

Alternate 541

Chapter 541 Advanced secret, the cruel truth

After walking around the tower, Tang Zhen returned to his city Lord's Hall.

Now that all the conditions for development had been fulfilled, Tang Zhen also began to calm down and prepare to set a clear development direction for the Holy Dragon City.

According to the secret information that Tang Zhen had painstakingly gathered, the world of towers was far crueler than it looked on the surface!

The entire world of towers was actually a Gu basin, and the countless towers of all sizes were the Gu worms within, constantly getting stronger through killing.

If the weak loucheng didn't want to be eliminated, it could only make itself stronger. Otherwise, it would either be suppressed by the strong or destroyed for various reasons!

If one thought that they could live a carefree life after building a city or becoming a resident of the city, they were gravely mistaken.

Every city on the continent was actually a product of the survival of the fittest!

The purpose of the monster siege during the tower's upgrade was to filter out the towers with low potential and combat power. If the towers could not stop the monsters, there was no need for them to continue existing.

However, compared to the other elimination modes, the monster siege was just child's play!

If he didn't want to level up and was content with his current situation, then he had to first consider whether he could resist the robbery group and the occasional high-level monster attack!

As the city's level increased, the residents' attributes would also increase. In this case, the advantage of the advanced city would become more obvious. If the low-level city did not catch up, their good days would not last long.

The true purpose of the cornerstone trading platform being able to exchange for food was nothing more than to allow the cultivators of Lou Cheng to have no distractions and have enough time to continuously improve their combat strength.

And the true value of the residents of the city was to use their own efforts to create wealth and resources to support the cultivators of the city!

Some things could be so simple and cruel when they were explained clearly!

It was a pity that many loucheng couldn't see the key to this, so they wasted their time in other places. Even though the loucheng had been passed down for hundreds of years, they were still half-dead and eventually disappeared in the dust of history.

As time passed, who knew how many ruins of buildings were hidden under the wild grass of the world of loucheng?

When Lou Cheng advanced from Level 5 to Level 6, it would be another brutal elimination!

The true Victor would be decided between the five towers that shared the interdimensional passage, and the flesh and blood of the defeated would be used to nourish the newly born level six tower!

This was a selection process that was far crueler than a monster siege. If they could not cross this threshold, everything they had accumulated would be for someone else's benefit!

After advancing to Level 6, one would have a clear land control area. The original bonus to the city's attributes would also affect the land in the control area.

At this level, the tower's demand for resources on the continent was no longer so strong. This was because there would be a new way to upgrade at this time, and the main battlefields would start to involve areas outside of this continent.

The world of loucheng was incomparably vast. Other than the continent under his feet, there were indeed other vast areas!

After upgrading to a level 6 building, a special space Channel would appear, connecting to the ocean and sending cultivators to conquer the indigenous people in those places.

At this time, a new function would appear on the cornerstone platform, which was to exchange for battle credits!

As long as you have any item from the enemy you killed as proof, you can exchange it for battle merits on the cornerstone platform, and Lou Cheng will also get a part of the Commission.

The spoils of war could be sold and used. It was another source of battle achievement income!

These Battle Points were equivalent to points, but they were more useful than points. They could be exchanged for some special items that points could not buy.

If loucheng wanted to level up, it also needed to accumulate Battle Points. Otherwise, it could forget about leveling up!

The cornerstone platform was using this method to stimulate cultivators to fight on the battlefields overseas and work hard for the expansion of the mainland!

This was not just a description, but a real expansion of the land area!

This was because every time Lou Cheng conquered an overseas land, not only could they choose to exchange it for a considerable amount of battle credits, but they could also choose to pay a certain amount of battle credits to add the land directly to the area under the control of the Lou Cheng!

No matter what the choice was, the land on the mainland would increase by a little, while the land beyond the sea would disappear into thin air!

This kind of thing that sounded incomparably magical was incomparably strange in Tang Zhen's eyes. It caused one's heart to feel a chill!

Although the rewards of the battle were generous, it was a pity that the overseas region was not as fragile as one might imagine. As such, every battle would drag on for a long time, and it would often be in a stalemate for decades.

Therefore, after the towers were promoted to level six and had a clear division of the areas under control, some low-level towers would be built to continuously cultivate reserve combat power and keep more residents to serve the cultivators!

This situation would continue until the building was upgraded to a national level. Whether it was the top buildings of the elf race or the dog-headed people, they were all in this mode.

During this period of time, the top-tier towers could plunder the land of other towers on the continent and continuously expand their territory in order to obtain more residents and resources. This was also the reason why there were Wars between the top-tier towers.

When the tower was upgraded to level 9 and was ready to be upgraded to a national level, the battlefield would be moved to another unknown world!

Invading the small foreign worlds through the plane channel, completely destroying them, and then plundering the heart of the world's source was the only way for a level 9 building to be upgraded to a national level.

The ruined worlds that were connected to other planes, such as the world of wizards and the world of the spirit race where lingxu Zi lived, were all destroyed because of this!

After it was upgraded to a national-level building, it would continue to invade more powerful foreign worlds and do other things. This was not something that Tang Zhen would know.

However, there were always accidents in this world. When some buildings were promoted to national level, they would still attract cultivators to attack them for unknown reasons.

For example, the black prison tower was once besieged by millions of cultivators, and the cultivators who attacked the city were defeated and fled in defeat!

In the secret information collected by Tang Zhen, there was no information about Lou Cheng after he was promoted to the national level. This was because this had already exceeded the level that ordinary cultivators could come into contact with!

However, Tang Zhen knew one thing. After loucheng was promoted to the national level, it would gradually leave the vision of the ordinary people in loucheng's world and become more low-key and secretive.

Its form had also changed and was no longer limited to a fixed form. For example, the black prison tower chose to hide underground, and the Cold Moon Tower chose to cultivate ice Imps for possession and control because of its race characteristics. The area of the tower itself was not very large!

The small Otherworlds that had been completely destroyed would be recycled and left for the level 5 turrets on the mainland so that they could kill monsters to increase their combat power!

As for the reason why there were so few Lord-tier monsters on the continent, it was probably the deliberate action of the person behind the scenes. Before the upgrade to a level 5 building, it would be very difficult for ordinary buildings to fight against Lord-tier monsters.

If dozens of Lord-tier monsters appeared at once, together with the Army of monsters under their command, they would probably be able to destroy all the low-level buildings they saw along the way!

The mastermind behind the scenes would never allow such a meaningless disaster to happen.

This was also the reason why Lord-tier monsters were so rare, and they were basically trapped in the wild building!

When Lou Cheng reached rank 5 and was preparing to use a large number of brain pearls to advance to rank 6, the interdimensional passage appeared in time. It reared countless powerful Lord-tier monsters for Lou Cheng's cultivators to hunt.

It was truly a case of interlocking, with no gaps at all.

As for the once short-lived King-tier monster, the demon-eyed Tyrannosaurus, it was not included because it was located in the Starfall sea.

Lou Cheng would also face such a situation, so he had to make early preparations!

Chapter 542 Lou Cheng's choice, paying without regret

Currently, Tang Zhen had quite a number of top-grade foundation stones in his hands. If he used them well, it would greatly increase the strength of the Holy Dragon City.

Cold Moon city's foundation stone was suspended in the air, so it could not be abandoned. If nothing unexpected happened, it would become the new main city of Holy Dragon City in the future.

However, this cornerstone was a little special. It needed to be attached with other materials to be used normally, so the Cold Moon Tower used ice to attach it, making it a floating super ice block!

If Tang Zhen wanted to build a floating city, it would be impossible for him to use the foundation stone that could condense ice. Therefore, his best choice would be to use the foundation stone of the building on the mountain peak.

However, Tang Zhen was very dissatisfied with the strength of the buildings on the mountain. If possible, he would prefer to build a metal floating city!

The foundation stone that he had obtained from the wreckage of the terobo warship might be able to meet Tang Zhen's request. Moreover, it had the ability to move. This was rather important!

Although the Cold Moon Tower could float in the air, it couldn't move. So, every time it appeared in the tower world, it would remain in the same position.

As for the reason why the Cold Moon City had disappeared into thin air, it was obviously related to space, or perhaps it had something to do with its tower mission.

Although it was a good idea to combine a floating cornerstone with the cornerstone of a warship, it was still unknown whether it would succeed. Moreover, although a huge floating warship was impressive, it was not suitable for other towers.

The few towers that he had built earlier all had their own special uses. If possible, Tang Zhen did not want to give up on any of them. It was best to concentrate all of them on the floating tower.

The floating foundation of Cold Moon City, the size of the buildings in the mountains, and the power of the warship's Foundation were all things that Tang Zhen wanted.

Therefore, the best way was to make use of all the advantages of these cornerstones and combine them perfectly to build a super floating city!

This plan seemed wonderful, but the investment and resources required would be an extremely terrifying number.

Fortunately, after a period of accumulation and plundering, especially after robbing the treasure room in the purple Star Tower, Tang Zhen could easily pay for it. He even had the spare energy to upgrade the main tower to Level 6!

However, upgrading the floating city and upgrading the level 6 City Tower couldn't be carried out at the same time. Otherwise, even Tang Zhen couldn't predict what kind of siege method would be encountered.

Therefore, the next thing Tang Zhen had to do was to upgrade the three Supreme-grade cornerstones to Level 5!

After making up his mind, Tang Zhen gathered the relevant people in charge of the Holy Dragon City and announced this matter.

