1361 The land of miracles _1

Intelligent creatures often had the concept of herd mentality. When their companions made a choice, they would subconsciously make the corresponding choice.

Of course, when making a choice, people would also make a basic judgment to put themselves in an advantageous situation as much as possible.

At this time, the enemy was strong while they were weak, and the Holy Dragon city's attitude was so domineering. If they continued to resist, the final outcome could be imagined.

Therefore, when they saw the orc Alliance's Messenger reveal his identity and the demon barbarian princess and the others surrender, the other organization members no longer hesitated and threw their weapons in a pile as requested.

Looking at the pile of weapons, one of the Holy Dragon City cultivators waved his hand and kept them all in his storage space.

After seeing this scene, everyone was naturally shocked.

Even the bright moon mages of the three great empires coveted the storage equipment, let alone these emissaries from various forces. After a brief moment of surprise, their eyes immediately shone with greed.

Even if they could not form an alliance with the Holy Dragon City, as long as they could obtain a storage equipment, this trip would definitely not be in vain!

The Holy Dragon City cultivators, who already had a basic grasp of the continent's situation, only sneered disdainfully when they saw this, not caring about the greedy gazes around them.

The rarer something was, the more precious it would be. If he wanted to get storage equipment from the Holy Dragon City, he had to pay a sufficient price!

On the other hand, when the demon barbarian princess saw the Holy Dragon City cultivators' storage equipment, she subconsciously touched the bracelet on her wrist, her expression grave.

now, please follow me to Holy Dragon City. During this time, please follow my instructions and do not overstep your boundaries. Otherwise, you will bear the consequences!

After another warning, the cultivator waved his hand at the sky. Then, the messengers of the orc Alliance who were standing on the light screen floated off the ground and entered the aircraft through the entrance at the bottom.

"Please board the plane!"

A Holy Dragon City cultivator waved at the demon barbarian princess and the others, leading them into the light screen. Then, they all floated into the aircraft.

Princess demon barbarian and the others were amazed by this strange experience.

all those who have crossed the border have been captured. Return immediately!

At the command, the Holy Dragon City cultivators in the air put away their weapons and entered the aircraft in unison.

A series of explosions rang out in the sky. The two flying devices suddenly accelerated and headed straight for the depths of the banished Lands.

In the narrow cabin, the demon barbarian princess and the others were sitting in the chairs without saying a word. Even though they were in the same room, no one spoke.

Although the success rate of this operation had become extremely low after the messenger of the orc Alliance revealed his identity, no one would give up easily until the last moment.

Only the demon barbarian princess and the others were nervous. As time passed, this worry began to grow.

They did not have a chance to escape earlier. Now that they were in Holy Dragon city's aircraft, their chances of escaping became even slimmer. When they thought about the trouble that could arise if their identities were exposed, the demon barbarian royal family could not help but feel a trace of worry.

In fact, before they came to the land of exile, the members of the demon barbarian royal family had already deduced the possible situations they might encounter and prepared countermeasures.

It was just that at that time, they did not place the Holy Dragon City in a high position. They even had a faint owner's mentality and subconsciously treated the Holy Dragon City as a tenant.

However, as the situation developed, they realized that their initial decision had been too hasty and optimistic. Based on the current attitude of the Holy Dragon City, it was not surprising that they had reversed the situation!

With such powerful strength, why would he care about these stray dogs who could not even protect themselves?

Fortunately, after the initial panic, the demon barbarian princess had regained her calm. She believed that even if the Holy Dragon City used her identity, they would still satisfy her request to a certain extent.

If things were really like this, so what if he had to suffer a little?

For the demon barbarian princess, as long as she could restore the former glory of the demon barbarian Empire, she would not hesitate to sacrifice her life.

The demon barbarian princess's eyes were very complicated as she glanced at the Holy Dragon City cultivators standing at the side. She was both nervous and expectant about the judgment of fate that was about to come.

Under the flying Transport's full speed, it did not take long for them to arrive at Holy Dragon City.

However, compared to the last time they captured mage Sean and the others, these emissaries didn't have the chance to admire the Holy Dragon city's scenery from the sky. This was because they had been imprisoned in a sealed secret room from the beginning. Only when the Holy Dragon City cultivators reminded them to leave their rooms did they know that they had arrived at their destination.

As soon as they stepped out of the aircraft, they were shocked by the surrounding scene.

The surrounding towering metal buildings, the endless stream of residents, and the various flying devices and cultivators in the city that flew past from time to time made everyone feel like they were in a different world.

Seeing the scene in front of them, the suspicions in everyone's hearts grew.

In the past few days, there had been people who had investigated the land of exile more than once. However, every investigation had confirmed one thing, and that was that there were only a few remnant demon barbarians left in the Wildlands, struggling on whilst at death's door. There was not even a single blade of grass within ten thousand miles.

However, who would have thought that in just a few years, not only would a vast expanse of fertile land appear in the banished Lands, but such a prosperous and huge city would also appear out of thin air!

"Where did they come from? And how did you change the land of exile to what it is today?"

Filled with doubt, everyone was led to a huge petal-shaped platform by the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

"Please wait for a moment, our city Lord will be here soon!"

After warning everyone, the Holy Dragon City cultivator who led the way turned around and walked to the side, no longer paying attention to them.

The demon barbarian princess looked around and found that there were many similar petal-shaped platforms around them, each of which was huge.

The most shocking thing was that these petal-shaped platforms were only a part of the huge building. One could imagine how huge the building was!

The demon barbarian princess had never seen a building of this size. It was no exaggeration to describe it as a miracle!

And near this miracle building, there was another majestic-looking building that was not inferior to this giant white building!

The demon barbarian princess didn't know what words to use to describe her feelings. She was getting more and more curious about Holy Dragon City, which was full of miracles.

She slowly sat on a white chair and looked at the new food on the table. For a moment, the demon barbarian princess was in a daze.

A sound next to her woke her up. Then, she saw the people around her looking in the same direction.

Following everyone's line of sight, he saw a young man in a purple robe walking over slowly with a confident smile on his face.

Behind him were several cultivators with powerful auras. Each one of them was no weaker than his teacher, but this group of people was actually willing to follow this young man.

He didn't even need to think to know that this young man was the city Lord that the cultivators were talking about, the true master of this miraculous land!

1362 Various forces (1)

“Welcome to Holy Dragon City. I am the city Lord, Tang Zhen.”

After a simple introduction, Tang Zhen smiled as he looked at the people in front of him and waited for them to introduce themselves.

Tang Zhen actually welcomed these uninvited people very much. Only by coming into contact with the various major forces on the continent would Holy Dragon City have the opportunity to stir up a storm and achieve their expected goal.

Seeing Tang Zhen reveal his identity, a stone in everyone's heart fell to the ground. What they were most afraid of was that they had painstakingly come here but did not mention the main topic.

Since they had already met the target of this trip, there was no need for them to continue hiding their identities, so as to avoid the Holy Dragon City from doubting their sincerity.

The messenger of the orc Alliance was the first to step forward and bow to Tang Zhen. Even though he could see that the young man's strength was low, he had to do this because of the other party's status.

“Lord Castellan, I represent the orc Alliance's great shaman Tita to say hello to you. At the same time, I hope we can work together!”

Tang Zhen nodded and looked at the messenger from the orc Alliance, “I've heard of the great shaman Tita. He's a thousand-year legend in your orc Alliance and a very amazing figure!

Please convey my respect to him. If the conditions allow, I also hope to cooperate with the orc Alliance!

Of course, we can discuss the details later. Now, please sit down and wait for a moment.”

The messenger of the orc Alliance was overjoyed. He bowed to Tang Zhen again and then slowly sat down on the chair.

After seeing the orc Alliance's envoy sit down, a person wearing a dark gold patterned cloak stood up and slightly bowed to Tang Zhen.

“Where did this friend come from, and what is your intention in coming to my Holy Dragon City?”

Tang Zhen glanced at the black mask of the other party and asked in an indifferent voice.

my Lord, I'm here on behalf of my organization to exchange for the alchemy weapon you once used.

Although the other party did not specify what kind of alchemy weapon it was, everyone present knew very well that he was referring to the missiles that had attacked the flame Empire's military camp.

After realizing this, everyone's heart skipped a beat. They secretly thought that the other party had a huge appetite. He actually had thoughts about that kind of weapon!

Of course, what they were more curious about was what this guy wanted to do with this weapon.

Tang Zhen frowned when he heard this. He gently shook his head and said, "I'm sure everyone knows how powerful this weapon is even if I don't say it. Do you think I'd sell this weapon to someone of unknown origin?"

