Chapter 781 tracking, danger zone _When the foreign cultivators saw Tang Zhen disappear on the spot, they were instantly stunned, and their expressions changed drastically!

They had made strict preparations and waited for a few days before they finally managed to stop Tang Zhen. How could they let him leave so easily?

Although he did not make a move earlier because he was afraid of the Super bomb in Tang Zhen's hands, this did not mean that he did not have a way to deal with Tang Zhen. He only needed to wait for an opportunity.

However, with Tang Zhen's escape, all of their plans had been ruined. They were destined to have worked hard for nothing!

The foreign cultivators present couldn't accept such an outcome.

Their eyes constantly swept across the place where Tang Zhen had disappeared. Some foreign cultivators even ran directly to the place where Tang Zhen had been standing to search, but they found nothing.

Without a doubt, Tang Zhen had teleported away!

After they realized this, they felt as if they were about to go berserk. They immediately searched their surroundings carefully, wanting to see where Tang Zhen would appear.

A King level cultivator's normal teleportation distance was no more than one kilometer, and around this distance were their companions.

It was impossible for Tang Zhen to hide under the eyes of so many King level cultivators.

However, after a round of searching, he did not even see Tang Zhen's shadow. Who knew where he had run to?

All the cultivators looked at each other, their eyes filled with puzzlement. Could it be that Tang Zhen had evaporated into thin air?

As for the two-star King tier in the lead, he was currently looking up at the sky with a grave expression on his face. He was constantly looking for the devil suppressing plate.

However, there was nothing in the sky at the moment. The huge anti-demon plate had also disappeared without a trace.

According to the characteristics of the anti-demon plate, as long as it locked onto a cultivator, it would always float above the target's head, and there was almost no way to get rid of it!

Therefore, the devil suppressing plate that had disappeared must have followed Tang Zhen and left this place!

Although he did not know what method Tang Zhen had used to escape, now was not the time to investigate this problem. The most important thing was to immediately locate Tang Zhen's location and prevent him from escaping further.

Thinking up to this point, the two star King tier immediately took out a round disc from his pocket. Its appearance was extremely similar to the anti-magic disc, but it was countless times smaller.

It turned out that apart from the main plate in the sky, there was also a small plate that could be used to control and sense each other's location. As long as it existed, the two-star King tier would be able to lock onto the demon suppression plate even if it was far away.

He had relied on this trophy from a different world to trick many opponents over the years. It was definitely a trump card!

The two-star King tier held the small plate in his hand and slowly injected his mental power into it. Then, a beam of green light shot out from the small plate.

Under the watchful eyes of the cultivators, the light pillar shot up more than ten meters into the sky. Even in broad daylight, it was still very eye-catching.

"Quickly look at the surrounding area. There is a green pillar of light that is shooting into the sky. That is where Tang Zhen is!"

This two-star King tier saw the pillar of light rise and immediately roared at the surrounding cultivators. He also raised his head and continued to search.

However, after looking around, he didn't miss anything as far as his eyes could see, but there was no sign of the light pillar appearing at all.

All the cultivators were extremely bewildered. This Tang Zhen possessed a technique that could borrow the power of laws. Perhaps, he could use this to teleport even further. However, there was a limit to it. It was impossible for him to completely disappear without a trace.

But looking at the current situation, he was really nowhere to be seen!

Just as the cultivators were feeling suspicious, a foreign cultivator suddenly soared into the sky. After observing from the air, he pointed into the distance and shouted, "Look, there's a light pillar!"

When the cultivators heard this, their spirits were lifted and they rose into the air one after another, looking in the direction the foreign cultivator was pointing.

Just as he had said, there was indeed a pillar of light looming in the dark clouds and lightning more than two hundred kilometers away. It was like a candle flickering in the wind, which could be extinguished at any time under the attack of a storm.

When the two-star King tier with the round plate heard this, his body instantly turned into a wisp of green smoke and effortlessly flew into the sky. He floated above everyone's head and looked in the direction of the light pillar.

However, he only took one look and his heart skipped a beat. His expression became extremely ugly.

"Dammit! What kind of method did Tang Zhen use to teleport hundreds of kilometers away? this is simply unbelievable!"

The two-star King tier muttered to himself as he slowly descended from the sky. He swept his gaze across the cultivators around him and said in a serious tone, " "This Tang Zhen is definitely not as simple as we thought. Just his ability to teleport over a hundred kilometers is enough to leave us in the dust!

Could it be that after controlling the power of laws, one can really travel such a great distance in an instant?"

Speaking up to this point, the two-star King tier's face revealed a trace of yearning and reverence. The greed in his eyes was also unconcealed as he loudly said to everyone, "This time, we were too overconfident, which gave the other party a chance to escape. Therefore, the next time you see Tang Zhen, immediately attack him. Even if you kill him, you must not let him escape.

If he manages to escape, he'll definitely hold a grudge against us in the future, and it's very likely that he'll take revenge!

You've all seen his methods. If he really sets his eyes on you, I'm afraid that no one present will be able to escape death!

So this time, either he dies, or we die. There's no other choice!"

All the cultivators nodded solemnly and ran toward the light pillar.

For a moment, the sound of rapid flight could be heard everywhere in the air. The foreign cultivators on the ground were also as fast as lightning, afraid that they would fall behind.

However, as they approached the pillar of light and saw where it appeared, some of them looked surprised and even slowed down.

Seeing this, the two-star King tier in the lead asked curiously, " "Why do you all have such expressions? could it be that there's something strange about that cloud-shrouded place?"

The kingdom where this two-star King was located was very far away. Therefore, even though this place was within the sphere of influence of their kingdom Alliance, he was not clear about the specific situation here.

After hearing the two-star King tier's question, a four-star horde leader immediately replied, " "You may not know this, but it's a famous dangerous place near my city. It's said to be a remnant of the Otherworld invasion.

Because there's a 90% chance of survival after entering it and there's nothing of value, no one usually enters. Even if the cultivators of Lou Cheng pass by there, they choose to take a detour!"

Hearing this, the two-star King tier's brows twitched. He turned to the four-star Lord and asked, " "Are you sure that place was left behind by the Great War back then? It's said that cultivators and monsters will die mysteriously after entering that place. Is that true?"

When the four star horde leader heard this, he immediately nodded with a grave expression.

Hearing this, the two-star King tier nodded his head slightly, " "If this is really the case, it is likely that Tang Zhen is seeking his own death by entering it!"

Speaking up to this point, he changed his thoughts. He didn't care about Tang Zhen's life or death. However, his head and the secret hidden in his body were things that he had to obtain. If Tang Zhen died in that place and he couldn't retrieve his body, it would really not be worth it.

"No, we have to kill Tang Zhen no matter what. Otherwise, if he becomes desperate and would rather self-destruct than let us have it, it would really be bad!"

After thinking up to this point, the two-star horde leader's mood suddenly became urgent. He immediately ignored everyone and directly used his full strength. In an instant, he turned into a black light and headed straight for the place shrouded in clouds!

When the other foreign cultivators saw this, they could only quickly give chase. However, when they thought about entering that strange place, their expressions became hesitant.

Chapter 782 The ruins under the clouds (1)

After the teleportation ended, Tang Zhen appeared at the edge of the area that the map had shown earlier with the anti-magic compass above his head.

Sensing the energy in his body, he realized that there was not much left. If he wanted to rely on it to fight, it would definitely not be enough.

"Why is this damn anti-demon plate so hard to deal with?"

Tang Zhen inhaled a deep breath of air. He sized up the surrounding environment, only to discover that he had appeared in front of an enormous square that was covered by clouds.

Originally, he thought that this place was just a wilderness. However, after seeing the broken stone pillars and the broken bluestone ground, he knew that he had guessed wrong.

This was not the wilderness, but a huge ruins, and the area was terrifyingly large.

At this time, in his map view, more than half of the place was covered by clouds and lightning, and he couldn't see the end of it!

However, these ruins were covered by clouds and fog, so he didn't see clearly when he took a quick look just now. That was why he mistakenly thought that this was the wilderness.

Of course, regardless of whether it was the wilderness or the ruins, it did not have any effect on Tang Zhen. What he saw was only the cotton-like thick clouds in the low altitude. After all, he had already successfully escaped from the encirclement of the group of foreign race cultivators. At the same time, he had to make use of the special environment here to hide.

Tang Zhen didn't think that he could easily get rid of that group of foreign cultivators. It was estimated that it wouldn't take long for that group of people to find this place. However, before that, Tang Zhen could do many things.