The people who participated in the meeting today were not only the Aborigines of the Loucheng world, but also many transmigrators from the original world.

No one objected to this. Although the Holy Dragon City was in the midst of construction, it did not have much to do with the Army. On the contrary, they could use this opportunity to test and train the Holy Dragon city's Army.

Some weapons and equipment specially developed for the Lou city world would also be tested in the battle.

After deciding on the date to build the city Tower and discussing the defense issues, everyone left to get busy.

Three towers upgrading to level five at the same time would cause a huge commotion, so he had to be careful.

Tang Zhen finished the work at hand and prepared to head to the commercial district to see how the recent development was.

Tang Zhen changed into ordinary clothes and slowly walked toward the commercial district.

With the arrival of the transmigrators, the explosive influx of Wanderers and cultivators, the commercial district had become extremely prosperous.

All the shops had been rented out, and the rental prices had risen, but the supply was still in short supply.

Tang Zhen walked through the dense Human Flow. There was no need to say anything about the sense of achievement in his heart as he looked at the lively scene in front of him.

As he walked, a shop selling medicinal herbs and soul crystals by the side of the road attracted Tang Zhen's attention.

As far as he knew, only that meteorite crater produced soul crystals in the entire Wildlands, and there were not many of them.

Due to the special effects of soul crystals, they had always been very expensive, and there was a demand for them but no supply.

To be able to open a shop that specialized in selling soul crystals in this business district, one obviously needed not only financial resources but also special channels. Not everyone could do business.

Tang Zhen walked in curiously and sized up his surroundings.

A girl who was guarding the shop smiled and greeted Tang Zhen after seeing him. After which, she asked Tang Zhen what he wanted.

Just as Tang Zhen was about to look at the soul crystals in the shop and ask who the owner was, he noticed a woman in simple and elegant clothes slowly walking out from the small door at the back of the shop.

Although this woman didn't put on any makeup, her beautiful face was still shocking. She stood there quietly, like an orchid in an empty valley, elegant but not lacking in spirit.

After seeing Tang Zhen's figure, the woman's body trembled slightly. After which, she smiled and walked in front of Tang Zhen.

"You're here."

Her voice was soft and sweet, like a virtuous wife welcoming her husband who had not returned home for a long time, appearing very natural.

Tang Zhen smiled and gently nodded.

"This is your shop. Do you need my help?"

Xiao die nodded her head and whispered to Tang Zhen, "There's no place to sit here, let's go to the back?"

Tang Zhen nodded his head. The two of them walked to the room at the back of the shop under the surprised gaze of the little girl who was looking after the shop.

Holding a cup of tea, Xiao die sat down, her watery eyes looking at the man in front of her, a slight smile on her lips.

This was the first man in her life, and also the only man at the moment. Seeing him manage a city and make it stronger and stronger, Xiao die's heart was filled with pride and pride.

"This shop has been open for almost a year. My father and a few of my former companions have been in the shop, and business has always been good.

"Commander Tai Seng, commander Qian Long, and Xiao Rui have been taking good care of me. They've helped me with many things.

As the Lord of a city, you have many things to worry about, so you don't have to worry about me."

After Xiao die said this, she still wanted to say something, but she was directly embraced by Tang Zhen.

After he had brought her to Holy Dragon City, he had given her enough compensation according to their previous agreement, so that she could live a life without worry in Holy Dragon City.

Who would have thought that he would treat this matter as a transaction while the other party would treat him as the only one in his life? how could those feelings that came from the bottom of his heart be hidden from Tang Zhen's senses?

Perhaps he had been too focused on the construction of Holy Dragon City and had neglected emotional matters.

He recalled Murong Ziyang's meticulous management of supplies, Arel's no-regrets, and Xiao die's devotion. These three women belonged to him, and they were all giving in their own ways.

Because in their hearts, such a man was definitely worth it!

Compared to his own negligence, his brothers and subordinates who had gone through thick and thin together were all very kind and would do their best to help Xiaodie and the others.

If it wasn't for his own reasons, they wouldn't have done this.

When there was a suitable opportunity in the future, he would definitely give them a status. Tang Zhen would not mistreat his brothers and friends. Naturally, he would not let down his own woman.

Tang Zhen didn't go anywhere else that day. Instead, he stayed in Xiao die's shop until the next morning before quietly leaving.

In the blink of an eye, a few days had passed. The Holy Dragon City had also ushered in the day of the construction of the floating city.

Chapter 543 Building a city and thousands of worlds

It was a sunny day, and the noisy construction site in the outer Urban area had to be suspended because of the monster attack.

Patrol chariots equipped with machine guns were constantly shuttling on the road to prevent people from destroying the buildings while they were being built.

The Wanderers and cultivators who were temporarily grounded kept sizing up the Holy Dragon city's soldiers who were armed with loaded guns. They had different expressions on their faces. Some were envious, while others were jealous.

It had gradually become their biggest dream to become a resident of this city.

In the past few days, Holy Dragon city's defensive forces had been fully deployed and could enter battle mode at any time!

No matter if it was on the ground or in the air, it had formed an inescapable net. No monster could even think of taking half a step into Holy Dragon City.

In the Holy Dragon city's main city, Tang Zhen stood in front of the altar and placed the floating cornerstone on it with a solemn expression.

As the brain entered it like a long river, a portion of the memories belonging to this foundation stone also surged into Tang Zhen's mind. Scene after scene was continuously displayed.

It also came from an unfamiliar world, where there were creatures floating in the air everywhere. It was just a special yet ordinary member.

In the long time, it was accompanied by loneliness and monotony.

After an unknown number of years, a crack appeared out of thin air. It mistakenly entered it and was annihilated by a terrifying power.

After that, it became a wild building. Many years later, it was destroyed by a group of cultivators in the city and finally fell into the hands of the residents of the Cold Moon City.

At that time, the Cold Moon Tower wasn't very powerful. The floating island formed by this foundation stone recorded the process of its gradual growth.

After a long time, the Cold Moon City gradually became a national-level city, and then it continued to travel through space and enter the other world.

Countless residents of the Cold Moon Tower died in battle, and countless new residents were born. This repeated generation after generation as if they existed for the purpose of killing.

These scenes seemed to take an extremely long time, yet they also seemed to be fleeting. However, they completely flashed through Tang Zhen's mind.

Tang Zhen broke away from the image in his mind. He took a deep breath and started to set the shape of this floating cornerstone.

The buildings on the mountain peaks that were to be built later would also be attached to it as a physical entity according to its appearance, forming a mutually dependent whole.

In order to ensure that it would not be affected in the future, Tang Zhen decided to temporarily set its shape as a hexagon. Then, twelve giant cantilages would extend outward to facilitate the deployment of weapons to attack the ground in the future.

After the appearance was set up, an Invisible City was quickly built and then quietly sank into the ground.

Tang Zhen sensed the area that the floating city could carry and quickly threw in the second cornerstone, which was the cornerstone of the wild buildings on the mountain peaks.

Compared to the floating cornerstone, the memory picture of the cornerstone of the mountain peak and wild building was much simpler.

What interested Tang Zhen the most was the spectacular scene of the spirit race cultivators and the ice Imp race fighting each other before and after its destruction.

On the ground of heaven mountain, there were shouts that soared into the sky. On the ground and in the air, there were hot-blooded men who were covered in blood but did not retreat even in death.

Tang Zhen shook his head as he looked at the tragic scene of corpses strewn all over the ground. His mood appeared a little heavy.

Because he was very clear that one day, Holy Dragon City would also play such a role and become the kind of "plunderer" in the eyes of the spiritual race natives!

After the image finished flashing, Tang Zhen directly chose the construction tower and fused it with the floating tower. The appearance of the two was exactly the same.

It was hidden under the Holy Dragon city's ground, carrying all the buildings on the ground, but there was no abnormality on the surface.

Up until now, the floating city could be considered to have been completed. It could float at any time according to Tang Zhen's instructions.

The next thing that Tang Zhen had to do was to try to merge the warship's cornerstone with the floating city, allowing it to have the ability to attack and move, making the floating city even stronger!

Once again, he placed the foundation stone and inserted it into his brain. The memory image of the warship's foundation stone immediately appeared in Tang Zhen's eyes.

After seeing those magnificent scenes that appeared like those from a science fiction movie, the expression of Tang Zhen, who had been calm all this while, finally had a slight change.

The warship's cornerstone showed Tang Zhen an incomparably powerful technological Empire. Super warships that covered the sky sailed in the starry sky, and planets were discovered and conquered by them one after another.

Before the destruction of this warship, it had also participated in several Conqueror's battles. Each warship was a moving city, and countless teroboros served and lived on this warship.

The little bits and pieces of the torobo people's lives were all displayed in front of Tang Zhen's eyes through the perspective of the warship. There were laughter and sadness, as well as life and death.

Through these images, Tang Zhen understood that not only did the Teroboros people possess a powerful technological civilization, but they also had physical fitness that far exceeded ordinary intelligent life forms.

It was precisely because of their outstanding physiques and powerful weapons that the tribesmen were almost unrivaled and submitted to them wherever they went!

But when they were attacking a remote planet, the ship was attacked by another group of mysterious aliens and was forced to retreat.

These aliens possessed incredible physical strength, and could float in the air without the help of external objects. Although they were used to using cold weapons such as swords and sabers, their every move carried a terrifying destructive power.

Furthermore, they had tamed huge monsters. When they got close to the warship, they could actually destroy the protective shield of the warship and cause fatal damage!

