

Alternate 2081

Chapter 2081 An impenetrable defense (1)

Although they were still far away, they could see the densely packed dorsal fins of the sails and confirm that the scale of the sea monster army was quite large.

In terms of numbers, they completely crushed the believers, more than a hundred times.

They were like a pack of hungry wolves, charging over aggressively, as if nothing could stop them.

These sea monsters were not brainless. In fact, they were very cunning, and there was a leader-like existence in the Army who secretly controlled the entire battle.

Even when he attacked, he would choose to attack the weak instead of fighting them head-on.

Although the higher-ranked areas would also be attacked by sea monsters, they were basically small-scale battles.

The chances of successfully breaking through such a defensive area were very low, so the sea monster would not go all out and would only use cannon fodder to consume the believers.

No one knew how many sea monsters there were, and they could completely bear the losses.

The high risk areas were the sea monsters' main targets. They used tactics similar to suppressing consumption to prevent these high risk areas from growing.

Sun Jun was familiar with sea monsters, so he was not surprised by their sudden attack.

everyone, get ready for battle. Listen to my orders and fire at any moment!

When the war drums came from the temple, Sun Jun had already climbed up to the tower on the peak of the mountain and observed the sea in front of him from above.

Although his expression was as calm as water, if one looked closely at his eyes, one would discover that there was a faint trace of excitement.

Sun Jun's desire for battle far exceeded anyone else's. At this moment, he felt that his blood was burning.

"Sure enough, it's here. I'm really looking forward to it!"

He had already thought about it before. Defense area 153 had just been destroyed, and the sea monster would not miss this opportunity.

They would definitely gather their forces and take the opportunity to launch another wave of attacks to destroy the newly repaired defense area.

The scale of the attack this time would definitely be much larger than the previous one. Only then would they be able to destroy the temple with an absolute advantage in numbers after breaking through the city walls.

As long as the temple could be destroyed, the sea monster army could March straight in and attack the Grand temple.

Sun Jun did not care whether the Grand temple was safe or not. He was very clear that those sea monsters would not succeed easily.

What he was most concerned about now was how to fight this battle well and earn more battle merits.

When the temple's war drums sounded, the huge image transmission stone was suddenly activated, and the image transmission stones in the other defense areas also reacted.

The image transmission stone marked the side of battle area 153. Immediately, a red light flashed, reminding that a battle was about to happen there.

After seeing this scene, a large number of believers in the defensive areas that had not been attacked by the sea monsters immediately focused their attention on the image transmission stone.

They gathered in the open space or stood on top of the city wall, staring at the huge picture projected into the air.

The earlier scene of gunfire in area 153 had already caused enough of a stir and made countless believers curious.

At this moment, everyone wanted to see how destructive the weapons that were shooting out flames were.

Under countless gazes, the cannons on both sides of the mountain suddenly opened fire, and flames shot out from the muzzles.

Of course, what everyone was most concerned about was not the scene of the cannons firing. They wanted to see how much damage the cannonballs could cause to the sea monster.

As the commander adjusted the image on the transmission stone, the giant sea beasts with sail-like dorsal fins appeared clearly in front of everyone.

On the back of the sea beast, there were countless sea monsters crouching. They looked like parasites, and one look at them would make one's scalp tingle.

However, at the next moment, cannonballs landed on the backs of these sea monsters, and what followed was a scene of blood and flesh flying all over the sky.

In the violent explosion, the sea monsters on the back of the giant beast were torn to pieces, leaving behind huge, shocking bloody holes.

The giant sea beast that was attacked trembled violently. However, compared to its huge size, this attack did not seem to be fatal.

The problem was that the cannon attacks were quite dense. The size of the sea beasts made it impossible for them to move quickly to Dodge, and they could only take the cannon attacks head-on.

In the blink of an eye, the backs of these giant sea beasts were blown to pieces. Unable to withstand the pain, the monsters began to subconsciously dive into the sea.

However, in this way, the sea beasts could no longer get closer, because the deep water in the coastal waters was not enough to cover their huge bodies.

If they wanted to get closer, they would have to surface, and this was not the best distance for the giant sea beast to attack.

Although the sea monster dove into the water to avoid the attacks, the bombardment from both sides of the mountain never stopped.

Under normal circumstances, no matter if it was a bullet or a shell, after entering the water, it would not be able to continue to effectively strike an underwater target.

The cannonballs conjured by Tang Zhen were the same. After they entered the water, their power was greatly reduced, and they were no longer able to effectively kill the sea monster.

If he wanted to, he could conjure a special water bullet to continuously attack the giant sea beast in the sea.

However, from Tang Zhen's point of view, there was no need for that. Doing so would only increase the cost greatly.

The cannonballs he had made all contained highly toxic substances, the kind that was extremely deadly.

Once the cannonballs entered their bodies, they would be able to poison these giant sea beasts and kill them in a short time.

In addition to these highly toxic cannonballs, there were also burning cannonballs that could seal the sea surface with flames after they exploded, as well as mother-child cannonballs that had extremely high killing potential.

The artillery on both sides of the mountains would change the shells according to Sun Jun's instructions instead of firing randomly.

Under the intensive bombardment, the giant sea beast continued to sink into the sea. The sea monster soldiers on its back were either killed by the explosion or sank to the bottom of the sea with the giant sea beast.

Due to the suppression of the cannons, the giant sea monster could no longer rise to the surface of the sea to spray acid, which was equivalent to the sea monster's long-range attack means being disabled.

The giant sea beasts could no longer move forward, but the sea monsters on their backs could continue to move forward. This caused the sea to be filled with swimming figures, heading straight for the coast.

In the process of swimming, cannonballs fell into the water from time to time, tearing the sea monsters that were closer to the surface of the sea into pieces.

Countless corpses floated on the surface of the sea, and black smoke rose from the burning flames.

It didn't take long for countless figures to appear on the waves. The sea monsters had already rushed to the shore and began to surge toward the city wall in groups.

The anti-aircraft machine gun that had been waiting for a long time immediately opened fire. After the barrel of the machine gun was lowered through the roller, tongues of fire swept back and forth on the coast.

As soon as the sea monsters rushed to the shore, they were shot to the ground, and a bloody mist rose up from the shore.

Soon, a wall of corpses appeared on the beach. As the sea monsters continued to come ashore, the wall of corpses began to grow taller and taller.

Just this line of machine gun defense had completely blocked the sea monster, and it could not move an inch.

Even if there were a few sea monsters that charged forward, they were still killed by the machine gunners and snipers.

Area 153 was like an ice-cold War meat grinder, continuously taking the lives of sea monsters.

The believers on the city wall were all in a state of excitement, their eyes slightly red.

The thrill of killing, the joy of madly obtaining battle merits, made them so excited that their bodies were trembling.

As for the spectators from the other defense areas, they were already dumbfounded. They had never imagined that killing sea monsters could be so simple and efficient!

Chapter 2082 Sure-win (1)

After seeing the terrifying power of the guns and cannons, all the spectators knew that area 153 would definitely win this battle.

The sea monsters no longer had any power to fight back. The more they charged onto the shore, the more they were killed. The surface of the sea had been completely covered by layers of corpses.

Unless something unexpected happened, no matter how many sea monsters came, they would only be giving credit to area 153.

While they were envious, it was inevitable that some people would be jealous.

what's going on with this area 153? where did they get this kind of weapon? why can they have it but not us? "

They were both killing sea monsters, so why did he have to defend the city wall with his life, while others could reap the battle achievements from a long distance away?

Everyone knew that with this weapon, killing sea monsters would be extremely easy.

They were a little unwilling to see others enjoy the benefits alone while they could only be envious.

However, they were only complaining. After all, the defense areas were independent of each other and didn't interfere with each other. It was not uncommon for them to watch others die.

In this case, even if the other defense areas benefited, it would have nothing to do with them.

Hearing the complaints of the believers beside him, the commander of the defense area sneered and said in a low voice, "You'll have to ask the guys in area 153 where you got the weapons, but they might not tell you.

Compared to those strange weapons, I was more interested in the new commander of area 153. He was quite an interesting person.

I've checked it out earlier. This guy called Tang Zhen is just a newcomer and has only entered God Country for a short time.

Because of his outstanding performance in the first battle, he was allowed to go to the Grand temple. Who would have thought that he would directly become the commander of the 153rd defense area?

Thinking about it carefully, he felt that something was amiss. No matter how strong he was as a newcomer, could he be stronger than those veterans?

Why didn't the spiritualist choose an experienced veteran, but instead arranged for him to be the commander? do you think this is reasonable?"

There were a few believers standing next to the commander. They were also the commanders of the defense zone.

