Chapter 1221

1221 On-the-spot first aid

Morris was not old and his body was not considered burly, but in his anger, he retaliated with a kick and kicked the tough citizen to the ground!

“Damn trash, go to hell!”

The burly citizen who had been kicked to the ground by Morris clutched his stomach, his face full of pain. After cursing angrily, he picked up his weapon and pointed it at Morris.

“Morris, quickly Dodge!”

Uncle Jim’s pupils contracted, and he pulled Morris ‘body without hesitation and pushed him to the side, but he exposed himself to the muzzle of the tough citizen.

“Bang!”

a crisp sound was heard. uncle jim was shot in the chest area, but it was blocked by the armor, causing a series of crisp sounds to ring out.

The special electric-driven high-pressure pistol bullets did not penetrate the armor.

Seeing this, the intrepid citizen couldn’t help but become even angrier. He pulled the trigger and didn’t let go. Steel balls kept flying out of the muzzle.

The dense barrage of bullets hit Uncle Jim’s body one after another. Under normal circumstances, he would definitely be dead after suffering such heavy injuries!

However, the problem was that the weapon used by the citizens was actually a high-pressure air gun with limited lethality. Although it had a very high firing speed and sufficient ammunition capacity, its greatest use was for self-defense and completely incapacitating the enemy.

Although they could also kill people, unless they were hit in a vital spot, there was a chance to save them.

Moreover, not everyone could equip such a pistol. Only after an application and approval could one obtain the right to use the weapon from the floating city’s officials.

For this land operation, in addition to the armed robots that they had to bring, each of them also applied for an electric-driven high-pressure gas pistol for self-defense.

But the moment they reached the ground, they aimed their weapons at the abandoned people!

“Warning, it is forbidden to kill abandoned people for no reason, or you will be severely punished!”

This scene happened in a very short time. It was not until the voice of the armed robot suddenly sounded and pointed the black muzzle at the tough citizen that everyone recovered from the shock.

Although the comrades of the intrepid citizens looked down on the abandoned people, it definitely required some courage for them, who had lived in the floating city since young, to shoot and kill.

That was why they were so shocked by their companions' behavior, and some of them even showed a hint of panic.

As for Morris and his companions, at this moment, they roared in unison, took out their hidden crossbow guns, and aimed at the dazed tough citizen holding the pistol.

warning, a target has been detected to be a threat to the citizens. Depending on the situation, we will decide whether to initiate the attack!

The armed robot's voice rang out, and the black muzzle was pointed at Morris and the others. This was not a high-pressure air gun, but a military standard weapon, which could definitely kill people in an instant!

Uncle Jim was covered in blood. Although his armor had covered his chest, his limbs and head were not protected, which was why he was injured by the bullets.

Although the situation looked terrible, Uncle Jim's consciousness was still very clear. When he saw Morris and the others pointing their guns at the tough citizen, he immediately opened his mouth to stop them.

"Put down your weapons, are you crazy?"

Uncle Jim glared at his companion and then shouted at Morris, "You brat, why are you so impulsive? do you want to kill everyone?"

Morris's hand that was holding the crossbow was trembling. He glanced at the citizens who had a serious expression on their faces and the armed robots that were ready to shoot at any time. He stomped his foot in anger, threw down his weapon and rushed to Uncle Jim.

"Uncle Jim, how are you doing?"

After taking a closer look at Uncle Jim's injuries, Morris's heart sank slightly. His wounds were mainly concentrated on his limbs, but he had also been shot twice in the abdomen, and blood was oozing out.

As for the dozen or so bullets that were shot at his chest, they were completely blocked by his armor and did not cause any damage.

However, even with such injuries, he had to be treated as soon as possible, or his life would be in danger!

Due to the limited resources of the abandoned people, there were many times when they were unable to treat their wounds effectively. Therefore, Morris immediately thought of Tang Zhen and the special Healing Ointment that he had once taken out.

He turned his head and glanced behind him. When he found that Tang Zhen was looking at him expressionlessly, Morris immediately rushed over.

Sir, can you give me some more of that ointment? Uncle Jim is severely injured!

Morris 'tone was pleading. After all, Tang Zhen was his only hope at the moment.

Tang Zhen glanced at the anxious Morris, took out the ointment, and directly threw it into his hand.

After thanking him, Morris immediately returned to Uncle Jim and was ready to apply the ointment on the wound.

you have to remove the bullet from your body and then apply the medicine. Otherwise, he might get infected and die!

Just as Morris was about to start the treatment in a hurry, a clear and cold voice suddenly came to his ear, causing him to be stunned.

Turning around, he saw that The Woman in White had already walked over and was examining Uncle Jim's wounds.

Morris's heart could not help but beat wildly. His face turned slightly red, and he stuttered, "Then what do you think we should do, Yueyue?"

"Move to the side and let me handle this!"

As The Woman in White spoke, she immediately tidied up her long robe, revealing a combat suit that looked like a tight leather suit. At the same time, she took out a set of tools from her waist bag. It looked like she was going to perform surgery.

lay him flat on the ground and take off his clothes. Try to be as gentle as possible!

Morris agreed and quickly put Uncle Jim down on the ground according to The Woman in White's request. He then looked at the other party with a very nervous expression.

The Woman in White was not distracted at all. She quickly and steadily operated the tools in her hands. After the anesthetic took effect, she immediately cut open Uncle Jim's wound and tried to take out the bullet inside.

the bullets in the limbs are easy to take out, but I can't see the bullet in the abdomen. I need to use telekinesis to take it out. Remember, don't resist!

After reminding Uncle Jim and seeing him nod in agreement, the mysterious crystal between The Woman in White's brows flashed. Then, a stream of mental energy seeped into Uncle Jim's abdomen and took out the bullet inside.

Under everyone's gaze, the two bullets that had shot into Uncle Jim's abdomen slowly appeared and fell into the dust on the ground.

"Alright, the bullet has been removed. You can apply the medicine on him now!"

The Woman in White let out a long breath and used her sleeve to check the fine sweat on her head. She turned to Morris and said.

he's alright. I'll apply the medicine for him immediately!

Morris agreed and quickly opened the bottle of ointment in his hand, preparing to apply the ointment on the wound.

The Woman in White saw this and frowned slightly. She stared at the ointment in Morris' hand and a trace of disdain flashed in her eyes. Then she said softly, "What is this? is this the medicine you use to heal your injuries?"

Morris nodded and quickly said, "yes, it's the ointment that Sir gave me. It's very effective!"

The Woman in White shook her head and said to Morris, "I have some special healing medicine here. Give it to your companion. As for your ointment, don't use it carelessly, in case it infects the wound!"

"Ah Yingluo?"

Hearing this, Morris was stunned. He looked at The Woman in White with some difficulty. He naturally knew the effect of the healing Ointment, but he did not know how to refuse the woman's request.

Morris, who had been rather astute at first, was now nervous and flustered when he was facing The Woman in White!

He didn't know if he should continue to use the special ointment given to him by Tang Zhen or listen to the words of the White-clothed woman and use the healing medicine she gave him to save Uncle Jim.

Without any idea in his heart for a moment, Morris subconsciously looked at Tang Zhen. He saw that Tang Zhen had his arms crossed and was staring at him with a smile that was not a smile.

Chapter 1222

1222 Who's the attacker? _1

After a moment of hesitation, Morris said to The Woman in White, "Thank you for your kindness, but you should use my ointment!"

Morris smiled at The Woman in White and rejected her request.

Hearing this, The Woman in White did not say anything. She just stood up and tidied up her tools, which made Morris feel very embarrassed.

He felt a little embarrassed. Although he had declined the White-clothed woman's good intentions, he was very nervous.

However, after Morris rejected her, her companions' expressions changed. One of the women said indignantly, "I say, you really don't know what's good for you. Do you know what medicine sister Jun gave you? you ignorant little trash!"

"In my opinion, sister Jun shouldn't have helped. She put in so much effort and even gave him a special medicine, but he didn't appreciate it at all!"

sister Jun, you'd better not care. They won't be grateful anyway!

A few citizens spoke at the same time, their tone carrying a trace of dissatisfaction and anger, as if they were complaining about the White-clothed woman named little Xi.

The Woman in White was still expressionless. At this time, she had put down her long robe, covering her exquisite body that was wrapped in a white tight combat suit.

