1351 Heading to Holy Dragon City (1)

After a short fight, the eagle-eyed mage could only surrender.

When he saw that the Holy Dragon City cultivators were merciless and vowed to kill him, he immediately panicked and shouted in surrender.

The forbidden scroll he had hidden had not killed a Lou Cheng cultivator, and his life-saving method had been seen through. Goodman was at his wit's end. He knew that if he continued to resist, he would die.

Under normal circumstances, mages of his status would try their best to keep him alive so that they could obtain more information. After all, the value of a living person far exceeded that of a corpse.

Goodman's guess was right. In a situation where they knew nothing about the three great empires, a bright moon Mage with high authority like him was of great value. That was why the Holy Dragon city's cultivators had been ordered to capture him alive before the war.

Therefore, when Goodman surrendered, the cultivators put away their weapons and subdued him even though the sword was already on his neck.

"Behave yourself, or you'll suffer!"

The leading cultivator warned Goodman and led him to the small battleship in the air.

Goodman let out a sigh of relief, but his eyes glinted. It was unknown what he was planning.

With Goodman captured, the battle officially ended. The Holy Dragon City cultivators burned the bodies on the ground, then jumped onto the broken armed airship and ordered the other party to fly to the Holy Dragon City.

The swordsmen of the three empires on the armed airships were all well-behaved, and now that their mages had been captured, they naturally chose to surrender.

Even if there were some who were unwilling, in the face of the Holy Dragon city's cultivators who were as fierce as wolves and tigers, these high-level swordsmen of the Empire who had always prided themselves on their bravery did not dare to act rashly.

Firstly, they were not as strong as the other party. Secondly, they did not have the ability to fly. If they angered the Holy Dragon City, the other party only needed to fire a cannon and the armed airship would be shot down from the sky.

The high-level swordsmen who were caught in it would probably be smashed into a pile of meat patties!

As the aircrafts in the sky retreated, the battlefield regained its calm. Only the terrifying deep pit on the ground proved that a fierce battle had taken place here!

A long journey would eventually come to an end. Without realizing it, everyone was getting closer and closer to the Holy Dragon City.

In the command cabin of the small warship, other than the staff in charge of operating the warship, mage Sean and the other two were also sitting there. They were not imprisoned in narrow cells like the other mages.

The leader of this operation was chatting with mage Sean and the other two. In addition to him, there were ten King level cultivators sitting next to him, silently refining their spirit power.

Although they had surrendered and were captured, the three of them didn't panic at all. They were still talking to the king-level cultivator.

Even wizard Goodman, who had fought a great battle with the cultivators of Holy Dragon City, was calm and collected at the moment. His every move revealed the elegant bearing and knowledge of a bright moon Wizard.

On the battlefield, you could fight to the death, but if you sat together, both sides could still calmly talk and laugh.

Regardless of whether the other party was doing it on purpose or not, just based on the performance of the three bright moon mages, the king level cultivator leading the group more or less stopped looking down on them, and his speech and mannerisms were more like that of a general.

The three bright moon mages were secretly amazed by the strength and cultivation of the Holy Dragon city's cultivators. At this moment, they were certain that the Holy Dragon City had nothing to do with the Morning Star Empire and the Beastman Alliance.

The question was, where did these powerful cultivators come from?

Just as the question surfaced in their minds again, the image projected inside the battleship suddenly showed a boundless green field. The people who were tired of looking at the stone wasteland couldn't help but be shocked.

However, the expressions of Goodman and the other two changed. When they looked at each other, their eyes were full of surprise.

"This is Yingluo?"

Mage Sean frowned as he stared at the lush wild vegetation. He then turned to the king-ranked cultivator and said with a trembling voice, "Could these plants have been nourished by the blood of the earth? I can definitely tell!"

The eyes of Goodman and the Bishop of the radiant Empire flickered. They could tell that the plants were not normal. They were full of vitality!

The leading King level cultivator nodded and said with a smile, Your Excellency's eyesight is quite good. These plants are indeed related to the origin of the world.

"The origin of the world? the name" Pixiu "is quite appropriate!"

Mage Sean muttered in a low voice, his line of sight moving away from the tall runic tower in the distance. He looked at the leading cultivator and said, "To bring life back to such a dead land, your strength and methods are truly amazing. However, have you ever thought about how your actions are different from that of bandits?"

He was naturally referring to the Holy Dragon city's destruction of the altar, and even the possibility of taking the world's origin to nourish this land, giving the plants a strange and exuberant vitality.

In his opinion, the world's origin should belong to the three great empires, and the Holy Dragon city's actions were no different from seizing it by force.

"Sir Sean, do you think that the origin of the land of exile belongs to you?"

The leading cultivator sneered and looked at mage Sean.

The Bishop of the radiant Empire and Goodman looked like they were resting with their eyes closed, but in fact, they were listening attentively.

"Of course it belongs to our three great empires. After the defeat of the demon and barbarian races, this land changed hands. Although the remaining demons and barbarians deserved to die, we still let them live here out of compassion, but that doesn't mean we've given up on this place.

Your current actions are no different from an invasion. Could it be that you wish to start a war with our three great empires?"

The leading King level cultivator sneered and pointed at the ground below the battleship. "Your three great empires claim that this land belongs to you, but have you asked the survivors of the demon and barbarian races? you should know that they are the owners of this land.

Since you've ignored the thoughts of the demon and barbarian races and used this excuse to forcibly occupy the land of exile, why can't my Holy Dragon City follow suit?

If you're not willing, you can send your troops to take it back, and we'll have a good fight!"

After saying that, the king rank cultivator glanced at Sean and the other two with a hint of disdain.

I'm afraid that you're overestimating your abilities. If you dare to offend my Holy Dragon City, then the fate of the demon and barbarian races a hundred years ago will repeat itself on your three empires!

Hearing the leader's words, the hearts of the three shook, and they looked at each other in silence.

If the Holy Dragon City was determined to be the enemy of the three great empires, then the empires that were originally wary of each other would probably have to reconsider their cooperation and deal with this mysterious enemy that had suddenly appeared from the land of exile!

After all, judging from the information they had so far, the other party was definitely a rare and powerful enemy. They had to pay great attention to him!

you sure have a big mouth. You probably don't know the strength of our three empires. Otherwise, you wouldn't be so arrogant!

Goodman snorted and said in a mocking tone, "The Eternal Empire alone has a million soldiers, thousands of armed airships, and no less than a hundred thousand cultivators. This is only the standing-up force.

If war breaks out, the Eternal Empire alone can gather an Army of ten million in a short time. How will Holy Dragon City deal with this?"

What Goodman said wasn't a military secret, and anyone who looked closely would know. He just wanted to dampen the spirit of the leading cultivator.

Since Holy Dragon City was a city, how could it be compared to a huge Empire?

The leading cultivator heard this and laughed disdainfully. He didn't seem to take Goodman's words to heart.

Seeing this scene, the hearts of the three mages sank, and a trace of worry appeared in their eyes.

Chapter 1352

1352 Miracle City in the banished Lands _1

No matter how far a journey was, there would always be an end. After flying a long distance, Holy Dragon City finally appeared in front of everyone.

The first thing that came into view was an endless stretch of metal buildings. They had different styles and were easily tens to hundreds of meters tall. Some buildings were even comparable to mountains.

These metal buildings were divided into different areas according to different styles. Wide and flat roads crisscrossed, and the roads were full of exotic flowers and plants. There was also an endless stream of people going back and forth.

The Holy Dragon City was no longer just filled with humans. Many foreign cultivators had also joined the Holy Dragon City for various reasons, so the residents of the building had long gotten used to it. However, to mage Sean and the others, it was a rare sight.

Of course, the most eye-catching thing was the indestructible metal buildings.

Under Tang Zhen's investment that disregarded the cost, the number of metal construction bugs grew larger and larger. The construction speed of the metal buildings also became faster and faster. They had already begun to take shape.

When they flew past these metal buildings, they could see some strange objects placed on them from time to time. Mage Sean and the others could intuitively conclude that these were definitely special weapons used to defend against air raids.

With flying machines far more powerful than the three empires, the strength of the cultivators could only be stronger. In addition, with the air defense weapons that could be seen everywhere, it would be as difficult as ascending to the sky to attack this place!

Suppressing the shock in their hearts, the three of them looked at the tall buildings in the distance.

They had never heard of such a huge building.

