

Read Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 71

Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 71

"I can prove my claims," Petra stepped forward just as she saw her plan beginning to go south as the old wolves grew scared due to Xavier's threat.

"How?" Stephen asked.

"I have the surrogacy contract" she smirked at Xavier.

Then specifically at the old wolf who had now positioned himself besides the one held by his grandsons. The mere mention of the surrogacy contract had left every ranking wolf at Xavier's side pale. The astonished expressions on Stephen and Lena's faces were genuine.

But Petra could feel dread and anxiety coming off of the Alpha standing in front of her and his loyal Beta to be rather funny and fulfilling.

"Xavier, tell me this is a lie" Stephen retained his faith in his grandson, but his tone was soft, almost like a whisper, when he spoke to Xavier. Even in this situation, he did not tear his green hateful eyes from that evil woman.

The blonde bh had ventured to bring this topic up in front of the elders, indicating that this was not a shot in the dark. Her confident smile and stance told him that she had strong proof, then this was the beginning of Sirius Bright Pack's demise.

If Petra's claim was true, the Alpha King Renard would be forced to remove Xavier from his current position as Alpha the Sirius Bright Pack, as well as his title of Crown Prince.

The woman standing alone in front of the entire Sirius Bright Pack was ready to destroy her ex-mate's future, leaving nothing behind but humiliation.

"Tell me, son," Grandpa repeated again, this time in complete terror. When the bh in front of him kept barking, his grandson was not one to remain silent. Why was he acting so strange right now? Petra's low laugh filtered through the crowd.

"There is nothing left to tell you, elder Stephen. Whether you trust me or not, the relationship between Alpha Xavier and Luna Kiara was only that of man and his surrogate."

"That's impossible!" Stephen let out a lethal growl, causing Petra to take a few steps back in terror. A man and his surrogate?! Nothing so abhorrent had ever been said to him in his life. He had initially noticed that something was off between his grandson and granddaughter-in-mate. However, as time had gone on, he observed that Xavier's and Kiara's desire for one another had evolved into love.

This had been evident to Stephen, he could tell that Xavier and Kiara were in love. The couple were like magnets, they were simply drawn to each other.

The old wolf had been all too eager to trust what he had seen with his own eyes! He was not going to accept that the Alpha couple's relationship was nothing more than a contract relationship. Petra paused before continuing.

"Yes, it sounds impossible, but this is the truth, elder Stephen. You were kept in the dark. I was also shocked when I discovered that she had been offered a large amount of money after the delivery!

How cunning your grandson and temporary granddaughter-in-mate are! Whether you trust me or not, you are being played, Stephen," she remarked politely, but did not forget to throw a smirk at the elder that was now highly offended.

Petra also intended to exact revenge on that green-eyed old fox of Grandfather. For every insult, affront, and taunt he had ever hurled her way was still vividly etched in her memory. Xavier's Grandfather had never acknowledged her as his granddaughter-in-mate. He had treated her as if she were invisible, never regarding her with the respect that she deserved as Luna.

Not to mention that at Zander's wedding Petra had seen Adira wearing a valuable family heirloom, a diamond necklace, that Stephen's mate had stored away for the mates of her twin grandsons.

But Petra had never been fortunate enough to so much as glimpse those jewels. She had only received what Xavier had purchased for her. They were also gorgeous and expensive, but she had never gotten what she had truly desired.

She was fully aware that the necklace had been exclusively for her. Now they had been stolen by Kiara and Adira. Those greedy b!tches had her things! Stephen had ridiculed her by claiming that he was worried that Petra would sell his family's cherished heirlooms!

He saw her as a low-class woman who would do anything for money and power. Despite the fact that she had been born with a silver spoon in her mouth. He had often insulted her, and he had also been one of the reasons she had been exposed and rejected.

He had constantly doubted her actions and planted doubts in Zander's mind about her. Then there was her attractive, hot, and se.xy brother-in-mate that she had once managed to s.educe him once, but then he exposed her.

Obviously, Zander had never told his older twin about his sister-in-mate's low whorish behavior, but he had never forgotten it. He began to keep his distance from Petra.

Zander dug further into her former involvement with other men and the covert measures she used to take with Orion in Xavier's absence.

Zander had lunch with Petra and Orion a few hours earlier on the day of rejection, when Xavier had found his mate and his Beta writhing bodies on his bed. The younger Alpha had been smiling at both of them being entirely too friendly, feeding Petra misinformation about how everyone would be departing for the woods to shift, run, and have fun under the light of the full moon.

Petra regretted believing Zander's promises that day. Her deceitful brother-in-mate had lied to her! He never went for the run with the other pack members! He had been close to the pack house when he summoned his brother!

Petra had an uneasy feeling at that moment, as Zander was absent at the moment. She had also made a wonderful arrangement for him and his whorish little vixen. She had no issue with Adira. Her only fault was that she looked similar to Kiara. That was enough for Petra to hate her as well.

The red-headed Gamma female who had been listening to Petra the entire time finally lost her patience. She was incredibly worried for her best friend who had started going into labor and was having contractions.

Jennifer was in her room screaming and here this blonde bh chuckled and sneered at the most respectful person in the pack and her Alpha?!

"I have had enough of this, bh!" Lena growled, trying to attack the other woman before her tiny waist was grabbed by Kaiden.

"Lena, No!" He tried to keep her under control, but as Tyler had told him when Lena got angry, then there was nothing that could hold her back, he was the only one who could handle her. fvck! The problem was that he was missing right now and the Beta was having trouble holding onto Lena as she struggled furiously in his strong arms.

"Lena, calm down," Xavier ordered casually, but Petra continued.

"I can see everyone is so scared for your well being, Xavier. It seems like they are covering for you," Petra chuckled. A few evil elders agreed with her, which angered Kaiden.

"I would like to inform you once again Petra, falsely accusing our Alpha will only lead you to your death sentence!

You have already lost your opportunity to apologize to our Alpha and Luna, so stop misleading the public. It will give you a less painful death if you stop accusing our Alpha' as the second in command Kaiden fulfilled his duty as Beta with this announcement.

“The same goes with the elders who are supporting this woman. They will be punished with a painful death,” Kiaden added, which was more than enough to scare them. Petra heard their whispers, it was clear that they would soon leave her side and submit to Xavier. So she took the next step in her planning.

“And what if I could show you the proof? Like I said, I have the surrogacy contract!” She raised her voice to garner everyone’s attention.

“Then fvcking*g do it! I’ve had enough of this slut’s game,” Stephen growled. This was supposed to be the happiest day of his granddaughter’s life. The wedding had been a smashing success but now the stunt and scheme that Petra had been pulling in front of the elders was ruining this special day, just like it had been ruined for Zander and Adira’s wedding.

The curious eyes of everyone there followed her hand as she reached into her pocket and brought out a folded piece of paper. Her dark sly eyes were locked on the green ones of Alpha Xavier. She couldn’t help but cackle at his attitude. He was doing everything he could to keep his face as controlled as possible.

She could see that the big bad Alpha had gone mute in fear as he caught a glimpse of his future, realizing that his life was finished. The king’s elders were on her side, and he Couldn’t hurt her no matter what she did. He couldn’t stop her from presenting the contract to them.

“This is my proof” she raised her hand in the air with a smug smile as she held the papers up high so that all men could view the Alpha Prince’s nasty secret.

They would also be able to see the terms, conditions, and rules that they had been held to while pretending to be mates in front of the pack. She relished everyone’s startled eyes as they scanned the papers as if the date of their demise had been written there.

“Is that a surrogacy contract?” Stephen c*d his brows while reading it, causing Petra to grin in victory.

“Yes, it is. That’s what I’ve been telling all of you,” she explained with a smile. Now all she had to do was wait for Xavier’s humiliation and downfall.

“Then why the fvck are you showing us this bh? How are my grandson and granddaughter-in-mate connected to this signatureless and seal-less surrogacy contract?” The old wolf demanded, raising his voice.

“What? signatureless and seal-less surrogacy contract?!”

Petra brought the contract up to inspect it more closely. Her eyes nearly popped out of her head when she noticed that the signatures of the Alpha couple and the Sirius Bright Pack seal were missing!

“How is this possible?!” She gaped, grasping the blank contract. Petra’s eyes were as wide as if she were seeing a ghost. She knew that both the seal and signatures had been on the papers that Orion had given her. She’d even double-checked it in the morning! So how the heck could it have vanished since then?!

“Like I had expected from the beginning, this woman was just barking to cause trouble! She is holding a random surrogacy contract and accusing our Alpha and Luna!” Lena sneered in annoyance.

“I am not lying! Kiara is Xavier’s surrogate. The contract was signed! Ask the elders if you don’t believe me. I delivered copies of the contract to them last night” Petra faced all of the other wolves. Every elder shook in terror when she cast her brown eyes on them.

“We never got any copies of the surrogacy contract!”

They exchanged panicked words. Why was this woman leading them to an untimely death? When they had only come over to check on Jennifer and had happened to overhear about the contract! Then they had decided to use the contract to convince Xavier into taking the Alpha King’s position. But everyone was now in a deep sh!t!