For example, he could remove the anti-magic compass above his head.

No matter who had such a huge thing on their head, and they were walking step by step, or even couldn't get rid of it by teleportation, they probably wouldn't be in a good mood.

Right now, Tang Zhen really wanted to get rid of this broken thing and hang it above the two-star King tier's head. He would then use his skills to bombard it from the outside.

If that old fellow did not die, Tang Zhen would unhesitatingly begin a second round of attacks even if he was lucky!

Of course, with the might of Tang Zhen's cultivation skills, cultivators of the same level would probably be directly annihilated after a few moves. That old fellow was no exception.

Unfortunately, this was just a thought. After all, the anti-magic compass was still floating above his head, and its target was still him!

Tang Zhen did not hesitate when he thought of this. He directly picked up a huge rock the size of a millstone from the ground, raised his hand, and smashed it toward the devil suppressing plate.

Although Tang Zhen was currently unable to use his cultivation skills, his mental energy and physical strength were still present. The destructive power of the rock that he had thrown out was not inferior to a 200 mm howitzer!

Even if it was a concrete wall, it would definitely be smashed through by this stone!

However, who would have thought that the moment the stone touched the devil suppressing plate, it would be blocked by a layer of light on the surface of the plate and turned into a cloud of dust in the blink of an eye!

Tang Zhen was slightly speechless when he saw this. He had long expected that this devil suppressing plate would definitely have some defensive method. Otherwise, it would have been shot down countless times!

However, who knew that the defensive strength of this devil suppressing plate was actually so abnormal? This had exceeded Tang Zhen's expectations. In this case, it was likely that his plan to destroy the devil suppressing plate with brute force would not work.

One had to know that shattering a rapidly approaching rock and shattering a rock into powder were two completely different concepts.

The former could be said to be a head-on collision, while the latter must have released a terrifying vibration force at the same time as it blocked. If it was a physical contact, it would probably be shaken into blood foam immediately!

The methods of the cultivators from another world had many redeeming qualities, and this troublesome anti-demon plate was one of them.

Tang Zhen was currently unable to use any cultivator skills. The methods that he could use were also extremely limited. Therefore, he was somewhat at his wit's end when he faced this devil suppressing plate.

A couple of methods flashed through Tang Zhen's mind. However, he felt that he was unable to strike down this devil suppressing plate. Therefore, he could only give up for the time being.

It seemed that he could only use the clouds above the ruins to temporarily cover himself and then find a way to deal with it!

After making a decision in his heart, Tang Zhen stepped into the ruins. At the same time, he constantly looked around to prevent any monsters from suddenly attacking.

After entering the ruins, Tang Zhen discovered that the clouds here were far thicker than he had imagined. He couldn't see anything beyond ten meters. The ground under his feet was also covered with corpses of cultivators and monsters.

For some unknown reason, the bones had not completely rotted. Instead, they had turned into mummies, covered in mycelium-like fine hair.

Just as Tang Zhen approached the corpses, the mycelium-like fine hair suddenly retracted back into the corpses. Then, the mummified corpses suddenly got up from the ground and pounced at Tang Zhen with their fangs and claws bared.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly when he saw this. He took out the soul annihilating saber and casually waved it, cutting all the corpses that were charging towards him in half at the waist!

After those mummies were chopped off, they could still move. They either dragged their stomachs with their feet or crawled with their arms dragging half of their bodies. They still persevered and launched attacks at Tang Zhen.

This scene was really extremely strange!

One of the mummies even pulled a part of the monster's body with its upper body and stuck it to the monster's body. Then, countless mycelium quickly drilled out of the wound, secreting a large amount of latex-like mucus, and the two corpses quickly stuck together.

Perhaps it saw that there was still space on the monster's body, so the mummified body pulled another body that was crawling on the ground and placed it on the monster's body where the internal organs were exposed.

Hence, a strange monster with half a monster's body and two alien cultivators 'half a body on it directly appeared in front of Tang Zhen and pounced on him fiercely.

As usual, Tang Zhen's knife slashed out. However, this time, he deliberately used a little trick. After the monster was hit, its body immediately shattered and fell to the ground with a crash.

After a while, countless hyphae emerged from the broken pieces of the corpse, like the legs of a centipede. They quickly crawled into the distance and burrowed into the rocks among the ruins.

Some of the corpses had gathered together to form a giant meatball with dozens of heads. The meatball kept rolling in the ruins and hitting the ground.

However, those heads did not feel any pain. They only opened their eyes and stared at Tang Zhen. At the same time, they rapidly disappeared into the clouds.

Tang Zhen completely ignored him when he saw this. Instead, he continued to attack.

After using this method to get rid of all the monsters, Tang Zhen shook off the non-existent stains on the soul annihilating saber and continued to walk toward the depths of the ruins.

After walking for another kilometer or so, a huge building wreckage appeared in front of Tang Zhen's eyes. Even though it had already collapsed, its height still soared into the sky.

Just one of the translucent black bricks in the building was more than two meters long. Countless broken bricks were piled up, looking like small mountains!

So even though these buildings had been destroyed, they still looked extremely shocking. From this, it could be seen how tall and majestic it had been when it was intact!

Tang Zhen felt curious in his heart. He knew that it was extremely likely that this was the ruins of a City Tower. However, the question was, what level of City Tower would it be to have such a terrifying scale?

Or was this place once a giant city, and the cultivators inside were all shockingly tall, the kind that could catch birds in the sky with a raise of their hands?

With doubts in his heart, Tang Zhen slowly walked along the giant ruins. In the end, it did not take long before he saw a huge corpse in the ruins.

It was just as he had imagined. This was indeed a city where a giant once lived. This was because the head of the giant in front of him was the size of a house!

This was only the size of the head. God knew how big the giant was when its body was added in.

However, when Tang Zhen's eyes swept over the enormous skull and clearly saw the object within the skull, he could not help but let out a soft "Yi."

Chapter 783 Skeleton, nanoweapons (1)

It turned out that inside the giant skull, there were a few small corpses curled up. Because of the special clouds and mist here, these corpses had not rotted and still maintained the appearance of when they were alive.

Tang Zhen discovered that the heads of these corpses were somewhat similar to humans. Their heads were unusually large, but their bodies were as thin and long as centipedes. At the same time, countless long leg-like tentacles extended from their bodies and directly pierced into the shriveled brain of the giant head!

Tang Zhen was no longer the rookie who did not have a deep understanding of the tower world. Therefore, he immediately had a guess in his heart after seeing the strange situation inside the giant's skull.

Perhaps this giant city was indeed built for Giants to live in, but the real owners of this place were not the Giants, but the alien corpses hidden in the giant's skulls.

They hid in the bodies of the Giants and controlled these terrifying Giants to fight against their enemies.

It wasn't rare for alien races to use boarding methods and special bodies to fight in the world of Loucheng.

For example, the cultivators of the Cold Moon City that was destroyed by Tang Zhen used specially cultivated bodies to fight. The bodies of the residents of this national-level city were actually energy life forms similar to spirit bodies!

Another example was the Holy Dragon city's travelers. They also used lodging to control their bodies, and their original bodies were also just souls that had been transported here!

The alien race in front of him had a physical body inside the giant's body. Although there were some differences, they were still the same.

Tang Zhen could imagine that before this building was destroyed, countless huge and terrifying figures would appear the moment they went into battle. After which, they would launch attacks at the enemy. Just thinking about that scene would cause one to be shocked!

According to Tang Zhen's estimation, the level of this building was definitely not lower than that of a national level. It was definitely not even a one-star national level building. Otherwise, even if these Giants were huge, it was absolutely impossible to have such a scale.

But the question was, how did someone destroy such a powerful building?

Tang Zhen carefully observed the strange-looking bodies of the cultivators from loucheng and found that they didn't have the kind of mycelium that could control the bodies. It was obviously impossible for them to suddenly climb up and attack Tang Zhen like the corpses he had just seen.

After observing for a while, Tang Zhen turned around and continued to walk toward the center of the ruins.

As they gradually went deeper, the traces of battle in the surroundings became more and more obvious. Tang Zhen even saw some huge metal remains scattered among the ruins. The surface had mottled rust and traces of damage.

Through the thick technological aura on the metal wreckage, Tang Zhen could confirm that these things were definitely not products of the loucheng world.

Could it be that the tower of Giants was destroyed by these metal wreckages? but where did they come from?

Could it be that when the foreign race's Tower invaded the other world, these metal objects defeated the giant tower and then returned the attack?

