

Alternate 1331

Chapter 1331

1331 The first merchant of the myriad world mall

The area where the myriad world mall was located now looked empty, but there were many Holy Dragon City cultivators stationed in the surroundings. If someone who didn't know what was going on saw this, they would definitely be confused and wonder what these cultivators were guarding.

Tang Zhen jumped down from the car. He nodded to the cultivators on guard and walked straight to the huge open space in front.

As long as there was enough supply of the world's origin, the expansion of the myriad world mall was almost unlimited. Fortunately, it was in another dimension, or the space TOWER would not be able to accommodate it.

Tang Zhen suddenly stopped after walking for a few minutes. He raised his head and looked at the sky.

Only Tang Zhen was able to see that a section of tree root-like energy tentacle was heading toward him. Soon after, a wisp of a wondrous feeling surged into his heart. He seemed to be looking at a chaotic world where he could enter at any time. This world could even be modified according to his thoughts.

With a thought, the chaos World in front of him quickly churned, and then a huge square suddenly appeared.

At the same time, he also received feedback from the myriad world mall that the world's origin had been consumed a little. Obviously, there was a price to pay for transforming the environment.

Tang Zhen was unconcerned. He tried to enter this world and as expected, he appeared in the square in the next instant.

At this moment, he was in another dimension. However, due to the protection of the myriad world mall, Tang Zhen's body would not suffer any harm. It was not much different from the outside world.

The square was huge, and he was the only one there.

Obviously, the myriad world mall had not detected the existence of the other world, and the natives of the other world had not obtained the right to enter the myriad world mall. Otherwise, the other party would have definitely appeared here.

There was nothing to see in the empty square. Tang Zhen lost interest after walking around once. He was just about to leave when he suddenly saw a sneaky figure flash by in the distance.

Tang Zhen was startled at first. Soon after, he felt joy in his heart. He hurriedly adopted a very serious attitude and walked toward that figure.

The other party was clearly a little nervous when he saw Tang Zhen walking over. The eyes under the hood clearly revealed a trace of panic.

This person's strength was equivalent to that of a first-grade cultivator, and his breath was a little chaotic, as if he had been injured not long ago.

“Hello, welcome to the myriad world mall!”

The other party was stunned when he heard Tang Zhen’s words. However, he quickly recovered.

The myriad world mall had a spiritual communication function. Therefore, when Tang Zhen spoke, the other party could hear what he could understand.

the myriad world mall, this is really the myriad world mall. Am I dreaming? ”

There was a hint of surprise in the man’s tone, but he quickly looked around with a puzzled look. It was as if he was saying, ” don’t lie to me. There’s nothing here, how can it be called a mall? ”

Tang Zhen was also helpless. He didn’t expect that a plane merchant would appear so quickly. Therefore, he didn’t make any preparations beforehand.

However, this was not a problem for Tang Zhen. As long as he was willing, a large number of shops could appear in the shopping mall’s Plaza at any time. He only needed to pay a bit of world’s origin source.

Although the world’s origin source was extremely precious, Tang Zhen had to pay a price in order to run the mall.

At the same time, he would also send a few residents here, having them station here for a long time, in charge of receiving dimensional merchants who could appear at any time.

this is not the real myriad world mall, because you must go through a qualification verification before you have a chance to enter.

Tang Zhen smiled and answered the other party’s doubt.

“Oh, no wonder,”

That person nodded. He looked at Tang Zhen with a trace of fervour in his eyes, “Excuse me, how can I obtain the right to enter the mall?”

“The fact that you are able to enter this place proves that you have the most basic qualifications. However, if you want to be an official merchant, you will need to complete a certain transaction quota!

Of course, before you obtain the official qualifications, you can also sell your goods here, but you can only trade with me!”

Tang Zhen gently waved his hand when he spoke up to this point. Immediately, the ground in front of the two of them was filled with all kinds of items, causing one to be dazzled and dazed.

The man was shocked at first, but his eyes quickly lit up as he stared at the items on the ground, looking extremely excited.

All of these items came from Tang Zhen’s storage ring. Even if they weren’t of the highest quality, they were still extremely valuable. As long as one wasn’t blind, one would definitely be able to tell that they were extraordinary.

This person clearly knew what was good. When he looked at a few of the items, he wanted to swallow them up.

“These kasayas are all items to be traded?”

The man looked at her for a long time before he reluctantly looked away and asked in a slightly trembling voice.

of course, they're all items for trade. However, the premise is that you have something of similar value to barter with, or you can sell items in exchange for city coins. In addition, there are some special items that can be used as currency, such as origin stones!

When Tang Zhen said this, he casually took out a low grade origin stone and threw it into the other party's hand.

I'll give this origin stone to you. If you can collect enough, you can buy anything here.

The other party held the origin stone with a thoughtful expression in his eyes. He quickly raised his head and asked Tang Zhen, "Other than the origin stone, what other valuable items can be used as currency?"

Tang Zhen sized up the other party. He seemed to have thought of something as a thread of light suddenly appeared in his palm. Although it was only the size of a fingernail, it seemed to contain an endless life force.

Tang Zhen softly said when he saw the other party's shocked expression, this is the origin of the world. There's a certain chance that it will appear around the origin stone.

I want to know, what's the exchange rate between the world's origin and the origin stone? "

The other party's tone contained a trace of excitement that could not be suppressed. Tang Zhen was puzzled in his heart. However, he still replied, "Same size, 1:1 million!"

The other party's breathing had clearly become heavy. He nodded his head gently and once again swept his eyes over the items on the ground. He said to Tang Zhen, "I need to leave to get something. Can you wait for me?"

"No problem, I'll be waiting!"

After receiving Tang Zhen's reply, the other party nodded and quickly disappeared.

A trace of anticipation was revealed in Tang Zhen's eyes. He sat down cross-legged on the ground and began to race against time to start cultivating.

.....

In the dark cave, a figure suddenly appeared. It was the man who had appeared in the myriad world mall earlier.

After making sure that he was the only one in the cave, the man gently lifted his cloak, revealing a young face with eyes full of excitement.

He looked at the ring in his hand as if he was looking at a rare treasure. He wanted to laugh wildly, but he held it in so hard that his face was a little distorted.

“I didn’t expect the sect leader’s token to be able to connect to the myriad world mall. Master must not have discovered it before, otherwise his cultivation would not be so low!

There are many heavenly materials and earthly treasures that can improve one’s strength in the myriad world mall, as well as all kinds of divine weapons. As long as master can get any one of them, he would not be in such a bad state, or even be killed by someone!”

...

“The heavens have eyes. I actually discovered the secret of the sect leader’s token by accident. As long as I get the items in the myriad world mall, my strength will definitely improve rapidly, and my sect will also grow stronger.

Please bless me with master’s spirit in heaven, so that disciple can successfully complete the transaction and make my spirit sword Mountain famous all over the world!”

The young man took a deep breath and slowly walked out of the cave. He walked towards the broken sect that was built on an open space not far away.

Chapter 1332

1332 The first transaction

Looking at the dilapidated house and the listless disciples, the young sect leader’s eyes flashed with a trace of helplessness, but it was soon replaced by a burning fighting spirit.

As long as the myriad world mall was like what he had heard in the system announcement, having any goods he wanted and ensuring the safety of the plane merchants, it would not take long for his sect to rise up and completely suppress the other sects!

Just as he was thinking about something, someone blocked his way.

sect leader senior brother, a few more disciples have left the mountain today. You have to think of something, or there won’t be anyone left in the hidden weapons sect!

A female disciple walked up to the young man and said with a hint of anger.

if they want to leave, just leave. You don’t have to stop them. One day, they will regret their choice today!

If it was before today, the young man would only feel angry and unwilling. However, after entering the myriad world mall, his heart was full of confidence.

The female disciple looked at the young sect leader and felt that his temperament had changed greatly. He was no longer dispirited and grumbling, but full of confidence!

The female disciple, who was originally also confused about the sect’s future, suddenly had a trace of anticipation in her heart. She decided not to leave in a hurry, but to wait and see.

If she had a choice, she would not want to leave her senior brother.

Hurriedly returning to his room, the young sect leader took out a Jade box from a hidden place and carefully opened it.

Inside the half-foot Jade box, there were dozens of gemstones that were very similar to origin stones. In a Jade bottle, there was a shining ball of light.