Morris did not care about the citizens' mocking complaints. Instead, he looked nervously at The Woman in White and said, "this ointment is very effective. I've used it before, and the wound will heal very quickly!"

The Woman in White did not speak. Her expression returned to the way it was when they first met, as if she did not know Morris.

Sighing in his heart, Morris turned his head, took out the ointment, and applied it on Uncle Jim's wound, but he looked a little absent-minded.

When Uncle Jim, who was lying on the ground, saw this scene, he shook his head slightly.

alright, now can you tell me who injured my companion?"

The citizen leader, who had been silent all this while, suddenly spoke at this moment and spoke to Morris in a cold tone.

This person who had been hiding among the abandoned people and possessed a strong mind power was definitely the biggest hidden danger in their operation this time. Therefore, the citizen leader had to find him and deal with him according to the situation.

If the other party made him feel threatened, the citizen leader would not mind killing him on the spot!

Furthermore, the floating city was constantly monitoring the abandoned people. If they knew that an abandoned person had naturally awakened mental strength that required the activation of mysterious crystals, they would definitely be extremely interested.

The surroundings were silent, and no one among the abandoned people answered the citizen leader's question. This was because other than Morris and the rest, they had no idea who was the person who had protected Morris and injured the Ambusher.

When the leader saw this, a cold smile appeared on his face. He said in a cold voice, "you've been enjoying our charity and protection all this time. That's how you can survive on the ground with monster cities and radioactive monsters, but you've never known how to be grateful.

Cruel and unscrupulous things, is this how you repay me?"

After snorting coldly, the citizen leader turned to look at the armed robot and said at an extremely fast speed, "citizen number 4357, applying for temporary command authority to capture dangerous elements that may pose a threat to the floating city. The other party is suspected to have a naturally awakened powerful telekinesis!"

The robots protecting the citizens were silent for a moment, before a cold voice rang out from within, "The video has been verified and the presence of a dangerous person has been confirmed. Citizen 4357 is granted temporary command. The suspect must be captured and escorted to the floating city!"

Command authority has been activated, control link in effect, voice control system activated, please use your power of justice fairly!"

"Thank you!"

After hearing the voice of the armed robot, the citizen leader smiled. He then turned to look at the abandoned people around him with a cold glint in his eyes.

armed guards, listen up! Surround them all! Don't let a single one of them escape!

Upon hearing the orders from the citizen leader, the androids immediately moved out and quickly spread out, surrounding the abandoned people.

When the abandoned people saw this, their faces were filled with fear. They quickly gathered together and held their simple weapons as they looked at the cold armed robots. They did not know what was happening.

gather everyone together. I have some questions to ask them!

The citizen leader gave another order and all the abandoned people were chased by the armed robots towards a certain location. During this period of time, some abandoned people tried to resist but they were easily subdued by the armed robots!

There were still a few abandoned people who tried to escape, but the armed robots opened fire and used electric bullets to knock them down!

It didn't take long for all the abandoned people to gather together. They looked at the citizens with nervous expressions.

someone ambushed my companion just now, causing him to suffer very serious injuries. I reckon it will take a long time for him to recover.

The citizen leader used a high and mighty attitude to sweep his gaze across the abandoned people in tattered clothes before continuing with an icy cold voice, "If you do something wrong, you have to be punished. Especially if you sneak attack a citizen, it's an even greater crime!

That's why I have to find him and give him the punishment he deserves. Only then will it be fair to all of us.

Because if you can't find that person, all of you here will have to share the punishment. I can remind you that it's definitely a very painful thing!"

After saying that, the citizen leader pointed at Morris, "Let's start with you. Tell me, who was the one who used telekinesis to attack the citizens?"

Clapping Uncle Jim's hand, Morris turned around and sneered. He said to the citizen leader, "I'm sorry, I don't know what you're talking about."

"Very good, next!"

The citizen leader looked at Morris with a profound gaze, and at the same time, he pointed at his companion.

“Tell me, you must know who it is, right?”

Morris’s companion shook his head and said, ” “I don’t know!”

“You don’t know? Very well, I will make you remember the things you should remember!”

The citizen leader’s smile became more relaxed and warm, but his eyes became extremely cold. It was as if this pair of eyes and this face belonged to a different person!

“Armed guards, immediately interrogate him until he speaks!”

With an order, two armed robots immediately stood up and grabbed the struggling abandoned person tightly.

Morris ‘companion shouted loudly, but he was shocked by the electricity and trembled all over. His body immediately went limp.

“Damn bastards, what are you doing? let him go!”

After seeing what had happened to his companion, Morris could no longer hold back. He shook off Uncle Jim’s hand and pointed the crossbow on his body at the citizen leader.

After seeing Morris ‘actions, the armed robots immediately locked onto him with their weapons and issued a cold warning.

The citizen leader laughed and looked at the Furious Morris. “Now, you can tell me who was the one who launched the sneak attack. Of course, you can also choose not to tell me. However, if you do that, your companions will suffer!”

Looking at the struggling Morris, the citizen leader’s smile became even brighter!

Chapter 1223

1223 Resisting the hostage (1!

With the crossbows in their hands, Morris and the other four defeated the group of abandoned people who tried to attack them.

Even though it was Tang Zhen who made a move at the last moment and Morris and the others were spared, their performance during the battle was indeed remarkable. At the same time, they showed their faces to all the abandoned people’s groups nearby.

However, when their opponents became citizens, their advantage in weapons was completely crushed, and a mere crossbow could no longer pose a threat to the enemy.

Even if they risked their lives to kill a few citizens, they would not be able to escape death in the end!

Not only did Uncle Jim understand this principle, but Morris and the rest also understood it. Therefore, they were not willing to completely fall out with the citizens until they were at the end of their rope.

However, the forbearance of Morris and the others would not be able to exchange for the citizens' restraint. They, who thought that they were superior to others and had powerful martial arts, would not let the matter rest until they had beaten the enemy down and stepped on them!

It was undoubtedly a fool's dream for the abandoned people to understand each other and live in peace with each other!

At this moment, seeing his companion being lifted off the ground by the armed robots, his thin and weak body convulsing continuously due to the electric shock, and even his pants being soaked in urine, Morris only felt the anger in his heart was indescribable.

It was not the first time he had seen such a scene, nor was it the first time he had heard of the overbearing citizens. However, he had never been too concerned about it, even thinking that it was a reasonable thing to do.

Who asked them to be born lowly and the citizens to always be high above!

However, when he was unwilling to accept this, and when this happened to him, Morris was shocked to find out that this feeling was so painful and desperate!

Looking coldly at the mocking citizens, Morris felt as if he was in a furnace. He could either fight to the death and burn the enemy to death, or surrender and burn his dignity to ashes!

Other than that, Morris had another thought in his heart that even he was unwilling to admit, and that was to change his life, so that the White-clothed woman among the citizens could look at him squarely, and even become his woman!

Otherwise, with his current appearance, he would forever be an ordinary passerby whose name she didn't know and would soon be forgotten.

As for the sneak attacker who used his spiritual energy to injure the citizens, Morris had already confirmed that it was Tang Zhen. He also knew that Tang Zhen had definitely attacked to protect him. The reason why he chose to hide was because the enemy was too powerful. The injured Tang Zhen was not a match for him.

Even if he had guessed this, Morris would never sell him out, even if it meant death!

Morris had long regarded this mysterious man, who had fulfilled his greatest wish in life and even brought weapons to him and his companions, as a God. He would not allow anyone to blaspheme him!

In the time it took for a spark to fly off a Flint, Morris experienced a struggle, pain, hesitation, and finally determination. He also finally understood how his future life would go.

The flame of desire in his heart had also appeared from nothing under Tang Zhen's deliberate provocation. Moreover, it was burning more and more vigorously!

The finger that had released the trigger of the crossbow was put back on. His trembling arm suddenly became calm. Morris looked at the proud citizen leader coldly, a trace of ridicule flashing in his eyes.

do you think that you can make me surrender like this and then watch me kneel on the ground like a dog and beg for your forgiveness? "

Upon hearing Morris 'words, the citizen leader was shocked and nodded his head naturally.

"You're right, so are you planning to surrender? Or do you want to watch your companions continue to suffer in order to protect the Ambusher who is hiding?"

The citizen leader's tone became colder and colder. I can tell you that the floating city will never let off anyone who dares to harm the interests of its citizens!