The current Holy Dragon City was no longer the same as it was in the past. Putting aside the auxiliary cities, the main city's area alone was already comparable to a mountain. If it were not for its typical architectural appearance, outsiders would definitely mistake it for a mountain before they could see it clearly.

The area of the City Tower had far exceeded the size of ordinary buildings. This was also one of the characteristics of a City Tower. Those who had never seen it before would naturally be shocked.

At this time, there were also people shuttling back and forth in the inner city. Cultivators in black armor could be seen everywhere, making it unusually lively. Even the Imperial capitals of the three great empires were not as prosperous as this.

Looking at the giant city Tower that stood on the green field, the three of them were dumbfounded. They really couldn't imagine how such a majestic city could appear in a barren land like the banished land.

The small warship carrying the prisoners of war finally stopped at the top of the second auxiliary city. At this time, on the roof of the building that was as large as a giant square, there were already many cultivators waiting quietly, watching the small warship slowly land on the open space.

"The three of you, please follow me. Our city Lord would like to see you,"

The leading cultivator walked off the warship and saluted the other King-level cultivator who had been waiting for a long time. He then turned around and spoke to the three of them.

Mage Sean, who had been curious about Holy Dragon City for a long time, saluted the leading cultivator and bade him farewell. Then, he followed the twenty cultivators from the tower and flew off from the top of the auxiliary city, heading straight for a giant tree in the distance.

In fact, when they first entered the inner city, the three of them had already been attracted by the withered tree. Even though they were Wizards of Hao Yue and had seen many things, they had never seen a huge tree before. Compared to it, ordinary trees were no different from wild grass.

Perhaps only the legendary World Tree could be compared to it, but all three of them knew that the so-called World Tree was just a legend.

But after seeing the withered tree, the three of them had a trace of doubt. Could it be that the legendary World Tree really existed?

When they recalled the various giant buildings they had seen along the way, the three of them became even more curious. They were eager to know the origin of this Holy Dragon City.

In the blink of an eye, everyone had already flown under the giant tree.

A group of men and women in white robes were sitting cross-legged under a withered tree. There were thousands of them in total. They were cultivating with no distractions in their hearts, as if everything in the outside world had nothing to do with them.

After seeing these white-robed cultivators, the hearts of the three mages trembled because they felt a terrifying spiritual force field connected to the withered tree.

Just by getting a little closer, the three of them felt their hearts palpitate. If this spiritual force field attacked them, they probably wouldn't be able to hold on for a few seconds before being crushed into powder by this terrifying spiritual force field!

Behind these white-robed cultivators, a young man in purple armor stood with his hands behind his back. He was looking at the withered tree trunk very seriously.

All of the Holy Dragon city's residents recognized Tang Zhen, but mage Xiao en and the other two had never seen him before. So, when they discovered that this city Lord, who filled them with curiosity, was so young and only third rank, they couldn't help but feel a little surprised.

Even so, the three people's expressions remained unchanged as they secretly observed at the same time.

Ever since they entered Holy Dragon City, all they could see were black-armored cultivators, but there was only one person in purple armor. The three of them didn't need to guess to know that the young man was the city Lord that the cultivators were talking about!

Even if this young man's cultivation was pitifully low, the three of them still didn't dare to underestimate him. Who knew if this was the other party's true strength?

Even if the other party's strength was low, his status as the city Lord and the fact that he could mobilize King level cultivators at will were enough to make mage Sean and the others carefully deal with him.

Following Tang Zhen's gaze, they saw that there was an emerald-green sapling swaying slightly under the withered giant tree. The white-robed cultivators' mental energy field was centered around it, as if they were carefully protecting it!

Sean and the others' eyes flashed. There was even a hint of greed in Goodman's eyes. They knew that this one-meter-tall sapling was definitely extraordinary. It might be a new sprout that had sprouted after the giant tree had withered. If it was really related to the World Tree, its value was immeasurable!

Although the size of the sapling was extremely small compared to the giant tree, it had unlimited potential. With the careful care of so many cultivators, it would grow into a towering tree one day!

No one dared to make a sound and disturb Tang Zhen when they saw his serious face. They could only wait silently by the side.

After a full ten minutes, Tang Zhen slowly opened his eyes and turned to look at the calm-looking Sean and the other two.

"I've made the three of you wait for a long time, please follow me this way!"

Tang Zhen led the way after saying that. After which, everyone passed through the flat grass and headed straight for the lake in front.

No one spoke along the way. They only stopped when they entered a Pavilion in the middle of the lake.

Twenty Lou Cheng cultivators stood guard in the long corridor in the middle of the lake. After Tang Zhen invited mage Xiao en and the other two to sit down, he casually placed some wine and refreshments on the table.

please don't take it to heart if I've been a little slow on the way. This is a special drink from Holy Dragon City. It can effectively increase the strength of one's spiritual power.

Mage Sean and the others picked up the spirit Jade teacup and looked at it with surprise. After drinking it, they couldn't stop praising it.

There were many good things in Holy Dragon City. Just this spirit Jade teacup and special drink alone were worth tens of thousands of gold!

After Tang Zhen sat down, he glanced at the three mages and softly said, I'm sure you've seen the entire Holy Dragon City just now. I wonder what the three of you think of Holy Dragon City? " Goodman's eyes flickered, and the Bishop of the radiant Empire still looked as if he was in a daze. Only mage Sean replied, "You're too kind, city Lord. Since we've chosen to surrender, we naturally have the awareness to surrender. Besides, other than our cultivation being sealed, we've not suffered any grievances.

You asked about our impression of Holy Dragon City, and I can only say that although it was only a quick glance, it was enough to conclude that your side is powerful.

It's for this reason that we chose to surrender. We've embarrassed ourselves in front of the city Lord!"

Tang Zhen nodded. a wise man submits to circumstances. If you choose to resist, I'm afraid you won't have the chance to appreciate the Holy Dragon city's scenery. We won't have the chance to sit down and talk.

Mage Sean nodded, then turned to Tang Zhen,"So, what does the city Lord want to talk about by bringing us here?"

"Naturally, we're talking about the damage the three great empires have done to the demon and barbarian races in the past hundred years, as well as the specific compensation!"

Tang Zhen's words had just fallen when the expressions of the three mages suddenly changed.

Chapter 1353

1353 Taking the initiative to attack _1

Tang Zhen picked up the spirit Jade teacup and took a sip. When he looked at the gloomy-looking mage Xiao en, he appeared calm and composed.

After taking a deep breath, mage Sean said in a serious tone, "Your Excellency must also be clear that war is a type of conflict of interest. The winner enjoys the benefits, and the loser spits his life on the ground. This has never changed since ancient times!

The demon and barbarian races invaded our three great empires a hundred years ago. This was an act of injustice, and it was only natural for them to fail. As for the damage you said to the demon and barbarian races, I'm sorry, but I don't think so.

If we have to talk about damage, it's the damage that the demon and barbarian races have caused to our three great empires. Close to ten million innocent people have been affected by the flames of war, countless people have died, and many prosperous cities have been burned to the ground."

Mage Xiao en looked at Tang Zhen, his tone had a faint reproachful tone, they did such a thing. Don't they know what's right and proper for them to be punished? "

On the side, Goodman secretly laughed, thinking that this mage Sean's temper was still the same as before. He would definitely be the first to speak when he encountered this kind of situation.

He just had to keep his mouth shut and watch the situation develop. If there was a chance, he would immediately escape from here!

However, when he thought of the Holy Dragon city's impregnable defense system and the cultivators in the city everywhere, he felt a little irritated and couldn't help but curse.

Tang Zhen by the side smiled and shook his head. He softly said,"No matter how the war started, the victims were the people of both sides. The three empires suffered losses, but what about the demon and barbarian races?

But why did you forcefully imprison the remnants of the demon and barbarian races after you won, and at the same time, secretly extract the natural source of the land of exile?

Open your eyes and take a look. The land of exile has now become a dead zone. You don't need to personally make a move, and the demon and barbarian races will be completely exterminated!"

Tang Zhen gently clapped his hands and coldly said, the three empires are really good. Not only can they benefit, but they can also get themselves out of this matter. It's killing two birds with one stone!

"You can send someone to inform the three great empires of this matter. Tell them that the Holy Dragon City will seek justice for the demon and barbarian races. The three great empires will either compensate or start a war. If they dare to ignore Wufu," Tang Zhen coldly laughed. He raised his hand and pointed in the direction of the Great Wall of Miracles.