It was not impossible. Moreover, the probability of this happening was rather high. Just the similar incidents that Tang Zhen had heard of had already happened more than once!

Cultivators of loucheng were not invincible. In the process of invading other worlds, many loucheng of a country had been destroyed or half-destroyed, so this was not new.

However, most of the foreign world's Aborigines who were killed in retaliation were made of flesh and blood. Once they entered the world of towers, they would instantly become similar to monsters and could not live normally in this world.

This was the restriction that the world of loucheng imposed on the foreign creatures. They could only become the stepping stones of the cultivators in the world of loucheng, and eventually, they would be killed!

However, he wondered if the existence of metal structures could avoid the restrictions of this law.

However, Tang Zhen felt that the possibility of this was not high. After all, the Justice of the heavens was long and loose. The laws of this world were extremely powerful. How could it leave behind such an obvious loophole?

It must be noted that the indigenous people who had flesh and blood, as well as carbon-based life forms, only occupied a small part of the countless foreign worlds. Other than that, there were also countless strange special life forms.

When the world of loucheng invaded these places, it was impossible for them to not take precautions against this!

Tang Zhen casually put a few pieces of metal remains into his storage space. He was prepared to return to Holy Dragon City to study them properly. He might be able to discover something interesting.

It was unknown how many years these ruins had existed. The signs of erosion by the wind and rain were extremely obvious. Many of the traces that could help Tang Zhen in his analysis had long disappeared.

Just as Tang Zhen was preparing to continue deeper into the ruins to see if there were any other good things, he had just taken a step forward when the battle interface that had been open all along suddenly turned red, indicating that Tang Zhen was in danger.

Tang Zhen's heart was startled. He immediately withdrew his foot. The original red warning also disappeared.

Tang Zhen swept his eyes over the road in front of him. He only saw broken rocks and small pieces of metal. However, he did not see any danger.

Could it be that there was something invisible that would suddenly attack him the moment he got close?

When Tang Zhen thought of this, he once again tried to take a step forward. As expected, he once again received a Red Alert, indicating that the area ahead was extremely dangerous!

After frowning and pondering for a moment, Zhen Tang suddenly opened the App Store on his phone. He searched for a while and found an application.

[ nano vision, can improve the naked eye's vision to the extreme, and can clearly distinguish the details of items no less than 0.1 nanometers in length. Download price: 100000 brain beads! ]

After reading the introduction, he quickly downloaded and installed it. Tang Zhen used the little energy in his body to start it and immediately looked at the open space in front of him.

At this moment, the world that appeared in Tang Zhen's eyes immediately became incomparably wondrous. Countless things that could not be seen with the naked eye appeared on the originally empty ground in an instant.

The strange-looking dust in the air, the strange-looking microorganisms, the ravines on the rock and metal surface, and the super-small robots that were gathered together and looked like ants!

It was also the presence of these countless nanomachines that had gathered together that caused Tang Zhen to receive a series of red alarms, warning him not to continue advancing.

Once these invisible weapons that were invisible to the naked eye launched an attack, Tang Zhen would definitely not be able to react in time. He might even be seriously injured!

After carefully observing these nano battle robots, Tang Zhen took a deep breath and a thought faintly flashed in his mind.

If he could control these nanomachines, it would definitely be of great help to him when he did certain things in the future!

Moreover, these nano battle robots were extremely precious. For Tang Zhen and the Holy Dragon city's scientific researchers, they had extremely high research value.

When Tang Zhen thought of this, he immediately activated the [ all-purpose electronic kit ] and began to try to connect to these nanomachines to see if he could crack their control system.

According to Tang Zhen's estimation, these nano-battle robots should be in a dormant state and would only counterattack after being attacked. Otherwise, it would be impossible for them to survive in the ruins for countless years.

The foreign cultivators who had entered this place by mistake must have alarmed the hibernating nanomachines, which was why they had disappeared without a trace. No one knew the specific cause of death.

This strange way of dying made people feel horrified. After a long time, naturally, no one dared to enter this place to seek death!

Therefore, as long as they didn't disturb these nano battle robots, which were in a dormant state to save energy, they would definitely not launch an attack. After all, any machine needed energy to support it. Otherwise, it would just be a pile of useless scrap metal!

Chapter 784 for personal use (1)

Tang Zhen had a better understanding of the [ all-purpose electronic kit ] and knew that its abilities were extremely powerful. It could even crack the controls of a super warship like the teroboros in an extremely short time.

It could be said that this application was far more terrifying than nuclear weapons. As long as its functions were utilized well, Tang Zhen was even confident that he could paralyze a technological world within an hour!

Moreover, the more technology a world relied on, the greater the losses it would suffer!

On the other hand, only worlds that were similar to the world of loucheng, which relied on energy to increase their own strength and did not rely too much on technological items, or even worlds that did not have any technological items at all, could avoid the destruction of this application!

However, he did not know if there were any technological items in the foreign world that Holy Dragon City had invaded after it had been upgraded to a national level.

Of course, Tang Zhen did not need to think too much about these things now. After all, the Holy Dragon city's level was not high enough to accept the mission to invade the other world.

Although there were benefits to making early preparations, if one considered too much, it would instead cause one to be overcautious and cause one's spirit to be thwarted.

Therefore, what he was concerned about now was whether he could take these nano fighting robots for his own use.

Just as the [ universal electronic kit ] was trying to connect to the nanomachines, the nanomachines that had been in a dormant state suddenly had a subtle reaction!

They began to wriggle and touch each other, as if they were communicating with each other through some special means.

In fact, the structure of these nanomachines was simple. They were made entirely of modular assembly and did not possess a high level of thinking ability.

The nanomachines could be seen as a whole, but they could also be seen as countless individual units, because they had a special way of thinking.

They thought and judged in a way similar to brainstorming, gathering countless simple " thoughts " together. At the same time, they filtered the results of these thoughts and analyses, thus choosing the most reasonable behavior.

Compared to the chaotic and unclear thoughts of living beings, the thoughts of these nanomachines were simple and clear. Almost every thought could be clearly and specifically reflected.

Even King level cultivators couldn't do this!

After a decision was made, the nanomachines would start moving as a group and execute their predetermined goal without fail.

Therefore, before launching an attack or taking any action, these nanomachines had to communicate.

Without such communication, these nanomachines were like a pile of loose sand, and there was nothing to fear!

Therefore, based on this principle, the [ universal electronic kit ] only needed to hack into one nanomachine and take full control of it to complete the invasion of the whole group of nanomachines.

After that, as long as he infected the nanomachines through communication and strengthened his control over them to a level far beyond that of other nanomachines, these nanomachines would habitually accept and copy the results of the same judgment without having their own consciousness.

This [ all-purpose electronic kit ] didn't disappoint Tang Zhen. It didn't take long for him to successfully crack the control of a nanomachine.

Then, with the nanomachine as the center, the [ universal electronic kit ] began hacking and controlling the nanomachine at high speed.

The next step was extremely fast, and it was completed in the blink of an eye.

In just a few breaths 'time, Tang Zhen had successfully taken control of this batch of nanomachines.

Although these nanomachines were invisible to the naked eye, their numbers were astonishing. Even with his Nanovision, he still couldn't count the exact number of these nanomachines.

However, Tang Zhen still made a rough estimate. The result he obtained was that it would cost at least hundreds of millions!

With such a large number of nanomachines acting in unison, the power they possessed was definitely not to be underestimated.

Just thinking about the damage these nanomachines would cause to the body once they entered it was enough to send shivers down one's spine.

Fortunately, these nanomachines were already under his control. Even if they were to attack, they would only attack his enemies.

Relying on the control of the [ universal electronic tool kit ], Tang Zhen connected his brain waves with these nanomachines and smoothly controlled them to attach to his wrist, forming an extremely inconspicuous metal wire.

A trace of anticipation surged within Tang Zhen's eyes as he glanced at the ruins in front of him that were still covered by a thick fog. He began to continue advancing toward the deeper parts of the ruins.

Just as Tang Zhen was heading deeper into the center of the ruins, the group of foreign race cultivators had finally arrived at the edge of the ruins.

However, when they looked at the huge ruins that were surrounded by clouds, they more or less revealed a trace of hesitation on their faces.

These foreign cultivators had basically heard of the rumors about this area. They knew that after entering this place, cultivators would often suddenly die for no reason.

There was no lack of high-level cultivators among the dead, and the most annoying thing was that the cause of their deaths was unknown.

