Chapter 1171

1171 An extremely difficult three-star Mission

After everyone got busy again, Tang Zhen walked to the side and sat down, falling into deep thought.

Ever since the savage wildland was invaded and Holy Dragon City was sealed at the last moment before its destruction, Tang Zhen had always felt a sense of danger in his heart. This was due to the strength of the teroboros people, but it was also related to the fact that Holy Dragon City was still weak.

Back then, he had watched helplessly as the Holy Dragon City was about to be destroyed. Tang Zhen was at his wit's end. If it wasn't for his phone that had jumped out and sealed the Holy Dragon City, he was afraid that from that day on, many familiar faces and voices would have been completely separated from him!

Murong, Tai Seng, fatty, and many other residents of Holy Dragon City had always been by his side, accompanying him in another form. However, before the crisis was resolved, it was impossible for the two sides to meet again.

Tang Zhen's anxiousness had always been hidden in his heart. However, he had never mentioned it to anyone else. This was because other than himself, there was no one else who could help share the burden of this matter!

As he looked at the residents of loucheng who had survived the disaster, forcing a smile and trying not to show any sadness in front of him, Tang Zhen was touched. At the same time, he also secretly warned himself that he must not disappoint the expectations of these loucheng residents.

Since they were willing to shed blood for the Holy Dragon City, as the city Lord, Tang Zhen would definitely not let them shed any more tears!

What had happened to Ling Yan city had also given Tang Zhen a warning. As the Lord of a city, if he was not strong enough, not only would he endanger himself, but he could also harm the residents of the city!

So no matter what, he had to continue to improve his strength, and at the same time, remove the crisis of Holy Dragon City, and give the residents of the tower a relatively safe living environment.

This was his responsibility as the city Lord, and he absolutely couldn't shirk it!

Tang Zhen took a cup of tea from the table and slowly drank it. After which, he turned around and headed to the foundation stone platform of Spirit Rock City.

The building foundation of Spirit Rock City was of no use to Tang Zhen. Therefore, after occupying it, Tang Zhen did not destroy it. Instead, he allowed it to continue to exist.

It was easy to destroy but hard to build. Tang Zhen was very clear in his heart that a casual move of his might cause the painstaking efforts of several generations to go to waste!

Although all the residents of the tower had died because of the insect race, he would not do it himself even if the tower was destroyed.

At the very least, before the Holy Dragon City cultivators left, the name of Spirit Rock City would still remain for a period of time!

A thin layer of dust had already covered the hall where the foundation stone platform was stored in Spirit Rock City. Tang Zhen had actually left behind a trail of light footsteps when he walked in.

Tang Zhen stood in front of the foundation stone platform and slowly started it up. An operation screen that was completely different from the wilderness Warzone appeared before his eyes.

The cornerstone platform of this Warzone was more concise, and there seemed to be a few more options. Even the items sold on the cornerstone platform seemed to be more comprehensive.

Compared to the lower-ranked battlefields, the cornerstone platform would undoubtedly bring more convenience to Lou Cheng's cultivators in the higher-ranked battlefields!

Tang Zhen was very clear in his heart that this was one of the benefits that the war zone would receive after becoming stronger. He would definitely not let the cultivators in Loucheng city not get any returns for their efforts.

Although he was not a resident of the spirit Rock City, he still had the identity of the master of the space TOWER, so it was completely possible for him to borrow the platform to browse through it. If necessary, he could also easily obtain the identity of a resident of the tower in the spirit Rock City.

However, there was no need to do so at all. What he needed to do was to look at the star-level missions in this battle zone so that he could be mentally prepared.

Following the manipulation of his thoughts, the images on the cornerstone platform began to change. Groups of strange subtitles and images continued to appear. Although the words had never been seen before, they could be understood with a single glance. On the other hand, other than Tang Zhen himself, the other onlookers could not see anything at all.

To a certain extent, this method could ensure the privacy of the Lou city's residents and prevent all their secrets from being exposed.

In just a dozen seconds, Tang Zhen found the cornerstone platform's mission issuance area and set the screening criteria to only display three-star platform missions.

As the selection was completed, the dense task list in front of him was suddenly cleared, leaving only a dozen tasks hanging on the cornerstone platform alone.

Tang Zhen's eyes swept over these missions. He merely took a glance before his expression turned grave.

[destroy the glacier Country, kill the ice goddess and all her believers, and obtain the complete heart of the source of the icy world!]

[mission difficulty: three-star]

[mission reward: the cornerstone platform's level will be upgraded by one level, all teleportation fees will be free, and the reward will be one billion points!]

[mission failure penalty: none!]

Just by looking at the contents of the first three-star Mission, Tang Zhen knew that this mission was not simple. Firstly, it was because of the complete heart of the world's origin. Secondly, it was because of the generous rewards for completing the mission.

A complete heart of the world's origin would only appear in a different world where a certain type of energy was dominant. In such a world, the other types of energy would be completely suppressed, and there was no way to mobilize and borrow it!

Because a single attribute was too powerful, the world's origin, which had the ability to evolve all things, would cause all kinds of creatures with similar or derived attributes to appear in this world, and they would not need a long time to evolve!

The most important point was that a world with the heart of the world's origin would definitely have an absolute master, which was the God of this single-attribute energy world!

This was because he could completely borrow the energy of the heart of the world's origin, causing the entire world to be under his control. The moment he spoke, the nomological laws would appear, and the winds and clouds would change with a snap of his fingers!

Fighting against such an enemy would mean that one would be crushed by the entire world. The difficulty would definitely be beyond one's imagination!

Perhaps it was because of this that the cornerstone platform rated it as a three-star Mission and gave it an extremely rich reward!

Tang Zhen shook his head. This mission was obviously prepared for those top-tier towers. Although he was very envious, he knew his own limits. He knew that it was impossible to complete this mission.

Perhaps the cornerstone platform was also aware of this, which was why it allowed multiple towers to participate in a mission of this level. When they had gathered enough combat power, they would launch the teleportation invasion operation!

Even though this was the case, Tang Zhen was not interested in this mission. The reason for this was because he was in control of the fire law. Once he was placed in a world with ice attribute energy, he would definitely encounter an extremely serious suppression.

With his greatest attack being restricted, even if he was a law King, he would definitely not be able to protect himself. Therefore, Tang Zhen would not seek trouble for himself!

After going past the first mission, Tang Zhen continued to look down and discovered that the second mission was also the loucheng invasion mission. The target of the invasion was a special Island that swam underwater.

The island wasn't too big, but it wasn't small either. It was probably half the size of the moon.

It was transparent and spherical, and it was always immersed in a liquid similar to seawater. Its interior was filled with tunnels that looked like ant nests, and one could be completely lost in it if they were not careful!

According to the intelligence, other than the spherical underwater Island that was constantly moving in the sea, the world was filled with liquid from the sky to the ground. There was not a single gap at all.

It was not an exaggeration to say that this world was a large sealed water tank!

On the surface of this spherical Island, there was a special plant that could absorb nutrients from the liquid to ensure its own growth. At the same time, it also provided the necessary oxygen for the indigenous people living inside the sphere.

In addition to obtaining food from the inside, the Aborigines could also enter the ocean-like liquid through the passages that could be seen everywhere and hunt all kinds of creatures as food!

Compared to other worlds, this world's source was easy to find, because it was located in the center of the spherical world, in an incomparably huge space!

The purity of the world's origin was absolutely beyond imagination, so it attracted the covetous eyes of the cornerstone platform.

The reason why it was rated as a three-star Mission was because the spherical world was constantly moving and it was impossible to determine its traces. Once the Lou Cheng cultivators were teleported over, they would definitely be directly immersed in this liquid.

If there were no necessary countermeasures, it would not be strange for them to collectively drown in this world.

In fact, the real danger was not these. Even if cultivator Lou Cheng overcame these difficulties and successfully entered the underwater Island, he would still have to face the Guardians who were guarding the world's origin at all times.

It was a type of energy life form, and its strength was abnormally strong. It was no different from a King level cultivator. To subdue it and seize the world's origin was undoubtedly as difficult as ascending to the heavens!

Chapter 1172

1172 Locking in the mission! 1!

After looking at the first two missions, Tang Zhen already had a general understanding of the three-star Mission.

no wonder blood river king called the three-star mission "death mission." the difficulty of this mission was so high that tang zhen had never come into contact with it before. even though his fire law had reached perfection, he still couldn't guarantee his survival in such an extremely dangerous mission.

Who knew what kind of terrifying characters the cultivators of Loucheng City who dared to accept this mission were? This was a gamble with a very low chance of winning!

Tang Zhen inhaled a deep breath of air. A trace of a helpless smile surfaced on the corner of his mouth.

In order to unseal the tower of space to prevent it from being downgraded and to gain complete control over it, Tang Zhen had to participate in a three-star Mission. Moreover, he had to guarantee success!