They had gathered together to discuss a plan when area 153 was attacked by sea monsters.

After seeing the scene on the transmission stone, the commanding officers of the defensive area fell into deep thought. It was clear that this incident had brought them a lot of inspiration.

"The spiriters must have known that area 153 is filled with newbies, so they arranged for a new commander for them.

It looked like a one-way promotion, but in fact, all the believers in area 153 were used as bait.

They would use them to attract the sea monster army over, and then the two sides would quickly attack and surround area 153, trapping the sea monsters on land.

Under such circumstances, it would be best for defense area 153 to win. If they failed, there would not be much loss.

I don't know where this Tang Zhen got a large number of weapons from, but he beat the sea monster to the point that it couldn't fight back. He even won in an impossible situation!"

Another commander frowned as he analyzed. It sounded reasonable, but it was not the case.

Tang Zhen wasn't the bait chosen by the spirit envoy. Instead, he was appointed as the commander of the defense area after knowing his background. He hoped that he could kill as many sea monsters as possible.

"I don't think this matter is that simple. It's impossible for the spiriters to be perfunctory in this kind of matter. There must be something that we don't understand.

If there's a chance, I'd like to meet the commander of area 153. If possible, I'd like to get some fire-breathing weapons from him."

The other commanders nodded. After seeing the power of firearms, they really wanted to get some and place them in their defense area.

Of course, the prerequisite was that the price of the exchange was acceptable. If Tang Zhen were to demand an exorbitant price, they would rather not use it than to bite the bullet and be ripped off.

While they were talking, everyone was still watching the battle. They were envious of the killing efficiency of the guns and weapons while analyzing the situation on the battlefield.

If there were no accidents, it would probably not take long for the sea monsters to retreat with heavy casualties.

When the sea monster realized that it could not win, it would not blindly launch a fierce attack, but choose to retreat at the right time.

After they recuperated, they would make a comeback.

It was only when the defensive zone was in danger and the sea monsters had the absolute advantage that they would launch a frenzied attack.

Before the battle ended, some people had already estimated the total number of battle achievements that area 153 could possibly obtain. A conservative estimate was more than one million.

When they came to this conclusion, the spectators couldn't help but gasp. The number of one million Battle Points was simply too terrifying.

Moreover, this was only from one battle. If the sea monsters attacked every once in a while, who knew how many Battle Points they would get in defense area 153?

Due to various reasons, the level of defense area 153 was very low and had always been ranked at the bottom of all defense areas.

He had thought that it would be difficult to recover after the city was broken, but now he had a chance to make a comeback.

With just this amount of military merits, it was enough to push the 153 defense area into the middle. If they worked hard, it was not impossible for them to be ranked higher.

The benefits that came with it were naturally the upgrade of the temple's level. The believers in area 153 would also be qualified to exchange for more items.

As time passed, area 153 would become more and more powerful and would trample over the other areas.

Those areas that were ranked at the top all had additional rewards, and no one was willing to give the benefits to others.

As a result, some people began to have devious thoughts. They secretly pondered how to trick Tang Zhen. It would be best if they could get their hands on all of his guns and weapons.

Although the defense area was constantly under the threat of sea monsters, the fighting for profit had never stopped.

at this moment, tang zhen had already become the target of public criticism. it was unknown how many people had tried to scheme against him.

have you all noticed a problem? since the start of the battle, that Tang Zhen has not appeared. What is he doing? ”

A commander stared at the image on the transmission stone seriously. After a long while, he suddenly asked with a face full of doubt.

The other commanders were also stunned when they heard this. They had only paid attention to the scene of the cannon killing the sea monster and had neglected to see if Tang Zhen was on the battlefield.

Now that he took a closer look, he did not see Tang Zhen’s figure. Only sun Jun, who was appointed as the Deputy, was wearing a special armor. He was very conspicuous on the battlefield.

If it was the commander, the target would be more obvious during the battle, like a Lighthouse in the night.

With the special ability of the temple, the soldiers could see the existence of the commander no matter where they were.

The purpose of this was to stabilize the morale of the Army, so that the believers could effectively accept the orders of the commander in time.

“What’s going on with this Tang Zhen? he’s not even participating in a battle of this scale. what the hell is he doing?”

After confirming that Tang Zhen wasn’t on the battlefield, those commanders were all confused. They felt that Tang Zhen was full of secrets.

Some people secretly guessed that Tang Zhen might be secretly doing something. This was why he was absent at such a crucial moment.

as time passed, more and more sea monsters were killed, but none of them could get close to the city wall.

The monster leader in charge of commanding the sea monster army also realized that things were not going well and immediately gave the order to retreat.

An ultrasonic-like signal came from the deep sea. After the sea monsters that were attacking madly heard it, they began to retreat like the tide, ready to retreat from the battlefield under the cover of the sea.

After seeing the sea monster retreat, the believers in area 153 could not help but feel anxious. Although they had made a lot of money now, they were still unwilling to watch the battle credits slip away.

Just as they were at a loss on what to do, a figure slowly walked out from the mountain. It was precisely the commander, Tang Zhen, who had a trace of a smile on his face.

Chapter 2083 The envious and shocked spectators (1)

The moment Tang Zhen appeared, countless pairs of eyes looked at him at the same time. At this moment, he was the focus of everyone's attention.

The believers in the defense area looked at him with a hint of admiration in their eyes. Even the faces of the Veterans were full of admiration.

After fighting sea monsters for so many years, this was the first time they had experienced such a scene. They could kill monsters to their heart's content without encountering any danger.

Before today, he would not have dared to think of such a thing.

As for the newbies, they didn't know about the twists and turns inside. They only knew that Tang Zhen's existence allowed them to successfully resist the sea monster's attack and easily obtain a large amount of battle merits.

He had thought that he would definitely die after being assigned to a high-risk battle zone, but it seemed that this was not the case.

It could be said that Tang Zhen was their Savior. If it wasn't for him, they might have already become the sea monster's delicious meal.

Although Tang Zhen didn't appear on the city wall during the battle just now, he seemed to be afraid of the battle.

However, in the eyes of the believers in the defensive area, he should have known the outcome of the battle long ago, which was why he did not personally take charge of the battlefield.

If it was any other zone of defense commander who did not personally command during the battle, he would only attract the contempt and discussion of his subordinates.

It would definitely not be like now, where everyone's eyes were filled with respect and no one dared to question his actions.

Everyone guessed that Tang Zhen had appeared at this time because he was prepared to say a few encouraging words when the sea monsters retreated to raise the morale of the people in the defensive area.

No matter which defensive area it was, there would always be similar situations, and the commander would not miss this opportunity to increase his prestige.

As expected, in the next moment, Tang Zhen slowly opened his mouth. However, the content was different from what everyone had imagined.

"I know you're all immersed in the joy of victory, because in the face of guns and weapons, the fierce sea monsters are so fragile and vulnerable.

This is the first battle since the reconstruction of area 153, and you've gained a lot from it. Perhaps today's battle will be worth more than the total battle merits you've accumulated in the other areas over the past few months.

I'm sure you all know what battle merits mean. You can never have too many of them.

But I would like to ask you, are you satisfied with the harvest in front of you, or do you want to get more?

If you're satisfied with the current situation, then let the sea monster go, and this battle will officially end.

If you want to obtain more battle merits, then be prepared to fight a bloody battle, because it is likely that more sea monsters will appear in the following time.

Now tell me your choice. Do you want to let the sea monster go, or do you want to continue fighting and gain more battle merits?"

Due to the auxiliary function of the temple, Tang Zhen's voice spread throughout the entire defense area and every believer could hear it clearly.

"We want battle merits. Only with enough battle merits can we exchange for all kinds of required materials and constantly improve our strength.

If we miss this opportunity, where will we find such a good opportunity in the future, don't you think so?"

Tang Zhen originally thought that Sun Jun would take the lead in responding. Who would have thought that the first to speak would be those veterans. They had anxious and excited expressions on their faces, as if they were afraid that their battle achievements would slip away from their eyes.

After fighting sea monsters for so many years, they knew how hard it was to get battle merits. Every point was exchanged with their lives.

Now that he finally had the opportunity to kill sea monsters easily, he would regret it if he missed this opportunity.

This was an opportunity that couldn't be missed. They had to make a prompt decision. Therefore, as soon as Tang Zhen's words fell, those veteran soldiers jumped out to express their support.

The new recruits were also unwilling to miss the opportunity to obtain military merits, so after the veteran spoke, they immediately raised their arms and strongly requested to continue hunting sea monsters.

In the sky above the entire defense area, a wave of roars asking for battle floated, making people's blood seem to boil.

At the same time, they were also curious. What method would Tang Zhen have to continue chasing after these sea monsters when they had already retreated?

