Chapter 1451 Blockade and compromise

According to Yu Heng, this treasure was a reward left for the younger generation, but it had accidentally fallen into the hands of the ancestor of Morning Star City.

Therefore, the ancestors of Morning Star City had limited knowledge of the specific situation of this world and had only left behind a simple explanation.

Thus, Yu Heng only knew that after obtaining this treasure, Morning Star City would obtain great benefits. It might even be able to activate the top-grade foundation stone in the treasure and build a new city!

Due to special reasons, Morning Star City did not have an auxiliary city when it was first built. Now that the tower City was officially in operation, it was natural to build an auxiliary city.

Tang Zhen was a little envious of Yu Heng. If things were really like this, they would definitely be able to live until they had a rich inheritance!

The current Holy Dragon City had a lot of assets, but a top-grade building foundation was extremely rare. In addition, that metal giant was quite interesting. If they could create and control it, Holy Dragon City would have another sharp tool for conquering in the future when the plane invaded!

Of course, this was all for the future. The most important task now was to find the remaining two rune signs and open the treasure as soon as possible.

“The speed of the cargo ship we’re taking now is too slow, so we can’t reach the destination in a short time. It’s best to switch to another means of transportation.”

Hearing Tang Zhen’s words, Yu Heng and the other two lightly nodded their heads.

They were extremely unfamiliar with this world and similarly lacked the corresponding experience. Hence, they would listen to Tang Zhen’s arrangements on this matter.

the natives must be searching for us very strictly now, so it’s best not to expose our whereabouts, in case our next operation is obstructed.

Yu Heng was also in a difficult position when he heard this. Because their cultivation was suppressed, they could not use many of their techniques, which was why they had been restrained all this time.

Even though Tang Zhen had some methods that could temporarily make them invisible, there was a time limit. Moreover, this invisibility was not impossible to break. As long as the natives found a suitable method, they would still be able to discover their traces.

Under such circumstances, the four of them had to find other suitable means to hide their tracks.

“Do you know any disguising techniques to hide your looks that are completely different from the natives”? this way, you can minimize the possibility of being exposed?”

Yu Heng and the other two shook their heads at the same time. For people like them, there was no need to cultivate such a skill. Who would have thought that such a situation would occur?

Tang Zhen revealed a helpless expression as he said that he had a method to change his appearance and body shape. However, it was ineffective against Yu Heng and the other two. Even if he had used a simple disguise, it was very likely that he would be seen through.

Just as the four of them were wondering if there were any other methods, an ear-piercing broadcast suddenly rang out from outside, and the roar of a helicopter could be heard.

Tang Zhen's expression changed. He quickly left the container and saw two helicopters landing on the deck. A group of fully armed combat personnel jumped off the helicopters and began a comprehensive search on the cargo ship.

Not far from the cargo ship, there was a military ship docked and it seemed to be observing the movement here.

Tang Zhen's expression sank. This group of people had clearly come for them. Moreover, just by looking at the equipment of these people, one could tell that they were definitely not ordinary combat personnel.

Should they fight with the other party or find another way to hide? the four of them had to make a choice immediately.

In this boundless ocean, if they left the means of transportation, even cultivators could be in danger, not to mention that there was an all-pervasive surveillance in the sky and on the ground. They had to be careful.

someone's on board to search. Everyone, get ready for battle!

Yu Heng and the other two immediately left the container and found a hidden spot to hide.

Under normal circumstances, Tang Zhen, who was hiding from the enemy, would clean up the traces left behind. However, this time, he did not lower the temperature of the place where the four people were resting as usual.

Yu Heng was the last to leave. After confirming that there were no traces, he left with a peace of mind.

Sure enough, it didn't take long for the investigators to arrive at the container they were in and carefully open the door.

There was no one in the box, but the infrared equipment of the people searching proved that someone had stayed here before and left no more than a minute ago.

After confirming that someone had boarded the cargo ship illegally, the investigators were on high alert. While calling for backup, they also began a more detailed search.

When Yu Heng, who was hiding in the dark, saw this scene, he immediately frowned. Then, he glanced at Tang Zhen beside him and revealed a pondering expression.

As the alarm went off, the warships in the distance began to approach quickly. A few speedboats sailed over quickly, obviously to increase the number of search personnel.

If this situation continued to develop, it might not be long before these people would discover the traces of Tang Zhen and the others.

Sure enough, it didn't take long for a gunshot to be heard from the cargo ship, followed by even more concentrated gunfire, causing the entire cargo ship to be in chaos.

Tang Zhen's group was still discovered in the end. Hence, a gun battle was unavoidable. Relying on their superior strength, they firmly suppressed the people searching for them, causing them to pay a rather heavy loss.

However, this did not solve the immediate crisis. As the battle became more and more intense, more and more soldiers came to help. Under the suppression of the double fire from the ground and the air, they could not hold on for long!

At this moment, Tang Zhen's group of four was fighting against the entire world. It was simply impossible for them to obtain victory by fighting head on.

After dodging the attacks of several people, Tang Zhen fired several shots in succession. After knocking down the pursuers in his field of vision, he moved closer to Yu Heng's group of three who were still retaliating.

At this moment, Yu Heng's expression was gloomy. It was clear that he was also suppressing the anger in his heart. This group of natives had bullied three law Kings to this extent. It could be considered something to be proud of.

When he saw Tang Zhen walking over, Yu Heng gritted his teeth and growled, "Sir Tang Zhen, I know that you still have some hidden techniques that you haven't used. I don't know what you're planning to do, but is this really fun?"

Yu Heng would never believe that a spiritual Emperor, who was about to establish a war zone, would be flustered by the natives of a low-energy world.

Therefore, Yu Heng was certain that Tang Zhen had long guessed that he was hiding something. In a situation where he was dissatisfied with the distribution of benefits, Tang Zhen had deliberately used this method to torment him!

Tang Zhen coldly laughed as he looked at Yu Heng and said, "You should be clear that I'm only here to help. The real main force is the three of you!

Furthermore, I've already done enough so far. Please remember that this is your ancestor's treasure, not mine!"

Yu Heng revealed a trace of helplessness when he heard this. The truth was just as Tang Zhen had said. Ever since they entered this world, Tang Zhen had always been in charge of leading the operation. As for the three of them, they had not even learned the language of this world.

Regardless of emotions or reason, Tang Zhen should receive more in return. Although Yu Heng had previously promised to give this world to Tang Zhen, it was nothing compared to the wealth of the treasure.

There was another point that they had to pay attention to. This kind of low-energy world with high-tech weapons and a small number of origins was actually not welcomed by the cultivators in Loucheng. Therefore, even if Tang Zhen obtained the plane coordinates, he might not really launch an invasion.

Of course, this was under the condition that the plane coordinates were sufficient. If there was no suitable choice, Tang Zhen would also choose to invade this world to avoid delaying the establishment of the war zone.

At the same time, Yu Heng was also very clear that the treasure definitely had plane coordinates, and there was more than one.

It would be fine if Tang Zhen did not know about it. However, in a situation where the other party already knew most of the information, if he still stubbornly guarded those treasures and was unwilling to give up a portion of the benefits, it was likely that Tang Zhen would definitely be a bystander in the subsequent operations.

Cursing in his heart, Yu Heng said in an unwilling tone, "The situation is getting worse and worse. If we don't quickly get out of this unfavorable situation, we are likely to be trapped here!

You don't have to hide it anymore. After this is done, I will give you a third of the treasure. This is my bottom line, no more!"

Tang Zhen glanced at the depressed Yu Heng, and a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

"I was waiting for you to say this, deal!"

As soon as he finished speaking, all the electronic equipment nearby malfunctioned at the same time, and the three assault helicopters fell into the sea!

Chapter 1452 enemies of the whole world

This sudden scene immediately shocked the investigators who were surrounding Tang Zhen's group.

Without the assistance of electronic equipment, the combat power of these investigators was greatly reduced. They were quickly suppressed by Tang Zhen and the others until they could not even raise their heads.

Let's go! Taking advantage of the chaos, Tang Zhen called out to Yu Heng and the other two before jumping into the deep sea and swimming quickly like a fish.

The hunters quickly opened fire and threw grenades into the sea, but they couldn't get up at all!

In the waters a few kilometers away from the cargo ship, Tang Zhen's group of four gathered together in a bubble that had been expanded by mental energy.

Although Yu Heng's group of three had not grasped any underwater survival skills, they could still last for more than half an hour. The problem was that their speed underwater was too slow, and they had no way of quickly escaping this place.

Tang Zhen was already prepared. He took out four underwater breathing devices and put them in his mouth before heading in the predetermined direction.

