Chapter 621-possession of secrets and alien methods

After listening to the old squad leader's story, the soldiers were silent for a moment before they continued to ask questions.

"Class monitor, I heard that these Lou Cheng cultivators are very powerful. Tell us, how powerful are they?"

Hearing this, the old squad leader showed a trace of excitement and immediately said with a smile, "You've asked the right person. I'm telling you, in this team, I've come into contact with the Most Holy Dragon City cultivators. I've even chatted with the Holy Dragon City Lord!

Of course, we can't comment on those god-like figures, so I'll talk about the other cultivators.

There's a person called the nouveau riche Captain in the Holy Dragon City. I wonder if you've heard of him?"

Someone nodded. I think I've heard of him before. It's said that this person is very strange, and the war beast he raises is also very strange. I've seen him once. At that time, he was riding on that war beast with chicken wings!

When the other Warriors heard this, they immediately burst out laughing. They began to imagine what a Warbeast with chicken wings would look like.

The captain coughed lightly and said seriously, "Although the tycoon Captain is eccentric, his strength is undeniable, so don't listen to other people's nonsense.

Some time ago, when we cooperated with him to carry out a mission, we encountered a giant monster that was eight or nine meters long. It swept our tank more than ten meters away with one claw!"

All the Warriors gasped when they heard this. They knew that this monster was not to be trifled with.

but as soon as the rich Captain saw the monster, his eyes lit up and he jumped up from the ground, directly engaging in a hand-to-hand fight with the monster.

At this point, the squad leader kept them in suspense and asked the soldiers, "What do you think the final result was?"

After everyone said a few words, the class monitor shook his head and finally laughed, "The final result was that the monster was beaten black and blue by the rich Captain, and finally admitted defeat!

This was also the most famous point of the tycoon Captain, because in the entire Holy Dragon City, he was the only one who had successfully defeated two monsters and made them his war beast!

If it were us, let alone subduing this powerful monster, it would be good enough if we could keep our lives. I'm really scared just thinking about it!"

When the warrior heard that, he asked with a tone of curiosity and doubt, "no matter how powerful those monsters are, you don't have to be afraid. At most, you can just change to a new body.

The old soldier sneered, "It's normal to be afraid. It's not that I'm looking down on you, but if you were to face that kind of scene, I'm afraid you would have been paralyzed with fear!

As for the body replacement you mentioned, if it's really that simple, then we don't have to worry about death.

Don't you know that the number of times a soul can be hosted isn't infinite? there are some restrictions!

For people like us who have very weak souls, we only have two chances to change hosts in our lives at most, and some people can only take it once.

Therefore, you must be careful when you fight, because once you die, you may never have the chance to come back to the world of loucheng again!

Of course, if your cultivation reaches the Horde leader level, and your soul strength increases greatly, you can withstand the backlash of switching bodies. It shouldn't be a problem for you to switch to seven or eight bodies!"

Hearing that, the other Warriors immediately looked serious. Their frivolous attitude of not having to worry about death had completely disappeared at that moment.

Just as the sacred Dragon Army was rapidly advancing toward the dog-headed people's city, the aerial forces were all deployed, approaching the area where The Motley crowd was.

This place was located at the edge of the grassland, with its back against a huge Rocky Mountain range. It was covered with huge vines that covered the entire mountain range.

In terms of terrain, this location was extremely good. It was an area where one could attack or retreat.

It was clear that after coming into contact with the Holy Dragon Legion, they also knew the Holy Dragon city's combat power, so they were prepared to escape to the mountains to hide in case they could not win.

In fact, among these defeated forces, many cultivators were already afraid and did not want to continue fighting with the Holy Dragon City.

Only those who had come into contact with the Holy Dragon city's Army could truly understand how terrifying their weapons and equipment were!

However, they did not want to become Wanderers and suffer the harassment of the cold wind and night dew in the wilderness, so they could only follow their companions who wanted to take revenge, hoping that they could defeat Holy Dragon City and rebuild their own city.

However, they had forgotten one thing, and that was if they were to lose the final battle, would they have a chance to escape?

After all, it was better to live than to die a good death. Even if he became a Wanderer, it was much better than having his corpse exposed in the wilderness.

At this time, they had already received the news that the Holy Dragon city's Army was rushing here, so they were also prepared for battle.

However, no matter how well-prepared they were, they only had thicker armor and sharper weapons. At the same time, they also captured many monsters to be used as cannon fodder.

There were also some city Lords who bore the pain of their hearts and brought weapons from the foreign world from the wild buildings and other channels, trying to take the opportunity to deal a heavy blow to the Holy Dragon City!

For example, there were some ballistae and catapults among their ranks. They were arranged in an orderly manner and aimed in the direction of the sacred Dragon Legion.

In addition to the heavy equipment commonly seen in these buildings, there were also some strange-looking cannons mixed in, which looked extremely conspicuous.

It was said that these cannons came from a different world. The cannonballs they fired were not ordinary cannonballs, but a kind of poison gas Cannonball that had a long range and could emit thick smoke!

The alien merchant who sold these deformed cannons came from a top-notch city. According to him, these cannons were spoils of war from the invasion of the Otherworld.

It was said that in a large-scale battle, this kind of poison gas cannon had extremely outstanding destructive power.

After being duped by the arms dealer, the city Lords were all tempted. In the end, in order to get these cannons, they almost went bankrupt.

However, as long as they could defeat Holy Dragon City, any price would be worth it!

Seeing that the battle was about to begin, the city Lords who had been defeated by the Holy Dragon City gathered together and looked at the end of the grassland with hatred.

They held a grudge in their hearts and swore to use this decisive battle to annihilate the sacred Dragon Legion!

Everyone present had fought against the Holy Dragon City before, so they all had a deep impression of the Holy Dragon city's aircraft and cannons.

In order to avoid further losses, they had even formulated a Special Response plan!

In order to strike down the planes in the air, they spent money to hire wandering dwarf craftsmen to design and build a giant ballista.

The ballista's arm was made of a special metal and was comparable to a low-level magic soldier's equipment. The bowstring was made from the tendons of a Lord-tier monster!

After testing, it was confirmed that this special ballista was very powerful. It could shoot dozens of egg-sized metal pellets into the sky two kilometers away. At the same time, it could easily penetrate ordinary armor!

With this kind of super ballista, coupled with an experienced operator, under unexpected circumstances, they would definitely be able to shoot down the Holy Dragon city's mecha that were flying low from time to time!

In order to defend against the cannon attacks and ambush the Holy Dragon City Army, these guys had dug holes everywhere in the grasslands and hid tens of thousands of soldiers, all of whom were selected elites.

When the final battle began, these hidden forces would swarm forward and launch a surprise attack on Holy Dragon City.

They had also learned to lie prone on the ground or in trenches when they were bombarded to minimize casualties as much as possible.

Taking advantage of the Holy Dragon city's ambush and chaos, they would swarm in. At that time, they would definitely deal a heavy blow to the Holy Dragon City, or even annihilate them all!

Everything seemed to be perfect. These city Lords thought that their plan was flawless. Under their arrangement, the Holy Dragon City would lose without a doubt.

But the problem was, if they could think of it, how could the Holy Dragon Army's Officers and Advisors not think of it?

Chapter 622 The weapon of war (1)

These natives were too full of themselves and underestimated the officers who were selected and sent to the world of loucheng to participate in the war.

If they really acted according to the script they had set, then these so-called elites could definitely be pulled out and shot directly!

The natives of the world of loucheng were still thinking about close combat with cold weapons. They did not realize that the Holy Dragon city's fighting style had long surpassed their imagination.

Perhaps they would never know what super-vision combat was, and what was an all-round three-dimensional attack. Even if they had experienced the power of aircraft and artillery and had come up with countermeasures, it was still far from enough.

It would cost a lot to teleport a soldier from the original world, so it was definitely the stupidest thing to do in a situation where there was a shortage of manpower and to use lives to exchange for victory.

On this point, regardless of whether it was Tang Zhen or his partners from his original world, their opinions were extremely similar!

With the passage of time, various technological equipment from the other world had been deciphered one after another. In the days to come, the enemies who fought against the Holy Dragon City might not even see the shadow of the Holy Dragon city's soldiers from the beginning to the end, but they would still be killed by all kinds of weapons!

Facing this motley crew, the Holy Dragon City had tried this special tactic for the first time!

Following a series of roars in the air, a large group of planes flew rapidly through the sky, gradually approaching the area where the enemies were.

The Black Mass of alien enemies on the ground also saw the planes in the sky. Their faces were filled with fear, and they naturally thought of the horror of these flying monsters.

The scene of destruction and destruction made countless people's hearts tremble.

The originally orderly troops had turned into chaos at this moment. Even though the supervision team had killed people to establish their might, they were still unable to control the chaotic scene.

Lou Cheng, who was operating the giant ballista, sighed. The plane's altitude had far exceeded the range of the ballista, so they couldn't attack at all. They could only watch the plane swagger past them.

During this period, there were a few flying alien races that tried to take off and intercept them, but they were discovered by the fighter planes. A wave of bullets swept over, causing the air to be filled with exploded blood mist and minced meat!

The battle had yet to begin, but the appearance of a group of fighter jets had already caused the enemies to almost collapse!

However, the pilots of the large transport aircraft did not drop any bombs this time. Instead, they brought something else.

reporting to the command center. We've arrived at the designated location. Do you want to start releasing the No. 9 test weapon? "

With the order, the transport aircraft opened up, revealing a row of metal objects.

