CHAPTER 91

Declan

I'm truly happy for both Quinn and my cousin. Asher is a handsome little pup, and I can tell that he will grow into a strong Alpha one day. I'm glad that Quinn is happy again and she now has a family of her own, even if I'm not part of it. The Goddess Selene must have a special plan for me, at least I hope she does.

I've been watching the app on my phone that has Lila's tracker on it, but it's not showing me anything I can use. Going to the store or to the next town to get her hair done will not count as her stepping out on me. I know that she is where the tracker says she is because I have a warrior on her at all times when she leaves the pack house.

I've got to be missing something here, because this is not the same Lila that has been disappearing at all times of the day since after Holden was born. She's even started doing more Luna duties such as visiting the disabled wolves, bringing them food and supplies, along with visiting the school and daycare, all jobs that the Luna does.

As I sit in my office contemplating all of it, a thought comes to me, "She better not have had the nerve to do what I'm thinking she did!" I say to myself out loud. Linking my Beta to meet me in my office, I start over by the bookshelf.

"You wanted to see me?" Carter closes the door behind him.

"Lock the door and start helping me." I order.

Carter scratches his head, "Uh, are you going to tell me what we are looking for or is it a surprise?"

'We are looking for a bug.' I link him and put my finger to my mouth, silencing him.

My big bad Beta flattens himself against the door as he looks around at the floor, 'What kind of bug is it, and how big?'

I roll my eyes, 'For the love of Goddess, not that kind of bug!' I go back to sliding my hands over the bookshelves, 'A transmitter bug. Seriously, how are you even my Beta if you are afraid of a little insect anyway?' I snicker and shake my head.

'Fuck you, Dec! You never had a childhood trauma where a bug crawled into your nose while you slept and implanted itself! Do you remember that? I had a bump on the side of my nose for a week until it decided to try and crawl out on its own!'

I do remember that incident. He was standing in front of the class reading his book report when suddenly a big worm-looking thing started coming out of his nose. Everybody freaked out and when the teacher went to grab it, it went back up his nose. He had to go to the doctor and be sedated, so the doctor could pull it out. I never realized it ended up giving him a phobia, I kind of feel bad now, as I chuckle to myself.

'Yeah, sorry. Just start looking over by the file cabinet while I finish with the bookcase.'

'Why do you think you have a bug in your office?' My Beta asks as he slides his own hand all around the cabinets and opens the drawers.

'Lila hasn't gone anywhere.'

'And that has to do with this how?'

I stop and turn, 'I think she bugged my office. I've been thinking. about it and there are too many things that have come about where she shouldn't have known but she did.'

'How far back are you thinking?'

'Well, I would guess all the way back to before Quinn's eighteenth birthday. How else would she have known about the family. birthday dinner. Then there is her accusing Quinn and I of sleeping together.'

Carter stops, 'Were you really having an affair with Quinn?'

'No! We did mess around in here, but that's it.'

'So, you're thinking that she knows about the transmitter?' He asks, 'Do you think she has taken it out or what?'

'I don't fucking know, but she has been acting really strange lately, and if she did take it out, then she's still carrying it with her for now. According to the app, she isn't sneaking off like she was doing all the time, and she's been taking up Luna duties.'

'Lila doing actual work?' He laughs.

'Tell me about it, but she is.' I state.

'Yeah, but I doubt she's...'

I glance over at my Beta when he cuts himself off. He's over by my second set of file cabinets, holding the picture frame that has a photo of me and my dad in it. I watch as he pulls off a small square black piece that was stuck to the back and holds it up.

'Bingo!' I hurry over to him and take it from his fingers, 'That bitch!' I growl.

'Just calm down, Dec, you don't know that it was her.' Carter tries talking some kind of sense to me, but it doesn't work.

'Nobody else would dare bug my office, it was her!' I close my fist around the small device, wanting nothing more than to crush it, but I want it as evidence. I meet my Beta's eyes and snarl, 'Find that bitch and throw her in the cell. She is not to have any wifi or television this time. She wants to act like a criminal, she can be treated like one!'

"Yes, Alpha." He doesn't bother linking me to respond as he walks out of my office.

I pick up a nearby chair and throw it at the wall, shattering it to pieces and putting a big hole in the drywall. I'm seething at the moment. That bitch has played me one too many times; I will not allow her to make a fool out of me any longer! Without waiting until I get outside, I shift into Duke and charge out the door. I hear my mother call out to me as I pass her in the hall, but I don't stop.

Duke runs for hours, shutting off our link to the pack as he does. I don't give a shit at the moment. I have given this pack everything, even my only chance at being happy. Lila had almost everything. she could have ever wanted, except for my love, she could never have that. Is this what it's all about...because I wouldn't be that kind of mate to her?

At this point I'm just talking to myself because Duke is too enraged to carry on a conversation with me. This is why he takes off the way he does, because he can do so much damage with his temper and when he gets like this. Duke is a very strong wolf, one of the strongest and fastest. Had he had any powers, I would swear that he was one of the last Dire wolves, but he's not. I can trace our bloodline all the way back to the beginning of time. We are just a strong bloodline, and we are meant for greater things. than what we have now, that's for sure.

After hours of running without direction, I begin to recognize my surroundings. The all too familiar trees and markers indicating that we are leaving Storm River territory and about to enter Dark Moon's has me trying to put a stop to our running.

'Duke, we can't run to her every time we need comfort. She isn't ours.'

'Tala, I need Tala!'

'We can't, Duke. Tala and Quinn belong to Mace and Gavin.'

'No! Tala is mine...I want Tala!' He's talking like a barbarian at the moment, and I don't understand what has come over him. We have talked about this, how Tala will soon mate with Mace. He wasn't happy about it, but he accepted it, or so I thought.

We pass some of Dark Moon's patrol and luckily, they recognize. me, so we don't get stopped. I don't know what I would do if Duke attacked one of Quinn's pack members because they would not survive.

Duke lifts his nose and sniffs, and suddenly he picks up speed and I think he's heading for the pack house, but then he veers slightly and picks up speed once more. Apparently, Quinn and Tala must be out for a run.

Here is an extra chapter for you! I don't normally post on Wednesdays but figured I would get a quick one in for you...enjoy!

We are almost back to the pack house when I feel Tala stir. She's about to shift, I can feel it, so I jump off Rani just in the nick of time. Tala bursts free and starts running in another direction. Trying to take control back is impossible so I yell at my wolf, continuously, trying to get her to stop or tell me what's going on. I've never seen her like this before; she's never ignored an order from me, let alone ignore me completely.

I'm in the middle of telling Tala to turn back to the Pack house when I sense him; our heartbeats syncing with one another. Declan. Just as I think his name, his wolf, Duke appears and stops right in front of us. I look behind up when I hear other paws pounding the earth, and see Rani come to a stop. She drops to the ground and shifts back into Cici.

"What the hell Tala?" My friend lectures my wolf, but then I watch. as Cici's eyes widen as she looks between Duke and Luna, "Oh, my Goddess, you two are beautiful together! You look so...regal!"

Tala and Duke rub their heads together before finally giving me and Declan control again, "Quinn, I'm sorry. I don't know what came over Duke; I had no control over him."

I chuckle, "Funny you should say that because it was the same with Tala. She's been acting strange lately and then today; she just completely disregarded every order that I gave her."

Cici throws Declan a pair of shorts and me a shirt, "That was the strangest thing that I've ever seen, that's for sure, but you should really see the two of you together when in wolf form. It's like you belong together; you match each other perfectly."

A nervous chuckle bubbles up, "Oh, Goddess Cici, you need to lay off the romance novels." I begin my trek back to the pack house, "You might as well join us for dinner since you're here." I glance back at Declan.

“Are you sure you don’t mind? I really am sorry about the intrusion.” The Alpha apologizes again.

“Oh, zip it Declan. You know that you’re always welcome here. Besides, I want to talk to you about a couple of things.”

“Alright then, lead the way, ladies.” He grins and waits for both me and Cici to lead the way back.

“So, you’re thinking Lila bugged your office way back then?” I ask as I think back to when I still lived with the Storm River pack, and I nod my head, “It makes total sense, I think you may be right.”

“But why did she feel the need to bug the place back then?” Gavin poses this question as he rocks Ash in one arm and takes a bite of his dinner with the other.

The five of us are sitting at the dining table up in the Alpha suite. I figured we would have more privacy here, so we can talk about certain things, even if it doesn’t have to do with this pack specifically. We do have Cici and Spencer with us, because as my Beta couple, they should know everything going on as well.