Who knew what the cornerstone platform of the war zone was thinking, to actually issue such an almost impossible mission. Was it to force the space TOWER to drop in level?

What benefits did this bring to the cornerstone platform?

In fact, this was something that Tang Zhen couldn't understand. According to the cornerstone platform's usual style, they would invest a huge amount of resources to cultivate a low-level building to a national level. Moreover, it was a very rare space building. How could they give it up so easily?

This method, which was obviously not worth it, was indeed worth pondering over!

A trace of gloominess surfaced in Tang Zhen's heart. He suddenly had a feeling that this matter was definitely not as simple as it appeared on the surface. Perhaps, it was hiding a secret that he did not understand!

Tang Zhen tossed aside his chaotic thoughts and focused his mind as he continued to inquire about the next mission.

However, the consecutive missions were all like this. They were not missions that he could participate in at the moment and were guaranteed to succeed. This made him feel a little disappointed.

Holy Dragon City's safety depended entirely on him. Even if it was for the sake of the city's residents, he could not place himself in such a dangerous environment. Otherwise, Holy Dragon City would never see the light of day again.

Tang Zhen let out a soft sigh. Just as he was about to turn around and leave to see if he could use other methods to solve this problem, the image on the cornerstone platform began to flicker slightly. Immediately after, a new mission suddenly appeared!

Tang Zhen was slightly startled when he saw this. At the same time, a strange expression was revealed on his face.

One had to know that the three-star missions released on the cornerstone platform were definitely a rather special type. Not only was the probability of them appearing very small, but almost every mission would remain on the platform for an extremely long time after it appeared.

It was very common for a high-difficulty mission to stay for decades or even centuries on the cornerstone platform, and the frequency of the update of the mission was also very low. Sometimes, it would not appear even after decades!

The strength of Lou Cheng's cultivators was obvious, and there were very few missions that could make them helpless. The probability of encountering a new three-star Mission by Ren Bu was also extremely low!

Tang Zhen, who was about to turn around and leave, stopped his footsteps. His curious gaze landed on the new mission. After he clearly saw the contents of the mission, a trace of a bright light suddenly flashed across his eyes.

[sneak into the myriad world mall and perform any of the following side missions.]

[mission one: activate the special device and guard it for the specified time. During this time, the special device must not be destroyed, or the mission will fail!]

[mission two: obtain the full map of the myriad world mall, investigate the full strength of the native cultivators, and build secret runic magic circles. The more the number, the more rewards!]

[Quest 3: assassinate the targets on the bounty list. Complete one to complete the quest. If you kill more than one, you will be rewarded!]

mission four: snatch the treasures displayed in the myriad world mall. The mission will be considered complete if you obtain any of them and hand them in!

[Mission 5: Wuwu!]

Tang Zhen's originally somewhat depressed mood began to relax as he looked at the contents of the mission display. This was because this new mission was clearly very suitable for him.

He had a lot of choices when he was carrying out this task. If he couldn't complete one side task, he could choose to go on to the next one. With his own strength, it was entirely possible to complete one of the tasks!

Tang Zhen suddenly felt that his luck was very good. In a situation where he was close to despair, a new mission actually appeared on the cornerstone platform in time. Moreover, the probability of completing it was very high.

Could it be that he had been using the lucky card so often that his luck had been constantly accumulating, and that there would always be a turning point in every difficult situation?

Tang Zhen, who was in a good mood, calmed his mind and began to carefully browse the specific content of the mission to avoid any omissions that would lead to unnecessary trouble when executing the mission.

It turned out that in an unknown foreign world, there was a special area that could connect countless planes and dimensions. The local cultivators made use of this to build an extremely huge SUPER SHOPPING MALL!

Merchants from all over the world could trade here, and the variety of goods was as vast as the sea. As long as you had enough money and used special equipment to enter the myriad world mall, you could definitely buy anything you wanted!

Even a commodity like the world's origin could be bought from here. Of course, the price would be ridiculously high!

After the transaction was completed, the merchant would deliver the goods from different dimensions to the buyer in the shortest time possible.

Using a special device to safeguard the property and pay the merchant after the transaction was completed, this could completely prevent fraud from happening and make both parties completely at ease.

Because of the existence of the myriad world mall, the native cultivators of this world had obtained uncountable wealth. At the same time, in order to expand their business, they had also built teleportation arrays in many worlds through special means.

It was also because of their vast wealth that the native cultivators of this world were extremely powerful. Many forces had tried to Rob them of their wealth, but all of them had failed without exception!

The spiritual ruins Warzone wasn't the first plunderer, and there had been a few failed invasions before this. It was obvious that they had also failed.

Because of the difficulty of the mission, the cornerstone platform of the spiritual ruins Warzone had set it as a three-star Mission. Originally, it was purely to plunder the world's origin, but it had become more complicated because of the upgrade of the mission.

Obviously, in the face of huge benefits, the cornerstone platform would not stick to the rules. Instead, it would make some appropriate changes to the mission requirements. As for whether there were human factors in this, it was still uncertain.

One must know that the elders of the Alliance Council of Elders in the war zone had the ability to affect the operation of the cornerstone platform to a certain extent. It was actually not impossible for them to issue such a mission under their operation!

No matter what, Tang Zhen had already decided to accept this mission. This way, not only could he lift the seal of the space TOWER, but he could also take the opportunity to make a fortune. Why not?

If the mission failed, he was confident that he could find an opportunity to escape, unlike other three-star missions where he could lose his life in the other world if he was not careful!

However, just as Tang Zhen was about to return to the space TOWER and use his identity as the city Lord of the space TOWER to complete the unsealing mission, he was surprised to find that the number of people accepting the mission was increasing.

Once there were enough people, the mission would immediately start. If Tang Zhen did not quickly accept it, he would probably miss the opportunity!

Tang Zhen cursed in his heart and immediately teleported to the entrance of the space TOWER. Then, under the shocked gazes of the Holy Dragon City cultivators, he rushed into the space TOWER like lightning!

Chapter 1173

1173 Heading to the myriad world mall (1)

However, in the blink of an eye, Tang Zhen's figure had already disappeared. He had arrived at the core area of the space TOWER through the internal teleportation function.

The moment his figure appeared, an identity card that belonged to the city Lord flew out like lightning and directly landed on the identity verification area on the cornerstone platform. The cornerstone platform of the space TOWER that had been sealed for who knows how many years was reactivated at this moment!

Different from the spirit Rock city's foundation stone platform, after the foundation stone platform of the space TOWER was activated, large words immediately appeared on it, indicating that the platform's functions were blocked and most of the functions were temporarily unavailable.

In fact, apart from the city Lord himself, the other residents of the tower couldn't even activate the cornerstone platform!

Tang Zhen did not have the time to care about this. He quickly issued the search order and quickly filtered out all the three-star missions.

Tang Zhen glanced at the mission list and saw that the mission to invade the myriad world mall was still there. He was slightly happy and did not hesitate to use his identity as the Lord of the space TOWER to accept the mission for the cultivators of the tower to actively participate.

He was afraid that if he was a step slower, he would miss the opportunity to carry out this mission for the first time!

Sure enough, a few minutes after his registration, the cornerstone platform showed that the number of people who had invaded the myriad world mall was full. The registration option was suddenly stopped, and the entire mission turned into an eye-catching orange color.

This was a reminder to Lou Cheng that the mission was about to begin. Please be ready to teleport at any time. At most, in 24 hours, you will be teleported to another world to carry out the mission!

Tang Zhen stood in front of the foundation stone platform and was silent for a moment. Then, he turned around and walked out, summoning Qian Long and the rest.

The time he spent on missions could be long or short, but fortunately, before he left, many things had been arranged, so he didn't need to worry too much.

The research and experiments on resolving the Holy Dragon city's crisis were still being carried out in the original world. It was estimated that there would be results after a while. After Tang Zhen returned from his mission, he should be able to deal with this matter.

The mission of clearing the four nearby grade 8 towers and capturing the four tower Lords that had been possessed by the king beetle was not something that could be completed in a short period of time. Tang Zhen was not in a hurry.

Due to Tang Zhen's identity as the city Lord of the space TOWER, he did not need to intervene in this matter at all to avoid unnecessary trouble.

As for whether the foreign cultivators who belonged to the Holy Dragon City would listen to his orders after he left, Tang Zhen was not worried at all.

Firstly, their respective towers no longer existed, and their current identities were just wild cultivators. This brought great inconvenience to their daily lives and cultivation, but the Holy Dragon City could help them solve this problem.

Secondly, Tang Zhen was their only hope for revenge and to find their friends and family. Otherwise, the 3000 warzones were vast and there were countless races. They might not be able to find all of them in their lifetime. However, with the help of the Holy Dragon City and Tang Zhen, their hope would undoubtedly increase a lot.