In the final battle, the ship was completely destroyed by a group of powerful aliens and giant monsters. There was no hope of repairing it.

Before it was destroyed, the commander of the Torobo battleship gave the order to launch an attack on the ground and perish together with the enemy on the ground!

The scene came to an abrupt end. However, Tang Zhen was greatly shocked. Only at this moment did he truly understand what was true strength!

As for the ones who destroyed the Trebor warship, they were obviously cultivators from a powerful nation. When they were invading the Otherworld, they had collided with the Trebor warship.

It was also because it was contaminated with the aura of the world of Loucheng that the Super warship appeared in the world of Loucheng in the form of a wild tower after it was destroyed.

Tang Zhen threw away the thoughts in his mind and began to try to change the shape of the warship and combine it with the floating city.

That floating cornerstone was indeed compatible with all things. For example, even if Tang Zhen got a whale from the sea, it could also merge with the whale and become a whale that could float in the air.

Tang Zhen gave it a little try and was pleasantly surprised to discover that the hull of the ship had indeed fused with the floating tower.

By relying on the characteristics of the floating city, even if the warship was not activated, it could still float in the air with the city.

The current floating city used the shapeshifted super battleship as the base and the land formed by the mountains and wild buildings as the carrier, which included the entire Holy Dragon city's inner city.

As the tower's level continued to increase, the floating tower's size would also increase. Becoming a continent was no longer a dream.

After the tower upgrade was completed, Tang Zhen also set the main tower as a floating tower. Everything was completed in silence.

The foreign cultivators who had been paying attention to the Holy Dragon City all felt extremely surprised. On the surface, nothing seemed to have changed in the Holy Dragon City.

However, they didn't know that the land under their feet had changed dramatically. A shocking floating city had been quietly formed.

Although the floating city had already been built, it could not immediately choose to float.

The first reason was that the current Holy Dragon City was still unable to break away from the supplies from the surface and achieve a near-closed self-sufficiency. The second reason was to avoid unnecessary trouble that would affect the Holy Dragon city's development.

Therefore, before that, it still needed to quietly lie dormant under the soil and continue to grow without a sound, so as to avoid attracting the greed and snatching of powerful forces.

The day the City Tower rose into the air would be the day the Holy Dragon City gained its power. At that time, the entire continent beneath their feet would tremble in fear under its shadow!

Chapter 544-Sea of Bones, unable to withstand! single blow

After the tower City was built, Tang Zhen switched to the map view and began to pay attention to the changes in the surrounding area.

This time, the construction of the City Tower did not cause much of a commotion on the surface. If they had not been notified in advance, no one would have realized that a City Tower had been built.

Tang Zhen was very satisfied with this. If it wasn't for the fact that he had to be wary of monster attacks, he would have quietly built the floating city without anyone knowing.

However, the calmness was only the surface appearance. In reality, the movements were not small!

To build three turrets at the same time and upgrade them to Level 5, one could only imagine the intensity of the monster siege!

The last time the Holy Dragon City was upgraded to a level 5 building, the cornerstone platform had directly released star-level missions, and had entangled mercenary groups of tens of thousands of buildings to attack the city. What kind of enemy would they face this time?

Because of the Cold Moon disaster, the number of monsters in the Wildlands had decreased sharply. It would take some time for the number of monsters to return to its original level.

Based on his previous experience, the possibility of the wilderness monsters gathering to attack the city was not very high.

Although Tang Zhen was curious in his heart, he was not in a hurry. This was because the answer would be revealed very soon.

At this time, the Holy Dragon city's soldiers in charge of defense were also looking indifferently at the wilderness outside. Due to their trust in the Holy Dragon city's powerful martial arts, coupled with their experience in defending the city several times, they were not very nervous.

On the other hand, the transmigrators were extremely excited. They felt their blood boiling.

After watching the video of the monsters attacking the city and hearing the description from the Veterans of Holy Dragon City, they were filled with curiosity about the scene of the monsters attacking the city like waves.

Now that they were going to face it personally, how could they not be excited and nervous!

As time passed, the wilderness remained calm and peaceful.

Just as Tang Zhen was wondering if the monster had returned from its attack, a muffled Thunder-like sound was suddenly transmitted from the wilderness around Holy Dragon City.

As the sound rang out, countless cracks immediately appeared on the grass-covered ground. Black mist shot into the sky and quickly filled the entire wilderness.

Tang Zhen's brows twitched after seeing this seemingly familiar scene. A trace of understanding flashed across his heart.

If there were no accidents, the ones who participated in the siege should be the skeletons buried in the wilderness!

As expected, under the cover of the gray fog, skeleton after skeleton crawled out from the cracks in the ground.

They looked around in confusion, then dragged their broken bodies toward the same area with creaking sounds.

Some of these skeletons were Wanderers, some were cultivators, and some were ferocious monsters!

In the thick fog, there were moving skeletons everywhere. They carried rotten swords and moved forward firmly. Even after falling down, they would get up mechanically.

Due to the gray fog, the vision of the city guards was blocked, and they could only hear the sound of bones and joints rubbing against each other like a heavy rain.

Shua shua shua shua!

A series of heavy and dragging footsteps could be heard as hundreds of skeletons of Cyclops walked over. They were carrying thick leg bones, and the ghostly fire in the huge one-eyed skull flickered.

The skeletons that were in their way were constantly trampled and kicked away, and then they got up in a mess.

Not long after the Cyclops left, there was a strange sound in the sky, and then dozens of skeletal Wyverns with Broken Wings flashed past.

"Boom, boom!"

Another group of giant ape skeletons as thick as trees appeared. They were constantly waving their arms and jumping forward.

Similar scenes kept happening around the Holy Dragon City. From the direction the monsters were moving, they were obviously gathering at four different locations.

The battle had yet to begin, but everyone could feel an extremely oppressive atmosphere. It was like a burst of gunpowder that could explode at any moment.

When the thick fog dispersed, the battle would most likely officially begin!

Unknowingly, the sound in the thick fog began to become sparse, and finally disappeared completely.

The thick fog that shrouded the wilderness did not disappear. Instead, it quickly gathered together and swirled around the four areas outside the wall. Then, it was absorbed by the skeletons.

It was also at this moment that the skeletons that had crawled out of the ground were completely revealed to everyone.

When they saw the scene in front of them clearly, the old Holy Dragon City Warriors had grave expressions, while the transmigrators' breathing quickened and their faces were filled with shock.

In front of the Holy Dragon city's four city gates, four super phalanxes made up of bones were gathered. There were no less than 100000 of them in each area!

They were neatly arranged and divided into 20 areas, each with 5000 skeletons!

If one didn't look at their decayed bodies, one would think that they were a well-trained official Army.

On the two wings of these skeleton soldiers were countless huge skeleton monsters, as well as four-legged bone dragons that were constantly flapping their wings in the air!

Tang Zhen discovered through the map perspective that the number and types of these four skeleton armies were surprisingly consistent, as if they were mirror copies.

could it be that the person controlling the monsters to attack the city is an obsessive-compulsive patient? ”

Tang Zhen cursed in his heart. After which, he continued to observe the changes on the battlefield.

Although there were 400000 of them, their strength was barely at Level 2. Their only advantage was their numbers.

As for those skeleton monsters, although their strength far exceeded that of ordinary skeleton soldiers, they were still nothing to be afraid of in front of the powerful weapons of the Holy Dragon City!

If the monsters attacking the city this time were these skeletons, it would only be a matter of time before Holy Dragon City won.

Just as Tang Zhen was deep in thought, the drifting black mist had already been completely absorbed by the skeleton soldiers. In the next moment, all the skeleton soldiers stomped heavily on the ground, causing a muffled sound to reverberate throughout the wilderness.

“Whoosh!”

The four phalanxes moved at the same time. The overwhelming number of white bones was like a tide, slowly approaching the Holy Dragon City.

As they advanced, the skeleton soldiers moved in unison, as if someone was commanding them from the side.

Bone waves rolled and killing intent filled the air. It looked powerful and strange.

The rhythmic stomping of these skeleton soldiers could be clearly heard even from several miles away.

“Attack!”

Just as these skeleton monsters began to attack, the Holy Dragon city’s Warriors also began to fight back.

Because it was a battle to defend the city, there was enough time to make full arrangements before the battle.

The bombs that had been planted in the predetermined area were detonated one after another. In the violent explosion, countless skeletons were sent flying into the sky.

The broken bones of the soldiers that were hit by the air currents from the explosions kept falling down, smashing the skeleton soldiers.

The originally neat formation was completely destroyed by the blast of the explosion, scattering into countless small pieces.

It was also at this moment that the skeleton soldiers scattered. Their soldier-like discipline had completely disappeared, and they all pounced on the Holy Dragon City like lunatics.

After the orderly formation spread out, the number of skeleton monsters really spread all over the mountains and plains, and there was no end in sight!

At this moment, the Holy Dragon City went all out. All kinds of weapons were on the field. The sound of gunfire and cannons rumbled. The wilderness outside the city was filled with flashes of fire.

The dense rain of bullets swept through the wilderness, shattering the skeletal monsters. The artillery troops behind them and the rapid dropping of bombs left the monsters with no place to hide.

Under such a terrifying attack, the number of skeletons continued to decrease. By the time they reached the city wall, they were already scattered.

The tall city wall seemed to be unable to stop these skeleton monsters. They held onto the city wall with their sharp fingers and continued to climb up. From a distance, the city wall was full of skeletons that kept crawling up.

