Chapter 491 splitting and mining

Zhao Dabao didn't dare to hide anything when it came to this matter that involved huge benefits. He didn't want to leave behind any future trouble.

He was well aware of the consequences of being petty in such matters, so he knew what he should do from the beginning and appeared very honest.

The value and significance of this kind of Jade was something that Tang Zhen definitely knew better than him. Even if he were to completely take it as the Holy Dragon city's private property, it would be an act of justice.

If things really developed to that point, Zhao Dabao would have no choice but to admit that he was unlucky.

This was because whatever decision Tang Zhen made was completely not something that Zhao Dabao could control.

Therefore, the short period of time waiting for Tang Zhen's reply was a long torture for Zhao Dabao.

After Tang Zhen heard Zhao Dabao's explanation, he mused for a moment before softly saying, logically, such an important strategic resource should not be exposed to the outside world. It should only be controlled by Lou Cheng.

Zhao Dabao's heart turned cold as a bitter smile appeared on his face.

What he was most afraid of was Tang Zhen saying this. This was because, according to the characteristics of this kind of Jade, it could be considered as a strategic resource. How could the Holy Dragon City allow it to be freely circulated?

Tang Zhen ignored the disappointed Zhao Dabao and continued, however, the importance of the commercial district is self-evident. Not only can it bring a large amount of income to the Holy Dragon City, but it can also spread the Holy Dragon city's prestige and attract more cultivators and Wanderers here.

When Zhao Dabao heard this, he was slightly taken aback. Then, his eyes lit up as if he had been reborn.

Tang Zhen's words allowed him to faintly see a trace of hope.

the method you mentioned is indeed feasible. If it's properly operated, it will certainly earn a considerable profit. Even I am very tempted.

After hearing this, Zhao Dabao's face was already filled with joy as he looked at Tang Zhen with anticipation.

"I can leave this matter to you, but you'll only be responsible for the sales operation. I'll take 10% of the profit as a reward for you.

With this 10% of profit, it's enough for you to become rich quickly. It can be considered as a reward for you.

You don't need to be responsible for the mining of raw stones or the equipment required for the shop. You just need to do your job well and do a good job in marketing and sales.

This is my answer, are you satisfied?"

When Tang Zhen said this, he turned to look at Zhao Dabao without any expression on his face.

Zhao Dabao quickly nodded. He naturally had no objections, nor did he dare to.

In this matter, he could only be considered a discoverer at best. What he discovered was the wealth of the Holy Dragon City, and then he offered a suggestion that was not too brilliant.

With these items, he was able to earn ten percent of the profit from selling the raw gemstones. This was bound to be a considerable amount of wealth, so what was Zhao Dabao not satisfied with?

Even if he was still unwilling and resentful of Holy Dragon City monopolizing 90% of the profits, it could only flash through his mind and he did not dare to dream of getting what he should not have.

Greed was an original sin, and overestimating one's own ability was also a way to court death. Zhao Dabao was very self-aware, so he was very open about it.

To be able to obtain all of this, he was already satisfied!

Zhao Dabao didn't know that his current expression and actions were all seen by Tang Zhen. If he had even the slightest bit of dissatisfaction or resentment, Tang Zhen's impression of him would be greatly reduced.

Tang Zhen had already given Zhao Dabao enough things. If he were to encounter a black-hearted person, Zhao Dabao would not be able to get any benefits.

If it was another foreign cultivator, Tang Zhen might have already killed them to keep the secret and kept all the benefits for himself.

This was a world of power. If you were weak, you would have to bear some losses or benefits. Otherwise, you would only be looking for trouble.

For Zhao Dabao to be able to see this clearly, he was quite an intelligent person.

In that case, he would use him as an example and prepare a bowl of chicken soup for the upcoming transmigrators!

After bidding farewell to Tang Zhen, Zhao Dabao began to get busy.

They followed a staff member from the Holy Dragon City who was appointed by Tang Zhen. The two of them arrived at the commercial district's Management Office at the same time and met the person in charge.

After explaining his intention, the person-in-charge didn't dare to delay and immediately picked a shop that wasn't too remote for Zhao Dabao.

As for the shops on the main streets, they were all rented out. There was not a single empty space.

After arranging the work at hand, the person-in-charge led Zhao Dabao and the other man to the shop to take a look.

The area of the shop was large enough to store a lot of equipment. With a little renovation, it could open for business.

Zhao Dabao was very satisfied after looking at it. After he made his request to the person in charge, workers immediately came to start the construction.

These Wanderers recruited by the Holy Dragon City had become full-time workers in the commercial district. They were responsible for the maintenance of the commercial district and were also involved in the renovation of shops.

Compared to their previous vagabond life, their lives were much better now. While they were grateful, they also worked very seriously.

After the arrangements for the shop were done, Zhao Dabao and Zhao Yu took a car to the building in the mountain and found the person in charge of the cleaning and collection.

There were thousands of people working on the ruins of the wild buildings on the mountain peak. After they had felled and cleaned up the wood, they had taken it down the mountain and piled it up.

When Zhao Dabao arrived, he happened to run into da Xiong. He was commanding his 50-odd Ogre underlings to drag thick trees out of the ruins.

Da Xiong, who was standing on the side, was holding a bag of candy. From time to time, he would throw one to his little brother, and then eat one for himself.

Good things should be shared, so da Xiong never mistreated his underlings. It was just that when he ate the candy, his silly expression was funny.

Although da Xiong looked silly, he never caused trouble, and no one dared to look down on him.

Now, as long as the Holy Dragon city's patrol team found an Ogre, they would immediately capture it and hand it over to old Wan to tame.

Every time they were successfully tamed, they would be handed over to da Xiong to command, which also caused him to have more and more little brothers.

In the current Holy Dragon City, the big Bear, who would bring a group of giant ogres with him wherever he went, had become a strange sight, often attracting the attention of passersby.

During this time, da Xiong's underlings of ogres became the main force in clearing the buildings in the mountains. Their huge and terrifying figures could be seen everywhere.

The ogres' job was to help clean up the broken trees that were crushed by the soil.

After these trees were dragged out by the ogres, Wanderers who used various tools would surround them and clean up the branches of these trees. They would then tie them up with ropes and hang them on the bodies of the huge tamed monsters.

These monsters' levels were not high, but they had immense strength. After being tamed, they were very docile and easy to control.

Immediately after, a Wanderer directed the monsters to drag the trees down the mountain one by one and hand them over to another group of Wanderers to deal with.

It was a pity that there were not many of these tamed monsters. Most of the time, they had to rely on manpower to transport the wood down the mountain.

In addition to these primitive tools, some tools and instruments from the original world were also widely used, which greatly improved work efficiency.

After Zhao Dabao explained his intentions, the person-in-charge quickly deployed an excavator and a few hundred Wanderers with pickaxes to follow Zhao Dabao to the location where the raw gemstones were found.

When they arrived at the remote Valley, Zhao Dabao immediately saw the Wanderers gathered together and taught them how to identify and collect the raw stones.

When the raw stones were found, they would be piled together and then transported back to the Holy Dragon City by car.

In an open space not far away, a huge excavator was excavating the soil on the ground under the respectful eyes of the Wanderers, looking for a possible mine vein.

Time passed slowly. Cart after cart of raw gemstones were sent to the Holy Dragon city's cave and were closely guarded.

Chapter 492 The otherworldly version of "stone gambling" _1

To Tang Zhen, the raw jade that Zhao Dabao discovered was indeed very important. However, there was no need to sell it.

Although this thing could make money, Tang Zhen didn't lack this income. What he valued more was the auxiliary effect of the Jade stone on cultivators.

The reason why he finally agreed was because he wanted to see if there would be a scene in the world of loucheng where a stone was worth hundreds of millions.

In fact, such a situation was not impossible. Compared to the Jade in the original world, the Jade in this mountain was more valuable and more stable!

Zhao Dabao didn't know Tang Zhen's thoughts, but he knew that this was an opportunity for him. Therefore, he worked extremely hard.

A few days passed by in a flash. Zhao Dabao's shop was already cleaned up. The equipment that he had entrusted to Tang Zhen was also installed and tested.

Aside from the lighting system of the glittergold race, the Holy Dragon City was also using power generation equipment from the original world.

Zhao Dabao's shop was powered by a set of solar power equipment.

The spacious store was now completely new. A row of brand new counters was placed against the wall.

Inside the counter were some raw gemstones that had been opened. The Jade inside was not concealed at all, and it looked very bright.

Customers only needed to take a look to know that these seemingly ordinary stones were actually the raw ore of that kind of Jade.

In order to make the Jade appear more high-end, Zhao Dabao named it "spiritual Jade" and promoted it.

In fact, Zhao Dabao didn't even need to promote it. This spiritual Jade was already famous. The cultivators in the commercial district already knew the effects of this spiritual Jade.

