Chapter 1001

1001 The chaos escalates (1)

This morning, the residents of Snow City and the outsiders inadvertently saw a scene that shocked them.

The majestic and ancient castle that stood tall in the cloud zone suddenly burst out with a loud bang. Then, a small half of the castle was enveloped in flames that soared into the sky!

The explosion came so suddenly that by the time everyone regained their senses, the flames had already spread out.

The huge castle turned into a huge torch in an instant, and black smoke soared into the sky!

This flame was different from ordinary flames. It had a trace of fire energy aura. It was clearly triggered by a fire-type spell or a spell scroll!

To deal with this kind of special magic fire, only mages could personally put out the fire, because after ordinary water was poured on it, not only would it not have the effect of extinguishing the fire, but it would also be like adding oil to the fire, making the fire more serious.

When the castle servants who were trying to put out the fire realized this, they immediately gave up and rushed out of the castle in a panic.

The kitchen area where the fire first erupted was now in ruins. All the items had been turned to ashes!

Then, the flames that had lost control began to spread to the surroundings, devouring the precious items and living creatures in the castle.

Under the gazes of countless people, the flustered servants and Castle guards dug out the items from all the exits, their faces covered in soot.

A large number of mages appeared around the castle, continuously casting Water-type spells or tearing fire-extinguishing scrolls to put out the growing flames!

Even if the Save was not ideal, the mages still persevered, because they knew the importance of the castle, and they all wanted to minimize the loss!

It was just that in the process of casting a spell, a large amount of energy would definitely be consumed. After these mages put out a portion of the flames, they were already exhausted.

“Dammit, who did this? If I find out, I’ll definitely make him wish he was dead!”

One of the castle’s managers gritted his teeth and roared in anger. As he watched the castle being engulfed by the flames, his entire body trembled unconsciously.

Building such a huge castle would undoubtedly consume a large amount of wealth and resources. Not only was it the residence of the Lord of Snow City, but it was also an important symbol and inheritance.

It could be said that this castle was the same as Snow City, both of which were the most precious items of bargof!

Now that balguv was leading the Army to eliminate the otherworldly demons, the castle was naturally under their care. These managers did not dare to be careless and did their jobs well.

Unfortunately, disaster fell from the sky. No one had expected such a thing to happen!

They had always paid great attention to the castle's fire prevention, so it was impossible for an accidental fire to happen.

The answer was obvious. Someone had deliberately set the fire to destroy the castle!

The other party had chosen to do this when bargof was not in Snow City, so they definitely had a plan. Thus, they had to inform the Lord immediately.

No one dared to hide or delay this kind of thing. Otherwise, once bargov found out, he would inevitably be cruelly punished.

As for whether or not they would be punished for this matter, and how heavy the punishment would be, there was no time to consider it now.

At most, he would escape from Snow City and hide before bargof returned. After all, reputation and status were only secondary compared to his life.

At the same time, there were also some people who were extremely worried about the future of Snow City. They wondered if it could survive this disaster.

As the castle caught fire and attracted the attention of countless people, some people with special identities hid in the crowd and looked coldly at the collapsing Castle.

At the same time, they were conversing in private in extremely low voices.

good Lord, such a big move, he actually burned down bargof's Castle!

"Who did this? You really have guts!"

why didn't I think of that? sigh, someone else got there first!

"How much money will I get for burning down bargof's Castle? Those guys who did it really struck it rich this time!"

The person who said this was naturally a contract cultivator who had accepted the mission to destroy the city and was hiding in the city.

Looks of envy and jealousy appeared on their faces, and their feelings were complicated.

No matter how much the bounty was, it had nothing to do with them. They no longer hesitated and decided to act immediately.

otherwise, once balguv returned to snow city, he would definitely launch a large-scale search for revenge. by then, it would be too late to take action.

At the thought of this, the contract cultivators who had accepted the mission immediately disappeared into the crowd and ran towards the important buildings in Snow City.

in the blink of an eye, snow city was in complete chaos!

Clouds of thick smoke began to rise from every corner of Snow City. Shouts and curses could be heard.

The soldiers of Snow City were running around with murderous intent, chasing away the panicking crowd on the street, telling them to go home to hide.

Groups of native cultivators, who were being chased by the soldiers of Snow City, appeared in the streets and alleys from time to time, causing chaos.

When the outsiders who had come from other parts of the continent saw this, their eyes suddenly lit up. After looking around, they quietly ran to a corner, pulled out a piece of rag to cover their faces, and then waved their sabers and rushed out.

However, most of the masked men were hooligans, thieves, and the like. They had already begun to take advantage of the chaos when it happened!

With the participation of these people with ill intentions, the already chaotic Snow City was thrown into complete chaos. This actually helped the native cultivators and gave them a chance to escape.

All the officials and soldiers felt a headache as they faced the city that was almost covered in thick smoke. They put down everything they had to do and rushed to the streets.

While they were trying their best to maintain order, they were also engaged in an intense battle with the masked men.

For a time, the streets and alleys were filled with people fighting and blood splattered all over the city.

The originally chaotic scene gradually escalated into a riot.

The ordinary residents of Snow City were also affected by this. From time to time, some masked men would break through their doors and enter their homes to plunder.

Facing these masked bandits who were taking advantage of the chaos to Rob them, the residents of Snow City would not just sit back and wait for their deaths. They roared and picked up all kinds of weapons, fighting against these masked bandits.

Some of the nobles and influential families in Snow City also stepped forward and brandished their swords to protect their interests.

One after another, bloodied bodies were abandoned on both sides of the road, and no one paid any attention to them.

Because of the riot, the gates of Snow City were quickly closed. A large number of soldiers appeared on the city walls and turned to face the city, preventing the masked thugs from escaping.

As expected, groups of masked men soon appeared near the city wall and began to use various means to try to cross the tall, snow-covered city wall.

When the soldiers guarding the city saw this, they immediately used their bows and arrows to shoot randomly, preventing them from approaching the city wall.

However, these masked men who tried to cross the city wall were basically all cultivators. With their powerful strength, the ordinary city wall really couldn't stop them.

Under the cover of their companions, strong figures rushed to the city wall like lightning. Then, they climbed on the wall like geckoes and quickly climbed up the wall.

In just a few breaths, these cultivators had already rushed to the top of the city wall and were fighting with the city guards.

As soon as a gap was created, a large number of masked cultivators immediately rushed in and suppressed the soldiers and cultivators of the city.

After getting rid of the enemies blocking their way, they quickly jumped off the city wall and fled into the distance!

Behind him, xueman city, which was covered in blood and thick smoke, let out a silent cry. The tall castle was finally swallowed by the fire and collapsed with a loud bang.

Chapter 1002

1002 The same race as the Dragon Lotter (1)

Just as Snow City was on fire, the Tigerman Captain and the others had already left quietly, heading straight for River View Village.

Compared to the cultivators who had rushed out after the city gate was sealed, they were more composed and uninjured.

The Tigermen Captain, who had just left, did not know that their actions had caused Snow City to fall into complete chaos. Snow City was currently in a state of chaos, and even the soldiers who had stayed behind had suffered significant losses.

After receiving the message from the messenger bird, bargof flew into a rage. Without any hesitation, he led his soldiers and returned to Holy Dragon City.

If he continued to stand guard near River View Village, Snow City would either be reduced to ruins or would have a new owner!

As for the heavenly demon race, who the f * ck would care about them? I don't want the land of the river view Village anymore!

Filled with anger, bargof hurriedly returned to Snow City, but he inadvertently ran into the Tigermen Captain and the others who were excitedly returning to River View Village.

However, balguv only treated them as ordinary adventurers. He did not know that these people on the roadside were the culprits who burned down his Castle!

Otherwise, even if Balgub returned to Snow City two days later, he would still catch up with the Tiger Captain and dismember his body to vent his anger!

Just like that, the victim and the culprit brushed past each other without a single ripple.

After the soldiers of the city of snow disappeared, the Tiger Captain and the others heaved a long sigh of relief, and their faces were filled with excitement.

Their contribution this time was not small. The Holy Dragon City would probably reward them with at least a hundred gold coins!

Because of their daily expenses and weapon investments, the adventurer team's expenses were not small. It was not easy to save money, and a hundred gold coins were almost equivalent to half of their wealth!

Perhaps if the Holy Dragon City was happy, the reward would be even more!

With a hint of anticipation and excitement, the group could not help but pick up their pace, quickly disappearing into the dense forest.

Tang Zhen sat on the top of a mountain near Stone City. He held an ancient book in his hand and was carefully reading the contents within.

Understanding the history of this world would be very helpful for his invasion.