When the soldiers guarding the city saw this, they quickly fired at the skeleton monsters. Broken bones quickly piled up under the city wall.

Some of the more courageous Holy Dragon City cultivators even pulled on a rope and jumped out. They moved sideways on the city wall like agile apes and smashed the skeletal monsters into pieces!

Occasionally, there would be skeleton monsters that jumped onto the city wall, but they would be quickly killed by the Holy Dragon City cultivators. Their movements were extremely Swift.

The assault helicopters in the air were now locking onto the giant monsters and firing continuously. One after another, the Cyclops and four-legged skeletal Dragons were blown up.

The seemingly powerful monster was simply unable to withstand a single blow in the face of such violent firepower!

There was another series of earth-shattering explosions. This was a newly developed special bomb specially designed to deal with groups of monsters.

After the explosion ended, countless skeleton monsters were killed, some even turned into dust.

At the fiercest moment of the battle, the monsters that were still ferociously attacking the city paused for a moment, then fell apart in unison, instantly turning into a pile of corpses.

The sounds of killing stopped, and the sounds of cannons fell. The surroundings instantly fell into a dead silence.

The Holy Dragon City soldiers looked at each other, not knowing what had happened, so they did not dare to relax.

The siege battle ended so abruptly that it made people feel depressed, as if they had punched empty air!

However, after thinking about it carefully, it was normal. Because they were well-prepared, the number of monsters killed by Holy Dragon City in a short time had indeed far exceeded the winning standard of the city defense Battle.

In any case, they had won the battle to defend the city.

Chapter 545-transmigration daily, treasure map (1)

After the siege battle ended, Holy Dragon City returned to its usual hustle and bustle, and construction work continued as usual.

Every time the tower was promoted, there would be a lot of things to deal with, such as the placement of the interdimensional passage and the future planning of the tower. All of these required Tang Zhen's participation.

It wouldn't take long for Holy Dragon city's main city to be promoted to rank 6, and the plan to conquer the Wildlands would also be launched.

The most important thing was that Tang Zhen was preparing to use the [ super creature molding machine ] to cultivate and create a large number of bodies in preparation for the great transmigration that was about to begin.

As the Holy Dragon city's construction continued to speed up, the operation to conquer the Wildlands was about to begin. The shortage of manpower needed by the Holy Dragon City was also getting bigger and bigger.

Many jobs had special requirements, and the natives of the world of loucheng were not qualified for them. Therefore, after some discussion, they decided to carry out the 'great transmigration' plan in advance, so that more original world residents could participate in the world of loucheng.

With the development of this plan, the existence of the world of towers would no longer be a secret, and it would gradually be known to the residents of the original world.

It was obvious that the entire original world would be in an uproar because of this!

In the Holy Dragon city's business district, a few young men and women in leather clothes were strolling around the streets with surprised expressions.

They were all transmigrators 'staff. They had been in Holy Dragon City for more than a month, but today was only their second time strolling in the commercial district.

When he first arrived in the world of loucheng, the work of a transmigrator was extremely heavy, and he often worked until late at night before he could rest.

Fortunately, as more and more transmigrators arrived, their work was also shared, and they finally didn't have to work overtime and keep busy.

Young people could not stay idle. In addition, today was the day of their pay, and they had a day off. They had money and time, so they naturally wanted to go to the most lively place in Holy Dragon City to relax!

The transmigrators who worked in the Holy Dragon City also received a salary allowance every month to make it convenient for them to buy some of their favorite items.

Although the salary was not much, it was enough for the transmigrators 'daily expenses.

Although the buildings and decorations in the commercial district were far from that of the original world, it had a unique otherworldly atmosphere, which was refreshing.

In addition, there were strange alien races and all kinds of strange items on the streets, which made them feel like they were in a magic movie.

As they savored the delicacies in their mouths, they went from store to store to look at the products sold by the foreign merchants. Their interest grew higher and higher.

When they passed by the stalls in the open market of the commercial district, the transmigrators stopped again, browsing and talking, choosing the goods they liked.

When they passed by the stall of a foreign merchant, the eyes of the girl among them lit up. She was attracted by a strange-looking item.

This was a sculpture made of some kind of hard beast bone. He didn't know what kind of monster it was, but the creator's level was very high, making the sculpture look alive.

According to the foreign merchant, he had obtained this bone sculpture from a Wanderer, and it was said that it had come from the ruins of a certain city.

After some haggling, the girl bought the sculpture, and the group went to a restaurant not far away for dinner.

The food in the world of loucheng was simple and crude, so the taste of the food was greatly reduced. However, after being processed by the chefs in the commercial district, the food became extremely delicious, and people could not help but praise it after trying it.

After the transmigrators tasted the food, they all left extremely high reviews!

When these transmigrators had first arrived in Holy Dragon City, they had been fortunate enough to taste it in the commercial district once. At the same time, they had been deeply convinced by the food from another world.

Later on, because of work, their food had always been mainly from work. Under such circumstances, they missed the taste of delicious food even more.

Since he had received his salary today, he had to have a good meal!

They came to a very famous restaurant in the commercial district. After ordering a few of the local specialties, the transmigrators began to chat.

The girl kept looking at the animal bone sculpture in her hand, constantly studying the details, and seemed to be in high spirits.

Li, you've been looking at this sculpture. Is there something special about it?"

The one who asked was a young man. Because he was using a body grown from the mother tree, he looked very handsome.

When he asked the question, the young man had a smile on his face, giving off a devilish charm.

Only acquaintances knew that this handsome young man was a rough man before he transmigrated. Even if he was not beautiful, ugly, fat, and thin, he was at least a hundred and eight thousand miles away from his current body.

The young man was obviously very satisfied with his body and often posed in what he thought was handsome, deeply intoxicated.

He and the girl named Xiao Li were colleagues. They were both working in the same research team in charge of designing and improving semi-mechanized auxiliary combat weapons. Now, they had become familiar with each other.

Compared to the combat personnel, the researchers obviously had more freedom. Otherwise, with the war in Holy Dragon City imminent, the transmigrators would not have the time to wander around.

The woman named Xiao Li heard this, but her eyes still didn't leave the statue. She replied casually, "When I saw this statue, I felt that it was very special, as if it was hiding some secret!"

After hearing Xiao Li's words, the other man casually said, "Could there be a treasure map inside the statue, just like in the movies?"

When his companions heard this, they jokingly advised Xiao Li to smash the sculpture. Maybe there really was a treasure map hidden inside!

Although his companion was just joking, Xiao Li had an idea. He carefully observed the statue again.

She was not joking when she said that. She really felt that there was something wrong with the statue.

With the thought that there was something hidden in the bone carving, she carefully examined it again and found a trace of abnormality on the bone carving.

After asking for a military knife from his companion, Xiao Li scratched the statue's abdomen and then flicked it with the tip of the knife.

A piece of the bone sculpture, which looked normal, suddenly flew off, revealing a small black hole.

When the crowd saw this, they all opened their mouths in shock and stared at the bone carving. They didn't expect that there was really something hidden inside!

Xiao Li smiled proudly. After observing it for a while, he reached out and took out a silk-like animal skin from the stomach of the bone carving.

"Open it and see if it's a treasure map."

"There are so many people here. If it's something good, will it be dangerous if others see it?"

don't worry. This is Holy Dragon City. No one would dare to touch us!

After a few discussions, they finally decided to move to the private room next door for safety.

After making sure that no one was paying attention to them, Xiao Li slowly opened the animal skin in his hand under the urging of the others.

The animal skin was only the size of an egg when folded, but when it was opened, it actually covered half of the table. On it were all crooked characters, and there was also a strange map.

Although no one could read the words on the animal skin, they could tell that it was a treasure map!

The travelers who chose to enter the world of loucheng in the early stages were all adventurous people, so the appearance of the 'treasure map' immediately made them extremely excited.

As they imagined themselves breaking through countless difficulties and obstacles to finally obtain the shocking treasure, they couldn't wait to immediately set off to search for the treasure.

Fortunately, the few of them were very rational. They knew that even if this was the real treasure map, they could not immediately start looking for it.

After some discussion, they decided to first decipher the words on the animal skin and then determine where the map was.

The area of the world of loucheng was far larger than the original world. Without an exact location, it was impossible to find the right target with just a map.

Even if the treasure map was proven to be real, with their current strength, they would not be able to set out to search for the treasure.

The world of loucheng was completely different from the original world. Here, there were cultivators with outstanding combat strength and terrifying monsters. One could lose their life if they were not careful!

Therefore, before the treasure hunt, they still needed to constantly improve their strength to ensure their own safety.

This meal revolved around this map. Everyone's eyes were shining as they constantly supplemented and perfected their plans.

While the young men from the Asian Alliance were preparing for their treasure hunt, a group of transmigrators had arrived at the mercenary Union in the commercial district and officially registered as a mercenary group.

Chapter 546 Future trend: mercenary Corps _1

Peter and hark were a pair of good friends. The two had known each other for many years and had recently transmigrated to the world of loucheng together.

In order to come to the world of loucheng, the two of them had put in a lot of effort.

In the beginning, those who had the qualifications to transmigrate were basically carefully selected military personnel. The rest were scientific researchers, and the slots were extremely precious.

The reason why Peter and hark were qualified to transmigrate was that they had both served in the Army and had good skills and survival experience in the wild.

Of course, compared to the cultivators of Lou Cheng, their skills were not worth mentioning. The only reason they could pass the selection was because of their father.

That's right, the two of them were the legendary privileged class!

