Chapter 2331 The Furious teenager

Just as the clone was deep in thought, he saw a few figures flash past the entrance of the alley. Their bodies were filled with the smell of smoke and alcohol as they walked in.

A wave of vulgar words rang out, filling the alley.

Looking at these people's appearance, he knew that they were not good people, but the kind of idle Street scoundrels.

They didn't have much ability, but they thought themselves to be extraordinary. They couldn't do much, but they were good at causing trouble.

These ruffians "words were vulgar, and their actions were exaggerated and unbridled. They were clearly in a state of drunkenness.

Because of the hot weather, these people were bare-chested and had dark-colored hideous patterns on their oily skin.

It had dragon tattoos, phoenix tattoos, tigers and leopards painted on it, as if it was a protective color for animals and insects, declaring to its own kind how bad it was to provoke.

"I don't know why, but I really want to kill these pieces of trash!"

The clone looked at the scene in front of him coldly. Back then, it was these few fellows who had made him suffer a great humiliation for no reason.

Who knew what the outcome would be if the original scene reappeared?

The clone had already made up his mind. Even if the main body chose to let these ruffians off for some reason, he would not let them off.

He was like a mosquito that was annoying people. If it flew around recklessly, he would simply kill it with a slap!

Even if the other party had already turned into bones, Tang Zhen still did not mind killing them once more even if he would have to suffer a corresponding backlash.

They were just a few ants. How much karma could they have? to a creator, they were not even worth mentioning!

Just as he was thinking, he saw the ruffians stop and stand in the middle of the road, laughing and scolding wantonly. They were completely unscrupulous.

Their gazes swept across the alley from time to time, and in their hazy, drunk eyes, there seemed to be a faint trace of anticipation.

He could tell from their eyes that these guys with evil smiles were clearly trying to cause trouble.

As long as someone entered the alley, they would become the target of these ruffians and be made difficult by them.

From an onlooker's point of view, Tang Zhen's encounter this time around was perhaps just bad luck.

He had met a group of ruffians who deliberately provoked him, which led to the things that happened later. Perhaps everything could only be said to be predestined.

The sound of a bicycle could be heard again. Tang Zhen, who had been working all day, walked through the alley and looked exhausted.

Tang Zhen subconsciously slowed down when he saw those few drunk ruffians. He wanted to slowly pass through them.

However, just as he approached, one of the ruffians suddenly turned around and kicked the car.

The ruffians burst into laughter, especially the guy who was kicking the bicycle. He was convulsing with laughter.

"What do you want?"

Tang Zhen crawled up from the ground as a ball of Fury rose within his heart. He was certain that that fellow had intentionally kicked him down.

He didn't want to cause trouble, but that didn't mean he would be bullied.

Who would lack vigor when they were young?

what do you want? I just want to hit you. Are you f * cking not convinced? "

After the ruffian heard Tang Zhen's words, he immediately straightened his neck and swung his arms. Like a fighting rooster, he rushed in front of Tang Zhen, stretched out his hand and pointed at him.

The stinky saliva sprayed over his face. The stench of alcohol, smoke, and sweat made him want to vomit.

After getting close to Tang Zhen, this fellow became even more irascible, as if he had a deep grudge with Tang Zhen.

He glared at Tang Zhen with bloodshot eyes. He poked Tang Zhen's chest with his finger that was holding the cigarette and spat a mouthful of smoke mixed with saliva on Tang Zhen's face.

you're not convinced? what can you do to me? I'm fighting a big poor guy!

The ruffians at the side watched with a teasing expression.

No one stopped their companions' behavior at all. On the contrary, they were happy to see it.

The so-called jackals of the same lair meant this.

How could Tang Zhen endure such an insulting act of being pointed at and cursed?

Subconsciously extending his hand, Tang Zhen forcefully pushed the ruffian, causing him to retreat two to three meters.

The ruffian let out a cry of shock and anger. His companion's expression changed and he immediately rushed forward.

“Kill him!”

The ruffian who had provoked Tang Zhen earlier roared in a flustered and exasperated voice. His face was filled with a malevolent expression.

If the situation developed according to that year, Tang Zhen would be besieged by a group of ruffians and eventually beaten until he was covered in injuries.

After that, these ruffians left carefreely. Tang Zhen, however, could only grit his teeth and swallow this anger because of some special reasons.

Now that yesterday had reappeared, would everything still be the same as before?

Just as the clone was secretly guessing, the fists and feet of those ruffians had already landed on Tang Zhen's body. He had also subconsciously protected his head and retreated to the corner of the alley.

At this moment, Tang Zhen's heart was filled with Fury. He was completely unable to figure out why he had become the target of these scums.

He was already cautious enough and tried not to cause trouble, just because his family environment did not allow him to do so.

But even so, there were still people who deliberately insulted him. This was simply bullying!

The more Tang Zhen thought about it, the angrier he became. His Fury was like an erupting volcano, instantly breaking through the line of defense of his rationality.

Tang Zhen clenched his fist tightly as he looked at those ruffians who were cursing and kicking him at the same time. He then ruthlessly smashed his fist against an ugly face.

He had only retaliated subconsciously to show that he was not one to be bullied. However, he did not know that he had become completely different from the past.

Therefore, the moment he swung his fist, there was a crisp “ crack ” followed by a short scream.

Tang Zhen was stunned for a moment. He thought that his fist had smashed onto the bag that was filled with tofu. That kind of feeling was extremely strange.

His fist felt wet, slippery, and greasy. It was warm and had a faint warmth to it.

“What's going on?”

Tang Zhen's heart pounded wildly. A bad premonition rose within his heart.

He immediately widened his eyes and retracted his fist. Then, he looked over.

His fist was bright red, covered with blood and other things, but it was not his own.

The surroundings became quiet. The angry ruffians all looked at their companions in shock, their eyes filled with fear and disbelief.

The ruffian that was struck by Tang Zhen's punch was currently standing on the spot like a statue. There was a deep fist imprint on his face.

The fist print was too obvious. One look and one could tell that this guy had been seriously injured.

The problem was that no matter how strong an ordinary person was, it was impossible to do this. It was impossible to smash a fist into a human face.

Unless he had an Iron Fist with strength comparable to a machine, he would not be able to do this.

However, at this moment, no one was thinking about this. The ruffians only looked at the fist marks on their companions' faces and felt their legs tremble.

They had fought before and had been injured before, but they had never seen such a strange injury.

"Someone's dead!"

Involuntarily, these ruffians immediately had such thoughts in their minds, and they immediately lost their tipsy state.

An emotion known as fear instantly exploded and filled their hearts.

Clearly, these ruffians were not fearless. It was just that they had not encountered anything that made them afraid. Now that they had encountered it, they immediately lost control of their emotions.

someone's dead! Qiang Zi was killed!

A ruffian shouted loudly, causing this terrifying emotion to completely erupt, and then it was completely chaotic.

Chapter 2332 At a loss

It had happened so suddenly that both sides were caught off guard, especially those drunk ruffians. They had never thought that things would turn out like this.

Their mouths were wide open as they looked at their companions on the ground, not knowing what to do.

Compared to those frightened ruffians, Tang Zhen's mind was completely blank. He even felt waves of regret.

He really didn't understand. He had only subconsciously resisted, so why did this happen?

Why was his fist able to collapse the face? the ruffian he hit couldn't have really died, right?

"What happened? what happened to my body? why do I feel so much stronger?"

A series of questions continuously flashed in Tang Zhen's mind, causing his emotions to gradually lose control.

Tang Zhen's entire body trembled the moment he thought of the consequences that he would have to bear. It was as if the entire sky was about to collapse.

He still had a lot of things to do. He definitely couldn't risk his life for a scoundrel.

Tang Zhen's eyes turned blood red the moment he thought of his younger sister and the things that he had not done.

To cultivators, this was a sign of demonic possession. To ordinary people, it was a sign of being forced to the point of desperation.

There seemed to be a voice in his heart telling him that this matter had to be resolved, that all hidden dangers had to be eliminated, and that there was no room for hesitation.

Otherwise, when he walked out of the alley, his life would be interrupted. Whatever future plans he had would be completely destroyed.

“There are only two choices now. One is to escape to the ends of the earth, to a place no one can find.

Or, we can do it thoroughly and make it so that no one knows about it. That way, we might be able to avoid the crisis!”

Tang Zhen clearly knew in his heart that regardless of whether that ruffian was killed or not, he would not be able to gain any advantage.

He and his sister would also face the harassment of these ruffians. According to the roguish style of these guys, it would not be surprising if their families were destroyed.

If he was thrown into prison, who knew what kind of suffering his younger sister would have to suffer?