In fact, the Holy Dragon City had a group of people who specialized in analyzing and sorting out detailed information about the invasion of the world, and then handed it to Tang Zhen and the military for reference.

After all, this was not child's play, but a bloody war. There was no room for any carelessness.

Just as he was reading a story about a certain God, Tang Zhen gently frowned. He put away the ancient book in his hand and looked at the sky above his head.

The vortex above the stone city grew larger and larger. Its surface area had long surpassed the stone city on the ground, and it was constantly spreading.

Lightning snaked around the thick black-gray clouds, as if it was the end of the world.

Like a lid, the clouds completely covered the land under their feet. It had been a long time since the sun had shone here.

A dark and oppressive aura had always shrouded this land.

At the border of the dark clouds, three black dots were flying toward Stone City. The last ray of sunlight before entering the dark clouds fell on them, reflecting the dazzling light.

As the Holy Dragon city's influence continued to expand, the originally limited map view had already reached a radius of a hundred kilometers. Tang Zhen only needed to change the view and he could clearly see what this flying thing was from above.

One of the three dragons was Lott, the one who had signed a contract with him and earned a large amount of gold coins from him!

Ever since it was confirmed that it could use the Soul Stone to exchange for gold coins from Tang Zhen, the life of giant dragon Lott had become exciting and fulfilling. It felt that it had finally reached the peak of its Dragon life.

He was like an ordinary person who could only rely on a meager salary to live, and suddenly found a way to make extra money. Moreover, his daily income was more than what he originally earned in a year!

In this case, it was already good enough that Lott didn't go crazy with joy!

Therefore, during this period of time, the giant dragon Lott became extremely hardworking. He racked his brains to collect soul stones, which he then exchanged for piles and piles of gold coins.

It had now realized its seemingly impossible dream of covering the cave with shiny gold coins and rolling around in happiness!

Although the gold coins barely covered the ground, it was comfortable to lie down!

However, after lying down for two days, the giant dragon Lott began to feel that the gold coin carpet was a little thin. It suddenly wanted to bury its body in the gold coins to sleep.

Thus, the giant dragon Lott began to get busy again. His huge figure began to swim around Tianji province, looking for a place where soul stones were.

In the end, one day, the great dragon Lott met his friend by chance, a loser Dragon who was even worse off than him!

When two old friends met, they naturally had a deep conversation.

There was a saying that went, " the poor suddenly become rich, but they stick out their chests and show their bellies. it was very suitable to be used on the giant dragon Lott at this time. As a giant dragon who was on the path of success, Lott's words and actions were full of confidence and pride.

After hearing that Lott had covered the cave with gold coins in a very short time, his giant dragon companion was so envious that he was drooling.

After a round of flattery, the giant dragon Lott, whose vanity was satisfied, finally agreed to make a fortune with his friends.

Hence, the two dragons worked together to collect and find soul stones.

Who would have thought that they would accidentally enter the territory of another Wyrms while collecting them, and that the other party was a beautiful white female Wyrms?

The great dragon Lott, who was no longer short of money, immediately took a liking to this fair and beautiful female dragon who was also in a 'poor' state. In order to win the Beauty's favor, the great dragon Lott couldn't wait to tell her about his successful experience again.

Therefore, in the following time, the number of Dragons looking for soul stones increased to three!

The three terrifying giant Dragons moved in a group, naturally frightening all the creatures they passed by. They hid on the ground and shivered, watching the huge legendary creature circling above their heads.

Fortunately, they were only looking for soul stones and were not interested in destroying things.

After a round of wanton plundering, the three giant Dragons returned with a full load and immediately rushed back to River View Village, ready to use the soul stones to exchange for cute gold coins!

It did not take long for the three dragons to arrive at Stone City.

The Holy Dragon City cultivators on the ground, as well as the captives in the valley, all saw the majestic giant dragon in the sky, but they did not make a fuss.

One of the dragons had already been seen by them several times, and they had long lost interest in it.

However, due to the existence of the giant dragon, these native cultivators were even more afraid of the Holy Dragon City.

After all, they were legendary creatures that could destroy an entire city. Many people would never have the chance to see them in their entire lives, and some even thought that they didn't exist.

But today, more than one giant dragon had appeared and flown over the stone city.

The otherworldly demons were indeed mysterious and powerful!

The three dragons naturally did not know what these "ants" on the ground were thinking. Instead, they all flew to an open space in the stone city.

When they landed, the two giant Dragons that came with Lotter were completely stunned!

A huge Gold Mountain made of gold coins appeared in front of them. Under the illumination of the lights at the side, it shone with a dazzling light.

This kind of deliberately created lighting effect could not only make cultivators drool, but it was also enough to make Dragons go crazy!

In addition to the gold coins, there were also countless colorful gemstones that looked more beautiful and shiny. They were mixed in with the Golden Mountain, making the Dragon almost stop breathing.

Of course, they didn't know that gold was piled up like a mountain in Holy Dragon City, and gemstones were just synthetic items.

"Mine, it's all mine!"

bastard, this is mine! Don't you dare snatch it from me!

The two giant Dragons pounced at the Golden Mountain at the same time. When they saw a Dragon fighting with them, they immediately fought with each other mercilessly like wild dogs protecting their food, preventing the Dragon from approaching.

For a time, dust flew up in the open space, and the sound of beating and Dragon roars lingered in the ears.

Everyone who saw this scene from afar was dumbfounded. After all, it was rare to see Dragons fighting like rogues!

Chapter 1003

1003 Hiring a giant dragon

In the empty space where the Golden Mountain was placed in Stone City, smoke and dust rose up like a sandstorm.

At the same time, a series of frightening Dragon roars could be heard from the smoke and dust.

The two giant Dragons rolled on the ground without a care for their image. At the same time, they kept throwing each other far away. Then, with ecstatic faces, they desperately pounced toward the Golden Mountain.

Unfortunately, before they could run a few steps, their tails would be bitten by their companions who were chasing after them. Then, the two sides would fight again until one of the dragons was thrown out!

Fortunately, the area of this open space was extremely large. Even if the two giant Dragons were to make a scene here, they did not have to worry about hurting the innocent.

Seeing his two companions fighting each other without any regard for their face, the giant dragon Lott's head was in a mess. He suddenly had a feeling that bringing his two companions here would definitely cause a serious taint on the image of the Dragon race.

After all, the two dragons were covered in dust and looked flustered and exasperated. They didn't look majestic at all!

stop it! Stop messing around! These gold coins don't belong to you!

At the same time as he shouted, the giant dragon Lott rushed forward quickly and forcefully separated the two dragons that were fighting.

"Don't mess around, we need to get down to business!"

After hearing Lott's roar, the two dragons stopped fighting and gradually recovered from their frenzied state.

They turned to look at the mountain of gold coins, then turned to the Dragon, rock, and said, "Buddy, you didn't lie to us. This place is indeed filled with gold coins!"

yeah, why don't we just take the gold coins? why do we have to exchange them with soul stones? after all, those things are shiny and beautiful.

"I finally realized that even an idiot like you can be smart!"

"Yingluo, you're the idiot, your whole family is an idiot!"

The two dragons quarreled for a while more, but they did not make a move. Instead, they came to an agreement in a very short time and wanted to be bandits for once.

Upon hearing this, the giant dragon Loke immediately broke out in a cold sweat and hurriedly stopped him.

“I say, are you two crazy? what did I tell you before we came?”

The strength of the guy here is quite abnormal. I was abused by him back then and didn’t have the power to fight back at all.

If the two of you want to sign a slave contract, then I won’t stop you.”

After saying that, the giant dragon Lott glanced at the mountain of gold coins and said in a regretful tone, “There’s a strange power protecting this Golden Mountain. Other than that guy, no one else can enter, so I’d advise you to give up as soon as possible,”

The two dragons pondered for a moment before nodding slowly.

In their opinion, since the Dragon Lott had agreed to lead everyone to become rich, it was impossible for it to deceive them on this matter.

Moreover, there were indeed many powerful ants here, and the aura they emitted made them feel a little frightened.

So, it was better to follow the agreement and Exchange soul stones for gold coins.

When the great dragon Lott saw that his two companions had finally listened to his advice, he heaved a long sigh of relief in his heart.

The experience of Tang Zhen beating it up was something that the giant dragon Lott could never forget. If his two companions did not listen to his advice, they would definitely suffer the same treatment.

So before this tragedy happened, the giant dragon Loke had to stop his companions.

At this moment, Tang Zhen was slowly walking towards the three huge Dragons. The terrifying aura that he naturally emitted caused the two huge Dragons who had just arrived to feel their hearts tremble.

