

Am I A God 251

Chapter 251: Risk It!

One superhuman chased after a supercat. Both traveled at warp speed. Zhao Yao's blinding golden rays had attracted the attention of the residents.

The Sphinx cat detoured when it noticed that its path had been blocked by the sword auras. Finally, it stopped at the entrance to the alley and carefully placed Fit Bro there.

Zhao Yao muttered, "Has it finally decided to stop running?" Even though Zhao Yao was not entirely sure of its intention, he simply reacted with a flick of his fingers. Instantly, dozens of sword auras sliced through the air and went straight for it.

An extraordinary scene ensued. Against the storm of sword auras, the Sphinx cat managed to dodge them by executing a series of dance-like moves. Each move was so fast yet so strong, crushing the concrete floor beneath it, leaving behind only its shadows. Not only did it manage to evade the attacks, it even managed to inch towards Zhao Yao.

However, there seemed to be an infinite number of sword auras appearing out of thin air. The Sphinx cat was getting suppressed by the onslaught as there was less and less space for it to maneuver around. More and more cuts and slashes appeared across its body. However, it remained unfazed.

At this moment, following the commotion caused by their battle, Zhao Yao heard a distinct sound approaching them – the police siren.

"So fast?" Zhao Yao's forehead furrowed slightly and could not believe his ears. Even though he knew that the police were bound to appear after the racket that they had created, he had never expected them to be so efficient.

He glanced at the countdown timer and realized that he was left with three minutes. This Sphinx's cat's body was too strong and too tough. An ordinary human would have already died umpteen times when ravaged by this attack. Yet, the cat still managed to bounce around as if it were perfectly healthy.

“Thankfully I didn’t squander away my diamonds on the ‘2X Exp Card’. After using one, I still had four remaining with me. This means that I could possibly use the ‘Power Up Card’ for the next 40 minutes. However, that’s not feasible ...”

The Sphynx Cat’s eyes gleamed when it noticed the police siren. Instantly, it slammed all four paws against the ground as an enormous force erupted from the ground. It was as strong as an earthquake. The impact threw Fit Bro off his foot as he crashed into the floor.

The Sphynx Cat’s body bolted forward after producing the massive force. It had almost gone past the layers of sword auras but was ultimately stopped by one of it.

“I cannot drag this any longer.” Zhao Yao let out a sigh as the sword auras which flooded the sky vanished into thin air. He had chosen a risky move by channeling Matcha’s power as the entire world went to a standstill.

“30 Seconds!” After channeling Matcha’s power, Zhao Yao realized that he could stop time for up to 30 seconds after activating the ‘Power Up Card’.

He immediately dashed forward and sent a barrage of punches into its body at twice his normal speed. This was followed up with a torrent of kicks all over his body. However, he had not brought any weapons along, but he managed to land a blast of attacks on the Sphynx Cat for a total of 20 seconds which included poking its eye and kicking its groin.

Even Matcha came forward to lend a helping hand as he started biting the cat’s butt.

For the remaining 5 seconds, Zhao Yao decided to use this chance to escape. With Roly Poly and Matcha in his arms, he managed to run a few hundred meters before time resumed.

Bam! An infinite number of explosions erupted on its body. However, it only managed to leave a frown on Sphynx Cat’s face and failed to deal any significant damage.

“D*mn it!” Zhao Yao tried to process the situation during the time freeze and managed to gain a deeper understanding of how sick the Sphynx Cat truly was. It had a layer of invisible membrane on its eye, shielding it from any attacks. Also, it even managed to retract its genital into its body.

Furthermore, its entire body was coated with a layer of muscles that were as tough as steel and could withstand the impact of a building collapsing onto it. Naturally, Zhao Yao's punches and kicks were rendered futile.

Hence, when Zhao Yao tried to channel Ares's power when time resumed, the Sphinx Cat had already bolted forward and sent its razor sharp claws into Zhao Yao's face, narrowly missing by a few centimeters. It was once again deflected by the sword auras of the deflective field.