The citizen leader's words had already expressed his attitude. He would not let the matter rest until he caught the attacker.

Morris turned to look at Uncle Jim on the ground. A trace of guilt flashed in his eyes, but he saw a look of approval in Uncle Jim's eyes.

The two of them had been together for many years, and many things could be done with just eye contact. It was also because of this that Morris immediately understood Uncle Jim's thoughts.

He was supporting her and encouraging her with his eyes!

Nodding at Uncle Jim, he turned his head to look at his companion and Tang Zhen. Morris then turned to the citizen leader and chuckled, "What a coincidence, I will never let anyone who wants to hurt my companions off!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Morris 'body suddenly rushed forward. Before the crowd could react, he had already rushed to the front of a citizen, and at the same time, he pointed the crossbow at the other party's head.

"Get out of my way, or I'll kill him!"

Morris's face was a little twisted. He used his arms to hold the shocked citizens and shouted at the citizens who were caught off guard.

"Damn bastard, are you crazy?"

The citizen leader's expression changed. He was at a loss for what to do with the sudden situation, but he still ordered the armed robot to point its muzzle at Morris.

"Hurry up and let him go, or you and your companions will all die!"

The citizen leader roared fiercely, his face filled with shame and anger, and the killing intent in his eyes began to grow stronger.

"Cut the crap and let go of my companion. Otherwise, if my hand trembles, this guy will die without a doubt!"

The citizens who were being held down by Morris 'crossbow were panicking. At the same time, they looked at the citizen leader and the others for help, hoping that they could save them.

The citizen leader took a deep breath. He had only wanted to find the person who had ambushed them and then humiliate Morris and the others. He had not expected things to turn out like this.

The slyness and stubbornness of these abandoned people had simply exceeded his imagination!

He did not want to see another citizen die when there were already citizens who had been injured by mental strength. This would definitely be the biggest stain in his life and would also add a lot of obstacles to his future climbing.

Morris had the courage to cut off all means of retreat, but the citizen leader did not have the determination to persist to the end!

The best choice at the moment was to choose to compromise and then find an opportunity to kill them. Only then could he get rid of the anger in his heart!

After a few seconds of silence, the citizen leader waved his hand and the comrade who was interrogated by the armed robot was thrown to the ground.

“Release the citizens you’re holding hostage, and then take your companions and disappear from my sight!”

The citizen leader looked at Morris coldly and said word by word, “My patience has a limit, so you better not play any tricks, or I will definitely make you regret it for the rest of your life!”

Morris’s eyes were also shining with a cold light. He sneered at the citizen leader and said, “Don’t worry, I won’t do that kind of stupid thing, because there are still many wonderful things waiting for me to do!”

“It’s good that you know what to do. I hope you don’t regret it!”

that’s right. I already know what to do. I won’t regret it!

After the two of them said something meaningful, Uncle Jim and his companion, who was being interrogated, were supported by two other people and had already walked to Morris ‘side.

Tang Zhen followed behind and was looking at Morris with a satisfied gaze. The smile on the corner of his mouth became more and more brilliant!

Chapter 1224

1224 The Woman in White’s choice

you must be on high alert. Be careful of a sudden attack from the citizen society. Next, we will slowly retreat to the entrance of the monster City. Once the time is up, we will immediately rush in!

Morris explained his plan to everyone. At the same time, he took a deep breath, and his gaze became more and more determined.

His operation this time could be said to be cutting off all cauldrons and sinking all boats. If he failed, he would very likely lose the lives of himself and his companions!

This was only because he was forced by the situation, because he had no other choice but to take the risk!

Uncle Jim and the others nodded at the same time. They didn’t say much, but they showed their support with their actions.

When his line of sight unintentionally landed on Tang Zhen, the corner of Morris' mouth revealed a bitter smile. He then turned to the citizen leader and loudly said, 'I'll retreat to the monster City. I'll let him go after I'm sure it's safe!

The citizen leader was furious and pointed at Morris, "Don't push your luck. Do you really think I won't kill you?"

Hearing this, Morris smiled bitterly and said in a faint voice, "Of course I know you dare to kill me. After all, in the eyes of you citizens, what's the difference between us and rats?"

But it was also because of this that I chose to do this, so as not to cause my companions to lose their lives!

Don't worry, even if you give me more courage, I won't dare to kill a citizen unless I'm at my wit's end!"

Looking at the flustered and exasperated citizen leader, Morris's tone was extremely firm, "I have no other choice. Other than letting us go, you have another choice, and that is to kill me and your companions!

It's up to you what you should do!"

Hearing this, the citizen leader clenched his fists tightly in anger, and looked at Morris with a gaze that could almost kill.

He wanted to use his psychic power to attack Morris, but he could not guarantee that he would kill him instantly. In this short moment, Morris could pull the trigger on reflex and shoot the hostage citizen to death!

The citizen also realized that the situation was not good and quickly shouted for help, his tone full of pleading.

The citizen leader hesitated a few times, but he did not dare to order the armed robots to open fire. In the end, he could only sigh and prepare to do as Morris asked.

To be manipulated by an abandoned person whom he regarded as trash was definitely a great humiliation to the citizen leader. At this moment, he had already begun to secretly swear in his heart that he would definitely find an opportunity to torture Morris and the rest to death!

However, at this moment, a cold voice suddenly rang out. Then, The Woman in White named little Xi stepped out of the crowd and slowly walked to Morris and the others.

"I'm here to take his place as a hostage. You can let him go now!"

The woman named Xi said as she looked at Morris coldly.

"Xi, don't mess around, come back here!"

The citizen leader's expression changed as he shouted at the White-clothed woman in exasperation. It was clear that he was truly anxious now.

"Second brother, this matter ends here. If this continues, it won't be good for anyone!"

Flamy said without turning her head. She ignored the citizen leader's dissuasion and walked directly to Morris, indicating that he should take her as a hostage.

Morris froze for a moment, then took a deep breath. As he released the controlled citizen, his arm quickly clasped Xi's neck.

"I'm sorry, I didn't want to do this!"

Morris explained, but there was not much guilt in his tone.

I know, and I won't run away. I only hope that you can keep your promise, because I despise men who break their promises the most!

Morris's expression turned serious as he nodded slightly.

"Don't worry, the abandoned people are definitely not as bad as you think. In some places, even you citizens can't compare!"

are you talking about the ability to resist diseases? I admit that. But then again, what is the ointment you just used? why is it so effective? "

Xi glanced at Uncle Jim's wound. She couldn't hide the shock in her eyes when she saw the scabs on the surface of his skin.

"We'll talk about this later. Now, retreat with me!"

As Morris spoke, he immediately pulled little Xi back and kept looking at the armed robots to prevent them from suddenly attacking.

The citizen leader glared at Morris, but when his gaze fell on The Woman in White, it was filled with helplessness.

Although he was a little annoyed at his sister's decision, the citizen leader knew very well that Xi's approach was the most appropriate, and it would prevent him from making a bigger mistake.

But the problem was that if he did that, his sister would be in danger again, and she might even lose her life in the monster City!

If something really happened to his sister, even if the citizen leader wasn't beaten to death by his parents, he would definitely suffer for the rest of his life!

Taking a deep breath, the citizen leader spoke in a voice that only he could hear, "You'd better not harm little Xi in the slightest, or I'll definitely kill all the abandoned people, absolutely kill them all!"

Under the watchful eyes of the citizens and the abandoned, Morris and the rest retreated all the way to the entrance of the monster City. They were only one step away from triggering the alarm device.

"It's almost time, everyone get ready!"

Uncle Jim glanced behind him and reminded the others in a low voice.

As soon as he finished his sentence, a series of strange noises came from the monster City behind them. It was like a super machine that was running non-stop suddenly went into a shutdown state.

For some unknown reason, the people who had not heard any sound at first suddenly felt that the whole world had become quiet.

It seemed that the noise of the monster City would only be heard in the soul, and when the monster City stopped operating, the soul that was affected by the noise would immediately be aware of it!

Time's Up. Everyone, follow me. Remember, don't fall behind!

Uncle Jim reminded him again, then stepped on the metal ground that should not be stepped on normally and walked directly toward the entrance of a dark metal building.

Morris and the others followed him one by one, and also entered the entrance, slowly disappearing from everyone's sight.