Mage Xiao en and the other two didn't know what was going on. They looked in the direction of Tang Zhen's finger at the same time, and their faces were filled with surprise.

In a certain corner of the Holy Dragon City, a silver-gray cylindrical object was making a loud noise. It rushed from the ground to the sky at high speed. Under the push of the spurting flames, it flew straight in the direction of the Great Wall of Miracles.

"What is this?"

Mage Sean instinctively felt a trace of danger. He knew that this silver-white cylindrical object was not an ordinary object, so he subconsciously asked.

a special weapon made by my Holy Dragon City. Even if it's ten thousand miles away, it can arrive in an extremely short time and lock onto the target to launch an accurate attack.

"As for its destructive power?"

Tang Zhen's tone turned cold when he spoke up to this point. He indifferently said, "It's easy to destroy a town!"

When the three bright moon Wizards heard this, they were all shocked. If things were really as Tang Zhen had said, then Holy Dragon City would not need to launch a ground invasion against the three great empires. They only needed to launch a similar weapon every few days, and they would be able to cause chaos in the three great empires!

However, after the shock, the three of them thought of a problem at the same time, and their originally nervous mood became a little more relaxed.

One did not need to guess to know that this kind of special weapon that could strike a target from ten thousand miles away must be extremely expensive to make. Even if the Holy Dragon City was rich and powerful, it was impossible to launch it without any scruples. Obviously, its greatest use was to deter and kill high-level targets!

Moreover, the three great empires would not just sit back and wait for their deaths. After being attacked by such weapons, they would definitely think of ways to intercept them so that Holy Dragon City would not be able to succeed easily.

The hundreds of thousands of mages of the three empires would not be so useless. As long as there was enough time, not only could they intercept this attack, they could even think of a way to counter it.

With Spears and sharp arrows, there would naturally be sturdy armor and shields. This was naturally the principle of the mutual augmentation and restraint of everything.

Tang Zhen naturally guessed their thoughts as he looked at the relaxed expressions of the three mages. A disdainful sneer appeared on his face.

With the technology of the original world as a Foundation, with the help of the cracked black technology of the terobo people, and the essence of technology collected by the Holy Dragon City from various civilizations, they finally created this small but powerful long-range attack weapon.

It was easy for such a weapon to destroy a town. If it carried a more powerful warhead, even a city could be razed to the ground!

Of course, there was no need to explain this to the three of them in detail. If the two sides were to really go to war, the three great empires would personally feel the terrifying power of this weapon.

Everything that needed to be said had been said. There was no need for Tang Zhen to worry about the following matters. His residents would be in charge of interrogating mage Xiao en and the other two. If there were no accidents, these three guys would stay in Holy Dragon City for a long time.

Tang Zhen had never thought of killing the three of them. After all, this did not have any meaning to the future battle. On the contrary, leaving the three of them alive might have some special use.

With a gentle wave of his hand, the Holy Dragon City cultivator stepped forward and took Xiao en and the other two away. He then headed to the myriad world mall to meet a newly-appeared plane merchant.

Blazing flame Empire, a military camp outside the Great Wall of Miracles.

A soldier of the flame Empire walked out from the corner of the camp with a rifle on his back and casually looked around.

After a hundred years of peace, the soldiers of the blazing flame Empire stationed at the Great Wall of Miracles became more and more lazy. They regarded serving as a way to make themselves look better. Soldiers could be seen wandering around the vast military camp from time to time. There was no sign of iron-blooded soldiers on them at all.

He slowly turned around and walked out of the camp with a hint of disdain in his eyes.

At the same time, three flame Empire soldiers who had been keeping a low profile recently also left the camp. However, no one noticed this scene.

Not long after the soldiers left the camp, a silver light suddenly appeared in the sky outside the Great Wall of Miracles. After flying for a distance, it suddenly swooped down toward the camp on the ground.

The silver light was a long-range missile fired from Holy Dragon City. After flying over a long distance, it headed straight for the military camp located inside the Great Wall of Miracles.

No one in the large camp noticed this scene. The soldiers of the blazing flame Empire continued to muddle along as usual.

However, just as the missile entered the Great Wall of Miracles and was about 10000 meters from the ground, the anti-air formation of the Great Wall of Miracles was suddenly activated. Immediately after, a piercing alarm was immediately sent out from the tower inside the military camp.

The soldiers of the blazing flame Empire were stunned when they heard the alarm. It had been a hundred years since an air raid alarm like this had sounded. No one had been able to react in time.

The soldiers looked up at the sky and saw the missile falling from the sky, heading straight for the center of the camp.

From the moment the alarm went off to the moment the missile hit the ground, only two seconds had passed. Many soldiers had not even figured out what had happened when they heard a loud noise. Their bodies and the surrounding buildings were torn to pieces at the same time!

“BOOM!”

The ground trembled violently as a pillar of smoke rose into the sky. In the blink of an eye, the camp of the flame Empire had completely disappeared.

Chapter 1354

1354 The Furious nobles of the Empire (1)

With the disappearance of the three bright moon mages and the disappearance of the few armed airships, the three great empires would definitely launch an investigation into the banished Lands. Holy Dragon City would then be exposed to the world.

Therefore, Tang Zhen might as well take the initiative to attack and show the three great empires what he was capable of. At the very least, he would be able to make them feel fear in their hearts and not dare to act recklessly.

As long as it was Holy Dragon city's enemy, Tang Zhen would never let go of any opportunity to attack!

Even if the three great empires sent out troops to take revenge because of this matter, Tang Zhen did not have any worries. Although the current Holy Dragon City could not guarantee victory in the attack, Tang Zhen alone could make the enemies of the three great empires come and never return if they were to purely defend!

Just as Tang Zhen continued to fool the newly arrived dimensional merchants, the raging flame Empire was in an uproar.

The Holy Dragon city's missiles were extremely powerful. The military camp with more than five thousand people had been razed to the ground, and so far, no survivors had been found.

As for the four soldiers who went missing before the explosion, they had already changed their appearances and sneaked into the blazing flame Empire.

No one knew of their existence because they were imposters to begin with. Those who had come into contact with them in the military camp had already turned into ashes.

It was also because of the coordinates that these Holy Dragon City cultivators had secretly sent out that the missile attack this time was so accurate. Now that the mission was completed, they had accepted a new mission and continued to silently work on the front line.

There were naturally more cultivators from the Holy Dragon City who carried out similar missions. Other than the person in charge of the intelligence Department, even their family members did not know the specific whereabouts.

When the war truly began, these hidden cultivators would suddenly appear next to the enemy's heart like sharp blades. If they seized the opportunity, they were very likely to cause fatal damage to the enemy.

For Holy Dragon City, who had a storage equipment and powerful weapons, this was an easy feat!

At this time, the three empires had not realized this. Otherwise, they would have immediately dug three feet into the ground to find these human-shaped nuclear bombs. Otherwise, they would be in danger of being attacked from both the front and the back!

.....

In the capital of the blazing flame Empire, an urgent military intelligence had shaken the entire court.

In the past hundred years, although there were frequent disputes at the borders of the blazing flame Empire, there had never been a case of military mobilization. At most, they would only engage in verbal battles.

As for the Great Wall of Miracles, nothing had happened ever since the demon and barbarian races had been locked up. Because of the peace and leisure, this place had gradually become a gold-plated place for the powerful and influential of the Empire.

However, no one would have thought that in this place where nothing could have happened, a huge incident had happened.

In the military camp that had been razed to the ground, there were at least 300 children of influential people. After they retired from the Great Wall of Miracles, they could directly enter various departments of the Empire and take up positions. From then on, they would have meteoric success and become the future influential people of the Empire.

The path had been paved, but unfortunately, these children of the rich and powerful were not blessed enough to enjoy it, and all of them died in the explosion!

After learning of this news, hundreds of influential figures from various empires gathered in the capital and requested to see the monarch of the blazing flame Empire. They requested for a thorough investigation and that the murderers who caused the tragedy must not be let off!

The monarch of the blazing flame Empire was having a headache when he faced the agitated nobles of the Empire. These people all had great or small influence within the Empire, and some of them were even powerful nobles who had rendered Meritorious Service. He could not be perfunctory.

However, the problem was that the enemy who dared to attack the camp and kill thousands of soldiers in an instant was definitely not an ordinary person.

