Chapter 1461 Connecting to the world of Lou Cheng!

In the underground space, the runic magic circle had already been officially activated. Under the constantly changing light, it seemed like a hidden paradise underground.

It was just that this brilliant light did not make people feel intoxicated. On the contrary, there was a faint feeling of fear, as if even the soul was trembling.

With the dozens of small stone pillars as a background, the giant stone pillar in the center was glowing, and runes the size of a human head appeared and disappeared in the light, spinning around the stone pillar.

Above the ground and the underground space, there were two huge runic magic circles. With the stone pillar in the center as the axis, they rotated while constantly changing colors.

When Yu Heng and the other two saw this scene, other than shock, they also felt a trace of pride.

From the beginning to the end, the three of them had participated in the construction of the interdimensional soul teleportation portal. They had contributed to the construction, so they naturally felt very close to the place.

However, according to what Tang Zhen had said, this was actually just a simplified version of the launch array. It was not even worth mentioning when compared to the real runic magic array.

Pointing at the center of the runic magic circle, Tang Zhen said to Yu Heng, next, I'll search for the coordinates of Holy Dragon City. Your mission is to protect me from being disturbed. This process can be long or short, but it will not take more than a day!

Tang Zhen naturally had his reasons for saying this. This was because the four of them had only used a very short amount of time to complete the teleportation. This indicated that this plane was not far from the tower world.

As for why it was not discovered by the cultivators of Loucheng, either its location was very hidden, or its plane coordinates were hidden, and the latter was the most likely.

This was the reason why Tang Zhen was confident that he could connect to the tower World in a Day.

It was like an animal hidden in the grass. It was difficult for outsiders to discover its existence, but it could easily see the outside world through the grass.

Tang Zhen was currently equivalent to an animal hiding in the grass. As long as he walked out of the grass, what would happen next would naturally follow.

"The natives should be getting closer by now, but don't worry, my methods aren't as simple as they think, and they won't be able to easily enter the core area.

Therefore, all you need to do is to quietly guard the underground. You don't need to worry about anything else!"

After he finished speaking, Tang Zhen sat cross-legged on the ground. His soul and the runic magic circle were connected. Under the amplification of the enormous energy, his soul turned into countless threads that spread out in all directions.

He didn't use the soul transfer cabin, because it was something prepared for ordinary people, and it was far less efficient than the method he used now.

Each mental thread could be regarded as a thought of his. As long as any thread discovered the world of the tower, the other thoughts would be instantly retracted, regrouping into a whole and completing the transmission.

The plane coordinates that Tang Zhen wanted would also be obtained at the same time.

This was a rather boring process, and he couldn't be distracted at all. Otherwise, the mental threads he extended would break, and all his previous efforts would be in vain.

When Yu Heng and the other two saw that Tang Zhen was sitting still, they looked at each other and headed to the entrance of the cave to guard it.

At this moment, Tang Zhen had already sunk into a state where he had forgotten about everything. This was something that he was forced to do. This was because as long as he thought about it, those mental energy threads that had extended out would entangle with each other.

At this moment, Tang Zhen had already lost his sense of time. He could only extend his mental energy threads continuously as he aimlessly searched for his target.

This method was somewhat similar to trying one's luck. It would be fine if the target was close, but if the target was too far away, the gap between the spiritual threads would increase, and the target might be missed!

A plane world was completely different from the original world's universe. It was more concealed, and many plane coordinates were just inconspicuous light balls in the void. One would not be able to discover their existence until they were in front of them.

Although it was much safer, compared to the original world's cosmic environment, its size was limited. It couldn't be as boundless as the universe. Instead, it was confined to a semi-closed box.

Although it looked safe, in reality, its potential was limited. If he wanted to achieve greater development, he had to jump out of this box!

However, according to the dream city master's speculations, the original world's universe was not as easy to go to as one wanted. It also had various restrictions, such as traps, projections, and spatial barriers.

Sometimes, the seemingly boundless starry sky was just a high-level Phantom!

Tang Zhen, who had lost his sense of time, did not know how much time had passed. A spiritual thread finally touched a certain plane. However, it was not the world of buildings that he was familiar with. Instead, it was another unknown world.

This might be an unexpected joy, but it was not the goal that Tang Zhen wanted. Therefore, he only inserted this thread of mental energy into it and would try to find it again when he had the opportunity in the future.

After an unknown period of time, he finally felt a familiar fluctuation. It was the world of buildings that he had been searching for!

His calm state of mind fluctuated. Because of the trace of joy that rose in his heart, those mental threads that extended out suddenly became a mess. However, Tang Zhen didn't care at all. He retracted all the other mental threads and then concentrated on the mental thread that discovered the world of the tower.

“Swish!”

The runic magic circle suddenly lit up, and a pillar of light broke through the thick soil. Under the horrified gaze of the native exploration team, it directly rushed into the sky!

.....

Loucheng world, Holy Dragon city's back Valley.

The gigantic soul teleportation portal suddenly started operating, immediately alarming the Holy Dragon city's residents who were on duty.

In the control Hall, rows of data flashed on the monitor, judging the data of the teleporter's soul and the plane coordinates.

the soul fluctuations have been matched. Oh my God, it's the city Lord!

the analysis of the dimension coordinates is successful. It's a brand new dimension, and it's so close to us!

hurry up and save the coordinates. Don't make any mistakes!

While the staff were busy, a transmission cabin in the transmission Hall made a sound. Soon after, Tang Zhen sat up and casually pulled off the data cable connected to his body.

“Greetings to the city Lord!”

A row of Holy Dragon City residents stood around the transmission cabin. They greeted him the moment he appeared. A female resident with a sweet smile bowed to Tang Zhen and handed over the clothes in her hand.

“Thank you!”

He casually put on his clothes and asked the residents who welcomed him to disperse. Then, Tang Zhen directly headed to the main tower City and gathered everyone to make preparations for the battle.

Time waited for no one, so the meeting was very short. After it was confirmed that Tai Seng's fifth tower would launch an invasion, the preparation work also began at the same time.

For the cultivators of loucheng, invading the war was their job, and no one would find it sudden.

After arranging a series of matters, Tang Zhen left through the soul teleportation array once again and brought Yu Heng back. Since The Two Towers were cooperating, Yu Heng, the Morning Star Lord, had to participate.

Feeling the unfamiliar body, Yu Heng's heart was filled with shock. Never in his dreams did he think that Holy Dragon City would have such a heaven-defying method!

Suppressing the shock in their hearts, the two began to discuss how The Two Towers would cooperate in the war. However, Yu Heng's mind was constantly thinking about the soul transfer array. He felt that the runic array must have some magical power that he did not know about.

Chapter 1462 - 1462 The two cities prepare for battle

According to Tang Zhen's plan, the Holy Dragon City would send a mothership to the Morning Star City and transport the Morning Star cultivators to the fifth building. After undergoing short-term training and reorganization, they would cross the plane channel together.

With the carrying capacity of the Helicarrier, even a million cultivators could be transported before the battle began.

Although this process was a little troublesome, there was no other way. Morning Star City did not have the ability to deliver such a large scale item. As an ally, Holy Dragon City could only help.

He believed that with this period of time, the two sides would have a better understanding of each other in the upcoming war and reduce many unnecessary casualties.

Yu Heng's thoughts were different. After a moment's deliberation, he hoped that Morning Star City could open up a plane channel of its own.

Although doing so would waste a lot of the world's origin, it would bring many benefits to Morning Star City. At the very least, with their own Tower City as a backing, the cultivators would be more confident.

Of course, there was another reason for doing so. It was to have more autonomy in the invasion war and not be subject to Holy Dragon city's control everywhere.

Tang Zhen smiled when he heard this. After thinking for a moment, he agreed to Yu Heng's request.

Since Morning Star City was not short of money, he had nothing to say. This saved him a lot of trouble.

After the discussion, Yu Heng led the 1000 military instructors from the Holy Dragon City back to the Morning Star Empire on a small warship.

Now that he was confident, Yu Heng was filled with anticipation for this dimensional war. Less than half a day after returning to Morning Star City, he was the first to open the dimensional channel.

The fifth tower was unwilling to give up. After receiving the news, it also opened the plane channel. In a short time, the number of troops gathered had already exceeded one million!

This was the foundation of a true tower. As long as the signal of war appeared, it could gather enough combat power in the shortest time possible and be ready to enter the war at any time.

Compared to the Holy Dragon City cultivators' anticipation and caution, the Morning Star Empire seemed to be in a panic.

After Yu Heng's conscription order was issued in the morning Star Empire, it immediately caused a huge commotion. The people did not know what had happened and thought that they were going to war with the Holy Dragon City.