A thought flashed through their minds. It seemed like the Dragon Loke did not lie to them. The young man in front of them was definitely a terrifying powerhouse!

Since that was the case, they naturally had to abide by the principle of Equal Exchange, in case the deal could not be carried out.

After Tang Zhen appeared, the giant dragon hao te immediately took small steps and walked to the front of Tang Zhen, slowly lowering his huge head.

Although this scene was very funny, considering the contract he had signed, the freedom of the giant dragon hao te was still in the hands of others, so it was not strange.

“I’ve brought two companions with me this time. They’ve also collected a lot of soul stones and would like to exchange them for gold coins.”

Tang Zhen nodded, indicating that he could.

When the giant dragon had seen this, he immediately called out to his two companions excitedly. The three giant Dragons each spat out a large pile of shiny soul stones.

They had used a secret technique to store the soul stones. It wasn't. It was very big. However, it was enough to fill a small truck.

Who knew what these three guys had done? He actually managed to get so many soul stones at once?

He spread out his spiritual power, and after circling the soul stones once, he counted the number.

"Well done, these gold coins are yours."

As Tang Zhen's voice fell, three large piles of shiny gold coins immediately flew out from the gold Mountain that was protected by a mysterious force. There were also some beautiful gemstones mixed in.

The three dragons looked at the pile of gold coins in front of them. His movements were as fast as lightning. He kept the gold coins, afraid that others would snatch them away!

Now that the exchange was over, the next thing the Dragon had to do was to immediately send the gold coins back to its cave, and then set off again to find more soul stones.

Tang Zhen suddenly opened his mouth just as the giant Dragons were about to leave.

I don't know if you Dragons are willing to accept employment. If possible, I hope to use gold coins to hire you to do something for me!

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, the three giant Dragons' eyes were the same.

Then, the White female dragon stood up and turned to Tang Zhen, "If you want to hire us, you have to pay a very high price. Of course, you have the ability to pay!

Tell me, what do you want to hire us for?"

Tang Zhen nodded and explained, "there are some enemies who are trying to harm me. However, I don't have the time to deal with them for the time being. So, I'll have to ask you to take action and intercept and harass them!"

As long as you can hold the demon Slayer Legion back, I will pay you a considerable Commission.

There is no upper limit to this mission. The more enemies you delay, the more rewards you will receive. If you can delay all the enemies, I can give you ten more gold mountains!"

The three enormous Dragons' breathing immediately became hurried when they heard this. They exchanged glances with one another before looking at Tang Zhen at the same time.

"Human expert, are you sure you're not lying to us?"

I must remind you that even if you're very powerful, if you dare to deceive us, you'll still be hunted down by all the Dragon clans on the continent!"

Tang Zhen smiled when he heard this. He said to the three huge Dragons,"Of course I'm not lying to you. In order to express my sincerity, I can also temporarily pay you this Gold Mountain in advance. However, I hope you won't take the money and not do anything.

You guys are not to be trifled with, but I'm not to be trifled with either!"

The giant dragon noat looked at the calm Tang Zhen and his two companions who were filled with anticipation. He asked in a slightly hesitant tone.

"Do you guys think we should accept this mission?"

yes, of course I'll take it. I'd be a fool not to take it.

The White female dragon said firmly.

However, her gaze never moved. It was fixed on the sparkling gold Mountain, and she didn't even notice that she was drooling.

Chapter 1004

1004 Demon Slayer Legion (1)

The luochui province was connected to the Tianji province and was a vast area ruled by the Red Army.

Back then, because of the Empire's incapability and defeat, they had signed a Platinum treaty with the high Elves and ceded the luochui province to them.

The red Guards were extremely unhappy with this. After a bloody battle, the high Elves were driven out of the province of luochui. The province of luochui no longer had any relations with the Empire.

However, today, the demon Slayer Legion composed of a large number of cultivators and fanatics had crossed the dividing line between the two places and entered the sphere of influence of Tianji province.

They had been summoned by the divine decree and had spontaneously gathered together, preparing to drive the otherworldly demons away from this world.

From the name of the Army, it could be seen that they were here to exterminate the otherworldly demons!

The power of faith was unparalleled. This made them completely fearless of their own safety. They charged forward bravely in the direction of Snow City!

With so many people moving together, the commotion they created was naturally quite shocking, attracting countless people's attention along the way.

In fact, ever since the members of the demon Slayer Legion entered the Tianji province, they had already been known by the local lords.

However, the Lords did not act rashly against the fanatical members of the demon Slayer Legion. Instead, they allowed them to pass through their territories.

After all, the real purpose of this group of people was to deal with the otherworldly demons that had suddenly appeared, not to encroach on his territory.

Since that was the case, they did not have to start a conflict with the members of the demon Slayer Legion. Although the members of the demon Slayer Legion were a mess, their overall strength could not be underestimated.

Furthermore, they had unwavering beliefs, which was the most terrifying thing.

If he blocked the demon Slayer Legion's way and caused their dissatisfaction, the demon Slayer Legion would direct their anger on him. That would be asking for trouble.

At that time, the demon Slayer Legion, which lacked supplies, would definitely launch an attack on his Castle, and then plunder it wantonly after the city was broken!

Therefore, with the tacit approval of the various Lords, the demon Slayer Legion did not encounter any obstacles along the way and headed towards Snow City.

Some believers and cultivators from Tianji province also joined the demon Slayer Legion in the process of advancing, making the scale of the Army even larger.

The followers of the gods saw the magnificent scene of countless demon slayers marching forward. They felt proud and became more fanatical.

Along the way, they kept claiming that this demon-slaying operation was a battle between the gods and that it was destined to leave its name in history!

At this moment, on the main road leading to Snow City, a huge and chaotic Army was slowly advancing.

Fanatical believers in all kinds of clothes and cultivators with astonishing auras were mixed in. Some of them were walking while others were riding on warhorses. They were extremely eye-catching in the team.

In addition to the high-end combat power of the demon Slayer Legion, most of them were ordinary believers who had almost gone bankrupt and had prepared travel fees, weapons, and equipment.

Along the way, many of them had become exhausted, but with the support of their beliefs, they had persevered. Their willpower was extremely tenacious.

After walking for an entire morning, the exhausted members of the demon Slayer Legion decided to rest on both sides of the road.

Some of them were preparing food to fill their stomachs, some were sleeping to replenish their energy, and some demon slayers began to pray silently to the gods they believed in, hoping to be given a great divine power to defeat the extraterrestrial demons.

This kind of devout praying believers could be found everywhere in the demon Slayer Legion.

Ever since the demon Slayer Legion was established, fanatical believers were constantly born among the believers who participated in the expedition. When they prayed, perhaps they were infused with divine power, and overnight, they turned from ordinary people to powerful divine warriors.

The appearance of such a miracle stimulated the devout believers of the gods, making them more determined to exterminate the otherworldly demons.

At this moment, the demon slayers' greatest wish was to get to Snow City as soon as possible and fight to the death with the otherworldly demons.

At the same time, all sorts of rumors about the otherworldly demons continued to spread among the demon Slayer Army.

"Have you heard? The otherworldly demons all came from a world that was extremely similar to hell!

There's no sunlight there, and it's filled with hunger and pain. All the otherworldly demons are brutal and bloodthirsty, and they have no humanity."

It's indeed the otherworldly demons. This style is very suitable for them!

"That's only secondary. I heard that otherworldly demons like to swallow living creatures alive, and the younger the better!

I've heard that many villages near Snow City were invaded by the otherworldly demons, and all the villagers were eaten by them."

"This group of brutal evil demons should indeed be hacked into pieces!"

I've heard that someone's selling a sacred magical potion that's specifically used to restrain the heavenly demons. As long as it's applied to a weapon, it can cause fatal damage to the heavenly demons. Why don't we go and take a look? "

"Oh, there's actually such a thing! He had to buy some, if it was effective. It's worth it no matter how expensive it is."

Similar conversations would occur from time to time in the camp of the demon Slayer Legion. In the eyes of the demon Slayer Legion members, Holy Dragon City had completely transformed into an unpardonable demon with the intention of destroying all life in this world.

If he did not defeat them, the entire world would probably be reduced to ruins!

In fact, other than those exaggerated descriptions, the Holy Dragon City was indeed as they said, a huge threat to the safety of this world!

This was because Lou Cheng's goal in invading the Otherworld was to obtain the world's origin. Every time he plundered, he would cause great damage to this world!

If all of the world's origin was plundered, then this world would indeed be no different from being destroyed. If it wanted to be restored, only God knew how long it would take.

Therefore, it made sense for these natives to describe Holy Dragon City as a demon that could destroy the world.