“I think she may have done it after I broke things off with her,” Declan explains, “She didn’t take it too well, and even accused me of having someone else already, which wasn’t true at all. She came to me a few days later and we were talking in my office, but then I got called away for a few minutes, that must have been she planted it,” He rubs his hand down his face and sighs, “When I came back, she had tears in her eyes, and I felt really bad. I tried comforting her and then things got heated and well, that was the last time I had been with her intimately and must have been when I knocked her up even though we used a condom. One that she had brought.” He growls realizing what that means.

“It sounds to me that she had a plan set in motion when she went to you that day, and you played into it, just like she knew you would.” Gavin scowls.

“Well, no shit…” Declan starts but I cut him off.

“It’s done and there isn’t anything we can do about it now. All we can do is figure out how we can get the Elders to see for themselves that they are hurting one of the strongest packs by allowing Lila to continue as the Luna. What about Langly?" I bring up the other part in all this mess, "I don't think he had any part in me getting pregnant. Did you see his face when you brought him to me when I was in labor? You used your Alpha command on him, and he still denied it. He isn't strong enough to fight your command, Declan."

The Alpha sighs again, "I know, I was thinking the same thing, but I know that I smelled him on Lila. Once I thought about the scent, I knew it was him."

"Okay, so she slept with him, but that doesn't mean he's part of it, or at least he knows that he is part of it. Lila is a manipulator; more than likely she is using him to get close enough to have access to things."

"So, what you're saying is that I probably shouldn't boot Langly out." He stares right at me, and I nod.

"I don't think he should be punished that way just because he was duped by a she-wolf, especially if it's because of what I'm thinking."

"What are you thinking, baby?" Gavin takes my hand and rubs his thumb back and forth.

"I think Lila and Langly are mates."

Declan begins to choke on his food, and Spencer, who is sitting right beside him, slaps him on the back. The Alpha takes a drink of water and then a few breaths before addressing my comment.

"You think that my Luna has a mate?"

I lift a brow, "Since when do you call her your Luna?"

He rolls his eyes, "You know what I mean. I'm an Alpha, and as much as I don't want her to be, the fact remains that she is my Luna, therefore, she belongs to me. If my Luna is sleeping with the doctor, he still needs to be punished, mates or not, it's considered treason in my eyes."

I begin to get furious with Declan, "Dr. Langly has been a good doctor to your pack, and he saved both me and my pup! He can't help the mate pull, Declan, and we both know that Lila is using that against him. I don't know why she hasn't rejected him, but I don't think he should be punished as bad as what you are obviously thinking he should be!"

Declan flinches, “I didn’t realize that you felt so strongly for the doctor.” He says snidely.

I glare at the Alpha, “That is not the reason why I’m standing up for him, and you know it! I’m tired of that bitch, who YOU brought into all of our lives, ruin another good person!” I stand up, throwing my napkin on the table as I do.

Both Gavin and Declan say my name, but ‘m too pissed to answer either of them. I hear Gavin grumble, “Thanks for putting her in a bad mood. Now I have to deal with it!”

I feel bad for Gavin, and I promise myself that I will not take it out. on him later, but right now, I can’t be around anyone. Making my way down to the second floor where my office is, I slam the door closed behind me as I pace back and forth, biting my nail.

‘Lila will go down for everything she has done. We will make sure of it.’ Tala growls, ‘She won’t get away with taking what is ours!’

I roll my eyes, ‘How many times do I have to tell you that Declan and Mace do not belong to us!’

My wolf grunts, ‘Goddess, you are so stubborn!’ She then goes back to her corner, leaving me with my own thoughts.

“Look who’s talking!” I say out loud, “You’re more stubborn than I am!” I get a scoff from my wolf, but then silence.

I go to my window and lean against it, watching the pack pups kick around a ball at the nearby park while their moms sit on benches. conversating with one another. A small smile dances across my face as I think about how they seem so carefree at the moment. I wish I could feel that way.

A knock sounds at my door and Gavin peeks his head in, “Is it safe to enter?” He gives me his drop-dead-gorgeous smile and I nod.

“Lock the door behind you.” I order as I feel my desire start to build. We haven’t had sex since Ash was born and it’s about time that we rectify that, and now is as good a time as any; it will help melt the stress away. Without saying a word, I pull my shirt up over my head and push my leggings down, stepping out of them before tossing them to the side. I’m now standing here in just my bra and panties. Placing one hand on my hip, I raise a brow, “Are you going to just stand there or are you going to get naked and come fuck me?”

CHAPTER 93

Gavin teases me as he takes his time. Giving me a shit-eating grin, he slowly grabs the hem of his shirt and pulls it up and over his head. He folds it nice and neat before placing it on the nearby table. I think that two can play this game, and I stroll over to my desk before reaching behind me to unclip my bra and pull it off. Holding it out to the side for a brief moment, I then open my fingers, letting it drop to the floor.

My soon-to-be-Alpha bites his lower lip and unbuttons his jeans as he stares deep into my eyes. I hook my thumbs into my panties, pushing them down and off. I toss them over to him and he catches them, bringing the scrap of material up to his nose and inhaling. I watch as Mace swirls in his eyes as his lust builds even higher.

Still wearing his pants, he begins to slowly walk towards me, but I’m too impatient and I need some form of stimulation, so I lean against my desk, putting one leg up on a chair and slide my hand down. My clit is sensitive and as soon as I touch my fingers to it, I almost come, but I hold back.

My actions cause the reaction that I want, and Gavin is soon on his knees in front of me, taking hold of my thighs and spreading them wide. He glances up at me for just a split second before smothering his face in my crotch. His tongue goes to town on my pussy and I’m already coming all over his face. He doesn’t stop, though. Growling, he shoves two fingers into me and fucks me hard as his mouth attacks my clit.

“Fuck, Gavin...don’t stop!” I lean back on one hand while I hold his head to my pussy with the other. I see him smile as he stares at me with my clit between his teeth, “I’m going to come...oh, Goddess!” My body begins to convulse as the strong climax washes over me. He pulls his finger from me and replaces them with his mouth, so he can lap up every drop of it.

I’m left panting and I drop to my desk, but he is far from done with me as he stands up and unzips his jeans. He pulls them down just past his hips, and his huge cock springs forward. All I want to do is get to my knees, so I can taste him, but he has other plans. Swiping the precum from the tip of his cock, he runs his finger over my lips. As soon as I run my tongue over them so I can taste him, he thrusts deeply into me.

“Oh, Goddess!” I gasp.

“All I should be hearing coming from that mouth of yours is my name. The Goddess won’t be able to help you now, nobody can...” Gavin grins and begins to fuck me like a beast.

“Fuck Gavin...yes!” I cry out as he grips my hips and hammers into me. I wrap my legs around his waist loosely, not wanting to hinder his movements in any way, “Harder baby!”

“Are you telling me how to fuck?” He pulls out and flips me around, so now I’m bent over my desk. He plunges back into me, getting in so much deeper and making me moan, “There, is that what you want, baby? Me getting in nice and deep?” He takes hold of my hair and pulls back on it, so I’m pinned. All I can do is let him have his way, and I’m perfectly fine with that.

“Yes...just like that, baby!” I pant as he fucks me deep and hard, just what I need, “Oh, I’m going to come soon; come with me.”

“I’m not wearing a condom baby, I don’t want to take the chance.” He grunts.

“Is your pullout game that weak?” I tease

He growls and fucks me even harder, sending me over the edge, “Oh fuck, fuck, fuck... YES!”

As soon as I come down from my climax, Gavin pulls out and I can feel jet after jet of cum spray all over my ass and back as he continues to jerk himself. I'm left laying across my desk while I try to catch my breath. Gavin goes to the attached bathroom and grabs a washcloth to clean his mess off me.

"We seriously need to keep condoms in every room, you know." He chuckles.

"What's the point, soon enough we won't have to worry about your knocking me up because we will be mated. I can have as many pups as I want." I wiggle my brows at him.

"Oh baby, you would carry that many pups of mine? I'll have you pregnant every chance I get." He grins mischievously.

"Okay, maybe not THAT many pups." I giggle as I go around collecting my clothing.