The Holy Dragon City had long since become famous throughout the world. Its powerful strength intimidated everyone, and the residents of the Morning Star Empire had naturally heard of it. When they thought about fighting against such a powerful opponent, the cultivators of the Morning Star Empire couldn't help but panic.

However, news soon came that the Morning Star Empire had cooperated with the Holy Dragon City and was preparing to invade a distant world!

Another world? what kind of place was that?

The natives of the continent all knew that they lived on a continent sealed off by the sea of fog and had never heard of any place outside the continent.

Therefore, the cultivators of the Morning Star Empire felt incredulous at the official explanation, followed by faint fear.

He didn't expect that not only would they have to fight a war, but they would also have to go to a strange foreign world. Who knew if he would have the chance to return to his hometown?

However, few cultivators would choose to escape the Empire's conscription order. This was not only because they would face severe punishment, but also because it concerned the glory of their families and the dignity of cultivators.

For morning stars, faith was the most important!

Thus, after the conscription order was issued, every main road in the morning Star Empire was filled with armored cultivators and servants, who were advancing towards Morning Star City.

As they neared morning stars city, they gradually formed a huge stream of people, gradually covering the vine plain.

This was a rare sight in the morning Star Empire. According to Tang Zhen's estimation, the Morning Star City would have to send at least one million cultivators or three times the number of ordinary soldiers to prevent the lack of manpower once the war started.

To the Morning Star Empire, gathering a million cultivators was not a big problem. The only weakness was that the difference in strength between the cultivators was too great. They could not be like Holy Dragon City, where all the cultivators were high-level.

This was the biggest difference between an ordinary country and a city. One was a government that protected its own interests, while the other was a pure war machine!

The gap between the two was obvious, and it couldn't be made up in a short time. However, through reasonable cooperation and training, some shortcomings could still be made up.

The Holy Dragon City sent their instructors to the battlefield at the same time, reorganizing and adjusting these scattered soldiers so that they could adapt to the upcoming war.

After listening to the Holy Dragon City instructor's account of the war and personally operating the weapons they had never touched before, the Morning Star cultivators were shocked to discover that their way of war was so backward.

Many cultivators were secretly rejoicing. Fortunately, their opponent was not the Holy Dragon City. Otherwise, they might have already become corpses!

In order to win the first battle, Morning Star City had put in a lot of effort. Batches of weapons and armor were distributed, and the craftsmen were working day and night to create batches of war weapons.

In addition, Yu Heng also purchased a large number of weapons from the Holy Dragon City to arm his cultivators.

Yu Heng, who had been hunted down by the natives, understood the power of these weapons. Thus, after knowing that the weapons from Holy Dragon City were better, he did not hesitate to purchase them.

Although the cost was huge, Yu Heng did not hesitate. He knew that this money was well spent. Even in the future war, it would definitely be useful.

Because they were allies, Tang Zhen had also lifted the sales restrictions. Otherwise, Yu Heng would not be able to get a bullet!

In the following days, Morning Star cultivators were training everywhere on the vine Plains. The sounds of gunfire rang out incessantly, and the dimensional portal near Morning Star City expanded at a visible rate!

Morning Star City was fully prepared for war, and so was Holy Dragon City. Although the cultivators in Loucheng city had experienced many similar wars, they still did not dare to be careless.

City Lord Tai Seng of the fifth building had been looking forward to this battle for a long time. Other than the cultivators of the fifth building, he also openly recruited mercenaries to join the battle, and the recruitment order was directly distributed to all the buildings of the Holy Dragon City.

It could be said that this was a recruitment by the entire continent. It also meant that Holy Dragon City could finally officially mobilize the continent's resources and gradually recover some of the war benefits.

Ever since the recruitment order was issued, a large number of cultivators began to gather in the fifth building. There were cultivators from other buildings, cultivators from the three empires, and even a large number of orc cultivators!

As the Holy Dragon city's deployment was gradually completed, especially after the Morning Star Empire announced its cooperation with the Holy Dragon City, the Orc Alliance was already on the verge of collapse. Anyone with eyes could see that it was only a matter of time before this Alliance was destroyed.

As for the radiant and eternal empires, they had already ceased to exist in name after the orc Alliance occupied half of their territory and there were internal rebellions.

In Tang Zhen's eyes, these two empires could no longer be considered as enemies. Perhaps, they would fall apart on their own without him even having to make a move.

Under such circumstances, the cultivators naturally had to find their own way out. Seeking refuge in the Holy Dragon City, a giant that was destined to unify the continent in the future, became the best choice for the cultivators of all races.

Those Beastman cultivators came from tribes that had left the Beastman Alliance and were now considered allies of the Holy Dragon City. Therefore, after learning that the Holy Dragon City was recruiting mercenaries and offering generous rewards, these Beastman cultivators rushed over one after another.

Tai Seng, who was originally feeling a headache due to the lack of manpower, was very happy. He sent people to manage these registered mercenaries to prevent anyone from taking the opportunity to cause trouble while also gathering as many resources as possible in the hope of getting more support.

The ten subordinate towers were already in a semi-independent state. It was impossible for them to obtain resources from the Holy Dragon City endlessly. Otherwise, the Holy Dragon City would not be able to support them no matter how big their assets were.

Therefore, the borrowed resources had to be repaid, and the high-level cultivators had to be paid for. Even if they were his subordinates, he would be treated equally.

This was a matter of course, and it was also considered an internal benefit. If others wanted to do this, the Holy Dragon City would not care!

Everything was ready, and as time passed, the countdown to the invasion began.

Chapter 1463 - 1463 Destroyed?

The runic magic circle in the underground space operated once again and transmitted Tang Zhen's soul over.

Slowly opening his eyes, he saw Yu and kun looking at him with anticipation in their eyes.

"Sir Tang Zhen, how is our city Lord?"

Tang Zhen smiled. He swept a glance at Yu Heng, who was seated beside him, and said, "Don't worry, he's going to wake up soon!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Yu Heng opened his eyes and slowly stood up.

There was still a trace of excitement on his face. After exchanging a few words with Yu kun, he came to Tang Zhen and said with a slightly excited tone, "City Lord, can you build a soul transfer array in Morning Star City?"

Afraid that Tang Zhen would not agree, Yu Heng continued, no matter what resources you need, I'm willing to pay double. What do you think? "

Tang Zhen glanced at Yu Heng with a smile that was not a smile. He did not say anything, but his rejection was already very obvious.

He didn't even need to guess to know that Yu Heng must have discovered the true function of the soul transfer array, which was to gather souls and send them into a host body!

As long as one could master this ability, the residents of the city would have a high chance of being reborn after dying in battle. This would not only make the residents more fearless of death, but also increase the cohesion of the city. The cultivators who were reborn would also become more powerful!

As for connecting to the world of towers and detecting unknown planes, that was just a side function!

No matter what, this soul transfer array had a great use. No wonder Yu Heng showed an impatient expression when he found out its use.

However, this guy wanted to get a soul transfer array by paying twice the amount of materials. It was simply wishful thinking.

What did he think the soul teleportation array was? a cheap cabbage?

Seeing that Tang Zhen was ignoring him, Yu Heng was stunned for a moment before he understood the reason.

Although he did not have the chance to observe the Holy Dragon city's interplanar soul teleportation portal, he knew that it was definitely more complicated than the one here. It involved more knowledge and secret Arts. In addition to its functions, it would not be an exaggeration to say that it was a priceless treasure.

For such a heaven-defying item, it was really shameless for him to want to obtain it by paying double the materials.

In the end, he was too excited and did not realize these problems. He even thought that the price he gave was very fair!

With a self-deprecating smile, Yu Heng knew that this matter was not as simple as he had thought. If he did not pay a satisfactory price to Tang Zhen, he would definitely not pay any attention to him.

Yu and kun did not know what had happened. Seeing Yu Heng's depressed expression, they did not ask much, but they guessed that their boss must have taken a fancy to the runic magic circle.

Could it be that there's something incredible hidden in this soul teleportation array that caused boss to lose his composure?

Ignoring Yu Heng and the other two, Tang Zhen slowly walked out of the underground space. He wanted to see if the natives were already near the core area.

The Two Towers opening the plane channel at the same time would definitely cause a great commotion. Fortunately, the coordinates of the channel were located inside the colorful bubble, so the outside world could not see it at all. Otherwise, it would definitely cause greater panic.

At this moment, the valley was already covered with all kinds of mutated plants. Fierce monsters could be seen in the trees and the sky from time to time. However, after seeing Tang Zhen, these monsters were all like tamed kittens, lying on the ground obediently.

This was the effect of the magic pill. Monsters would obey their creator unconditionally.

