Chapter 1081

1081 Hidden and uninvited guest _1

“Hu hu hu!”

A burst of rapid panting sounded, extremely clear in the dark corridor.

Tang Zhen took a deep breath and stood up from the stairs. He took out an identity card from his pocket and carefully looked at it again.

Perhaps it was because he was in a parallel world, but Tang Zhen was able to understand the words of this world. Therefore, simple reading was not difficult for him.

In addition to his ID card, he also had a pile of personal belongings in his hand, all of which came from an unlucky guy on the street.

This guy had been hit in the back by a falling object and was already dead. His personal belongings had also been collected by Tang Zhen, who was passing by.

Relying on his powerful memory, Tang Zhen had long since memorized the topographic map of this city. Very quickly, he found the location of this building according to the information provided by these personal belongings.

This was the unlucky person’s home. Tang Zhen was prepared to hide here for a period of time before thinking about how to take action.

Tang Zhen gently patted off the dust on his body and walked to the front of a metal door. He used the key to slowly open the door.

A strange smell wafted out. It was obvious that the owner of this house did not like to do housework, so the room was very messy.

Tang Zhen turned his head and took a glance before directly closing the door. After which, he passed through the living room and walked to the window.

From this angle, the battle in the city was still going on, and the sound of gunfire could be heard from time to time.

Although the strength of the Lou Cheng cultivators was limited, their accumulated experience and awareness were not erased. After the initial embarrassing situation, they began to counterattack and hide.

It was impossible for the cyborgs to capture all the cultivators in Lou Cheng in a short time.

What surprised Tang Zhen was that this battle didn’t only involve Lou Cheng’s cultivators and the cyborg. Some ordinary people seemed to have participated in it as well, constantly launching attacks at the cyborg.

Although the destruction caused by the cultivators in Loucheng city had almost turned the city into ruins, it had also caused the loss of a large number of weapons and equipment. The ordinary people who fought against the cyborgs had used these weapons that they had collected during the chaos.

On a street not far from the building where Tang Zhen was, there were dozens of ordinary people exchanging fire with the cyborgs. Unfortunately, their combat strength was far inferior to the cyborgs and they were being beaten back.

In the process of retreating, an ordinary person would be hit by bullets from time to time. The bullets that could kill cyborgs were very powerful. Once hit, they would die without a complete corpse!

The ordinary people seemed to be in a panic. They did not last long under the pursuit of the cyborg before they scattered and swarmed into the surrounding buildings.

Tang Zhen retracted his gaze and casually drew the curtains. He then turned around and walked into the kitchen to start preparing food.

After the battle, he had used up a lot of his energy and needed to replenish his energy with food.

Fortunately, there were plenty of ingredients in the kitchen, enough for a few days' consumption. He did not have to take the risk to search for food.

She had just mixed a ball of flour with water and kneaded it into a dough when someone suddenly knocked on the door a few times.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly. He washed his hands and walked to the door.

"Who is it?"

Tang Zhen softly asked. There seemed to be a trace of caution and uneasiness in his tone, just like a timid citizen.

"It's me, Bin Zi, quickly open the door!"

Tang Zhen frowned when he heard this. He did not expect that the person who had arrived would be the friend of the original owner. Once the other party entered the door, he would definitely discover that he had already occupied The Magpie's Nest.

However, this was nothing. Tang Zhen had originally planned to find a local to ask about the secrets of this city and see if he could find the location of the energy absorbing device.

However, the breathing sounds outside the door told Tang Zhen that Bin Zi wasn't the only one at the door. There were four or five people, and at the same time, there was a faint smell of blood.

"Taking the initiative to come to the door, that's not bad!"

A trace of a smile surfaced on the corner of Tang Zhen's mouth. He extended his hand and gently hooked it. The door lock was directly pulled open.

A huge force came and the door was pulled open. Then, a man wearing a cap and a scarf rushed in, followed by four people.

These guys looked like they were in a sorry state. There were bloodstains on their bodies and they were holding guns of all sizes.

“Quickly close the door!”

The last person to enter the room was a woman. She raised her gun and pointed it at Tang Zhen. Her eyes were very cold.

Tang Zhen nodded. His expression seemed to be a little frightened as he obediently closed the door.

He turned around to look at the uninvited guests, only to find that they were already lying on the floor and chairs in the room, looking as if they had just survived a disaster.

The young man with the cap, who was the first to enter, looked at Tang Zhen. His brows slightly furrowed as he stood up and asked, “Who are you? why are you here?”

little Hao is my cousin. He went out this morning and hasn't returned yet. Are you his friends? ”

Tang Zhen explained. After which, he extended his hand and pointed at those people who were lying here and there.

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, the young man named bin Zi seemed to heave a sigh of relief. He then casually chatted with Tang Zhen about little Hao.

Clearly, he still had some doubts about Tang Zhen's identity. Hence, he used these words to probe.

Tang Zhen had already obtained quite a lot of information from the personal items he had obtained. He was only vaguely replying with a few words, but it did not cause the other party to become suspicious.

In the following time, it was Tang Zhen's turn to ask questions.

what are you guys doing? are you guys fighting with the half-mechs? ”

Tang Zhen's memory was extremely good. He had long since seen that these miserable looking people were the ordinary people who had fought with the cyborg earlier.

When the youth called bin Zi heard this, he smiled bitterly and said, “ that's right. We're the Starfire Legion that's fighting against the half-mechs. Have you heard of us? ”

Tang Zhen shook his head, indicating that he had never heard of it.

Bin Zi felt a little depressed after seeing Tang Zhen's reaction. He was about to tell Tang Zhen about the glorious deeds of the Starfire Legion.

In the end, the woman who had been leaning on the window turned her head and coldly glanced at bin Zi. She then shouted at Tang Zhen, “Do you have food? if you do, then hurry up and cook for us. Don't ask questions you shouldn't ask!”

When bin Zi heard this, he shrugged his shoulders and smiled at Tang Zhen. brother, do us a favor and make us more food. We're all famished!

Tang Zhen's expression didn't change as he nodded his head. He turned around and walked into the kitchen before continuing to make his noodles.

The woman who was guarding the window asked bin Zi to take over the Sentry duty. She herself came to the kitchen door and looked at Tang Zhen who was cooking, "Where's your communication device? you'd better give it to me!"

Tang Zhen turned his head and swept his eyes over the other party. He shook his head, "I don't have that thing."

The woman sneered and said in an unfriendly tone, "do you think I'll believe you? I advise you to behave yourself. Otherwise, you'll have to bear the consequences!"

you can look for anything you want. If you find anything, just smash it. I have no objections!

Tang Zhen coldly replied and prepared to boil water to steam the mantou.

"That's what you said. If you find it, don't blame me for being impolite."

As the woman spoke, she actually leaned over and reached into Tang Zhen's pocket.

"You're looking for death!"

A cold glint flashed in Tang Zhen's eyes. His left hand was suddenly swung out and ruthlessly smashed onto the woman's face, causing her to directly fall to the ground.

When the other members of the Starfire Legion saw this scene, their expressions changed at the same time. Just as they were about to raise their guns, Tang Zhen had already pulled out two pistols and pointed them at the crowd.

"You're just asking for trouble!"

Tang Zhen coldly snorted. He kicked the woman who had fallen to the ground into the living room and strode over.

"Tie yourself up, or I'll take your lives right now!"

Tang Zhen said in a cold voice as he looked at the unsightly expressions on the faces of the Starfire Legion members.

Chapter 1082

1082 The native resisters (1)

brother, brother, don't be impulsive. We'll just do as you say!

The young man named bin Zi laughed as he threw the heavy gun in his hand on the ground, but his movements were deliberately slow.

The other members of the Starfire Legion also had angry and unwilling expressions on their faces. However, they were also very clear that if Tang Zhen really opened fire, even if he didn't hit them, he would still attract the cyborg soldiers on the street.

If that was the case, they would definitely end up in a miserable state.

The other members of the Starfire Legion hesitated for a moment before they had no choice but to clench their teeth and throw away their weapons. At the same time, bin Zi bound their hands and feet one after another, and finally, he trapped himself.

After a short while, a bunch of people were lying on the ground, their faces full of unwillingness.

Tang Zhen coldly snorted. He turned his head and glanced at the stove that was emitting steam. He placed the pistol on his waist and walked to the front of the trapped people.

After checking the ropes on their bodies, Tang Zhen returned to the kitchen and continued to prepare his side dishes.