After taking out the origin stone that Tang Zhen had given him earlier and comparing it, a trace of fiery heat flashed across the young man's eyes.

I was right. Origin stones are spirit stones, and the spirit Source that forms the spirit stone mine is the origin of the world!

When he thought of the exchange rate that Tang Zhen had mentioned, the young sect leader's heart started to beat wildly with excitement. As long as he could make use of this Spirit Source, the hidden weapons sect would no longer have to worry about cultivation resources.

Although a Spirit Source could be used to cultivate a spirit vein and was an essential part of a sect, it required a large number of spirit stones to cultivate. It would take at least a few decades to form a low-level spirit vein that could be used for cultivation.

The hidden weapons sect was currently plagued with internal and external problems. The young sect leader clearly could not wait that long, so the wisest choice was to trade the spirit Qi source. After they had overcome the crisis and gained a certain level of strength, they could even plunder the spirit Qi source of other sects and make the hidden weapons sect even stronger!

After making up his mind, the young man kept the jade box and returned to the cave.

.....

Tang Zhen opened his eyes and saw that the first merchant of the myriad world mall had reappeared.

"Sorry for making you wait. Please take a look at the value of this world's origin!"

The young sect leader had already put everything on the line. The sect's encounter left him with no choice. He could really believe that Tang Zhen would not lie to him.

as expected, this kid really has the world's origin in his hands!

Tang Zhen's heart trembled slightly. For the other party to appear here, it was clearly not a random choice. Perhaps the myriad world mall had discovered that the other party was contaminated with the world's origin aura, which was why they had chosen him as a plane merchant.

However, there was also a possibility that the other party's world had a lot of world origins, so much so that even low-level cultivators like him could have them.

that's right, this is the origin of the world. It can be exchanged for a million mall coins!

After hearing Tang Zhen's answer, the young sect leader took a deep breath and pointed to the items on the ground, "I want to exchange half of the coins and use the rest to buy these items. How many can I buy?"

Tang Zhen glanced at the item on the young sect leader's finger. He pretended to think for a moment before saying, "I can give you a discount on our first deal. 500000 market dollars can buy 100 of these herbs, 20 catties of spiritual Jade, and 50 low-grade mo weapons. What do you think?"

The young sect leader was overjoyed. He had made a fortune from these 100 spiritual herbs, not to mention the Supreme-grade spiritual jades and weapons. Any one of them would make him a fortune.

After buying so many things, he still had half of his store coins. The value of the spiritual source was simply beyond his imagination!

The young sect leader was secretly happy and thought that he had picked up a big bargain. However, he didn't know that the one who really picked up the bargain was Tang Zhen.

Although these herbs and spiritual jades were valuable, they were far inferior to the origin of the world. Just this little bit of spiritual jades from the young sect leader could maintain the exuberant vitality of the hundred-mile death land for a hundred years!

In fact, it didn't matter who won or lost, as long as both parties were satisfied!

"If you have a storage equipment, can you sell me one? after all, it's very inconvenient to hold these things."

The young sect leader thought for a moment and asked tentatively.

In his world, storage equipment was also priceless.

Tang Zhen faintly smiled. He took out a storage ring and threw it to the other party, elementary storage ring, five cubic meters. Price: 300000 market coins!

The young sect leader hesitated for a moment, then nodded his head lightly and agreed to the deal.

"Alright, you still have 200000 coins left. I suggest you use them all to improve your strength. Otherwise, you won't have anything left once you die!"

The young sect leader was stunned when he heard this. After thinking about it seriously, he asked Tang Zhen, "That's right. Do you have any good suggestions?"

"You might not have realized how precious the qualifications to become a plane merchant are, because there is only one slot in each world! Once this secret is discovered, it will definitely be coveted by others, so you must have enough ability to protect yourself.

Your strength is very weak, and it's obviously very difficult for you to improve your cultivation in a short period of time. Thus, in order to protect the safety of the plane merchants, the myriad world mall has specially launched an arms package. You can buy an arms package for only 10000 mall coins!"

The price was a little outrageous, but it was definitely worth it.

As Tang Zhen spoke up to this point, he sent over a storage ring through his main body. From it, he released a large pile of hand grenades, dozens of assault pistols, a few light machine guns, and a large pile of bullets of various models.

When the young sect leader saw these things, his face was filled with confusion. He clearly didn't know what these metal objects were.

Tang Zhen had transformed into an arms dealer who was promoting weapons. He enthusiastically told the other party how to operate these weapons. When the young sect leader was stunned by the power of these firearms, Tang Zhen knew that his plan had succeeded.

There was more than one way to invade Lou Cheng. Especially after obtaining the divine weapon, the myriad world mall, Tang Zhen could use a more energy-saving method to let these dimensional merchants collect the world's origin for him. He only needed to live in seclusion behind the scenes and he would be able to make a lot of money!

The young sect leader put away the guns excitedly. He already had a plan in mind. He would train a group of loyal subordinates to launch a sneak attack on the sects that had once bullied the hidden weapons sect.

This kind of weapon was really powerful, and those few sects would definitely not be able to resist it. When the time came, he would be able to snatch more spirit sources and Exchange them for more precious resources!

As long as he continued to improve his strength and firmly guarded the secret of the myriad world mall, perhaps it would not take long for the hidden weapons sect to become famous all over the world!

Tang Zhen looked at the young sect leader as he left. A trace of a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

Greed was like a bottomless pit that would never be filled. That young sect leader had already fallen into the trap. As long as he developed according to Tang Zhen's expectations, the Holy Dragon City would have a stable source of income in the future.

Tang Zhen didn't dare to come to a conclusion as to what the young sect leader's world would become, but one thing was certain. This world would fall into the flames of war.

There was no right or wrong. This was the cruelest rule of survival.

...

Chapter 1333

1333 Merchants from loucheng enter the city (1)

After sending off the first dimensional merchant of the myriad world mall, Tang Zhen pondered for a moment and set a reminder function for the mall to prevent himself from being unable to arrive in time when a new dimensional merchant appeared.

Although the trade fair between the plane merchants charged a handling fee, Tang Zhen did not care about this small amount of money at all. His main purpose was to collect the world's origin through the myriad world mall. Naturally, he had to try his best to trick every plane merchant into participating in the plundering of the world's origin.

Other than that, he also had to build the myriad world mall as soon as possible to create a fiery business atmosphere. Otherwise, when the new dimensional merchants appeared and faced the empty square, they would be suspicious and think that the myriad world mall did not live up to its name.

He had to shock the dimensional merchants and dispel their suspicions. Only then would they be able to carry out their transactions without worry.

This was a business strategy. Although the myriad world mall was special, it could still use this business method.

After opening a cross-dimensional channel in the myriad world mall, Tang Zhen turned on the wrist-guard computer and asked his assistant to gather all the famous merchants in the Holy Dragon City.

In the process of Holy Dragon city's development, a large number of foreign merchants had joined the city. After such a long time, most of them had already obtained the qualifications to become official residents.

Among the millions of residents in the Holy Dragon City, there were tens of thousands of merchants from all walks of life. However, due to the unique nature of the building, the number of merchants was gradually decreasing. Most of the merchants had now changed professions and joined the various departments of the Holy Dragon City.

The rest of the merchants ran restaurants or grocery stores to sell daily necessities for the residents.

In addition, the Holy Dragon City also had a group of official merchants who would engage in commercial activities at any time according to the needs of the Holy Dragon City. They were no longer considered pure merchants.

Hearing the city Lord's call, the merchants did not hesitate at all. They all quickly took the transportation and headed straight to the space TOWER.

It did not take long for the open space in front of the myriad world mall to be filled with merchants from the Holy Dragon City. They all had different looks, but they greeted and chatted in the same language, appearing to be very friendly.

"Everyone, quiet down. The city Lord has something to say!"

Tang Zhen had more than ten assistants. The one in charge of gathering the merchants was a young resident. He was slightly inexperienced and was busy in a short while.

Fortunately, after hearing Tang Zhen's name, these merchants immediately became silent and looked at Tang Zhen, who was standing at the front.

"The purpose of gathering everyone here today is because our Holy Dragon City has built a myriad world mall that can be connected to other planes and trade with those plane merchants.

Although the myriad world mall was only in its early stages and not many dimensional merchants had entered it, as long as it was developed in the long run, it would definitely be able to obtain immeasurable profits.

