

Alternate 2121

Chapter 2121 Arriving in batches _In the blink of an eye, the temple became more and more lively.

Groups of cultivators were teleported over, which scared the believers who were guarding the teleportation array. They didn't know what to do for a while.

Although the fanatical believers never stopped summoning, there was a certain interval between each summoning, and they had never swarmed in like now.

It was as if fanatical believers from a certain plane had gathered in groups and made an appointment to teleport together. If not for the quality of the teleportation array, it would not be able to withstand such frequent teleportation.

In a short period of time, the open space in the temple was filled to the brim, and there was almost no place for them to stay.

After being stunned for a moment, the follower on guard rushed over to fulfill his duty.

"Stop! Who are you?"

A cultivator from Lou Cheng stared at the approaching believers with a cold glint in his eyes and reached for his waist.

As long as something went wrong, he would attack and kill the guarding believers.

The other cultivators of Loucheng were the same. Their battle instincts honed over the years allowed them to deal with the situation calmly even if they were in an unfavorable situation.

Looking at the blade-like gazes and the killing intent that made people's scalps numb, the guarding believers took a deep breath in their hearts, afraid that the evil accomplice would directly attack.

He had already realized that none of the cultivators in front of him were weak. Even a hundred of him would not be a match for them.

Once they started fighting, they would definitely lose their lives.

"Please don't misunderstand. We're all on the same side!"

The believer who was guarding the place quickly shouted and explained everything as fast as he could. Then, he called the cultivators of Lou city who looked confused and asked them to touch the stone tablets next to them.

"Sir Tang Zhen said that you'll understand what's going on as long as you touch the stone tablet."

In the process of explaining, the believer's heart was hanging in the air, for fear that the cultivators' sabers would fall on him.

At the same time that they were on tenterhooks, the follower guarding the place was also very curious. Why did Tang Zhen appear from the teleportation array? what was the relationship between these followers and him?

Could it be that His Excellency Tang Zhen left Scandinavia and brought a group of experts back?

The believer shook his head as the thought came to his mind, feeling that he was overthinking it.

The God nation wasn't tang Zhen's home. How could he come and go as he pleased?

Just as the believers were having wild thoughts, the cultivators of loucheng city had already arrived in front of the stone tablet with a hint of vigilance.

When cultivator Lou Cheng touched the stone tablet, the confusion on his face gradually disappeared, and a sharp aura began to rise from his body.

Cultivator Lou Cheng cupped his fists at the guard and took over the duty of the guard to maintain order at the scene.

With the cultivators of Lou Cheng joining in, the chaotic scene was immediately alleviated and everything became orderly.

Someone was in charge of receiving the newcomers. The rest of the cultivators of loucheng walked out of the temple one after another after touching the stone tablet and receiving the memory transfer.

The memories they obtained were the same, explaining their origins, the overview of the God's kingdom, and the main reasons for entering the God's kingdom.

Although these memories did not belong to them, as long as they knew where they should go, it was much better than having a blank mind.

The discipline that they had developed deep within the marrow flames also allowed them to quickly accept the situation before them. They began to act according to Tang Zhen's arrangements.

Because of Tang Zhen's arrangement, the defense area also sent someone to receive the Lou Cheng cultivators and led them to the 153rd defense area.

No matter how rich the memories were, it was not as real as seeing it with their own eyes. After walking around the 153rd defense area, the cultivators in loucheng knew what they were going to do

Compared to the fanatics from the low-energy world, the strength of the cultivators in loucheng was undoubted. With their participation, hunting sea monsters would definitely be much easier.

However, Tang Zhen's purpose of bringing Lou Cheng's cultivators here was not to let them stay in the defense area to defend, but to take the initiative to go out to sea and hunt for sea monster nests.

Whether it was the warships that were built using local materials or the various weapons that Tang Zhen had brought from Holy Dragon City, they had to be put to the best use.

Sun Jun and the others felt that something was wrong when they saw the large number of cultivators from loucheng. There were too many of them, and they had far exceeded the normal summoning frequency.

In a short while, nearly a thousand cultivators had been teleported over, and the teleportation formation in the temple was still running.

According to the development of this situation, it was estimated that it would not be long before the 153rd defense area was overcrowded.

In particular, the strength of the cultivators in Lou Cheng shocked the Veterans. They had struggled in the divine Kingdom for many years, but they had never had such a strong cultivation.

Since when did the fanatical believers of the low-energy planes become so powerful? this was simply illogical.

The most crucial point was that these fanatical believers of unknown origins seemed to be inextricably linked to Tang Zhen.

“If they are all Tang Zhen’s subordinates, then they are too terrifying!”

The believers had such a thought in their hearts, but they did not care too much. Even if the number of people in area 153 had begun to exceed the number of people, there was no competition between them.

Based on Tang Zhen’s recent performance, the believers were very clear that his goal was the vast ocean.

He had been worried about not having enough people to drive the warship, but with the appearance of the cultivators in loucheng, all the problems were solved.

Just as they had guessed, after visiting area 153, the Lou Cheng cultivators gathered around the warships and began to work together.

Compared to the believers, Lou Cheng’s cultivators were able to control the guns and weapons as if they were their own arms. The believers were amazed.

This situation was enough to prove that cultivators in loucheng must have been in contact with similar weapons and equipment before entering the God’s kingdom.

Previously, they had guessed that the cultivators of Lou Cheng were related to Tang Zhen. Now that they saw this scene, the believers were even more certain of their guess.

How Tang Zhen had managed to do this had also become a topic that the believers were most interested in.

Before they could figure out the real reason, Tang Zhen made another big move.

A horrifyingly large heavy battleship suddenly appeared near defense area 153, once again attracting the attention of other defense areas.

Its huge size and sci-fi style made it difficult for people not to notice it.

Looking at the huge objects that looked like warships, but there was something wrong with them in some ways, the believers began to guess what they were.

“This Tang Zhen is too troublesome. What exactly is he trying to do?”

While they were guessing the use of the heavy battleships, the commanders of the other defense areas secretly shook their heads. Tang Zhen had really caused too many things during this period of time.

Whether it was guns, weapons, or warships, they all set off a wave in God's kingdom.

It was like a giant rock being thrown into a deep well. Before the ripples from before had even dissipated, a new situation had appeared.

Looking at the situation this time, it seemed to be even bigger than the last time. Who knew what kind of changes it would bring to the God's kingdom?

The believers were not blind. They could naturally see that the crazy influx of 'fanatical believers' in defense area 153 was definitely related to Tang Zhen.

It could be said that Tang Zhen was using methods they didn't know to gradually control the 153rd defense area and make it his own territory.

Although they were aware of this, the believers had no right to interfere. After all, the rules of the Grand temple did not have such restrictions.

Even if Tang Zhen established a country, as long as he could kill sea monsters, the Grand temple would not interfere too much.

Chapter 2122 The believers go to sea (1)

It was not easy to operate a heavy warship, and it was even more so for the teroboros 'heavy warship, but not everyone could do it.

After all, this was a product of a high-level technology plane. Without any Foundation, one might not even be able to open the hatch of the warship.

It was especially difficult for the cultivators of loucheng to lift a heavy warship into the sky since they had lost their memories.

Fortunately, the original intention of technological advancement was to provide more convenience to the user. As the crystallization of the terobo people's technology, the heavy warships were the same.

Inside the heavy battleship, there were many devices that were similar to spiritual power control, allowing the controller to control this huge object more easily.

If the operator's mental power was strong enough, even if he was alone, he could make the warship fly.

If it was Tang Zhen who took action, it would still be extremely easy for him to control a huge fleet.

During the decisive battle with the teroboros, he had once used this method to utterly defeat the enemy.

It was precisely because of the existence of this operation method that Tang Zhen would bring heavy warships over instead of some war weapons that required training to operate.

The mental power of Lou Cheng's cultivators was strong enough to control such a heavy warship without much difficulty.

But even so, he still needed time to control it successfully.

Tang Zhen wasn't in a hurry. Instead, he took out the learning materials that he had prepared in advance and left enough time for the Lou Cheng cultivators to explore.

The divine Kingdom's environment was special, and the number of sea monsters was endless. There was no need to rush to earn battle merits.

As the saying goes, "sharpening the knife will not delay the work of cutting wood." He did not want to lead to an unexpected change because of his eagerness for success.

If that was the case, then the loss would outweigh the gain.

Just as the cultivators in Loucheng were getting ready in an orderly manner, the believers from the other defense areas had arrived one after another.

Under the leadership of their commanders, they boarded the warships in their respective defense areas and tried to control the steel beast.

To the believers, the huge warship was full of surprises. They touched the cold guns and weapons, but their hearts were burning.