It's two days before mine and Gavin's union ceremony and I'm getting antsy. Not about uniting with Gavin, no, I'm so ready for that, but I want closure to the past and Tiffany is still part of that. Dr. Langly gave me the all-clear at yesterday's checkup, so now, all I need to do is talk to Declan about me coming to Storm River. There is just one little problem, I haven't talked to him since I walked out of the dinner after blowing up at him. Cici had told me that he had come looking for me afterwards, and I'm worried that he came to my office while Gavin and I were having our heated moment.

If that's the case, then it would explain why I haven't heard from him because I doubt he would still be mad at me over the little argument. I'm in deep thought about it while walking to the training field to talk to Gavin. I don't even realize that I'm already here until I hear the grunts and groans of the warriors in combat mode. Glancing up, I spot Gavin who is actually paired up with my head warrior at the moment, and it looks as though Cam is doing well against the Alpha heir, which says a lot.

I'm proud of each and every one of my warriors. They work so hard and strive to be better than what they were the day before. Cam has done well with training them, but I'm worried that it's becoming too much. My pack has grown so much over the last year; we are now over six hundred strong, and more keep coming. It's strange the way the outcasts and others flock to my pack the way they do. I am truly honored. Because my pack has grown so much, so have the warriors, and now I will need to get Cam some help.

Watching both males fight each other, the strength that they show with every move is unbelievable. The better they are in human form, the better their wolf is, and I already know how strong of a fighter Mace is. Tito, Cam's wolf, is also a strong fighter, so you can only imagine what the two of them look like as they spar on the training field.

Once Gavin senses me, he stops and fist bumps Cam before coming over to me. He's only in a pair of compression shorts and let me tell you, the sweat glistening on his skin does not do anything to deflect the desire that is starting to build within me. I bite my lower lip as my eyes rake over his massive form.

"Keep that up and I'm going to take you right here, baby!" His hand goes around my waist, and he dips his head, so he can press his lips to mine.

I pull away after a moment, "Now who is the one starting something?" I chuckle.

He shrugs, "You know better than to come out here looking sexy as hell. I have to show everyone who you belong to."

I throw my head back and laugh, "I'm pretty sure they all know."

"But it doesn't hurt to remind them." He grins.

I change the subject before we end up in some outbuilding fucking each other's brains out, "I came here to ask you about going to see Tiffany tomorrow. Will you talk to Declan for me?"

"Sure, but why don't you just call him?" He asks confused.

"Well, I haven't talked to him since that night I walked out on dinner, and I would feel weird calling him and acting like that never happened."

A slow smile begins to grow on his face, "It wouldn't happen to be about him hearing me fucking you like an animal in your office, would it?"

I gasp and slap his chest, "Sh!" I glance around, "Don't say it that way, and no, it's not about that!" It may be a little about that, but he doesn't need to know that.

"Sure, babe," he rolls his eyes, "but yes, I will call him after I shower."

“Thank you. Now, there is one more thing that I want to talk to you about.” I link my arm through his and turn him to face the training field once again, “What do you see?”

“Um, I see warriors training.”

“How many warriors would you say are out there at the moment?”

“A lot of them.” He chuckles.

“Exactly, and that’s not even all of them. What would you say if we make Cam our Gamma and then you and him can choose his head. warrior? He’s got to be overwhelmed and he definitely deserves the title.”

Gavin fixes his stare on the male and watches him for a moment before he nods, “I agree one hundred percent. Cam would make a fine Gamma.”

“Great! We should probably take care of it as soon as possible but I think you should be the one to do it, so let’s do it tomorrow, right after you become Alpha.”

“I was hoping to take you to our room right away and finish making you mine.” He slips a hand behind my neck and makes me look up at him.

“You can take me away right after that, I promise.”

“I’m going to hold you to it. Otherwise, I will mark you in front of an audience.” He gazes into my eyes trying to be so serious.

“Mm, don’t threaten me with a good time, Alpha...”

That’s all for today, come back tomorrow for more chapters. There will be a lot taking place over the next few days! =)

CHAPTER 94

Gavin

Waking up in the middle of the night to feed my son is no bother to me. As much work that Quinn does around here, it's the least I can do. I might as well enjoy it now, because once I become Alpha, I'm worried I won't have as much time to spend with Ash, so I want as much time with him as possible.

I can't believe how much he's grown in just a week. All too soon he's going to start rolling over and then crawling, and then walking, and I can't wait to watch him do all of it. I don't remember my father being a real father to me growing up, and I want to have a good relationship with my son. He will know that he is loved everyday of his life. I take pictures and videos as much as I can because again, I don't have any of that with my dad.

Speaking of videos, I want to make sure that Quinn makes a video before she meets with that she-wolf, Tiffany. I have a feeling that Quinn plans on challenging her, and even though I know that Quinn will most likely come out on top, you can never be too cocky. If something were to happen to her, I want Ash to have something of his mother. That is my stipulation in letting her go see the she-wolf later today.

It's four in the morning and I'm burping my pup as I walk around his nursery. A memory comes back to me about another time I was in here. I was in the process of pulling the handmade crib apart when I got the news that Dr. Sands had called me. I never did finish looking, and now as I study the crib, I find something odd. The headboard is extra thick, not something that a normal crib would have.

I scoured this pack house looking for Luna Stacia's safe. It wouldn't be surprising if she had built it into the handmade crib. Examining the design on the headboard a little closer, I run my free hand over the trees and the stars, and even the moon, but it's the North star that draws my attention, the one that the wolf is looking up at. Just looking at it, you don't notice anything, but run your finger over it, and you find a small keyhole. Bingo!

Finally, I think I found the Luna's secret safe. Of course, I won't try opening it, at least not now, but I still feel as though there is something important hidden away inside that we need to know about. Honestly, What's the difference in waiting another five months or knowing now? Grinning, I lay my sleeping son back down and then go back to our room to cuddle with my future Luna for a few more hours.

I wake up before Quinn does, but I know she will be getting up soon anyway, so as we spoon, I slowly bring her leg up and hook it over mine so my hand can get between her legs. My fingers glide through for folds which are already a bit slippery and then I slide two fingers into her warmth.

She moans.

I slip a third one in.

“Mm, Gavin...”

“Tell me what you want, Quinn.” My digits pump in and out of her at a leisurely pace.

“I want your cock, baby.”

“Hm, now that’s what I like to hear,” my morning wood is already dripping with precum as I lift her leg higher and place the head at Dividing into pages now her entrance. Sliding into her tight sheath, I groan at how amazing it feels, “Like that? Is that what you wanted?” I nibble her ear and then move to her neck.

“Yes Gavin...oh yes. Just like that!” Her hips move with me and all too soon we are coming together, and I didn’t even think about using a condom.

“Shit!” I curse as I empty myself inside of her.

“What is it?” She moans again.

“You’re getting my load because I forgot the condom.”

She is absolutely beautiful when we are making love or even fucking. She always has a glow to her and she’s so sensual. I’ve never seen a she-wolf that is so sexy in everything she does. It makes me want to be inside of her twenty-four-seven. She rides out my whole orgasm and then remains where she’s at while I stay inside of her. We end up falling asleep once again.

“Are you sure you want to do this? Nobody will think less of you if you change your mind, you know.” I try talking Quinn out of challenging Tiffany, but she won’t budge. She didn’t even put up a fight when I asked her to make a video just in case something goes wrong, our son will have something to remember her by.

“I’m not going to change my mind, Gavin. Will you please just believe in me? I’m going to be fine, but that she-wolf will not be coming off that training field unless she taps out, and even then, she will be lucky if I let her live after everything she had done to me.”

“I get it, babe, and I am on your side. I know you can take her. All I’m asking is if you are sure this is what you want to do. There is no coming back after taking a life, Quinn.”

“I took Jasper’s life, and I sleep better for it. One less piece of shit. in the world, and Tiffany was right up there with him.” We are in the car on our way to Storm River, so Quinn can finally deal with her past, “Do you know that she used to hold me down so Jasper could do unspeakable things to me? Another she-wolf, doing this to a pregnant woman! She’s getting off easy if you ask me; I can always let the warriors pass her around against her will, but then I’d be no better than them!”

Hearing Quinn talk like this makes me realize that she really does need this. Just her talking about doing that to another she-wolf is so unlike her. She’s so much better than that; she’s so much better than what she’s about to do, but she needs this closure.

I take her hand and bring it to my lips, brushing a kiss across her knuckles, “I love you, Quinn.”

She leans back in her seat and rolls her head to look at me and smile, “I know you do, just as much as I love you.”