In addition, there were all kinds of strange monsters here. If one was not careful, one could die Here.

Even with their extremely high cultivation, they were still extremely repulsed by such a dangerous place with nothing good. They would not take the risk to enter it unless it was absolutely necessary.

Just as they were hesitating and considering whether to enter, the two-star King tier once again took out the miniature version of the anti-magic disc in his hand.

As the miniature version of the anti-demon plate shot out a ray of green light, everyone raised their heads in unison to find the location of the light pillar.

At this moment, the cultivators realized that the light pillar of the demon inhibition board had been shrouded by endless clouds. After watching for a long time, they finally found a trace in the gap between the clouds!

The position of the light pillar was extremely far from the edge of the ruins. It was obvious that Tang Zhen had already walked toward the center of the ruins.

“Damn bastard, he’s been walking in the ruins for so long, why is he still fine?”

Could it be that he has some special method that we don’t know about to avoid the danger here?”

The foreign cultivators, who were well aware of the danger of this place, could not help but curse softly upon seeing this. It was obvious that they hated Tang Zhen’s actions.

As such, if they wanted to continue killing, they would have to follow him and enter the ruins together.

Even if Tang Zhen really died there, they would have to retrieve his body and items with their own hands.

Therefore, no matter what, they had to enter the ruins unless they did not want the things on Tang Zhen’s body and gave up on this robbery and killing operation.

The two-star King tier hesitated for a moment. He looked at the huge ruins in front of him and slowly said, “We don’t have much choice right now. Even if this place is extremely dangerous, we have to go in!

In my opinion, everyone’s strength is by no means comparable to ordinary cultivators. Even if we encounter danger in the ruins, we definitely have all kinds of means to avoid injury.

Therefore, even if he entered, he should be able to retreat safely!

you might have been frightened by the rumors here, but do you know that rumors can be exaggerated and untrue? if you don’t go there personally, how can you know if they are true or false?

I won’t force you, but if you want to go in, follow me. I won’t mistreat you after this.

As for those who didn’t dare to enter, they were in charge of guarding the outside in case Tang Zhen returned.

However, in my opinion, the chances of Tang Zhen returning from here are very slim. Thus, waiting is a waste.

On the contrary, it’s better to track the traces of the devil suppressing plate. That way, we might be able to catch up to Tang Zhen and kill him!”

After saying this, the two-star King tier no longer paid any attention to the crowd. He directly walked into the ruins, and his figure disappeared in a flash.

The remaining non-human cultivators looked at each other and hesitated for a moment. Most of them followed the two-star King tier and quickly walked into the ruins.

Chapter 785 group of cultivators fighting against dried corpses

The benefits of killing Tang Zhen were too rich, and the foreign cultivators present were not willing to give up so easily. Therefore, after some consideration, they chose to enter the ruins and continue the pursuit.

However, there were a few cultivators who chose to stay where they were, ignoring the mocking gazes of others.

In their opinion, instead of taking the risk of entering this dangerous area and bearing the threat of death at any time, it was better to give up on this operation.

With the existence of those three two-star King tiers, even if they really killed Tang Zhen, the greatest benefits would not fall on their heads. At most, they would only be able to share some of the soup with some oil.

However, this mouthful of soup was a little hot, and if he was not careful, he would lose his life, so it was not worth it.

Their way of thinking was still considered rational, but in the face of the temptation of huge benefits, those who could remain clear-headed were still very few.

At this time, the alien cultivators who followed the two-star King into the ruins were soon attacked by the first group of enemies. They were the strange mummies with mycelium growing on the surface of their bodies.

However, these foreign cultivators were a little unlucky. When Tang Zhen was cleaning up the mummies, only a few dozen of them were awakened, and they were all monsters that had not reached the Lord tier.

As for the other mummies that had accumulated over the years, they were not disturbed and were still in deep sleep.

However, his actions just now were like poking a hornet's nest. Although he was fine, the people who came later would be in trouble.

This was because the mummies that he had repelled had inadvertently awakened more mummies while they were fleeing in chaos. At this moment, they were wandering aimlessly in the clouds.

Now that a large number of foreign cultivators had entered the ruins, the surging blood Qi that had inadvertently seeped out of the cultivators immediately attracted the blank mummies.

Affected by the mycelium that was highly sensitive to blood and parasites in the mummies, the mummies were like bloodthirsty wolves. They kept emerging from the ruins and fog, surrounding the foreign cultivators.

Because they couldn't feel pain or fear death, the mummies controlled by the mycelium were extremely crazy.

The momentum of the incoming attacks made the foreign cultivators extremely frightened. They quickly used all kinds of methods to cut the mummies into pieces!

However, what made them feel uneasy was that the mummified monsters seemed to be impossible to kill, and their numbers were still increasing.

Because of the clouds, the exact number of mummies could not be counted, but looking at the tide-like scale, it was definitely not a small number!

In addition to their terrifying numbers, their immortality was what gave the foreign cultivators the most headache.

As countless mummified monsters were killed, the broken pieces of the corpses on the ground had piled up like a mountain. However, under the control of the mycelium, they fused together to form huge, strange-looking monsters.

The biggest monster among them looked like a 100-meter-long Human Centipede. It was rolling around among the mummies and attacking the alien cultivators.

Other than the ordinary mummies and mutated mummies, some special mummies that were hidden in the ruins suddenly jumped out and launched a fierce attack on the cultivators!

These special mummies were all at least Lord-tier, and not only did they come in different forms, but their attacks were also different.

They either spat out poisonous smoke or jumped around like flies, appearing and disappearing unpredictably under the cover of the clouds and fog, causing the cultivators to be flustered.

“Shua, shua shua shua”

A series of heavy footsteps could be heard. Then, a huge black shadow broke through the clouds and headed straight for the foreign cultivators.

The cultivators looked at the giant, horned, mummified corpse that was more than thirty meters tall and covered in long, thick mycelium. They all groaned in their hearts.

However, there was no way to retreat now. They could only brace themselves and charge forward, tangling with the mummies.

It could be said that the current situation was extremely disadvantageous to these foreign cultivators. Although they had the advantage in level, the only effect they had against these fearless mummified monsters was to increase their damage numbers.

Unfortunately, these monsters could not be killed at all. On the contrary, the more they died, the more powerful they became, and the harder it was to kill them!

Under such circumstances, it didn't take long for a few Lord cultivators to be torn into pieces by these mummified monsters due to their carelessness!

The rest of the non-human cultivators felt a chill in their hearts as they knew that they would end up in the same situation if the stalemate continued!

The leading two-star King tier was currently surrounding the giant mummified corpse with several other King level cultivators. Saber Light flickered as skills were unleashed, landing on the surface of the giant mummified corpse's body.

For a moment, rotten flesh and blood filled the air. The deep white bones were soon exposed on the surface of the giant mummified corpse's body, looking extremely ferocious.

The fungi that were hidden in the giant mummies were revealed at this moment. They had noses and eyes, looking like ugly heads covered in black mycelium.

"Attack those ghostly things and see if we can burn them!"

kill! the leading two-star King tier gave the order, and a non-human cultivator activated his skill. A fire Dragon shot toward the bacteria in the abdomen.

The moment the fire Dragon touched the fungi, it immediately burst into flames like dry wood. At the same time, an extremely foul smell spread in all directions.

The burning fungi shrieked at the same time, causing the mummies that were attacking the other non-human cultivators to stop.

Then, the mummies gave up on the struggling foreign cultivators and rushed towards the giant mummified corpse. They pounced on the flames on the mummified corpse.

Perhaps fire was the nemesis of the mycelium. As soon as the mummies came into contact with the fire, they immediately burst into flames and turned into huge fireballs, screaming in pain.

From time to time, a dried corpse would fall to the ground and turn into black smoke. With a light step, it would turn into powder.

Even so, the mummies still pounced on the giant's body one after another, using their bodies to put out the flames.

The giant corpse no longer bothered the cultivators. Instead, it turned around and left the battlefield, quickly running into the depths of the clouds!

As for the other mummies, they quickly formed a wall of corpses to block the foreign cultivators. Then, they slowly retreated until they completely disappeared.

The cultivators looked at the charred corpses scattered on the ground and heard the unwilling roar of the giant corpse in the thick fog. Their faces were frighteningly gloomy.

Chapter 786 The battlefield and the distress signal (1)

In the fog-filled ruins, Tang Zhen continued to move forward. From time to time, he would wave his saber and directly smash some mechanical monsters into pieces!