This underwater breathing device was one of the standard equipment of the Holy Dragon city's cultivators. It could be mounted on the helmet or used alone. Even at a depth of a hundred meters, it would not be affected.

For ordinary people, this depth of water was a forbidden place, but it was nothing to the cultivators in Lou Cheng.

The four of them were like ghosts that were moving under the sea. After moving for several tens of kilometers under the water, Tang Zhen took out his hover car once again and rushed out of the sea like a giant whale emerging from the water.

The mobile application was activated again, completely covering the traces of the hover car to ensure that it would not be discovered by the satellite in the sky.

What followed next was a long journey. When the energy of the hover car was exhausted, the four of them were less than a hundred miles away from the mainland.

Once again, they dove into the deep sea and continued to move forward. The four of them finally arrived at the coast and landed on land from a place full of reefs.

"My God, if I had a choice, I would never go back into the sea!"

Yu Tao let out a long sigh of relief, his face as white as a sheet of paper.

To morning stars, the ocean was an extremely unfamiliar thing. Moreover, their race was naturally afraid of water. This experience of swimming in the ocean would definitely leave an indelible memory for Yu Heng and the other two.

Tang Zhen still remembered the complicated expressions on the faces of Yu Heng and the other two when they first entered the sea.

After operating on the wrist guard computer and connecting to the network signal, Tang Zhen chose their destination and marked the best route.

On this route, he deliberately avoided a few cities and tried to choose remote roads with few people. This way, he could avoid the interception of the natives to the greatest extent.

At the same time, Tang Zhen also gathered information about the metal giant. He discovered that it had already been dragged to the land and was being closely protected.

There was information on the four of them on the internet, but compared to the metal giant, there was a pitifully small amount.

For this to happen, it meant that someone had deliberately cut out the information in this aspect. The purpose was to not let ordinary people know too much about Tang Zhen and the others.

There was no need to guess to know that there was already an invisible net slowly spreading out, and the target was the four of them.

Chuckling, Tang Zhen turned off the wrist-guard computer and called Yu Heng and the other two to continue moving forward. They temporarily hid in a dense forest by the road.

Through the map, it could be confirmed that there was a town nearby. Tang Zhen was prepared to go there to buy some things.

After making Yuheng and the others wait patiently, Tang Zhen changed his clothes and walked towards the road alone. He quickly stopped a car by the roadside.

The driver of the car that was stopped poked his head out. His expression was gloomy as he spoke to Tang Zhen in an extremely unhappy tone, "Brother, what do you want to do?"

Earlier, Tang Zhen was standing in the middle of the road and the driver was unable to avoid him. Therefore, he had no choice but to stop the car.

"Please do me a favor, let's go!"

Tang Zhen walked to the driver and gently waved his hand. The gloomy-looking driver immediately had a blank expression.

"Give me a note of the largest denomination, and then go directly to the nearby mall."

Upon hearing Tang Zhen's order, the driver with a numb expression nodded. He took out a bill from his pocket and handed it to the back seat. He then drove straight to the nearby town.

Ignoring the driver who was already under control, Tang Zhen scanned the money in his hand and started the mobile application to copy it.

For the mobile phone application that could use materials to pile up and build planes and warships, making this kind of banknotes was just a piece of cake. From Tang Zhen's angle, he could see banknotes being spat out from the light ball and neatly falling into Tang Zhen's hands.

This kind of cash was no different from real cash, and no one would notice anything unusual when it was used.

When the amount of cash was enough, Tang Zhen closed the mobile application and turned to look at the town in front of him.

The architectural style of the town was similar to the Asian Alliance in the original world. People walked to and fro on the streets, and the sound of shops promoting their products echoed on the streets.

Tang Zhen constantly looked around while they were moving. Not long after, he got the driver to stop the car by the roadside.

This was an outdoor equipment store. Tang Zhen turned on invisibility and entered the store. He found that there were no customers in the store, only a young woman playing with her mobile phone.

After turning off the invisibility function, Tang Zhen appeared in the shop and greeted the young woman.

After sizing up his surroundings, Tang Zhen began to choose the items he needed and bought a large pile of them.

It was rare for a big customer to come, so the young woman quickly helped to pack the goods and then paid the bill.

After doing all of this, Tang Zhen snapped his fingers at the young woman. Immediately after, her eyes lost their focus and she was like a puppet on strings, allowing herself to be manipulated.

“Come out and stand at the door. Don’t let anyone in!” He ordered.

After walking to the counter and clearing the information from the surveillance system, Tang Zhen put all the items into his storage ring and slowly left the store.

A few minutes later, the woman suddenly came back to her senses. She looked around in a daze and her eyes fell on the thick stack of cash.

She only remembered someone buying a bunch of things, but she couldn’t remember what the person looked like or what he sold.

After walking out of the store, Tang Zhen asked the driver to buy four mountain motorcycles. After refueling and maintenance, he hired a car to send them to the forest outside the city.

After erasing the relevant personnel’s memories, Tang Zhen passed the items he had bought to Yu Heng and the other two before quickly putting them on.

At this moment, Tang Zhen’s group of four had already undergone a huge change in appearance. With a single glance, one could tell that they were standard bikers. Their hats, scarves, and glasses had completely covered their faces, and outsiders were unable to discover any abnormalities.

After explaining the operation method to Yu Heng and the other two, Tang Zhen took the lead and got on the motorcycle, speeding along the remote road.

Although this kind of method of travel could not be considered the best, it could achieve the greatest degree of concealment. Moreover, with the ability of Tang Zhen’s group of four, there was practically no obstacle that they could not cross.

With a suitable means of transportation in addition to a reasonable route, the speed of Tang Zhen’s group of four was greatly increased. They crossed mountains and ridges, passed through provinces and counties, and were getting closer and closer to their destination.

At the places that Tang Zhen had passed by, groups belonging to different forces also appeared one after another. They dug three feet deep into the ground to search for their traces.

As more and more information was gathered, the route that Tang Zhen’s group was taking was also calculated. The pursuers also began to prepare for the ambush in advance according to the information they had calculated.

When Tang Zhen’s group of four passed through the fields and passed by a village far from the city, a battle suddenly erupted!

Chapter 1453 The grim situation

The sun was just right, and the warm wind was slightly tipsy. It was a good time to play.

In a green field, four motorcycles slowly drove along the narrow Village Road, attracting the attention of the villagers who were farming.

The nearby villagers had long been used to these travel-worn foreigners riding motorcycles around, so they only took a glance and ignored them.

The four motorcycles did not seem to have any intention of stopping. After crossing the ancient stone bridge in front of the village, they headed toward the nearby mountain.

However, just as the motorcycles were about to turn into the road by the cliff, several off-road vehicles suddenly appeared and blocked the road from both front and back.

At the same time, a large number of armed figures suddenly appeared on the cliff and in the fields beside it. They surrounded the motorcyclist.

The sound of brakes, shouts, and curses suddenly became one.

The villagers looked at this scene in a daze. They didn't know what was going on. Just as they were about to run over to watch, intense gunfire that sounded like firecrackers came from the road. In the middle of it, there were also violent explosions and billowing smoke.

The villagers who had intended to watch the commotion were shocked. They all stopped in their tracks and tried to look for a position with a better view to watch the gunfight on the road from a distance.

Although the distance was too far and the villagers could not see the exact situation, they could tell from the gunshots that the two sides were fighting in full swing!

The battle lasted for a few minutes before it suddenly quieted down, as if nothing had happened.

After confirming that the battle was over, the villagers who could not hold back their curiosity carefully moved closer and saw a shocking scene.

The burning and dismembered cars and firearms, the wounded lying in blood, the damaged roads, and the dazzling bullet shells everywhere.

This kind of scene would only appear in movies in the past, but now it was really happening in front of the villagers!

Seeing this shocking scene, the villagers quickly called the police. At the same time, they witnessed the four motorcycles cross the mountains and quickly disappear into the dense forest.

To the villagers, this might perhaps be a Grand scene that they could only witness once in their lifetime. However, to Tang Zhen's group, it was merely the beginning of a new round of battle.

It was strange to say that as long as Tang Zhen's group left behind a trace, they would be discovered by the natives and would be followed.

Ever since they escaped the ambush outside the village, the four of them had been constantly encountering planes, cars, motorcycles, and a large number of interceptors. Sometimes, they would even exchange fire with varying intensity.

These natives were like maggots in their bones, chasing after them and unable to get rid of them no matter what.

However, Tang Zhen's group did not dare to stop. This was because they would encounter the scene of tens of thousands of people searching together if their movement speed was even the slightest bit slower.

When faced with such a tactic of using a sea of people, Tang Zhen and the others might be completely trapped once they fell into the encirclement!

Many ants could bite an elephant to death. Tang Zhen and the others had already deeply experienced this kind of helpless feeling during their journey.