When he thought about how he was going to drive a warship out to sea and gallop in the nest of sea monsters, he felt a great sense of pride.

With expectations in their hearts, they had motivation during training. It didn't take long for the believers to be able to cooperate and drive the warship forward.

Compared to the heavy warships that flew in the sky, the warships that sailed in the water were obviously easier to operate. If the problem of defense was not considered, only a dozen believers were needed to drive them out to sea.

After a period of familiarization, the believers confirmed that they were already familiar with the operation, and then made a request to set sail.

Although they had already paid the battle credits, whether the warship could leave the port still required Tang Zhen's approval.

However, after some discussion, the believers decided to go out to sea together to ensure their safety.

Although he had seen the scene of a warship hunting sea monsters before, the warship had Tang Zhen commanding it at that time, so it could be said that it was full of confidence.

With Tang Zhen's strength, he would be able to turn danger into safety even if he were to encounter an unforeseen event.

They didn't have such an expert to keep watch, and this was their first time out to sea, so they had to be careful enough.

Under such circumstances, it was the best choice for the believers to gather and go to sea together.

However, Tang Zhen did not allow his believers to wait for too long because there were many orders that appeared while he was away.

The number of docks was limited, and it was impossible to always leave them for the completed warships to occupy, so as not to delay the construction of new warships.

The believers had no choice but to drive the warship away from the dock and stop in the ocean outside defense area 153.

The believers did not waste any time and took this opportunity to practice.

The sight of battleships cruising in the coastal waters was very impressive, making defense area 153 even more lively.

When all the warships were in position, the defense Area Commanders no longer hesitated and impatiently sailed into the deep sea.

The believers in the various defensive areas witnessed this exciting moment through the transmission stone. Their emotions were fluctuating as they watched the dozens of battleships drag the White waves and disappear.

Going from land to sea, from passive defense to active attack, was of great significance to the believers.

If they had the chance, they would love to follow the warship to sea and obtain more military achievements.

Due to the existence of the temple on the ship, the believers on land could see the scenery on the ship at any time, which also saved them from the boredom and loneliness of sailing.

Perhaps they were lucky, but the fleet encountered a sea monster army not long after they set out to sea.

The total number of sea monsters had exceeded a million. It was considered a medium-sized scale, but it was still not to be underestimated.

If it was in the land defense area, it was very likely that the defense area would be destroyed if it was attacked by sea monsters of this scale.

Defense area 153 was an example. In the face of an endless sea monster, even an iron-made defense area would be worn down.

However, for a warship, there was no need to worry about the rear, because the enemy was in all directions.

What the believers had to do was to cast everything aside and attack until the sea monster was completely destroyed.

The warship commanders who had been waiting for a long time were overjoyed. They immediately lined up the warships in a long line according to the previous drill.

In the blink of an eye, a defensive line over ten kilometers long was quickly formed.

These warships were connected from head to tail, and with a command, the cannons on the warships fired in unison, causing waves to surge on the distant sea.

In just one round of attacks, thousands of cannonballs fell into the sea monster army, tearing countless sea monsters into pieces.

The battle had only just begun. As the cannons fired, more and more shells were fired.

When the sea monster army paid a heavy price and finally broke through the blockade line of the cannons, they were greeted by a piece of frozen land.

After witnessing the scene of killing sea monsters on the ice, the commanders of the defense area immediately fell in love with this method of attack and could not wait to try it out.

In the flash of light, white mist rose from the sea near the warship, and the water surface was suddenly completely sealed by hard ice.

The ice raft that was more than ten kilometers long was not particularly eye-catching in the ocean, but for the sea monsters that tried to attack the warship, it was an insurmountable line of death.

The moment they climbed onto the ice surface, they were immediately sprayed with bullets. Their blood quickly formed a River and flowed into the ocean.

With every step it took, countless sea monsters were torn apart, and the White ice slowly turned blood-red.

The scene of the fleet's battle had been broadcasted by the temple on the ship and was seen by the believers in other defense areas.

Compared to the Naval battle commanded by Tang Zhen, the entire battle this time was participated by the believers. It could truly display the power of the warship.

As they watched the believers skillfully harvest the sea monsters, the spectators could finally confirm that the warship that Tang Zhen called a "mobile defense area on the sea" was indeed worthy of its reputation!

Chapter 2123 Unwillingness in my heart (1)

As this was the first time the fleet went out to sea, it attracted the attention of countless believers, and the result did not disappoint them.

The incisiveness of guns and weapons, as well as the exquisiteness of the warship's runic magic circle, all proved the power of this war behemoth.

The power of the battleships working together was even more shocking. The sea monster army of a million was wiped out at a speed visible to the naked eye.

This speed was both shocking and envious. Everyone knew that after this battle, the members of the fleet would make a fortune.

The result of the battle was as expected. The sea monsters were finally wiped out, and even the sea monster leader was blown into pieces by the Cannonball.

!!

The victorious believers cheered loudly, then quickly cleaned up the battlefield and ambitiously sailed deeper into the ocean.

After seeing Tang Zhen commanding the warship and harvesting tens of millions of Battle Points, how could these commanders of the defense areas be satisfied with the harvest in front of them?

He believed that it would not take long for these believers to encounter more sea monsters, and they might even order runic missiles.

If the nest of the sea monster was really destroyed, it would definitely cause an even greater shock. By then, it was estimated that more believers would be interested in entering the sea.

.....

The huge battle affected countless people. The believers in the various defensive areas watched from the beginning to the end. Only when the last sea monster was killed did they slowly heave a sigh of relief.

It could be said that they would never get tired of watching such battles. The believers wished that they could be on a warship and hunt sea monsters without any restraint.

The discussion that was triggered by this spread throughout the entire divine Kingdom. Even some of the strong believers began to pay attention to this information.

Before the appearance of warships, the deep sea had always been their hunting ground. But now, even the most ordinary believers were qualified to enter the deep sea to obtain military achievements.

The strong believers were extremely disgusted with Tang Zhen, the initiator. They always felt that Tang Zhen was snatching the battle merits from them.

Although the number of sea monsters was endless, they were not everywhere. If they happened to encounter the fleet, it was inevitable that there would be disputes over it.

Although the believers of the deep sea had extraordinary abilities, the power of the warship was really shocking, especially the rune missile that destroyed the nest of the sea monsters in one blow. It was not a terrifying weapon that they could fight against at all.

If they were to fight the battleships, they might not be able to guarantee victory. They might even be turned into meat paste before they could even get close.

Unconsciously, defense zone 153, which was originally a high-risk defense zone that no one cared about, gradually became the focus of the entire God's kingdom.

.....

After the battle began, the believers in area 153 naturally witnessed the entire process.

Compared to the excited spectators, they felt a sense of honor.

The formation beasts that could crush sea monsters were produced in area 153. They were involved in many of the processes.

It was because of their hard work that the magnificent sight of the warship crossing the ocean could be seen, so they were also honored at this moment.

Compared to the excited believers, the Lou Cheng cultivators were calm. They had seen this scene countless times.

Their hearts had long been tempered, and even if they lost their memories, they could still remain calm.

After a few glances, the cultivators of Lou Cheng continued with their work. They were more concerned about their task than watching the show.

It was not easy to enter the divine Kingdom. If he did not seize the opportunity to improve his strength, wouldn't it be a waste of time?

It wouldn't take long for them to enter the deep sea to hunt monsters like the believers.

With the departure of a large number of battleships, area 153 was no longer as chaotic as before, but the hustle and bustle did not decrease at all.

New warships needed to be built. This time, not only were there orders from the other defense areas, but also a large number of cultivators in Lou Cheng city.

However, Tang Zhen didn't need to make the hull himself. The cultivators in Lou Cheng could complete it for him.

This was the advantage of having a group of strong subordinates. They didn't need to do everything by themselves and only needed to command.

Other than building warships, Tang Zhen also placed the ammunition production line in the cave and sent a group of believers to learn how to build it.

If Lou Cheng was in charge of this task, it would be a waste of talent, but it was a good thing to let the believers do it.

Compared to hunting sea monsters, this job was safer and had a more stable income.

From the moment the production line was completed, they began to earn military credits with their skills, just like the craftsmen in the hinterlands.

Tang Zhen's actions could be considered as giving the ordinary believers a way out. Otherwise, if they fought with their lives on the line all day long, they might end up losing their lives at any time.

As for the raw materials for making ammunition, they could also be exchanged with military credits, saving him the trouble of looking for them everywhere.

After the ammunition was produced, it would be sent to the temple to be exchanged for the corresponding battle merits.

If the believers needed it, they could exchange for it through the temple on the ship. The operation process was simple and convenient.

