

Alternate 1241

Chapter 1241

1241 Return and doubt _1

Tang Zhen walked step by step toward the exit of the hall after passing through a rattle-filled area.

When the citizen leader saw that the situation was bad, he had already fled in a panic the moment Tang Zhen collected the metal brain. He did not pay any attention to his two unconscious companions.

As for the armed robots he had brought, they had all been destroyed in the attack just now. If this guy wanted to leave the monster City alone, he would definitely have to take a huge risk.

Tang Zhen was not interested in whether this fellow lived or died.

He scanned the metal Hall and found that there were still a few white robots guarding the metal brain that were still struggling and trying to stop him from leaving. However, their broken bodies made them powerless.

There was no longer a need to stay any longer after this matter was over. With a flash of his figure, Tang Zhen had already disappeared, leaving behind only a furious roar of unwillingness!

Half an hour later, Tang Zhen returned to the location of the Holy Dragon city's cultivators. He also learned about the battle situation from Qian Long.

As he had expected, the floating city's Army did not dare to launch a large-scale attack because they were afraid of the monster city's counterattack. After paying a high price, the two sides entered a stalemate.

However, this situation could not last for long, because the dormant period of the monster City would soon end, and this place would become a forbidden land again. It would be extremely dangerous to stay here any longer.

The floating city's Army was also aware of this, so they simply surrounded the city without fighting, waiting for the Holy Dragon City cultivators to lose their support and have no choice but to evacuate from the monster City.

As long as the Holy Dragon city's cultivators left the monster City, the floating city would definitely use all means to regain its lost face.

before the monster City awakens, we must leave this place. The faster, the better!

Tang Zhen stood at the edge of the dimensional gateway as he spoke to Qian Long and the others.

"I've already ordered people to explore the surrounding area. We can leave from the entrance at any time, but we still need the city Lord's guidance on what to do next."

Qian Long crossed his arms and asked Tang Zhen in a deep voice.

our main goal is still to collect the origin stones. Fighting the floating city is just a side mission. In fact, throughout the entire process, we only added fuel to the fire. The real battle is between the abandoned and the citizens!

Tang Zhen explained with a smile as he glanced at Morris, who was holding a gun and learning how to use it with an excited face.

“I’m going back to Loucheng to deal with some things, so I’ll leave the things here to you.”

As soon as he finished speaking, Tang Zhen had already stepped into the transmission channel and temporarily left this world.

The world of towers, the space TOWER.

Tang Zhen walked out of the passage. After returning a bow to the two Holy Dragon City cultivators guarding the passage, he directly headed to the place where he was conducting his research.

Before the Holy Dragon City was sealed, Tang Zhen also had a similar workshop. There were many precious items inside, and the one in front of him was just for use.

He entered the house alone and busied himself for more than half a day. Only then did Tang Zhen drag his tired body out. However, there was still a trace of excitement on his face.

The injuries on his body made it impossible for him to work for a long time, but fortunately, his hard work this time was not in vain.

After continuous experiments, he had finally activated the metal brain he had brought back from the monster City. The next thing he had to do was to keep observing and waiting!

After ordering people to take care of the metal brain, Tang Zhen rested for a while before he directly went to the room where the foundation stone platform was placed.

This time, Tang Zhen did not complete any mission in the myriad world mall. This also meant that it was very likely that the spatial tower would be downgraded and become a level 1 Tower again.

He naturally would not let this happen, because once the space TOWER was reduced to the primary level, who knew how long it would take to restore it to its current level?

If the matter really couldn’t be solved, Tang Zhen didn’t mind taking a risk. However, if he did that, he would have to face the pursuit of the entire spirit ruins Warzone!

Opening the cornerstone platform as the city Lord, Tang Zhen described the entire mission process. During the process, he hid the matter of him robbing the Super creature’s brain to avoid being “taken advantage of” by the cornerstone platform!

After the mission report was completed, Tang Zhen began to wait for the mission evaluation.

The cornerstone platform would evaluate the cultivators participating in the mission based on the performance of a cultivator and all the information they had. This was to determine whether they had successfully completed the mission.

After waiting for about a minute, a set of subtitles appeared on the cornerstone platform. The content was somewhat beyond Tang Zhen's expectations.

[ in view of the great damage you caused to the myriad world mall during the mission, the rescue of a large number of captured cultivators, and the discovery of the Sorcerer world's conspiracy against the spiritual ruins battlefield, the platform believes that your contribution has fully met the requirements for the completion of the mission.

The limited task has been completed, and the cornerstone platform will immediately resume its normal functions. Please continue to work hard with your residents to make the city develop and grow!

[ additionally, due to the importance of this mission, please head to the central region of the battle zone and describe the entire process of the mission to the elder Council in detail. At the same time, you will receive additional rewards! ]

After seeing the words displayed on the cornerstone platform, Tang Zhen's face revealed a hint of surprise. He had already prepared for the worst and was even prepared to betray and leave the spirit ruins battlefield. In the end, he was notified that he had already completed the mission!

If this was an unexpected surprise, then he was a little confused about going to the central region of the Warzone and describing the entire mission process to the elders Council.

Could it be that he had not explained it clearly enough, or was there some other reason?

Although his heart was filled with doubts, the matter that he had been worried about had suddenly been resolved. Tang Zhen's mood also became a little more comfortable.

After browsing through the cornerstone platform, Tang Zhen returned to his room and began to sort out the gains this time.

The other things could be ignored. The only real harvest was the private collection of the Super biological brain. However, up until now, Tang Zhen still had not figured out what he had obtained.

In order to figure out what the Super creature's brain was hiding, he needed a special environment to release it.

Tang Zhen's heart had quite a bit of anticipation towards the items inside.

However, there were a lot of things to be done in the space TOWER at the moment. All aspects could not meet Tang Zhen's request at all. Therefore, this matter could only be put aside for the time being and continued to study it when the time was right.

Other than that, there was another matter, which was how to solve the Holy Dragon city's seal crisis. After so many days, the researchers in the original world must have come up with a solution to the problem.

Tang Zhen, who thought of this, could not sit still. After packing up a little, he directly teleported back to his original world.

Chapter 1242

1242 Preparations to remove the seal

Original world, desert city military base.

After arriving in the original world, Tang Zhen didn't waste any time and directly headed to the location where the researchers were.

After a strict interrogation, Tang Zhen and the accompanying staff entered the research base.

Currently, the entire research base was busy. People were surrounding the dismantled small battleships, using all kinds of equipment to constantly test them. From time to time, they would show excited and confused expressions.

The partners in the original world attached great importance to this high-tech alien warship. They wanted to take this opportunity to study it in detail while Tang Zhen was looking for a solution to the Holy Dragon city's crisis.

Tang Zhen helplessly shook his head when he saw this scene. He had really underestimated the degree of craziness of this group of people. In order to obtain what they wanted, they had actually dismembered a small battleship into eight pieces!

Fortunately, Tang Zhen did not care about this. As long as he could find a way to resolve the Holy Dragon city's crisis, even if he needed to dismantle a large warship, Tang Zhen would not hesitate to get it.

"Mr. Tang Zhen, you've finally come!"

A silver-haired Asian Alliance expert's eyes lit up when he saw Zhen Tang. The fatigue on his face was swept away as he rushed in front of Zhen Tang.

The two of them shook hands and then sat down in the lounge to talk.

through this period of research and deduction, we have already formulated a set of plans. Now, we are only waiting for you to make the decision!

The silver-haired expert pointed at the model on the holographic screen with a hint of excitement in his voice.

Tang Zhen's heart was filled with joy when he heard this. He continued to ask, "Tell me, what's the plan and how should we implement it?"

"If we want to resolve the Holy Dragon city's crisis, we must completely transfer and absorb the energy light pillar above the tower the moment the seal is opened. This way, we can ensure that the Holy Dragon City will not be harmed.

"In the information you gave us, you mentioned that there is a special device that can absorb a large amount of energy in a very short period of time. It was made by the terobo people. I think it's time to put it to use.

Other than that, we also need a large amount of Special Metals, the kind that can absorb energy. They will be used to make a giant “mirror” to reduce the strength of the light beam!

In addition, you and your Lou Cheng cultivators must also be prepared to block the energy light pillar the moment the seal is broken in order to offset a part of the energy attack!”

The silver-haired expert paused for a moment and said in a dissatisfied tone, ” “In addition, there are some other methods that need to be used together. However, even so, the success rate is only 50%!

If you’re willing to wait, we can come up with a more perfect plan and have a higher success rate. What do you think?”

Tang Zhen pondered for a moment after hearing this before gently shaking his head.