You're all residents of Holy Dragon City, so I can give you a chance. For the first year, you can enter and operate there for free. Of course, you can also leave at any time, but if you want to enter again, you'll have to pay a certain fee."

After saying this, Tang Zhen pointed behind him and a passage appeared in front of the merchants.

now, everyone can follow me in and take a look. If you have any reasonable suggestions, you can directly raise them!

Upon hearing this, the merchants rushed into the myriad world mall and looked around curiously.

However, they soon discovered that they were standing in an empty square. They could not see the myriad world mall that Tang Zhen had mentioned.

"City Lord, where's the shopping center you mentioned?"

The foreign merchant Huo Lu, who was the first to join the Holy Dragon City, asked in a slightly puzzled tone. He was wearing a strange-looking fiery-red tuxedo.

this is the myriad world mall, but it's only in its early stages, so it's not very big. When it's completed, the area will be thousands of times larger than it is now!

Tang Zhen explained to the merchants. At the same time, he pointed to the empty space in front of him and said, tell me what kind of shop you want. I can give you a copy at any time!

When the merchants heard this, they immediately began to discuss among themselves. After more than ten minutes, fire Lu and the other merchant representatives told Tang Zhen the results of the discussion.

city Lord, we think that since the myriad world mall represents the face of our Holy Dragon City and will face many dimensional merchants in the future, it must be luxurious and high-end. At the same time, it must be combined with technology. It's very shocking at first glance," the man said.

Tang Zhen nodded his head. At the same time, he was pondering about a suitable design plan in his heart.

What Huo Lu and the others said made sense, and Tang Zhen naturally adopted it. After thinking for a moment, the square was immediately filled with glowing lines that were filled with sci-fi colors, causing the entire square to be brightly lit. At the same time, many two-story buildings were erected from the ground.

A few decorative landscapes also appeared. A fountain inlaid with seven-colored gemstones and sculptures made of gold and Jade undoubtedly showed the style of a local tyrant.

In the blink of an eye, the originally empty square was filled to the brim. Rows of buildings were separated by wide streets. These metal buildings were about 300 square meters in area, and their appearance was full of sci-fi style, making people feel as if they were in a space warship.

you can choose your own shop, and then choose the decoration style through the system of the mall. Of course, you will need to pay a certain amount of mall coins, which can be exchanged with brain beads and origin stones.

The transformation just now had completely exhausted the world's origin source that he had earned from the first transaction, causing Tang Zhen's heart to ache.

Since this group of residents wanted to do business here, then he would naturally have to bear the expenses in the later stages. Tang Zhen would not do a business that would ultimately pay but not gain any benefits.

After getting Tang Zhen's permission, Huo Lu and the others immediately went into the shops. They looked around the shops that they had conjured and pondered about how to renovate them.

Since Tang Zhen had given them benefits for the residents, the merchants naturally wouldn't miss it. Even if the business was not doing well in the initial stage, it wouldn't be a problem. As long as they persevered, their future prospects would definitely be extremely bright.

The interior decoration was actually very simple. As long as one paid the corresponding mall currency, the myriad world mall would present the interior decoration style that the shop owner wanted. Whether it was sci-fi or retro, it could be completed with one click!

The myriad world mall's magic was far more than this.

In order to ensure the fairness of the myriad world mall and the interests of the dimensional merchants, even Tang Zhen could not forcefully enter the world where the dimensional merchants lived unless he was truly recognized by the dimensional merchants. This was one of the iron laws of the myriad world mall.

Of course, Tang Zhen would not do something like killing the chicken to get the eggs. Once he really did such an act and accidentally exposed it, it would definitely destroy his own reputation.

At the same time, the myriad world mall could also monitor the transaction process at all times. It was impossible to deceive or Rob people here. If someone robbed a certain item, it was absolutely impossible for him to leave the myriad world mall. This was to ensure that the merchant would not suffer any losses as much as possible.

He didn't know who had created this thing, but it seemed to be designed for cross-plane transactions, and its various functions were quite comprehensive.

Other than the basic functions, as the myriad world mall continued to upgrade, more and more functions would appear, and Tang Zhen would have to slowly explore them.

In addition, as the scale of the myriad world mall continued to expand, there would be more and more things to deal with. If Tang Zhen did not have the time to manage these things, he could place something similar to a super biological brain and let it be in charge of the daily work of the myriad world mall.

Of course, Tang Zhen would not completely let go of his supervision in order to prevent the occurrence of the Super biological brain betraying others.

Tang Zhen went around the shops one by one. He discussed with the merchants how to renovate and operate the shops, and how to price the goods for sale. It took nearly a day.

During this period, goods were constantly sent into the space TOWER and placed in their respective shops. As long as there were customers, they could immediately open for business.

Chapter 1334

1334 Tourists from the original world (1)

From now on, the myriad world mall was officially open for business.

The appearance of plane merchants could make the products of the mall more comprehensive and diverse, and the presence of building merchants could make the mall more lively. The only thing they lacked now was customers.

If a shopping center lacked customers, it would not be called a shopping center. Could it be that all the items were traded between merchants?

In fact, this wasn't impossible. However, if that was the case, Tang Zhen would undoubtedly lose a considerable amount of profit. No one would be against money. Tang Zhen was naturally the same!

Tang Zhen had some ideas on how to solve the customer source problem.

The residents of the Holy Dragon City were naturally their first choice of customers. However, their purchasing power was limited because the products produced by the Holy Dragon City were not very attractive to them. Therefore, it was necessary to develop more sources of customers.

Tang Zhen's first target was the original world. To Holy Dragon City, whose Soul transmission technology was becoming more and more advanced, as long as there were enough hosts, it would be effortless to even transmit a million people every day.

If it was just to let the transmigrators from the original world visit the myriad world mall, there was no need to prepare a host body for them, because the myriad world mall itself could conjure a temporary body for them, and when the tourists left, they would disappear.

Due to the existence of the soul, the energy consumption of this materialization process was extremely low. He only needed to cover the soul with a thin layer of energy. Even if there were millions of tourists coming every day, Tang Zhen would be able to completely withstand this consumption.

Moreover, in the current original world, there were more and more people who wanted to visit the world of loucheng. However, due to the many restrictions of soul teleportation, as long as it was for the military or their partners, many people could not fulfill this wish.

The war in the dream world had given the ordinary people of the original world a chance to travel to another world. Although it was only their souls, they could still feel the reality, which made the travelers excited.

Information about the dream world could be found everywhere on the internet, and related movies and animations had also appeared one after another, which made the original world's residents who were not involved in it excited.

Under such circumstances, more and more humans from the original world wanted to travel to the other world, but unfortunately, there was no suitable opportunity.

The development of the Holy Dragon City was inseparable from the original world. Tang Zhen had never neglected the contact with the original world. He would naturally consider the requests of the ordinary people carefully.

At present, the myriad world mall needed a large number of tourists. Tang Zhen naturally wanted to take advantage of the situation and give the original world's residents a chance to tour the other world!

.....

In just one night, a piece of news spread all over the world.

The Holy Dragon Corporation had finally launched an Otherworld tour, which included a three-day tour of the Holy Dragon City, a one-day tour of the myriad world mall, and so on. One only needed a Soul transmission device to participate.

However, because there were too many people who signed up, they could only draw at random, and it was entirely up to luck whether they could get it.

As soon as the news spread, the number of people who signed up for the website broke 100 million in a short time. It was obvious that the ordinary people had been waiting for a long time, and the enthusiasm that erupted was unbelievable.

In just two days, the first batch of candidates was announced. There were a total of ten thousand original world residents, and they only needed to activate the soul teleportation device at the specified time.

Fang ning was an ordinary employee of a technology company. The day before yesterday, when he found out that the Holy Dragon Corporation was launching an Otherworld tour project, he signed up immediately and waited expectantly for the list to be announced, hoping that he would have a chance to be selected.

He had participated in the battle in the dream world, but he had never been to the tower world, so he felt a little regretful.

When the list was announced, Fang ning saw his name on the list of the day trip to the myriad world mall as he had wished. He immediately shouted in excitement.

His colleagues at work were shocked, and the boss happened to be at the scene, making Fang ning extremely embarrassed.