Their entire bodies glowed with a dull luster and their designs were very sci-fi. At this time, with the command, they were immediately released one after another under the control of the operators.

In the blue sky, countless flowers bloomed. Under the gazes of the foreign enemies, they slowly fell to the ground.

There were even some metal objects that fell directly into the camp of the foreign races, scaring them away!

"What are you running for? kill it!"

Following the roars of those city Lords, the eyes of those foreign race enemies turned blood red. They immediately brandished their swords and sabers madly, charging straight at those metal objects, as if they wanted to cut them into pieces.

However, at this moment, a change occurred!

The metal objects suddenly let out a roar, and then revealed their hidden legs. They stood up from their original positions, and their height was at least four meters.

At the same time, rows of gun barrels popped out from their bodies and locked onto the alien enemies that were rushing up.

confirmed to have entered the enemy's hinterland. We are surrounded by the enemy. Combat mode automatically activated!

With a short electronic sound, the metal monster's gun barrel suddenly began to shoot out a torrent of metal. Countless metal bullets accelerated by electromagnetic forces began to cover the surroundings.

After obtaining the technology of many other worlds and combining it with the technology of the original world, they finally produced a special electromagnetic weapon.

The metal monster was equipped with a special energy conversion device that Tang Zhen had discovered in the wizard World. It could provide sufficient electricity to the gun.

The metal monsters that were made of special materials were designed to be used with such weapons, and they were also very advanced in technology!

It was precisely because of this that these tiny bullets had such a terrifying penetrative power. Even after piercing through the armor of more than ten enemies, they still had a strong killing power!

At the same time, the enemies around it began to fall in a circle and quickly spread into the distance.

The bloody mist that rose into the air actually faintly blocked the figures of these metal monsters, but it did not affect their killing speed in the slightest!

In the blink of an eye, a one-kilometer-wide vacuum appeared around these metal monsters. The ground was covered with the corpses of the alien races that had been killed, and blood had already covered the ground.

In the distance, the foreign cultivators were filled with fear and despair. Many of them were drenched in blood as they stared at the metal monsters in a daze, their legs trembling.

At this moment, there were more than 20 such empty areas in the camp of the enemy. From the sky, it looked like a red dot had been randomly pointed on a gray paper!

Even further away, there were more than a dozen similar metal monsters approaching them. Some of them had already begun to attack!

However, when they were far away, the metal monster would no longer shoot. Instead, it would snipe continuously, blowing up the bodies of the enemies one after another!

"Ah, Yingluo!"

Suddenly, someone couldn't bear the terrifying scene. He screamed hysterically and shot arrows at the metal monsters. Some even threw javelins and short Spears.

The stunned cultivators were inspired and immediately attacked at the same time. Some of them even controlled the ballistae and began to attack the metal monsters.

When these attacks gathered together, they actually formed a dark cloud, looking like a dense mass!

However, just as the attacks were about to land, a protective shield appeared on the metal monsters' bodies, blocking all the attacks.

A row of red-marked missiles appeared in front of the metal monsters, aiming at the alien enemies and firing one after another.

A series of explosions could be heard. These miniature missiles weren't very large in size, but they produced extremely terrifying destructive power. After the explosion, they directly cleared out all life within a kilometer!

Even if there were some enemies who were lucky enough to survive, they were now completely disabled. They were crawling around with blood flowing out of their seven apertures, and laughing foolishly from time to time. Obviously, their internal organs and brains had been damaged.

As these metal monsters continued to fire missiles, the foreign race enemies, who had already been defeated, finally fell into complete chaos.

Looking down from the sky, one could see that these foreign enemies were constantly screaming, avoiding the metal monster like black waves.

While they were running for their lives, these enemies were constantly being torn apart, and then continued to disintegrate in different directions.

They threw away their armor and fled in all directions, hoping to avoid the pursuit of the metal monster. Most of the enemies chose to escape into the mountains.

Hearing the screams behind them, the cultivators wished they had two more legs so that they could run faster and hide in the mountains before the metal monsters caught up to them.

In the eyes of these alien races, even if they had to face a brutal monster, it would be a hundred times better than facing such a terrifying metal monster!

At this time, the metal monsters had gathered together, forming a horizontal line a hundred meters apart, and were constantly shooting at the foreign races who were lagging behind.

Behind them, there were countless corpses of their enemies. They were full of bleeding wounds and stained the ground.

The scene in front of them was no longer a war, but a massacre led by the metal monster!

Chapter 623 The battlefield's killing God "Pathfinder" _On the battlefield, these metal monsters were like the Grim Reaper, constantly harvesting fresh lives!

The total number of enemies was more than 100000, and the number of people killed by the metal monsters was less than one-fifth. However, the terrifying effect of their killing was enough to make all the alien races collapse mentally.

Especially when that terrifying aura spread out and could no longer be suppressed, it was reasonable for the foreign enemies to flee in defeat.

The army was defeated like a landslide. Driven by the desire to survive, the speed of these foreign enemies "escape was enough to make anyone exclaim in admiration.

They were originally a motley crew, and now that a great disaster was imminent, who would care about who?

At this moment, they were all running with their heads down. Even if someone beside them was knocked down and asking for help, very few people would care.

Those sinister metal monsters would intentionally injure the foreign races and then kill the rescuers one by one. They were truly evil to the extreme!

Under such circumstances, who would dare to risk their lives to rescue them? they could only grit their teeth and pretend they didn't hear anything, allowing the injured to continue wailing until they were shot to death!

As the alien race's enemies ran further and further away, the metal monsters' killing efficiency rapidly decreased. Under such circumstances, they automatically changed their attack mode.

As the metal monsters pursued, small silver metal balls emerged from the monsters' bodies.

These metal balls were suspended in the air, constantly scanning the surrounding situation, quickly marking and locking down the enemies in the distance, and then transmitting the data to the metal monster!

After receiving the data from the scouting metal balls, the metal monsters on the ground switched to sniping mode and shot at the enemies that had already escaped.

This was a killing scene that would make even the most elite snipers blush with shame. Even if the enemy was three kilometers away, they could still headshot each time, making the alien races tremble in fear.

This kind of long-range sniping continued for a few minutes, until all the enemies had burrowed into the depths of the mountain!

By the time the metal monster had reached the foot of the mountain, all of the foreign tribe enemies had quickly gone into hiding. Some of the foreign tribes were afraid that the metal monster would chase them into the mountain, so they did not stop and continued to run deeper into the mountain.

Even if there were terrifying monsters deep in the mountains, they had no time to care about them!

In fact, the aliens were worried for nothing. Because the metal monsters were huge, they were not suitable for fighting in the mountains. So when they confirmed that all the fleeing enemies had entered the mountains, they immediately stopped chasing.

The metal monsters quickly spread out and began to patrol the foot of the mountain, on guard against enemies that could appear at any time.

The battle ended here. The Holy Dragon City did not send out a single soldier. Just by relying on this terrifying war monster, they had killed these enemies until they had abandoned their armor!

At first, these foreign races were still smug and planned to teach the Holy Dragon City a lesson. Who knew that many of them did not see the shadow of the Holy Dragon city's Army even before they died.

This was a violent collision between modern tactics and primitive tactics. The result was self-evident. In the face of such a terrifying high-tech killing weapon, no matter how many bodies of flesh and blood there were, they could not resist the impact of death.

The so-called final battle of the foreign races seemed like a joke to them now!

Killing people was like cutting grass, and destroying cities was silent!

Although the battle had ended, no one paid any attention to the corpses and injured on the ground. For a time, the entire battlefield was filled with strange sounds.

The dead didn't need to think about anything, but the non-humans who were still alive looked at the sky with blank eyes, waiting for death.

The wounds on their bodies were all penetrating wounds. Under the powerful kinetic energy of the metal bullets, their internal organs had long been shattered. If it were not for their strong physiques, they would have died long ago!

But this kind of lingering on at death's door was even better than directly dying, it would only increase the pain!

In such an environment, the smell of blood and decay filled his nose. At the same time, there was also a trace of burnt smell, which made him want to vomit.

Rustling sounds could be heard from time to time, like old and leaking bellows, occasionally mixed with a few desperate screams. It was creepy to hear.

This was the sound of death that could only be heard on the battlefield. It represented the extinction of countless lives and could not be heard anywhere else.

About half an hour later, two modified ground-effect aircraft flew over at high speed and stopped near the metal monsters.

A few young men in special uniforms jumped off the plane. Under the protection of a few Holy Dragon City cultivators, they slowly walked toward the metal monsters.

The metal monsters in defense mode turned their guns and locked onto them, ready to fire at any time.

However, after identifying them, the metal monsters didn't make any moves to attack them. They just stood there quietly.

Looking at the endless corpses on the ground and the metal monsters covered in blood and flesh, everyone gasped!

Even though they had already guessed that the war machine created by the terobo people's technology would produce a one-sided massacre when faced with enemies who used cold weapons, they were not afraid of death.

However, in the face of the result of the battle, everyone was still shocked and at a loss!

Sigh, after this thing is created, it will be a disaster for the enemies of the foreign races!

A young man with a young face and a voice that had experienced the vicissitudes of life sighed slightly as he looked at the corpse on the ground.

This person was a very famous concept robot expert in his original world. He was already over 70 years old and had just arrived in the loucheng world not long ago.