We roll to a stop in front of the pack house and my cousin is already outside waiting for us. When I called him yesterday, he was quick to give us the okay to come over today. He had told me how upset he’s been at himself for upsetting Quinn that night at dinner. He was still simmering about finding the bug that he wasn’t himself. He had been scared about calling Quinn to apologize. Yeah, an Alpha scared to apologize? Well, if truth be known, Alpha’s are known to never apologize, so there’s that.

I watch as he jogs down the steps and throws open the door, pulling Quinn from her seat and crushing her to him. Mace begins to growl, but I calm him down, ‘Declan is family, Mace, and they are good friends.’

‘Try telling that to Duke! He keeps calling Tala his, and it’s pissing me off.’

'Well, she will legally be ours after tomorrow's ceremony, so just let him say what he wants. Declan will never allow him to act on it.' I say this trying to convince my wolf, but there has always been a little bit of fear that she will leave me for him, and so I won't be satisfied until she has my mark on her neck..

CHAPTER 95

I'm crushed against Declan's chest as he holds me close to him, "I am so sorry, Quinn. I was so pissed about the transmitter bug that I wasn't thinking. Of course, I will always listen to your council because what you say and think matters to me."

"Uh, okay," his words warm my heart but also make me feel uncomfortable because he is saying all this in front of the male I will be mating with tomorrow, "I'm sorry for walking out the way I did." I'm able to pull away and step closer to Gavin. It's safer over here because I can't smell the Alpha's deep woody scent that always seems to go straight to my head as much. I need to keep it together for what I'm about to do.

"No need to apologize, Quinn, and just so you know, I will come up with a justified punishment for him as soon as everything comes to light." Declan informs me, "Now, are you ready to do this?" He glances at Gavin and then back at me.

I nod, "I am more than ready. Let's do this!"

As we make our way to the cells Gavin addresses his cousin, "Did you do everything I asked to get her ready for today?"

"I did everything you asked of me, yes." Declan rolls his eyes.

I stop walking, "Tell me you didn't have him weaken her for me." I sneer.

“What? No, calm down, baby. I did the exact opposite.” Gavin grabs my hands and pulls me forward.

“It’s true,” Declan pipes in, “He ordered me to get all the wolfsbane out of her system and make sure she is fed well until the fight. He did not want her weak when she went up against you.”

I stop once more, but this time it’s to smile and then throw my arms around Gavin’s neck, “You know me too well, Gavin Asher Davis.”

“Of course, I do, otherwise I wouldn’t deserve to be calling you mine.” He presses his lips against mine briefly, “I knew you wouldn’t think it was a fair fight, and regardless of how much you want to end her, you still want it to be honorable. Am I wrong?”

I shake my head, “No, you’re not wrong.” I grin, “Have I told you lately that I love you?”

“Yep, on the way over here, but you can say it as many times as you want because I love hearing it.”

I crush my mouth against his one last time, until Declan starts clearing his throat. I giggle and pull away, causing Gavin to pout and glare at his cousin, “Cockblocker...” he says under his breath.

Declan and I burst out laughing as we continue on to the cells. By the time we get there, we are all back to normal and surprisingly, I’m not nervous at all. I can feel Tala at the surface, and I think that is why I’m so calm. My wolf has been wanting a piece of Tiffany ever since she woke up when we were still captive.

“I do have her in silver cuffs for the time being. I didn’t want her attacking anyone until we were ready for her,” Declan explains, “She’s a crazy one, let me tell you!”

“I knew she wasn’t right in her head as soon as she told me that she had plans to become Jasper’s Luna,” I snort, “Anybody wanting to be his Luna has to have a little bit of crazy in them.”

I follow Declan down the steps with Gavin beside me, the stairs creaking just as much as they did the last time I came down here, “Dude, you’ve got to fix these steps.” Gavin chuckles and shakes his head.

“One of these days...” Declan shrugs and walks only a few doors down.

Tiffany isn't behind a closed door like Jasper was. She's in a regular cell, like a regular prisoner should be. This alone makes me feel better. I smirk when I see her laying on her side on the twin size cot. At least there are no springs sticking out of it like mine, I think to myself.

“Hello Tiffany, it's a pleasure to see you again after all this time.” I watch as she turns her head, and her eyes sweep over me.

“Pfft, what do you want? Did you come just to see me suffering in here?” The she-wolf sneers.

‘Tsk tsk, that's no way to talk to the person who has the power to get you out of here.’ I say smugly, “Today is your lucky day, and you are ruining it by opening that ugly mouth of yours.”

‘Y-you're letting me go?’ Stuttering in surprise, she stands up and moves over to the bars.

‘I said you were getting out of here; I didn't say anything about letting you go.’ Smirking, I cross my arms in front of my chest,

I ‘You know, I could have you passed around between three packs. There are a lot of lonely warriors who haven't found their mates yet, but then I would be stooping to your level, so now I've got to let you off easy.’

‘You do?’ She's staring at us with her eyes as wide as saucers, ‘How are you going to do that?’

Now I really grin, “Remember that bloody nose I gave you?” I wait

Dividing into pages now for her to nod, “Well, I'm going to give you a chance to get me back.”

She jerks back, “You want us to fight?”

Nodding, “Yep, if you win, then you're free. If I win...you're dead.”

“You can't be serious!” She shrieks, “I'm not fighting you to the death!”

I get up close to the bar and snarl, “You do not have a fucking choice, just like I didn't have a choice all those times you held me down just so he could do whatever he wanted to me, or when you would watch as he raped me over and over. How about when you would spit on me? Did I have a choice then? No, so shut the fuck up and act like a wolf because we are doing this and only one of us will be standing when we are done.”

We give her some compression shorts and a sports bra to put on, so she doesn't have to fight it tattered clothing. I'm already on the training field with Gavin, Declan, and Carter when Keegan and a few other warriors bring Tiffany out. We have already told her that the place is surrounded and if she tries to run, she will be killed. right away. The she-wolf begged for her life, trying to apologize. over and over, but I have no heart left when it comes to people like Tiffany and Jasper.

I give her a few minutes to warm up herself because I'm sure her muscles are not in top form sitting in a cell for weeks on end. Gavin grabs my face and plants a big wet kiss on my mouth. He's grinning as he pulls back, "Try not to kill her right away, babe. At least give us a good show, and Tala," he calls my wolf forward, "No cheating. Let Quinn handle it until she needs you or unless Tiffany shifts herself, okay?"

"Ugh, tell him fine!" She rolls her eyes, making me chuckle.

"She said fine and then rolled her eyes."

"You're going to pay for that later, Tala!"

"She hopes she does!"

'I didn't say that!' My wolf scowls at me.

'So, you and I are the same, and I look forward to it, so deal with it!'

Moving to the center of the field, Tiffany and I circle one another. She's in a defensive pose while I'm just walking around normal, waiting for her to attack. I'm beginning to wonder if she's ever had any real training, I'll feel bad if that's the case, but it won't stop me from ending her.

She surprises me, though, when she leaps in the air and tries. kicking me. Keyword is tries because even if she does have some training, she's really slow and I'm able to deflect the kick. When she sees that it doesn't work, she comes at me head on, and my hand shoots out, grabbing her neck and slamming her down onto her back with no effort at all.

She doesn't realize who she fucked with, but she's going to be learning here, really quick. My strength has gotten so much. stronger since I last trained, and I'm not going to lie, that body slam didn't take anything. I wait for her to get up off the ground while she stares at me warily.

"I give up, I can't fight you, okay. You're stronger than I am."

"Oh, so you can pick on weaker pregnant women, but you can't fight me?" I shove her back, "You're going to fight me, bitch. You tried killing my son, now you get to see the wrath of the mother... hit me!" I wait for her to do just that, but she doesn't, "I said hit me!" I yell in her face and then shove her back, but she keeps shaking her head. I give a bitter laugh and then turn and start to walk away, "You're fucking pathetic, you and your wolf."

I knew it was coming the second I mentioned her wolf. Most wolves don't like being called out, and now that my back is turned, it was only a matter of seconds. I hear the shift just before I spin back around. Tiffany's wolf has shifted mid-jump towards me, and it only takes a split second for Tala's claw to shoot out and rip right through the she-wolf's chest. I don't stop there, though. When tossing her away, I yank her heart right out of her chest and toss it to the ground.

The field is dead silent as I look around at the few spectators that were allowed to watch. They are all standing there with their mouths hanging open in shock. I look back at the dead wolf, thinking something must look different, but nothing is unusual, really. I shrug and walk off the field.