The thing that the blazing flame Empire's monarch was most worried about right now was that there were two great empires involved in this matter. If that was the case, the matter would become extremely troublesome, and a war would break out if they were not careful.

The Morning Star Empire and the orc Alliance were also suspicious targets, but compared to the two empires, they were less likely to attack.

Other than these four possible enemies, the monarch of the blazing flame Empire could not find any other suspects. However, it was precisely because of this that he felt a headache.

Any one of these four enemies was no weaker than the raging flame Empire. They were evenly matched in strength, and it was difficult to predict who would win.

If the other empires were also involved, they would fight with each other, and who knew how the future would end?

The monarch of the raging flame Empire, who had enjoyed a hundred years of peace, really did not want to start a war during his reign. He also did not want to accidentally lose the foundation that his ancestors had passed down to him.

The flame monarch's mind was in a mess. When he thought of this, he glanced at the angry nobles and could not help but feel a headache.

"No matter who did this, they must be punished, or we will never agree to it!"

“More than 5000 loyal soldiers have been killed. This is an insult to the flame Empire. If we don’t return the favor, who will take us seriously in the future?”

that’s right, he must be severely punished. At the same time, my family will also carry out an investigation. As long as they find the murderer who killed my son, I will not rest until he is dead!

The one who spoke was a noble who had made great contributions. Not only did he own a large piece of territory, but he also had a large number of private soldiers in his hands. He also had clansmen in the Imperial mage Academy. Once he confirmed the identity of the attacker, he would definitely take revenge at all costs.

The attack on the military camp this time had cost the life of a grandson he had doted on very much. Therefore, after receiving the news, he had immediately sent people to the Great Wall of Miracles to carry out an investigation. At the same time, he had taken a private airship and rushed to the imperial capital overnight.

Because of his high position and power, the small nobles all listened to his command and did not give in an inch on this matter.

The flame monarch could do nothing about it. Furthermore, this matter had a huge impact on the flame Empire. He had to give an explanation to the outside world.

Just as everyone was discussing how to investigate and deal with this matter, an urgent message suddenly came in. It said that mage Sean from the Imperial mage Academy had taken an armed airship to the banished Lands and suddenly lost contact with him. At the same time, bright moon Mage from the other two empires and two of the latest model of the armed airships had also disappeared.

After hearing this news, the nobles who were originally furious all lost their voices. The flame monarch’s heart tightened.

The nobles present were naturally very clear about how powerful wizard bright moon was. In particular, wizard Sean, who was a well-known bright moon Wizard in the flame Empire, had unfathomable strength.

But this kind of super powerhouse had mysteriously disappeared in the banished Lands. At the same time, more than twenty great mages and hundreds of high grade swordsmen had disappeared.

As for the missing armed airship, no one cared about it. No matter how expensive it was, it could not be compared to a bright moon Wizard. In fact, the value of a great wizard was far higher than that of the armed airship!

When the border military camp was attacked, the Dean of the Imperial mage Academy had also disappeared mysteriously. There must be some connection between these two events.

If it was just a simple attack on the military camp, this matter would be easy to deal with. However, if it was linked to the disappearance of the three bright moon Wizards, the matter would immediately become complicated.

Indistinctly, it was as if an invisible Black Hand had reached out to the three great empires, giving people a feeling that a storm was coming.

At this moment, all the nobles had the same thought in their minds. After a hundred years of peace, the flame Empire would no longer be peaceful.

Chapter 1355

1355 Moving clouds in all directions (1)

The news of the attack on the camp of the blazing flame Empire spread quickly, shocking the entire nation. The people had never dreamed that the day before, a Day of Peace and prosperity, would end up with the dark clouds of war looming over their heads.

Because of this incident, the situation in the Empire immediately became tense. The laughter and joy of the past seemed to have lessened, and the People's hearts seemed to have become heavy.

When the people in the streets and alleys of the imperial capital were chatting, they would always involuntarily bring up this matter. Then, they would complement it with their own analysis and say it clearly and logically, as if they had already understood everything.

Three men make a tiger. As time passed, this matter began to become more and more serious. The originally simple attack became more and more complicated because of the exaggeration of the neighbors and countryside.

Because of the fear of war, many people began to hoard supplies, which caused the price of food in many places to soar, which led to more trouble.

In fact, not only was the raging flame Empire at the forefront of the storm, even the borders of the Eternal Empire and the radiant Empire were filled with rumors. However, as they had not encountered attacks similar to the raging flame Empire's, the emotions of the people of the two countries were relatively calmer.

Even though a bright moon Wizard and a few dozen great Wizards had gone missing, to the ordinary people, these high and mighty figures were too far away from them, and could not arouse their determination to fight against a common enemy.

However, there was still an undercurrent that was constantly surging in private.

The royal families of the two great empires would naturally not let this matter rest. This was because the value of a bright moon Wizard was extremely great, so how could they not ask about him?

Hence, the fourth mage Regiment of the Eternal Empire immediately dispatched a hundred great mages, led by a bright moon Mage, to board an armed airship and head straight for the exit of the Great Wall of Miracles.

The radiant Empire had even sent two bishops and five hundred holy light great mages. They rode five of the latest model of armed airships and aggressively charged towards the land of exile.

This was one of the few major movements that the three great empires had made in the past 100 years. It immediately attracted the attention of various forces. They all locked their gazes on the Great Wall of Miracles and quietly followed them. They wanted to find out what was going on.

For a time, the area around the Great Wall of Miracles became unusually lively. People with special abilities appeared one after another, preparing to find an opportunity in this chaotic world that was about to begin.

There was no need to think to know that there was definitely something hidden in the banished land. Otherwise, the three bright moon Wizards would not have gone missing at the same time. Moreover, there was evidence that the weapons used to attack the flame Empire's military camp had also flown over from the banished land!

These forces, who had their own motives and were even at odds with the Empire, would not miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. All of them tried to figure out the situation in the land of exile at the first opportunity to see if they could fight for their own interests.

In response to this situation, the blazing flame Empire had no choice but to mobilize their troops. They sent three legions to guard the Great Wall, causing a large number of soldiers to gather at the line of defense that belonged to the blazing flame Empire.

Even so, they were unable to stop the experts that had gathered here. They used all their methods to successfully sneak into the flame Empire. The regimental commander in charge of the defense was so angry that he cursed every day, but it was useless.

Unknowingly, the number of people who successfully sneaked into the Great Wall of Miracles increased. Then, they used all kinds of means to cross the death barrier that was dozens of kilometers long and went straight into the depths of the land of exile.

But in this process, it was unknown how many people would forever remain in the death barrier.

This death barrier built by a legendary wizard was by no means as simple as it looked. After the demon and barbarian races were imprisoned, they had no choice but to try to cross the Great Wall of Miracles to survive because of the increasingly serious survival crisis. In the end, countless people entered the fog of the death barrier and never returned.

As for whether they had really crossed the death isolation belt, only God knew.

Night fell, and the great Wall of miracle was brightly lit. Moving human-shaped light balls floated around the wall, and the milky-white light dispelled the darkness wherever they passed.

This was a special land creature raised by the three empires, called the night patroller. It could float in the air and move slowly. Every night, it would emit a bright light. After being improved and cultivated, this creature became a weapon of defense at night and flew back and forth along a pre-set route.

Moreover, these creatures had a strong sense of territory. Whenever a stranger entered their territory, the light they emitted would turn fiery red. The more critical the situation was, the deeper and brighter the light would be!

If it was on a normal day, a place like the Great Wall of Miracles would never have a defensive item like the night patrollers. However, after the attack on the military camp and the disappearance of mage Hao Yue, these rare night patrollers were mobilized in batches.

Not only that, but the three great empires had also increased the level of the Great Wall's defenses. All of the defending troops had been replaced by elite troops, and all sorts of weapons and resources were continuously sent to the Great Wall.

The transport airships flew back and forth every day, and the once quiet and desolate border became more and more lively.

Those with discerning eyes could tell that the raging flame Empire was already prepared for war. Otherwise, they would not have made such a big move.

When the two night patrollers slowly flew past and the soldiers on the city wall looked away, a few figures in navy blue short robes quickly advanced in the green grass and reached the bottom of the city wall in a few breaths.

After waiting quietly for a while, just as the patrolling soldiers passed by each other, these few figures flew up the city wall, nimbly avoiding the alarm device and directly entering the death barrier on the other side.