Tang Zhen casually threw out some witchcraft pills, causing these monsters to become even more ferocious. He stood at the highest point of the valley and stared intently at the exploration team's campsite in the distance.

After paying a heavy price, the exploration team had almost broken through the central region and reached the core area near the valley.

However, the sudden appearance of the plane's channel disrupted their plan. Faced with the huge whirlpools that were constantly circling in the air on both sides of the valley, the exploration team was at a loss for what to do.

Therefore, they chose to stop moving forward for the time being. They decided to figure out what the two vortexes were first.

After careful analysis, experts came to a shocking conclusion. The two disturbing clouds were likely to be wormholes that had existed for a long time, or the legendary space-time Tunnel!

The prophecy of a demonic invasion seemed to have been officially confirmed at this moment!

This was obviously not good news. When an illusion was reflected in reality, people's fear often outweighed their surprise.

It didn't take long for the video of the core area to be sent back to the command center outside. A problem was placed in front of the commander. How should he deal with this emergency?

This was a matter of great importance. Without any suggestions, the representatives of these countries immediately gathered together to discuss an appropriate solution.

After seeing the video data and expert analysis inside the bubble, no one could remain calm. In the face of such a change that could threaten the entire world, more than half of the representatives believed that nuclear bombs should be used!

He believed that under such a terrifying attack, both the rainbow bubble and the plane channel would definitely vanish!

After the final decision was made, the natives immediately began to move. The Army around the rainbow bubble quickly left the no man's land, and the exploration team also received the order to evacuate.

Some people strongly opposed this approach, thinking that the commanders in the rear were too cautious. They should not have destroyed the rainbow bubble so easily and should have observed it carefully for a while.

To the Aboriginals, every blade of grass and tree here had great value, and it would be a pity to destroy them.

Unfortunately, their words carried little weight, and no one cared about these objections at all. The command center repeated again and again that if they did not set a time to evacuate, they would be destroyed together with the rainbow bubble!

With endless regret, the exploration team finally chose to retreat.

Tang Zhen, who was in the distance, shook his head. This was not the result he wanted. Moreover, he could not let these natives off.

“Go, bring them back!”

Tang Zhen’s voice had just faded when those monsters that were crawling on the ground suddenly stood up. They rushed towards the area where the exploration team was located like arrows. The ground also kept on shaking because of the running of these monsters.

The retreating exploration team members were shocked. Looking at the monsters that covered the mountains and fields, everyone felt like they had fallen into an ice cave.

“Damn it, what’s going on?”

run! These monsters are obviously being controlled. We’re their targets!

are you kidding me? can we still run now? we can only fight to the death!

The exploration team was in a mess. Many people opened fire in a panic, trying to stop the monster from approaching, but to little effect.

“Bang!”

A group of flying monsters rushed down, constantly throwing out horse dung bags of fungus. When they fell to the ground, large puffs of green liquid splashed everywhere.

The fungi were thrown down one after another, and the ground was covered in green slime under the feet of the exploration team.

This liquid was surprisingly highly corrosive. Upon coming into contact with the protective suits of the exploration team members, the suits immediately turned brittle, gradually cracking as they moved.

The exploration team was shocked. Once the protective suit was torn, their safety would be guaranteed. This was something they could not ignore.

However, under the siege of the monsters, they had no time to deal with these things. So, after only a minute or so, the protective suits and shoes of the exploration team members were burned through.

After only one or two screams, the exploration team members who were touched by the mucus fell to the ground and quickly fell into a coma.

Five minutes later, as the last member of the exploration team fell, the second batch of members was completely annihilated!

The monsters walked to the unconscious members of the exploration team and picked them up with their mouths. They then turned around and quickly ran toward the valley.

Under Tang Zhen's orders, these exploration team members were all sent into the underground space and placed in rows on the ground.

Chapter 1464 The invasion method of the Super Battle zone

Tang Zhen's goal in capturing these natives was to obtain information from their mouths.

In an invasion war, the importance of intelligence could not be ignored. It could help the cultivators in Lou Cheng to attack the enemy more efficiently or destroy a plane in other ways.

For example, they could destroy the communication and transportation systems of this world, making it impossible for the natives to communicate with each other, and gradually separate them into isolated islands.

Without a unified leader, the natives would become a pile of loose sand. At that time, they would be unable to protect themselves, so how would they dare to take the initiative to attack the cultivators in the city?

Without the interference of the Aborigines, the cultivators of Lou city could plunder the world's origin without restraint. They would retreat after achieving their goal, and if there were any ignorant guys who dared to provoke them during this period, they would kill them at will!

After handing over a translator to Yukun and asking him to interrogate the exploration team, Tang Zhen sat down on a chair and took out an ancient-looking book. On the surface of the book, there was a huge tree with lush branches and leaves. It was the totem of the elf race.

Tang Zhen's eyes revealed a trace of solemnity as he looked at the book in his hand.

During the few days when the teleportation formation was being built, perhaps it was due to Tang Zhen's patient guidance, Yu Heng had once taken out a set of notes left behind by his ancestor. It was precisely the book in Tang Zhen's hand.

Through the notes left behind by the sector Lord, Tang Zhen knew how the Super battlefields invaded and couldn't help but sigh that there was always someone better.

It turned out that the Holy Dragon city's invasion method was one of the most inefficient methods for those Super Battle zones. Not only was it time-consuming and laborious, but the harvest was far less than that of those high-energy worlds.

In this abridged version of the notebook, Tang Zhen saw three types of invasion methods used by cultivators in super battlefields.

The 1st was for a sector Lord to invade through the pathways, as a single person's pathway opened quickly and took a short time, it was hard to attract the attention of the Aborigines.

After reaching the invading plane, the sector Lord would release the city and directly attack, catching the enemy off guard!

This kind of invasion method was well-hidden, and the attack was unexpected. It belonged to the type that ran after snatching.

By the time the natives reacted and attacked, the sector Lord might have already taken Lou Cheng and escaped from this world, or they might have hidden completely and wait for the next ambush.

Because this method was impossible to defend against, it was hated by the natives. They called the sector Lord cultivators "plane bandits," and once they were discovered, they would definitely gang up and attack.

The moment they successfully killed a sector Lord, the rewards would be shocking. Hence, in the eyes of these natives, a sector Lord was definitely a moving treasure!

The ancestors of Morning Star City might have been hunted down by the natives and accidentally entered this ownerless land when they were fleeing. They were all world overlords, yet they ended up in such a miserable state.

As for the second method of invasion, it appeared to be very interesting. It even caused Tang Zhen to ponder deeply.

In some special high-energy, there was an extremely powerful law suppression. Once an external intruder entered, they would be strongly rejected.

However, such a world had far more resources than ordinary planes. Once discovered, there was no reason to give up.

In order to invade such a world, the cultivators of Lou city would seal their own strength and use a method of reincarnation to occupy the bodies of the natives and disguise themselves as them.

As he was afraid that his soul fluctuations would be detected by the original mind, cultivator Lou Cheng had sealed his own memories. Before he reached a certain level of cultivation or was in a life-and-death situation, he would never remember his true origin.

However, as intruders, how could they waste their time like this? therefore, in order to ensure that their strength would be recognized by the original will, these cultivators would prepare a 'cheat' for themselves!

The function of each Goldfinger was different, but the purpose of each Goldfinger was to help the cultivators in the city to grow quickly. In a short time, they would need ten times or even a hundred times more time to achieve the achievements of the natives.

Some powerful cultivators in Loucheng could even merge into the river of time and analyze the future. They could provide cultivators with sealed memories with timed missions and help them seize various treasures to make themselves stronger.

Unknowingly, the cultivators of Loucheng who had been recognized by the original mind would become stronger. When the time was right, the memory seal of the cultivators of Loucheng would be removed and they would stir up a storm.

They would either leave with the treasures condensed from the world's origin or bring their companions in and stir up a storm of blood!

It had to be said that any world that required Lou Cheng's cultivators to seal their memories would definitely have extremely powerful native gods. They controlled a part of the world's origin source and even a sector Lord cultivator would not be their match.

Therefore, even though this world was often invaded by hundreds or thousands of cultivators, it was rarely destroyed.

Just listen to how similar this method was to Tang Zhen's experience. If it wasn't for the fact that he was certain that his memories weren't sealed, he would have doubted his own origins.

As for the third method, it was much more direct and only sector Lord level and above cultivators would use it.

A cultivator of this level could set up a super runic magic circle outside the dimension and refine the entire dimension without coming into contact with the natives. Then, they would split the profits with the cornerstone platform!

This kind of refining was like mining for gold. Useless impurities would be sifted out, and only the useful things would be kept. The gains were far more than destroying a plane!