Just as everyone was secretly surprised, Tang Zhen walked to the front of a cannon and waved his hand to release a few items.

These items looked like cannonballs. They were slender and crystal-clear, and there seemed to be a viscous liquid flowing around the bullet head.

“Sir, What is this?”

A wily old soldier beside him could not resist the curiosity in his heart when he saw this and carefully asked Tang Zhen.

“All you need to do is watch and you’ll soon know what this is.”

Tang Zhen did not explain much. Instead, he commanded the soldiers to stuff it into the cannon barrel and gave the order to fire.

The believers in the defensive area all held their breath and stared at the muzzle, wanting to see what special effects this thing had.

With a few loud sounds, the cannonballs were shot out and fell into the water not far from the shore.

“What’s going on? I don’t understand.”

Whether it was the new recruits or the Veterans, all of them had confused expressions on their faces. They really couldn’t see what was special about these shots.

Just as everyone was discussing, they saw that the sea in front of them was like a boiling pot. The surface of the sea rose up abnormally, and then fell back down heavily.

Countless sea monsters revealed their heads and rushed madly to the area where the cannonballs fell into the water. The scene was spectacular.

Then, a stream of steam rose from where the cannonballs fell, drawing an arc in the air. The mist shimmered with a colorful light, looking like rainbow candy bars.

At this moment, the giant sea beasts that had dived into the sea also emerged from the water and rushed over.

Along the way, sea monsters were constantly swept away by the collision, and their bones were instantly crushed. However, the giant sea beast did not care at all. It only cared about charging towards the place where the seven-colored mist rose.

It was obvious that the retreating sea monster army had fallen into a state of chaos. Even though the sound of an emergency retreat was constantly heard, the sea monsters completely ignored it.

This situation was so strange that it made people panic.

The soldiers on the city wall were already restless. They were all dumbfounded as they stared at the sea in front of them.

They couldn’t understand what Tang Zhen had done. Why was it that a few rainbow-like water pillars were able to attract all these sea monsters back?

Looking at their appearance, it was as if they had gone crazy and completely lost all reason.

“What are you waiting for? attack immediately!”

Sun Jun’s voice rang out, waking up the soldiers who were still in a daze. They quickly turned the muzzles and aimed at the sea.

At this moment, there was no need to aim. As long as the shell was shot, it could land on the sea monster.

The position of the rainbow water pillar was very close, and it was also within the range of the anti-aircraft machine guns. The soldiers on the city wall also opened fire.

They gritted their teeth, wishing that they could pour out all the bullets in the magazine in the shortest time possible.

The monsters in the ocean were killed in droves, but even so, they were still rushing forward, not afraid of the threat of death at all.

The bloody scene caused everyone’s hearts to turn cold. They really could not understand what Tang Zhen had done. Why did he make these sea monsters go crazy?

Not only were the believers in area 153 shocked, but the other believers who were watching the battle through the transmission stone were also shocked by the scene in front of them.

They had fought against the sea monster for many years, but they had never seen such a strange scene before. They subconsciously felt a deep fear for Tang Zhen who had used such a technique.

If such a method was used on him, and he did not have any guns or weapons to suppress it, it would be a disaster.

Apart from shock, most of the spectators couldn’t hide their envy. The sea monster’s return meant that they could continue to gain battle merits.

As long as all the sea monsters were annihilated, the number of military merits obtained in area 153 would be shocking.

It was believed that after this battle, the name of the 153rd defense area would spread completely and become the focus of all believers of the kingdom of God.

Chapter 2084 Reactions of all parties (1)

The sound of gunfire rang out for a long time before it finally subsided.

At this moment, heaven and earth seemed to be abnormally quiet. The sound of the waves that usually rang out seemed to have disappeared.

Soon, the believers realized that it was not that the sound had disappeared, but that they were almost deafened by the shock. That was why they felt that their surroundings were so quiet that it was terrifying.

After a long while, they slowly heard sounds, which were all excited cheers.

The believers waved their fists and roared at the sea to vent their joy.

At this moment, looking at the outside of the city wall, it was already a mess.

The city wall was filled with bullet shells, and there was almost no place to stand. Any traveler who was not careful would fall to the ground.

Some believers were holding something like a shovel, and there were people shoveling bullet shells down from the top of the city wall, making a constant clattering sound of metal colliding.

For some reason, when the believers heard this sound, they always felt that the most beautiful music was nothing more than this.

When he turned to look at the ocean again, he was sure that all the sea monsters had been killed. The corpses covered the surface of the sea and spread far and wide.

Even at the end of his sight, there were still sea monster corpses. This scene was unforgettable.

After the surprise, the new soldiers sized up the battlefield seriously, their eyes full of shock.

Today's battle allowed them to thoroughly experience the power of guns and weapons. At the same time, they also felt the cruelty and horror of war.

As long as one was drawn into it, it meant that one's life could end at any time, and one simply had no choice.

After the shock, they rejoiced. If they didn't have the guns in their hands and fought using their original method, the sea monsters would be enough to exhaust them to death.

It was even more impossible to end the battle so quickly.

The Veterans were the most qualified to speak. Under normal circumstances, battles of this scale would usually last for one or two days.

That kind of battle was simply a purgatory-like torture. They had to take turns to defend and there was no time to rest at all.

After the battle, he was completely exhausted and didn't want to get up after falling into the pile of corpses.

In the past, it was almost unimaginable to take care of a large number of enemies so easily and quickly in defense area 153.

It was easy, safe, and profitable. It made the Veterans feel like they were dreaming, and their faces were full of smiles.

Although the final total number of battle achievements had not been calculated yet, the believers could already confirm that the harvest of this battle would be considerable.

"Everyone, listen up! Clean up the battlefield immediately! If there are any sea monsters that are still alive, kill them on the spot!"

Organize the supplies on the city wall and count the remaining amount. At the same time, send someone to guard it. No one is allowed to approach it unless it's a battle."

Sun Jun's voice came from the tower, and with the help of the temple, it spread clearly throughout the entire defense area.

The Veterans who had been waiting for a long time heard this and immediately called the new recruits to follow them to the beach along the rope ladder.

The Veterans loved to clean up the battlefield, especially when they encountered special sea monsters of higher value. They were all fighting to be the first.

Collecting items from sea monsters to forge equipment or sell to the temple could also be exchanged for war points.

This was the benefit given to the believers. The armor made from sea monster skin was not inferior to the basic armor exchanged in the temple.

Wearing such armor could save a large amount of battle credits, and the remaining battle credits could be used for other things.

After selling it to the temple, they would also be rewarded with some battle achievements, which could be divided equally among the believers.

Under the command of the Veterans, the soldiers continued to rummage through the scattered corpses, picking all the usable materials and putting them into large baskets woven from rattan.

There were people on the city wall who were in charge of pulling the rope and bringing the collected materials up. After that, they would do further processing.

In fact, the operation of a defense area was similar to living at home. Only through the accumulation of resources after winning such a battle could they gradually become stronger.

The more battles they won, the richer the followers' assets would be, and the stronger their combat power would be.

After the sea monsters were cleared, the seven-colored water pillar disappeared at the same time. Even if someone wanted to find out what was going on, they could not find anything.

Tang Zhen stood at the peak of the mountain and quietly watched the scene in front of him. He seemed to be thinking about something.

Sun Jun walked over. When he saw that Tang Zhen was deep in thought, he did not disturb him.

"What's the matter?"

Tang Zhen did not even turn his head as he asked in a faint tone.

"The results of the battle have been calculated. We've obtained a total of 2.2 million battle merits, most of which were provided by the giant sea beast.

It's a pity that there's only one leader in this sea monster army. Otherwise, we would have gained more after the whole battle."

There was a hint of excitement in Sun Jun's tone. As the commander's Deputy, his rewards were also quite substantial, much more than the battle merits that he had slowly accumulated.

Tang Zhen merely nodded his head gently after hearing the number of Battle Points. He appeared extremely calm.

Although the battle achievements he had gained were enough to make countless believers envious and jealous, he was still far from his goal.

Whether it was to exchange for a complete memory or to obtain the opportunity to increase his strength, he would need an astronomical amount of battle credits.

"Let everyone rest for a while and recover their strength as soon as possible. I'll think of a way to lure more sea monsters over.

I believe that the commanders of the other areas will arrive soon. Remember to ignore them."

Sun Jun nodded his head in agreement. After today's battle, he was already full of confidence in Tang Zhen.

Tang Zhen stood at his original spot for a moment. After which, he returned to the mountain and instructed that no one was to disturb him.

Before luring the sea monster, he still had some preparation work to do. He had to make sufficient preparations.