It’s already good enough to have a 50% success rate. Even if the plan fails, I have a way to minimize the Holy Dragon city’s losses.

So much time has passed. I don’t want to wait any longer!

Tang Zhen’s eyes revealed a trace of longing. Every resident of the Holy Dragon City was like his family, not to mention that his brothers and women were also sealed.

He didn’t want to delay any longer, he just wanted to reunite with them as soon as possible!

In fact, after fighting for a long time, Tang Zhen had already started to feel a little tired. However, since he was in the tower world, killing and plundering was something that could not be avoided. This was unless he could control a war zone and act according to His will.

In this way, not only could he build the towers according to his own ideas, but he could also make the entire war zone the second home of mankind. At the same time, he could also choose to invade and no longer be controlled by others.

However, before he found the land of no king, all of this was just a fantasy.

In fact, after such a long period of analysis and investigation, Tang Zhen had already figured out what the land of no king was. To put it bluntly, it was just a large piece of land in the world of Loucheng that was not under the control of the cornerstone platform.

The world of Loucheng was huge. Any one of the 3000 battlefields had a land area that far exceeded the original world. If they were added together, it was truly boundless!

The most important point was that the 3000 battlefields were adjacent to each other, but they were also separated from each other. There was no empty space between them. To find an ownerless land in this area was no different from a fool’s dream!

Even if there was an ownerless land in the border area, who knew how much time would be spent on the road and how much danger would they encounter if they wanted to get there?

After thinking about it, Tang Zhen helplessly discovered that the wilderness War zone that had been destroyed by the Teroboros people was actually his best choice!

Could it be that he had to return to his home after going around outside?

However, it was still too early to study these things. Solving the Holy Dragon city's crisis was the most important thing!

Since the plan had already been formulated, Tang Zhen would need to prepare sufficient materials and quickly implement it.

This matter required the cooperation of both parties to complete, so Tang Zhen immediately contacted his partner and made his request.

Knowing the importance of the Holy Dragon City to Tang Zhen, the partners in the original world were very cooperative. A large number of resources and manpower were summoned to participate in this plan.

While the original world was actively preparing, the residents of Holy Dragon City were not idle either. They first assembled the energy-absorbing devices, and then the Holy Masters took action to extract the special energy-absorbing metal contained in the soil of the space towers in large quantities and sent them to the original world in batches.

After the special metal was sent to the original world, it was sent to the factory under strict supervision and processed into the energy-absorbing mirror.

Every time a batch of parts was completed, they would be sent back to the space TOWER by Tang Zhen. The experts who had transmigrated to the world of the tower would command them from the side, and the residents of the tower would be responsible for assembling them.

The area outside of Spirit Rock City had become a huge construction site. Busy figures could be seen everywhere. The energy absorbing devices and mirrors were also being assembled, and they stood in the clearing of the huge site.

The Holy Dragon City, which had been unsealed, would also appear in the open space.

It was not enough to only complete two devices. Tang Zhen still needed to lead his residents to undergo training in order to be able to act in time the moment the seal was released and weaken the light pillar's energy as much as possible.

This kind of cooperation needed to be of the same mind, or else it would be impossible to achieve the desired effect.

A total of 5000 Lou Cheng cultivators were gathered and formed a huge square formation from four directions. Then, they activated their cultivator skills at the same time according to the instructions and trained repeatedly.

The scene of 5000 cultivators attacking at the same time was spectacular. The sky was filled with dazzling liquefied energy, making the sky above the spirit Rock City look like a blooming firework. It was a beautiful sight.

When the onlookers saw this scene, they were all horrified because they knew very well that once these attacks were aimed at a certain tower, it would definitely be razed to the ground in an instant!

Tang Zhen did not join the formation. This was because, other than removing the seal and issuing orders, he was also responsible for re-sealing the Holy Dragon City if the operation failed!

This was the only way to ensure that Holy Dragon City would not be destroyed by the energy light pillar after the plan failed. Then, they would have to wait for the next opportunity to unseal the city.

As time passed, all the preparation work was completed, and the day of Holy Dragon city's unsealing had finally arrived!

Chapter 1243

1243 The seal is lifted _1

On this day, the wind was gentle, and the land that had been destroyed by the insect race was once again covered in a new layer of green. As far as the eye could see, it was a scene of prosperity.

The Holy Dragon city's surroundings had been completely sealed off. Any trespassers would be attacked by drones and armed robots to ensure that they would not affect the upcoming unsealing mission.

All of the Holy Dragon city's residents were mobilized. Whether it was the old residents or the new residents that Tang Zhen had brought back from the other world and promised to join the Holy Dragon City, all of them were filled with curiosity and anxiety as they gathered in the huge field in front of Spirit Rock City.

Tang Zhen's group had arrived a long time ago. They were fully focused on the final preparations.

When the time was almost up, Tang Zhen's figure soared into the sky. He lowered his head and looked down at the tens of thousands of Holy Dragon City residents. He slowly spoke with a heavy voice.

"Dear citizens, this unsealing operation is of great significance to our Holy Dragon City. Not only is it because the entire city's assets are inside, but it's also because this unsealing operation concerns the lives of our brothers and sisters!

They are in the seal, and time is frozen. Although their lives are not in danger for the time being, they will be forever separated from us in two completely different worlds.

Every time I think of everything they've suffered, I feel a deep sense of self-blame.

It's my fault for not fulfilling my responsibility as the city Lord. I didn't fight alongside my citizens at the Holy Dragon city's most critical moment!

I'm also the one who separated you brave warriors who fought for Holy Dragon City from your loved ones. Even if you don't blame me, I can't shirk my responsibility."

When Tang Zhen said this, he deeply bowed to the Holy Dragon city's residents on the ground, causing a commotion in the crowd below.

"Mayor, it's not your fault. After all, it was an accident. Additionally, as the only surviving building in the Theater of Operations, we're actually already very lucky!"

A cultivator from the Holy Dragon City shouted, and his words received the approval of many residents of the city.

Waving his hand to stop the noisy crowd, Tang Zhen continued, "This bow of mine can be considered as a slight apology. I also want to make a promise to you. As long as I, Tang Zhen, am alive, I will definitely not let Holy Dragon City suffer such a crisis again!"

As soon as he finished speaking, many of the men on the ground, who had never shed tears before, could not help but cry and cheer loudly.

While they were fighting bloody battles outside, their homes were the only thing they cared about. When they found out that Holy Dragon City and their loved ones had been attacked and sealed, these cultivators were filled with anxiety and pain. They had been sleepless for many nights, and the smiles of their loved ones flashed before their eyes.

Fortunately, everything had passed. As long as the Holy Dragon City could lift the seal, everything would return to normal.

alright, everyone, get into position. We're starting the operation immediately!

Following Tang Zhen's order, all the cultivators immediately followed the formation that they had rehearsed before and split into four directions around the empty space. At the same time, they inhaled a deep breath of air and adjusted themselves to their best condition.

A few thousand meters away, rows of equipment were all activated, and a group of Holy Dragon City residents in charge of operating them were constantly busy.

the energy absorption device has been activated. It can be put into Use at any time!

the energy-absorbing mirror has been lifted into the air and assembled. The first set of lenses has been connected. The second set of lenses has been connected. The energy-absorbing mirror has been assembled and can be put into Use at any time!

all the auxiliary equipment has been tested and are in good condition. They can be put into Use at any time!

After confirming that everything was normal, the person in charge sent a message to Tang Zhen, saying that everything was ready and only waiting for the final order to be issued.

Tang Zhen nodded and turned to look at the four square formations formed by the Holy Dragon city's cultivators. In the end, he saw solemn faces filled with anticipation. The cultivator at the front slowly nodded at him, indicating that he was ready.

Tang Zhen inhaled a deep breath of air and slowly walked to the center of the arena under everyone's gaze. When he reached the center, he had already adjusted himself to his best condition!

Looking at the energy-absorbing mirror that covered the sky and the energy-absorbing tower of the teroboros people that was flashing in the distance, Tang Zhen took out the card that he had touched countless times from his storage space and threw it into the sky.

"Unseal!"

A trace of mental strength brushed past the card, as if pulling a small bolt, but the result was that a terrible flood was released outside the door, making people suddenly feel that a great disaster was coming.

It was obvious that the card not only sealed the Holy Dragon City in its crisis, but also sealed the dangerous atmosphere at the same time, and released it all at once.

However, Tang Zhen and the Holy Dragon city's cultivators were long prepared and were not the least bit affected by this scene. They only stared at the void and counted down in their hearts.