When a group of natives with strength equivalent to rank 3 cultivators appeared, Tang Zhen finally realized why he had repeatedly exposed his whereabouts. It turned out that this group of people had cooperated with ordinary people and almost caused him to fail miserably in a ditch.

Tang Zhen and the others had long realized this point and had not let their guard down. After setting up a trap to lead them into an ambush, they killed more than ten members of The Guardian family in one go.

Without the Guardian's interception, the tracking of ordinary people could basically be ignored. Tang Zhen and the rest would at most waste some time before they could successfully escape.

After travelling through the deep mountains and old forests for close to ten days, and after several fierce battles, Tang Zhen's group of four finally arrived at the location of the third rune sign.

This was also a scenic spot. The mountain forest was deep and the ancient temple was hidden in it. Usually, many tourists came here for sightseeing.

However, just a few days ago, this place had stopped receiving tourists. Any unrelated people were ordered to go down the mountain, and the nearby area was strictly blocked by the military and police, not allowing anyone to approach easily.

Some of the villagers even saw armored vehicles and mortars hidden in the valley. They could only be discovered when they got close.

In a corner that no one could see, there were many miniature cameras, snipers, and groups of fully armed patrol members!

In the face of a strong enemy like Tang Zhen, The Guardian family finally decided to seek help from the official forces after a fierce debate. They wanted them to participate in the camp of protecting the rune sign.

Although they had to pay a certain price and even share the magical power of the rune sign, at the very least, they could ensure that the rune sign would not fall into the hands of the devil.

The intervention of the government's forces had greatly increased the strength of the Guardians. They, who possessed supernatural powers, had already become the biggest threat to Tang Zhen's group of four!

From the information that they had gathered earlier, they could confirm that Tang Zhen's group of four should have already arrived here. Perhaps, they were secretly observing and looking for an opportunity to launch a sneak attack.

At this moment, all the guards were on high alert, waiting for the battle to begin.

On a building not far from the scenic Area, Tang Zhen slowly retracted his gaze.

After a long journey, they finally arrived at their destination, but the other party's impenetrable defense made him feel slightly troubled.

With the items he had in his storage equipment, he could definitely break through the other party's blockade, but what should he do next?

They still had to travel the mountains and waded the seas to snatch the fourth rune sign, search for the unknown treasure, and deal with the Guardian's crazy pursuit!

During this process, they were like beasts rolling in a pool of asphalt. The more they struggled, the more they were contaminated and the deeper they sank.

This feeling of being the enemy of the whole world was terrible. It was like walking on a tightrope between a cliff with the whistling mountain wind. If you were not careful, you would fall and be smashed into pieces.

As for the reason why their cultivation base was suppressed, Tang Zhen had already found the answer. It turned out that during the teleportation process, a trace of powerful force attached itself to their bodies. It was the existence of this force that forcefully suppressed the cultivation base of the four people to below the Lord-tier.

It was said that this kind of power would gradually disappear with the passage of time. However, until now, this trace of power did not show any signs of weakening. On the contrary, it was being continuously stabilized to ensure that it could continue to suppress the cultivation of Tang Zhen and the other three.

This was the evil intent of this world, or perhaps it was the deliberate act of the treasure's owner, to punish these outsiders who had tried to lay their hands on the treasure. This was the reason why invisible world Energy was constantly seeping into the Four's bodies.

Tang Zhen had once tried to remove this kind of suppression. However, with the strength of a rank 5 cultivator, it was simply wishful thinking to break the seal set by at least a sector Lord!

In order to ensure his own safety and at the same time not to let his previous efforts go to waste, Tang Zhen must think of a way to change this unfavorable situation.

In reality, Tang Zhen wasn't the only one thinking about this question. Yu Heng and the other two had already had enough of this series of tortures. One had to know that although they were all law Kings, the number of battles they had experienced in their lives could be counted with one's fingers.

This kind of situation where one's cultivation base was suppressed after infiltrating the other world and they were chased by countless natives was something they would never have imagined in the past!

"Sir Tang Zhen, what do you think we should do now?"

Yu Heng took a deep breath and turned to ask Tang Zhen. There was an obvious trace of worry on his face.

Chapter 1454 Change of plans

Before asking Tang Zhen, Yu Heng was also observing the defense deployment of the scenic spot. During this period, he did not say a word.

Tang Zhen threw a piece of dried meat into his mouth and glanced at Yu Heng. He was sure that Yu Heng was in a bad mood. Perhaps, this period of fighting and rushing had exhausted him.

Including Tang Zhen, the four of them had injuries of varying degrees. Some of the wounds had yet to heal.

If it weren't for their superhuman bodies and magical healing medicine, they might not have been able to make it here at all in the face of injuries that were enough to make people lose their ability to move.

Every time he thought of this, Yu Heng would feel a little scared. He did not want to lose his life here. Even if it was for the benefit of Morning Star City, he could not sacrifice himself.

Comparing the Morning Star Empire to a treasure, Yu Heng knew better than anyone which was more important.

Thus, after realizing that the situation was difficult and would only get worse, Yu Heng and the other two decided to think of another way while trying their best to avoid being in danger.

Tang Zhen muttered to himself for a moment before speaking to Yu Heng and the other two, "In fact, it's very easy to solve the situation in front of us. You don't even need to do anything. I can easily take care of these defenders!

But the problem is that I can't guarantee that you'll be able to survive the next operation.

When the Aboriginals realize what we are going to do, they will definitely stop the destruction at all costs. If necessary, they will not hesitate even if it means sacrificing a city!"

Tang Zhen was not exaggerating to scare him. Compared to the destruction of the entire world, this little effort might not even be considered much.

never underestimate the determination and courage of the enemy. If we are careless, we may be the ones to be destroyed!

At this point, Tang Zhen looked at Yu Heng and the other two and said in a serious tone, so, we'd better not rush into action. Instead, we should find a way to connect the tower world, open the dimensional portal, and launch an attack when the reinforcements arrive!

Yu Heng and the other two looked at each other and nodded in agreement. However, they couldn't help but feel a little depressed.

As a ruler of laws, he had been badly battered by the natives and had to seek help. This was indeed embarrassing.

However, Tang Zhen's group of four was not facing a problem of face at this moment. Instead, it was a matter of life and death. The longer they stayed in this world, the more danger they would face.

Moreover, in war, there was nothing that could not be done. When one could not complete the task on their own, it was only natural to seek help. Hesitation would only make the situation worse.

After a short discussion, the four of them decided to open the plane channel.

This place was definitely not the best place to set up the runic magic circle. Therefore, after Tang Zhen connected to the internet and searched for a while, he finally chose a remote and no man's land.

There was no one there, only rocks and desert, as well as white bones and remains that could be seen from time to time. It was called the forbidden land of death by the natives!

Now that the target location was confirmed, they would definitely have to run around. Fortunately, the area they were heading to was a last-minute decision, so the natives could not discover their movements in time.

Silently leaving the building, the four of them passed through the dense surveillance and went straight to the no man's land!

The Aboriginals didn't know that Tang Zhen had temporarily changed his plan. The original plan to capture him was still in operation. Some people from different forces had also gathered around the scenic Area and were constantly monitoring the movements here.

As the identities of Tang Zhen's group of four were really special, they were already involved in supernatural abilities and extraterrestrial civilization. Therefore, almost the entire world's top forces were paying attention to this matter and hoped to capture them for interrogation.

The secret of the rune sign had already been known by those forces. When they heard that the rune sign was related to the destruction of the world, many people were shocked.

After getting used to the doomsday plots in movies and television works, the sense of crisis in the hearts of the natives had gradually faded. However, the supernatural events that had occurred during this period of time had made those jokes possible.

Especially after they confirmed that the rune signs had supernatural powers, the idea of the world's destruction was reluctantly accepted by these forces. This also led to the increase in the intensity of the pursuit of Tang Zhen and the other three.

In the face of a terrifying crisis that might exterminate their species, no one would take it lightly.

At this moment, there were countless gazes from all over the world paying attention to this place. As long as Tang Zhen's group of four appeared, they would face a storm-like attack!

However, as time passed, the scenic spot remained quiet, and the expected battle did not happen.

This abnormal situation immediately attracted the attention of the observers. After confirming that there were no traces of Tang Zhen's group in the surroundings, they judged that they had either changed their target and were preparing to obtain another rune sign. Either they sensed the danger here and decided to hide and wait for the right time to take action after confirming that the operation was unsuccessful.

No matter what the situation was, it was a rather dangerous signal. It meant that the situation had once again gotten out of their control.