When the citizen leader saw this from a distance, he immediately glared at his surroundings, then lowered his head and fell into deep thought.

"Boss, are we still going to continue with our mission?"

A citizen walked over and asked in a low voice.

of course, I'll continue. And I must succeed!

The citizen leader took a deep breath and said to everyone, " "However, the situation has changed, so our plan has to change!"

"Xia Lei, Fang Yu, and James, the three of you will follow me to carry out the mission. As for the others, each of you will bring an armed robot and a group of abandoned people to search for Xi's whereabouts!

After you find Xi, you don't need to save her, just follow her in secret and help her when she's in danger!"

Seeing his comrade nod his head, the citizen leader swept a glance at the uneasy abandoned people and said in an icy cold voice, " "Although I was very angry with the actions of that abandoned person, I wouldn't take my anger out on you for no reason.

However, in order to ensure the safety of the hostage, I have to find her. You will be hired. As long as you complete the mission, I will give you enough food as a reward. You will not suffer any losses!"

When the abandoned people heard this, they could only helplessly nod their heads. At this moment, they were the same as Morris, they had no other choice!

Chapter 1225

1225 Metal building bug

Following the citizen leader's order, the abandoned people were immediately split into many small groups. Then, each of them followed a citizen and entered the monster City from a different entrance.

There were more than a hundred people in each team, and they looked very imposing.

The reason why they did not follow Tang Zhen's group into the same entrance was because something had definitely changed there. Even if they were to chase after them, they would be heading in the opposite direction!

As he watched his comrades gradually leave under the protection of the armed robots, the citizen leader hesitated for a moment before finally opening his communication tool and connecting to the floating city on the other end.

After the communicator rang twice, it showed that the call was connected. Then, a slightly dignified man's voice was heard.

why did you look for me? did something happen? "

After hearing the man's voice, the citizen leader shivered unnoticeably, but he still took a deep breath and said, " "Something did happen. Xi was kidnapped by an abandoned person and entered the monster City."

It seemed that the leader was extremely afraid of the man, so he did not dare to hide anything, and quickly repeated what had happened.

After he finished speaking, he secretly heaved a sigh of relief and waited for the other party's reply.

"Your response was appropriate, and Xiao Xi being held hostage was an accident, so I don't blame you!

However, since it has already happened, we have to deal with it positively to prevent it from getting worse and even out of our control!"

When the citizen leader heard this, he quickly nodded in agreement.

"Since you've confirmed that some of the abandoned people have naturally awakened telekinesis, this matter can not be underestimated. Whether it's to maintain the stability of the floating city or to unearth the secrets of telekinesis cultivation, it has extremely important significance.

I'll immediately contact the Archon and request for the black-clad law enforcement team to rescue Xiao Xi and capture the naturally awakened.

Continue with the plan and wait to cooperate with the black-clothed law enforcement team!"

The citizen leader nodded repeatedly, then turned off the communicator with a respectful expression, and gently wiped the sweat on his forehead.

Looking at the monster City that was like a terrifying giant beast, the citizen leader waved his hand and led his companions into the dense forest.

.....

The monster City was just like its name, filled with many illogical places. It was grotesque and variegated, which made people feel extremely strange.

It was as if one had entered a complicated metal maze. If one was not careful while walking, they could enter a dangerous area.

This wasn't an ordinary city, and danger could be seen everywhere. It was very possible that an extremely ordinary-looking item could take a person's life in an instant!

Fortunately, as the monster City stopped operating, many dangerous places were no longer operating. Even if he accidentally touched them, he would not be in danger.

However, just because there were fewer dangerous areas, it did not mean that there were no threats. For example, the mechanical guardians of some monster cities were still swimming around in the huge cities, preventing intruders from entering.

Since it was called a city, there would naturally be "citizens" in it. As the monster City stopped operating, these special citizens also fell into a state of deep sleep.

Ever since Tang Zhen and the rest entered the monster City, they had been slowly moving forward through the gaps between various metal buildings under Uncle Jim's lead.

Along the way, there were many fluorescent patterns on the buildings. The light was enough to illuminate the surrounding scenery, so that they didn't have to explore in the dark.

In addition to the flashing patterns on the buildings, the most common thing in the monster City was actually some thumb-sized metal bugs. They were the builders of the city, and their numbers were as uncountable as ants.

In the construction site of the monster City, it was almost like an ocean of metal bugs. They emitted a light green light and constantly spewed out all kinds of special metal solutions in their abdomens, causing the metal buildings to take shape in a short time!

Tang Zhen stopped when he passed by a metal pillar that was around three meters in height. He carefully observed the light spots on the top of the building and seemed to be extremely interested.

Uncle Jim explained in a low voice, "These are the mechanical bugs that built the monster City. If you don't provoke them, there will be no danger. But if you anger them, those metal bugs will swarm forward and turn you into a metal statue or burn you into ashes!

As long as these metal bugs leave the monster City or change their color, they will immediately explode, so they are very dangerous!"

As he spoke, Uncle Jim pointed at a location not far away. As expected, there were two metal figures lying on the ground. They looked very alive.

However, their faces were filled with despair and pain, giving people a chilling feeling.

"They were all abandoned people who died because of their carelessness. Because they turned into metal lumps, their companions couldn't take their bodies away and could only leave them here!"

Tang Zhen nodded his head as he stretched out his hand to pick up a metal bug. He seemed to have completely ignored Uncle Jim's warning.

The Woman in White named little Xi saw this and couldn't help but frown. "You'll put everyone in danger if you do this. Why didn't you listen to the warning?"

From the very beginning, little Xi had noticed Tang Zhen, who had a completely different temperament and dressing compared to the abandoned people. However, she had only noticed him and did not think much about it.

However, from the current situation, this mysterious man was definitely not an abandoned person. At the very least, he was not a simple abandoned person!

Tang Zhen swept his eyes over little Xi. He picked up another metal bug and squeezed it with all his might under everyone's gaze.

Everyone's expression changed drastically at the same time. This was because other than Tang Zhen, almost everyone was clear about the terrifying aspect of these metal bugs. It was even more impossible for them to do anything to destroy the bugs.

It could be said that Tang Zhen's actions were akin to seeking his own death. Moreover, he was even implicating others!

However, with a crisp sound, the metal bug was torn into pieces, but the expected explosion did not happen.

Flamy's face was filled with shock. She didn't understand what was going on. As for Morris and the others, they shook their heads and chuckled. It seemed that this was the result that matched Tang Zhen's usual mysteriousness.

How did you do it? Are all these mechanical insects out of order?"

Little Xi was very curious, and directly reached out to grab the mechanical bug closest to her, as if she wanted to see what was going on.

Their operation this time was actually related to the secret of the monster City, so they could not ignore any unusual situations.

"Don't touch it, it's dangerous!"

Morris quickly stopped her, but it was obviously to no avail. Little Xi still stubbornly grabbed onto a motionless mechanical bug.

The moment her finger touched the mechanical insect and brought it in front of her, the mechanical insect that was originally emitting a light green fluorescent light suddenly changed color, turning into a dangerous blood red!

After seeing this scene, little Xi panicked and subconsciously threw the metal bug out. Who would have thought that it would land right where Morris was?

Morris was scared out of his wits when he saw the metal bugs flying towards him. He wanted to dodge them, but he realized that there was not enough safe distance around him.

Uncle Jim and the others had their hearts in their throats, because as long as this metal bug exploded, it would definitely alert the other metal bugs. Not only would Morris's life be in danger, but they would also not be able to leave alive today!

1226 Successful imprisonment and positioning _1

Seeing the metal bug that was about to explode land in front of Morris, everyone was already in despair. It was as if Morris would be blown into a bloody mess in the next second!

Immediately after, the red mechanical insect flashed rapidly, and a ball of flames burst out from its body, shrouding Morris.

The flames were mixed with a lot of metal solution. When it came into contact with the air, it solidified quickly. It was hard to imagine how a metal worm of this size could have so much metal solution in its body.

Perhaps the monster City already had a mature space technology and had applied it to these metal bugs!

At this moment, as the mechanical insects finally exploded, it seemed that Morris was unable to escape, and so were they!

However, what happened next made everyone's eyes widen in disbelief.

It turned out that Tang Zhen had unknowingly appeared in front of Morris and was directly facing that ball of raging flames and shock wave. At the same time, he extended his hand and gently touched the flame.