These mechanical monsters were actually the handiwork of the nanomachines that had lost control and mutated. They used their own abilities to repair some machines, and then continuously optimized and combined, finally forming one mechanical monster after another.

As nanomachines lacked creativity, the mechanical monsters they created were all sorts of strange. Perhaps even these nanomachines did not know what these mechanical monsters were used for.

They were only inflexible in doing what they thought they should do, and didn't need to consider other problems at all!

Fortunately, this situation happened in the world of loucheng. If the original world encountered a similar situation, it would not take long for it to be completely chaotic!

After thinking that these mutated nanomachines might be useful, Tang Zhen also collected a batch of them. Then, he used a special method to seal them and threw them into his storage space.

After finishing all of this, Tang Zhen raised his head and glanced at the anti-magic compass above his head. He discovered that it had just shot another light pillar into the sky.

This was obviously the method used by the foreign cultivators to locate the position of the light pillar and then track him.

Based on their speed, these guys should have reached the ruins, or they might have already rushed in!

With the greed of these foreign cultivators, they would not easily give up on their pursuit of him. Even if this place was full of fatal dangers, they would still choose to take the risk and enter.

Tang Zhen was extremely certain of this!

It wasn't that Tang Zhen was looking at the foreign races with colored glasses, but that they really respected the law of the jungle. In the world of loucheng, if you saw a foreign race's loucheng that didn't take advantage of the situation, then you must think about whether they were brewing some plot.

Under normal circumstances, when these foreign races were fighting for benefits, they didn't even care about their faces and would often fight with their swords!

Tang Zhen involuntarily let out a cold laugh when he thought of this. If this group of people wanted to catch up to him, they would have to hide from the hidden killing intent in this place. Just the nano battle robots that could be seen everywhere in the vicinity was enough to cause trouble for these foreign race cultivators.

He estimated that by the time they caught up to him, they would be in a sorry state, and casualties would be inevitable.

Tang Zhen, who didn't know that those foreign cultivators had already been turned into a miserable state by the mummified corpses, decided to let them have a taste of the taste of the Super bomb. It would surely leave an unforgettable memory for these foreign cultivators!

Of course, the prerequisite was that they could leave this place alive.

After walking for a distance, Tang Zhen had already arrived at a huge open space in the ruins.

He looked at the area in front of him with a faint look of shock in his eyes as he slowly walked over.

Compared to the thick clouds outside the ruins, the field of vision in this area was very wide. Other than the pot-like cloud cover above their heads, they could see everything on the ground clearly.

It was precisely because of this that Tang Zhen was able to see the scenery here clearly. He also felt that it was unbelievable.

It turned out that on this piece of land that was more than a hundred hectares in area, there were huge skeletons scattered everywhere. There were also metal objects that looked like mechas but had long been scattered. They were entangled with the White bones and lay quietly on this desolate and uninhabited land.

Red, viscous-like clouds were emitting a terrifyingly high temperature. They were swimming around a few meters above the ground. Perhaps it was because of their existence that there were no clouds in the area.

Tang Zhen swept his eyes over the high temperature object and discovered that it was actually an extremely fine powder. However, for some unknown reason, it continued to burn, causing this powder to become extremely viscous, much like magma.

Once one's body was contaminated with this thing, it would be impossible to wipe it off until they were burned to ashes!

It was obvious that this was a battlefield. The cultivators in this building had a life-and-death battle with the metal Invaders. After the battle, corpses were strewn all over the ground, and no one could take care of them.

If Tang Zhen's guess was correct, the result of this battle wasn't good. No matter if it was the cultivators in the tower or the metal Invaders, they didn't obtain victory in the end and only ended up with both sides suffering heavy losses!

Even if there were some lucky survivors, they would have been drowned in the long river of time after countless years.

Tang Zhen stood on the spot and sized it up for a moment. He lowered his head and swept his eyes over the barren ground before slowly squatting down.

He reached out and brushed away the soil on the ground. Immediately, a metal object was revealed before Tang Zhen's eyes. It was like a carrot that had been inserted into the soil. It looked completely intact, but its surface had a slight rust.

Tang Zhen gently took it out. He examined it for a moment before throwing it far away.

"BOOM!"

After the metal object fell to the ground, there was a muffled sound. Then, the space within a 50-meter radius collapsed, forming a dark vacuum.

The bones and metal wreckage in the area were all crushed into thin sheets of paper. As the vacuum area returned to normal, they slowly drifted to the ground.

This kind of terrifying killing effect caused Tang Zhen to be unable to help but be speechless.

Obviously, the area affected by the explosion had been directly compressed into a flat surface. If one was in it, they would not be able to escape!

The only question was, would a King level master have the chance to escape in the face of this attack?

Tang Zhen really wanted to see the actual combat effect of this kind of weapon. Therefore, he activated the application and carefully searched. Very quickly, he found three similar weapons among the corpses and metal debris.

After confirming that there were no more of these special bombs, Tang Zhen stopped the search.

However, while he was searching, Tang Zhen also discovered many nanomachines. They were scattered in different areas of the battlefield and were also in a dormant state.

If these nanomachines were all gathered together, no matter how small they were, they could still form a metallic tide of death that could be seen with the naked eye. Wherever they passed by, buildings would collapse, and all living things would be turned to dust!

However, after the Great War back then, these nanomachines had also suffered heavy losses. The batch that Tang Zhen was seeing now was probably the batch that had survived that year.

Looking at these nanomachines, Tang Zhen couldn't help but have a sudden thought. He wondered if he could use them to break through the defense of the anti-magic disc and destroy the runic magic circle that it was operating.

However, when he thought of the terrifying vibration released by the anti-magic disc, Tang Zhen could only shake his head and dispel this thought. This was because even these nanomachines might not be able to withstand such a vibration and would instantly turn into metal dust!

Tang Zhen carefully avoided the hibernating nanomachines and went around the ruins. He carefully searched again but did not find anything of value.

This situation was quite normal. After all, this battlefield had existed for countless years. Many items could not withstand the erosion of time, so it was normal for them to decay and disappear.

Moreover, this place had probably been searched by Lou Cheng's cultivators more than once. Even if there were any good things here, they would have been found and taken away long ago!

After Tang Zhen thought of this, he prepared to leave this place. At the same time, he was thinking of how to set up a killing trap and get rid of those foreign race cultivators who were still lingering behind him.

However, Tang Zhen had just lifted his foot when a set of words suddenly popped up in front of his eyes. It showed that he had just found a group of distress signals!

According to the positioning of the signal, the item that sent out the distress signal was located in front of him.

Tang Zhen was slightly startled when he saw this. A trace of bewilderment was immediately revealed on his face as he slowly walked toward the area where the signal was emitted.

After going around a huge pile of bones, Tang Zhen saw a huge deep pit with a diameter of one kilometer and a depth of dozens of meters. The bottom of the pit was filled with black liquid that was now in a semi-solidified state.

A strong stench was slowly drifting out from the deep pit.

Tang Zhen once again checked the holographic battle interface. After confirming that the distress signal was coming from the bottom of the smelly giant pit, he took out the underwater breathing monster and put it on his mouth. Then, he slowly walked down the slope.

Chapter 787 Humanoid robot (1)

The closer they got to the bottom of the pit, the more obvious the rancid smell became. It was so bad that they would inevitably vomit after smelling it.

Tang Zhen had been to many places with strange smells. However, no matter which place it was, it was not as pungent as this place.

Fortunately, Tang Zhen had the underwater breathing insect with him. After being filtered by it, the stench had become extremely light. At the same time, a faint smell of blood had also appeared.

Perhaps the black filth in the giant pit was actually the blood that had flowed and accumulated after the war!

However, who knew how much blood would be shed to accumulate to the size of this Lake?

Tang Zhen was suddenly a little curious. Just what kind of thing was hiding at the bottom of this blood pool? moreover, it was still continuously sending out distress signals even after such a long time had passed.

If it wasn't for the application that he had opened to search for this set of signals, no one would have discovered the existence of this signal in the world of Loucheng, a place that was almost cut off from technology!

Not long after, Tang Zhen had already reached the bottom of the huge pit. After sweeping his gaze over the black liquid, he casually released the tree spirit chain.

A green light shot out from Tang Zhen's hand and quickly pierced into the black liquid. It went straight to the location where the signal was sent.

His mental energy extended along the chains and Tang Zhen quickly sensed that there was an object at the center of the pit. It seemed to be deeply embedded in the mud.

Just as he was about to control the tree spirit chain to drag this object back, Tang Zhen felt that the energy supply in his body had stagnated before it was completely exhausted.