Hence, while the security was being tightened, the search and capture operation targeting Tang Zhen's group of four also began to spread out from this scenic spot to the surrounding area. Other than the military police that were scattered all over the streets and alleys, there were also people who were constantly analyzing the surveillance videos in an attempt to find some clues.

The natives who had come into contact with Tang Zhen's group did not have much hope. This was because they would only understand how terrifying Tang Zhen's group was after truly coming into contact with them.

If they did not wish for others to discover their tracks, they could always achieve a near-perfect concealment. Those methods that they were used to deal with ordinary people were still possible, but they were basically not very effective when used on Tang Zhen and the others!

As expected, after a series of tortures, the natives did not discover anything. Tang Zhen and the other three were like raindrops that had fallen into a Lake, not leaving behind the slightest trace.

When they heard the news, everyone felt a headache. It was as if there was a furnace of boiling molten iron hanging above their heads, and God knew when it would come down to cover their faces.

In the desolate no man's land, a car was moving at high speed. Because it was covered with a special electronic camouflage cloth, it was difficult for the car to be discovered.

At least for the time being, the natives would not be able to discover their tracks.

By the time the Aboriginals discovered the abnormality and listed the no man's land as a search area, Tang Zhen's preparation work had already been completed. At that time, even if the other party used a nuclear bomb to attack, he didn't need to worry at all.

Tang Zhen nodded his head in satisfaction when the car arrived at a Valley with only bits of green and blade-like rocks all over the place.

Tang Zhen jumped out of the car and stepped over the Antelope bones scattered on the ground. He took a deep breath and activated the terrain transformation plug-in that he had not used for a long time.

Soon, an image of the land under his feet appeared in front of his eyes. With his mind's control, a deep underground passage quickly formed. When it was 500 meters above the ground, it began to expand, expand, and expand!

No one knew that a huge underground city had appeared out of thin air under the no man's land. Because it was underground, even a nuclear bomb would not be able to cause much damage to it.

In addition to using the thick earth as a shield, Tang Zhen would also use a fog illusion array, transform monsters, and a series of other methods to turn the no man's land into a real death zone.

The purpose of this was to ensure that the natives would not be able to interfere with the operation of the runic magic circle before the plane channel was completed.

In order to achieve this, Tang Zhen and the other three were destined to be extremely busy in the following period of time!

Chapter 1455 Building the soul transfer array

Yu Heng and the other two stood at the side. They watched Tang Zhen walk for a dozen meters before standing still. However, they were thinking about what he was going to do.

Although they had only interacted with each other for a short period of time, Yu Heng and the other two had no choice but to admit that Tang Zhen's strength was not just a little stronger than theirs!

They were all law Kings, and their cultivation bases were all suppressed. However, Tang Zhen had brought the three of them to stir up trouble all the way. They arrived in this no man's land after being surrounded by the natives. At the same time, they had also played the natives in circles.

If it were the three of them, they might not have been able to do it.

With only the strength of a level five cultivator, he still wanted to be the enemy of the entire world. Why didn't he ascend to heaven?

He sighed in his heart. No wonder he could become the master of Holy Dragon City and control many towers. He would even become the boss of a war zone in a short time!

Just from Tang Zhen's performance, it could be seen that he did have this strength.

The reason why Yu Heng and the other two were willing to accept Tang Zhen's leadership was also related to Tang Zhen's status as the future war zone's leader. If they could be on good terms with him, they would benefit from it, so why not?

Looking at the current situation, it was obvious that Tang Zhen was going to stir up trouble again. Yu Heng and the other two were very curious. What was he trying to do by standing there?

A minute passed by quickly. Tang Zhen opened his eyes and kept the car in his storage equipment. Then, he called Yu Heng and the other two to move forward.

“Big brother, what is he doing?”

Yu Tao’s face was filled with doubt. He had only seen Zhen Tang close his eyes and stand there for a minute, but nothing seemed to have happened.

He did not believe that Tang Zhen did not do anything. However, the problem was that he did not discover anything.

Yu Heng pondered for a moment before saying in a low voice, I just felt a slight tremble under my feet. If I’m not wrong, the change should be under this land!

Yukun, who was walking at the back, said, “ there was indeed a slight vibration on the ground. I think it was city Lord Tang’s doing, but why didn’t I feel any energy fluctuations? ”

Yu Heng nodded. This was also what he was puzzled about.

When the Lou Cheng cultivators used their cultivation skills, they could not avoid drawing in heaven and earth energy. No matter how secretive and careful this process was, it would still be noticed.

It was also because of this that they were curious about Tang Zhen’s actions earlier. At the same time, they were certain in their hearts that Tang Zhen must have mastered a magical technique that they did not know about!

The truth was indeed as Yuheng and the other two had thought. This was all thanks to the mobile application. Most of the time, it was untraceable, and it was also Tang Zhen’s biggest secret.

Not to mention the doubt and curiosity in the hearts of Yu Heng and the other two, Tang Zhen had already taken the lead and entered the valley. After circling a few times, he finally arrived in front of a bare stone wall.

As the four of them got closer, the stone wall suddenly collapsed, revealing a deep cave.

Yu Heng and the other two were taken aback. Soon after, they realized that this was Tang Zhen’s doing. After exchanging glances with each other, they followed Tang Zhen in.

The cave did not lead directly underground. Instead, there were many forks in the path. If it was not for Tang Zhen leading the way, it was very likely that they would be lost within it and would only be able to find the correct path after a long time of bitter searching.

This was also one of the means of defense. If the natives entered it, they would have to pay a huge price to successfully reach the deep underground.

After travelling east for over ten minutes, an incomparably huge underground space appeared in front of the four. Looking at the underground world that was several dozen meters tall and supported by huge pillars, Yu Heng and the other two felt their breathing stop.

If this was Tang Zhen's method, it was really too heaven-defying. He had actually opened up a huge underground city in such a short time!

Even a spiritual Emperor who was proficient in the laws of earth wouldn't be able to do this in such a short time, right?

Hence, Yu Heng and the other two subconsciously believed that this underground space was found by Tang Zhen using a secret technique. Everything should be attributed to the uncanny workmanship of nature!

Even though the three of them had already guessed the truth, they still didn't dare to admit it, because it was too terrifying.

While Yu Heng and the other two were still looking around and carefully sizing up the environment of this underground space, Tang Zhen had already walked to the previously planned area. After confirming that there were no major problems, he called Yu Heng and the other two to help.

Tang Zhen's goal in opening up this underground city was to build a soul transfer array that could Cross Planes to connect to Holy Dragon City. As long as both sides established a connection, Holy Dragon City could obtain the plane coordinates of this world and open a plane teleportation channel.

This process could be long or short. Even though the technology in this area had matured, it still depended on luck.

After hearing Tang Zhen's explanation, Yu Heng and the other two were also very curious. They had more or less done some research on runic magic circles. However, the difference between them and Tang Zhen was not just a little.

To have the opportunity to participate in the construction of a runic magic circle that they had never come into contact with before, and to even find Tang Zhen to answer some of the questions in their hearts, this was definitely an extremely rare opportunity. How could Yu Heng and the rest miss it?

In the following time, they were constantly busy. Although the cultivation of the four law Kings had been sealed, they still had their experience and knowledge. After working together, their work efficiency was by no means comparable to that of ordinary cultivators.

Many materials were released by Tang Zhen. Many of them were extremely valuable items, but at this moment, they were piled everywhere. The brilliant treasure light made the underground city colorful.

Tang Zhen's storage equipment would always store a set of materials for building a soul transfer array. He had to get used to this so that he would not be trapped in the other world and unable to leave.

As for the storage equipment in his main body, there were even more good things stored inside. However, out of safety considerations, Tang Zhen did not place them in his avatar to prevent them from being accidentally lost.

This was also one of the reasons why the doppelganger could not do as much as it wanted in this world. The main body had many good things that the doppelganger did not have.

It was not easy to construct a soul transfer array. Even if Tang Zhen asked for help and had three law Kings as helpers, it was impossible to complete it in a short time. This was because Tang Zhen had already done the preparatory work in advance. Otherwise, just building the framework of the teleportation array would have wasted a lot of time.

“The three of you should take a rest. We can’t rush things like this.”

Tang Zhen called out and took out a chair, tea, and pastries. Not long after, an alluring fragrance assaulted his face.

Yu Heng shifted his gaze away from the stone pillar filled with dense circuits and brains. He slowly walked to the table and sat down, then picked up an emerald green teacup.

It’s a good drink, but it’s still not as good as the specialty of my Morning Star City. If there’s a chance, I’d like to invite you to have a taste.

“You mean the Morning Star fruit bar? I’ve heard of it before. I’ll try it when I have the chance!”

Putting down the teacup, Yu Heng muttered, “Do you need the help of Morning Star City for this invasion?”