It was as if the members of the Starfire Legion didn't exist. Tang Zhen carefully chopped the vegetables and mixed them with seasoning. After that, he washed his hands in satisfaction.

The entire process was extremely leisurely. That kind of nonchalant attitude almost made everyone explode in anger.

Tang Zhen walked to the window and observed for a moment. Then, he slowly walked to the front of the Starfire Legion members and pulled a man who was sitting on the sofa to the ground. He then leaned against the man comfortably.

"Tell me, how do you want me to deal with you?"

Tang Zhen pulled out a pistol and pointed it at a man's head. He then turned the hammer so that it was ready to fire at any time.

The body of the man whose gun was pointed at the top of his head stiffened. He forcefully swallowed a mouthful of saliva and said to Tang Zhen, friend, let's talk this out. You must be a member of some anti-cyborg organization, right? "

This was because cyborgs had extremely strict control over their weapons. Ordinary people had no chance of getting their hands on firearms. Moreover, the weapon used by Tang Zhen was a standard pistol specially used by cyborgs.

Even if ordinary people encountered this kind of thing, they would stay away from it for fear of bringing disaster to themselves.

Therefore, Tang Zhen, who had two standard pistols in his hands, was definitely not an ordinary citizen!

"Did I let you speak, you bastard!"

Tang Zhen's brows twitched. He kicked the man's stomach, causing his body to immediately Twitch and twist.

Tang Zhen revealed a fiendish expression. After letting out a low roar, he kept all the weapons on the ground.

"Stand up and follow me to see if there's anyone in the next room!"

Tang Zhen pointed his gun at bin Zi, indicating that he should stand up and move with him.

Reaching out to untie the rope on the other party, bin Zi staggered up from the ground and carefully followed behind Tang Zhen.

He walked to the corridor and gently knocked on the door of the two neighboring houses, but he found no response.

The chaos happened during work hours, so the two households were probably not at home.

They had not returned for two days. They were either in hiding or had met with an accident. Otherwise, it was impossible for them not to return home to hide.

However, in order to prevent any accidents from happening, Tang Zhen still pried open the door. That Swift and clean technique made bin Zi dumbfounded.

It only took two seconds to open the door. Big brother, you used to be a locksmith, right? ”

Tang Zhen didn't care about bin Zi's exclamation. He raised his gun and walked in to check. After confirming that no one was hiding, he closed the door and left.

After returning to his house, Tang Zhen tied bin Zi up and threw him on the sofa.

This fellow's performance was pretty good. Therefore, Tang Zhen gave him a certain preferential treatment and he didn't need to lie on the cold ground.

At this time, the steamed bun was already cooked. Tang Zhen went into the kitchen and took the steamed bun out. He brought it to the living room along with the side dishes.

The aroma of freshly cooked food immediately filled the room.

After placing the food on the table, Tang Zhen casually picked one up. He didn't care about the steam and directly ate it in big mouthfuls.

“Gulu, Gulu, Gulu.”

The sound of saliva being swallowed could be heard, and at the same time, there was the sound of a stomach growling.

The members of the Starfire Legion gritted their teeth in hatred as they watched Tang Zhen eat the steamed bun. However, they were also extremely envious in their hearts.

This was the first time they had discovered that an extremely ordinary food like mantou could actually taste so alluring!

“Big brother, can you let me have a bite too?”

Bin Zi lay on the sofa and swallowed his saliva as he begged Tang Zhen in a low voice.

From the start of the battle until now, they had not had a single drop of water at all. They had long been so hungry that they had no strength left in their bodies.

In fact, even they did not expect war to be so cruel. In less than two days, many of their companions had died at the hands of the cyborgs.

It was already very tough for them to not break down even now when facing the dismembered body of their companion!

Tang Zhen swept a glance at bin Zi. He casually opened half a mantou and directly stuffed it into his mouth.

Bin Zi didn't care that the steamed bun was hot, he pushed it against the back of the sofa and ate it in one go.

Because his mouth was too dry, the steamed bun was a little difficult to swallow. This guy choked and rolled his eyes.

"Brother Zhenzhen, please give me some water!"

Bin Zi licked his face as he spoke again with the steamed bun crumbs on the corner of his mouth.

"Kid, you're quite troublesome, go drink by yourself!"

Tang Zhen reached out and took out his military knife. He removed the ropes on bin Zi's hands and feet, indicating that he could move freely.

Bin Zi was stunned for a moment, then he stood up under his companion's expectant eyes and quickly poured a cup of water into his stomach.

After letting out two comfortable groans, bin Zi carefully walked in front of Tang Zhen and showed him a flattering smile.

big brother, look at us. We're all on the same side. We're all fighting against the cyborgs 'oppression. We're considered comrades, right? "

...

Tang Zhen glanced at bin Zi and said coldly, "Cut the crap, what are you planning to do?"

"They haven't eaten all day, can they eat a little too?"

A trace of anticipation surfaced in the eyes of the people who were lying on the ground when they heard this. They were waiting for Tang Zhen's reply.

"If it wasn't for the fact that you didn't know the rules, you would have already filled your stomachs and wouldn't have to suffer like this!"

Tang Zhen pursed his lips and swept a glance at the woman whose nose was stained with quite a bit of blood. He then casually handed the basin of food to bin Zi.

The woman's face turned red. She snorted softly and turned her head in another direction.

Bin Zi happily picked up the basin and walked to his companions to help them up. Then, he broke the steamed bun into pieces and stuffed it into his mouth.

Everyone, who had long been starving, gobbled up the food one by one. During this period, they even bit bin Zi's finger, causing him to grimace in pain.

After feeding everyone one by one, bin Zi ran to the window and observed for a while, then sat down on the sofa.

"Big brother, do you think we won't be able to escape?"

Bin Zi scratched his head and asked Tang Zhen in a depressed manner.

"You might not be able to live, but that doesn't include me!"

Tang Zhen swept his eyes over the dejected faces of everyone as he spoke in a cold voice.

big brother, don't joke around. If you're with us, how can you escape the pursuit of the cyborgs? "

Bin Zi still had an annoyed expression. Although the current environment was still considered safe, they might fall into the hands of the cyborg at any time.

The cyborg had never been merciful to rebels like them.

His blood was boiling during the battle, but now that he was hiding, the fear in his heart was growing.

Tang Zhen sat on the sofa. His gaze swept across the members of the Starfire Legion before he nodded gently.

"So, we're just grasshoppers on the same rope!"

"Of course!"

"If that's the case, then we should help each other!"

"Big brother Zhenzhen, what do you mean?"

Chapter 1083

1083 Temporary cooperation (1)

what I mean is, I can help you get rid of the pursuit of the cyborgs and leave this city!

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, bin Zi wasn't the only one who looked at Tang Zhen in a daze. The other four Starfire Legion members who were tied up also perked up and looked at Tang Zhen.

"Big brother, you're saying you're going to help us escape?"

A trace of joy appeared on bin Zi's face, and his tone carried a trace of anticipation.

Now that the cyborg Army had completely taken control of the city, the resistance members were like fish in a barrel. As time passed, they would be discovered by the cyborgs at any time.

It could be said that without any help, they would not be able to escape death!

No one could truly be unafraid of death. Even if there was only a glimmer of hope for life, people in desperate situations would firmly grasp it.

Therefore, everyone's mood was lifted by Tang Zhen at this moment.

However, they also had doubts in their hearts. They did not know if Tang Zhen alone would be able to help them escape from the pursuit of the half-robot.

"That's right, I can help you leave!"

Tang Zhen said in a certain tone. However, he quickly continued, "However, I have a condition. I need to find a location, and I may need your help.

I won't leave the city until I find this place."

When bin Zi heard this, he quickly patted his chest and said, "Big brother, don't worry. There's no place in this city that I don't know. Tell me where you're looking for, and I'll help you think of a place."

the place I'm looking for should be very well hidden. It has an entrance to the underground and is heavily guarded by cyborgs. There might be a large number of power supply equipment nearby!

Tang Zhen thought for a moment before speaking with an uncertain tone.

In fact, even he did not know where the target was. The description just now was just a guess.

After hearing Tang Zhen's description, bin Zi immediately reached out and scratched his hair. He looked like he was meditating, as if he was searching for a similar location in his memory.

The others were also racking their brains to see if they had seen the place that Tang Zhen had described.