Only after this step was completed could Tang Zhen's previous arrangement be considered complete. The warships that were sold would not need to worry about ammunition supplies.

After dealing with the ammunition production line, Tang Zhen first checked the battle credit income and then left for the Grand temple.

Compared to the busy days before, he was much more relaxed now, but his battle credits had increased.

With the entry of the cultivators in loucheng, there were many things that Tang Zhen did not need to participate in. He only needed to sit back and collect the battle achievements.

One must know that he would have a share of the battle merits obtained by every cultivator in the defensive area. If hundreds of thousands of cultivators in the loucheng area were to kill sea monsters, Tang Zhen's profit would be quite amazing.

This was also in line with his original plan, which was to let the believers help him earn military achievements, while he would free himself to do other things.

This way, there would be no delays and he could even obtain more battle achievements, so why not?

After riding the six-winged bird to the temple, Tang Zhen covered his face to avoid meeting those believers who took the initiative to talk and waste his time.

After entering the Grand temple, Tang Zhen summoned the spiritualist and prepared to ask some questions related to the indigenous gods.

Ten years was too short for him to obtain the expected benefits. He had to find a way to extend the time.

However, he had no right to change the cornerstone platform's decision. After all, compared to the battle zone rankings, a divine Kingdom was nothing.

Tang Zhen was sure that as long as the foundation stone platform of the fifth battle area was willing, it would not take long for it to level the entire God Kingdom.

The Warzone rankings would begin in ten years, and the cornerstone platform had given him a time limit of ten years. Clearly, it was certain that he could raze Scandinavia to the ground in a short time.

Under such circumstances, if Tang Zhen did not think of a way to save the God nation, the destruction of the God nation would be a foregone conclusion.

Actually, with Tang Zhen's identity, he should not have participated in this matter. He only needed to stay for ten years in peace and then take the initiative to leave.

However, this was related to the future development of the sacred dragon battle zone. He really did not want to miss such an opportunity. What the fifth battle zone did not care about, Tang Zhen did not necessarily care.

If they could make use of this opportunity to obtain more benefits, then when the battle zones were re-ranked, the Holy Dragon battle zone might be able to gain a bit of a victory.

Chapter 2124 Full of danger (1)

The spirit envoy seemed to have known that Tang Zhen would come. The moment he entered the Grand temple, the spirit envoy actually appeared on his own.

This was a treatment that the other believers had never received before. From this, it could be seen that the spiritualist valued Tang Zhen not because of him, but because of the things he had done.

It could be said that with Tang Zhen's arrival, Scandinavia had become unusually lively. The things he had done had almost completely changed the structure of Scandinavia.

The spirit envoy would definitely pay close attention to such a powerful outsider who liked to stir up trouble.

Therefore, as soon as Tang Zhen entered the Grand temple, the spirit envoy took the initiative to meet him because there were some things that he had to figure out.

!!

No matter how big the matter was, as long as they could kill the sea monster, the spiritualist could let it be.

However, if Tang Zhen's existence endangered Scandinavia, then the spirit envoy would have to fulfill his duty and do his best to eliminate the hidden danger.

In the eyes of the spiritualist, Tang Zhen was currently a hidden danger.

With the appearance of the spiriters, the surrounding space was completely isolated, and outsiders could not detect the movements here at all.

Tang Zhen laughed softly. If he did not receive such treatment during this trip, he would instead feel that something was wrong.

This time, without waiting for Tang Zhen to speak, the spirit envoy spoke first, "Sir Tang Zhen, there are some things that you need to explain. This is your right and it will also be convenient for me to make a judgment and decision."

This sentence was not polite. It was just short of telling Tang Zhen that he already knew what he had done.

If Tang Zhen's answer wasn't able to satisfy the spirit envoy, then what awaited him might be the punishment of the Grand temple.

Compared to the previous conversations, the spirit envoy had a business-like attitude as if Tang Zhen was an ordinary believer.

Tang Zhen didn't care at all. One had to know that spiriters weren't living beings. They didn't even have any emotions and only faced everything objectively.

Right was right, wrong was wrong.

This was the characteristic of energy life forms. Compared to life forms of flesh and blood, they were more efficient in doing things, but also more ruthless and indifferent.

If he were to talk about friendship with an energy life form, it would definitely be an extremely childish thing to do, unless the other party was a special energy life form like the cornerstone platform.

Over the long years, the cornerstone platform had emotions that were similar to flesh and blood, and it was easier to communicate.

However, based on the level of the divine Kingdom, the spiritualist would definitely not reach that level. The only thing that Tang Zhen was satisfied with was that he was flexible enough.

As long as you could convince the spiritualist with a reason, you would be able to gain his approval and provide help as the rules allowed.

The spirit envoy nodded, indicating for Tang Zhen to continue.

with your ability, you must have found out that I left the divine Kingdom and then returned through the teleportation formation, right? ” that's right. This is one of the things I want you to explain. You can answer it first.

The spiritualist nodded. He did know about this, but it was also something that puzzled him.

With Tang Zhen's ability, it wasn't difficult for him to leave the divine Kingdom. This also did not violate the rules.

First of all, Tang Zhen wasn't a fanatic. Moreover, he had entered the God's kingdom by mistake. If he wanted to leave, the God's messenger had no right to stop him.

If they used abnormal means to leave and then died because of an accident, they could only admit that they were unlucky.

After all, as long as they paid enough battle credits, they could leave the God's kingdom normally without taking any risks.

Of course, under normal circumstances, a super expert like Tang Zhen, who had mistakenly entered a God Kingdom, would definitely not leave.

This was because there was an opportunity to advance in God Country. To a cultivator like Tang Zhen, it was extremely tempting. It was impossible for him to give it up easily.

Tang Zhen had forcefully left the divine Kingdom and then returned. He definitely had a plan.

Of course, this point alone could not be used as a reason to doubt Tang Zhen.

The problem was that the teleportation formation in area 153 was operating crazily, and a large number of cultivators were being teleported here. Their strength was so strong that it didn't make sense.

Moreover, Tang Zhen had also returned through a teleportation array. Therefore, one only needed to think for a moment to know that this matter was definitely related to him.

Those powerful cultivators were not fanatical believers at all, and it was very likely that they were his subordinates.

This was what the spirit envoy was most worried about.

If this situation was allowed to continue, perhaps it would not be long before the 153rd defense area was completely controlled by Tang Zhen.

It was only at this moment that the spiritual envoy realized that Tang Zhen's earlier request to transfer the teleportation array and let the believers directly enter the 153rd defense area was only to pave the way for what they were going to do next.

It could be said that the spirit envoy had fallen into Tang Zhen's scheme from the very beginning. Even if the spirit envoy did not have strong emotions of joy and anger, she still felt uncomfortable.

However, this was still not the key to the problem.

In fact, as long as Lou Cheng's cultivators killed sea monsters, he wouldn't interfere too much whether they were fanatics or not.

The purpose of summoning fanatical believers was to hunt sea monsters. Compared to ordinary people who were casually summoned, fanatical believers were more trustworthy.

Lou Cheng's cultivators were powerful and more efficient in their actions, far superior to the fanatics in this aspect.

But the real problem was that the temple encouraged the killing of sea monsters to ensure the stability of the God's kingdom.

The spiriters were worried that without the restraint of faith, the cultivators of Loucheng would become the new cancer of the divine Kingdom, or even cause greater harm.

Therefore, if Tang Zhen couldn't give him a reasonable explanation today, the spirit envoy would find a way to close the teleportation array and completely cut off the passage for the cultivators in Loucheng to enter the God Kingdom.

Tang Zhen continued, "the reason why I left Scandinavia was that I realized that it was too inefficient to hunt sea monsters. Even promoting warships wouldn't work."

My goal in coming here is to obtain enough battle credits to increase my strength, but with just those believers, God knows how many years it would take to accumulate ten billion battle credits.

It just so happens that my subordinates are strong enough, so I brought them over to help me earn battle merits and improve my subordinates' strength at the same time.

Of course, the biggest beneficiary was still the God Kingdom. The more battle merits the temple paid, the more sea monsters would be killed.

I know what you're worried about. You're afraid that my men will pose a threat to God's kingdom, but that will never happen.

We're here for battle achievements, not to cause trouble. You can rest assured about this."

The spirit envoy was silent and only looked at Tang Zhen quietly.

The spiritual envoy didn't believe Tang Zhen's promise. If the benefits were high enough, nothing was impossible.

Tang Zhen was naturally clear of the spirit envoy's thoughts. It was impossible for him to make the spirit envoy believe him with just a few words of promise.

There was no need for him to make the spiritualist believe only him. He just wanted to tell the spiritualist a fact and let him understand that he wasn't the one who needed to worry.