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, the man bowed again and said, "I'm sorry, but due to special reasons, I can't reveal my identity. Please forgive me, city Lord."

However, I've come here with absolute sincerity. As long as city Lord's conditions are reasonable, we will definitely not haggle. Please don't refuse so easily!"

After saying this, the masked man took out a roll of animal skin paper from his sleeve and slowly raised it in front of him.

The Holy Dragon City cultivator beside Tang Zhen waved his hand and the parchment flew into his hand. After checking it carefully, he passed it back to Tang Zhen.

"No problem, city Lord."

Tang Zhen nodded. He casually opened the leather paper and took a glance, only to see that there were densely packed words on it. It was the list of items to exchange for the missiles.

There were a total of ten options on the list. Tang Zhen could choose according to his own requirements and choose an item to exchange for.

Tang Zhen had no interest in items like gold, silver, and treasures. However, a few items on the list were very useful to Tang Zhen. They were also rare materials for the Holy Dragon City.

After passing the list to the Lou Cheng cultivator beside him and staring at the masked man for a while, Tang Zhen nodded his head and said, "Seeing your sincerity, I can consider selling it, but it can only be a castrated version of the weapon. The range is about 500 kilometers, and the killing power is only one-third of the original."

If your organization can accept these conditions, then we will discuss the specific details later. If you don't agree, I can send someone to send you away!"

The masked man hesitated for a moment, but he quickly nodded and said, "Sure, but what do you want in exchange?"

Tang Zhen took out an origin stone from his storage ring and threw it to the other party. He then said indifferently, "I only want these things, the more the better!"

The masked man carefully sized up the origin stone. A thoughtful look flashed in his eyes. Then, he gently nodded to Tang Zhen and sat back in his chair without saying a word.

no matter who here has this item, you can bring it to Holy Dragon City to trade. I can guarantee that you can exchange it for anything you want in Holy Dragon City!

Tang Zhen was not speaking without thinking. With the treasure vault of the main control platform in the savage wildland, in addition to Holy Dragon city's inventory, and the support of the original world, Holy Dragon city's products could definitely meet the needs of any customer.

When the myriad world mall developed to a certain scale, the products of the Holy Dragon City would become more and more abundant. At that time, even if the Holy Dragon City was to establish a war zone, its main purpose would be to protect the myriad world mall. Even if it launched a plane invasion war, it would definitely be for special reasons.

Tang Zhen, who had the opportunity to control a war zone, would definitely not copy the model of the other war zones. Instead, he would create a new path that belonged to him!

After saying this, Tang Zhen gave the emissaries of the various forces an origin stone to facilitate their identification.

Later on, he would also bring these people to the myriad world mall for a stroll, so that they could have a further understanding of the value of the origin stone.

He believed that after seeing the products in the myriad world mall, these forces would actively search for origin stones to trade with the Holy Dragon City without Tang Zhen's promotion.

At this moment, two forces had already stated their identities and intentions. Seeing this, the remaining few emissaries no longer pretended to be reserved and stepped forward to state their identities.

city Lord, I'm an envoy from the Business Alliance of nine cities. It's a pleasure to meet you!

on behalf of all the righteous men of Mount Yunwu, I would like to say hello to you. I hope that we can work together and fight for the free and pure Land that belongs to each other!

my master is Count Matt Damon of the Eternal Empire. His territory is right next to the Great Wall of Miracles. If you need, we can take our cooperation to the next level at any time!

"I'm Yingluo."

After everyone revealed their identities, only the demon barbarian princess remained silent. Therefore, she naturally became the focus of everyone's attention.

Tang Zhen glanced at the demon barbarian princess and thought for a moment. Then, he said, where is this lady from? please state your identity.

The demon barbarian princess's body trembled slightly, and a look of determination and determination flashed in her eyes.

Slowly taking a step forward, the demon barbarian princess bowed to Tang Zhen and said in a cold voice, "City Lord, I'm from the royal family of the demon barbarian Empire, and I'm the only heir to the royal family.

I've come here in the hope that you can help restore the past glory of the demon barbarian Empire!"

Raising her head to look at Tang Zhen's expression, the demon barbarian princess took a deep breath and slowly knelt down, using the highest etiquette of the demon and barbarian race to kowtow.

“Princess, what are you doing?”

Princess demonic barbarian’s courtiers were shocked and immediately tried to stop her.

Tang Zhen’s eyes narrowed slightly when he heard this. Soon after, the corner of his eyes revealed a faint smile.

Chapter 1363

1363 Request and spectating the battle

so you’re the heir to the demon barbarian royal family. I apologize for not coming out to welcome you. Please get up quickly!

Tang Zhen hurriedly said as he dodged the demon barbarian princess’s kowtow. His face revealed a trace of panic.

“City Lord must be joking. The royal family of the demon barbarian Empire has ceased to exist a hundred years ago. The title of Princess will only make people laugh at me. If it wasn’t for the fact that I had no other choice, I wouldn’t even want to mention this title.”

The demon barbarian princess forced a smile and continued to kneel on the ground. She said to Tang Zhen, “City Lord, do you know that the only people left in the demon barbarian royal family are the old, the weak, the sick, and the disabled? not only do we have to carefully avoid the three great empires” pursuit, but we also have to think of ways to find a way to survive for the survivors of the land of exile.

Today, after seeing the Holy Dragon city’s magnificence, this little girl was deeply shocked and happy. City Lord, not only did you turn a barren land into a fertile land, but you also built a Super City that can be called a miracle. Compared to your great achievements, this little girl feels extremely ashamed.

This little girl has a presumptuous request, and that is, I hope that city Lord can give the survivors of the demon and barbarian races some help and help them escape from this miserable life. This little girl and the survivors of the demon and barbarian races will be eternally grateful.”

The demon barbarian princess didn’t hesitate to expose her weakness and abandon the image she had built in the past. Her only purpose was to arouse a trace of sympathy from Tang Zhen. Although she knew very well that these Overlord-like figures would never act on their emotions, she still would not let go of any opportunity to play the emotional card.

As the demon barbarian princess knelt down, the atmosphere immediately became quiet. Everyone stared at Tang Zhen and the demon barbarian princess, waiting for the next development of the matter.

If the Holy Dragon City really helped, even if the demon barbarian Empire could not restore its former glory, it could at least guarantee that it would not be exterminated in a few years.

If they were in the position of the demon barbarian princess, they might have made the same choice.

The elder who followed Princess demonic barbarian let out a long sigh. He understood her thoughts, so he followed suit and knelt down. The others saw this, and even if they were unwilling, they could only kneel down with her.

As officials, they had no other choice.

Tang Zhen nodded. A trace of indignation appeared on his face as he said in a clear voice, although this Tang has never experienced the war a hundred years ago, I still know a little about it. I have to admit that the three empires 'methods were too ruthless. Not only did they build the miraculous Great Wall to imprison millions of demon barbarian survivors, but they also used vicious methods to extract the blood of the earth, forcibly turning a fertile land into a wasteland!

The three great empires "actions are truly too deranged. Every time this Tang thinks about this matter, he feels extremely pained for the tragic fate of the demon barbarian survivors!"

Tang Zhen turned to look at demon barbarian princess and said, "Since you've asked and this Tang has the ability to help, it's naturally my responsibility.

Of course, it's not good to discuss the details here, so please sit to the side and we'll find time to slowly discuss it!"

After Tang Zhen said this, he turned his head away from the demon barbarian princess. Although the other party's request was exactly what he needed at this time, Tang Zhen didn't like this kind of request.

The demon barbarian princess's goal had already been achieved. Seeing Tang Zhen's displeased expression, she naturally wouldn't continue acting. Therefore, she stood up from the ground and lowered her head to sit on a chair at the side.

Tang Zhen nodded his head in satisfaction. He then said to everyone, you are all guests from afar. If I don't treat you with great hospitality, it will be very rude. So, after thinking about it, I have decided to invite you to watch a big show!

As soon as he finished speaking, a Holy master from the Holy Dragon City stood up and looked up at the sky, chanting something. Then, a water screen suddenly appeared in the clear sky, showing the scene of another area clearly.

eh? isn't this the location of the huge pit? "

After carefully observing for a while, an emissary suddenly came to a realization and pointed to the scene in the water curtain.

In fact, there was no need for this person to say anything. Everyone had already recognized this place. Although they did not understand the Holy Dragon city's intentions, they were still impressed by this water screen projection spell.

There were similar spells on this continent, but they could not project images from such a long distance. With this spell alone, Holy Dragon City was able to take a big step ahead of the other forces.

In terms of military reconnaissance, as long as this spell was used to lock onto the location of the target, Holy Dragon City could observe without any scruples. The observed person would not realize that their every move had fallen into the enemy's eyes.