The work inside and outside the city wall was still ongoing. With Sun Jun in charge of the command, everything in the defense area was handled in an orderly manner.

Although the battle had ended, the impact was still ongoing, and it was getting more and more intense.

After learning about the harvest of area 153, the other defense areas were immediately in an uproar, and the exact number quickly spread.

The believers were discussing the process of the battle. While they were envious and shocked, they also felt that they had to find a way to figure out the source of the weapons.

The believers were also very interested in Tang Zhen's strange method of attracting the sea monsters. They went to the temple to pay the battle Points to inquire.

However, the results of the search were disappointing. Whether it was the weapons used in defense area 153 or the means to make the sea monsters go crazy, there was no information at all.

The only reason for this situation could only be that these things were in Tang Zhen's possession and not obtained from the temple through battle merits.

This also made the Inquisitors secretly worried. If it was an item that could be exchanged for in the temple, they would be willing to give it a try no matter how many battle merits they had to spend.

Only when one was willing to pay could one get a return. No matter how much battle credits one spent on weapons, one could easily earn back their capital.

The battle in area 153 was enough to prove this point.

However, the problem in front of them was that they could not spend the battle credits they had. This was the most troublesome thing.

In this case, if they wanted to get the guns and weapons used in area 153 and Tang Zhen's method of luring the sea monsters, they had to go to area 153 in person and talk to Tang Zhen face to face.

The difficulty of this matter was not small. After all, no one would easily share such a method with others.

Even if there were an endless number of sea monsters, the ranking of the defense areas was also a matter to consider.

If the other defense zones had similar tactics, then defense zone 153, which was already behind in ranking, could forget about overtaking the other defense zones.

Even though they knew this, they still had to give it a try. With the huge amount of battle credit, the commanders would not give up easily.

Chapter 2085 A way to attract sea monsters (1)

Just as defense area 153 was busy, four-winged birds appeared in the air one after another. The passengers on them were not new recruits, but the commanders and their deputies from the nearby defense areas.

The scene they saw from the image transmission stone was far less shocking than the scene in person. They were speechless for a long time as they looked at the mountain of sea monster corpses.

In the eyes of these commanders, they were all real battle achievements. When they thought of the shocking amount of battle achievements, their hearts began to race.

The other defense zones had also received similar military achievements, but they had paid a considerable price. They were far less relaxed and safe than defense zone 153.

After all, the entire battle was live-streamed, and it was unbelievable that not a single believer died after killing so many sea monsters.

area 153 has earned a lot this time. I wonder how many people will be jealous!

After sighing, a few of the defense Area Commanders landed on their four-winged birds, only to find that no one was paying them any attention.

Defense zone 153 was currently in a state of chaos. There were no idle people around, so even when they saw the defense zone commanders wearing special armor, no one paid them any attention.

The Veterans had a mocking smile on their faces. They naturally knew what these zone of defense commanders were up to, so it would be strange if they ignored them.

A few of the area Commanders stood in front of the temple, feeling a little embarrassed. They didn't expect that no one would even greet them when they arrived.

However, since they were here to ask for a favor, they could only keep a low profile as much as possible to avoid being in a difficult position.

What's more, although there was a ranking between the defense areas, they did not interfere with each other. The ranking was only based on the level of the temple.

They had power in their own territory, but when they were in someone else's territory, they were just outsiders.

Fortunately, they didn't have to wait long before someone came up to them and invited them to the top of the city wall.

Due to the rules of the defense area, outsiders were not allowed to climb up the city wall without permission, so the commanders had not moved until now.

Now that they had been invited to climb the city wall, they naturally wanted to take a good look at those guns and weapons and figure out the principles behind them.

If they could replicate it, even if Tang Zhen refused to sell it, they would be able to find a way to make it.

As they climbed up the chaotic city wall, the area Commanders immediately focused on the guns and cannons, not letting go of any details.

In the eyes of the commanders, the structure of these guns was quite sophisticated, and it was impossible to make them so easily.

If he wanted to make it, he would have to get his hands on the gun and slowly crack it.

After realizing this, the few commanding officers of the defense area secretly looked at each other. It was obvious that they already had an idea in mind.

What these commanders didn't know was that their thinking was still too simple. It was possible to duplicate weapons by hand, but it was very difficult to mass produce them.

Especially the production of ammunition, which was the most crucial part. It was almost impossible to replicate it by hand in other areas.

Unless there was someone with the same cultivation level as Tang Zhen in these defense areas who could use his will to create things. In this way, he could duplicate a large number of ammunition.

Tang Zhen didn't care whether others copied the weapon or not. After all, the number of sea monsters was endless. It was simply impossible to kill all of them. The quality of the weapon only determined the efficiency of killing the sea monsters.

If there were not enough sea monsters, then no matter how sharp the weapons in their hands were, they would not be able to solve the root of the problem.

Thus, if he wanted to gain more military merits, he couldn't rely on these guns alone. He needed other means.

As for the ranking in the Warzone, he did not care at all. As long as he could obtain enough battle merits, so what if he was ranked at the bottom?

However, it was also impossible for these people to easily obtain an advantage. Perhaps, they had already fallen into Tang Zhen's trap from the moment they started to have crooked thoughts.

Sun Jun received a few commanders of the defense area. When the other party asked to buy firearms and ammunition, Sun Jun rejected them without hesitation.

This was expected, so the area Commanders were not surprised. Then, they tried to find out what was going on with the seven-colored water pillars that drove the sea monsters crazy.

Sun Jun smiled and shook his head. He really did not know what was going on and did not ask Tang Zhen.

Even if he really knew, he would definitely not tell this group of people. He would not let his guard down for things that Tang Zhen did not care about.

The group of commanders returned in disappointment, but they were also secretly planning in their hearts. How could they get what they wanted?

As he watched the commanders of the defense area leave, Sun Jun's eyes flashed with a touch of ridicule. He naturally knew what these guys were up to.

It wouldn't take long for these guys to start taking action. They would find a way to buy over the believers in the defense area and have them help deliver intelligence.

As Tang Zhen had just arrived in Scandinavia, he might not know the intricacies of this matter. However, as an experienced veteran, Sun Jun knew it clearly.

Sun Jun would not allow such a thing to happen, so after the battlefield was cleaned up, he would make the corresponding rules.

The moment he discovered the existence of a traitor, he would definitely use lightning-fast methods to make the other party pay a heavy price.

After all, to him, this concerned the future of his family. He could not afford to be careless.

The other Area Commanders were also paying attention to this matter. After receiving the news from the first wave of Pathfinders, they gave up on the idea of coming.

They did not have much of a friendship with Tang Zhen and were unable to pay a price that was sufficient to move one's heart. Therefore, even if they came, it would be in vain.

However, in the dark, there were already many tentacles reaching into the 153rd defense area. No one would give up easily when faced with the temptation of a huge amount of battle credits.

The undercurrent in the outside world was turbulent, but Tang Zhen had always been in seclusion, studying the means to attract the monsters.

Therefore, he had to use a special method to make the sea monster army attack.

After careful consideration, he actually had an idea, but it was not easy to execute it.

Moreover, compared to materializing a weapon, the cost of completing this plan was much greater, and it might even cause certain damage to the user.

However, compared to the possible benefits, Tang Zhen was completely able to bear this price. Not to mention, the damage was not irreparable.

Therefore, Tang Zhen had already made up his mind after hesitating for a moment. He would immediately begin to act.

He slowly extended his hands, and a ball of light appeared in his hands, slowly spinning like a planet.

The energy in his mind world was drawn out and continuously injected into the light ball, but the light ball seemed to be full. He didn't know how it could contain so much energy.

Tang Zhen was completely focused during the operation and did not dare to be distracted.

After a while, the ball of light trembled. Then, it started to beat like a heart.

One could feel a surging life force from the light ball, as if it could burst out at any time.

The more time passed, the more obvious this feeling became. It was as if a special life was being born in the light ball.

If one were to zoom in on the ball of light, one would be able to see that there were countless tiny runes within the ball of light, dancing and swimming about rapidly.

A seed-like object had already taken shape and was quietly floating inside the ball of light.

Tang Zhen had been observing the changes within the light sphere from the beginning. He only heaved a sigh of relief after seeing the seed appear.

At this moment, his face was deathly pale. It was obvious that he had consumed a lot of energy just now, and even he could not bear it.

Tang Zhen held the ball of light with his palm and walked out of the cave. He slowly walked to the front of the temple and prepared to execute the second step of his plan.

Chapter 2086 Remaking the giant tree (1)

When they saw Tang Zhen appear, the believers would bow to him from time to time with respectful expressions.

It was only a battle, but it had completely convinced these believers. They firmly believed that under Tang Zhen's leadership, they would definitely gain more battle achievements.