The tree spirit chain, which had been shaking perfectly straight, immediately softened at this moment and quickly retracted back into the necklace.

Tang Zhen laughed bitterly when he saw this. He swept his gaze over the enormous pit that was filled with dirty blood. After properly hiding the little monster, he directly leaped down.

The energy in his body had been completely consumed, and the only thing he could rely on was his mental power and physical strength.

Unfortunately, with his current mental strength, he was still unable to drag an object out from the liquid that was dozens of meters deep. If he relied on his physical strength, he would have to get close to the object.

Therefore, if Tang Zhen wanted to figure out the truth of the matter, he had to jump into the bottom of this rotten blood pool. There was no other way!

After entering the blood pool, Tang Zhen immediately felt a sticky liquid hit his face. Fortunately, he had mental power to protect the surface of his body, making it impossible for the dirt to stain his body.

The viscosity of this blood pool was extremely high. Tang Zhen felt as though he was swimming in a paste. He had to expend a great deal of effort before he could reach the location where the signal was sent.

Since it was impossible to see anything at the bottom of the blood pool, Tang Zhen was unable to look at it in detail. Instead, he pulled the object and directly activated the transmission function!

Although the energy in his body had been completely exhausted, each teleportation required a very small amount of brain pearls for the teleportation function. It did not require energy support at all, so Tang Zhen easily returned to his original world.

The anti-magic compass began to spin rapidly, and intermittent pillars of light shot into the sky, as if warning the king holding the control compass!

"Bang!"

A muffled sound was heard. In a secret room in the original world that was specially used for Tang Zhen to rest and teleport, there was a sudden crashing sound.

After the security guards at the entrance heard this sound, they knew that Tang Zhen had returned to his original world. Otherwise, this secret room that ordinary people were not allowed to enter would definitely not emit such a sound.

Although they were very curious as to why Tang Zhen had created such a big commotion, the security personnel did not dare to check because of the order. They could only suppress the curiosity in their hearts and continue to stand guard outside the door.

At this moment, Tang Zhen had already turned on the ventilation system and sucked out the rancid smell that was drifting in the secret room.

He slowly sat down on the chair and carefully observed the items he had brought back, his eyes full of curiosity.

Before he brought this thing back, Tang Zhen would never have thought that the object that sent out the distress signal was actually a humanoid robot!

Its appearance was similar to a human's, about 1.8 meters tall, and its whole body exuded a faint metallic luster.

At this moment, it was thrown on the ground and didn't have the slightest reaction at all. If it wasn't for the fact that it was still sending a distress signal, Tang Zhen would have even treated it as a piece of human-shaped scrap metal!

Putting aside the material of the robot, its appearance was actually very similar to cultivator Lou Cheng's.

The metal armor that it had been wearing had long since been corroded by the blood in the pool, leaving only a few items that could still be seen, but it was unknown if they could be used.

He reached out and touched the surface of the robot's body. Tang Zhen discovered that the metal skin was extremely soft, almost similar to real skin.

However, Tang Zhen was extremely clear that the reason for such a situation to occur was because the material and structure of this metal skin were extremely special. It could be said that its skin was completely woven.

Moreover, this seemingly soft skin actually possessed an extremely shocking toughness. Ordinary bullets could not penetrate it at all!

Even if it was pierced through, this special metal skin could still react quickly. While expelling foreign substances, it could also quickly repair the damaged parts like a piece of cloth!

At the same time, when needed, this skin could also turn into liquid and quickly form various not-so-complicated objects, such as a simple miniature missile launcher!

The reason why Tang Zhen knew about this was because there was a similar item in the terobo technology.

He opened the metal bullet bag on the robot's waist and took out a metal bullet about 10 centimeters long. After taking a closer look, he put it all into the storage space.

This was the weapon used by the robots. It could be fired through a launcher formed by metal skin, but the specific power was still unknown.

However, to be on the safe side, he still decided to put it away in case it accidentally detonated.

Tang Zhen slowly sat on the chair and began to think with rapt attention.

It had not been long since he returned to his original world when Tang Zhen could already feel the dried up energy in his body recovering at an extremely slow speed.

Although there was energy in the space of the original world, the amount was extremely thin. Tang Zhen estimated that it would take at least three days for him to return to his normal state.

If he was in the tower world, Tang Zhen estimated that he would only need about half an hour to recover to his original state!

However, there was the anti-demon plate in the world of loucheng. It would be a waste for Tang Zhen to go back. It was better to stay in the original world for a few days and wait for the energy in his body to be full. Then, he would go back and settle the score with the group of foreign cultivators.

After they returned, Tang Zhen would definitely not let them off easily!

Using this recovery time, Tang Zhen was prepared to deal with the accumulated matters. At the same time, he also planned to upgrade the application store again!

Tang Zhen had always felt that his hands and feet were tied when he upgraded the application store last time. This was because while many commonly used applications could be upgraded, there were also some upgrade restrictions.

If Tang Zhen did not have the corresponding item to level up, he would not be able to continue using it. This also severely limited the increase in his strength.

Otherwise, with Tang Zhen's method, he would have already upgraded his map-type application to the point where it could not be upgraded. Why would he be restricted to a range of several hundred kilometers like now?

Chapter 788 Cracking, origin (1)

There were many things to do this time, but the most important thing at the moment was to deal with this humanoid robot of unknown origin.

Since this thing came from the metal Invader who had invaded the world of loucheng, it definitely possessed a combat strength that could not be underestimated. If it were to go out of control, it would definitely bring Tang Zhen quite a bit of trouble.

Even if Tang Zhen had the confidence to subdue him, there was a need to eliminate the hidden danger as much as possible.

Therefore, the best way was to turn off its distress signal, then clear the data command that it was originally executing, and then enter a new command, so that it would be under his control!

After thinking up to this point, Tang Zhen immediately activated the [ all-purpose electronic kit ] and directly began to hack through the space!

To be on the safe side, Tang Zhen also used the energy that he had just accumulated in his body to control the tree spirit chain to firmly bind the robot in order to prevent it from suddenly waking up and resisting.

As the application started the decoding process, Tang Zhen saw the robot, whose eyes were originally closed, tremble slightly. Then, it suddenly opened its eyes.

At the same time, its metal head also suddenly turned towards Tang Zhen and stared unwaveringly at him.

A series of muffled sounds came out of the robot's mouth. Perhaps because its vocal organs had been damaged, it had only spoken a few words before a black, stinky liquid spurted out of its mouth.

The robot that was originally able to make a muffled sound had completely stopped moving at this moment. It only coldly looked at Tang Zhen without any emotion in its eyes.

At the same time, a strange cursor quickly appeared in the middle of the robot's forehead. It was probably the badge of the organization it belonged to.

Tang Zhen was not interested in this badge. Instead, he was staring intently at the robot's reaction. Once it made any strange movements, Tang Zhen would immediately destroy it!

Although this robot wasn't a cultivator, Tang Zhen felt that its combat power shouldn't be inferior to King grade cultivators. Otherwise, it wouldn't have survived the destructive battle!

Even though it was severely damaged, its destructive power was still not to be underestimated.

At this moment, the robot had clearly recovered from its dormant state and realized that it was being invaded. Therefore, its struggle was extremely obvious, and its eyes were constantly flashing with a dangerous red light.

After seeing this scene, Tang Zhen even had some doubts. Would this thing directly choose to self-destruct after failing to resist the invasion and die together with the enemy?

If that situation really happened, Tang Zhen would definitely throw him into the dark World in an instant to prevent the area he was in from being affected.

As for whether the spirit bodies of the original world would be affected, that was not something that Tang Zhen had to consider.

Fortunately, such a situation did not occur. Perhaps it was because the robot had suffered too heavy of an injury that it was unable to resist.

Or perhaps the [ universal electronic kit ] had eliminated all the hidden dangers the moment he hacked into the robot, so even after the red light in the robot's eyes disappeared, there were no changes.

Tang Zhen was relieved as he looked at the robot that was lying quietly on the ground and staring at the ceiling in a daze. He began to browse the specific data of the robot that he had just obtained.

Perhaps it was for the purpose of hiding itself, but from the data derived from this robot, Tang Zhen did not discover its specific origin. He only knew that it belonged to a special robot combat Army from a certain foreign world.

The brutal battle back then was indeed the doing of this Army of robots!

At the beginning of the giant's invasion, this robot had participated in the resistance operation until the alien race's Tower was defeated.

