you? I may not have magic or powers, but I do have the strength. If I’m able to sneak up on them and immobilize them before they can use any magic, then we should be able to get in and out.”

I lean back in my chair and laugh, “You make it sound like it’s going to be so easy, when in fact, I believe it’s going to be trickier than hell. We don’t know what kind of protection they have, they could have wards up protecting their perimeters.”

“True, but we have to chance it. I cannot just sit here and do nothing while my cousin is in the hands of hunters. Not to worry you, but I’m sure he’s not in a very good state as it is right now. They are going to keep him weak, so he can’t cause any trouble or try to escape.” Deke looks concerned himself.

I close my eyes briefly, “I’ve already thought about that myself. I’m just hoping he holds out until we get there. After all, it’s me that they want, so that’s exactly what I’m going to make them think they are getting.”

I hope those of you who celebrate the upcoming holiday will have a very Happy Thanksgiving, spend time with family and friends and be thankful for all that you have! I am thankful to all of you who come back and read the stories that I write, so thank you to all, and I will see you when I get back in a few days! =)

Chapter 27

Ledger

My father is clueless as to me having my wolf. Don't think I hadn't noticed him glancing down at my wrist to see if I am wearing my silver bracelet. Trying to change the subject is the only way I can keep him from really looking deep within, because even I don't know just how powerful my father really is, so I turn the conversation onto the topic of my mother. Maybe threatening the head of the Shikari wasn't a smart move, but it has the desired effect.

"Did you just threaten me, your own father?" He scowls at me.

I don't back down, though, "Yes father, I did! How would you feel if you had been lied to your whole life about one of your parents and were denied their love as well?"

"You've grown some balls since you have been gone and I commend you, but I highly suggest that you use it towards others and not your own father!"

I need to be careful and not push him too far. If I can get him to tell me where my mother is then I can start forming a plan on trying to get not only me and Alpha Declan out of here, but my mother as well, "Sorry Father, you're right, of course. I'm sure you have a good reason as to why you keep my mother locked up, but nevertheless, I would still like to get to know her. Is that too much to ask?"

He studies me for a bit and then sighs heavily, "Let me think on it. You're right, I do have a good reason to keep her locked up; it's the only way to keep her alive. Others would want her dead, and I couldn't have that because she is your mother. I'm doing this for you, even if it doesn't seem like it."

"Will you let me see her; I want to meet my mother, at least once." I try to play the pleading son in hopes that he will give this to me but all it gets me is another long sigh, "You can even come with me, Father. I just want to meet her once, is all."

After a long moment, he finally concedes, "Fine. Be ready at first light tomorrow morning and I will take you to go see Brianna."

"That's her name, Brianna?" I ask. I've never heard my father refer to her by her given name, so I'm a little taken back by his use of it now.

"Yes, Brianna Gregory." That's all he gives me before walking away, but I don't miss the little bit of sadness that enters his eyes before he does.

"Interesting," I mumble under my breath, "What other secrets are you hiding, Father?"

Teleporting places is the easiest thing to do for me but doing it unnoticed is the hard part. Luckily, I can link the Alpha beforehand to let me know whether it's safe to come or not. I also need to make sure that I appear under the surveillance camera and that he doesn't try talking to me while facing the camera. We will have to mind link, and even though that would be the easiest way to communicate with him instead of going to his cell, I have to check on him myself. I need to see with my own eyes that he isn't overly beaten. I know he's turned off the links that I have with him, so I can't feel his pain, but I hope he's left the line of communication open for me.

'Alpha, can you hear me?'

'Yeah, I hear you.'

'How are you holding up?'

'Oh, you know me, I love a good beating, so I'm doing fantastic.' The sarcasm is very noticeable, 'I will feel much better when I know how the hell we are going to get out of here.'

'I'm working on it, Alpha. I've got my magic back, but I need my father to take me to see my mother before I can leave.'