Petra’s claim was proven to be untrue. Luna Kiara was the mother of Xavier’s heir, not a surrogate. They had taken Petra’s side earlier, which meant that they had unintentionally rebelled against the Alpha Prince!

“Don’t lie! I sent the copies to all of you!” She yelled, completely oblivious to the fact that she was speaking to the King’s elders. When she had returned from the pub, the first thing she had done was send them copies of the contract so that she might earn favor with them. So how could they not have gotten them?

“Such a horrible woman!” Stephen yelled, becoming enraged.

“You already deceived my grandson, now you’re accusing him of obtaining an heir through surrogacy! I had suspected she was lying from the beginning! This she-wolf is jealous of my granddaughter-in-mate.

She envies my grandsons and their wonderful lives! Yet all of you sided with her!” When the old wolf snapped, the other elders bowed their heads in shame.

Stephen’s menacing aura and remarks were reminiscent of Renard, the Alpha King. Not to mention that his face was a carbon copy of his twin’s. His earlier warning about Renard’s involvement was going to come back to haunt them. They could all see that their near future was going to come to nothing more than a dead end.

“Jealous?!” Petra chuckled bitterly.

“Why would I be jealous of my substitute? She is just like me. Your granddaughter-in-mate has been delivering a pup to your grandson in exchange for money! She struck a bargain! If I’m greedy then she’s no better. The surrogacy contract is real and does exist!” Petra snapped back at him.

“Then where the fvck is it?” Stephen sneered, his look shook the woman’s spirit. Enraged, Petra took a long deep breath. The question once again was, where the heck was the contract? She took another look at the documents.

How was it possible that the seal and signature had vanished? Her eyes had not deceived her. It was not possible unless someone had exchanged it! fvck!

That’s when Petra noticed her brother, who was standing in the corner with his mate, as if they were in their own little world. They appeared to be at ease with one another.

One of his hands was resting on his mate’s waist while his other was tucked into his pocket as he leaned against the wall like a model. The couple’s easy comfort together irritated the irate woman to no end.

“Harvey! You did this! You changed the real surrogacy contract with this garbage!” Petra accused her brother while stalking over to him in rage.

“Have you gone insane?” He raised his brows in shock.

“Why would I do that? I didn’t even know anything about this mess.” He immediately cleared his name from this situation but she grabbed his collar.

“Harvey, you are the only one who came to my room this morning. You stole them from my pocket! I should have realized from the beginning why you had been showing me so much love and concern out of the blue!” She accused, but she saw her brother’s eyes widen in surprise.

“Wait a minute. Does that mean that you stole some type of contract from Alpha Xavier’s room? fvck! Why did you do that, Petra? Don’t you realize that it’s a violation to enter an Alpha’s room? You not only broke into his room, but you also stole something, and now you’ve wrongly accused him?”

Harvey’s eyes were filled with amazement. When Petra witnessed his acting, her mouth gaped at how expertly he exposed her theft of the surrogacy contract! Her blood started to boil, causing her to lose control.

“Harvey, you traitor!” She shrieked, raising her hand to smack him, but Iris shoved her away aggressively just as she was going to slap him.

“Don’t you dare to touch my mate,” the beautiful bride growled at the other woman.

“He is my brother?” Petra claimed, glaring at Iris.

“Now that the wedding is over, Harvey is nothing to you!” Iris declared, looking over her shoulder at her mate who walked over to his sister.

“Yes, Petra, we are now nothing to each other. I hope you remember what I said during Zander’s wedding. When I marry Iris, I intend to sever my relationship and sibling bond with you. So, from now on, you’re a complete stranger to me.

Don’t come to me hoping for support since you are the one who has put yourself in this situation. Who told you to accuse Alpha Xavier in this way? I won’t allow you to pull me into this mess. I don’t know fvcking*g anything,” Harvey stated, witnessing his sister’s eyes grow larger while she stepped back in surprise.

He had truly ended his relationship with her because of his tiny whorish mate! On top of that, he stole the contract.

How could he have done this to her? She had just learned the depth of her sibling’s treachery. She believed that he had stolen it, but he refused to confess to the crime.

She glared at her brother in disbelief, continuing to back up until she felt something behind her. Petra’s feet came to a halt when her back slammed into something hard. When she turned to face what had stopped her, it turned out to be none other than Xavier. He had crossed his arms over his chest from the beginning, maintaining a calm and silent demeanor.

But now he was so close to her that she could see every detail of his handsome yet devilish face. The Alpha took a deep breath while tucking both hands in his pockets.

“Miscarriages, contracts, money, surrogacy?” He chuckled, listing off her false allegations.

“I bet poor Petra has lost her mind,” Xavier spoke in a sympathetic yet sarcastic tone. A sinister grin flashed over his lips, which had been on her lips just moments ago but now angered her.

“I am not crazy! I was in possession of the surrogacy contract. You know that Xavier!” She shrieked, glaring at him before she turned to face the elders.

“All of you have to believe me! Your Alpha Prince is nothing but a hypocrite. He is cheating the Alpha King and kingdom! He is a criminal!” She growled at everyone who looked perplexed.

The King’s elders knew that Xavier was cunning, and Petra’s eyes revealed her eagerness to bring down her ex, but she couldn’t prove it. Her brother had said that he had no idea about the contract. When her own brother had turned his back on her, then how could she expect their assistance?

"I apologize to everyone. I want to reveal that Petra began acting strangely right after the rejection. She also began to use drugs as a way to cope with stress and desperation, which caused her to lose touch with reality.

I thought she would eventually pull herself out of it, but I've since given up hope. She's gone completely insane," Alpha Harvey confessed with mournful eyes. Iris nodded as she placed her hand on his shoulder.

"What!" Petra was stunned by what her brother had said.

What the fvck was he doing?!

"Don't worry, Petra. I know what you are going through," her brother added, while looking at Stephen.

"She has been having hallucinations quite often lately and has even attacked us at times. It appears to be one of the side effects of her drug use," he admitted sorrowfully.

Everyone's eyes snapped back to Petra, who was growling.

"What the fvck you are saying, Harvey!" She hissed, intending to break his neck. How could he possibly lie to her face? That fvcking*g tratorious bastard! She had never used drugs. She certainly wasn't crazy!

"Oh my, Petra has been taking drugs?" Xavier cupped her cheeks tenderly, forcing her to gaze into his eyes, which astonished her. It was fantastic to feel his warm touch on her cheeks after two long years.

"Did the rejection break you that badly, Petra? Are you sure that you have gotten treatment for that drug? I hope it is not the same one that you had mixed into Kiara's drink, Petra. I could save my mate but I wonder how you will survive." He wondered worriedly and then threw a smile that tell her an indirect message.

'bh, did you really think you were talking bullsht about me and I was listening like a good boy?

Petra's mouth was wide open. He had been acting like a good and kind Alpha in front of others. So he had not replied to any of her bad words till now! In reality, he was the king of this game.

"Don't fvcking*g lie! I know Kiara and your pup are dead!

No one can survive that drug!" She smacked his hands away in aggravation, but smirked because she knew that Xavier had lost his soulmate. He had no right to play with her. They were all pretending that Kiara was in the room with morning sickness. fvck their act!

She would shove it in their faces but that was when she saw Xavier's lips curve into an evil smile that made her anxious. What had gone wrong? When she recounted the death of his beloved, he should have been devastated. So why was he giving her that wicked grin?

Slowly, her brown eyes darted along the corridor, attracting everyone's attention and astonishment. Why were they staring at her like that? The elders that had been on her side were now enraged and looked ready to murder her where she stood.

"Wait a minute! You drugged Luna Kiara? You wanted to kill our Luna and her unborn pup?" Stephen questioned her about this fact. His question evoked chills down Petra's spine as she had inadvertently revealed that she had committed the crime of murdering Luna and her unborn pup. Lena, the elders, and even the unranked wolves gave her a withering glare that reminded her of the day she was thrown on the floor during the rejection ceremony and made to confess her sins against Xavier.

Petra raised her gaze to meet Xavier's gleaming stare. His smile darkened, letting her know she had fallen into his trap!

He fooled her into confessing her crimes in front of the elders and other pack members. This was the reason he had been so calm since the beginning. Petra realized that she was the stupidest person in the world.

She had thought she had played Xavier and Kiara from the start, but in truth she had been the one who had gotten played. She now realized how the surrogacy contract may have vanished.

Kiara had been talking with Harvey in the pub the night before. To anyone watching them, they seemed to be joking around. Everyone was too busy dancing and drinking to notice them. Petra had no idea that at that moment that cunning bh Kiara had included Harvey in her scheme.

She had taken a gamble on Harvey by disclosing the surrogacy contract, the present threat to the Pack, and Petra's plans. He had listened intently to her. Kiara asked him to steal the surrogacy contract from Petra under any circumstances and hand it over to Xavier without anyone's knowledge. He had the option of accepting or rejecting the offer right away.

Alpha Harvey had shaken hands with the young Luna after a few seconds of deliberation. She had advised Harvey to consider the Blue Moon Pack's future relationship with the Sirius Bright Pack. She had also offered him the twins' good side and support, which would be very beneficial to Harvey in the future.