"Ten, nine, eight, seven luminaries ring"

However, when he counted down to the last number, a huge and familiar building appeared out of thin air. However, it had been damaged on a large scale, and the flames of war were burning everywhere. The residents who were fighting with the enemy were still roaring, and the bodies of the cultivators who had died in the battle were falling from the sky.

The killing continued. Everything was still the same as before they were sealed. The death light pillar that hung high above their heads was about to crash down, turning Holy Dragon City into scorched earth.

"Start the operation!"

Following Tang Zhen's order, the energy absorption device quickly operated. It locked onto the giant energy light pillar above Holy Dragon City and began to absorb it crazily.

The four formations of Holy Dragon City cultivators roared at the same time, releasing their cultivator skills at the same time. Their defensive and offensive skills were released at the same time, colliding with the energy light pillar that was falling!

Due to the devouring of the energy absorbing device and the impact of the Holy Dragon City cultivators' skills, the terrifying energy light pillar was suddenly reduced by a third. However, more than half of the energy light pillar still fell from the sky and hit the mirror.

When the two of them collided, it was as if an atomic bomb had exploded in the sky above Holy Dragon City. The terrifying brightness almost blinded people's eyes, and a large amount of energy shock waves were instantly refracted to other places.

However, one-third of it still passed through the energy-absorbing mirror and fell towards the Holy Dragon City, ready to explode in the next second.

The moment the Holy Dragon City appeared, Tang Zhen once again felt the connection between him and it. When the remaining energy light pillar fell, a protective light suddenly rose and enveloped the entire Holy Dragon City.

This was the tower's protective light curtain that only the city Lord could activate. After obtaining the control Authority of the main control platform in the savage wildland, Tang Zhen directly used his authority to upgrade the Holy Dragon city's protective barrier to the highest level.

As for how many points would be consumed, the current Tang Zhen simply did not care!

The energy beam and the protective shield collided violently with a loud bang. Then, a crack appeared. The highest-level protective light shield in the Wildlands was shattered!

The remaining energy light pillars fell to the ground, and in the end, only a dozen basin-sized pits were created.

The Holy Dragon city's crisis of being destroyed had disappeared like smoke in the wind!

Tang Zhen's heart, which had been hanging in the air, finally returned to its original position. At the same time, he let out a long sigh of relief and looked at the Holy Dragon city's residents on the ground who were looking at him in a daze.

the city Lord has returned! We've won!

One of the Holy Dragon city's cultivators, who was covered in blood, shouted loudly. At the same time, he pulled out his sword from the corpses of the torobo soldiers, his face filled with excitement.

"Long live the city Lord!"

The Holy Dragon city's residents who had survived the disaster raised their heads to look at Tang Zhen at this moment. Their roars were like a tsunami that continuously reverberated in the sky above the Holy Dragon City that had been reborn from the ashes.

Chapter 1244

1244 The Holy Dragon City riddled with holes

The residents who had just removed their seals did not know that Tang Zhen and the Holy Dragon City cultivators, who had appeared out of thin air at the most critical moment, had actually been separated from them for a long time!

Although the crisis of the city being destroyed had been resolved, the battle had not yet died down. The injured Holy Dragon City residents still needed to be treated in time.

He secretly rejoiced. If not for the magical ability of the phone, the Holy Dragon City would have long been reduced to ruins. These seriously injured Holy Dragon City cultivators would not have been able to hold on until now!

treat the injured and put out the fire. Everyone, hurry up!

Without needing Tang Zhen's orders, the Holy Dragon City cultivators guarding the surrounding area were like arrows that left the bow, charging into the Holy Dragon City one after another.

With no time to confide in their family and friends or celebrate, the anxious Holy Dragon City cultivators could only rummage through the ruins, carrying out the injured Holy Dragon City residents one by one. After a simple treatment of the scene, they were quickly sent to the military doctors.

The medical staff, who had been waiting for a long time, got busy and constantly treated the wounded. The Holy master also cooperated with the treatment.

Holy Dragon city's residents who were not injured were either sitting on the ground exhausted, listening to their companions' shouts and footsteps and falling asleep, or directly tearing off their companions' water bags and pouring them into their mouths. The sound of choking and coughing could be heard from time to time.

“Brother, you’re really lucky. You didn’t die even after this?”

A Holy Dragon City cultivator saw his friend lying on the corpse of a terobo man and walked up to him with a smile. He patted his friend’s shoulder.

“Damn it, if you do it again, I’ll really die!”

The injured Holy Dragon City cultivator laughed and cursed. He struggled to sit up from the corpses and hugged his friend.

“Brothers, you’re finally back!”

“Yes, we finally meet again!”

As soon as he finished speaking, the two of them laughed out loud at the same time, their faces filled with joy.

Similar scenes could be seen everywhere inside and outside Holy Dragon City, which had been reborn. Uninjured residents also walked out from every corner, looking at the completely different scenery outside the city with surprise.

They had already faintly realized that perhaps something had happened that they did not know about, which was why Holy Dragon City had appeared in this strange place!

With the combined efforts of all the residents, the injured had all been treated, and the bodies of the residents who had died in the battle had also been properly settled.

To the residents of the Holy Dragon City, death was just another form of rebirth. It would not take long for the dead to change into a new body and reappear in front of their friends and family.

Fatty, Tai Seng, Lingxu Zi, and many other familiar faces appeared one after another. They arrived before Tang Zhen with faces full of joy after surviving a disaster.

The strength of the teroboros people was too terrifying. It was definitely something worth rejoicing that the Holy Dragon City was able to remain intact under such circumstances!

The residents still did not know that the Holy Dragon City was actually the only surviving building in the entire Savage wildland. They were also forcefully taken back by Tang Zhen from the hands of the god of death just before they were about to be destroyed!

It was true that the Holy Dragon City was very lucky!

Just as Tang Zhen was conversing with the crowd, Murong Ziyue also walked out from the inner part of the tower. One of her hands was tightly holding onto her sister, and her eyes were red like cherries.

The little girl had always been worried about her sister. Now that they finally met again, she would definitely cry.

Xiao die was also safe and sound. At this moment, she was following behind the two sisters. However, her eyes were always on Tang Zhen, and her pretty face was full of joy after reuniting.

After exchanging a glance with his women, Tang Zhen walked forward and hugged them tightly in his arms.

“Don’t worry, everything is over now!”

A smile was on Tang Zhen’s face as he sensed the body in his embrace that was repeatedly trembling due to fear. He gently patted it a few times as a form of comfort.

After letting everyone go outside the city to rest, Tang Zhen began to inspect the interior of the tower by himself. His expression was extremely grave.

Although the crisis of the city being destroyed had been resolved, the damage Holy Dragon City had suffered was too great. It would definitely require a lot of resources and time to recover to its former state.

Apart from the destruction of the environment, the defensive tower and the mother tree tower had both suffered destructive attacks. One had collapsed and shattered, while the other had directly broken and withered!

The rest of the towers, including the main tower, had also suffered varying degrees of damage. Fortunately, it did not affect their normal usage, and as long as they paid enough brain beads, they could be repaired at any time!

Tang Zhen slowly came to a stop as he walked to the withered mother tree. At the same time, he extended his hand and gently stroked the withered tree trunk with a contemplative expression.

city Lord, the mother tree was sacrificed to protect the Holy Dragon City. Can you resurrect it? ”

Lisa, who was wearing a tattered white robe, walked over. She tidied up her messy long hair and softly said to Tang Zhen. When she looked at the mother tree behind him, Lisa’s eyes were filled with a trace of pain and sadness.

don’t worry, I’ll do everything I can to resurrect it and not build a new mother tree City!

Tang Zhen nodded his head and promised Li Sha.

After a destroyed building was rebuilt, a new building spirit would be born. Although it looked the same as before, it would not inherit the memories of the past. It was basically a replacement.

The spirit of the mother tree that Lisa wanted was naturally the proud little girl that everyone was familiar with, not the rebuilt mother tree!

After hearing Tang Zhen’s promise, Lisa nodded her head and slowly knelt on the empty ground in front of the mother tree.

This was the place where Lisa and the others usually cultivated, but now, not only had the mother tree withered, the green grass and flowers withered, even the gem Lake that was like a treasure had completely dried up!

Even without asking, he knew that Lisa must be in great pain.

After seeing Lisa kneel down, many of the mother tree's cultivators, like her, spontaneously gathered at the cultivation site, praying and communicating as usual, hoping that the already withered mother tree could respond.

Even though they knew that it was futile, no one chose to give up.

Tang Zhen looked at this scene quietly. After a moment of silence, he took out the liquid of rebirth that he obtained from the myriad world mall from his storage space and slowly poured it on the withered root of the mother tree.