"There's one thing I need to tell you. A force that you can't resist has its eyes on you.

in ten years, they will attack scandinavia. they are no match for scandinavia's current strength."

Upon hearing Tang Zhen's words, the Oracle's face revealed a trace of surprise before he gently shook his head.

"Since you know about this, then I'm sure that the force that's been eyeing Scandinavia is related to you, right?"

"You're right. I'm a member of that force, so I know this information." Tang Zhen nodded.

There's one more thing you must know.

It was I who helped Scandinavia gain ten years of buffer time. Otherwise, it wouldn't be me who appeared in front of you now, but a group of Supreme powerhouses who tried to destroy Scandinavia!"

Chapter 2125 A showdown _Tang Zhen wasn't exaggerating to scare people, but the truth was as such.

His current cultivation level was at the third realm of the realm Lord, only a step away from the creator level. Once he completed the advancement, he would be able to officially open up a world in his mind.

This might seem powerful, but in the 5th battle area, it was nothing.

There were many cultivators who were more powerful than him. When he was conquering the demonic plane, six masters of creation appeared at once.

This was due to the limitations of the mission and did not require too many experts to act. Otherwise, Tang Zhen would not find it strange even if ten or twenty of them were to appear at once.

Of the 3000 battlefields in the world of loucheng, the fifth battlefield was ranked in the top five because of its true ability. It was an achievement that was achieved with one saber and one spear.

The number of experts they possessed might have far exceeded Tang Zhen's imagination.

It would be a piece of cake for the powerful fifth battle area to destroy a God Kingdom built by a native God.

Perhaps they didn't even need to send out a large force. They only needed to send out a few hidden experts and they could easily destroy the God nation!

After hearing Tang Zhen's story, the spiritual envoy fell into silence.

Tang Zhen had openly revealed his identity. Moreover, he was representing the enemy. This kind of behavior was equivalent to issuing a letter of challenge.

If it was a normal living being with flesh and blood, it might feel angry because of this and vent its anger on Tang Zhen.

However, the spiritualist didn't care about this. Instead, he thought about the problem rationally and analyzed the possible consequences of this matter.

It was impossible for Tang Zhen to deliberately scare him and use this matter to threaten him. There was a limit to the severity of his lies. It was absolutely impossible for him to speak without thinking.

Especially for this kind of thing, it was easy to determine whether it was true or not.

The most crucial point was that the spirit envoy believed what Tang Zhen had said.

This was because he had secretly retrieved Tang Zhen's memory fragments. Through the contents of the memory, the spirit envoy knew of the existence of the world of loucheng.

As for what he had said earlier, that spiriters had no right to access the memories of their followers, it was just a lie.

It was related to the safety of the divine Kingdom, so it was not a big deal to transfer some memory fragments.

Of course, the prerequisite was that they had to take precautions. Otherwise, if the inner demons in the memory fragments were released, it would cause unpredictable danger.

When the spiritual envoy was reading Tang Zhen's memory fragments, she was almost hurt by her heart demon and even now, she still had a lingering fear.

The spiritual envoy was shocked by the power of the world of loucheng, but at the same time, she was worried. Would this powerful force set its eyes on Scandinavia?

The spirit emissary had once thought of killing Tang Zhen to prevent him from exposing the information here after he left the God nation.

Originally, there was nothing between them, but after he took the initiative to attack, the enmity would be officially formed.

The spiritualist was hesitant and didn't know what to choose.

In the end, just as the spiritual envoy was prepared to continue observing, Tang Zhen suddenly left the God Kingdom and returned.

Only then did the spiritualist realize that things had completely gone out of control.

Although the news that Tang Zhen had brought back was shocking, it was within the spirit envoy's expectations. She knew that it would happen sooner or later.

In the face of such a crisis, the spiritualist had his own means to deal with it. However, even the spiritualist was not sure if he could survive the crisis.

His duty was to be responsible for the normal operation of the God's kingdom. If possible, he would try to avoid such a crisis.

Thinking up to here, the spirit envoy asked Tang Zhen, "as an enemy, you should keep this a secret. Since you're telling me this, you must have a plan, right?"

Tang Zhen smiled.

"It's not a secret. It's only been ten years. Even if I don't tell you, what will come will come sooner or later.

I don't have any ulterior motives. I just don't want Scandinavia to be destroyed like this, as that would be the greatest loss to me.

So, if possible, I'll try my best to avoid such a thing from happening, and thus obtain long-term benefits."

Tang Zhen's tone became much more solemn when he said this, however, it is not an easy task to solve this crisis. What the fifth battle area wants is related to the sleeping gods in the God Kingdom.

If you can hand over the items needed by the fifth battle area, this crisis can be easily solved, and I will do my best to help.

Otherwise, the fifth battle area would not give up. After ten years, the powerhouses of the fifth battle area would come to take it personally.

Taking the initiative to hand over the goods and the fifth battle area coming to get it themselves are two completely different concepts. I think you should be very clear about this point."

After Tang Zhen finished speaking, he quietly looked at the spiritual envoy.

He had already said what he needed to say. As for what choice the spiritualist would make, he had no right to interfere now.

However, if the spirit envoy attacked him, Tang Zhen would definitely make the other party regret it. He had a 50% chance of razing the Great Temple to the ground and then let the sea monster break through the defense area and enter.

The rune missile that could destroy a sea monster's nest and the giant beast lure tree in defense area 153 were all his trump cards to deal with the spiriters.

Being able to negotiate with a spirit envoy face to face, Tang Zhen would naturally be well-prepared and would not let himself easily fall into danger.

The conversation had reached the most critical moment. Whether to fight or cooperate depended on what the spiritualist would choose Next.

While Tang Zhen was waiting, the spiritual envoy slowly spoke.

“The purpose of my existence is to be in charge of the operation of the divine Kingdom and to ensure the safety of my master.

I’m sure you’ve already guessed that the purpose of summoning believers is to clear the endless sea monsters.

They were the mutated bodies of their master, and under the influence of the divine Kingdom’s rules, they would turn into sea monsters.

If it was not controlled, once the sea monster entered the core of the Grand temple, it would pose a fatal threat to its master.

However, I didn’t have many methods to deal with external threats.

Master left me with a strong outer shell, but as time passed, the outer shell slowly became weak and damaged.

“The crack you entered before is proof of this. The divine Kingdom is slowly collapsing, and even I can’t stop it from repairing itself.

Unless my master awakens again, this situation will continue until the entire God’s kingdom completely collapses.

The fifth battle area wants my master’s items, but those items are just as important to my master. If I give them to the fifth battle area, perhaps my master will never wake up.

If that’s the case, what’s the difference between that and the destruction of a God nation?”

Tang Zhen shook his head.

hand over those items, and the divine Kingdom can continue to exist. There is also a possibility that your master will awaken again.

If you don’t hand over those items, the divine Kingdom will be destroyed, and your master will be reduced to ashes.

It’s not difficult to make a choice, but the process is a bit difficult. Of course, the final choice is in your hands.

If you insist on going against the fifth battle area, then I have nothing to say.

In the next ten years, I will do my best to clear out sea monsters. When the deadline comes, I will lead my men out of God’s kingdom.

As for whether or not you can withstand the fifth battle area’s attack, that will depend on your luck.

However, what I want to say is that in the face of absolute strength, there is no such thing as luck!"

Tang Zhen gently waved his hand when he spoke until this point. The energy that sealed the space immediately disappeared without a trace.

Just as he turned around to leave, the voice of the spiritualist rang in his mind.

I'll consider your suggestion. The next time you come to the Grand temple, I'll give you a clear answer.

Tang Zhen gently nodded his head. Soon after, he unhurriedly walked out under the gaze of the spiritual envoy.

Chapter 2126 Another invitation (1)

After leaving the Grand temple, Tang Zhen was ready to return to the 153 defense area.

After returning to the defense area for a while, he would enter the deep sea again to find the nest of the sea monsters.

The situation was changing rapidly. Tang Zhen had to seize the time to obtain more battle merits and strive to become a creator as soon as possible.

It was impossible for the cultivators in loucheng to gather 10 billion battle achievements in a short period of time with the Commission they got from killing sea monsters. Therefore, Tang Zhen had to take the initiative to attack.

There were countless sea monsters in the deep sea. As long as Tang Zhen was willing to spend time, it was not too difficult to obtain battle merits.

The number of cultivators in loucheng had already exceeded the number of believers in defense area 153, and the number was still increasing.

With their presence, there shouldn't be any problems.

This was only the beginning. According to Tang Zhen's plan, at least one million cultivators had to be teleported to recover the cost of this arrangement.

In the future, whether to continue increasing the number of cultivators in loucheng would depend on the situation. If there were no accidents, there would be more cultivators in loucheng.