The soon-to-be Alpha didn't want any hostility with his mate's pack in the future due to Petra's insane and nasty vengeance, which was completely pointless in Harvey's opinion. As a result, he had agreed with Kiara. Kiara's plan had called for him to steal then switch the contract from his sister's pocket before handing it over to Xavier in the morning.

Xavier had been just as unaware of Kiara and Harvey's agreement until that morning. She hadn't had time to explain it to her mate since she was high on that drug, but as soon as the Alpha had gotten the contract, he changed his plan and turned the table on Petra!

When Petra mentioned the contract, he pretended to be terrified, furious, and worried the entire time, but in reality she was losing face in front of everyone. They were all calling her insane now! She had ended up humiliating herself rather than Xavier.

On top of that, now she had dug her own grave by mentioning the drug that she had put in Kiara's drink!

"How could you do that, Petra?!" One of the king's elders shouted. This commotion did not frighten her in the least, instead it filled her with excitement. Petra had once again become the center of attention. She cast her lovely gaze around the hallway once more, admiring everyone's angry, frustrated, and helpless state.

So these people were shocked and enraged to learn that she had slipped a deadly drug into Kiara's drink? And Xavier believed that by eclipsing the crime of contract theft with that of her drugs case, he may have caused Petra's downfall.

She chuckled.

"Do you have proof, Xavier?" She crossed her hands over her chest, smirking at her ex.

"A stranger handed me your surrogacy contract, the one that you wisely had changed. And all I said was that a drug killed your mate and pup because, as everyone is aware, pregnant women cannot survive having any drugs introduced to their systems. It's only common sense. That does not imply that I am guilty. Don't blame me for losing the two of them." Petra countered, successfully defending herself.

She was too proud to reveal that she had been the one who murdered Xavier's heir in Kiara's womb, but she chose to wait because her fun had only just begun. She was the one who had endured two years of humiliation on her own.

So if Harvey or the rest of the world stood with Xavier, then she was going to fight back and she was not going to stop until there was nothing left of her enemies' but blood and ashes.

"Do you have any evidence and witnesses?" She raised her brow, leaving her enemy helpless. She was already aware that they had gone through the CCTV footage and they could easily use it against her.

So she had sent one of her wolves to destroy it, leaving her enemies in distress that they had a chance to win against her, but they failed.

"How about the victim testifying herself?" The click of sandals clicking against the tiles was followed by a booming authoritative voice echoing through the hallway. Stephen smiled as the other elders turned to face the woman.

When Petra noticed Kiara, her eyes widened in disbelief. fvck! What the hell was she doing here? She should have died by now.

She walked towards them looking completely fine to stand next to Xavier, exuding the aura of a powerful couple.

"Where were you, baby?" Xavier asked, pulling her into a k!ss.

"I was waiting for you in bed, as you instructed. But I had to come here" she k!ssed him back and winked. The young Luna clasped her mate's hand and smiled at Petra, who was staring at her bump.

"Last night in the publ was drugged by this woman. I was about to lose my baby and my life. The Doctor was able to save me at the last moment. Fortunately, I am able to come here to testify about her crimes," Kiara explained, concealing the truth that it had been Cole, not the Doctor, that had healed her with a herbal remedy.

"Petra tried to kill me," the others gasped. Kiara's words had frightened everyone. Petra had been the one who had been saying that Kiara and her pup were dead since the beginning.

But now that the young Luna had testified against Petra, it was evident who had been behind the entire conspiracy. Kiara heard everyone's murmurs and turned to confront the elders who had been acting like d*ckheads by siding with Petra only moments ago.

"Now what I want is, the head of this woman and the people who stood against Xavier and me!" She declared, scaring all the old wolves as they now had to prepare for the consequences of their actions. The Alpha smiled evilly, placing a k!ss on his mate's cheeks. That was what he wanted to hear.

Every word that had come out of her mouth fell on Petra's ears like a hoarse echo from which she could not fully understand, as her astonished eyes were still on her protruding baby bump. The conspiracy that she had set in place to kill Kiara and her blessed child had been completely ruined. The woman who should have been buried in the grave by now, stood in front of everyone, completely healthy with her unborn pup! How was this fvcking"ng possible?!

Recommended Novels

Read Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 72

Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 72

Tearing her eyes away, Petra moved her furious eyes to Kiara.

"You will once again ask for evidence, right?" Kiara raised her brow as she looked over her shoulder as Tyler and Cole entered the hallway. Cole had a large black bag that he threw on the floor, letting it fall at the group's feet. White packets tumbled out of it onto the ground.

"What is all of this?" Stephen frowned.

"These are all the drugs that I've found in Petra's room," Kiara explained while admiring her nails.

"No, this is a lie! These aren't mine!" The blonde woman immediately tried to defend herself. She wasn't stupid enough to keep something like this in her room when she was in the Sirius Bright Pack.

"Those who don't, believe me, should look in her drawers, cupboards, and even underneath her mattresses.

Only 10% of the drugs that were in the room are here with me. She hid her valuable magical drugs all over the place," Kiara explained, smirking at Petra's wide eyes. Petra's heart was racing in terror. Now she understood why Kiara had gone missing. She'd set her up! By keeping the drugs in her room and baggage then disclosing it in front of King's elders, Xavier and Kiara had sealed her fate of having a public execution!

The blonde became nauseated just thinking about dying without exacting her revenge.

"This is a trap! They are all lying! Xavier already hates me. And this woman is insecure because she thinks that I will steal Xavier from her. They have both hidden the surrogacy contract, accusing me of these false drugs charges and plotting against me so that they can remove me from their path! It is the Sirius Bright Pack's strategy to dissolve their treaty with the Blue Moon Pack's and kill me!" She exclaimed to the elders, reminding them about the long-standing feud between Xavier and Petra. Xavier couldn't directly execute her, so he was proving that she was a criminal in front of others so that she would die in suffering according to royal law!

"I wonder why I would do that?" Xavier grinned, smelling Kiara's soft hair while his eyes were fixed on Petra.

"All the elders have witnessed how mercilessly you attacked me a few days ago when you me, Xavier" Petra replied sternly.

You would do anything to put me to death, so this kind of accusation and plotting is to be expected from you. You just want to kill me, everyone knows how cunning you are," Petra laughed bitterly, provoking everyone's mind and instilling doubt in the King's elders, but none of them could raise that question. But the look in their eyes was enough to let everyone know exactly what they were thinking.

"Then how about I prove that you killed not only Sirius Bright Pack's werewolves but vampires as well?" Another female voice entered the corridor, it was none other than Adira. Xavier and Kiara smiled at their siblings, who were beautiful together.

Yes, they could not mind-link them as they could feel that Orion had placed another spell to stop their communication. But the couple noticed Zander's dirty clothing and slightly injured face, this caused their smiles to disappear. His hand was swollen and covered with a smattering of blood, his appearance was rather frightening.

"What is that?" One of the elders gasped when they noticed the trail of blood following Adira or the object in her hand that was scaring people to death. She did not stop once, she just ignored everyone's gaze. She had a dead wolf's head in her hand!

"Hmm, it seems ;like you had fun," Xavier raised his brows at his brother.

"Yeah, Evan wanted to get some exercise, Zander chuckled as he moved to stand next to his brother. When Adira reached beside her sister and in front of Petra, she came to a halt.

This is the wolfs head who attacked Kiara in the Vampire's enclave. He killed our people using a device in the past. He attacked Zander and me some time ago when we entered our territory," Adira said, tossing the wolf's head on the floor. One of the women vomited when they saw the head but Petra's eyes grew huge.

"How could you kill him?" Petra murmured in shock as her eyes fixed on the tossed head. The dead wolf was none other than her cousin, who had always helped her even though she had been rejected. He was her best friend but now he was dead!

"How dare you kill him... Just as she was screaming at Adira, Petra's head was snapped to the side. She felt a sharp pain in her cheek. The loud sound of a slap echoed in the hallway, which was quickly followed by a punch that Adira delivered to her jaw right away.

“Don’t you dare cast your evil eyes on my mate and child!” She growled in warning. The wolves that Orion had sent to be waiting for Zander and Adira at the border. He had not wanted them to return to the pack. Adira had no clue how Orion had discovered her pregnancy, but he just wanted to kill Zander and her pup by sending his men.

Zander had fought against more than 10 other wolves all alone to protect Adira and his heir. She sobbed in dread at the thought of losing Zander because she couldn’t shift into her wolf to rescue herself or him, but he had killed them all. He hugged her to calm her down. Then she returned the pack with Petra’s cousin’s head in wrath.

Petra spit blood while glaring at both of the sisters before Kiara spoke.

“So she not only drugged me, killed her own kind in order to frame the vampires, and tried to kill both Adira’s and my pup. Oh, and did I forget to mention that she tried to kill her father, Alpha Roman?” Kiara asked rhetorically. Adira smiled, placing the photos of Petra mixing the drug in her father’s food. Petra ripped it into pieces then tossed it on the floor before letting everyone see it. But it was one of many.

One of the photos fell near Petra’s feet.

“Hmm, all of this should be reason enough to bury her alive in Orion’s empty grave” Zander thought aloud, indirectly he sentenced her to death.

“This bh will die according to my law and rules!”

Xavier announced and turned to face the others.

