Chapter 571 Perception and generous benefits

As soon as he walked out of the village, huseny saw an old figure slowly walking on the yellow dirt road.

Huseny was very familiar with the man. It was the old man who had been looking for a job with him.

At this moment, the old man was walking towards the small town in front of him with a hunched back. His back view was bleak and desolate.

Although the old man looked like a dying Candle in the Wind, as if a gust of wind could blow him away, it would be a big mistake to underestimate him!

This old man in tattered clothes, with turbid eyes and a wrinkled face was definitely a legendary figure!

No one in huseny's village dared to look down on the old man. Sometimes, his words were even more effective than the village elders'.

Husseney had heard that when this old man was still a child, he had already taken a gun to the battlefield. Of the more than 100 people who had joined the Army, only he had survived.

When people found him, the old man was already unconscious, and there were more than 30 enemy corpses lying near the mountain he was on!

In the next few decades, the old man's comrades changed batch after batch, either dead, captured, or disappeared without a trace.

The only thing that had accompanied him for a long time was a rifle that he had obtained from the enemy and had later been damaged beyond recognition.

The old man's gun looked unremarkable, and the rifling was almost polished off. He didn't have to worry about it being stolen even if he put it on the ground.

However, it was such a broken gun that had taken the lives of countless enemies, and its owner had been safe and sound for decades.

Until one evening a few years ago, the old man returned to the village where he was born. Since then, no one had ever seen the old man.

From then on, the old man was like all the other old people in the country. He squatted in the corner every day and looked at the passers-by in a daze. They endured the pain of illness and hunger while waiting for death.

Husseney took a few quick steps and walked side by side with the old man. Neither of them spoke, but there was a trace of determination in their eyes.

Although the two of them were of different ages, they had both held a gun and killed before. Now, they had chosen to give everything for their families!

It sounded ridiculous, but it was pitifully simple.

When their family members couldn't even fill their stomachs and their children could only wear torn clothes and walk barefoot, these men who had been on the battlefield could definitely give up everything for the responsibility on their shoulders!

On the rugged and winding dirt road, the two of them walked side by side, occasionally passing by the remains of the war.

It didn't take long for another dozen or so young people to catch up. They gathered with huseny and set off for the town together.

When they were thirsty, they finally saw the town.

Although it was called a small town, it didn't look prosperous at all. There were only a few more residents and a few more shopfront shops.

The scars of war were still clearly visible, and new traces would be added from time to time. Many of the buildings had been repaired after being damaged, and they looked mottled.

The streets were also filled with people with numb faces. A group of children in tattered clothes were running noisily towards the center of the town with iron rings.

The town was quite lively today, and there were clearly many more people. Judging from their small groups, they must have come with the same purpose as Huseni and the others.

Huseny was a little apprehensive, afraid that he wouldn't be accepted and wouldn't be able to get the money for his hard work. If that happened, the children would continue to starve.

It was funny to say that husayne was afraid that others would look down on his life, so he was thinking about how to be accepted.

He prayed in his heart, and a determined look flashed across huseny's face. No matter what method he used, he had to get this money!

The old man beside him had an indifferent expression on his face. He only lowered his head and walked forward, rarely looking around like other young people.

In the center of the town, several huge tents had been set up, and dozens of men and women who didn't look like locals were sitting on the table, waving their pens and filling in the information for the men who came to sign up.

Huseny and the others saw the young man who had been to their place earlier. He was chatting with several locals, and his eyes kept looking around the crowd as he spoke.

After seeing Huseini and the others, the young man walked over and smiled at them.

it seems that you've made your decision. Come with me!

At this point, the young man turned to look at the old man and said in a certain tone, " please remember my words. You will never regret your choice, because this is definitely a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!

Huseny's mind was set on being accepted, so he didn't pay attention to the young man's words. However, a thoughtful look flashed through the old man's turbid eyes.

For some reason, the old man felt that the other party had seen through all his secrets, making him a little vigilant, but also felt that it was extremely absurd.

The old man could already tell that the other party was just an ordinary person. It was absolutely impossible for him to see through his background. But where did that strange feeling of being seen through come from?

With the young man leading the way, Huseini and the others quickly filled out the forms and were called into the tent one by one.

Huseini was the first to enter and saw two men and a woman sitting inside.

For some reason, Huseini felt that the three young men were very strange. When they looked at him, he felt like he was being stripped naked.

If he had a gun with him, he would have picked it up to protect himself without any hesitation.

When one's Secret was exposed, anyone would feel insecure and subconsciously seek self-protection.

However, in order to get that high-paying job, Huseini held back the uncomfortable feeling and forced himself to calm down.

The three of them looked Huseini up and down, then asked him about his family, and nodded.

"Congratulations, you've been hired by the Holy Dragon Corporation. Place your thumbprint under this contract and you can claim your compensation at any time. It's a total of 150000 United States Dollars!

Also, you don't have to worry about your family because our company will build a small town and a factory to specially accommodate the family members of the applicants.

There are schools in the town. Your children can go to school for free, and your family can work in the factory.

As long as you become an employee of the Holy Dragon Corporation, the corporation will do its best to make sure you don't have any worries!

If you have any other requests, you can also tell us and we will try our best to satisfy your requests!"

After hearing the other party's words, Huseini felt like he was in a dream. Not only did the Holy Dragon Corporation give him a large sum of money, but they would also arrange accommodation and work for his family!

Huseini felt like he was in a dream when he heard such favorable conditions.

She was wondering if the other party was lying to her, but on second thought, her family was already so poor, what was there to be lied about?

Besides, as long as the other party gave him money, so what if he was cheated of his life?

Huseini was illiterate and couldn't understand the contents of the black paper, but he still did as the other party asked, cutting his thumb and leaving a bloody fingerprint.

After putting away the contract, a young man walked in from outside and took huseny to collect his huge compensation.

Chapter 572 The magical contact lenses _1

After huseny left, a young man of the three looked at his two companions and couldn't help but exclaim in admiration, that husseney just now didn't look amazing, but his main attributes were really good. Do you think he's also been in war? " he must have been in a war. The attributes of the contact lenses are already displayed. There's no doubt about it!

The short-haired girl beside him said softly. At the same time, she rubbed her eyes and said with a hint of admiration, "Why do you guys think the contact lenses the company gave us are so powerful? they can actually turn a person's ability into data and directly display it?"

At this point, the girl's eyes flashed with excitement. this feeling is really too exciting. Because no matter who stands in front of you, no matter what disguise they put on, no matter what fake name they use, you will be able to see through them with a single glance and give the most honest answer.

If I use these contact lenses to read my fortune, I'm afraid my business will explode!"

Hearing the girl's words, the other man beside her nodded, clearly agreeing with this point of view.

"These contact lenses are indeed powerful, but I've heard that our company has more than one type of black technology. It's just that our level is not high enough, so we can't access it for the time being!

It's said that the higher-ups in our group can even cast spells, and they even have half-mechanical creatures as guards. That's the real black technology!"

At this point, the man's face was full of longing, as if he was fantasizing about something.

of course. Our boss's boss is the legendary Holy Dragon City Lord. He's like a god. It's no big deal for him to come up with some black technology!

When they said this, their eyes revealed a trace of admiration and yearning.

In today's original world, Tang Zhen was definitely a legendary figure. While he was known by countless people, he was also filled with envy and jealousy.

However, they didn't know that Tang Zhen was able to have everything he had today not only because of his phone's heaven-defying ability, but also because of his own hard work.

He had gone through life and death battles time and time again. In the midst of a mountain of corpses and a sea of blood surrounded by enemies, he had relied on his own strength to support a powerful city!

For the development of the Holy Dragon City, in order to enhance his own strength, he had always been constantly learning. As long as he had time, he would read books and do experiments.

His cultivation and strength were obtained by killing monsters, but his knowledge and experience were obtained through hard work.

While the world was envious and jealous of him, how many people had ever seen his hard work?

The plan to select residents from the original world was crucial to the future development of the Holy Dragon City. Tang Zhen naturally could not treat it carelessly.

In order to be able to select outstanding residents from the original world to the greatest extent, Tang Zhen used his own advantages and accumulated knowledge to carry out a large number of experiments.

While he was using [ monster inspection ] and checking the residents' attributes, he activated [ super creature shaping machine ] and scanned his eyes.

After obtaining the data of the eye changes when the application was activated, Tang Zhen created a contact lens so that the user could see the specific attributes of the ordinary people in the original world after using it.

After the first experiment failed, Tang Zhen started the second experiment and then the third one.