He was indeed in the wrong, so under the watchful eyes of his boss and colleagues, Fang ning had no choice but to reveal the reason why he had lost his composure and shouted. His heart was filled with apprehension.

Then, he noticed that his boss and his colleagues' gazes became strange, as if they were filled with unwillingness and envy.

"My luck is pretty good. I should go home early and prepare!"

The boss patted Fang ning's shoulder, then used Fang ning's computer to check his own name before turning around and leaving in disappointment.

After the boss left, his colleagues all gathered around him and congratulated him with envious faces. At the same time, they complained that they were not selected.

After returning home in high spirits, Fang ning estimated the time and put on the soul teleportation helmet. He then lay on his bed and waited for the teleportation to begin.

As soon as the time was up, Fang ning felt as if his soul had left his body and entered a long and narrow passage. However, this feeling only lasted for a moment before he found himself in a huge space full of sci-fi colors.

On both sides of the road, there were shops with strange styles. Merchants of all kinds were sizing them up, as if they didn't care about their appearance.

He was surrounded by other transmigrators who were as curious as him. They looked around, not knowing where they were.

welcome to the myriad world mall. There is a wide variety of products here. If you want to buy, you need to exchange for mall coins. When you return to your original world, go to the designated place to collect your Kasaya.

After listening to the introduction, Fang ning immediately ran to an exchange machine on the side of the road to check how much his savings could be exchanged for.

After that, Fang ning realized that he was actually a poor man.

The market currency of the myriad world mall was extremely valuable. The exchange rate of one market currency was 100000 Alliance dollars, and that was the exchange rate after the discount for tourists from the original world.

Fang ning hesitated for a long time, but he still did not dare to exchange for it. Instead, he decided to wait and see.

Most of the tourists made the same choice as Fang ning. After all, this was not a small sum of money, and no one would easily take it out to exchange.

The Holy Dragon City had obviously considered this problem, so tourists could exchange for a small currency at a one-to-ten ratio, which could be used to buy some common items in the world of loucheng.

In fact, because the value of many goods was too high, Tang Zhen did not expect these tourists from the original world to purchase here. The main purpose was just to increase some popularity.

However, as the number of tourists increased, especially when the tourists realized that the goods sold in the myriad world mall were precious, there would definitely be rich people coming here to sweep up the goods, or the situation of letting tourists buy on their behalf would appear.

In the following time, the tourists began to wander around the shops in the mall, their faces full of curiosity. Especially when they understood the uniqueness of the goods, all of them had the desire to buy them.

Unfortunately, most of the products were very expensive, easily costing tens to hundreds of mall dollars, and ordinary people could not afford them.

Of course, there were also rich people who mixed in and bought precious items like they were dirt. One must know that there was no such good opportunity in the original world, even if they had money!

No one noticed that a man in a cloak was mixed in the crowd, looking at the lively scene in front of him with a shocked face.

Chapter 1335

1335 Returning customers and the miraculous Great Wall

“This is the real myriad world mall. I didn’t expect it to be so lively!”

The first merchant of the myriad world mall came again, just in time for the arrival of the transmigrators from the original world. When he saw the endless stream of people on the street, he finally confirmed that this place was worthy of its name.

The sci-fi style decorations dazzled the young sect leader even more. He stood there for a long time before he came back to his senses.

Looking at the wide variety of products in the shop, a trace of confidence flashed in the young sect leader’s eyes. He began to choose the items he needed in the shop.

The young sect leader’s figure wasn’t conspicuous in the crowd, so no one knew that he was a plane merchant.

When he passed by a shop, a trace of joy appeared on his face, and he entered it without hesitation.

This was a shop that sold weapons. The weapons from the original world and the Holy Dragon City were placed on the shelves, and they were very conspicuous under the light.

The Holy Dragon city’s weapon business had always been monopolized by the government. It was the same for the shops in the myriad world mall. If other dimensional merchants wanted to sell weapons, they had to pay a very High Commission.

As soon as the young sect leader entered the door, he saw the firearms he needed. The purpose of his visit this time was to buy a batch of them.

This weapon had given him a taste of its sweetness. Powerful enemies could not even withstand a single blow from this weapon. In less than half an hour, he had completely annihilated an enemy who had tried to seize their sect. At the same time, he had pursued his victory and razed the enemy’s sect to the ground!

At this time, his storage ring contained a portion of the world’s origin that he had just plundered. He would use it to exchange for mall coins later and prepare to buy another batch of weapons to store in case of an accident that prevented him from entering the myriad world mall.

After seeing the young sect leader, the Holy Dragon City residents in the shop greeted him and began to introduce the various products in the shop.

After listening to the shop owner's explanation and watching the video demonstration, the young sect leader already had an idea in his heart. However, he still followed the shop owner's instructions and went to the exchange machine to exchange for city currency.

There was someone operating the exchange machine on the side of the street, but his expression was very hesitant, and he did not choose to exchange.

"Brother, if you're not in a hurry, can you let me go first?"

The young sect leader was indeed very anxious, because he still had to plan an operation. Before the news spread, he had to launch an attack on another enemy.

"Oh, then you go first!"

Fang ning looked at the tourist behind him who had deliberately covered his face, and moved to the side to make way for him. At the same time, he inadvertently glanced at him.

"Damn, he's a tycoon!"

Looking at the long string of numbers, Fang ning rubbed his eyes and finally confirmed that this guy had exchanged two million mall coins!

Based on the exchange rate of One Mall dollar to 100000 Alliance dollars, two million dollars was equivalent to a large sum of money.

Fang ning felt a slight headache. Was it 10 billion?

What was that shiny thing? why was it so valuable?

The young sect leader glanced at this guy who was making a fuss and returned to the shop, ready to continue his shopping.

tycoon, do you lack any pendants on your legs? I'm waiting to be summoned!

Fang ning said jokingly. He then continued to wonder if he should exchange a few coins to buy the same item that he had seen.

"Brother, how much do you know about the weapons in that shop?"

Hearing the voice behind him, Fang ning turned around and saw the rich man from earlier standing behind him.

are you talking about those guns and weapons? of course, I know about them. I'm a true fan of the military and I've even participated in the war in the dream world!

Fang ning sighed after he finished speaking and said to the young sect leader, " those weapons aren't sold to tourists from the original world. You can just take a look. Speaking of which, you're so rich, haven't you come into contact with these things before? "

Until now, Fang ning still treated the other party as a tourist from the original world.

The young sect leader naturally did not understand what Fang ning was saying, but he was very interested in the war. After asking a few questions, he finally understood that this was a war that used firearms and weapons, and the number of participants on both sides had exceeded ten million!

Listening to Fang ning's description of the scene, the young sect leader's breathing became slightly rapid. He seemed to have understood how he could realize his dream.

if I have these weapons, how should I fight with the enemy? most of the weapons they use are swords, bows, and crossbows. Some of the stronger cultivators even have to use their weapons.

The young sect leader asked Fang ning after some thought.

"That's easy. Listen to me, Yingluo."

Having participated in the war in the dream world and loved to discuss military affairs online, the question of the young sect leader immediately piqued Fang ning's interest. He did not even bother to shop and immediately started talking non-stop.

The young sect leader listened from the side, and the light in his eyes grew brighter and brighter.

"Come with me and help me choose a weapon!"

After Fang ning finished his explanation, the young sect leader dragged him into the shop without any explanation. Then, they followed Fang ning's instructions and bought a lot of weapons and equipment.

In addition to these weapons, the young sect leader also bought a ring with a larger storage space to store these weapons and equipment.

Before he left, the young sect leader took out a hundred coins and stuffed them into Fang ning's pocket.

Fang ning was stunned. A hundred coins were equivalent to ten million Asian Alliance dollars, but he did not expect the other party to give it to him just like that!

"Brother, I hope we will meet again if fate allows it!"

The young sect leader did not wait for Fang ning to speak. He waved at him and left the myriad world mall.

Fang ning looked at the spot where the young sect leader had disappeared and suddenly grinned.

.....

When the young sect leader appeared, Tang Zhen had already received the notification and knew the list of items he had bought.

The long list of weapons and ammunition was enough to prove that the young sect leader had embarked on the journey of using firearms to dominate the other world as he had hoped, and had received generous rewards from the beginning.

He had also exchanged for the world's origin this time. The amount was much more than the last time, and it was likely that he had plundered it.