The moment the terrifying flame touched Tang Zhen's finger, it immediately trembled a few times gently like a jelly. Soon after, it rapidly shrank until it became a small dot of light. It flickered a few times before disappearing.

As for the sound of the explosion, it seemed to be confined to a fixed area and did not spread too far. As a result, it did not alarm the other metal bugs and attract a terrible bug tide attack!

A terrifying disaster was easily eliminated by Tang Zhen in an instant just like that!

Morris heaved a long sigh of relief and patted his chest in relief. The situation just now had really frightened him!

"It's good that you're alright, it's good!"

Uncle Jim said with a smile. His face was filled with dissatisfaction as he glanced at little Xi. At the same time, he bowed and thanked Tang Zhen.

If it was not for Tang Zhen's help along the way, it was likely that they would have already died a few times. Perhaps, their corpses would have already been half-covered by the sand!

this is the fluctuation of telekinesis. You're the hidden attacker!

Little Xi extended her hand and pointed at Tang Zhen. There was a trace of anger in her eyes, as well as unconcealable shock.

The power of the metal worm's explosion just now could have easily killed Morris, but after meeting Tang Zhen, it was easily dealt with. Especially the mental power that overflowed during the process, it made little Xi, who was also a cultivator, feel as if she was facing a bottomless abyss.

It was as if she would be devoured and killed if she dared to resist!

At this moment, how could she not guess that the person who had protected Morris and counterattacked was actually Tang Zhen himself?

She had never dreamed that there would be such a super expert hidden among the abandoned people. If this matter were to spread, it would definitely cause an uproar in the entire floating city.

If the citizens' ruling position was threatened, they would definitely take new measures against the abandoned people, even using extreme measures to prevent the situation from worsening!

Flamy's face was alert, and it subconsciously took two steps back, wanting to take the opportunity to escape.

"It's too late to leave now!"

Tang Zhen coldly snorted. He looked at little Xi who had already turned around and ran some distance away. Soon after, he heard a miserable cry. Little Xi who was running suddenly fell to the ground and couldn't get up. Her face was filled with pain.

A trace of dark red blood slowly flowed out from the corner of her eye.

"I'll give you a little lesson. Remember, before I let you leave, you're not allowed to leave my sight, or you'll die without a doubt!"

As Tang Zhen's voice fell, little Xi felt a scorching heat on her palm. She frantically flipped her hand over to check, only to see a strange symbol appearing on her palm, emitting an extremely dangerous aura.

This was a rune condensed from physical spiritual energy. Regardless of the distance, it could attack the controlled person's spiritual or physical body according to Tang Zhen's will.

Unless one's strength was on par or greater than Tang Zhen's, not only would one be unable to dispel this kind of control method, one might even be seriously injured by the backlash and directly turn into an idiot or a corpse!

With Tang Zhen's cultivation and mental energy that was as vast as the ocean, it was likely that no one in this world could compare to him, let alone resolve this symbol.

Although little Xi didn't know how terrifying Tang Zhen was and had never seen such a method, she was extremely clear in her heart that she was no longer in control of her own actions. Her life and death were only in the hands of a single thought from Tang Zhen!

She started to regret her actions. She should not have been so impulsive and willful back then. She should not have taken the initiative to stand out and become Morris' hostage, which had led to her being in such a dangerous situation.

However, since things had already come to this, there was no use in regretting. If he wanted to live, he had to listen to the commands of this mysterious abandoned person and slowly find a solution to the problem.

“Teacher, you don’t have to be like this.”

Morris “voice sounded. He seemed to be a little hesitant. His eyes dodged and did not dare to look at Tang Zhen.

“She almost killed you just now. Don’t you care?”

Tang Zhen’s gaze fell to other places as he asked Morris in a very casual tone.

“I don’t think ran ran did it on purpose. Besides, I’m fine, aren’t I?”

After hearing Tang Zhen’s question, Morris mustered up his courage and replied.

Without waiting for Tang Zhen to speak, Uncle Jim by the side suddenly opened his mouth and spoke to Morris with a solemn expression, “The reason why you’re safe and sound is because teacher saved your life. Otherwise, you might have already died!

Child, there are some things I shouldn’t say, but I still have to remind you that we abandoned people and citizens are people from two different worlds. There will be no result if we stay together, so you’d better not do anything stupid!”

Hearing this, Morris’s face turned red, and he still argued, “Uncle Jim, you’ve misunderstood. It’s not what you think. I’m just a little Pixiu.”

alright, you don’t have to explain. Just remember to be responsible for your own actions!

Tang Zhen waved his hand and interrupted Morris. He then pointed at the space between Morris “eyebrows and a rune appeared there.

Morris touched his forehead and looked at Tang Zhen with a puzzled face.

“This is a wisp of spiritual power I’m giving you. It’s enough for you to use for self-protection. You’ll also be in control of this woman.

However, I have to remind you that once the runes that are binding her disappear, your spiritual power will also disappear completely!”

After he finished speaking, Tang Zhen no longer paid attention to Morris, who had a complicated expression on his face. He took the lead and walked toward the depths of the monster City.

Uncle Jim sighed softly and patted Morris ‘shoulder. He immediately followed closely behind Tang Zhen.

After standing still for a few seconds, Morris looked at dawn, who had already stood up, with a complicated look in his eyes, indicating for her to follow him.

As for little Xi, whose life and death had already been controlled by someone else, she had now returned to the indifference she had when they first met, or even more so. Her attitude towards Morris had changed a little, but now it was like they were strangers.

Morris was naturally aware of this, so he was also very depressed.

Tang Zhen naturally noticed this scene, but he didn't pay attention to it. As for Morris's training, he was just doing it as he pleased.

...

The most important thing at the moment was to search for the world of towers and build a plane channel as soon as possible.

Based on his observation and understanding, he was certain that this was a world with a large number of origin stones. It was very likely that they had already been mined and were in the hands of the floating city and Monster City.

Perhaps the reason why the two of them were digging underground was not only to build the city, but also to find the origin stone!

Only the origin stone that contained a huge amount of energy could operate the floating city and the monster City, two special cities that could be called miraculous!

The transplanted origin stone embedded in the citizens' foreheads could prove this point!

After checking the progress of the search for the plane coordinates as usual, Tang Zhen was pleasantly surprised to discover that the plane coordinates of the tower world had already been locked and the transmission channel was already being built.

This meant that it would not take long for him to return to the tower world or teleport the Holy Dragon City cultivators over to start a new invasion!

Chapter 1227

1227 The law enforcement team in black

In the area outside the monster City, the sandstorm did not stop. God knew how long it would take for it to dissipate.

The deteriorating environment had cut off all signs of life. It was estimated that after another hundred years, only monster cities and pure mechanical creatures would be left on the ground!

As for the abandoned people who were struggling at death's door, if there were no accidents, they would only become piles of bones!

According to Tang Zhen's estimation, even the citizens of the floating city had to leave this place as soon as possible and find a new home to live in. Otherwise, it would only be a matter of time before they were destroyed.

The collapse of a world was truly the destruction of all living things. It would definitely not change because of the existence of a certain intelligent creature!

A huge aircraft appeared in the sandstorm and slowly landed outside the monster City.

Under normal circumstances, these spaceships from the floating city would not dare to get too close to the monster City in case they were shot down by the security system.

However, before and after the dormant period of the monster City, the spaceships from the floating city could get as close as possible without having to worry about being attacked.

Of course, the only thing they could do was to get closer. If they tried to do something more outrageous, such as trying to destroy the monster City, they would inevitably be retaliated by the ultimate defense system.

This kind of defense system was similar to a death-hand system. It was enough to cause both sides to fall into a terrible disaster at the same time. It was also because of this that both sides were afraid of each other and tried to avoid the end of mutual destruction!

As the spaceship came to a stop, the cabin door was quickly opened, and strong figures quickly walked down.

This was a group of special citizens wearing black masks and black windbreakers. Compared to the group of white-robed citizens from before, they all exuded a dangerous and bloody aura.

Moreover, the weapons and equipment they had were extremely lethal weapons, and they were by no means comparable to the electric-driven high-pressure gas handguns that little Xi and the others had.

After seeing the group of men in Black appear, one of the citizens who stayed outside the monster City immediately went forward to welcome them. He did not dare to show any neglect in the face of this group of notorious black-shirted law enforcers.