However, it was extremely difficult to plunder all the origin Energy of a world. As the origin Energy of a world gradually decreased, the resistance of the world's will would become more and more intense.

In the end, what the cultivators in Lou Cheng had to face was almost the power of the entire world!

This power was as vast as the ocean, and its terrifying power could no longer be described with words. Even the most powerful tower would not be able to withstand this attack that gathered the power of the entire world.

That was why the worlds that were truly destroyed were mostly small worlds that weren't too big. There were very few worlds that were as huge as timreal that were destroyed.

Tang town did not intend to exterminate them during this invasion. Firstly, it was the Holy Dragon City. Without the strength, they would not do such an overconfident thing.

Secondly, they were also afraid that Holy Dragon City would suffer heavy losses in the face of the world's will's crazy counterattack.

There was another point. Tang Zhen was a little resistant to this kind of invasion.

This was not because he was soft-hearted, but because Tang Zhen felt that if they continued to invade One World after another in this manner, Holy Dragon City would become a war machine for the cornerstone platform to plunder the world's origin, until it was destroyed in the invasion war one day!

This was not the result that Tang Zhen wanted.

Therefore, Tang Zhen's intention was to use the magical teleportation method of the cornerstone platform to complete the mission and strengthen the Holy Dragon City through other methods.

This method was called borrowing a chicken to lay an egg.

Chapter 1005

1005 The demon Slayer Legion that has changed (1)

On both sides of the road leading to Snow City, there were all kinds of demon slayers sitting, and the end of the road could not be seen.

An old man with a weathered face had a rusty axe with only its sharp blade shining coldly beside him. The strong beastmen were carefully cleaning their crude battle armors, while the mages and cultivators were sitting on the ground, cultivating in their own ways.

The different levels of society that were originally impossible to work together had now come together to fight side by side because of the same goal.

This scene was extremely visually impactful, causing all the travelers who passed by to subconsciously speed up, trying to leave this oppressive area as soon as possible.

They didn't have a good impression of the demon Slayer Legion. In fact, they even felt some fear.

On the verdant grass, a young Demon Slayer stood up from the ground. After looking around for a moment, he held his stomach and ran towards a slope.

The meal of worms he had the day before had left a taste of dirt in his mouth. His stomach was also constantly rumbling because of it. So far, he had already gone to the toilet six or seven times.

However, in order to fill their stomachs, the demon slayers didn't have much choice. Even the worms in the soil couldn't be eaten every meal.

Along the way, their food had long been exhausted. In the beginning, they had to use local materials or buy them with money to barely ensure that they had enough food.

It could be said that these demon slayers were like locusts. Wherever they passed, nothing that could be eaten was wasted. Except for the ordinary people, the vegetables and unripe grains in the fields were all killed by them!

The people who had suffered losses, in the face of the mighty demon Slayer Legion, were mostly angry but did not dare to speak.

However, by now, the money they had brought with them had almost been used up.

The demon slayers who had been on the run all the way were now only left with the weapons in their hands and the determination to kill the demon!

However, this kind of thing could not fill one's stomach.

Just a few days ago, someone finally couldn't bear the hunger and ransacked a village, snatching a lot of food.

Once such a thing happened, it was like a long dam that had collapsed, and there was no possibility of stopping it.

Soon, a second and third village was ransacked, and there were even deaths in the process!

Even if the demon slayers had no intention of killing, their actions were no different from killing. It was equivalent to pushing the villagers who had been robbed to the end of the road.

Without food, how would the villagers survive the coming days?

Unknowingly, the demon Slayer Legion, which was shouting about slaying demons and protecting the Dao, had gradually changed. Even though the demon Slayer kept claiming that they were protecting the peace of the world when they robbed, the villagers who were robbed still looked at them as if they were demons.

The villagers didn't know how terrifying the otherworldly demons were, but the methods of the demon Slayer Legion had made them unable to live!

Therefore, after the demon Slayer Legion left, these villagers who had been robbed ran to the Lord's castle collectively, begging their Lord to seek justice for them.

However, what awaited them was a tightly shut city gate and fierce-looking soldiers who whipped them back with strong leather whips.

As a noble Lord, how could he provoke the powerful Demon Slayer Army for a group of lowly commoners?

It was just a few villagers starving to death, these feudal lords did not care at all.

As a result, the demon slayers, who had been nervous after the robbery, did not receive a crusade from the local lords, which also allowed them to finally relax.

Very soon, the robbery happened again.

The demon slayers, who were still not condemned after the incident, began to act unscrupulously. They even began to have the idea that their efforts should be repaid by these protected people!

If they refused, they would be going against all living beings. They could even be called heretics and sympathized with the otherworldly demonic race!

This thought spread quickly and was acknowledged by many demon slayers.

So in a very short time, the demon Slayer Army began to change rapidly, from the original army of justice to bandits who robbed along the way!

After seeing this scene, some of the more intelligent people disdained to be in the same team as the demon slayers who were gradually turning into demons. They all chose to leave silently and embark on a lonely journey.

It wasn't that no one objected to this method, but unfortunately, in the end, they couldn't persuade these demon slayers who wanted to fill their stomachs. They were even cursed and attacked.

These demon slayers had already walked further and further down the path of self-indulgence, but they didn't know that under such circumstances, who would do something in vain?

It could be said that in the current Demon Slayer Army, the majority of the remaining people were bandits and lunatics. They relied on their twisted obsessions to move towards the snow-covered territory.

Behind the slope, the young man walked out from a trail of feces and urine.

He tightened the grass rope around his waist and was about to return to the team with his Pitchfork when he suddenly noticed a few black dots at the end of his sight.

They continued to approach in the air, gradually revealing their true appearance.

"This is a Kasaya."

The young man stared at the creature in the sky in a daze. An emotion called fear suddenly emerged and spread.

After being stunned for half a minute, the young man finally came back to his senses. Looking at the flying object that was heading straight for the demon Slayer Legion, he opened his mouth and roared madly.

run! The Dragon is here!

However, as soon as he finished speaking, he heard an angry roar that made his soul tremble. Then, he saw a huge figure fall from the sky and smash down on his head.

“Bang!”

The giant dragon Lott landed on the slope and ignored the ants that it had crushed under its feet. It flapped its wings and opened its mouth.

“BOOM!”

A ball of flame shot out from its mouth and quickly flew towards the shocked demon slayers, exploding in the crowd!

A sea of fire suddenly appeared, and the Dragon flames that could melt steel splashed among the demon slayers. Anyone touched by the fire was immediately turned into charcoal, and the injured were in so much pain that they wished they were dead!

The giant dragon Lott, who had spewed out a ball of flames, flapped its wings and left the ground. It began to circle above the panicking Demon Slayer Army.

The two giant Dragons that had come with it were also trampling wantonly in different areas at this moment. Countless demon slayers fled in panic, and the ground was covered with corpses.

don't panic, everyone! Attack these Dragons together!

Some of the cultivators in the demon Slayer Legion chose to stand up at this moment. They cooperated with the fanatical believers who had God-given power and began to attack the three-headed Dragon.

Bows, arrows, Spears, and all kinds of spells rose from the ground, like fireworks, and smashed toward the Dragon in the sky.

...

In the face of such a concentrated attack, even the dragons would be afraid. They began to gradually fly into the sky and eventually flew away.

Seeing this, the demon slayers on the ground finally let out a long breath and sat on the ground powerlessly.

1006 Aboriginal gods (1)

After the attack, wails could be heard from both sides of the road.

A middle-aged believer who had been splashed by the scorching Dragon flames was kneeling on the ground and taking off his burnt leather armor.

The burnt skin and flesh were exposed, and it was emitting a strange fragrance.

The middle-aged believer stuck the sword in his hand into the ground and gestured at the wound, shaking his head slightly.

blacksmith, help me cut off this rotten flesh. It's inconvenient for me to do it myself!

A middle-aged believer with a wrinkled face raised his head and shouted at a man who was rummaging through the corpses.

Hearing this, the muscular man threw away the body in his hand and picked up the saber.

“This poor bastard doesn’t have anything valuable on him!”

The blacksmith squatted in front of the middle-aged believer and spat on the body that had half its head burned off by the Dragon Flame. There was a trace of regret on his face.

“You’re so picky about the dead’s things. It’s already good enough that you can get a saber!”

The middle-aged believer took off his clothes, revealing a strong body full of scars. At the same time, he bit the wooden stick he picked up casually.

The blacksmith glanced at the wounds on the middle-aged believer’s body, took out a short knife from his tattered leather boots, and rubbed it against his sleeve.