A sense of danger rose in everyone's hearts. They did not know if their base camp had been exposed or if they were one of the Holy Dragon city's surveillance targets.

This feeling was very uncomfortable, but no one dared to flare up. Even if the Holy Dragon City really did this, what could they do?

"Everyone, don't worry. A good show is about to start!"

Tang Zhen laughed softly. He did not explain the principle behind this water curtain projection in detail. He merely indicated for everyone to wait patiently.

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, everyone patiently continued to watch. Moreover, they took the opportunity to chat with Tang Zhen and deepen their understanding of each other.

After waiting for less than ten minutes, the still image finally changed. In the distant sky, many armed airships were speeding over. They were all the latest attack airships of the three empires, and their combat power was quite strong.

After seeing this scene, everyone's expression changed. Obviously, they had recognized the origin of these airships. They were the joint mages sent by the three empires to investigate the changes in the banished land.

Before heading to Holy Dragon City, everyone already had some understanding of this team. They knew that the Holy Empire's elite mages were gathered here. Putting aside the dozen bright moon mages, just the number of great mages was over a thousand!

Such powerful strength was enough to make any enemy retreat!

It was also for this reason that they dared to swagger into the banished land after the disappearance of the three mages. They were obviously extremely confident in their own strength.

From the Holy Empire's point of view, even if the mysterious forces of the banished Lands were extraordinary, they were still no match for these powerful mage troops!

In fact, it was not only the three great empires that had such thoughts. Even the emissaries of the various forces present had similar thoughts. The impression that these mages had left on them was too deep.

At the thought of the large group of mages about to attack Holy Dragon City, everyone suddenly had the thought of running away.

However, seeing that Tang Zhen was still talking and laughing, and thinking about the actions of the water screen projection, everyone seemed to have thought of something. Their originally panicked mood also calmed down.

They were even a little impatient to see what kind of situation would appear.

Through these aggressive and powerful enemies, everyone could further understand Holy Dragon city's strength. They would naturally not miss this opportunity.

The armed airships were moving very fast. In the blink of an eye, they had reached the center of the water curtain from the horizon. At the same time, they saw the huge pit on the ground.

The leading armed airship slowed down, and the ones following behind did the same. Before the airship could stop, dozens of mages flew out of the armed airship and headed straight for the pit.

Seeing this scene, a strange feeling immediately rose in everyone's heart. It was as if they were invisible in the nearby area, watching their prey walk step by step into a carefully disguised trap.

At this time, everyone was sure that Holy Dragon City had prepared a big gift for these mages. However, they would have to wait for the situation to develop further.

"Everyone, please open your eyes wide, because the show is about to start!"

As soon as Tang Zhen's voice fell, the scene in the water curtain suddenly changed. Dozens of streams of light rose from the ground and went straight to the hovering armed airships.

In a series of sparks, several armed airships landed on the ground. The mages of the three empires were like frightened birds, flying around in the air, resisting and avoiding the sudden attack!

Chapter 1364

1364 Heavy obstruction (1)

The micro-missiles launched from the ground were so fast that the three armed airships that were attacked first had no time to put up their protective shields before they were hit in their vital parts by the missiles.

In the violent explosion, the armed airship was quickly dismembered, and the passengers inside were swallowed by the sea of fire. Painful screams were endless, and fireballs fell from the sky one after another. Only a few mages were lucky enough to escape.

Then, the armed airship that was hit fell to the ground with a huge explosion, and thick smoke and flames rose into the sky.

The remaining armed airships finally raised their protective shields and intercepted the missiles one by one. However, under the terrifying impact of the explosion, these protective shields could not last for long.

The defensive strength of these protective shields was designed to counter the intensity of the war on the continent. However, the attack power of Holy Dragon city's weapons far exceeded this standard. It was not a strange thing for them to be broken in a short time.

Fortunately, the people participating in this operation were the elites selected from the three great empires. They had rich commanding experience, so even when they were attacked, they still commanded in an orderly manner.

While actively defending, they commanded the armed airships to fight back. Missiles were fired from the armed airships, heading straight to the launch site.

The ground suddenly rang out with a loud noise. There were sparks everywhere, and gravel and dust soared into the sky. It looked extremely shocking.

The mages flew out from the armed airships one after another. They were unable to play their role to the fullest within the airships, so they dodged like a swarm of bees, searching for the position of the enemy to attack.

However, it was only at this moment that they realized that there was no enemy around. It was as if the attacks from the weapons were automatic.

It could be said that from the beginning until now, they had been fighting against invisible enemies!

The dozen or so Hao Yue mages had grave expressions. After confirming that there were no enemies in the surroundings, they immediately ordered their subordinates to rescue the injured. At the same time, they sent even more mages to scout the surroundings.

The matter was already very clear. The enemy must have already understood their movements, so they had set up an ambush here.

The feeling of being schemed against was very unpleasant. It was as if they were like silly rabbits that had fallen into the trap set by others.

“Things have changed. It’s obvious that the other party is well prepared. I guess there will be more ambushes waiting for us. Now, everyone, how should we deal with them?”

A mage from the blazing flame Empire who was proficient in alchemy looked at the broken pieces of the weapon on the ground with a gloomy expression. He had already confirmed the origin of this weapon. It was clearly the same type of weapon that had attacked the military camp.

Through this, he could confirm that the two attacks were done by the same force.

One of the three armed airships that had been shot down belonged to the flame Empire. After a search and rescue, only a few dozen survivors were found. The rest had died in the explosion.

With the new and old grudges added together, this bright moon Wizard was even more eager to see the mastermind behind the scenes and settle all scores with them.

However, as the person in charge of the raging flame Empire, he could not let his emotions get the better of him. He knew that there were many dangers ahead, yet he still allowed his subordinates to risk their lives and continue moving forward.

I think we should wait here and contact the rear to send more armed airships to support.

The bright moon Mage from the Eternal Empire felt that they should not continue advancing. The ambush just now had already shown him the power of Holy Dragon City.

In just one wave of attacks, they had already lost three armed airships and over 2000 elite combat personnel.

In the three great empires “close to a hundred years of history, there had never been such heavy casualties. Looking at the charred remains on the ground, even the dozen or so determined Haoyue mages could not bear to see it.

The bright moon Mage of the Eternal Empire didn’t want his subordinates to suffer any casualties, so he suggested to wait for reinforcements.

“If we don’t move forward after suffering a little casualty, how are we going to figure out the enemy’s specific situation? Time was extremely precious right now, and the slightest hesitation could lead to more unforeseen circumstances.

The other party is like a sharp sword hanging over our heads. It can fall at any time, but it doesn’t necessarily fall on anyone’s neck. Therefore, the earlier we get information on the enemy, the more beneficial it will be for us.

If the other party is really a threat to us, then the information we collect will be extremely important. It will also prompt the Empire to send troops to eliminate them in the shortest time possible!”

The radiant Empire’s wizard Hao Yue strongly opposed it. His long white beard trembled as he spoke, clearly very agitated.

The reason why this mage was so excited, other than wanting to figure out the enemy’s intelligence as soon as possible, was because the missing Bishop was his younger brother, and several of his disciples had also died in the explosion just now.

Two consecutive heavy blows had already caused this radiant Empire wizard to be in a state of Fury. If it was not for the fact that the operation required the three parties to negotiate, and the radiant Empire could not resist the enemy’s attack alone, this bright moon Wizard might have already led his men and set off!

Although the radiant Empire’s mages were swayed by their emotions, what he said made sense. If they were to cower, they would likely miss the opportunity.

Although they had been ambushed, they had been prepared for casualties before they set off. In the end, when casualties appeared, they had chosen to retreat.

If this matter were to be spread back to the Empire, they would most likely be ridiculed. To wizard Hao Yue, this was a humiliation that he could not bear.

After some serious consideration, the mages decided to continue moving forward.

However, before that, they still contacted the rear to send armed airships to collect the bodies of those who died in the attack. No matter what the reason was, they could not let their bodies be exposed in the wilderness.

After taking care of everything, everyone returned to their respective armed airships and continued to move forward. However, they were much more cautious this time. The protective shield of the armed airships was always on, and the weapon system was always pointing at any suspicious location.

Although doing so would increase the energy consumption of the armed airships, it was completely acceptable. If there were no accidents, the energy stored in advance was enough to allow the armed airships to go back and forth smoothly.

But even so, they were soon hit by the second wave of attacks.

Dozens of drones suddenly appeared and started shooting from a distance. The energy weapons they carried had a long range and were powerful. Their speed was far faster than the armed airships.