Hopefully, this bottle of potion that the jellyfish shopkeeper had praised as a God could give the mother tree a new lease of life!

Of course, Tang Zhen would not place all his hopes on a bottle of medicinal liquid. Instead, he would try his best to use the ability that he had mastered to awaken the mother tree from its withered state.

After leaving Lisa and the others who were praying in a low voice, Tang Zhen went to the underground city and the back Valley again. He checked every location that had been attacked.

An idea slowly emerged in his mind, and that was to build a city with super offensive and defensive capabilities, to ensure that it would not be afraid of any enemy's attack!

Apart from the current floating city, Tang Zhen was also prepared to use the metal brain he had just obtained to build a super steel City that could permanently float in the air. This way, not only would it be far away from the dangers on the ground, but ordinary attacks would also be unable to cause any damage to the Holy Dragon City.

Sitting on a rock by the lake, Tang Zhen began to organize his thoughts and consider how the Holy Dragon City should develop next.

The current Holy Dragon City had a lot of things to do. It was really not suitable to launch an invasion. Moreover, Tang Zhen still had the coordinates of several other worlds. He could use the mobile phone's teleportation function to travel back and forth at any time to provide sufficient resources for the construction of Holy Dragon City.

Tang Zhen wanted to accumulate enough strength in order to be able to protect himself under any circumstances and avoid the crisis of the city being destroyed from happening again!

The reason why Tang Zhen made such a choice was that there was always a trace of worry in his heart. The operation of the myriad world mall this time made him realize that the wizard World would definitely not give up on the counter-invasion of the loucheng world easily.

Perhaps it wouldn't be long before a huge turmoil would happen in the spiritual ruins Warzone. The Holy Dragon City, which was in the middle of it, had to make early preparations!

Chapter 1245

1245 Predicament and exploration! 1!

When the sun set, countless flames lit up on the gentle grass in front of Holy Dragon City.

Because many of the ordinary buildings outside Holy Dragon City had been destroyed in the war, a large number of Holy Dragon City residents who had entered the city to take refuge had become homeless. Settling them down had become an urgent problem that needed to be solved.

The damaged tower needed to be repaired, and it was temporarily closed for safety reasons. The space TOWER under construction was also not suitable for nearly a million residents to live in. Even in the future, only core personnel would be allowed in.

Many insects were imprisoned in Spirit Rock City, and no one was allowed to get close to it to avoid any accidents.

Therefore, the Holy Dragon city's residents were temporarily settled on the grass in front of Spirit Rock City. After the City Tower was repaired, they would arrange their own residence.

The residents of the city were very cooperative with the city Lord's arrangements. For the residents of the Holy Dragon City who had "just" experienced a city-destroying crisis, this kind of camping was just a small matter.

At this moment, Holy Dragon city's citizens were sitting around each fire. They were chatting enthusiastically with each other, recalling their battle experiences. From time to time, they would attract a burst of exclamations from the bystanders.

And every time this happened, the narrator would show a proud smile.

It seemed that after this disaster, the Holy Dragon city's residents had become more united. Many residents who had not known each other before were now sitting together with their arms around each other, looking very close.

When the sun completely disappeared, the sound of a car engine could be heard. Then, there was someone shouting for the residents to get their own food for the night.

When the already famished residents heard this, they immediately gathered in front of the cars and took bags of sealed food.

Dried sea monster meat, compressed biscuits, freshly made buns, and buckets of drinking water were placed next to the fire of the residents.

Due to the large number of residents, the amount of food they needed was also extremely shocking. Tang Zhen not only used the Holy Dragon city's inventory, but he even specially returned to the original world to transport a batch. Only then did he temporarily solve the food problem for tonight.

It was only now that he realized that Holy Dragon City had already become a giant. Not only did it have a huge city, but it also had a large number of residents. It was nothing when the city was operating normally, but after a disaster, many problems emerged.

Fortunately, Tang Zhen's prestige in the Holy Dragon City was extremely high. The residents would carry out his orders unconditionally. In addition, with the active efforts of the managers at all levels, the chaotic scene did not appear.

Since the problem had already appeared, he had to solve it immediately. Otherwise, it would cause big trouble sooner or later.

The first problem he had to solve was the source of food.

To the residents of the city, as long as they had enough points, they would never have to worry about starving to death because the cornerstone platform would provide them with basic food.

However, this could only ensure that the residents wouldn't starve to death. Lou Cheng's cultivators were all big eaters, and basic food supplies couldn't meet their needs. If they wanted more food, it was difficult to buy it from the cornerstone platform. Therefore, in most cases, Lou Cheng could only rely on himself to find a way.

When the Holy Dragon City was first built, most of the food came from the original world, except for the small amount of food provided by the City Tower. Later, as the Holy Dragon City gradually developed and became self-sufficient, the problem of food sources was slowly solved.

However, with the destruction of the wilderness Warzone, the Holy Dragon City faced a similar problem again. This time, there were hundreds of thousands of residents and hundreds of thousands of troops, which added up to a population of nearly a million!

Just relying on the supply of the cornerstone platform could no longer satisfy the Holy Dragon city's needs, so he had to think of another way.

This matter was already in Tang Zhen's consideration. He already had a corresponding plan and it had to be executed immediately.

The mutated plant in the monster City had a rather terrifying reproductive ability and its output was also extremely shocking. Tang Zhen attached great importance to this. If it was confirmed that eating it would not cause harm to the human body, Tang Zhen was prepared to spread it in the nearby area on a large scale.

In addition to these mutated plants, the high-quality seeds from the original world would also be planted in large numbers on the land of the loucheng world.

Before the harvest, the Holy Dragon City would still gather food from other channels. The Holy Dragon Corporation had money anyway, so they could not let the residents starve.

After the food problem was solved, even if other matters were to slow down, it would not have too much of an impact on Holy Dragon City.

It didn't take long before the aroma of food began to spread everywhere. The residents ate the smoked and roasted food, and the sound of laughter rose and fell. It seemed that the stars in the night sky had become brighter.

When the night came, the tired citizens gradually fell asleep, leaving only the Holy Dragon city's Army stationed in the distance with their lights still on. The soldiers faced the dark wilderness, always on guard against any dangerous situations.

Another morning arrived. The Holy Dragon city's residents woke up early. After breakfast, they busied themselves.

The sight of hundreds of thousands of people moving at the same time was spectacular. A group of residents began to clear the weeds and gravel on the flat land not far from Spirit Rock City, preparing to use it for sowing.

The efficiency of manual labor alone was certainly not high, so the Holy Dragon city's residents simply used their own magical abilities, even the skills of cultivators, just to be able to reclaim more land in the shortest time.

There were many large agricultural machines in the Holy Dragon City. They were also taken out of the warehouse. Driven by the residents of the city, these machines roared and galloped across the wilderness, planting the stored grain seeds.

Tang Zhen returned to the world where the monster City was located and brought back a large number of mutated plants. After analysis by the researchers, it was confirmed that the seeds of these plants were very harmless to the human body. In fact, they even contained many elements that were beneficial to the human body.

Tang Zhen naturally would not miss out on such a good thing. He used a secret technique to accelerate the ripening of the mutated plants. After which, he carefully sowed the seeds that he had harvested.

In just a few short days, the fields outside Holy Dragon City had grown into an endless field. The figures of the residents were constantly busy in the fields, seriously managing the seedlings that had just broken through the soil.

In addition to large-scale farming, a large number of Holy Dragon City residents brought weapons and supplies. They were directly stationed next to a huge Lake hundreds of kilometers away and used fishing gear from the original world to catch fish.

Tons of fresh fish were caught from the lake, processed, and then transported to the Holy Dragon City. They were busy every day.

Fishing alone was not enough. The Holy Dragon city's cultivators had also formed a large number of hunting teams. They would drive out in the morning and return at night, returning with a full load almost every time.

Because they were equipped with firearms with great destructive power, the hunting process of the Holy Dragon City cultivators became much simpler. However, the wild beasts and monsters in the vicinity were very unlucky, as they were almost completely cleaned up by the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

Not long after, the hunting range of the Holy Dragon City cultivators expanded once again, gradually approaching the area where the other towers were.

The cultivators in the other towers were extremely vigilant against these intruders who entered their territory without permission. They immediately sent out cultivator teams to expel them.

After a short fight, the cultivators in charge of driving them out all fled. Whether it was in terms of equipment or cultivation, they were far from the Holy Dragon City cultivators' match. They could only survive because the Holy Dragon City cultivators showed mercy.

After a few battles, the nearby buildings had also witnessed the strength of the Holy Dragon City cultivators. They simply allowed them to hunt in their own territory to prevent these guys from directly attacking.