Chaotic thoughts continued to surge in Tang Zhen’s mind, causing him to feel frustrated. At the same time, he also became more certain of some of his thoughts.

In a short period of time, Tang Zhen had already made up his mind and did not choose to escape.

He knew that he couldn’t escape at all. If these ruffians wanted to find him, it would be easy.

Then there was only one choice, and that was to let no one know about this except him.

The clone could clearly see that Tang Zhen’s eyes had already turned blood red in this short period of time.

He sighed in his heart. As expected, being weak was the original sin. Before obtaining super strength, just protecting himself and injuring the ruffians had put him in such a difficult position.

The avatar was similarly able to see that Tang Zhen was not completely controlled by the heart demon. Otherwise, he would definitely intervene.

Otherwise, once the heart’s devil took the upper hand and stole the divine source, the fate of the native gods would very likely repeat itself on Tang Zhen.

The clone and the main body were the same person, so he could naturally guess the main body’s thoughts at this moment. These ruffians who took the initiative to provoke him would probably not be able to escape today.

As expected, in the next instant, Tang Zhen’s body suddenly twisted and his fist smashed onto the body of the other ruffian.

The ruffian didn’t even come back to his senses. He let out a blood-curdling scream and then fell limply to the ground.

After falling to the ground, there was no more sound. It was unknown if he was Dead or Alive.

When the other three ruffians saw this, they were so frightened that their faces turned pale. They did not expect that Tang Zhen would actually be so fierce. It was not enough that he had knocked down one person. He actually dared to attack.

The wine that had accumulated in his stomach instantly turned into cold sweat and came out. How could there be any hint of drunkenness on his face?

An indescribable fear rose from their hearts. Right now, no one was thinking of pursuing Tang Zhen. Instead, they were hurriedly escaping from the small alley.

The further they ran, the better. This was because they had a feeling that Tang Zhen had been stimulated and had probably gone completely crazy.

He must be thinking of killing one to break even, killing two to make a profit.

The soft ones were afraid of the hard ones, the hard ones were afraid of the dazed ones, and the dazed ones were afraid of those who didn't want their lives.

Tang Zhen's monstrous strength had already frightened them. Now that he was going to go all out, they were naturally scared out of their wits.

run! This grandson is crazy!

One of the ruffians shouted loudly. He completely ignored his two companions on the ground and turned around to flee like a rat.

The other two ruffians did the same. They didn't care about their fallen companion and reincarnated to escape.

Usually, when they were drinking, they would call each other brothers and shout slogans of risking their lives for their brothers, but at the critical moment, Only Fools would rush forward and risk their lives.

At that time, not only would he not be able to save her, but he would also lose his life. That would not be worth it.

The three ruffians' choice was rational. However, Tang Zhen had already made up his mind. He would not give them any time to escape.

He growled and chased after the three ruffians like a ghost. Then, there was a short scream, and the alley became quiet.

Looking at the five ruffians on the ground, the madness in Tang Zhen's eyes gradually faded and was replaced by a touch of despair.

Like a trapped beast that had been forced into a dead end, it was letting out a suppressed low roar, its tone filled with unwillingness.

However, things had already happened, and it was his own choice. He could only bear the consequences.

He looked at both ends of the alley. Because it was already dark, no one had noticed what was happening here.

Tang Zhen inhaled a deep breath of air. He did not care about anything else. After he picked up the bicycle, he quickly disappeared into the fork in the small alley.

During the evacuation process, Tang Zhen was most worried that he would encounter a passerby who knew him.

After walking for a distance, Tang Zhen hid the car in the grass and continued to move forward.

Tang Zhen took advantage of the night to return home. He directly fell on the bed and stared at the roof.

If one were to observe carefully, one would discover that Tang Zhen's body was trembling. It was unknown if it was due to fear or some other reason.

His clone, who had been by his side the entire time, sighed when he saw this.

At this moment, Tang Zhen still thought that he was an ordinary person. It was simply normal for him to have a negative reaction when he encountered such a matter.

However, the situation where he had instantly killed the local ruffian with a single punch would definitely cause Tang Zhen to be puzzled. He would think of a way to figure out what he had experienced.

The clone merely watched silently. He understood Tang Zhen's current feelings very well. Although he felt the same way, he did not dare to easily intervene in this matter.

Up until now, he still could not understand why this would happen and what was the point of it?

If he interfered in this situation, it was likely to lead to an even bigger change. Therefore, the wisest thing to do was to be an audience.

Tang Zhen lay on the bed for a while. He seemed to have thought of something and sat up from the bed. After which, he was in a daze as he looked at his blood-stained hand.

After looking at it for a minute, Tang Zhen suddenly stood up and walked to the table. He took out half of the black brick used as a cushion.

Taking in a deep breath, Tang Zhen's fingers suddenly exerted force. Immediately after, a muffled sound could be heard from the green Brick. After which, it was directly crushed into dust.

Tang Zhen's face was filled with shock as he looked at the remains of the brick in his hand. He was now certain that those ruffians had really been killed by him with a single punch.

He could crush a brick with his fingers. One could imagine what kind of consequences this kind of force would cause when it hit a body of flesh and blood.

It was impossible for ordinary humans to possess such terrifying power. This also meant that he was no longer an ordinary person!

After he confirmed this, a crazy thought suddenly appeared in Tang Zhen's mind

Chapter 2333 Is it a blessing or a curse?

Tang Zhen was very clear in his heart that paper couldn't contain fire. This matter would be known by others sooner or later.

A total of five ruffians had been killed, and in such a horrifying way at that. It would definitely attract great attention, and then it would be his turn.

He absolutely couldn't hold the mentality of getting lucky. That would be deceiving himself and others. When he treated others as fools, he was actually the one who was the fool.

Under such circumstances, rather than passively waiting for things to get worse, it was better to take the initiative and perhaps turn the situation around!

As Zhen Tang thought of this, he immediately took out his phone and called his friend.

"Xu Feng, I'm tang Zhen. There's something I need to talk to you about."

When the clone saw this, he could not help but smile. A look of reminiscence flashed in his eyes.

Xu Feng had played a very important role in his life. He remembered that when he first came to the world of loucheng, he had gotten a weapon from him.

Now that he had encountered such a situation, he immediately thought of this guy. Who asked him to have such a wide network?

"Tang Zhen, why did you suddenly think of calling me? did something happen?"

Xu Feng was very surprised to receive Tang Zhen's call. Although his tone was relaxed, there was still a trace of concentration.

Tang Zhen didn't explain in detail. Instead, he wanted to meet him face to face. Xu Feng didn't hesitate and allowed Tang Zhen to meet him at the designated location.

Before hanging up the phone, Xu Feng reminded Tang Zhen once again that everything should wait until the two of them had a discussion before making a decision.

He was very clear that Tang Zhen and he were two different people. If there was no need, this guy would never call him.

Even if his life was bright and he wanted to give Tang Zhen a hand, he had never paid attention to it.

Now that he was making a phone call, it could only mean one thing. Tang Zhen had no other way.

Tang Zhen packed up his things, carried a satchel, and left home.

The clone shook his head. He felt that things were getting out of control, but he still had no intention of interfering.

This matter was almost a fatal crisis for Tang Zhen. However, it could be easily resolved for the clone.

Since that was the case, there was no need to be in a hurry. It was better to continue observing.

not too long later, tang zhen arrived at the agreed location and saw xu feng who was smoking beside the car.

“He’s coming, do you want one?”

Xu Feng looked at Tang Zhen’s attire and revealed a trace of surprise. Then, he handed over a cigarette box and a lighter.

Tang Zhen walked over without saying a word. He took out a cigarette and stuffed it into his mouth before clumsily lighting it.

The light of the fire illuminated his face, making it seem a little gloomy.

“Tell me, did you run into something? is there anything you need my help with?”

Although the two of them rarely interacted, as long as Tang Zhen opened his mouth and asked for it, Xu Feng would definitely do his best to complete it.

This was the friendship between the two of them, and it was difficult for outsiders to understand. Xu Feng was also too lazy to explain.

I’ve encountered some matters and need to go out.

I’ll let you stay out of the wind while you take care of my sister.”

After hearing Tang Zhen’s reply, Xu Feng was slightly startled. He wanted to figure out what was going on, but he did not speak in the end.

“I know your personality, I definitely can’t blame you. But there are some things that are useless even if you are in the right.

No problem, don’t worry, leave this to me!”

Tang Zhen nodded. Since Xu Feng had already agreed, he would definitely do it.

if you’re short on money, feel free to ask. You can’t come from a poor and rich family without money in your pocket.

As Xu Feng spoke, he took out a leather bag from the car and handed over a stack of money.