“Now! Those who still stand against me should step forward! I will gladly behead them!” Xavier announced using his Alpha tone. Now both the king and elders were out of question as the crime Petra had committed was against them. In a second, Petra watched as all the elders fell on their knees in front of the Alphas.

“Lovely. It seems everyone would like to keep their heads on their shoulders” Zander smiled, as both of the twins turned to look at Petra’s pale face. She looked uglier when she learned about her death. After all, Petra had not been able to turn the King’s elders against the Alpha twins and they had turned out to be their loyal dogs.

“No! It is not me! The woman in this photo is not me!”

She yelled, looking at everyone so that she could prove herself innocent, but no one listened to her, they just kept whispering. Everyone was staring at the picture and giving her a disgusted expression. Petra raised her blood-thirsty dark gaze to the sisters.

Yes, she had poisoned her father, causing him to die slowly, but those two wh*res had photoshopped that picture to prove her guilt! She went insane when she saw Adira and Kiara grinning at her.

“How dare you frame me, you bitches!” Petra shrieked as she attempted to strike Kiara and Adira, but Kaiden quickly grabbed her wrist. The Beta had already anticipated that she was going to pull some kind of stunt. Tyler also stepped in, firmly gripping her other arm.

“It looks like one more punishment is going to be added to all of your previous ones. You want to kill both of our Lunas in front of everyone?”

That is enough to prove our claims and your guilt, Petra.” Kiara giggled a little, then walked closer to the other woman who was now securely captured by her Beta and Gamma.

“Do you remember the day you entered my pack with your luggage and declared that you were not ever leaving?”

Kiara asked quietly, so that it was only audible to Petra, Tyler, her sister, Kaiden and the twins.

Kiara placed her finger on Petra’s chin before she whispered. “Even your shadow is out of question, as I will not let your soul wander near my Xavier after your death.

That is my promise! Xavier is mine, only mine.” Kiara smiled, giving off her most menacing aura as her chocolaty eyes had a mysterious dark shine that was witnessed by the Beta and Gamma but not by the woman who was openly challenged by Kiara. Adira laughed victoriously.

“I will kill you all!!” Petra let out a growl, giving a murderous look at the other woman. What was she saying? It seemed like she had truly gone insane. Kiara smirked as she watched her struggling in their hold.

That was when Jennifer’s newborn pup’s first cry echoed in the hallway, followed closely behind by Petra’s crazy scream. But the pup’s cry was stopped quickly.

“Doctor, the baby is not breathing!” One of the nurses panicked, but her terrified voice resonated in everyone’s ears.

Kiaden’s heart sank as he learned of his child’s death. Kaiden was quickly distracted, giving the job of holding Petra to Tyler alone. He could handle her on his own. Everyone, including Xavier, was ready to put a stop to Kiaden’s madness, who was preparing to break down the door to get to his mate.

“Orion kill both these bitches!!!” Petra screamed out of the blue.

Everyone's ears perked up when they heard the name of the previous Beta that had been copying people's faces. That was when a running man entered the hallway. He had been locked in a store room by Orion when he had been sent to check on Kiara.

"Alpha, he is Orion!!" The real Gamma Tyler yelled, pointing at the fake one who smiled at the twins while gently letting go of Petra's arms.

"Long time no see, boys," in a blink, Orion wore his original face and winked at his old friends.

"It was quite fun knowing that you could not recognize me," he grinned, kissing Petra's cheek as they both grinned at the Alpha couple. She leaned against the near wall laughing and wiping the blood from her nose.

"You f*cker!!" the Alpha twins growled together as they could finally meet their traitorous best friend who had been hiding among them and had finally decided to reveal himself.

Just before they could wrap their hands around his neck, Orion turned out to be faster than them. He stretched both of his hands out to grab Kiara and Adira's throats. The ladies did not have a chance to get away from him as they were closer to Orion.

"Aaahhh!" Both of the Alpha sisters cried in pain as he dug his claws into their skin making them bleed.

"Let them go!"

"Ohh, don't even think about coming any close to me, boys," Orion stated, digging his claws further into the girl's skin. Both of the Alphas froze in place when they saw that he was not joking, he was really going to rip Adira and Kiara's throats open.

Zander and Xavier's eyes were fixed on their mates who were now in the hands of an insane wolf who would not think twice about killing both of them.

"You still smell so good," Orion whispered into Adira's ear as he inhaled a deep breath of her scent. She shivered when she felt one of his fingers running over her throat slowly.

"No!" At that moment she remembered her rapist from the past. She closed her eyes in terror. She had a vivid mental picture of the monster's appearance. When he would force himself on her, he used to bite her neck. The young Luna was reminded of that man by Orion's touch.

"Orion! Don't touch her!" Zander yelled. He could sense Adira's willpower eroding. He could feel her anxiety rising in every cell of her being. Just as it had when she first met him and was scared of his touch. Winning her trust and love had been as difficult for him as conquering the world. If she was triggered again, their relationship would be a mess again.

There was no way Zander was willing to let his hard-earned love be destroyed like this.

"I can see that a woman like you can really turn an Alpha into a mutt. See how helpless you are, Zander" Orion grinned, brushing his lips over Adira's ear. Evan was furious at having to witness her in another man's arms.

"Adira, look at me. It's all right. I am here with you, Zander assured her with a warm smile. He would try his best to have Adira keep her eyes on him in this situation. She blinked and smiled slightly before Orion scratched her neck deeply, causing her to scream.

"Don't give her false hope, Zander. She is very smart, she knows what her future holds," Orion murmured as he rubbed his nose around her throat. This caused tears to well up in her eyes, but she would not allow them to fall. The other man's touch had triggered the traumatic memories from her past again.

"You f*cker! I'll kill you! Stop touching her!" Zander yelled as his claws grew longer. Evan was ready to shift, but it was a high risk of attacking when both Adira and Kiara were in the enemy's grasp.

"Hmm, this is her punishment for not waiting for me, Zander. How dare she mate and mark you when I returned for her like a dog searching for his owner? And she is also bearing your pup. I always believed she would be a good fk," Orion licked Adira's sensitive spot as he inhaled more of her smell. Zander's heart was racing like a crazed horse as he watched his mate bit her lips so hard that they bled. He sought to free his woman from his enemies' clutches! As a result, he resolved to take action. Both of the twin's exchanged looks as Zander slowly made his way closer to Adira, when Orion hissed.

"Do you want her to die?" He asked, biting her skin hard.

"No! Don't!" Zander did not dare to move a muscle further out of fear for his mate. The man had both of their lives in his hands but Kiara was giving him more of a hard time.

"Let her go, you monster!" Kiara shouted as she struggled.

Her neck was in Orion's terrible grip, yet she could tell that Adira was incredibly anxious. She wouldn't last long if Orion touched her in the wrong way again. Kiara had seen her sister weeping and scrambling in the middle of the night years before, and it had terrified her.

"Kiara, don't" Adira warned her not to mess with this crazy man as she knew that her sister was in trouble but it was already late. He slipped his hand into her hair.

“Stop struggling you little bh!” Orion roared, almost pulling Kiara’s beautiful hair out. When he began treating her like she was his personal plaything, Xavier’s heart sank.

“You are the reason our plan failed, you over-smart sl*t.

Couldn’t you just die and leave this world quietly with your pup? How the fk did you survive my magical drug, huh?!”

He yelled in anger.

“AHHH!” Kiara cried loudly in unbearable pain as she felt blood flowing out of her scalp.

“Stop doing that! Don’t hurt her!!” Xavier shouted in warning, barely able to hold Dean back from shifting. Adira panicked and also began to struggle, giving a hard time to Orion, but he managed her in a more painful manner.

“I will kill you!” Dean and Evan roared together as they were on the verge of shifting before Orion took a few steps back quickly, closer to the balcony. His old friends could not be trusted. If he was evil, then those two f*g Alphas were the sons of the devil.

“If you dare to so much as twitch, never mind try to take a step closer to me, believe me I will throw both of these women off of this balcony at this height” he threatened.

Then all you will have left will be blood and broken pieces of their dead body to collect” he added, letting his back touch the railing of the balcony.

“Don’t you even think about it, Orion!” Xavier warned. Both of the twins were on the verge of heart attacks at the possibility of losing their mates and unborn pups. They were all on the third floor! Kiara and Adira would die or miscarry if he tossed them over the railing from there.

“Kill them!” Petra stretched as she rose from the floor. It took some time for her to heal from the punch that Adira had delivered to her jaw and nose. That bh was thin but very powerful!

“Throw them over the balcony together!” Petra screamed, venting her anger.

Stephen was taken aback when he heard Petra and what he was watching unfold. Everything was coming true, as predicted by a wizard from the past. That old wizard had claimed that the destinies of both of the twins were intertwined. They will face the same experiences and problems throughout their lives! Stephen understood everything now.

They were twins, their mates were sisters, both Alphas had become fathers within a few days of each other, and now Petra was going to kill both of their mates at the same time! Did that mean that they would die together?

Did that imply that it was not only the fate of the twins that was tied together, but also the fate of the sisters? The old wolf grew pale as he considered his theory. How the f*k was this possible?!