'What the fuck, Ledger? I'm in here getting a beating every other hour and you're wanting to visit mommy dearest?' He snarls over the link.

'You don't understand, Alpha. I've been told my whole life that my mother had left me, but my father has had her locked away for the last twenty-two years! I need to know where she is so when we leave, I can take her with us.'

The Alpha is silent for a long moment, 'Alpha, are you still there?'

A sigh comes over the link, 'Yeah, still here...'

'I'm sorry, Alpha, but if it was your mother...'

'No, I get it, and I understand. I just wish I didn't have to suffer the beatings in the meantime. The silver fucking hurts!'

'My apologies, Alpha. I'll see about switching the silver out with the fake silver.'

'That would be very much appreciated.'

'While we are waiting, I want to contact the pack, let them know that we are alive and that we will be back as soon as possible. There is one thing, Alpha.'

'What is that?'

'When we leave, we can be tracked, so more than likely, my father will send an army. I need to make sure that the pack is protected. Do you think the Queen is ready for the fight?'

'She doesn't really have a choice but if we can get word, then my mate can gather our allies to help fight.'

'That's good; it makes me feel better about heading back. Tell me Alpha, are you alone or are there guards close by?'

'I'm alone for the moment but they have been gone for a while, so I'm sure they will be back soon.'

'I only need but a moment to see for myself what condition you are in. When I come to you, it will be under the camera that is in your cell, so try not to look that way. I can guarantee that they have eyes on you at all times.'

'Okay, thanks for the warning.' More sarcasm but I can't really blame him.

Locking myself in my room and then in the bathroom, I turn the shower on, undress and then step into the shower. I may sound a bit paranoid, but I don't trust my father not to have put cameras in every room. I make sure I find none in the shower before closing my eyes and transporting myself to my Alpha's cell.

'Sorry for my state of undress...' my words fade once I get a look at Declan. Sure, my father healed him a little but not enough, and my Alpha looks as though he should be in a hospital, 'I am so sorry, Alpha!' Before he can stop me, I heal all of his hurt but keep the bruises as to not make anyone suspicious, 'You must still act hurt at all times, and I will put a spell on you, so when they come in again and beat you, you will not feel the pain.'

'Will they notice your magic?'

'I'm not sure, but it's a chance that I'm willing to take, Alpha.'

'Well, not me. I need you to get us home, so no, do not put the spell on me. You can come back later to heal me when you get the chance.'

'Alpha...'

'That is an order, Ledger!'

'Yes, Alpha,' I sigh, 'I will go, but I will be back later. Oh, one more thing, I need the number to contact the pack house or my mates.'

'I can give you the number to the pack house, but I don't know Spencer or Cici's private numbers, I'm sorry.'

'Don't be, either will work, as long as I can make contact with someone.' I tell him and then make sure I memorize the number before I teleport back to my shower.

I quickly wet my hair and then turn the water off and step out. Wrapping a towel around my waist, I step out of the bathroom and then go straight to my walk-in closet, not only to find me some clean clothes, but to write down the phone number to call as soon as I get the chance. I would just teleport back, but again, I don't trust my father not to be tracking my every move. Even going down to the cells was risky, but it was one that I was willing to take. I can't have my Alpha suffering because of me. Now, all I need to do is find a tracker phone and go somewhere that my father will not find me, so I can call and warn the Queen.

Chapter 28

Spencer

It hasn't even been a full twenty-four hours and I'm already going crazy about Ledger being gone. I don't know how mates deal with losing their mates in death because mine is still alive, but I feel like dying without having him here with me. I feel like it's all my fault and that's why I am going with Quinn to go get them. I am willing to die myself to get Ledger back here where he belongs. It makes no difference that I've only known him a few days, he's our mate, and so he is our life.

Cici is pissed that she has to stay behind, but the little minx has no combat skills really, and will be no use to Quinn once they are over in England. I'm in search of my little mate now because we will be leaving within the hour, and I want to give her a little going away present or should I say that I want her to give me one.