Tang Zhen didn’t refuse. He was indeed short of money now and originally planned to borrow some from Xu Feng.

When it was time to speak, Tang Zhen would definitely not hesitate. Otherwise, it would only make his situation even more difficult.

The two of them exchanged a few more words before Tang Zhen turned around and left, heading straight for the train station.

He didn’t know how much time he had left. He could only race against time and leave the city before he was locked on.

The clone had been watching from the side from the start. When he saw Tang Zhen's choice, he could not help but fall into silence.

If he followed Tang Zhen's idea, then his life would embark on a completely different path. At that time, would he be able to discover the world of loucheng and become a cultivator of loucheng?

If that was the case, it would be too terrifying. In fact, none of the future events would happen!

things shouldn't be that simple. We still need to continue observing. If the situation doesn't look right, we have to stop it in time!

The more the clone thought about it, the more he felt that something was amiss. If he allowed Tang Zhen to continue messing around like this, the real world would probably change beyond recognition.

Fortunately, he had arrived in time and followed them the whole time. Otherwise, if these things really became a reality, it would definitely have a great impact on the future.

After realizing this, the clone immediately went to the previous alley and completely wiped out the bodies of the five ruffians.

In fact, after Tang Zhen left, there were over ten passers-by who passed by this place. However, not a single one of them saw the corpse on the ground.

The clone used a smokescreen technique to hide the few corpses, so that the naked eye could not see them.

Tang Zhen did not know about this. Otherwise, he would not have fled in a hurry to prevent himself from being thrown into prison.

At this moment, Tang Zhen, who was on a long distance bus, didn't know that a crisis had been quietly eliminated. The five ruffians had disappeared from the world. It was impossible to suspect him.

After the doppelganger was done with this, it returned to Tang Zhen's room and brought back the 'glass orb' that had changed his fate.

The clone did not dare to study the secret hidden in this thing so as not to bring more trouble.

But one thing was for sure, the things hidden inside were not simple, because he could not see through them at all.

After returning to Tang Zhen's side, the clone started to ponder. He felt that things were probably a little different from what he had imagined.

He originally thought that Tang Zhen had awakened an extraordinary ability while he was unconscious. However, it seemed that this was not the case.

This was because Tang Zhen, who was in such a state, did not know who he was at all. He had also lost his original memories.

He was like a sleepwalking patient who knew nothing about his actions in his sleep.

If he allowed Tang Zhen to continue messing around, he would make the past unrecognizable and then affect the real world, causing himself to suffer a backlash.

Under such a situation, there must be someone to supervise and guide Tang Zhen so that he would not do those things that would change history.

This task was very important and needed to be done by the most trustworthy person. Otherwise, it would be a disaster if it was used by someone with ill intentions.

Otherwise, Tang Zhen would become a tool to be used. His original world might even be destroyed, and the sacred dragon battle zone might not even appear.

This matter was very serious and also very tricky. Fortunately, they had discovered it in time.

When the main body entered this state of transmigration, the best supervisor would naturally be the avatar. However, he still had many things to do and could not follow the main body all the time.

this matter must be resolved. Otherwise, it will only be a matter of time before things get out of hand!

After the clone made up his mind, he immersed his consciousness into the God's kingdom in his mind, preparing to create an item that could replace him to complete the supervision at a critical moment.

With the existence of this item, he would be able to warn Tang Zhen in a timely manner and prevent any accidents from happening.

Tang Zhen was unaware of this matter. He had just ended his conversation with his younger sister. After which, he looked at the city that was gradually disappearing into the distance outside the window and revealed a lost expression.

Chapter 2334 The changed history

After getting off the bus, Tang Zhen got on the train. The wheels rolled as they got further and further away from his hometown.

Tang Zhen, who was on tenterhooks throughout the journey, did not know that he was completely fine. He was only scaring himself the entire time.

All the trouble he had caused had already been wiped out by the clone. It was just that the clone had no way of informing him.

Currently, it was already midnight. Tang Zhen was leaning against the window of the train as he looked at the scenery outside in a daze.

He really didn't know if there was any possibility of returning after he left.

Tang Zhen would not have made such a choice if he was not forced to. After all, he was not alone. He still had his family members in his hometown.

His clone stood at the side as if he was watching a movie. He was the main character, and there was no ready-made script.

Tang Zhen had never been to the area where the train was currently located. This meant that history had changed.

Fortunately, this kind of thing was not a big deal, and it could not affect history too much. Even if there was an impact, it was within an acceptable range.

One life, one autumn for plants. No matter how much trouble one went through, it was insignificant to the entire world.

Fortunately, Tang Zhen's main body was in an unconscious state, and he couldn't use the power of the Masters of creation.

Otherwise, the influence he had on history would multiply, and the backlash would be even more intense.

In addition, based on the direction in which Tang Zhen was heading, it could be confirmed that he was preparing to head to the border. After which, he would think of a way to leave the border to make a living.

In the eyes of Tang Zhen's main body, this was the only way to ensure his safety and have the opportunity to earn a large amount of money.

In fact, he wasn't too sure about the specific situation. A lot of the information was obtained from his conversations with his co-workers. His current behavior was completely desperate.

"Yingluo is really too young, Yingluo."

Looking at his reckless and impulsive self back then, the clone smiled and shook his head.

He had been watching everything in silence, thinking of a way to solve the problem, and analyzing the impact of this matter on the future.

The final conclusion was that as long as the changes were limited to the original world and Tang Zhen returned to his original trajectory at the appropriate time, it would not cause too much of an impact.

The original world was only a low energy plane and could not be compared with the world of Loucheng. With Tang Zhen's strength, he could completely withstand the backlash of changing history.

During this period of time, the clone had tried to warn Tang Zhen. In the end, he was shocked to discover that although he could interfere with the matters of this world, he was unable to affect Tang Zhen's actions.

If he tried to stop it by force, he would feel a strong sense of rejection and try to drive him out of this world.

The strength of the main body and clone were evenly matched. If they competed with each other, it was very likely to result in both sides suffering heavy losses.

If he hit himself, he would be the one to suffer in the end. The clone would definitely not do such a stupid thing.

Therefore, after the failed attempt, the avatar stopped trying to warn him and continued to observe.

The long journey had come to an end. After the train arrived at the border, Tang Zhen carried his backpack and got off the train. He ate a large bowl of noodles in a small restaurant.

After eating and drinking to his heart's content, Tang Zhen bought some more things and then slowly walked towards the border.

The environment of the place he was at was very special. Some villages stretched across the borders of the two countries, and the residents of the two countries could travel freely.

As long as they were careful, they could easily cross the border from the primeval forest and enter the territory of another country.

The reason why Tang Zhen came here was because the gem Trade in this area was very popular. There were many treasure diggers, and from time to time, there would be news of someone getting rich overnight.

He had once heard his co-workers mention this place. They said that as long as one could endure the hardship and work hard for a few years without dying, they could make a fortune.

The poor Tang Zhen was attracted by the legend of getting rich overnight. If it wasn't because his sister was still in school, he might have already come here to make a living.

Therefore, after killing the five ruffians, Tang Zhen immediately thought of this place when he was thinking about where to take refuge.

He could take refuge in the dense forest at the border, and at the same time, make money. This was definitely a good thing that killed two birds with one stone.

After a period of time, he would quietly inquire about this matter. If it did not involve him, he could find an opportunity to return to his hometown.

If this matter couldn't be hidden anymore, Tang Zhen would stay outside obediently. When he had money, there was nothing that couldn't be solved.

When he passed by a shop on the street, Tang Zhen bought a set of special digging tools and put them in a bag and carried them on his shoulder.

In this border area, there were many treasure diggers. No one cared about Tang Zhen's origin.

In the following period of time, Tang Zhen fumbled his way into the forest and carefully fumbled his way to the border area.

This area was a primeval forest. Other than the treasure diggers, very few people would set foot in this place.

In such a primitive forest, there was a high chance of digging up all kinds of gemstones, but they had to be wary of wild beast attacks and robbery, so the risk factor was very high.

Most of the treasure hunters would choose to form teams and find ways to get weapons for self-defense. They would never stay in one area for too long.

This was the way of survival for treasure diggers. There were many rules and taboos. Tang Zhen, who had just arrived, didn't understand these, but he also plunged into it.

He did this partly out of helplessness and partly out of his desire for wealth, but the main reason was that he now had abilities that far exceeded ordinary people.

According to Tang Zhen's estimation, the strength that he currently possessed could easily kill the Tiger with a single punch.

At the same time, he also discovered that his speed and reaction ability had been greatly improved, far exceeding the limits of ordinary people.

Although he possessed such a powerful ability, Tang Zhen didn't want to do anything that would violate the law. Therefore, entering the primeval forest to excavate gemstones became his best choice.