“I want both of them to die with their pups!” She screeched.

“You fg we! Shut your mouth!” Xavier warned her but Petra laughed.

“Why? Are you scared of experiencing the pain of losing your lover, Xavier?” She sneered with red eyes.

“Shouldn’t you know what it feels like when you play with someone’s life?” This time, she lifted her brows at Zander, since he was the biggest traitor in the guise of a brother-in-mate.

The Alphas observed her psychotic side coming forward where all she desired was vengeance. She had no fear of death. That’s when they noticed Petra and Orion exchanging glances.

“Throw them over!” She ordered Orion.

“As you wish, my love,” he grinned at the twins before he grabbed Kiara and Adira’s firmly by the hair to get the perfect grip.

“I am warning you. Don’t do it, Orion,” fear had stiffened the Alpha twin’s muscles. They couldn’t strike since Orion was standing near the edge with their females. Both of the sisters cried out in agony when they felt their bodies fall over the side of the balcony. They were thrown over in front of their mate’s eyes by Orion!

“No!” Xavier and Zander screamed together, running to catch their mates, but it was already late. Everyone of the pack members jumped to attack their enemies. Kiara and Adira’s fearful cries echoed against the pack house.

Suddenly, a huge fight was taking place between Orion’s wolves outside the pack house as well. They had already broken into the territory and were now attacking the Sirius Bright Pack members.

“Adira!!” Zander yelled, reaching out to grab Adira’s arm but failing. Both Alpha’s waists smacked against the balcony before they saw their mates fall.

“No! Stop!!” Stephen shouted in fear when he saw his grandsons climbing over to follow their mates. fk! They were going to jump as well! The old wolf ran to grab both of them in time. He used his full power to pull both of them back.

“Kiara!!” Xavier yelled at the top of his lungs. With each passing second, Dean felt his bond breaking with her. Both of the twins struggled in their Grandfather’s arms as they witnessed their mates' bodies about to tumble to the ground until they spotted two men sprinting towards the rapidly falling sisters.

They stretched out their big long arms and quickly caught Adira and Kiara in time.

When Adira fell into someone's arms, she felt a cold protective hand on her tummy. She opened her terrified eyes to be met by the crimson eyes of the frighteningly handsome man who had saved her life. Her eyes widened when she saw the individual for the first time in her life.

What exactly was he doing here?

Kiara also felt a pair of strong arms around her belly as her head was buried in an unfamiliar warmth yet familiar scent. Tears ran down the person's chest. Was her mind playing tricks on her? How could he be in the Sirius Bright Pack?

She raised her teary eyes to see the chocolaty gaze staring down at her. They were the same eye color that she had inherited. Her eyes widened in amazement, she forgot that she was close to death for a few seconds.

"Vampire King Alfred and Alpha Sawyer!" Stephen slowly let go of his grandsons, but he was still astonished to see both of the men down on the ground. They had saved the old wolf's granddaughters-in-mate!

Recommended Novels

Read Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 73

Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 73

"Today I was fortunate enough to meet Luna Adira as well," the Vampire King said while looking into her blue eyes.

"Thank you for the help" she replied, tearing her eyes away.

Why was he giving her that creepy look? And why the hell was the Vampire King on werewolf territory?! Avoiding the fighting wolves, Cole ran over to help his Lunas.

First he assisted Adira, who was trying to get out of King Alfred's arms. Before the young Omega had the chance to rescue his other Luna, he came to a halt when he noticed Alpha Sawyer. He couldn't come between a Father and daughter.

"Dad!" Kiara gasped at seeing her father. Alpha Sawyer had saved her!

“Kiara, You’re not hurt are you?” Sawyer worriedly cupped his daughter’s cheek. His gaze was drawn to her face and hands. He was looking for wounds after his daughter had fallen from such a great height.

“No, I am not hurt” Kiara answered slowly, but she wasn’t sure whether she was still alive or not. Her father had never spoken to her this nicely.

Thank Goddess” The Alpha pulled her into a tight hug. Kiara was shocked and didn’t dare hug him back. What was going on? Was she really dead and in heaven? She had always sought her father’s affection, and now she finally had it? Was this a reward for all of her good deeds?

“I am sorry for getting here so late, Kiara. Please forgive your Father.” This brought tears to the Kiara’s eyes. She returned his hug without saying a word. This wasn’t a dream! Her father was holding her! Sawyer raised one arm, calling out to Adira to join their hug.

“Dad;” Adira’s eyes welled up when she saw her father. She quickly rushed into his arms while sobbing. Both of the sisters felt kisses on their heads from their father while he held them tighter.

Sawyer’s heart was racing because he had been afraid of losing both of them. He had nearly had a heart attack when he had seen Adira and Kiara falling from a distance. Fortunately, the Vampire King had also entered the pack with him, allowing the two of them to save the girls. Alan, Sawyer’s Beta, had worked to shield the Alpha’s family and prevented any wolves from attacking them.

“Martha, Sawyer called his mate’s name softly. Adira and Kiara turned to face their mother, who was smiling at them from behind their Father. The Luna gazed at the most gorgeous scene she had ever beheld. Her mate was cuddling both of their precious daughters. She spread her arms when they ran over to hug her.

Sawyer got back to kill a few wolves with Alfred.

“Mom, what is going on here? How did Dad and you get here?

And the Ardara Moon Pack’s members too?”

“We received an invitation to Iris’ wedding from the Alpha twins.

They also called us this morning so that we could visit with the both of you,” Luna Martha explained.

“Dad agreed?!” Both of the sisters exclaimed together. Alpha Sawyer was well known for his ego. So why the hell would he step into the enemy’s territory?

“Yes, Sawyer agreed. Actually he had planned to ask your mates about setting up a visit. We wanted to see you two but the twins had already given us the opportunity. But I did not know it would be a war zone instead of a wedding reception,” Martha frowned.

Stephen had been watching everything unfold from the third floor let out a big sigh of relief. His granddaughters-in-law were safe.

“fk! | think the Moon Goddess wants to kill me soon” he grumbled as he turned to look at his grandsons. The corridor had devolved into chaos! The twins had already changed into their wolves in order to kill Petra and Orion. They had already charged towards Petra and Orion as soon as they knew that their mates were in safe hands.

Zander’s wolf Evan had already attacked Orion. The black Alpha wolf had thrown Orion’s gray wolf so hard that two more wolves had collapsed under his weight. Groaning in pain, he got up and ran down the stairs. Zander cursed under his breath as he watched Orion run away. After what he had done to Adira, the only way he was going to leave this territory was in a body bag.

Stephen punched one of Petra’s wolves who had come over to demonstrate his strength. The old wolf already had his bodyguards battling and defending him, so he didn’t need to shift until it was absolutely necessary.

He watched his other grandson. Xavier had not let Dean take over control. He continued to hold Dean back so that he could face Petra in his human form as if she were a tiny fly. That crazy female was still laughing even though her neck was in Xavier’s grasp. She thought that she had killed Kiara and Adira.

“If I don’t kill you today then I’m not an Alpha!!” Xavier roared, yanking Petra’s hair firmly, but she continued to laugh until Xavier took her to the balcony and threw her over it.

“AHHHHH!” Her laugh turned into a fearful scream when she realized that she was about to die. Her senses came back to her quickly but it was already too late. She was going to die! Xavier had really tossed her over the railing like Orion had to Kiara. Petra shifted into her wolf form in mid-air and groaned as she collapsed on the ground. She would have died but her wolf had managed to protect her.

“Kill them all!” Kiaden gave the command to his fellow pack mates that were in the corridor with them. They had already shifted into their wolf form and were running towards their enemy to obey his demand.

“Kaiden, you stay here near Jennifer. I will handle the rest,” Tyler offered, his eyes full of guilt. Orion had used his face to fool the others. Now Kaiden was having to fight after learning about his pup.

Nobody knew how Jennifer and the baby were doing.

“No, I’ll join the fight, Tyler. I know Jennifer wouldn’t want me to leave the pack members alone at a time like this. Let’s go and fight with Xavier and Zander!” He responded by changing into his wolf.

Tyler followed behind him with a nod. It looked like World War II until they got out in front of the pack house. Orion had brought twice the amount of wolves to attack the pack than he had last time. But the Vampire King had also brought many warriors and they were crushing Petra’s wolves.

That didn’t even include the numbers that Alpha Sawyer led from his pack! Both of the Lunas were being protected by the Ardara Moon Pack’s wolves. There was a big white she-wolf that was actively shielding both Kiara and Adira. Without a doubt, she was Luna Martha! The Luna with her blue eyes, had been protecting her daughters because they couldn’t shift to do so themselves.

Orion had enlisted the aid of his wolf pals, so he was now acting haughtily. He used his powers to target Zander’s shoulder. He was distracting him, so that the younger Alpha had no idea what he was going to do next.

Tyler and Lena were slaughtering the other wolves outside the pack house. Due to the fact that there were so many of them, Alpha Harvey had joined the Gamma couple along with Iris. His Blue Moon Pack mates and Beta worked alongside them to slay many of their foes. Petra’s wolves now wanted to kill Harvey because he had severed his relationship with her.

