

Carrying the Alpha's Heir Chapter 4 –

Chapter 4: Wild and Fear

My eyes were falling as he kisses me deeply. Until now, I get lost whenever he kisses me like this.

I smirked inside my head and blushed at the same time. Vigor's hand traveled from the hem to the buttons of my uniform. His hands slightly touched my belly, and I can feel the electrifying art running through my veins at the very moment.

"Vigor..." I called his name for a warning, but I guess it sounded the opposite.

We are inside the car for pete's sake.

His kisses grew wilder, he went down and kissed my neck, and I am already panting hard. I don't even know how to stop him at this moment now.

His hands on the buttons of my uniform were naughty, he's caressing my stomach.

"Love!" I said a bit loud that made him finally snap into reality.

"Let's make love," He whispered that made me drop my jaw in shock.

I let out a silly chuckle, "What?" I asked in humor.

But he's looking serious, I stopped and looked away.

"We already talked about that." I just said.

I know how his touch affects me, and he knows I can give in anytime he wants, but he also knows that I am trying to prevent that from happening too. I don't want to fall in lust and regret in the end.

He went silent for a while, and somehow it made me guilty.

The silence in between us made me realize something, why does that after all these years nothing happened to us? How can I endure him from all of the temptations that he was giving me?

I gulped and blinked. Well, I have fears too. Fear that maybe he only wanted to take that from me and leave.

I know it sounds silly, but I just couldn't help it though. I couldn't help thinking about many possibilities and that's the worst.

“Alright, lets go somewhere.” He then gave up.

I tilted my head to see his facial reaction and he is normally wearing his blank face.

THIRD PERSON'S POV

EARLIER...

After he made up his mind, he run over Saint Lawrence to talk to Leo about many possibilities. The Vista clan served his family over centuries and because of war between other creatures years ago, the generation of the likes of them is getting close to extinction.

Werewolves, Vampires, Elves and Sylrians were 4 creatures who have been conquering territories of the world under the knowledge of every human species. Werewolves and Elves were never in good terms ever since a thousand years ago and the vampires are far north and never had any encounters with the werewolves. And for the Sylrians, they were said to be the direct descendants of the gods but non have ever met them.

Because of the war that happened centuries ago by their elders, the number of them are countable- and worse, he's the only living pure blooded werewolf alive.

The order of multiplying among them isn't about their blood being contagious because Vigor's parents have already tried that. The reason why the Vista clan have the seed and its only found out in todays generation that there should be a blood of an offspring of a half-blooded werewolf involved.

“I bet no one will ever agree of having sex with a werewolf.” Leo said the moment Vigor arrived in his clinic.

He looked at him darkly and the wind outside blew wildly.

“You don't want to hurt Pyress then find someone else.” Leo added.

Because of that, Vigor couldn't help himself to kick the table in front of him and it was blown so hard on the other room, creating some serious damage inside the clinic.

Leo groaned and let out a loud chuckle. “Why are you here?” Leo asked.

“It will be tomorrow night.” He said the phrase and Vigor knows that the man in front of him already knows what he's talking about.

There's silence in between them now, Leo is aware how crucial the night will be. They couldn't even tell Pyress what will about to happen because that would probably scare her away.

"You have to be careful. I don't know what might happen, but we will be on guard." Leo said.

Vigor closed his eyes tightly and sighed.

He clenched his jaws. "I can't forgive myself." He said and left the clinic.

Time flew fast that right now he's with the woman she's ever thinking since yesterday. And every minute that counts scares him to death.

After arriving at an isolated park, they sat and stared to the empty playground. Well, these days kids doesn't go out since Winter Breeze is colder than last year.

"So what did you do at Saint Lawrence?" Pyress asked her boyfriend who's weary.

"Just talked to Leo." Vigor only said and looked away.

"I was planning to have a bonfire alone with Miho later. It would be nice since winter is coming." Pyress said with her usual energetic voice.

Vigor gulped and stayed staring to nowhere. Inside his head, he's cursing, because what he heard would only give him advantage.

Pyress can see how Vigor is being awkward today so she slides closer to him, their thigh touched.

"Are you okay?" She asked gently and kissed his cheeks.

Vigor clenched his jaws and took a deep breath.

He grabbed Pyress' collar and kissed him deeply, he didn't even stop himself from touching her boobs even though she is slightly reacting against it.

His hands traveled down her inner thighs and caressed it, the moment his hand reached the cloth who's the only thing stopping him from reaching it fully, he effortlessly put it aside and touched her folds.

"Damn, love!" Pyress moaned loudly as she is feeling something foreign building in between her thighs.

"Love what- ah!" She moaned again but this time she closed her eyes and let him enter a finger inside her.

She lost it. She lost her sanity.

In the other hand, Vigor is only doing this to make her easier to take tonight. Taking her raw and unfamiliar would be so hard and ruthless. She will suffer even more.

He's going to make her taste the building sensation but leave her hanging so she would want for more.

Vigor moved his fingers faster and faster. She he felt it coming and Pyress' thighs tightened, he pulled out.

"LOVE! WHAT.." He didn't make her finish and immediately claimed her mouth for a kiss.

Because tonight, it would be different, their relationship is now going to face the crucial part.