After dozens of experiments and filtering the contact lenses, Tang Zhen finally created a super contact lens that could display the attributes of an ordinary person after wearing it!

With these contact lenses, it would be easy to pick out those with excellent attributes from the vast sea of people!

The staff of the Holy Dragon Corporation relied on these contact lenses to easily pick out those with excellent attributes from countless applicants.

The young man who had gone to Huseny's village earlier was also wearing the same contact lenses, which was why he had his eyes on Huseny and the old man at first sight.

For ordinary people, these glasses were simply a divine weapon!

Unfortunately, these contact lenses were only limited edition and had no effect on cultivators. Moreover, they only had a lifespan of three months!

As for whether these glasses could only be used on cultivators and whether its lifespan could be extended, these were all secrets that no one knew except for Tang Zhen.

Since the start of the recruitment plan, the Holy Dragon Corporation's employees all over the world had recruited tens of thousands of people with these contact lenses, all of whom had excellent attributes.

For every person they recruited, they would receive a generous bonus, so these staff members were all very hardworking!

As for the black paper contract that Huseny and the others had left their bloody fingerprints on, it was a contract that Tang Zhen had exchanged from the ghost bank. Once signed, it could not be violated, or the punishment would be extremely serious.

Tang Zhen didn't spend any money on these hundreds of thousands of contracts. The female manager of the ghost bank only asked for one thing from Tang Zhen, which was the black crystal sand he got from the gray fog pit in front of the warship wreckage.

Tang Zhen didn't give him all of it, only half of it. The female supervisor didn't haggle and gave him 500000 contracts.

Although he didn't know what this crystal sand was, Tang Zhen knew that this kind of contract wasn't cheap. Half of the black crystal sand could be exchanged for so much, which meant that the black crystal sand was definitely not an ordinary item.

This matter was placed in Tang Zhen's heart. He decided that when he had the time, he would definitely catch the monster that escaped and see what kind of God it was. Why would there be such a mysterious black crystal sand in its nest?

The three of them chatted for a while before another young man was led in. His attributes were also clearly displayed on the contact lens.

The young man's overall attributes were very average and did not meet the qualifications for admission, so he was quickly sent out by the translator.

Seven or eight more people came in, and except for one person whose attributes had just met the standard, the others all left in disappointment.

After a middle-aged man left with his head lowered, another man walked in. It was the old man who had come with husserne and the others!

When they first saw the old man, the three of them were slightly stunned because this was the first time they had seen an old man come for an interview.

However, the group had already informed them that as long as the other party's attributes were excellent, even if they were older, it would not be a problem. They would all be recruited according to the same standards.

It was also at this moment that the old man's attributes appeared in front of the three of them.

Looking at the old man's attributes that had reached ten figures, the three of them were shocked, and the way they looked at the old man changed.

Compared to an ordinary person's single-digit attributes, this old man who looked like he had one foot in the grave was simply outrageously powerful!

It was an old wolf in a broken sheepskin. It looked unremarkable, but its fangs were still extremely sharp!

In fact, when the three of them looked at the old man, the old man also had some enlightenment. A glimmer of light flashed in his eyes, and at the same time, the doubts in his heart grew stronger.

Because when the three of them stared at him, the old man felt the special power that could see through his soul again, which was even stronger than the young man outside.

It was not until this moment that the old man was finally sure that he was not hallucinating. These young people really had some kind of strange ability to see through people!

No wonder the young man outside had been staring at him. It was because of this!

Just as the old man was thinking to himself, the three young men had already suppressed the shock in their hearts and began to ask the old man some questions as usual. Then, they handed over the black paper contract.

The old man looked at the contract in silence for a few seconds before asking the three of them, "Young man, you're different from ordinary people. Can you tell me who you are?"

The translator relayed the old man's words to the three of them word for word, while the old man at the side hunched over, quietly waiting for the three of them to answer.

The three of them looked at each other, and the short-haired girl spoke in a calm voice, "I can only tell you that we are employees of the Holy Dragon Corporation. As for your questions, there will be professionals to answer them for you.

Now, please tell me, are you willing to sign the contract?"

The old man shook his head and then nodded. He pierced his thumb and pressed his fingerprint on it.

Coming to another tent, the old man was holding a bundle of cash that smelled of ink. His heart that had been numb for many years suddenly had a trace of curiosity.

Chapter 573 Night in the town

After this round of registration ended, a total of forty-five people were admitted and countless people were eliminated.

Those who were eliminated hung their heads in dejection. They looked at the banknotes in the hands of those who were accepted, and their eyes were all red, full of envy and jealousy.

The staff told husseney and the others that they could go home and make arrangements, and then return to the town to wait for the follow-up arrangements.

Shoving a stack of cash into his pocket, husseney, the old man, and the others left the town and returned home together.

This time, there were a total of three people from their village who had been recruited. In addition to him and the old man, there was also a strong middle-aged man with a beard.

Husseney wasn't too familiar with this man because he hadn't moved to the village for long, and they didn't have much contact. He only knew that he didn't like to talk.

But husseney's intuition told him that this middle-aged man had also taken a gun before, because his aura couldn't be hidden from his own kind!

The employees of the Holy Dragon Corporation had good judgment. Among the villagers, only the three of them had been on the battlefield, but they had all been picked out!

Little did he know that the staff of the Holy Dragon Corporation had hired them because of the power of the contact lenses, which allowed them to see their attributes, which were far beyond ordinary people!

The men who went with them were very envious of husseney and the other two. After all, they had really received cash.

To be honest, they were quite curious about the Holy Dragon Corporation. They actually paid them after they were hired. Were they not afraid that these guys would run away with guns?

There were many people who had such thoughts. After all, 150000 dollars was enough to drive countless people crazy in this country!

It was normal for others to have such thoughts, but husseney and the other two didn't think so. They had already vaguely sensed that the Holy Dragon Corporation was extraordinary.

If someone really had evil thoughts and wanted to run away with the money, they would definitely not have a good end!

Obviously, to be able to make such a big move and carry so much cash with them in this country with poor security, this group of people must have something to rely on.

If he were to have any crooked thoughts, he would definitely die without even knowing how he died!

So on the way back, the other men kept discussing, except Huseni and the other two, who had heavy expressions and lowered their heads. No one knew what they were thinking.

Before they knew it, they had already returned to the village. It didn't take long for everyone in the village to know that husseney and the others had been recruited by the Holy Dragon Corporation.

While people were envious, they were also upset that they did not have such good luck.

In the middle of the village, a few men were talking about what they had seen in the town in front of a group of adults and children, and they were greeted with exclamations and boos from time to time.

"You mean, no matter whether it's adults, children, or women, as long as they pass the test and are hired, they will be paid a large amount of money?"

A middle-aged man asked casually and received a positive answer from the other party.

"Then why don't you send the woman and the child over? if you are hired by them, you can also get that sum of money!"

As soon as the middle-aged man finished speaking, everyone was immediately stunned. After looking at each other, they turned around and returned home in unison.

It didn't take long for the men, women, old and young in the village to gather together and walk in the direction of the small town.

For these people, 150000 dollars was definitely worth a try. If they were selected, the fate of their entire family would change!

Even if he wasn't hired, it would be good to go and take a look at the money!

Just as the villagers headed for the town, Huseni returned home and saw his wife working on the ground.

When husseney came back, his wife's eyes flashed with relief, and she lowered her head to continue with her work.

After her husband left after saying those words, his wife had been worried. Now that she saw her husband, she could finally put her hanging heart at ease.

Perhaps the children were tired from playing, they were already lying on the simple bed and sleeping soundly.

wake the child up. We have to leave this place immediately!

At this point, huseny immediately woke up the drowsy little ones and had them stand under the sun outside the door.

“What happened? what are you doing?”

His wife was confused by huseny’s actions and quickly stood up to ask.

I’ve been hired by the Holy Dragon Corporation. They gave me a large sum of money. In order to prevent anyone from having any bad intentions, we have to leave immediately!

At this point, huseny showed his wife a large bundle of cash to prove that he was not lying.

His wife was stunned by the money. After a moment of shock, she nodded and took out something from the broken cabinet.

She was very fast. In just a few minutes, she had finished packing and rolled it into a small bag.

There wasn’t much to pack. Huseny’s house was bare, after all, and the things his wife had brought were just some important items.

Huseny didn’t stay idle either. He kicked away a piece of soil on the ground and lifted the wooden board below.

In the pit under the wooden board, a slightly rusty rifle appeared in front of him. After checking it a few times, he carried it on his shoulder and put two magazines on his waist.