After changing into a body full of vitality and reliving his second Life, he immediately joined a research and development team in Holy Dragon City.

Based on the various technologies that Holy Dragon City had, and the imitation of the terobo people's weapons, they had finally created the metal monster before them.

Their names were temporarily given to the Pathfinders, also known as ground Rangers!

Another young man beside him smiled and said, " "You don't have to sigh. This is a necessary step for the prosperity of our human race, and it's also the simplest and most effective way.

no matter how the future generations evaluate us, at least our original intention is for the sake of our descendants. So, praise or curse, it's something we can't interfere with.

However, one thing is for sure, and that is that it is the old guys 'good fortune to be born in this era.

To be able to live for another hundred years and continue to work for the cause that we have worked so hard for all our lives, this is simply a good thing that we can't even dream of!

Since that's the case, what's there to be afraid of?"

When the young man spoke, he also spoke in a tone that sounded like he was an old man, but no one around him felt strange.

After all, the " young man " in front of him was also a very famous scientist in the original world. Now, he had many children and grandchildren.

The young man who had sighed earlier smiled and nodded his head lightly. His face revealed a trace of relief.

He raised a transparent metal plate in his hand and tapped a few times on the screen.

Suddenly, these killing machines began to gather together and form a column. They appeared to be abnormally quiet, without the crazed appearance of a God-slaying and world-destroying monster.

after another ten minutes or so, a strangely shaped battleship appeared in everyone's field of vision, then slowly landed on the ground.

From the outside, the battleship had the style of the teroboros people, but it also had the aura of the original world.

as the warship's hatch slowly opened, the pathfinder robots quickly walked in and followed the warship into the sky, heading straight for holy dragon city!

It was not until the ground-effect aircraft had left that the corpses of the alien races would climb out of the layers of corpses on the grassland from time to time.

Their armors were broken and their bodies were covered in blood. Their eyes were still filled with fear and despair.

Looking at the corpses on the ground, they were silent for a long time. Only then did they use their broken weapons to support their bodies, and with great difficulty, they walked in the opposite direction of the battlefield.

Under the setting sun, there were hundreds of staggering figures. However, the expressions on the faces of these lucky people who had survived the disaster were extremely silent.

Although they were not afraid of death and knew that people were bound to die in war, the tragic scene in front of them was still unforgettable.

Perhaps from now on, they would all put down their weapons to prevent themselves from being reminded of the tragic scene today.

They were even more fearful of the Holy Dragon City that had caused this scene. Every time Yu Sheng mentioned it, he would sigh inexplicably!

Chapter 624 offense blocked _While the foreign tribe enemies were left crying for their parents after being killed, leaving a heavy shadow in their hearts, the advancing Holy Dragon Army was gradually approaching the area where the dog-headed people's towers were.

The Army's advance was full of arrogance. Such a great momentum naturally could not be concealed. The kobolds, who had been paying attention to the Holy Dragon city's movements, had already received the news of the Holy Dragon City Army's attack.

When this news was confirmed, countless nobilities were shocked and quickly gathered to discuss countermeasures.

At the same time, the city Lords of the dog-headed people's Tower, who were close to the edge of the Wildlands, asked for help from the dog-headed people's capital city. At the same time, they mobilized all the combat power they could mobilize in an attempt to stop the Holy Dragon city's Army.

Almost no dog-headed noble dared to take this enemy that the dog-headed people were most afraid of lightly. As the Holy Dragon city's name spread far and wide, they already had a deep understanding of the city.

They had weapons and equipment with astonishing destructive power, an endless supply of troops, and even the shadow of a continent-level city behind them!

With all these factors combined, the Holy Dragon city's combat power was unusually strong. Even the arrogant Kobold tribe was still extremely cautious when facing the Holy Dragon City.

What they hoped for the most now was that the Holy Dragon City would suddenly be annihilated by a powerful enemy and kill all the Holy Dragon city's residents, including Tang Zhen. It would be best if not a single one of them was left!

In this way, they did not have to worry about the Holy Dragon City aiming their guns at them after they took control of the Wildlands.

Unfortunately, this was just a thought. After all, a power like the Holy Dragon City could only destroy others. It was not that there were no forces that could destroy the Holy Dragon City, but there was no reason for them to act!

What's more, the Tiger skin of a continent-level building that he had accidentally pulled out had frightened many people with ulterior motives. After weighing the pros and cons, they gave up on their coveting of the Holy Dragon City.

This matter could be considered both wrong and wrong. It had saved the Holy Dragon City a lot of trouble!

Now that the Holy Dragon City had taken control of the Wildlands, they finally bared their fangs. Without any warning, they impatiently started a war against the kobolds.

With the war imminent, everyone would be affected, and it was impossible for them to stay out of it.

At this moment, the residents of the dog-headed people's loucheng were in a hurry, and there were also soldiers in armor with stern faces.

The originally peaceful city was now shrouded in the dark clouds of war, and everyone felt as if a heavy stone was pressing down on their hearts!

Unlike the other buildings, the dog-headed people preferred to live in groups. Often, they would connect several low-level buildings together with many crude buildings in the middle, making them look like a town.

When the news of the Holy Dragon Army's impending attack spread, almost all the adult kobolds were mobilized and incorporated into the temporary Defense Force, ready to fight the Holy Dragon Army to the death.

The Kobold capital city, which had received the news, had also sent out elite troops and were rushing toward the border.

When the residents of the dog-headed people's building saw this scene, they began to worry. It had been a long time since they had seen such a tense scene!

As one of the overlords of this area, the dog-headed people had always played the role of bandits. They were the only ones who bullied other races, but no other race had ever come to their doorstep.

However, ever since the Holy Dragon City had suddenly appeared in the Wildlands, the kobolds had suffered at the hands of these humans. The most recent defeat had actually cost them nearly 100000 elite kobolds!

As for the Kobold Prince, who had been the Commander-in-Chief at that time, he had been severely punished and almost stripped of all his special treatment!

After this series of events, the kobolds were no longer unfamiliar with Holy Dragon City. The way they looked at their human slaves had also begun to change.

Because of the Holy Dragon city's strong rise, the treatment of these human slaves had also improved slightly. They were no longer beaten, scolded, and killed at every turn.

The reason for this situation was that the natives of the world of Loucheng actually valued their own kind very much. Whenever they encountered difficulties, they would try their best to help their kind.

The original human race had declined and didn't have a strong background to support them, so the dog-headed people didn't see humans as humans at all.

However, with the emergence of the Holy Dragon City and the complete control of the Wildlands, the rise of the human race was unstoppable if nothing unexpected happened. They would no longer be a race without roots that could be trampled on.

According to the Holy Dragon City's development speed, it might not take long for them to suppress the kobolds. They might even directly mobilize their Army to start wars everywhere!

If they were to treat the human race with their original attitude now, then once the Holy Dragon City suppressed everyone and demanded these enslaved people, no one in the city would dare to refuse. They would definitely return these slaves obediently.

At that time, when the slaves complained and caused the Holy Dragon City to be furious, who could guarantee that the Holy Dragon City would not take the opportunity to retaliate?

At that time, under the oppression of the Holy Dragon City, those slave owners might be used as scapegoats and handed over to the Holy Dragon City to calm their anger.

This wasn't a joke. There had been several precedents, and each time, it was only finished after the blood flowed like a river.

Therefore, even though these kobolds were extremely arrogant, they had to think for themselves in this situation.

However, the Holy Dragon City's movements were too fast. The foreign races had just accepted the fact that it was developing rapidly, but in the blink of an eye, it revealed its ambition without hiding it, and began to swallow the territories of the surrounding buildings.

Now, they were even invading on a large scale, directly killing their way into the dog-headed people's city!

The dog-headed man was shocked and terrified. At the same time, he was also furious. He felt like he had been offended and looked down on.

Countless dog-headed cultivators swore to themselves that they would not let this human army return!

Under such an atmosphere, the war between the Holy Dragon City and the dog-headed people finally broke out when the Holy Dragon City Army approached the dog-headed people's city-controlled area.

When the two sides came into contact, there was no nonsense. The Holy Dragon City Army's cannons opened fire immediately, enveloping the entire dog-headed people's Tower in artillery fire.

The dog-headed people, who had been waiting for the attack, were immediately beaten into a mess. The building without a protective shield collapsed under the attack of the cannons, and countless residents were buried under the ruins!

The corners of the streets were filled with corpses that had been affected by the artillery fire.

At the same time as the cannons launched their attacks, hundreds of tanks and chariots split into three directions and charged straight at the smoke-covered houndhead men camp.

Countless soldiers followed closely behind, each of them armed with a special rifle, continuously killing the Kobold Warriors that were charging at them.

The sound of gunfire was endless. Under the suppression of the weapons from the original world, this group of dog-headed people that had hurriedly gathered were defeated in the blink of an eye!

Seeing this, the dog-headed people who were lucky enough to survive immediately scattered and retreated. They began to hide behind various bunkers and began to block the sacred Dragon Legion soldiers.

The area of the dog-headed people's buildings was not small, and there were countless messy buildings. As the attack continued, the tens of thousands of troops began to split up.

It was also at this moment that a disadvantageous situation for the Holy Dragon City appeared.

Compared to these Warriors who had transmigrated from their original world, the dog-headed people were clearly more skilled in this combat style.

They constantly flashed through the ruins, using close combat and crossbow attacks to cause a large number of casualties to the sacred Dragon Legion in a short time!