In order to boost morale, Sun Jun had already announced the total number of military achievements. When they heard that there were more than two million, all the believers were stunned.

Then, he was overjoyed and couldn't hide his excitement.

More than two million battle credits were distributed to less than ten thousand believers. Who would be dissatisfied?

The new recruits didn't know what was going on, but when they saw the expressions of the Veterans, they knew that they had definitely won.

In fact, it was easy to imagine that under normal circumstances, how could they kill hundreds of sea monsters?

The believers were immersed in joy. They were naturally grateful from the bottom of their hearts to Tang Zhen who had brought all of this.

Tang Zhen smiled and nodded. After the believers obtained benefits, they would be even more proactive in participating in battles. This was undoubtedly a good thing.

In order to obtain more battle merits, they would actively participate in Tang Zhen's follow-up plan even if it was very dangerous.

Tang Zhen slowly walked to the front of the temple. After looking around, he finally stopped at a position that was more than a hundred meters away from the temple.

He extended his hand and gently waved it toward the ground. A pit appeared out of thin air. Soon after, Tang Zhen slowly placed the light ball in his hand into it.

The surrounding soil automatically covered the yuan seal. Then, Tang Zhen retreated a few dozen steps and stared at the ground in front of him.

His serious expression immediately made people realize the extraordinariness of the light ball.

The surrounding believers noticed this scene and revealed curious expressions one after another. They did not know what Tang Zhen was going to do.

Because he had continuously displayed methods that were similar to miracles, Tang Zhen's every move at this moment would attract countless gazes.

Just as they were secretly guessing what Tang Zhen was going to do, they felt the ground beneath their feet start to shake.

Soon after, the soil at the spot where Tang Zhen had buried the ball of light suddenly cracked open. Soon after, a young seedling popped out.

The sapling was purplish-red in color, and its surface was covered with red veins that looked like blood vessels that wound around the heart.

It was also like a terrifying monster that had woken up from a deep sleep and was ready to show its ferocious posture.

In addition to its strange shape, there were also stars flashing around the sapling. Unfortunately, there was no night in the God's kingdom, otherwise it would have looked very beautiful.

When the believers saw the sapling that broke out of the ground, all of them had a hint of surprise on their faces. Anyone could see that Tang Zhen's expression was very serious. Could it be that it was just for a sapling?

Or could it be that there was something extraordinary about this sapling that made Tang Zhen treat it with such care?

When they recalled the method that Tang Zhen had used earlier, everyone felt that the possibility of this was extremely high. Hence, they all put down the work in their hands and began to stare at the sapling without blinking.

As expected, what happened next confirmed their guess.

After the sapling broke out of the ground, it expanded rapidly as if it was being inflated. In the blink of an eye, it had already climbed to a height of several meters, and it was still growing.

A similar scene had occurred when Tang Zhen was creating the giant puppet tree. However, he had used a modified seed at that time.

Although the giant puppet tree was magical, it was far from being comparable to this sapling. Other things aside, just the energy consumed to create the seed was at least a hundred times more than the giant puppet tree.

Such a huge investment was enough to prove the extraordinary nature of the sapling, and it was indeed so.

Under the shocked gazes of the believers in the defensive area, the sapling grew rapidly. In just a minute or so, it had grown to a height of tens of meters.

When the height exceeded the city wall, the giant tree began to split, and dozens of branches extended forward like a fan.

As it extended forward, more vine-like branches drooped down. When they came into contact with the soil, they were deeply embedded in the ground.

Then, as if it had taken root, the drooping branches quickly became thick and solid. At first glance, it looked like an elevated bridge, and even driving would not be a problem.

They were like vines that climbed the wall, covering the inner city wall in a grid-like shape, but they cleverly avoided the road areas and did not cause any obstacles.

After covering the inner city wall, the grape-like branches began to spread to the mountain winds on both sides, covering the mountains on both sides at an extremely fast speed.

Then, he saw branches on the peak of the mountain. They trembled slightly like the tentacles of a living creature, but they were bare and without a single leaf.

Just as the branches extended to the mountain and the city wall, the branches on both sides of the mountain crossed the peak and fell into the sea along the rock wall, turning into roots.

The moment these branches entered the ocean, the entire giant tree suddenly trembled, and its entire body began to flash with light.

The blood of the sea monsters that had dissolved in the ocean was absorbed by the branches in the sea, flowing to the main trunk along the blood vessels.

The blood-red waves kept surging over and became clear at a speed visible to the naked eye, as if all the impurities were absorbed by the roots.

The tree trunk, which was already abnormally thick, swelled and grew once again. From the place where the branches split, its height continued to increase.

The tree only stopped growing when it reached a height of several hundred meters. Then, leaves began to grow from the top of the tree.

The leaves were dark purple and looked more like the flesh membrane bone wings of some kind of giant dragon. It was more than twenty meters long.

Below the leaves, bunches of red objects that looked like grapes grew out, and they also swelled up like balloons.

The fruit-like object was covered with dense natural runes that flickered with a mysterious luster.

The moment the fruit appeared, a strange smell wafted through the air. Just one breath of it was enough to make one feel refreshed.

The rune fruit only stopped growing when it reached the size of a water tank, but its fragrance became stronger.

On the other branches, there were also fruits, but they were only the size of a fist.

The number of fruits was uncountable. They grew in places that were within reach, and could be touched with a hand.

Although the fruit smelled extremely sweet, no one dared to reach out to pick it at this moment, for fear that this strange-looking fruit contained poison.

At this time, looking at the 153rd defense area, it had completely changed its appearance. The city walls and mountains were originally barren, but now they were completely covered by giant trees.

When the branches were filled with fruits, the giant tree finally stopped growing, and the believers finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Seeing how the giant tree had grown so quickly just now, they were all secretly worried that this thing would suddenly break and fall down.

At this time, from a very far distance, one could see that the huge and strange tree had completely covered the 153rd defense area.

The fragrance of the fruit filled the air, completely dispelling the bloody smell of the sea monster's corpse.

The believers looked at the scene in front of them in a daze. Other than shock, they didn't know what words to use to describe their feelings.

At that moment, they had witnessed the entire process of the giant tree growing from small to large. It was an experience they had never experienced before.

Although it looked like a giant tree, in their hearts, they felt like they were facing a super life.

Although they were shocked by the growth process of the giant tree, everyone's hearts were still filled with doubt. They could not understand what Tang Zhen wanted to do by creating such a super giant tree.

It wasn't just the believers in area 153 who were confused, even the audience in the other areas were confused.

Although they were shocked by this magical scene, they could not understand why Tang Zhen had created this giant tree.

Only Sun Jun was excited. At the moment when the giant tree was completely formed, he had already guessed the use of the giant tree. His body could not help but tremble.

Chapter 2087 I am a legend (1)

Tang Zhen had already clearly told Sun Jun that all his actions were for the sake of obtaining even more battle merits.

Both the materialization of guns and the release of the seven-colored water pillar were for this purpose.

Now that he had created this giant tree, he must have done it to gain battle merits. Although he did not know how to do it, he just had to be sure of it.

Sun Jun was even more in awe of Tang Zhen's methods. He knew that he was far inferior to him.

To be able to follow such a strong person and work hard for a common goal was something that made people excited.

Tang Zhen stood under the giant tree for a moment. He revealed a satisfied expression before turning to look at Sun Jun.

"Finish cleaning up the beach as soon as possible. Then, bring some people to pick these fruits and throw them all into the ocean.

The fruit had the same principle as the beast lure, but its effect was more than twice as strong. It was a Fatal Attraction to sea monsters.

As for the giant fruits on the top of the tree, you must send someone to keep an eye on them. As long as they exist, the sea monsters will come in an endless stream."

After studying the habits of the sea monsters, Tang Zhen used his ability to create things with his mind to create this special giant tree.

The fruits were bait to attract the sea monsters, and they could grow infinitely. At the same time, the giant tree fed on the sea monsters' flesh and blood, obtaining nutrients for its growth.

The roots that had fallen into the ocean had probably already covered the entire beach, dancing with the waves like seaweed.

The magic of creating things with one's will was far more than this. It was just that Tang Zhen did not go into detail. Sun Jun would slowly find out in the future.

Sun Jun nodded with a hint of excitement on his face.

Tang Zhen's words had confirmed his guess. Although he was not clear about the effects of the fruit, he knew that it would definitely not be too bad after seeing the shocking scene earlier.

"You can also eat these fruits. If you can persist for a long time, it can also improve your ability to resist inner demons.

However, you must control the amount. It's best not to take more than one pill a day. Otherwise, not only will it be of no benefit, but it will also affect your mind and cause hallucinations."