Putting aside the Holy Dragon City, I now have ten ninth-grade towers and millions of cultivators. Do you think I need them? ”

Yu Heng shook his head and took a deep breath, “This is an extremely rare opportunity for Morning Star City. After all, my residents lack experience in this area. If I can learn some from your residents, I’m sure the number of casualties will be greatly reduced.

The cost of exploring alone was too great, and Morning Star City could not afford such a loss.

So no matter what, I hope that Morning Star City can participate, even if they don’t want any spoils of war!”

Chapter 1456 The “soap bubble” in the no man’s land

Yu Heng placed great importance on this plane invasion.

The reason why he opened his mouth to make a request was not because he was afraid that Tang Zhen would take the treasure for himself. If he did that, he would be looking down on Tang Zhen too much. If Tang Zhen had really done such a thing, he would not have ended up in this state today.

He needed the experience of the dimensional war and the guidance of Holy Dragon City, which was very important for the future of Morning Star City.

If Tang Zhen was willing to make the exchange, he could even give up on the harvest this time. He only needed Tang Zhen to share the coordinates of the high-energy world after the end of this dimensional war.

Although Yu Heng had not personally experienced how cruel the world of Loucheng was and how dangerous a plane invasion was, his ancestor’s notes had clearly told his juniors that the slightest carelessness would cause the entire Loucheng to be consigned to eternal damnation!

His previous experience had given Yu Heng a lot of insight. Although the natives of this technologically advanced world could not cultivate, they had powerful weapons. If they were to fight with real weapons, Morning Star City would not have much of an advantage.

Thus, Yu Heng had always been apprehensive. He wanted to fulfill his ancestor's last wish and let Morning Star City go further, but he did not want to become a sinner of the Morning Star clan and let the city be destroyed in his own hands.

Hence, he thought of an idea, which was to rely on Holy Dragon city's protection and learn from their experience, so that they could help Morning Star City tide over the initial difficulties!

From an outsider's point of view, Tang Zhen should be the one taking advantage of this matter. He absolutely had no reason to refuse.

However, that was not the case. In the world of towers, a tower was equivalent to a closed country. Cooperating in battle was equivalent to telling others about one's trump card.

How could a nation's weapon be easily shown to others? this was definitely a great taboo for the militarists!

Even though Morning Star City was now under the control of Holy Dragon City, it did not mean that their life and death were in the hands of Holy Dragon City. In other war zones, it was not uncommon for towers to fight each other.

Even though Tang Zhen would try his best to prevent such a thing from happening, it was impossible for him to completely stop it. Hence, he would naturally try his best to ensure that his secret would not be known by others under such circumstances.

Hence, Yu Heng's request was not to let Tang Zhen take advantage of him but was rather excessive and unreasonable. The possibility of him being rejected was extremely high.

Being rejected was a matter of course. It would be a pleasant surprise if he agreed. Yu Heng was waiting for that sliver of possibility.

Therefore, after making this request, Yu Heng's heart was still hanging in the air. At the same time, he was constantly thinking about what conditions he could use to persuade Tang Zhen.

Tang Zhen held the teacup in his hand and swept a glance at Yu Tao and the other man who were currently studying the runic magic circle. These two fellows who seemed to be engrossed in their studies were actually quietly perking up their ears and waiting for Tang Zhen's reply.

As the residents of Morning Star City, how could they not be concerned about such a life-and-death matter?

Lightly sighing, Tang Zhen placed the teacup in his hand down and said to Yu Heng, "Normally, I would never agree to such a thing. I believe you should know the reason."

Yu Heng nodded. It was precisely because he knew that he was so anxious.

“But the situation is different now. First, I’m in a hurry to build a new war zone, and the most basic requirement is to have ten national-level buildings. Your morning Star City has the foundation, and if it’s handled well, it’s likely to become one of the ten national-level buildings.

Helping you is the same as helping myself.”

Yu Heng was overjoyed when he heard this, and his eyes flashed with anticipation.

Tang Zhen continued, “secondly, there’s nothing that my Holy Dragon City can hide. There are some trump cards that I don’t want you to know. It’s impossible for you to have the opportunity to come into contact with them. At most, you’ll only learn some tests of invading another world.

Even if you don’t ask me, I will teach you. I don’t want to delay the progress of the war zone!”

At this point, Tang Zhen faintly smiled and looked at Yu Heng, “So I can agree to your request, but only this once!”

Yu Heng’s face was solemn as he slowly stood up and bowed to Tang Zhen. Yu kun and Yu Heng also stood up and expressed their gratitude and respect to Tang Zhen.

On a real battlefield, especially during a dimensional invasion, the death rate of new recruits would always exceed one’s imagination. A single word from Tang Zhen would allow many residents of Morning Star City to keep their lives.

After a short rest, the four of them continued to work.

The general framework of the teleportation array had been completed. Now, only Yu Heng and the other two needed to complete it. Tang Zhen needed to set up the defense outside.

Compared to the dimensional teleportation portal, the defense on the ground was not particularly important, but it was also an indispensable part. At least before connecting to the world of towers, the Aboriginals must not be allowed to ruin this process.

As for how to do it, Tang Zhen already had a plan in his heart.

Tang Zhen had once learned some small tricks from those Wizards. For example, how to create low-level monsters in batches. Although there were similar cultivator skills in the world of loucheng, they were far from being as convenient as the Wizards.

In the following period of time, Tang Zhen wandered around the forks in the passage and casually threw down medicinal pills that emitted a strange smell.

Soon, ordinary creatures would smell the pills and swallow them. Then, these ordinary creatures would turn into terrifying monsters and wander around the area where the pills were found.

This was a common defensive method used by Wizards to protect the land they had surrounded and prevent people from approaching.

This method could also be used in the no man’s land outside, but the premise was that they needed some cover to prevent these monsters from being exposed in broad daylight and becoming targets for the natives.

Tang Zhen slowly walked toward the ground after the defense of the tunnel was completed.

Compared to the deep and winding underground tunnel, the defense work on the surface was undoubtedly more troublesome. One had to know that there was no end to this place, and there was almost nothing to be seen except for stones.

Fortunately, although the no man's land was known as a forbidden zone for life, there were still many creatures that could be used at any time.

First, he scattered the medicinal pills in an area with a radius of tens of kilometers. Then, Tang Zhen returned to the valley where the entrance of the underground city was located. After muttering to himself for a moment, he constructed a runic magic circle on the ground.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Tang Zhen wanted to do an experiment. If it was successful, the Holy Dragon City would have an additional defense method when invading the other world.

He took out a portion of the world's origin from his storage equipment and placed it in the core of the array. Then, a white light shot up into the sky!

As the runic magic circle was activated, the original energy from another world began to change. Like a soap bubble blown by an air pump, it glowed with a seven-colored light and slowly spread to the surroundings.

The bubble expanded quickly, and it didn't take long for it to cover the entire Valley. It then continued to expand, taking in more and more land.

It did not take long for all kinds of plants to burrow out of the ground in the area enveloped by the colorful bubbles. They had a completely different appearance from their ancestors, larger, more colorful, and more aggressive.

It was like a fast-forwarded video. The barren desert quickly turned into a dense jungle. From time to time, strange creatures would suddenly appear and then quickly disappear into the flowers and leaves.

Wisps of mist rose up, condensed from the overflowing energy of the world's origin. It faintly flickered with a rainbow light and was trapped in a huge soap bubble, blocking the vision from the sky.

As time slowly passed, the surface area of the soap bubble became larger and larger. It covered a vast area of land and could be easily seen from far away!

Chapter 1457 The dangerous rainbow bubble

At the edge of the no man's land, a group of outdoor enthusiasts gathered around the fire, ready to spend their third night here.

It was already close to dusk, and they might encounter danger if they continued on their journey, so they chose a suitable place to set up camp.

Because the fuel here was extremely scarce, the fire in front of them was not big. Its purpose was only to dispel the discomfort in the heart and let people know that they were not far away from civilization.

hey, who wants to bake a steamed bun? it's fragrant and crunchy.

A young man raised the iron stake in his hand and asked the people around him.

“Trust me, after you pass through the no man’s land, you will definitely want to vomit at the mention of mantou!”

“It smells really good, give me one!”

“I have some wine here, have a sip to warm your body!”

As the sun set, everyone’s laughter echoed in the desolate no man’s land, dispersing the dead silence that had settled here for thousands of years.

A female team member took out her phone, wanting to record the scenery here as a memory of her youth. But the moment she raised her phone, she was stunned on the spot, unable to come back to her senses for a long time.

Her teammates called out to her, but there was no reply. They couldn’t help but curiously follow her gaze.

He was also stunned!