Tang Zhen was naturally very happy that he had a stable channel to harvest the world's origin. At the same time, he was also full of anticipation for the appearance of the next plane merchant.

However, when his eyes fell on the holographic screen in front of him, his brows furrowed slightly. His fingers kept tapping on the solid wood table, as if he was thinking about something.

The screen showed a desolate area. The ground was covered in gray fog, and a large number of corpses were scattered among the gravel. If one looked carefully, they could see black shadows flashing through the fog from time to time.

&Nbsp; this was the death barrier that white tooth had mentioned. After investigation, it was confirmed that there was a huge wall separating this place from rich land. The death barrier was built on the wall and was tens of kilometers wide!

...

When the drones approached the city wall to investigate, they were affected by a special force field. Not only were the images unable to be transmitted back successfully, but the drones also lost control and fell one after another. It seemed that there was a no-fly measure.

This was definitely a shocking amount of money. However, since the other party could extract all the origin power of the entire forsaken land, it was not surprising that they could build a great wall that could be called a miracle.

To figure out the secret of the fog and the giant city wall, it was obviously impossible to do it with drones alone. The Holy Dragon City cultivators had to go and investigate it personally.

A team led by three king level cultivators and 20 Lord level cultivators was heading toward the death barrier. According to their calculations, they should have arrived at their destination by now.

Tang Zhen only needed to quietly wait. It was likely that he would be able to receive the information he wanted in a short period of time.

Chapter 1336

1336 The investigation inside the death barrier

A small flying device slowly landed in the Rocky valley.

More than twenty Holy Dragon City cultivators in black cloaks filed out. After arranging their equipment, everyone headed straight for the death barrier.

The aircraft activated its stealth function and stayed where it was, waiting for support.

On the desolate land, only these twenty or so figures were active. Other than that, there were only grotesque, rugged, strange rocks and decayed bones.

Not long after, they arrived in front of the sinister death barrier.

after the previous investigation, it is determined that the drone will lose control and be destroyed after entering the gray fog, so we can only enter it to investigate it ourselves.

Now we can be sure that there are monsters in the gray fog, but they shouldn't be very strong. We can deal with them easily!"

The leading Holy Dragon City cultivator pulled down the mask on his helmet and entered the gray fog first.

After entering the fog one after another, the cultivators immediately felt a trace of cold aura surrounding them. It was as if it had a life of its own and was trying to burrow into their skin. However, when the fog touched the armor, it immediately bounced off or was absorbed.

If an ordinary person were to come into contact with this gray fog, it would not take long for their body to stiffen and pass out. If they were not treated in time, they would definitely not be able to escape death!

However, to the Holy Dragon City cultivators, this gray fog was nothing in their eyes.

The cultivators' armors were mixed with the anti-demon metal of the space TOWER, which could absorb and repel all kinds of energy attacks. They also wore spirit Jade talismans, so the mist couldn't do any harm to them.

Stepping on the broken bones on the ground, he didn't walk far before a group of wandering zombie monsters appeared in front of him. Their bodies were incomplete, and their tattered and dirty cloth fluttered as they walked.

After discovering the Holy Dragon City cultivators, these zombies let out low growls and immediately swarmed over.

Their speed was very fast, but their movements were extremely stiff. Their skinny hands with black nails stretched forward, and from time to time, they would trip over the stones and then get up again, dizzily locking in on the direction again.

The scene that was originally filled with danger actually gave people a feeling of not knowing whether to laugh or cry.

After seeing the zombies rush over, the Holy Dragon City cultivator at the front waved his hand. Immediately after, a cold light flashed, and dozens of zombies were instantly beheaded, falling to the ground.

ignore the monsters. Speed up!

After hearing the voice from the communication device, the cultivators gave up on attacking the other zombies and continued to move deeper into the fog.

After walking for some distance, rows of gallows appeared in their field of vision. On them were rotten ropes, and on some of the ropes were dried corpses.

These gallows were erected on the side of the road, extending all the way into the depths of the gray fog. Who knew how many there were?

Not far from this row of gallows was a broken town. A large group of zombies was wandering in the town, and there were probably thousands of them.

Other than these zombies, there were also some specters and beast-like monsters hidden in the corners of the town. They were clearly harder to deal with than the zombies.

“Avoid this place. Our target is the city wall.”

They quietly went around the town and continued forward. Soon, they arrived at the remains of a battlefield. The broken remains of weapons were half-covered by the soil and had long decayed.

Armored zombie soldiers and Knights roamed the battlefield. From time to time, the figures of magic-type combatants could be seen, floating in the fog with broken staves.

“Captain, do you want to get two weapons for research?”

Hearing the question from the communicator, the captain hesitated for a moment and denied, “our mission this time is to figure out the situation on the other side of the city wall. We’ll talk about the rest later. For now, we’ll conceal our auras and cross the battlefield immediately!”

He reached out and operated the wrist-guard computer a few times, and these cultivators immediately disappeared from their original spots. Even if they were walking at a high speed, it would be difficult to find their traces.

Apart from their bodies turning invisible, their auras also ceased to exist, as if they had disappeared from this world.

After entering the battlefield, the monsters didn’t notice anything unusual around them. Even if there were high-level monsters that occasionally looked over, they would quickly look away.

The battlefield was huge, and it took the cultivators a lot of time to cross it without any danger.

After crossing the battlefield, more than half of the death barrier had passed.

The rest of the journey was flat, but the number of skeletons kept increasing, especially when they were about to reach the city wall. It was simply a sea of white bones. From time to time, the skeletons of giant beasts appeared, looking like a field of withered trees.

The target of the Holy Dragon City cultivators had already appeared in front of everyone. Its outer wall looked ancient and unusual, covered with slippery moss-like objects, and was about ten stories tall.

There seemed to be an electrical grid under the city wall, but it had rotted away because it had not been maintained for many years.

Every ten kilometers on the city wall, there would be a hexagonal tower with metal objects that looked like eyeballs floating on it. They were staring in the direction of the fog, obviously with monitoring and warning functions.

If one looked closely at the top of the city wall, they would see a layer of energy barrier that seemed to be invisible. It was probably used to defend against enemies from the air.

They hid under the city wall and listened for a while. There seemed to be no sound, as if this was a Dead City.

I'll take a few people up to take a look. You guys stay here to provide support. If the situation doesn't look good, evacuate immediately!

Although the wall was a hundred feet tall, it was nothing to a King level cultivator. After the captain gave the order, he led his three men to slowly approach the wall and easily climbed to the top.

The road above the city wall was about 20 meters wide. It seemed to have not been maintained for a long time, so many places were overgrown with weeds.

Although he didn't see anyone, he was sure that there was someone here because there were wheel tracks on the ground. It had not been more than 24 hours.

After making sure that there was no one around, the captain turned his eyes to the world inside the city wall, and then a field of emerald green came into view.

A huge plain appeared in front of the Holy Dragon City cultivators. Many places were filled with fields. At the same time, they could also see a few villages and a town of considerable size in the distance.

A sense of peace and tranquility constantly shocked everyone's eyes. There were no traces of war at all.

The inside and outside of the city walls were two completely different worlds!

He turned on the camera function and recorded all the scenery inside the city wall. The captain informed his companions at the bottom of the city wall and then quickly moved in the direction of the car with three men.

They also needed to capture two prisoners and bring them back to interrogate them for information about the enemy. After obtaining the preliminary information, they would naturally send people to sneak into the city wall to investigate.

After walking along the city wall for a few kilometers, four soldiers in uniform appeared. They were standing on the city wall and chatting. A strange-looking small vehicle was parked at the side, and on it was a weapon similar to a heavy machine gun.

A few soldiers were carrying firearms-like weapons on their backs and were not aware of the impending crisis.

Just as they were talking and laughing about something, two Holy Dragon City cultivators who were approaching stealthily suddenly attacked. In the blink of an eye, they had taken down the four soldiers.

"Collect all the items and take them away!"

The three cultivators carried the unconscious soldiers to the edge of the city wall and jumped down. The other cultivator put away all the weapons and vehicles in his storage ring and jumped down after them.

...

Carrying the four unconscious soldiers, the Holy Dragon city's cultivators quickly returned the way they came from and disappeared in a short while.

Chapter 1337

1337 The Empire behind the miraculous Great Wall

As if he had just woken up from a long dream, Arthur immediately realized that something was wrong. He realized that he was lying on the ground and not in the military camp.