When they heard that a new shop had opened in the commercial district and that it was selling that kind of spiritual Jade raw stone, a group of merchants and cultivators had already surrounded him before he could even open his shop.

When Zhao Dabao, who was busy working inside and outside, saw this scene, he laughed so hard that his teeth could not be seen. He immediately came in front of everyone and began to explain the Rules of the Shop.

The way to play with the raw spiritual Jade was similar to the stone gambling in the original world. This was because the raw spiritual Jade could block the perception of spiritual power, so when purchasing it, it often required luck and experience.

At the entrance of the shop, there were piles of stones with numbers written on them, indicating the weight and price of the Jade.

Although these raw spiritual jades could block the perception of mental power, if one observed carefully, there was a certain pattern to follow.

In order to cooperate with Zhao Dabao's work, dozens of people had gathered together a few days ago and cut seven to eight carts of stones in one go.

Everyone continued to compare the results of the stone cutting and finally came up with a set of tricks to distinguish the good and bad of the spirit Jade raw stone.

Although the accuracy of these tricks was not very high, they were more than enough to set a price for the raw spiritual jade stone.

The principle of you get what you pay for was true everywhere. The Holy Dragon City would naturally not do business at a loss.

The cultivators and merchants had just come into contact with this kind of spirit Jade raw stone, so they naturally did not know the twists and turns of it. However, they were very clear about the principle that there was nothing good for cheap.

Therefore, apart from a small number of people who were staring at the cheap raw spiritual jade stones, most people were surrounding the raw spiritual jade stones that were priced in the tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands, constantly discussing and studying them.

Money didn't fall from the sky. Although those cultivators and merchants had money, they wouldn't spend it recklessly. This kind of thing didn't seem very reliable, so they really didn't have confidence in it.

However, the unraveled raw spiritual jade stones on the counter clearly told everyone that these ordinary-looking stones actually contained extremely precious spiritual Jade.

In short, this kind of spiritual Jade was very precious, and if one wanted to get it, they would have to rely on some luck.

If one wanted to buy the finished product, they could either cut out the Jade and make it themselves, or they could only spend a high price to buy the Jade talisman fragments left behind in the wild buildings on the mountain.

After listening to Zhao Dabao's introduction, everyone discussed and soon found a business opportunity.

If he could find spiritual Jade in the raw spiritual jade stone, he could use it to sculpt artifacts. When the time came, he could sell it at a higher price and make a fortune.

Although the price of these raw spiritual jade stones was very high, they were much cheaper than the finished products. It was definitely worth investing in.

After realizing this, people began to try to buy it, trying their luck.

"Boss, I want this piece. Can you make it cheaper?"

A non-human merchant pointed at a spiritual Jade raw stone the size of a human head and asked Zhao Dabao after walking a few rounds.

When Zhao Dabao heard this, he immediately walked over with a smile. After taking a look at the spiritual Jade, he replied, "You really have a good eye. You picked a piece of material that is likely to rise in value at a glance.

This piece of Jade is worth 150000 Yuan. I'll give you a 20% discount, so it's a total of 120000 Yuan. This price can't be any lower!"

After Zhao Dabao finished speaking, he looked at the other party with a smile and appeared very sincere.

Hearing this, the foreign merchant immediately hesitated, because this price was really not cheap. If there was no spiritual Jade in the stone, his 120000 brain beads would be gone.

However, if there was something good in the raw spiritual jade stone, he could easily earn back the 120000 Yuan He had spent.

Just as the foreign-race merchant was at a loss for what to choose, two more foreign cultivators walked over and began to circle around the raw spirit Jade.

From their expressions, it was obvious that they were very satisfied with the raw stone and had the intention to buy it.

After seeing this, the foreign merchant no longer hesitated. He walked in front of Zhao Dabao and handed him a stack of cash.

boss, I want this stone. Help me untie it immediately!

Zhao Dabao was elated when he heard that. After he took the money, he immediately called for the workers in the store to help move the raw stone to the cutting machine.

Seeing this, the crowd swarmed over, wanting to see if there was really a spiritual Jade in the raw stone.

At the entrance of the shop, the cutting machine, which had long been connected to the power source, was running at full speed. A burst of harsh cutting sounds filled the ears of the onlookers.

It didn't take long for the raw stone to be cut, revealing the material inside.

After washing it with water, a touch of crystal-like luster was exposed in front of everyone's eyes, which was extremely attractive.

Although the quality of this Jade was not the best Jade used to make Jade talismans, it was almost the same. If it was used to make a finished product, it would definitely be worth a lot.

When the surrounding crowd saw this scene, they couldn't help but widen their eyes. While they exclaimed repeatedly, their expressions were also filled with shock and jealousy!

"It's rising, it's rising!"

Zhao Dabao was stunned at first, but then he immediately used the methods of his former world high school and shouted to add to the atmosphere.

The staff in the store were also cheering, their faces full of joy. Infected by them, the onlookers' emotions were also stirred up, and they kept exclaiming and sighing.

Zhao Dabao congratulated the foreign merchant, claiming that he would earn at least ten times the profit after the spiritual Jade was completed!

In fact, even if Zhao Dabao didn't say it, the foreign merchant already knew. When the raw stone was cut open, he had already estimated the price of the spiritual Jade.

A return of tens of times was still a conservative estimate. If the operation was done properly, even a return of a hundred times was very likely!

The foreign cultivators, who had been feeling uncertain, finally relaxed at this moment, and their faces were filled with joy after their investment was successful.

As the two of them conversed, the surrounding onlookers were all listening attentively. When they heard that this piece of raw spiritual jade stone could make a profit of dozens of times, all of their eyes widened and their hearts beat wildly.

This scene of sudden wealth made them red with envy, but at the same time, they also began to be eager to try.

"I want this raw spiritual jade stone!"

"This one's not bad, I want it!"

"Little brother, come over quickly and help me take a look at this stone. What do you think?"

Hundreds of raw spiritual jade stones were sold out in the blink of an eye!

Chapter 493 The famous spiritual Jade (1)

At the entrance of the stone gambling store in the commercial district, it was extremely lively at the moment, attracting countless passersby to stop and watch.

From time to time, there would be a burst of exclamations from the crowd, saying things like “it’s increased!” Or “it’s greatly increased!”

This bunch of people learned rather quickly. Now, whenever they cut out good materials, they would receive exclamations of surprise without Zhao Dabao taking the lead.

This kind of exciting scene of getting rich overnight made countless people intoxicated and crazy.

Those onlookers who didn’t understand the reason asked one after another, and after they figured it out, they were all amazed.

One knife to heaven and one knife to hell. The charm of stone gambling could be seen here!

In order to make a name for himself, Zhao Dabao had done a lot of work. The batch of stones that he had just sold were all carefully selected, so the rate of increase was naturally very high.

As the raw gemstones were unraveled one by one, cheers and sighs of regret could be heard.

Those who were increasing their spiritual jades were overjoyed, constantly accepting the congratulations from others, and then happily calculating how much they would earn after the spiritual jades were completed.

Some cultivators who were very eager for this kind of spiritual Jade immediately came forward and discussed with these people to see if they could buy one from the other party at a fair price.

These cultivators were more inclined to buy the finished products than to participate in the stone gambling. After all, it was foolproof and they did not have to bear the risk of stone gambling.

It was a pity that even if these cultivators wanted to buy it, those who wanted to increase the price didn’t want to sell it immediately, but were ready to wait for the price to rise.

This kind of spiritual Jade with a special effect was already very expensive in the commercial district. If he sold it elsewhere, he would definitely make a lot of profit!

Merchants pursued profits and would definitely try their best to maximize their profits. Now that the Holy Dragon city’s products were gradually becoming famous and were already known by many foreign races, this kind of spiritual Jade with special effects would definitely be able to sell for a high price outside!

Among them, there were also those who insisted that they would not sell it, but decided to keep it for their own use after the finished product was produced. At the same time, they would give it as a gift for a favor, which would definitely give them a lot of face.

Most of these people were foreign cultivators, and they knew how precious and rare spirit Jade was. They would never let go of it easily.

On the other hand, the losers were all beating their chests and stomping their feet, their faces full of depression. Seeing that others were making a lot of money, their eyes could not help but turn red.

Regardless of the value of the spiritual Jade or the excitement of the increase in spiritual energy, they were all deeply engrossed in it.

Seeing others earn a lot of money after their cut rose and accept the congratulations and envy of others, while they would be booed after their own cut fell, and from time to time, there would be gloating mockery. This strong contrast was really depressing.

They didn't take their anger out on the store. After all, they had made it clear before buying that they couldn't guarantee that all of them would have spiritual Jade, and it would depend on their luck and judgment if they were to sell or sell.