In the direction of the setting sun, a huge colorful bubble was slowly twisting, emitting a charming light.

The size of the bubble was extremely huge. It was probably a few kilometers tall and there was dense fog inside. It was like a stream of water that constantly twisted and swam, sometimes forming mysterious symbols.

“Oh my God, what is this?”

“Is it a Mirage or a legendary paradise?”

quick, take a picture and find an opportunity to upload it online. It will definitely cause a sensation in the world!

The team members looked at the mysterious and huge bubble, their faces full of intoxication and excitement. Two of them even pulled open the car door, ready to get closer to the bubble to take a closer look.

Because up until now, they still couldn’t determine whether the bubble really existed. They had to get closer to observe.

you’re crazy. What if you’re in danger? ”

When the team leader saw this, he immediately jumped out to stop them, his face very serious.

Compared to these rookies, he, who had crossed the no man’s land twice, was very clear about how dangerous this desolate land was. The slightest carelessness could cost him his life!

Seeing that their Captain had stopped them, the two team members who were trying to drive closer to the rainbow bubble stopped and looked helpless.

“Brother song, let’s go and take a look. I’m sure it’ll be fine!”

Brother song shook his head and said coldly, “ you can go if you want to. If something happens, you’ll be responsible for it. Don’t blame me for not reminding you!

The two team members sighed and jumped out of the car.

Before they came here, they had already agreed that they had to obey. If they didn’t listen to the order and insisted on going, the team members could just stand by and watch when they were in danger.

If he wanted to court death, then he couldn’t blame others for being merciless!

But the problem was that they had no chance to get close to such a strange scene, which was really a very torturous thing.

“Why don’t we go together and just take a look from afar?”

The female team member who was the first to find the bubble asked the team leader with a pleading tone.

“No, it’s going to be dark soon. None of you are allowed to go!”

At this point, the captain walked to the side of the car and pulled out all the car keys and put them in his pocket, not giving anyone a chance to take advantage.

Seeing the firm attitude of the head of the caravan, everyone could only sigh and silently watch the sun set.

When night fell completely, there was a change in the direction of the bubble. A beautiful Aurora-like scenery flowed freely between the heaven and earth, making people feel like they were in a Fairyland.

Then, the bubble gradually brightened and emitted a White Brilliance. It was like a Pearl that had fallen into the wilderness, so beautiful that it made people intoxicated.

If one observed carefully, one could see that there seemed to be a faint shadow inside the bubble, appearing and disappearing from time to time in the clouds!

They had never seen such a magical scene before, so they were all fascinated by it.

However, no matter how beautiful the scenery was, there were times when they got tired of it. After a few hours, the exhausted members fell asleep one after another. After all, the seemingly endless trekking was the easiest way to exhaust one’s physical and mental strength.

Time slowly passed, and just as everyone was in deep sleep, a dull boom suddenly rang out.

When he woke up from his sleep, he saw a long line of military vehicles speeding over in the wilderness. More than a dozen helicopters flew past in the sky above him, and the bright lights shone on the colorful bubbles, constantly sweeping them.

When they saw this scene, everyone had the same thought. These soldiers were here for the rainbow bubble!

Creak! Creak!

A military off-road vehicle stopped, and a few fully armed soldiers jumped out and surrounded the convoy.

“Who are you people?”

Looking at the black muzzles, everyone quickly revealed their identities to avoid being accidentally injured.

This was not a joke. After obtaining special permission, the soldiers could kill dangerous targets. Anyone with some knowledge would know that acting tough in this situation was courting death!

The rainbow bubble’s existence completely fulfilled the execution criteria for special circumstances!

After revealing his identity, the officer asked a few more questions and then asked them to stay where they were to register their identities. They could only leave after the inspection was completed.

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief and looked at each other. Then, they noticed something unusual.

hey, where did Xiaowen and Feifei go? ”

“She was beside me when I was sleeping, but I haven’t seen her since I woke up!”

oh no, don’t tell me they’ve secretly run to seven bubbles!

The captain was so angry that he threw his hat on the ground and scolded, ” sneaking out in the middle of the night in the no man’s land is simply courting death. These two guys are too willful, why didn’t they listen to advice!

When the officer next to him heard that someone had gone missing, and that it was very likely that they were near the mysterious bubble, he immediately informed the troops in front and asked them to pay attention to the traces of the two team members.

In the end, it didn’t take long for news to come in that the female team member had been found.

However, she was already dead. The lower half of her body was left in the colorful bubble. When she was dragged out, only her white bones were left, which seemed to be caused by some kind of insect gnawing.

The victim’s face was still filled with fear and pain. Before his death, he was still desperately crawling forward, leaving deep scratch marks on the ground!

The team members were extremely sad and wanted to see their friend’s body, but they were told that the body had been sealed and isolated because something unusual had been found on the body!

A plan that had been planned for a long time had been ruined. One of their teammates had been confirmed dead, and the fate of another team member was uncertain. The hope of coming back alive was already very slim.

This series of encounters made everyone depressed. They gathered in the military tents and were silent for a long time.

In a tent not far from the team members, the female team member's body was placed there. It was isolated by a transparent barrier similar to a square tent, and a group of soldiers wearing masks stood around it.

From the body that had no flesh below the abdomen, there were vine-like plants growing out of the skin. They grew extremely fast and soon covered the entire body.

Then, beautiful flowers bloomed on the vines, swaying left and right in the windless environment. In those tightly closed flowers, jagged teeth were occasionally visible.

When someone tried to get closer to observe, the flowers were like Cobras that suddenly launched an attack. They suddenly darted forward, and their sharp teeth crisscrossed together, making a crisp "ka ka" sound.

...

Without a doubt, this was an intelligent plant. It grew rapidly, ate meat, and had a strong offensive power!

Everyone looked at each other in shock.

This carnivorous plant was only a seed that was brought out from the corpse. Who knew how many more terrifying things were inside the huge bubble?

Chapter 1458 Initial exploration

When the entire world was restless because of the metal giant, the appearance of the rainbow bubble was no doubt adding fuel to the fire, making the already rampant doomsday talk even more popular.

If it was just the metal giant, then it could only be considered a coincidence. But if there were other supernatural phenomena that followed, then it couldn't be explained by a coincidence.

The panic that followed could very likely cause the entire world to fall into chaos!

Therefore, the best way was to completely seal off the news about the rainbow bubble, or complete the exploration before the news spread. Then, use a powerful weapon to destroy it in one go!

Only the courage to cut the Gordian knot could completely control the situation. It was easy to say, but it was very difficult to do.

Not everyone would agree to destroy the rainbow bubble. Just like the metal giant, although it caused quite a lot of damage and almost destroyed half of the country, it was destined to be the object of competition from the moment it appeared because of the terrifying technology it contained.

Whoever wanted to destroy it would definitely become the target of public criticism!

It was the same for the rainbow bubble. Even though there might be great danger inside it, and it was very likely to be connected to the metal giant and the crisis of the world's destruction, who could ignore the benefits inside?

Putting everything else aside, just the special substance extracted from the carnivorous plant alone had great benefits to the human body. According to the overnight analysis of experts, it was confirmed that if it could be mass-produced, mankind might usher in an opportunity for the evolution of the whole people, and their lifespans would at least double!

Who wouldn't be tempted by such benefits?

Therefore, after receiving the expert's analysis report, the commander in charge of this operation received an order to figure out the secret of the rainbow bubble at all costs!

The sky was already bright, and the cold wind of the wilderness blew past. Even the dazzling white sun could not dispel the chill in their hearts.

Around the rainbow bubble, more than 50000 soldiers surrounded it tightly. From time to time, tanks and rocket cannons could be seen in formation, all pointing at the Rainbow bubble.

Fifty kilometers away, there were even two missile vehicles that had entered the attack Position. It was said that the combat Department was a powerful new type of nuclear bomb!

In addition to these weapons, within a radius of 100 kilometers, there were patrol vehicles and fighter jets everywhere. No one was allowed to approach this area.

He had already done everything he could. As for the peeking from the sky, it was simply impossible to guard against.

In fact, dozens of satellites had already locked onto this place. Many countries had requested to release detailed information about the rainbow bubble and to allow their teams to enter the scene.

A wrangle between the officials was inevitable, but one thing was for sure, and that was that it wouldn't be long before the secret here was leaked again!

Several assault helicopters passed through layers of blockades and stopped at the periphery of the last quarantine area. More than a dozen scholarly-looking officers alighted, each of them carrying an alloy password-protected box.

Looking at the huge rainbow bubble in the distance, everyone's faces were filled with shock and solemnness, as well as a trace of anticipation.

After showing their IDs, they got into the car and headed toward the rainbow bubble. They soon arrived at the edge of the bubble.