After about a minute of silence, the woman who had been knocked to the ground by Tang Zhen suddenly opened her mouth and said in an uncertain tone, "I seem to know the place you mentioned!"

Tang Zhen turned his head around and spoke in an indifferent tone, "Is that so? can you tell me more?"

The woman gritted her teeth and looked at Tang Zhen, "I can tell you, but you have to tell me first, how are you going to get us out?"

Clearly, they still had a trace of doubt toward Tang Zhen's promise.

"You'd better not lie to me. Otherwise, I'll let you know what it means to be better off dead!"

Tang Zhen said coldly and beckoned bin Zi to bring the woman to the window. He then casually picked up a gun from the ground.

Then, he rummaged around the house and finally found a tube-like object that looked like an oil filter Filter. He fixed it directly on the muzzle.

This item could be used as a silencer, and the effect was not bad.

Everyone was somewhat baffled after seeing Tang Zhen's actions. They did not know what he was going to do.

Ignoring the doubtful gazes of others, Tang Zhen came to another window. After carefully sizing it up for a while, he said to bin Zi and the other man, look at the intersection ahead and remember not to blink.

When bin Zi and the other man heard this, they immediately looked at the intersection a few hundred meters away and saw two cyborg combat vehicles slowly approaching.

On both sides of the tank were seven or eight cyborg Warriors, who were looking around vigilantly.

Just as bin Zi and the other man saw this scene clearly, Tang Zhen, who was in front of another window, had already drawn the curtains. Then, he opened the window slightly.

“Pa pa pa!”

A series of strange gunshots rang out, and the advancing half-robot team suddenly stopped, at the same time, 4 – 5 of the half-robot warriors were shot in the head.

The cyborg Warriors who were suddenly attacked quickly dodged and tried to find the enemy’s position. However, their movements were far slower than the speed of the bullets. In the process of dodging, several more cyborg Warriors were hit.

The sniper’s marksmanship was so accurate that they were already scared out of their wits. They didn’t even have time to judge the direction of the shot.

In the blink of an eye, all the half-robot warriors on foot were shot and killed one by one. Even the driver of the chariot did not escape the fate of being shot and killed.

Looking at the half-robot warriors lying on the street, bin Zi’s face was dull. The woman also looked at Tang Zhen as if she had seen a ghost.

“Big brother, you’re the spear God!”

After being stunned for a while, bin Zi finally regained his senses and looked at Tang Zhen with an extremely adoring gaze.

With just a rifle, he killed more than ten cyborgs in less than ten seconds. If he hadn’t seen it with his own eyes, bin Zi wouldn’t have believed that there was such a superb marksmanship in the world!

If every member of the Starfire Legion had such marksmanship, the cyborg would have been thrown out of the city!

Tang Zhen quickly closed the window and turned to look at bin Zi and that woman, “How is it? can I take you out like this?”

The woman nodded, then shook her head. “Your marksmanship is indeed superb, but don’t forget that cyborgs have more tricks up their sleeves. If you kill these cyborgs, it’ll be equivalent to exposing your hiding spot.

I estimate that it won’t take long for the cyborg to lock onto our location based on the situation at the shooting scene!”

Tang Zhen nodded. He took out a military knife and untied the ropes on everyone’s bodies. He then threw the firearms into their hands.

I didn't plan to hide here for a long time. Even if I didn't shoot just now, those cyborgs would've searched every house for you, so it's only a matter of time before this place is exposed.

Now, you can't stay even if you don't want to!"

While he was speaking, Tang Zhen took out a backpack and threw the remaining steamed buns, biscuits, and a few bottles of mineral water into it. Then, he directly carried it on his back.

Now, he was at most a strong ordinary person, so these things had to be carried with him. If he lacked any one of them, it would make it difficult for him to move.

by the way, do you know a more hidden route? "

Tang Zhen looked at bin Zi and casually asked.

I think it's best for us to advance along the underground drainage system. It should be safer that way.

Bin Zi turned his head to look at the woman beside him and replied after seeing her nod.

then what are we waiting for? let's act immediately!

Bin Zi and the others no longer hesitated. After quickly arranging their equipment, everyone immediately opened the door and carefully walked downstairs.

After arriving downstairs, Tang Zhen and the others confirmed that there were no cyborgs nearby. They immediately ran to a hidden sewer nearby and went in one after another.

Chapter 1084

1084 Underground escape (1)

The city where the cyborg headquarters was located had been carefully designed and planned at the beginning of its construction. Not only were the buildings on the ground orderly, but even the underground was the same.

In order to prevent rainwater from accumulating in the city, the underground drainage system was built like an underground tunnel. From time to time, special sludge cleaning robots would enter it to maintain the smooth flow.

It would not be an exaggeration to call this place an underground city.

However, the sewer was still a sewer, and the rancid smell and darkness would never be less, no matter how clean it was.

A group of rats was startled and squeaked, scurrying around in the sewer.

Tang Zhen and the others covered their noses. They quickly passed through a section where sewage flowed and headed toward the region ahead.

The person leading the way was a middle-aged man with a long beard. He seemed to be a man of few words and rarely spoke along the way.

Following the two sides of the sewer, they walked for about two kilometers before coming to a slightly dry area.

“Hold on for a little longer, we’ll be there soon.”

The bearded middle-aged man said in a low voice and took the lead to enter a hidden fork.

After walking in the darkness for a while, they came to a place where a lot of garbage was thrown away. The middle-aged man who was leading the way stopped.

everyone, rest here for a while. It’s best to wait until night time before taking action!

After the bearded man said this, he turned around to check on his companion’s injuries. He seemed very uninterested.

The wounded man was grazed by a stray bullet at the waist and almost lost his life. He didn’t look very optimistic.

If he wasn’t treated in time, this person wouldn’t be able to last for long.

Tang Zhen quietly swept his gaze around the surroundings before finding a clean spot to sit down.

this used to be our temporary gathering place, but it was abandoned after the news was leaked.

After bin Zi walked over and explained, he sat down beside Tang Zhen and reached out to rub his injured knee.

“Then why don’t you use this underground passage to sneak out of the city?”

Tang Zhen withdrew his gaze and casually asked.

“Ever since the cyborgs discovered the secret of the sewers, they’ve released a type of patrol robot that will attack any living thing they encounter.

It’s also because of this that no one dares to enter this place, for fear of being killed by the patrol robots!”

Just as he said this, everyone heard the sound of water, as if something was wading through the water.

everyone, be careful! The patrol robots are here!

The woman on sentry duty in the distance gave a warning, and everyone immediately held their breath and pressed their bodies close to the ground. Their hands holding their weapons were shaking.

The sound of water in the dark made everyone more and more nervous.

Tang Zhen was also lying on the ground, but his eyes were staring at the corner in front of him. His eyes seemed to be shimmering in the darkness, causing bin Zi to click his tongue in wonder.

The sound of water became louder and louder, and laser-like rays swept across the surroundings. Then, a group of fluorescent robots that looked like fleas appeared in front of everyone’s eyes, and their two blue eyes kept looking around.

Because it was only a regular underground patrol, the detection method of these flea robots was not too high-end. Otherwise, even if Tang Zhen and the others were to hide, they would definitely be discovered.

Fortunately, the patrol robots disappeared very quickly, and everyone heaved a long sigh of relief.

However, in less than ten minutes, the sound of water splashing reappeared, and it came from the same direction.

“What’s going on, here we go again?”

Everyone’s expression changed at the same time. Without any hesitation, they lay on the ground and held their breath again, waiting for the patrol robot to pass by.

However, compared to the previous movement, the sound of water this time was clearly much louder. Just as everyone was feeling a little surprised, a strong light suddenly appeared and shone on the wall in front of them.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly after seeing this scene. A trace of danger surged into his heart.

Now that the entire city was in chaos, the cyborg would definitely increase his search for Lou Cheng’s cultivators. Naturally, he would not let this dark corner of the underground escape.

In that case, the patrol Force in the underground sewers would definitely be greatly strengthened, and they would definitely not be able to deal with the situation as they had before.

Just as he thought of this, he saw a huge black shadow suddenly appear. Upon closer inspection, it was a huge mechanical flea that almost occupied the entire tunnel.

When it passed by the hiding place of Tang Zhen and the others, it suddenly stopped. A few strong lights shot over with lightning speed.

“Not good, I’ve been discovered!”

Tang Zhen immediately jumped up. The rifle in his hand fired continuously, directly shattering the strong light.

“Quickly run!”