At this moment, Tang Zhen did not know that it was precisely because of this choice of his that caused the clone that was secretly following and observing him to sigh in relief.

As long as Tang Zhen could obediently stay in this place and not rely on his own abilities to stir up trouble, he could use this period of time to solve the problem.

The avatar could also provide Tang Zhen with help in the dark, allowing him to obtain a rich harvest. This way, he would no longer have to worry about money.

After a period of time, Tang Zhen would be able to return to his hometown after he was sure that he was safe.

After that, he would continue to follow the original track and discover the existence of the world of towers, and then begin his legendary journey.

What was different from the original history was that this time, Tang Zhen might no longer be short of money, but the impact on the future wasn't great.

After Tang Zhen entered the tower world, he would soon obtain a huge amount of wealth. The strength and speed he currently possessed was only a slight advantage in the early stages.

After confirming this point, the clone started to consider another matter. It was how to allow Tang Zhen to wake up as soon as possible.

He did not know how long this dream of his would last. If he were to delay the important matters, it would cause a series of negative effects. Even the entire sacred dragon battle zone would be affected.

Therefore, he must not allow such a thing to happen no matter what. He must wake Tang Zhen up as soon as possible.

Chapter 2335 The world has also been changed

Anything could happen in the spiritual world of the main body. If the existence of the clone was discovered and expelled, the consequences would be unimaginable.

Once the avatar was expelled, then things would go out of control completely. Who knew if the main body would tear the entire world apart?

The most reliable method was to quickly wake Tang Zhen up and end this unstable state.

Therefore, the clone tried again to see if he could wake up the main body, but the result was another failure.

The feeling of rejection appeared again, almost forming an independent prison that trapped the clone.

At the same time, there was another force that tried to destroy the clone. The attack was violent and direct.

It was mixed with a kind of violent anger, like a sleeping lion chasing away a fly that disturbed its sleep.

The clone was shocked and quickly dodged. He immediately stopped trying and obediently became a spectator.

He didn't dare to fight against his main body in this state. It must be known that his main body didn't have much ability to distinguish things, just like an irrational and angry child.

If they were to fight, the two masters of creation would be able to destroy the entire world in a very short time.

Through this incident, it was enough to prove that the main body was extremely resistant to being awakened. Instead, it was immersed in this state and had a lot of fun.

Of course, the main body was not aware of this. Otherwise, it would have woken up long ago and ended this dangerous and meaningless game.

Even if Tang Zhen really liked to play this kind of game, he could also simulate it in his own divine Kingdom in his mind. At the very least, he would not need to worry about suffering a backlash.

"Let's just continue watching, as long as it's not too much."

The clone no longer held any hopes of getting lucky. Instead, he chose to watch from the side while thinking of other ways.

As long as Tang Zhen remained in this primeval forest, everything would be under his control. It would not take long for the clone to wake up his main body.

He didn't lack the ability to solve problems, what he lacked was time. Although the situation was tricky, it wasn't impossible to solve.

"After so many years of hard work without rest, I'm sure you're exhausted.

Since you've encountered such an incident, then treat it as a holiday and have a good rest!"

The doppelganger looked at the main body, which was still moving forward, and said in a calm voice. At the same time, a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

.....

Tang Zhen did not know that his clone was right beside him, silently watching over him.

Of course, with his memories sealed, the possibility of this happening was next to nothing. His main body had no idea that he had such a terrifying ability.

He only felt that it was strange that the environment of this primitive forest was not as bad as he had thought. On the contrary, it was a little too comfortable.

Snakes, insects, rats, and ants didn't dare to get close. The air wasn't as humid and hot as the legends said, and it was even a little dry and comfortable.

Entering the forest under such circumstances, not only would they not feel any pain, but it would also become a form of enjoyment.

This was all thanks to his clone. He was trying his best to create a comfortable environment so that his main body would not leave because of the harsh environment.

For the main body, this was a good place to take refuge and make a fortune, but for the avatar, this was the best place to put him under house arrest.

The only thing that made his main body unhappy was that it was very difficult to move through the forest. There were vines and weeds everywhere, and he had to clean them up as he walked.

It was the same even for the roads that had been taken by people before. It was clear that this forest was not a suitable place for humans to live.

“Swish!”

With a flash of cold light, the vines and branches were cut off, and a narrow passage was cleared.

Tang Zhen waved the machete in his hand and continued to advance. At the same time, he vigilantly observed his surroundings.

In the beginning, they could still see traces of humans in the forest, but as they went deeper, there was nothing left.

Even the trash that was left behind was covered by the dense weeds, completely erasing all traces of their existence.

To this incomparably huge primeval forest, the treasure diggers that entered were simply insignificant.

The outer area of the primeval forest had already been turned over by the treasure hunters, and from time to time, traces of digging could be seen on the ground.

They dug up the rotten soil of the forest, and then looked for all kinds of treasures in the soil.

Of course, this information was only known to the main body, and the clone was not aware of it. Otherwise, he would have immediately discovered that something was wrong.

How could there be such a primitive forest in the original world? there were all kinds of gemstones buried in the soil, which was completely illogical!

The problem was that this information only existed in the main body's mind. The clone was not clear about it at all, nor did he know that the matter was far more complicated than he imagined.

Tang Zhen was still advancing toward the depths of the forest. When he passed by some abandoned mines, he curiously jumped in to take a look.

The abandoned mine had been excavated by countless people and had long lost its value. However, if one looked carefully, they could still find some fragments of gemstones.

Jadeite, all sorts of soft jades, amber wax, and fossils of animals and plants could be found in the soil.

“Something’s wrong!”

Tang Zhen’s clone discovered an abnormality while he was carefully observing. After which, his face revealed a surprised expression.

what’s going on? how can these gemstones appear in the same place? this doesn’t make sense at all!

To the clone, these so-called gems were of no use, but to mortals, they were of great value.

At this time, his main body was playing the role of a mortal, so these gemstones buried in the soil were all good things he had dreamed of.

As long as they could excavate enough of it, they could exchange it for a large amount of wealth and completely change their lives.

However, as an onlooker, he could see clearly. In the eyes of the clone, this situation was too ridiculous.

could it be that my main body has not only returned to the past timeline, but I can also use my subconscious to quietly modify the world? ”

This guess was somewhat shocking. However, it was not impossible when it was placed on Tang Zhen.

One should know that Tang Zhen was a creator and had the ability to create everything with his will. If he wanted to, he could make all kinds of gemstones appear under an ancient forest.

He would also consume his Origin Energy because of this. The greater the extent of the transformation, the greater the consumption.

Such a situation occurred because he had similar thoughts in his subconsciousness, and then they would unconsciously manifest.

did I really have such a fantasy that I could become rich overnight after digging out all kinds of gemstones from the ground? ”

This thought appeared in the clone’s mind, and then he chuckled and shook his head. Apparently, he already knew the answer.

If it was that poor youth from back then, he might really have had such thoughts, but he had not realized it.

However, in the dream world, these thoughts would come out involuntarily, forming a world that seemed reasonable, but in fact, was very outrageous in some places.

The ability to combine dreams with reality was very magical. Perhaps only a creator-level cultivator could successfully achieve this.

However, Tang Zhen, who was in this world, was completely unable to detect any abnormalities. Instead, he treated everything as a matter of course.

If he really felt that something was wrong, it would be a good thing. It meant that he was about to wake up.

Chapter 2336 I'm having a lot of fun

Tang Zhen was a very resilient person. Once he set his mind on something, he would do his best to complete it.

Now that he had chosen to become a treasure hunter, he would naturally do it with a serious attitude and would not be half-hearted.

This was different from working. Without a stable income, one would either make a lot of money or get nothing.

Zhen Tang didn't have a way out. He had already made up his mind to dig up enough gemstones and earn enough money.

If he didn't commit any crime, he would return to his hometown and live a normal life. If something happened, he would leave a large sum of money for his sister and then wander the world.

At this moment, Tang Zhen was completely unaware that the various gemstones that were produced in this primeval forest were all due to his imagination.

To him, the entire world was a huge playground that he could change according to His will.

He had thought that he was just a passer-by, but in fact, he could be considered half a master. It was easy for him to get some beautiful stones.

Of course, before he recovered his original memories, Tang Zhen did indeed look like an ordinary person. He did not know how powerful he was!

The smug Tang Zhen continued to head deeper into the forest. After walking for nearly a day, he finally arrived at a location that satisfied him.

This was a Valley hidden in the forest. There was a small stream flowing slowly, and the environment was quiet and elegant.

Because very few people set foot in this place, the scenery was preserved in its original state and looked very beautiful.