The main purpose of these drones was to investigate and block. They were usually equipped with energy weapons and had strong survival and combat power.

In the eyes of the mages, the flying drones were like annoying flies, flying around the armed airships, making them feel annoyed.

They wanted to shoot down these annoying things, but the weapons on the airships couldn't lock on to them at all. On the contrary, the weapons of these drones were extremely sharp. It only took a dozen attacks to penetrate the protective shield of the armed airships.

The battle had only lasted for a few minutes, but the huge armed airship was already covered in wounds of all sizes. Although it was not enough to cause the airship to crash, it still caused a lot of trouble.

During this period, some mages tried to leave the ship to attack, but after being turned into fireballs, no one dared to run out and show off.

Seeing that the damage on the armed airships was increasing, and that only a few droids were damaged and had fallen, the bright moon mages could no longer hold back their anger. They rushed out one after another and surrounded the droids.

As soon as the bright moon mages, who had the strength of King-tier cultivators, made their move, they immediately shot down several drones, making everyone on the armed airship cheer in unison.

However, at this moment, a ray of light flew past in the sky, and streaked across the body of a bright moon Wizard.

The bright moon Wizard did not even have time to scream before he was cut into two by the stream of light. He was then hit by the energy beam shot by the drone and turned into dust in an instant!

Chapter 1365

1365 Heavy casualties (1)

Seeing the sudden death of a wizard Hao Yue, and not even his corpse was left behind, the hearts of the other Hao Yue Wizards shrank.

Compared to the military airships that could be mass-produced, the value of the Hao Yue mages was clearly higher. With their powerful fighting strength and rich knowledge, it would not be an exaggeration to say that they were national treasures.

This was all because the process of advancing to a bright moon Wizard was too difficult. Even if there were many Wizards in the three great empires, it was still very rare to reach this step.

It was precisely because of the importance of the bright moon Mage that the three great empires immediately sent their elite members to investigate and rescue Sean and the others after they went missing.

Unfortunately, so far, he had not obtained any information about mage Sean and the others. Instead, he had lost the life of another bright moon Mage!

The eyes of the Eternal Empire's leading wizard were bloodshot. The bright moon Wizard who had just been killed was one of the main members of the Empire's wizard Corps. He was also one of his good friends.

Never in his dreams would he have thought that his companion would die in the land of exile just like that, not even leaving behind a corpse!

damn b * stard, if you have the guts, come out and fight me with real weapons. Who Do You Think You Are to hide in the dark and launch a sneak attack? ”

As he roared, he looked around for traces of the attacker. His eyes were filled with unconcealed killing intent and a faint trace of fear.

If the enemy could kill his companion without a sound, he could naturally kill him as well.

However, no matter how he roared, he could not see any trace of the enemy. He also did not know where they were hiding.

Compared to the drones that were like flies, these invisible enemies were the real fatal threat. In a situation where he was unprepared, even he couldn't guarantee that he would avoid the sneak attack.

At this moment, not only did the bright moon mages have to Dodge the drones 'harassment, but they also had to be on guard against the hidden enemy's attack. Their mental state was already at its peak.

“BOOM!”

Under the joint attack of several bright moon sorcerers, a drone seemed to have fallen into a quagmire, its speed becoming extremely slow. At the same time, a few sorcerers seized the opportunity, and concentrated attacks landed on the drone's outer shell.

The silver-white drone's outer shell was suddenly covered in frost. Then, a wave of fire came crashing down, shattering the drone's outer shell into pieces, like the shell of an old turtle.

“Huala!

The drone's outer shell fell off, revealing the complex internal components. Then, the damaged area was struck by lightning and fell to the ground with black smoke.

“Good job!”

Seeing that their cooperation was effective, the mages immediately perked up and began to attack their next target.

However, just as they were about to launch their next attack, a dozen cold lights suddenly appeared in the sky, heading straight for the vital points of these bright moon mages.

you've finally arrived. Go to hell!

The Eternal Empire's leading wizard bellowed, and a large amount of lightning spread out with him as the center. Then, his entire body was like a ball of light wrapped in lightning. As he forced back the enemy's attack, chains of lightning shot out and lashed at the location of the Ambusher.

"Pi Li pa la!"

After the scalp-numbing sound, the air was suddenly filled with a burning smell. Then, a slender figure appeared in the air and took a dozen steps back before stabilizing her body.

After the slender figure steadied herself, the leader of the Eternal Empire finally saw the attacker's face.

Its entire body was covered in a black, streamlined shell that seemed to have a natural runic magic circle on it. The spell attack of the Eternal Empire mage was absorbed and offset by the shell, only causing very little damage to the attacker!

Looking at this monster that looked 70% human and 30% bug-like, the mages were secretly shocked. Could this be the true face of the mysterious enemy of the banished land?

What kind of species was this, and where did it come from?

The Empire's mages mistook the Queen's Bugman guards for Holy Dragon city's residents. While they were secretly shocked, they were also worried about the strange invisibility ability of the Bugman guards.

Even the bright moon Wizards could not easily see through the invisibility technique, let alone ordinary people. If all the enemies had similar abilities, then the three empires would definitely be in a disadvantageous position in the future war.

However, the current situation didn't allow them to think about it carefully, because the attacks from the enemy were becoming more and more concentrated, as if there were sharp knife lights everywhere. In the process of dodging, if there was a slight deviation, they would be in danger of losing their lives.

The Empire's mages who had been attacked continuously were enraged. They were like hungry wolves, attacking the Bugman guards closest to them with all their might, causing them to break out of their invisibility.

Seeing that Hao Yue's mages were in danger, the mages from the three empires on the airship also rushed out to help, surrounding the exposed Bugman guards and bombarding them with dense spells.

Even though the shells of the bugmen contained anti-magic metal, they could not withstand such a concentrated attack. In just a short while, more than ten Bugman guards were killed by the Imperial mages.

However, the Empire's mages had also paid a heavy price. Under the attack of the invisible Bugman guards, the Empire's mages kept falling from the sky, most of them with fatal injuries of being beheaded!

Even after suffering such heavy casualties, the Bugman guards showed no signs of retreating. They were like killing machines, reaping the lives of their enemies with all their might.

The mages of the Empire were all shocked when they saw the Bugman guards 'cold and murderous eyes. It was the first time they had seen such a fearless enemy. The Bugman did not even care about the death of his comrades, and only focused on killing the enemy!

Under the crazy attacks of the Bugman guards, the number of mages that died increased.

"Damn it, kill all these monsters at all costs!"

Seeing their subordinates being killed one after another, the bright moon mages couldn't help but roar in anger. They even took the attacks of the drones head-on and rushed forward to kill the Bugman guards.

This battle was dazzling to the eyes. There were figures flying everywhere in the air, and the energy attacks were as gorgeous as fireworks. Unfortunately, such a scene did not give people any sense of beauty, because there were fresh lives falling at every moment.

At this time, the ground was covered with corpses, and there were also the wreckage of a few black smoke drones, which made the atmosphere of the battlefield even more tragic.

Just as the two sides were locked in a battle, another violent explosion was heard not far away. A heavily damaged armed airship with black smoke billowing out of its body could not bear the heavy load and fell to the ground.

The ground combatants in the armed airship jumped out one after another. Even if they would die if they landed at this height, they would never miss the possible chance of survival. Otherwise, when the armed airship hit the ground, they would be doomed!

How could the mages ignore this scene? they all used various means to rescue the three empires, while the drones in the air took the opportunity to open fire, causing quite a lot of casualties to the three empires!

Chapter 1366

1366 The arrival of the reinforcements (1)

After a fierce battle that lasted for nearly ten minutes, the remaining drones suddenly retreated without any warning, leaving the mages who were caught up in a tough battle feeling somewhat baffled.

However, they also heaved a sigh of relief. If they continued fighting, they would probably all die on this wasteland.

The fierce Bugman guards also retreated because the small battleship that secretly carried the Queen bug had also left quietly. Since the Queen bug was not here, the Bugman guards naturally had no need to stay.

To put it bluntly, the Holy Dragon City was using the nature of the Bugman guards to protect the Queen Zerg, luring them to treat the mages of the three great empires as intruders. The fearless battle was only to ensure the safety of the Queen Zerg.

Compared to the Queen bug that grew naturally, these few mutated Queen bugs that were raised by the residents of the Holy Dragon City had more destructive power, and the bugmen protecting them naturally became stronger.

This Queen Zerg was one of Tang Zhen's trump cards to deal with the terobo people. Naturally, he would spare no effort in nurturing it until it was raised to its limit.