Unlike the defense on the outside, the soldiers here were all wearing white protective suits. Even if no harmful substances were detected in the air, no one dared to take it lightly.

After changing into protective clothing and carrying their respective Alloy Boxes, everyone slowly walked to the colorful bubble.

At this moment, the colorful bubble's expansion speed had clearly slowed down. It was swaying gently with the breeze, as if it would shatter with a touch.

Of course, this was only an illusion. Someone had conducted a test before and found that this bubble did not actually exist. It was like a layer of reflective energy film that isolated the inside of the bubble from the outside world.

At this time, everyone's Alloy Boxes had been opened, and various instruments were taken out one after another. The relevant tests were also being carried out quickly.

the energy reaction is abnormal. No radiation reaction!

"Get ready to put in the probe and see if we can see the internal situation!"

the data has been collected. The temperature and humidity are abnormal, and the oxygen concentration is over the limit. Direct breathing may cause poisoning!

the image inside the bubble is blurry and full of white fog. It is impossible to get more images with the probe alone. However, we can confirm that the fifth marker has been covered in dense vegetation in the past twelve hours. We have taken samples and sealed them with mechanical hands!

A technician walked up to the commander and said in a deep voice, "the air bubble blocks all sorts of signals. Our remote-controlled robots can't be used at all!

Looking at the information that he had just received, the commander in camouflage had a serious expression on his face. He said to the technical staff, "if I use wire control, can I obtain more internal information?"

it should be possible, but it can't exceed 100 meters, and there's a certain difficulty in retrieving it.

that's good. You guys start immediately. I need to see what's inside!

A few minutes later, a robot dragging a thin wire drove into the bubble. The scene inside the bubble was also shown to the natives for the first time.

When the image appeared, the audience was dumbfounded.

After passing through nearly ten meters of white fog, a scene similar to that of a tropical rainforest appeared in front of everyone. Looking at the exotic flowers and rare plants that were competing for beauty, no one could believe that this place had been a desolate Gobi Desert a few days ago!

Among these unknown plants, a thirty-kilogram Golden Scorpion crawled past. It was then pressed to the ground by a snow-white feline, torn to pieces, and swallowed.

A hundred meters away, dozens of green-furred deer with vines and flowers wrapped around their horns were walking on the grass. In the sky, a giant bird with a wingspan of seven or eight meters swooped down, straight for these strange-looking deer.

The deers were extremely alert. The moment the giant bird charged down, they rushed into the forest like lightning. But even so, one of them was still caught by the giant bird. It screamed and lifted it into the sky, flying towards the mountain in the distance!

Seeing the strange bird hunting for food, everyone looked at each other because the scene inside the bubble had exceeded their expectations.

“Just what kind of terrifying power could change the entire desert in such a short time?”

“Oh my God, I feel like I’m watching a science fiction blockbuster!”

“The environment here is too dangerous. Our soldiers might not be safe in there!”

It’s not just the soldiers’ equipment that needs to be adjusted. Other equipment needs to be specially made as well. Don’t forget that it’s a high-oxygen environment!

I have an idea. Can we build a safety passage similar to a pipe that can be directly inserted into the core area of the bubble? ”

“As long as time permits, it’s not impossible to solve the problem of defense!”

The crowd discussed animatedly, expressing their own opinions.

None of the countries had a mature way to deal with this kind of thing, so they could only explore and act.

Regardless of the specifics, the exploration team had already begun to organize. Among them, there were not only elite veterans but also some young experts. They would walk into the rainbow bubble to collect first-hand data and find the cause of the mutation.

According to the images sent back just now, it was certain that this operation was bound to be very dangerous. The slightest bit of carelessness could cost them their lives!

Chapter 1459 danger everywhere

Outside the rainbow bubble, a group of fully armed search team members stood together, doing the final inspection before entering the bubble.

In addition to conventional weapons, they also carried a large number of special equipment in order to deal with any emergencies.

The exploration team already had a general understanding of the situation inside the rainbow bubble. Looking at the strange and brutal monsters, the team members understood the dangers of this trip.

Therefore, their faces were solemn. Even through the helmets of the protective suit, they could see the serious and determined eyes.

But even so, no one chose to back out because they all understood what this matter meant and were willing to pay for it.

A true warrior did not mean that he had strong combat power, but that he could give up his personal interests in the face of life and death for the benefit of more ordinary people, even if it meant sacrificing his own life!

Looking at his watch, the exploration team leader waved his hand, signaling for the operation to begin.

The surrounding soldiers in charge of defense saluted at the same time, watching these true warriors enter the rainbow bubble one by one, and secretly said to themselves, " take care.

It didn't take long for all the exploration team members to enter the interior of the bubble. At the same time, the images taken by the team members were transmitted to the outside of the bubble through the wires they released.

These looked like metal wire wires that were extremely tough. As the exploration team went deeper, they were released continuously, and each bundle was a kilometer long.

It was the only channel of communication between the exploration team and the outside world. Without it, the communication between the two sides would be completely cut off.

The exploration team carried a total of 20 bundles of such wires. If they moved in a straight line, it was enough to ensure that they extended all the way to the central area.

At the same time, a 360-degree surveillance camera would be installed at each connecting point to ensure that they could obtain specific information on the retreat route at any time.

As the exploration team entered, images were displayed one after another, showing the area that had been explored by the robots.

Stepping on the green grass, the members of the exploration team had grave expressions on their faces, and they were very careful with each step they took.

In order to avoid being hurt by insects, the team members were sprayed with special agents and turned on equipment similar to ultrasonic insect repellents. Obviously, this method was effective. At this moment, they had entered the bubble hundreds of meters and were not attacked by the mutated creatures.

However, the team members did not relax because of this, because they soon encountered a situation that made their scalps numb.

In the gaps of the forest ahead, a huge flower with a diameter of several meters bloomed on the ground. It looked magnificent and completely covered the ground.

However, if one looked carefully at the soil under the flowers, they would see slender roots like earthworms wriggling in the half-covered soil and gravel.

Rotten bones were also faintly visible in the roots and soil.

The exploration team had only probed for a moment before the thin roots reacted quickly. They flew up from the ground like snakes and almost tied up the team member.

Seeing this scene, everyone immediately thought of the carnivorous plants they had seen before. Obviously, these giant flowers had the same characteristics.

the area of this sea of flowers is several hectares. It's impossible for us to pass through here, so I think we should choose to take a detour.

After asking for their team members' opinions and seeing that they didn't object, two of their team members immediately followed their team leader's instructions and walked into a strange forest.

These two soldiers were Pathfinders. If they encountered danger, they could provide a warning to their teammates behind them, but they were likely to lose their lives.

The soldiers who were acting as Pathfinders naturally knew this, so the two of them were extremely careful. As they moved forward, they constantly looked around and stared at the monitor on their helmets. They were getting closer and closer to the forest.

The forest was strange because the outer skin of the trees was similar to snake skin. They were about ten centimeters in diameter and more than ten meters tall!

The most peculiar thing was that this tree did not have any branches. There was only a colorful coral-like crown at the top, which seemed to be dancing to a certain rhythm.

be extremely careful. Once you discover any danger, attack immediately!

The captain of the exploration team reminded his team members. Just as he was about to check a suspicious Bush, he suddenly heard a scream from the front. One of the team members walking in front took two steps back and opened fire with the rifle in his hand.

On the grass in front of him, blood splattered with the sound of gunfire.

The other team members who saw the monster also opened fire at the same time. After a series of gunshots, the monster finally stopped struggling. It had obviously been killed by the random gunfire.

Upon closer inspection, everyone found that the monster had a flat body, and its body was covered with sharp thorns like weeds. Its lower lip was also covered with green flesh thorns and tentacles, which looked like real wild grass and vines.

There was more than one mouth like this. It spread out in all directions like a starfish. As long as prey stepped on this several-meter-long lower lip, they would be rolled up by the tentacle-covered chin and sent into the monster's mouth.

Such a strange monster was simply unheard of!

The soldier who had just escaped from death still had a lingering fear on his face. After taking a deep breath, he slowly moved forward again.

However, a few minutes later, he encountered another fatal crisis.

As soon as he entered the forest, he heard a "boom" sound. The ground suddenly caved in, and a group of thumb-sized bugs emerged from the ground, crawling all over the soldier's legs.

The team member turned pale with fright and quickly retreated while rolling on the ground. His companion beside him also rushed forward, took out the insect repellent can on his waist, and sprayed it wildly.

The patrol Leader saw that there were still bugs swarming out from the collapsed ground. He took out a white phosphorus grenade without hesitation and threw it directly into the nest.

A blinding white light flashed, and the ground was covered in crawling flames. Even under the extremely difficult to extinguish flames, these bugs still struggled for a long time before they died.