To the citizens, these black-shirted law-enforcement officers were the floating city's Army, and they were the Special Forces of the Army!

The telekinesis cultivation of each candidate must reach a certain standard, so that they can use special standard weapons and obtain combat power far beyond that of ordinary soldiers.

In addition to the cultivation of telekinesis, they also needed to undergo a series of cruel training before they could finally become a member of the black uniform Law enforcement team.

The black-shirted law enforcers with powerful combat power became a sharp sword in the floating city, responsible for dealing with special emergencies!

One of the black-shirted law enforcement team was in charge of the rescue in the monster City this time. They successfully arrived at the target location in less than three hours after receiving the order!

"Your Excellency judge, you've come so quickly!"

The citizens who were waiting to receive them looked at the black-robed cultivator in front and spoke in a very respectful tone.

The other party was a big Shot with a great reputation in the floating city. No one had expected him to personally make a move this time!

The judge nodded. There was no special expression on his face. Even if he was a little resentful about the mission, he did not show it at all.

However, his subordinates were extremely dissatisfied. They were on vacation when they suddenly received an order to rescue the daughter of a high-ranking official who had been kidnapped by an abandoned person, and it was urgent!

Although it was a soldier's duty to carry out and obey orders, sacrificing precious vacation time to clean up the mess of those officials' children was enough to make everyone feel indignant.

Therefore, when they faced the citizen who was waiting for them, the members of the black-clothed law enforcement team looked as cold as ice and emitted a murderous aura!

The citizen was shocked by the killing intent and felt his breathing quicken. Sweat rolled down his forehead.

The judge didn't stop his underling's discouraged behavior. Instead, he asked in a low voice, "Tell me what you know, the more detailed, the better!"

When the citizen heard this, he quickly nodded and repeated what had just happened.

The judge's face was calm at the beginning, but it didn't take long before his expression changed.

"You're saying that there's a natural Awakener among the abandoned people, and his cultivation doesn't seem weak?"

The judge asked. After receiving the other party's confirmation, he immediately ordered him to take him to check on the injured man's condition.

In the ship's medical room, the citizen who had ambushed Morris had been treated, but his condition did not look good. He was still in a coma.

The judge looked at the injured man with a serious expression. After pondering for a while, he suddenly pointed at the area between the man's eyebrows. At the same time, he slowly penetrated the man's mind with his spiritual power.

his memory has been stolen. Even if he wakes up, I'm afraid he won't remember anything. He'll be like a newborn baby!

The judge said in a low voice as he withdrew his finger from the man's forehead.

After hearing this, the citizens and medical personnel were all stunned. They only knew that the attacker was unconscious, but they didn't know that his memory had been stolen.

When they thought of the Ambusher waking up like a baby, clueless about everything, they couldn't help but cast a sympathetic look at him.

Losing the memories of her past life and having to learn to come into contact with this world again was a very painful thing to think about.

The judge ignored everyone's strange expressions. He walked to the control cabin of the spaceship and used his special authority to check the video recording that was automatically taken by the spaceship.

He couldn't make an accurate judgment just by listening to people's descriptions. He had to analyze it through video records.

It was related to the appearance of a natural awakened for the first time, so it could not be too detailed!

Moreover, he had a grave expression on his face, which surprised his subordinates, because this kind of expression was rarely seen on the judge's face.

But once it did, it meant that there might be big trouble!

He knew that the judge did not like to be disturbed when he was working, so his subordinate suppressed his curiosity and waited quietly at the side.

At that moment, the video just happened to show the attacker using psychic power to attack Morris, and the scene where Morris' face was filled with pain. A few seconds later, the attacker was ambushed by the natural awakened!

The judge deliberately slowed down the video and stared at it, as if he was trying to figure out something.

When the judge saw the man who had ambushed him fall to the ground, he seemed to have noticed something. He suddenly froze the image and then quickly zoomed in on a certain part of it.

A man with a sneer on the corner of his mouth, who was dressed slightly different from the abandoned people, directly appeared in front of the judge. He was Tang Zhen, who had been standing by the side earlier.

"Who is he?"

He pointed at the image that was still clear even after it was magnified several times and asked with a serious tone.

he's one of the people who kidnapped sister Jun. However, he didn't do anything from the beginning to the end. He just stood by and watched.

Yes, sir! the remaining citizens immediately replied when they saw the video.

"Hmph, he didn't make a move. I'm afraid you didn't notice his hand gesture. It's a special telekinesis Release Technique, very similar to a secret technique I know.

If I'm not wrong, he's the naturally awakened one, and his strength is beyond imagination!"

Seeing the surprised look on the citizens' faces, the judge sighed to himself. He knew that he was in big trouble this time!

Chapter 1228

1228 Tang Zhen's opportunity (1)

When he saw Tang Zhen's appearance and the way he had casually attacked, the judge had an intuition that this mysterious man, who was completely different from the other abandoned people, was definitely not a simple naturally awakened one.

The reason why he thought this way was naturally because he had analyzed it.

Due to the importance of telekinesis cultivation, the floating city had invested a large amount of resources into research. As a special force, the members were generally telekinesis experts, so the black-clothed law enforcement team naturally became the best Experimental subjects.

No matter what the latest research results were, the judge would come into contact with them in the shortest time possible and help the researchers with their experimental analysis.

The hand gesture used by Tang Zhen in the image was extremely similar to a telekinesis application method listed as top secret by the floating city. Its function was to spy on and intercept the memories of the victim, and the side effect was that the victim would faint and lose their memories completely.

There was a saying that "all changes are the same," and the use of mental power had a certain rule. Even if they belonged to different schools, experts could find what they wanted from the clues.

The judge, the leader of the law enforcement team in black, was an expert in this field!

His heart was filled with shock. As far as he knew, this method of using mind power only existed in the realm of deduction. With the strength of the cultivators in the floating city, it was impossible to realize it!

However, this mysterious naturally awakened one could not only use it successfully, but it also seemed to be extremely easy. If he had not seen it with his own eyes, the judge would not have believed it at all!

Unfortunately, the facts had already proven that the other party did have such a terrifying ability. If he denied it, he would be deceiving himself.

He even had a faint guess that Xiao Xi, who had taken the initiative to be a hostage, was also affected by the other party's telekinesis, and she herself knew nothing about it.

However, why did the other party only choose little Xi? could there be some special purpose?

"Immediately connect to the law enforcement team's database and conduct a comprehensive analysis of this abandoned person. I want to know all the information related to him!"

The judge gave the order, and his subordinates naturally followed it immediately. Very soon, two of his team members stood out. They quickly operated the equipment on the spaceship and entered Tang Zhen's image for comparison.

The floating city was not ignorant of the abandoned people and left them to their own devices. Instead, it had been secretly monitoring them from a high position. After a long time, it had naturally collected and sorted out a lot of information on the abandoned people.

In reality, the main reason the floating city was able to do this was to monitor the monster city's movements. Observing and recording the abandoned people was just a side mission.

The result of the comparison was extremely disappointing. This was because there was no record of Tang Zhen in the database. It was as if he had appeared out of thin air.

The judge frowned slightly and ordered his men to search for information on Morris and the others. Soon, the video data of this area was gathered, and a section was saved for observation.

In the first video, the deep pit where Morris and the others lived was clearly shown. Morris, Uncle Jim, and the others also appeared from time to time.

Through the video, it could be confirmed that Tang Zhen had yet to appear. It was obvious that he had only come into contact with Morris and the other abandoned people later on.

As the video fast-forwarded, Tang Zhen still didn't appear. This situation continued until the garbage release day.

It was also in this video recording that Morris and his team found an unconscious man on the garbage mountain and rescued him by a hair's breadth.

Underworld judge stared at the screen intently. When he saw the abnormal situation during the rescue process, his expression became more and more serious.

Tang Zhen's mysterious performance made him increasingly aware that there was definitely a huge secret that no one knew about behind it!

lock onto this rubbish mountain. I want to see who can injure him to this extent!

The subordinate followed the judge's request and quickly pulled up the video recording of the garbage mountain area. The injured and unconscious Tang Zhen once again appeared in front of everyone.

However, his current attire was different from what he had looked like before the monster City. His eye-catching purple-gold armor and terrifying injuries made people shudder with fear.