That's it for today peeps! With everything that will be happening soon, please try not to give anything away when leaving comments. It hasn't been done as of yet, but I just wanted to put it out there. Thank you so much for reading, I appreciate you all! =)

CHAPTER 96

"What the fuck was that?" Gavin asks as both he and Declan stare at me as though I've grown two heads.

“What was what?” I’m confused as to why everybody is acting as though none of them have ever ripped the heart of another wolf out.

“What you did to Tiffany...” It’s Declan’s turn to speak up.

Placing my hands on my hips, I look back to where they are wrapping the dead she-wolf’s body up so they can take her to the border. Declan had contacted Alpha Tate this morning to have him send any kin of Tiffany’s to pick up her body. Apparently, she only had an aunt, uncle and two male cousins as family, so Alpha Tate is sending the two cousins to pick her body up at the border, so they can have their own burial for her.

“I don’t understand what the issue is. Did I do something wrong?” I ask looking back and forth between the two of them.

“You’re telling us that you have absolutely no idea what you did?” Gavin’s expression is incredulous. I shake my head as a response, “Quinn, we barely even saw you turn around, let alone see Tala’s paw shoot out!”

I laugh, “What are you saying?”

“What Gavin is saying, Quinn, is that you moved with lightning speed. I’ve never seen that happen before.” Declan grins widely, “It was truly unbelievable!”

Gavin scowls at his cousin. “Yeah, and truly irresponsible! What if the wrong person saw that happen? I don’t know how it was possible and maybe it was just a fluke, but you need to watch yourself, Quinn. Not everyone will be understanding.”

“So, I’m fast, I don’t see the issue...” I trail off as I watch Gavin’s expression turn to a concerned one. He truly looks scared about this, “Okay, I will be more careful.” I wrap my arms around his waist and hug him to me until I feel his arms come around me.

He kisses the top of my head, “I love you Quinn, and I can’t have anything happening to you, ever again.”

“I promise, Gavin, I will not let that happen again, at least not on purpose. I hadn’t realized that I did it this time. It must have just been an adrenaline rush. You know like those humans who can lift really heavy stuff when something bad happens; it has to be that.”

“Yeah, maybe you’re right.” He murmurs against my head, “How about we head home, we have a long day tomorrow.”

Gavin and I spend the rest of the day with Asher. We figure since we will be pretty busy tomorrow, and not get much time in with him, we might as well do it today. We spend our time taking a walk and just spending some quality time in the Alpha suites together. Laying on the bed and talking baby gibberish to a week-old pup doesn’t seem like much fun, but it’s amusing seeing him look around when each of us talk. He’s learning our voices and turning his head already when he hears one of us talking. He’s a very smart pup already.

When Ash starts to fuss for his feeding, I get him to latch on to one breast while Gavin hooks up the pump to the other, trying to stock up on extra for emergencies. He always loves to fondle my breast before applying the pump, making me chuckle and shake my head each time as he grins. He’s so devilishly handsome, especially when he grins, and he knows that the look he’s giving me right now is the same one that’s going to get him laid just as soon as Ash is done feeding and is sleeping.

My future mate doesn’t miss a step, and as soon as Ash is out, Gavin carefully takes him from my breast while I detach the pump. I don’t bother closing my shirt because he’s only going to open it back up anyway. At least this way he doesn’t have to rip off.

Gavin comes back into the room after taking Ash to his crib, “Are you ready to practice for tomorrow night?” He slides himself onto the bed and latches onto my breast just like his son had, except he’s not trying to get milk.

“Mm, do you think we need the practice? I thought it was already perfect.” I moan as his hand finds its way into my leggings.

“Yes, but it won’t hurt to strive for better.” He mumbles against my chest.

I laugh out loud, “Where do you come up with some of this stuff?”

“What? As an Alpha you should always be putting in that extra mile, don’t you think?” He moves to my other breast.

“Uh huh, if you say so Alpha.”

“Oh, I do! Do you want to know what else I say?”

“Hm?”

“If you don’t have these pants off in the next ten seconds, I’m going to rip them off you.”

“Rip away tiger...”

“Wrong species, sweet cheeks. Call me a pussy again and see where that gets you.” He begins to kiss down my stomach as we banter back and forth.

“Mm, is that a threat or a promise?” I bite my bottom lip as he gets to the waistline of my leggings.

“Whatever you want it to be, baby.” Having said that, he yanks at the material, tearing them down until he can get to my crotch, but he isn’t satisfied because my panties are still in the way. Making quick work, he relieves me of any clothing from the waist down, “There, much better.”

I rake my eyes over his still fully clothed form and raise a brow, “Um, you want to explain to me how we are going to rock out without your cock out?”

His shit-eating grin appears, and he quickly pulls his shirt off, before pulling his jeans off, “Have I ever told you how much I love your dirty talk? It’s so sassy and raw; it makes this guy throb like never before.” He strokes his cock as he kneels on the bed.

I crawl over to him, taking him into my mouth like a starved woman. Grabbing hold of his ass cheeks, I bob my head as fast as I can taking him in deeper and deeper. He grunts and his fingers tangle in my hair, but he doesn’t force my head, he never forces it. I can feel his cock start to swell, and I want to taste him so badly, but he pulls me off him as he pants really hard.

“Naughty girl, I didn’t say I wanted to come in your mouth. No this is reserved for that gorgeous cunt of yours.”

“Well, what are you waiting for then? I’m not getting any younger you know.” I smirk up at him as he growls and then before I know it, I’m on all fours and he’s thrusting into me.

“Better? Is this the way my Luna wants to be fucked?” His dirty words go straight to my core, and I start coming already, “Oh, that must be a yes, then.” He takes hold of the hair at my nape and pounds into me even harder.

“Fuck Gavin...yes! Deeper...”

Pushing my head into the mattress, so my ass is a bit higher, it’s just the right position that he needs to get deeper, and boy does he get deep, “Fuck...” he growls as he hammers into me from behind, “You feel so fucking good, Quinn.”

I can’t even talk right now. He is so deep and he’s hitting it so hard. that I’m doing everything I can not to cry out and let myself go. I can already tell how this is going to end. The moment he reaches. around, though, and starts rubbing my clit, I lose it all and let myself go, squirting all over, “Ohhh....ARGH!!”

“That’s what I’m talking about, fuck yes!” A few more deep thrusts and he holds himself deep inside, his release painting my insides with his seed.

We both drop down to the mattress, breathing really hard. Turning our heads, we stare at one another and start laughing and panting at the same time.

“Wow, that was amazing!” I turn my eyes back to the ceiling.

“Sex with you always is.” Gavin chuckles and then takes a few more deep breaths, “Let me know when you’re ready for round two.”

Hello peeps! I hope you enjoyed this chapter! Thank you for continuing to read Quinn’s story...hang on though because it’s going to get bumpy real soon! =)

CHAPTER 97

Gavin kept me up well into the night, only letting me out when I had to go feed Ash and then put him back to bed. It was a little after midnight when I was finally able to go to sleep. He had gotten up to tend to our pup and I fell into a deep sleep.

Now, with the sun shining bright into our window, I slowly begin to wake up. Turning to see that Gavin is still asleep, I get an evil thought. Who doesn't want to start their day with a good fuck? For some reason, I am feeling really horny. I know it's supposed to be a full moon tonight, and normally, mated she-wolves go into heat, but I'm yet to be mated, so I'm not sure what's come over me, but at this point, I don't care.

Climbing over and straddling him, his cock comes to life with just one touch of my hand and then I'm sliding myself down, impaling myself on his cock. He groans and then his eyes flutter open. A grin appears on his face, and he takes hold of my hips and thrusts up.

"What? Didn't get enough last night?" He asks cockily.

I shrug, "I woke up horny, saw you just lying there doing nothing, and decided to jump on for a ride."

He laughs, but then really starts thrusting into me until we are both moaning out our orgasms. It's not a long fuck session, but it's enough to get us through until tonight. I hop off and tap his muscular thigh, "Rise and shine big boy, you have a mate to mark today."

He sits up really fast and grins, grabbing me before I get too far and brings me back to his lap, "That's right. The next time we make love will be as Alpha and Luna, and I will finally be able to mark the love of my life."

His words bring tears to my eyes. I grab his face and gaze deep into his gorgeous green eyes, "I love you so much, Gavin Asher Davis, and I can't wait to become your Luna and to wear your mark." I bring my lips to his and kiss him passionately. It's intimate, but not sexual; it's a kiss meant to show him the extent of my love for him. He kisses me back with the same intensity and in this moment, I know that I was meant to be right here with him. I don't know how to explain it, but I know that I'm on the right path that the Goddess has set for me.