Arranging for the Bugman guards to carry out the ambush was actually to test their combat effectiveness through actual combat. It would be fine as long as the expected goal was achieved, but they could not afford to waste all of them on these mages from the three empires.

If it was not to test their existing attack methods and to intimidate the three great empires, the Holy Dragon City had at least a few ways to make these invading enemies disappear in an instant. Why would they go through so much trouble?

The emissaries of the forces far away in Holy Dragon City did not know about this situation, but they were shocked by the means that Holy Dragon City had displayed. In just two attacks, the investigation team of the three great empires had already been beaten to a half-crippled state.

If they hadn't witnessed this scene with their own eyes, they would never have believed this.

This was the result of the Holy Dragon City not using the powerful weapons that could destroy the military camps and not even the cultivators in the city Towers. If the king level cultivators around Tang Zhen had made a move, the sorcerers of the three great empires would probably have become corpses by now!

Looking at the emissaries' expressions, it was clear that the Holy Dragon city's strength had successfully intimidated them. Those who had been hesitating about whether to cooperate with the Holy Dragon City had now made up their minds. They must grasp this rare opportunity.

This continent had been under the control of the five great empires for too long. It was time to stir up a storm and change to a new world!

Looking at the surrounding emissaries who wanted to speak but hesitated, Tang Zhen smiled, don't worry, the show has just begun. If they still insist on coming, the content later will be even more exciting!

Hearing Tang Zhen's words, the corners of the emissaries' mouths twitched. From the tone of this Holy Dragon City Lord, it was clear that he wanted to play the mages of the three great empires to death!

Since Tang Zhen wanted to continue playing, they were naturally happy to watch from the side. Of course, they could not help but feel sad for the mages of the three great empires. They had encountered a powerful monster like the Holy Dragon City. It was already not bad if they could return alive.

However, from the scene displayed on the water screen, unless the investigation team retreated immediately, they might be completely wiped out on the way to Holy Dragon City.

The thick smoke became the most obvious coordinates. Just as the mages were cleaning up the battlefield, the airship troops that had come from the Great Wall of Miracles arrived in time.

This time, the reinforcements had more than 50 armed airships. When they flew, they covered the sky and the earth. There were even some magic creatures following them. They looked ferocious and terrifying.

After receiving the information from the land of exile, the veil of the mysterious forces had been lifted. It was also through this information that the commander stationed at the Great Wall of Miracles realized the seriousness of the matter.

Without any hesitation, he ordered all the armed airships to set out and head straight for the land of exile in an aggressive manner.

However, during the flight, the commander was very worried. He was afraid that he would see a ground full of corpses when he arrived at his destination!

However, the world was just so helpless. The more you were afraid of something, the more you would encounter it, and you couldn't avoid it.

Looking from the sky, the investigation team's armed airships had landed on the ground, and the staff were busy with repair and maintenance.

The high-level swordsmen in charge of security spread out to guard against another attack from the Holy Dragon City, while the mages gathered together to recover their strength in order to deal with any unexpected situation.

The military doctors were sweating profusely as they constantly treated the wounds of the injured. However, there was nothing they could do to help those who couldn't be saved. They could only watch them die in grief.

Seeing the bodies lying together in the air, the faces of the soldiers who came to help sank. Before they arrived, two armed airships had already stopped halfway to collect the bodies.

However, looking at the current situation, the two armed airships might not be able to carry all these heroic souls!

The land of exile was now filled with open areas, so the reinforcement airship troops chose to land nearby, leaving only a few airships to be in charge of aerial surveillance.

As soon as the airship came to a stop, the commander of the flame Empire's Army quickly walked over and saluted the bright moon mages.

"Commander Hoffman of the blazing flame Empire's Royal airship troop pays his respects to your Excellencies bright moon mages!"

Nodding his head lightly, the leading mage of the blazing flame Empire sighed and said in a heavy tone, "General Hoffman, I believe you've realized that we've encountered a mysterious and powerful enemy. We've lost two battles in succession, and we've lost both times!

Although they had yet to obtain any specific information on the enemy, the two battles they had experienced were enough to list them as the most dangerous enemy.

I'll report the battle process back to the mage Academy. At the same time, I hope that the general will report the situation here to the Empire, and then come up with a corresponding solution as soon as possible!"

General Hoffman nodded with a solemn expression.

He was very clear about the strength of this investigation team, but even if these dozen bright moon mages and a thousand great mages were added together, they were still miserably defeated by the enemy. Although 90% of the casualties on the list were high level swordsmen, the casualties of the mages were also not small.

Especially when he realized that the team was missing a wizard Hao Yue, he immediately guessed a possibility, and the shock in his heart grew even stronger.

rest assured, Sir. I will report the situation here truthfully and ask the Empire to send reinforcements immediately.

After Hoffman said that, he hesitated for a moment. He looked at the leading mage of the flame Empire and said, "Based on the current situation, if we continue to go deeper, we will definitely encounter more danger. I wonder if you plan to retreat?"

"I've already made up my mind. This time, we must find out the true identity of the enemy. Otherwise, wouldn't our previous sacrifices be in vain?"

The leading mage of the flame Empire glanced at the crowd, who had complicated expressions, and continued, "however, I won't force anyone to participate this time. I'll be acting alone. Of course, if someone is willing to follow me, I won't refuse!

Hearing that, Hoffman's face immediately turned anxious, and he quickly dissuaded, "There are many obstacles in front. Why do you have to risk your life, Sir? why don't we wait until we're fully prepared before we go deep into the land of exile to investigate?"

The losses suffered by the investigation team were already severe enough, and even a bright moon Wizard had fallen. If they lost another bright moon Wizard, the three great empires would be turned upside down!

Chapter 1367

1367 Touring the myriad world mall (1)

"You don't need to dissuade me. I've already made up my mind, and I won't change it easily!

if I don't return, please pass this item to the mage Academy. Don't make any mistakes!

The leading mage of the blazing flame Empire took out an item and handed it to general Hoffman with a serious expression. The outer shell of the item was made of a special metal, and it was full of tiny runic arrays. It was only the size of a fist.

Seeing the confusion on everyone's faces, the leading mage explained, "this is an alchemy item with a folded space. All my notes and experiment items are in it. The way to crack it is in my secret room. You just have to follow the steps and you can open it!

After saying this, the leading mage's figure gradually disappeared, no matter how the crowd shouted, he no longer appeared.

Seeing this, everyone present could only sigh.

With the leading mage of the flame Empire as an example, hundreds of people quickly stepped forward. They strongly requested to continue the investigation, their faces determined.

From their expressions, it could be seen that they had already put their lives aside.

Everyone could only give their blessings to these brave warriors, but they didn't participate. After all, not everyone had the courage to sacrifice themselves.

After watching the figures of these people gradually disappear, general Hoffman was silent for a moment. He then ordered the bodies to be quickly collected and prepared to evacuate at any time.

Hoffman was clear that this war was inevitable. However, he couldn't act rashly before the actual war. He had to wait for further orders from the Empire.

Even if he also wanted to lead the mages to take revenge for the fallen soldiers, the responsibility on his body did not allow him to do so.

Half an hour later, the armed airships took off one after another, heading in the direction of the Great Wall of Miracles.

However, Hoffman still left behind a few armed airships to pick up the Warriors who had returned from the investigation. Although he knew that the chances of the other party returning successfully were extremely low, Hoffman still had to be prepared.

.....

Watching the mighty armed airships leave, the emissaries in Holy Dragon City could not help but look regretful. If Holy Dragon City kept all these people in the land of exile, it would undoubtedly be a heavy blow to the three great empires.

In the past 100 years, the three great empires had relied on their massive armed airship troops to make the orc Alliance and the morning Star Empire wary and not dare to invade.

However, through the previous battle, it was confirmed that the armed airships that had dominated the sky for more than 100 years had met their nemesis. Whether it was the powerful missiles or the agile drones, they could all pose a fatal threat to the armed airships!

If he had such a weapon, he would have the capital to go against the three empires. Even if he were to go up against the armed airships of the three empires, he might still be able to win!

When they thought of this, everyone's heart burned with passion, especially the envoy of the orc Alliance. He stood up and walked in front of Tang Zhen, pleading with an urgent tone, my Lord, I hope you can sell us the weapon that spits fire from its tail. As long as the price is reasonable, we will buy it in bulk!

"Yeah, we also want to purchase a batch!"

“Please, city Lord, grant our request. We will be extremely grateful for this!”

city Lord, our organization has the origin stone you mentioned. I'll send someone back to bring it over. Please leave me a similar weapon!

Tang Zhen laughed softly as he faced the anxious expressions of the various emissaries. He slowly stood up from his chair.