Sun Jun nodded in agreement. This was a good thing. It would be of great help to improve the cohesion of the defense area.

The inner demons produced during cultivation were terrifying. If they could not be effectively eliminated, all their efforts could be in vain at any time.

For cultivators, this kind of item was extremely valuable and could only be found by chance.

The most important point was that every item in the divine Kingdom that could increase one's strength had to be exchanged with Battle Points. Even if the continent was filled with exotic flowers and rare herbs, they were all useless and did not help in increasing one's strength.

But now, they could get one for free every day. For the believers in area 153, it was a good thing that they couldn't find even if they had a lantern.

When the believers knew about it, they would be overjoyed and their loyalty would increase.

With a rich income of war achievements and all kinds of attractive benefits, the chances of betrayal from the believers in the defense area would be lower and lower.

Of course, Sun Jun would not give his followers the chance to betray him. Once he found such a sign, he would definitely interfere without mercy.

Sure enough, when Sun Jun passed down Tang Zhen's order, it attracted another round of cheers from the believers.

Due to their trust in Tang Zhen and their desire to increase their strength, they plucked a fruit without the slightest hesitation and stuffed it into their mouths.

After the Scarlet fruit entered their mouths, the believers immediately showed a look of enjoyment. They did not expect the fruit to not only have a beautiful appearance, but also taste so sweet.

They even felt a sense of happiness in their hearts. It was as if all their worries and worries had suddenly disappeared at this moment.

The believers were surprised. Such a delicious and magical fruit made them subconsciously want to eat another one.

Tang Zhen could not help but shake his head after seeing the eager expressions of those believers. He warned in a cold voice, "These fruits are good medicine when consumed appropriately, but excessive ones are poison. If you don't believe me, you can try it.

However, I have to tell you that after you eat a certain amount, you will completely lose control and desperately want to eat more fruits.

The only solution is to lock you up until the effects of the drug wear off.

The hallucinatory effect would last for a long time, especially after contact with seawater. The state of madness would increase by a hundred times, and there was no possibility of reversal.

After all, the fruit's true use was to lure sea monsters, not for you to eat.

If you don't listen to my advice and consume too much of this fruit, you'll have to bear the consequences!"

Tang Zhen's voice reverberated throughout the entire defense area, causing those restless believers to immediately extinguish the thoughts in their hearts as though a basin of cold water had been poured on them.

Other than a hint of surprise, there was also unconcealable vigilance in their eyes as they looked at the fruits.

They told themselves in their hearts that they had to restrain their greed and not overuse it.

Otherwise, it would be like what Tang Zhen had said. Once he overdosed, he would go crazy and could only be locked in a cage and slowly suffer.

That kind of encounter was simply worse than death, and no one wanted to try it.

After Tang Zhen warned him, he rode the six-winged bird and headed straight for the Grand temple.

This time, he had obtained more than two million battle credits from killing the sea monster, which should be enough to exchange for a large number of memory fragments.

It was extremely important for Tang Zhen to recover his past memories. He would only know where he was headed in the future if he understood where he came from.

Life was the same. Only by looking at oneself clearly could one know what to do next.

With the previous experience, Tang Zhen headed directly to the Grand temple after arriving at the core area.

Compared to the previous time when he was unknown, Tang Zhen's arrival this time immediately attracted the attention of many believers.

The current Tang Zhen had already spread everywhere. Not only did the commanders of the various defensive areas know of his existence, but many believers also had some understanding of him.

On his way to the Grand temple, gazes would fall on him from time to time, and at the same time, many believers he did not know would take the initiative to greet him.

The believers did not mention anything about buying weapons. Everyone knew that it was impossible.

Guns and cannons were like a hen that laid golden eggs. It was a fool's dream to use the same amount of military merits as the golden eggs to buy the hen.

However, it would not be worth it if they paid a higher price. After all, guns and weapons could only increase the efficiency of killing monsters, but they could not help the believers obtain more battle achievements.

Unless they had the same method as Tang Zhen to attract the monsters. With the two of them working together, they would be able to gain Battle Points like how they did in the 153 battle area.

Tang Zhen didn't have much contact with those believers and only gave a simple reply. Then, he communicated with the spiriters in the Grand temple and exchanged all the battle merits he had just obtained for memory fragments.

As his Battle Points were deducted, more than twenty memory fragments appeared in front of him and were directly absorbed by Tang Zhen.

After flipping through the memories that appeared in his mind, Tang Zhen gently heaved a sigh of relief. The expression on his face was slightly complicated.

The memories that he had just obtained were still some trivial matters. They were not of much help to Tang Zhen.

Even Tang Zhen himself did not expect that his nearly hundred years of life would actually be so wonderful.

He even had some doubts. Was such a legendary experience really his past life?

Memories couldn't be faked. It was just that he was in such a hurry that he had forgotten the scenery along the way.

In fact, he had already become a legend a long time ago and was remembered by many people.

Chapter 2088 The meaning of the existence of laws (1)

With regards to Tang Zhen's battle results, the face of the spiritual envoy in the Grand temple was calm and he didn't feel surprised at all.

With Tang Zhen's strength, it would be strange if he was unable to do this.

This matter was enough to prove that the spirit envoy's actions back then were correct. Tang Zhen alone was able to turn a defense area that could be destroyed at any time into safety.

Outsiders like Tang Zhen were like the sharpest blades. They would occasionally do shocking things.

The difference was that the other outsiders were very low-key, and the way they obtained battle merits was different from Tang Zhen's.

Only the spiriters who controlled the Grand temple knew what the outsiders had done and how powerful they were.

Tang Zhen was also very interested in the other outsiders. Now that he had the opportunity, he planned to learn more about them.

After all, there was a high possibility that there were companions among these outsiders, but due to various reasons, they could not communicate with each other.

Hearing Tang Zhen's question, the spiritual envoy didn't hide anything and gave a straightforward answer.

"They're different from you. They didn't join the battle zone to fight the sea monsters. Instead, they went into the deep sea alone to look for the traces of the sea monsters.

You outsiders are too powerful. Even under the suppression of the rules, you still far exceed ordinary believers.

With the acquisition of memory fragments, the outsiders would have more tricks up their sleeves, and their combat strength would also become stronger.

Under such circumstances, the outsiders would naturally choose to take the initiative to attack, so that they could obtain more battle merits faster.

Although they had to bear a certain risk, causing some outsiders to never return, once they succeeded, they would definitely benefit endlessly.

Although the other outsiders can't compare to you in a single battle, the sea monsters they kill are all high-level sea monsters, and one of them is worth 100000 or even a million.

Over time, these outsiders finally obtained enough battle merits and chose to leave."

The spiritualist's answer was within Tang Zhen's expectations. If he had enough time, he would also act alone and enter the deep sea to hunt high level monsters.

However, the fragmented memories told him that there was still a very important matter waiting for him outside. Thus, he definitely could not spend hundreds of years to gain battle merits like other outsiders.

Moreover, in the process of hunting sea monsters, there was a high chance of encountering danger and dying. After all, high-level sea monsters were different from ordinary sea monsters. Some sea monsters were not weaker than him.

Therefore, Tang Zhen decided to adopt a more efficient method. After all, there was strength in numbers. Every time the believer killed a monster, he would also obtain the corresponding battle merits.

By then, the two-pronged approach would definitely bring forward the time of the completion of the plan.

However, he was now facing a big problem, and that was the lack of manpower in the defense area. They could not resist the sea monsters' crazy attacks.

After obtaining some scattered memories, he wanted to create an automatic weapon control system. This way, he could solve the problem of insufficient manpower to a certain extent.

However, the materialization of such an electronic system was not simple. One had to have a deep understanding of the entire set of equipment, and there could not be the slightest deviation in the materialization process.

An ordinary piece of electronic equipment required a lot of knowledge and craftsmanship. Although the energy consumption during the manufacturing process was very low, the difficulty was extremely high.

Even if it was a single circuit board or an electronic component, there could not be the slightest error.

Otherwise, the equipment would not be able to operate normally, and the items that Tang Zhen conjured would only become a pile of scrap iron.

Tang Zhen's memory had not been completely restored. Therefore, he was not confident that he could create it. Even if he could create a substitute, it would basically be a half-biological, half-mechanical structure.

From Tang Zhen's point of view, no matter how ingeniously a semi-mechanical object was made, it was ultimately an inanimate object. It was far from being as convenient as those believers.

"I'm sure you know what's happening in area 153. You also know that countless sea monsters will attack soon.

However, the defensive zone is currently facing a serious shortage of manpower. I wonder if you have any solutions to this problem?"

The spiritual envoy did not directly reply to Tang Zhen's request.