It's a flurry of excitement the closer it gets to the ceremony. Cici, Summer, Aspen, and Kimber all come to help me get ready. The ceremony is set to take place a little before sunset, and even though we've had the whole day to prepare, I feel as though we are still running behind.

I think everyone that I had sent invites out to has accepted and so it will be a full house. I don't mind crowds anymore, but I do mind wearing heels and walking down an aisle in said heels as everybody is watching when I face plant in front of everyone.

“That’s it, I change my mind, I need my flats!” I call out.

Cici gives me the stink eye, but I totally ignore it. I don’t care what anybody says, I will not fall on my face in front of one hundred guests, plus my whole pack. If I want to go barefoot, I damn well will!

I smile gratefully at Aspen who comes running with my gold pair of sandals. My dress is emerald green and is a gauzy material in an empress cut or something. Cici knows all the fashion terms, but I loved the color and the way it flows. I wanted simple, and that’s what it is, and it’s off-the-shoulder, so it shows off the diamond teardrop necklace that Gavin surprised me with this morning. He had it made to match my mother’s teardrop earrings that now dangle from my lobes as well.

Cici has swept back the front of my hair with wisps hanging down. and has the back flowing all the way down in waves. My makeup is a natural look with just a hint of green and gold in the eyeshadow. Looking in the mirror, I resemble my mother and I begin to tear up.

“No, no, no, no, no, no, no...Cici will kill you if you mess up her masterpiece!” Kimber giggles as she dabs at my eyes with a tissue.

“Thank you, Kimber. It means so much to me that you and Aspen came to help me on this important day.” I give her a tight hug.

“Of course, we would. You took us in when we needed somewhere to go. This is the least that we could do, and we wanted to be here for you because you have come to mean so much to us.”

“Okay, I’m going to blame you this time if Cici gets mad!” I swipe the tissues from her hand and dab at my eyes once again.

“I found someone lurking in the hallway.” Summer calls out.

I spin around and see Declan standing awkwardly by the door, “Hey, Declan. Do you need something?”

“Well,” he scratches the back of his head, indicating that he’s nervous about something, so I wait patiently for him to spit it out, “I thought that since your father or brother aren’t here to escort you to your waiting Alpha, that maybe I could step in for them.”

I hold up one finger and then turn around, bringing the tissues to the corners of my eyes where I feel the sting. Once I have it under control, I turn back around, “I would be honored to have you escort me, Declan, and I know my father and brother would be happy as well.”

“Okay, I will wait for you downstairs then. You have about five minutes.” He smiles warmly and then turns to leave but stops halfway and turns back, “You look beautiful, by the way.”

“Thank you.”

I see a sadness pass over his face but then it’s gone, and his smile is back in its place before he turns and walks out. I push his reaction aside and then have Cici touch up my makeup before I head downstairs myself.

The evening is warm as I step outside with my arm hooked through Declan’s. I know it’s taking a lot for him to be doing this and I wonder if Amelia had anything to do with him offering himself as escort. I’m hoping Gavin doesn’t get upset over it but the moment I see him up on the makeshift stage, my worries dissolve.

His smile lights my way to him, it’s like a beacon in the night. I smile back as I keep my eyes only on him, and by the time I get to the stage and Declan is passing me off to his cousin, I feel a calmness that I’ve never felt before.

One of the Elders, who is performing the ceremony, smiles at me and nods his head in respect, as I do the same. Because I am passing my title to Gavin, we need to first get that out of the way before we can proceed making me his Luna.

Tala is pacing back and forth, not happy to be going through with the union, but yet, she wouldn’t want to give Mace up to anybody else either.

I try to ignore her pacing as we finish up with the ceremony. As the Elder says the final words, bonding Gavin and I together, I feel the tether snap into place, and I smile up at my new mate.

“I love you, my Alpha.”

He returns the smile, “And I love you, my Luna.” He then crashes his lips against mine and cheers go up all around.

We pull away from each other and normally we would descend the steps and head to the reception area, but instead, we grab everyone’s attention, and Gavin takes the mic.

“Before we move on to the partying,” everyone chuckles, “Luna Quinn and I would like our head warrior, Cam, to come up here.” We both glance around, “Where are you Cam?” He finally makes his way out to the aisle looking totally confused. Once he’s up on stage Gavin places his hand on Cam’s shoulder and turns him, so he’s facing the guests as well, “Luna Quinn and I have discussed this, and actually it was her idea, but we decided that since the Dark Moon pack has grown, as well as the number of warriors, we feel that you may need a little bit of help.

We think you need your own head warrior, but there is a problem. there, though, isn’t there? You ARE the head warrior. So, in order for you to have a head warrior, you have to give up your title.”

I swear Gavin loves to put on a show. I try not to giggle in amusement, but it’s getting harder and harder, especially seeing the look on Cam’s face when he was just told that he needed to give up his title.

“Thank you, Alpha Gavin, but I think I’m good. I don’t need a head warrior.” Cam tries his hardest to keep his title, not knowing what Gavin is going on about.

I slap Gavin playfully in the chest, “Will you get on with it already?”

Gavin grabs his chest area like I hurt him, as a guest calls out, “Get used to those slaps Alpha Gavin, because they only get worse.” The male chuckles, and we see that it’s Alpha Carson from the Blood Moon pack. His Luna who is sitting beside him slaps him upside the head for his comment, “See!”

The crowd chuckles as they witness the assault, but that’s what gets Gavin to continue, “Anyway, what I am trying to say is that your can no longer be head warrior because you will now have the title of Gamma of the Dark Moon pack.”

Cam's eyes light up as he looks between both me and Gavin, "Are you serious right now?"

I laugh and nod, "Yes, you will be my personal guard and will lead all the warriors. You will choose a replacement for the head warrior title."

"Thank you, so much Alpha Gavin, Luna Quinn!"

"Don't thank me, it's your Luna who saw your potential first and came to me with the idea. So, my first order of business as Alpha is swearing you in as Gamma."

Cam kneels in front of Gavin right away. Once the words are said and the cutting of the palms is over, and then the drinking from the cup, Cam becomes the Gamma and my personal guard. It's such a happy day all around, and I can't wait until the end of it, so I can finally wear my mate's mark.

There you have it, Quinn and Gavin are official, but please, Team Declan, don't hate on the writer. Come back on Sunday for a special chapter...

CHAPTER 98

Gavin

The ceremony went off without a hitch, and I finally have my Luna by my side. The only thing that will make this night perfect is when I'm finally able to mark my Luna. Mace is getting antsy, though, and I wonder if I can pull her away for a little bit. Deke brought Demi and my brother Ayden and so Quinn has been talking with her for the past ten minutes as she stands beside me.

As soon as she takes a breather, I excuse us for a moment and pull her along with me as I make a beeline for the pack house. Once we are inside, I find the first empty room with a lock on the door, and I pull her inside. Locking the door behind us, I slam her against the door and crash my mouth against hers as I drag her dress up her legs and shove my hand between her thighs. When I slide her panties over, I find that she's already wet and I growl.

"I need inside of you now," with my other hand, I release my cock and then grab her leg, opening her up to take me. As soon as I thrust inside of her, I lift her up and begin pounding inside of her relentlessly, "Sorry baby, I will take it slower later, but I can't right now."

"Don't you dare slow down!"

Goddess, I fucking love her!

"I'm going to mark you, Quinn, are you ready for it?"

"Goddess... yes! Make me yours in every way, Gavin... please!" She turns her head, giving me access to her slender neck.

I lick the tender spot where my mark will go, the same spot that once held the Desert Sand pack brand until she cut it off. My canines then descend, scraping against the sweet spot before sinking in nice and deep, finally making her mine. Her blood is the sweetest that I've ever tasted, making me want to never stop. My bite causes her to climax, and she cries out my name over and over again until it subsides and then I pull my mouth away reluctantly. I continue to slam into her as I move in closer, so she can mark me, but she doesn't need my help as she grabs my head. and positions it just right for her and then I feel it, her canines. sinking into me so deep. My eyes roll back into my head as my own climax takes over me and I'm coming like a geyser.

We are both left panting and smiling at each other, so happy that we now wear each other's mark. Come morning we will be able to make out what the marks looks like. Pressing my forehead against hers, I gaze into her beautiful eyes.