A scene flashed through his mind. It seemed that he was ambushed when he was leading a patrol team, and then he fell into a coma.

Who had ambushed him? what did the Ambusher want?

The fact that he dared to ambush the soldiers of the Empire's Army showed that he was definitely not an ordinary person. He was not afraid of the Empire's wanted revenge.

Arthur became nervous and confused.

The Great Wall of Miracles had been safe and sound for a hundred years. According to the latest investigation, the Barbarian and demon races outside the borders would be completely wiped out in less than three years, and they would no longer be a threat to the Empire.

The once famous four great armies of the Borderlands had now ceased to exist in name only because of the disappearance of their bows and birds. All that was left was an empty shell, which was most suitable for the children of these families who had some power to gain experience.

As long as he could stay in the industry for five years, he would be able to have a better future with this experience. He would not have to take any risks!

Arthur didn't expect that the miracle Great Wall, which was said to be the safest and most leisurely place, would have such an accident.

He was about to retire in a year, but he was unlucky enough to encounter such an unfortunate event. Arthur was in a mess.

What should he do next? should he continue to pretend to be unconscious and think of a way to escape, or should he take a break?

As his mind was running wild, a cold voice rang in his ears, making Arthur's heart shrink. "Since you're already awake, answer the question obediently. Otherwise, I'll definitely make you wish you were dead!"

Arthur felt a kick and opened his eyes helplessly.

"Who are you? please don't hurt me!"

Arthur looked at the strangers in black armor and full-sealed helmets. Fear rose in his heart, and he shrunk back and shouted.

"Don't worry. As long as you're obedient, you won't suffer."

The captain in charge of scouting squatted down and looked at Arthur. "First, tell me your personal information and the information of the Army you served in. Don't hide anything!"

Arthur stared at the other party's helmet. Although he couldn't see the face behind the mask, he could feel two sharp eyes staring at him, making him feel a slight pain.

"My name is Arthur, and I live in Montenegro County, one of the six northern counties. I'm 25 years old this year and have served for five years. I'm part of the 9th Army of the Border guard, bi an."

Like pouring beans out of a bamboo tube, Arthur revealed all his information and looked at the other party with a nervous expression.

The information he had said was true, but it rarely involved the secrets of the Army. If the other party was an intelligence officer disguised by the Army to test their loyalty, his words would not be able to be used against them.

The flustered Arthur was actually playing a little trick.

The operations team Leader nodded and asked, "What's the total number of people in the ninth Army and their average strength? How's the weapon configuration? Other than you, how many other regiments are there?"

Arthur's heart skipped a beat. This was a sensitive question.

Once he answered the other party's question, it would be equivalent to leaking information and breaking the rules. After the incident, he would definitely be sent to the military court, and the unlucky ones might even be hanged!

"Uh, I'm not very sure!"

Arthur revealed an ugly smile. Then, he felt as if his face had been hit by a stone, and his eyes were full of shining stars.

"This is just a warning!"

The captain of the scouts withdrew his fist and said to Arthur coldly.

Blood flowed from the corner of Arthur's mouth. His face contorted and twitched. He spat at the captain.

"Damn it, you bastards, don't even think about getting anything out of me!"

Arthur roared as he struggled, but he quickly realized that his body was shackled by an invisible force. He slowly floated up from the ground and couldn't move at all!

Although Arthur was an ordinary person without any cultivation, it didn't mean that he was ignorant. After realizing that he was imprisoned by an invisible force, Arthur immediately realized that there were cultivators among the enemies!

In the three great empires, cultivators were high and mighty figures. Commoners rarely had the chance to come into contact with them, but everyone knew about the magical abilities of cultivators.

The ability to control objects through space was one of the means of cultivators, but when it appeared in the hands of the enemy, it meant that things became complicated.

Ordinary enemies and cultivators were completely different. If this matter was known by the military, it would definitely be taken seriously!

Arthur felt that the situation was getting worse, but the situation didn't allow him to think much. Intense pain spread through his body, and he groaned in pain. Within a few seconds, he had wet his pants.

“Bang!”

His suspended body fell to the ground. Arthur's body was twisted into a ball, twitching from time to time. He seemed to be in great pain.

“If you don't cooperate, I guarantee that you will suffer ten times more pain!”

The captain's voice was cold and emotionless. Arthur couldn't help but tremble. His heart was already filled with despair.

In the bright and spacious meeting room, the team leader who participated in the investigation was talking about the information he had just obtained. “The miracle Great Wall that separates the forsaken land belongs to three great empires, namely the blazing flame Empire, the Eternal Empire, and the radiant Empire. Our section of the wall is facing the blazing flame Empire!

The total population of the blazing flame Empire had already exceeded 100 million. There were mages in the country, and the level of technology was in the enhanced version of the steam era.

Other than the three great empires behind the city walls, there were two other empires on the continent: the Morning Star Empire and the Alliance of the grassland tribes. These two empires were controlled by the star Race and the beastmen race, who were known as the children of nature, respectively. They had a cold relationship with the three great empires.

A hundred years ago, the Barbarian race and the demon race had joined forces to invade the three great empires. After the defeat, the three great empires built the miraculous Great Wall and imprisoned all the Barbarian and demon race here!

As the demon and barbarian races were on the verge of extinction, the three great empires had gradually relaxed their defenses here. Currently, there are less than ten thousand troops stationed on the Great Wall of Miracles of the blazing flame Empire,”

After explaining the information he had so far, the captain of the investigation team sat on a chair at the side.

“That's all the information we have. It's obvious that the three empires are very powerful. We may be able to defeat one of them with our current strength, but we may not be able to withstand the joint attack of the three empires!

Therefore, the invasion of the three empires could be put on hold for the time being, but the intelligence gathering must continue. Someone would be in charge of this matter, and they must ensure that the true strength of the three empires was clear.

As for the Morning Star Empire and the Alliance of the grassland tribes, we also need to send people to investigate. If possible, we can develop them into our allies and help us attack the three empires at the critical moment!”

After Tang Zhen finished speaking, the other residents also began to express their opinions. They discussed for a long time before leaving.

In less than half a day, Arthur and the other three reappeared on the Great Wall of Miracles. However, no one would have thought that they were actually Holy Dragon City cultivators wearing human-skinned masks in disguise.

Chapter 1338

1338 Environmental transformation and immigration plan _1

The silver plane whizzed past the wilderness, and bags of grass seeds were scattered on the barren land.

These grass seeds were all fine pasture seeds from the original world and had a strong vitality. In addition to being used to make the environment green, they could also provide rich fodder for the warhorses.

In addition to scattering the grass seeds, some special trees were also planted in designated areas. Under the growth of the origin Energy, these trees would soon become a dense forest!

This situation seemed inconceivable, but for the world’s origin that could create life, growing plants was just a waste of talent.

When the last plane landed in the Holy Dragon City, the runic magic circle that was added with the world’s origin was activated. A strange power full of vitality spread in all directions, echoing with the runic tower in the distance.

The first to be affected by this power were the dark clouds in the sky that had not dispersed for a long time. A large amount of water vapor began to appear inside the dust-like object, and the dark clouds became heavier and looked like they were about to fall.

It didn’t take long for lightning to appear in the thick dark clouds. The rumbling Thunder resounded through the wilderness as if it was going to explode the sky.

The demon barbarian survivors gathered by the Holy Dragon City were shocked. They cowered in their tents and looked at the sky in fear, thinking that the end was coming.

A hundred years of imprisonment and killing had completely destroyed the civilization of the demon and barbarian races. These survivors who were struggling on their last breath didn’t even know some basic knowledge.

In fact, they couldn’t be blamed for this. Since the day they were born, there had never been any rain or lightning on this land. Therefore, when this kind of weather appeared, the demon barbarian survivors subconsciously regarded it as some kind of disaster.

The lightning not only frightened the demon barbarian survivors that Holy Dragon City had gathered, but it also alarmed some existences hidden underground.

When the Thunder rumbled, in some secret location in the forsaken land, a few mysterious people came to the ground one after another. They looked in the direction of the Thunder in unison, their eyes flashing with an inexplicable light.

At this time, the Thunder was still rumbling. Under the terrified prayers of the demon barbarian survivors, drops of rain began to fall in the forsaken land that had not rained for many years.