Walking out of his run-down house, husani took a deep breath and turned to look in the other direction of the village.

The middle-aged man, his wife and child, was walking toward huseny. On his shoulder was an old sniper rifle.

It turned out that this burly middle-aged man had once been a sniper!

The middle-aged man greeted husseney and looked in the direction of the old man’s house at the same time. As expected, the old man also came out with his family in a few minutes.

On the old man’s body, the old gun that had killed countless people appeared once again. It looked old and worn, but it was shining under the sun.

The three families of men and women, young and old, gathered together. There were dozens of people. They followed behind the three men and quickly walked toward the small town.

Huseny and the other two had gotten a lot of money this time, enough to attract those inhumane and crazy bandits, so the moment they got the huge sum of money, they had decided to leave the village with their families.

The Holy Dragon Corporation had already told Huseni and the others that they could bring their families here at any time, and then the corporation would send a car to send them to a safe place.

Everyone walked on the dusty dirt road in a hurry, and no one dared to fall behind.

Being born in such a place, they had already learned how to keep their lives. Seeing their men's attitude, how could they not know the urgency of the matter? so even if they were only a few years old, they gritted their teeth and persevered. No matter how tired they were, they did not make a sound.

The old man, huseny, and the other two stood at the front and back of the group, their seemingly plain bodies exuding a faint murderous aura. Their eyes were like eagles as they surveyed their surroundings, on guard against any danger that might appear at any moment.

It was only now that huserne and the other two truly revealed something that set them apart from the others. Their senses were particularly sharp, and their explosive speed was also particularly fast. They were completely elite-level existences on the battlefield.

If they were given a suitable environment and properly trained, they would definitely become weapon Kings!

This was also the reason why Tang Zhen recruited them. As long as he carefully nurtured them, these people would become the sharpest blade in Tang Zhen's hands!

After rushing all the way, the group finally arrived at the small town, and the dozens of people finally heaved a sigh of relief.

When they arrived at the Holy Dragon corporation's base, the family members of the three of them were arranged to stay in tents, and the staff provided them with food and water.

At this time, in the small town, there were already a few people who had been accepted who had brought their families over. Obviously, they also knew that the money might bring danger, so they could not wait to bring their families over.

However, they did not know that the Holy Dragon Corporation had chosen to pay in cash on the spot to force them to make such a choice, so that these people would be completely tied to the Holy Dragon City.

Regardless of whether it was a conspiracy or an open one, as long as the goal was achieved, it would be considered a success!

Chapter 574 A new home (1)

That night, the entire town was extremely lively. From time to time, people would come to the town with their family members and join the Holy Dragon corporation's camp.

Without exception, all the men recruited by the Holy Dragon Corporation would carry weapons and show their hidden side.

The Holy Dragon Corporation did not confiscate their weapons. They only reminded Huseni and the others not to let their families and children run around, and that a car would come to pick them up tomorrow.

In the middle of the night, sparse gunshots came from the wilderness in the distance, alarming everyone in the camp.

Huseny and the others did not rest. After hearing the gunshot, they immediately came out of the tent to check the situation.

The camp was brightly lit, and the guards were already standing guard in their respective positions with guns in hand, in case of any accidents.

With their weapons and equipment, as well as huseny and the others, they basically didn't have to worry about safety.

What they were doing now was not just to prevent any accidents from happening.

In fact, when they had first chosen their respective work areas, many employees of the Holy Dragon Corporation had chosen places like Huseni's hometown to earn more bonuses. Although it was poor and dangerous, the probability of people with excellent attributes was much higher.

Only by living in such a place could one's potential be developed.

It sounded cruel, but this was an undeniable fact!

Those who were able to survive in such an environment all had abilities that could not be underestimated. Otherwise, they would have long been lying in a pile of dead bodies and turned into a pile of bones!

The reason why the natives of the world of loucheng had outstanding combat strength was not only because of their natural physical constitution, but also because of the harsh environment they lived in. Therefore, in the life-and-death battles, their potential was greatly developed.

It didn't take long for the sudden gunshots to die down, and everything returned to peace.

Instead of going back to rest, huseny and the others sat on the side of the road with guns in their arms, coldly looking at the road in front of the town.

This was a habit they had developed in the past. Before confirming that the danger was gone, they would never let their guard down.

Just like the three of them, the other recruited men also gathered together. They were also paying attention to their surroundings as they spoke.

Hurried footsteps were heard. Huseny and the others listened for a while. After determining the situation from the sound of the footsteps, their nervous expressions began to slowly relax.

On the road of the town, two men were walking in front with rifles in their hands. Some women and children followed behind them.

Some people recognized the two men. They were also accepted during the day, and the people behind them were naturally their family members.

“Hey, what happened just now?”

One of the men seemed to know the two of them and asked.

Everyone could tell that the two of them seemed to have been through a battle because their bodies were covered in dust and grass, and their rifles also emitted a faint smell of gunpowder.

“A dozen guys wanted to Rob us, but we killed seven of them and the rest ran away!”

The man replied and then looked for the staff, hoping that they could arrange a place for his family to stay.

Everyone nodded, showing an expression of “I knew it.” It was as if this was not a big deal, and they were obviously used to this kind of situation.

Huseny and the others also got up and returned to their tents. They hugged their guns and began to rest.

The next morning, a long line of cars arrived at the town. Huseny and his family boarded the cars and slowly left their hometown.

Everyone on the bus was silent, and some even began to cry. No one would be reluctant to leave this land that had left them with endless pain.

After driving for nearly a day, the car finally stopped in an open area. When everyone got out of the car, they immediately saw a busy scene.

Countless workers and vehicles were busy, and houses were under construction. Not far away, rows of beautiful integrated houses had been completed.

When she heard that this would be their future home, Husayni’s wife immediately burst into tears. In her eyes, this was heaven!

There were many people who did the same thing. They had already suffered countless hardships and thought that their lives would end like this. Who would have thought that in just one night, their lives would have undergone earth-shaking changes?

Husani and the others were filled with gratitude for Holy Dragon City, which had changed their lives!

After everyone got out of the car, a staff member immediately registered them and assigned them a place to stay according to their family size.

Huseny’s family was also given a spacious and bright House. Simple furniture was already set up inside, and the kitchen had ready-made rice and vegetables.

After opening the wardrobe, there were even clothes for adults and children, which now belonged to huseny’s family!

The Holy Dragon corporation's arrangements could be said to be extremely detailed. Huseni's family was extremely shocked, and their eyes were filled with gratitude.

When the children heard that this was their new home, they immediately danced with joy. They happily changed into clean clothes and were very careful when they walked, afraid that they would dirty the house.

Huseny's wife cried as she took off huseny's coat. Looking at the wounds on her husband's body, she seemed to have thought of something, and her tears flowed down uncontrollably.

They did not know how to repay the Holy Dragon City for everything it had given them. Therefore, the wife knew that her husband would definitely leave this place and head to that world of buildings!

Huseny didn't say anything as he watched his wife cry. After changing his clothes, he turned and left the house.

Huseny saw many of his kind on the wide and clean streets. They were obviously applicants sent by the Holy Dragon Corporation from other places.

After these men had settled their families, they walked out of their houses at the same time and came to the square at the edge of the residential area. They chatted in small groups.

Because they all had extraordinary attributes, even if they didn't do anything, they still gave off a faint pressure when they gathered.

Huseny and the other two were also sitting by a flower bed, talking to two middle-aged men in low voices. From these people, they finally knew where the loucheng world was!

It was not until this moment that they knew of the existence of the Otherworld. They also knew that humans had already built bases in the Otherworld and even occupied a large piece of land.

When huseni and the others heard this news, they were both shocked and helpless, but also a little eager to try!

For people like them, although the killing on the battlefield was annoying, it could awaken their long-dormant hot blood and make them feel the meaning of life.

People who were used to the battlefield would definitely feel uncomfortable when they returned to ordinary life. They would always have a contradictory mentality.

Now that their families had been properly settled and they could return to the battlefield, and they were going to fight in another world, they were looking forward to it.

The next morning, huseny and the other 1000 people left their families and took a bus to a training base to undergo a three-month training.

After the training, they would transmigrate to the world of loucheng and become official residents of Holy Dragon City.

The families of Huseini and the others would live in this small town and work for the Holy Dragon Corporation at the same time. Their children would also receive special training and become the reserve force of the Holy Dragon City!

And who knew how many more similar towns the Holy Dragon Corporation had built in the original world!

Chapter 575! American Alliance's event site

The Asian Alliance, the Capital International Airport.