After the final battle began, the robot army commander it was in charged straight in. Before the national-level tower was defeated and returned, it successfully rushed into the tower and came to the world of towers with it.

The robot army that had lost their support had to fight with their backs to the wall. Although they had completed their mission and destroyed the giant tower, they had also been completely destroyed.

At the last moment of the battle, the mainframe in charge of commanding the Army saw that they had run out of ammunition and supplies, and decisively detonated the special bomb they carried. After killing the remaining enemies, it also turned the alien city into a death zone shrouded in clouds.

Tang Zhen came to a sudden realization when he saw this. It turned out that the mist in the ruins was not simple.

The thick clouds contained the metal dust from the explosion of the special bomb, which never dispersed.

The metal dust could effectively slow down the corrosion and oxidation rate of metal objects. It was equivalent to a special maintenance oil, so that the metal remains would not decay even after thousands of years!

The purpose of this was to ensure that when future allies arrived, they could get the corpses of their " comrades " that had not yet rotted. There was even a great possibility of " resurrecting " these corpses!

However, they did not know how difficult it was to enter the world of towers. Therefore, they were doomed to not be able to wait for their allies to arrive before they decayed!

After understanding the general record of the battle, Tang Zhen began to check the specific functional data of the robot.

Only after looking at it did Tang Zhen discover that the specific functions of this robot were only used for reconnaissance and destruction work behind the enemy. It was not the kind of main battle robot.

However, it was also because of this that its functions were very comprehensive, and its survival ability was also quite strong. Even when it was knocked into the blood pool in the battle back then, it was still not damaged. Instead, it had been in a dormant state until now.

While it was hibernating, it also continued to send out distress signals and provide specific coordinates for its allies so that they could determine their location.

After analyzing all the abilities of this reconnaissance robot, Tang Zhen realized that many of the abilities were very practical. For example, the ability to freely change form, the analysis and simulation of sound and movement, and the ability to work 24/7. Tang Zhen could basically use all of these abilities.

Of course, compared to Tang Zhen's similar functions, this robot's functions were still a little inferior. However, there were some functions that Tang Zhen currently did not have. They could be put to use at a critical moment.

Moreover, the most important point was that after Tang Zhen took control of the reconnaissance robot, he could completely command the robot to do certain things and prevent it from running errands.

However, the robot's energy reserve was almost exhausted. Tang Zhen had to find a similar energy source to fill it up. Only then could the robot begin to slowly repair itself. Otherwise, it would not be able to function normally.

When he thought of this, Tang Zhen immediately issued an order and controlled the robot to stand up and approach him.

At the same time, a flame shot out from Tang Zhen's hand and burned the robot, completely removing the dirt on the surface.

When the robot came into contact with Tang Zhen's body, an extremely magical scene appeared. This was because the robot slowly covered the surface of Tang Zhen's body and turned into a special battle armor according to the outline of his body!

As long as Tang Zhen willed it, this battle armor could also change its shape and form into something similar to a windbreaker or a long robe. It could even be separated under Tang Zhen's command and re-condense into the form of a robot!

Tang Zhen did not feel any discomfort after moving his body. He also did not feel that much weight had been added to his body. At most, it was not even a hundred kilograms.

To the current Tang Zhen, this little bit of weight was simply nothing!

After taking care of the unknown Scout robot, Tang Zhen made some preparations and decided to start upgrading the mobile application store!

Chapter 789 An unexpected situation (1)

After instructing the guards at the door not to disturb him, Tang Zhen began to prepare to upgrade the application store.

It had been a long time since the last upgrade. Although Tang Zhen had already saved up enough brain beads to upgrade, he still did not choose to upgrade.

After all, after the last upgrade, some restrictions were suddenly added when upgrading the application store. This caused Tang Zhen to feel uncertain in his heart. He had a slight resistance to upgrading the application store again.

After all, this thing was the foundation of his life. The main reason why he could get to where he was today was because of it.

Therefore, every small change in the App Store would directly affect Zhen Tang and even his future decisions.

Therefore, Tang Zhen was very cautious about the matter of upgrading. He was afraid that after another upgrade, the application store would have some restrictions or arrange some extremely difficult tasks for him.

Of course, the possibility of this happening was extremely low. However, nothing was absolute in this world. Who could guarantee that it would not happen?

However, some things were destined to be unavoidable. After all, Tang Zhen was already a two-star King tier. The world he came into contact with had become wider and more mysterious. His enemies had also become stronger.

As a result, many of the applications that once seemed very powerful now seemed to be of little value, so he really needed more powerful applications so that he could still maintain a crushing state against his enemies.

This way, not only would Tang Zhen benefit, but the Holy Dragon City would also develop rapidly!

For example, the [ dark world stealth ] that he often used against his enemies. Although most cultivators didn't know about the existence of this special world, they couldn't enter this world that could only be entered by special energy forms. Even if they entered, they would be rejected and eroded.

Tang Zhen had relied on this application to defeat many strong enemies. The [ dark world stealth technique ] was the main reason why he had destroyed Cold Moon Tower!

However, as the enemies he encountered became stronger and stronger, some powerful King level cultivators could discover his existence and even lock onto his position when Tang Zhen hid among them. As a result, Tang Zhen was somewhat passive.

Another example was the use of his cultivation skills. Although their destructive power was several times that of ordinary cultivator skills, they were not enough to kill King level cultivators in one blow.

There were many similar problems. Therefore, after gathering them all together, Tang Zhen felt the need to upgrade the application store.

Even though he wasn't in a rush to upgrade the application store, the benefits of upgrading it earlier still existed. This was why Tang Zhen had made up his mind after careful consideration.

Tang Zhen didn't lack the brain for upgrading. After a simple operation, his mobile phone that had been on all this time suddenly turned off and entered the upgrade state.

This time, the upgrade would take 72 hours, which was three days!

Tang Zhen didn't need to worry about the next thing. He only needed to wait for the phone upgrade to be completed.

Then, the next time would be to deal with the various accumulated work.

When he thought of this, Tang Zhen activated the communication system in the secret room and began to connect with the person-in-charge of the company under him. He then started a video conference that lasted for about an hour.

It had to be said that the current technology in the original world was advancing extremely fast. For example, when Tang Zhen was having a meeting with his subordinates, he used that kind of holographic communication device. It could display the holographic projection of the participants on the empty space in the secret room, looking no different from a real person.

Of course, due to the influence of certain technology and hardware, this kind of holographic equipment still had some imperfect aspects. For example, when capturing fast-moving objects, the image would have large fluctuations.

Even so, the device was still very popular in the original world and had created a lot of wealth for the Holy Dragon Corporation.

In addition to the endless stream of other technological products, the Holy Dragon corporation's influence in the original world was growing, and the wealth they had accumulated was also becoming more and more astonishing!

He earned a lot of money, but there were also many places to spend it. Because the Holy Dragon corporation's business was huge, many of its industries were closely related to Tang Zhen's strategy in the Holy Dragon City.

To put it bluntly, the Holy Dragon Corporation of this original world was established to serve the development of the Holy Dragon City. Otherwise, why would Tang Zhen make such an unnecessary move? after all, he did not lack the money of the original world at all!

After the meeting, Tang Zhen contacted the head of the Asian Alliance, chief Tang, and Smith from the American Alliance to ask about the situation regarding the pursuit of the foreign cultivators.

Since the three-eye tower had been destroyed, the dimensional gateway that had been heavily guarded by the sub-Alliance had disappeared. Everything had returned to normal.

As for the three-eyed race cultivator who was hiding, he was finally found out. Under the pursuit of the special search team, he was finally trapped in a desert and killed by the artillery of the plane!

Since then, the crisis of the Asian Alliance had been completely resolved.

The situation in the American Alliance was also pretty good. Apart from a heavily injured foreign cultivator who managed to escape the dimensional passage under the cover of countless bandits and servant cultivators, the rest of the foreign cultivators had been hunted down and killed.

Tang Zhen frowned slightly after hearing this. He revealed a pondering expression.

After Lou Cheng's cultivators entered the other world through the plane teleportation channel, they couldn't return under normal circumstances. However, as long as Lou Cheng was willing to pay a high price, he could still bring a limited number of Lou Cheng's cultivators back to Lou Cheng world.

The foreign cultivator must have used this method to return to Lou Cheng's world, and with his return, the details of his original world would definitely be known to Lou Cheng.

He believed that they would be on guard when they found out that there was another non-human race City attacking the original world and that the dimensional gateway had suddenly disappeared.