He wanted to buy a few more stones to wash away his shame, but he was told that the raw stones had been sold out. If he wanted to buy more, he would have to come back tomorrow!

Although he was unwilling, he calmed down and prepared to be the first one to fight for it when the shop opened tomorrow.

Zhao Dabao was currently all smiles as he discussed with the sealers on how to cut out the finished product. He was extremely busy.

With the carving equipment that Tang Zhen had brought, cutting and manufacturing was just a small matter. However, to Zhao Dabao, it was a profitable business that he had to treat seriously.

More than 20 workers hired from the Wanderers busied around. Although their feet didn't touch the ground, each of them had a happy expression.

Previously, Zhao Dabao had promised that as long as they did a good job and improved their professional abilities, their wages would continue to increase.

Looking at the booming business in the stone gambling store, these workers also seemed to see their own bright future, so they were all full of energy!

Overnight, this stone gambling store became famous. Every morning when it opened, a group of people would swarm in to fight for the raw spiritual jade stones that were constantly rising in price.

After a long time, an industry chain formed by spiritual Jade raw stones quietly took shape as Tang Zhen had expected. In the commercial district alone, there were thousands of people involved.

Because this kind of spiritual Jade raw stone was a specialty of the Holy Dragon City, countless people came because of its fame, which made the commercial district even more prosperous.

The spiritual Jade produced by the Holy Dragon City also became famous. Other than assisting cultivators in their cultivation, it gradually became a symbol of status for the rich and powerful. Ordinary people could only dream of it!

As for the wild building on the mountain peak that produced the spirit Jade raw stone, the cornerstone of the wild building hidden in the belly of the mountain had long been taken away by Tang Zhen and turned into ruins.

However, as the reputation of the spiritual jade stone Rose, the Holy Dragon City began to seal off the area. There were soldiers patrolling the area at all times to prevent anyone from going up the mountain to dig for it.

The abandoned building was once again valued because of the appearance of the spiritual Jade raw stone.

In a certain cave in the Holy Dragon City, Tang Zhen, accompanied by a few craftsmen, was examining a large pile of spirit Jade raw stones that had just been cut open and carefully selected.

Compared to the spirit jades in Zhao Dabao's shop, the quality of the spirit jades in front of Tang Zhen was almost the same as those Jade talismans.

Such a good thing as spiritual Jade should be used by his own people first!

After checking these spirit jades, Tang Zhen ordered his men to place them properly. At the same time, he activated the Super laser engraving machine, an application that he had downloaded long ago.

With the activation of the application, a dazzling light appeared out of thin air, constantly jumping and shuttling between the spiritual jades.

Countless fine dust particles rose up and then slowly fell down. The spiritual Jade on the ground silently scattered into countless blank Jade tablets.

The eyes of the surrounding craftsmen were wide open, and they all looked at the city Lord with shock and admiration. After all, the scene in front of them was simply too shocking.

Tang Zhen didn't pay attention to the shock of the others. Instead, he released his mental energy and evenly spread the white spirit Jade that had been cut out on the ground. He then activated the application again and began to carve.

Along with the increase in his level, Tang Zhen discovered that when he used some of the previously downloaded applications, the efficiency had also changed significantly.

For example, after he activated the application, his carving speed and the number of Jade plates he carved had increased by several times. In the blink of an eye, thousands of Jade plates had been carved.

The front of the Jade tablet was carved with a lifelike giant dragon with the words " Holy Dragon " on it. On the back were a few special runes.

These runes all had special effects. They could use the energy contained in the Jade token to produce beneficial effects for the wearer.

Although the effect of the runes was magical, it also required a suitable carrier and the energy of the carrier. Otherwise, no matter how many runes could be carved, it would be useless.

This kind of spiritual Jade was a suitable carrier. After the runes were carved, the energy in the spiritual Jade could be stimulated.

After today, these Jade tokens would be distributed to the Holy Dragon city's Warriors and cultivators as a benefit to aid their cultivation.

Spiritual Jade, which was expensive in the outside world, was only standard equipment in the Holy Dragon City. From this, one could see how good the welfare of the Holy Dragon city's residents was!

After all the Jade tokens were carved, they would be made into necklaces together with the identity tokens and distributed.

Qian Long and Tai Seng were in charge of distributing the Jade tokens, so Tang Zhen didn't have to worry about it. After he was done with this, he slowly left the cave.

The data of the transmigrators had been collected. The next thing to do was to welcome the next batch of transmigrators!

Chapter 494 ! batch of transmigrators

After returning to Lou Cheng to prepare, Tang Zhen set out to return to his original world.

Two days ago, Tang Zhen had already sent the monitoring data back. After analysis, it was confirmed that there were no abnormalities. The five volunteers were still alive and kicking.

In fact, there was no need to analyze the data. Tang Zhen already knew the result. This was because during this period of time, his spiritual power had been covering the five transmigrators. During this period, he did not discover anything amiss.

Tang Zhen finally relaxed after confirming this.

The soul teleportation experiment was a success. In this case, the talents from the original world could begin to transmigrate in batches.

Inside the tower in the original world, Tang Zhen's figure appeared out of thin air.

The interior of the city was brightly lit, and fully armed soldiers were guarding the door, preventing anyone from entering.

During this period of time, the guards had arrested countless suspicious people, and they were all rushing to the soul transfer array.

There had been a lot of commotion during the construction of Loucheng, so it was impossible to not attract attention.

For a time, demons and monsters appeared one after another, and the desolate desert became extremely lively.

At this moment, there were many people hurrying past in the passage outside. Many of them were men and women in casual clothes, and from their looks, they did not seem to be military personnel.

When Tang Zhen walked out, the two soldiers guarding the door raised their hands and saluted. Their eyes were filled with reverence.

The two of them had personally witnessed the miracle that Tang Zhen had displayed. They were naturally in awe of this kind of ability that could move mountains and fill the seas.

Tang Zhen smiled at the two of them and slowly walked towards the second floor of loucheng.

In a Hall on the second floor, more than a dozen people were gathered together, holding information and talking.

After seeing Tang Zhen enter, everyone immediately stood up to welcome him. After chatting for a while, they took their seats again.

“Mr. Tang, we have already made the necessary arrangements here. There will be a total of 500 people to be transported this time. All the necessary equipment has also been prepared. How’s the preparation on your side?”

Director Tang, who was sitting opposite of Tang Zhen, asked after chatting for a while.

I’ve already prepared everything. The teleportation can start at any time.

After receiving Tang Zhen’s affirmative reply, everyone no longer hesitated and decided to immediately take action.

Following the order, the huge square was filled with flashing figures. 500 men and women in white clothes came in a line and stood around the soul transfer array.

Without any extra procedures, the men and women walked into the transmission cabin in a row of five.

In the face of the unknown world that they were about to head to, they had no fear, only calmness and calmness.

As the light continued to flash, batch after batch of people were transported away. The unconscious bodies were carried on stretchers by the medical staff and sent to the newly built medical base.

Tang Zhen quietly watched the scene before him. There was not the slightest expression on his face.

Compared to the world of loucheng, the humans of the original world undoubtedly had more complicated thoughts. Once they passed, the situation in Holy Dragon City would become even more complicated.

However, only Tang Zhen knew that in the world of loucheng, there would definitely be a civilization inheritance that was stronger than that of the original world. The proud people would soon discover that reality was not as good as they had imagined.

Only by relying on the Holy Dragon city’s power could they safely pass the initial stage and continue to grow stronger.

Tang Zhen was clear that after the forces from his original world entered the loucheng world, they would not be limited to the Holy Dragon City. The vast and rich continent was their target!

Their ultimate goal was to colonize the loucheng world and obtain its countless resources.

Until they could not teleport items independently, this cooperation model would continue!

The two of them made use of each other. The Holy Dragon City would use the power of their partners to continuously strengthen itself, absorbing and integrating the essence of various civilizations.

Tang Zhen's goal was actually the wider world!

Loucheng world, Holy Dragon city's back Valley.

Hundreds of soldiers of loucheng city were guarding the soul teleportation formation with their guns and bullets. There were nearly a hundred cultivators of loucheng city who were staring at the bodies in the pool.

Qian Long held a cigarette in his mouth and would blow out smoke rings from time to time with a helpless expression on his face.

Recently, Qian Long had been extremely busy, and there were simply too many things that he needed to deal with.

Due to the ample cultivation resources, thousand Dragon was already on the verge of becoming a Lord, and could advance at any moment.

At this moment, he was called by Tang Zhen to be in charge of this matter. He naturally felt unusually depressed.

Glancing at the five young men and women standing beside him, Qian Long's lips twitched and he couldn't help but snort coldly.

As a high-ranking official, Qian Long already knew the origins of these young men and women. Other than being surprised, he had no other thoughts.