The kobolds had clearly discovered the Holy Dragon Army's weakness in this aspect. They were overjoyed and began to adopt such tactics to avoid direct contact with the Holy Dragon city's Warriors.

At this moment, the soul teleportation array in the valley behind Holy Dragon City began to flash continuously. It was obvious that the souls of the dead were being received from a long distance.

Under the dumbfounded gazes of the staff members, hundreds of souls had been teleported back in the blink of an eye!

Since the start of the battle, this was the first time the sacred Dragon Legion had suffered such heavy casualties. This was also a blow to the somewhat conceited officers!

For a time, the communication frequency was filled with the sounds of being ambushed and requesting for reinforcements. From time to time, the wild laughter of the dog-headed people could be heard.

The originally unstoppable offensive finally had a brief pause at this moment.

Chapter 625! glue and improvement

Such a scene was beyond everyone's expectations.

Perhaps it was because the previous battle had been too smooth, so that some people began to be unable to take it after suffering such a small setback. There were even situations where soldiers accidentally shot their allies.

What was even worse was that since the firearms used by these Warriors had not been modified, anyone could use them immediately after picking up the weapons. This caused the kobolds to immediately use these weapons to counterattack the Holy Dragon City Warriors after snatching the firearms!

To the loucheng natives, whose physique far exceeded that of ordinary people, the recoil of ordinary firearms was nothing in their eyes. They only needed to point the muzzle at the Holy Dragon city's soldiers and pull the trigger to empty the bullets.

There were even some dog-headed cultivators who seemed to be extremely talented in using firearms. They were able to fight well the moment they started using them.

However, this group of people lacked experience in using hot weapons. They were used to shooting at one location, which exposed them very quickly and turned them into meat paste!

However, it was also for this reason that many soldiers were shot and killed by these kobolds before they could react.

As the news of the losses continued to spread, the people in the command center had gloomy expressions. They watched the real-time video that was being transmitted and kept discussing the countermeasures.

In the end, they decided to defend the area they had occupied for the time being. Then, they would use the cannons and tanks to fire at the area occupied by the dog-headed people.

As time passed, more and more Kobold reinforcements began to appear. They also relied on the ruins of this area and began to engage in a fierce battle with the Holy Dragon City Army.

The original siege battle had actually changed at this moment. It had completely exceeded the expectations of the Army commanders.

In the process of conquering the world of loucheng, the humans finally encountered their first setback!

Hearing the continuous gunshots from the ruins outside, everyone's mood was not very good. Originally, they had relied on the weapons and equipment from their original world to conquer cities and territories in the Wildlands. They had vaguely thought that the world of towers was nothing much.

However, what they didn't know was that the towers in the Wildlands were only low-level towers. Not only were they small in size, but there were also few residents. The cultivators in the towers were generally not high in level.

However, top-notch towers were different. Most of them had a very long history and occupied a large area. The number of residents and cultivators was even more shocking!

By plundering and exploring, the combat power and weapons they had were not necessarily worse than those in their original world. In fact, they were even more bizarre and brutal!

In particular, many of their buildings were connected to each other and radiated to a large area. They were not much different from the towns in the original world.

As such, when these soldiers attacked, they had no choice but to face the terrifying street battle!

Due to the terrain's limitations, the weapons and equipment that the soldiers were so proud of were greatly reduced at this moment.

Even when they were faced with the kobolds, who had a higher cultivation base than them and were more skilled in close combat, they were still at a slight disadvantage. The situation was getting worse and worse!

So far, the number of Holy Dragon City soldiers who had died in this battle had already exceeded a thousand. For the Holy Dragon City Army, this was definitely not a small number of casualties!

The best solution now was to temporarily stop the attack, and then, based on the experience gained from this battle, carry out a complete reform of the Holy Dragon City Army!

Finally, after two days of battle, the Holy Dragon City Army decided to give up on this area. After withdrawing all the Warriors, they used planes and cannons to completely turn this place into ruins.

Countless Kobold Warriors who were hiding in various buildings were killed by the continuous artillery fire. In the end, less than one-tenth of the total number of people managed to escape.

Although these guys were not killed by the bomb, they were chased by the Holy Dragon city's Army as they fled. Under the siege of helicopters and tanks, only a few managed to escape the area alive!

According to the post battle statistics, more than 50000 Kobold Warriors were killed in this battle. The number of casualties among the residents of the Kobold building city could not be counted for the time being!

The entire city area of the dog-headed people was destroyed, including five low-level buildings and a large number of ordinary buildings. All of them had now become worthless ruins!

However, the Holy Dragon City Army had also paid a considerable price. Putting aside the various losses, the number of dead soldiers had already exceeded one thousand five hundred, and the injured were uncountable!

Although the souls of these fallen warriors had been recovered and sent back to their bodies in the original world, most of them had lost the opportunity to step back onto the battlefield.

The soul strength of an ordinary person was too low, and they could only carry out soul boarding twice at most. Therefore, such an opportunity must not be wasted so that they would not completely lose the opportunity to carry out soul boarding if they died in battle again.

Therefore, before they could overcome this weakness, these Warriors would not be able to enter the world of loucheng again!

As the battle process was summarized and submitted to their partners, they immediately realized that these things had to be dealt with immediately. So, after some discussion, they immediately began to solve the problem and rectify it.

The first problem that needed to be solved was the close combat skills of the Warriors in the original world. However, it seemed that there was no other good way except to strengthen their training in this area.

In terms of the Warriors' defense, these partners had also begun to imitate Holy Dragon City, and had begun to equip the Warriors with battle armor made of Special Metals.

The soldiers who were used to wearing military combat uniforms, even in the world of Loucheng, also began to quickly change their clothes and gradually get used to the battle armor that made people feel uncomfortable.

Although this armor was uncomfortable to wear, its defensive power in close combat was much better than ordinary military uniforms.

If the soldiers who participated in the street battle had worn this kind of armor, there would not have been such a large number of casualties!

At the same time, they also began to install identification systems on their weapons and equipment. Without a special identification chip to turn it on, these firearms and weapons would be locked on, so that even if the alien races picked them up, they would not be able to use them.

Apart from these measures, after studying the intelligence and characteristics of the top-tier towers, a large number of weapons and equipment suitable for these areas were rapidly developed and sent to the tower world from time to time for testing.

It had to be said that this battle was very meaningful. It made humans quickly realize their own shortcomings in the early days and gave them time to constantly improve themselves so that they would not suffer greater losses when they encountered more powerful enemies in the future!

The military operation to take over the dog-headed people's Tower also began to slow down. They continued to spread out in all directions while defending the occupied area.

During this period, the Kobold's attacks had never stopped. They would fight dozens of times almost every day, and the scale of the battles varied.

Gunshots and explosions rang out from time to time, and the assault helicopters were constantly shuttling back and forth, shooting down the dog-headed Warriors from above.

However, as a result, their military strength began to be stretched out again, and their partners in the original world began to increase their troops again.

After some discussion, the total number of reinforcements this time reached 500,000, and most of them were teleported to the world of Loucheng!

The problem that followed was that there was a serious shortage of hosts. The logistics supply had also increased greatly. It was to the extent that Tang Zhen had to transport supplies every day.

Fortunately, with the cooperation of the scientists in the original world and some technical support provided by Tang Zhen, the clone factory built in the Lou Cheng world had been officially put into use. He believed that it would not take too long for a large number of hosts to be provided.

Pressure was power, and the research on material transmission had also made breakthroughs.

Combined with the teleportation array technology provided by Tang Zhen, the researchers could already teleport items that weighed less than one kilogram after continuous testing.

However, the process of teleportation was very unstable. There would often be some malfunctions, causing the teleported items to mysteriously disappear or change their form completely.

Although there were still many drawbacks to this experiment, it wasn't far away from Tang Zhen getting rid of the porters.

After staying at the dog-headed people's Tower area for a few days, Tang Zhen returned to the Holy Dragon City and began the final preparations for the tower's advancement to level six.

From now on, the Holy Dragon City would launch an overseas battlefield and attack the National towers!

Chapter 626 Upgrade to a level 6 building

Holy Dragon City, City Lord's Hall.

After Tang Zhen returned to loucheng, he gathered all the higher-ups of the Holy Dragon City and discussed the issue of loucheng's promotion.

The current Holy Dragon City already had a strong Army. Tang Zhen simply did not care about the siege of a few fifth-grade foreign clan towers.

From Tang Zhen's point of view, this was merely sending him resources and labor!

As his wealth gradually increased, Tang Zhen no longer cared about the investment of the brain beads. He had the intention to upgrade all the valuable buildings so that they could display their true abilities.

After seeing the strength of the giant tower, Tang Zhen had already faintly realized that the seemingly insignificant attribute increase of the tower and some abilities of the special tower would undergo a qualitative change after being promoted to a certain height.

If used properly, its effect would not be any weaker than an Army of thousands!

As a result, Tang Zhen was even more unwilling to give up these buildings so easily. Therefore, he planned to upgrade the level of the existing buildings as much as possible before upgrading them to the national level. He wanted to see if they could bring him a surprise.

After some discussion, Tang Zhen decided to upgrade the main city Tower to Level 6, which was the floating city!

It had not been long since the tower had been promoted to Level 5, so the four level 5 towers that were connected to the plane channel should not be very powerful.

After the upgrade of the main city, Tang Zhen would complete the upgrade of the other Level 5 cities one after another. The specific time would depend on the situation.