Tang Zhen was a layman and was not in the mood to appreciate the scenery. Instead, he immediately chose a suitable location and began to build his own camp.

If they wanted to fight here for a long time, they needed a comfortable place to live. First, it could shelter them from the wind and rain, and second, they could take a good rest after their exhaustion.

Some people didn't care about such things when they lived in the wild. Most of the time, they were just perfunctory.

However, such people were unable to last too long in the wild. Even if they could, it would increase the burden on their bodies.

A comfortable resting environment was extremely important when surviving in the wild. Tang Zhen knew this. Therefore, he would definitely not be perfunctory.

Tang Zhen did not have much experience in building houses. However, he had seen related videos in the past. Moreover, due to his job, he did not lack hands-on ability in this area.

Carrying the axe that he had bought, Tang Zhen began to search for suitable materials in the forest. Not long after, he chose a thick bamboo forest.

The sharp axe hacked down, and bamboo fell one after another. After slightly tidying it up, it was dragged by Tang Zhen to a flat patch of grass.

Then, he took out a pickaxe and quickly leveled the ground. He then used the bamboo to build the skeleton of the house.

Because of his great strength, Tang Zhen seemed to be very relaxed when doing these tasks. Moreover, he did it quickly and well.

The room was not particularly large and was only big enough for him to fit in, so it didn't take long for him to finish the work.

Then, Tang Zhen got a large pile of tree branches and smoked the house. At the same time, he waved his machete and uprooted all the weeds nearby.

After being busy for nearly two days, Tang Zhen had completed all the work and a simple small courtyard appeared in front of him.

The house was made of bamboo, simple yet exquisite, and had no problem sheltering them from the wind and rain.

The courtyard had been deliberately tidied up, with a layer of gravel from the river, making it look flat and clean.

There was a fence built with bamboo poles around the area to prevent wild beasts from approaching. The grass and wood ash scattered under the fence could drive away some snakes and insects.

In addition to these, Tang Zhen also used stones and soil to build a pot and stove, and built a shed as a kitchen.

On the table made of bamboo, there was some food that he had gotten in passing. After Tang Zhen's test, it was confirmed that it was not poisonous.

What he didn't know was that even the most poisonous poison in his original world couldn't cause him any harm.

He wouldn't starve to death either, but because he didn't know this, he still followed his previous lifestyle and ate enough food to maintain his physical strength.

This was also the problem that Tang Zhen was currently having a headache over. Due to him rushing into the forest, he had not considered the source of food properly.

Their only source of food was to catch fish and shrimp in the nearby stream, as well as some shell insects.

Due to his greatly improved reaction speed, he could also hunt various animals in the forest by throwing stones and other means.

In a short period of time, Tang Zhen didn't need to worry about the problem of food sources. If necessary, he could go to the nearby villages and towns to buy some rice, flour, grain oil.

There was a saying that sharpening a knife would not delay the work of cutting wood. After Tang Zhen arrived in this Valley, he had been preparing for a long period of fighting.

Just by looking at the layout of the courtyard, who would have thought that the owner of the house had come to take refuge.

Now that everything was ready, Tang Zhen chose a location and began to excavate the gems.

Although there was a layer of floating soil on the surface of the valley, after digging to a certain depth, there were all kinds of gravel below.

There were gemstones among the rubble, but the quality of the gemstones was very poor. Even if they were sold, they wouldn't be worth much.

To obtain gemstones of higher quality, they had to dig deeper into the ground, directly digging into the weathered rock layers.

If they were lucky, they could find a Gem Mine directly, and it would be easy to make a fortune.

However, if one was unlucky, no matter how deep they dug, they would not gain anything.

Therefore, before he took action, Tang Zhen began to pray for the blessings of the gods and Buddhas in the sky, hoping that good luck would descend.

The clone sitting at the side didn't know whether to laugh or cry when he saw this.

The rumors regarding this forest were completely based on Tang Zhen's imagination. In reality, he could do whatever he wanted.

However, he didn't know about it. He was still playing according to the script that he had written and having fun.

In fact, the land under Tang Zhen's feet had already changed when he was making the wish. It was estimated that it would soon bring him an unexpected surprise.

After praying to the heavenly cycle gods and Buddhas, the true God was actually himself, and what he consumed was his own power of origin.

After clearing the weeds on the ground, Tang Zhen took a shovel and began to clean the decayed soil on the ground.

Because it had accumulated for too long, the soil had become soft and rotten, but because of the entangled grass roots, it was not particularly easy to clean it up.

However, the current Tang Zhen was as strong as an ox. When he dug, it was like cutting tofu and he easily removed the soil layer on the surface.

It didn't take long for a large pit to be dug in the ground, and the gravel in the soil began to increase.

The next thing that Tang Zhen had to do was to clear away the soil that was mixed with gravel. After reaching the weathered rock layer, he could break the rock layer to find gems.

However, after digging for a few times, he suddenly looked surprised and bent down to pick up a stone.

Tang Zhen's strength was very great. The shovel in his hand was no different from a toy. The rock had already been directly cut into two by the shovel.

A strange bluish-green color appeared in front of Tang Zhen's eyes. The broken part was like a Broken Porcelain.

"This is a bi 'an heaven gem!"

Tang Zhen was startled at first. Soon after, he revealed an expression of disbelief and involuntarily blinked his eyes.

After watching it a few times and comparing it with his phone, he waved his fist in excitement and let out a low roar.

hahaha, I'm rich! I've dug up the kingdom of heaven gem!

Seeing the excited face of Tang Zhen, the clone sitting beside him curled his mouth. His face was filled with a speechless expression.

burying the treasure and then digging it out, shouting and yelling with excitement. Is it really interesting? "

However, on second thought, it was indeed an exciting thing to have such a harvest without the main body knowing the truth.

Chapter 2337 Harvest, out of the forest

Kingdom of heaven's gems were mostly blue-green in color and were a type of semi-gem.

This thing grew in rock formations and was very popular on the market, but the production was very low.

Under normal circumstances, this heaven's gem would only be produced in a specific location. However, because of Tang Zhen, this primitive forest also had this mineral.

And it was the kind that was recognized by the world. Compared to conjuring all kinds of gemstones, this was the real difficult thing.

Clearly, the setting in Tang Zhen's imagination had unknowingly affected all the living beings in the vicinity of the primeval forest. Moreover, they had treated it as a matter of course.

However, compared to going back in time and changing the world according to his own ideas, this was not worth mentioning.

At this moment, the introduction of the kingdom of heaven gem kept flashing in Tang Zhen's mind, and the excitement on his face became more and more intense.

Although he didn't know the exact price of this heaven gem, he knew it was definitely not cheap, because the color and porcelain quality of this raw ore were quite good.

Perhaps this egg-sized piece was worth a month's salary for him, and it would only be more than that.

"Sure enough, while taking risks, I can also obtain crazy profits. If I had come here earlier, I might have made a fortune!"

Tang Zhen's eyes flickered as he looked at the kingdom of heaven gem in his hand. He was clearly filled with anticipation and excitement.

At this moment, Tang Zhen felt as though a meat pie had smashed into his head. While he continuously sighed in his heart, he also became more and more firm in his belief.

"I have to persevere here, dig up enough gemstones, and become a rich man!

I'll fight whoever dares to stop me from getting rich, no one!"

After keeping the kingdom of heaven gem, Tang Zhen once again waved his shovel and dug with all his might.

Compared to before, he was more motivated now, and he wanted to tear the ground apart.

Ding! Ding!

There was a soft sound, just like the sound of a game prompt. Then, another dark blue heavenly gemstone was revealed from the black soil.

Tang Zhen was stunned for a moment. Soon after, a happy expression appeared on his face as he hurriedly picked it up.

After confirming that there was no mistake, Tang Zhen's enthusiasm was already overflowing, and the smile on his face never faded.

Finding two kingdom of heaven gems in a row was enough to prove that there was a treasure here. As long as he continued to dig, the harvest would definitely not disappoint him.

At this moment, Tang Zhen simply could not see that the stones under his feet were rapidly transforming into various kinds of resplendent gemstones.

The transformation process was silent, and only the avatar standing guard at the side could see it clearly.

Clearly, there would be more and more surprises waiting for Tang Zhen in the following period of time. The only question was whether he would be able to endure it.

Not long after, Tang Zhen chuckled again because he had found another heaven's stone.

There was an even bigger surprise waiting for him. Just next to the kingdom of heaven gem, a stone the size of a fist jumped out, shining with a different luster.

Tang Zhen curiously picked it up and realized that it was very light. After he wiped it clean, he realized that it was something similar to a yellow plastic.

“Is this some kind of wax?”