The judge carefully looked at the unconscious Tang Zhen. He felt that he was getting closer and closer to the truth.

The video kept rewinding. When it reached a certain point in time, the image immediately shook violently. Nothing could be seen clearly at all. It was as if some kind of special force was erupting in the surroundings.

Fortunately, the scene returned to normal after a few seconds. However, Tang Zhen, who was originally lying there, had already disappeared!

The judge's pupils suddenly shrank, and he stood up from his chair.

"My God, what's going on? how did this guy appear out of nowhere?"

Someone beside him exclaimed, as if he was extremely shocked!

Everyone looked at the judge. They didn't know how to deal with this unimaginable matter and this man who was obviously of mysterious origin.

The judge left his chair and started to pace back and forth on the ground, as if he was thinking about something.

“From the video, this mysterious man is obviously not an abandoned person, but an outsider who appeared out of thin air. Based on his appearance and clothes, it’s very likely that he doesn’t belong to this world!

I had been wondering earlier how an abandoned person could awaken naturally and be so powerful. However, if he came from another world, it would make sense.

Whether it was the telekinesis cultivation technique he had or the world he originally came from, they were both extremely important to the floating city.

Although the floating city seemed to be thriving, it was at the cost of overdrawing the world’s lifespan. The people in power had long realized this, so they had never stopped exploring their new home.

The appearance of the mysterious man might lead to an unexpected breakthrough in the exploration work that has been stagnant for a long time!”

The judge became more and more excited as he spoke. The excitement on his face was almost uncontrollable, and he kept waving his arms in the air.

this is an extremely important opportunity, so we can’t miss it. Otherwise, it’ll be an unforgivable sin!

After saying that, the judge dismissed all unrelated people without hesitation. At the same time, he rushed to his communicator and requested to contact the floating city’s Supreme Consul.

A judge with special authority could directly speak to the Supreme Consul in an emergency. The current situation definitely met the criteria.

After waiting for about a minute, the communication was successfully connected. The judge immediately reported everything he knew in an impatient tone!

The Supreme Governor chose to believe the underworld judge’s story because the underworld judge was his most trusted subordinate. He would never joke about such a matter.

Taking a deep breath, the Grand Consul on the other side of the screen realized the importance of the matter, so he asked in a serious tone, “Then what do you think we should do to ensure that the other party won’t escape?”

“I suggest we activate the ‘isolation’ program and mobilize all the troops to the surface at the same time. We’ll completely seal off this Monster City and prevent it from escaping as much as possible!”

At the same time, all the members of the law enforcement team were dispatched to enter the monster City to carry out a search and capture operation. Once the target was found, they would capture it at all costs!

Your Excellency, the opportunity is fleeting. We must not hesitate this time!”

Looking at the anxious and fanatical expression of his most trusted subordinate, the Supreme Consul was silent for a moment before he finally nodded slowly.

Chapter 1229

1229 The tower of "isolation"

A stream of light streaked across the sky and fell rapidly to the ground, leaving an eye-catching trail of light in the night sky.

Following the appearance of the first ray of light, a second and a third appeared.

A meteor-like light spread out in an unusually even manner with the monster City as the center, until it fell to the ground at a certain moment.

Huge exhaust flames spurted out from the bottom of these cylindrical objects, slowing down the falling force so that they would not sink to the ground due to inertia.

After the force of the fall was offset, these huge and special cylinders directly rooted to the ground at a precise distance as if they had been measured with a ruler, standing straight on the desolate land.

From a distance, they looked like tall metal guard towers.

"Swish!"

Four bright rays of light appeared from the top of the pillar, shining on the surrounding area like a Searchlight. At the same time, exquisite armed drones flew out from the inside of the pillar like a swarm of bees, circling around the area!

They completely sealed off the sky, and even a bird could not escape their detection and fly to the sky outside the giant pillar.

Other than that, the top of the pillar bloomed like a lotus flower, revealing the hidden defensive weapons and a huge floating ball of light.

After the light orbs appeared, they immediately flickered with a dark blue radiance. Then, the light orbs suddenly lit up the night sky and shot out energy beams like high-voltage electric arcs to both sides at the same time, connecting all the cylinders together.

When the energy beams from the two giant pillars connected with each other, they once again spread to the ground, forming an invisible barrier that appeared and disappeared from time to time, completely isolating the monster City from the outside world!

This energy was released by the ball of light. After it spread in the air to form an isolation barrier, it went directly underground and was then absorbed and stored by the giant pillar.

The blue light ball was responsible for replenishing the energy consumed during this cycle. Because it was filled with a special energy source, the giant light pillar could maintain this isolation mode for a long time.

When the invisible energy barrier was set up and completely isolated the monster City, from time to time, there would be creatures like rats and insects that would accidentally touch the invisible barrier. They would either turn into ashes or faint immediately!

At this moment, the monster City had been completely isolated. Without permission, it was absolutely impossible to leave!

Not long after, there was another roar in the sky, and several huge spaceships slowly landed from the sky.

After they stopped outside the isolation barrier, a large number of soldiers rushed out from the spaceships. They cooperated with various armed robots and formed a defensive circle outside the isolation barrier.

There were more than 10000 soldiers and they were equipped with excellent weapons. They were a force to be reckoned with!

The floating city was situated high up in the sky. Logically speaking, it should not have kept a large number of troops, only a few security personnel should have been left.

However, this was not the case. Due to the existence of the monster City and the radioactive monsters, the ruler of the floating city had always been in a state of distress. In order to cope with the possible war at any time and to guard against the possible rebellion of the armed robots, each floating city had at least 10000 soldiers stationed on it.

The soldiers who were mobilized to participate in the operation came from one of the floating cities, and it could be considered that they had come in full force!

Such a large-scale military operation naturally attracted the attention of all the powerful figures in floating city. They were all watching the entire process of the arrest from a distance.

Those who were well-informed even knew the true purpose of the operation in time and were full of anticipation.

The floating city's 100 years of isolation and the constant worry of being destroyed were enough to make the citizens yearn for the vast continent. However, they knew very well that the land under their feet was no longer suitable for living.

Looking for a new home and getting rid of this boring life that seemed to be filled with songs and dances but was in fact a life with a sharp sword hanging over their heads had become something that almost all the citizens were looking forward to.

Now that Tang Zhen had appeared, the citizens finally saw a trace of hope. Naturally, they would not let this chance slip by!

At this moment, the judge had already led his men into the monster City. The members of the black-clothed law enforcement team who had arrived later had also begun to enter in batches. They were ready to dig three feet underground to carry out a search!

An all-encompassing net that was specifically woven for Tang Zhen had already been completely unfolded!

.....

Along the way, Tang Zhen saw many strange scenes.

For example, the ground full of metal spikes covered an area of nearly 10000 square meters. It flickered with a cold light, which made people shiver.

No one knew what these metal spikes were for, because with the way humans thought, they could not understand what the monster City wanted to do.

In addition to the metal spikes on the ground, Tang Zhen also saw a forest of metal fluorescent mushrooms. It was a forest of metal pipes of different heights, which were constantly emitting colorful steam.

It seemed that as long as they kept walking, they would never be short of new sights to see!

Uncle Jim, who was in charge of leading the way, was not interested in this at all. He kept looking around, trying to find traces of food seeds.

In this city that was almost entirely made of metal, the special plants that were regarded as treasures by the abandoned people were actually very rare, and the reason for their appearance was only a coincidence.

The monster City tried to transform everything into a metal mechanical structure. During this transformation process, some plants would undergo genetic mutation and gain characteristics that ordinary plants could not achieve.

Most of the seeds would grow at a terrifying speed after they were sown, and the fruit seeds they bore would be extremely full and dense.

Some of the fruit seeds were used as food for the abandoned people to fill their stomachs.

Even though these special seeds might contain substances that were harmful to the human body, the abandoned people did not care. As long as they could fill their stomachs, they would even dare to try soil!

However, along the way, they did not see a single special plant. No wonder Uncle Jim had once said that not everyone could guarantee that they would obtain anything from the abandoned people who had explored the monster City over the years!

As they went deeper and deeper, Uncle Jim's face became uglier and uglier because they were getting closer and closer to the center of the monster City. According to his past experience, he should have been able to find the mutated plants by now.

However, along the way, they didn't even see a shadow. Even the mechanical guardians that often appeared and told the abandoned people to avoid them had disappeared into thin air!