As soon as he finished speaking, a series of bullets swept over, completely covering the area where everyone was.

Two Starfire Legion members couldn’t Dodge in time and were hit by the bullets. They didn’t even have time to scream before they were torn into pieces.

“Da Qiang, little Tao!”

Bin Zi shouted in grief and indignation, his face full of pain.

“Damn it!”

Tang Zhen awkwardly dodged. He grabbed the woman with a panicked expression and directly jumped into the ditch and began to run wildly.

“Big brother, you should wait for me!”

Bin Zi was really lucky. He wasn't hit by the bullet screen just now and was chasing after Tang Zhen, wailing like a ghost and howling like a Wolf.

The large flea-like robots couldn't participate in the pursuit because of the narrow passage, but the robots that were only a meter long kept making “ka ka” sounds and chased after them.

These robots moved very quickly, attacking as they ran, causing sparks to fly in the underground sewers.

Seeing that the robot was about to catch up, Tang Zhen had no choice but to turn around and shoot, trying his best to slow down the robot's pursuit.

...

The woman was panting, but she didn't hesitate to join in the attack. Even bin Zi was panting and firing continuously.

Under the suppression of the three rifles, a dozen of the patrol robots were blown up, but the remaining robots continued to rush over like crazy wild dogs.

we can't continue like this. We have to leave this place as soon as possible!

After Tang Zhen emptied his magazine, he casually threw the rifle to the side and pulled out two pistols.

“There doesn't seem to be an exit here. We have to advance a little further!”

Bin Zi shouted as he fired.

“You lead the way, I'll be in charge of bringing up the rear. Hurry up!”

At this moment, Tang Zhen had no choice but to go all out. Otherwise, the three of them would all die Here.

Bin Zi responded and staggered to the back. He pulled the woman and started to run for his life without looking back.

Tang Zhen followed closely behind. He retreated while shooting. Relying on his accurate marksmanship to suppress the robots, he was able to keep the robots at a distance of over twenty meters.

However, the bullets in the two pistols were limited. It didn't take long for them to run out of bullets.

...

Tang Zhen glanced at the concrete wall beside him and punched the corner of the wall, causing a large piece of concrete to fall.

He casually picked up a few pieces and ruthlessly smashed them on the robot that was rushing over. Tang Zhen took the opportunity to rush in the direction that bin Zi had disappeared in.

After stumbling all the way, the three of them finally found an exit and quickly climbed out.

They didn't have time to check their surroundings. The three of them hurriedly ran towards the ruins in the distance and disappeared in a moment.

Chapter 1085

1085 An unpeaceful night.1

Carefully hiding behind the ruins, bin Zi's face was filled with a rejoicing expression as if he had just escaped death.

When those flea-like robots were chasing them, their attacks never stopped. Under such circumstances, they were able to escape unscathed, which was indeed somewhat beyond bin Zi's expectations.

When they recalled the scene they had just experienced, bin Zi and the other man subconsciously looked at Tang Zhen with a trace of gratitude in their eyes.

"Big brother, if it wasn't for you, I would have lost my life!

I won't say any words of thanks. In the future, as long as there's anything I can help you with, just let me know!"

Bin Zi patted his chest and said to Tang Zhen.

The pale-faced woman did not say anything. However, she still nodded her head to express her thanks when Tang Zhen's gaze was cast over.

No one was a fool. In such a dangerous environment, having the help of an expert like Tang Zhen by their side would undoubtedly increase their chances of survival by quite a lot.

"There's no need to thank me. Just remember to bring me to that place."

Tang Zhen spoke indifferently. After which, he did not say anything else. Instead, he took a rest and replenished his strength as soon as possible.

In the process of escaping just now, he had felt the long-lost threat of death. Avoiding the attacks of the flea robot made Tang Zhen almost use all his strength.

At present, there was not a single trace of energy left in his body, and the liquid robot could not be used, causing him to temporarily lose contact with it. He could only rely on himself now.

Fortunately, ordinary cyborg soldiers were still unable to pose a fatal threat to Tang Zhen, except for those patrol-level cyborgs.

Tang Zhen would hide as far away as he could when facing such an enemy. This was because he clearly knew that he was no match for him.

This feeling was very sullen, but he could only silently endure it.

I have to recover my strength as soon as possible. Otherwise, I might lose my life if I encounter the higher-ups of the cyborgs again.

Tang Zhen carefully extended his head out of the ruins and attempted to observe the situation outside to determine if there was any danger in the surroundings.

It was almost dusk, but the broken city was still filled with gunshots and rising flames.

The Cyborg's aircraft shuttled back and forth in the black smoke, constantly searching for traces of Lou Cheng's cultivators. At the same time, they would launch attacks on the resistance Army who were constantly running around.

From time to time, beams of light could be seen rising into the sky from the ruins, heading straight for the low-altitude aircraft. Some aircraft could not Dodge in time and were hit, falling to the ground with flames and black smoke.

This was the attack launched by the rebellion Army. With their participation, the pressure on the cultivators in loucheng city who were looking for energy absorption devices was greatly reduced.

"Take this time to rest. We'll leave at midnight."

Tang Zhen returned to his hiding place and threw the food he brought to bin Zi and that woman. He also kept a portion for himself.

The two of them nodded and didn't say anything else. They both buried their heads and started eating.

Tang Zhen was thinking of how to resolve the predicament he was in while eating. However, he was a little depressed to discover that the strength he currently possessed was really too weak.

Tang Zhen, who was used to relying on his strength to suppress others, actually felt extremely uncomfortable in this situation where he was alone and surrounded by enemies from all sides.

Could it be that he had been too reliant on mobile applications all this time?

After throwing away those chaotic thoughts, Tang Zhen looked at the woman who was leaning against the wall to rest after having her fill. He lowered his voice and asked, "How did you know about that place? are you sure you didn't remember it wrong?"

Tang Zhen had no choice but to be a little more cautious. This was because every single step he took at this moment might result in him encountering a life and death crisis. Hence, he had to make a plan before taking action.

After the woman heard Tang Zhen's question, she hesitated for a moment before slowly speaking, I was once captured by the cyborgs and sent to their secret base where many members of the resistance were locked up.

As you said, the secret base is underground and guarded by many cyborgs.

I only know of this place, but I'm not sure if there are other similar places."

After the woman explained in a few words, she didn't mention the specific location. She didn't say anything more, obviously in a bad mood.

Tang Zhen did not force her. In any case, the woman would bring him to that place in a few hours.

In the following time, none of the three were in the mood to chat. Instead, they seized the time to rest and replenish their strength.

However, the occasional gunshots and other noises prevented them from getting a good rest.

Under this annoying torture, it was finally midnight, and the whole city became much quieter.

Tang Zhen stood up and reached out to rub his somewhat numb face. He waved his hand at bin Zi and the other man.

it's almost time. Let's start!

Bin Zi and the other man also stood up and moved their hands and feet. The three of them began to carefully set off towards their destination under the cover of the night.

Although the night did not affect the cyborgs' vision much, it was still not as convenient as the day. Moreover, the city was full of ruins. As long as they were careful, they could completely avoid the cyborgs' detection.

Along the way, they carefully avoided the patrols of the cyborgs, killed a few guys who were alone, and obtained a few weapons. The three of them were getting closer and closer to their destination.

After carefully passing through a Street full of debris, Tang Zhen and the other two climbed up to the top of a building that had been destroyed in the hands of Lou Cheng's cultivators. Their eyes fell on the front.

The first thing he saw was a building that gave off a sense of security and oppression. Its appearance was similar to the cyborg headquarters, but it did not have a metal shell. Instead, it looked more like a medieval castle.

Huge searchlights were constantly sweeping from high above, and the defense alarm equipment was also activated at the same time to guard against any possible intruders.

Under normal circumstances, ordinary people would not be able to get close to this building.

Fortunately, this place had also been damaged by the cultivators of the tower, causing the defense here to be riddled with holes. Even though they had tried their best to fix it, there were still holes that could not be repaired in a short time.

"I'm talking about this place. If you have a way, you can go in and take a look."

The woman said to Tang Zhen. However, there was a trace of doubt in her eyes.

According to the intelligence obtained by the Starfire Legion, this should be the base for the cyborgs' experiments and modifications. Its defense level was only second to the teleportation transit station. They had tried to sneak in several times to obtain information, but they had failed in the end.

The only time he had succeeded was when the woman had been caught and escaped.