After staying in the Asian Alliance for a few days, Tang Zhen and the others took a plane and continued to the American Alliance.

Their schedule had been planned long ago, so they would leave immediately when the time was up. Everything was for the mission!

In the past few days, Qian Long and the others had participated in several events in the Asian Alliance. Every time they showed up, the atmosphere would be extremely explosive!

With the release of the two movies and the fact that they were the natives of the tower world, Qian Long, yuemang, and the others became extremely well-known, almost to the point of being known by the whole world!

It was precisely because of this that every event was extremely popular, and the Asian Alliance had no choice but to dispatch a large number of people to maintain order.

The people of the original world were full of curiosity and yearning for the world of loucheng. Now, many people would talk about the world of loucheng when they chatted.

On the internet, a wave of enthusiasm had gradually formed, and that was to migrate to the world of loucheng and start a new life there!

There were countless people in the original world who had this idea. Their yearning for the world of loucheng was beyond words, and some of them had even reached a near fanatical level.

The world of loucheng had green mountains and rivers, mysterious objects, and endless unknown worlds. These were all places that people yearned for.

Most importantly, he would be able to change into a near-perfect body after entering the world of loucheng, and his lifespan would be greatly extended!

The humans' helplessness and lamentation over the short lifespan finally saw a glimmer of hope after the appearance of the world of loucheng!

Perhaps more people yearned for the world of loucheng because of this!

Of course, there were also some people who were obsessed with the world of the loucheng. They had a kind of almost obsessive love for the things there, and some people even wanted to get a chance to go to the World of the loucheng at all costs.

Unfortunately, the right to be permanently teleported to the world of loucheng was too scarce. Many people dug holes for a long time, but could not find any way.

As the Holy Dragon City began to recruit residents all over the world, countless people were tempted and immediately took action, heading to various recruitment locations.

If he was rejected at one location, he would try at another. He would persevere.

Unfortunately, the Holy Dragon city's recruitment standards for its residents were very strict. Since the recruitment work was launched all over the world, countless people had participated in interviews every day, but the rate of being recruited was too low.

While the people who had failed to make the cut harbored resentment, they also began to protest, demanding that the Holy Dragon Corporation lower their standards and give them a fair chance!

It was just that the original world's residents recruited this time were of great significance to the Holy Dragon city's future plans. They had to have truly excellent attributes, and there was no room for discussion on this point.

Fortunately, the Holy Dragon Corporation had also promised to gradually lower the standards for recruiting residents in the near future. At the same time, they would also provide ordinary people with the opportunity to experience the world of loucheng.

After hearing the news, people were filled with anticipation and began to pay attention to the news about the world of loucheng.

When news of Qian Long's return to their original world spread, countless people from the American Alliance also cheered in anticipation, hoping to catch a glimpse of these foreign visitors.

In particular, the tickets to the event venue had long been sold out by countless people.

No one spoke along the way. When the plane landed in the United States, countless people outside the airport were looking forward to it. When they saw the figures of yukishiro and the others, a burst of enthusiastic cheers immediately broke out.

"Yuelang, my goddess, look at me!"

"Commander thousand Dragons, I want to sign up for the cultivator battle team!"

little Rui, little Rui, I love you!

All kinds of sounds came over and filled everyone's ears.

Everyone had already gotten used to this situation. They smiled and waved as they left in a car under the guidance of the American Security personnel.

That day, the American media was all over the place, reporting on this matter. There were all kinds of discussions, some positive and some negative.

The disturbance in the outside world had nothing to do with Tang Zhen and the others. After they returned to the hotel, they didn't go anywhere and instead went to rest.

Although their physiques were extraordinary, they had been either attending events or shopping these past few days, so everyone felt a little tired.

Tang Zhen didn't feel uncomfortable at all. Instead, he met with more than a dozen powerful people in the American Alliance at his residence. They represented their families and discussed some very secretive matters with Tang Zhen.

The next morning, everyone arrived at the open-air venue where the American Alliance was participating in the event. When Yukishiro and the others appeared, the entire place immediately cheered.

Tang Zhen discovered that among the audience, there was a group of people wearing black armor that was highly similar to the cultivators of Lou Cheng. They were standing on their seats and shouting wildly, appearing to be abnormally excited.

There were also people who raised the Holy Dragon city's coat of arms and waved it above their heads, shouting from time to time.

When Yuelang and the others stood on the stage, Tang Zhen, who was standing not far away, activated the video application and directly projected their figures into the sky.

Looking at the huge three-dimensional image that suddenly appeared in the air, no different from a real person, another round of cheers came from the crowd. They were both shocked and curious about this magical method.

After that, Thousand Dragon, Little Rui, and the others performed a few performances. Since these hosts were all individually made, they could display one-third of their original strength.

Thousand Dragons was a Lord-tier cultivator, and one-third of his strength was more than enough for a performance!

The crowd was dumbfounded as they watched Qian Long and Xiao Rui perform superhuman-like movements. At the same time, they cheered and looked forward to it.

Then, Yuelang and the others performed a few songs from the world of Lou Cheng. Their beautiful voices were like the sound of nature, and the music was full of the style of the other world, which made everyone intoxicated!

When the event was about to end, the host came forward and announced that the Holy Dragon City would cooperate with the media from the original world and a famous wilderness survival master to shoot two exploration documentaries of the Lou Cheng world.

They would be teleported to the world of Lou Cheng the next day, and then they would start a year-long shooting.

Every month or so, the audience in the original world would be able to watch an exciting episode about the world of Lou Cheng, for a total of twelve episodes!

This media company had produced many famous documentaries. In addition to the participation of the master of wilderness survival, the shooting location was also in the Lou Cheng world, so everyone was full of anticipation for the film.

On the stage of the event, the wilderness survival master was talking with thousand Dragon and the others. Perhaps because thousand Dragon found the other party pleasing to the eye, she even gave him a low-tier Demon Dagger.

The dagger was exquisitely decorated and embedded with gems that were not valuable in the world of towers. However, it was priceless in the original world!

The other party clearly didn't expect Qian Long to give him such a generous gift. He didn't know what to do for a moment and quickly expressed his gratitude.

When the audience saw the dagger, they exclaimed in envy and were also full of interest.

After the event ended, this survival master posted a thank-you message on the internet and showed a video of the dagger.

After seeing the gemstones on the dagger, countless netizens called it a tycoon, because the price of these gemstones was simply immeasurable.

When they saw that the dagger was as transparent as glass and easily cut off an iron rod, they were even more shocked and shouted, "divine weapon!"

Because of this dagger that could be called a rare treasure, countless people were even more curious and admired the world of loucheng!

In the next few days, Tang Zhen and the others participated in two more events and then played in the United States for two days.

Then, they boarded the plane and headed to the ice Bear Alliance to participate in the event.

After wandering around the original world, Tang Zhen brought everyone to his small island in the sea and began to enjoy the beach and the waves.

Chapter 576 Special training (1)

One's birth would create a person, one's environment would create a person, and one's ideals would also create a person!

They were all people with different lives. This was not a sigh, but a statement of fact.

Huseny and the others' attributes were far superior to ordinary people, but due to their background and environment, they had all lived ordinary lives.

Just like ordinary people, their ideals were very simple, and that was to fill their stomachs and live!

It was also due to the limitations of the environment that their advantages were not effectively developed. Under the circumstances that they themselves were not aware of, they gradually lost to the crowd.

In addition to people like huseny who had been on the battlefield, there were also people from other industries among the Holy Dragon city's recruiters. However, as long as they were trained, they would all become excellent soldiers without exception.

The Holy Dragon City had given them a chance to choose their lives again. Whether they wanted to or not, they had already stepped onto the Holy Dragon city's war chariot. There was no possibility of retreating!

Now, with the start of their training, their hidden advantages would inevitably continue to be magnified, and they would not waste their attributes that far exceeded ordinary people.

When they transmigrated to the world of loucheng, coupled with the bodies that Tang Zhen had specially prepared for them, the combat strength of Huseni and the others would definitely soar to an extremely terrifying level.

In this aspect, even the Holy Dragon city's loucheng Warriors might not be able to compare to them.

The car drove at high speed. Husseret and the others traveled for nearly a day before they finally arrived at a base built in the mountains.

In this huge training base, husseney saw more of his companions like them.

They had different skin colors and languages, but they all wore the same uniform and received special training in the base.

Husani and the others met their instructors and learned what the so-called training was!

Learning the language of the Asian Alliance and the mainstream language of the loucheng world, all kinds of knowledge about the loucheng world, receiving all kinds of weapon training, and learning to operate all kinds of magical equipment.