However, this method was only used by a very small number of cultivators in Loucheng, and Yu Heng's ancestor had only heard of it.

After reading the contents of the notebook, Tang Zhen couldn't help but sigh repeatedly. Compared to these super towers, the current Holy Dragon City was just a baby who was learning how to walk.

In particular, it was important to note that the way these super towers invaded paid more attention to the individual strength of the cultivators, and the role of ordinary residents had been greatly reduced.

It wasn't that there weren't wars where tens of millions of cultivators were mobilized to invade, but most of the time, multiple towers would cooperate with each other, and the target was also a more powerful plane world!

Although Tang Zhen was amazed and envious of the invasion method of these Super Battle zones, he also knew that the road had to be taken step by step. If he was too overambitious, it would only affect the plan that he had already made.

After reading the notes once more, Tang Zhen got up and walked to the ground, preparing to welcome the attack of the natives.

It was time for the natives to realize how laughable and powerless their attacks were to the cultivators in the city!

There was no one outside the colorful bubble, only a row of military vehicles and armed helicopters.

After the order to retreat was given, the guards had all retreated, but they had lost contact with the exploration team. They waited for several hours, but there was still no news.

The command center judged that the exploration team had most likely met with a mishap, or perhaps they had already been completely annihilated!

Everyone was well aware of how powerful the monster inside the rainbow bubble was, which was why they made such a guess.

Someone proposed to send a search team to rescue them, but they were strongly opposed. They felt that they should not pay any more unnecessary casualties, but destroy the colorful bubble as soon as possible to avoid any unforeseen circumstances.

After some discussion, they finally decided to send a search team to rescue them, but they had only 12 hours.

After the order was given, the rescue team entered the rainbow bubble in an attempt to find the exploration team members who might have met with mishaps.

While everyone was anxiously waiting, there was finally some movement from the rainbow bubble. A rescue team member rushed out in a sorry state. It was obvious that he had experienced an intense battle.

a suspicious aircraft appeared inside the bubble. All the exploration team members are missing. The rescue team is attacked by monsters. I'm the only one alive.

After saying this, the member of the exploration team fainted, and his breathing became almost non-existent.

The soldiers in charge of receiving them didn't dare to hesitate. They quickly carried the unconscious soldiers onto the plane and quickly evacuated to the safe area.

The command center at the rear also received the report. Although they were curious about the sudden appearance of the aircraft, they had no time to discuss it.

Ten minutes later, a missile shot up into the sky. Under the gaze of the entire world, it rapidly flew toward the rainbow bubble!

Chapter 1465 helpless?

The rocket that was flying toward the rainbow bubble was equipped with a nuclear warhead that could cover the entire rainbow bubble. Once it was successfully detonated, it could completely raze the nearby no man's land to the ground!

Although the power of the warhead was beyond doubt, it was attacking a supernatural target. No one could guarantee the expected effect.

No matter what the result was, they had to wait until it exploded!

Under everyone's watchful eyes, the missile was about to reach the sky above the rainbow bubble. However, at this critical moment, a beam of light suddenly shot out and directly hit the high-speed missile.

"BOOM!"

The attack missile turned into a ball of fire and rapidly fell to the ground, eventually turning into a pile of wreckage.

The nuclear bomb did not explode, but it leaked after it was shot down. However, no one cared about this at the moment.

No one had expected the rainbow bubble to have the ability to intercept a missile attack. After analyzing the beam, the experts confirmed that it was an energy weapon!

Such a situation was obviously not something that could be explained by supernatural phenomena. It was very likely that there were intelligent creatures hidden inside the colorful bubbles, and at the same time, they had mastered some high-tech weapons.

Thinking back to the suspicious aircraft mentioned by the rescue team and the deduction that the four "demons" were hiding in the bubble, the command center determined that they were the ones who intercepted the missile!

The situation suddenly became serious. Using a nuclear bomb was the last resort of the natives. If it didn't work, then the natives wouldn't be able to find a way to destroy the rainbow bubble in a short time.

A tense atmosphere rose in the command post. The failure of the first attack gave everyone a bad feeling.

An emergency meeting was held, and the participants all expressed their opinions.

I suggest we launch another attack, and multiple missiles at the same time. As long as one hits the target, it can be destroyed!

this kind of attack shouldn't have much of an effect. If the other party can intercept one, he can also intercept ten. Don't think that I'm exaggerating, because the possibility of that is very high!

"If we can't attack from the air, how about attacking from the ground?" he asked.

that's right. We can use nuclear bombs or cannons, or send nuclear bombs into the colorful bubbles and set a timer for them to explode. These are all good methods!

the problem is that they obviously know our intentions. It's very likely that they're defending on the ground. Maybe our people can't even get close to the rainbow bubble!

After a discussion, the command center formulated a new attack plan. First, the fighter planes would carry nuclear bombs to attack. If they were intercepted again, they would attack from the ground.

In short, he had to destroy the rainbow bubble at all costs!

After the order was given, three fighter jets took off from the military base hundreds of kilometers away and headed straight for the no-man's land.

However, just as the fighter planes were about to enter the attack Position, three beams of light suddenly shot out from the colorful bubble and instantly tore through the sky.

The fighter jet's pilot didn't even have time to react before he was hit by the beam of light, turning into a ball of fire in the air!

After receiving the report, the command center was silent. This situation had already confirmed their previous speculation. The "devil" in the colorful bubble had already noticed their intentions and was intercepting the attack of the natives!

The situation was getting more and more serious. The natives didn't know what the weapon of this "demon" was, but it definitely had long-range attack abilities. If the other party's weapon was really like those in science fiction movies, it meant that they were in a very dangerous situation.

Once the demons discovered the location of the command center, would they also launch a counterattack?

After realizing this loophole, the command center issued the order to attack on the ground while quickly moving away, trying to find a safer and more hidden location.

In the end, just as the order to relocate was given, another beam of light shot out from the rainbow bubble. Its target was where the command post was.

With a loud "boom", the command center was reduced to ruins. All objects were turned into dust in an instant. There were no survivors within a radius of 50 meters!

The Aborigines who witnessed this scene were terrified. They had never seen such a precise and terrifying weapon. There was no shock wave and it was simply destroying the target it wanted to destroy!

The command center was attacked, and all the high-level commanders were killed. The "Devil's" beheading operation was obviously very successful.

Although there was a reasonable wartime command procedure, and someone quickly took over the command of the troops, it still caused a lot of chaos.

Who knew if the "devil" would launch another attack on the base after destroying the headquarters? in the face of such a terrifying energy weapon, they had no ability to intercept it at all.

However, if they retreated again, it would be equivalent to completely losing control of this area. It would be impossible to effectively set up defenses in an area of over a thousand square kilometers in a short time.

The officer who accepted the command was also in a difficult position. However, he still followed the previous plan and sent armored vehicles and heavy artillery troops to launch a new round of attacks on the rainbow bubble.

He was waiting for the result of this round of attacks. If this still didn't work, then he would really be at his wit's end!

In fact, he wasn't the only one waiting. The countries that the dozens of spy satellites in the sky belonged to were also paying close attention to this scene. Everyone knew that the original prediction had become a reality. Just this kind of energy weapon that could attack from a long distance could pose a huge threat to the entire world.

If the last probing attack failed, the next thing they had to consider was how to deal with the invasion of the demons and protect themselves as much as possible in the disaster.

In the wilderness of the no man's land, 20 tanks were moving at high speed. One of the tanks was equipped with a nuclear warhead and was equipped with a timed detonation system.

As long as the time was up, the bullet would explode. Even if the rainbow bubble was more than ten kilometers away, the violent explosion would be enough to cover it.

What they had to do now was to keep getting closer and closer in order to obtain the best attack effect!

Everyone's hearts were in their throats as they prayed that this attack would succeed.

In the end, the most worrying thing happened. When the tank was less than five kilometers away from the colorful bubble, two silver-white aircraft suddenly rushed out of the bubble and went straight for the tank.

The two aircraft had a strange shape and obviously did not belong to any country built by the natives. After they rushed out of the colorful bubble, they immediately flew over the tank at a terrible speed and launched a series of attacks.

With a series of loud explosions, the tanks were destroyed one after another, but the aircraft easily dodged the attacks of the tanks and remained unscathed.

The aircraft seemed to have guessed the purpose of the tanks, so after destroying the tanks, it launched another wave of "corpse whip" attacks, turning the wreckage of the tanks into a pile of scrap metal!

Seeing this tragic scene, everyone's hearts sank. Things had finally developed to the stage they least wanted to see.

"Damn it, this is war, this is provocation! We have to meet the enemy head-on, we have to completely destroy these evil demons!"