"Here you are!" I find her in the library going through a stack of books, "What are you doing?" I ask as I close the door and silently lock it.

"I'm trying to find something that will tell us a little more about the Shikari or just witches in general. There's got to be something that that says how we are able to stop them." My beautiful mate explains all of this without taking her eyes off the book she is flipping through.

I walk over to the table she's sitting at and glance at what she's reading as I also take in what she is wearing. Lucky for me, my mate loves her skirts, so this ought to be easy. I slide the book that she is looking at forward, towards the middle of the table.

“Hey, what are you doing? I was looking at that!” She’s irked at me, but I don’t care. There is only one thing that I care about right now and that’s getting into my mate’s sweet body.

Without saying a word, I haul her up to her feet and shove her over the table, only then do I finally say something, “Keep reading gorgeous. I’m going to fuck this pussy of yours before I go.”

“Oh! Well, why didn’t you say...” She starts to turn but I shove her back down with my hand between her shoulder blades.

“No. You will continue doing what you’re doing while I use your body for my own gratification.” I know she loves it when I take control like this, and I can already smell her arousal.

“Oh baby...”

“Shut the fuck up and read! The only thing I want to hear coming from those pretty little lips is my name as you’re coming all over my cock, but not before.” I yank her skirt up and tear her panties off her completely. I run my fingers through her wet lips and chuckle, “Mm, always ready for my cock, aren’t you?” I kick her legs apart and then take my throbbing cock out. Sliding it through her wetness, I lube it up just a little before plunging it inside her depths. She moans and I grab her hair, “What did I say? Not a fucking peep!” I pull out to the tip and then slam back into her over and over.

I have her coming in no time at all, but I don’t stop there; I’m not ready to give her my own load yet. Taking hold of her leg, I bring it up, opening her up, so I can get deeper as I take her hard and fast. I love that my mate is just as sexual as I am because I can be very demanding at times.

“Tell me, my pretty little mate, do you want to watch me fuck our other mate the same way I fuck you?”

“Oh, my Goddess...yes!”

“Well then, I will bring him home and I will take him just like this and let you watch, but you need to be a good girl while I’m gone. Can you do that for me?”

“Yes, Spencer...I will be so good...”

“That’s what I like to hear.” I pick up the pace and fuck my mate as though it’s the last time I will ever fuck her, and it may be the last time, but I pray to the Goddess that it’s not. I thrust one last time inside of her and release myself deep inside. I don’t knot her; I don’t want to take the chance of getting her pregnant in case I don’t make it back but if I do, I’m knocking her up as soon as possible. It’s time that we start a family now that we are whole with Ledger.

It is nice of Alpha Deke to lend let us use his jet to go after our mates, and it is even better of him to come with us because we are going to need as much help as we can get. I just hope we all make it out of there and back home to our loved ones. I know Deke no longer has a mate, but he does have a son and he has a pack to run, so it’s important that he comes back.

We are waiting for take-off when I turn to the Alpha, “Alpha Deke, will you promise me that if things get rough, you will back off and come back to the jet? I need you to make it back home to your pack and your son.”

“I appreciate your concern, Beta Spencer, but that is my family that we are going to rescue, and I will not back off when the heat gets turned up.”

I chuckle, “I imagined not, but I at least had to try.” I look over at my own Luna who is flipping through a magazine.

“Don’t even think about asking that of me, Spence.”

I sigh heavily, “It’s really hard to do my job when working with stubborn Alphas and Lunas.” I mumble under my breath, but they still hear me because they both snicker.

The flight is about seven and a half hours over to where we are going, which by the looks of the red blinking dot, is right outside of London. Once we are fully in the air, I lose contact with my mate and so does Quinn. It’s a bit harrowing not to have that line of communication open to Cici anymore. I’m so used to feeling her within me that it’s become a part of me and now it feels as though a piece of me is missing. I didn’t have that connection long enough with Ledger to feel it to this extent, and it’s very unsettling. The only thing that is keeping me grounded is my link to my Luna, thank Goddess.