After making a decision, everyone immediately began to separate and prepare. Tang Zhen also returned to his residence and had a good rest for the day.

The next morning, Tang Zhen went to the spiritual clan's inheritance Hall and secretly studied something with lingxu Zi.

That afternoon, a small wave of monsters suddenly attacked the city for no reason, but they were killed by the city guards in the blink of an eye!

As for why this monster was so abnormal, only Tang Zhen and a few other people knew the specific reason.

However, when some of the residents saw Tang Zhen, they felt that his aura was weak as if he had fallen seriously ill. They could not help but secretly guess the reason.

On the fifth day, the Holy Dragon City began to prohibit anyone from entering and leaving, clearing the area several kilometers around the city wall.

At the same time, a large number of Holy Dragon city's soldiers appeared in front of everyone, quickly occupying various attacking positions, and at the same time began to defend the city walls.

At the same time, in the Holy Dragon city's outer city area, tens of thousands of Holy Dragon city's soldiers were fully armed, waiting for the tower's upgrade to begin.

When loucheng was promoted to grade-6, the teleportation channel would send the attacking Allied forces directly to the foot of the city instead of the outer city wall.

However, this was also good. After all, the entire outer city area was blocked by walls. The foreign tribes who were attacking the city could not escape at all. It was convenient for the Holy Dragon City to catch turtles in a jar.

As the time slowly approached, the entire Holy Dragon City was filled with residents and foreign merchants who were eagerly waiting for the arrival of that moment.

Tang Zhen was dressed in a white robe, his entire person exuding a heroic spirit. Under the protection of hundreds of Holy Dragon City cultivators, he slowly began the tower's upgrade ceremony.

With the input of countless brain beads, Tang Zhen immediately saw the floating city hidden beneath his feet. As its level increased, its size had actually expanded several times in an instant!

Including the entire Holy Dragon City and even a part of the outer city, it had now been included in the floating tower city's territory. It could be said to be a super giant.

However, Tang Zhen clearly knew that this was far from the limit of the size of the floating city. There were countless buildings in this world that far exceeded its size!

Without a sound, the Holy Dragon city's main city had successfully advanced to rank 6.

At the same time, Tang Zhen could faintly sense the existence of a large door. It existed in Tang Zhen's consciousness and seemed as though it could appear at any time.

Following Tang Zhen's thought, a twenty meter tall arc-shaped bronze door suddenly appeared in the valley behind the Holy Dragon City.

As soon as the door appeared, Tang Zhen immediately felt an ancient and desolate aura. It was as if it had existed for an extremely long time and had witnessed the rise and fall of countless races.

In the middle of the gate, there was a space passage that looked like a Black Wave. It gave off a terrifying spatial fluctuation.

Tang Zhen carefully observed and discovered that this door was filled with strange and mysterious decorations. It looked somewhat familiar. However, when he looked at it again, it was extremely unfamiliar.

The place where this gate was connected to was the overseas battlefield that made many cultivators in Lou city pale with fear!

Tang Zhen retracted his gaze after sensing the mysteriousness of this large door. He looked at the large open space below the Holy Dragon City wall.

he would talk about the overseas battlefield later. what he needed to do now was to see when the siege allied forces would arrive.

Seeing the four pea-sized black dots continuously expanding, the corner of Tang Zhen's mouth revealed a trace of a smile. However, no matter how one looked at it, this smile gave off a somewhat evil feeling!

At the same time as the Holy Dragon City was promoted to rank 6, the four rank 5 turreted cities in different parts of the continent were in complete chaos.

These four towers had just been promoted to rank 5 not long ago. They were now smugly obtaining the brain beads in the world connected to the interdimensional passage. After waiting for a few decades, they would be promoted to rank 6 after sufficient preparation.

However, they had never dreamed that before they had even fully explored the abandoned Otherworld, there were already buildings that could not wait to start upgrading!

This was simply courting death!

Everyone knew how dangerous it was to upgrade to a Grade 6 City Tower. After getting through it, one would be able to reach the sky in one step. Whether it was resources or territory, they would be able to expand rapidly. However, if they failed, they would be doomed forever!

According to the usual practice, which tower would not undergo many years of preparation before it would start its promotion with a nervous heart?

However, now that someone had advanced, they couldn't be blamed. They were all full of anticipation about splitting the assets of a level 5 city.

Judging others by their own standards, the way they saw it, even if the Holy Dragon City that had been upgraded was very strong, it was not by much.

Of course, some people were suspicious and guessed that there must be a big force behind this city that had suddenly upgraded. They might have even sent advanced cultivators to join the City as residents to participate in the battle.

As for the loucheng, they were in a hurry to fight and had no time to recruit experts to join them. First, if the time was too short, they would be regarded as invalid residents. Second, they only had half a day to prepare for the battle.

In such a short period of time, it was already not an easy thing for these towers to gather all their combat power.

No matter what, since the battle for advancement had already begun, there was no way to escape, unless they were willing to abandon the entire tower.

For a moment, the four non-human towers were in chaos. Countless Warriors were quickly summoned and gathered in front of the teleportation channel, fully armed, waiting for the final teleportation to begin.

As far as the eye could see, there were thousands of cultivators standing silently in front of the portal, followed by tens of thousands of soldiers who were ready to go.

In the face of such a life-and-death battle, the four towers could be said to have sent out all their elites and were determined to cut off all means of retreat.

In this battle, either you die or I die!

The residents of the city also stopped their work at this moment and gathered outside the city. They looked at their families with worry and prayed that they would come back alive.

Everyone knew the significance of this battle. It was good to succeed, at least they could live a few decades of peace. But if they failed, the consequences would be unimaginable.

At the very least, they would lose their status as residents of the City Tower and become Wanderers that they had looked down on in the past. From then on, they would suffer from hunger and cold, and they could lose their lives at any time!

At the thought of this, some people couldn't control their emotions and burst into tears.

Unconsciously, more and more people began to sob. The sorrowful atmosphere affected many of the soldiers in the building, and their eyes began to turn red.

what are you crying for? all of you, get back to where you came from. You're unlucky!

Elder Lou Cheng, who was in charge of leading the team, roared and sent all the crying Warriors' families back. Then, he turned to the portal with a dark face.

It was useless to think about it now, because after crossing this passage, whether he was alive or dead, it would be immediately known!

As time passed, the time limit was finally reached. The teleportation channel had also expanded to its limit at this moment.

The combat Xiu from the four towers all carried their killing intent as they stepped into the tunnel!

Chapter 627-defensive battle in the tower

At this time, inside and outside Holy Dragon City, it was so quiet that one could hear a pin drop.

However, everyone knew that a great battle was coming soon, and no one knew how many cultivators in the building would die in this life-and-death battle.

However, the natives of the world of loucheng were already used to this and didn't think there was anything wrong with it.

After all, for countless years, the world of loucheng had always been like this. Only the strong could live well, and the weak would eventually be eliminated.

They were already in a twisted world and had long realized that they were Gu worms. They knew that in the Lou Cheng advancement battle, it was either you die or I die, there was no other choice!

Therefore, compared to the travelers from the original world, the Holy Dragon city's indigenous people were already filled with killing intent and vowed to kill the enemies who were attacking the city.

Otherwise, if they failed, the consequences would be too horrible to imagine!

At this moment, when they were close to these Holy Dragon City residents, they could clearly feel the killing intent they were exuding. Even the usually kind people had a somewhat sinister expression on their faces at this moment.

A small family was like this, and a big country was also like this!

Although Holy Dragon City was well-equipped with weapons and training methods that were enough to crush all other buildings of the same level, no one dared to take it lightly. They all put in 120% of their energy.

It was also because of this kind of mentality that the entire Holy Dragon City was shrouded in an extremely solemn atmosphere. Anyone who was in this atmosphere could not help but tremble.

Qian Long, Tai Seng, Xiao Rui, mo ran Qian Qian

A group of Holy Dragon city's higher-ups gathered on the city wall and followed behind Tang Zhen, waiting for the arrival of the final battle.

Not far away, there was a group of officers from the original world. They were also wearing armor and holding weapons, and their faces were solemn.

They had only seen such bloody and deadly siege battles in books and movies before. Now that they were about to see a real battle, and it was a confrontation between weapons and cold weapons from the original world, how could they miss it?

Furthermore, a battle like this had extremely important research value and significance to them!

In fact, in this battle, other than mobilizing the regular Garrison troops, Holy Dragon City had also mobilized some Special Troops to the top of the city wall. They wanted to use this battle to test the combat ability of these troops!

The white-robed cultivators of the mother tree were the most obvious group of defenders.

Their duty was to guard the mother tree and resist the invasion of foreign enemies, so this kind of city defense Battle was exactly where they should be.

Lisa, with her silver hair like a waterfall, stood on the city wall. She wore a gorgeous flower crown on her head and a snow-white robe, looking like an angel who had descended.

She held a two-foot-long staff in her hand. Green vines wrapped around it, and it was decorated with a few strange flowers.

A high-quality mutated brain bead was embedded at the top of the staff, emitting a bright light. One look and one could tell that it was worth a lot.

Behind Lisa, there was a line of more than a hundred mother tree cultivators. They were of different ages, but their cultivation had exceeded rank 4. Each of them held a staff and looked serious.

In addition to these mother tree cultivators, there were also some Special Troops among them. However, the battle had not started yet, so no one could see any clues.