In addition to the Holy Dragon battle zone, the fifth battle zone would also have believers teleported over. However, according to Tang Zhen's guess, the number of believers would definitely not be comparable to the Holy Dragon battle zone.

The cultivators from Lou Cheng who were teleported here were probably experts of similar cultivation level to him, and they were here to break through to the next realm.

They would definitely not be like him, using the divine Kingdom as a place for cultivators to improve their cultivation. Even King level cultivators were qualified to enter.

The existence of a large number of cultivators also allowed Tang Zhen to completely control the 153rd defense area. If there were any changes, it was equivalent to controlling a powerful Army.

From now on, the other defense areas no longer had the qualifications to be mentioned in the same breath as defense area 153. No matter how many battle merits Tang Zhen obtained, they could only be envious.

If they wanted to come up with some conspiracies, they had to first measure their own strength. Just the number of cultivators in the one million buildings was enough to make those believers tremble in fear.

Of course, the premise of all this was that Jian Li had to fulfill the agreement in the temple. He could still use his battle achievements to exchange for an increase in strength.

The possibility of this matter going awry was extremely low. After all, this was the rule of the divine Kingdom and could not be easily changed.

If there was really an accident, Tang Zhen would lead a million cultivators to directly attack the Grand temple and dig out the sleeping native God from the ground.

At the same time, he would open up the defense line and use the beast luring fruit to attract tens of millions of sea monsters, making them the vanguard.

If tens of millions of sea monsters and millions of cultivators went straight to the hinterland of the divine Kingdom, the spiriters would probably go crazy.

How the situation would develop in the future depended on the choice of the spiritualist.

Of course, before the results were out, it was still too early to say anything. Tang Zhen would definitely not delay his action because of this matter.

Just as he was deep in thought, someone suddenly blocked his way.

“Sir Tang Zhen, how have you been?”

Tang Zhen frowned. He had already concealed his appearance, yet the other party was still able to recognize him. Clearly, they had come prepared.

He had to be extra careful with this kind of uninvited person. Who knew if the other party had any ill intentions?

He looked up and found that the other party’s aura was somewhat familiar, but he couldn’t remember who it was.

Tang Zhen felt a little helpless in his heart. The laws of this divine Kingdom were truly annoying. As long as one entered it, one’s memories would be forcefully erased. It was simply impossible to guard against it.

Even though he had tried everything he could when he returned, he still couldn’t avoid this situation.

This also led to many inconveniences. If he had not exchanged for a special eyeball from the scales of fate and recorded enough information, he would not have been able to complete a series of arrangements in a short time.

He couldn't remember who the cultivator in front of him was, but from the tone of the other party, it was obvious that they had come into contact before.

The problem was that the sense of familiarity didn't make him feel close. Instead, it made him feel a faint sense of vigilance

This was especially so for the other party's cultivation, which was actually on par with his. This was the first time Tang Zhen had seen such a thing in his divine Kingdom.

With similar strength, it meant that they could pose a threat to him. When facing such a stranger, it was never too much to be careful.

this guy probably has other intentions. It's better to be more vigilant.

A cold glint flashed across Tang Zhen's eyes after he realized this point.

If the other party was really an enemy, then it might affect his plan, and perhaps he could kill him first?

The one who attacked first would gain the upper hand, and the one who attacked later would suffer. There was no mercy to be spoken of to the enemy.

Compared to the confusion he felt when he first entered the divine Kingdom, Tang Zhen, who entered the divine Kingdom again, had already stored a lot of text information in his eyeball.

The information told Tang Zhen that not only were there cultivators in the kingdom, but there were also his enemies.

A master of the demonic plane had also entered the divine Kingdom. Perhaps he was hiding in a dark corner, planning how to get rid of him.

The other party was a creator. Although he might not possess the ability to create things as easily as Tang Zhen and was not as terrifying under the suppression of the divine Kingdom's rules, he was still a formidable opponent of Tang Zhen.

However, from another perspective, the rules of this divine Kingdom could also provide Tang Zhen with help. In the outside world, Tang Zhen might not be a match for a controller, but that might not be the case in the divine Kingdom!

Tang Zhen secretly sneered when he thought of this. Perhaps, this believer in front of him was the minion of his enemy.

Since the other party wanted to cause trouble, he would play with them this time and see who would win.

"Sir, what's the matter with blocking the way?"

Tang Zhen asked in a cold voice as he looked at the cultivator in front of him. Although he had a mask covering his face, the other party could still feel a trace of dissatisfaction.

An appropriate performance could lower the other party's vigilance and make the plan more successful.

The believer laughed and explained in a low voice, "Last time, I mentioned to you that I found a nest of sea monsters in the deep sea and invited you to join me in clearing it.

So much time has passed, I wonder if you've thought it through, are you willing to move together?"

After the believer finished speaking, he looked at Tang Zhen without blinking. Clearly, he was waiting for his reply.

"Sea monster Lair gathering place?"

Tang Zhen mused for a moment before gently nodding his head, "I've thought about it. I can give it a try."

Seeing Tang Zhen nod his head in agreement, the believer's heart was filled with joy as he hurriedly shouted, "With Sir Tang Zhen's help, this operation is almost certain. At that time, we'll definitely earn hundreds of millions of Battle Points.

Time waits for no man. In order to avoid moving the sea monster's nest, please make the arrangements as soon as possible and we'll try to act as soon as possible."

Looking at the other party's expression, he seemed to be a little impatient, as if the president of the war glory Guild had lost his wings.

The other party's behavior made Tang Zhen even more certain that this cultivator did not have good intentions.

Perhaps what awaited him was not a sea monster nest, but a well-arranged trap, waiting for him to fall into it.

Although he was sneering in his heart, Tang Zhen said, "I've already taken care of my business. If possible, I can set off now.

"In that case, Sir Tang Zhen, please follow me."

After the believer finished speaking, he immediately turned around and led the way, heading straight to the place where the six-winged birds were resting.

our companions who participated in this operation have already arrived in the deep sea region. We only need to rush to the scheduled location and meet them.

That cultivator explained. Tang Zhen gently nodded his head, but a trace of coldness appeared on his face behind the mask.

Chapter 2127 Black pupils (1)

Although the other party tried his best to cover it up, Tang Zhen was already certain that this fellow in front of him, who did not come personally, definitely did not have good intentions.

When Tang Zhen agreed to act together, the other party's joy was not fake. However, the moment he turned around, his eyes instantly changed.

Tang Zhen saw a trace of joy and a faint killing intent in his eyes.

The fact that he was able to see this scene was related to his special eyes. Even though the other party had turned his back, his face still appeared in front of Tang Zhen's eyes.

It was as though as long as Tang Zhen was willing, the other party's face would be locked on, making it convenient for Tang Zhen to observe the changes in his expression.

Tang Zhen did not know about this special ability before this. At this moment, he had unintentionally discovered it and it was a pleasant surprise.

In the future, as long as he wanted to, he could lock onto his target silently and observe their reactions in the dark.

Without realizing that he was being watched, some of his thoughts might be revealed.

This ability could not be considered to be too strong. However, Tang Zhen believed that its use would definitely not be limited to this.

It seems that I'll have to study the functions of this eyeball more when I have time in the future. Who knows when it might come in handy.

After making up his mind, Tang Zhen once again looked at the believer who was leading the way.

The two of them did not have any enmity in the divine Kingdom, but the other party had killing intent towards him, which could only mean that there had been some grudges before.

Tang Zhen's biggest suspect was the demonic plane's master, who had escaped into the crack and escaped the pursuit of the cultivators in Loucheng.

I didn't go to find trouble with you, but you schemed against me instead. You really don't know what's good for you!

Tang Zhen sneered in his heart. If this was outside, he might be a little afraid. However, in the divine Kingdom, a creator-level expert was nothing much.

At the very least, Tang Zhen could be sure that even a creator would be affected by the rules of the world if he entered the divine Kingdom.

This was the suppression of the realm, and there was no way to resolve it unless one's strength surpassed the native gods.

Under such a situation, as long as Tang Zhen was sufficiently prepared, he might be able to kill the other party.

However, since he was a creator, he would definitely have sufficiently powerful means. Tang Zhen would definitely not let his guard down.

Especially in this situation where he was taking the initiative to enter the enemy's nest, the slightest carelessness would put him in danger. Who knew what the other party had up their sleeves?

"By the way, what's your name?"

Tang Zhen suddenly asked after walking for a distance.

you can call me blackpupil, Your Excellency. Of course, that's not my original name, because the name of a believer has no meaning.

Tang Zhen laughed softly when he heard the other party's explanation. He did not say anything.