Privileges would always exist. The two of them were able to successfully become the first transmigrators because of their father, who was a general and a Member of Parliament. In addition, they also had extraordinary qualities.

However, after coming to the world of loucheng, compared to other transmigrators, the two of them seemed to be somewhat 'slacking off'!

While everyone else was busy with their own jobs, Peter and hark were also busy with their own mercenary groups.

Unlike other transmigrators, the two of them had been deeply attracted to this world from the day they arrived. At the same time, they had made up their minds to make a name for themselves in this world!

The potential of the world of loucheng was countless times greater than that of the original world. If there were no accidents, this was where the hope of mankind lay.

If they could gain a firm foothold in the early stages and make some achievements, it would be of great help to their future development.

However, the world of loucheng was different from the original world. The power that they could borrow here was very limited. If they wanted to succeed, they had to rely on themselves.

This wasn't a fight between fathers, but one's own strength!

After some analysis, the two finally decided to form a mercenary group. This kind of organization that could make money and provide protection was the most suitable starting capital for the two of them.

The most important point was that the two of them yearned for this kind of mercenary life!

After careful planning and making sure that there were no problems, the two went to the mercenary Union in the commercial district to submit the application to establish a mercenary group.

Since both of them were transmigrators, the staff of the mercenary Association did not reply on the spot. Instead, they asked them to return and wait for the results. After that, they would ask Tang Zhen how to deal with it.

Transmigrators were different from the natives. Because they had a large amount of professional knowledge, their knowledge was far beyond the natives of the tower world. If they used it well, it would bring great convenience to the Holy Dragon City. If they did not use it well, it would also bring hidden dangers to the Holy Dragon City.

Therefore, whether or not to let them establish an armed organization recognized by the Holy Dragon City was definitely a matter that needed to be carefully considered.

Regarding this matter, the mercenary Association didn't know Tang Zhen's specific thoughts. Naturally, they wouldn't easily make a decision.

After Tang Zhen looked at it, he thought about it and agreed to their request. At the same time, he said that if there were any more transmigrators who applied to form a mercenary group, as long as there were no major problems, he would approve it.

The reason why Tang Zhen did this was because he had considered the future development. This was because this kind of mercenary group with transmigrators as their main force would definitely bloom all over the Holy Dragon City in the future.

Now that there were transmigrators who took the initiative to explore the way, he naturally had to support them. Then, he would observe in the dark and analyze the various pros and cons, so that the rules governing the mercenary groups would be more perfect.

The manhuang land was like his own back garden. Although it was very barren, as long as it was carefully managed, it would not be much worse than the rich land.

After he completely controlled the Wildlands, his partner would definitely move towards the rich land and plunder more land and resources.

As a business partner, Tang Zhen had the responsibility to help them develop. This was also one of the agreements that they had made back then. The management work behind the scenes was also included.

Due to its special geographical location, the soul transfer array would be fixed in Holy Dragon City for a long time. Every traveler would come into contact with the world of Loucheng from here.

In addition to the military personnel and hired staff, there would also be countless transmigrators who were similar to players appearing in the Holy Dragon City. They would accept the tasks given by the Holy Dragon City to alleviate the shortage of manpower in the Holy Dragon City.

By then, in order to better complete the mission, there would definitely be countless transmigrators who would register and form mercenary groups!

So it was only a matter of time before the transmigrators established their mercenary groups, and there was not much difference whether they did it earlier or later.

In addition to allowing transmigrators to set up mercenary groups, in order to increase the enthusiasm of these transmigrators, the banknotes of Holy Dragon City could also be exchanged with the banknotes of the original world according to a certain ratio, so that the transmigrators could also earn money when they were having fun.

This way, not only would it greatly reduce the pressure of employment in the original world, but it would also increase the Holy Dragon City's leveling speed extremely quickly.

With powerful weapons and a sea of people, when the overseas battlefields were opened, who could be a match for them?

In the mercenary guild in the commercial district, Peter and Huck immediately shouted in excitement when they heard that the application was approved.

The two of them had no reason not to be excited. After all, they were transmigrators, and they had applied to form an armed organization like a mercenary group. It was reasonable for the Holy Dragon City to reject the application.

In the end, the thing they were worried about did not happen. The two of them had successfully established their mercenary group!

Suppressing their excitement, the two of them immediately completed the remaining procedures, then impatiently headed to the market in the outer city, preparing to recruit their first batch of members.

Currently, an area had been specially opened up outside Holy Dragon City. Wanderers and cultivators who came to Holy Dragon City to make a living would gather here and wait for their employers.

After Peter and Peter arrived at the market, they saw a bustling crowd of Wanderers in tattered clothes everywhere.

The Holy Dragon City residents in charge of the recruitment kept giving instructions, leading groups of Wanderers out of the place, getting into cars by the road, and then heading to their respective jobs.

The two of them looked at each other, found a higher ground, and shouted at the top of their lungs.

goddess of freedom mercenary group recruiting members. Minimum level two cultivation, familiar with the wilderness, no race limit, human race has priority.

As the two of them shouted, the wandering cultivators nearby couldn't help but come over and ask about the welfare and treatment.

A mercenary group that could be registered in the Holy Dragon City could also be considered to have the Holy Dragon city's recognition. They could be considered to have half an official status, which was very attractive to these wild cultivators.

The current Holy Dragon City was no longer the same as before. If one did not have the status of a resident of the city, it was impossible to apply for the establishment of a mercenary group. This was also to better control these official legal armed forces.

Compared to the construction work that most Wanderers chose, the work in this mercenary group was much easier, and the income was high.

However, the first choice of these wild cultivators was still to join the Holy Dragon city's official mercenary group. They were not very interested in the mercenary group formed by the city residents.

Because once they joined the Holy Dragon city's official mercenary group, not only would they be provided with a full set of weapons and equipment, but they would also receive systematic cultivation training. If they performed well, they would also receive a large number of cultivation resources and even obtain the qualifications to live in the city Tower!

Every time they fought with a regular army, the mercenaries could also get a part of the spoils of war. There was no need to mention the various benefits!

It was also for this reason that countless wild cultivators came straight to Holy Dragon City, thinking of ways to join the mercenary Corps.

It was just that the Holy Dragon city's official mercenary army had strict requirements, and they only selected people once a month, so most of the wild cultivators would stay here, waiting for the once-a-month opportunity, and earn some money to support themselves.

After asking around, most of the field cultivators weren't interested in joining Peter's mercenary group. They surrounded them for a while before moving away.

There were also some weaker ones or those who felt that they had no hope of joining the Holy Dragon city's mercenary Corps. They asked a few more questions out of interest and then chose to join the mercenary group.

Since he had no hope of joining the Holy Dragon city's mercenary Corps, joining a mercenary group established by the residents was not a bad idea either. Moreover, there were not many opportunities like this. If he were to aim too high, he might not have another chance!

There were many wild cultivators with this idea, so after some discussion, they were recruited into the group one by one.

After finally recruiting ten subordinates, the two of them immediately took their group back to the commercial district and rented a small cave in the commercial district as the mercenary group's base.

The next thing to do was to get familiar with each other, update and maintain their equipment, and choose a mission that suited them.

Peter and hark's bodies came from the remains of the spirit race and had excellent cultivation talent. With the bonus attributes from the residents of the tower, their cultivation had already reached level two, and their speed could be said to be very fast.

This was the benefit of having talent and being a resident. It allowed these transmigrators to reach the standards that countless wild cultivators could only reach in their entire lives in a very short time.

However, everything had its advantages and disadvantages. The combat experience of a transmigrator was far less than that of a native of the same level. Moreover, before they could fully control their body, their cultivation base would never reach the Lord level.

Based on the strength of the two of them, in addition to the ten experienced members, they could definitely take on some missions that were not too dangerous.

Moreover, both of them were transmigrators and had acquaintances in many places in Holy Dragon City, so it was not difficult to find a suitable mission.

When Peter returned that night, he brought back good news. Tomorrow, they would accompany a group of transmigrators to the wilderness for a ten-day scientific exploration work!

Chapter 547 Newbie mission, enemy's situation appears

Another morning arrived. At the Holy Dragon city's Gate, a few modified vehicles slowly drove out and disappeared into the wilderness.

This was a fleet of vehicles heading to the wilderness for scientific research. More than half of the members were transmigrators from the original world, and the rest were members of the mercenary group responsible for their safety.

Peter and hark were sitting quietly in the back of the carriage with their mercenary group members, constantly discussing the things to pay attention to during the operation.

As for why they didn't send an Army to escort it, it was entirely because Holy Dragon City was preparing for war and couldn't transfer any combat personnel.

Fortunately, the members of these mercenary groups were all residents of Holy Dragon City. They could be considered one of the Holy Dragon city's armed forces, so they could be used without worry.

With the continuous arrival of transmigrators, work in all aspects of Holy Dragon City began to unfold. The biggest problem at present was a shortage of manpower.

Even though Wanderers came to Holy Dragon City every day to make a living, they were not competent for some special tasks other than construction work.

Helplessly, the Holy Dragon City could only hand over a portion of the missions to the mercenary Association and let them send people to help complete them.

Under such circumstances, the mercenary groups registered in Holy Dragon City had to run until their legs broke. They had to complete missions of all sizes one after another, without any time to rest.

Although they were extremely busy, their income was solid. This also made them busy every day with this painful and happy mentality.

It had to be said that Peter and Hark's luck was very good. Their mercenary group had just been established, and they had already received a mission with a high reward.