Tang Zhen stood with his hands behind his back. A bright glint flashed in his eyes. They were like sharp blades as they swept across the transmission channel that had already expanded to its limit. He gently clenched his fist.

It was also at this moment that the four passageways bloomed with light at the same time. Then, everyone felt their vision blur, and the empty ground in front of them was instantly filled with the murderous-looking outsiders 'Allied army.

This teleportation channel had actually teleported close to a hundred thousand people in an instant, not giving the Holy Dragon City any chance to block the gate and attack!

It was also at this moment that the killing intent that had been suppressed to the extreme suddenly exploded.

The non-human Allied army that had teleported here didn't hesitate at all. After being stunned for a few seconds, they pounced on the city wall.

In this kind of life and death battle, there was no time for any nonsense. There was only one battle!

Even though the city wall in front of them was too high to climb, they still did not hesitate. Even if they had to pile up corpses, they had to rush up the city wall.

The moment the city was broken, it would be the moment of their success!

While the enemies were charging toward the city wall, countless strong figures leaped into the air. They were all high-level foreign cultivators.

These cultivators used their hands and feet to climb up the city wall quickly, intending to rush to the top of the wall and kill the guards.

At the same time, countless rays of light flashed from the attacking Army. Those were Holy Masters casting spells, and divine spells headed straight for the city walls.

Some of the city walls even had a series of sloping paths under them, which helped the non-humankind Warriors climb up the city walls more easily.

Javelins, crossbows, flying rocks, bombs, and countless long-range weapons rose from the ground like a dark cloud, covering the sky and the earth as they smashed down on the city wall.

The cultivators in the fifth-level City Tower were almost all brave people who had survived hundreds of battles. Now that they had their backs to the water, they had already exploded with all their combat power!

It was also at this moment that a light flashed in the sky above the Holy Dragon city's walls. A giant protective shield suddenly appeared, enveloping the entire Holy Dragon City.

The weapons were blocked by the shield and bounced back. They fell to the ground quickly, and countless screams sounded one after another.

Groups of enemies were injured by these falling weapons, and the unlucky ones even died on the spot, their corpses falling heavily into the dust.

Seeing that the Holy Dragon City actually had a protective shield, the Allied forces attacking the city felt a chill in their hearts, and a trace of sadness rose in their hearts.

For a level 5 building, unless it was by chance, it was impossible for them to obtain something like the defensive shield of the building!

Not to mention, even the weakest kind of defensive shield would require countless human lives to break it completely!

The non-humankind beings who had planned to attack the top of the city wall all cursed in their hearts. Their eyes were bloodshot, but none of them took a step back.

Although the Holy Dragon city's defensive barrier was unexpected, so what? if they could not take down this city, their fate would be worse than death.

Gritting their teeth, these foreign races became even more ruthless. They attacked the defensive barrier without any regard for their lives, trying to break it and then attack the top of the city wall.

However, at this moment, the Holy Dragon city's Warriors, who were already boiling with killing intent, began their fierce counterattack.

Concentrated gunfire suddenly sounded, and the close-range defense cannons and concentrated weapons built around the Holy Dragon City wall also launched their power at the same time. Countless bullets were like a shower of hailstones, instantly plowing out bloody ravines among the enemies under the city wall.

Countless foreign tribe warriors were torn to pieces by this life-threatening Metal Torrent before they could even react. A red and stinky blood mist rose from the Holy Dragon City like smoke from a burning fire.

The originally black and dense enemy camp was actually directly cut into countless pieces. In just a short 10 seconds of attack, there were already countless bodies on the ground.

Many alien races were shocked by this terrifying weapon. While they were still in a daze, the specially made cannonballs were shot down from the top of the city wall and exploded when they were more than a meter above the ground.

Countless concentrated steel balls scattered in all directions, swiftly piercing through the bodies of the foreign tribe members. Groups of enemies fell to the ground in an instant, their bodies covered in small holes from which blood spurting out.

The Holy Dragon City soldiers on the wall operated their machine guns and rifles, shooting at the cultivators in an attempt to stop them from approaching the wall.

The cultivator sniper didn't miss a single shot. After each shot, he would take the life of a cultivator. All of them were the elites of the enemy!

Looking down from above, countless enemies were dying almost every second.

Chapter 628 Battlefields of flesh and blood (1)

The merciful do not command troops, the battlefield is ruthless!

Since the battle had already begun, they naturally had to defeat the enemy completely. Otherwise, there would be endless trouble.

Even if they wanted to pretend to be kind, they couldn't be soft-hearted at this moment. Otherwise, these trapped beasts would take the opportunity to take a bite and make them bleed!

Therefore, the moment the battle began, these non-humankind beings only had two choices. They could either surrender wisely or die on the battlefield.

However, from the looks of it, these foreign cultivators had no intention of surrendering. Instead, they launched an even more frenzied attack.

Since that was the case, there was no need to hold back!

As Tang Zhen nodded, the mother tree cultivators who had been waiting for a long time also raised their staffs at the same time and began to Mutter to communicate with the mother tree.

The mother tree, which had been quiet all this while, suddenly trembled at this moment, emitting a heart-palpating aura.

After that, rays of light shot up into the sky and drew an arc in the air, directly connecting to the bodies of the mother tree cultivators.

An endless stream of the mother tree's power was channeled through the light bands into the bodies of the mother tree cultivators.

It was also at this moment that the cultivators of the mother tree roared at the same time, and they released all kinds of spells that shone with various colors.

Some of these spell techniques were defensive, some were offensive, but all of them were extremely powerful.

After a purple light landed below the city, the soil on the ground instantly trembled. Before the foreign enemies could Dodge, three giant man-eating flowers that were more than ten meters tall suddenly jumped out of the soil.

These man-eating flowers were covered in sharp thorns, and they had vines that twitched like poisonous snakes. Their mouths were several meters long, full of sharp teeth, and each flower had at least ten snake-like heads moving on it.

After they jumped out of the ground, they excitedly devoured the foreign tribe enemies. In the blink of an eye, they had already killed over a hundred people.

Another green light fell, and the grass on the ground flashed with a metallic edge, then flew up from the ground, constantly shooting at the enemies "bodies and faces, and the wounds turned black in the blink of an eye.

The enemies only struggled for a few seconds before their bodies turned black and they fell to the ground with painful expressions.

It was obvious that the originally harmless grass had become as strong as steel in an instant. At the same time, it also carried a terrifying poison that could kill at the sight of blood!

Vines, bamboo, strange snakes, poisonous insects, and mayflies.

All kinds of animals and plants exploded at this moment. They were almost impossible to guard against, and they made the camp of the foreign races into a mess.

The aggressive non-humankind Alliance Army had been reduced to a mess at this moment, and all they could see were dead bodies.

Under such a terrifying killing effect, even if the enemy's numbers exceeded 100000, they were still frightened and their will to fight to the death began to waver.

The Holy Dragon city's combat power was actually so terrifying. With the defensive shield as support, did the Alliance Army still have a chance of victory?

Even if they were to use the corpses to break the protective shield, how many of them would be left?

It was also at this moment that the Holy Dragon City gave them another fatal blow, causing the confidence of these foreign tribes to crumble, and they directly entered a state of collapse.

It turned out that a dense black line had appeared in the distance behind the non-humankind Army, and a series of rumbling noises could be heard.

Upon a closer look, they realized that they were actually terrifying metal war chariots, pointing their thick gun barrels at their position.

Countless Holy Dragon City soldiers in black armor were holding well-made rifles and looking at them coldly, as if they were looking at corpses.

As the gunshots rang out, the enemies kept dying under the sniper's gun, and from time to time, they would be blown up into the sky by a large number of grenades.

With a pincer attack from the front and back, there was no way to retreat!

Realizing that if they continued to hesitate, they would definitely die under the rain of bullets, the foreign races that were attacking the city immediately fell into chaos. Countless figures suddenly retreated, and ran in other directions without caring for their lives.

Not everyone was willing to make a meaningless sacrifice. After all, there was only hope if they were alive. They still had too many concerns and were not willing to die meaninglessly here.

As soon as this situation appeared, it immediately triggered an even more serious riot, which instantly became uncontrollable.

Countless loucheng soldiers turned around and dodged the bullets as if they had lost their minds, running in the direction that they thought was safe.

When the elders of loucheng who were lucky enough to survive saw this, they all sighed and instantly became lifeless.

There was no longer any suspense in this battle. They had been completely defeated!

The same thought appeared in the minds of countless foreign tribe enemies. After struggling for a few breaths, some of them turned around and fled.

The dense crowd of cultivators under the city wall became sparse at this moment. Less than one-third of the cultivators in the building were still struggling pointlessly.

attack! when Tai Seng saw this from the city wall, he waved his arm and roared, " attack!

As soon as he finished speaking, all the gunfire stopped.

Countless ropes were suddenly thrown down from the Holy Dragon city's walls. The Holy Dragon City cultivators in black armor descended quickly along the ropes as if they were walking on flat ground.

After they rushed into the enemy's camp, they either kept pulling the trigger or waving their shiny blades, constantly reaping the lives of the remaining enemies.

If one looked closely, they would realize that these Holy Dragon City cultivators were all in groups of five. In almost every group, there was a Lord-level cultivator in charge.

They were fully armed, and every piece of equipment on them was the best of the best. They were completely lethal weapons.

Such a terrifying combination of power made the non-humankind enemies who were still resisting cry out in their hearts. They no longer had any desire to fight, and began to retreat.