“Since everyone has such a request, I can't refuse. But before that, please follow me to a place. I believe that when you arrive there, you will be amazed to find that there is more than one weapon to deal with the armed airships!”

Tang Zhen turned around and left after he finished speaking.

When the emissaries saw this, they hurriedly followed closely behind, afraid that they would fall behind.

After leaving the second auxiliary city, the group headed straight for the space TOWER.

As they slowly walked along the wide street, they saw the flow of people and the entrance to the huge spatial tower that appeared out of thin air. The emissaries couldn't help but be shocked.

The more time one spent in the Holy Dragon City, the more mysterious it felt. However, when one felt that they understood it enough, they would suddenly realize that they had only lifted a corner of its mysterious veil.

The inside and outside of the spatial tower were two completely different worlds. However, the emissaries did not have the time to check out the special scenery of the spatial tower. Instead, they were attracted by the myriad world mall not far away.

Today, the myriad world mall was packed with people. In order to create a lively scene here, Tang Zhen not only allowed the residents of Lou Cheng to be included, but even the transmigrators from the original world were no longer restricted from entering.

The dazzling products attracted the attention of many of the original world's local tycoons, especially when they saw the video advertisement released by the Holy Dragon Corporation. These rich original world residents applied to go to the Holy Dragon City to shop one after another. The reservation line for transmigrators was already two years later!

Even though the prices of the goods in the myriad world mall were frighteningly high, they were indeed worth the money. Hence, transmigrators could be seen shopping everywhere, and there were even more who were spending tens of thousands of gold.

In addition to these transmigrators from their original worlds, more than 20 plane merchants appeared in the myriad world mall one after another. Some of them had just started and were still in the midst of hard exploration, while others had already rented a shop and started to sell goods from their own worlds.

The rarer something was, the more expensive it would be. As long as the quality of the goods was guaranteed, there was absolutely no need to worry about the source of customers. Sometimes, the Holy Dragon City would even take the initiative to purchase them.

For example, the number one dimensional merchant of the myriad world mall already had his own shop. With the help of the myriad world mall, his power had become stronger and stronger. Not only did he have many subordinates, but he also occupied a large piece of land.

Not long ago, he had gone to the weapons store to buy a lot of things in an attempt to occupy more land and build his own country!

It could be said that every dimensional merchant had great luck. As long as they operated carefully and nothing unexpected happened, they would one day become the true overlords of their respective worlds!

Ever since they entered the myriad world mall, the emissaries felt that their eyes were not enough to see everything. The shops on both sides of the street were full of customers, and all kinds of goods were displayed in them. The decoration style that combined technology with indigenous culture made everyone feel strange, but at the same time, it also opened their eyes.

They finally knew why Tang Zhen wanted to use origin stones to carry out the transaction. It was because origin stones were the official currency in the myriad world mall.

It didn't take long before the group entered an official shop that sold weapons.

This shop covered an area of nearly 10000 square meters. Compared to other shops, the number of customers here was much fewer. There were only a few dimensional merchants in black cloaks, chatting in low voices while accompanied by staff.

There were also some transmigrators from the original world who came in for a stroll. As the myriad world mall did not sell weapons to transmigrators, they could only look around.

After seeing Tang Zhen's group, the staff inside immediately stepped forward and bowed. After which, they led everyone to wander around the hall according to Tang Zhen's request.

Not only were there small firearms and heavy tanks, but there were also some cannons and ground-to-air missiles, which were very eye-catching.

Looking at the dazzling array of goods around them, the emissaries' breathing seemed to become rapid. They stared at the video demonstration next to the weapons for fear of missing any details.

Whenever they had any doubts, they would ask the staff around them and they would soon get a satisfactory answer.

It wasn't until this moment that the emissaries realized why Tang Zhen said that there was more than one weapon that could threaten the armed airship. It turned out that this wasn't an exaggeration, but a fact!

The emissaries were excited at the thought of their own organization possessing these weapons. Their eyes were filled with excitement and fanaticism!

Chapter 1368

1368 The passageway in the death barrier

After touring the myriad world mall for a few hours, the emissaries left reluctantly and headed to the residence that Tang Zhen had arranged for them to rest.

Their original plan was to leave the land of exile as soon as possible after coming into contact with Holy Dragon City. However, after experiencing a series of events that subverted their understanding, they were no longer in a hurry to leave. Instead, they were prepared to stay and continue to observe.

Tang Zhen was very clear about their thoughts, but he did not reject them. In fact, he was even more willing to use their channels to promote Holy Dragon City.

At the same time, a dozen subordinates who had come with these emissaries hurriedly left. They carried the personally written letters of the emissaries as well as the miniature video broadcasting device that Tang Zhen had given them. They traveled day and night to their respective bases.

He believed that once the Holy Dragon city's situation was made known to the outside world, even with the Great Wall of Miracles as a barrier, those forces driven by profit from all sides would swarm in.

In particular, the messenger from the Eternal Empire, count Matt Damon, impatiently asked to see Tang Zhen after leaving the myriad world mall. He hoped to buy a batch of weapons on credit and ensure that the defense system could be built on the Count's territory as soon as possible.

As long as the Eternal Empire's armed airships were unable to pose a threat to count Matt Damon, he would immediately support Holy Dragon City with a clear flag. He could even offer more benefits.

Tang Zhen already had some understanding of count Matt Damon from the information he had previously gathered. He knew that his territory was near the Great Wall of Miracles. It was said that his ancestor was one of the competitors for the throne of the Eternal Empire. In the end, he was banished to the border because he failed in the competition.

However, he had never given up on his desire for the throne. Unfortunately, the eternal royal family had been suppressing him and sending him to the border to prevent him from causing trouble and rebelling.

Count Matt Damon, who was at the border, had originally given up hope. However, the appearance of the Holy Dragon City gave him a chance to realize his dream. This Messenger was count Matt Damon's most trusted confidant, so he naturally understood his master's thoughts. That was why he took the initiative to ask for a delay purchase of weapons.

Tang Zhen pondered for a moment before agreeing to the request of the envoy.

The other party's territory was close to the Great Wall of miracle, so it would not take much effort to open a gap and connect the land of exile with the inside of the Great Wall.

With the existence of this gap, the people from the Great Wall would be able to reach Holy Dragon City more easily. This was undoubtedly an extremely beneficial thing for Holy Dragon City.

After all, other than invading the other world, Holy Dragon City had always opened its doors to do business. Naturally, they hoped to have as many customers as possible.

Moreover, it would be extremely beneficial for the Holy Dragon City if they managed to secure a foothold in the three empires. Therefore, even if count Matt Damon was willing to put on a temporary loan, he could completely accept it.

Tang Zhen wanted to do more than that. Other than providing weapons to the other party, he would also send cultivators to help them set up a defensive position and clear the obstacles of the death barrier, so that there would be no obstructions inside and outside the Great Wall.

At the thought of this, Tang Zhen immediately issued an order to mobilize thousands of cultivators in Loucheng city. Together with Count Matt Damon's emissary, they boarded a small warship and headed straight for the Great Wall of Miracles, which belonged to the Eternal Empire.

The Holy Dragon city's small warships were extremely fast. Count Matt Damon's Messenger received the Notice of Arrival before he could recover from the shock.

Due to the anti-air formation above the Great Wall, the small warships could not pass through directly, so they stopped at the edge.

The emissary followed the Holy Dragon City cultivators down the warship in shock. As expected, he saw the death barrier in front of him, which allowed him to confirm that he had arrived at his destination.

"My God, this speed is too fast!"

While he was secretly shocked, the emissary was also attracted by the Holy Dragon city's cultivators who walked past him one after another. Especially when he discovered that these cultivators were not inferior to great Wizards, and some of them even had an aura comparable to that of wizard Hao Yue, he was once again shocked by the Holy Dragon city's strength.

If Count Matt Damon had the same power, he would have become the Overlord of a region and even replaced the Eternal Empire's royal family!

However, the emissary also knew that although his master did not have such strength, he could still take advantage of the situation to achieve his desired goal.

The cultivator in charge of leading the team did not pay attention to the messenger who was deep in thought. Instead, he looked at the death barrier in front of him and took out two strange-looking metal rods.

He first inserted a metal rod at the edge of the mist, then inserted another one 50 meters away, and then remotely started it.

As the runic magic circle inside the metal rod began to work, the gem-like object at the top suddenly emitted a bright light. Then, the surrounding fog quickly retreated dozens of meters away as if it had met its natural enemy.

A path without any mist appeared between the two metal rods, allowing one to move freely without worrying about the invasion of the strange mist.

The natural chasm that had originally cut off the survival of the demon barbarian survivors had also become useless because of the appearance of this special metal rod.