The rain became more and more concentrated, moistening the barren land. The demon barbarian survivors looked at the rain that was like a curtain of beads, dumbfounded. They didn't expect that the terrifying lightning would bring such a thing!

In the past, they had to dig the ground and put in a lot of effort before they could get a portion of the precious muddy water. But at this moment, there was endless rain pouring down.

After a moment of shock, the demon barbarian survivors rushed out of the tents with excitement on their faces. They ran and shouted in the rain. Some people knelt on the ground and prayed. Their tears mixed with the rain and washed away the dirt on their bodies.

The torrential rain had nourished their souls. Their dry eye sockets shone with the light of hope. When they turned to look at Holy Dragon City in the rain, they were filled with respect and gratitude.

It was Holy Dragon city's timely appearance that saved the demon and barbarian tribes that were on the verge of extinction.

When the storm stopped, the dark clouds in the sky quickly dispersed, and the sun shone on the ground again. A brilliant rainbow stretched across the sky, making the Holy Dragon City, which had been washed by the rain, look even more majestic.

With seeds and an adequate water source, the conditions to change the wilderness were sufficient.

The runic tower within a thousand miles glowed once again. The scattered grass seeds rapidly sprouted and took root under the catalysis of the origin Energy. After only one night, the earth was covered in a layer of new green.

It wouldn't take long for these newly grown green grass to completely cover the earth, and the once desolate land would no longer exist.

The environmental transformation project had come to an end, and another important work was in progress.

Just as the Holy Dragon City and the original world's plane coordinates were set, the impatient partners immediately took action. After a discussion, they began a new round of large-scale teleportation.

There were a total of 300000 transmigrators in this batch. Most of them had lived in the wilderness for a long time. They were the first choice for the development of the land of no king since they had rich experience.

As the soul teleportation array in the back of the valley operated at high speed, batches of transmigrators from the original world descended one after another. They did not stay in Holy Dragon City for too long and began to advance into the depths of the wilderness.

To their partners, even the barren wilderness had immeasurable value. Not to mention that this was only the beginning. There would still be a large piece of land waiting for them to develop in the future.

Since the appearance of the Holy Dragon City, the desire to colonize other worlds in the original world had become stronger. Even though they had suffered a setback in the savage war zone, their enthusiasm had not diminished.

This time, the transmigrators were from different countries. As the pioneers of the development of the other world, they would build their own bases in the shortest time possible.

If they wanted to develop the other world, these people were far from enough. However, the Holy Dragon City had a limited number of hosts. This teleportation had exhausted all their reserves. It was impossible for Tang Zhen to waste a large amount of resources to do this.

There had always been a solution to this problem, and that was to open a plane channel through the main control platform, allowing the residents of the original world to enter in batches.

Crossing the plane's channel was only a matter of an instant. At that time, not to mention hundreds of thousands, even millions of transmigrators would enter at the same time without a problem.

If it was in the world of loucheng, this method would definitely not work, because the traveler would be affected by the power of the law and could turn into a monster at any time.

However, this situation would not occur in the land of no king. Therefore, opening the plane channel was the best choice. However, this process would consume the world's origin. It was fine if it was opened once or twice, but Tang Zhen could not bear this consumption if it was opened frequently.

Therefore, the partners had already begun to move, gathering all the original world residents who intended to migrate to the other world. After the plane channel officially opened, they would use the fastest time to send the original world residents to the other world!

It was said that there were many applicants in the original world, and people were full of anticipation for a new world.

The problem of teleportation had been solved, but there was still a lot of work to be done, such as the teleportation of supplies and the prevention of diseases, which all needed to be prepared in advance.

Moreover, compared to host bodies, the physical fitness of the original world's residents was too weak, and it was still unknown whether they could adapt to the environment of another world. If some kind of virus spread among the original world's immigrants and could not be effectively controlled, it would definitely be a terrible disaster.

In order to prevent this from happening, the immigrants from the original world would take medicine and wear special protective clothing before entering the other world. They could only take them off after confirming that there was no danger.

Although there were all kinds of risks, in the face of the dream of colonizing other worlds, these were not problems at all.

Chapter 1339

1339 The migration begins (1)

In the original world, somewhere in the Asian Alliance.

In the quiet mountain village, an off-road vehicle slowly drove over and finally stopped in front of a slightly old red brick house.

The car door opened, and three young men came out. One of them, who was wearing a vest, got out of the car and greeted a middle-aged man who was looking at a shovel and planning to work in the field with a smile.

“Dad, I’m back!”

The middle-aged man was stunned for a moment, and only then did he realize that the young man was actually his son.

“Wei! You little brat, I haven’t seen you change so much in a year!”

Patting his son’s thick arms, the Father’s face was full of smiles.

“Then they’re Yingluo.”

The Father looked at the other two young men and asked his son with a smile.

they were my former comrades. They heard that I was going home, so they drove me there.

“Is that so? then hurry up and come in.”

The Father quickly called out to his son’s friends and pulled his son into the courtyard.

“My child’s mother, look who’s back!”

The mother, who was drying the clothes, also saw her son at this time. Her face was filled with a happy smile, and she hurried forward to show her concern.

The young man’s two friends didn’t go into the house. They sat under the fruit tree in the yard, while Wei pulled his parents into the house.

His parents were confused, but they didn’t say anything.

After returning to the house, they chatted for a while. Wei hesitated for a moment, then said to his smiling parents, “ dad, mom, I’m planning to migrate to another world with my friends. I’d like to come back and hear your opinions.

Upon hearing his son’s words, his parents, who were originally smiling, were immediately stunned. Then, his mother immediately said, “ No, definitely not!”

“Mom, why can’t I?”

I’ve seen it on my phone before. Monsters from the other world are everywhere. I heard that many people died last time and hundreds of billions of money were lost.

The mother’s expression became uglier as she spoke, and she was determined not to let her son go to the other world.

His father didn't say anything. He just lowered his head and smoked, one cigarette after another.

Wei had expected this to happen before he came back, so he just listened quietly to his mother's words and didn't talk back.

The mother spoke for a long time, but when she saw that her son still did not speak, she could not help but sigh in her heart.

His child had been working outside for the past two years, so he must have known more about the other world than him. He must have made up his mind long ago.

The Father threw away the cigarette in his hand and asked in a calm tone, "First, tell me what's going on with this migration?"

"This is an immigration plan jointly launched by the Alliance and the Holy Dragon Corporation. The total number of people in our Asian Alliance is 500000. After migrating, not only will we have houses and land, but the salary will also be five times that of the original world.

Moreover, the place of migration this time was not the world of loucheng, but a new world. It was not like the world of loucheng where monsters were everywhere, and the Army was stationed nearby, so there was no need to worry about danger.

To put it bluntly, we're just going to the other world to farm, graze, and develop mineral resources. There's no difference from the original world."

At this point, the young man looked at his parents and said in a very serious tone, "The competition outside is very fierce now. With my conditions, it's impossible for me to have much development. Only by going to the other world can I have a better future.

I heard that the environment in the other world is especially suitable for health care. The experts have said that as long as you continue to live in the other world, you can live for at least 150 years!"

Seeing their son's happy face, the old couple looked at each other and sighed in their hearts.

.....

After convincing his parents, Wei and his two friends went straight to the provincial government to prepare for the second step of the interview.

The three of them had already signed up online before this, and they had each convinced their families to ensure that they would not have any worries when migrating.

When they arrived at the destination, as the three expected, the venue was packed with people waiting for the interview. Most of them were young people, and they were the most enthusiastic about migrating to another world.

During the process of waiting, everyone kept talking and was full of anticipation for the life after the migration.

Time passed by slowly. Wei and his two friends finished their interviews and waited for the next notification.

After waiting anxiously for two days, the three of them received a call. All of them were lucky enough to pass the interview and immediately began the half-month training.

In the closed training camp, the immigrants who passed the interview not only had to undergo all kinds of training, but they also had to take special drugs and learn simple weapon operations. Every day was busy and fulfilling.

When the half-month training was over, Wei and his friends took the train and went straight to the grasslands.

When they arrived at their destination, Wei and the others were stunned by the scene in front of them. Temporary tents were set up all over the boundless grassland, and countless vehicles were lined up neatly. It looked like a great wall of steel.