Moreover, by relying on their connections, the two of them didn't need to be like other mercenary groups, where they could only apply for the right to buy firearms after they were promoted to a certain level.

Now, the two of them were holding a special rifle and an old bolt rifle.

For the two of them who had served in the Army, other than the special rifle that was quite powerful, the old single-shot rifle could be sent to a Museum.

However, the rules couldn't be changed. Pete and the others had to put in a lot of effort and pull a lot of strings to get these two guns.

Although the two of them didn't care much about the gun, it was an extremely powerful weapon for the cultivators in the building world. Ordinary people wouldn't even have the chance to touch it, let alone get it in their hands.

His own mercenary group had just been established, yet he was able to get his hands on a weapon that half of the mercenary groups in Holy Dragon City could not get their hands on. This was enough to prove his ability.

After this incident, the newly joined members began to have a faint expectation for the future of the mercenary group.

They had come to Holy Dragon City travel-worn only because they had heard of the rumors in the commercial district and wanted to make a name for themselves here so that their families could live a good life.

Moreover, the Holy Dragon City did not discriminate against foreign races. As long as one did not become an enemy of the Holy Dragon City, the Holy Dragon City would definitely not make things difficult for them. They would even give them a fair chance to compete.

However, as a city of the human race, the status of human cultivators was still slightly higher than that of foreign cultivators. This was something that everyone had a tacit understanding.

As for the contempt he had for the human race in the past, it had long been thrown out of the window because of the Holy Dragon city's strong rise.

You're stronger than the human race, so it's fine to look down on the human race. However, the current strength of the Holy Dragon City is obvious to all. It's only a matter of time before they dominate the Wildlands. If they still hold on to their previous views at this time, they're simply seeking their own death.

A few members of the Peter mercenary group understood this point, so they decided to develop well in Holy Dragon City. They wanted to rely on a big tree to take advantage of the shade and change the fate of themselves and their families.

The leader was capable and had connections. This meant that the potential of the mercenary group was very high. The members of the mercenary group were naturally happy.

Peter and hark didn't know what their members were thinking. The two of them were only thinking about how to complete this mission perfectly, and how to make their mercenary group famous as soon as possible, and then stand out from the other mercenary groups in Holy Dragon City.

Currently, Holy Dragon City was filled with cultivators. There were thousands of mercenary groups registered in the mercenary Association. The number one mercenary group already had hundreds of members, and the leader was even a two star feudal lord expert!

Because they had enough points, this mercenary group was well-equipped and already had dozens of old-fashioned bolt rifles. They had completed several top-ranked missions on the Holy Dragon City Mission platform.

Based on their current strength, even an ordinary Level 2 City Tower would not be able to withstand the attack of this mercenary group. This was enough to prove the strength of this mercenary group!

Of course, these mercenary groups could not have their current strength without the support of the Holy Dragon City. This was something that the leaders and members of the mercenary groups were very clear about.

Therefore, they were more protective of the Holy Dragon City than anyone else. If anyone dared to disrespect the Holy Dragon City, the first to jump out and oppose them would be these mercenary groups that gathered all kinds of cultivators.

Peter and Peter's goal was to surpass these mercenary groups in front of them and build a super mercenary group that could attack cities and destroy countries, so that the reputation of the goddess of freedom would spread throughout the continent!

They had already taken the first step, and in the days to come, they would firmly move towards their dreams.

In the vast wilderness, the car ran over the weeds and drove toward a hillside that glowed blue under the sun.

After this place was discovered by the mercenaries, they reported it to the mercenary Union in exchange for points. After some research, they found that this blue crystal Mineral seemed to be very strange, so they sent people to investigate it.

When they arrived at their destination, the researchers with self-defense pistols jumped out of the vehicles and began to work around the hillside.

This time, a total of two mercenary groups had accepted the mission. Both sides were in charge of an area and would face the enemy together when they encountered danger.

Pete commanded his men to spread out along the hillside to guard against the attacks of monsters and Raider groups.

Hank walked around with the old rifle and finally found a high point to act as a guard and a sniper.

In the next ten days, they would repeat the same work and be accompanied by these rocks and weeds!

Being a guard in the wilderness was a very boring thing in itself. However, Peter and hark were both soldiers, and their men were all experienced, so they did not slack off in their defense.

Their location was actually still within the Holy Dragon city's area of control, but it was very close to the side.

But even so, everyone could still see the Holy Dragon city's patrol team rapidly passing by, and the fighter planes shining with silver light in the sky.

Every time this happened, his subordinates would point at the patrol cars and fighter jets with envy and admiration on their faces.

As a time traveler from his original world, Peter felt proud. At the same time, he was also full of respect for the creator of Holy Dragon City, the powerful and mysterious city Lord Tang Zhen.

If there were no accidents, he would be recorded in the history books and be admired by all!

This was because he had found a brand new path of development for mankind, so that the ambitious human beings would no longer be trapped on a planet and could participate in the competition between the hundred races in this mysterious world.

Although this process would be filled with difficulties and sacrifices, for the happiness of himself and his descendants, for the future of the humankind, he would have no regrets no matter how much he had to pay.

Just as Pete was thinking about how to get his comrades to the loucheng world, hark, who was high up, sent an alarm through the walkie-talkie that an unknown team was approaching.

Pete was shocked and immediately ordered hark to continue observing while he commanded his team members to prepare for battle.

The leader of the other mercenary group also came over. He was a middle-aged man with a shiny sword on his back and a composite bow in his hand.

Peter nodded and both of them looked at the unknown person who was approaching from afar.

Taking out his binoculars to observe, Peter discovered that this was a group of foreign cultivators. There were about two hundred of them, and from their movements and expressions, it was obvious that they were heading straight for them.

fire the warning shots. Don't let them get close. If they don't listen to the warning, immediately contact the nearby patrol team and report to the Holy Dragon city's command center!

Peter and the mercenary leader instantly formulated a response plan. Then, hark raised his gun, aimed, and pulled the trigger.

This shot was only a warning shot to stop the opponent, so it was impossible to hit the target.

However, this shot was indeed effective. The foreign cultivators suddenly stopped and pointed at Peter and the others.

When Peter saw that the other party had stopped, he thought that they knew the identity behind him and would not come forward again. However, he suddenly found that these people had suddenly started to run wildly, straight to their position.

Peter's pupils shrank, and he did not hesitate to give the order to attack!

Chapter 548-! bloody battle to the end, with! good cause

"Bang!"

After a muffled gunshot, a non-human cultivator at the forefront fell forward, and blood quickly spread from his head.

After twitching unconsciously twice, the foreign cultivator stopped moving.

After another gunshot, blood spurted out of the chest of a foreign cultivator. He stretched out his right arm with a twisted face and knelt on the ground.

The non-human cultivators' eyes narrowed slightly at the sight of this clean and decisive killing, and a hint of fear flashed across their faces.

The foreign cultivators were clearly very familiar with the Holy Dragon city's firearms and weapons. This was also what they were most afraid of.

It was at this moment that the mercenaries in charge of protecting the group released their arrows at the same time. The arrows, which were wrapped in immense power, whizzed through the air and landed among the group of foreign cultivators.

This modified composite bow had extremely high lethality and was a common equipment of the Holy Dragon City mercenary group. It could easily penetrate the skull of a level two monster.

Even the old rifles used by hark were not as good as these specially-made killing weapons in some aspects.

A series of screams rang out as the foreign cultivators were shot one after another, falling to the ground.

The sounds of gunfire rang out continuously. Other than Peter and hark, the researchers had also joined the battle, firing their self-defense pistols.

Because of the strength of their host bodies, they were not as weak as they looked. Ordinary loucheng soldiers were no match for them in terms of physique and speed.

With the cooperation of more than 20 mercenaries and researchers, these foreign cultivators were suppressed halfway, and dozens of them were killed in the blink of an eye.

The foreign cultivators changed their tactics and surrounded the hill when they saw that their attack was not going to work.

While they were charging, the foreign cultivators shot arrows at Peter and the others as a counterattack. At the same time, they would throw stones and javelins.

The strength of cultivators was extremely great. Even though Peter and the others were looking down from above, they were still injured by these attacks. In a short time, more than ten people had their heads broken and blood flowing.

Because the enemies were scattered, the attacks of Peter and the others also became scattered. They had just suppressed the attacks on this side, but the enemies on the other side came up again, making them tired of dealing with them.

Seeing that another four or five enemies were approaching, the middle-aged mercenary captain beside Peter shouted and threw out a grenade. These foreign cultivators were bloodied and fell to the ground. No one knew if they were Dead or Alive.

At this moment, the middle-aged mercenary leader had already used up all his arrows, so he simply threw away his compound bow and pulled out his sword, ready for a close-combat battle.

The other cultivators followed suit and formed small combat teams with determination. They protected the researchers and looked coldly at the approaching enemies.

Pete and hark had also run out of bullets. They looked at each other and laughed. They unsheathed their swords and faced the enemies without fear.

Even the researchers who had been cooperating with the battle earlier had drawn their military sabers without any sign of backing down.

The foreign cultivators who were rushing up the hill immediately became cautious and slowly surrounded the group.

A cornered beast would still fight. The more desperate an enemy was, the more terrifying their combat power would be. Therefore, they had to be careful.

In the previous charge, close to a hundred foreign cultivators had been killed. However, they still had the advantage in numbers against the Holy Dragon city's people, who only had a few dozen people.

It was only a matter of time before everyone from the Holy Dragon City was surrounded and killed.