In the woman's eyes, although the man in front of her was powerful and mysterious, it would still be difficult to enter.

She hoped that he wouldn't be killed by the cyborg. Otherwise, it would be more dangerous for her and bin Zi to leave the city.

At this time, Tang Zhen's attention was on the building in front of him. After carefully observing it for more than ten minutes, he turned to look at bin Zi and the woman.

"You two wait for me here. If I don't come out before dawn, you two hide first or find a way to leave."

After leaving behind these words, Tang Zhen immediately sneaked toward the building like a ghost.

1086 Entering in disguise _1

The cool night wind blew past, gently swaying the plants that had already turned snow-white, as if it was snowing.

Especially under the illumination of the searchlights, the snow-white color was even more striking, making people feel as if they were in a snowfield.

He did not know if it was because of the energy-absorbing device, but the temperature at night had suddenly dropped to an extremely low level. When he breathed, he could even see a large amount of water vapor appear. It was extremely abnormal in this season.

Tang Zhen slowly advanced along the damaged road that had been cleaned up. His movements were very careful in order to avoid attracting the attention of the cyborg.

Perhaps it was because the experimental base had been too damaged, many of the original alarm devices had been damaged. Therefore, the cyborgs could only choose some infrared detection alarm devices and temporarily set them up in the outer area that needed to be defended.

Ordinary people were unable to see these rays of light with their naked eyes. However, Tang Zhen was able to easily distinguish them.

They were like thin and long ropes, blocking his way in a disorderly manner, and the slightest touch would sound an alarm.

This ability was especially suitable at this moment!

After one's cultivation reached the king level, they would begin to evolve. The eyes were also one of the organs that evolved. As a law cultivator, Tang Zhen's evolution was even more obvious.

Even if the torobo people had taken away their energy, their ability to evolve could not be restricted. Therefore, the cultivators of Lou Cheng were extremely strong and had many special abilities that far exceeded ordinary people.

Using his special and abnormal vision, Tang Zhen easily avoided those light rays and continued to advance toward the inner region.

Tang Zhen suddenly stopped his footsteps after he had advanced for around a hundred meters or so. He began to observe once again.

About 50 meters away from him, there were several cyborg Warriors guarding the entrance. Two Spider-like robots about three meters tall stood still, but from their flashing status lights, it was obvious that they were in an active state.

If he was discovered by the cyborg, he would definitely suffer an extremely fierce attack. With Tang Zhen's current strength, it was impossible for him to resist such a rain of bullets.

However, other than this entrance, the other locations were even more heavily guarded. It was impossible to enter in a short period of time.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly. He was thinking about how to sneak into this building. However, he discovered that there seemed to be no better method other than forcefully attacking.

Just as he was feeling slightly troubled, he suddenly noticed that there seemed to be a slight noise coming from the grass not far away.

Tang Zhen's heart trembled slightly as he seemed to have realized something. He was like a ghost as he quietly approached the source of the sound.

It took him a few minutes to cover the distance of more than ten meters. At the same time, his eyes were fixed on a pile of junk.

After being silent for a few seconds, Tang Zhen was like a cheetah preying on its prey in the night. He landed on the pile of junk with lightning speed and a military knife stabbed down.

A slight noise could be heard, and then everything returned to silence.

However, Tang Zhen's actions did not stop. Instead, he gently dragged out a corpse from under the debris. After which, he changed the other party's clothes into his own.

Among the cyborgs, other than the high-level personnel, the ordinary soldiers did not have a high degree of modification. Their appearance did not look much different from ordinary people. Tang Zhen only needed a simple disguise and he could fool them.

Of course, such a disguise could only be concealed for a short period of time. If it was noticed, it would be exposed in minutes.

He planned to use this disguise to sneak into the base without being noticed. As for whether he would succeed, it was hard to say at the moment.

Just as Tang Zhen was prepared to take action, he heard the roar of a car coming from not far away. At the same time, a strong light appeared.

Without the slightest hesitation, Tang Zhen directly hid in a pit by the side of the road and did his best to stick his body close to the ground.

Just as he hid himself, several tanks appeared one after another and sped towards the building. They were filled with cyborg soldiers with loaded guns.

Several cultivators of Lou city were locked up by special torture devices. They were covered in blood and wounds, looking very embarrassed.

It was obvious that the cyborgs were very afraid of the cultivators of Loucheng, so even though they were bound by torture devices, their muzzles were still firmly pointed at them.

In addition to the cultivators of Lou Cheng, there were more than a dozen members of the resistance on the chariot. They were also covered in wounds and their hands and feet were tied up.

When the war chariot passed by Tang Zhen's location, he directly shot out from the pit. After which, he scuttled to the rear of the last war chariot as though he was flying close to the ground.

Tang Zhen's palm suddenly clenched and his body was firmly stuck to the bottom of the war chariot. No one discovered anything unusual during the entire process.

Soon, the vehicle arrived at the roadblock. After scanning the area with electronic devices, the vehicle continued moving forward.

Under normal circumstances, if one wanted to enter the base, they would have to go through a very strict inspection. Under the scanning of technological equipment, even a fly could not easily sneak in.

If it wasn't for the fact that the original inspection tunnel had been destroyed and that there were many captives on the vehicle, Tang Zhen, who was hidden under the vehicle, would definitely not have been able to pass through easily!

After luckily avoiding the guards at the entrance, Tang Zhen followed the vehicle into the research base. He also heaved a sigh of relief in his heart.

&Nbsp; after entering the gate, the chariot circled a few times before finally stopping in front of a building.

"Hurry up and get out of the car!"

A cyborg officer jumped down from the vehicle and directed the soldiers to bring the captives down. Then, he walked to a tightly closed metal door not far away and pressed his palm on it.

No one noticed that when everyone got off the car, Tang Zhen suddenly extended his hand and grabbed a cyborg soldier at the back. He used a little strength and pulled him out of the car. At the same time, he shook his arm slightly and the huge force had already shaken him to death.

The entire process was silent. After which, Tang Zhen stood up and joined the group that was escorting the prisoners.

[ verification complete. Please enter! ]

The metal door opened, and a group of people stepped in. Perhaps it was because they had formed a temporary team, or perhaps it was for other reasons, so no one noticed that someone had been replaced in the team.

Tang Zhen secretly heaved a sigh of relief. He also gently lowered the rifle that he was tightly holding.

After entering the brightly lit Hall, the group continued to walk forward for a distance, and then stopped at a marked ground.

A soft sound rang out, and everyone began to descend rapidly, heading deep into the ground.

"Swish!"

The descent was not long, but judging from their speed, they should be a hundred meters below the ground.

The protective objects around them were removed, and a spacious hall appeared in front of everyone. More than a dozen cyborgs were standing at the edge of the hall, coldly sweeping their eyes over the people who had just come down.

lock these intruders in the S-Class cells, and the members of the resistance in the ordinary cells!

let's go! the leader ordered again. The cyborg soldiers were divided into two groups and escorted their captives to a passage.

...

Chapter 1087

1087 Saving the cultivators of Lou Cheng (1)

Only the sound of footsteps could be heard in the empty passage.

The long and narrow passage seemed to have no end. The silver-white alloy walls were everywhere, making people feel extremely depressed. It was impossible to find anything with just a visual inspection, unless the hidden door was opened. Only then would they be able to see what was behind.

However, judging from the cyborg warrior's appearance, it did not seem to be held here.

Under the cover of his helmet, Tang Zhen continued to observe his surroundings. He was planning how to escape from this place or how to use the terrain to defend himself after alerting the cyborg.

His ability to fight alone was limited, so he had to think of a way out if the operation failed.

Based on what he had observed just now, he could confirm that the defense of this experimental base was far inferior to that of the transmission transit station. After all, that was the place where the cyborgs were responsible for guarding.

Although the level of defense here was not high, it still posed quite a big risk to the current Tang Zhen.

If possible, it would be best to rescue all the cultivators of Lou Cheng who were imprisoned here and have them cooperate with him. This way, the success rate would be greatly improved.

As he thought of this, Tang Zhen glanced at the few dispirited cultivators from Lou Cheng and started to prepare in silence.

As long as the time was right, he would not hesitate to save them.

After walking for a few more minutes, the group came to the end of the passage and took the elevator deeper underground.

Obviously, there was more than one floor in the underground base, and the prison for Lou Cheng should be deeper inside the base!

"Ka!"

With a soft sound, the elevator door opened, and a huge space entered their eyes.