From the outside, it was obvious that these were freshly manufactured cars, loaded with all kinds of supplies. There were also soldiers holding guns standing guard at the side, preventing anyone unrelated from approaching.

There were several areas on both sides of the car, and the immigrants from different alliances were led into them. Wei and the others entered the temporary residential area belonging to the Asian Alliance, waiting for the last moment.

From the moment they arrived at the grassland, the sound of cars and planes had never stopped, even in the middle of the night. It was so noisy that it was difficult to sleep.

On the morning of the third day, Xiaowei was woken up by a series of screams. When he rushed out of the tent in a hurry, he was once again stunned by the scene in front of him.

In the distant grassland, a huge vortex appeared out of thin air, making people unable to look away.

Through the center of the vortex, a completely different world could be seen. On the green grass, there were shadows of people moving, as if they were also looking at the original world.

There was no doubt that this was the plane's channel. As long as they crossed the vortex, the immigrants would officially arrive in the other world.

Screams and cheers came one after another. Many people tried to rush to the transmission channel, but with the warnings of the soldiers on the ground and the armed helicopters in the air, the chaotic scene was quickly brought under control.

It didn't take long for Wei and the others to receive a notice. They were told to bring their belongings and follow the convoy.

With an order, the long line of vehicles started at the same time. Even though they were driven by electricity, the thunderous noise still converged, making it impossible for people to hear any other sound.

However, no one cared about the noise at the moment. All the immigrants were staring at the plane channel in front of them, watching as they got closer and closer to it.

In addition to the vehicles and people on the ground, there were also a large number of armed helicopters in the air, which would also follow the immigrants to the other world.

...

About ten minutes later, the first row of cars and immigrants entered the plane channel, followed by the second row, and the third row.

At this moment, the entire world's attention was focused here, watching the immigrants who had passed through the plane channel into the other world. The spectators felt a heavy feeling in their hearts.

This batch of immigrants was the pioneer of mankind's colonization of other worlds. It was because of their efforts that mankind could go further and further on the road of the future!

Chapter 1340

1340 The strange Valley (1)

With the influx of immigrants from the original world, the forsaken land suddenly became lively.

From time to time, the figures of immigrants could be seen within a thousand miles of the Holy Dragon City. They used local materials to build buildings at an amazing speed. The wilderness that had been silent for a hundred years burst with vitality again.

This was the frontier base for the immigrants from the original world to develop the other world. With the protection of the Holy Dragon City, the immigrants did not need to worry about encountering danger and quickly adapted to life here.

The Holy Dragon City had also become more and more lively with the arrival of the immigrants. The immigrants would head to the Holy Dragon City whenever they had free time, either to play around in the amazing metal buildings, or to broaden their horizons in the myriad world mall, and then reluctantly return to the camp before sunset.

The residents of the Holy Dragon City were not idle either. They were either responsible for the security of the immigrants or used divine spells to assist in construction. They cooperated with each other and got along very well.

The next morning, Wei walked out of his stone house, ate breakfast, and started a new day of work.

The camp he was at was very far from Holy Dragon City. It was already at the edge of the green area. Less than three kilometers away from them was a barren land.

Looking at the lush grass beneath his feet, Wei was amazed. He remembered that it was a barren land yesterday, but he didn't expect to wake up in the middle of the night to find the ground covered in green plants.

Before he migrated to another world, he would never have dreamed that such a magical thing would happen.

I heard that this was the Holy Dragon city's doing. They used a special method to completely change the appearance of this wilderness!

He had long been curious about the methods of the cultivators in Loucheng, and he had always wanted to see it for himself. Unfortunately, the Holy Dragon City cultivators in their camp were usually serious and kept people at arm's length, so he didn't have the chance to get close to them.

everyone, hurry up. We're going to survey the valley 100 kilometers away today. Remember not to drop anything!

There were about two thousand immigrants in the camp, and about twenty of them went to survey the valley. At the same time, there were five soldiers and one Holy Dragon City cultivator in charge of security.

After the preparations were complete, the five light armored vehicles, powered by electricity, began to speed through the wilderness, straight to the valley in the distance.

Wei and the others' job was to analyze the data from the drones and determine where the mines might be. Then, they would go to the site to survey and collect samples. It was a very difficult job, and they would have to stay in the wilderness for a few days from time to time.

Fortunately, the car they were using was fully functional, so they didn't have to suffer the hardships of sleeping in the open.

After about two hours, the convoy arrived at their destination.

According to the drone's detection, after confirming that there was no danger nearby, five soldiers and a Holy Dragon City cultivator led the way. The rest began to move equipment from the vehicles and worked in an orderly manner.

After about two hours, Wei felt a little thirsty, so he took a sip from the water bottle.

Perhaps because he was stepping on gravel, he was just about to close the kettle when he suddenly lost his balance and fell backward.

"Huala"

After the kettle hit a stone, it fell in front of a dry object. Clear water slowly flowed out of the kettle and was all absorbed by the dry object.

Wei stood up from the ground, rubbing his broken arm as he reached for the water bottle on the ground. Naturally, he saw the item that was absorbing the water.

"What is this?"

Wei was curious, so he kicked it. The thing wriggled.

"F * ck, what the hell is this?"

Wei was shocked. He quickly took a few steps back and used his communicator to call the Holy Dragon City cultivators nearby.

According to the camp's requirements, no matter what abnormal situation you encounter, you must immediately report it to the security personnel. You are absolutely not allowed to deal with it without permission, or you will bear the consequences!

This rule was also to protect the safety of the immigrants. After all, there were all kinds of strange creatures in the other world, many of which even the cultivators in Loucheng City didn't know. If the immigrants came into contact with them carelessly, they might lose their lives!

After receiving the report, the Holy Dragon City cultivator immediately flew into the air and landed beside Xiao Wei in the blink of an eye. This scene made everyone envious.

all of you, stay far away. You're not allowed to come near without my orders!

Seeing that the immigrants had retreated to a safe distance, the Holy Dragon City cultivators drew their battle swords and lifted the stone beside the unknown object.

A pitch-black dried-up object was revealed. The place where it had absorbed the water was only a part of the object.

The Holy Dragon City cultivators were deep in thought. They took out their water bottles and poured water on the object. The water was immediately absorbed.

Upon closer inspection, the spot where the water was poured on looked like a piece of rough skin that was squirming slightly!

After walking a dozen steps to the side, cultivator Lou Cheng kicked the ground a few times. The gravel and soil on the ground disappeared, and the same object was revealed again.

everyone, retreat as far as you can. Hurry up!

The cultivators in Lou Cheng's expression changed. After ordering everyone to retreat, they immediately reported the situation to the Holy Dragon City.

It didn't take long for everyone to retreat three kilometers away. They looked at the mountain peak at a loss, and at the same time, they kept guessing what had happened.

After waiting for less than half an hour, a small warship quickly arrived from the direction of the Holy Dragon City. When the warship stopped, a group of Holy Dragon City cultivators appeared in front of everyone.

Wei's eyesight was pretty good. He immediately saw a familiar figure in the crowd. It was the Holy Dragon City Lord Tang Zhen, who had become a legend in his original world!

"What's in this Valley that even Tang Zhen would come here personally?"

The other immigrants had the same doubts as Wei, and they all stared at the valley, trying to figure out what the secret was.

At the top of the valley, Tang Zhen was staring at the naked object. He took out the purple lightning short sword and gently slashed it.

As he had expected, it was the skin of a giant monster, but it had become like this because of the loss of moisture.

clean the surface. I want to see this guy's true appearance!

At this moment, Tang Zhen's strength was too low. Hence, he was naturally unable to participate in the cleaning up. Hence, after giving the order, he retreated to a safe distance and waited for the results.

After Tang Zhen left, the cultivators of the Holy Dragon City immediately began their cleaning work. After a wave of flying sand and stones, the gravel and soil in the valley were all swept away by the strong wind. Then, a giant monster that was hundreds of meters in size appeared in front of everyone.

From afar, this monster looked like a shriveled orange. Its surface was covered in dust, and its original appearance could not be seen at all.

"Water it, I'm guessing it's thirsty!"

After receiving the order, a Holy master cast a monk's skill, and a large mist enveloped the monster's body.

"BOOM!"

A muffled sound came from the mist. Then, a giant beast's head popped out of the mist and let out a thunderous roar!

...