More than one country let out such a roar. After the continuous failure of their attacks, they were obviously flustered and exasperated. Even if they could not see the hope of success, they would not give up.

Just like their roars, this was a war, and it was either you die or I die!

Chapter 1466 helpless

Because of an order, the no man's land directly became a battlefield.

In the name of the joint military exercise, the elite soldiers of various countries were gathered here. When all the participants of the war arrived, the natives couldn't wait to start the operation.

This was a rare battle. Hundreds of fighter planes attacked at the same time, and the cannonballs smashed into the rainbow bubble as if they were free.

A thunderous sound came from the end of the earth, and the ground troops also launched their attack at the same time.

Although the last ground attack was intercepted and they suffered heavy losses, there were still more than 20000 ground troops surrounding the rainbow bubble this time, and they advanced rapidly under the cover of heavy tanks.

The steel Beasts advanced side by side on the wasteland, approaching the rainbow bubble step by step.

The soldiers who participated in the battle were all wearing protective suits. If possible, they would push all the way to the core area of the rainbow bubble and launch close-range attacks on the enemy.

With the sky and the ground working together, such a huge offensive formation was enough to destroy an ordinary country in a short time.

According to the commander's deduction, although the last probing attack had been intercepted, it could only mean that the demons had high-tech weapons, but they might not be able to deal with a high-intensity war.

The advantage of the natives was that they had more people. If they used the human wave tactic, how would they stop them?

Many people were optimistic about this operation and believed that the possibility of success was high!

However, reality quickly slapped the natives in the face. Just as they launched the attack, the colorful bubble quickly responded. A small warship full of sci-fi colors slowly rose and appeared in front of the world for the first time.

Under the gazes of the natives, the small warships shot out beams of light, suppressing the fighter planes that participated in the attack. From time to time, there were glaring fireballs in the air.

While blocking the fighter planes, the small warships would also counterattack in the direction of the shells, easily destroying the artillery positions!

Upon seeing this, the natives were speechless. It was just a small warship, but it was like a war fortress, blocking the air troops of the natives.

However, it was not that the natives had no chance of winning, because they still had a large number of ground troops. It was impossible for the small warships to take care of the sky and the ground.

They had just seen a glimmer of hope for victory when something happened on the battlefield.

Dozens of drones rushed out of the colorful bubble as if they had entered an uninhabited place. Every time they flew over the battlefield, a moving tank would be destroyed!

No weapon could lock onto these drones, and even if they were hit occasionally, they couldn't penetrate their smooth shells.

In addition to these drones, there were also armed robots joining the battlefield.

They charged out of the colorful bubbles like metal balls, approaching the ground forces at a speed of more than 300 kilometers per hour. Ordinary bullets and shells could not hurt them at all.

With a series of panicked screams, the armed robots rushed into the camp of the natives. When they got up again, they had already retracted their metal shells and turned into ferocious six-clawed robots. Their fierce firepower instantly swept in all directions.

A mist of Blood Rose, and countless corpses lay on the ground!

This was a true killing field, cruel and bloody.

With the cooperation of the drones and armed robots, the ground forces were like sewage that spread over, being cleaned up piece by piece, leaving only wreckage!

The natives who participated in the attack were in despair. Even though the colorful bubble was right in front of them, no one could cross the natural chasm.

“BOOM!”

The last tank on the ground was destroyed. After the drone circled twice at a low altitude, it suddenly turned into the air and flew toward the colorful bubble.

The armed robot also scanned the battlefield once. After confirming that all the dangerous targets had been eliminated, it turned back into a metal ball and slowly rolled toward the colorful bubble.

Only the small battleship floating above the colorful bubble was left. After a moment of silence, it directly launched an attack at the sky.

Beams of light shot up into the sky. In the space invisible to the naked eye, the reconnaissance satellites exploded one after another, turning into high-speed space trash!

The natives who were observing the rainbow bubble from above immediately became blind. They were all furious, but they could do nothing.

With the failure of this joint attack, the natives had completely realized that they had no way to deal with the rainbow bubble. In other words, it was impossible to solve the problem by force.

They had even used a nuclear bomb, but they didn't even hear a sound. What could be more depressing than this?

From this, it could be seen that the so-called nuclear deterrence was actually just a lack of effective counter-weapons. In front of the Holy Dragon city's high-tech weapons, this kind of deterrence could only be regarded as a joke.

With deep resentment and worry, the natives began to look for other ways to solve this terrible crisis.

After blocking the wave of attacks from the natives, Tang Zhen left the small battleship behind and returned to the underground space.

The battle this time around should be able to intimidate the natives. At the very least, they would not dare to use force to attack for a short period of time. This would also give Tang Zhen sufficient buffer time.

The energy storage of the small battleship was limited. The previous attacks had already consumed nearly 60% of its energy. If the natives launched another wave of attacks of the same scale, Tang Zhen would not be able to withstand it at all.

Until now, Holy Dragon City had been unable to produce such high-density energy blocks. It was not that the technology was not good, but that they did not have the special materials needed to produce them.

Even if this was the case, it did not mean that Tang Zhen was helpless. If the natives did not give up, Tang Zhen would still have the means to counter them. However, the gains would not make up for the losses.

At this time, the plane channel had been expanded to a certain scale. In another day, the cultivators in the towers would be able to cross over in advance. In another week or so, The Two Towers would also be able to complete the teleportation.

Fortunately, this plane was very close to the tower world. Otherwise, the several months of teleportation time would be enough to give Tang Zhen a headache.

This was also one of the drawbacks of a plane channel. Even with the plane coordinates, it would require a powerful force to break the spatial barrier, and the further the distance, the longer the time it would take.

When he was in the wilderness Warzone, Tang Zhen had heard that there was a rumor that a Tower City had opened a plane channel and it took a few decades to successfully build it. It really made people speechless.

After returning to the underground space, Tang Zhen saw the natives who were imprisoned in the cave. They were looking at him with complicated gazes that were mixed with confusion and anger.

Tang Zhen had seen such a gaze more than once and knew that he would see it more in the future.

He had long been accustomed to this, and his state of mind would not be affected in any way.

Compared to other worlds that had been invaded, the natives of this world were undoubtedly much luckier. As a new war zone was about to be established, while plundering the natural source of the world, plundering the population was also a rather important part.

Although the current population on the continent was quite large, it was simply unable to meet the needs of the many towers, and the cornerstone platform could not help in this aspect at all.

Therefore, when each battle zone was first established, they would try their best to plunder as many Aboriginals as possible, and they would even be rewarded with rich Battle Points for this.

After the foreign world's indigenous people were brought to the world of towers, they would live and multiply in this strange land, and eventually become the vanguards of the various towers and cities that fought in the foreign world.

This was also one of the reasons why there were so many races in the world of loucheng. For the past dozens of generations, they were basically the targets of the invasion of the world of loucheng!

Chapter 1467 Two choices

"Sir, I, I think we should get to know each other better!"

"We don't have any ill intentions. We're only here to get in touch with you. Anything can be discussed!" that's right. There must be some misunderstanding between us!

Just as Tang Zhen was thinking about the problem, the imprisoned native suddenly opened his mouth and shouted that he wanted to negotiate with him.

!!

"Negotiate? That's good!"

Since he had nothing to do, Tang Zhen did not mind chatting with these natives. If they were willing to cooperate, it would allow Tang Zhen to save a lot of time.

The purpose of capturing these exploration team members, other than to interrogate them for information, was to use them to pass on messages to him.

Whether it was their original identity or their experience of being captured by him, he would pay attention to letting them come into contact with higher-ranked indigenous people.

Tang Zhen slowly walked to the entrance of the prison cell and said indifferently, you can send a representative. If he can convince me, he might be able to save many lives!

After saying this, Tang Zhen quietly stood on the spot with an indifferent expression.

The natives looked at each other, turned around, and muttered a few words. Soon, a middle-aged man was elected as the representative.

After removing the energy protective net that was blocking the natives, the middle-aged man walked out and bowed to Tang Zhen.

thank you for giving me this opportunity. I believe this will be a happy start.

Tang Zhen also returned the greeting and invited the middle-aged man to sit.

The middle-aged man's expression was firm and his tone was steady and decisive. He said to Tang Zhen, please allow me to introduce myself. I'm a staff member of the intelligence Center in V nation. I've been involved in the operation to track you down. You can call me James.

Tang Zhen smiled when he heard this. He did not expect that he would actually meet the opponent he met some time ago. This was an unexpected joy.

He had to admit that these natives had caused him quite a bit of trouble. If he didn't have so many trump cards, he might have fallen into their hands.

"My name is Tang Zhen. Since you all want to negotiate with me, I will give you a chance. Please speak now."