Just now, the Holy Dragon City only had the advantage in weapons. The next step would be close combat. These foreign cultivators were not afraid of any enemy.

“Kill!”

Following the middle-aged mercenary leader's roar, the two sides immediately began to fight. As the White blades flew, people screamed and fell to the ground.

Because the Holy Dragon City had undergone professional training, they had always maintained a small Combat team that was not scattered. They had barely blocked the enemy's attack, but everyone was already bathed in blood.

"Go to hell!"

kill! a researcher living in the body of the mother tree shouted, and a piece of wild grass flew up from the ground, turning into countless sharp arrows and shooting at the enemy!

A few of the foreign cultivators were caught off guard and were instantly riddled with bloody holes as they let out miserable shrieks.

No one had expected this researcher to communicate with the mother tree and become a cultivator of the mother tree!

Peter and the middle-aged mercenary leader looked at each other and immediately protected the researcher in the middle to ensure that she would not be hurt.

Meanwhile, the other researchers were performing extremely sharp saber techniques and were locked in a stalemate with the foreign cultivators. It was clear that their skills were far beyond everyone's expectations.

But even so, Peter and the others were still at a disadvantage. More than a dozen people had already fallen to the ground, their bodies soaked in blood.

If they didn't wait for help, they would probably be surrounded and killed by the enemy in a few minutes. They might even be captured and humiliated!

Just as Peter was in despair, a silver light suddenly flashed in the distance. Immediately after, a spherical aircraft appeared in his field of vision, appearing above the hillside like lightning.

In fact, he wasn't the only one who saw the ball. The foreign cultivators also noticed the ball, and the battle paused slightly.

Just as everyone was wondering about the origin of the ball, the bottom of the ball floating in the sky opened up and suddenly revealed something like a gun muzzle.

A sense of danger struck him. Then, a light flashed, and a blade-wielding non-human cultivator's body trembled. Following that, a fist-sized black hole appeared.

Before the body of this foreign cultivator could fall, two more red lights flashed and two other foreign cultivators beside him were killed at an astonishing speed!

"Not good, these are Holy Dragon city's reinforcements!"

The foreign cultivator didn't know what this ball was, but he knew it must be extremely powerful. Otherwise, it wouldn't have been able to kill three of his companions in an instant.

Since things had come to this, they definitely could not kill the Holy Dragon City. It was better to escape as soon as possible.

Thinking up to this point, the leader hidden among the foreign cultivators sent out a secret signal, and everyone scattered in all directions.

Unfortunately, no matter how fast they ran, they were not as fast as the killing speed of the ball. It spun back and forth in the air, shooting out beams of red light. Almost every attack could take a life.

When the round ball stopped attacking, the hill was filled with the corpses of the foreign cultivators that had been shot by the round ball. Each of the corpses had a burnt hole in it.

After the attack, the ball put away the weapon that shot out the red light, and a green light flashed across its smooth surface.

[ the enemy has been cleared. Mission completed. If no orders are given, retreat immediately! ]

After the ball suddenly let out a slightly choppy female voice, it paused for another ten seconds before it suddenly rose high into the air and flew rapidly toward the Holy Dragon City in the distance.

Just as the ball disappeared, Pete's walkie-talkie rang. Then, at the end of the wilderness, a row of patrol cars and armed helicopters whizzed over and flew towards them.

"We've won, hahaha!"

Peter and the others were covered in blood, but their faces were filled with shock and pride. They hugged each other and laughed.

If they hadn't experienced today's battle, they wouldn't have been able to experience the benefits of having a powerful city behind them. Whether it was that mysterious and terrifying ball or the reinforcements that had arrived in a short time, they had all shown them the power of Holy Dragon City.

The transmigrators were fine. They were just surprised by the horror and mystery of the floating ball, because it was definitely not a product of technology from the original world.

However, to those native mercenaries, the Holy Dragon city's powerful strength had already left an indelible impression in their hearts.

When the armed helicopters arrived, the heavily injured were sent back first, while the lightly injured followed the convoy back.

However, the corpses of their companions covered in white cloth made Peter and the others' eyes spit fire. They wanted to immediately tear the enemy into pieces.

However, they did not act rashly, because the Holy Dragon City veterans who came to rescue them had already told Peter and the others that this matter was not over.

These foreign cultivators did not know what was good for them. They actually dared to attack the Holy Dragon city's residents so brazenly. Once the mastermind was found, the city Lord would definitely not let them off easily.

If such a thing was allowed to happen, how could the Holy Dragon City still deter the foreign races?

When the old soldier from the Holy Dragon City said this, the killing intent he emitted was terrifying.

When Peter and the others heard this sentence, they didn't take it to heart and just nodded in agreement.

Two days later, while they were recuperating, they heard shocking news that almost made them fall out of their beds.

After interrogating the captives, they learned that the foreign cultivators who attacked Peter and the others came from a level-four City Tower about 700 kilometers away from the Holy Dragon City. In the past, they had a dispute with the Holy Dragon City cultivators because they wanted to snatch the wild tower.

Peter's group had been attacked, and several of them had been killed. This was the non-human city's retaliation, an attempt to demonstrate its power to the Holy Dragon City!

Tang Zhen, who learned the whole story, was furious. After some discussion, he decided to declare war on this alien city. Five fighter planes took the lead and bombarded the alien city.

The ground troops made up of 5000 people had already rushed directly to the enemy's area. It was estimated that the battle would officially start tomorrow or the day after!

Because of the attack on Peter and the others, the Holy Dragon City finally had a reasonable excuse to launch the military operation to conquer the Wildlands in advance!

Chapter 549 The beginning of the war, a special experiment

On the road in front of the Holy Dragon City, tanks were lined up in a long line and were leaving quickly under the gazes of passersby.

so many loucheng Kingdom Warriors are being mobilized at once. Where is Holy Dragon City going to start a war with?"

Huo Lu was taking a walk with his grandson outside the city when he saw the Army. He couldn't help but ask the passers-by curiously.

The passerby glanced at Huo Lu and recognized him as the owner of a shop in the commercial area. He nodded and sighed,"The Holy Dragon city's residents were attacked in the wilderness, and several of them died. This matter has angered the Holy Dragon City Lord.

I heard that the Holy Dragon City has already begun to move yesterday and launched an attack on the world Tower of the magic Tower. They used those fighter jets that can fly in the sky and destroyed half of the tower!"

At this point, the passerby shook his head and sighed to fire rude."The people from the magic Tower are seeking their own deaths. They clearly know that Holy Dragon City is not to be trifled with, yet they still dare to do such a foolish thing.

Everyone can see the Holy Dragon city's ambition. I'm afraid it won't take long for the Holy Dragon City to completely control the Wildlands. I don't know if this is a blessing or a curse for the hundred races."

Hearing this, fire rude nodded and ignored the sigh in the other party's voice. Instead, he turned to look at the Holy Dragon City Warriors in the caravan.

They sat side by side on the chariot, looking strong and confident, as if they were not afraid of any enemy!

As a special resident of the Holy Dragon City, Huolu felt at ease to have such Warriors to protect his safety.

The more powerful the city was, the more benefits it would bring to the residents. The status of a resident of a top-tier city was not much worse than that of a low-level city Lord.

This difference could be seen from the preferential treatment that the elves received in the rich land.

The devil Tower City that dared to provoke and attack the Holy Dragon city's residents would definitely be punished. If this had happened to another city, they would definitely not choose to swallow their anger.

The law of the jungle was the rule of the world of towers, not to mention that the tower was the one who sought death first!

After the Holy Dragon city's Army had disappeared, horu led his grandson back to the commercial district, ready to count the goods that had just arrived yesterday. It seemed that he was not worried at all about whether the Holy Dragon City would win.

On the side of the road not far from fire rude, several foreign cultivators in cloaks and leather armors were also standing and talking in low voices.

If one were to listen carefully, they would occasionally hear words like "Purple Star" and "treasure room". Their gazes towards Holy Dragon City were also filled with fear and greed.

There were many cultivators like this. They were hiding outside the city and in the commercial district, obviously planning something.

.....

In the original world, in a certain city in the Asian Alliance.

A young man in plain clothes got off the bus and walked toward a building in front of him according to the address on the paper.

Looking at the high-tech building in front of him, as well as the handsome men and beautiful women shuttling back and forth, sun Chong, who had just arrived in a big city, was a little dazzled and felt quite uncomfortable.

"I wonder what kind of company my teacher sent me to work at?"

Sun Chong muttered to himself as he walked into the building. Then, under the guidance of others, he arrived at his destination.

It was an unremarkable company, but upon closer inspection, sun Chong realized that many people here were inheritors of ancient martial arts in the Asian Alliance, just like him.

These people were of similar age, all in their early twenties, and there were about a hundred of them in total.

Like Sun Chong, they had just arrived today and had no idea why they were here.

There were many familiar faces among them. After seeing the other party's arrival, they all revealed a surprised expression and then began to discuss in low voices.

Although they didn't know why they were here, everyone knew that it was not something an ordinary force could do to be able to gather more than 100 elite juniors of martial arts sects.

When the time was up, everyone was led to a Hall and saw a serious-looking middle-aged man.

This middle-aged man had a square face and a dignified expression. He had the air of a soldier.

Looking at the group of young people in front of him, the middle-aged man nodded and said, "I believe that everyone has some doubts in their hearts. They don't know why they are here.

I can tell you the real reason right now, but before that, I have to warn you that this matter is top secret, and it is strictly forbidden to leak even a little bit of it to the outside world!"