The emissary looked at the scene in front of him in a daze. He had never dreamed that Holy Dragon City would so easily solve one of the problems of traveling between the two places!

The cultivators of loucheng were indeed powerful and the things they did were always unexpected.

As for the storage equipment used by the Holy Dragon City cultivators, he had already seen similar items in the myriad world mall. Although he was still envious, at least he would not lose his composure because of it.

The emissary did not know that after analyzing the strange fog of the death barrier some time ago, the researchers of Holy Dragon City had easily found a solution after several experiments.

To be able to solve the problem so quickly, it was all thanks to the Holy Dragon city's rich technical reserves. Among them, there were similar solutions to the problem, and there was more than one list.

After confirming that this method was effective, the cultivators began to advance into the depths of the fog. With their Swift operation, a passage nearly a hundred meters wide appeared in the death barrier.

The light on the metal rods connected together, stretching for dozens of miles. If it was late at night, one could easily see it even from a distance!

As the tunnel continued to extend forward, the monsters inside the death barrier dodged one after another. They seemed to be extremely disgusted by this light, and they would be hurt just by looking at it.

Unknowingly, everyone was getting closer and closer to the Great Wall of Miracles, and they could already see the outline of the wall.

“Bang!”

The last two metal rods were inserted into the soil, and the passage through the death barrier was officially completed. From now on, as long as they crossed the Great Wall of Miracles, they could easily go to Holy Dragon City without having to face the monsters in the fog.

When the group got close to the bottom of the city wall, they quickly attracted the attention of the patrolling soldiers. A beam of light that looked like a Searchlight quickly shot toward their position.

“Who are you people?”

The Inquisitor's tone was a little frightened. The sudden appearance of a large number of people and horses made them a little overwhelmed. Some soldiers' hands holding their weapons were trembling slightly.

Upon hearing the question from the city wall, the messenger immediately stood up and revealed his identity, in case the patrolling soldiers opened fire out of nervousness.

In fact, this section of the Great Wall that belonged to count Matt Damon's defense had been left unguarded for many years. If not for the Holy Dragon city's sudden appearance, which forced count Matt Damon to send people here, who knew how long this place would have been abandoned?

The soldiers who were patrolling at this time were under the command of count mackdamon, so when the messenger revealed his identity, the soldiers on the city wall immediately recognized him.

Soon, soldiers jumped down from the city wall and confirmed the identity of the messenger at close range. After they sent a signal, the soldiers gathered on the city wall became quiet.

Not long after, the officers on the Great Wall of Miracles rushed over. After exchanging a few words with the emissary in a low voice, they glanced at the Holy Dragon City cultivators with a face full of vigilance and hurried back to the city wall.

After a dozen minutes, there was a dull sound. The huge wall began to shake slightly. Then, an upright crack appeared on the part of the wall near the ground.

With a rumbling sound, the crack grew larger and larger, and finally became a giant gate more than 30 meters wide!

This was a mechanism left behind when the Great Wall was built to facilitate the three empires to set out to the land of exile at any time. However, these exits had almost never been opened since the construction of the Great Wall!

Now that the exit had been opened again, it was not to fight against the demon and barbarian races, but to let in an even more terrifying opponent!

Chapter 1369

1369 Rebellion in the Eternal Empire (1)

Although the passage through the death barrier had been cleared, the Holy Dragon City cultivators did not enter the territory of count madamon. Instead, they chose to rest on the spot.

The soldiers of the Earl's territory who were guarding the Great Wall of Miracles whispered to each other and kept sizing up the cultivators with terrifying auras. Their eyes were full of curiosity.

They had received orders to be stationed here to guard against the Holy Dragon city's invasion, but they did not expect to see each other so soon, and they were likely to be working together!

The messenger left in a hurry. He contacted count Mark Damon using the communication equipment in the camp and reported everything that happened here without missing a single detail.

After hearing the report from his confidant, even though it was already late at night, count Mark Damon still jumped out of his bed excitedly. At the same time, he ordered his men to prepare his private airship and rushed straight to the Great Wall of Miracles.

The speed of this private airship was very fast. In just a few hours, count Mark Damon had arrived at the border. Then, under the guidance of the emissary, he met the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

The first time both sides met, count madamon was shocked by the Holy Dragon city's power. Even in the three great empires, it was rare to see such a spectacular lineup of cultivators.

What left a deep impression on him was the Holy Dragon City cultivators' weapons and equipment. Every single one of them was beautiful and practical.

Although he didn't know what the armors worn by the cultivators of loucheng were, he was sure that they were expensive to make and had special functions that ordinary armors didn't have.

After a brief conversation, count madamon led the Holy Dragon city's cultivators into the Great Wall of miracle.

He trusted his confidant extremely, and at the same time, he was eager to realize his dream as soon as possible, so he appeared to be so impatient.

Moreover, he was already at an advantage in this matter, so how could he not take the initiative?

After arriving at the camp of the Great Wall of Miracles, the two sides gathered around and discussed how to set up the defense circle in the shortest time possible according to the map that count mackdamon had taken out.

The fact that the various factions were in contact with the Holy Dragon City could not be hidden for long. Count Mark Damon's involvement would also be exposed. Hence, he had to have enough capital to resist before the Eternal Empire reacted.

As for the Holy Dragon city's debt, he could slowly pay it back. If he succeeded, these debts would be a piece of cake. If he failed, he would not need to worry about it.

Count Mark Damon, who had made up his mind to cut off all means of retreat, was now like a gambler, ready to use his life to fulfill his family's long-cherished wish!

After a night of discussion, the Holy Dragon City cultivators, led by count Mark Damon's men, rushed to the location marked on the map and began to work overtime.

Although it was located on the border, the area of count madamon's territory was not small. Unfortunately, most of the land was poor and could only provide him with a small income.

But at the start of the war, the terrain provided the best defensive barrier for count Mark Damon. As long as he guarded a few key traffic arteries, the Eternal Empire's Army wouldn't be able to enter his territory easily.

As for the Eternal Empire's armed airships, they would be intercepted by the Holy Dragon city's air defense weapons to ensure that they would be destroyed as many as they came!

.....

On the empty ground, thousands of soldiers were gathered, ready to receive training from the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

The weapons in the inventory from the original world had a market again. They were transported over by Tang Zhen and sold to count Mark Damon.

Although the three great empires also had weapons similar to firearms, they were more similar to old single-shot rifles. In terms of quality and precision, they were far inferior to the original world.

Therefore, even though the weapons sold by Tang Zhen had already been retired in the original world, they were still top-tier firearms on this continent.

When count Mark Damon saw the weapons and equipment and personally operated them, he couldn't stop smiling. It was obvious how satisfied he was.

It was also because of the arrival of these weapons and equipment that he no longer had any concerns in his heart. He recruited soldiers in the entire territory and actively stored strategic materials.

These thousands of trained soldiers would become the officers who led the ordinary civilians, and everything they had learned would be passed on to the ordinary people who only knew how to farm and harvest.

Sweeping a glance at the stern-looking soldiers, the Holy Dragon City cultivators began to demonstrate the operation of various weapons. Their attitude was extremely serious and rigorous.

The soldiers listened attentively because they knew that since they couldn't avoid this war, it was best for them to understand how to operate these new weapons to avoid losing their lives on the battlefield.

After a few days of training, these soldiers who received the new equipment began to rush to the various defense lines of the territory to prepare for the upcoming war.

In the days that followed, the necessary defenses were ready. All sorts of resources were delivered. As soon as the Eternal Empire's troops entered the territory, they would be attacked!

The Ancar pass was the only path from count Mark Damon's territory to the Eternal Empire. Other than that, there were Endless Mountains that could not be crossed easily.

During this time, the caravans and travelers who were going in and out of this place suddenly found that there were many hidden buildings near the mountain pass. From time to time, people could be seen flashing. Judging from their clothes, they were obviously the soldiers of count Mark Damon.

Other than that, the security here had also been greatly increased, and the inspection of passing caravans had become stricter.

In particular, the peaks around the mountain pass had become military restricted areas, and no one was allowed to approach them easily.

The abnormality here not only attracted the attention of passing merchants, but it also aroused the suspicion of the Eternal Empire. They soon received intelligence from their spies.

According to the intelligence, count Mark Damon colluded with the mysterious forces in the banished land and was equipped with a large number of new weapons. At the same time, he was frantically recruiting soldiers in the entire territory, seemingly with the intention of rebelling!

At this moment, the Eternal Empire was mobilizing its military forces to attack the Holy Dragon City in the banished Lands. Count Mark Damon's actions had clearly infuriated the Eternal Empire's royal family.