Glancing over at the Alpha, he doesn't seem bothered by it one bit, "You get used to it when you fly as many times as I do." He chuckles, knowing exactly what I was going to ask.

"How often do you fly, and where do you fly to?"

He shrugs, "A few times a year, I guess. I take vacation twice a year and then I usually fly when meeting up with other packs for alliances around the country."

"You have alliances with packs all over this country?" I ask incredulously.

"Of course! You can never have too many alliances and you never know when you're going to need help in that area. I've tried getting Declan to do the same, but he thinks I'm wasting my time." The Alpha chuckles.

"I, for one, think it's a smart move on your part, Deke." Quinn states without lifting her eyes, "Declan will have to get used to it now, since we are Queen and King." She finally looks up at the Alpha and winks.

"I'm sure he will just love that." Alpha Deke states.

The quiet cabin after everyone stops talking finally lulls me to sleep in my reclining chair. My sleep is fitful, but I never wake up, not until Quinn wakes me up, "Hey sleeping beauty, we are about to land, and I thought you may want to use the restroom before we have to buckle up in case we don't have time when we land."

I sit up and look around the cabin and see that all is still quiet, "Why wouldn't we have time when we land?" I ask a bit confused.

Quinn sighs, "We are dealing with witches who may know exactly when we land. That is why we are landing in the next town, but we still can't be too sure."

I growl as I get up to use the bathroom, "I fucking hate witches!"

Quinn chuckles, "Careful, Spence, your mate is a witch, remember that."

"Yeah well, at least with him, I can use my charm, and maybe even my smoking hot body." I grumble and they both laugh.

Chapter 29

I've been thinking a lot about the Shikari, but only because my mate is one. I want to learn about his heritage, yes, but I also want to learn whether or not there is a way to stop them if they were to attack. I don't want to be useless in the fight and that's exactly what I will be when that time comes because I sure ain't going to kill anyone with my sense of fashion or my good looks!

I should have listened to my best friend all those years ago and trained alongside her. Even if I'd never be as good as her, at least I would be able to hold my own in a battle. But no, I was always too concerned with the next fashion line coming out or which guy I was going to let get into my pants. There are a lot of things that I regret but not training or saving myself for my mate are my two biggest ones.

My mind wanders back to earlier when Spencer found me in the library. Unplanned sex is always great, but it was different this time. It was almost as though he was desperate. I know him too well to know that he was worried that he wouldn't return to me, but I have complete faith in my best friend. I know Quinn would give her life to make sure he made it home to me, and even though I don't like it, that's just the way she is.

I'm just getting back to my search of the Shikari when one of the kitchen staff comes to me with the cordless phone, "Ci-ci! You need to take this right away!" The she-wolf says excitedly, and I don't understand why but I smile with excitement myself before I even know who's on the line.

Bringing the phone to my ear, I answer, "Hello, this is Beta Cici, how can I help you?"

"Mm, it's so good to hear your beautiful voice." The low and sexy voice on the other side of the line says, sending tingles down my spine.

“Ledger?” I whisper, completely shocked to be hearing his voice right now.

“The one and only. How’s my girl?” He sounds different, almost like everything is totally fine.

“I’m good, but I will be better once you’re home. How are you and the Alpha holding up?”

“I’m good for the moment, my father has no idea that I have my wolf because I’m wearing this annoying silver bracelet, so he won’t figure it out, but on a good note, I’ve got both my magic and my memory back!”

“Oh…”

“What’s the matter, baby? You sound as though you’re sad about my news.”

“You have your memory back? Does that mean that you won’t be coming back?” I can feel the sting in my eyes, but I hold the tears back.