Of course, the most important reason was that the strength and methods Tang Zhen had displayed had long intimidated disloyal cultivators. They did not dare to do anything that was disadvantageous to the Holy Dragon City and suffer the relentless pursuit of a law King!

Even the Blood River King had no intention of going back on his original oath. After all, Holy Dragon City was indeed the most ideal place for him to stay. Moreover, it was only a few decades. To a ruler with a long life, it was nothing.

Since all the worries behind him did not exist, Tang Zhen could leave without any worries for a period of time and did not need to worry about his backyard catching fire!

After using half an hour to explain all the matters and having someone in charge of all the work, Tang Zhen returned to the cornerstone platform alone and began to quietly wait for the transmission to begin.

After a ray of light enveloped Tang Zhen's body, he once again felt the familiar transmission fluctuation.

After he silently recited dozens of numbers in his heart, the rumbling sound in his ears disappeared, his dazzling vision returned to normal, and his feet finally stepped on solid ground.

He was currently on a barren rocky beach that stretched as far as the eye could see. Huge pieces of colorful rocks stood slanted, and it was unknown how many years they had endured the wind and rain!

The sky was blue and white, and the outlines of several huge planets could be vaguely seen. One could even see the craters on them.

He squinted his eyes and looked around. He found that he was surrounded by people of different heights and sizes, but they were all wearing a cloak that completely covered their bodies.

After sensing the aura of these cultivators, Tang Zhen's heart trembled slightly. He didn't expect that there would be so many experts participating in this mission!

In addition to him, there were nine law Kings among the hundred cultivators in loucheng, and the rest were all King-level cultivators.

These law Kings were like nine shining Suns, emitting a chilling aura that made the surrounding King-level cultivators not dare to approach.

There were also no cultivators around Tang Zhen. This was because the king level cultivators had tactfully retreated to the side after sensing Tang Zhen's fire law power.

Tang Zhen was completely unconcerned about this. In fact, he was even very happy to see such a situation. He swept his gaze around him before slightly lowering his head.

While Tang Zhen was sizing up the cultivators from Lou Cheng, they were also sizing each other up. When the nine law Kings saw Tang Zhen, their eyes revealed a trace of doubt and vigilance.

Law Kings were the top combat forces in almost all the major battlefields. Almost all of them were famous, and they knew each other. However, they had never seen a stranger like Tang Zhen in the spiritual ruins battlefield.

Although they were secretly guessing Tang Zhen's arrival, no one took the initiative to ask. They did not want to touch some taboo and cause Tang Zhen to be unhappy.

Offending a law King for no reason was undoubtedly an extremely stupid thing to do, so no one would take this risk casually.

After a moment of silence, several groups of cultivators from Lou Cheng who were familiar with each other came together and discussed in low voices before leaving in twos and threes. As for the other cultivators who took part in the mission alone, they did not stay for long either. They left one after another and headed in the direction of the myriad world mall.

Tang Zhen glanced at the nine law Kings. Seeing that most of them were followed by a few King-level cultivators and were not in a hurry to leave, he also chose to leave in silence.

After Tang Zhen left, the two law Kings looked at each other and began to talk in low voices.

this human law monarch looks unfamiliar. Have you seen him before? "

I've never seen him before. Could he be a newly-advanced law King? "

"That's impossible. Once a nomological King advances, there'll definitely be an announcement for the entire battle zone, but this human cultivator has never been on the announcement! Furthermore, looking at the power of laws that he was exuding, he had probably already reached the advanced or even perfection level!

How can a nomological King of this level be unknown?"

that's strange. Could it be that they are cultivators from other battlefields, and they have joined our spiritual ruins Warzone? " it's possible. I'll tell the elder about this later and have him check it through the cornerstone platform. The other party is a law King, after all, and his strength isn't weak. We definitely can't let our guard down!

After the two law Kings finished their discussion, they looked at each other. Then, they each led several King-level cultivators and quickly disappeared into the endless desert!

Chapter 1174

1174 Competition on the platform and encounters on the road

Tang Zhen did not know that there would be two law Kings guessing his origins after he left. However, even if he knew, it was pointless because he had already made preparations in advance.

Although the world of loucheng had 3000 battlefields and countless cultivators, any nomological King in an ordinary battlefield was a big Shot whose name shook the battlefields. Many cultivators in the world of loucheng were familiar with them.

Take Tang Zhen as an example. Before he became a law King, his fame only spread around the Holy Dragon City. However, ever since he became a law King and was reported to the entire battle zone by the cornerstone platform, almost all the cultivators in loucheng in the entire Savage wildland knew of his fame!

By the same logic, when he appeared in the spiritual ruins Warzone, those nomological Kings found that they didn't know him at all. As a result, they couldn't help but guess in their hearts and try to figure out his specific origin.

Tang Zhen did not have any qualms about this. This was because after one's cultivation had reached his level, it was not easy to hide it. A law King of the same level would be able to see through it with a single glance!

Rather than being secretive and appearing to have ulterior motives, it was better to show it openly and have the effect of intimidating the enemy!

So what if his origin was discovered? apart from the continent-level tower, Tang Zhen was not afraid of any national-level tower. Even if he couldn't beat the other party, he could hide in the space TOWER or even just leave!

Besides, the major battlefields didn't exclude cultivators from Lou Cheng from other battlefields. When Lou Cheng absorbed a certain number of cultivators from other battlefields, they would even receive rewards from the cornerstone platform.

The natural barrier between each war zone was mainly used to prevent such things from happening. This was to prevent the cultivators in loucheng from being cultivated by the other war zones.

From this, it could be seen that there were also open and secret struggles between the cornerstone platforms of the major battle zones!

In the case of defecting from the original battle area and immediately joining another battle area, the cultivators of loucheng could join another battle area and obtain the status of an official resident without the destruction of the loucheng in the original battle area!

Of course, once this kind of thing was discovered by the cornerstone platform of the original battle area, they would be wanted by the entire battle area. As long as the other party stepped into the territory of the original battle area, they would immediately be locked on by the cornerstone platform, and then a large number of cultivators would be mobilized to hunt them down!

Even if a cross-battlefield pursuit order was issued, it would not be surprising. After all, not every cornerstone platform could tolerate the existence of traitors. They had to kill them even if they had to pay a great price!

The unexpected destruction of the wilderness Battlefield had actually helped many of the cornerstone platforms that had participated in driving out the teroboros people. The reward for sending the continental loucheng to participate in the battle naturally included the surviving cultivators of the loucheng.

They didn't need to invest any resources at all, and they could divide a large number of cultivators in the loucheng equally. They could also use the wilderness Warzone as a trial ground for low-level loucheng. This was definitely a deal that they would make a profit without losing anything!

Moreover, they could not allow the troboans to do as they pleased in the world of loucheng. Otherwise, the cornerstone platforms would not be so kind as to teleport the continent-class loucheng to the wilderness Warzone at such a great cost!

Tang Zhen thought about it while carefully hurrying on his way. He did not know how far he had already walked. He opened the map and took a look. He discovered that he was only a thousand miles away from his destination.

The cornerstone platform teleported them to a desolate area mainly to prevent the teleportation fluctuations from being discovered by the native cultivators, who would then send experts to snipe them and cause huge casualties to the cultivators in Lou Cheng.

However, as Tang Zhen continued to approach his destination, he discovered that this method seemed a little unnecessary. This was because he had already seen some foreign world cultivators appearing from their hidden positions. After coldly sweeping their eyes at Tang Zhen, they headed in the same direction as him!

Looking at their various attires, they were obviously not the native cultivators mentioned in the mission information.

Tang Zhen was slightly surprised as he watched the cultivators from the other world swagger away with his eyes. He could not help but go to the place where the other party had appeared to take a look.

The result was far beyond his expectations. It turned out that there were spatial rifts in all these places. As long as he made some arrangements on the other side, he could pass through the rifts and reach this world!

In other words, the spatial barrier of this world was riddled with holes, almost no different from a sieve. Who knew how many times it had suffered to be damaged to such an extent that even its automatic recovery ability had become so slow?

Recalling the cautious appearance of those cultivators from the other world when they first appeared, how could Tang Zhen not guess that this group of people were the standard version of "stowaways" from the other world who had entered the country illegally!

Tang Zhen shook his head and laughed softly after being aware of this point. It seemed that he was still too careful earlier.

Since the native cultivators had built the myriad world mall, they would naturally not refuse customers. Among these customers, in addition to the regular transmigrators who used the transmission array, the number of stowaways was definitely not small.

It was impossible for the native cultivators not to know this, but they didn't take any preventive measures. It was obvious that they had acquiesced to this behavior. Therefore, Tang Zhen didn't encounter any interrogation from the native cultivators along the way.

Before he left, he glanced at the space crack again and found that it had begun to heal slowly. It would disappear completely in a short time.

