

The Alpha's Obsession with his Ex-Contract Luna Chapter 23

Chapter 23

Sheila's brows raised as she dared him to refuse. As Alpha Nick looked at her, she was so different from the woman who had stayed the night waiting for him to return.

one.

She might be Alpha Nick's mate, but Sheila made her look like the mistress. Beatrice was burning with rage but could do nothing. Everything lay on Alpha Nick at the moment.

"Sheila has it come to this?" His expression was unreadable, and no one could guess what he was thinking. Charlotte didn't want Sheila to win, so in her pitiful stance, she reminded him,

"My kidnappers used a cab: I've been scared of cabs since then, Please take me home."

She leaned against his strong chest, allowing her fake tears to soak his shirt. Strangely, Alpha Nick pulled away. He was helpless and was flung with the discomfort he always felt with Charlotte close to him ever since her return.

He tried to nurture the love he had for her but strangely got repulsed by something he couldn't put a finger on. After enduring it for a while, he couldn't do so anymore.

Pain flashed through Charlotte's eyes, but she hid it well. With all these people around, she couldn't let Sheila win. When Alpha Nick unlocked his phone, he was surprised to see her missed calls.

"You called?"

Charlotte was happy to be redeemed in front of the same people. "Yes, I was worried when you left with her, and I thought something terrible had happened when you didn't answer my calls," her voice was so teary, Alpha Nick felt guilty.

"Sorry, I didn't see the caller ID. You know I can never ignore your call." He always reserved his soft side for her, indicating the love he felt for her for as long as there was a gap between them.

Since Charlotte was standing beside Alpha Nick, he didn't see the tongue she wagged at Sheila, giving her the victory warning.

"Nick, shouldn't we leave already?" She tugged on his sleeve, but this time, Alpha Nick didn't pull away. They were going to be mated soon, so he had to find a way to fight the repulsion he felt with her closeness.

When Alpha Nick was about to leave, Sheila blocked the car door and leaned against it. If this was the last thing she was going to do before the divorce, she was certain to succeed at it.

"Sheila..." Alpha Nick spoke in a helpless tone. Sheila smiled, hiding the pain. She didn't mean anything to him, but neither did she deserve this embarrassment. Alpha Nick started it, so how could he make her feel like the mistress? "Since she took the decision for you, I hope you don't stop me again."

Alpha Nick's brows furrowed, and no one could tell if he was upset or confused until Sheila moved away from the car and held beta Gustav's hand.

His heart jumped with life, and he tightened his hold around her. Seeing Sheila looking so sexy in a way he never saw her, her hand intertwined with that of another man, Alpha Nick was boiling with rage.

"What do you think you are doing?" Anger and discomfort laced his tone. Sheila casually responded, wWw.m6@ls\(n\)o\(m\)è.como(m)è.com)

"You take her home, he takes me home. It's just fair that I should equally enjoy the freedom you are enjoying, right?"

Sheila's smile was so flawless that no one could see the pain hidden underneath it. Gustav was already walking to his car when Alpha Nick blocked their path. Without a word, he swiped through his phone until he reached.

Beta Dustin's number.

"Dustin, come and take Charlotte home."

Hearing this, Sheila decided to make it even more difficult for him and interrupted, "And I forgot to add that if she sleeps in the packhouse tonight, I will drive to his house and spend the night too."

Charlotte's eyes were red, but neither could she take it anymore. Indirectly, Sheila was taking her out of the packhouse, and she couldn't take it accept it. Now she was certain that Sheila needed to be completely eliminated to stop causing her trouble.

"Isn't it enough, Sheila? You are just jealous that he left you for me."

Sheila's smile did not waver. She already accepted her loss anyway. "Our contract ended. Whether you returned or not, he was going to leave anyway. But have some decency and tell him the truth about where you have been. The poor man almost died waiting for you."

If not for the fact that she didn't want to use Charlotte's infidelity to have Alpha Nick to herself, she would have exposed the latter, but love should develop naturally. Since she never got it after all the time spent in the packhouse, it was useless to her now. wWw.nv\(4\)Elsmon.e.comElsmon.e.com)

"Sheila?" Charlotte was pale, but her teeth gritted. Sheila flipped the fallen hair on the side of her face with her left hand, the action giving her a sophisticated outlook.

"I told you not to try anything stupid. If you as much as say another word, I will say more."

Alpha Nick was curious and interested in this conversation. He asked Charlotte, "Charlotte, what is she talking about?"

"I have no idea. Please, check me into a hotel for tonight," Charlotte quickly said. She already felt as if the air around her was limited, and she was finding it hard to breathe. Sheila smiled internally, wondering what Alpha Nick would do when he found out about Charlotte's rotten ways. wWw.nvElsHOMÉ.\(e\)omom)

"Dustin, Charlotte is at the club. Can you pick her up and check her into a hotel tonight?" He asked Dustin on the phone. The latter had heard the female voices, growing worried and confused.

"What is going on? I was just going to bed." A yawn could be heard from the other side of the line as Alpha Nick replied,

"I'm sorry. I promise to take over training alone tomorrow so you have your rest."

An exhausted sigh was heard before Beta Dustin retorted, "I'm on my way."

Under Sheila's stern gaze, Charlotte cowered as time passed. Alpha Nick broke Sheila and Gustav's intertwined hands before his breathing evened out. Beta Gustav had a frown on his face.

His golden moment was ruined. About twenty minutes later, Dustin drove in, and without looking back, Charlotte went to sit in the front passenger seat. Sheila knew too much about her, and the more she saw Sheila around Alpha Nick, the greater her fears.

To save her face this time, she had to endure it and leave before Sheila exposes her. Dustin was shocked at the sight of Sheila. His eyes almost popped out of their socket. "Luna Sheila?"

"Just go, Dustin," Alpha Nick quickly discharged him. It looked as if Dustin had more to say but could only wait until they met at the packhouse.

"Now what was that all about?" Alpha Nick asked Sheila after Dustin drove away. He was not stupid to not know that Sheila was hiding something.