If the information collected by the returning foreign cultivator was more accurate, such that he knew that the three-eyed race's Tower was being invaded at the same time, and he saw the wanted mission on the cornerstone platform, then he only needed to do a little analysis to figure out the cause and effect of the matter.

This situation was extremely disadvantageous to Tang Zhen. It also caused the sense of urgency in his heart to suddenly increase.

In fact, the foreign tribe's Tower would know of his existence sooner or later. After all, according to the foreign cultivators, the cornerstone platform had already announced a lot of information about him, including the fact that he was inquiring about the foreign tribe's Tower.

Now that the three-eyed race's Tower no longer existed and Tang Zhen was heading straight for the thousand li ice field, his motive was obvious!

With such an obvious hint, it was simply impossible for the other party to not guess that Tang Zhen was heading straight for them.

Now, combined with the information provided by the foreign cultivator who risked his life to return, the other party had definitely confirmed Tang Zhen's intention. He wanted to destroy the tower that invaded the original world!

Therefore, Tang Zhen had reason to believe that the ice plains foreign tribe's loucheng was definitely in a state of being on guard against a great enemy and was on guard against his attack.

In order to ensure that Lou Cheng was not affected by the Super bomb, the other party might have also participated in the operation to kill him and spared no effort!

In order to stimulate the foreign cultivators, it was not impossible for the foreign races of the icy Plains to add more fire to the original reward.

However, this wasn't what Tang Zhen was concerned about. The only thing he was concerned about was whether the ice plains foreign tribe's Lou Cheng would announce the coordinates of his original world. If that was the case, Tang Zhen's efforts would have been in vain.

The most terrifying thing was that if the buildings of other countries also obtained the plane coordinates, they would invade the original world one after another. In this way, even if Tang Zhen had great abilities, he would not be able to intercept and destroy them all!

It seemed like he could only use the method provided by the dream city Master to block the transfer of his original world.

In fact, this method was very simple. According to Tang Zhen's influence in the original world, it was not difficult to do so.

After this method was implemented, even if the other towers obtained the plane coordinates, they were destined to be unable to lock onto the location and open a plane channel. This way, they would not be able to invade the original world smoothly.

This was the true solution to the root of the problem, and it would definitely be permanent!

Chapter 790 The mysterious building outside the village (1)

Since the situation had changed, he could only change his original plan and go with the flow to minimize losses.

In any case, this matter had to be done sooner or later, and now it was even more urgent, so it was best to implement it immediately.

Therefore, Tang Zhen didn't hesitate and immediately told director Tang and Smith about the plan he was going to carry out in the original world.

The two of them, who had been badly battered by the invasion of the foreign races, immediately rolled their eyes when they heard that there was a way to completely avoid the invasion of the foreign races.

A wave of resentment rose in his heart.

If you had such a good thing, you should have taken it out earlier. Do you only feel happy when you see the original world in chaos and the people in power unable to sleep at night?

Do you know that I've lost a lot of weight because of this incident?

Of course, these words could only be roared wildly in their hearts. The two of them did not have the guts to furiously flame Tang Zhen.

Tang Zhen naturally saw the two of them looking like they had just eaten dog sh * t. A smile appeared on his face, but he could not tell them that he had received such a big gift from the dream city Master because his original world had been invaded by a foreign race.

No matter what, Tang Zhen would remember this favor in his heart and would definitely repay it in the future!

After discussing for a while more, Tang Zhen ended the call. After that, under the guidance of the staff, they boarded the military plane that had been waiting for a long time.

He had to be there personally. After all, there were some things that others couldn't do.

Somewhere in the North of the Asian Alliance.

At this time, it was the season when the autumn wind was refreshing and the five grains were fragrant.

In the boundless wilderness, there was a golden color everywhere, indicating that this year was another year of harvest.

In the field, a teenager was sitting under the shade of a tree with his head lowered. He was playing with his mobile phone non-stop and would curse from time to time. It was obvious that he had been tricked by his teammates.

A middle-aged man in a half-sleeved shirt glanced at his son coldly and turned around to chat about family affairs with a few of the other helpers.

It would be the autumn harvest soon, but the road in his field was too shabby, so before he got busy, the middle-aged man asked someone to help smooth the road.

The car that had carried the crushed stones had already left, and everyone had laid it flat. Now, they just had to wait for the next car to arrive.

It didn't take long for a honk to sound. Everyone thought it was the car that had been transporting the materials, but when they followed the sound, they found that a number of strange off-road vehicles had come on the rough dirt road.

At this moment, the car had already stopped. Then, the crowd saw more than a dozen people getting out of the car. They were surrounding a young man and looking around in the field.

After watching for a while, those people walked toward the people resting under the tree.

It was obvious that these people were of extraordinary origin, so the villagers did not dare to neglect them. While guessing the purpose of these people's visit, they also quickly stood up.

The young man stopped playing with his phone and slowly stood up from the tree. However, the moment he stood up, he accidentally saw a gun under the hem of a black suit!

The young man's heart tightened when he saw this. He immediately sized up the crowd in silence, especially the young man in the lead. He felt that he had seen him somewhere before.

"Little brother, you're busy!"

The middle-aged man in the lead came forward and greeted everyone. Then, he asked with a smile, "I want to ask you guys something. May I know who owns this piece of land?"

When the middle-aged man heard this, he glanced warily at the tall man with an extraordinary bearing. He took a puff of his cigarette and said, "I'm at home. What's the matter?"

When the tall middle-aged man heard this, he immediately laughed and said, "Brother, don't misunderstand. We're state workers. We might need to expropriate your land and give you satisfactory compensation.

I'm just letting you know in advance. I'm sure your village chief will talk to you in detail in a while."

The owner of the land nodded and didn't say anything more. The tall middle-aged man, on the other hand, was very familiar with the things in the fields. His words were logical and reasonable, which made the villagers look at him in a new light.

The young man was still looking at the young man in the lead, wondering where he had seen him before.

All of a sudden, a legendary name popped up in his mind. He was so excited that he almost shouted it out.

However, he still suppressed the excitement in his heart. With stars in his eyes, he picked up his phone with trembling hands and was ready to share this with his friends.

However, at this moment, a man in a black suit walked over silently and said in a very soft voice, "Brother, don't tell anyone about this for the time being. It's not good for you!"

The young man's hand trembled when he heard that. He seemed to have thought of something and his face turned pale. He obediently put his phone back into his pocket.

However, the excitement on his face could not be concealed no matter what.

It didn't take long for another row of cars to appear in everyone's sight. There were more than 20 cars in total, and at the end of the row were special police vehicles with flashing police lights.

These cars sped all the way to where the crowd was. Behind them were some villagers who were driving all kinds of vehicles, ready to rush over to watch the show.

Many of the villagers had never seen such a huge formation before!

When they saw the cars coming, the people who came in the cars didn't move. Instead, the villagers standing by the side panicked.

They didn't know what had happened to cause such a big commotion. Even the police officers had appeared.

After the cars stopped, the village head, village head, Mayor, and other people that the villagers knew quickly came over to shake hands with the young man and the others.

More than 20 armed Secret Service agents had also spread out, looking around vigilantly.

Although they could ensure that there was no danger here, the necessary procedures must be followed. Who asked these people to have such a big background? no mistakes could be allowed!

It didn't take long for the owner of the field to be called over. After a few words of discussion, his face was already full of smiles.

That afternoon, there was news that old Li's land in the village had caught the eye of a rich man. He said that he wanted to build a factory and priced it according to the area of the land. He actually paid more than two million Yuan!

For the local villagers, this was not a small amount. This also meant that old Li's family had directly become one of the richest households in the village!

While the villagers were envious and jealous, they also began to pay attention to this matter. They couldn't understand what these rich people were thinking. Why would they build a factory in a field that had no village or shop in front of it?

However, the villagers soon realized that this matter was not as simple as it seemed. That night, countless cars drove into the village and headed straight for the field.

When the villagers woke up the next day, they were shocked to find a wide and straight Stone Road in the field overnight.

The land that had been bought by the rich had now been strictly isolated. It was crowded inside and outside, and the roar of machines could be heard from time to time.

Outside the construction site, there were Secret Service agents standing guard with guns at all times, and traffic police blocked the road to prevent unauthorized people from entering. Everything was done in a mysterious manner.

These things couldn't be solved with money, so there must be something hidden.

Such a terrifying and highly efficient operation, coupled with the extremely tight security, immediately shocked all the villagers. For a time, the entire village was discussing this matter, guessing what was being built there.