Xavier remained in his human form rather than transforming into his wolf as he circled Petra’s wolf. It was a significant insult to her because he did not honor her by allowing her to fight with his wolf. They were in front of the pack house, where Adira watched Zander clash against Orion. She was getting tired of seeing his arms covered in blood.

That filthy hybrid was deceiving her mate and messing with his brain. This was the first time he couldn’t understand the enemy.

Orion was one of the reasons for that. He was familiar with Zander’s fighting style. He was aware of all of Zander’s strengths. Their fight had taken place in the open but neither of them were willing to accept defeat. Orion’s foot had been gravely damaged despite his repeated efforts to use magic. Evan had chewed at his foot almost to the point of making him handicap.

Kiara was worried as to why Xavier was not shifting. His thighs were bleeding. Petra had scratched him quite badly. Kiara wanted nothing more than to join him in the fight so that she could kill Petra with her own hands but her Mother had instructed her not to even think about it. Petra’s brown wolf looked insane. She attacked Xavier, ready to tear his body into pieces.

The Alpha let her jump on him then flipped her wolf into the nearby wall of the pack house. She howled in pain but got up quickly to attack again.

fk! She screamed through the mind-link when she got up and found Dean standing right behind her. Why the fk had he suddenly shifted? In a split second, Dean pounced on her stomach tearing into the flesh at her side. She howled in pain which caused Orion to look over at her. He wanted to go and save her but Zander had pinned him under his body using all of his weight.

He had no idea how but Zander had broken through his magic.

First the Alpha had seen three versions of Orion. They were attacking him from every angle until he noticed that only one of the Orions had a shadow. Zander had figured him out! Adira jumped up and down when she realized how her mate had turned the tables on his opponent.

Orion, who had just delivered a kick and got up on his feet again then jumped on Zander from behind. But he was tricked when Zander dodged him. He was well aware that losers like Orion were more than willing to attack from behind. This caused Orion's wolf to be hit by a sharp object in his back. His wolf whimpered in pain when the rod-like object made contact with his bones.

He did not get a chance to heal as Zander was not willing to stop until Orion's soul left his body. When Orion saw Evan chasing him like crazy he realized that he had to run in order to save his life. His foot had been chewed by Evan and now his spine was badly injured on top of it. He could not fight in this condition.

His eyes roamed over the fighting searching for Petra who was being beaten by Xavier mercilessly even though she was in her wolf form. She had already lost one of her ears. Her blood lay in puddles on the ground all over the place. Her condition was no better than his.

He howled, calling his wolves for help. They arrived a moment later, supporting him until Orion could push Xavier from behind. If he had been a second later Dean would have ripped Petra's throat out.

"We need to run away!" Orion mind-linked Petra motioning for her to follow him. She jumped to her feet and fled in fear. She was thankful that Orion had come to help her. Most of their wolves had perished as a consequence of the vampires and Ardara Moon Pack's sudden appearance. That meant that no matter how hard they fought, they would inevitably die at the hands of the twins. She was terrified of dying.

What she really wanted was to flee the Sirius Bright Pack with Orion.

Petra and Orion didn't dare turn around since they knew the twins were following them. Kiaden and Tyler had assassinated the others who had been assisting them in their escape. Kiara and Adira ran behind their mates when they moved further away from the pack house.

Everywhere they looked there were dead bodies laying on the ground. Orion's eyes were wide in fear when he realized that all of his wolves had died! Only the two of them were left but now it seemed that it was their turn. Petra and he came to a stop when Alpha, Sawyer and King Alfred stepped into their path blocking their escape with their warriors fanned out behind them.

What should we do?' Petra panicked asking her lover.

Let's run into the woods; he mind-linked her back but as they turned in that direction. While Tyler and Kiaden ran towards them in their human form. They were surrounded by the enemies, both of them began to hesitantly back up until they heard a growl. Petra startled and looked back, finding the Alpha twins standing behind them already wearing their jeans that Cole had provided to them when they shifted back.

"Don't tell me you were running away again Petra" Xavier grinned evilly, moving closer to her as she looked around frantically for a way out. She needed to escape again, she was completely out of her mind in panic. The sins she had committed against him would never be forgiven by Xavier, the blonde woman was well aware of that. If the Alpha King arrived, he would not be able to assist her and Orion.

Adira kicked her in the face with the sharp heel of her sandal just when Petra believed she thought she saw an opening for her escape. Kiara really wanted to break her legs. Her hands had been itching to rip her to pieces. Petra yelled in agony then instantly shifted back into her human form.

"You still want to run? You hurt my feelings Petra!" Xavier seized her by the neck slamming her into the ground so hard that the back of her head busted open and began to bleed. In an instant, she was flung into the arms of a couple of warriors who knew what the Alpha intended. She had blacked out due to pain.

Orion growled and struggled when Kaiden and Tyler pulled him to the ground as they wrapped a heavy silver chain around his wrists. The silver ate away at his body so badly that he screamed in pain. His wolf felt like he was about to die but he bore the pain. He had witnessed Petra's downfall into her current pathetic condition and refused to follow her down that path. There was no way that he would willingly shift back into his human form.

"That's great. Don't shift!" That was when he felt a large strong hand on the back of his neck that shoved his face into the ground.

Zander did not even let him whimper, he just kept pushing him harder and harder until Orion suffocated and was forced to shift back into his human form in order to obtain some much needed air.

"Please... please forgive me," he begged the Alpha. Instead he was brutally dragged using the chains that bound him until he was strung up by both arms on a set of posts while his painful scream echoed around them.

Petra, who had been knocked unconscious, opened her eyes after a couple of minutes only to witness Orion's body being strung up by his arms that were tied by a silver chain. He was badly beaten, it looked like if he were hit again then he would die.

"Orion!" She cried out in pain at seeing his condition. The Vampire King Alfred and his right hand man Kane were the only vampires left on the territory. He had sent the rest of his men home.

Alpha Sawyer was standing with Luna Martha to the side. All the other ranking members of the Sirius Bright Pack were also there. All of them had nothing but a sneer for Petra as she was also chained.

Petra watched Kiara and Adira as they stood on the opposite side of the clearing, this time they looked normal like they actually had sympathy for Petra. But the Alpha twins were missing, That was not a good sign. What were they planning for them? She watched as the sun set then she witnessed Zander appear behind Orion.

"No!" She shivered when she realized his evil intention towards her lover.

"What are you going to do with him? Let us go!" She cried when she saw what was in the Alpha's hand, it looked familiar to her.

"Don't worry, you will be following him soon, Petra."

Petra's heart dropped in her stomach when she suddenly heard Xavier's whispered words in her ears from behind. She shivered when she felt his hand on her face.

"Xav... Xavier." she shuddered. It was absolutely terrifying for her when she could not see his face but his aura was already suffocating her wolf.

"Please, let us go. I beg you she closed her eyes in fear while crying.

"You should have thought twice before attacking my mate and my pup!" Xavier roared, grabbing her hair. She could finally see his face.

"Now you get to see what we Lincoln's do to our enemies" he whispered while staring into her eyes then forced her watch what Zander was doing.

"What is that? No... don't... please... I am.... sorry!" Orion begged weakly to keep what had been placed at his neck away.

"Trust me, this time you are not getting any land for a proper burial, Orion. You should have never laid your dirty eyes on my Adira," Zander stated.

"No! Don't do it! He will die!" Petra screamed as she watched Zander stab the device that was filled with vampire's venom and an insect that had the ability to suck all the blood from a body.

"Watch!!" Xavier clutched her cheeks tightly forcing her to witness her lover's death. Orion cried in pain as the insect began to s*ck his blood at lightning speed.

Adira placed her hand over her mouth in fear at seeing this side of her mate. Not even in her nightmares she had thought that he would kill Orion so brutally.

"No!!! Stop!! Orion!!!" Petra screamed over and over again until her eyes and face were bright red. Tears were falling from her eyes until she felt them burning. In less than half a minute all of the blood in his body had been sucked up like they had done to many of the Sirius Bright Pack's wolves. His screaming stopped when he died right in front of her eyes.

"Don't leave me, Orion," she whimpered one last time then closed her eyes in pain. She had lost him. She had lost her first love.

He had left her forever. She had never thought she would have to watch her beloved die.

That was when Petra felt someone's hand on her wrist.

"What are you doing!" She yelled at Xavier who slit her first one wrist.

"Reuniting you with your Orion," he replied, grabbing her another wrist as she did her best to struggle.

"No! Don't do this. You are trying to kill my wolf!" She screamed.

She understood that he was performing the ritual that would separate a wolf from their human. He smirked and slit her other wrist mercilessly.

"AHHH! Dont kill my wolf, Xavier" Petra cried. Kiara's entire body shivered at witnessing his cruelty. She knew that the act that he was committing existed in this world but few survived it. Was she going to witness this cruelty that was perpetrated by her mate? She wanted to stop him but she did not dare as she knew he would not listen to her. But she was afraid for some reasons.

That was when Kiara saw Kane passing by her with wolfsbane in his hand. Xavier gestured to him and he proceeded towards Petra.

"No! I will kill you if you put that in my wounds!" She shrieked at Kane but he did not falter. He held her wrist and started to apply the substance into her wounds.