On the afternoon of their arrival, husseney and the others began their formal learning and went to a huge warehouse in batches.

There was a special device in this warehouse that could help the user strengthen their memory, and the learning efficiency was more than ten times higher than normal.

To use it, one only needed to wear a special helmet and sit quietly on a chair.

This was a learning machine that Tang Zhen had discovered on the terobo warship. It was an item that the terobo people had specially prepared for ground combatants and special agents. It was to fill in the information of the Conqueror so that they could better carry out their conquest and enslaving missions.

After the research and modification of this machine, it could be produced on a small scale, but the cost was extremely expensive. Huseni and the others were naturally the first to use it.

Of course, this kind of learning was similar to force-feeding, and it would damage the body to a certain extent, but it had no effect on the soul power.

Husani and the others would abandon this body sooner or later, so this physical damage was nothing at all, because the damage in the later stages of training was even more severe.

The study went on for three hours. By the time husseney recovered from the dizzy feeling, he found that there seemed to be more memories of the Asian Alliance language in his mind, which he was gradually absorbing and digesting.

Huseny tried to recall the conversation he had with the men next to him in their choppy language, and began to chat with the man next to him.

After stammering a few words, Husayni found that he was speaking more and more fluently. It was obvious that the effect of the machine was amazing.

Many people here had participated in the war and knew the importance of mastering a language. Therefore, they used their free time to practice and make the language an instinct of their bodies.

After learning the language of the Asian Alliance, husseney and the others rested for a while before they were gathered in another warehouse to begin their close-combat training.

In addition to the normal combat, they also saw some transmigrators who had returned from the tower world and followed them to learn the extremely lethal sword techniques!

This was the Holy Dragon city's fusion of the original world's martial arts, the spiritual race's combat techniques, and the tower world's combat techniques. It was a powerful martial technique adapted, and the killing effect was amazing!

After learning how to fight and use cold weapons, husani and the others went to the cafeteria to eat.

The food in the training base was very special. Many of them were items from the world of loucheng, which were very helpful in nourishing the soul. It was just that the taste was a little strange.

For example, the thick vegetable soup that huseny was drinking was obviously made from the leaves of the mother tree, mixed with some potions from the world of loucheng, and it gave off a bitter taste.

However, it was strange. Although this kind of soup tasted bad, not long after drinking it, he would feel his spirit shake and his originally drowsy brain would also become clear.

Of course, not all the food tasted bad. One of them was the marinated meat, which was especially delicious. After a bite, one would feel much better.

Some people asked curiously what kind of meat it was, and the people who knew would smile and tell them that it was the meat of the water monster from the world of loucheng. Ordinary people couldn't eat it even if they wanted to.

However, although this meat was precious, it was hard to describe the appearance of the water monster.

Uh, let's not talk about it, in case it affects my appetite.

There was someone in charge of watching over them, and everyone was required to finish all the food. If there was any left, they would be punished.

No one would choose to resist this kind of thing. First of all, they had already signed a contract to sell themselves and belonged to the Holy Dragon City. Second, no one would compete with food that was beneficial to them, even though some food was indeed unpalatable.

After a magical dinner, Huseini thought he could finally rest, but he was notified to watch a movie in a warehouse.

Of course, this movie wasn't referring to those commercial films, but a real, live-action documentary!

Tang Zhen used the application's camera function to record many battle scenes. After applying the editing and production, it became an educational documentary that was absolutely not inferior to epic blockbusters.

There were a total of ten episodes in the film. Ordinary people in the original world could not see it at all, because what was recorded here was a real and bloody world of Loucheng!

Huseny and the others couldn't take their eyes off the movie, because they were deeply attracted by its content.

The magnificent battle to defend the city, the overwhelming monsters, their ferocious faces seemed to be close at hand, as if they would rush out of the screen as soon as they poked their heads out.

If they were timid, they would have peed their pants after seeing such a real scene.

Even battle-seasoned veterans like Huseny were unknowingly drenched in sweat as they wondered if they could survive such a battle.

The scene changed and landed on the Holy Dragon city's residents who were defending the city.

The Holy Dragon city's soldiers, armed with rifles, had extremely agile movements and amazing marksmanship. None of their bullets missed their target, and the monsters were directly killed by them!

The agile cultivators of the Holy Dragon City displayed god-like techniques. Each and every one of their movements carried terrifying power, and powerful monsters were easily killed by them!

The viciousness and valiant fighting strength displayed by the Holy Dragon city's citizens made Husani and the others deeply shocked and in awe!

The next scene changed again. The scene of the Holy Dragon city's Army fighting the Kobold Army appeared. From the sky, there were at least a hundred thousand kobolds covering the sky, exuding a chilling murderous aura.

Such a majestic scene would shock anyone who saw it, not to mention the ferocious-looking alien race!

Not long after, the Holy Dragon city's Army appeared, and the cooperation of various troops made people's eyes light up.

With the cooperation of the planes and tanks, the Holy Dragon city's soldiers in black armor continued to kill the enemies. The originally powerful Kobold Army was instantly torn apart by the Holy Dragon City!

When the battle was over, the entire grassland was filled with the corpses of the kobolds. The blood that flowed into the river and the broken limbs that were scattered all over the place showed the cruelty of war.

Huseny and the others didn't show any signs of disgust. After all, they were already used to the fact that it was either one of them who died on the battlefield.

This time, it was the enemy's body that fell, but maybe the next time, it would be him, so there was no pity or sadness.

After watching the movie, Husseny and the others could finally return to the dormitory to rest and continue their training the next day.

However, what they saw and heard today was deeply engraved in their minds. When they thought about going to the world of Loucheng and fighting with the alien races and monsters, they felt like their blood was burning.

Chapter 577 The preparations before the arrival of the residents

The next morning, Husseny and the others got up early again and started a new day of study.

After yesterday's experience, they already had a basic understanding of this training base.

Unlike other places, the instructors in this training base were very powerful, but they didn't pay much attention to physical training. Instead, they tried to stuff things into the minds of Husseny and the others.

Regardless of whether one could digest it or not, it was just a force-feeding process. With the help of the strange learning machine and medicinal cuisine, it really stuffed into their heads.

It was also for this reason that these people who killed without blinking their eyes were all groaning and frowning.

It was only now that they realized that compared to fighting a war, studying every day was the most troublesome thing.

Many people felt lucky because their childhood and boyhood were wonderful and they did not have the experience of such a terrible thing as learning!

Learning, training, and repeating the process every day, these uncouth fellows finally adapted to this lifestyle after about ten days. Their learning efficiency also began to increase.

The herbs they had brought from the world of Loucheng had greatly nourished their weak souls, causing the sharpness hidden in their bodies to be revealed bit by bit.

Although their attributes were better than ordinary people, they still needed to go through reasonable development and training before they could display their extraordinary abilities.

During this time, Husseny and the others also learned the concept of Soul transmission. While they exclaimed in surprise, they also finally understood why so many old people were recruited.

As long as this broken body was replaced, they would regain their vitality!

Such a miraculous thing would have been impossible to imagine in the past. Husseny remembered that when they first heard the news, everyone had been dumbfounded, and some of the old men had even been so excited that they could not speak.

The fear of death was a common problem for all human beings. Now that they had a method of hosting souls, which could extend their lifespans by several times, who could not be excited?

Husayne was also very excited. When he video-called his family, he also asked his children to study hard and strive to get the qualification to go to the World of loucheng. That way, their whole family could reunite in the world of loucheng!

As time passed, huseny and the others began to learn less and less, gradually entering the stage of consolidation.

Now, their auras were calm and their eyes were shining. They were completely different from before!

Anyone who was randomly picked for the test would be found to be knowledgeable, agile, and have a memory that was so good that it made one's hair stand on end!

At this level, they had passed the test. The countdown to the day they would head to the world of the tower had begun.

Holy Dragon City, Back Valley.

Tang Zhen stood in front of the soul transfer array with his hands behind his back. He looked at Murong Zi Yan, Xiao die, and the others who stood up from the soul transfer cabin with a faint smile on his face.

Murong Zi Yan and the others were all smiles. This time, they had stayed in the original world for almost three months and had visited almost all the most famous scenic spots in the original world.

Qian Longhe, Xiao Rui, and the others had work to do, so they only stayed in their original world for less than a month before returning to the tower world.

The short one-month trip to the original world had left a deep impression on them, so much so that after returning to Holy Dragon City, they kept bragging about their experiences to others.

They talked about how countless girls wanted to marry them like crazy and how prosperous the Super cities were and how they could get anything they wanted, etc.