It could be seen from this that this method was only suitable for entering the country. If one wanted to return to the place they came from, they would need special means or teleportation arrays. Moreover, this kind of smuggling method had its own risks, and one could lose their life if they were not careful.

However, compared to paying the expensive teleportation fee, this smuggling method could obviously save a lot of money. For cultivators who were short of money, it was a good choice.

Since the native cultivators of the myriad world mall did not care about 'stowaways' like them, Tang Zhen no longer had any scruples. He waved his hand and took out a floating car. He jumped on it and activated the automatic driving mode.

With a sharp "whoosh", the hover car suddenly accelerated and began to move at a speed of 500 kilometers per hour.

Tang Zhen let out a burst of carefree laughter when he saw the cultivators from the other world being left behind. He even took out a bottle of wine and savored it.

However, it didn't take long for the hover car to suddenly slow down and make a soft sound.

It turned out that two figures had suddenly appeared out of thin air in front of them and were hit by the hovercar. If it weren't for the hovercar's powerful braking performance, the two of them would have been knocked into the sky!

The two fellows who had suddenly appeared were also startled. After they climbed up from the ground in a sorry state, they took a few steps back in unison and assumed a defensive posture. They looked at Tang Zhen with a vigilant expression.

Looking at their appearance, they were actually 90% similar to humans. They didn't seem to be old either, and they were even underage!

He glanced at the two's attire. It was somewhat similar to the 2D Gothic style. The style was very beautiful, and with the various materials and accessories, it gave people a very noble feeling.

As for their strength, they were only equivalent to Level 2 cultivators. Who knew how they came here through the space gap?

"Hey, you two little brats, don't block the way. Quickly move to the side!"

Tang Zhen extended his head out and displayed an impatient expression as he gently waved his hand.

When the two of them, who were on guard, heard this, they immediately looked confused. They looked at each other and muttered a few words.

However, they didn't know that Tang Zhen had already launched the mobile application and completely translated the conversation between the two.

"This guy looks very powerful. Why don't we just let this matter go and hide first so that we don't get caught by the mall guards?"

why should we forget about it? if it wasn't for my protective jade talisman taking effect, the two of us might have already been killed by the car. Aiyo, Aiyo, my poor protective jade talisman. In order to buy it, I worked the entire summer vacation, but it actually broke just like that? "

"Damn it, my heart is in so much pain, it's so painful that I want to die!"

don't worry about me. The guy who bumped into us and broke my beloved jade talisman must compensate us. Otherwise, I'll say my name backwards!

Among the two youths, one of them had an unusually delicate and pretty appearance. However, he currently had an apprehensive look on his face. From time to time, he would sweep his gaze towards Tang Zhen, who had stuck his head out.

As for the other young man, he was obviously a Chatterbox and a money-grubber; his companion had only said one sentence, but he went on and on for a long time, his face full of pain.

After hearing the money-grubbing young man's words, his companion blinked in confusion and said softly, " "But the problem is, if you read your names backwards, wouldn't you still be called money begets money?"

The money-grubbing young man was stunned when he heard this. Tang Zhen, who was sitting in the hover car, laughed out loud when he heard this.

1175 The myriad world mall

After hearing his companion's words, the money-grubbing young man was first slightly stunned. Soon after, he turned his head and looked at the smiling Tang Zhen.

"You're such an inconsiderate guy, and you're still laughing? do you know that you almost killed us just now? What's more, you even broke my protective jade talisman. This is unforgivable!"

The money-grubber's face was filled with grief and indignation as he angrily ran to the front of the hover car and said in a very unwilling tone, " "You're at fault in this matter, so you have to compensate me for my losses. Otherwise, I'll ..."

Tang Zhen suddenly opened his mouth and interrupted the money-grubbing young man's long-winded speech. He used the language they used to speak, "Otherwise what? you two little brats suddenly appeared, who can you blame?"

I'll tell you the truth, this car of mine is worth a lot of money. If it's damaged, you can't afford it even if you sell the two of you!"

After hearing Zhen Tang's words, the money-grubbing young man was first stunned. He secretly glanced at the completely undamaged hover car before continuing to speak loudly, "The problem is that your hovercar didn't break down, but we were hit by you, and we even lost a protective jade talisman. So, we are the victims!

I'm not asking for much, as long as you compensate me for my protective jade talisman, or give me a Kasaya or a ride, then this matter will be written off. What do you think?"

When he said this, the money-grubbing young man looked at Tang Zhen with an expectant face, as if waiting for his choice.

This cunning fellow had finally revealed his fox tail!

Tang Zhen had long guessed the money-grubbing young man's plan and smiled when he heard this. In fact, he was not in a hurry to head to the myriad world mall. On the contrary, he was very interested in these two young men, which was why he had stopped to argue with them.

I don't think your suggestion is good, so I decided to ignore you two and continue on my way. You know, there are still hundreds of kilometers to go from here to the myriad world mall!

Tang Zhen retracted his body back into the hover car and spoke with an extremely certain tone.

When that money-grubbing young man heard this, he immediately widened his eyes. His face was filled with disbelief as he looked at Tang Zhen. He roared in despair, "Uncle, how can you do this?"

Do you know that in order to buy this protective jade talisman from the myriad world mall, I wasted an entire summer vacation, constantly delivering takeaways, and even secretly joined the hunting team to save up a sum of hard work?

Don't you feel guilty for making things difficult for a poor child like this?"

When he said this, the money-grubbing young man's eyes seemed to be filled with tears. He had an extremely aggrieved appearance. It was as if he would immediately cry if Tang Zhen did not agree!

However, in the eyes of outsiders, this appearance of his seemed extremely pretentious.

The money-grubbing young man's companion was already covering his forehead with his hand, with a helpless look on his face. Obviously, he also knew very well that this money-grubbing young man's performance was a little too much.

Tang Zhen snorted softly. He used a disdainful tone to say, "Stop acting here, kid. I'm sure you're all fine. As for whether or not that jade talisman was broken, I'm sure you know it better than anyone else!

You've been talking nonsense for so long, acting angry and pitiful, but your real purpose is to get a free ride, am I right?"

The money-grubbing young man's face turned red, but he immediately denied it.

However, the look of anticipation on his companion's face had completely betrayed him!

The money-grubbing young man was completely unaware of this, and Tang Zhen didn't care at all. He opened the car door under the slightly surprised eyes of the two people and waved at them with a smile.

"If you want a ride, hurry up. If you dawdle any longer, I'll really have to leave!"

The money-grubber immediately jumped into the hover car and waved his fist at his companion.

After the two youths had gotten into the car, Tang Zhen restarted the hover car and set it to automatic driving mode before continuing to gallop forward.

Tang Zhen swept his eyes over the two young men who were looking around at their seats with curious faces. He smiled and asked, "The two of you sure are gutsy. First, you deliberately blocked my hover car, and then you cried and made a fuss, trying to be smart, just to get a ride?"

But aren't you afraid that I'll get angry and do something bad to you two?"

When he said this, Tang Zhen's tone had an additional trace of iciness as it emitted a terrifying aura from within.

The delicate and handsome young man's body trembled. He was a little afraid as he moved in the opposite direction of Tang Zhen. There was a trace of vigilance in his eyes.

That money-grubbing young man had an indifferent look on his face. He gently yawned and waved his hand at Tang Zhen, "Alright, uncle, don't scare us two poor children. I know you won't harm us.

There's one more thing I have to make clear. We didn't get hit on purpose. We really just sneaked in!"

Tang Zhen nodded. The money-grubbing young man was right. The spatial aura that had just dissipated from their bodies could prove this point.

"Then, how are you so sure that I will give you a ride?"

"It's very simple. I first made you not in a hurry to leave, and then I used emotion and reason to make you realize how difficult it was for the two of us.

If you're still patient at a time like this, that means you're not a violent person. As long as I take the opportunity to ask for a ride, you'll probably agree.

Of course, the most important thing is that you understand my language. This is the key to the success of the plan!"

The money-grubbing young man said in a self-satisfied manner. He seemed to be certain that Tang Zhen would not get angry because of this. After which, he chased the two of them out of the hover car.

Tang Zhen nodded his head when he heard this, " what you said seems to make some sense. However, if you had planned all of this at the same time you were hit, then I can only think that you are definitely not a good person. You must have done a lot of things like swindling and cheating!

The corner of the money-grubbing young man's mouth twitched when he heard this. His companion covered his mouth and laughed. This proved that Tang Zhen had guessed correctly.

A trace of embarrassment once again appeared on the money-grubbing young man's face. However, it disappeared in an instant. After rolling his eyes, he smiled at Tang Zhen and said, uncle, is this your first time at the myriad world mall? if so, I suggest that you choose me to be the commentator and introduce you to information about the myriad world mall. You only need to pay One Mall coin!