“I’m not like you. You don’t want to enjoy your good fortune, why do you have to come here to atone for your sins?”

Look at what the demon Slayer Legion has become. We haven’t seen any heavenly demons, but we’ve done a lot of burning, killing, and plundering. I wonder who the demons are?”

It’s their business what they want to do. At the very least, my goal is very pure. It’s to drive away the otherworldly demons and use them to pay for the sins I’ve committed in the past!

The blacksmith snorted coldly, his tone somewhat unwilling, “I’m not going to slay demons, but I want to follow the demon Slayer Legion to earn a sum of money to support my son’s studies in the Academy!

I didn’t know that I wouldn’t have much business with this bunch of paupers. If I had known, I wouldn’t have come!”

As he complained, the blacksmith brought the knife close to the middle-aged believer’s wound and stabbed the tip of the knife into the rotten flesh without any hesitation.

With a swing of the sharp knife, the fist-sized piece of charred rotten meat fell from the middle-aged believer’s shoulder and fell to the ground.

During the entire cleaning process, the middle-aged believer did not even frown. His will was extremely strong.

“Please clean it up. This kind of wound is very troublesome. If you are not careful, it will rot and ooze pus!”

The middle-aged believer glanced at the hideous wound and said to the blacksmith in dissatisfaction.

“Hehe, why are you afraid of death? Then why did you still come back then?”

As he spoke, the blacksmith scraped the wound again with his short knife, kicking away all the rotten flesh, and dark red blood slowly flowed out.

He took out the herbs from his backpack, poured them on the wound, and then treated it with a ball of cloth and a strip of cloth. Only then did the blacksmith stop his work.

The middle-aged believer was already sweating profusely, and his body trembled from time to time. He nodded to the blacksmith to thank him.

The middle-aged believer glanced at the corpses around him. He half-knelt on the ground, his right hand holding the long sword that was stabbed into the ground. He lowered his head and began to pray.

under your protection, lost souls can return to their homeland, and the dead can rest in peace.

He was praying to the God he believed in to free the souls of these dead demon slayers!

It didn't matter if these demon slayers really came to kill demons or not. As long as they were in the same camp, they were qualified to be called comrades.

Now that these guests from far away had died in a foreign land, as a middle-aged believer from the same hometown, he naturally had to pray for these dead souls!

The blacksmith was sharpening the Battle Sword he had just picked up. He was somewhat disdainful of the middle-aged believer's behavior and did not pray for the dead like the middle-aged believer.

In the demon Slayer Legion, there were many people like blacksmiths. They only took the risk to join the expedition in order to earn a fortune, not just to kill demons.

They were exchanging their lives for a chance to make a fortune, but only a small number of lucky people would be able to achieve their goal.

When he was patrolling the battlefield just now, the blacksmith saw a cobbler from the same city dying in the chaos. The cobbler's stomach was torn apart, and it was a terrible sight.

The only thing the blacksmith could do was to dig a shallow pit and bury this unlucky fellow so that his corpse would not be exposed in the wilderness!

Just as the blacksmith was thinking about how to make more money, he suddenly felt that something was wrong with the atmosphere. He looked around and found that the source of the abnormality was the middle-aged believer.

The middle-aged believer, who was half-kneeling on the ground and praying, was gradually emitting a terrifying power. It was as if it had substance, making it difficult for people to breathe.

A dazzling light began to appear around his body, making people not dare to look at him directly.

Clang! Clang!

The blade in the blacksmith's hand fell to the ground, and he couldn't help but kneel on the ground. His eyes were filled with disbelief.

The middle-aged believer was like a god in his eyes, exuding a Majesty that terrified mortals.

This scene was also seen by the surrounding demon slayers. While they were shocked, they also chose to half-kneel on the ground and put their hands on their hearts to express their respect.

A pious old priest saw this scene and his eyes flashed with excitement. He kept muttering to himself.

I can actually feel the aura of a true God. Are they planning to use this method to tell us that they've been watching their believers? "

As he spoke, the old priest also knelt on the ground and began to pray to the God he believed in.

After about a minute, the middle-aged believer slowly stood up from his half-kneeling position and looked around.

The middle-aged believer was a completely different person from before!

The marks of time on his face had long disappeared. His eyes became even deeper, as if there were endless stars moving in them. The wound caused by the Dragon flames had also completely healed!

He raised the dazzling sword in his hand, and under the gaze of tens of thousands of demon slayers, the middle-aged believer's body slowly rose into the air.

A majestic and ancient voice came out of his mouth and echoed in the ears of all the demon slayers.

"The otherworldly demons are greedy by nature, and all the worlds they invade will be plunged into misery and suffering, completely turning into ruins!

Now that they had yet to officially descend, they had to be stopped to prevent a disaster from happening!

I'm melenes, your strong support. I will fight with you and exterminate the otherworldly demons from this world!"

As the middle-aged believer who was possessed by melonius roared, the sharp sword in his hand slashed into the void, and a dark crack appeared in front of everyone.

Through the crack, one could see a desolate and strange world with gray fog and black smoke floating in the air. Fiery red lava was constantly rolling in the lake.

All kinds of ugly and ferocious monsters were circling and roaring in this world, trying to rush out of the crack!

This was a world that belonged to the gods. They lived here and looked down on the countless living creatures in this world!

The world's origin source that Tang Zhen had been searching for all this time existed in these small worlds that were formed by relying on the main world. No wonder he had been unable to find anything despite secretly searching for it several times.

This was because the power of the world's origin had already condensed into a physical form, becoming the legendary gods of timriel, hiding in the small world and not coming out!

However, as the Holy Dragon city's arrival date gradually approached, these native gods who felt the impending crisis finally couldn't sit still!

Therefore, they chose this way to announce their existence and encourage their believers to fight.

The temprier continent, which was in a precarious state, became even more chaotic due to the Civil strife and the appearance of the otherworldly demons.

...

Chapter 1007

1007 Teleportation through the city gate! 1!

Hewang village, outside Stone City.

Tang Zhen stood on the mountain peak with his hands behind his back. He read the information he had just received and frowned.

There was a huge change in the situation. Perhaps they felt that the Holy Dragon City was getting closer and closer, and those hidden enemies finally jumped out!

In just a few days, more than one Aboriginal deity had shown up and firmly encouraged their believers to fight to the death with the otherworldly demons!

The real indigenous gods couldn't leave the small world, and what appeared were not the true bodies of the gods, but some hosts similar to clones.

However, this was not important to the believers.

The appearance of the Aboriginal gods had greatly boosted the morale of the demon Slayer legions, and they were now heading straight for Snow City with high morale.

The feudal lords of Tianji province, who were originally hesitant, also quickly assembled their troops and prepared to participate in this demon-slaying war!

With that, Holy Dragon City was once again at the heart of the struggle.

Due to the appearance of the indigenous creatures, Tang Zhen's original plan to secretly disrupt the situation on the continent was completely disrupted. This made him have no choice but to give up his original gentle invasion plan and began to formulate new countermeasures.

One thing was for sure, and that was the battle between the Holy Dragon City and the demon Slayer Legion. It was impossible to avoid it. The final collision was only a matter of time.

With the support of the native gods, the demon Slayer Legion would never retreat!

At this moment, if Tang Zhen didn't take any active measures to deal with the situation, then once the demon Slayer Army arrived, coupled with the help of the native gods, Tang Zhen, who was short of manpower, would definitely suffer a great loss!

Tang Zhen shook his head slightly as he looked at the sky above his head.

According to the speed at which the dimensional portal was opening, it would take at least one or two months for Holy Dragon City to officially descend.

Unfortunately, the enemy would not give him that much time, because the nearest Demon Slayer Army would arrive in a week!

Tang Zhen didn't put the original Demon Slayer Legion in his eyes. He only needed to send a team of Holy Dragon City cultivators and armed robots to defeat them.

However, after the participation of the Aboriginal deities, their original advantage was gone. Tang Zhen had no choice but to pay attention to this motley crew.

After all, there were a large number of monsters in the world of these indigenous gods, and they could be released at any time.

In the face of the endless monsters, coupled with the crazy Demon Slayer Legion, how could the Holy Dragon city's small number of people resist?

Even though Tang Zhen had already controlled nearly 2000 native contract cultivators during this period of time, it was still nothing compared to the terrifying number of enemies.

It seemed that he could only use special means to make holy Dragon City arrive earlier!

In fact, Tang Zhen would not take this step unless he had no other choice. This was because this would mean that the Holy Dragon City would be in a huge debt before they even started their invasion!

To teleport in advance, one had to pay a large number of Battle Points. Even though Tang Zhen had gained a lot during this period of time, it was still not enough to make up for the losses.