James nodded his head and said to Tang Zhen, first of all, I want to know, your purpose in coming here, is it to seek peace or to start a war? "

This question was also something that the Aboriginals had always wanted to figure out. This was because Tang Zhen had yet to express his position up until now.

that's not important. You just need to understand that this world will soon cease to exist!

James's heart skipped a beat, but he suppressed the shock in his heart."Sir Tang Zhen, I don't understand what you mean. Don't tell me you want to destroy this world? What do you gain from this?"

Tang Zhen shook his head, " I do want to destroy this world. However, it's not the kind of destruction you think it is. I will also do my best not to bring disaster to the living beings here. If you cooperate, you can head to a new world to live.

James laughed coldly and said in a disdainful tone, " to live in a new world. I hope your Excellency doesn't want us to be slaves!

If the natives accidentally discovered the world of loucheng, they would probably try to understand and colonize it at all costs. However, if he took the initiative to help them, it would instead be mistaken as having ulterior motives.

There was no such thing as a free lunch in the world. It was reasonable for the natives to doubt Tang Zhen's motives.

Tang Zhen gently shook his head. He was unconcerned and only used an indifferent tone to say,"The plane you're in has limited your horizons, so you don't know how wonderful the outside world is. Only by breaking free from the shackles can you have higher development.

I'm willing to give you a chance to reach a higher level of life. Perhaps you'll feel resentment now, but when you understand all of this, you'll only be grateful to me!"

Looking at James 'suspicious expression, Tang Zhen gently smiled and said,"I know what you want to talk to me about, but I can tell you that it's just a waste of time.

This world is destined to disappear, but you have a choice. You can either follow me to the New World, or you can be destroyed with this world!"

Ignoring the shocked James, Tang Zhen waved his hand and released the imprisoned exploration team members. He coldly said, "You can leave now and pass on my words to the forces you belong to. I'll only give you seven days to consider.

If you don't give me a clear answer by then, then the only outcome that awaits you will be destruction and slavery!"

Chao Yutao gave a look, and the other party immediately understood and nodded, urging the exploration team to head to the surface.

During this period, some people had tried to remember the path here, but after a period of time, their brains would inexplicably go into a trance and forget all the memories just now.

This was obviously Yu Tao's doing. He didn't want the natives to remember the correct way to the underground space, even if the exploration team didn't cause him any trouble.

After passing through the monster-infested core area, Yu Tao left the exploration team behind and returned to the valley.

Tang Zhen had already shown mercy by leaving them alive. If it was according to Yu Tao's style, these exploration team members would have no chance of leaving alive.

once Yu Tao left, the exploration team immediately followed the route they had opened up and rushed toward the outer area.

After leaving the rainbow bubble safely, the communication system on the exploration team members returned to normal. They immediately sent out a distress signal to inform their companions that they were still alive.

Although they had already left the rainbow bubble, the exploration team did not dare to stay for even a moment. They continued to push forward, trying to get as far away from this place as possible.

Looking at the wreckage of the destroyed tanks and aircraft along the way, the hearts of the exploration team members were filled with shock. Initially, they were still wondering where Tang Zhen's confidence came from. However, after seeing this disastrous and tragic scene, they finally had a trace of understanding in their hearts.

It turned out that during the period of their imprisonment, the two sides had already engaged in a contest. The result was obvious. It was obvious that the indigenous side had lost.

When they saw a destroyed nuclear bomb, their shock reached its peak.

The exploration team members felt their hearts become heavy. The words that Tang Zhen had said earlier had been lingering in their hearts, like a soul-chasing curse.

He wondered if their home would be in ruins like this no man's land when the deadline arrived.

In the face of this inevitable disaster, how should he deal with it? should he comply with the request to head to the other world and start an unknown life, or should he protect his home with his life and do everything he could to repel the invaders?

After walking for more than ten kilometers, the roar of a car came from the distance. After detecting the distress signal sent by the exploration team, the rescue team had quickly arrived.

As the car came to a stop, an officer with an ice-cold expression got out of the car. After sizing up the exploration team, he waved his hand gently.

Soldiers in protective clothing surrounded the exploration team. They first went through a simple disinfection process, then took them to the protective car and went straight to the base 100 kilometers away.

In the following days, the exploration team members would have to undergo a physical examination, psychological test, and a series of interrogations before they could be granted temporary freedom.

All of this was nothing. The exploration team members were already mentally prepared. However, what they wanted to do most right now was to spread Tang Zhen's warning so that those who were still unaware of it could make early preparations.

This was a matter that concerned the fate of all the natives. They had the right to make their own choices. If those damn politicians tried to cover up this matter for their own selfish interests, the consequences would be unimaginable.

Chapter 1468 success

There was no such thing as an impervious wall in this world. Tang Zhen's words were quickly revealed after the members of the exploration team returned. Someone in the exploration team had leaked the information. Although they were investigated afterward, it was already useless.

There would always be people who would do something for their own beliefs. Even if they were under the knife and axe, they would still press forward!

After the news was leaked, this matter was still known by many people, and then it spread quickly through the internet.

The news spread very quickly on the internet, but unfortunately, many people held a skeptical attitude, and even more people thought it was nonsense.

Ever since the appearance of the metal giant, similar news had emerged one after another, and the natives had gradually become numb to it.

Therefore, even if this news was a real ultimatum that concerned their life and death, no one took it seriously.

Ignorance is bliss, and the more one knows, the greater the pressure one has to bear. In ancient times, there were always Masters living in seclusion in the mountains so that they would not be disturbed by all sorts of things. Out of sight, out of mind.

In fact, it was good that they did not know. Otherwise, the Holy Dragon City would not even need to launch an attack. The natives would be in a mess and the entire world would go out of control!

As for the forces that knew the true source of the news, they all felt as if they were sitting on pins and needles. Many people were in a constant state of anxiety.

Unlike the ordinary people, they had more information. They knew very well that in the last battle with the "evil demons," the natives had suffered a crushing defeat!

Since the other party had issued an ultimatum, it was obvious that they were ready to start a war. Moreover, this war was different from the war that ordinary people understood. The price of failure was the extinction of the entire race!

The more special the situation was, the less people were in a hurry to jump out and declare their position, because the slightest carelessness would cause them to fall into a place of eternal damnation, and perhaps never have the possibility of ever turning over.

If they accepted Tang Zhen's conditions, they might be seen as traitors by the natives. If they did not accept, they would be the enemy of the Holy Dragon City.

If the Holy Dragon City lost, their followers would inevitably be dealt with in the future. If the Holy Dragon City won, they would definitely receive extra care.

There was no such thing as having the best of both worlds in this world. If one wanted to protect their own interests from losses, they had to pay a certain price.

The whole world was in turmoil, but the no man's land, the source of the chaos, seemed to have been forgotten.

This strange situation was actually the calm before the storm. Once this silence was broken, the entire world would welcome a drastic change!

Ordinary people had no idea that not long ago, a battle that determined the fate of the world had taken place in this barren land.

However, there were many eyes watching this place in the dark. They wanted to see what the others' attitudes were before making a final decision.

Tang Zhen didn't have the mood to care about the complicated thoughts of these natives. What he needed to do was to clearly state his conditions. After which, he would carry out the next step of the plan when the stipulated date arrived.

Invading and plundering a world was an extremely overbearing act. Tang Zhen didn't expect those natives to understand him and raise flowers to welcome the arrival of the cultivators in Lou Cheng.

Since war was inevitable, there was no need for him to do anything useless. When the Army arrived, he would just crush them all the way!

The world of Lou Cheng's path to power had relied on invading countless planes and stepping on mountains of corpses to reach its current state.

After sending off the exploration team, Tang Zhen and the others waited quietly for a day. The plane channel was finally built successfully, and a gap that allowed Lou Cheng's cultivators to pass through appeared.

It was like an ant's nest running through a dam. As long as there was a trace of water, the hole would expand at a terrifying speed and eventually destroy the entire dam!

It was the same for the construction of a plane channel. As long as this loophole appeared, the next thing would naturally be done.

Yu Heng would never miss such a critical moment. He was standing in front of the plane's channel, and his lips were trembling slightly, perhaps due to his excitement.

After waiting for a thousand years, the Morning Star tribe had finally fulfilled their ancestor's wish. How could Yu Heng be at peace?

With a flash of light, two rows of cultivators from the Morning Star Empire in golden armor walked out. They stepped on the land of the other world, making muffled sounds.

In addition to their Spears and bows, they were also equipped with weapons purchased from Holy Dragon City. With the strength of a Lord and above, they would not be at a disadvantage even if they fought against a hundred natives.

After the sound of armor clashing, the cultivators stood still in the open space and looked at Yu Heng and the other two at the same time.