After hearing that the Holy Dragon City was collecting food everywhere, some of the low-level cities that had once "hired" cultivators from the Holy Dragon City actually took the initiative to send food to them, trying to get closer to the Holy Dragon City.

When they saw the Holy Dragon City appear out of thin air, the city Lords who had followed them here were shocked. Any cultivator with common sense would know that even if this city wasn't a national-level one, it wouldn't be too far off!

The city Lords were suddenly enlightened. No wonder this group of cultivators was so powerful. They came from such a powerful city!

Tang Zhen basically didn't refuse the deliberate flattery of these low-level buildings. However, while he thanked them, he also gave them a lot of gifts.

After receiving the gifts from the Holy Dragon City, the city Lords were overwhelmed by the unexpected favor. These items from the original world had indeed broadened their horizons. They all treated them as treasures!

From then on, the Holy Dragon city's ruling position in this area was completely confirmed!

Chapter 1246

1246 Trade area and the metal brain

"Purple hair, hurry up, don't keep us waiting for you!"

In front of a low-level City Tower, hundreds of residents were gathered together, placing a package of sealed goods on a simple carriage.

These goods included medicinal herbs, precious minerals, animal skins, food, and other items. They were all collected by the residents of Loucheng on a daily basis.

On normal days, these items would be placed on the cornerstone platform to be traded for points that were essential for the operation of the building.

However, since some time ago, the city Lord had issued an order. Other than exchanging points to ensure the operation of the tower, the rest of the items had to be sent to the Holy Dragon City to be exchanged for those novel items.

The residents had seen the items from the Holy Dragon City. They were indeed exquisite and strange. No wonder the city Lord regarded them as treasures.

However, there was something very strange. Holy Dragon city's products were never sold on the cornerstone platform. If one wanted to obtain them, they had to personally go to Holy Dragon City to trade!

The residents of the low-level towers were quite resentful about this. In the case of outdated transportation, it would definitely take a lot of time to travel between two towers.

Fortunately, the nearby wild beasts and monsters had been cleared by the Holy Dragon City cultivators, and the road was much safer. Otherwise, just the number of cultivators needed to guard the convoy would have to be in the dozens!

At this time, the residents who had run to the roadside to pee had already pulled up their pants and ran back. The residents of Lou city shouted and began to set off, slowly walking in the direction of the Holy Dragon City.

Just as the residents of this low-level city were setting off, the residents from other cities had already arrived at the original location of Spirit Rock City. However, this place had been replaced by the Holy Dragon City.

Looking at the incomparably huge Holy Dragon City, the residents from the low-level buildings were not only amazed but also deeply awed. Whether it was the huge building or the cultivators in the surrounding buildings, almost all of them had shocking cultivation.

Fortunately, these Holy Dragon City cultivators were not overbearing and did not have the arrogance of high-level cultivators. This also made the residents of the low-level buildings who had just arrived feel much more relieved.

According to the model of the wilderness Warzone, Tang Zhen had marked out a large area in front of the city and specially used it to trade with the other buildings and Wanderers. The carriages from the low-level buildings and the Wanderers who had heard the news were all moving around in this area.

The Holy Dragon City had a lot of good things in stock. In the past, they could only pile them up in the warehouse to eat dust because they had no sales. Now, they could take them out for trade and gather the expenses needed to build the Holy Dragon City.

The foreign merchants who had joined the Holy Dragon City were now in charge of selling various goods and bargaining with the residents of the low-level loucheng who had come to trade.

"The goods you brought are worth a total of 150000 brain beads, what do you think of this price?"

A Holy Dragon City resident looked at the list in his hand and said to a low-level city resident who came to trade.

After frowning and thinking for a long time, the caravan leader from the low-level city finally nodded hesitantly. He then pointed to a pile of items on the shelf and said, "I want this kind of armor and those sabers. The more the better!"

The items that the convoy leader was referring to were actually the standard equipment that Holy Dragon City had discarded. Although Holy Dragon City cultivators did not take a fancy to them, to the residents of low-level buildings, they were definitely good stuff!

Between the novel item and the weapons and equipment, the leader of the convoy naturally chose the latter!

After some price calculations, bundles of equipment were loaded onto the carriage. Then, the residents of the low-level loucheng who came to trade happily set off on their way home, ready to go back and claim credit from the city Lord.

Under a parasol by the side, Tang Zhen watched the trading scene in front of him. The corner of his mouth carried a trace of a smile from the beginning until the end.

The gains from trading were far less than the plundering from invading other worlds, but it won in long-term safety. After a long period of accumulation, it was still a considerable income!

Other than obtaining the brains, this transaction would bring other benefits to the Holy Dragon City. It could not be easily terminated.

Now that the urgent problems had been dealt with, the next thing to do was to repair the damaged Holy Dragon City and build it into a city with iron walls!

Tang Zhen slowly got up and left the trading market. He returned to the space TOWER and went to the place where he cultivated the metal brain.

Under Tang Zhen's investment that did not care about the cost, the metal brain's volume rapidly increased. It was now comparable to the wheel of a car, and its surface continuously flickered with light.

At this time, at the end of the tentacles that extended out from the metal brain, metal bugs quickly formed one after another. They fell off the tentacles one after another and surrounded the metal brain tightly. They almost filled the entire floor and walls of the room.

This was the magical part of the world's origin power. The metal brain could use its creation ability to create countless metal bugs, and then use these metal bugs to devour metal to build monster cities and mechanical guards.

As long as there were enough resources, this process could continue until the resources of the entire world were completely exhausted!

Fortunately, the monster City didn't have the ability to float. Otherwise, these monsters that didn't need to eat or drink would definitely become the most terrifying plunderers, spreading the monster City all over the universe!

As for the floating city in outer space, it was built in zero-gravity space. Although it could also rely on power equipment to propel itself, the floating city would never travel in space without absolute confidence, in case it never returned!

The thing that Tang Zhen needed the most right now was a city of steel that could be built on the ground. At most, it could only fly. As for the replica of the floating city, it was not in his consideration because of its limitations.

Perhaps he would only consider this issue after he obtained a new metal brain.

Taking a deep breath, Tang Zhen enveloped the metal brain with his spiritual force. After slowly seeping in, he quickly sensed a clean and pure young soul.

The newborn soul was filled with curiosity towards Tang Zhen's appearance. It continued to probe, wanting to figure out what kind of existence Tang Zhen was.

Through the information obtained by the interrogators, Tang Zhen knew that the soul of this metal brain would always be sealed in a fixed mental cage. Other than the mother that split it and the human manager, it would not come into contact with any information from the outside world.

The designer's approach was to ensure the purity of the soul, so that it would not build metal objects that no one could understand because of those messy ideas.

In the process of communicating with the new soul, the metal brain and the human manager would transmit the information they wanted to convey to the new soul. The blank soul would naturally control the metal bug in high spirits according to the information it was instilled with, creating the contents of the blueprint with metal as if it was playing a game.

The difference between a floating city and a Monster City could be seen at this time. Under the guidance of human managers, the buildings in the floating city were well organized, which could bring great convenience to the residents. As for the monster City, due to the infusion of the main brain and the influence of some "garbage" that could not be deleted in time, it resulted in the creation of a myriad of strange cities. Anything strange could appear!

Tang Zhen naturally wouldn't allow such a situation to occur. Therefore, from now on, he would have an additional task every day. That was to constantly communicate with the metal brain and let it build the ideal city according to his own thoughts!

Chapter 1247

1247 The idea of! future city

At some point in time, the residents of Holy Dragon City were surprised to find that something strange was happening around the city.

From time to time, fluorescent metal insects could be seen in the inch-tall grass. They gathered together and squirmed like ants.

They had seen all kinds of insects, but it was the first time the Holy Dragon City residents had seen an insect made of metal.

In the beginning, the Holy Dragon City citizens thought that this was some new type of robot. However, upon closer inspection, they realized that this was not the case at all.

Especially when night fell, these fluorescent insects would become a scene in the Holy Dragon City. They were very beautiful when compared to the stars in the sky!

After a short while, the residents made a new discovery. The place where the metal bugs had gathered had gradually risen and continued to spread to the surrounding area. It seemed to be the foundation of some unknown building.

The house looked like an ant nest, but its size and style were different, so it was impossible to determine what it was.

When the curious residents of the city tried to go forward to take a look, they were stopped by the Holy Dragon City cultivators who were guarding the place. They claimed that not only were these insects precious, but they were also very dangerous, and no one was allowed to approach or touch them.