Transparent containers that were more than three meters tall appeared in front of Tang Zhen in rows. The bases were filled with monitors that were constantly flashing.

In these containers, there were many modified cyborgs with tubes inserted all over their bodies.

In addition to these half-mechs, there were also some containers filled with a light gray liquid. The cultivators of Lou Cheng seemed to have lost their consciousness.

Tang Zhen sighed in relief after seeing this scene.

As long as the cyborgs didn't kill the captured Lou Cheng, there was still hope. Otherwise, even if they managed to get out of the predicament, the savage war zone would still suffer unpredictable losses.

After all, the number of King level cultivators participating in this operation was one-third of the entire battle zone!

Although the life and death of the cultivators in the other loucheng had nothing to do with Tang Zhen, the assistance of these cultivators was indispensable if he wanted to survive in the face of death.

Originally, Tang Zhen was a little worried because of the lack of manpower. However, after seeing these cultivators, the pressure on him was reduced by a lot.

At this moment, there were quite a number of people moving about in the hall. As Tang Zhen and the others entered, the cyborg warrior in charge of guarding this place immediately walked forward and prepared to hand over the captives.

After the handover was completed, the half-robot warriors in charge of escorting them would return to the team and continue to participate in the clearing of the remaining enemies in the city.

It was also at this moment that Tang Zhen had to take action!

Just as the cyborg soldiers were exchanging blows, Tang Zhen suddenly pulled out his military knife and stabbed it into the bodies of four cyborg soldiers at an unbelievable speed.

At the same time when their bodies were convulsing, the military knife in Tang Zhen's hand flashed with a cold glint as it slashed across the throat of the half-robot warrior.

The half-robot warrior, who was still made of flesh and blood, fell to the ground, blood splattering everywhere.

The entire process happened in the time it took for a spark to fly off a Flint. Before the other cyborg soldiers could react, Tang Zhen had already pulled out his rifle and fired out a series of fire snakes.

The quiet underground space was immediately filled with intense gunfire. In just a few seconds, all the cyborg soldiers in his line of sight were shot and fell to the ground.

Tang Zhen half knelt on the ground. After shooting another enemy who revealed his head, he conveniently found a card on the cyborg soldier's body.

He swept the instruments of torture at the cultivators of Lou Cheng, and with a few cracking sounds, those instruments of torture fell off their hands and feet.

Lou Cheng, who was waiting for an opportunity to escape, was stunned for a moment. He then jumped up from the ground and picked up the weapon from the Cyborg's corpse.

"Who are you?"

A cultivator from Lou Cheng pointed his gun at Tang Zhen and asked in a cold voice.

Tang Zhen took off his helmet and used his cold eyes to sweep across the Lou Cheng cultivator.

"It's the manhuang King!"

The cultivator holding the gun was stunned for a moment. He quickly turned the gun to the side and looked apologetic.

Tang Zhen nodded and said to the cultivators of Lou Cheng, you're in charge of clearing the remaining cyborgs. I'll go rescue the others. Move out immediately!

After confirming Tang Zhen's identity, the cultivators of Lou Cheng no longer had any doubts in their hearts. They immediately followed Tang Zhen's command and began to clean up the cyborgs that came over.

With eyes burning with the anger of revenge, the cultivators from Lou Cheng were like tigers out of their cages. They crushed the cyborg soldiers with a crushing posture.

Tang Zhen quickly rushed to the location of a container. He reached out and tapped on the screen a few times before moving on to the next container that contained Lou Cheng.

Following Tang Zhen's operation, the containers began to empty the liquid, quickly revealing Lou Cheng's cultivators inside.

After that, electric currents appeared and went through the tubes attached to the cultivators of Lou Cheng, wrapping around their bodies.

"Hu!"

The Lou Cheng cultivator trembled and opened his eyes. He looked around with killing intent.

Although they were Captured by the Cyborg, it was only because they were alone and their abilities were limited. Even so, they still caused great losses to the cyborg.

At this moment, they had regained their freedom!

"Huala"

With a series of crisp sounds, the containers were shattered by the cultivators of Lou Cheng who had woken up. Then, without anyone's command, these cultivators began to attack the cyborgs around them.

The cultivators in Lou Cheng didn't even let go of the containers that contained the cyborgs. They smashed them into pieces one after another.

At the same time, the cultivators in loucheng used everything they could, be it fighting bare-handed or operating guns, to kill the cyborg warrior.

In just a few minutes, all the cyborgs in the square were killed, leaving only cultivators of different appearances standing proudly.

damn it, I've finally vented my anger. This feels great!

"Who was the one who saved me? I owe him a favor!"

it's the manhuang King! The manhuang King saved us!

where's the manhuang King? I'll go thank him!

The cultivators in the loucheng shouted a few words at the same time and then began to look for Tang Zhen's traces. In the end, they found him standing in front of a piece of equipment, frowning and thinking about something.

While he was thinking, his hands were still operating.

Seeing the dozens of rescued cultivators of loucheng gathering together, Tang Zhen threw away the thoughts in his mind and stood up to look at the crowd.

I'm going to try to crack the control system here, which may take some time. The battle just now must have alerted the cyborgs, and they should launch a counterattack soon, so you must keep them out!

If we can't succeed, then we can only fight it out with brute force. That way, we'll be in deep trouble!"

Chapter 1088

1088 Humanoid charger _1

After Tang Zhen finished speaking, he ignored the cultivators in the building. Instead, he once again sat in front of the electronic device and began to operate it with both hands.

manhuang Lord, don't worry. With us here, those cyborgs won't be able to set foot in here!

The cultivators of the city didn't hesitate at all after hearing this. After promising Tang Zhen, they immediately took out their weapons and began to defend.

They were very clear in their hearts that Tang Zhen was their only hope of leaving this place. Therefore, they could not let Tang Zhen be disturbed no matter what.

Just as the cultivators were blocking the entrance of the square and preparing to fight the cyborg, Tang Zhen was actually trying to activate his phone!

Through the operation just now, Tang Zhen had already confirmed that it was impossible to hack into the base's control system within a short period of time. Therefore, he could only think of another method.

If the phone could still be used, Tang Zhen would definitely be able to easily solve the problem in front of him by relying on the magical application of the [ all-purpose electronic kit ]!

However, ever since the energy absorption device of the teroboros people was activated, Tang Zhen's phone had fallen into a black screen state and could not be used at all.

Obviously, this phone also needed to rely on the energy of heaven and earth to operate, otherwise, it would not have such a strange situation.

However, the entire city's energy had been completely drained. It was impossible for Tang Zhen to obtain the energy to let it work again. However, the electronic equipment of the half-robot that was still operating normally made Tang Zhen think of a possibility.

Electricity was also a type of energy, so could it be used to charge the phone and restore it to work?

Regardless of whether this method was feasible or not, it was the only method Tang Zhen could think of at the moment.

Tang Zhen did not have much time to think about the dangerous situation he was currently in. Therefore, he began to act without any hesitation.

After checking the ground, he lifted the insulated floor directly, revealing all kinds of wires under it.

He searched along the circuit and pulled out a cable as thick as an arm. He then removed the protective layer on the surface.

He chose two of the wires and tore them off. Then, Tang Zhen held them with his left and right hands, letting the current pass through his body.

He didn't dare to touch the phone directly with the current as it might destroy it. Although the possibility of this was very small, Zhen Tang didn't dare to take the risk.

What he had to do now was to use his body as a conductor to see if the phone could absorb the current into his body.

Regardless of whether it worked or not, he had to try it.

Only the heavens knew how high the voltage used by the cyborg device was. When the current entered Tang Zhen's body, even his abnormal physique was somewhat unable to withstand it. A numb, painful, and itchy feeling spread throughout his entire body.

However, in order to charge his phone, Tang Zhen gritted his teeth and persevered. His clenched fists never loosened.

"Hurry up and turn on the phone, hurry up and turn it on!"

Tang Zhen silently prayed in his heart, but there was no response from his phone. It was still dark.

It was also at this moment that concentrated gunfire rang out. Tang Zhen turned around and saw a large number of cyborg soldiers appearing at the entrance of the square.

These cyborg Warriors attacked while advancing toward the square. A few cyborgs with powerful auras were mixed in with them.

The cultivators of loucheng city, who had been hiding for a long time, were now retaliating. Although the number of weapons was limited, their accurate marksmanship still shocked the cyborg.