In addition to bragging, each of them also brought back countless things and generously gave them to their friends and family. Seeing how they loved it so much that they couldn't put it down, they immediately felt their vanity was greatly satisfied.

As Tai Seng was busy with his work and didn't get the chance to go to the original world, he was filled with resentment. Qian Long would purposely hang around in front of him and mention the things he had seen and heard in the original world from time to time, angering Tai Seng!

It was only after Tang Zhen promised to bring Tai Seng back to the original world the next time that he returned to work in a good mood. As for Qian Long's bragging, he didn't seem to care.

Qian Long and the others had to return because of work, but Murong Zi Yan and the other women weren't willing to return so easily. So in the end, all the men returned to the world of loucheng, while the remaining women ran around the world like crazy.

Due to the special identity of these visitors from another world, their business partners attached great importance to their safety. During this period, there were always a large number of people secretly guarding them, so no accidents happened.

However, when the US attended the event, the crowd met some protestors who shouted to boycott the development of the other world, calling Tang Zhen and his partners butchers!

However, these voices were quickly drowned out as the development of the world of loucheng was already a trend!

Tang Zhen didn't pay any attention to these guys who were jumping up and down. After finishing the work at hand, he would accompany Murong Zi Yan and the others to play around and relax.

Now that the residents recruited from the original world were about to arrive, Tang Zhen didn't have time to waste. Murong Zi Yan and the others had enough fun, so they decided to return to the tower world.

After Murong Zi Yan and the others left, Tang Zhen went to the mother tree's building to check on the newly cultivated bodies.

The mother tree was now even more lush and majestic. From a distance, one could see her lush branches and leaves, and countless colorful birds were living and reproducing in it, as if it had formed its own world.

Tang Zhen had given her all the moonlight pebbles he had obtained, which made the mother tree very happy. She happily agreed to Tang Zhen's request to help cultivate the body.

There were ten thousand cultivated bodies in this batch. They were specially prepared by Tang Zhen for the new residents because some of them had special attributes and could become Holy Masters or cultivators of the mother tree.

Tang Zhen would naturally not waste such a high-end combat force. Therefore, compared to the standard half-mechanical body that others were equipped with, the body cultivated by the mother tree was more sensitive to energy.

Hundreds of white-robed mother tree cultivators were gathered under the mother tree. They were sitting cross-legged on the grass and communicating with the mother tree.

These mother tree cultivators were of different levels, and the highest cultivation had already reached level five!

Before the mother tree's advancement, the highest level of the mother tree's cultivators was level five. They were the Guardians of the mother tree, and their power came from the mother tree. Naturally, they could not surpass the mother tree in terms of level.

Not far from these mother tree cultivators, a group of Holy Dragon City residents were working together to harvest giant fruits that had hosts. There were also a few mother tree cultivators working together.

Huge fruits drooped down from the branches and leaves. The vines were thousands of meters long. When they landed, the residents of Holy Dragon City cut off the vines and carefully loaded them into trucks to send them to the back Valley.

After seeing Tang Zhen's arrival, everyone bowed and greeted him. Tang Zhen smiled and nodded in response.

how many fruits are there left unpicked? it won't delay tomorrow, right? ”

Tang Zhen asked the Holy Dragon City resident beside him. At the same time, he placed his hand on a fruit. After sensing it, a satisfied smile appeared on his face.

city Lord, please rest assured. The harvesting work is coming to an end. It will be completed before tonight.

The person in charge replied respectfully.

“That's good, thank you for your hard work!”

Tang Zhen nodded his head and praised.

city Lord is too kind. This is our duty!

After the two of them chatted for a while, Tang Zhen left the mother tree loucheng and went to check out other places.

A large number of residents were about to arrive. Tang Zhen's hard work had finally come to fruition. His mood was also quite good.

After the arrival of these new residents, the Holy Dragon City would be officially upgraded to a level 6 city.

Tang Zhen had been waiting for this day for a long time. Previously, the conditions were not ripe, so he was not in a hurry to advance.

With the arrival of the new residents, all the plans could officially begin!

With the presence of these new residents, the four-City Siege that the tower would encounter when it upgraded had become a joke!

With the passage of time, these Holy Dragon City residents, who had been trained in special ways, would become more and more powerful!

The existence of the soul transmission secret technique would turn them into an undead army and become the nightmare of all enemies!

Against the Holy Dragon city's Warriors who were like wolves and tigers, they would probably not have any chance to fight back before they became the Holy Dragon city's prisoners.

It had not been long since the Holy Dragon City had been promoted to a rank 5 city. The same was true for the other cities that shared the interdimensional passage. They probably had not even earned back the resources they had used to promote their city to rank 5. Against the Holy Dragon city's powerful Army, the chances of victory were slim.

As he thought about this, Tang Zhen went to the other departments in the Holy Dragon City. After confirming that there were no problems, he returned to rest in satisfaction.

After tomorrow, Holy Dragon City would become even more lively!

Chapter 578 The day of the great teleportation

Another morning arrived. The residents of Holy Dragon City woke up from their sleep and started to get busy.

Today was the day that Tang Zhen would recruit residents from his original world and begin the teleportation. Moreover, the total number of people teleported this time was 10000!

Other than this batch of new residents, there would be an endless stream of new residents coming to the world of the building.

The valley at the back of the Holy Dragon City was unusually lively at this time. Busy figures could be seen everywhere. If the Holy Dragon city's managers did not have important matters to attend to, they would come to the scene to witness this moment and help to direct all kinds of work.

With the implementation of the great transmigration plan, the residents of Holy Dragon City had experienced similar things several times. So, although the scene was a little busy, it was still orderly.

Holy Dragon city's Warriors in black armor surrounded the huge soul teleportation array. They were armed to the teeth with rifles in their hands and looked around with serious expressions.

These Holy Dragon City soldiers had appeared here to welcome their new comrades, and to prevent any accidents from happening.

Tang Zhen and the others sat on the chairs and looked at the soul transfer array from a distance. They would occasionally exchange a few words with a smile on their faces.

Time passed slowly. When the time on the wrist-computer pointed to seven o'clock, the huge rune floating in the air vibrated and began to flash continuously.

The rune flickered at an extremely high frequency, almost once a second!

In other words, every second that passed, a soul would be sent to the tower world and enter the body that was waiting to be possessed.

Such a high-efficiency teleportation would place a huge burden on the soul teleportation array. Fortunately, Tang Zhen had already made preparations and had strengthened and improved the soul teleportation array. It was completely capable of dealing with today's special situation.

After the rune flickered a hundred times, it immediately stopped. It was clear that this wave of teleportation had ended.

The water around the soul teleportation array started to water.

One figure after another stood up from the pool. They had strong bodies and were close to two meters tall. They all exuded a valiant aura.

After looking around in confusion, these people immediately jumped out of the pool and began to gather in one place.

Before the teleportation began, they had already been informed of what was going to happen. So, other than a trace of confusion in their eyes, they were mostly expressionless, following orders like soldiers.

In reality, they were not as calm as they appeared on the surface. They were also very curious about their new bodies. Feeling the terrifying power contained in their bodies, their hearts were filled with excitement.

“Welcome to the world of loucheng. Please collect your personal items and return to your residence to rest!”

As these new residents were secretly looking around, a sweet female voice was heard. Then, a Holy Dragon City soldier stepped forward to guide them.

The soldiers of loucheng that they had seen in the movie appeared in front of them. The new residents couldn't help but size them up and measure their strength. At the same time, they were secretly amazed.

The soldiers of loucheng who fought with monsters all day long were indeed extraordinarily strong!

After this batch of new residents received their personal items and changed into the same uniform, they walked to the loucheng in the front Valley to rest under the guidance of the loucheng soldiers.

By walking, the new residents' souls would gradually merge with their bodies. At the same time, they could gain a better understanding of Holy Dragon City through the warrior's explanation.

As the hundred people left in two rows, the soul teleportation array began to flash rapidly again. It was clear that a new teleportation had begun.

As expected, it did not take long for another group of new residents to jump out of the pool, and then be led away by the Holy Dragon City soldiers.

With the arrival of the new residents, the pool around the soul transfer array became empty. The Holy Dragon City residents who had been waiting at the side immediately carried the half-mechanical bodies and placed them into the pool.

The application of the [ super creature shaping machine ] was definitely a high-end black technology. It could create these semi-mechanical bodies very quickly, and it could create 100 of them in almost half an hour.