On the way here, Tang Zhen had once rote-memorized the information of various gemstones. He quickly recognized the origin of this thing.

hahaha, Yingluo has earned a lot. She has really earned a lot!

Tang Zhen couldn't stop laughing. He felt that he had never been as happy as he was today.

At this moment, how would Tang Zhen know that if he was too pleasantly surprised, it would quickly turn into shock?

As expected, in the following period of time, more and more raw gemstone ores were discovered, and Tang Zhen's backpack also slowly bulged.

Tang Zhen, whose face was originally filled with excitement, slowly frowned as he looked at the various gemstones.

“Why are there so many gemstones here? are they fake?”

Tang Zhen, who had doubts in his heart, picked up a stone that was shining with a golden light and weighed it in his hand.

“If I'm not mistaken, this should be a pure natural Kobold's gold, and it should weigh at least two kilograms!”

“This is a piece of green jade, and the water source is so good. It must be worth a lot!”

“This is a raw ruby, this is a raw sapphire, What's this?”

Looking at the various raw gemstones in his backpack, Tang Zhen suddenly felt a little worried about his personal gains and losses. He was afraid that his extreme joy would turn into sorrow.

What if these things were not valuable?

Clearly, it was too easy to obtain these raw gemstones. The value of these gemstones was too high, causing Tang Zhen to be a little unconfident.

Tang Zhen, who was used to living a bitter life, had never dreamed that he would be able to earn such a large sum of money in such a short time.

“Something's not right. There are too many raw gemstones here. Did someone bury them here?”

Such a thought appeared in Tang Zhen's mind. He felt that the possibility was not high. If someone was really buried here, they would definitely not use such a method to bury it.

Therefore, the biggest possibility was that he was lucky and randomly chose a place that had a super rich mine!

“Whether these raw gemstones are real or fake, they must be verified before we decide if we should continue to dig!”

After making up his mind, Tang Zhen jumped out of the pit and filled it back with the soil he had dug out.

He then camouflaged the ground and covered it with grass. If one didn't observe carefully, they wouldn't be able to find any traces of digging.

Tang Zhen did this just in case. He didn't want outsiders to find his residence and discover this treasure ground where various raw minerals were excavated.

He had already made up his mind to go to the market outside and see how much these raw gemstones could be sold for.

Before he left, he had to cover himself well to prevent outsiders from discovering this treasure land.

After checking it carefully again and confirming that there were no problems, Tang Zhen took his backpack and walked to the river. He washed all the raw gemstones.

After washing the raw gemstones, their original color was revealed, and the colorful gemstones were beautiful.

A trace of intoxication was revealed in Tang Zhen's eyes. He was not only concerned about his appearance, but also the benefits that he represented.

No matter how beautiful an object was, if its value could not be measured with money, it would be difficult for it to be recognized by more people.

After carefully storing the raw gemstones, Tang Zhen looked around and then walked out of the primeval forest.

When he first came, he thought he would stay here for a long time, but he didn't expect to walk out of the forest so quickly.

However, compared to the bewilderment he felt when he first came in, his heart was now filled with anticipation. Whether his life could be changed would all depend on the results this time.

In the process of walking out of the forest, Tang Zhen was surprised to discover that the path that he had just opened up two days ago was now once again blocked by wild grass.

This also proved the horror of the primeval forest. If one were to accidentally get lost in it, it would probably be very difficult to walk out alive.

Tang Zhen did not have much experience in surviving in such an environment. However, his extremely strong memory allowed him to remember the route they took when they came.

In the process of leaving the forest, he had been following the path he had taken to enter the forest, almost without missing a single detail.

Due to the anxiety in his heart, Tang Zhen intentionally increased his speed. He was like an agile leopard as he rapidly travelled through the forest.

If someone were to notice this scene, they would definitely be greatly shocked. This was because the speed that Tang Zhen had displayed was something that even the most agile wild beast would not be able to do.

It wasn't an exaggeration to say that they were ghosts in the mountains.

Tang Zhen similarly did not realize just how shocking his current performance was. Instead, he was completely focused on hurrying forward.

The clone slowly followed behind. A faint worry surfaced on his face as he looked at Tang Zhen, who was in a hurry.

Tang Zhen, who was in possession of a precious treasure, would definitely attract the attention of those blinded by greed if he were to rashly appear in an unfamiliar area.

If those fellows were to have any ill intentions, a battle would be unavoidable given how much Tang Zhen valued these treasures.

He originally thought that Tang Zhen would be able to completely stay away from trouble once he entered the primeval forest. However, it seemed that it was still a little too early to be happy.

Chapter 2338 Tang Zhen's selling

Tang Zhen was anxious to know the value of his raw gemstones. Therefore, he galloped all the way and constantly rushed forward.

In the dense forest where an ordinary person would have difficulty moving, Tang Zhen was as though he was walking on flat ground and was as fast as a gust of wind.

This kind of travelling method was extremely taxing on one's physical strength. However, Tang Zhen did not feel tired at all.

It was as if his physical strength was endless and he could squander it as he wished, running until the end of time.

Tang Zhen had discovered this situation. However, he did not know what the reason was. It was as though he had suddenly obtained an enormous strength. Everything had come in a baffling manner.

Since he couldn't figure it out, he wouldn't study it for the time being. As long as it didn't do him any harm, it was fine.

In reality, Tang Zhen was also worried that his body would undergo an unknown change due to the sudden appearance of this powerful force.

For example, overusing one's body would eventually lead to one's death at an early age. Another example was a genetic mutation that would cause one to be plagued with all sorts of diseases.

It wasn't that Tang Zhen was sensitive, but there was no free lunch in the world. While he obtained some benefits, he had to pay some price.

That was why Tang Zhen was so anxious. He was afraid that he would suddenly collapse and never be able to stand up again before he earned enough money.

How could he know that everything he had now was obtained through his own hard work?

He had risen from the bottom, struggled on the edge of death, and finally achieved what he had today.

Everything belonged to him, so he didn't need to pay any price. He just had to spend it freely.

Due to his extreme speed, Tang Zhen only used one-fifth of the time to finish the entire journey.

Tang Zhen slowed down his walking speed in order to avoid attracting attention when he was about to reach the edge of the forest.

There were already treasure hunters at the edge of the forest. They dug around, and although the harvest was small, their safety was guaranteed.

After meeting two waves of treasure hunters, Tang Zhen came to the road outside the forest and walked towards the nearby villages and towns.

After getting on the bus, it took about half an hour for Tang Zhen to arrive at the town he had been to before.

Because of the various gem mines, the town became very lively, and the number of outsiders was more than several times that of the local residents.

From time to time, luxury cars could be seen on the streets, and some people could even be seen carrying large bundles of cash. The passersby were used to it.

In places where resources were plundered, such a scene often appeared. In the dilapidated buildings, people entering and leaving were all foreign merchants and upstarts.

The villagers who sold the nearby resources but still couldn't become rich and the rich foreigners formed a strange picture of the city.

Tang Zhen was walking on the streets. He was not particularly eye-catching because people like him would appear from time to time.

Most of them were locals. Most of the outsiders could not hold on for long due to their fear of the primitive forest.

After asking around, Tang Zhen went to the town's gem trading market according to the information he had just received.

The market looked unassuming, but it was packed with people. Large cash transactions were common.

There were treasure diggers, secondhand dealers, and buyers from all over the world.

Because the goods were all from the first hand, buyers could save a lot of costs and get more benefits.

Treasure hunters who came out of the forest were always the most popular targets, because no one knew how many good things they had on them.

As soon as Tang Zhen entered the market, he was immediately targeted by more than one group.

This group of people stared at Tang Zhen. Due to their rich experience, they were able to guess what was going on with just a glance.

“His clothes are stained with grass juice, so he should have just come out of the forest. The backpack is very heavy, and it seems to contain a lot of things. 90% of them are raw gemstones!”

he looks unfamiliar. He should be a newcomer. Judging from how he looks around, he doesn't know much about the market.

“Let's make contact first. If there's anything good, we'll take it down directly.”

A group of peddlers analyzed and judged Tang Zhen's condition. After that, they immediately rushed forward, wanting to know what he had brought.

brother, if you have any good stuff, take it out and have a look. I guarantee you'll be satisfied with the price.

A trace of vigilance flashed across Tang Zhen's eyes as he looked at the peddlers that had surrounded him. He kept feeling that this group of people did not have good intentions.

It wasn't that they wanted to hurt him, but they wanted to take advantage of him and buy his raw gemstones at the lowest price.

hehe, I'll let anyone get away with it but not you. You want to trick me? no way!

Tang Zhen secretly laughed coldly. He would not allow this group of people to succeed. He was afraid that they would take advantage of him and secretly curse him behind his back.