With the cultivators of Lou city stopping them, the residents of Lou city no longer paid attention to the metal bugs and let them continue to pile up those strange things.

There were many forbidden areas in Holy Dragon City. Residents without a certain level of authority could never approach them. The residents were already used to this kind of situation. It was just that there was an additional activity area for these metal bugs.

In addition to these piles of metal bugs, there was also a huge furnace-like pit in the square of the tower that used to be Ling Yan city. Groups of metal bugs were constantly entering and exiting the pit in long lines.

There was nothing blocking their path. Even if they had once existed, they had been completely cleared out by the Holy Dragon City cultivators to ensure that they could return at the fastest speed.

Many residents of the city were busy throwing piles of metal into the pit, but the pit seemed to never be filled and kept in a strange "boiling" state.

"City Lord, we've already taken samples and analyzed them. We've discovered that the metal brain will produce a special liquid that can melt any metal in a very short time.

The temperature of this metal solution was not high, and because of the existence of a special liquid, it could keep the melted metal in a liquid state for a long time.

However, when the construction bug swallows the metal solution, a magical change will occur in its body. When the construction bug spits the metal solution, the special solution that can melt metal will also be completely filtered and absorbed by the construction bug, causing the building to solidify in an instant!"

A group of Holy Dragon city's scientific researchers surrounded Tang Zhen. The leader kept talking to Tang Zhen, his face carrying a trace of excitement that could not be concealed.

The researchers were very interested in this magical construction method, as well as the more magical metal brain and metal construction bugs. When the metal brain started working, the researchers even forgot to eat and sleep to observe it, in order to get first-hand information.

then have you guys tried to change the type and proportion of metal to change the attributes of the building?"

Tang Zhen looked at the groups of metal bugs that were crawling in and out as well as the deep and bright pit under his feet. He asked in a very relaxed tone.

“We’ve already started the experiment and successfully concocted an alloy solution. It’s purple-red in color after solidifying. Not only is it light in weight, but it’s also tough and has a memory function.

After comparison, I can confirm that the structure built with this alloy solution is very smooth, and the color is also very beautiful. It is much better than smelting all kinds of metals!”

Tang Zhen nodded his head when he heard this. This situation was also within his expectations.

From the images of the floating city he had obtained, the buildings floating in space were beautiful and colorful. Compared to them, the buildings in the monster cities were far more attractive.

Tang Zhen absolutely didn’t believe that the citizens didn’t use any special means to affect the metal brain or use special alloy solutions.

Tang Zhen’s ideal Holy Dragon City would definitely be magnificent and have all kinds of vibrant colors. It would not be as chaotic as a Monster City where the color was only an extremely monotonous black.

Now, thousand Dragons’ mission had one more task, which was to find a way to obtain the floating city’s construction materials. This way, Holy Dragon City would not need to waste time and effort exploring, and they could just copy it!

However, there was one thing that the floating cities could not compare to the Holy Dragon City. The source of their metal was limited to the world they were in. On the other hand, the Holy Dragon City could collect Special Metals from countless worlds, which made the performance of their buildings even better!

The matter of collecting metal had already been placed in the future plans. The Holy Dragon City had plane coordinates to other worlds, and a large number of cultivators would be sent to the loucheng world. They would use the storage ring to collect all kinds of metal materials, and then send them back to the loucheng world regularly.

In fact, Tang Zhen had once had the idea of tearing down a Monster City to build Holy Dragon City. However, after analyzing the samples he brought back, he discovered that it contained a large amount of radiation and was quite harmful to the human body.

This radiation could not be removed with simple methods, so it was naturally not suitable for building a city.

Moreover, the monster City was not an existence that could be easily provoked. Back then, Tang Zhen had barged into the core of the monster City and snatched away a metal brain that had just split apart. He was definitely extremely lucky!

This kind of newborn metal brain was extremely rare, and no one could be sure when it had appeared. Even the citizen leaders’ operation this time was only a routine investigation. Who would have thought that there really was a newborn metal brain?

As a result, the citizen leader and the others tried to snatch it, but Tang Zhen intercepted them midway. In the end, all their efforts were in vain!

In fact, for floating cities and monster cities, this new metal brain was of little value. The floating city was searching for it to limit the number of monster cities, and the monster cities had fixed territories between each other. They would never allow other monster cities to snatch their territories, or else it would likely trigger a war!

The newborn metal brain would either become a doppelganger of the mother and help it build the same Monster City, or find a place where no one of its kind occupied before it could build its own territory.

However, in a situation where the entire world was occupied by monster cities, it was extremely difficult to obtain a piece of land without an owner!

However, in the world of loucheng, the metal brain could develop without any restrictions. As long as there were enough metal resources, the metal brain could even cover the entire battlefield!

Since he was unable to tear down the monster City and use it as raw material, Tang Zhen could only set his sights on other worlds.

After discussing with the researchers for a while, Tang Zhen went to another area of the spirit Rock City to check on the city Lord and the others who were being imprisoned for research.

Due to the invasion of the Queen worm, the four city Lords, including the city Lord Ling Yan, had all turned into monsters. The Holy Dragon City cultivators captured all four city Lords in one go. While they obtained a large amount of wealth, they also captured all four city Lords.

As one of Tang Zhen's Secret weapons against the teroboros people, these four mutated monsters were taken care of very well. Other than having their blood and flesh cut off from time to time and having all sorts of things added to their bodies, there was no need to worry about their lives.

When Tang Zhen approached, the mutated bugmen lying in the rune cage immediately became restless. They desperately dodged to the corner. They still retained a trace of intelligence and knew how powerful and terrifying the cultivator in front of them was!

Tang Zhen's eyes flickered as he looked at the huge Queen bug monster. His brows would knit together from time to time. No one knew what he was planning.

Chapter 1248

1248 The specially-recruited residents visiting their relatives

In the original world, where the tower of the United States was located, a huge soul teleportation Center had been built.

There were more than 10000 soul teleportation cabins installed in the soul teleportation Center, which had an area of 300000 square meters. If they were operated at full power, they could teleport more than a million transmigrators in a day!

Other than a large number of soul teleportation cabins, there were also many additional facilities. The top-tier technology from the original world was also being used here, making it full of sci-fi colors!

However, the soul teleportation Center was overloaded after the attack of the torobo people in the savage war zone. After a large number of transmigrators were sent back to their original world, they were closed for maintenance.

This super building was built entirely for the tower world. If the soul transfer array in Holy Dragon City was not activated, the soul transfer array in the original world would naturally not work.

As the Holy Dragon City was unsealed and gradually recovered from the chaos, the soul teleportation Center that had been closed for many days was reactivated and continued to undertake the task of teleporting transmigrators.

As the soul teleportation circle was officially activated, the huge runes in the sky began to flash continuously, and a pillar of light suddenly fell from the sky. This also meant that the souls of the transmigrators had entered the original world.

The staff operated the equipment in front of them skillfully. They were used to this kind of situation. If someone who was not in the know saw this scene, they might mistake them as employees of a station.

identity verification of transmigrator complete. Soul possession begins. Soul transfer has been transferred into soul transfer cabin number M1911's public body!

An electronically synthesized voice sounded in the huge building. A unmanned hover car quickly arrived at the location mentioned by the voice, and the sealed teleportation cabin just happened to open.

welcome to the original world. Please board the vehicle. I will lead you to complete the final entry procedures!

The electronic voice came from the vehicle. The man who came out of the transmission cabin nodded and sat in a comfortable chair. Then, he let the electric bike take him to another place.

Looking at himself in the mirror of the hover car, he found that his face was exactly the same as before. Obviously, the technology of the original world had improved again, and it could shape the appearance of a transmigrator in a very short time.

Of course, this face was only temporarily used. When Tom left this public body, his original appearance would be removed, and he would wait for other transmigrators to use it.

As for the public body's hygiene, there was no need to worry about it either. The cleaning process after use was extremely strict, and there would definitely be no safety risks left!

The soul teleportation Center was very large, and it took the hover car a full three minutes to reach the destination.

"Mr. Tom, are you on leave to visit your family?"

The staff member pulled out the personal information of the transmigrator from the database, looked at the content displayed on the holographic screen, and asked the transmigrator with a smile.

yes, I was very lucky to have obtained this qualification. My companions are all very envious!

The transmigrator named Tom nodded. Perhaps he was not used to this shared host body, so his facial movements were stiff, and his smile was awkward.

However, the excitement in his eyes was revealed without any hindrance. He was obviously very proud of this.

you're really lucky. You're the first transmigrator here since the restoration of operations, and now the entire Center is serving you!

"Is that so? looks like I'll have to buy a Power Ball next time!"