The distribution of believers in the entire God's kingdom was not entirely controlled by the spiriters, but was distributed according to the area that the teleportation portal belonged to.

However, spiriters had the authority to transfer a certain number of believers. Therefore, when Tang Zhen took over as the commander of the 153rd defense area, he had already given him the authority to transfer manpower.

After hearing Tang Zhen's request, the spiritual envoy was silent for a moment before replying, "I've observed the giant tree you conjured. It's indeed extraordinary. Those sea monsters will definitely be unable to resist the temptation.

Although you're doing all this to gain battle merits, as long as you can kill sea monsters, you should be supported.

However, the problem is that my authority is not as great as you think. The last time I allocated manpower for you, it was also allowed by the rules.

If you want more believers, then you can only wait. Forgive me for not being able to do anything.”

Tang Zhen frowned slightly. If this was the case, this matter would be a little difficult to handle.

“I have an idea. We can recruit believers in the city of despair and let them join the 153rd defense area. in that case, the shortage of manpower will be easily solved.”

After hearing Tang Zhen’s suggestion, the spiritual envoy fell into silence.

“If believers want to enter the divine Kingdom, they must go through the initial trial, and then enter the teleportation portal after obtaining a pass.

This is the rule, and it can not be changed!”

Tang Zhen could not help but coldly laugh when he heard this.

“The rules are simply a joke.”

“I think you know what the city of despair is like now. The divine servants there have long betrayed your master and slaughtered his believers like pigs and dogs.

Did they break the rules by doing this? if so, why had no one punished them according to the rules for so many years?

For so many years, how many believers had been wronged and died? who had ever talked about the rules with them?

In this situation, don’t you think it’s a little ridiculous to talk about the rules with me?”

Hearing Tang Zhen’s question, the spiritual envoy fell into silence.

To the spirit envoys who always had the rules in their mouths, Tang Zhen’s words were undoubtedly the greatest mockery.

Tang Zhen did not say anything. He merely coldly looked at the other party while the corner of his mouth carried a mocking smile.

After a while, the spiritualist spoke again.

“I can’t explain some things to you in detail, but the matter in the city of despair was indeed not dealt with in a timely and effective manner. I can’t do anything about it.

Since you’ve mentioned this, I can provide you with some help within my authority.

The city of despair was already under the control of the divine slaves. It would not be easy to restore the order of the past.

But if this situation was allowed to continue, it would definitely affect the replenishment of soldiers in the defense area, causing the Grand temple to be threatened.

So, I will provide you with a batch of passes as compensation for the city of despair. As for who you want to distribute them to, I will not interfere too much.

At the same time, all the believers of the city of despair will be directly summoned to the 153rd defense area, and they will be tested by you.

Before passing the test, the new soldiers were not qualified to obtain military achievements, and at the same time, they had no right to exchange for supplies in the temple.

This is the solution I'm giving you. If you're still not satisfied, then please forgive me for not being able to help you."

Tang Zhen mused for a moment. After which, he gently nodded.

After the spirit emissary made such an arrangement, not only did it solve the problem of the lack of manpower in the defensive area for a night, it also caused a flash of inspiration to appear in Tang Zhen's mind as a vague idea emerged.

It seemed that he could make use of this matter. As long as he could determine the plane of the summoned believers, and then make himself a fanatic believer, would he be able to easily come to area 153?

If that was the case, then this divine Kingdom was undoubtedly the best place for those powerful cultivators who wanted to advance to a higher realm.

However, the precondition was that Tang Zhen had to be able to leave this place. Only then would he be able to calmly arrange everything. Otherwise, everything would just be empty talk.

Chapter 2089 Everything is in place (1)

The matter had already been resolved. Tang Zhen, who had obtained the authority, could do it at any time.

On this point, the spiritual envoy would not interfere too much. As long as he could kill monsters, he would not care even if Tang Zhen had to dry up the ocean.

In fact, it was only because of Tang Zhen's special identity and his miraculous creation ability that the spiritualist felt that he was different from the rest.

If it were any other God's believers, it would be absolutely impossible for them to receive so much special care, even to the extent of treating the defense area as a place of trial.

There was naturally a reason for this. Compared to cultivators of the same level, the Lou Cheng cultivators were stronger and had more means. There was no comparison at all.

This was especially so for top-notch cultivators like Tang Zhen. Each of them had their own special means. No matter where they were, they were destined to not be unknown.

After the matter was settled, Tang Zhen didn't stay any longer. He rode the six-winged bird back to the 153rd defense area.

Just as he was returning to the defense area, Sun Jun had already brought people to pick the fruits, and then poured them down the cliff into the ocean.

Under the sweeping of the waves, these fruits slowly drifted into the deep sea, towards the place where the sea and the sky met.

At this time, the believers were surprised to find that after the fruits entered the water, they immediately underwent a magical change.

They actually grew pectoral and tail fins, and swam quickly in the water like fish. But when they were taken out of the water, the fins on the fruit would quickly disappear.

Everyone didn't understand the principle behind it and could only sigh in their hearts. The things that Tang Zhen made were indeed more and more magical.

However, there were also some believers who were secretly puzzled. Since the sea monsters would go crazy and want to eat more fruits after eating them, how many sea monsters would be attracted by the fruits that flowed into the sea?

How many fruits would he have to put in such a huge ocean?

With the appetite of those sea monsters, even a thousand catties of fruits would not be enough to fill their stomachs, right?

When he heard the doubts of his believers, Sun Jun smiled and turned to look at the giant fruits at the top of the giant tree.

Previously, Tang Zhen had asked him to look after those giant fruits. Sun Jun was still a little confused about the reason. However, he suddenly understood now.

After the fruit came into contact with seawater, its medicinal effects would increase by more than a hundred times. In that case, it would only take one fruit to drive the sea monster crazy, instead of consuming many.

After the sea monsters went crazy, they would try to devour more fruits, but ordinary fruits could no longer satisfy their desires. Only the fruits at the top of the giant trees were the sea monsters' target.

They would come from the deep sea and rush madly to the 153rd defense area to snatch the Super fruits at the top of the giant tree.

As for how the sea monster determined the location, it must have devoured the fruit and formed a spiritual connection with the Super giant tree, which would accurately lock onto the location of defense area 153.

Sun Jun was in awe of such a magical technique.

At this moment, how could Sun Jun not have guessed that Tang Zhen's strength had already far exceeded his imagination? perhaps, he had already reached a point where he could only look up to him in the dust.

His arrival might have been an accident, but to Sun Jun, it was a great opportunity.

To be able to follow such a strong person, even if it was only a short journey, it was enough to benefit him for life.

In fact, after struggling in the divine Kingdom for many years, Sun Jun had also heard many rumors similar to those of super powerhouses. It was said that these people all had extremely terrifying strength, and very few people had seen their true faces.

With their strength, they naturally disdained to stay in the defensive area to hunt sea monsters. Instead, they went deep into the dangerous areas to find more ferocious sea monsters.

Unless one had the ability to enter the vast ocean or the peak of a mountain, one would not have the chance to see the true appearance of these super experts.

Just based on the methods that Tang Zhen had displayed, one could be certain that he was one of the extremely strong. However, for some unknown reason, he did not choose to act alone like the other extremely strong people.

Sun Jun was not interested in the specific reason. To him, this was better, otherwise he would not have the opportunity to follow.

It was also because he realized this that he would do his best to do things and not waste a single second.

Just as he was sighing in his heart, a cry of surprise came from the side, causing Sun Jun to frown.

When he turned around, he found that the branches that had picked the fruits were once again full of fruits, and the number was far more dense than before.

Some believers did not believe in heresy and plucked the fruits that had just borne. The group of people stared at the branches that had been plucked.

Then, new fruits appeared on the bare branches like balloons, and they were growing at an amazing speed.

This time, the whole branch was hung up. From a distance, the mountains on both sides were red, and even the city wall was the same.

“Oh my God, why can’t we pluck all the fruits?”

Seeing this unusual scene, the believers were all surprised and couldn’t help but exclaim.

This giant tree had given them too many surprises. Not only could it be used as a cultivation material, but it could also attract sea monsters. The most important thing was that there was an endless supply of it!

It was amazing just thinking about it!

In the short time since they came to area 153, the believers had experienced too much sorrow and joy. From the initial despair and confusion to the current joy and excitement, they really didn’t know what was waiting for them in the future.

While Sun Jun was arranging for his believers to drop the fruits, he also ordered his men to organize the remaining ammunition and maintain the guns and weapons in order to deal with the sea monsters that could attack at any time.

Therefore, the only thing the believers could do was to pour out as much ammunition as possible to block the attacks of the sea monsters.