After running for several kilometers in the mist, several figures finally stopped behind a colorful Boulder with a trace of joy on their faces.

"These bastards from the blazing flame Empire have actually set up such a tight defense at the Great Wall. We were almost exposed just now!"

A young man said with a rejoicing tone.

"You still have the cheek to say that? who asked you to act on your own? you should know that the patrolling soldiers are all elite veterans. If you are not careful, you will be discovered by them. It's fine if you are caught, but you have caused everyone to be in danger!"

The one who spoke was a woman with a clear and cold voice. Because her face was covered by the night suit, it was impossible to see her face clearly. However, from her voice, it was obvious that she was not too old.

"I just don't like those dogs, so I wanted to kill two of them to vent my anger."

The young man who spoke first explained, but his voice became weaker and weaker. In the end, he simply closed his mouth and turned his head to the side.

Obviously, he was also very clear about how irrational his actions were just now, so he did not have the confidence to argue.

alright, since this matter is already in the past, I won't haggle over it anymore. Remember, there's no next time!

The woman snorted coldly and turned to look at the fog in front of her, as if she wanted to see through the secret hidden behind the fog.

Her eyes were very complicated. There was excitement, confusion, and most of all, a lingering worry.

“Whether or not the demon and barbarian races can rise again will depend on this opportunity. I hope teacher didn’t lie to me, Huanhuan,”

The woman mumbled to herself. After a short moment of being absent-minded, a hint of determination flashed in her eyes. Then, she took the lead and quickly headed into the depths of the fog.

Chapter 1356

1356 The remnants of the royal family (1)

Although there were countless survivors of the demon and barbarian races buried in the death barrier that was dozens of kilometers long, the stowaways who were prepared for it still had a great chance of passing through.

However, along the way, the team led by the young woman still encountered a lot of danger. Whether it was the poisonous fog monsters or the dizzying and complicated terrain, they all suffered in the process of moving forward.

Even if they had a map in their hands that allowed them to avoid the particularly dangerous areas as much as possible, they were still overwhelmed by the dangerous situations that appeared from time to time.

They advanced fearfully all the way until the first rays of the morning sun, and they finally broke through the death barrier.

Crossing the death barrier was an extremely physically exhausting matter, and their minds were always in a tense state, causing everyone to be exhausted. After taking a long breath as if a heavy burden had been lifted, they sat on the ground and began to recover.

Not far away from them, there were also a few groups of people resting. Some of them had blood stains on their bodies, clearly injured by the monsters when they passed through the death barrier.

These people present had nothing to do with the three empires. Instead, they belonged to different secret forces. Their purpose was to investigate the secrets hidden in the land of exile and fight for the benefits of their own organizations.

Therefore, even though everyone had the same goal, they were always on guard against each other.

As for the official forces of the three empires, they were still investigating the remains of the explosion. However, in at most a day, they would cross the Great Wall of Miracles and find the culprit who launched the attack.

Compared to the three great empires, who had armed airships, these people’s equipment was undoubtedly much worse. Therefore, they had to race against time and try to figure out the reason for the situation before the three great empires arrived.

After a short rest, several groups of people immediately set off, rushing to the wilderness ahead.

The group wasn’t aimlessly searching because they had already gathered enough information before starting this operation. They knew that the reason why mage Sean and the others had entered the banished land was because the energy source of the three great empires' mage towers had suddenly been cut off, and the altar that provided them with energy was located in the banished land.

The altar had been built for a hundred years. During this period, it was inevitable that some people would leak the secrets of the altar. As long as one investigated carefully, it was not too difficult to find the exact location of the altar.

Therefore, everyone's current direction was to head straight for the altar. Perhaps the answer they were looking for was there.

However, they did not know that the altar had been razed to the ground by the Holy Dragon City. Even if they rushed to their destination, they would only see ruins.

However, the Holy Dragon City happened to be in their path, so they did not need to go to the altar to see the mysterious force they were looking for!

The distance between the Great Wall of miracle and Holy Dragon City was more than a thousand miles. If these people wanted to reach there, they would have to travel day and night.

It was impossible to do this with just their legs, so everyone brought special tools to help them run. When they started at full speed, they were not much slower than cars.

Because they didn't want others to get the benefits before them, several groups of people ran as fast as they could on the gravel-covered wilderness, not giving way to each other!

The original journey had faintly become a contest of strength, so even if they were exhausted, everyone gritted their teeth and continued to persevere.

After an unknown period of time, the team at the front suddenly stopped. The team in second place also stopped and looked at the ground in front of them.

It didn't take long for the team led by the young woman to stop, because in front of them, there was an extremely deep and smooth pit!

this is the effect of the Suan NI's forbidden technique, the black light of death!

A trace of shock flashed in the young woman's eyes. She slowly walked to the edge of the deep pit, squatted down, and touched it with her hand. A trace of seriousness flashed across her face.

this should be the effect of the forbidden scroll. It's obvious that a fierce battle took place here, but we can't determine who used the forbidden scroll. I can also confirm that the forbidden scroll didn't cause any casualties, because there's no aura of soul burning here!

Hearing the woman's whisper, an old man next to her said, "The forbidden scroll has always been a secret treasure of the royal family, and ordinary people have no way of possessing it.

Therefore, the person who used this scroll was either a member of the royal family of the demon barbarian Empire or that mysterious force. Even the flame Empire's military camp, which might have been attacked, was destroyed by the forbidden scroll!"

The young woman shook her head and whispered, "It's not that there are no such powerful forbidden technique scrolls, but they are extremely rare. Moreover, they were all used in the Great War a hundred years ago, so it's impossible for them to be left behind."

"Could there be any forbidden technique scrolls that were intentionally omitted and not recorded?"

that's impossible. After all, the power of these forbidden scrolls is too great, and it's extremely difficult to make them. The Empire must control them strictly. Besides, if there were hidden forbidden scrolls, teacher would definitely tell me!

"If that's the case, then we can only continue to look for clues. However, I hope that the one who used the forbidden scroll is a remnant of the demon barbarian race. That way, we will have one more powerful helper!"

The young woman nodded. If the other party really had a forbidden scroll and had captured three bright moon mages and the armed airship, then he must be extremely powerful. This would be of great help to the young woman's plan.

However, when she thought of her current situation, the young woman smiled bitterly in her heart. Even if she had a prominent identity, someone had to buy it.

Now that a hundred years had passed, the capital of the demon barbarian Empire had long been razed to the ground, and the survivors of the demon barbarian Empire were on the verge of extinction. As the only survivor of the royal family, she did not share the joys and sorrows of her people. Instead, she hid in the rich territory of the three great empires, looking for an opportunity to rise again.

In fact, the remnants of the royal family of the demon barbarian Empire had long known about the tragic state of the banished land. However, they had not taken any action. Firstly, they were helpless against the altar. Secondly, they did not want to return to the banished land to suffer.

As for resisting the restoration of their empire, it was just a thought. With their current strength, it was already not easy to avoid the pursuit of the three great empires. If they wanted to publicly declare the restoration of their empire, they would only be courting death.

However, the attack on the military camp and the disappearance of the mages this time made these remnants of the royal family see the hope of Dongshan mountain rising again. So they immediately took action and went straight to the land of exile.

It had to be said that this matter was full of irony. They had abandoned the remnants of the demon barbarian race when they were suffering, but now they had placed their hopes on them, hoping to use their strength to realize their dreams of restoring their country and regaining power.

Although it had been proven that the remnants of the royal family only cared about benefits, they would never admit that even if there were only a few of them left, they were still holding on to the last piece of cloth.

After searching the surroundings of the deep pit, the group moved again and continued in the direction of Holy Dragon City.

However, they didn't notice that a silver-white shadow suddenly flashed across the sky. Then, it slowed down and slowly chased after them.

At the same time, two new models of assault helicopters took off from the base and headed straight for the group.

Chapter 1357

1357 The Empire's mages "worry (1)

Just as the various powers were heading towards the land of exile, in front of the ruins of the military camp inside the Great Wall of Miracles, more than a dozen bright moon mages from the three great empires were gathered together, looking at the items on the table with grave expressions.

These items were the remnants of the missile's explosion. They had been dug three feet into the ground and collected for the mages to analyze and judge.

Under normal circumstances, it was almost impossible for these powerful missiles to have any fragments. However, because the military camp had certain defensive measures, especially at the moment of the explosion, the defensive facilities still played a certain role, which allowed the fragments to be left at the site of the explosion.