“What are you bloody going on about? Why wouldn’t I come back, you and Spencer are my home now.” Relief floods me at hearing him say these words, “By the way, how is Spencer? I’m assuming he’s still there, please say they left him and the head warrior behind.”

“Yes! They left him behind, but he isn’t here, Ledger. Him, along with Luna Quinn and Alpha Deke are on a jet heading your way.”

“What?”

I hear panic in his voice at his question, “What’s wrong? I would have thought you would be thrilled to hear this news!”

“How do they even know where we are at?”

I chuckle, “Alpha Declan has a tracker implanted in his ass cheek.”

“Bloody hell! This isn’t good.”

“What… why?”

“My father will know when they land anywhere in England. He has wards all over the country for whenever a shifter steps foot on our soil.”

“Well, shit! I can’t contact any of them and I’m sure I can’t get her on the phone. I can call over to the Sun River pack and talk to the Beta, maybe he can get word to the pilot.”

“I don’t know if I will be able to contact you again, I’m taking a chance by doing so now. My father has a close eye on my arse at the moment. If you get a hold of them, tell them to turn back because they will not make it out of here alive! I will teleport us back to the pack tomorrow, but you must prepare for a fight because my father will follow. Gather as many allies as you can, love, and be safe.”

“Ledger!”

“Yes, love?”

“Please take care of yourself and the Alpha and get your ass back home to us!” I plead.

“I will do whatever it takes to come back to you, love.”

“Okay...bye.”

He hangs up without another word and I just stand here staring at the phone in my hand. Suddenly, I remember what he said about the wards, and I dial up Sun River’s pack house. It seems like it rings forever until finally the Beta answers.

“Oh, thank Goddess you answered! We need to stop the pilot from landing anywhere in England!”

“Huh? Who is this?” He asks in annoyance.

“Ugh, I’m sorry, it’s Cici from the Dark Moon pack. My mate just called me, and he will be teleporting himself and Alpha Declan back sometime tomorrow, but he said that his father has wards all over England, so he will know the moment they land! Ledger says that none of them will make it back home if they are captured!”

“Shit! Okay, I will try and get the news to the pilot. I won’t stop until I get through.” The Beta states and then hangs up.

Now, all I can do is wait and pray that everyone makes it back safe. After talking with Ledger and knowing he is safe for the time being, my main concern is now towards Spencer and Quinn.

Watching the clock and knowing that they are supposed to be landing at any time has my heart racing a mile a minute. It feels as though it's going to explode. All of my nails have been bitten down to nubs and I'm just about ready to start making them bleed when the phone rings.

"Hello, Beta Cici here."

"Hi, it's me," Alpha Deke's Beta's voice comes over the phone, "They were just landing when I got through, but he was going to take right back off without letting them get off the plane. Hopefully, they will make it back in the air before any of the Shikari gets to them but Cici, they are low on fuel and the pilot isn't sure that they will make it out of England before they run out."

"Damn it!" I slam my fist down on Spencer's desk, "Is the pilot keeping the line open with you?"

"I told him to keep the radio on because that's the only way to make contact. I had to hijack the airport's radio in order to talk with him."

"Okay, will you keep me informed, please?"

"Of course, Beta Cici. I will call you the moment I hear anything."

"Thank you."

As soon as I get off the phone with him, I call my brother to give him an update on everything. He's livid with Quinn at the moment after the conversation they had earlier this morning. Quinn threatened to strip him of his title had he not supplied her and Spencer with passports. He knows he's going to hear it from Declan when he gets back, and to be honest, I think Quinn overstepped her use of power by threatening him.

74 BAL

with that. She did it for her own selfish reasoning, but yet, I would do the same as what she did. We do what we need to do for our mates and there is no stopping us. I just hope that all of this wasn't for nothing and that each and every one of them come home safely, or else Goddess help us all.

Chapter 30

Quinn

“We are not getting off this plane.” Deke states just as the wheels of the jet touch down on the runway.