There were countless races in the world of loucheng, so the natives here were not particularly xenophobic. Even if the other party came from another world, it was not a big deal.

The Holy Dragon city's inter-plane passage connected five different worlds. The cultivators of the loucheng world had long been accustomed to the world outside the loucheng world.

As he raised his head to look at the sky, Qian Long suddenly recalled something.

Two days ago, a mercenary group had reported that a building had suddenly appeared in a place hundreds of kilometers away from the Holy Dragon City. Many cultivators had entered and never came out.

The nearby buildings had already gathered around the wild buildings, trying to enter and explore together.

However, there was bound to be good stuff hidden in such a dangerous and strange wild building. Since he had come across it, he definitely couldn't miss it.

Just as Qian Long was considering whether he should lead some people over to take a look, the soul teleportation formation not far away suddenly shone brightly!

One after another, dazzling rays of light fell from the sky. The brain beads embedded in the ground also began to glow faintly.

The bodies in the pool began to stand up one after another, looking around with blank eyes.

The Holy Dragon city's residents who had been standing guard at the side handed over the long robes in their hands for the transmigrators to wear.

Thousand Dragon, who was sitting in the car, jumped down and began to direct the transmigrators to gather together and wait for them to head to the temporary resting place.

The transmigrators were also very obedient. After all, they had received special training before transmigrating, so they were not unfamiliar with the world of loucheng.

They had a certain level of understanding of the Holy Dragon city's higher-ups, so they naturally knew that the black-armored youth before them was the Holy Dragon city's cultivator commander.

When in Rome, do as the Romans do. They had to maintain enough respect for the powerful people here.

Now that the transmigration was a success, the transmigrator would start work after a day's rest!

They would not feel lonely, because in the days to come, there would be more and more transmigrators from Holy Dragon City.

Time passed by slowly. When all 500 transmigrators woke up, they began to board the car and left the back Valley collectively.

After these transmigrators left, cars drove over slowly. When they arrived near the soul teleportation array, huge fruits were unloaded by the Holy Dragon city's residents.

He pushed the fruit to the side of the pool and cut it open carefully with a knife. The green liquid flowed out, and the body hidden in the fruit slid into the pool.

It wouldn't take long for the next batch of transmigrators to enter the tower world.

Chapter 495-the United States is attacked (1)

Original world, desert city.

When all the transmigrators were teleported and Tang Zhen was about to return to the world of loucheng, he was told that the representative of the American Alliance wanted to see him.

Tang Zhen laughed when he heard that. Indeed, they couldn't sit still when they saw the Asian Alliance's swift actions.

As one of his business partners, the other party had also given Tang Zhen a lot of support. Therefore, it was necessary to meet him.

Although it was more of an exchange of benefits between the two parties, this did not affect their cooperation. Tang Zhen would naturally not neglect his cooperating partners.

Tang Zhen nodded when he thought of this. They headed to the nearby Lou Cheng together.

In a square not far from Lou Cheng, dozens of huge military tents were set up, and the representatives of the American Alliance were waiting quietly inside.

After Tang Zhen entered, a blond-haired, blue-eyed man immediately came forward to greet him. He shook hands with Tang Zhen and conversed with him very enthusiastically.

“Mr. Tang Zhen, long time no see!”

Smith spoke in the fluent Alliance language with a face full of smiles as he chatted with Tang Zhen. It was as if the two of them were good friends, making it difficult for people to have any ill feelings.

“Long time no see, may I know what business you have with me?”

Tang Zhen had a lot of things to do and didn't have time to waste on useless small talk. He naturally went straight to the point and asked the other party's intention for coming.

Smith didn't beat around the bush and went straight to the point.

“Mr. Tang Zhen, we're very close partners. Our previous cooperation has always been very pleasant.

There's an old saying in the Asian Alliance, "favor one over the other." As close partners, I don't think such a situation will happen, right?”

Tang Zhen glanced at Smith when he heard that but didn't say anything. Smith smiled and continued, "I've come here with the hope that you'll be able to build a city within the American Alliance's borders, as well as a soul-teleporting formation.

No matter what you need, we will prepare it as soon as possible. What do you think?”

There was a hint of resentment in Smith's words, but he was helpless.

Although there were many players in the American Alliance, the first soul traveler had appeared in the Asian Alliance. There was nothing they could do about it.

Tang Zhen's brows twitched when he heard this. Since the other party had come knocking on his door, there was no need for him to reject.

The soul teleportation experiment was a success. Next was the beginning of a large-scale teleportation. Even if Smith didn't look for him, Tang Zhen would find time to go to the American Alliance.

“If that's the case, you can arrange the time!”

Tang Zhen nodded to Smith and gave the other party an affirmative answer.

Smith was overjoyed and immediately replied, "If Mr. Tang Zhen doesn't have any other matters, we'd better leave now. What do you think?”

After the two sides reached an agreement, Smith informed the person in charge of the Asian Alliance. Then, everyone went to the airport and flew directly to the American Alliance.

A remote road in the United States.

Tang Zhen glanced at the boundless wilderness outside the window before he continued to flip through the book in his hand.

As soon as he got off the plane, Tang Zhen once again sat in the convoy that came to pick him up and directly headed to the American base dozens of kilometers away.

Due to the remote terrain, that place would be the place where the City Tower would be built. The soul transfer formation would also be built there.

Before Tang Zhen's arrival, the American Alliance had already sent troops to completely seal off the area.

Because the land was vast and the population was sparse, only their convoy was moving rapidly on this remote road. They did not encounter a single car that was driving in the opposite direction for a long time.

Just as Tang Zhen was lowering his head to read his book, a few cars suddenly drove over from the road not far away. They were driving in a neither fast nor slow manner.

The Secret Service personnel in front of the convoy immediately raised their spirits to prevent any accidents from happening.

Of course, this was just a habit of his job. After all, Tang Zhen's identity was sensitive and he was not allowed to be harmed in any way.

The American Alliance wasn't peaceful at all.

There was no such thing as an impervious wall in this world. There were already a few organizations in the United States that had somehow found out about the soul transmigration plan.

They were extremely opposed to this, thinking that this was the beginning of the world's destruction, and claimed that they must stop the plan.

The United States had a headache dealing with this group of people and had to be on guard against them.

On the wide road, when the two teams were less than 100 meters apart, the truck on the opposite side suddenly accelerated and slammed into the car in front.

"Enemy attack!"

The Secret Service personnel at the front immediately issued a warning and frantically turned the steering wheel, trying to avoid the other party's surprise attack.

However, the truck's impact was extremely fast. In such a short distance, it was impossible to completely avoid it.

"BOOM!"

After a loud bang, the car in front of the convoy was sent flying. It rolled a few times in the air and fell to the ground!

The Secret Service agents in the cars had all lost consciousness, and it was unknown if they were still alive.

After the truck hit a car, it directly stopped on the road, blocking the convoy's way.

The two cars that followed behind quickly extended a few rifles and fired at the convoy.

we're under attack. Turn around immediately!

The Secret Service agent at the back shouted, and the speeding cars suddenly drifted and turned around on the road. The whole process was as smooth as floating clouds and flowing water.

It was clear that the American Secret Service agents had been specially trained for this kind of emergency.

However, just as the cars turned around, more than 20 armed men suddenly jumped out of the weeds on both sides of the road and fired at the convoy.

The sound of violent firing echoed through the wilderness, and the bulletproof cars were badly damaged. Fortunately, these cars were extremely bulletproof, and ordinary rifle bullets could not penetrate them in a short time.

Under such circumstances, the convoy only needed a few seconds to quickly leave the scene of the attack.

However, the enemy had planned such an attack, so how could they let the convoy escape so easily?

Just as the convoy turned around, the group of militants suddenly took out their bazookas, aimed at the car in front, and pulled the trigger.

"RPG!"

As the Secret Service agent in the car shouted, a rocket had hit the car in the front, followed by a loud bang.

The interior of the car that was hit burst out with a scorching wave of fire and turned into a wreckage in the blink of an eye. None of the Secret Service personnel inside could escape, and they were all turned into charcoal in the instant of the explosion.

The car that was following closely behind saw this and did not hesitate at all. It directly crashed into the burning car and continued to charge forward.

It was also at this moment that a second rocket was fired. Its target was the car that Tang Zhen was in.

The driver's face was filled with despair because there was no way he could avoid the rocket attack at such a short distance!

Both the driver and Smith's faces turned ashen as they imagined the scene of being hit by a rocket.

At this moment, Tang Zhen, who was sitting in the back seat, was shocked.

"Crack!"

After a muffled sound, the sturdy metal sheet of the car was easily pierced by his arm, and his arm directly reached out of the car.

What happened next stunned all the militants who were staring at the rocket.