Tang Zhen nodded slightly. The reason why he agreed to bring the two young men along was to obtain information about the myriad world mall from them.

Two weak youths were able to sneak into the other world and were not afraid of unfamiliar cultivators. Tang Zhen would never believe that they did not have any trump cards or strength.

Such a special person would often have some special information in their hands. If he really looked down on the two because of their young age, Tang Zhen's many years of trials and tribulations would have been in vain.

After seeing Tang Zhen agree, the money-grubber young man exchanged glances with his companion and excitedly high-fived.

if that's the case, please pay first. This is the rule of the trade!

Seeing the hand that the money-grubbing young man extended over, Tang Zhen shrugged his shoulders and indifferently said, "Since you're so sure that this is my first time at the myriad world mall, it's not hard to guess that I don't have a single coin in my pocket!

In fact, my first question is how to get more coins."

When the money-grubbing young man heard this, he immediately dropped his arm in frustration and covered his forehead with his hand. "It's a mistake, but it's okay. You don't look poor, so I guess you'll have a lot of money soon!

Therefore, my first suggestion is to pawn your hover car when you reach the market. That way, you can exchange it for a lot of money.

As for the treasures you're carrying, it's best to wait until you enter the myriad world mall before selling them. That way, you'll be able to sell them at a satisfactory price, and not be exploited by the vampires at the pawnshop!"

After a short pause, the money-grubbing young man suggested, " also, unless you are extremely confident in your own strength, you should not be so flamboyant. You should know that many cultivators don't mind being a Bandit, but the myriad world mall rarely pays attention to this!

the number of cultivators from other worlds who died around the myriad world mall is always more than you can imagine!

Chapter 1176

1176 Warning (1)

The money-grubbing young man spoke with fervor and assurance. He was clearly very familiar with the myriad world mall. Tang Zhen listened attentively and smiled and nodded from time to time.

The money spent was worth it. The information that the money-grubber teenager had mentioned was not mentioned in the mission information, but it was very useful for carrying out the mission!

In this case, Tang Zhen's confidence in completing the mission had increased by a few points.

Tang Zhen was not interested in probing the secrets of the money-grubbing young man. This did not have much to do with him. As for his background, he would definitely not let the money-grubbing young man know.

From the information he had gathered over the years, the loucheng world had a bad reputation in the eyes of the other cultivators, and they were no different from bandits!

As long as they heard the word "cultivators of loucheng", the cultivators of other worlds with some knowledge would subconsciously be on guard, for fear that their world would be invaded!

Fortunately, there were countless plane worlds, and it was said that only a few cultivators from other worlds had come into contact with loucheng world. Otherwise, cultivators from loucheng world would really become street rats that everyone hated!

Unknowingly, the hover car had already traveled an extremely long distance. When Tang Zhen looked out through the window, he could already see a huge city wall appearing in front of him. It was just like a huge Dragon lying on the ground!

The city wall was a hundred meters tall, completely cutting off a huge field and blocking the way forward.

Runes flickered above the huge city wall from time to time, and mechanical and biological aircraft of various styles hovered in the air. Some were in charge of warning, while others were in charge of projecting holographic images, making the entire sky look colorful!

As for the huge city wall, there would be holographic images appearing from time to time, constantly playing some commercial videos of some shops!

Behind the huge city wall, there was a special area where countless worlds of different dimensions were projected. This allowed the merchants from other worlds to stay in their own worlds and receive customers from countless worlds.

The merchants who had the right to operate shops in the myriad world mall had great power in their respective worlds. Of course, their identities were also extremely secretive and were not known to outsiders at all.

To be able to obtain the management rights of a shopping mall was also the goal of many people who knew about it. Unfortunately, this kind of management rights was definitely not something that could be obtained just because they wanted it, because there were too many covetous people. Every battle process could be described as a river of blood!

If the Holy Dragon City had a shop here, they would definitely make a profit!

At this time, at the entrance of the myriad world mall, a large number of cultivators were going in and out. On both sides of the entrance were huge battle puppets and fully armed cultivators of the mall. It seemed to be heavily guarded.

There were also many cultivators from the Shang city hiding inside the city wall. They would arrive at the scene as soon as there was any danger and eliminate all the hidden dangers!

With the wealth of the myriad world mall, they could definitely recruit a large number of experts at a high price. Once he was surrounded by them, even Tang Zhen would be in danger.

Therefore, they had to be careful in this operation to avoid unnecessary trouble!

Looking at the bustling entrance of the myriad world mall, the money-grubber young man pointed at a location under the city wall and said to Tang Zhen, "Later on, just do as I say. Drive your hover car there and sell it. Then, you'll be able to get enough money for the entrance fee.

Of course, the most important thing is that you have to pay me one Mall coin first. If you have any special requests, you will have to pay extra!"

"Don't worry, I won't forget your Commission!"

Tang Zhen ignored the reminder of the money-grubbing young man. He controlled the hover car to stop at the edge of the huge city wall. After which, he followed the money-grubbing young man into a shop.

There were more than a dozen customers in the shop, and the staff who received them was of a strange race. Their bodies were as thin as matches, and in order to protect and support their bodies, they wore a special armor that looked like glass, but was filled with a transparent fluorescent liquid inside.

They were not the owners of the myriad world mall, but hired staff, the kind that worked for a lifetime.

Tang Zhen walked to a position in front of a window and pointed at the floating car that was parked at the entrance. After which, with the assistance of a special equipment, he translated and played his thoughts, telling the shop assistant that he wanted to sell it.

The shop assistant swept a glance at Tang Zhen before reaching out to press a button at the side. After which, a staff member walked out from the entrance and started to inspect the hover car.

Looking at the staff member's skilled inspection movements, it was obvious that he was often in contact with this kind of technology.

After about three minutes, the staff member finished checking and walked in. He gestured to the shop assistant and sat down on the chair next to him.

your hover car is worth 5 coins. Please press your fingerprint if you want to sell it!

The shop assistant pointed at the transparent panel in front of the window and made a strange sound through the translator, giving an expected price.

The money-grubbing young man shrugged his shoulders and revealed a helpless expression to Tang Zhen. I told you, " he mumbled. these vampires will only offer one-tenth of the price. Don't even think about it!

Tang Zhen didn't really care. It was just a hover car from the hands of the terobo people. Compared to the mission, it wasn't important at all.

Tang Zhen received a stack of glittering coins and was surprised to discover that these coins were made from origin stones of different attributes. The unique mark and face value of the myriad world mall were engraved on them!

The value of the city currency was determined by the strength of the power of law contained within it. The city currency with the highest value was naturally made from top-grade origin stones!

This unexpected discovery also made Tang Zhen feel a trace of surprise. This was because his cell phone points also needed origin stones to be exchanged. If he could obtain enough coins in the myriad world mall, it would mean that his cell phone would gain a large number of points!

The other law stars that he had been unable to activate because of his lack of money finally had the possibility of being activated!

He casually took out two coins from a pile of coins and threw them to the money-grubbing young man, whose face was filled with anticipation. Tang Zhen turned around and walked out of the shop's door.

"Uncle, since you're so generous, I can give you a piece of information for free!"

The money-grubbing young man weighed the coins in his hand and slowly walked in front of Tang Zhen. He used an extremely low voice to say, you'd better be careful. The strength of the myriad world mall is far beyond imagination, and there is likely to be a traitor in your battle zone!

After saying this, the money-grubber young man smiled at Tang Zhen and walked towards the entrance of the myriad world mall with his companions.

Tang Zhen looked at the back of the money-grubbing young man. His expression became extremely complicated as a trace of coldness suddenly rose in his heart.

At this moment, how could he not have guessed that this seemingly money-grubbing young man had not met him by chance? he had been waiting for him on the road!

Unknowingly, he seemed to have been involved in another conspiracy!

Chapter 1177

1177 Liquid of rebirth (1)

The money-grubbing young man's words were like a bolt of lightning in Tang Zhen's ears, causing him to suddenly feel a trace of panic in his heart.

Before taking part in the mission, he had been extremely cautious in order to increase the success rate as much as possible and not return in failure.

Who would have thought that such an unexpected change would happen in the mission that they had chosen after signing up for it?

I have to be more careful from now on. However, this feeling of being schemed against is really infuriating!

A trace of gloominess flashed in Tang Zhen's eyes. When he saw the money-grubbing young man enter the gate of the myriad world mall at an extremely fast speed, he knew that trying to find him was like looking for a needle in a haystack.

The size of the myriad world mall was beyond everyone's imagination. Unless Tang Zhen had enough time and manpower, or he could borrow the strength of the cultivators from the mall, it was impossible to find the other party in a short period of time!

Tang Zhen strode towards the entrance of the myriad world mall and lined up behind a group of cultivators waiting to enter.