If the other party dared to say his real name, Tang Zhen would be able to deduce some things and even secretly cast a spell to plot against him.

It was just that this kind of method was not presentable. If it was noticed by an expert, it could be easily resolved.

It didn't take long for the two of them to arrive near a field where six-winged birds could be seen curled up on tree stumps.

According to the Grand temple's rules, once they reached a certain level, these six-winged birds could be used on land for free.

However, if they were to head to the deep sea, they would have to pay a certain price. The further the distance, the higher the cost.

To a cultivator like Tang Zhen, this expenditure was nothing.

If he did not ride the six-winged bird, it would be extremely difficult to travel in the vast ocean.

Although they could fly in the air for a short time, it would consume a lot of energy, and it would be extremely dangerous if they encountered an Army of sea monsters.

Therefore, even the most powerful people would choose the right means of transportation when they entered the deep sea. Even a piece of broken wood would be of great value at the critical moment.

The believer who was guarding the six-winged bird received them. When he heard that they were going to the deep sea, his attitude immediately became much more respectful.

Any believer who dared to go to the deep sea was not weak, and ordinary believers would not easily offend them.

"Normal six-winged birds can't fly in the deep sea, but the six-winged bird King can do it easily. It can fly a thousand miles without a problem.

However, the cost of a six-winged bird King far exceeds that of a normal six-winged bird. If you two are willing, I can take you there now."

The believer named blackpupil nodded. No matter how many battle achievements he had to spend, it would be much better than wasting time on the road.

Seeing that Tang Zhen and the other two had no objections, the believer immediately led the way forward. It didn't take long before they arrived at a garden full of flowers.

More than a dozen six-winged birds were resting there. They were more than twice the size of ordinary six-winged birds, and their agile eyes flickered with a dangerous aura.

After seeing Tang Zhen and the other two, these six-winged bird Kings glanced at them before lowering their heads and continuing to peck at the berries on the ground.

"These are the six-winged bird Kings. You can choose one each and let them leave on their own when you arrive at your destination.

as for the points used, the grand temple will automatically record it and deduct it from your points."

As he spoke, the believer took out two more saddles from the side and handed them to Tang Zhen and blackpupil.

Tang Zhen carried the saddle in his hand and slowly walked to the front of the six-winged bird Kings. As a result, the moment he got close, the six-winged bird Kings immediately stood up and stared at Tang Zhen with fierce eyes.

Clearly, this six-winged bird King had a very strong sense of territory. It was filled with deep hostility towards strangers like Tang Zhen.

Even though their duty was to serve as mounts, they still had a contemptuous attitude towards the weak believers.

"These six-winged bird Kings are proud. If you're not strong enough, you won't be able to force them to submit.

I also saw that the two of you are quite strong, so I recommended you to ride the six-winged bird King. Normal believers definitely wouldn't bring it. "

The believer hurriedly explained when he saw this. He was afraid that he would cause a misunderstanding between Tang Zhen and the other person.

"It's just an animal, so what if it's fierce!"

When blackpupil heard this, a disdainful smile appeared on his face. He then walked in front of a six-winged bird.

Just as the six-winged bird King was staring at him, the black eye suddenly attacked and slapped the six-winged bird King's Head.

His movements were extremely fast, and the six-winged King Bird didn't even have time to react before it staggered.

The six-winged King Bird let out a wail, and it was no longer as fierce as before. Instead, it became much more docile.

"Did you see that? One had to use the most direct method to deal with such a beast.

If it still isn't honest, I'll just break its bones and see if it still dares to be arrogant!"

When he said this, Blackpupil's tone was filled with pride.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly. It was merely a vicious bird with a little strength. What was there to show off?

Tang Zhen slowly walked to the front of another six-winged bird King and lightly snapped his fingers. A stream of light seemed to flash.

The six-winged King Bird was stunned for a moment, then it put its head on the ground obediently, as if it was at his command.

When the follower who was watching over the six-winged bird saw this, he could not help but praise. It was the first time he had seen Tang Zhen's method of forcing the six-winged bird King to submit.

Blackpupil's expression sank slightly when he saw this. Compared to Tang Zhen's methods, what he had done earlier was clearly more than a level inferior.

"Hehe, it's just a small trick. Let's see how long you can be arrogant, Qianqian."

Blackpupil thought in his heart. He used a cold gaze to secretly glance at Tang Zhen and discovered that the latter was not paying attention to him.

However, he didn't know that Tang Zhen had seen all of his facial expressions. It was useless even if he turned his back.

Blackpupil put the saddle in the middle of the six-winged King bird's first and second wings. After firmly securing it, he flipped over and rode on it.

"Sir Tang Zhen, there's no time to waste. Let's hurry and set off!"

Tang Zhen nodded as he placed the saddle on the six-winged bird beside him. At the same time, he smiled and bade farewell to the beast Tamer believer.

with two sharp cries, the huge six-winged King Bird shot into the sky and disappeared in an instant.

Chapter 2128 The first to strike is the strong (1)

The defense zone that was a few kilometers long flashed past under his feet. The six-winged King Bird let out a crisp cry again and directly entered the deep sea.

When the believers on the city wall saw this, they looked envious. To be able to ride the six-winged bird King into the deep sea, all of them were true experts.

There were even people who shouted and waved at Tang Zhen to express their respect.

The six-winged bird King seemed to be very excited as well. It would let out a cry from time to time to show its presence.

To ordinary believers, the deep sea was a forbidden place, but to the six-winged King Bird, it was an excellent hunting spot.

As long as they didn't provoke those fierce sea monsters, they could come and go freely in the deep sea with the advantage of flying at high altitude.

However, the six-winged King Bird could only deal with some ordinary sea monsters. They did not dare to provoke giant monsters that were tens of meters in size.

Otherwise, the Grand temple would have cultivated these birds as much as possible and let them hunt sea monsters to reduce the pressure on the defense area.

In order to contain the sea monster's attack, the believers were still needed to defend the line of defense made of flesh and blood.

In the past years, countless believers had lost their lives because of this.

God's kingdom didn't distinguish between day and night. Perhaps it also wanted to blur the sense of time. Otherwise, the fighting day after day could really make people collapse.

The dead believers could be summoned again, and the sea monsters were also reproducing at a crazy rate at all times. The relationship between the two sides had maintained this state for many years.

Perhaps it was not that the believers did not want to change, but because of the rules and pressure of the divine Kingdom, they did not have the time and energy to change everything.

The imminent crisis of survival and the inconvenience of having their memories erased made the believers numb and at a loss.

The current God's kingdom was like a heavy and old machine that could only barely maintain its operation.

Tang Zhen was different from those ordinary fanatical believers. He possessed greater strength and did not become a numb puppet under the suppression of the divine Kingdom's rules.

This was also the reason why he could change the current situation and come up with new ideas.

In fact, there were countless believers in the God's kingdom, and it was not necessarily that there were no outstanding people. Unfortunately, due to various reasons, they all eventually fell in the endless fighting.

Perhaps this was the result that the Grand temple wanted. It did not need to actively seek change. It just wanted to maintain a stable state and use the lives of its fanatical believers to maintain the stability of the God's kingdom.

There was no right or wrong in doing so. Perhaps to the indigenous gods, those crazy believers who risked their lives for him were just insignificant ants.

The so-called battle merit reward was just to calm people down, like a flower in the mirror or the moon in the water.

After so many years, how many believers could really make it out? didn't 99% of them die in this cage?

While he was thinking, the six-winged King Bird was getting further and further away from the shore. What appeared in front of Tang Zhen was a stretch of Black Sea water.

From time to time, star-like objects appeared in the sky, as well as colorful light bands. These were formed by the energy released when the sea monster nests were destroyed and absorbed.

Sea monsters could do what believers couldn't. This might be the unique ability of destroyers.

The six-winged bird King was very interested in this kind of energy. Whenever it encountered it during its flight, it would let out an excited cry and open its mouth to tear and swallow it.

The energy seemed to have a life of its own. When the six-winged King Bird got close, it would flee in panic.

Blackpupil seemed to be very familiar with this scene, so every time the six-winged King Bird seemed to be in pursuit, he would Pat the bird's back to warn it to focus on its journey.

His back was facing Tang Zhen, and his expression was gloomy. His eyes would occasionally roll around, and it was unknown what he was pondering about.

The fierce glint that flashed in his eyes from time to time proved that he was not calm.

The journey was long, and they each rode a six-winged King Bird, so it was not convenient to communicate with each other.

Ever since they left the land, the two of them had not communicated at all.

At this moment, both of them had their own thoughts. Tang Zhen had already determined that the other party did not have good intentions. He did not know what blackpupil was planning, but he could be sure that blackpupil wanted to kill Tang Zhen.