The rocket suddenly turned and was less than ten centimeters away from the car when it was caught by a big hand that stretched out of the car.

“Oh my God, what did I just see?”

“Damn it, are my eyes playing tricks on me?”

attack! Continue using the Rockets!

After recovering from their shock, the militants immediately shouted out and continued to attack, all of their bullets landing on the car.

But what happened next petrified the armed personnel.

The bullets that were aimed at the car were all frozen in mid-air, unable to move an inch.

When the armed men who were attacking the car saw this scene, a trace of despair immediately rose in their hearts. It was only now that they realized that the target they were going to deal with was so powerful and terrifying!

Before the armed men could react, the bullets were sent flying back with terrifying momentum, tearing the armed men into pieces.

After a series of screams, no one was left standing on both sides of the road, leaving only countless broken bodies.

With a soft cold snort, Tang Zhen turned his head and swept a glance at Smith. As if nothing had happened, he lowered his head and continued reading.

On the other hand, Smith, who was sitting in the passenger's seat, was covered in cold sweat. He showed an extremely ugly smile.

Chapter 496 the American Alliance's super square

A sudden attack and a group of fearless militants had caused a lot of damage to the convoy.

In the end, less than half a minute after Tang Zhen made his move, it had completely disappeared, and the crisis had disappeared without a trace.

Smith and the rest finally had a deep understanding of Tang Zhen's strength. They even faintly felt a trace of fear.

“Damn it, what a freak!”

Smith cursed in his heart. At the same time, he also confirmed one thing. Ordinary weapons were simply unable to harm Tang Zhen in the slightest!

When he thought about Tang Zhen's other strange abilities, Smith finally understood why those unyielding people were so polite to Tang Zhen and uncharacteristically started to cooperate.

The weapons in this world would probably be unable to do anything to him. On the other hand, the weapon he had in his possession was likely to destroy the entire world.

This wasn't a guess. There was reliable evidence!

Smith let out a long sigh and turned to look at Tang Zhen who was sitting behind him.

At this moment, the air in the car seemed to have frozen, and it was filled with an oppressive aura.

The people who had just escaped from death suddenly felt even more frightened than when they were on the verge of death. It was as if a nuclear bomb was about to explode and they were guarding it.

Once this nuclear bomb exploded, it would definitely be a scene of destruction!

Every second was so torturous that he wanted to scream and run away to relieve the pressure in his heart.

The source of this oppressive feeling was Tang Zhen, who was holding a strange book in his hand and had not shown any expression from the beginning to the end.

"Mr. Smith, I hope that this will never happen again!"

After being silent for a moment, Tang Zhen finally opened his mouth and spoke in an indifferent manner.

After Tang Zhen's words left his mouth, that oppressive aura that caused people to feel despair instantly disappeared without a trace. It was as if it had never existed.

However, the feeling of relief and the heavy pressure on their shoulders made everyone know that it was not an illusion.

I'm very sorry. This was our negligence. I can guarantee that this kind of thing will never happen again!

Smith quickly replied. He hated the armed men who attacked him. He had made up his mind to take revenge on them!

If they angered this God behind them, the American Alliance's losses would be too great. It could even be said that no one would be able to bear the responsibility!

As the two of them were conversing, two assault helicopters were seen flying in the sky not too far away. They were circling the convoy continuously.

This was the reinforcement force sent by the nearby military base, but it was a pity that they were one step late!

The scattered and deformed bodies on the ground made the pilots secretly frightened. After reporting the situation, they stopped to escort them.

Other than the two assault helicopters, a group of military jeeps whizzed by on the road not far away. The Jeeps were filled with American soldiers with loaded guns and were heading straight for Tang Zhen's position.

The Secret Service agents, who were originally in a state of alert, immediately jumped into the car and quickly turned around on the road. Then, under the protection of the armed helicopters, they went straight to the military base.

Everything was normal for the rest of the journey, and the convoy smoothly arrived at the special military base built in the wilderness.

In fact, the attack was beyond everyone's expectations. Smith and the others, who were in charge of security, were caught off guard. Otherwise, with the American military's strength, they would not have allowed such a thing to happen.

After the convoy arrived at the base, Tang Zhen jumped out of the car and casually looked around.

The empty base was filled with busy American soldiers and temporary buildings.

Compared to the Asian Alliance's city in the desert, the American Alliance's chosen area wasn't particularly remote and was undoubtedly much more convenient in terms of material transportation.

In addition to all kinds of temporary buildings, Tang Zhen also found a large number of tanks and chariots quietly parked in an open space not far away. Teams of American soldiers were gathered and waiting for orders.

Compared to the Asian Alliance's base, the US had more special mobile vehicles. They clearly relied more on these military weapons.

The purpose of these tanks might be to fight against the monsters that appeared when the building was built. Otherwise, they would not have sent so many heavy weapons to protect a military base!

With the experience provided by the Asian Alliance, the American Alliance was undoubtedly more prepared!

In front of a temporary building, Tang Zhen met the person in charge of the base, an American general in his fifties!

"Mr. Tang Zhen, welcome. We express our deepest apologies for what just happened!"

This soldier was tall and had white hair. His words and actions revealed an extremely tough temperament.

Tang Zhen was actually unconcerned about this matter. This was because it was impossible for these armed men to harm him. It was just like how an adult would not be able to be injured by a few ants.

Tang Zhen could not treat this ambush as if nothing had happened. He must repay the favor!

Of course, Tang Zhen would not say anything on the surface. After all, if he were to haggle over such a small matter in the open, it would appear that he was too petty.

Tang Zhen had countless ways to make the other party suffer a loss. Therefore, Tang Zhen was very magnanimous towards the superficial apology from the American Alliance and gently brushed it off.

Both sides were pressed for time, so they went straight to the point.

Due to the use of the terrain transformation plug-in to build a super square in the Asian Alliance, there was no special space in the American Alliance. They were waiting for Zhen Tang to transform it.

It wasn't that they lacked these supplies, but they were afraid that they would make a mess of things if they acted rashly.

Tang Zhen was indifferent. After all, this was something that he could casually do.

Moreover, the soul transfer array had a very high requirement for the foundation. If it was an ordinary concrete carrier, it would break after a few times because it couldn't bear the pressure.

The platform that was built using the terrain modification plug-in was extremely strong, even if it was bombarded by artillery, it would not be damaged.

In order to solve the problem once and for all, Tang Zhen would not easily use the venue that the other party had prepared for him.

A group of American military personnel accompanied them to a barren area less than five kilometers away from the temporary base.

This was where the American Alliance was going to build their city. The field was covered in gravel and grass, and the surrounding area had been classified as a military restricted zone.

After Tang Zhen switched to the map and checked, he confirmed that there was no problem and slightly nodded.

He slowly closed his eyes and locked onto the area in front of him. He then activated the [Map Modification plug-in].

The people standing beside Tang Zhen could only feel the ground tremble. Before they could recover from their shock, an incomparably huge Super Rock platform had suddenly appeared on the empty ground that was overgrown with weeds!

This stone platform was extremely large, completely blocking everyone's vision, and at the same time, it was constantly rising.

It was as if a huge mountain was breaking through the earth and rising up!

&Nbsp; as the stone platform rose, the edges of the platform seemed to be constantly kneaded by a pair of terrifying invisible hands. The hard stone was like soft plasticine, rapidly changing shape.

With the experience of the previous monster attack, Tang Zhen directly stretched the surrounding walls to a height of 15 meters. He only stopped when he felt that it was enough.

The onlookers who witnessed this Grand occasion had long fallen into a daze, and only their heavy breathing could be heard.

“This is a divine miracle!”

“Oh my God, I must be dreaming!”

it’s really too shocking, baby, please take your hand away from my crotch, baby.

“I’m sorry, I can’t help but grab something when I’m excited,

The exclamations of those onlookers were unending. However, Tang Zhen turned a deaf ear to them. This was because he was already used to this.

A minute later, the Super Stone platform was completed. It stood in the wilderness like a Super Fortress, looking down on the surrounding land.

Just one look at it would make one’s breathing quicken and blood boil!

Chapter 497 The teleportation circle and the cornerstone

Before the American Alliance had chosen this area, it had only been a desolate wilderness, a paradise for beasts.

however, with the construction of the tower, this place would definitely become very lively and become one of the transit stations connecting the two worlds.

After the transformation was completed, the Super square that appeared out of thin air had attracted the attention of countless people. After all, such a huge movement could not be hidden.

There was nothing to hide on the plains, so the changes could be seen from far away.

As he looked around, he saw people stretching their necks and staring at the Super square with their eyes wide open.

The surroundings were quiet, only the sound of the wind blowing and the grass rustling could be heard. At this moment, the others were collectively speechless.

After another minute or so, the noise was heard again. There were exclamations and cheers everywhere, and from time to time, a sharp whistle could be heard.

