Charlotte was nauseated by that flamboyant lie Alpha Nick hit the pack members with and spoke sternly to Anita. "You will address me as Luna."

At the mention of Luna, only one person fit that description to Anita, and it definitely wasn't Charlotte. Not until the Alpha declares it.

"The Alpha hasn't coronated you as his Luna yet."

Charlotte grew angrier at her retort, wondering if the pack members felt the same way. Alpha Nick had not even marked her, so how could she be coronated as the Luna? The dealer was a killer of her adrenaline.

"So, you think you are the one to be coronated?" Charlotte asked sarcastically. Anita spoke honestly.

"I won't even dream of it. The only person deserving of that title is Luna Sheila."

Another slap followed the other, and Anita was seeing stars. However, she remained put, enduring the pain of the slap. For the fact that she was able to tell Charlotte her piece of mind, that was good enough for her.

She just wouldn't dare to lay a hand on the Alpha's mate.

"That name is banned in this pack," Charlotte declared with red, angry eyes. Anita did not agree but did not speak on the matter anymore, rather asking, www.novels@me.com

"What do you want with me?"

"Training time ended one and a half hours ago," Charlotte pointed out, checking her wrist watch. Anita understood that she was jealous because of the extra time Alpha Nick sacrificed to train her.

Since she was the Alpha's mate, it was understandable, so Anita explained, "The Alpha wouldn't be around tomorrow, and he wanted me to learn a few things."

Another slap burned her cheeks once more. Anita would have lost her teeth if not for her strong wolf that kept healing her from the pain of each slap after a few seconds.

"Are you the only trainee? I want you to disappear from this pack," Charlotte raged. Anita could not adhere to that command and rather asked her,

"Charlotte, it's just because you are the Alpha's mate if not?"

"If not what?" Charlotte was vexed. Anita had indirectly told her that her reluctance to fight back was only because of Alpha Nick.

Charlotte wanted to eliminate Sheila, but since that wasn't possible, the only way was to eliminate the trainee warrior Sheila loved the most. www.novels@me.com

Anita did not see when Charlotte pulled out a knife and slashed her arm with it. Her scream from the pain resonated through the woods, as she hoped that someone would find and rescue her.

It seemed that Charlotte wanted to kill her, and yet, she did not dare to defend herself.

"I said you should disappear," Charlotte yelled and kicked her in the stomach.

"If I find you close to the Alpha again, I will kill you." She would have stabbed Anita in the heart if not for that www.novels@me.com commanding voice as it rang behind her.

"Annie?"

Alpha Nick ran to the woman on the floor. Charlotte was visibly shaken and hid the knife where she pulled it out.

Her

gaze was dark as she wondered how Alpha Nick appeared here when she almost completed her mission. She had seen Alpha Nick enter his office, not expecting him to make an appearance at a time like this.

"Nick, what are you doing here?" She asked innocently but was ignored. Alpha Nick's attention was on the woman on the floor.

"Annie, are you alright?" Alpha Nick was about to carry her, but she quickly stood up, pressing her palm against the stab wound. It was healing, but not very fast because the cut was very deep.

The only disadvantage was the fact that the pain was not much anymore.

"Yes, Alpha, I am fine," Anita swallowed the pain and spoke. One thing she learned from Sheila was not to let the enemy know that they had won. Even as she was hurting, she wanted to show Charlotte that she was still strong.

However, Alpha Nick was not ready to brush the matter under the carpet and asked seriously,

"What happened? Why were you bleeding and screaming before?"