It was these fragments that allowed the mages of the three empires to determine the method of attack and determine that it was some kind of powerful alchemy item.

In order to find out the truth about the mages and the attack on the flame Empire's military camp, the three great empires had sent out all their elites. The mages who participated in the mission were all temporarily transferred over. From this, it could be seen how much importance the three great empires placed on this matter.

No one dared to be careless in the face of a mysterious enemy who had mastered terrifying attacks and could cause heavy damage to the Empire at any time.

After taking a glance at the items on the table, the mages gathered together and began to discuss in low voices.

After careful analysis and identification, the mages had their own conclusions. However, it was also because they had their own answers in their hearts that the mages who participated in the investigation had gloomy expressions.

They could not help but feel worried when they thought of the scene of such a weapon landing in an important town of the imperial capital.

Compared to the forbidden scroll, the production efficiency of alchemy items was more than twice as high. With sufficient materials, if they were processed in an assembly line, they could definitely be mass-produced.

The ability to mass-produce powerful weapons of war could have a huge impact on a war, and could even determine the outcome of the war!

If the enemy could already do this, then the three empires would be in a terrible crisis, and they would suffer heavy losses if they were not careful!

The mages were well aware that they had to either master this weapon to deter the enemy or destroy it completely. There was no second choice.

I've checked it just now and confirmed that it's a weapon processed by a special machine, which means that the enemy may have more than one similar weapon. If they launch similar attacks in more than one location, how should we deal with it? "

A bright moon Mage from the flame Empire looked at the crowd and asked in a serious tone.

Although the mages had not yet figured out the specific origin of the enemy, they could already make a preliminary judgment of the enemy's strength through this attack. Even if the mages of the three empires did not want to admit it, they understood that the enemy's alchemy strength was higher than that of the three empires.

At the very least, in the Armory of the three great empires, there was no way to find such an item that could directly destroy an entire military camp. If the enemy had such a weapon, they would be qualified to be on equal footing with the three great empires.

can our divine punishment equipment block this kind of attack? according to the witness information of the nearby civilians, this kind of weapon attacks from the air. Could it be that the Great Wall of Miracles 'anti-air magic formation is not effective? "

A bright moon Mage from the Eternal Empire asked. He was dressed the same as the hawk-eyed Goodman, and was clearly an officer of the Eternal Empire's mage Army.

"I've just made some calculations and confirmed that the enemy's weapon is flying at an altitude of more than 10000 meters, avoiding the detection of the divine punishment equipment. It suddenly swooped down before reaching the military camp and headed straight for the center of the camp.

From landing to the attack, the entire process should not take more than three breaths. In such a short time, the divine punishment equipment would not be able to launch an interception in time, and the enemy's weapon would have already completed the attack!"

The bright moon Mage from the flame Empire who was the first to speak smiled bitterly. When he looked at the broken pieces on the table, his eyes flickered with an inquisitive look.

Among the people present, the one with the highest alchemy level was this bright moon Mage from the flame Empire's mage Academy. Thus, after hearing his judgment, everyone no longer had a trace of doubt.

in that case, can we increase the monitoring altitude of the divine punishment equipment? this way, when the enemy's weapons attack, we can intercept them in time? "

A Bishop from the radiant Empire suddenly asked the mage from the flame Empire.

"In theory, it's possible, but it's extremely difficult to do. It'll take at least three months to complete the modification, but we still can't guarantee smooth operation.

After all, 10000 meters is already the monitoring limit for the divine punishment equipment. If we want to increase the detection altitude, it's very likely that some faults will occur during the operation, and the divine punishment equipment might even be destroyed!"

The mage of the flame Empire explained, then said, " however, from the current situation, this is the only solution to the problem. It is the only way to set up the defense system in the shortest time possible!

After a moment of silence, wizard bright moon of the Eternal Empire was the first to speak. since there is no other way, then this is the only way. Otherwise, if the enemy attacks again, there will definitely be internal turmoil within the Empire, which will be the worst thing.

"I agree,"

since everyone thinks that this is possible, then please send out your own professionals to upgrade and modify the divine punishment equipment as soon as possible. We must complete it in the shortest time possible!

After the mage of the flame Empire said this, he raised his head and glanced at the crowd. He then said in a serious tone,"The next thing we have to do is to head to the banished Lands to investigate. We've already confirmed that the enemy isn't weak, and they've probably detained mage Sean and the other two.

I'm sure you all know the strength of the three mages, but even so, they still encountered a crisis. The question is, with our current strength, can we guarantee a safe retreat?"

After hearing this, the mages fell silent again. It was clear that they were also thinking about this question.

"No matter how strong the enemy is, we must go to the land of exile this time. If there are any accidents, inform the Empire to make preparations at once.

In addition, we can also use a long-distance projection technique to send the entire exploration process to the Empire. This way, even if we encounter danger, the Empire will more or less have some understanding of the enemy's situation."

The Eternal Empire's bright moon Mage suggested to the people around him after some thought.

"From the current situation, that's the only thing we can do."

The mages of the blazing flame Empire sighed softly and turned to look at the hundred mages behind them. let's not waste any time. We'll board the airship immediately and head straight for the altar in the land of exile!

All the mages nodded in unison, then headed straight for a large armed airship not far away, which was five hundred meters long and covered in arcane steel.

Seeing this, the mages from the other two countries also boarded the armed airships.

It did not take long for more than ten armed assault airships to appear in the sky. The shadows cast by them covered a large area of the land, and they continued to enter the exit of the Great Wall of Miracles.

Chapter 1358

1358 The temptation of land! 1!

When the fleet formed by the mages of the three great empires flew over the Great Wall of Miracles, the forces that had entered first were still moving forward, not daring to stop for a moment. However, it didn't take long before they saw a scene that shocked them again.

On the barren land, a patch of emerald green suddenly appeared, giving everyone a strong visual impact.

This feeling was like a traveler seeing an oasis in the desert, but at this time, in addition to surprise, they were actually more shocked and uncertain.

It was not a secret among these organizations that the three empires had built altars to extract the world's origin. According to investigations a few years ago, it had been determined that the banished land had completely become a dead land. The situation was so serious that not even a blade of grass could be seen.

It could be said that the land of exile was no longer suitable for living, and no one would want it even if it was given for free.

However, when the exiled city regained its vitality and became green with grass, the exiled land was no longer a wasteland that no one cared about. Instead, it was a treasured land that was worth seizing at all costs.

Whether it was the vast land or the minerals hidden underground, they all had great value. If one could occupy this land alone, it would only take a hundred years to build a powerful empire!

At the thought of this, a hint of excitement and greed flashed in everyone's eyes. When they looked at the members of the other forces, killing intent flashed in their eyes.

If they really seized this land, then all the other forces present would be enemies. If they killed them, perhaps they could keep the secret for a longer time.

However, in the end, no one made a move, because they knew that their biggest enemy was not the other forces, but the powerful three empires and the mysterious force that had occupied this place first.

If he didn't get rid of these two powerful enemies, then all his schemes would be nothing but an illusion.

The heir of the royal family of the demon barbarians was also looking at the scene in front of him in a daze. His eyes were filled with surprise and doubt.

She really couldn't figure out what had happened to make such a huge green field appear in this barren land. Even if the altar that extracted the blood of the earth was destroyed and the origin of the world slowly recovered, it would take at least more than 100 years for the sporadic land to be green.

Could it be that this green field was the work of that mysterious force? but how did they do it?

If this was really the doing of that mysterious force, then their strength would have to be re-evaluated, and the situation she faced would become more and more unfavorable.

The demon barbarian princess was suspicious, but her subordinates were overjoyed. For these followers, this green land represented the hope of a new life. As long as they managed it well, the demon barbarian Empire would very likely regain its former glory.

As for the heroes of the Empire's restoration, they would also rise to the top from then on.

haha, that's great! I didn't expect such a delightful change to happen on our land!

I just estimated that this green field is at least hundreds of kilometers long, which is enough to support the consumption of our country!

I was wondering why that mysterious force appeared here. It turns out that they were interested in this green field. Damn it, these guys are really shameless. They occupied our territory without a sound!

we have to let them leave this place no matter what. After all, this is our territory. Why should we let them stay here? " but what if they don't leave? you should know that these guys aren't weak. Not only did they destroy the flame Empire's military camp, but they might also be related to the three missing bright moon Wizards.