The people around Tang Zhen had also recovered from the shock and quickly issued orders. Immediately after, military vehicles whizzed over and directly drove into the Super square.

All kinds of equipment were immediately set up, and it was a busy scene everywhere.

Because they had already obtained the blueprint of the teleportation circle, the American technicians had already started working on it as soon as the Super square was built.

The sound of all kinds of equipment working mixed together. Because the walls of the Super square were particularly soundproof, it was very noisy.

Tang Zhen went to the construction site to take a look. After handing over the required brain to the construction staff, he returned to the military base to discuss the problems of building the city and defending against monsters.

After the experience of the monster siege in the Asian Alliance, the United States had decided to use weapons such as incendiary bombs and cloud bombs on a large scale to effectively kill the monsters.

There were 50 assault helicopters involved in the air attack, hundreds of various combat vehicles on the ground, and thousands of combat personnel.

At this moment, a large number of automatic defense machine guns, laser weapons, and other equipment had already been set up on the walls of the Super square. With the help of combat personnel, the killing power was extremely impressive!

With their previous experience, the American Alliance's defenses against monster attacks were foolproof.

Compared to the monsters in the world of loucheng, the monsters in the original world were not worth mentioning. Whether it was in terms of combat power or numbers, they gave people the feeling that they were just there to make up the numbers.

The most important point was that the monsters in the original world did not have brains. It was also for this reason that their ability to sustain combat was extremely poor. During the entire siege, the monsters had been overdrawing their health, which was why they went berserk.

After the last siege, many of the monsters and poisonous insects had died not from guns, but from exhaustion!

Such an outcome caused Tang Zhen to feel neither able to laugh nor cry.

As for the monsters in the dungeon World, it was different. Even after the siege battle ended, they were still alive and doing what they were supposed to do!

From this, it could be seen that the vitality strength between the two was not on the same level at all.

After the discussion, Tang Zhen didn't need to worry about the following matters. He only needed to quietly wait for the soul transfer array to be completed.

Tang Zhen, who had nothing to do, habitually took out a book and quietly sat on the chair to read.

The warm sunlight shone on his body, giving him an extremely comfortable feeling. It was also a kind of enjoyment to read a book in his free time.

Some of the American soldiers who passed by Tang Zhen deliberately slowed down their steps so as not to disturb this special person who possessed god-like power.

The sunlight scattered on the pages of the book. Those words were like dancing spirits that were continuously reflected in Tang Zhen's eyes.

The reason why Tang Zhen loved to read was because he could understand countless secrets that he did not know of through these words that were filled with the aura of vicissitudes.

There was a saying in the world of loucheng that every high-level Holy master was a knowledgeable scholar. This saying was too certain, but there was a certain truth to it!

The book that Tang Zhen was currently reading was actually a diary. It came from the remains of the Super battleship ruins. It was the relic of a two star feudal lord of an alien race.

The original owner of the diary died outside the wreckage of the battleship, but the backpack containing the diary was preserved and obtained by Tang Zhen in the end.

In this slightly tattered diary, there were records of many strange wild buildings in dangerous areas on the continent. Some of them had already been explored by the original owner, and some were too strange to enter.

A wild building that could render a two-star horde leader helpless must be extremely dangerous. There must be good things hidden inside!

The more powerful the wild building was, the more powerful the civilized world it came from was. The weapons and technology that might exist in the wild building must have unimaginable power.

It was a pity that the Aborigines in the world of Loucheng were good at nothing in terms of technology except for their powerful destructive power. Otherwise, he could have explored a unique path of advancement just by relying on the Otherworld items he had obtained from the wild towers!

The reason why Tang Zhen flipped through this type of book was because he wanted to filter out the wild buildings that would benefit the Holy Dragon city's development.

After this busy period, Tang Zhen would find time to go to the location of these wild buildings. After decades, he didn't know if those wild buildings still existed.

As a King level cultivator, he could easily enter and exit these buildings. He might not be able to sweep through the buildings, but he should have no problem protecting himself.

Time passed by slowly, and the soul transfer array was finally completed.

From time to time, Tang Zhen would switch the perspective of the map and observe the construction progress of the soul transmission array. Therefore, when the transmission array was about to be completed, he also began to choose the foundation stone to be used to build the city.

Tang Zhen was very dissatisfied with the attack on the American Alliance. If he was an ordinary person, he would not be able to escape death!

He controlled the most powerful force in the Alliance and had the most powerful intelligence system in his original world, but he didn't even notice a planned ambush. This was simply embarrassing!

Therefore, Tang Zhen, who was the victim, decided to create some small trouble for them as a small punishment.

Tang Zhen casually waved his hand and took out a foundation stone from his storage space. He held it in his hand and sized it up.

This cornerstone looked ordinary and was obtained by Tang Zhen by chance. It was not conspicuous when placed in a large pile of building cornerstones.

However, the experience of exploring this building made Tang Zhen have a faint guess about the attributes of this cornerstone. He also roughly judged what kind of strange place would appear after the building was built.

Tang Zhen had taken out this building cornerstone to use the strange place that would appear after the construction of every building to fill up the gaps for the American Alliance!

A faint smile appeared on Tang Zhen's face as he thought about the chaotic state the American command center would be in in the future.

Chapter 498 Siege battle, skeleton cavalry (1)

It didn't take long for someone to come and inform Tang Zhen that the soul transfer array was completed.

Tang Zhen nodded upon hearing this. He stood up from his chair and kept the notebook in his hand into his storage space.

There were already people waiting not far away. Tang Zhen quickly got into the car and went straight to the Super square.

At this moment, the Super square could be said to be heavily guarded. On the surrounding high walls were all huge and cold firearms, pointing at the wilderness outside.

Once these weapons were activated, any target that entered the attack zone would be torn to pieces by the bullets!

In addition to these weapons, Tang Zhen also noticed that there were countless powerful mines buried in the area further away.

These mines protected the entire perimeter of the Super square, leaving no blind spots. Once the monsters stepped into the mines, they would immediately explode.

Inside the Super square, the previous construction staff had already evacuated. On the carved and embedded ground, there were shiny brains everywhere.

Tang Zhen checked and after confirming that there was no problem, he went to the location of the Jianli wild building.

The altar was released from the space. The foundation stone that Tang Zhen had specially chosen was thrown over and slowly rotated in the air.

Immediately after, Tang Zhen threw out the brain again. After the cornerstone absorbed it, he began to receive the memory of the cornerstone and carried out a simple transformation of the building at the same time.

The corner of Tang Zhen's mouth revealed a smile as though his scheme had succeeded when he saw the scenes before him.

Things were indeed as Tang Zhen had expected. There was something he had expected in this ordinary-looking city.

In the days to come, these guys would have to suffer!

It was impossible for Tang Zhen to lose the big picture for a small matter. A small punishment would affect the normal teleportation work. The appearance of this kind of thing would only fill the gap for the American Alliance.

Following Tang Zhen's thought, a huge building appeared out of thin air. Its appearance was similar to a spiral mountain peak.

The tower had a strange appearance, and no matter what form it took, it wasn't worth making a fuss about. However, the tower in front of them was emitting a thick aura of "shit".

In simple words, the exterior of this building was like a pile of shit that had been magnified countless times!

It was a perfectly fine City Tower, but it had the appearance of 'shit'. Just thinking about it was disgusting enough.

Tang Zhen didn't even need to look to know that the expressions of the American staff behind him must be wonderful!

Just thinking about working in this kind of building all day long was enough to make one collapse.

Fortunately, no matter how the building looked, its own functions would not be affected. The moment it was built, it had already been faintly connected to the world of the building.

When the soul teleportation circle was activated, the tower would also provide a certain degree of enhancement to the runic magic circle, making it operate more smoothly.

After the construction of the towers was completed, the next thing to do was to wait for the monsters to attack the city.

All the combat personnel in charge of defense received the order at the first moment, and they looked around the defense area nervously.

"BOOM!"

A loud noise suddenly came from the quiet wilderness, and then a big hole was blown up in the ground. Countless black creatures swarmed out of the underground cave.

This monster looked like a bat, but its body was the size of a hen. Its eyes were blood red, and its sharp fangs and claws were covered in a red mucus.

There must be fatal bacteria and toxins hidden in the Scarlet mucus.

These monsters gathered into a huge dark cloud in the sky, blocking the sun completely, and rushed toward the building.

The military helicopters that were patrolling nearby received the order and immediately locked onto the giant bats. They fired their bullets at them as if they were free.

The formation of the giant bats that were attacked was in chaos. They kept falling while flying. The ground was covered in the blood and flesh of the giant bats, forming a path with a foul smell.

“Aowu!”

With a shrill howl, a huge white Wolf appeared in front of everyone, leading countless fierce gray wolves and wild foxes, and pounced toward the building.