"Strange, what's going on?"

uncle jim kept mumbling to himself, as if this was the only way to release the pressure in his heart.

Tang Zhen, who was walking at the front, turned his head around. He extended his hand and pointed at a metal building not far away. He said to Uncle Jim, "If you have the guts, go into the building in front and take a look. I guarantee you'll find something!"

Uncle Jim's eyes brightened. After witnessing Tang Zhen's magical ability more than once, he had faintly reached the level where he would listen to everything he said.

Although it was very dangerous inside the metal building, as long as he could get food seeds, what was the big deal about taking some risks?

"You all wait here, I'll go in and take a look!"

After instructing the crowd, Uncle Jim picked up his crossbow and slowly walked towards the mushroom-shaped metal building without caring about his own injuries.

After seeing Uncle Jim enter the metal building alone, Morris quickly walked over and tried to follow him in.

His companions quickly stopped him. According to the abandoned people's practice, exploration missions that entered dangerous buildings were usually completed by one person to reduce the number of casualties in accidents.

Since Uncle Jim had already entered first, they would not act on their own even if they were worried.

However, if it was confirmed that Uncle Jim was in danger, Morris and the rest would definitely save him from the danger even if they had to risk their lives!

Seeing Uncle Jim carefully enter the metal building, everyone began to wait silently, praying that he would be able to find something.

To the abandoned people, every exploration might be their last one, but they had no other choice.

As long as they collected the seeds they needed, Morris and the rest could leave this city that was filled with danger, because every second they stayed for would increase the danger by a second!

Little Xi had been obediently following behind the group after being confined by Tang Zhen's symbols. She did not dare to secretly leave even if there was no one watching her.

A trapped beast would still fight, and little Xi naturally couldn't just let herself be manipulated like this. At this time, seeing that everyone's attention was on the metal building in front of them, she began to gently rub the ornament on her wrist.

Her actions were as careful as possible to avoid raising the vigilance of Tang Zhen and the others.

This ornament was inlaid with many precious gems, and one could tell at a glance that it was valuable, but its most important function was to send positioning information to make it convenient for others to determine little Xi's location.

Under normal circumstances, the monster City would block all signals that did not belong there. However, during the hibernation period, this blocking function would be greatly reduced, allowing the signal to be successfully sent out.

After doing this, little Xi used her sleeves to cover the ornament, a trace of joy flashing through her heart.

However, she did not notice that Tang Zhen, who was at the very front, had a faint ridiculing smile on his face. It was as though he was extremely clear about everything.

As for Morris, who was beside him, he still looked absent-minded. He was frowning and thinking about something.

About ten minutes later, a figure suddenly appeared at the entrance of the metal building. It was Uncle Jim, who everyone had been waiting for.

Even though he was limping, he still had a bright smile on his face. He had an extra cloth bag on his body, which looked full.

“Sir, I did find plant seeds in there, and there were dozens of them. I didn’t want to miss this rare opportunity, so I dug them all out!

If we can take care of those unripe plants after we return, the amount of food we grow will definitely be enough to last us for several years!”

Although Uncle Jim had lowered his voice, he could not hide the excitement in his tone.

They had to enter the monster cities almost every year, but they had never had such a rich harvest. No wonder Uncle Jim was so happy.

After taking a deep look at Tang Zhen, Uncle Jim knew that without his guidance, he would have missed these mutated plants. This was because there were too many metal buildings in the monster City and it was filled with danger. No one would easily enter.

It was because Uncle Jim trusted Tang Zhen that he took the risk and obtained a harvest that far exceeded his expectations.

Morris and the rest were also very excited. After all, the more they gained, the less likely they would go hungry.

The abandoned people of this world absolutely regarded food as their top priority. Nothing was more important than filling their stomachs!

“Since you’ve already gotten what you want, there’s no point in staying any longer. Furthermore, danger will soon befall this place, and you might lose your lives if you stay!”

Tang Zhen was speaking the truth. With his ability, how could he not be clear about the situation that was happening around the monster City?

It probably wouldn’t take long for him to encounter the enemies from the floating city, and a battle would be inevitable!

After hearing Tang Zhen’s warning, Morris and the others woke up from their joy. They realized that they still had a citizen as a hostage in their hands, and the floating city would definitely not sit by and do nothing.

“Sir, what do you think we should do?”

Morris looked at Tang Zhen for help, hoping that he could give him a suggestion.

“To tell you the truth, with the floating city’s power, you’ll never be able to escape this crisis unless you escape this world.

You only have two choices now. Surrender and let the floating city do whatever it wants to you, and hope that they’ll be magnanimous enough to spare your lives!”

Hearing Tang Zhen’s words, Uncle Jim bitterly smiled and shook his head. He knew that it was impossible for him to have a good ending if he landed in the hands of those citizens.

“Since you all know that this is a dead end, then you can only choose the second option.”

Tang Zhen slowly said as he looked at everyone who was staring at him, gather as many abandoned people as you can and fight to the death with the floating city. From there, you can change your fate completely!

Upon hearing Tang Zhen’s words, everyone revealed a stunned expression. As for little Xi who was standing by the side, her eyes revealed a trace of ridicule.

How could the abandoned people, who were similar to the primitive people, defeat the floating city that was far away in the sky and had such powerful strength? this was simply a fool’s dream!

“Teacher, it’s not that we don’t have the courage, but this matter simply can not succeed. Why do we need to sacrifice the lives of the other abandoned people?”

Uncle Jim shook his head and rejected Tang Zhen’s idea.

in the past, this would have been impossible. But now, with my help, it might be possible!

Tang Zhen’s face was filled with confidence, causing Uncle Jim and the others to be stunned.

Although he knew that Tang Zhen possessed a mystical ability, it was still unrealistic to say that he could fight against the incomparably powerful floating city.

No matter how strong a person was, it was impossible for him to fight against a powerful force with a population of more than ten million people. Unless there was a powerful force behind this mysterious man that could rival him!

Little Xi, who had been watching coldly from the side earlier, suddenly realized this possibility. The gaze she used to look at Tang Zhen became increasingly fearful.

Earlier, when she saw a group of abandoned people and a mysterious man gathered together to discuss a plan to overturn the floating city, little Xi’s heart had been filled with ridicule. However, now, some speculations had changed.

She even had a faint premonition that the other party’s plan might have a chance of success!

An inexplicable fear made her feel at a loss. She was afraid of losing everything she had now, so she subconsciously shouted, "The power of the floating city is far beyond your imagination. Stop daydreaming!"

As long as you let me go and free me from the restraints, I promise to plead for you and not pursue your crimes!"

At this point, she turned to look at Morris and said as gently as she could, " Morris, quickly help me persuade them. They must not be so stubborn. They will get you killed!"

Hearing little Xi calling his name softly, Morris's body trembled slightly. After taking a deep breath, he turned his head and looked at Tang Zhen.

"Sir, we really aren't a match for the floating city. How about Wufu?"

...

Tang Zhen sneered when he heard this. He waved his hand to stop Morris, who was trying to speak up for little Xi, and said in a cold and indifferent tone, do you believe what she said? do you think she will plead for us? "

Yes, sir! Morris nodded. I believe you!

"Actually, I also believe it!"

Tang Zhen said to Morris. Seeing the surprise on his face, he continued in a cold voice,"However, his companions will never let you off, nor will they let me off. At this moment, there are already enemies coming towards us.

As for how the enemy could lock onto us in this maze-like Monster City, you can ask her!"

"Sir, I don't understand what you mean."

Morris turned his head and looked at little Xi, who was avoiding his eyes, and asked uneasily.

she told her companions our location through the communication device on her wrist. She thought she was being very secretive, but I found out long ago!

Uncle Jim and the others glared at little Xi at the same time when they heard this, and Morris closed his eyes in pain.

Little Xi took a few steps back and shouted in a frightened and unwilling voice, " "Since you've already found out, why didn't you stop me? what's your purpose?"

Looking at the mysterious man in front of her, the fear in Xiao Xi's heart grew stronger and stronger.

...

"Why should I stop you?"

Tang Zhen's face was filled with smiles. He looked at little Xi, who had lost control of her emotions, and gently shook his head.

the more people that come to the floating city, the happier I am. This saves me a lot of trouble, and I can easily capture them all in one fell swoop!