"I want you to know that I will never stop loving you Quinn, and I will always be faithful. You are the only woman that I will ever want and the only one who will ever have my pups."

"I better be," she says, "Otherwise, I will cut your balls off and feed them to you." She smirks as I flinch, remembering the last time she did that to someone, "But I love you too, Gavin. You and Mace now belong to me, as Tala and I now belong to you, always."

I kiss her one last time and then release her so she can go find a bathroom to clean up in and then meet me back outside. When I get outside, I find my mother who has a sleeping Ash in her arms. She's been on cloud nine since he was born, stopping by every other day to spend some time with him. My father hasn't even called to ask about him, not that I would tell him anything anyway.

I see Quinn come back outside but then she is stopped by Dr. Sands, who happened to get here about an hour before the ceremony started. The doctor passes Quinn a piece of paper and she sticks it in her bra, making me smile. Ash begins to fuss, causing me to turn my attention to him and my mother is making a face.

"I think your son needs changing, dear."

I chuckle and then take him from her, "I'll go change him and then lay him in his crib."

It doesn't take me long to change Ash's diaper and put him to bed, but as I stand here, I think about the secret safe. I think I know what secret Luna Stacia has been hiding in the safe, but I want to be sure. I hope I'm wrong, but my instincts usually are dead on. Little by little I've seen it emerging and yesterday's little stunt almost confirms it, but again, I could be wrong. I quickly go to Quinn's office, which is now mine, I guess, and open the safe. I rummage through it until I find the key and then go back to the nursery.

Making sure nobody is around, I stick the key into the north star and sure enough, it turns. It's like a jack in the box, only it's an actual box that pops up out of the headboard. I pick it up and carry it to a nearby table. Using the key once more, I unlock the box and open it. It looks like a bunch of documents and some pictures. When I look closer, I notice that the pictures are generational pictures, not just of people, but of wolves, huge wolves. I notice the most recent one in their human form has Luna Stacia in it, but it must have been taken before she mated with Alpha Lincoln. The recent picture of the wolves only has two huge wolves in it, and I can only assume that it's Stacia's family, if my assumptions are correct.

Moving the pictures aside, I start reading some of the documents within the box and as I read more and more, I become more shocked, even though I shouldn't be. I knew there was something Dividing into pages now different about her, but it wasn't until I marked her and tasted her sweet blood that I remember hearing a story years ago, and I started putting two and two together. If what these papers say is true, then Quinn is in danger. Not only is she in danger, but my son is now part of her bloodline as well. Nobody can ever find out about this.

Putting everything back into the box, I secure it back into the safe and head back to the office to return the key. I'm just closing the safe when Quinn links me. At first it surprises me because I'm not used to hearing her in my head, but her voice is frantic and so I push every other thought aside.

'Gavin, your father is here and is demanding to take Ayden home with him! Please hurry, I don't know if I can hold him off!'

'Where is Declan and Deke?' I ask anxiously.

'I'm not sure...'

I rush outside, 'Where are you?'

'I'm by the park near the house.'

I hurry down the stairs and out the front door. Running around the corner, to the side that faces the park, my heart stops in my chest. Quinn is there, holding my brother in her arms, as my father is trying to take him from her. I see Declan not too far away from me. and call out for him to follow me. I feel as though my legs aren't moving fast enough, but I zone in on the two of them struggling. Quinn is able to rip herself away, but my father isn't having it.

"QUINN! FATHER, NO!!"

I watch in horror as he brings his arm back, turning it into his wolf's claw. I jump just in time to save Quinn and my baby brother as my father's claw slams into my own back and out through my chest.

CHAPTER 99

It all happens so quick that I'm a bit dazed. Alpha Daniel was just trying to pull Ayden from my arms, and I was able to break free of him but then I hear Gavin calling out my name. Next thing I know, he's here in front of me, standing between me and his father, but his face has a look of surprise as he stares right at me.

It feels like time is standing still as I glance behind him and notice. Alpha Daniel is wearing a look of shock as he stares at his son's back. That's when I smell the blood, and at the same time, I hear Declan cry out for Gavin. Glancing down I see blood dripping from a hand that is protruding from Gavin's chest and that's when it all comes crashing down on me.

"GAVIN!!!"

I feel someone pulling Ayden from my arms and hear Alpha Deke's voice, "I'll take him, Luna."

"No, no, no, no, no... you stay with me, baby!" I cry out as soon as I'm able to form words.

"Don't you dare fucking move, Daniel!" I hear Declan command Gavin's father, not letting him pull his arm back through.

"DOCTOR!" I call out and both Dr. Sands and Langly come running over.

"Oh fuck!" The first words out of Langly's mouth.

"DON'T JUST STAND THERE! HELP HIM!" I use my own aura to get them moving faster.

"Quinn, baby, s-stop." Gavin drops to his knees, taking his father with him, "I'm not going to m-make it, so you n-need to listen..."

"No! You're going to be fine, Gavin Mace will heal you." I nod my head, trying to make myself believe it.

"No, Baby...I'm not...."

"Why, Gavin? Why did you do it?" Tears begin streaming down my face.

"B-Because I l-love you. I w-would do it again in a h-heartbeat." He coughs and blood sprays out of his mouth.

“Son, I’m so sorry! I never meant for this to happen!” Alpha Dainel states from behind him.

“Shut the fuck up!” I roar at the Alpha, “I will deal with you later!” All I want to do is tear Daniel to shreds, but he’s keeping my mate alive. My mate! Mates can help heal their mate! “Gavin, you need to drink my blood, so you can heal!” I tear open my wrist and push it against his mouth, but he refuses to drink. Instead, he turns his head to the side.

“Quinn, M-Mace is already g-gone.”

Fresh tears pour out at hearing this; I never got to say goodbye. No wonder Tala is going ballistic, wanting to break free and destroy everything. I hear Gavin call Declan closer and whisper something into his ear. Declan jerks back and stares shockingly at his dying cousin. It’s not long, though, before he shakes off whatever it was that shocked him, and nods at Gavin.

“I will, cousin. I promise I will take care of them both.” Both Declan and I are covered in Gavin’s blood as we hold him.

Gavin turns back to me, “M-make s-sure you t-tell A-Ash all a-about Dividing into pages now his d-daddy, and that I I-loved h-him f-fiercely.”

“I will, I will tell him every day of his life, baby.” I bawl even harder knowing that my son is never going to see his daddy again.

“I H-love you, Q-Quinn. P-Please be h-happy and k-know that I w-will a-always be w-with y-you.” He’s gasping for breath as he tells me this and my heart is breaking all over again.

“I love you, too, Gavin, and I want you to know that I am so glad that we had all this time together. You will always be my happy place and I will always love you...until my last breath.”

He tries giving me his smile that I love so much but I watch as the light goes out in his beautiful green eyes, and I hear his heart stop. I lean down and kiss his still lips, not caring if there is blood on them. It’s the last kiss that I will ever share with my Alpha. That’s when I feel it...our bond breaking as the last of his life force leaves him and I grab my chest as the pain rips through it. Wails and howls from our pack are heard as each one feels the bond of their Alpha break.

“MY BABY! WHAT DID YOU DO TO MY BABY!!! Sara pounds on Daniel with her fists; she is hysterical and looks like a madwoman. Then, her claws come out, “Burn in hell, Daniel Davis!” The mourning mother roars as she slams her own claws into her mate’s chest and rips out his heart.

She buckles over in pain as her mate’s life ends, but then, as if she didn’t just tear out her mate’s heart, she places a gentle kiss on Gavin’s forehead and simply walks away, blood dripping from the heart she still carries in her hand.

The days following Gavin’s death are all a blur. We had his service the following morning with the burning of his body following right after. Neither his mother nor I have spoken a word to anybody. Sara has been spending the last few days here, wanting to be near Ash and I let her. He needed it because I haven’t been able to spend time with him. Cici brings him in so I can feed him and then leaves with him once more while I hide under my covers.

I know I need to get myself together, but whenever I try, I break down again and end up back in my bed. It smells of Gavin still and that’s all I want, is to be able to still scent him; it helps me get through each day. All of his clothes are still hanging up as well, and I’ve already threatened all the staff that if anybody touches one article of his clothing, I will turn them rogue. It’s not like me, but that’s my state of mind now.

Decian has tried getting in to see me, but I refuse to see anyone but my son, and of course Cici when she brings him, but she knows better than to try talking to me. I notice Gavin’s cell phone on top of his dresser, and I jump out of bed and grab it. Going back to my little hideaway, I try turning his phone on but it’s dead.