"What are you afraid of? this is our territory. When the time comes, as long as the princess raises her arms and calls for us, the demon barbarian survivors will definitely cheer and support us. When the time comes, we have the advantage in numbers, so we might not be afraid of them!"

Everyone chimed in with excitement on their faces. They even began to look forward to the scene after the country was restored.

The worry in the demon barbarian princess's eyes grew as she listened to her subordinates' discussion. She knew the value of this land and knew that no one would give it up easily.

Even though this place had once belonged to the demon barbarian Empire a hundred years ago, who would admit this now?

No matter what, this was her ancestral land. As a member of the royal family, she had to take back the territory that belonged to her at any cost.

Thinking of this, a trace of determination flashed in the demon barbarian princess' eyes as she looked at the green field in front of her with greed.

However, at this moment, two silver lights suddenly appeared in Princess demon barbarian's field of vision. They were rapidly passing through the sky, heading straight for their position.

Princess demon barbarian wasn't the only one who noticed the abnormality in the sky. The members of the other forces also noticed this. They all looked up at the sky, feeling nervous and excited.

If there were no accidents, this unusual light must be related to the mysterious force in the land of exile, and they finally had the opportunity to make contact with it.

The aircraft was extremely fast. In the blink of an eye, it had already rushed out of the green field and flew to an altitude of tens of meters above the crowd.

At this moment, everyone finally saw the appearance of the aircraft. It had a streamlined appearance and was about 40 meters long. The rapidly rotating blades created a strong airflow, blowing dust up from the ground, making it difficult for people to stand.

damn it, what the hell is this? the latest armed airship? ”

Everyone quickly covered their eyes and cursed in their hearts. However, they were full of curiosity about this powerful aircraft.

Compared to the armed airships of the three great empires, this strange-looking aircraft was faster and had stronger defense. The only question was how strong it was in combat.

No one dared to fly into the sky rashly. In a situation where they did not have the advantage in numbers and weapons, fighting with a steel monster with unknown lethality was no doubt a suicide!

Just as everyone was thinking about what to do next, a voice suddenly came from the aircraft in the air. It was the common language of the three empires, but it sounded unusually cold.

you have entered the Holy Dragon city's territory without permission. This is considered illegal entry. Please put down your weapons and accept the inspection. Violators will be attacked immediately!

The voice in the air rang out three times in a row. The people on the ground naturally heard it clearly, but they had no intention of doing so.

Under such special circumstances, removing one's weapon easily was no different from seeking death. Who could guarantee that they wouldn't be attacked by the other party when they were inspected?

Therefore, even though the warning in the sky kept coming, everyone remained silent and waited for the situation to develop.

If the enemy launched an attack, they would not sit still and wait for death. They would certainly counterattack at the first moment!

this bunch of bastards! They've occupied our territory and still dare to be so arrogant!

An angry curse came from behind the demon barbarian princess. It was the young man who had almost exposed them when they were sneaking into the Great Wall of Miracles.

While everyone remained silent, he was the only one who straightened his body and cursed at the aircraft in the sky. He even pulled out the gun on his back and tried to shoot at the sky!

The demon barbarian princess was about to stop the young man when she heard a crisp sound in the air. Then, the young man's body burst like a balloon filled with water.

Chapter 1359

1359 Intimidation _1

The sudden gunshot immediately stunned the cultivators. They had just planned to observe how the Holy Dragon City cultivators would deal with those who disobeyed their orders. However, just as this thought surfaced in their minds, they immediately saw this bloody scene.

The scene of death did not scare these powerful cultivators, but the Holy Dragon city's decisive means made everyone secretly vigilant.

When interacting with different forces, they would naturally have to use different methods. At this time, Holy Dragon City was displaying its tyrannical and cold side.

Just as everyone was thinking to themselves, and some of them were even prepared to be inspected, the cultivators following the demon barbarian princess were filled with grief.

“Damn it, these bastards killed little five!”

When they saw the young man's body shatter and disappear, their faces were filled with disbelief at first, but then they were filled with anger.

Regardless of whether the young man's style of doing things was likable or not, one thing was undeniable. This young man had always been their companion.

It would be abnormal if they remained indifferent after seeing their companions being shot dead.

A few of the demon barbarian cultivators wiped off the blood and flesh that had splattered on their faces. They took out their weapons without hesitation and were about to attack the aircraft in the sky.

Compared to the original world, the technological development on this continent was not particularly outstanding. Even with armed airships and weapons similar to guns, the protagonists on the battlefield were still powerful mages and cultivators with magical abilities.

It was not strange for this to happen, because in a world where individuals had extraordinary strength, people always paid the most attention to their strength and the things that matched it.

Of course, there were also the opposite situations. For example, the terobo people had powerful technology that could easily destroy the wilderness Warzone. However, in terms of individual strength, they were far inferior to the cultivators in loucheng. Their powerful strength came from the support of technology.

The tribesmen had never paid much attention to individual cultivation. Even when it was necessary for war, they would take advantage of the situation and choose to hunt powerful cultivators to produce Genetic Medicine. They would use the fastest and most efficient method to mass-produce powerhouses!

This was actually just a way for the teroboros to improve their combat power after their technology had reached a certain level. It had never been the main direction of development for the teroboros.

In the world where transcendent cultivators existed, the status of technological items was also very awkward. They were rarely valued by those in power. In most cases, their main role was to serve the ordinary people.

Without the attention of the upper class, there would naturally be a lack of motivation for development. Even if some people put their energy into this, the path they took was a combination of technology and cultivation, and had little to do with pure scientific research.

For example, the advanced cultivators on this continent never used the firearms used by these cultivators because they couldn't cause enough damage to them.

However, the Holy Dragon City was different. From the very beginning, Tang Zhen had determined that firearms would be one of the main equipment of the Holy Dragon city's cultivators. From then on, he had invested a large amount of manpower and material resources into research. This had also caused the weapons used by the Holy Dragon city's cultivators to become more and more powerful. Even if it was used by a King level cultivator, it could cause considerable damage to enemies of the same level.

As the demon barbarian cultivators took out their weapons, the atmosphere became more and more tense. A few groups of people at the side subconsciously avoided these barbarians to avoid harming the innocent.

"Don't be rash, put down your weapon!"

Before the demon barbarian princess could say anything, the elder under her command had already stopped her, and cold sweat was dripping down his face.

'These damn guys never use their brains when they do things. They don't even look at the current situation. Once they anger those guys in the sky, we will all die without a doubt!'

"Elder, they killed Xiaowu, Wuwu."

A few of the armed demon barbarian cultivators were furious. They did not understand the old man's order to stop them from retaliating, and there was a trace of resistance in their eyes.

However, in fear of the elder's power, they still obediently put down their weapons, but they couldn't help but have a stomach full of anger.

Seeing this, the elder heaved a sigh of relief in his heart. He didn't explain, but looked at the sky with a complicated expression.

Through the flying dust, he saw two cultivators in black armor slowly lowering their muzzles at the entrance of the aircraft. The terrifying aura of death disappeared.

What was certain was that if those idiots had dared to raise their weapons, they would have been attacked from the sky. Under the attack of those terrifying weapons, it was easy to imagine their fate.

When the other forces' members saw this, they could not help but sigh in their hearts. They had also seen the demon barbarian youth's actions just now, but they did not say anything to stop him. They only wanted to take the opportunity to see Holy Dragon city's reaction. In the end, the other party did not hesitate and directly killed the youth!

In their shock, they also had a preliminary understanding of the Holy Dragon city's ruthlessness.

What the demon barbarian cultivators did next would most likely infuriate the Holy Dragon City cultivators and kill them all. In that case, they would have one less competitor.

Unfortunately, things didn't go as planned in the end, which made the cold-eyed onlookers secretly feel pity.

However, there were also some people who secretly laughed. With this boorish fellow throwing a stone to ask for directions, they also knew what their next step should be.

please don't misunderstand. We have no ill intentions, and we have nothing to do with them!

A tall and muscular middle-aged man, whose entire body was covered by a black cloak, shouted loudly. At the same time, he lifted his hood, revealing a face similar to that of a beast.

Seeing this wild face, everyone was slightly shocked. They subconsciously thought of a powerful force that was not inferior to the three great empires. That was the orc Alliance, which the three great empires had many conflicts with.

After the destruction of the demon barbarian Empire, the Beastman Alliance and the morning Star Empire had increased their vigilance against the three empires. They had even increased the number of troops at the borders more than once, causing panic among the people.