"Xavier, stop him. Please don't kill me! Behead me but don't do this!" She begged in tears. The Alpha flat out ignored her which angered her.

"Don't forget that if you want to kill my wolf you need to offer something precious in exchange for success in the ritual! If I die then you will lose something that could destroy your life as well! I will die but you will also not be happy!" She cursed him before crying out in pain as the wolfsbane seeped into her wound.

Then I am ready to lose whatever it takes as long as it is not Kiara and my pup, Xavier said, cutting the chains that were holding Petra. Her body fell to the ground as a horrible pain filled cry echoed in the clearing which scared Kiara. Petra's wolf was separating from her body.

"No! Stop this Xavier!" Kiara yelled and ran over to him. He immediately grabbed her hand before she could touch Petra.

"Let her die!" He growled, pulling her close to his chest.

"We can't let her die, Xavier. Didn't you hear her, you'll have to give up something valuable in exchange? Why? She will die and you will lose. It is insane. I am not willing to let you lose anything, Xavier, she whispered, taking his hand in hers.

"Kiara, calm down" Xavier slipped his hands down her arms to hold her as she shivered. She was too panicked to think of the consequences.

"How can I calm down? No, I can't believe you right now, Xavier.

Let Petra go. Don't kill her wolf. We have taken enough revenge. Now just punish her according to royal law and that's all. But don't do this" she pleaded in even further worry.

"I swear I will die if anything happens to you," tears gathered in her eyes. When she tried to get closer to her Petra who was now shifting into wolf form for the last time before she was going to lose it forever.

"Don't go any closer to her," Xavier pulled her back just before Petra shifted then shifted back into her human form with one last pain filled scream. Everyone present in the clearing saw the most horrifying scene of their lives. Petra looked terrified when her wolf died. Her body fell limp on the ground as she lost her Wolf forever Kiara's eyes welled up when she realized that she had taken her last breath.

“No, now what will happen?” Kiara’s eyes widened when she realized that she could not do anything. She had not been able to save Petra’s wolf and now she died as well. That meant that Xavier was also going to lose something.

“Remove her body!” Zander ordered two of his warriors who quickly followed the orders. Kiara kept watching them as they dragged Petra’s and Orion’s corpses away.

“Shhh, don’t look at her” Xavier turned her face towards him.

“Now everything has ended, Kiara. Petra got what she deserved.

You don’t need to be afraid of anything. Nothing will happen to me,” Xavier promised, whipping away her tears.

“You are not lying to me?” She asked, biting her lip.

“Yes, see I am alive and talking to you,” he chuckled.

“Don’t talk like that! I will die if something happens to you,” she punched him in the chest, then hugged him tightly while crying.

Xavier laughed, returning her embrace. She did not tip toe around things, she pulled him down to her height and buried her face into his neck, taking in his calming whiskey and orange scent.

“Let’s go home, Xavier” she murmured. Xavier pulled away from her.

“Yes, let’s go,” he smiled, kissing her forehead. She smiled back, holding his hands.

Recommended Novels

Read Alpha’s Surrogate Chapter 74

Alpha’s Surrogate Chapter 74

Alfred stretched his arms over his head in boredom while he watched Petra and Orion’s bodies being dragged away by one of his men. His presence here had finally served its purpose. He had called Zander a few hours earlier to arrange a meeting in order to discuss Adira and Kiara, but instead, the Vampire King was thrilled by the excellent news that the person who had been killing his people and framing the Sirius Bright Pack’s wolves was on their territory.

The ecstatic Vampire King hadn’t been able to help himself, he had arrived with a special present for Petra and Orion. He had kept that unique gadget containing vampire venom and insect, which he gave to Zander to kill Orion.

Alfred had an equal right to kill them since he had lost many vampires at their hands. But seeing the twins had been the ones who had caught them, they had the right to unleash their rage first. Too bad Petra and Orion had died, but the King's game was not over yet.

He now owned their corpses after their deaths. Zander had consented to giving them to him without wondering what he was going to do with them. Without a doubt, it was going to be horrifying! The vampires were merciless. It was clear from the way his red eyes darted over them. The others were terrified.

"Now I must take my leave. I must admit it was a fun wedding," the King smiled as he glanced at Zander and Adira.

The time and situation was not suitable for him to discuss anything. The Alpha couple observed him rising from his chair. Even though they had been in a battle zone surrounded by dead bodies, he had not allowed his comment to bother him in the least. After all, the legendary Vampire King Alfred was a cold-blooded vampire.

Kane had arranged a special chair for him earlier, that he had sipped his glass of blood while watching his adversaries die from. He had found it amusing how Xavier and Zander killed Petra and Orion. He enjoyed their anguish and tears. By killing Petra's wolf, Xavier had stopped her rebirth! Now she was never going to be blessed with the next life!

"Why don't you stay for a while? Soon there will be a buffet. I would like to thank you for saving me and everything," Adira walked closer to the King while still keeping a safe distance. Alfred returned his gaze to her face, recalling what he had been keeping secret in his heart. Before returning his gaze to her mate, who stood possessively behind her. These twin boys were still giving him a cold look.

"So sweet. Such a beauty wants to thank me and pay me back? Even my dead heart will curse me if I refuse" Alfred winked with a cunning smile, yet his tone was flirtatious.

Adira couldn't help but giggle. He appeared to be dangerous, but he was also suave and devilishly handsome! Zander quickly became alarmed, and drew Adira to his chest, practically concealing her from the other man's eyes.

"Don't you dare to flirt with my mate!" He snarled, drawing Adira's focus to him. This man was being so jealous!

It was so easy to provoke him. She bit her lower lip to hide her smile as she noticed him gritting his teeth at his so-called uncle. Kiara had told her everything she knew about the twins' relationship with King Alfred.

“Flirting? Do you really think that I am flirting with you, beautiful?” The King leaned in closer to Adira, but Zander buried her face farther into his chest, issuing a final warning growl to the King. He just chuckled and smiled at his nephew.

“Joking aside, I would consider staying but there is something holding me back. So I must leave,” he explained.

After all, the King did not like to stay among living beings.

“How can you boldly refuse my granddaughter-in-mate’s request, Alfred?!” Stephen snapped at his friend, who had not aged a day since they met. They both narrowed their eyes at each other.

“Don’t tell me, you want me to stay and later face you in a game of chess! You have to admit you suck at chess, Stephen,” Alfred sneered.

“That was in the old days,” the old wolf countered.

“Yeah, but you still suck,” the King smirked.

Adira was taken aback to witness both of them snapping at each other. She looked up at her mate, who stood behind her with a bored expression while watching the old men.

Zander gave her a look that said, ‘Don’t pay attention to them. It’s a common occurrence.’

That was when the king’s red eyes were drawn to something that piqued his curiosity.

“Who is this little one?” Alfred picked Meow up in his arms, who had now come in search of her mistress.

“She is Meow” Zander replied, as he rested his hand on Adira’s belly. The King was surprised to find a pet in this pack.

“I should warn you that she is a moody, rebellious, foul mouth little feline that belongs to these girls, so be careful while holding her. Otherwise these ladies will take a bite out of your as*s,” the Alpha warned, earning a sharp elbow to his side.

“Who told you to say all of that?” Adira gritted her teeth, giving him another hard hit. The King and Stephen laughed as the Alpha obediently took his punishment until Adira felt a small pain in her stomach.

“What’s wrong?!” Zander panicked.

“Nothing, I felt a small pain,” she hissed.

"Let's go to the doctor, Adira," he panicked, holding her hand tightly. They had not had a chance to have an examination of the baby due to the mess that they had been trying to clear for some time now.

Zander had already started mind-linking the Doctors.

"Zander, I am fine. Don't worry. I want to be here with our family," she smiled as the slight discomfort had subsided.

It was just enough discomfort for her to feel like it was normal.

"Are you sure?" He rubbed his hand over her belly.

"Yes," she smiled, getting a soft kiss on her lips.

"But I still think we will go to the Doctor."

"Let's go," Zander scooped her up in his arms. Adira smiled, wrapping her arms around his neck and leaned into his chest. At the end of the day, everyone was happy. She closed her eyes and enjoyed the special treatment from her mate until they heard their siblings.

"Let's go home, Xavier" she murmured.

"Yes, let's go," he smiled, kissing her forehead. Kiara smiled back and was ready to go inside, but that was when she noticed Xavier's neck. The Alpha stopped and looked back at her.

"What's wrong?" He asked, still smiling at her.

"Xavier, where is your mate mark?" Kiara murmured quietly. Mark? The Alpha frowned his brows, putting his hand over his neck where his mate mark should have been. The ears of Adira and Zander perked up in surprise. Everyone's gaze was drawn to Xavier's neck, only to discover that Kiara's claim was correct.

Xavier attempted to find his mark again and again, but it had completely vanished. What in the world had happened? He hadn't even noticed it go away. There had been no discomfort or itching. It was just an unmarked neck!

Kiara's eyes widened in astonishment. She'd never heard of a mated wolf's mark fading in her entire life. How did this happen? A mate mark never goes away unless your soulmate dies or you reject them. The Alpha couple had not experienced either of those circumstances, which made it one of the most unexpected and terrifying occasions in Kiara's life.