“What do you mean we aren’t getting off?”

“My Beta just radioed the pilot. The moment we step foot on England soil, the Shikari will know and they will come for us. Apparently, Ledger made contact with Cici and told her that she had to warn us. He also said that he has his magic back and that he will be teleporting both him and Declan back home tomorrow.”

“Why tomorrow?” Something doesn’t make sense, “If he can teleport, then what is he waiting for?”

“I’m not sure, but I think we should listen, Quinn.” Deke sounds a bit worried.

“We came all this way, knowing that we may have to fight...”

“Yeah, that was before, when we thought we would be sneaking up on them! This has turned into a suicide mission, Quinn!”

“I’m not leaving without my mate!” I state as I cross my arms.

I know I’m being stubborn but it’s almost as if I can feel him, I sit straight up, wait a minute...I try to link Declan but it’s no use. I thought for sure I’d be able to link him from here. I try linking Ledger next and to my relief, he answers.

‘Luna Quinn, you have to leave; do not get off that plane!’

‘I heard already, but I’m not leaving without my mate.’ I state once again.

'I promise that I will get us home, but you must go before my father's men find you.'

'Why are you waiting until tomorrow?'

He sighs over the link, 'My father has my mother locked away. He's promised to take me to her tomorrow. Once I know where she is at, I can grab her before bringing the three of us back to Dark Moon, but you need to be ready to fight when we get there, my Queen, because my father will follow with his army.'

'Ledger, how is Declan? He isn't answering my link.'

'He only has a link open for me, and that is so I can go down and heal him each time they visit him. I'm not going to lie to you my Queen, he is doing better than he was before I got my magic back, but he is still receiving his beatings every few hours.'

I hear Tala whimper at the same time I do, I can't just leave, Ledger.'

'Luna Quinn, if I know my father, the wards that he has up will not only alert him to your presence but it will trap you where you are until his men come for you. So, again, I beg you, do not step off that plane. Take off and don't stop unless you really have to.'

'We are going to need fuel, Ledger. I don't think we will make it out of England without fueling up.'

'Where are you located?'

'We landed in Hertfordshire. We figured your father would have some wards up around London.'

'You thought right, and you picked a great place to land because I have a friend close by in the country and he will be able to fuel you up. Just sit tight until I contact him and then I'll send you the coordinates. You will never have to get off the plane.'

'Thank you, Ledger. Please can you have my mate open his link for me before we take off again?'

'I will see what I can do, Luna.'

'Thank you.'

Trying to explain everything to the guys is stressing me. out even more. More than anything I want to say fuck this and just jump off this plane, but if Ledger is correct and I get stuck on this runway, then where is that going to get me? I'm in the middle of telling them why Ledger is waiting until tomorrow when an overwhelming sense of love crashes into me.

'Déclan...'

'Hey baby. I hear you wanted to speak to me.'

I choke a little as I let out a small cry, 'I came for you, babe. I will always come for you, but since you got yourself mixed up with witches, we can't get off the plane or else they will know, so we have to turn back.'

'Yeah, Ledger caught me up to speed, but you shouldn't have come for me, baby, it's too dangerous.' My mate says in his stern yet sexy as hell voice.

'I will come for you every time.' I say breathlessly.

'Remind me to spank that gorgeous ass of yours when I get home.'

'You can punish me all you want, as long as you come back to me.'

'I love you, Quinn. Never forget that.'

'And I love you, Declan, always and forever.'

'Now, you must go. You need to prepare that sexy ass for a war back home, I will see you soon.'

'Yeah, okay. Take care baby, and come home to me as soon as you can.'

'I will, now go.'

He breaks the link and then blocks me once again. When I look over at my Beta, I see that he's linking his own mate, so I glance at Deke. He's pretending to stare at something interesting out the window, and I have to chuckle.

“I’m done, Deke.”