There were many cultivators and powerful figures from different worlds in the waiting crowd. However, they didn't enjoy any special privileges in this place, so they could only enter in order.

Tang Zhen continuously pondered over the words of the money-grubbing young man in his heart. He confirmed that the young man had a very good understanding of the tower world. Otherwise, it was impossible for him to say the word "war zone"!

As for why he took the initiative to remind him about the traitor in the spiritual ruins Warzone, he must have some special purpose.

The problem was, even if there was a traitor, what was the other party's intention? what benefits were there for the cultivators of loucheng to betray the wilderness Warzone, or even the entire loucheng world?

Tang Zhen, who suffered because he did not have any clues, was unable to make sense of it. He could only temporarily give up on thinking.

In fact, whether the other party betrayed him or not had much to do with him. After all, his goal was to complete this mission and release the sealed SPACE TOWER.

As long as he could complete the mission, even if a traitor appeared and caused damage to the spiritual ruins Warzone, what did it have to do with him?

Tang Zhen's heart relaxed when he thought of this. He began to concentrate on lining up and advance. At the same time, he habitually sized up his surrounding environment to prevent himself from not discovering any danger in time.

At this moment, several fully-armed cultivators were hurrying to the entrance of the mall. They didn't need to line up to enter a special passage!

When he glanced at the cultivators, his eyes suddenly narrowed. After a few seconds, he quickly turned his head.

Just as he turned his head and looked away, the cultivator at the front of the line, who he had been staring at, turned his head slightly and glanced at Tang Zhen with an obscure gaze.

Those blood-red eyes seemed to be filled with cruelty, as if they were about to devour someone!

Tang Zhen pretended not to notice the other party's scrutinizing gaze and followed the team to the entrance of the myriad world mall. After paying a mall coin, he immediately received an item similar to a waist token.

Tang Zhen's body began to become faintly discernible after he wore the waist token. His sense of space seemed to have become chaotic. He seemed to be able to vaguely see countless folded worlds appearing before his eyes.

After getting used to this strange feeling, he walked toward one of the folded worlds. His figure distorted and disappeared.

In the blink of an eye, a loud noise came from the crowd, and the view was filled with people. Tall buildings rose from the ground, filling the view.

Colorful lights and fireworks flashed continuously. All kinds of aircraft and flying creatures were flying above the crowd, making the sky and the earth seem very lively!

Tang Zhen was in the middle of the rolling stream of people. After sweeping his gaze around, he walked into a shop at the side.

This was a shop that sold all kinds of special liquids, using all kinds of containers to hold all kinds of liquids. Under the light, they shone with charming colors, making people unable to help but be intoxicated.

Especially after the decorations, the entire shop gave off a refreshing feeling, as if it was in an invisible ocean.

The owner of the shop looked like a sapphire-blue jellyfish with wings. Tiny electric currents were constantly flowing through his body, and he was floating in the air.

When he saw Tang Zhen enter the shop, the jellyfish boss immediately placed his tentacles on his waist tag and spoke in the language commonly used in the myriad world mall.

welcome, distinguished guest. May I know what you need? "

Tang Zhen casually replied. At the same time, he used the map view to observe his surroundings. After confirming that the cultivators he saw at the entrance did not follow him, he slightly sighed in relief.

The reason why he had such a reaction was because he saw a familiar figure among the cultivators. It was the king level cultivator who had been teleported to the spiritual ruins battlefield with him.

However, the king level cultivator's situation was not good. Tang Zhen only needed a glance to confirm that he was already under someone's control. At the same time, he had also suffered extremely serious injuries!

The enemies controlling him were the cultivators at the front and back of the line, including the owner of the blood-red eyes. Their strength was definitely not to be underestimated!

When he saw this scene, his heart beat wildly because this situation meant that the money-grubbing teenager's warning was not an alarmist. It had only been a short time since they separated, but there were already cultivators in loucheng who had been caught!

Tang Zhen would never believe that there was no traitor among them who had betrayed the cultivators of the spiritual ruins battlefield.

Tang Zhen was originally unwilling to pay attention to the matter of the traitor. However, if the other party's existence caused him to become a threat, it would be another matter.

When he thought of this, a cold glint flashed in Tang Zhen's eyes. If the traitor was hiding among the cultivators of loucheng who were carrying out the mission, he would definitely record the faces of all the cultivators of loucheng who were carrying out the mission.

If he wanted to complete his mission and avoid being hunted down, he had to change his appearance!

Just as he was constantly thinking in his heart, the jellyfish shop owner was also trying his best to introduce the special liquid in the shop. Tang Zhen originally went in one ear and out the other, but when the shop owner introduced a special liquid, he suddenly turned his head.

When the jellyfish shop owner saw Tang Zhen's interested expression, he immediately gestured with his hands and feet as he emphasized the introduction.

"The biggest use of this liquid of rebirth is that it can restore the vitality of plants that are on the verge of death or have already died. Because of its excellent effects, it has saved many precious plants planted by cultivators, so it has always been very popular!

If you need it, don't hesitate. Otherwise, by the time you want to buy it, I'm afraid it'll already be taken by someone else!"

Tang Zhen nodded his head and revealed a pensive expression. He looked at the shop owner and said, what about special plants? for example, giant trees that have self-consciousness and are extremely large in size. They can grow rapidly under the influence of energy and the power of laws? "

The jellyfish shopkeeper was silent for a moment before hesitantly answering, " I've never been in this situation before, but since you're talking about plants, it should work, right? " no matter if it's effective or not, I'm going to give it a try. But the condition is that your price must be fair!

Upon hearing this, the jellyfish shopkeeper immediately waved his sapphire blue hand, which brought a series of dazzling electric arcs in the air. He said in a happy voice, " "In that case, please pay 100 coins, and this bottle of liquid of rebirth will be yours!"

The price of 100 Merchant City dollars was almost the same as the price of 100 origin stones. At first glance, it didn't sound like a lot, but if it was converted to brain jewels, it was quite a large number.

Not to mention that there were only two coins in Tang Zhen's pocket at this time, which was far from the amount the shop owner had said!

"I can't give you 100 coins, but I can consider giving you 10."

Tang Zhen glanced at the shop owner and spoke in a casual tone. Although he did not know what the real price was, he still cut it to one-tenth.

After hearing Tang Zhen's price, the jellyfish shopkeeper's sapphire blue body immediately turned pink. If one was familiar with the characteristics of their race, they would know that the jellyfish shopkeeper was already angry.

"Heavens, your price is really insincere. Are you toying with me?"

...

Tang Zhen could only helplessly shrug his shoulders as he looked at the jellyfish shop owner who was waving his tentacles and the skin on the top of his head constantly flashing with electric sparks, almost turning into a large light bulb.

He really didn't expect that the jellyfish shop owner would be so angry because of his words!

Chapter 1178

1178 Trade and appraisal

Due to the special effect of the liquid of rebirth, Tang Zhen did not want to miss it easily. His only purpose in purchasing the liquid of rebirth was to hope that it would be of some help to the mother tree.

The Holy Dragon City, which was sealed when it was about to be destroyed, was a thorn in Tang Zhen's heart. The mother tree, who had paid the price of her life to protect the Holy Dragon City, made Tang Zhen feel a trace of guilt in his heart.

Although the mother tree usually had a proud appearance and did not pay attention to the city Lord, when the Holy Dragon City was in danger of being destroyed, the mother tree did not hesitate to step forward and fight for precious time for Tang Zhen's arrival at the cost of overdrawing its life force!

The mother tree's actions were beyond Tang Zhen's expectations, but it was also reasonable. Perhaps she cared more about the Holy Dragon City that was covered by her branches and leaves than Tang Zhen!

Every time he saw the withered and broken mother tree in the photos, as well as the figures of the Holy Dragon City cultivators who were covered in blood and falling from the sky, Tang Zhen would feel a trace of heartache and a faint sense of self-blame.

Regardless of whether it was the mother tree or the residents who died protecting the Holy Dragon City, Tang Zhen felt that he owed them. As the city Lord whom they trusted unconditionally, he was unable to help them resist the enemy's invasion at the most dangerous time of the city. This in itself was a dereliction of duty.

Although the entire incident was caused by the Trebor tribe's plot, Tang Zhen still believed that he had neglected his defense. If Holy Dragon City was equipped with powerful defensive weapons, then no matter how strong the Trebor tribe was, they would definitely suffer heavy losses.

Moreover, not only were there powerful surface-to-air missiles in the Holy Dragon City, but there were also weapons dismantled from the torobo people's battleships. However, due to the high energy consumption and Tang Zhen only locking the enemy on the towers in the wilderness Warzone, they had never been installed and tested!

After this painful lesson, Tang Zhen had made up his mind to transform the Holy Dragon city's surroundings into an impregnable fortress. If the torobo people came again, Tang Zhen would definitely make sure that they would not be able to return!