Not to mention that after they descended, they would start a war with the native forces, which would be a huge consumption!

Therefore, Tang Zhen's teeth itched with hatred toward these native deities who had stirred up trouble.

Although the other party was also trying to protect himself, it forced Tang Zhen to have the intention to kill. Originally, he would have stopped once he gathered enough world's Origin Energy for the mission. In this way, the number of indigenous gods that would be killed would not exceed five!

But now, he had changed his mind.

When the Holy Dragon City descended, he would definitely teach these Aboriginal deities a good lesson. If he did not kill eight or ten of them, he would not be able to dispel the hatred in his heart!

Slowly standing up from his seat, Tang Zhen switched to the mysterious star on his phone's interface and activated the teleportation function.

The world of loucheng, Holy Dragon City.

Ever since the Holy Dragon City was upgraded to a level 9 City Tower and started the invasion mission, the inner city area had been completely sealed off.

Other than the Holy Dragon city's residents who had stayed behind to guard the city, no one had seen any residents come out of the inner city for a long time. They were clearly waiting for the teleportation to begin!

Once the dimensional portal was fully opened, the teleportation would be activated immediately without any prior notice.

Therefore, in order to avoid missing the teleportation, all the residents who participated in the teleportation would choose to stay in the city and wait for the final moment to arrive.

However, after waiting for so many days, the dimensional portal above them continued to expand, but Holy Dragon City had yet to be teleported away.

Everyone was making guesses about this situation, trying to figure out what was going on.

As all sorts of speculations continued to spread, even the Holy Dragon city's residents who stayed behind could not help but start to worry.

This was the first time Holy Dragon City had initiated an invasion mission. Hopefully, there would be no accidents!

A new day quietly arrived. The Holy Dragon city's residents who stayed in the outer city area habitually raised their heads to look in the direction of the inner city, only to find that the Holy Dragon City was still standing in its original place.

Just as the residents thought that today would be the same as usual, there was a sudden change in the quiet Holy Dragon City in the distance.

A series of muffled explosions came from the direction of the inner city, reverberating in the wilderness.

The sound grew louder and louder, and even the ground began to shake!

Everyone who had been busy all turned their gazes over in unison. After the shock, their faces showed excitement.

After waiting for so many days, they could finally witness the entire teleportation process of a tower with their own eyes. This was definitely a moment worth remembering for the rest of their lives!

Under the gazes of countless people in the outer city, the giant white Tower in Holy Dragon City suddenly shot out a giant light shield, covering the entire inner city.

The mother tree that soared into the sky also stretched out its branches, and countless colorful streams of light began to spiral around the crown.

The ground around the inner city began to rise continuously, and huge cracks appeared on the ground, as if some massive object was about to break out of the ground.

In the midst of the exclamations, an incomparably huge object began to slowly emerge from the ground!

Oh my God, the Holy Dragon city's main city is actually hidden underground!

Countless people came to a sudden realization, and their faces were full of shock. Some people also revealed a complicated expression as if they had expected it.

Some of his speculations about the Holy Dragon City were finally verified at this moment.

...

The Holy Dragon City continued to rise in the sea of exclamations. Twelve huge metal arms broke out of the ground and began to appear before everyone's eyes. Each arm was nearly a thousand meters wide!

These metal cantilevers were covered with a large amount of soil, and the height of the cantilever under the soil was more than 30 meters. The whole thing was filled with the beauty of technology.

Upon closer inspection, one would notice that there were metal doors on the arms that could be opened and closed at any time.

It was obvious that there were terrifying weapons hidden behind these metal doors!

Someone suddenly thought of something when they saw the huge underground tower. They subconsciously looked at the wreckage of the terobo super warship in the distance.

After comparing them, he realized that the two of them were so similar!

It was obvious that the main city of Holy Dragon City was closely related to the Super warship of the terobo tribe. It was even possible that the foundation of the buildings of the main city came from this terrifying metal warship!

Before they knew it, a huge metal monster had completely appeared in front of them. It was constantly rising into the sky, heading straight for the dimensional portal.

It was like a huge floating island, its bottom shining with an eye-catching metallic luster. With a terrifying aura, it slowly disappeared into the dimensional portal!

After the Holy Dragon city's figure disappeared, the plane transmission channel in the sky flickered a few times and began to shrink and condense rapidly. Finally, it completely disappeared from everyone's sight.

Chapter 1008

1008 _

Xueman, near hewang village.

In the quiet forest, there was no sound at all. This was obviously an extremely abnormal phenomenon.

It was obvious that the birds and beasts in the forest had already sensed the danger here and had long fled far away!

Under the old tree roots, more than a dozen rotten corpses were covered by fallen leaves. Weapons like swords were stuck in the ground, covered in dried dark brown blood.

A similar scene could be seen in the forest near Hewang village.

Bloody battles would also take place here from time to time!

Because of the Holy Dragon city's appearance, the area around River View Village had become a forbidden area.

None of the people who had intruded into this area had come out so far, and no one knew if they were alive or dead.

The truth was that some of them had been captured by the Holy Dragon City and locked up in the valley prison. Some had died under the blades of their weapons, and their corpses had been casually thrown into the forest.

But even so, there were still people who were not afraid of death. They kept approaching the forbidden land, trying to figure out the secrets of the heavenly demon race.

Some of them were here for the rich rewards, some were here to carry out missions, and some were purely fanatical believers and demon slayers, trying to enter the village to kill the otherworldly demons!

As a result, the soil in the forest was nourished by blood again and again, and even the color of the soil changed!

Time slowly passed, and suddenly, there was an extremely soft sound. Even in the silent forest, it was hard to detect.

After a few minutes, nothing strange happened in the forest. It was as if this place was a dead land.

"Swish!"

A translucent figure suddenly appeared and shuttled through the trees as fast as lightning.

After advancing a few dozen meters, the translucent figure stopped and peeked its head out under the cover of a large tree.

Even though he could use a secret technique to hide himself, he still didn't dare to let his guard down. After all, this place's fierce reputation was too great!

Although he had been observing for a long time and was certain that there was no movement in the area ahead, the invisible infiltrator felt a faint sense of danger.

It was as if there were more than a dozen cold gazes staring at him from a place where The Infiltrator could not see.

The Infiltrator had a feeling that he had now become the prey that was being watched, and could be attacked by the hidden hunters at any time!

This was the first time he had encountered such a strange situation in so many years. Could it be that the heavenly demonic tribe had seen through his concealment technique?

The area around Hewang village is indeed a Dragon's pool and a Tiger's Den. No wonder so many experts died here!

The Infiltrator did not hesitate and began to retreat back the way he came.

if he delayed any longer, he might not have the chance to escape!

Just as The Infiltrator chose to retreat, a series of robust figures suddenly appeared in the originally silent forest, chasing after The Infiltrator.

It was obvious that they also had special stealth techniques, which was why they were able to hide their figures and not be discovered by the infiltrators!

The Infiltrator's expression changed slightly when he saw more and more people chasing after him. He ran even faster.

Although they were being chased and blocked, The Infiltrator did not panic too much.

He was very confident in his speed and believed that the otherworldly demons behind him would not be able to catch up to him. As long as he reached the boundary set by the otherworldly demons, he would be safe.

According to the words on the stone tablet, the otherworldly demons would never pursue the Aboriginals outside the boundary!

Unfortunately, so far, no one had successfully escaped after sneaking in, so whether this statement was accurate or not needed to be verified in person.

Today, the invader wanted to see if the rumors were true or false.

The Infiltrator must be very capable to dare to provoke the otherworldly demons in public. He was running faster and faster under the siege of a group of pursuers, and it looked like he was about to escape.

The Infiltrator looked at the stone tablet in front of him with a hint of joy in his eyes, but at the same time, a hint of disdain appeared on the corner of his mouth.

The otherworldly demons were only so-so!

However, just as the smile appeared on his face, he immediately froze. His figure, which had been running at high speed, suddenly stopped.

Light spots fell on his translucent body and swam around his vital parts.

In the forest in front of him, on the shoulders of a tall armed robot, stood two heavenly demons in black armor. They were looking coldly at the intruder.

And in a place where The Infiltrator couldn't see, there was an aura that made him tremble in fear. This was the real reason why he stopped.

The invisible infiltrator was in a half-energy state. Ordinary physical weapons could not hurt him at all, but some attacks against the soul could cause fatal damage to him!

This hidden expert definitely had such a method because he felt an extreme fear as if he was facing a natural enemy.

“Hehe, don’t fight, let’s talk this out!”

The Infiltrator raised his hand and laughed dryly as he looked at the otherworldly demons surrounding him.