“So is this the price that you had to pay?” Her teary eyes locked with Xavier’s when she realized what Xavier had lost.

As if a cloud had burst, she felt like lightning had struck her body, s*cking her soul out. She could feel every cell of her body on the verge of exploding.

“Kiara,” dropping his hand from his neck, Xavier quickly approached her once he noticed her distress. He wasn’t worried about his mark disappearing. All he cared about was her current condition. She had already been terrified when she had heard Petra’s words. Losing his mark had just exacerbated the issue.

“Look at me.”

“What is the meaning of your mark disappearing, Xavier?”

Does it mean that now we are no longer mates?” She shivered while mentioning it.

“That’s impossible, Kiara,” he cupped her face, but she shook her head.

“In exchange for killing Petra’s wolf, the Moon Goddess broke our mate bond, didn’t she?” Kiara was crying uncontrollably when she realized that in the end she had lost Xavier. Even though she had fought Petra, she had been defeated by fate. She couldn’t envision her present or future without her mate, and now he had been stolen away from her.

“No, it is not like that,” Xavier tried to calm her down, but she was not willing to listen. The mate mark was a big deal for women who were madly in love with their mate.

“Don’t lie! You just promised me that nothing awful would happen, then you lost your mark. So how can I believe you?!” She cried, hitting his chest.

“Kiara, I swear I am not lying. Please listen to me” he grabbed both her hands that she had been using to hit his chest to make her look into his eyes.

“Everything is fine, he cooed, but a fresh tear rolled down her cheeks.

“The Moon Goddess changed her mind and our fate. So, now we are not bound to each other? We are not mates, right? Now we are going to be separated,” she wailed, having lost all hope. When she mentioned their separation, Xavier frowned.

“What the hell are you talking about, Kiara?!” He growled as he clutched her soft cheeks tightly, seeing her words were nothing more than provoking him.

“Just because that f*g mark has disappeared from my neck, you are saying that we are not mates? You are already thinking about leaving me?!” He asked, then slid his palm down to her neck where her mark was.

“We are soulmates. We are only made for each other.

Our love cannot be proven by a mark on my neck. We are not going to separate ever! I will f*g kill you if you even think about leaving me alone in this lifetime!” He declared, displaying all of his emotions in his words and eyes. He refused to allow her to look away from him.

The words that he spoke to her, did not even allow her to blink. The longer she looked deep into his forest green eyes she found herself lost to him again. Even though the mark had disappeared, she still felt the sparks rushing through her veins that warmed her heart. It made her feel alive and showed her exactly what Xavier was trying to tell her. Only the mark had disappeared but their bond was secure! Dean and Venus were still one. They were still soul mates.

Xavier let go of his tightened grip on her cheeks, brushed and slipped his fingers over her lips.

“You are mine, Kiara. Only mine!” He whispered, showing his possessive side that was even dangerous to himself. He looked like he would destroy himself and the world the day he no longer found her beside him. Kiara gave him a small nod even though tears escaped her eyes at seeing his possessiveness, obsession, and love for her. She could happily die now, without remorse after hearing his words.

“I am sorry” Kiara apologized while standing on her tiptoes to place a soft kiss on her mate’s lips. She needed to bring Xavier back to his normal mental state. She could not see him insecure over a departure that she never intended to do.

“I will never leave you, Xavier,” she vowed gently, breaking the kiss. His gaze softened once again. He had never felt anything like the physical contact he was experiencing right now. A thick layer of sparks adhered to every sensitive spot on his body, making his entire body become heated.

The Alpha refused to close his eyes as he felt his heartbeat race so quickly that he lost control of his emotions and crushed his lips on Kiara’s. When he put his hand around her waist, the space between them vanished in an instant. She smiled as she followed his lips and kissed him back.

She had spent her entire life believing that mating and marking were everything. She had the misconception that it was the sole bridge of a relationship and the pull that used to draw them together. But Xavier had just shown her the true meaning of love.

Pure and unquestionable, accepting each other the way they were.

Kiara broke the kiss and smiled at her mate. Xavier smiled back, finding her even more beautiful than before.

The cry of a newborn pup resonated throughout the packhouse, assuring everyone that Jennifer and her baby girl were safe. Beta Kaiden had dashed back to the pack house as soon as the fight was over to see his mate and newborn.

During the fight, everyone had received a mind-link from Doctors that Jennifer and the pup were both safe. This had given everyone a positive boost. They needed to overcome their advisories as quickly as possible so they could welcome the newest member of their family.

All the ranking wolves except for the Beta couple that had been in the clearing had witnessed everything and were now smiling at the happy Alpha couple.

The whole pack was filled with warmth and love. Luna Martha leaned her head on Alpha Sawyer's shoulder, they kept holding each other's hand while they admired the happy lives their daughters had found. Zander had allowed Adira to stand on her feet as they hugged each other to see that everything was fine.

"It seems that we have gotten our happy ending, Xavier," Kiara remarked as she looked at the Moon shining over their heads.

Yes, but not before you mark me as yours again, Kiara," Xavier grinned. Kiara's eyes shone in happiness and excitement. How could she forget that she could mark him again! She watched as her mate grinned from ear to ear. So did that mean that he had intentionally not telling her this fact earlier?! Kiara decided to play a little with her Alpha as well.

"I thought I was just a surrogate," Kiara raised her brows.

But Xavier's big hands pulled her closer to him so he could taste her lips again. She smiled and wrapped her arms around his neck while kissing him back.

In the next second he moaned, feeling his woman's teeth digging deeper into his neck once again. The feeling of being marked once again, brought Xavier back to life. He could not control himself and marked Kiara again.

"My woman is no longer the 'Alpha's surrogate.."

Recommended Novels

Read Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 75

Alpha's Surrogate Chapter 75

Xavier and Meow special. (One day in Xavier's office room)

'Meowww...To draw her master's attention, the little white cat placed her paws on his thighs once again.

"What?" Xavier furrowed his brows, trying not to let his heart melt in front of her gorgeous eyes. The cat dipped her paw into her empty bowl while making a cuter face.

"No, you are not getting any more, Xavier answered.

Kiara had told him that Meow was gaining weight and that the Vet had instructed her to put her on a diet for a few days.

Kiara was pretty cold-hearted these days for the sake of her cat's health, so when Meow couldn't soften her mistress's heart, she would sneak into Xavier's office where there was another bowl looking for a handout.

"Meowwww.." she let out a longer meow this time.

How dare he refuse her?!

"I said, no! Kiara has warned me not to feed you because she has already served you breakfast. If she finds out that I have given you food, she will throw me out of the room."The Alpha explained to the white cat without breaking eye contact with her before returning his attention to his laptop.

She would return to Kiara if he did not pay attention to her.

Xavier's belief that she would leave was quickly thrown out the window when the cat sat on his laptop keyboard obscuring the screen. The Alpha let out an irritated chuckle.

This cat was really something. His tolerance was often challenged by this little one.

"Move" he ordered in the coldest tone.

"Meowwww.." she talked back in the same tone.

"I said, move!" The Alpha growled, acting all mighty as he tried to demonstrate he was the one in power.

"MMEEEEOOOEWWWWWW.." The cat snapped back in the same tone.

"UURRGHH!" In despair, Xavier slammed his head on the desk. fvck! He couldn't even scold her since she was so adorable. During this fifteen-minute period, he'd done everything he could to deny her but she would not obey him.

Meow sprang up from his laptop in delight when she noticed Xavier grabbing her treats from his drawer.

"I will give you only a few then you will go back to playing. Do you understand me?" He offered as a deal then placed the treats on the desk. He was certain he saw a proud grin on her lips before she pounced on the treats. He sat back in his chair, watching her eat quietly. The more he attempted to ignore this cat, the more she tried to gain his attention.

Why would she come to him for help? She could have gone to any of the other pack members.

He gave her a closer look. She had been so tiny when he brought her to the pack house, but she had filled out a lot and looked much healthier and cuter today. She would even try to boss him around, and he had no choice but to surrender to this little one. When he saw her asking for a treat again, he cracked a small smile. She pawed him once more, demanding more.

Xavier fed her a few more while he ran his hand through her soft fur. The Alpha looked around to make sure there was no one else in his office, before he kissed her furry little head. He smiled. fvck! He'd finally done it! It was so easy!

"Xavier," Kiara's voice startled Alpha, who quickly pulled away from the cat. Why was she here?

"Is Meow here?" She asked. She had come to the office in search of her fur baby.

f k! Don't tell her that I fed you" Xavier told the cat, swiftly hiding the treats back in his drawer and wh!pping Meow's mouth with a handkerchief before Kiara entered the room.

"Oh, you are together," Kiara entered with a smile.

"Yes, she came in just now," Xavier smiled back sweetly at his mate.

"Meow, I told you not to disturb Xavier, baby. Let's go. We will play" Kiara began to lead the cat out of the room. Xavier exhaled deeply in relief. If Kiara had caught him giving her contraband, he would have been dead! That's when he noticed the cat peeking at him from under Kiara's arms. He grinned, his finger resting on his lips.

"SHHHH," he smiled at her.

It was a sweet little secret between Meow and the Alpha!

Recommended Novels