Naturally, Tang Zhen was also prepared to kill him. However, it was not the time to do so yet.

Moreover, Tang Zhen had already confirmed that although blackpupil appeared to be completely defenseless, he was in fact secretly observing and guarding against him.

Clearly, the other party was also unable to confirm whether Tang Zhen had taken the bait. They were afraid that Tang Zhen would discover a flaw and suddenly attack.

In this state of mutual vigilance, the six-winged bird King continued to move forward, and along the way, it saw more and more sea monsters.

These were still wild sea monsters. If they did not gather in groups to attack the land, they would not cause much harm.

However, they were still the mutated forms of the divine Kingdom, or rather, the evolution of the distracting thoughts and mental demons of the indigenous gods. Once they formed a large enough scale, they would cause great harm.

Tang Zhen had long since discovered that the divine Kingdom's ocean was not simple.

If the sea monsters were said to be the embodiment of mental demons and distracting thoughts, then the vast ocean could be said to be the blood of the indigenous gods.

Sea monsters lived in the blood, and they were constantly absorbing nutrients to make themselves stronger.

A few sea monsters might not be a big deal, but when countless sea monsters devoured at the same time, it would cause terrible losses at every moment.

The divine Kingdom became weaker and weaker as it was being devoured. It was like a sick person who was barely hanging on to his last breath.

Just as he was thinking about this, a shadow suddenly appeared in the ocean ahead. It seemed to be quite large.

“What is it?”

Tang Zhen originally thought that he had encountered a sea monster army. However, when he took a closer look, he discovered that this was not the case.

The shadow wasn't a group of sea monsters, but an island made of jagged rocks, or rather, a huge island Reef.

It was like an Island formed by countless coral reefs, which seemed very abrupt in the vast sea.

“There are islands in this ocean?”

Tang Zhen frowned slightly. He felt that something was amiss.

If it was the ocean of a normal world, it would not be strange for islands to exist. However, in this ocean where the indigenous gods had materialized, why were there islands as well?

From Tang Zhen's point of view, other than wasting energy, such an Island had almost no meaning in existing.

After all, this was the world of sea monsters. No matter how beautiful it was, it would still be destroyed in the end.

In fact, it was just as he had thought. The island was barren and full of traces of destruction, looking extremely ugly.

our destination is right in front of us. Our companions who arrived earlier should have already entered the underwater cave. We can just go down directly.

Blackpupil said to Tang Zhen with a trace of excitement in his voice.

“Have we arrived? that's good!”

Tang Zhen smiled, but his eyes had become a little icy.

In the next moment, he had already leaped from the six-winged King Bird. At the same time, a battle sword that flashed with cold light appeared in his hand, and he slashed at blackpupil's body.

The saber was extremely fast, and blackpupil was unable to Dodge it at all. His body was split into two by the saber.

“Damn it, you’re really playing dumb!”

A scream was heard. Then, an object the size of a human head emerged from blackpupil’s body and fell into the deep sea.

Chapter 2129 The giant sea monster (1)

After the ball fell into the sea, it quickly floated up again.

Only then did Tang Zhen see its appearance clearly. It was like a moldy coconut with a single eye.

After it floated to the surface of the sea, the monster’s fist-sized blood-colored eyeball was staring intently at Tang Zhen.

“Tang Zhen, you won’t be able to be proud for long!”

The monster’s expression was twisted with extreme shame and anger.

In the sea monster’s eyes, Tang Zhen was the Grand temple’s minion, and its hatred for him had already solidified.

If it was possible, he would rather swallow it alive.

Tang Zhen, however, frowned slightly. He felt that something was wrong.

who ordered you? the evil demon controller or the sea monster? ”

The monster sneered and did not speak, but he was extremely vexed.

He was just one step away from falling into the trap.

However, after thinking about it, Tang Zhen had definitely seen through the flaw long ago. Following it to the deep sea was just to beat it at its own game.

these damned believers are really cunning. I’m so angry!

The more the monster thought about it, the more depressed he felt. He originally wanted to scheme against others, but in the end, he realized that he was the one being schemed against.

It was not an easy matter to kill Tang Zhen.

Tang Zhen looked at the monster floating in the water. A disdain flashed across his eyes. However, he had already confirmed the other party’s identity in his heart.

He had originally thought that blackpupil was a new advantage of being similar to his own strength, but now he realized that it was just a monster disguising its aura.

However, seeing the other party’s aggressive appearance, as if he was not afraid of him at all, he clearly had something to rely on.

They had contacted him time and time again and tried to plot against him. Even if the other party was on the sea monster's side, he was afraid that he was also related to his believers.

Perhaps the evil demon controller had long colluded with the sea monster!

Even the sea monster in front of him was just a puppet, and he was actually talking to someone else.

Tang Zhen did not directly expose him when he thought of this. Instead, he coldly said, "I knew something was wrong with you, but I didn't expect you to be controlling puppets!

However, since we've reached our destination, you're no longer of any use. You can just die!"

"It's not that easy to kill me!"

The monster shrieked and avoided Tang Zhen's attack in an incomparably slippery manner. It then dived into the ocean.

"If you have the guts, come and kill me. I'm afraid you don't have the guts!"

This fellow was still trying to lure Tang Zhen into the trap. It was unknown what he was thinking.

"If I don't chase you, you won't be able to run!"

Tang Zhen coldly snorted. He did not directly chase after them. Instead, he stared at the surface of the sea without blinking.

Under the jet-black Sea water, there were many huge figures swimming. They seemed to be waiting for Tang Zhen to enter the water.

As long as Tang Zhen chased after them, these sea monsters would definitely attack. By relying on his advantage in the water, it was very likely that Tang Zhen would suffer a great loss.

Of course, a few giant sea monsters were unable to pose a threat to Tang Zhen. However, he was worried that this was a trap set by the enemy. Perhaps, there were other means waiting for him.

"You want to ambush me underwater? dream on!"

Attacking the enemy's strong point with one's own weakness was the most irrational way of doing things.

"Let's see if you can withstand my attacks."

His voice had just faded when the air in front of Tang Zhen surged. Soon after, an oval-shaped object suddenly appeared.

The surface of this object was covered with runes. The moment it appeared, the surrounding World Energy was continuously absorbed.

It was another rune bomb.

Compared to the land, the free energy in the sea was much more abundant, and the cultivation conditions were much better.

Using rune weapons in such a place would double the effect, and the suppression of the world's rules would be weakened a lot.

When the rune bomb appeared, the free energy was like a stream of water that had met a drainage opening, frantically gathering together.

The sea monsters in the water seemed to have sensed that something was wrong. They quickly floated to the surface and opened their mouths to bite Tang Zhen.

Tang Zhen's figure suddenly rose. In the blink of an eye, he had already reached a height of several hundred meters. He looked down at the sea surface from above.

But even so, the sea monsters were still trying to attack, looking extremely fierce.

The surface of the sea was like a boiling pot. The huge monster's figure would flash from time to time as a corrosive water pillar continuously shot towards Tang Zhen.

"Let's see where you can escape to!"

Following Tang Zhen's low roar in the air, the rune bomb floating in front of him suddenly dropped and directly plunged into the sea.

After the rune bomb fell into the water, the dark sea water seemed to be cut into two sides. The sea monsters sensed the danger and fled for their lives.

At this moment, the entire surface of the sea seemed to be overturned, rising dozens of meters.

The reef island in front of them also seemed to be hit by an invisible hand, and gravel was pushed into the sky by the waves.

Countless corpses of sea monsters were mixed in, and they were all torn into pieces by an invisible force.

Then, an angry roar was heard, and an extremely huge sea monster rose from the bottom of the sea.

It turned out that the island was the junk piled up on its back, and the body was underwater.

The giant sea monster was not killed by the explosion, but it was obviously extremely angry. A claw suddenly emerged from the sea and smashed toward Tang Zhen's position.

The size of the pincers was as big as a mountain, and as they moved, the air was torn apart. Even if a real mountain was hit, it would probably be razed to the ground in an instant.

Tang Zhen, who was floating in the air, immediately dodged when he saw this. At the same time, a couple of rays of light appeared around his body and shot toward the giant pincers.

The sound of metal clashing rang out, and a few terrifying holes appeared in the giant pincers, but their offensive power was not affected at all.

To the giant sea monster, this kind of injury was insignificant.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly upon seeing this. He dodged this fierce attack by a hair's breadth just before the pincers were about to touch his body.

The pincers missed and fell into the water, setting off a huge wave.

Just as Tang Zhen dodged, an enormous tentacle emerged from the bottom of the sea. It was just like a spirit snake as it whipped toward Tang Zhen.