He didn’t want to be captured without putting up a fight. It was better to find an opportunity to escape!

However, just as he was about to take action, the aura that made his soul tremble appeared once again and kept approaching him.

“We’re finished, Yingluo.”

The Infiltrator howled in his heart. He knew that he could not escape this time.

The Infiltrator didn’t complain about his suicidal behavior. He recovered from his invisible state and slowly looked in the direction he sensed.

He really wanted to know what kind of terrifying existence it was that made him not even dare to think about escaping.

A beautiful young woman in a black leather suit entered The Infiltrator’s line of sight.

The terrifying aura was coming from her.

Seeing The Infiltrator staring at her with fear in his eyes, the beautiful woman curled her lips and showed a bored expression.

how boring. I thought I could have some fun. I didn’t expect to admit defeat so quickly!

The beautiful woman waved her hand, and The Infiltrator immediately felt his soul tremble. He kneeled on the ground with a “plop,” and his face was filled with a helpless and bitter smile.

“Take him away, he’s already scared out of his wits!”

The beautiful woman looked at the Holy Dragon City cultivators beside her and said in a calm tone.

“Thank you for your help, Lord Soul Eater!”

The cultivators of the Holy Dragon City bowed and thanked the beautiful woman. Then, they restrained The Infiltrator and prepared to send him to prison in the cage Valley.

However, they had only taken a few steps when they heard a thunderous roar above them. A dark cloud appeared out of thin air and completely covered a large area of the sky.

The huge vortex that was originally spinning in the sky seemed to be torn apart by an invisible giant hand at this moment. In the blink of an eye, it expanded countless times!

As the vortex expanded, a huge black shadow appeared in it, becoming clearer and clearer!

After seeing this shocking scene, all the Holy Dragon City cultivators were excited. Some even laughed out loud.

There was an indescribable carefreeness in this laughter!

...

The native cultivators who were locked up in the cage Valley and the contract cultivators who had submitted to the Holy Dragon City were also staring blankly at the huge object that had completely appeared in the sky above them!

Its terrifying size and aura made people tremble in fear. It made people feel reverence and subconsciously choose to submit.

Just as the floating island-like object appeared, angry roars of unwillingness came from the surrounding sky.

Illusory projections of gods appeared in the sky one after another. They formed a circle and looked at the Holy Dragon City that had just arrived with hatred and vigilance!

These figures were the sixteen demonic gods that the natives believed in!

The moment the Holy Dragon City descended, the gods hiding in their respective small worlds all jumped out unwillingly, issuing protests and warnings to the overbearing invaders.

However, their actions were in vain, because no matter how they roared, the Holy Dragon city's arrival was not stopped at all!

Chapter 1009

1009 A strong counterattack _1

Under everyone's gazes, Holy Dragon City had officially descended into this world!

The terrifying figure hanging high in the sky stunned all the enemies around the village, and their minds went blank.

At this moment, the enemy's spies felt a strong sense of powerlessness.

It was no wonder that the heavenly Fiend Race would ask the gods to send down an Oracle to drive out the heavenly Fiend Race. It turned out that their true means were so terrifying!

Such a terrifying metal floating island could definitely be used as a mobile Castle. Once it appeared above the enemy's head, it could easily destroy an entire city even if it was used as a weapon by throwing stones!

One had to know that the cities on the continent of timriel didn't have defensive measures such as protective barriers, and air defense measures were extremely scarce.

Once the Holy Dragon City arrived and launched an attack from above, it would be an absolute nightmare!

The only thing he could hope for now was that the floating metal Island could not fly for long periods of time, and its speed was as slow as a snail!

Unfortunately, they were destined to be disappointed.

The Holy Dragon City was able to float in the air by relying on special floating towers. Its mobility was dependent on warship towers. This combination of methods could ensure that the Holy Dragon City could remain in the air for a long time, and it had extremely fast movement speed!

How could the tower that Tang Zhen had painstakingly built tolerate the existence of such a drawback?

As for Lou Cheng's attacking methods, they were even more shocking. The only drawback was that they could not be used easily.

This was because the Holy Dragon City did not have many special energy sources that could support the movement of the warship in battle. Otherwise, this super warship alone would be enough to destroy the entire continent!

At this moment, Tang Zhen was standing with his hands behind his back at the Holy Dragon city's Gate. He looked at the roaring Aboriginal God's Phantom in the sky, his eyes filled with coldness.

Behind him stood fully-armed Holy Dragon City cultivators. As far as the eye could see, they were a black mass that occupied almost all the land!

The Holy Dragon city's residents who had participated in the invasion this time had already reached a total of five hundred thousand. They were all elites who could directly participate in the battle!

The Holy Dragon city's investment, regardless of cost, was finally seeing results. These battle-hungry residents of the city could definitely become an existence that would make the whole of temuriel tremble in fear!

When the roaring God's shadow disappeared without a trace, the Holy Dragon City began to move slowly, finally stopping at a vast plain nearby.

After Lou Cheng stopped advancing, Tang Zhen began to give orders without turning his head.

"The 1st Legion will take action immediately. Take the initiative to attack the various Demon Slayer legions that are trying to get close to the snow City. Let these ignorant natives learn that we are not to be trifled with!

The 2nd Legion was in charge of following the operation and occupying the snow City in the shortest time possible, clearing out all the native forces that were hostile to them!

At the same time, you're also responsible for maintaining the law and order of xueman territory. You must ensure the stability of this place, so you don't have to worry too much when you move!

The 3rd and 4th Legion will temporarily stay in the tower and wait for orders!"

As Tang Zhen's voice faded, the sound of armor being struck immediately came from behind. A group of Holy Dragon city's generals acknowledged the order in unison!

Tai Seng, who was wearing a set of mighty battle armor, turned around and walked to the group of Holy Dragon City Warriors, waving his hand fiercely.

"1st Legion, set off!"

Following his orders, huge pillars of light appeared and connected to the ground beneath their feet.

The Warriors of the 1st Legion lined up and entered the light pillar. Then, their figures suddenly disappeared, and in the blink of an eye, they appeared on the ground thousands of meters below.

This was a short-distance teleportation method that the Cold Moon Tower once had. Now, it had been deciphered by the Holy Dragon City and successfully put into use!

The teleportation light pillar flickered continuously, and teams of fully armed Holy Dragon City soldiers began to quickly gather on the ground, forming one square team after another!

Following them were tanks, combat robots, drones, and a large number of support troops.

The total number of people in the First Legion had now reached one hundred thousand. They were all made up of the Holy Dragon city's elite veterans, and their combat power was extremely strong!

Under the leadership of the Holy Dragon city's Overlord cultivators, they could completely defeat more than ten times the native enemies with very few people!

By the time the 1st Legion had finished teleporting, the ground was already covered by a black mass of Holy Dragon City Warriors. A murderous aura that soared to the sky made even the weather change!

However, this was only the beginning. Immediately after, the second Army began to teleport again.

the second army was made up of holy dragon city's indigenous people who joined later on. their combat power was not inferior to the first army.

Under the teleportation of the beams of light, these Warriors finally stepped onto the land of the other world.

At the same time the second Army was teleported, one of the twelve metal arms suddenly opened up a brightly lit passage.

Then, a series of oddly-shaped drones swarmed out like a swarm of bees and surrounded the Holy Dragon city in the sky.

The huge formation of the drones almost blocked out the sun and cast a shadow over a large area of land!

The enemies hiding in the dark in the distance were completely soaked in cold sweat after seeing this scene!

Looking at the heavenly demonic tribe's stance, they were clearly going to start a war!

Looking at the Holy Dragon city's Army, the enemy's Scouts felt a chill in their hearts. Facing such an enemy, the forces they belonged to were simply not a match!

He couldn't hesitate any longer. He had to send this shocking news back so that the forces he belonged to could make preparations!

At the thought of this, the spies did not care about the danger of being exposed. They used all kinds of communication methods to send out information about Holy Dragon City!

After doing all this, the spies fled in a hurry, afraid that they would be captured by the Holy Dragon City!

However, there were already teams of Holy Dragon City cultivators and contract cultivators who were searching for these spies. Under the inescapable net, they had no chance of escaping!

When all the members of the first and second legions were teleported, the two legions immediately began to move in different directions.

They would split up into several groups to block the various forces that were approaching Snow City!

For a moment, the rumbling of the war chariots was endless. At the same time, there were the roars of all kinds of war beasts and mounts, as well as the crisp orders of the Holy Dragon city's officers!

Tai Seng, who was sitting on a war chariot, glanced at Holy Dragon City above him and smiled. Then, he turned his head and looked ahead.