The middle-aged man nodded when he saw the curious and nervous expressions on everyone's faces. He then pressed the button in his hand.

An extremely realistic three-dimensional image suddenly appeared in the open space in front of everyone. The terrain with strange shapes, ferocious and terrifying monsters, and all kinds of strange creatures were displayed in front of everyone.

It looks familiar. Isn't this the content of the game?"

Someone mumbled, and many people nodded at the same time. They were obviously players of that virtual game.

After closing the video, the middle-aged man nodded and said loudly, "I believe you can see that the content of this video is very similar to a popular virtual game.

However, what I want to tell you is that those images are not game videos. They are real things!"

As soon as these words came out, everyone's expression changed greatly, and their eyes were full of doubt.

Could there really be a world of buildings in this game?

Everyone's first reaction was to think that this was a joke!

However, the other party had gathered them together, so it was obviously not to play with them. If that was the case, that world might really exist!

After realizing this, everyone's breathing immediately became rapid, and their faces were filled with surprise.

Seeing this, the middle-aged man motioned for everyone to pick up the documents on the table beside him. He said that there was an introduction to the world of Loucheng in the documents and the specific reason why they were gathered here.

Sun Chong also took a document and read it carefully. The more he read, the more shocked he became.

It turned out that there really was a foreign world outside of this world. There were powerful monsters living there, as well as extremely powerful native cultivators.

After reading the introduction and division of strength of those cultivators, sun Chong even thought that he was reading a fantasy novel. The strength of those cultivators had far exceeded the limits of human beings!

Most importantly, their souls were about to transmigrate to that world. Then, they would use a brand new body to cultivate the cultivation techniques and martial arts techniques of that world.

The main purpose of the military's action was to see if there was any difference between these young people, who had been practicing martial arts since young, and ordinary people who had transmigrated. Then, they would formulate follow-up plans.

If the effect was obvious, martial arts training would probably be added to the education curriculum of his original world!

The world of loucheng was so vast that it was impossible to perfect it in a short period of time. It would take hundreds of years or even hundreds of years.

In order to ensure that their efforts would not be in vain, the original world would inevitably cultivate a continuous reserve of strength, and the original social model would inevitably change as a result.

As for whether he would do so in the future, it would depend on the results of this experiment!

After figuring out the purpose of this trip, sun Chong's face was filled with joy, but he could not help but feel excited and nervous.

He felt his blood boiling at the thought that he was about to go to a strange and magical world, and that the gradually declining martial arts might be revived because of this.

When he thought about how he would be able to realize his childhood dream of reaching the end of the world with a sword in no time, sun Chong's heart was filled with anticipation!

Chapter 550 Transmigration of! martial artist, special body

After about half an hour, the middle-aged man appeared again and led sun Chong and the others to another room.

It was also a Hall, but there were hundreds of devices similar to gaming capsules in the center, with flowing lights constantly flashing on the surface.

After reading the introduction, sun Chong and the others knew that this was not a gaming chamber, but a special soul transfer cabin. It could help them transfer their souls to the world of loucheng and return at any time.

Compared to the soul transfer array, the soul transfer cabin was more convenient and suitable for ordinary people.

It was said that this equipment could already be mass-produced, but it had not been promoted on a large scale. Obviously, the time was not right.

However, everything had its pros and cons. Although the soul teleportation cabin was convenient to use, it was only for ordinary people.

If he wanted to stabilize his cultivation and break through to the Lord-tier, he would have to use the soul transfer array and enter the world of loucheng.

However, for sun Chong and the others, this was not a problem that they needed to consider now.

In the attic not far from the hall, there was an area divided by huge glass. It was full of instruments and equipment, as well as men and women in white work clothes.

On both sides of the entrance and around the hall, there were more than a dozen fully armed Asian Alliance soldiers in charge of security.

Sun Chong and the others changed into white uniforms and went to their respective soul teleportation cabins according to their numbers. They slowly lay down in them.

After the cabin door was closed, a stream of light flashed from the soul teleportation cabin. Sun Chong and the others fell into a deep sleep at the same time, entering a short but long dream.

In the dream, sun Chong felt himself being compressed into a ball. He passed through an extremely long passage and finally arrived at a warm area. Then, his entire soul relaxed.

“Huala”

Sun Chong felt as if he was being wrapped in liquid. He suddenly opened his eyes and saw a blue sky.

This wasn't the building he was in, but a strange place!

With his keen perception formed from years of martial arts practice, he jumped up without hesitation. After jumping more than three meters high, he landed on the hard ground.

In the pool next to him, there were also agile figures flashing constantly. They were wearing simple undergarments and were covered in water stains as they observed the surrounding environment.

The quality of a martial artist could be seen from this.

It was only then that sun Chong realized he was standing on a square. Not far away, there was a group of men and women in white overalls, as well as martial artists in black armor, exuding a terrifying aura.

Above their heads was a huge transparent dome that completely covered the entire square. A huge translucent rune was constantly flashing.

welcome to the tower world. Please receive your basic equipment at the reception!

A sweet female voice rang out and echoed in the surroundings. This made sun Chong and the others immediately realize that they had successfully been teleported to the world of loucheng.

With excitement and nervousness, sun Chong and the others immediately walked to the men and women in white overalls and received a set of black clothes with the Holy Dragon city's coat of arms.

While they were changing their clothes, sun Chong and the others kept their eyes on the cultivators with powerful auras. There was a hint of envy in their eyes.

After estimating the strength of the other party, sun Chong realized that even if there were dozens of him, they would not be a match for these cultivators.

Furthermore, there were a few black-armored cultivators among them. They gave sun Chong the feeling that he was facing a prehistoric beast. He was afraid that one of them could kill them all!

The information said that Lou Cheng's cultivators were powerful, and now it seemed that they were indeed worthy of their reputation!

A Holy Dragon City cultivator in black armor walked over. After sizing up sun Chong's group, he smiled and nodded.

"The quality of this batch of transmigrators isn't bad. If no one wants them, I'll reserve my cultivator team!"

A girl in white overalls smiled at the cultivator. don't even think about it, commander thousand Dragons. This batch of transmigrators will be personally led by Mr. Mo ran. This is something that the city Lord has specifically instructed.

Qian Long shook his head upon hearing this. He glanced at sun Chong's group with some regret before turning around and walking toward another area of the square.

A young man beside sun Chong looked at Qian Long's back with excitement in his eyes. He introduced Qian Long to his companions, " that person just now is called thousand Dragon. He's the leader of the cultivators in the Holy Dragon City. His strength is quite abnormal!

This person was a virtual gaming fanatic, so he was naturally very familiar with the main characters in the game. As such, he recognized the thousand Dragons the moment they appeared.

Because he saw a familiar figure, the nervousness in his heart disappeared at this moment, and he began to look forward to the future.

After changing their clothes, sun Chong and the others were led by a staff member to a building not far from the square to rest.

Every time a transmigrator came to the world of loucheng, they would be asked to rest for half a day or a day. Special equipment and actions would be used to make the transmigrator's soul and the host body more compatible.

When sun Chong and the others arrived in front of the building, there happened to be more than two hundred transmigrators walking over. The two sides looked at each other, and one of them greeted sun Chong.

"I'm Mike, from the American Alliance. Are you from the Asian Alliance?"

A well-built man greeted sun Chong. He spoke the amongese that he was not very familiar with. It was obvious that he had just learned it.

Mike's body was a special body that no one had ever seen before. He was tall and strong, and seemed to be full of power.

Only the Holy Dragon city's higher-ups knew that this body was an experimental product that Tang Zhen had cultivated using a mobile phone application. It was a semi-mechanical structure, and its main feature was its superior strength. Its comprehensive quality far exceeded that of ordinary loucheng natives.

The transmigrators from the American Alliance around Mike all used this kind of body. At first glance, they were all 2.6 or 2.7 meters tall.

If this kind of body was matched with heavy armor, they would definitely be a group of super soldiers that would make the enemy tremble in fear!

Just like sun Chong and the other cultivators, the American soldiers also participated in an experiment to test the practical effects of the body.

Following the instructions, they entered the huge building. Then, the staff began to guide them in their training, so that sun Chong and the others could adapt to their new bodies faster.

A day passed in the blink of an eye. When the next morning came, sun Chong and the others boarded the car and headed directly to the giant mountain peak in front of Holy Dragon City.

Sun Chong and the others were living in the Spirit race's body, so the martial technique inheritance of the spirit race was the most suitable for them!

The progress of their cultivation would also directly determine some important decisions in their original world.

As for Mike and the other travelers from the American Alliance, they would go to another area to undergo another special test and training.

Not long after sun Chong's group left, the two hundred or so big guys got into cars and headed for the military base about twenty kilometers away from Holy Dragon City.

When Mike and the others jumped out of the car, they found that there was another group of transmigrators undergoing training tests here. Compared to their huge bodies, these transmigrators were undoubtedly more agile.

What made Mike and the others dumbfounded was that these transmigrators were cooperating with a huge monster and constantly simulating some kind of attack mode.

This was the full body armor of this 20-meter long monster. Furthermore, this armor had a special structure, allowing it to carry dozens of soldiers in a surprise attack.

When this monster charged, even the king of land, tank, could not compare to it.

Compared to tanks, tanks, and other transportation equipment, these war beasts that moved like the wind were undoubtedly more agile and fierce. If necessary, they could also be equipped with offensive weapons.

And there were dozens of similar War Monsters on this huge field!