The Holy Dragon city's gates, which had been closed for a long time, suddenly opened at this moment. The first to be hit was the ogre army led by Big Bear. Like a group of terrifying demons, they began to massacre without restraint.

Wherever the huge Mace passed, muffled sounds of corpses shattering could be heard. Enemies were constantly sent flying into the air, and when they landed, their bones were broken, and blood oozed out of their seven apertures.

Big Bear was wearing a battle armor full of spikes, and his chubby face no longer had the simple and honest smile that he usually had. Instead, he was waving his spiked club with a ferocious look on his face, constantly knocking away the enemies who were blocking his way.

However, if one were to look closely, one would notice that da Xiong was constantly looking behind him during the battle. His gaze fell on a slightly thin little boy with two heads and four arms.

This little boy's height was shorter than Big bear's by a bit. At this moment, he was holding a battle blade in his hand, and his appearance actually had some similarities with Tang Zhen.

However, at this moment, the little boy's face was filled with a trace of fear. He seemed to be frightened by the bloody scene, and his body was constantly trembling.

However, after seeing the big bear's encouraging eyes, the little boy gritted his teeth and began to follow the big Bear to kill the enemies.

After the ogres charged out, another roar was heard. Then, the rich Captain rode his Battle Beast with chicken wings and charged out of the city gate, followed by a monster that was nearly ten meters long.

Behind him was a dense Army of monsters. There were at least hundreds of them!

At this moment, the tycoon Captain was in high spirits. He rode on his war beast and let out a loud roar, directly charging into the middle of the foreign enemies, rampaging all the way!

The other monsters, under the control of the Holy Dragon city's residents, also revealed their sharp claws and fangs, constantly attacking the terrified enemies. For a time, the roars of monsters and the screams of the dying enemies of other races could be heard everywhere.

The Holy Dragon city's First Army, Second Army, mercenary army, and countless murderous Warriors appeared one after another, rushing out of the city gates like a tide.

When the group of attack helicopters also rushed out of the Holy Dragon City, the battle to defend the city was completely over.

Chapter 629 Opening the overseas battlefield (1)

The scene that had happened on the battlefield had long been recorded by others. It could be considered a major event in the Holy Dragon City.

"When the Holy Dragon City was upgraded to a Grade 6 city, it was besieged by the Allied forces of the four cities. The total number of enemies was over 130000!

No one had expected that such a terrifying number of enemies would be completely defeated by Holy Dragon City in less than half an hour.

With countless deaths and injuries, the enemy fled in defeat. They were then chased by the Holy Dragon city's soldiers. In the end, most of the enemies knelt and surrendered, while a small number were shot dead on the spot."

A record of only a hundred words represented the tragic ending of countless enemies of the foreign races!

The post-war Statistics showed that the Holy Dragon City had killed tens of thousands of enemies in the process of defending the city. Except for a very small number of foreign enemies who had escaped, the rest were all captured by the Holy Dragon City.

In the future, they would be sent to various construction sites in the Wildlands to participate in construction work such as repairing bridges and paving roads, becoming the cheapest labor force.

As for whether they would be able to return to their homeland in the future, no one knew at the moment, but the possibility should be extremely low!

As for the aftermath of the battle, such as taking over the assets of the four defeated loucheng, Tang Zhen no longer needed to worry about it. There would naturally be someone to deal with it.

Therefore, after the battle ended, Tang Zhen led everyone back to the city and began to study the matter of conquering the overseas region.

Most of them had heard of the overseas region and knew that it was a place even more desolate and dangerous than the Wildlands.

In fact, no one was very clear about the actual situation there.

After Tang Zhen asked situ Yuanzhi and the others, he found out some details about the situation in the overseas region.

It was different from the continent Tang Zhen and the others were on. No one knew where the ocean was, but it was definitely a paradise for monsters.

Not only were there countless high-level Lord-tier monsters, but there were also many King-tier monsters.

These monsters either lived in groups or were alone. They were fierce and cruel, and most of them had their own territory.

In addition to these monsters, there were also Barbarians in the ocean. They were collectively called the Barbarian race by the cultivators of loucheng, and they existed in tribes of various sizes.

They ate raw meat, drank blood, and even had the bad habit of eating people. They hated the cultivators of Lou city and would hunt them down if they saw them!

Another point was that wild buildings would never appear in these overseas lands, but there were ancient ruins of buildings. However, most of their locations were hidden and dangerous, so they were rarely discovered.

The cultivators of loucheng could obtain all kinds of skills from the cornerstone platform, while the barbarians would sacrifice their brains to the totems of the tribe to awaken the innate abilities in their bloodlines.

Therefore, in terms of combat power, these barbarians were not afraid of the cultivators in loucheng. In fact, they were even slightly better in terms of physique.

The advantage of the cultivators in Loucheng was that they could exchange for various items through the cornerstone platform. Therefore, their equipment far exceeded that of the barbarians.

However, as the battle went on for a long time, the barbarians also seized a large number of relics from the cultivators in the city, so the disadvantage in equipment was gradually narrowed.

In addition, Tang Zhen also learned from Situ Yuanzhi that if he wanted to completely control an area and integrate it into Lou Cheng's territory, he had to kill the totem Lord of the Barbarian tribe who controlled the area!

The totems of small tribes were controlled by the totem Masters of large tribes, and the areas they affected were also different in size.

After successfully killing these totems and barbarians, he would be able to obtain a large amount of battle merits. At this time, he needed to kill one more totem Lord to successfully advance to a level Seven building!

These totems weren't solid, but were like spirits. Their abilities were strange and unpredictable. As for the Masters of the totems, they were basically king class.

Many of the towers were stuck at this stage in the overseas battlefields after they advanced to level six. Due to the difference in strength, they were unable to kill the tribal totem Masters!

Some of the level 6 towers were even heavily damaged as a result. Large numbers of cultivators were lost here, and they could not recover for decades or even centuries.

After all, not every sixth grade city was like the Holy Dragon City, with so many Lord level cultivators, and even the city Lord himself was a two star King level super expert!

Therefore, the quests that were difficult for other newly-advanced level 6 turreted cities were not too difficult for Holy Dragon City.

However, if the Holy Dragon City was unlucky and was randomly assigned to a giant tribe with a powerful totem, they could only admit that they were unlucky.

However, once he really encountered such a situation, Tang Zhen would rather take over a piece of wasteland than use the ultimate weapon in his hands to destroy the enemy!

He was not willing to waste his time in such a meaningless battle. All he wanted was to accumulate battle merits as quickly as possible so that Holy Dragon City could be upgraded to a top-tier city as soon as possible.

Of course, this was only Tang Zhen's plan. Everything was still unknown before they officially entered the overseas battlefield.

In the time that Tang Zhen had been away, the Holy Dragon city's war preparations had been completed. They could March straight into the battlefields overseas at any time.

In the end, Tang Zhen decided to rest for a period of time before officially sending troops to the overseas region!

After the meeting ended, the entire Holy Dragon City became busy once again. The Holy Dragon City cultivators in charge of the exploration of the overseas region also stepped through the giant bronze door at this moment.

Tang Zhen would pay attention to any major event that would determine the tower's fate at the first possible moment. This time, he personally led a team of a hundred Holy Dragon city's elite cultivators to investigate the enemy's situation.

In the valley behind the Holy Dragon City, Tang Zhen was the first to step through the huge door and entered the mysterious and profound passage.

In the blink of an eye, Tang Zhen felt his eyes brighten. He discovered that he was in a huge plain that was filled with a wild aura.

The mountain peak here was extremely huge, and it was not an exaggeration to say that it connected the sky and the earth. The trees in the distance covered the sky and the sun, and from time to time, the howls of monsters could be heard.

All kinds of strange plants bloomed on the plain, and strange-looking animals kept flashing among them.

Tang Zhen felt that there was a mistake in the rumors. This was because this place was simply a rich land compared to the Wildlands. How could there be a trace of desolation?

If such a land was included in the Holy Dragon city's territory, Tang Zhen would be more than happy to do so.

However, it was precisely because of this that Tang Zhen was suddenly reluctant to destroy this place. After all, how could the value of a piece of wasteland be compared to the land in front of him?

The Holy Dragon city's cultivators who followed Tang Zhen closely were also attracted by the scene in front of them. They couldn't help but feel excited when they thought about how they would be able to claim this land as Holy Dragon City if they conquered the Barbarian race here.

As the residents of the city, they had long regarded the Holy Dragon City as their home. Who wouldn't want their home to be beautiful and have a large piece of rich land?

For a moment, the cultivators' hearts were filled with the desire to fight, and they couldn't wait to kill and drive away all the barbarians here!

After Tang Zhen saw the expressions of his subordinates, he faintly smiled and began to switch the map view to observe the surrounding situation.

The scenery within several hundred kilometers instantly appeared before Tang Zhen's eyes. After observing for a moment, he casually pointed in a few directions.

When the Holy Dragon City cultivators behind him saw this, they immediately split up into groups and began to investigate in the direction that Tang Zhen had pointed out.

Tang Zhen, on the other hand, led the twenty Holy Dragon City cultivators through the sea of grass and trees, heading towards the largest tribe he had just seen.

Tang Zhen's expression changed slightly after he had advanced for several tens of kilometers. He suddenly stopped.

The Holy Dragon City cultivators following behind him also stopped and looked at him with bright eyes.