Tom said with a smile, his tone relaxed.

After chatting for a while, the immigration procedures were completed, and the staff entered a set of electronic data into Tom's wristguard computer, indicating that he could leave the soul teleportation Center.

Tom got up to thank him, but did not leave immediately. Instead, he went to the office of the Holy Dragon Corporation.

Tom had to report here and receive his salary, as well as the benefits that the Holy Dragon Corporation had prepared for its own people.

As a technical staff specially recruited by the Holy Dragon City, Tom not only had the qualifications to be a resident of the loucheng and enjoyed the benefits of the loucheng residents, but he could also receive a rather generous salary in his original world.

There were already people waiting at the office center. When they saw Tom walk in, they immediately stood up with a smile to welcome him.

Mr. Tom, welcome back to the original world. What can I do for you? "

This place was only for the service of the Holy Dragon city's residents. Because they were both under the same boss, there was a sense of closeness between them.

I need to collect my salary and benefits. After all, this isn't the world of loucheng. If I don't have money, I might have to walk home!

Tom said with a smile. There was a hint of mockery and helplessness in his tone.

The staff member from the Holy Dragon Corporation smiled but did not continue the conversation. Instead, he quickly turned on the computer in front of him, and after a few quick fiddles with his hands, he handed some items to Tom.

"Your total salary is 730000, all of which have been transferred to this bank card. You can withdraw it anywhere in the original world. In addition, there is an internal staff card, which can enjoy a 30% discount on shopping, but the upper limit can not exceed 200000!

In addition to these two items, we will also give you a special product from the world of loucheng for free as a gift to your family and friends.

A friendly reminder, the specialty of the loucheng world is in high demand in the original world. If you want to sell it, we will buy it back directly, and the price will not be much lower than the outside world!"

Tom shook his head and smiled at the receptionist. my brother has always wanted a souvenir from the world of loucheng to show off to his companions. If he knew that I sold your specialty, he would definitely be mad!

in that case, please choose the specialty you need. This is the menu of candidates!

The staff member pointed at the holographic image in front of him and said with a smile.

Tom looked through it and selected five items. After waiting for a while, the staff member handed him the sealed box.

After thanking the receptionist, Tom bought a set of clothes from a nearby store and left the soul teleportation Center in a car.

Before he left, he looked back and saw that the huge soul transfer array was flashing rapidly. It was obvious that many Holy Dragon City residents had obtained permission to go on vacation and returned to their original world one after another.

The Holy Dragon City was currently in a period of rest and recovery. If there were no accidents, they would not start another war in the near future.

There were hundreds of thousands of original world residents who were specially recruited by the Holy Dragon City. If they didn't see their relatives for a long time, it would definitely affect their emotions. Therefore, using this rare resting time, Tang Zhen specially allowed the specially recruited residents to return to their original world to visit relatives.

At the same time, the opening team organized by the partners of the original world would once again set foot on the land of the loucheng world!

Chapter 1249

1249 The traveler who returned home _1

With a trace of expectation and collapse, Tom finally returned to his hometown.

It was a small city somewhere in the United States. The population wasn't too large, but there were many ranches.

Tom's father was also a rancher. He had spent his entire life in his own territory. He was honest and tough. He loved his farm and hoped that his son could inherit the business and become a rancher.

However, his eldest son, Tom, had no interest in running a Ranch. He had been interested in Electronic Technology since he was young, and even more so when he grew up. This disappointed his father.

However, as a qualified father, old tom respected his son's choice and never raised his expectations again. He turned his attention to his younger brother.

This time, his father was not disappointed because little brother Tom had never been interested in studying since he was a child, but he liked everything on the ranch, so the matter of him taking over the family was already set in stone.

Everything was perfect at first, but when Tom came into contact with the information about the world of loucheng, he was deeply attracted by this other world and had the idea of immigrating to the world of loucheng.

It was a pity that the Holy Dragon City did not intend to recruit the original world's residents at that time, which made Tom very disappointed. Fortunately, this situation did not last for too long. The Holy Dragon City finally began to recruit people from all over the world.

Tom immediately signed up online and passed the interview to be selected. However, when he told his family about this news, his father, who he rarely contacted, immediately called and ordered Tom not to go to the World of loucheng.

To Tom's father, the world of loucheng was a place full of danger. It was very likely that he would never return. He did not want to lose his eldest son like this.

In the end, Tom completely ignored his father's dissuasion and insisted on going to the world of loucheng. This made his father extremely angry, and the two of them even had a big fight because of this.

In the days that followed, Tom served in Holy Dragon City. During this period, due to communication difficulties, he did not contact his family.

When the Wildlands was attacked by the torobo people, Tom, who was left behind in Holy Dragon City, was also sealed. However, he did not feel anything, as if the enemy had disappeared in the blink of an eye!

This time, Tom was very nervous when he took leave to go home. He didn't know what his home had become after being away for such a long time.

When the car stopped beside a familiar building, Tom got out of the car with his backpack. He looked around and went straight to his farm.

After walking for a short distance, a car horn sounded behind him. When Tom turned around to look, he saw a young man with very familiar features sticking his head out to look at him.

"Hi, my brother, is that really you?"

Before Tom could come back to his senses, the young man who was driving the car had a look of surprise on his face. He jumped off the pickup truck and went straight for Tom.

Tom finally recognized the other party. It was his own brother. However, his appearance had changed greatly. No wonder he did not recognize him at first glance.

The two brothers hugged each other tightly and laughed out loud. They seemed to be extremely happy.

"Oh right, weren't you in the loucheng world? why did you suddenly come back?"

The younger brother asked Tom curiously as the two brothers walked towards their house.

I've just been given a month's holiday. I want to have a good rest and take a look at the situation at home.

Tom replied casually, his expression very relaxed. It was the first time he realized that the environment of the ranch was so beautiful that it even made people want to linger.

It was a pity that compared to the world of loucheng, the natural environment of the original world was too different. Even if it was faced with war at any time, it did not affect Tom's original choice.

I heard that Holy Dragon City fought a Great war with aliens. Were you involved? tell me about the situation at that time.

Tom naturally wouldn't hide anything from his brother's question, so he selectively told him what happened, making his brother exclaim in excitement.

"I heard that when you transmigrators return, you will use the same body. Is this true?"

After chatting for a while, the younger brother asked curiously.

that's right. Most transmigrators use a public body, but it's been strictly sanitized, so there won't be any problems!

really? that's so cool. Let me touch it!

As soon as he finished speaking, the younger brother reached out and touched Tom's body, wanting to see if the person next to him was a robot.

The two of them chatted as they walked and soon arrived in front of a two-story building. A strong man was sitting in a chair and looking at a thin tablet.

After hearing the sound of the car, the strong man looked up and quickly locked his eyes on Tom.

Tom's gaze was also very complicated. He looked at his father, who was getting older by the day, and for some reason, he felt a little suffocated.

When the pickup truck stopped, the two brothers walked to their father. His father also put the tablet computer in his hand aside and slowly stood up from his chair.

Tom glanced at the contents of the tablet and found that it was information about the world of loucheng. It seemed to be related to the catastrophe that happened to the Holy Dragon City some time ago.

The tribesmen's surprise attack on the savage war zone had razed almost all the buildings to the ground. Although Holy Dragon City was lucky enough to survive, the lands occupied by their partners around them could not escape the fate of destruction.

When they found out that the enemy was too powerful, the transmigrators from their original world activated the simple teleportation array around them and teleported back to their original world. As a result, this incident immediately set off a great uproar in their original world.

When the transmigrators who were received by the soul transfer array returned to their bodies, the news about the world of loucheng spread quickly. For a time, rumors were everywhere. Many people thought that the world of loucheng would be isolated from human beings from now on.

To the original world, if the world of loucheng was really isolated, it would definitely cause great losses. This was because ever since the original world had contact with the other world, it had begun to develop rapidly. Whether it was technology or medical treatment, they had made unimaginable progress.

The Holy Dragon City had played an extremely important role in this. Tang Zhen had long become a legend and was worshipped and paid attention to by countless residents of the original world.

Not long after the incident, the Holy Dragon Corporation issued a statement, saying that the Holy Dragon City had not suffered much damage. It was estimated that it would not take long before they could resume teleportation to the original world.

People were skeptical about the statement, thinking that it was just a countermeasure by the Holy Dragon Corporation to calm people down. It was estimated that it would not be long before the giant Holy Dragon Corporation collapsed!

This statement was supported by many people, and similar comments were everywhere on the internet. Unfortunately, no matter how the outside world discussed it, the Holy Dragon Corporation ignored it.