“Sha Sha Sha Sha.”

Another scalp-numbing sound came, and countless strange poisonous insects crawled out of the ground like a Black Wave, covering the ground completely.

Unknowingly, more and more monsters and poisonous insects participated in the siege, and the wilderness was filled with continuous gunshots.

Tang Zhen coldly looked at the monsters that were attacking the city through the view of the map. However, his brows had unconsciously furrowed.

He suddenly realized a problem. Although the number of monsters in front of him was large, their combat power was not very strong. Compared to the attacking monsters of the Asian Alliance, they were not even worth mentioning!

There had to be a reason for this abnormality. He did not believe that this siege would be so simple. There had to be something unexpected.

After realizing this, Tang Zhen immediately stared closely at the surrounding hundred kilometers and was unwilling to let go of any slight movement.

Sure enough, it didn't take long for the originally hard ground in a certain area of the wilderness to shake violently, and cracks appeared on the ground.

Wisps of gray fog that was as black as ink gushed out from the crack and gradually spread in the air.

A glint flashed across Tang Zhen's eyes after he saw this scene. He revealed an expression that said, “as expected.”

At this time, the cracks on the ground had increased. Some of the cracks were more than a few meters wide.

Looking at it now, the entire land was like the cracked skin of a giant, appearing mottled.

In the rolling gray fog, a ferocious bone claw suddenly reached out from the crack, constantly swinging in the air.

Then, the second and the third Suan ni appeared.

More and more bone claws emerged from the cracks in the ground, swaying like wild grass.

It was a terrifying scene, as if countless ghosts from hell had just crawled out of the cracks.

“Crack!”

A bolt of lightning descended from the sky and struck the area shrouded in gray fog. The sound reverberated through the wilderness, shaking everyone to the point where their livers and galls split.

“Bang Bang Bang!”

A series of stomping sounds were heard. Then, countless half-rotten skeletal warhorses leaped out of the crack, carrying countless rotten dried corpses and skeletons, and galloped wildly in the direction of the building!

From the looks of the monsters' clothing, they were clearly the natives that the American ancestors had slaughtered when they were conquering the continent!

These Aboriginal corpses waved their broken weapons and were surrounded by a thick gray fog. Like an army of death, they began to charge crazily!

As they charged, a Strange Music sounded from time to time, like a war song from hell, making people's hair stand on end.

But to the skeletons, the strange Music made them even crazier. Even in the face of countless bullets, they didn't show any signs of retreating.

Following closely behind were countless skeletons of huge buffalos. They had sharp horns, like an ocean of white bones, and they stomped on the ground with a “clang clang.”

The thousands of bones of the wild bulls charged forward with an earth-shattering momentum. They could definitely trample any mortal body in their way into meat paste!

“Skeleton soldiers!”

“Oh my God, this is an undead army!”

shoot! Shoot! Stop them!

The American soldiers in charge of killing the monsters cried out to God in shock.

Chapter 499 Special personnel, Lou Cheng's rat disaster (1)

In the endless wilderness, the tide-like skeleton cavalymen rushed over. Their terrifying and shocking aura made people shiver with fear.

The herd of bison skeletons that followed closely behind guarded the skeletal cavalymen on both sides. They were like a huge wave that could devour everything as they swept toward the building.

In order to stop these terrifying skeletons, 20 assault helicopters launched a volley of attacks, raining down bullets on the Sea of Bones.

In addition to the planes in the sky, there were also a large number of tanks rushing toward them. They fired their cannons as they advanced, trying to rely on their steel bodies to have a head-on confrontation with these skeletons!

Under the powerful bullets, the skeleton monsters were shattered into pieces, and bones flew everywhere.

One after another, missiles were shot out. After they landed in the group of monsters, they kept exploding with shocking loud sounds, blasting countless skeletal monsters into pieces.

Gaps kept appearing in the monster horde, which were quickly filled up, but the number of monsters did not seem to decrease at all.

As the bullets were not made of flesh and blood, the damage they dealt to the skeletal monster was greatly reduced. Most of the time, they passed through the bones and hit the ground.

Even though some of the skeleton monsters' bones were broken, it did not affect their movements. They still stubbornly charged forward.

Looking from the sky, a road paved with broken bones was extending in the direction of the building.

Fuel air explosives and incendiary bombs were thrown down one after another, and the scene of the intense battle could be described as earth-shattering.

Compared to the Asian Alliance's fighting style, the United States was more inclined to this kind of high-consumption but extremely effective all-around attack!

Even Tang Zhen had no choice but to admit that this kind of attack was extremely effective.

The strength of the monsters in the original world was limited. They could not withstand such a destructive blow. It did not take long for more than half of the monsters to be killed.

In the area near the building, there was a nauseating stench. Countless poisonous insects had died under the interception network and turned into black charcoal.

The mines exploded and the machine guns were fired. The area within a hundred meters of the high wall became a complete death zone, preventing any monsters from approaching.

On the other hand, the giant bats flying in the air had caused a certain amount of casualties to the soldiers in charge of guarding the place due to their poison.

Tang Zhen quietly watched the scene in front of him. He had not attacked since the beginning.

It didn't take long for the city to be successfully defended when the number of monsters had reached a certain number. The monsters also scattered and fled in all directions.

The few remaining skeletal monsters suddenly fell to the ground as they ran, completely scattering into countless white bones. The gray fog that originally covered the sky also gradually disappeared.

The battle to defend the city had ended. The next task was to clean up the battlefield and carry out the work of Soul transmission.

In the center of the Super square, all the equipment had been prepared. As long as the soul transfer array was activated, the teleportation could officially begin.

As he had already obtained the coordinates of the tower world from the Asian Alliance, he only needed to activate it this time.

Zhen Tang was already familiar with this kind of transportation, but the first batch of volunteers from the United States alliance surprised him.

Unlike the specially selected and trained volunteers of the Asian Alliance, the volunteers of the American Alliance were not all from the military, but from society.

At this moment, the first batch of volunteers had arrived near the soul teleportation array and were waiting for the teleportation.

Tang Zhen swept his gaze over these five people. However, he discovered that they were not energetic young people. Instead, there were old and young people. In fact, there were even some physical defects.

From this, it could be seen that the American Alliance's way of thinking was completely different from the Asian Alliance's.

The first test subject was a young man who was severely overweight. His body was so fat that it was almost impossible to distinguish his torso from his limbs.

At this moment, he was lying on a bed, panting heavily and moving his body with difficulty.

Tang Zhen only needed a glance to know that this young man's bone armor was completely unable to support his weight. Therefore, it was absolutely impossible for the young man to stand up before he could get rid of this fat.

Instead of spending the rest of his life in bed in pain, it was better to teleport into the tower world through Soul transmission. That way, there was still a possibility of standing up.

The second volunteer was an old man lying in a wheelchair. He had completely lost the ability to take care of himself and his muscle atrophy was extremely serious.

If nothing unexpected happened, he would not be able to leave this wheelchair until the end of his life.

According to the information, this old man had participated in the teleportation voluntarily. He wanted to obtain a new body through Soul transmission and then complete his own scientific research.

After looking at the first two experimenters, Tang Zhen's line of sight fell on the third volunteer.

It was a young girl with a bright smile. One look at her would make people feel good about her, but she had lost her sight due to an accident.

She was as young as a flower, but she had to live in darkness forever. One could imagine the pain in the girl's heart.

The United States wanted to use experiments to confirm whether blind volunteers could regain their light after the body replacement.

Tang Zhen sighed slightly. He turned his head and looked at the fourth volunteer.

He was a patient with a terminal illness. According to the doctor's estimation, he would die in a few months.

After changing his body, he would definitely be Reborn!

As for the fifth volunteer, she was a tall and slender woman. When she saw Tang Zhen sizing her up, she immediately responded with a faint smile.

Tang Zhen moved his gaze away from the five volunteers and came to the center of the soul transfer array. While he chanted the incantation, the brains on the ground also began to light up one by one.

As the giant, translucent rune rose into the air, the soul teleportation circle was officially activated!

Next, the five volunteers lay down in the transmission cabin one by one. After the transmission was activated, they were sent to the world of Loucheng one after another.

.....

Just as Tang Zhen and the rest were performing the soul transfer, a huge commotion had already broken out in the new city building not far away.

Nearly a hundred American soldiers were setting up electricity and installing all sorts of equipment in the building, ready to use it as a command center.

Loucheng buildings could enhance the physical fitness of the residents. Naturally, such a benefit could not be let go easily. Therefore, all the staff here would be given a Resident Identity Card.

According to the information provided by Tang Zhen, the United States also knew that there was something strange in every building. Therefore, while setting up the equipment circuit, the soldiers also carefully searched for the strange place.