Tang Zhen looked at the jellyfish shop owner, who had already completely changed his expression, and said with a smile, "In my hometown, this is how you negotiate the price, but this doesn't mean that I'm not sincere.

Why don't we do it this way? you can state an acceptable price, and if I think it's worth it, I'll buy it. If I think it's not worth it, I'll leave. How about it?"

When the jellyfish owner heard Tang Zhen's words, the pink color on his body began to fade. He waved his tentacles that were floating in the air and entangled them together from time to time. It seemed that this was his habit of thinking.

After nearly half a minute, the shop owner finally looked at Tang Zhen. His pair of fist-sized eyes flickered with traces of lightning.

"To be honest, I find it hard to accept such a way of bargaining. But if you really want to buy it, then pay me 90 coins. I won't accept even one less!"

Seeing the jellyfish shop owner's determined look, Tang Zhen also nodded, indicating that he could accept the price.

"However, I don't have enough coins right now. It would be great if you could accept the barter!"

Hearing Tang Zhen's words, the jellyfish shop owner was stunned again, but he quickly nodded.

In the myriad world mall, as long as it was a valuable item, it could find the right buyer. At the right time, it could even be sold for a price far higher than the value of the item!

However, when using this method of trading, the merchant had to have enough knowledge and insight, otherwise, it was easy to suffer losses in the transaction.

After seeing that the jellyfish shop owner agreed to the barter, Tang Zhen waved his hand and more than a dozen items appeared in the area between the two of them. Each of them exuded an extraordinary aura.

These were all the items that he had accumulated on a daily basis. The purpose of taking them out at this time was to first pay for the liquid of rebirth, and then to see how much they were worth in the myriad world mall.

The jellyfish shop owner wasn't in a hurry to look at the floating items. Instead, he glanced at the storage ring on Tang Zhen's finger. Electric sparks flickered in his eyes.

if you're willing, you can use your own storage equipment to pay. Of course, I'll pay you with coins or special liquids for the excess!

Tang Zhen's eyes flickered, but he said to the jellyfish shop owner, let's take a look at the price of these items first. I hope to pay with them. If you're interested in storage equipment, we can talk about it in private.

alright, let me take a look. I hope there's something that I'm satisfied with!

As the jellyfish shop owner spoke, his tentacles reached out and brushed over the items one by one, as if trying to distinguish their origins and value.

While carefully distinguishing, it also told Tang Zhen the results of its appraisal.

"This should be an energy crystal from the body of some kind of monster. It will only appear in worlds with special environments. Although this thing is rare, it is really not worth much in the myriad world mall!

Of course, if you give me enough, like a few million, I can consider selling the liquid of rebirth to you!"

The jellyfish shop owner shook his head, moved his tentacles away from one of the heads, and turned his attention to the next item. However, he didn't notice the trace of joy that flashed across Tang Zhen's face.

Tang Zhen had once learned the price of the origin stone from the caravan of the ten thousand treasures building. Even if it was a low-grade one, it would still cost one million brain beads. According to the price given by the jellyfish shopkeeper, he only needed to pay a maximum of ten low-grade origin stones to buy the liquid of rebirth!

The difference between the brain beads of the two worlds was more than ten times. As long as he had enough brain beads, he could exchange them for a large amount of coins, which was definitely much more cost-effective than the transaction in the myriad Treasure Tower!

It was a pity that Tang Zhen had brought too few brain beads with him this time around. Otherwise, he might really be able to take the opportunity to earn a sum!

While Tang Zhen was thinking, the jellyfish shop owner slowly opened his mouth and gave the appraisal information of the second item.

"These sand-like objects look very ordinary, but they also have special powers and terrifying poisons. If I'm not wrong, those spirit-type races should need them!

If there's a powerful pharmacist to purify and mix them, they can also produce expensive potions. As a rare raw material, its price should be very high. The quantity you take out should be enough to pay for the goods!

If you have more of these items, you can choose to sell them to me. I'm sure the price will satisfy you!"

The jellyfish shop owner was clearly very satisfied with the out of body sand made by the soul-gnawing beast. When he turned his head to look at Tang Zhen, his eyes carried a trace of anticipation.

At this time, the jellyfish shop owner had already confirmed that this was the first time the human cultivator in front of him had come to the myriad world mall. Otherwise, he would have sold the items first and then used the mall coins to trade with him!

Although it was said that 'there are no unscrupulous businessmen', how many cultivators were easy to deceive? not to mention, as the owner of these items, Tang Zhen must have some understanding of the value of these items and had the right to decide whether to carry out the transaction.

Once he tried to fool Tang Zhen, he would not be able to get anything in the end!

Therefore, from the beginning, the jellyfish shop owner decided to make an honest deal. In this way, even if he would earn less in the end, it was still better than nothing!

Chapter 1179

1179 Tracking (1)

Just as the jellyfish shop owner was about to continue the appraisal, Tang Zhen, who had been observing the surroundings through the map view from the beginning, suddenly discovered something that interested him.

The mysterious cultivators he had met at the entrance had entered the same place as him. However, they were in a hurry, and it was obvious that they had something to deal with!

As for the Lou Cheng cultivators who were captured earlier, they were nowhere to be found. Who knew if they had met with an accident?

He wanted to catch up to them and investigate, but the problem was that he had yet to obtain the liquid of rebirth. He did not want to miss out on this special item that could possibly save the mother tree.

Moreover, through the jellyfish shop owner's appraisal, Tang Zhen already knew the value of the items he had, so there was no need to continue the appraisal.

Under the jellyfish shopkeeper's surprised gaze, he waved his hand and put away the rest of the items, leaving only the out of body sand floating between the two of them.

"Hey, what are you doing? I haven't seen the rest of the things."

The jellyfish shop owner shouted at Tang Zhen. The sparks above his head flickered again, so dense that it looked like an electric shock device that had been activated!

"Since the value of this out of body sand is equivalent to the liquid of rebirth, there's no need to look at the other items, don't you think?"

When the jellyfish shopkeeper heard this, he waved his tentacles in annoyance, leaving a series of electric sparks in the air. He snorted coldly at Tang Zhen and said, "What a strange fellow. Do you really think I would lie to you?"

No, no, no, I can guarantee you that I have no intention of cheating. If you have any doubts about my reputation, you can ask around and see what the other shop owners think of me!"

The jellyfish shop owner, who felt that his character had been doubted, seemed to be more annoyed than missing a chance to make a fortune.

"I think you might have misunderstood. The reason for this is because I have something very important to deal with. Let's complete the transaction of the liquid of rebirth first. As for the other things, we can talk about them after I'm done with my business!"

Tang Zhen explained. He used his mental energy to send a small amount of out of body sand to the jellyfish shop owner with an apologetic expression.

“Alright, since that’s the case, I’ll be waiting for you at any time!”

The jellyfish shop owner helplessly waved his tentacles and put the out of body sand into a container. Then, he took the liquid of rebirth and handed it to Tang Zhen.

Tang Zhen nodded and kept the liquid of rebirth into his storage ring before turning around and leaving the shop.

After walking for a distance, Tang Zhen turned into a hidden corner. When he came out again, his appearance had already changed greatly.

Through the magical effect of the mobile phone application, Tang Zhen had successfully turned into a race that even he had never seen before. This way, if the enemy wanted to find him based on his appearance, they would definitely not get anything!

Tang Zhen’s methods were undoubtedly more than a level higher compared to using divine arts and disguise to change his appearance. Even cultivators of the same rank would find it difficult to discover the abnormality.

However, just by changing his appearance, it was not absolutely safe. Before he entered this place, he must have left a record at the entrance. Moreover, the waist token he wore must have a tracking function.

For the myriad world mall, which had access to many technological races, it was a piece of cake to do this.

As he slowly walked through the crowd on the street, Tang Zhen had already activated the [all-purpose electronic kit] and issued the order to crack the waist token.

[cracking in progress,]

A set of words popped up in front of Tang Zhen’s eyes. Soon after, the progress bar continued to move forward. When Tang Zhen had taken a hundred steps, a prompt that he had successfully cracked the code popped up in front of his eyes.

“Tell me, what functions does this waist token have?”

Tang Zhen once again locked onto the mysterious cultivator’s tracks on the map. He quickened his pace and followed behind while casually asking.

[this item can continuously send out signals, allowing the user to be wrapped and guided by a special force field, and then freely enter a pre-set dimensional world. At the same time, this item can determine the user’s location, one-way communication, and imprisonment function!]

“Confinement function? what do you mean?” Tang Zhen frowned and asked.

[when this item is controlled and changes its frequency, it can be connected to other pre-set hidden dimensional worlds. According to analysis, this hidden dimensional world should have a special use. The greatest possibility is to imprison the user!]

Tang Zhen's heart was startled. He did not expect that this extremely ordinary looking waist tag would actually hide such a terrifying ability. At the same time when using this waist tag, it was equivalent to placing one's life in the hands of another.