The hundred cultivators used their fists to tap on their chest armors, their movements in unison. This was clearly the etiquette of the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

"Good, good, hahaha!"

Looking at the similarly excited Morning Star cultivators, Yu Heng was so happy that he repeatedly cheered, and his eyes even flickered.

"You're all good men of our Morning Star clan. Although this is only our first battle, I believe that it won't be long before the name of the Morning Star clan spreads throughout the world.

Our ancestors were proud of you, and the entire Empire will be proud of you. May our Morning Star Race advance courageously and win every battle!"

"Advance courageously, and win a hundred battles!"

The Morning Star cultivators were also enticed by Yu Heng to the point where their blood was boiling. They shouted at the top of their lungs, wanting nothing more than to go into battle and kill the enemy.

Tang Zhen quietly watched from the side. However, his eyes were a little disapproving.

Compared to a normal city, Morning Star City lacked a Foundation. Even with the inheritance of a sector Lord, it still couldn't change the fact that they were rookies.

Compared to these hot-blooded Morning Star cultivators, the Holy Dragon City cultivators were much more silent. They had experienced too much, and the hot blood in their hearts had long turned into conviction that seeped into their bones.

He never needed to say it, but he never doubted it!

Just as the Morning Star city's plane channel was completed, there was movement in the plane channel of the fifth building. It was as if a silk curtain had been ruthlessly torn apart, and Holy Dragon City cultivators with astonishing auras walked out one after another.

In order to ensure this victory, Tai Seng had used all his strength. Not only did he spend a lot of money to recruit mercenaries, but he also invited 50 King level cultivators.

These King level cultivators were all residents of the Holy Dragon City. Since they were not on a mission, they naturally would not refuse to help Tai Seng.

Seeing Tang Zhen standing in front of the passage, these King level cultivators saluted at the same time. Although they weren't as orderly as the Morning Star cultivators, their aura was enough to suppress the other party several times!

Yu Heng and the others could not help but sigh inwardly. This Holy Dragon City was indeed powerful, to actually send a group of King level cultivators as vanguards!

Although the Morning Star Empire did not lack powerhouses of the same level, each of them held important positions and could not be deployed like the Holy Dragon City.

In the end, it was still a difference in strength. The top experts on his side were in groups on the other side, which was nothing at all.

Chapter 1469 The true origin of the treasure!

The cultivators from The Two Towers arrived at the same time. Tang Zhen could finally temporarily unload the heavy burden on his body.

He had always been cautious and conscientious, just to establish his own war zone as soon as possible. He had even experienced more than one life-and-death crisis.

In the beginning, perhaps it was because of the benefits or the sense of danger in his heart that he did not dare to relax. However, as time passed, his mentality gradually changed.

Unknowingly, he had already invested too much into Holy Dragon City, becoming inseparable from this world.

As the original world and the world of loucheng were officially connected, more and more people from the original world migrated to the world of loucheng, making it their second home.

Tang Zhen felt that the burden on his shoulders had become heavier. He didn't want to disappoint anyone. After all, he was the one who facilitated the communication between his hometown and the loucheng world.

In order to make his battle zone stronger, Tang Zhen didn't dare to relax at all. Even if many people in the original world called him a butcher and didn't understand his actions, Tang Zhen didn't care.

His level of existence had already far surpassed that of ordinary people, so how could he pay attention to those shallow remarks?

Ordinary people didn't need to worry about what would happen a hundred years later, but for a city, a hundred years would pass in the blink of an eye. How could the two look at the problem with the same perspective?

In the end, Tang Zhen could not help himself. He was placed in such a special environment. If he did not become strong and independent, his destruction would only happen sooner or later!

The lives of ordinary people were filled with schemes and intrigues, and there were conflicts of interest between countries. However, in a plane, the weak were destined to be enslaved and conquered by the strong!

If one hadn't come into contact with this level, one might think that this was a fantasy. However, after coming into contact with it, one would know that this kind of thing was simply too common.

Fortunately, his hard work finally bore fruit. The Holy Dragon City had truly grown up and had truly become a legend in the eyes of others!

After the start of this dimensional war, Tang Zhen would gradually let go of the matters of Holy Dragon City and let his subordinates fight. He only needed to work hard to improve his strength and act as a strong backing for Holy Dragon City.

There was another reason that prompted Tang Zhen to make this decision. He had indirectly come into contact with higher level cultivators in Loucheng and knew that the spirit Emperor realm was not the end of the cultivation path.

The reverence in Tang Zhen's heart became even deeper with every increase in his cultivation level. This was because he knew that the current him was nothing when compared to those true experts.

His current realm could only ensure that the Holy Dragon City could maintain its current situation. If he wanted to climb to a higher realm and advance side by side with those Super Battle zones, there was still a long way to go!

Turning his head to look at the still excited Yu Heng, Tang Zhen smiled and said, "Let them handle the matters here. You and I have more important things to do!"

Yu Heng nodded his head. He naturally knew what Tang Zhen was talking about.

Compared to his own excitement and hesitation, Tang Zhen's face was indifferent from the beginning to the end. It was as if he did not care about this invasion at all.

This was one of the differences between the two. Yu Heng had long realized this, but he did not care.

Tang Zhen and Yu Heng left the rainbow bubble with ten King level cultivators each after leaving Yu Tao and Yu Kun behind.

After leaving the no man's land, the small warship sped all the way to the location of the third rune sign.

This time, Tang Zhen directly rushed into the core area of the scenic Area. Under the protection of twenty King level cultivators, he killed his way into the cave where the rune sign was placed.

There were more than 300 guardians gathered around the rune sign. There were six or seven rank 5 Guardians, and they were all glaring at the " demon " who had charged into the forbidden area.

These guardians possessed strength that far exceeded ordinary people. However, they only mastered a few abridged versions of cultivator skills. Although they seemed to be capable of doing so, it was impossible for them to be a match for Tang Zhen and the others.

After all, the rune sign could only gather heaven and earth energy for their cultivation. It couldn't be like the cornerstone platform, which had countless resources for them to exchange.

But even so, these guardians still fought to the last moment, and not a single one surrendered or retreated!

he's a loyal and brave man. Unfortunately, he's our enemy. We can't let him Live!

Yu Heng sighed. He really admired these protectors, but that was all. As long as they stopped him from obtaining the rune sign, he would not hesitate to attack.

With the third rune sign in hand, everyone rushed straight to the location of the fourth rune sign without stopping.

Perhaps, Tang Zhen's group knew what had happened to the Guardians. Therefore, when they arrived at the location of the fourth rune sign, they were fiercely attacked the moment they appeared.

The small battleships propped up their energy shields and blocked these attacks. Then, the group of cultivators spread out in the air and killed all the attackers!

After dealing with those troubles, the small battleship landed on the ground, and the group moved forward, arriving at a secret Hall of the sect.

The rune sign hung high on the Golden platform. Hundreds of armored knights pulled out their longswords at the same time and shouted the slogan " eliminate the demon ". They used their actions to fulfill the oath they had made.

The result was obvious. A King level cultivator killed all the Knights in a few seconds!

It was as if he was crushing ants, and with a wave of his hand, corpses were strewn all over the ground!

Yu Heng excitedly took down the fourth rune sign and aligned them together. The moment the gap closed, a runic magic circle was instantly activated.

At the same time, in the distant sea, the calm sea suddenly became turbulent.

Under the watchful eyes of the crew nearby, an Island slowly rose from the bottom of the sea. A large building stood on it, glistening in the sun.

Ten minutes later, the small warship arrived and slowly landed on the island that was not eroded by the sea at all.

Yu Heng took in a deep breath and took the lead to enter the hall that was filled with an exotic style. Tang Zhen slowly walked behind and sized up the exterior of these buildings, as if he wanted to figure out which race they belonged to.

The accompanying King level cultivators were lined up in two rows, standing guard outside the main hall, waiting to be summoned at any time.

After the two of them entered the hall, they found that there was only a huge map. It was inlaid with dense gemstones of various colors. At first glance, it looked like an ornament, but if one looked closely, they would find that it was actually a map.

Tang Zhen used the [mysterious language translator] and deciphered the words on it, revealing a shocked expression.

Yu Heng had always thought that Tang Zhen was very knowledgeable and was well-versed in the languages of many races. Therefore, after seeing his expression, he guessed that Tang Zhen could understand the words on the paper. He couldn't help but ask curiously, "Sir Tang Zhen, what is written on this?"

Tang Zhen looked at Yu Heng when he heard this. He muttered to himself for a moment before saying, this is the map of a Super Battle zone. The Golden gemstones on it represent the continent-level towers, while the purple gemstones represent the territory of the world-level towers!