Unfortunately, they couldn't find that strange place after searching for a long time.

Just as the soldiers thought that there was an error in their information and were about to report it, a Black Vortex suddenly appeared above their heads.

A group of giant rats as fat as cats descended from the sky and landed on the heads of the soldiers.

"Oh my God, this is a ghostly thing!"

"Rat, damn it, how can there be such a fat rat!"

hurry up and get rid of that dead rat! It bit the device and broke it!

With the appearance of these fat rats, the whole building was in chaos. After a group of soldiers ran around, they began to catch rats all over the building.

Unlike ordinary rats, these rats that ran out of the whirlpools were very naughty and liked to gnaw on things.

It didn't take long for the equipment in the building to be messed up by the fat rats, and gnawed residue was everywhere.

It took a lot of effort for the soldiers to kill all the rats. They were so tired that they spat out blood, but at the same time, they heaved a long sigh of relief.

However, as soon as they sat down, another Black Vortex appeared in front of them out of thin air. A group of fat rats with big buck teeth rushed out, making the whole building chaotic again.

The rats had appeared three times in total. In order to catch them, the group of soldiers were so tired that they almost vomited blood!

During dinner that night, the group of soldiers gritted their teeth and asked the cook from the Asian Alliance to make them a meal of braised rat meat!

Chapter 500-expanding territory again, conquering the wild tower

Tang Zhen's casual prank had made a group of American soldiers suffer.

This kind of mouse hole that appeared out of thin air was very strange. It would appear at no fixed location. As long as it was inside the building, it could suddenly appear at any time.

Every time these fat rats appeared, the entire building would be in chaos. The fat rats running around and the American soldiers waving rat-catching tools became a strange sight in the city!

Fortunately, these rat holes only appeared three times a day. Otherwise, the American soldiers who were responsible for catching rats would have gone crazy!

Tang Zhen expressed that he was powerless against the complaints of the American Alliance.

After taking Care of the Soul teleportation array in the American Alliance and dealing with some miscellaneous matters, Tang Zhen returned to the world of loucheng.

In the next few days, the Holy Dragon City would accept at least five thousand transmigrators. Tang Zhen and his residents would be busy.

With the arrival of the transmigrators from the original world, the Holy Dragon City would also enter a stage of rapid development. The existing building area would also need to be expanded again.

In addition, he also needed to find time to put the few top-grade building cornerstones in use to build new buildings.

Tang Zhen had high hopes for these top-grade cornerstones. After they were built, Holy Dragon city's strength would definitely increase by another level!

There was also the problem of body cultivation and the expansion of territory. None of these matters were simple, and they needed Tang Zhen to personally handle them.

In short, Tang Zhen was very busy now!

The soul teleportation array in the back Valley would flash from time to time. This was a special scene that would only appear during soul teleportation.

From time to time, a body would crawl out of the densely packed pool, looking around with a blank look.

The transmigrators who had just arrived gathered together, their faces full of curiosity. They were feeling their new bodies while sizing up their surroundings.

The unique scenery of the world of loucheng was a feast for the eyes of every new transmigrator.

At this time, among the transmigrators, there were two young men in white robes, their faces full of excitement.

Although they had changed to a brand new body, the soul fluctuations did not change at all. The two youths were the overweight young man and the old man in the wheelchair.

this is too magical. It's like a dream!

The fatty, who had been unable to stand and walk for many years, was making a big fuss. He kept sizing up his own fit body, but the excitement and shock in his voice could not be concealed at all.

The old man at the side was much calmer. He sized up the surrounding environment, and his seemingly young face revealed a trace of vicissitudes.

Feeling the vitality in his body, the old man took a deep breath and slowly walked to the receptionist's seat at the side.

The early transmigration quota was extremely precious, so every transmigrator had their own specialty. After coming to Holy Dragon City, they would also have a fixed job.

Zhao Dabao, who was the first to arrive, was an exception. The other transmigrators did not have such freedom.

The old man was a researcher, and the overweight fat man was actually a Communication Engineer. Both of them would start working after two days of rest.

As for the other transmigrators' classes, there were also a variety of them, covering all aspects needed for the current development of the Holy Dragon City.

The model of the original world couldn't be copied, but the good things couldn't be missed!

Among these transmigrators, more than half were military staff, and they were basically carefully selected elites.

Many of them had already started working. Some of the heavy weapons from the original world had also begun to be equipped with the Army.

The learning and training of these military personnel had also officially begun!

Tang Zhen patrolled the surrounding areas of the Holy Dragon City through the map view. Then, he returned to his city Lord's Hall to deal with the official business that he had accumulated recently.

Although he was the Lord of the city, Tang Zhen didn't hold too much power. He always held the principle of not suspecting the person he used and not suspecting the person he used. Except for important matters, he would leave the rest to his subordinates to deal with.

Even if some people had dirty thoughts during this period, Tang Zhen did not care.

As a King level cultivator, he had the right to ignore all conspiracies and schemes. As long as it involved the safety of the Holy Dragon City, he only needed to crush it with his strength!

After the official business was done, Tang Zhen took out another book and slowly read it.

Unknowingly, night fell. When it was close to midnight, the entire Holy Dragon City gradually quieted down. Only the occasional laughter came from the commercial district.

Tang Zhen stood up from his chair and walked out of the tower. He flapped his wings and flew into the air.

The bright moon hung high in the sky, sprinkling its bright light on the ground. Holy Dragon City was right under his feet, and he was surrounded by a desolate field.

After switching to the map view, Tang Zhen activated the [map transformation plug-in] and covered the surrounding area of several hundred kilometers.

After an earthquake, a giant city wall rose from the ground in the wilderness. It was like an impassable natural chasm that covered the entire area around the Holy Dragon City.

From then on, the inside and outside of the city wall would become two different worlds, completely separating the monsters!

It was midnight, so no one noticed this scene. By the time they realized it, it would probably be daytime.

With the city walls as the boundary, this area would belong to the Holy Dragon City from now on. He believed that it would be enough for the Holy Dragon City to develop and use for a long time in the future.

The reason why Tang Zhen did this actually had a certain deep meaning.

Using the power of the original world to develop the Holy Dragon City had also brought him trouble in management. He did not want the Holy Dragon City to be in a mess because of the arrival of these transmigrators.

Therefore, the land that was circled this time had become the main area of activity for the transmigrators. In the future, whether it was their life or work, they would be concentrated in this area.

After he was done with this matter, Tang Zhen took out a Handful of Soul crystals and directly absorbed them. Then, he closed his eyes and began to rest.

At this time, in the wilderness a few hundred miles away from Holy Dragon City, a convoy was slowly driving in the night.

The bright lights cut through the darkness of the wilderness, and from time to time, the figures of monsters would appear. They were at a loss under the light, and then they revealed their sharp fangs.

&Nbsp; after the Cold Moon calamity ended, the mutated monsters gradually returned to normal and continued to act like tyrants in their territory.

Some of the monsters that were originally active in the outer area of the Wildlands also took advantage of the decrease in the number of monsters and ran in one after another.

As a result, the number of monsters in the Wildlands didn't decrease, but instead increased!

If it was an ordinary cultivator, they would not dare to run around in the night when monsters were running amok, because if they were not careful, they would be swallowed by the monsters, not even leaving their bones.

However, to this well-equipped Holy Dragon City convoy, which was made up of high-level cultivators, these monsters were not worth mentioning.

When they encountered monsters that tried to intercept them on the way, they were basically killed directly by the Holy Dragon City cultivators!

In one of the Jeeps in the convoy, Qian Long's body swayed as he read a book.

If he wanted to rule over a city of cultivators, it was impossible to rely on martial strength alone. He must also learn the corresponding knowledge!

Qian Long was originally unwilling to read. However, after being lectured by Tang Zhen a few times, he had no choice but to pick up his book and force himself to study the books that Tang Zhen had brought.

The car was shaking as it drove. It was easy to get sleepy in such an atmosphere, not to mention that he had to read books he didn't like.

After reading for a while, Qian Long felt his eyelids grow heavy. He threw the book to the side, took out a cigarette, and lit it.

He hadn't even taken a few puffs when the car suddenly came to a stop. At the same time, the sound of swords being drawn from their sheaths could be heard.

Pushing open the door and alighting from the car, Qian Long scanned the area in front of the convoy and a cold smile appeared on his face.

It turned out that at some point in time, a group of foreign cultivators had blocked the path of the convoy, preventing it from moving forward.

When these foreign cultivators looked at the car, they all had a hint of greed on their faces. When they realized that the car was full of human cultivators, they became even more arrogant.

Qian Long glanced at the foreign cultivators with a disdainful look before looking in another direction.

Behind these foreign cultivators, hundreds of huge stone pillars stood tall, and a huge Palace-like building was faintly visible in the smoke.