"There are five small insects on the tree in front of us. Their bodies are the same color as the tree. Go and catch them."

After Tang Zhen said this, he randomly picked a plant from the ground and placed it in front of his eyes to carefully observe.

Several Holy Dragon City cultivators heard this and immediately shot into the forest like lightning. They released their spiritual power to sense the abnormalities in the surrounding trees.

Sure enough, it didn't take long for them to find five Barbarian cultivators hiding against a tree trunk. They looked exactly like the trees and even their auras were extremely concealed!

Just as the Holy Dragon City cultivators discovered the barbarians, the barbarians also realized that they had been exposed. They all launched an attack on the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

They were like spirit apes, constantly flashing on the trees. At the same time, they used weapons similar to blowguns to attack the Holy Dragon City cultivators.

This barbarian's blow dart was fast and fierce. The thin bone spike had actually penetrated into the trunk. Its power was quite amazing!

The darts that had fallen were all emitting a strange color. It was obvious that they had been dipped in poison by the barbarians.

However, no matter how vicious their weapons were, they couldn't fight against a group of Lord-ranked cultivators. So, in just a dozen seconds, the five Barbarians were all captured.

Following that, the Holy Dragon City cultivators lifted their bound bodies and brought them to Tang Zhen, throwing them on the ground.

Chapter 630 The Barbarian race in the ocean

Tang Zhen's eyes were fixed on the Barbarian on the ground. A curious expression flashed in his eyes.

Although these guys were in human form, the surface of their skin was covered with almost transparent tiny scales, giving off an extremely strange feeling.

It seemed that it would be more appropriate to call them lizard people!

In fact, the Barbarian tribes overseas were the same as the alien races on the continent. They had all kinds of races, and their innate abilities were different.

These bloodline talents were not simple. As the barbarian's level increased, various additional abilities would be awakened, making it impossible to guard against!

These lizard-like barbarians were only equivalent to level one cultivators, so they only had basic innate bloodline abilities.

The most amazing thing was that the scales on these barbarians' bodies were like chameleons. They could rapidly change according to the surrounding environment, which was equivalent to the ability to become invisible.

Once they were hidden in the forest, they were like a drop of water in the sea, able to perfectly blend in with the surrounding environment.

If such an ability was used well, it would definitely become an enemy's nightmare!

Tang Zhen, who originally did not pay much attention to the Barbarian race, also became somewhat cautious at this moment. After all, not everyone could easily discover the traces of these barbarians like him.

Once they were ambushed by the barbarians, the Holy Dragon city's soldiers would be caught off guard, and casualties would be inevitable!

However, Tang Zhen had also tried to use thermal imaging to scan the area earlier. He discovered that this kind of detection instrument from the original world was also effective against these barbarians.

Tang Zhen sighed in relief after he confirmed this.

Although the enemy's ability was strange, as long as there was a way to restrain it, it was not too much of a problem!

It seemed that he would have to spend more effort on the warrior's equipment!

Just as Tang Zhen was observing these barbarians, the barbarians who had their hands and feet tied up had a sinister expression on their faces. They were looking at Tang Zhen and the others as if they were their mortal enemies.

damn loucheng dogs! You will be killed by our Warriors and your heads will be hung on the trees!

"I'm going to eat your flesh and feed my pet the rest of your organs!"

come on, kill me. I'll be a coward if you even frown!

While cursing, one of the barbarians spat at Tang Zhen, revealing his black teeth. Two of his canine teeth were extremely obvious, and his eyes were full of provocation as he looked at Tang Zhen.

Sure enough, as the rumors said, these barbarians were unruly, full of wildness, and cannibalism was a common thing.

The other four barbarians were the same. They kept cursing, and their expressions were very ferocious.

To Tang Zhen, the curses of these barbarians were just like the wild screeches of a mouse before it died. It would not cause even the slightest ripple in his heart.

After all, with his status and cultivation, he did have the right to treat these barbarians like ants.

However, the Holy Dragon city's cultivators at the side could not take it. They respected Tang Zhen to the extreme and would definitely not allow anyone to curse their city Lord like this.

Although they didn't understand what the barbarians were saying, their expressions told them that they weren't saying anything good.

A Holy Dragon City cultivator pulled a barbarian up from the ground and slapped him hard. The Barbarian let out a scream and spat out a mouthful of blood. A few of his teeth were mixed in with the blood.

Seeing this, the other barbarians immediately started to struggle. At the same time, they looked at the Holy Dragon City cultivator with murderous expressions and kept cursing.

Seeing that the barbarians were up to no good, the Holy Dragon City cultivators who had been waiting at the side immediately surrounded them and gave them a beating. Soon, the barbarians were only left with screams and moans.

The Holy Dragon City cultivators were very familiar with the methods of dealing with captives. They knew that when they encountered such a tough bone, even if the effect of beating him up was not great, they still had to take action.

Some of the captives were tough at the beginning, but they didn't know what they were going to face. Once they were tortured, not many of them could really resist.

Therefore, he had to beat up these barbarians until they were afraid. Otherwise, it would be harder than ascending to heaven to get what he wanted from them!

Tang Zhen did not stop his subordinates from the side. He only indicated for everyone to stop when the few barbarians were on the verge of death.

do you know? just based on what you said just now, I have every reason to cut you into a thousand pieces!

Tang Zhen spoke indifferently in the Barbarian language as he looked at the barbarians on the ground who were bleeding from their noses and mouths and covered in dust.

After hearing Tang Zhen's words, the corner of a barbarian's mouth twitched. He looked at Tang Zhen with his eyes that were almost sealed by the fist and spat out a mouthful of blood.

"Lou Cheng dog, if you want to kill me, just kill me. Why are you talking so much nonsense?"

It's our bad luck that we've fallen into your hands today, but you won't live long!

The great tribe's totem and totem Lord must have discovered your tracks. I believe that it won't take long for the nearby tribes to gather and kill all of you intruders, and then eat your flesh and drink your blood!"

After the Barbarian finished speaking, his face actually revealed a carefree expression. It was as if he had seen the death of Tang Zhen and the others. He couldn't help but raise his head and let out a strange laugh.

The rest of the ashen-faced barbarians also sneered cruelly. They kept glancing at the cultivators around them with a hint of madness in their eyes.

Tang Zhen shook his head. He stood up and looked at the tribe hidden in the dense forest. He coldly said, "Don't worry, the people of your tribe will be accompanying you soon.

As for that totem master, I really want to see what it is!"

Tang Zhen waved his hand and no longer paid any attention to the Barbarian cultivators.

A cultivator from the Holy Dragon City walked up to the barbarians and grabbed their throats, then exerted a little force.

The five Barbarian cultivators' bodies fell to the ground with a series of cracking sounds, their eyes wide open.

Let's go take a look at the tribe ahead. If it's of no value, we'll just destroy it and see how many battle merits we can get!

Tang Zhen's tone did not have any fluctuations when he said these words. It was as though they were having an ordinary chat.

He treated living beings like grass and showed no mercy to his enemies.

As the city Lord of the Holy Dragon City, Tang Zhen had no choice in many things, especially when it came to this matter that concerned the life and death of Lou Cheng. He could not afford to be soft-hearted.

After all, there were nearly 200,000 residents of Lou city behind him!

When the cultivators of the Holy Dragon City behind him heard this, a sinister smile appeared on their faces. They followed Tang Zhen and headed straight for the Barbarian tribe.

It didn't take long for a barbarian tribe to appear in front of them.

The trees outside the tribe had all been cut down, leaving a large empty area to prevent the enemy's sneak attack and the spread of the fire.

At this time, hundreds of barbarians were busy working in the tribe. They were draining the blood of several huge monsters and placing them on a stone platform made of gravel.

In the middle of the stone platform, there was a strange totem carved out of black stone. It had four tails and two heads, and its arms were like tentacles. It looked quite strange and ferocious.

The Barbarian tribes gathered around the stone platform, as if they were going to hold some kind of sacrificial ceremony. The atmosphere was solemn and oppressive.

A white-haired barbarian priest was wearing a long leather robe. He was mumbling something while using a black stone spoon to scoop out the blood of the monster from the stone basin and pour it on the totem.

A few kneeling barbarian youths used their stone knives to cut open the skin, and then dipped the brain in their own blood, and respectfully placed it in front of the totem.

After that, the Barbarian youths knelt on the ground and began to chant in the air. It seemed as if they were praying.

In a short while, the blood-stained brain beads actually turned into smoke and were directly absorbed by the totem.

This was clearly a secret technique that could actually destroy the indestructible brain!

At the same time, the praying barbarian youth trembled slightly. The blood vessels on his body suddenly bulged, as if there were countless insects drilling in and out of his skin. His expression also became more and more painful.

The Barbarian tribesmen who were watching from the side also began to become nervous. They stared at the teenagers on the stage without taking their eyes off them.

Suddenly, an angry roar was heard. One of the Barbarian youths "body suddenly swelled up, revealing a tyrannical aura.

The surrounding barbarian tribesmen cheered at the same time, as if they were excited that another warrior had appeared in their tribe.

The other barbarian youths also changed at this time, causing the surrounding onlookers to cheer even louder.

However, at this moment, a crisp sound was heard. Then, blood burst out from the bodies of the Barbarian youths who had just awakened their bloodline talents. They fell to the ground with disbelief and unwillingness in their eyes.

Twenty figures with soaring killing intent suddenly charged into the tribe, setting off a storm of blood!