Therefore, just as someone opened his mouth, Tang Zhen waved his hand and had an appearance that kept people a thousand miles away.

Those peddlers did not give up. They quietly followed behind Tang Zhen, wanting to see what he was planning to do.

Tang Zhen was also a little nervous and did not know what to do. However, he was bold because he was skilled. He was not afraid of anything.

If he were to encounter any accidents, he could definitely deal with them with ease with his abilities.

After possessing great strength, Tang Zhen had also started to become more and more confident. He definitely did not have such confidence in the past.

After a simple inquiry, Tang Zhen understood the trading method here. He could choose to directly trade with the merchants or rent a stall to slowly sell.

Tang Zhen, who had just arrived, chose to set up a stall to sell his goods in order to avoid being deceived.

If he couldn't give a price, he definitely wouldn't sell. This was the only way to ensure that he wouldn't be cheated.

He found the manager of the trading market, spent money to rent a temporary stall, and then opened his backpack.

The peddlers who had been watching him immediately surrounded him, wanting to see what he had brought.

When they saw the colorful gemstones on the table, their eyes immediately widened, and their faces were full of surprise.

In this industry, they had naturally seen countless raw gemstone mines. However, it was still extremely rare to see a complete and high-quality supply of gemstones like Tang Zhen's.

They subconsciously thought that the raw gemstone ores in Tang Zhen's hands were all good goods that had been carefully selected. Otherwise, it would be impossible for them to be in such a neat arrangement.

He originally thought that Tang Zhen was a newcomer. However, from the looks of it now, he should have a group of companions behind him.

The peddlers who had originally thought of taking advantage of the situation dispelled their original thoughts and prepared to negotiate the price according to the rules.

Even if Tang Zhen was a newcomer, it was impossible for them to take advantage of him in public at this moment.

Everyone wanted good stuff. If they wanted to offer a very low price to take the raw gemstones, the other vendors would not agree.

After obtaining Tang Zhen's permission, the peddlers took out their flashlights and magnifying glasses and began to study the raw gemstones.

Tang Zhen's suspended heart also relaxed when he saw the reaction of these peddlers. Originally, he was worried that he had found fake goods. Now, it seemed that they should be genuine goods.

"Brother, how much are you selling these heaven's gems for? can you give me a reasonable price?"

"I'll take these sapphires. If you have more, you can sell them to me in a package!"

this Kobold's gold is really good. Three hundred Yuan per gram. If it's okay, I'll pay now!

come on, natural Kobold's gold of this quality is definitely worth more than 1000 Yuan per gram. How could this little brother sell it to you for a few hundred Yuan? "

The peddlers discussed the price together. Tang Zhen did not easily open his mouth. He knew that he must not speak much at this time, lest others discover that he was a rookie.

The clone that was following at the side had a surprised expression on his face. This was because he had clearly felt a faint energy fluctuation just now.

If he wasn't mistaken, there must be cultivators in this market!

This made the avatar very surprised. Because with his understanding of the original world, although there were all kinds of myths and legends, there were no real cultivators.

Perhaps it had existed in the past, but as the laws of the world changed, the world Energy had become thinner and thinner.

A lock had been set up in the soul of the indigenous people, completely sealing their path of cultivation.

This was also what the clone was puzzled about. How could there be cultivators in such a world?

Chapter 2339 The demonic version of the world

Under the clone's perception, a man who seemed to be a cultivator slowly appeared at the entrance of the market.

It was a middle-aged man of medium build and slightly thin. He wore a pair of sunglasses and was followed by a few men and women.

Although he looked ordinary, there was a faint energy fluctuation emanating from his body.

This situation didn't mean that this middle-aged man was very powerful. Instead, it proved that he was very weak.

Only when one couldn't control the energy in one's body would the energy spread uncontrollably. High-level cultivators would never have this kind of "leaking" state.

A seamless true immortal in the immortal cultivation plane meant that when one's cultivation had reached a certain level, no matter what they did, there would be no trace of energy leaking out.

Although it was just an insignificant shrimp, such a special situation still attracted the attention of the clone.

Why did cultivators suddenly appear in the original world where there were no cultivators? was this related to Tang Zhen?

Could it be that not only did he return to a hundred years ago and change a large area of the natural environment, he even gave the original world's residents the ability to cultivate out of nothing?

Although Tang Zhen was a creator, he might not be able to change the entire world's structure with a single thought. This was especially so when he was unconscious. It was even more impossible for him to do this.

"Perhaps I was wrong from the very beginning. This world is not the original world, but a parallel world.

There are many similarities, but there are also many differences. At least in the original world, it is impossible for cultivators to exist!"

When the clone thought of this, he couldn't help but feel shocked.

Although he had seen many plane worlds, this was the first time he had come into contact with a parallel world that was extremely similar to his original world.

Tang Zhen felt extremely strange when he thought that there was a similar him in this world. Could it be that if he didn't appear, the him in this world would also become a cultivator in loucheng?

impossible! If that's the case, it'll be a mess!

Tang Zhen was a creator and the cultivators in loucheng controlled a war zone. The power he had was needless to say.

It could be said that the current Tang Zhen had already completely broken away from the restrictions of certain laws. He himself represented a world.

Under such circumstances, how could everything about him be replicated? did he really think that creator-level powerhouses were like cabbages?

Furthermore, even though parallel worlds existed, it was impossible for them to be exactly the same. They might even be two completely different civilizations.

There was also the Pearl that had changed his fate. How could there be a replica of such a special and important item? just thinking about it felt a little ridiculous.

However, because of Tang Zhen's participation, it slowly became different. The development of the following events would be completely different from history, but it was only limited to the original world.

In other words, even if the original world became chaotic, it would only be limited to the original world. If Tang Zhen entered the world of loucheng, then everything would return to the right track.

Of course, these were just the speculations of the clone. As for what the real situation was, it still needed to be observed carefully before it could be confirmed.

"Interesting. I'd like to see what's going on."

The clone continued to watch on coldly. Even if cultivators appeared, everything was still under his control.

His main body didn't know that cultivators had appeared and was still trading with those peddlers. Although he didn't know much about the market, he could still make sure that the one who offered the highest price would get it.

While both parties were haggling, the middle-aged cultivator who had just appeared had already arrived in front of Tang Zhen's stall.

He glanced at the raw gemstones on the table, and his pupils shrank slightly, a touch of excitement flashing in his eyes.

Looking at his expression, it was as if he had seen the treasure of his dreams, and even his breathing became rapid.

The middle-aged man quickly walked to the stall and picked up the raw gemstones, carefully observing them.

In fact, he was trying to sense the raw gem ore. When he found that it contained a trace of energy, his heart was full of joy.

The middle-aged man quietly put down the raw gemstone and nodded to his assistant. Then, he stood to the side silently.

After the assistant received the instructions, he immediately went forward to discuss the price with Tang Zhen. Perhaps it was because he was rich and overbearing, but the price he offered was far higher than those vendors.

Tang Zhen felt that the other party's price was very sincere. He hesitated for a moment and agreed to trade with the other party.

After some calculations, the raw gemstones he had obtained were actually sold for millions of dollars.

In the trading market, this kind of transaction was actually very common, and transactions of tens of millions often appeared.

Although those peddlers were unwilling, they had no choice. Who asked them to not give Tang Zhen a satisfactory price?

During the settlement, the other party used a special bank card. Every bank card had a fixed face value, which was not much different from a check.

This special bank card did not exist in the original world, so it was obvious that it had appeared out of thin air.

This huge sum of money entering his account made Tang Zhen extremely excited. He had always maintained a state of excitement.

To ordinary people, this amount of money was enough to change their fate and they would no longer have to worry about their livelihood.

Furthermore, this was only the beginning. As long as he returned to the primeval forest and continued digging, he would definitely gain more.

"I'll call Xufeng first and see if anyone has found out about this. Then, I'll transfer some money to my sister.

No matter what, we can't leave this place in the short term. At the same time, we have to seize the time and excavate more raw gemstones."

After Tang Zhen knew that he had earned money, it was inevitable that people would be envious. Perhaps, there were already people who had their eyes on him now.

If it was in the past, he might have been frightened and not know what to do.

However, the current Tang Zhen had sufficient confidence. He was not willing to cause trouble, but he was definitely not afraid of trouble.

Especially after killing the five ruffians, a trace of hostility gradually appeared on his body, as if he had a feeling that human lives were as worthless as grass.

After buying a SIM card on the street, Tang Zhen called Xu Feng and asked about what had happened recently.

His main purpose was to figure out what had happened to him, or else he would be worried.