Fortunately, with the restoration of Soul transmission, those rumors were dispelled on their own. In just a short day, similar discussions on the internet rapidly decreased, and there were more and more discussions about the development of the world of towers.

The content on Tom's father's tablet was related to this.

"It's good that you're back!"

His father seemed to have forgotten about their previous quarrel. He just gave Tom a hug and patted his shoulder heavily.

After the father and son exchanged a few words, they walked into the house with smiles on their faces. At the same time, they began to make preparations for the gathering that night. They believed that their relatives and friends would be willing to learn the real information about the world of Loucheng from Tom.

1250 Metal resource collection _1

Just as a large number of residents of the tower City were returning to their original world to visit their relatives, several groups of Holy Dragon City cultivators were also going to the other world through the transmission channel.

Compared to other towers, the Holy Dragon City had too many advantages. Not only did it have the original world as its logistics support, but because of the magical function of the mobile phone, it could be transported without going through the cornerstone platform.

This way, not only would it save a large amount of "Commission", but it would also allow Holy Dragon City to quickly accumulate wealth. At the same time, it would also allow Holy Dragon City to break away from the restrictions of the cornerstone platform and develop more freely.

Now that the Holy Dragon City was preparing to build a city with an iron wall, the various metals needed were naturally indispensable. The Holy Dragon City had the coordinates of these foreign worlds, which were the best places to collect resources!

With a flash of light, nearly a hundred fully-armed Holy Dragon City cultivators stepped out of the transmission channel, coldly sizing up their surroundings.

In the sky above, a setting sun was faintly visible, and the air was filled with a desolate aura. It was obvious that this was another wasteland world!

“According to the city Lord, there should be a base built by survivors nearby. The person in charge of the base is supported by the city Lord and is responsible for collecting origin stones for us.

Let’s go to the base now. If we find anything wrong, we can deal with it according to the situation!”

A 3-star horde leader looked at the map displayed on his wrist-guard computer and explained to the people around him. Then, he waved his hand and ordered them to move towards the target.

Since they were not far from their target location, the cultivators chose to walk forward. It didn’t take long for them to pass through the ruins and see the base that was blocked by the wall.

Compared to the desolation of the other areas, this base that was built in the ruins was very lively. There were people coming in and out of the base’s Gate, and there were a large number of corn fields nearby, which were closely guarded by the guards on the guard tower.

Through the wall at the entrance of the base, two armed robots with slightly damaged shells could be vaguely seen, pointing their cold muzzles at the road outside the base.

When the Holy Dragon City cultivators appeared, they immediately attracted the attention of the base’s guards. Especially after seeing the Holy Dragon City cultivators’ attire, the guards quickly sounded the alarm and locked the base’s Gate tightly. They raised their guns and aimed at the Holy Dragon City cultivators standing at the base’s Gate.

The two Spider-shaped armed robots quickly started up. After taking a few steps forward, they locked their muzzles on the Holy Dragon City cultivators, clearly already in combat mode.

At the same time, armed personnel constantly appeared in the base. They occupied various positions that were easy to defend and difficult to attack, looking ready for battle.

“Who are you? what do you want?”

On the wall passage above the base, a strong man wearing sunglasses raised an automatic rifle in his hand and shouted at the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

Seeing the nervous looks on the natives’ faces, the leading Holy Dragon City cultivator shouted, “I’m from the Holy Dragon City. I want to see qiaoer and Allie!”

Hearing the words of the Holy Dragon City cultivators, the man in sunglasses was slightly taken aback. After carefully looking at the Holy Dragon City cultivators, he raised his walkie-talkie and said a few words.

you guys wait here first. Don't act rashly, or I'll immediately beat you up into sieves!

After giving a warning, the man in sunglasses walked down the wall and walked out of the base with a group of people.

"How do you prove your identity?"

Looking at the Holy Dragon City cultivators in black battle armor, equipped with Battle Blades and large-caliber rifles, the man in sunglasses asked without a change in expression, even though he felt fear in his heart.

As these natives were also considered Tang Zhen's forces, the leader of the Holy Dragon city's Lords was very patient. He pointed at the armed robot standing at the entrance and said, "It can prove it. Do you want me to show it?"

The man in sunglasses frowned. He didn't know what the leader of the cultivators meant, but he knew that the base relied on these armed robots to deter the surrounding ruffians.

what do you want to do? be careful, it will beat you into meat paste!

The man in the sunglasses said casually. He was about to describe the terrifying combat power of the armed robot to let this group of unidentified armed personnel know how powerful it was, but he found that the armed robot in combat mode suddenly put down its weapon and quickly shrank into a ball.

This was the safety mode of the armed robot that would only appear after the closing command was activated. It was just that it had never been executed.

"Damn it, what's going on?"

The man in sunglasses roared and immediately aimed his gun at the leader of the cultivators with his companions behind him. Their faces were full of tension.

The accident of their greatest reliance made the man in sunglasses and the others panic, so they made such a subconscious action.

didn't you want me to prove my identity? I've already done so. If it's not enough, I can also shut down the other armed robots!

The leader of the cultivators looked at the nervous native and sneered. If the man in sunglasses was an enemy, he would have become an ice-cold corpse by now.

Since they were new here, it was necessary to intimidate these natives and let them know what the cultivators of Lou city represented!

Among the other worlds that Holy Dragon City could teleport to, this was the only world that had not been officially invaded. Firstly, it was because Tang Zhen was afraid of this kind of "semi-finished" world. Secondly, it was not worth investing too much in this world. Otherwise, it was very likely that he would not be able to make ends meet.

Therefore, using the natives to collect the world's origin had become Tang Zhen's best choice. The hard work would be left to the natives to deal with, and the Holy Dragon City would just sit back and enjoy their achievements!

Just as the situation became more and more tense, a group of survivors appeared at the entrance of the base. When the leader saw the man in sunglasses pointing at the cultivators from Holy Dragon City, he immediately shouted nervously, " put down your guns! They're on our side!

When the man in sunglasses heard this, he quickly put down the weapon in his hand. The killing intent of these people in front of him was too strong. It took great courage to raise it and aim at them.

Only then did he realize that his clothes were soaked in cold sweat, and his legs were trembling.

The one who shouted was qiaoer. His complexion was much better than before, and he had a trace of power. It was obvious that the survivors were very convinced of him.

"Hello, I'm qiaoer. Did Mr. Tang Zhen ask you to come?"

Qiaoer glanced at the cultivators and asked in a faint voice.

that's right. In addition to bringing back what the city Lord wants, we've also brought a batch of supplies. I believe they should be of help to you.

After hearing the leader's words, qiaoer's face revealed a trace of a smile. He then motioned for the cultivators to follow him into the base, attracting the curious gazes of many survivors along the way.

Because of qiaoer's careful management, a large number of survivors had already gathered in the base. The streets were very lively, and many vendors were selling goods.

Although the mutant creatures in this world had not yet been eliminated, the survivors had regained their expectations of life in this place where humans gathered.

However, a crisis had also come with the coveting of hostile forces and the attack of mutated monsters. This had also made the base feel as if it was treading on thin ice. If it wasn't for the armed robots and other defensive measures left behind by Tang Zhen, qiaoer might have long become a skeleton!

The timely arrival of the Holy Dragon City cultivators and the supplies they had brought were very important to the current base, especially when he knew that these cultivators would be staying for a long time and would come to help in times of crisis. Qiaoer felt more at ease.

He had witnessed Tang Zhen's magical ability before. At the same time, he could clearly feel that these silent Holy Dragon City cultivators were definitely not weak!

On the second day after the Holy Dragon City cultivators arrived, the base issued a rather baffling order. Anyone who had any rare metal on the public list could come to the base to exchange for food, weapons, and extremely precious medicine.

As for ordinary steel, as long as there was enough, one could also exchange it for what they wanted.

The survivors were skeptical because for this wasteland world, metal and steel were absolutely the least valuable things.

Since the base wanted to purchase these metals, and the survivors had nothing to do, they would naturally choose to give it a try.

...

From that day on, the entire base became a huge garbage dump. Every day, survivors would send a large amount of metal in exchange for food that could sustain life.

Many Wanderers regarded this as the base's good deed. They thought that the base was using this method to help the survivors, but they were unwilling to admit it.

Due to the cultivators' collection and the exchange of the Wanderers, the Holy Dragon City had a stable source of metal. The base had also become more and more famous due to a strange combination of circumstances, attracting more survivors to seek shelter there.

Ten years later, with the help of the Holy Dragon City, the base had become a huge city. The medicine to fight against the mutants had also been successfully developed. The survivors had finally welcomed the dawn of hope!