The Eternal Empire's royal family, who had originally planned to use this war to enter count madamon's territory and uproot him, immediately ordered the mobilization of four legions to attack count madamon's territory. After quelling the rebellion, they would use the Count's territory as a base to launch an attack on the Holy Dragon City!

After the order was given, the four regiments immediately set off. They advanced side by side from the ground and arrived at the Ancar pass in just a few days.

The Earl's Army was already on high alert. Not only did they close the mountain pass, but they also used boulders to block the road, preventing the Eternal Empire's cavalry from passing through.

After the two sides confronted each other at the mountain pass for half a day, an intense battle broke out.

With the cooperation of ten armed airships, the Eternal Empire's ground troops launched a fierce attack on the defenders of the mountain pass. The entire mountain was filled with charging soldiers, and the flames set off by magic missiles soared into the sky.

In the beginning, the soldiers of the Earl's territory guarding the mountain pass did not return fire. It was only when the enemy was less than 100 meters away from them that the soldiers who had been waiting for a long time opened fire at the same time.

The deafening sounds of gunfire resounded through the mountains, and the terrifying Metal Torrent immediately tore the Empire's soldiers at the forefront into pieces.

Not only were the Earl's soldiers equipped with automatic rifles and heavy machine guns, but they were also equipped with mortars and rocket launchers. The Eternal Empire's soldiers couldn't even lift their heads.

When the battle on the ground began, the Eternal Empire's armed airships were also attacked. The air defense weapons set up on the mountaintop fired continuously. A series of rockets shot into the sky with white flames trailing behind them. In the blink of an eye, they hit several targets in succession.

Two of the armed airships even exploded, turning into huge fireballs that burned in the air. The other few armed airships were also severely damaged and had to withdraw from the battle.

The remaining few armed airships naturally became the targets of the concentrated fire. Even though they had already set up protective shields, they were quickly torn apart. The metal outer shells of the airships were also penetrated one after another!

The armed airships that dominated this continent were like paper tigers in front of the weapons of the original world. They couldn't withstand a single blow!

1370 The flames of war (1)

The battle at the Ancar pass lasted for nearly a day, and the Eternal Empire was finally defeated.

There were corpses everywhere near the mountain pass. The flames were still burning, and the huge wreckage of the armed airship was billowing with smoke!

In this battle, a total of fifteen armed airships from the Eternal Empire were shot down. All the passengers in the airships were killed, and the total number of people was close to five thousand!

The airships in the air suffered heavy casualties, and the ground forces suffered even more. According to the post-war Statistics, more than 7000 soldiers were killed and countless wounded. The entire front of the Ancar mountain pass had been covered with blood.

Compared to the Eternal Empire, which suffered heavy losses, the defending Earl domain suffered fewer casualties. There were less than 1000 of them.

Matt Damon was extremely excited when he learned of the results of the battle. He held a grand banquet that day to celebrate this exciting victory!

As for the Eternal Empire's Army, which had charged to the mountain pass and was ready to occupy Count Matdamon's territory, their morale had suffered a huge blow.

Because of the head-on attack at the Ancar pass, the Legion Commander had no choice but to temporarily slow down the attack plan and wait for the next order from the royal family.

At the same time, they were also considering whether to continue the attack. However, most people were against it. After all, the losses in this battle were too heavy, and no one could easily bear it.

This was only the first battle. Once they entered the Count's territory, there would definitely be more rebel soldiers waiting for them.

At the same time, they also realized that the Earl's Army, equipped with new weapons, had surpassed the Eternal Empire in terms of combat power. If they couldn't find a solution as soon as possible, the Eternal Empire's situation would become more and more unfavorable as the war continued!

The news of the tragic war had reached the flame Empire and the radiant Empire as soon as it ended. While they were shocked, they also became more vigilant of the Holy Dragon City.

Count Mark Damon wasn't very powerful, but after being equipped with Holy Dragon city's weapons, he was able to defeat the Eternal Empire's elite army. This was enough to prove how powerful the Holy Dragon city's weapons were.

Especially those weapons that could easily shoot down the armed airships, which made the three empires feel a strong sense of crisis.

In less than half a month, more than twenty armed airships had been shot down by the Holy Dragon City. This was a terrible loss that the three great empires had never suffered in the past hundred years!

If the three great empires launched an attack on the Holy Dragon City, how would they defend against such a terrifying weapon attack?

This matter made the three empires extremely worried, but they couldn't find an effective solution in a short time. The only thing they could do was to strengthen the protective shield of the armed airships.

However, this would greatly reduce the internal space of the armed airship, which would lead to a corresponding reduction in the number of ammunition and passengers.

Although it would still cost him some mobility, it was nothing compared to the increase in defense.

In addition to modifying the original armed airships, the three empires had already begun to design and build a super-small airship. They would try their best to pursue an advantage in speed in an attempt to fight against the Holy Dragon city's drones.

Of course, in the short term, these super-small airships could not be equipped for combat. Even if the airship manufacturing factories of the three empires worked overtime, it would take at least a month to produce them.

The three great empires could afford to wait, but they could not relax their defenses against the Great Wall of Miracles. Hence, when the internal war of the Eternal Empire began, the armies of the flame Empire and the radiant Empire had arrived at the Great Wall of Miracles at the same time to guard against the Holy Dragon city's invasion.

The three great empires were in a state of turmoil. News of the impending war spread everywhere. Various hidden forces also took the opportunity to jump out, making the situation even more tense.

Just as the people of the three great empires focused their attention on the Great Wall of Miracles, the orc Alliance, which was located on the other side of the continent, suddenly sent troops, making the situation on the continent even more complicated.

Tens of thousands of cavalymen from the orc Alliance charged straight into the radiant Empire like lightning. In just one day, they had conquered three cities and smoke rose everywhere they passed.

The radiant Empire was shocked and quickly mobilized their troops to stop them. The two sides then engaged in a fierce battle. For a time, it was difficult to tell who was winning.

With the Holy Dragon city's support, the orc Alliance's weapons and equipment were not inferior, especially the orc's Air Cavalry troops. They caused great casualties to the radiant Empire's ground troops. The longer the battle lasted, the greater the radiant Empire's losses.

After the orc Alliance had tasted the benefits of the radiant Empire's battle, they immediately launched an invasion on the other two empires. The overwhelming number of orc soldiers was like a sea wave, continuously pouring into the two empires' territories!

At this moment, other than the Morning Star Empire, the other four great empires on the continent had all been caught in the flames of war. Once this terrifying war that would affect the entire continent started, it would not end so easily in a short period of time!

In order to avoid the war, countless people fled from the border and were imprisoned in refugee camps by the three empires to prevent a greater crisis within the Empire.

Under such a situation where the soldiers were in a state of panic, rumors about the land of exile began to spread across the continent, and more and more people of the three great empires learned about it.

The rumors constantly mentioned that the land of exile was vast and sparsely populated, with a large area of idle land. Although it used to be a barren land, it had begun to gradually return to normal. Now, as long as one lived there, they would definitely be able to obtain a large piece of land that belonged to them.

There were also rumors that said that there was a huge city in the banished Lands. It was extremely prosperous and powerful. Even the three great empires combined would not be a match for it.

Right now, a large number of soldiers had gathered at the Great Wall of Miracles to guard against the possibility of an attack from the enemy!

However, that city had no intention of starting a war, so even if the war was raging on the continent, the other party showed no signs of making a move.

The contents of the rumors were vivid, especially among the refugees of the three empires. Almost everyone knew about these rumors.

With the encouragement of people with ulterior motives, the refugees affected by the war became more and more concerned about the news from the banished land. Some refugees who had lost their homes even decided to go to the banished land to see if it was as beautiful as the rumors said!

In a situation where the Empire had no time to take care of them, if the refugees did not actively save themselves, they could only wait for death.

There were not many refugees who were willing to do so, and most of them were in a wait-and-see state, hoping to return home after the war was over.

For the refugees who intended to go to the land of exile, they had no lack of mockery and ridicule, because this matter was by no means as simple as imagined.

After all, the land of exile was too far away. At the same time, there was the heavily guarded miracle Great Wall. It was not an easy task to reach there.

Just as the refugees were disappointed and gave up on the idea, mysterious figures began to appear in the refugee camp. They secretly contacted the refugees and promised to take them to the land of exile.

Many of the escapees were skeptical, but there were also some escapees who could not live on and chose to follow the mysterious man.

After they left one night, they never appeared in the refugee camp again.

As the war became more and more intense, the three empires lost more and more land. The refugees who were still watching finally made up their minds. They would either leave with the mysterious man or rush to the center of the Empire with their families. Even the military could not stop them all.