Finding his charger still over by his side of the bed, I sit on the floor and plug his phone in. I have to sit here for a bit until there is enough charge to turn it on, but then I go straight to his photo gallery. I never knew how many pictures he captured, but I see now that he was always snapping them of me and Ash and even the two of us when I wasn’t looking or when I was sleeping. Yeah, it’s a little creepy, and I’m so glad he did it.

Next are the videos he took, mainly for Ash, but there is one that is titled ‘For Quinn’. Settling back against the bed, I press play.

‘Hey my gorgeous Luna! At least I hope you’re my Luna. I was making a video for our son and thought I would make one for you too!’

I begin to cry hearing his voice as he talks to me. That sparkle in his eye is there and his gorgeous smile is back in place.

'I just want to tell you how much you mean to me, Quinn. You are my world, and I can't imagine living in this world without you by my side. I am so glad that I waited for you, because even though there have been a few bad times, I wouldn't have traded any of it if it meant that I wouldn't have you. Thank you for taking a chance on me and thank you for bearing me an amazing son. Always remember that you are my sun, my moon, and the air that I breathe. Without you, I would be nothing, so thank you for loving me, Quinn. If there ever comes a day that I can't be here for you, I hope you continue being the amazing woman that you are. You are strong, and you have gotten through so much, so I want you to live...LIVE Quinn. Do it for me, but most of all, do it for our son. Show him how amazing life can be and he will grow up to do great things.

Uh oh, I hear you coming, I better go... mwah,' he blows the camera a kiss, 'I love you, Luna Quinn Night Davis!'

The video stops and I rewind it just a little and then pause it, so I can stare at the smile that made me fall in love with him over and over again.

It took me quite a long time to get this written. I'm very emotional when it comes to my characters, and I let myself fall in love with

| Gavin, so lots of tears were shed on my end. I'm sorry Team Gavin, but Alpha Gavin Asher Davis has signed off... =(

CHAPTER 100

Declan

I'm at a loss as to what I can do to get through to Quinn. She won't even see me, and all I want is to be there for her. How can I fulfill my promise to my cousin if she won't let me in. She has been through so much in her short life, and if what Gavin told me before. he passed away is true, then she has a fight ahead of her. I know Quinn is strong, but I think this could be the one thing that can. break her, so we need to get her out of her room and back to doing what she does best, leading her pack and being Asher's mother.

When Gavin told me about his findings, everything started to make sense. I can only assume that Luna Stacia kept this secret from Quinn because it is too dangerous if it were to get into the wrong hands. It definitely explains why she never found her mate. From my knowledge of the Dire wolf, they don't find their mates until the age of twenty, and that is why Quinn's mom left the letter for her to read the day before she turns twenty. It is also when she will come into whatever powers she may have. I am now quite certain that Quinn is my fated mate. The bond that we have had over the years. and then the syncing of our heartbeats; the attraction between us, and I can't forget how Duke is whenever he is around Tala.

'It's about time you figured it out. I thought you are supposed to be one of the greatest Alphas. Pfft,' Duke muses, 'You're as dumb as a sock of rocks!'

'Seriously, Duke. How was I supposed to know, when none of the signs are really there? The Dire wolf is supposed to be a legend.'

'All legends start with some form of truth, Declan... remember that.'

'Well, if it is true, and we are mates, we won't know for another five months yet, and we can't tell her, so all we can do is keep her safe as much as we can.'

'I'm already planning on doing just that, and by the way, Quinn will turn twenty-years-old in four months, twenty-eight days, nine. hours, forty-six minutes, and seventeen seconds.' Duke states smugly.

I roll my eyes, 'Nobody like a showoff, Duke.'

'Not showing off, just stating facts.' He gives me a wolfish chuckle.

There's a knock at my office door and my mother pops her head in. She's been taking Gavin's death hard as well; she's always loved him like a son, "Declan, are you going to try and see Quinn today?"

I sigh heavily, "I plan on trying." I've tried seeing her every day since Gavin's funeral, but she has refused to see me, or anyone else for that matter.

“Good. I’m hoping Sara will be there, so we can check on her as well. She hasn’t been answering my calls and that good-for-nothing Beta can’t tell me anything.”

“Of course, Mom. Plan on leaving in about an hour, I’m just waiting for Holden to get up from his nap, so I can take him with us.” I’m hoping that seeing him will help to snap Quinn out of the state she is in.

“Very well, I’ll be ready.” She shuts my door, but it opens once again with my Beta’s presence.

“Uh, one of the Elders are here.” He states.

I look at him confused, “I never received word that they were coming.”

“That’s because they have been trying to contact Lila. The Elder that performed the ceremony at Quinn and Gavin’s union was concerned because your Luna was not at your side.”

“Un-fucking-believable! My cousin dies and all they are concerned about is a Luna not being at my side?”

Carter holds his hands up in the air, “Hey, don’t shoot the messenger!”

I wave it off, “Yeah, I know, I’m sorry. I’ve just got a lot on my mind.” I trust my Beta with my life and with any secret that is mine, but I can’t tell him about Quinn’s; that is her secret to tell.

Trying to get the Elder to leave without talking to Lila was a chore, but eventually he leaves, and I’m able to collect my son and mother, and head over to the Dark Moon pack house.

There’s a buzz all around as soon as we enter the territory, and border patrol seems to be in a very good mood. I can’t fathom what would be the cause of such joy when their Alpha just passed away almost a week ago. Even as we drive through town, everyone seems to be smiling. It’s not until we pull up to the pack house and see Cam, the new Gamma coming down the front steps that I ask why everyone is in a good mood.

“She’s back!” The Gamma grins.

“Who’s back?” I scratch my head, still not following.

“Alpha Quinn... or Luna Quinn, I mean. She came out of her room this morning barking orders and taking care of the pack’s finances. She was even playing with young Ash before he went down for his nap.”

Cam shrugs, “I don’t see why not. I don’t know what happened to get her motivated again, but I’m glad she’s back.”

“Hm, I guess I will go see if she’s willing to see me yet. I brought Holden, hoping it would bring her out of her grieving state for a while, but it seems that I didn’t need to do that.”

“Oh, I’m sure she will love to see him regardless,” the Gamma grins, “She’s in her office.”

“Could you tell me if Sara is here today?” My mother asks Cam.

I believe she is in the nursery, sitting with young Ash. She tends to do that when he sleeps.” Sympathy crosses his features.

“Thank you, Gamma.” My mother heads straight into the pack house, leaving me to tend to my son. I know she is worried for Sara. She thinks that Sara may believe that my mother will be upset because Daniel was her brother, but that couldn’t be further from the truth.

My mother is sad that she lost her brother, but in truth, she lost him many years ago, and she wasn’t blind to the things that my uncle had done. She wants to make sure that my aunt Sara knows this and knows that we are still her family.

After taking Holden out of the car, I carry him into the pack house and straight to the second floor. Even though he just woke up from his nap at home, my son is sound asleep at the moment due to the car ride over. I tap on the office door and wait until I hear her voice.

“Come in, Declan.” I jerk back, trying to figure out how she knows it is me, but then I feel it; it’s our heartbeats syncing to each other’s. I smile and walk in.

“No, it just took me by surprise that you knew it was me.” I inform her. She’s yet to look up from the desk, “Quinn.”

“Hm?”

“Will you look at me.”

She sets her pen down and slowly brings her head up until her eyes are staring right at mine. She looks like she’s on the brink of breaking down, so instead of asking her how she’s doing, I hold up my son’s carrier.

“I come bearing a young Alpha.” I smile, and my words do it; she smiles back at me and then stands up and comes around the desk.

“My word, look how big he’s getting!” Her hands go to her mouth in shock, “It hasn’t been that long since I’ve seen him, has it?”

I laugh, “No, but he did hit a growth spurt over the last two weeks.”

“I would say!” She says but then a frown comes over her face. momentarily and then it’s gone again.

“Is Ash still down for his nap? I would love for Holden to meet him.”

She looks at the time, “He should be up by now.” I watch as she links somebody, “Cici is going to have him brought down.” She smiles.

I set Holden’s carrier down on the floor and know that what I’m about to do could get me kicked out, but it’s something that I need to do, and I think it’s something that she needs. She isn’t expecting me to pull her into my arms and hug her tightly. She struggles for only a moment and then I feel her arms wrap around my waist.

What could possibly have put a frown on Quinn's face?