If they couldn't do this, then what awaited them was only the destruction of the city and the death of people.

So while they were busy, there were constantly believers entering the temple, using the battle achievements they had just obtained to exchange for supplies, thus increasing their chances of survival.

If he was stingy with his battle credits and did not improve his strength as soon as possible, it was very likely that he would lose his life in this wave of monsters.

In a short time, the 153rd defense area had changed greatly.

Not only was there an additional giant tree that covered the entire defense area, the new recruits had all changed their equipment, and the Veterans even wished they could arm themselves to the teeth.

The defensive zone had also been refreshed. Every believer had a strong fighting spirit on their face and was ready to fight the sea monster.

However, there were also people who were secretly worried. There were not many people in the defense area now. Once someone was injured, there would not even be a substitute member.

Even if no one was injured, once the sea monsters attacked, they would not have a chance to breathe.

If they didn't solve this problem, even if they weren't killed by the sea monster, they would be exhausted to death.

Thus, the need to replenish their manpower had become an urgent problem. Otherwise, once the war came, it would inevitably lead to a series of crises.

Sun Jun had already applied to send more people to the temple, but this kind of thing could not be rushed. After all, those believers had to go through the initial trial before they could have the opportunity to enter the God's kingdom.

Although there were many " novice villages " like the city of despair, and there were many fanatical believers who were summoned to the kingdom of God, the rules must not be changed.

In this regard, the rules of the divine Kingdom were quite strict. They would definitely not choose quality over quantity, and they would send those fanatical believers directly into the defense area.

Perhaps there were some unspeakable difficulties in this, but it also made it impossible to replenish the manpower in time when the defense area was short of manpower.

Sun Jun had been worried about this matter. No matter how good the weapon was, it still needed someone to operate it.

How would he know that Tang Zhen had not only solved the manpower problem, but he had even moved the teleportation gate to the 153rd defense area.

The temple behind the city wall would become a passage to the plane where the fanatical believers lived. After they were summoned, they would appear directly in the 153rd defense area.

In the future, he would not need to worry about a lack of manpower. Instead, he would have to consider how to manage if he had too many people.

Chapter 2090 Temple upgrade (1)

After Tang Zhen returned to the defense area, he first entered the temple and opened the transmission tunnel.

At the same time, he also upgraded the level of the temple. More than two million Battle Points were enough to upgrade the temple by two levels.

In this way, believers could exchange for more resources and continuously improve their own strength.

This move was convenient for the Veterans, as the newcomers were short of money and could only look at it for fun.

It was believed that in order to obtain the right to exchange as soon as possible, these new people would definitely double their efforts and obtain more battle merits.

In fact, this was the Grand temple's plot, so that the believers had no choice but to hunt sea monsters with all their might until they fell.

The activation process was very simple. The Grand temple directly controlled all the subsidiary temples in the defense area. Tang Zhen only needed to follow the steps and he could complete the setting of the transmission channel.

It didn't take long for the teleportation formation to be completed. It covered an area of several dozen square meters, and there were glowing lines and runes everywhere.

The upgrade of the temple was completed at the same time, and the scale was more than doubled. It looked more magnificent, and the Holy aura was more intense.

Tang Zhen took a few glances before walking out of the Great Temple. He was not in the mood to observe too much.

He was not used to an environment full of faith and worship. He felt like he was being fooled.

After leaving the temple, Tang Zhen did not directly climb up the city wall. Instead, he waved his hand and stopped the two wily old soldiers.

"You two, come here for a moment. I have something I need you to do."

After hearing Tang Zhen's greeting, the two old soldiers hurriedly walked over with a trace of excitement on their faces.

Although these guys were slippery, they still had respect from the bottom of their hearts towards true experts.

Tang Zhen's earlier magical performance had already been seen by these old soldiers. They were completely subdued by him.

"Sir Tang Zhen, may I know what instructions you have?"

Tang Zhen softly laughed as he looked at the two of them who were slightly nervous, "There's no need for you to feel so restrained. I have something I need you to do, and this matter must be done as soon as possible.

I'll give you a batch of passes later. You can choose a group of people to enter the city of despair through the newly added teleportation portal in the temple.

When they arrived at the city of despair, they would give the pass to the believers so that they could be teleported here.

I'll tell you a route that will lead you directly to one of the cities in the city of despair, which should be controlled by the believers now.

When you get there, you only need to mention me to the believers, and they will follow you.

You don't need to stay here for too long. Bring as many people as you can and try to find the temple and return as soon as possible.

There are a lot of passes, so I don't think you can distribute them all in a short time.

As for the rest of the passes, you can store them in the city and leave them for other believers who come after hearing the news."

Although the city of despair was now controlled by the remnants of the divine Kingdom, these believers were not weak, and each of them was a genuine spell caster.

With his extraordinary strength and the guns and weapons he carried, the remnants of the kingdom were no match for him.

Therefore, they didn't need to send too many people to complete the mission.

If it wasn't for the fact that he couldn't leave at the moment, Tang Zhen would definitely take action personally and lead his men to clean up the city of despair.

After listening to Tang Zhen's explanation of the mission's details, the two wily old soldiers immediately patted their chests and expressed that they would definitely complete the mission.

After arranging this matter, Tang Zhen then climbed up the city wall and began to replenish the ammunition he had consumed.

The believers who were busy on the city wall once again witnessed Tang Zhen's ability to create things out of thin air. Their eyes were filled with envy that could not be concealed.

At present, all the empty spots on the city wall were already filled with various resources, enough to support their consumption for a long time.

In fact, from the moment the fruit fell into the ocean, sea monsters kept appearing, but they were mostly wild monsters.

Just like what Tang Zhen had said earlier, they seemed to have gone crazy as they charged toward the shore without a care.

After these sea monsters landed, they all stared at the giant fruit behind the city wall. Their eyes were full of greed and nothing else.

Since there weren't many sea monsters, only the machine gunners and snipers were in charge of attacking. It looked very easy.

Unlike the previous situation where the sea monster's corpses piled up on the beach, after the sea monster was killed, a string of tentacle-like things would extend from the sand and stones on the beach and quickly pierce into the sea monster's corpse.

In the blink of an eye, the sea monster's body melted into blood and was then absorbed by the tentacle-like object.

After careful observation, the believers on the city wall confirmed that these tentacle-like objects were the roots of the giant tree.

No one knew when the roots of the giant tree had spread to the beach, but when they thought about how the giant tree had covered the entire defense area, it was normal for it to grow under the beach.

The speed at which the roots devoured the sea monster's corpse was shocking. If this continued, the believers would not even need to clean up the sea monster's corpse.

It was not just the beach, even the ocean was filled with seaweed-like roots, continuously devouring and breaking down the corpses.

This also saved the believers the time to clean up the corpses of the sea monsters. Otherwise, the large number of corpses piled up here would be a threat to the city wall.

If there were a large number of them, the sea monsters could use the corpses as stairs and fly to the city wall in a very short time.

Although sea monsters were constantly attacking, the believers were not nervous at all. In the process of killing sea monsters, they could even chat from time to time.

At the same time, some attentive believers discovered that the number of fruits on the vines on both sides of the mountain peak seemed to be increasing.

The bright red fruits were covered with vines. It almost covered the entire rock wall and looked like it was on the verge of collapse.

did you guys notice what's going on with those fruits? why do I feel like something's wrong? "

On the Fort at the peak of the mountain, a believer spoke to his companion in a doubtful tone, his face full of doubt.

His companion took a look and also felt that something was wrong. He felt that the number of fruits was unbelievable.

Just as they were secretly surprised, the branches covered in fruits suddenly shook like whips and threw the fruits into the sea one after another.

The branches were shaking so hard that the fruits were thrown far away like rain.

After the fruit fell into the ocean, it transformed into fish again and swam away in groups.

If one looked closely, they could even see the movements of these fruits from the city wall. The sea monsters passing by also ignored them.

After the fruits on the branches were shaken clean, it only took a few dozen breaths for them to grow back, making the walls on both sides look red.

The believers who saw this scene could not help but be amazed.

The giant tree's ability to automatically drop bait saved the believers the trouble of picking them. This proved that the giant tree must have its own independent mind.

It was using this method to attract the monsters in the ocean and then devour the corpses as nutrients.

Up until now, the giant tree had not shown any obvious offensive power, but in the eyes of the believers, it must have the ability to attack.

It was only because there were believers hunting sea monsters that the giant tree did not do anything unnecessary. However, if the city wall collapsed, the giant tree would immediately show its terrifying side.

The believers also had a feeling that there was a pair of eyes watching them from behind while they were fighting.

Without a doubt, the source of this special feeling was the Super giant tree behind them.