The giant tentacle was covered with sharp bone spikes, and the ruler was probably thousands of meters long. Its attack range covered the entire space nearby.

Tang Zhen was within the tentacle's attack range. He had just dodged the attack of the pincers when the tentacle's attack followed.

Tang Zhen roared loudly when he saw the tentacle coming at his face. Soon after, a light blade that spread out horizontally appeared in front of him.

Looking at its length, it was at least 200 meters long. As it trembled, it tore the air apart.

In the blink of an eye, the blade of light had already solidified and collided with the giant tentacle.

The sound of a sharp blade cutting through the air could be heard. The tentacle with a diameter of more than 100 meters was directly cut off, and the monster let out an earth-shaking roar in pain.

“Let's see if you still dare to be so arrogant!”

However, this was not the end. Tang Zhen actually grabbed the long and thin giant blade and started to dance like a windmill, continuously hacking at the tentacles that were dancing in all directions.

The thread-like long giant blade was actually incomparably tough. No matter how fast Tang Zhen's dancing speed was, it did not show any signs of breaking.

As the giant sea monster roared, the super-long giant blade continued to slash at the tentacles, cutting them into countless pieces.

More than a dozen tentacles appeared one after another under the rough sea surface. They whipped toward Tang Zhen's position.

it seems like it didn't hurt. He actually dares to continue attacking!

Following Tang Zhen's cold snort, the extremely long giant blade was danced like a windmill, and it was practically impenetrable.

The tentacles that were lashing at him were cut off one after another, and the sky was filled with scattered flesh and blood, which fell into the sea continuously.

In the blink of an eye, the tentacles were chopped into pieces, leaving only a bare pile of meat.

Chapter 2130 The Mantis stalks the cicada (1)

The tentacles were cut off one after another, and the giant sea monster was furious.

In this Sea region, it was the absolute Overlord, and no creature had ever dared to provoke it.

Even the overseas Army that passed by would try to take a detour under the command of the sea monster leader.

Otherwise, the sea monster army might not be a match for them in a big battle, and it was possible that they would be completely annihilated.

In the deep sea, there were many giant sea monsters like this, and they were all special products under the rules of the God Kingdom.

In fact, under normal circumstances, only a plane with extremely abundant heaven and earth energy could give birth to such a Super Monster at the level of ju Wuba.

In that kind of plane, energy would be liquefied, and there was no need to replenish food, and the body could expand infinitely.

It was just that this kind of plane was extremely rare. Once it was discovered by outsiders, it would definitely be plundered and attacked frantically.

Of course, the premise was that he could defeat them, because the creatures of that plane were all extremely powerful.

If it weren't for the restrictions of the rules, these creatures could all break through the limits of their lives and become native gods.

The giant sea monster in front of Tang Zhen was a special case.

Although it was only a wild monster, it had a mutated devouring ability and had already existed since the appearance of the God's kingdom.

To put it bluntly, creatures like giant sea monsters were abnormal products of special worlds.

It had been staying here all this time, secretly devouring and filtering the energy in the ocean like a vampire.

It was only after a long time that he had such a terrifying body size. As time passed, his body size would continue to grow.

As for the island on the monster's back, it was just a junk that had accumulated over time.

"You want me to anger this sea monster and then use it to kill me?"

If it's really like this, you've really underestimated me, Tang Zhen."

Clearly, the other party had already calculated that Tang Zhen would not enter the sea to pursue and attack. Instead, he would use the rune bomb to explore the way. This would enrage the sea monster.

This sea monster had the ability to hide its aura. It also possessed powerful strength. Once it fought with Tang Zhen, it had a high possibility of killing Tang Zhen.

This move was very sinister. Tang Zhen had indeed angered this giant sea monster and made it reveal itself just as the other party had expected.

However, Tang Zhen's strength had exceeded their expectations. From the moment the battle began, he did not fall into a disadvantageous position even when he was facing a giant sea monster that was countless times larger than him.

In fact, the sea monster's tentacles were all cut off in less than a dozen breaths, and it was seriously injured.

However, it didn't want to escape. It must be known that the area below it was a hole that had been gnawed open.

The energy fountain generated from this was of great benefit to sea monsters. It was like a paradise that cultivators fought for.

If it was occupied by Tang Zhen, it would be extremely difficult to take it back.

The giant sea monster became even angrier when it thought of this. It hated Tang Zhen, this fellow who tried to snatch its nest.

Tang Zhen did not know what the sea monster was thinking. However, he did not intend to let this fellow off. Looking at its size and power, the battle merits obtained from killing it would not be much less than the battle merits obtained from the sea monster's nest.

Tang Zhen originally wanted to enter the deep sea to hunt for monsters. Now that a huge amount of Battle Points had come to his door, how could he miss it?

Whether it was a trap or not, he had to kill this guy today. Otherwise, he would have made a wasted trip.

As this thought rose in his heart, Tang Zhen no longer hesitated as he charged towards the giant sea monster.

His body spun rapidly and landed on the back of the giant sea monster in the blink of an eye. The seemingly hard reef was turned into dust upon impact.

The giant sea monster also felt the danger. It waved its pincers in anger and smashed toward Tang Zhen's position.

However, Tang Zhen's speed was even faster than it. Before the pincers could attack, he had already landed on the sea monster's back and started to spin at high speed.

Under the high-speed friction, a pungent smoke rose. Even if the sea monster's back armor was extremely hard, it couldn't withstand such a piercing attack.

"Go to hell!"

In the blink of an eye, a large hole was dug out of the sea monster's back, revealing the wriggling flesh inside.

The rune bombs were conjured one after another and Tang Zhen directly threw them into the sea monster's body through the gap on the back of the armor.

The sea monster, which knew the power of the rune bomb, was also flustered at this moment. It twisted its body desperately, trying to expel the rune bomb.

The sea monster was strong because of its nearly invincible defense. Now that it had been forcefully broken by Tang Zhen, it also meant that a fatal crisis had arrived.

Just as the sea monster was struggling, a muffled sound was heard, and a huge fountain of blood and flesh shot into the sky.

The struggling sea monster let out a blood-curdling screech, and its huge body continued to dance and struggle in the ocean. In the blink of an eye, the surface of the ocean became blood-red.

The rune bomb had severely damaged the internal organs of the giant sea monster, and it had now become a mass of meat paste. Death was just a blink of an eye.

While the sea monster was struggling on its deathbed, Tang Zhen's figure had already soared into the sky and coldly looked at the sea below.

Not long after, the surging sea calmed down, and the giant sea monster's corpse that had become an empty shell was constantly slapped by the waves.

"Under the suppression of the divine Kingdom's laws, this sea monster can only use less than 10% of its strength. If it were outside, it would definitely be an Overlord-level existence.

One is fine, but if there are too many, it will be troublesome."

Tang Zhen shook his head. It was merely a monster. No matter how strong it was, it was merely an object that others could make use of.

On the other hand, he could not let go of the mastermind who had plotted against him. Since he had already entered the deep sea, he would continue to track him down.

No matter how many sea monsters there were, they were only battle achievements, so what was there to fear?

Tang Zhen turned around and flew toward the deeper part of the ocean when he thought of this.

.....

Not long after Tang Zhen left, two human figures slowly rose from the distant ocean.

They looked at Tang Zhen's back as he disappeared into the distance. Their expressions were slightly gloomy.

When Tang Zhen was fighting with the giant sea monster, they had been secretly hiding at the side and observing the entire battle.

"This Tang Zhen is indeed not simple. The giant pincer monster's strength is not weak, but I never thought that it would be killed so easily."

One of the figures said softly. His eyes were slightly squinted, flashing with killing intent that could not be dissolved.

Although he couldn't see his face clearly, the two horns on his head and his blood-red eyes proved that he was a foreign cultivator.

"No matter what, this Tang Zhen must be killed. If he is allowed to continue like this, God knows how many of our clan members will be killed by him!"

The other figure sternly roared. His tone contained an unconcealed Fury as though he had a blood feud with Tang Zhen.

His head was like a crocodile's, and a string of skulls hung around his neck, all of which were the remains of the strong believers.

This was a form of bragging to show off one's martial merits. The more believers they killed, the more they could prove their strength.

For example, the current Tang Zhen had already become the sea monster's must-kill target. The operation against him had just begun.

It's not easy to kill him. He's an expert in the world of Loucheng and has countless cultivators under him. If you bring all of them into the Divine Kingdom, you and your race might not be a match for him.

After hearing this, the crocodile head snorted coldly and said in a disdainful tone, "Tang Zhen is only arrogant for a while. The experts of my clan have already been dispatched. Perhaps it won't be long before we hear the news of his death.

The tall figure with two horns on his head nodded slightly.

"I hope so,"