However, the material consumption of this application was also extremely terrifying. In order to create a sufficient body, Tang Zhen had already used a large amount of materials and brain beads.

However, it was all worth it. Although this half-mechanical body had the word 'mechanical' in it, it was not much different from a real body.

Moreover, the skin and flesh of this kind of body were extremely tough, and the bones and bones were even more special. Not only were they abnormally tough, but because of the changes in the muscles and tendons, this body possessed extremely strong explosive power and endurance that far exceeded ordinary people!

This was a biological combat weapon that had the shape of a human but the physique and structure of a monster!

In the near future, almost 90% of the new residents would use this body.

As the Holy Dragon City had more and more resources and more financial resources, these bodies would continue to upgrade. Finally, Tang Zhen would perfect these bodies to an abnormal level!

Tang Zhen had a goal in his heart. That was to wait until the Holy Dragon City advanced to level 9. By then, each of the newly created half-mechanical bodies would have the strength of a Lord!

Back then, the Cold Moon Tower had been able to do this. Unfortunately, there were many restrictions on the way they created their bodies, so they were not suitable for the Holy Dragon City.

As the giant rune continued to flash, more and more new residents arrived. The Rocky path from the back Valley to the front Valley was filled with groups of new residents.

The staff had been counting the number of people. When a new group of residents arrived, the staff immediately waved and then the bodies of the spirits were placed into the pool.

The next ones to be teleported were the new residents with particularly prominent attributes, and the bodies they used were different from the previous new residents.

&Nbsp; Tang Zhen had already prepared enough spirit race bodies as well as ten thousand mother tree bodies. It was enough for a short period of time.

After another flash of light, the hundred new residents who were living in the bodies of the spirits stood up. Compared to the previous muscular bodies, these spirits were undoubtedly thinner and weaker, but they were full of spirit.

Just like the previous batch of people, these new residents were also taken away to rest. However, unlike the previous new residents, they would be taught by lingxu Zi in the spiritual race's Legacy Hall in the next few days.

Since these new residents had taken over the bodies of the spirit people, lingxu Zi wouldn't let them waste them. After all, the number of bodies wasn't infinite, and the number of bodies would decrease with every use.

He would try his best to teach these new residents some self-protection skills so that they could live longer and have the next generation as soon as possible.

Lingxu Zi had been looking forward to the newborns of the spirit clan for a long time, because they represented the continuation of the clan!

After the thousand interdimensional travelers who had hosted the Eldars' bodies had left, the next thing that was placed in the pool was naturally the body of the mother tree.

The new residents who hosted the bodies of the mother tree had extremely keen senses. Tang Zhen hoped that after they obtained these excellent bodies, they would be able to give birth to more Holy Masters and cultivators of the mother tree!

When they had all grown up, Holy Dragon City would be invincible, sweeping through all the towers on the continent and countless unknown foreign worlds!

Chapter 579 The mother tree's specialized combat cultivator

Huseny and the others followed the group slowly. Looking at all kinds of plants they had never seen before along the way, they felt that their eyes were not enough to see.

Although he had learned about the wonders of the world of Loucheng from the film and the learning process, when he was actually in this magical land, Huseini felt that his vocabulary was extremely poor. He couldn't find any words to describe this beautiful scenery!

The sky here was so high and blue, and the air was extremely fresh. There was even a hint of sweetness, and one breath of it made one feel refreshed.

The mountain peaks here were either extremely strange or towering into the clouds, looking so majestic and spectacular!

The residents here were also very enthusiastic. When they saw the transmigrators like Huseny, it was like seeing their family. Their smiles made Huseny feel relieved, and there was no sense of strangeness in them.

It was as if this was his home, and he was a Wanderer who had left home and was only returning for the first time.

As he watched, Huseny heard a familiar voice in the language of the Alliance. He couldn't help but look at the Loucheng Warriors beside him.

The Holy Dragon City soldier walking beside the group was a well-built man. His strength was not much inferior to theirs, but his intrepid aura could not be compared to anyone else.

Huseny and the others would admire such a strong person from the bottom of their hearts, but at the same time, they would not admit defeat.

Given time, he might not be any worse than him!

They were originally elites selected from countless people, and after three months of special training, they had already fully developed the hidden potential in their souls. It was not an exaggeration to say that they were reborn.

Now, coupled with their powerful bodies, they became very confident and were certain that they were not inferior to anyone!

The Back Valley was extremely large, and the path was also very long. Fortunately, this body was of excellent quality, so even after walking for a long time, Husani and the others did not feel tired at all.

On the contrary, as he continued to advance, Husene felt that this body was becoming more and more compatible with him. The slight discomfort he had felt at the beginning had completely disappeared.

He could feel that he was completely in sync with this body, and he even had the feeling of being able to control his hair. At the same time, he had a clearer understanding of the power contained in this body.

After clenching his fist and then unclenching it, Husani's face flashed with a hint of joy. If he had a stone in his hand right now, he could even easily split it into pieces!

As he listened to the Holy Dragon City warrior's introduction, Huseni's heart had long since flown into the sky, and he began to wander the endless wilderness of the world of towers.

Just as Husayni was fantasizing about turning into a little bird and freely flying through the mountains, a patch of green in the sky entered his eyes.

Looking at the towering tree, Huseni felt like he was about to stop breathing. He swore that he had never seen such a tall and beautiful tree!

In fact, he wasn't the only one who was attracted to the giant tree. The 100 transmigrators in his team were all staring at the tree with shock on their faces.

"This is the mother tree, one of the special buildings of Holy Dragon City. The body that you are residing in was born from this mother tree.

That is why this mother tree is equivalent to your mother. Without her, there would be no body for you to reside in!"

The Holy Dragon City warrior, Huseni, and the others stared at the mother tree in a daze, and explained in a flat tone.

Huseni and the others were all taken aback. They couldn't imagine that their bodies of flesh and blood had been born from a giant tree.

This world of loucheng was indeed extremely magical!

After hearing the Holy Dragon City soldier's explanation, Huseni and the others understood. No wonder they felt an inexplicable sense of familiarity when they looked at the mother tree!

Since this body came from the mother tree, it was very normal to feel a sense of familiarity. After all, they were related by blood.

No one knew what the Holy Dragon City soldier was thinking, but he led Huseni and the others away from the road and headed straight for the mother tree.

Huseni and the others naturally did not object. In fact, they also wanted to take a closer look at the mother tree to confirm what was so magical about it and how it had given birth to such a body of flesh and blood.

When they were about to reach the mother tree, they saw a group of handsome men and beautiful women in white robes.

Some of them were sitting cross-legged under the trunk of the mother tree, which was as big as a small mountain, as if they were meditating. Some were using magical spells to control the flowers, grass, and leaves, doing something that Huseni and the others thought was extremely wonderful.

The seemingly fragile weeds had become sharper than steel knives in the hands of these people. They could easily cut a stone into small pieces as they danced in the air!

There were also some who were pulling vines as thick as an arm, moving back and forth between the mother trees that were thousands of meters tall. They looked as relaxed as if they were playing on a swing, and their bell-like laughter could be heard from time to time.

Huseny and the others 'breathing began to Quicken at the sight before them, and their eyes even revealed a deep sense of envy.

When they saw these magical scenes, they suddenly had a strong desire in their hearts, hoping that they could also have this kind of magical ability.

Seeing this, the Holy Dragon City soldier beside him explained, " they're mother tree cultivators, and all their abilities come from the mother tree. In order to possess such abilities, they must sense the consciousness of the mother tree and successfully communicate with her!

A young man next to huseny looked at the mother tree with admiration. After hearing the soldier's explanation, he quickly asked, " then how should we communicate? close our eyes like they did? "

Husani and the others also perked up their ears, waiting for the loucheng warrior's explanation.

"There is a chance to sense the mother tree's consciousness in any area covered by the mother tree, but the feeling is most obvious under the mother tree.

All you need to do is close your eyes, cast aside all distracting thoughts, and think about communicating with the mother tree!"

After saying this, the Lou Cheng warrior smiled and waved at the little boy who was controlling a giant man-eating flower not far away.

The little boy was about ten years old. After seeing the Lou Cheng warrior wave at him, he immediately jumped onto the man-eating flower. Then, the man-eating flower ran over with the little boy on its back.

Patting the little guy's head lovingly, the warrior pointed at huseny and the others.

"Son, tell them how to communicate with the mother tree, and let them try!"

The little guy nodded and glanced at Huseini and the others. He waved his little hand like a little adult and said in a childish voice, " "Come with me, but don't touch my Ah Hua, or it will bite off your heads!"