"Let's go, we'll head straight for Snow City!"

With the order, the long black line formed by Holy Dragon city's soldiers immediately began to rapidly advance towards Snow City.

...

At the forefront of the team were special combat vehicles with powerful firepower configuration and high mobility. They could adapt to the battlefield in a variety of terrains.

The Holy Dragon city's soldiers driving these vehicles would be in charge of scouting and clearing the path for the Army behind them.

Behind them were various special vehicles with various functions. Although they didn't need to be used in combat, they also had the firepower to crush the natives.

As for weapons like tanks, although Holy Dragon City also had them, they had not been put into use, because they did not need them at the moment!

The 1st Legion's current weapons and equipment were enough to crush the native forces several times over!

Following the special vehicles were the Holy Dragon city's cavalry riding on strong mounts. This primitive troop type had not been eliminated by the Holy Dragon City, because in the war of invading the other world, this troop type often had unexpected effects.

Further back were troops made up of all kinds of war beasts. Some of them were huge, while others had fierce looks. They followed their Masters and were curiously sizing up this strange world, their eyes filled with a bloodthirsty urge.

At the very back was the infantry, but they did not rely on their feet. Instead, they rode in sturdy and durable transport vehicles.

Fighting robots and unmanned reconnaissance planes also followed them, which could provide powerful firepower support at any time!

The soldiers sat quietly on the vehicles, holding steel guns in their hands, their eyes burning with fire.

The soldiers of Loucheng were always full of fire-like passion for war!

1010 Prepare for battle (1)

The current Snow City was already a desolate place.

The fire that the Tigermen Captain and the others had started not only successfully destroyed Bargof's magnificent Castle, but also completely threw Snow City into chaos.

By the time the chaos was quelled, Snow City was already in a state of chaos. Green smoke, blood, and corpses could be seen everywhere.

This chaos had caused great damage to Snow City, and many years of hard work had gone to waste!

Seeing his Snow City in such a state, Bargof was naturally furious. After rushing back to Snow City, he immediately went on a killing spree and hanged all the participants of the rebellion that he had captured!

In just one night, rows of pillars appeared on both sides of the road in front of Snow City. On top of the pillars hung corpses that were floating in the wind!

All the thieves and rogues in Snow City had been killed because they had participated in the chaos.

However, the real mastermind who caused the chaos had already escaped!

After the massacre, Bargof looked at the castle that had been completely reduced to ruins. His anger still did not dissipate, and he ordered to continue the investigation of the true culprit who destroyed the castle.

He swore that he would tear the culprit into pieces to calm the anger in his heart!

However, just as he was busy reorganizing Snow City, a message that made his scalp tingle was sent from River View Village.

There was a change in Hewang Village. A huge floating island had appeared from the otherworldly demons, and at the same time, an Army of more than two hundred thousand otherworldly demons had spread out in all directions.

Among them was an Army of otherworldly demons, with a total of more than ten thousand people. They were carrying all sorts of strange puppets and ferocious monsters, and were heading straight for Snow City.

Because the transportation used by this Army of otherworldly demons was extremely fast, they would arrive in the vicinity of Snow City by noon the day after tomorrow at the latest!

After reading all the contents of the report, Bargof felt his hands and feet turn cold, and the hand holding the report trembled.

Having had a short confrontation with the Holy Dragon City, bargof was well aware of the fearsomeness of the otherworldly demons. This was also the reason why he had chosen to bide his time.

Because he was very clear that once the Holy Dragon City officially started a war, his soldiers would not be a match for them!

If it wasn't for the fact that Holy Dragon City wouldn't attack the enemies outside the border, then even if balguv had more courage, he wouldn't have chosen to set up camp so close to river View Village!

However, balguv was too proud to let the alien demonic race occupy his land. Therefore, after seeing the appearance of the Somers, he simply played a trick to frame them.

He had sent people to kill the Somers and then erased their traces, trying to make the Holy Dragon City the scapegoat.

Then, he could wait for the high Elves to get angry and start a conflict with the otherworldly demons, or even a war!

However, he didn't know that the leader of the Somers had successfully escaped from the pursuit and was now in Lonely City.

At the same time, the video of the interception that Tang Zhen had ordered had been sent to the Embassy of the people of SOMO so that the entire process of the incident was known to the people of SOMO.

Balguv, who thought he had succeeded, had been put on the kill list of the Somers. Perhaps it would not take long for him to be hunted down by the Somers!

Originally, this was also one of Tang Zhen's plans. He had tried to make bargof and the Somers fight and wrangle with each other in order to disrupt the situation in the xueman territory.

However, with the change in plans, the original arrangements had already lost their meaning. Tang Zhen could only use the most direct means to complete the Holy Dragon city's pillaging mission.

However, bargof, who was already hated by the Somers, would definitely not be able to get rid of the trouble easily. He might even lose his life!

It was a pity that bargof had not realized this.

The Holy Dragon city's Army pressed on, making him feel like he was sitting on pins and needles. Whether to resist or escape became the most troublesome choice for bargof.

Although he was extremely afraid of the Holy Dragon city's strength, bargof did not want to give up his power so easily. So, after thinking about it, he finally decided to fight against the Holy Dragon City!

However, with his strength alone, he could not contend with the powerful Holy Dragon City, so he had to ask for reinforcements!

The native forces that he had always been wary of had now become his saviors. Letters of help were flying in all directions from Snow City.

At the same time, balguv also quickly assembled his troops and gathered all the soldiers of Snow City that he could mobilize. At the same time, he visited the cultivators and nobles in Snow City one by one.

In order to let these guys participate in the battle to defend the city, he did not hesitate to make a series of promises.

As long as they could hold on to Snow City and hold on until reinforcements arrived, what did it matter if they had to pay a price?

As long as he was still the Lord of this place, he would get back what he had paid!

With the use of both power and kindness, balguv's actions were quite smooth, and he successfully obtained the support of the nobles and cultivators in the city.

With a little more confidence in his heart, balguv immediately issued the battle order!

With bargof's orders, Snow City, which had just suffered a disaster, once again entered a state of combat readiness.

The tall city gate was completely sealed, and batches of materials used to defend the city were continuously transported to the city wall. The city was filled with soldiers with unsheathed swords, as well as adventurers and Noble private soldiers hired by bargof.

Most of the residents of Snow City had also been notified to participate in the battle to defend the city, and they were responsible for logistics and backup work.

In a short period of time, the total number of people participating in the city defense Battle had exceeded 20000. This was the first time in the history of all-Snow City that a war preparation of this scale had been made!

Looking at the dense number of soldiers on the city wall and the large number of reserve soldiers in the city, bargof finally let out a long sigh of relief.

Although the strength of the otherworldly demons couldn't be underestimated, his means weren't weak either. In the situation of defending the city, he believed that with 20000 troops, they would definitely be able to hold on until the reinforcements arrived!

If he could command them well, it was not impossible to defeat the otherworldly demons!

Even though the current bargov had seen the Holy Dragon city's powerful strength, he still clung to his previous concept of war, thinking that the city walls could resist the Holy Dragon city's troops.

Unfortunately, he did not know that the enemy he was about to face had methods he could not imagine. The things he relied on were simply not able to withstand a single blow in the face of Holy Dragon City!

The battle had not even begun, and bargof, who had not yet recognized the situation, was already at a disadvantage. The final outcome seemed to be already decided!

Of course, it was still too early to say anything before the final result was out.

In a Tavern in Snow City, a group of cultivators in battle armor were gathered together, discussing the upcoming battle.

It was definitely a good enjoyment to have a drink to relieve stress before a big battle.

Only the powerful cultivators in Snow City could enjoy such treatment. As for the ordinary soldiers and adventurers, they could only guard their posts and wait for the battle to begin.

After finishing the wine in the glass, a two-meter-tall brawny man gestured for another glass, while looking at his companions at the same table.

...

I've heard that the heavenly demonic tribe is very powerful. They even have powerful battle puppets. If we fight them, we'll be at a great disadvantage!

The burly man's face carried a trace of unwillingness. He drank the ale that was served again, then burped in satisfaction.

"So what? our families and properties are all in this Snow City, and we can't hide from them. Joining the war is our only choice!

Don't you see that our Overlord's eyes are already red? if we refuse his request at this critical moment, I'm afraid he will immediately turn hostile!

Bargof, who has just hung a group of people, definitely wouldn't mind killing a few more!"

A young man with a thin face and wearing a suit of armor sneered.

The cultivators at the side nodded their heads in agreement. It was obvious that they had no choice.

It seemed like the city was actively preparing for battle, but it was not as solid as a steel plate!