As for the team member who was attacked by the insects, he was trembling and wailing. He was obviously in great pain.

After the team doctor examined him, he found that his lower leg had only been bitten a few times by the insects, but the wound had already festered, and one of his legs had become black and swollen.

this insect is highly toxic. We have to deal with it as soon as possible, or he might die!

After hearing the team doctor's warning, the exploration team leader immediately sent out a distress signal. Soon, two soldiers drove their electric vehicles into the colorful bubble and transported the wounded back along the original route.

The injured soldier was considered lucky. If their exploration team had reached the depths of the bubble, they would have most likely lost their lives there!

They had encountered monsters one after another, and their team members had been poisoned and injured. Although this situation was expected, everyone's mood was still very heavy.

"Alright, let's continue forward!"

The captain of the exploration team did not want his team members to be affected, so he ordered them to continue moving forward. However, this time, the detection instruments were more detailed, and they would not let go of any abnormalities.

As if good luck had befallen them, the exploration team managed to avoid a few dangerous areas in the following journey, and they did not encounter any more casualties.

According to the data they had collected earlier, they would reach the center of the bubble once they left the forest.

However, when the exploration team walked out of the forest, they were once again shocked by the scene in front of them.

It turned out that the scenery of this area was completely different from the outside. The vegetation had become sparser, and it looked more like a garden that had been carefully taken care of. Every plant was like a resplendent gem, and one could tell with a single glance that they were not ordinary objects.

In the middle of these strange plants, there were many huge and ferocious monsters wandering around. They kept wandering on the spot, and their roars were heard from time to time!

After seeing the exploration team, a long-horned lizard that was seven to eight meters long hissed and crashed into them like a heavy truck. Even though the team members opened fire continuously, the giant lizard still rushed into the team.

At this moment, the colorful bubble finally revealed its ferocity. One by one, the fresh lives were dying rapidly!

Chapter 1460 The second exploration team

After an intense battle, the ground was covered with broken corpses.

The surviving exploration team members were covered in wounds, and their protective suits were damaged in many places. It was no longer enough to guarantee their safety.

At this moment, everyone was huddled together, dealing with each other's wounds, their faces full of confusion.

Everyone knew very well that this method could not guarantee absolute safety. Who knew if they had been infected by an unknown bacteria or virus?

!!

After the creatures in the rainbow bubble were stimulated by the origin force, they had all begun to evolve rapidly, which naturally included these microorganisms.

Moreover, this evolution was still in an uncontrollable state. Perhaps a very ordinary virus could cause the indigenous people to die in batches!

Therefore, they could only do this for the sake of peace of mind. If they were really infected and died, they could only blame their own bad luck.

Looking at the desolate battlefield, the captain of the exploration team sighed to himself.

Although they had been prepared to sacrifice themselves when they entered the bubble, they still felt terrible when they saw their comrades die in front of them.

In front of them, the body of the long-horned lizard lay on the ground. Its head had been beaten into a bloody mess, and its body was full of tiny bullet holes.

A total of 12 people had died before this monster was killed, but the exploration team had also been completely crippled!

Looking at the low morale of his team members, the exploration team leader picked up his communicator and reported the situation here, requesting a temporary retreat.

Since they had already lost the possibility of continuing to explore, there was no need to stay here. Everyone had already done their best, and there was no need to lose their lives here.

The command center had seen the battle just now, and the casualties had exceeded their expectations. Therefore, after hearing the request of the exploration team leader, the commander immediately agreed to retreat.

However, the commander still issued an order, asking them to install the surveillance equipment in designated locations to facilitate the collection of more information.

He would use this place as a starting point for his next operation.

At the same time, a rescue team was also sent out. They followed the safe route that had been opened up earlier and arrived at the location of the exploration team without any danger.

Seeing the tragic state of the scene, the rescue team was silent for a few seconds before immediately taking action.

The bodies of the dead members were all collected, the injured were sent to the electric vehicle, and even the long-horned lizard that had been killed was also sealed and taken away.

On the way back, the convoy slowly advanced along the safe route. They encountered some monsters along the way, but fortunately, there was no battle.

After leaving the rainbow bubble, the patrol members were separated. The military doctor Who had been waiting for a long time immediately began the operation, but he was still one step too late.

Other than the captain of the exploration team who managed to survive after his amputation and one of his team members who were safe and sound, the other team members all died of wound infections in just two hours.

The first exploration ended just like that. Although they had made a lot of sacrifices, they had gained a lot.

After all the exploration team members had left, a spring-like transparent passage began to be built. It extended into the inside of the bubble like a long transparent snake.

There were also metal protective walls on both sides of the passage, with a height of five meters, and defensive machine guns and surveillance cameras were set up at a certain distance. Once a monster approached, it would be attacked immediately.

The power of the country was reflected at this moment. Even in such a dangerous environment, they still maintained super high work efficiency.

As the passage advanced, various animal and plant samples were also captured one after another. After being safely processed, they were sent to the laboratory for research.

At the same time, the Aborigines finally reached an agreement. More than a dozen countries sent special operation teams with all kinds of equipment to gather in the no man's land and begin to prepare for the second exploration operation.

For a time, there was a constant flow of cars near the no man's land. From time to time, planes would land at the temporary airport, and groups of excited operation members from various countries would get off.

Even though they knew that the inside of the rainbow bubble was extremely dangerous, they were still fearless. They only wanted to enter as soon as possible.

In addition to these members from various countries, there was also a group of men and women with fierce auras. They were members of The Guardian family.

The owner of the fourth rune sign also sent a group of armored Masters. These people were like ascetics, and their words and actions were very low-key.

The reason why these two groups of forces had appeared here was because they were certain that the changes here were definitely related to the evil demons, so they wanted to take the opportunity to kill them to prevent the prophecy of the end of the world from coming true.

Another reason was that the energy in the rainbow bubble was extremely helpful to their cultivation. Some of the mutated plants inside were also valuable treasures that they could not miss.

This was the composition of the second exploration team. It was a group of elites with their own thoughts, a motley crew that had temporarily gathered together.

Of course, they did not come here rashly. Instead, they had made specific preparations based on the information they had collected during the last exploration.

This was especially so for the weapons and equipment used by the operation team. Many of them were displayed to the world for the first time, and the number of anti-material weapons far exceeded the normal firepower equipment.

The monsters in the central region were extremely fierce. Ordinary weapons could not even penetrate their scales, so anti-material weapons were essential!

But even so, it might not guarantee absolute safety.

This was because the closer the monsters were to the central area, the stronger they were, which was beyond the phenomenon of ordinary people.

In the process of monitoring, there were more than one giant monster like the Overlord Dragon, as well as a terrifying giant snake that was dozens of meters long!

There were also giant existences in the air that were comparable in size to fighter jets. Once the pilot encountered them, it was still unknown who would win.

If he wanted to destroy these monsters, he would need more powerful weapons!

As a result, some strange-looking equipment appeared in the hands of the operation team members. From the appearance, it seemed to be in the category of energy weapons, or perhaps they were used to deal with those Super Monsters.

During this period, some people suggested using missiles and cannons to attack the monsters from the outside. However, this method was soon proven to be impossible because the coordinates of this space did not match with the outside world. No one knew where the test shots would hit!

Due to the excessive oxygen content in the bubble, if they wanted to attack from the inside, they would need to modify the weapon, which was far less convenient than using a portable rocket.

These were all things that had to be taken into consideration. Otherwise, the slightest negligence would lead to disastrous consequences.

Everything was under intense operation. With the cooperation of all parties, it only took a day for the second exploration team to be ready and enter the rainbow bubble again.

Since the exploration this time was a joint operation of many countries, the total number of people added up to 500. With all kinds of special vehicles, it formed a rather large team.

Following the route that had just been opened up, the expedition team headed straight for the central region, not afraid of the ordinary monsters on the periphery at all.

Amidst the sounds of gunfire from time to time, the exploration team continued to advance into the depths of the bubble. The battle had not stopped since the beginning.

They successfully arrived at the central region, and the real battle officially began.

In the face of the monsters that had swallowed the magic pills and become stronger under the nourishment of the power of the origin, the exploration team immediately felt the pressure increase.

The closer they got to the core area, the stronger the monsters were. Even if the expedition team used powerful weapons, they still could not gain much of an advantage.

Even so, the heavily injured exploration team was still steadily advancing, getting closer and closer to the central area.

As long as they reached the valley at the core of the rainbow bubble, they would have a chance to find the underground passage. However, the premise was that they could reach the target area alive!

Just as the exploration team was getting closer and closer to the core area, Tang Zhen and the others had finally completed the setup of the interdimensional soul teleportation array. After that, they successfully activated it!