Yu Heng was also shocked, and a complicated expression appeared on his face. He took a deep breath and carefully counted the number of gemstones, and his shock became more and more intense.

how is this possible? the Super Battle zone is this strong? "

Tang Zhen sighed and softly said, it seems like we are all frogs in a well. The real Super Battle zone is much scarier than we thought. Before I saw this map, I wouldn't have believed it even if you beat me to death. There are thousands of World Towers in a Super Battle zone!

Yu Heng's expression was complicated, and he laughed dryly. this war zone is too far away from us. Perhaps we'll never come into contact with it in our entire lives. But that's fine. At least we've obtained the treasure here, right? "

Tang Zhen's expression was a little strange as he said to Yu Heng, there are indeed treasures, but I still want to ask you one thing. Are you sure you want the treasures here? "

Yu Heng's expression changed slightly as the ominous premonition in his heart became more and more intense. He urgently asked Tang Zhen, "Sir Tang Zhen, please tell us the truth. What is written on it?"

I can tell you, but I want to ask you something. Did your ancestor's notes mention a situation, which is the selection mode of the elite Tower? "

Yu Heng's face turned pale when he heard this. He was stunned for a moment before he shook his head with a bitter smile.

Chapter 1470 Tang Zhen's choice

1470 Tang Zhen's choice _Yu Heng felt bitter in his heart. How could he not know about the selection model of the elite Tower that Tang Zhen had mentioned? this was because he had indeed mentioned this in his ancestor's notes.

According to his ancestor, this was a selection method that had been used for countless years in order to maintain the strength of the Super Battle zones.

It was only open to the castellans of the major battlefields. As long as one reached the level of a law King, they would have the qualifications to participate. Once they were confirmed to participate in this selection, they would receive a generous amount of cultivation resources, and then participate in the selection at a designated time.

If one could overcome all obstacles and obtain the recognition of a Super Battle zone, then one would obtain an exclusive land in the battle zone.

The Super Battle zone allowed members to build super teleportation formations with their original battle zone, and they could travel between each other without any barriers.

!!

If certain conditions were met, the entire city could be moved over. However, such a city could only be used as a subsidiary city, and the specific reason was still unknown.

To be able to connect with the Super battlefields, this was definitely a great opportunity, it was impossible not to rise!

Of course, behind the huge benefits, there were also huge risks. It was said that the success rate of this kind of selection was extremely low. Even if one was lucky enough to win the first time, they could be eliminated at any time in the future!

In order to obtain the right to participate in the selection, one had to obtain the foldable teleportation portal that was randomly distributed to the 3000 battlefields. After activating it and passing the preliminary test, one would be able to obtain the final right to participate.

However, according to what his ancestor said, the chances of that happening were pitifully small. Hence, he was 90% sure that the plane the folded teleportation door was connected to was a training ground provided by the world Tower for the younger generation.

In the end, when the mystery was revealed, it happened to be that almost impossible thing. It was really a joke of fate!

Not only was Yu Heng depressed, even his ancestors would not know whether to laugh or cry if they knew about this. He had originally wanted to leave an opportunity for the younger generation, but in the end, it was a bomb wrapped in milk!

As for the possibility of Tang Zhen lying to him, Yu Heng felt that it was almost impossible. This was because his ancestor had once said that very few people knew about this matter, and he had only found out about it by chance.

Even his ancestor, a world Overlord expert, had only found out about it by chance. It was clearly impossible for Tang Zhen to find out about it from other channels.

Moreover, the layout of the hall gave Yu Heng a huge blow, because there was nothing here except for a map.

If this place was filled with origin stones and rare treasures, causing people to be unable to move their eyes away, that would be in line with the treasure scene described by the ancestors. The purpose was to give the juniors participating in the trial a visual stimulation and obtain a great sense of satisfaction!

Therefore, before Tang Zhen asked, Yu Heng had already felt that something was amiss. When he heard about the selection model of the elite Tower, his heart had completely turned cold!

In the end, Yu Heng was the one who was greedy. If he had given the folded teleportation gate to Tang Zhen to study it carefully before the teleportation, he might have been able to obtain the truth. Unfortunately, he had always been on guard, which led to the current situation.

Now that things had come to this, Yu Heng had nothing to say. At the same time, he did not have the courage to accept this treasure.

After a minute of silence, Yu Heng raised his head and said to Tang Zhen, "Sir Tang Zhen, I'm willing to give up on this treasure. However, I have a request. If you want it, please bring me along when you head to the high energy world!

Becoming a spiritual Emperor has always been my dream. I hope you can fulfill my wish!"

Tang Zhen hesitated for a moment before saying to Yu Heng, "To me, this is a very difficult choice. There are opportunities, but there are also great risks.

You must know that the moment I acquire this treasure, I'll have to reach sector Lord level within a hundred years, and then head to the Super battlefields to undergo the following trials.

If you can't do this, I and my loucheng will have to pay back ten times the amount of resources we have obtained. Otherwise, we will definitely become slaves in the Super war zone until we pay back all the resources!

The contents of the trial are not clear, but it's definitely full of danger, and it's very likely that you won't be able to return!"

Yu Heng nodded his head. Tang Zhen was about to become the Lord of the war zone and had a bright future ahead of him. There was indeed no need for him to take this risk.

"Sir Tang Zhen, are you referring to Wufu?"

I will accept this qualification, because it was not until today that I realized the real difference between a Super Battle zone and a normal battle zone. This makes my blood boil, and I want to go to a wider world and enjoy more magnificent scenery!

I built Holy Dragon City from nothing, and I will also build a war zone in the future. In comparison, I, Tang Zhen, am not worse than anyone else!

Why do they have the right to occupy a place in the Super Battle zone, while I choose to retreat when such an opportunity is in front of me?"

Tang Zhen strode toward the huge map when he said this. He extended his hand and touched it.

After waiting for a few seconds, all the gemstones became dull. Only one of the gemstones shone brightly. It slowly floated up from the map and entered between Tang Zhen's eyebrows.

At the same time, a voice resounded in the hall. Although the tone was strange, Tang Zhen and Yu Heng heard it clearly.

the Lord of the Holy Dragon City, Tang Zhen, is willing to accept the elite Tower's selection. The trial will begin soon. Those who are successful must arrive at the fifth battle area within a hundred years. Remember!

As soon as he finished speaking, the entire Hall began to shake, and the island seemed to be on the verge of collapsing.

"Let's go. There's no point in staying here!"

Tang Zhen beckoned to the dazed Yu Heng, and everyone boarded the small battleship at the same time, quickly rising into the sky.

From a high altitude, one could see that the island that had just appeared was rapidly collapsing and soon disappeared into the deep sea.

The moment the island sank, the shackles that bound Tang Zhen's body instantly disappeared. The aura that belonged to a law King made everyone's heart tremble.

In comparison, Yu Heng was much weaker. It was clear that he was still one of the top nomological Kings!

While the forces in this world were in chaos, not knowing what the "devil" would do next, the small warship had returned to the colorful bubble and was waiting for The Two Towers to arrive.

After another two days, the first representative of a country appeared and requested for negotiations.

No one knew what the result of the negotiation was, but soon a second country arrived, followed by a third, and then a fourth.

In the face of absolute strength, if he continued to pretend to be an ostrich and pretend that he could not see anything, he could only wait for bullets to lick his ass!

The leaders of these forces were not fools. After the invaders had shown their strength again and again and issued the ultimatum, they knew that if they did not make a decision, they would be eliminated in the end!

A few days later, The Two Towers completed their teleportation. The moment they descended, the entire world seemed to tremble violently.

The colorful bubble burst, and two mountain-like buildings appeared in front of the natives, announcing the beginning of the conquest.

The aircrafts covered the sky and the sun as they swarmed in all directions. The ferocious-looking war chariots and armed robots almost covered the entire land. Millions of fully-armed cultivators of loucheng city stepped out, each of them filled with the desire to fight.

When the deadline arrived, the cultivators of Lou Cheng took the initiative to attack. They were like a hot knife through butter as they charged straight towards the native countries that chose to resist!

Although the weapons of the natives were powerful, they had no advantage against the powerful cultivators in the city and the weapons and equipment with higher technology.

Any force that tried to resist was easily defeated!

In just a dozen days, this not-so-big world was completely enveloped in the flames of war. The indigenous people who had once clamored to protect their homeland had disappeared without a trace. Most of them had become captives, and along with the collected materials, they were sent to the plane channel continuously!

In the face of absolute power, the natives finally realized that they were no match for these invaders.

As the entire world fell into the hands of the cultivators of Lou Cheng, the Aboriginals gradually gave up on resisting. They picked up their bags and headed to the world of Lou Cheng in groups.