“Yeah, I’m always uncomfortable when others are linking their mates.’ His tone is sad, but he gives me a smile anyway.

“I’m truly sorry for your loss, Deke. I hope that, eventually, you can find happiness with a chosen mate again.”

“Actually, I may have but I haven’t asked her yet. I know she’s partial to her own Alpha.” He gives me a sly grin.

“Oh, my goddess, I knew it! You and Demi; am I right?”

His grin gets broader, and he shrugs, “Maybe.”

“Well, I can always fire her, if that’s the hold up. I know good nannies are hard to find, but I’d do it for the two of you!” I exclaim very excitedly.

He throws his head back and laughs, “I will let you know if I need you to fire her, no worries.”

“Okay,” our conversation is cut short as my Beta comes up to us, “Ledger gave me the coordinates to get us to his friend’s place and he’s expecting us. He will be there waiting to fill her up when we get there.” He informs us.

I feel as though I’ve failed my mate. I’m so fucking close to him and yet still so far. I have to believe in him and that Ledger will get them all back safe and sound. In the meantime, there is a war that we need to prepare for, and I hope that the Goddess is on our side when that time comes, giving me the strength and the knowledge of the power that she has given me to use.

It took us no time at all to find this friend of Ledger’s and fuel back up to head home. It seems like we have been on this jet for days and yet it hasn’t even been twenty-four hours. So, the moment the wheels touch back down on home soil, I send up a prayer to the Goddess Selene, asking her to give all of us the strength to get through what’s to come.

Stepping down off the jet, I turn to Deke, “Thank you, Deke, for everything. I’m sorry it was all for nothing, though. I will transfer money to your bank for the cost of fuel.”

“You will do no such thing, Quinn. If I see money show up in my account, I’m going to withdraw it and then come over just to shove it up your ass!” He chuckles.

I give a fake gasp. “Alpha Deke! Is that any way to talk to your Queen?”

“No, but I wasn’t talking to her, I was talking to my cousin.” He gives me a bright white grin. I laugh and then hug him before getting into my car and heading back home.

“You know, this isn’t going to be an easy feat, fighting witches.” My Beta says but then chuckles, “Do you know what your little friend was doing before we left?”

I smirk, “Fucking her mate in the library.”

He curses under his breath, and I laugh, “You can’t have sex with your mate in the pack house without everyone knowing. I smelled it as soon as I came downstairs!”

“Anyway,” he growls a little annoyed, “Your best friend was researching ways on how to stop a witch. Since she can’t fight like the rest of us, Cici wanted to be helpful in some way.”

“Cici, was in the library, reading?” I ask astounded. My friend hasn’t picked up a book since freshman year, unless it’s a steamy romance novel with lots of raunchy sex in it.

“Exactly! She’s really wanting to try and help, so maybe we should think about letting her be responsible for more things around the pack, and getting her into a training class. I want to start her training first, though. You know how she will feel if we put her in the beginners class with the young ones.” He snickers.

“Oh, my Goddess, she will never go for that!” I totally agree with him.

“So, it’s agreed? As soon as all this shit with the hunters is settled, we will start her training.” He asks.

I shrug, “Unless she has an issue with it, I don’t see why not, but maybe, knowing how Cici is, I should make it mandatory for pack members to train, even if it’s just basic combat skills; they need to be able to protect themselves somehow.”

“Thanks, Quinn. Even though Cici will probably cuss you out every chance she gets, she will be grateful in the long run.”

“Yeah, I know Cici all too well, Spence.”

I pull up to the pack house where there are still lights on, which is weird since it’s the middle of the night, but then a short little blonde bursts through the front doors and down the stairs, throwing herself at her mate. All I can do is smile and be happy for them, and hope that I will be able to do just that really soon.

will

What are your thoughts peeps? Do you think the guys make it back to Dark Moon, and will the packs be able to win against the Shikari if they come?