Everyone felt that this child was very cute, but at the same time, they tried to distance themselves from the man-eating flower that followed behind the little boy like a puppy.

They were very afraid of the man-eating flower next to the little boy, because this man-eating flower was four meters tall, and its stem was as thick as a basin. It could definitely easily swallow an adult!

When they arrived under the mother tree, the little boy had huseny and the others sit down. He raised his childish but serious face and said, " "When communicating with the mother tree, it's best to have no distracting thoughts, because the mother tree likes people with pure souls the most.

The purer the soul, the higher the possibility of a successful communication!

I can sense a strong smell of blood from your souls. The mother tree doesn't like killing, and she certainly doesn't like you, but that doesn't mean you can't communicate with her.

The castellan had said that the mother tree had an ability that was suitable for war and killing. It was very powerful when used, but no one had ever succeeded in obtaining it!

The bodies you are residing in are nurtured by the mother tree. In addition, your souls are very special, so there is a certain chance that you will obtain the mother tree's war and slaughter abilities, and become professional combat cultivators who guard the mother tree!"

Hearing the little boy's words, everyone had already put away their contemptuous hearts. They no longer looked down on the little boy because of his childish appearance.

Perhaps it was due to the development of his intelligence after becoming a mother tree cultivator, the little boy in front of them felt like they were facing someone of the same age even though he was young.

And the ability to fight and kill that the little boy spoke of had piqued the interest of husani and the others!

Chapter 580 The Guardian of the mother tree

The mother tree was indeed a special existence that loved peace and hated killing, even after becoming Lou Cheng!

In her original world, a single mother tree could form a small world where all living things lived in harmony. There was never any deliberate killing.

However, when the mother tree's cornerstone fell into Tang Zhen's hands and he successfully built the city, the mother tree's nightmare began.

The flesh and blood of countless corpses became the nourishment for her growth. In the soil around her, there were already countless layers of bones.

The mother tree had tried to resist, but as city Lord Lou, Tang Zhen could still force her to digest some of the flesh and blood. The mother tree, who was ignorant at that time, could not refuse.

It was precisely because of this that the mother tree, who had always been a vegetarian, transformed into a Taotie and madly consumed the energy in the flesh and blood. Even though she was extremely disgusted, she continued to absorb it.

After this incident of using flesh and blood as nourishment, the mother tree, who had a child's heart, became particularly hateful of Tang Zhen. She almost never took the initiative to communicate with him. Even if Tang Zhen had something to ask of her, she would need the mother tree cultivator to pass the message.

Tang Zhen really did not know whether to laugh or cry when faced with this willful little fellow. However, who asked him to be a special building with unlimited potential? even if he was a little arrogant, Tang Zhen had never placed it in his heart.

According to the secret technique's record that Tang Zhen had obtained back then, using flesh and blood to nourish the mother tree would not only make the mother tree's size bigger and its consciousness stronger, but it could even form another special energy in its body.

As compared to the mother tree's normal gentle energy, this special energy that was produced by absorbing flesh and blood was undoubtedly much more violent, and its destructive power was extremely terrifying!

The tree spirit tribe had once cultivated such a mother tree cultivator. He was extremely powerful and was known as the number one cultivator of the tree spirit tribe at that time!

It was also because of this reason that Tang Zhen, who was lacking in strength back then, chose this secret technique.

So far, the mother tree had devoured countless flesh and blood, as well as the corpses of many powerful monsters, so the special energy had long been formed, but no one had been able to obtain it.

Tang Zhen did not know why the mother tree would do this, but he did not pay much attention to it. After all, the mother tree's greatest advantage was defense. With the weapons from the original world, the Holy Dragon City was more than enough to protect itself!

This time, the residents of the original world had transmigrated together. Tang Zhen had specially ordered people to lead these new residents to the mother tree. He wanted to see if these new residents who used the mother tree's body could successfully obtain this special energy!

Their bodies were nurtured by the mother tree, so they naturally had a special connection with the mother tree, which increased the chances of them communicating with the mother tree.

However, according to the mother tree's concept of likes and dislikes, the souls of Huseni and the others who had been on the battlefield were very impure, which was certainly not what the mother tree liked.

Therefore, it was still unknown whether huseny and the others could obtain the special energy of the mother tree.

Husayne and the others immediately sat cross-legged on the grass after the child's explanation, holding their breath and trying to communicate with the mother tree.

It was also at this moment that their brows suddenly twitched. They felt that the world of loucheng was different from their original world.

If one were to calmly sense it, one would discover that there seemed to be something invisible, but it did exist, wandering around in the air, giving one a wonderful feeling.

In fact, this kind of thing was the energy absorbed by cultivators, which did not exist in the original world at all!

Being in an environment with such energy, everyone felt like their consciousness was like a fish swimming in the water, beginning to wander around in the air.

Huseny and the others were so immersed in this strange atmosphere that they almost forgot to communicate with the mother tree. They felt as if they were floating towards the sky.

At this moment, huseny suddenly heard a cold snort. It was as if the voice came from a little girl who hated his appearance.

Then, he saw a huge blood-red rune appear in the sky in front of him. It almost covered the entire world.

A blood-red ray of light suddenly shot out from the huge rune and headed straight for his position. Huseini didn't have time to Dodge, and the blood-red ray of light struck the area between his eyebrows.

Huseny felt his mind go wild, and his mind was filled with illusions that seemed to be related to slaughter and death.

Furthermore, he had a vague thought in his mind, which was to protect the safety of the mother tree. Anyone who dared to harm the mother tree would be killed!

The thought lingered in his mind for a long time before it gradually dormant. Then, the method to use the mother tree's energy appeared in huseny's mind again.

After an unknown amount of time, huseny finally recovered from his dazed state and looked at the mother tree in surprise.

The mother tree at this moment gave him the urge to kowtow, as if she was the meaning of his life!

Shifting his gaze away from the mother tree, huseny felt his body again and found that there was indeed a special energy in his body.

He tried to circulate the energy according to the method in his mind, and blood-red lines immediately appeared on the surface of huseny's body and cheeks, looking extremely strange.

At the same time, an aura of madness and stubbornness exploded from his body.

protect the mother tree, protect the Holy Dragon City, I will die with no regrets!

With husany's low growl, a giant blood-colored beetle appeared out of thin air, completely enveloping husany's body.

This beetle had huge horns, Mantis-like blade-like legs, wings on its back, and bone spikes all over its body. It looked out of place and was actually a combination of many monsters!

However, everyone knew that these blood-colored beetles were not to be underestimated, because an extremely powerful aura was constantly being emitted from its body.

Its pair of blade-like legs lightly struck, and two blood-red crescent-shaped blades flew out. They only gradually dissipated after flying for nearly a hundred meters.

Spreading its wings, the Scarlet Beetle immediately flew up and circled the mother tree in the sky. Then, it suddenly rushed toward the mountain peak in the distance.

Just as the blood-colored beetle was about to hit the mountain peak, a green figure suddenly jumped out of the green grass at the top of the mountain. It ran up the steep rock wall like a monkey.

This scene stunned everyone. After all, before this, no one had discovered that there was something hidden in the grass on the peak.

anyone who dares to covet the mother tree and try to pry into Holy Dragon city's secrets will be killed without mercy!

The blood-colored beetle flapped its wings and caught up with the unknown green creature at lightning speed. It then slashed out with its blade-like legs.

With every step the blade foot took, its strength would increase. By the time it was about to hit him, it was already as heavy as a mountain!

“No!”

The green voice cried out in pain as it watched the blade-like foot split its body into two!

“Plop!”

The two halves of the corpse fell from the mountain peak. The Holy Dragon City soldiers who had long noticed this scene immediately stepped forward to check the identity of The Infiltrator.

The Holy Dragon City had long had a rule that those who illegally infiltrated the inner city would be killed without mercy if they encountered resistance!

After the construction of the floating city some time ago, in addition to the news that Tang Zhen came from a continent-level city, many forces had already set their eyes on the Holy Dragon City, wanting to know more about the Holy Dragon City.

In a short period of time, the Holy Dragon City had already killed nearly a hundred secret agents and spies. The person who was killed by the blood-colored beetle today was obviously someone with bad intentions!

After killing the spy, the blood-colored beetle slowly landed on the grass. Its several-meter-tall body looked majestic.

But then the blood-red beetle crumbled, revealing hussen inside. His face was pale, and his eyes were filled with shock and disbelief.

Everyone asked what had just happened, and hussen told them about his encounter with the blood rune. He also said that he had been ordered by the mother tree to kill the spy who had been lurking for many days!