In a short time, the cultivators in loucheng city had become familiar with firearms and were using them quite well!

However, the current situation was not optimistic. As the number of cyborgs continued to increase, it was only a matter of time before they reached the square.

When Tang Zhen saw this scene, he was secretly anxious. He gritted his teeth and tore the entire electric cable, directly holding the exposed wire in his hand.

As if he had been hit by a car, Zhen Tang's body kept trembling as if it would explode at any moment.

Without the protection of the energy in his body, the electric current began to destroy his body. Even though his physique was extraordinary, he still had to endure great pain.

"Hurry up and turn on the phone, turn on the phone!"

Tang Zhen was on the verge of shouting out. His eyes were firmly fixed on the phone's interface. Both of his eyes were bloodshot.

However, even though an electric current continuously passed through Tang Zhen's body, the phone still didn't have any reaction. It was as if this method didn't work.

Tang Zhen was a little disappointed. Just as he was about to release his palm, the scene in front of him suddenly changed. His phone actually slowly turned on!

Tang Zhen's heart was immediately filled with great joy when he saw this familiar scene.

Without any hesitation, he summoned his flying sword to attack and locked onto the cyborgs that were about to rush into the square.

Tang Zhen clearly understood the terrifying destructive power of the summoning flying swords. The ground that was merely a hundred meters or so was simply unable to stop their piercing!

"Everyone, hold on! Our reinforcements are here!"

After Tang Zhen shouted, he activated his all-purpose electronic kit. He was prepared to obtain all the information about this base and use it to lock onto the location of the energy absorption device!

Tang Zhen also issued a return command to the liquid robot that had lost contact with him, letting it return to his side at lightning speed.

The mission item was in its hands, and it could not afford to lose it!

Just as Zhen Tang was rapidly operating his mobile app, thinking of a way to deal with the situation in front of him, the battle in the square was still ongoing.

After Tang Zhen's shout, the cultivators in loucheng city were slightly stunned. They couldn't figure out where the reinforcements came from.

However, in the next second, they knew what Tang Zhen's words meant.

With a sharp whistling sound, streams of colorful light pierced through the ceiling above them and shuttled back and forth among the cyborgs.

A series of screams could be heard. Wherever the rainbow light passed, the attacking cyborgs fell to the ground one after another, their bodies broken into two pieces!

The flying sword only made a few rounds, and the aggressive cyborgs were all turned into minced meat on the ground, and an indescribable stench filled the air.

All the cultivators looked at this scene in a daze, then revealed looks of pleasant surprise.

"What kind of cultivator skill is this?"

it should be some sort of unique secret technique of the manhuang King. Its power is truly extraordinary!

this means that the manhuang Queen has recovered her strength. How did she recover? " didn't you see him holding that rope in his hand? I guess that's the reason. Why don't we try it too? "

...

There was more than one cultivator in loucheng who noticed Tang Zhen's strange behavior. When they realized that this method might have caused Tang Zhen to recover his strength, they immediately became eager to try.

For the cultivators in loucheng, being able to recover their original strength was a huge temptation that they could not refuse!

Chapter 1089

1089 Rushing out of the underground base (1)

Looking at the flickering eyes of the cultivators in the building, one could tell that they were not calm at all. Even if Tang Zhen stopped them, they would still try. Otherwise, they would not be willing to give up.

However, they did not know that Tang Zhen did not recover his own cultivation. Instead, he had recovered a powerful special item!

Of course, Tang Zhen wouldn't explain, and those cultivators in loucheng wouldn't believe him.

After about ten seconds of silence, several cultivators of loucheng city lifted the floor under their feet in the blink of an eye and found a few cables as thick as an arm.

They twisted the power cable with brute force, ignored the crackling current, and directly held the power cable in their hands.

This was an imitation of Tang Zhen's actions. As for why, they didn't know. However, they could feel the current in the electric cable and had a trace of anticipation in their hearts.

In the blink of an eye, the electric current flowed into the bodies of these cultivators.

Under the gazes of the cultivators of loucheng, the hair on the cultivators' bodies immediately flew up. Then, they trembled and fell to the ground with white foam at their mouths.

All the cultivators were dumbfounded. They didn't know what had happened and whether these guys had succeeded.

"Swish!"

The sound of a machine stopping could be heard, and the entire square immediately fell into darkness. The scene was terrifyingly quiet.

"Damn it, what are you guys doing?"

Tang Zhen roared and stood up from the ground. He glared at the cultivators of loucheng city who had a guilty conscience.

Tang Zhen glanced at the cultivators from loucheng city who had crawled up from the ground with a depressed expression. He pointed at them angrily and sighed softly.

"You can't accomplish anything, but you can ruin everything!"

Suppressing the anger in his heart, Tang Zhen picked up a rifle from the ground and waved at the crowd.

"I already know the exact location of the energy absorbing device. We'll rush over now and destroy it!

But I have to remind you that if you cause any more trouble, you will bear the consequences!"

Looking at the Furious Tang Zhen, all the cultivators were speechless. There were even some who looked ashamed.

Tang Zhen coldly snorted and no longer spoke.

In fact, Tang Zhen had finally found the exact location of the energy absorption device at the last moment before the power was cut off.

However, the energy absorption device was not located in the base but in another area of the city. Tang Zhen had to pass through the blockade of the cyborgs to reach it.

Since the target's location had already been determined, Tang Zhen naturally wanted to immediately begin his operation to prevent any unexpected changes from happening.

The cultivators in loucheng city followed Tang Zhen's lead. After hearing his order, they immediately responded and followed closely with their weapons.

The entire base was in complete darkness, and the backup power supply system had not been activated. If they wanted to leave, they had to restore the power supply and take the elevator.

However, Tang Zhen did not plan to do this. This was because after seeing the structural diagram of the experimental base, he knew that there was another passageway here. It would be connected to the surface by a cable car.

On normal days, this passage would be sealed off and would only be opened in an emergency.

The place that Tang Zhen wanted to go was precisely this tunnel!

According to the memory in his mind, Tang Zhen and the others continued to move forward in the passage with the emergency lighting system activated. From time to time, they would encounter cyborgs blocking their way.

Along the way, the gunshots did not stop.

While they were moving forward, Tang Zhen unexpectedly encountered a group of resistance members who had escaped. They were surrounded by a group of cyborgs and were rescued by Tang Zhen and the others at the critical moment.

Of course, Tang Zhen and the others had only done so in passing. After all, the other party was blocking their path and they could not avoid it.

However, when the rescued members of the resistance saw the appearance of Tang Zhen and the others, they were all frightened and subconsciously began to retreat.

They had a deep impression of the invaders who had destroyed the entire city. Now that these people had appeared in front of them, how could they not be afraid?

Even though they had weapons in their hands, they could not give them a sense of security. In the eyes of the resistance, the cultivators in Lou Cheng were no different from demons!

Looking at the members of the resistance who had disappeared in the blink of an eye, Tang Zhen sneered and continued to lead his men forward.

If these guys followed him, they might have a chance to escape. However, if they were to face the pursuit of the cyborg alone, they would definitely be in danger!

let's go faster. Otherwise, the cyborgs will realize our intentions and destroy the passage!

He pushed all the way to the location of the passage and used brute force to open the sealed metal door. Then, a track that slanted upwards appeared in front of him.

The cable car had an independent power supply system. Even though the power of the base had been shut down, it could still operate normally.

"Everyone, get in the car, we don't have much time!"

After Tang Zhen called out, he immediately went to the driver's seat. After fiddling with it a few times, the car slowly started.

He was the only cultivator who could handle this thing. If another cultivator from Lou Cheng came up, the car might be destroyed in less than a minute.

After all the cultivators of loucheng got on the car, Tang Zhen started the car. Then, the car began to climb rapidly under the pull of the cable.

They were less than a hundred meters from the ground, so it wouldn't take long for them to climb up.

This exit was hidden under an ordinary building. Tang Zhen and the rest easily killed the cyborgs guarding it and rushed to the chaotic Street.

What they had to face next was the cyborg Warriors that covered the entire city, as well as the aircraft that flew over their heads from time to time.

If it was just Tang Zhen and the dozens of cultivators from Lou Cheng, they would probably be trapped to death by the half-androids that appeared one after another before they reached their destination.

The other cultivators in loucheng also realized this, so they looked at Tang Zhen in unison, waiting for him to make a decision.