The owner of the myriad world mall actually had such sinister intentions. It was really beyond Tang Zhen's expectations!

However, at the thought of the huge profits that the myriad world mall could bring and the situation of being coveted by countless forces, it was reasonable for the other party to use this method to protect themselves.

Understanding was one thing. However, it made Tang Zhen feel very uncomfortable when it was placed on him.

"Is there any way to cut off the signal that is unfavorable to me, or use the function of this waist token in reverse?"

[it's possible, but the control terminal might notice the abnormality and block it!]

it's good that you can do it. Remember, once you receive an abnormal command, immediately send me a prompt!

After issuing an order to the mobile application, Tang Zhen's footsteps quickened again. He passed through all kinds of people on the street and got closer and closer to the mysterious cultivators.

When they reached the end of a Street, they saw these few cultivators pass through a water curtain-like barrier and disappear from Tang Zhen's vision.

Seeing that there were other pedestrians walking into the water curtain, Tang Zhen no longer hesitated and followed closely behind.

The noise in his ears suddenly disappeared. What appeared in front of Tang Zhen was an underground space with strange rocks. Between the strange rocks and the mountain peaks, there were shops full of dark style.

Compared to the hustle and bustle of the previous Street, this place was undoubtedly too quiet. Even though people constantly passed by on the road, they were as quiet as ghosts.

As the money-grubber had said before, there were various styles of dimensional stores in the myriad world mall. Stores of different styles would not be gathered together to avoid unnecessary friction between the store owners and customers!

When similar shops were gathered together, it would be convenient for customers and the myriad world mall to manage them.

Tang Zhen walked among these pedestrians who were emitting a gloomy aura. He seemed to be out of place. However, after he used a cloak to cover his face and deliberately emitted a trace of fiendish aura, no one paid attention to him.

He locked onto the mysterious cultivator's tracks on the map again and found that they were walking towards a shop at the foot of a huge mountain. Tang Zhen waited for a moment before he also stepped in.

On the black rocks of the shop hung many patterns made of white bones. Under the illumination of the green flames, they looked very ferocious and terrifying. If a timid person saw them, they would probably shrink back.

Who knew what the shop owner was thinking? why would he use such a decoration style? was he afraid that his business was too good?

Just as Tang Zhen walked into the cave-like passage, a few strange insects that seemed to be pieced together from scattered corpses on the rocks trembled. Their huge eyes that were filled with nerves and blood vessels stared at Tang Zhen's body. They only slowly moved away after a few seconds.

After passing through the passageway filled with skeletons, a Hall burning with flames suddenly appeared in front of Tang Zhen.

Chapter 1180

1180 ! special product

At this time, in the slightly large hall, there were more than 20 cultivators sitting on chairs made of white bones. Their entire bodies were covered by long robes and capes, and their specific appearances could not be seen at all.

However, their faint auras indicated that they were at least King level cultivators!

In the middle of these cultivators was a huge skull with the top of its head removed. Green flames continued to rise from the skull, dyeing the hall the same color, making the atmosphere quite mysterious.

Tang Zhen's target was also among them. He was currently sitting in a corner, but he appeared to be extremely low-profile.

When Tang Zhen walked in, other than a few cultivators at the edge who glanced at him with obscure eyes, the other cultivators did not react at all, as if Tang Zhen did not exist.

Tang Zhen slowly walked to the center of the hall. Just as he was about to carefully observe the environment here, a chair made of white bones suddenly appeared at the spot where he was standing.

"Welcome, please take a seat and wait for a moment!"

On the armrest of the white bone Chair, there was a skull the size of a fist. It was opening and closing continuously, and the sentence was uttered by it.

After hesitating for a moment, Tang Zhen sat on the chair and extended his hand to touch the skull.

An ice-cold touch was transmitted over. This also made Tang Zhen certain that the skull was definitely made from some kind of special metal material and not a real skeleton!

Tang Zhen glanced at the surrounding cultivators and could not help but secretly guess. What was the purpose of them gathering here?

He couldn't open his mouth to ask, or else it would inevitably attract the suspicion of other cultivators. Once exposed, his tracking plan would be ruined!

He sat on the white bone Chair and waited quietly for over ten minutes. During this time, another dozen or so cultivators with their faces covered entered and sat on the white bone Chair that emerged from the ground without a word.

"Bang!"

With a soft sound, a white bone barrier rose at the entrance of the shop, blocking the way in and out of the hall. At the same time, the green flames coming out of the giant skull Rose four to five meters high, revealing a huge twisted face.

welcome, guests. I hereby announce the official start of this secret meeting. We will be selling many valuable items that will definitely satisfy everyone!

Tang Zhen's brows twitched when he heard this. Could it be that this was an auction?

As soon as this thought appeared in his mind, he saw a group of elf-like creatures walking out of the cave next to the hall. They were holding strange creatures in their hands, and their backs were as flat as a table with a huge transparent cover.

At this time, the surface of these transparent covers was covered with a layer of green flames, making it impossible for people to see what was inside. However, this method obviously attracted the interest of customers.

since everyone has come here, they must have the same purpose, so I will not waste any more time. Now, let's look at our first item!

As soon as the giant face in the flames finished speaking, the flames on the cover at the front dissipated, revealing the items inside.

Tang Zhen felt his body tremble the moment he saw this item. His eyes also turned gloomy.

He couldn't be more familiar with the item inside the transparent cover. It was a building foundation stone!

"Allow me to introduce it to you. This item is the cornerstone of the world of loucheng. Don't look down on its small size, but it hides unimaginable secrets!

according to our research, the foundation stones formed by special powers can perfectly communicate with the nomological energy of the world of buildings, and then build special buildings of different shapes out of thin air!

As long as you master the manufacturing method of this building foundation, you will be able to mass-produce similar buildings. This is undoubtedly a wonderful thing!

I believe everyone is very clear that the value of an inactive cornerstone of the castle is not great. The real value is the still-running cornerstone of the castle!

But the biggest problem is that once the building is destroyed in the war of invading the other world, the cornerstone of the building will completely dissipate in an extremely short time. So up until now, this is the first time we've obtained a cornerstone of the building, and its value goes without saying!"

After hearing the words of the flaming face, someone among the cultivators below asked about the origin of the tower's cornerstone. The flaming face was silent for a moment before it slowly said, "According to our rules, we shouldn't tell our customers the origin of these items. But since you want to know, it doesn't matter if I tell you.

A while ago, there was an invasion of a city on the ninth ring. However, due to some special reasons, we were able to foresee it and set up an ambush. As a result, the city was completely defeated as soon as it entered!

As for this Tower Foundation stone, it was the spoils of war. Do you understand now?"

Seeing that no one was speaking, the flaming face continued in a cold voice, "the next thing to do is to see who can offer a suitable price to take this precious cornerstone of the tower back!

The moment the flaming face said this, it meant that the bidding had begun.

As expected, after a few seconds of silence, a voice suddenly rang out and was the first to make a bid.

I'll use one of the countries on the seventh ring in exchange. What do you think of the price? "

After the giant flaming face heard the first bid, it looked at a cultivator in the crowd and asked in a deep voice, "please be more specific. What kind of countries have those resources? " this country is called Jiro. It's located at the edge of the desert and has a population of several million. It's rich in a variety of special desert poisonous insects!

The giant flaming face was silent for another ten seconds before it opened its mouth to reject the other party's offer.

"Your offer is very insincere. As far as I know, this country named Jiro has long been in ruins because of its governance. It's obvious that its value is far lower than this building foundation.

Unless you can give a reasonable price, it's destined to have no fate with you!"

After a minute, the cultivator who made the first bid still didn't speak. It was obvious that he had given up.

alright, let's continue with the bidding. I'm sure you won't miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, right? "

As soon as the flaming face finished speaking, another cultivator slowly opened his mouth and made a new bid, but it was also rejected by the flaming face.

It could be seen that the giant flaming face was very clear about the value of this cornerstone of the tower. Before getting a satisfactory price, he would definitely not sell it, which led to the higher and higher bids later on.

Tang Zhen's heart was filled with shock as he listened to the consecutive bids. He never expected that the Tower Foundation stone would have such a huge value!

But at the same time, he had a question in his mind. Who were these cultivators? why were they so interested in the world of Lou Cheng?

Moreover, from the tone of the flaming face, all the cultivators present had similar backgrounds and had dealt with the cultivators of Lou Cheng for more than a day or two.

He glanced at the mysterious cultivator who had just made the same bid. It was obvious that he had come here for the auction item related to the world of Lou Cheng!

This explained why they had attacked the cultivators of Lou Cheng. It was obviously a premeditated attack!

He just didn't know what the relationship between the money-grubbing young man's so-called traitor and these cultivators was, and for what reason did they collude?