Fortunately, this kind of friction was always controlled within a certain range. Neither side would easily cross the boundary, which was why the war had never really started.

However, the three empires knew that the reason the orc Alliance and the morning Star Empire didn't use force was that they weren't confident of winning. If the war from 100 years ago happened again, the two empires would definitely seize the opportunity and wouldn't miss it because of their fear!

Now that a powerful and mysterious force had appeared in the land of exile, it was reasonable for the orc Alliance to set their eyes on this place. If this mysterious force could really hold back a part of the forces of the three empires, the orc Alliance could take the opportunity to launch an official war against the three empires!

After thinking up to this point, everyone was no longer surprised by the appearance of the orc Empire's cultivators.

Since the messenger of the orc Alliance had appeared, the Morning Star Empire would not remain unmoved. Perhaps there was a Messenger from the Morning Star Empire among the people present!

At this moment, the orc cultivator was looking at the aircraft in the sky and loudly introduced himself, "On behalf of the great shaman of the orc Alliance, I would like to meet your Supreme Leader. We have important things to discuss,"

As the representative of the orc Alliance revealed his identity, the atmosphere immediately became tense.

1360 The worries of the orc Alliance (1)

The members of the forces looked at each other with worry.

They had originally thought that this operation was only a preliminary probe of Holy Dragon City, and that the participants were only some secret forces. Although there were strong and weak ones, there were no overly powerful forces involved.

Even if those powerful forces had the intention to make contact with the Holy Dragon City, they would choose to make their move when they had enough information.

After all, to those major forces, every step of the decision was a matter of life and death. They absolutely couldn't act rashly.

The Holy Dragon city's attack on the flame Empire's military camp might also be related to the disappearance of wizard bright moon from the three great empires. From the moment they were revealed to the world, they had already formed enmity with the three great empires.

Under normal circumstances, the weaker forces would avoid them like the plague, so why would they come into contact with them so easily?

Therefore, when the messenger of the orc Alliance revealed his identity, everyone was slightly stunned, and then they had a complicated expression.

This situation caught them off guard. Compared to a behemoth like the orc Alliance, the organization behind them was nothing. Where should they go?

Some people even cursed in their hearts. What was the orc Alliance thinking? why did they jump out in such a hurry?

Just as the messengers of the other forces were secretly guessing, the messenger of the orc Alliance who revealed his identity also smiled bitterly in his heart.

Compared to the three empires, the biggest feature of the orc Alliance was that it lacked flat and vast land. Its territory was filled with mountains and dense forests, occupying almost two-thirds of its territory. At the same time, it had rich natural resources.

For the orcs, this was their ideal home, which could provide them with enough food and shelter from the hot weather.

For the orcs who didn't know how to farm, the flat land of the three empires didn't have much value at all, so why would they mobilize a large force to snatch it?

Therefore, even though there was a chance to invade the three empires, the leaders of the orc Alliance were hesitant and refused to cooperate. In the end, they missed the best opportunity to expand their territory.

In the environment of a hundred years ago, the choices of these clan leaders were not wrong. After all, in a situation where life was stable, how many people would be willing to go to the battlefield and fight for their lives?

However, as time passed, the beastmen Alliance, which had always been in a stable state, suddenly had a population boom. The number of people from various races increased, and the once rich forest could no longer provide them with enough resources.

In just a dozen years, the citizens of the orc Alliance were threatened by hunger and poverty, and the entire Alliance was in constant danger. In particular, during the severe famine a few years ago, many orc races had suffered heavy casualties. In order to obtain enough food, these disaster victims began to plunder and attack other races. There were nearly a thousand battles, and after each battle, corpses were strewn all over the ground.

Due to the special geographical environment, this news was not spread. However, through this incident, the leader of the orc Alliance finally realized the huge hidden danger within the Alliance.

If they did not solve the population and food crisis as soon as possible, the orc Alliance would fall apart without the enemy's attack!

It was only at this moment that the orc Alliance turned their attention back to the three empires, and finally discovered the benefits of having Plains.

The three great empires had vast fields, and they were all cultivated. Even in the years of drought and flood, there had never been a famine.

This was because the mages could also use special methods to improve the weather, allowing the three empires to have a harvest almost every year!

There was no need to worry about food. The people of the three empires lived and worked in peace, and the strength of the countries naturally increased rapidly.

Most importantly, after defeating the demon barbarian Empire, the three empires had received extremely generous rewards. Although they did not know the specific details, they could be certain from the increase in the number of Wizards that the three empires had made a lot of money!

The rewards from winning the war were so generous and attractive!

After seeing the carefully collected information, the leaders of the orc Alliance were speechless.

A hundred years ago, the orc Alliance could compete with the three empires, but now, the only advantage of the orc Alliance was that they had more people.

However, compared to the terrifying war weapons and powerful mages, the advantage of numbers wasn't much. In the absence of equipment, a single armed airship might be able to destroy a thousand-man Beastman Army!

The total number of armed airships secretly built by the three empires might have exceeded 10000!

Realizing this, the leaders of the orc Alliance began to reflect on their actions. At the same time, they began to formulate war plans against the three empires. Now, the entire Alliance had been mobilized and actively prepared for the war.

So even if the Holy Dragon City did not appear, the orc Alliance would still launch a war against the three empires in a few years!

When the orc Alliance discovered that a mysterious force that could possibly contend against the three great empires had appeared in the banished Lands, they immediately made a decision in the shortest time possible. If the Holy Dragon City was qualified to cooperate, they would do everything in their power to rope them in for cooperation!

Originally, all of this was to be done in secret. However, as they had a preliminary understanding of Holy Dragon city's strength and the situation became more and more tense, the messenger from the orc Alliance decided to reveal his identity and try to complete the mission as soon as possible.

Even if the people present sensed the intention of the orc Alliance, the orc Messenger did not care because he had no intention of letting them leave alive!

The members of the other forces did not know that the messenger from the orc Alliance had already put them on the death list. As long as they returned to the Great Wall of Miracles, they would immediately be hunted down.

Everyone was thinking about the orc Alliance's intentions. When they thought about the chaotic world that was about to appear, they immediately fantasized about how to seize the opportunity to obtain wealth and fame for themselves.

When the cultivators of the orc Alliance revealed their identity, the aircraft in the sky suddenly became quiet. However, it still stopped in the air and looked down at the people.

Messenger from the orc Alliance, our city Lord has accepted your request. Now, please lay down your weapon and stand in the light screen to wait for the arrival of Holy Dragon City!

The cold voice sounded again, but the messenger of the orc Alliance was happy. He waved to his followers and walked toward a light screen on the ground.

Seeing this scene, everyone's heart jumped again, and their eyes became more and more complicated.

Not far away, the demon barbarian princess, who was watching coldly, narrowed her eyes. The appearance of the messenger from the orc Alliance made her feel a sense of danger.

It should be known that the demon barbarian royal family, which only had a few thousand followers, was nothing compared to the powerful orc Alliance. If the mysterious force chose a partner, the orc Alliance would obviously have a greater advantage than him.

Thinking of this, the demon barbarian princess became more and more worried. She began to think about how the mysterious force would treat her after her true identity was exposed. Would they ignore her, or would they kill her?

Or could he be used as a puppet to win over the remaining demon barbarians in the land of exile?

Perhaps from the very beginning, it was a mistake for him to try to get in touch with this mysterious force. At the very least, he had to observe for a period of time before making a decision!

After looking around, Princess demon barbarian approached one of her subordinates and whispered something.

The subordinate nodded and passed on the princess's order to his other companions. Then, he slowly retreated in silence.

However, they didn't go far before nearly a hundred black-armored cultivators flew out of the aircraft in the sky and surrounded them.

Each cultivator of Loucheng City carried a single machine gun in their hands. The thick barrel revealed a trace of coldness, which was daunting.

However, what shocked everyone the most was the strength of these cultivators. Every one of them could actually fly in the air, which proved that they were at least level six and above, comparable to the advanced mages of the three empires.

A King level cultivator stepped out of the crowd and coldly glanced at the demon barbarian princess and the others who were trying to escape. He said in a cold voice, "From now on, place your weapons on the ground one by one. Then, you will be inspected until your identities are confirmed!"

Hearing this, the demon barbarian princess sighed. She took out a staff-like item from her waist and gently threw it on the ground.