Fortunately, Tang Zhen was prepared. At this moment, under everyone's gaze, he took out a stack of cards that flickered with a strange light and picked one out.

"This is a Suan ni storage card!"

that's right. The Holy Dragon city's storage cards are good for the people, so why wouldn't the wilderness King store them? "

"Manhuang King, what's in your card? show it to everyone!" He shouted.

...

A group of cultivators from Lou Cheng looked at the card in Tang Zhen's hand, their eyes filled with anticipation.

Tang Zhen didn't keep him in suspense. He reached out and tore the card into pieces. Immediately, a stream of light appeared in front of everyone.

In the dark night, several huge armed robots appeared out of thin air. Their black muzzles were pointed at the sky, ready to attack at any time.

With just these armed robots, it was impossible to guarantee that Tang Zhen and the others would reach their destination safely. Therefore, Tang Zhen took out another card, tore it, and released more than a dozen drones.

There were armed robots on the ground to clear the way, and there were unmanned aerial vehicles on top of their heads for protection. Tang Zhen took out a pile of weapons and directly distributed them to the dozens of cultivators in loucheng.

After seeing that all the cultivators were armed to the teeth, Tang Zhen gave the order and immediately set off towards their destination.

since we can't hide our team from the cyborgs, we might as well make a big noise. This way, we can attract the other hidden cultivators from Lou Cheng. With their participation, our combat power can be enhanced a lot!

One of the cultivators suggested to Tang Zhen. After thinking for a while, Tang Zhen nodded his head.

1090 -rampage without fear

Time was of the essence. After locking onto the target's location, the cultivators immediately began to move.

The armed robots were in charge of clearing the way, and the drones guarded and investigated above them. Dozens of cultivators of loucheng city, armed with all kinds of weapons, began to move forward along the shortest route.

With heavy steps, the armed robot stomped heavily on the solid road. The cars that were abandoned on the road after their engines died were sent flying to both sides of the road one after another!

The black muzzles of the guns kept moving, and any target that was identified as an enemy would be attacked like a storm.

The silence of the night was once again broken. The group was almost unobstructed as they easily crossed the two streets.

From the buildings on both sides of the road, people constantly poked their heads out and secretly sized up this group of strange-looking people, their eyes full of fear.

Although it was late at night, the frightened citizens could still confirm that this group of people was definitely not cyborg Warriors or members of the resistance organization who took the opportunity to emerge.

After all, the cultivators of loucheng had all kinds of strange appearances. With just one look, one could tell that they were definitely not indigenous people.

The Aborigines were full of fear for the intruders who had destroyed the city. Therefore, after confirming the identity of the cultivators in the building, they immediately curled up in their houses like frightened birds.

As long as they did not come out to cause trouble, the cultivators of loucheng city could not be bothered with these fragile citizens. They swaggered along the street.

As the group advanced, there were even people constantly shouting in a language that the indigenous people had never heard before.

If there were cultivators of loucheng nearby, they would definitely come over to take a look after hearing the contents of the shout. This was because this was the language of the world of loucheng, and it was an attempt to gather the cultivators of loucheng who were fighting for themselves.

At present, the cultivators of loucheng were all alone. They had to work together to overcome the difficulties in front of them!

During the process of moving forward, Tang Zhen stood on the shoulder of an armed robot and constantly looked at the information images sent back by the drone in order to obtain accurate information about the cyborg.

When the team reached the third Street, a group of half-robots drove a tank and blocked Lou Cheng's way.

The moment the cyborg revealed his head, the armed robot, which had already entered its attack mode, suddenly opened fire. The sound of gunfire echoed continuously on the street, and the dense barrage of bullets was like a sword of Fire, directly slashing at the Cyborg's tank!

The cyborg tank at the front was directly blown up. The cyborg Warriors on the tank could not Dodge in time and were immediately swallowed by the flames, their bodies torn into pieces.

When the tanks behind saw this, they immediately scattered in all directions. After quickly stopping at every corner of the street, the cyborg Warriors began to fight back.

The various weapons and equipment set up on the chariots also shot out terrifying flames one after another.

Countless bullets were mixed with miniature missiles, which kept shooting toward the area where the Lou Cheng cultivators were. Explosions and violent flames soared into the sky.

The cultivators of Lou Cheng city on the street were immediately enveloped by the flames of war, and they kept fighting back while dodging.

Their figures flashed rapidly, and they would never stay in a fixed place. Whether it was the sewers, the windows of the houses, or the top of the buildings, the figures of cultivators could be seen everywhere.

Bullets were fired from their weapons, knocking down the cyborgs or the tanks!

The armed robots on the ground and the unmanned aircraft that returned were also launching attacks on the enemy. A fire Dragon spread along the long Street.

At the same time as they attacked, Tang Zhen and the others also continued to advance in the flames of war.

The intense battle had already alerted the cyborgs in the city and the cultivators who were hiding. They all gathered at the battle site.

It did not take long for the cyborg inspectors who came from other areas to reinforce the troops to appear near the battlefield one after another, attempting to attack the cultivators in Lou Cheng.

To Lou Cheng's cultivators, whose cultivation was restricted, these cyborg inspectors were a big threat. After all, their strength was almost equivalent to a Lord-tier cultivator.

With almost all the higher-ups of the cyborgs wiped out, these area patrollers were the strongest combat force among the cyborgs. They were not to be underestimated!

Tang Zhen had long been keeping an eye on the movements around the battlefield. Therefore, the moment these cyborg inspectors appeared, he did not hesitate to rush forward and tear the card in his hand.

The skill cards that he had exchanged and accumulated back then were finally put to use at this moment. With these skill cards, Tang Zhen was not afraid of these Cyborg Patrol inspectors at all. Even if his cultivation base was restricted, he could still kill in all directions!

Following Tang Zhen's advance, an ice battle armor rapidly appeared on the surface of his body. Under the illumination of the flames, it was like an exquisite gem that flickered with a dazzling light.

However, the appearance of this Ice Armor meant that death had arrived!

With a long howl, Tang Zhen's figure had already appeared in front of a Regional Inspector. The icy saber in his hand slashed out fiercely.

The cyborg Patrol inspector was shocked and quickly dodged the sharp blade. At the same time, he brandished a long metal whip that was covered in dazzling lightning at Tang Zhen.

A white plant was swept by the metal whip and immediately burned and broke. It was obvious that this weapon had quite a shocking destructive power. Once hit, it would definitely kill or injure the target.

Tang Zhen's body twisted slightly to avoid the attack of the metal whip. At the same time, he swung his sword upward and stabbed it into the cyborg Patrol inspector's body without any obstruction.

The opponent's body, which had been modified with a special alloy, was unable to withstand the slash of the icy battle saber and was instantly shattered.

After taking out one enemy, Tang Zhen charged towards another. His Skill Card had a time limit, so he had to get rid of all the inspectors before he deactivated it!

The inspectors who were participating in the attack had already discovered Tang Zhen. After realizing his uniqueness, they actually attacked him in unison.

"Hehe, I'm afraid you won't come!"

Tang Zhen coldly laughed. Numerous ice blades suddenly appeared on both ends of his arms. His back and legs were also densely covered with ice spikes. A long tail made of ice instantly appeared behind him.

After the transformation, Tang Zhen had completely turned into a combat weapon!

At this moment, several semi-mechanical inspectors had already arrived in front of him. Their cold and hot weapons landed on Zhen Tang's body, causing the ice on his armor to continuously fall.

Tang Zhen turned a blind eye to it. His entire person was like a berserk ferocious beast as he forcefully collided with those semi-mechanical inspectors. After which, he continued to brandish his fists and feet, causing dark red blood and minced meat to continuously fly.

Even though his cultivation was restricted, he was still a true law King. Now that he could use his cultivation techniques again, how could these Cyborg Patrol inspectors be his match?

The cyborg that was attacked by Tang Zhen was instantly dismembered into over a dozen pieces, turned into ice blocks, and shattered into pieces!

Seeing that their companion had been easily dealt with by Tang Zhen, the other semi-automatic inspectors were shocked. Tang Zhen's ruthlessness caused them to recall the terrifying memories of the cultivators in the city.

Before the energy absorption device was activated, Lou Cheng's cultivator was definitely an existence that they could not resist!

this guy is too strong. Let's hide!

After an inspector was killed, the remaining people all gave up on attacking and prepared to call for fighter jets to surround and attack Tang Zhen.

From Tang Zhen's current performance, they would definitely die if they continued to hesitate!