When Xu Feng received Tang Zhen's call, his face was also filled with doubt. This was because he had been asking about Tang Zhen for the past two days. He wanted to find out what he had done.

In the end, after asking around for a long time, he still found nothing. No one came to find trouble with him at all.

At this time, when he saw Tang Zhen calling, he could no longer suppress the curiosity in his heart and immediately asked.

"Tell me, what did you do to make you run away?"

Don't tell me he got some girl pregnant and didn't want to take responsibility, so he ran away?"

Tang Zhen laughed and scolded when he heard this. If this was really the case, why would he run to the border's no man's land?

"To tell you the truth, I had a conflict with five ruffians earlier and accidentally killed them all. That's why I ran out in a hurry.

Such a big thing, how could there be no news at all?"

Tang Zhen no longer concealed anything and told everything to Xu Feng. With him at home to help him find out, he would be able to obtain first-hand information in time.

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, Xu Feng was stunned. Soon after, he said in a surprised tone, "One against five, and you even killed all of them. When did you become so strong?"

also, can you guarantee that you'll really kill the other party and not beat him to the ground?"

How could the outside world not have heard of such a big event? this doesn't make sense at all."

Xu Feng paused and said in a guessing tone, " "Are you crazy? are you hallucinating that this didn't happen at all?"

Of course, there's also a possibility that you ran into a ghost. The five Guys you killed weren't human at all!"

Xu Feng was talking nonsense on the phone, but his tone was very relaxed. He had a faint feeling that he had worried for nothing.

Chapter 2340 Following behind

After hanging up the phone, Tang Zhen fell into deep thought.

Xu Feng would not lie to him, which meant that no one else knew that he had killed the five ruffians.

how is this possible?!

Tang Zhen was extremely surprised. At the same time that his brows were tightly locked together, he repeatedly cried out in his heart that this was impossible.

As someone who had experienced the entire incident, he could clearly remember the scene at that time. It was simply unforgettable.

Especially after he swung his fist, the feeling of easily taking a person's life even caused Tang Zhen to feel a trace of intoxication.

He secretly guessed that perhaps the violent gene was hidden in his bones, and he was good at destroying and destroying everything.

At that moment, Tang Zhen felt that he was invincible!

Tang Zhen looked at his own fist and recalled the scene that day. He confirmed that there was no problem with his memory.

In that dark alley, he had indeed fought with five ruffians and killed all of them!

As for why no one knew about this, Tang Zhen guessed that something must have happened, which led to the bodies of the five ruffians not being found.

Of course, there was also a possibility that someone didn't want to make a big deal out of this matter. Hence, they took the initiative to help Tang Zhen solve the problem.

To Tang Zhen, although those five fellows did not deserve death, it was fine if they died. They would only harm others if they were left alive.

No one knew that they had been killed. Did that mean that he could return to his hometown?

Tang Zhen could not help but feel a little excited in his heart when he thought of this. He felt as if he had been relieved of a heavy burden.

If they had a choice, no one was willing to bear the pressure and leave their hometown. When they lay stiffly on the cold bed, even their breathing was heavier than others.

Xu Feng's seemingly joking words had similarly caused Tang Zhen's imagination to run wild. Could it be that those five ruffians were really ghosts? that was why no one had discovered them after they were killed?

If it was in the past, Tang Zhen would definitely scoff at such a statement. How could there be wandering ghosts in a clear and bright world?

However, ever since his body had undergone a mutation and obtained strength that far exceeded that of ordinary people, Tang Zhen suddenly started to believe in these supernatural things.

Perhaps in this world, there were really things like ghosts and gods. This was the only way to explain some inexplicable things.

Therefore, while he possessed great strength, Tang Zhen also had a faint trace of reverence in his heart. He guessed that there should be many powerful existences in this world.

He definitely couldn't become arrogant because of the changes in his body. That would be equivalent to finding trouble for himself.

Low-key, even more low-key, this was the way to survive!

If Tang Zhen were to know that this matter was actually done by his avatar, it was unknown what he would think.

The things that needed to be done had already been done. Tang Zhen did not waste any more time and started to return to the primeval forest.

Although Xu Feng patted his chest and guaranteed that there would be no problem for Tang Zhen to go back now, he didn't have any plans to go back.

Firstly, the situation was unclear. If he made a mistake after returning, Tang Zhen would not even have the time to cry.

He was prepared to observe for a while longer. It would not be too late to return home after confirming that there were no problems.

Secondly, he wanted to continue mining and earn more money. He would return to his hometown in glory after he had earned enough.

After finding a bank and transferring a sum of money to his sister, Tang Zhen went to the store to buy some more.

When he came out of the store, his big backpack was full, and he had two bags of food in his hands.

This pile of things added up to more than a hundred Jin. Tang Zhen carried it on his shoulders, but it did not affect his movement in the slightest.

Tang Zhen got back into the car and returned to the village. After getting off the car, he went straight to the primeval forest.

Seeing that the sky was gradually turning dark, Tang Zhen seized the time and tried his best to avoid rushing at night.

It should be known that the primeval forest at night was a hunting ground for carnivores, and the chances of encountering leopards and wild wolves were very high.

Although the intelligence of these animals was not as good as that of humans, their degree of ferocity far exceeded that of humans. Tang Zhen would rather fight with humans than face these fierce beasts.

Of course, if they were to really fight, he had nothing to fear. With his current strength, he could kill the wild ox with one punch.

Not long after Tang Zhen entered the forest, three Jeeps slowly approached. Soon after, a group of men jumped down from the Jeeps.

If Tang Zhen was here, he would definitely be able to recognize the other party's background. This was because this group of people that had followed him here was the group that had bought his raw gemstone Mine.

The middle-aged cultivator with energy fluctuations on his body was currently looking at the path that Tang Zhen had taken. A hint of greed flashed across his eyes.

After he bought the raw gemstones sold by Tang Zhen, he became greedy again and wanted to monopolize all these rare treasures.

Hence, he brought his subordinates and secretly followed behind Tang Zhen.

As for Tang Zhen and his possible companions, the middle-aged cultivator didn't plan to let them go at all. He didn't want his secret to be leaked out.

Cultivation itself was against the heavens, and natural treasures were even more precious. For this, sacrificing the lives of a few mortals was nothing.

As the middle-aged cultivator waved his hand, his subordinates immediately entered the forest. All of them were agile.

It was obvious that these followers were not ordinary people, but trained martial artists. Because they were young, strong, and carried weapons, they had strong combat power.

This group of people were like hungry wolves. They stared at the fat sheep, Tang Zhen, and slowly followed behind.

Tang Zhen was still hurrying on his way and did not discover the danger that was following him. As for the clone that had been following behind him, it had a face filled with disdain.

A bunch of overconfident guys actually dared to Rob a master of creation. They were simply courting death!

The clone was certain that as long as this group of people dared to make a move, Tang Zhen would definitely not let them off.

Not only did these guys want to snatch the raw gemstone Mine, but they also wanted to kill him to ensure that the secret would not be leaked.

Under such circumstances, how could Tang Zhen be soft-hearted? this primitive dense forest was the burial ground of the enemy!

In the dense forest, Tang Zhen was carrying a pile of items on his back. However, his speed was not affected in the slightest. His speed was as fast as lightning.

The faces of those enemies who were secretly following behind were filled with astonishment. If they had not confirmed that Tang Zhen had passed by earlier through the traces, they would have even thought that they had followed in the wrong direction.

After following him for two hours and still not seeing Tang Zhen's shadow, these people finally felt that something was wrong.

"Boss, there's something wrong with the target we're following. I've never seen anyone run so fast in a primitive forest!

If he didn't remember wrongly, that kid had a bunch of things on him, at least a hundred pounds.

Carrying more than a hundred Jin of things and moving faster than us, this is too illogical!”

Hearing his subordinate’s question, the middle-aged cultivator frowned and thought for a while before asking, “ are you sure he’s going alone and not having a partner to help him share the supplies? ”

“From the traces left behind, I can confirm that he’s the only one. This is what makes me feel that something’s wrong.

If I’m not wrong, this kid should have received special training. His strength and speed are both higher than ordinary people.

Even if our people were to fight against them, we might not be able to win for sure. We might even have to use guns!”

The middle-aged cultivator’s expression turned serious, but he quickly sneered.

“No matter how strong his fists and legs are, he’s just an ordinary person who can only show off his power in front of ordinary people.

These ants don’t know that they can’t even withstand a single blow when facing a truly powerful force!”

As the middle-aged cultivator spoke, he glanced at his subordinates. He was like a god that could decide the life and death of mortals.

Just as he was sneering to himself, he did not notice that there was a tall figure standing in the air above his head.

Comparing the two, it was clear who was the ant.