Zhao Yao thought, "How is this even a cat? Is this a product of pure training? It is a mutant!"

Dozens of sword auras failed to land a single strike against the Sphinx Cat. Zhao Yao could hear the police siren catching up to them. Hence, he gritted his teeth and swap to Elizabeth's power.

The illusion started the moment the golden beams of light vaporized.

With the effects of 'Power Up Card' in play, the effects of the illusion had been stretched to a radius of 500 meters. It had instantly robbed the Sphinx Cat of its five senses.

However, the result was entirely different from before. Instead of crashing into the floor, the Sphinx Cat remained standing on the floor, completely intact. It only stopped moving.

"It can still stand? Is this the body's instincts supporting it? Its body is really too strong."

Zhao Yao understood that the illusion only robbed the brain's ability to perceive the surroundings and receive feedback from the body. However, it did not actually sever the connection between the brain and the body.

If the body was truly strong enough, it could still maintain some basic movements. It was like how the heart continued to beat even when the individual was robbed of his five senses.

However, what kind of body did it take for one to achieve this? This meant that the individual could continue fighting even if he was semi-unconscious.

While Zhao Yao was still deep in his thoughts, the Sphinx Cat's ear started shuddering as its ears closed together like how an elephant cover its ear canal using its ear.

A flash of concentration flashed across Zhao Yao's eyes as he reacted to the situation, "D*mn it! This guy can detect infrasound! This means that ... its body had already transformed until it was capable of utilizing the sixth sense."

Elizabeth's illusion was not invincible. It worked by utilizing the propagation of sound waves that human ears' failed to pick up. However, you could resist the illusion once you could block these sound waves.

It was also possible if the individual had surpassed the state of five senses and had a good grasp of its sixth sense. In this case, the individual would also be unaffected by Elizabeth's illusion.

The Sphinx Cat had already bolted towards Zhao Yao the moment its ears started twitching as its razor-sharp claws were an inch away from Zhao Yao's neck. However, it finally stopped.

A red glimmer flashed across Zhao Yao's eyes as he felt his heart skipped a beat, "Thank goodness it is still affected by Elizabeth's control."

"Finally ... I have finally managed to subdue this guy."

Just when Zhao Yao was about to heave a sigh of relief, a black figure emerged and a human shadow materialized next to him.

"There's one more person? That's why it managed to remain so calm throughout the entire battle! There's one more apostle that has been ambushing me!" A vicious aura had locked its sight onto Zhao Yao's body. Not only did it have the power of instantaneous teleportation which allowed it to teleport behind Zhao Yao. The punch that he threw at Zhao Yao was almost as strong as the Sphinx Cat's.

The black shadow's punch inched towards Zhao Yao and punctured the air particles in its surrounding. The roars of wind produced by the sheer force of the punch managed to rip Zhao Yao's shirt into pieces.

Zhao Yao knew that he would instantly die if the punch managed to hit him.

“An apostle can only borrow one superpower at any one time. How can this apostle teleport behind me and produce a punch that could instantly kill any humans?”

At that moment, Zhao Yao’s head began processing all these information at warp speed, “Yes ... It is because of Sphynx Cat’s superpower of training. Even without that power, the apostle still retained his body which had benefitted from Sphynx Cat’s power.

Without the superpower of training, the apostle would no longer grow any stronger ... hence ... its apostle could use this superpower during their regular training and equip themselves with another superpower during an actual fight!”

Within that one second, an infinite amount of information whizzed across Zhao Yao’s head.

Chapter 252: Plan B, C, D, E!

Zhao Yao finally understood what was happening. All this time, the apostle had been hiding in the shadows, waiting for Zhao Yao to reveal its weakness. Just now, he did not act when Zhao Yao was channeling Matcha’s power because the time frame was too narrow for him to act.

While Zhao Yao was channeling Elizabeth’s power, this was the golden opportunity for the apostle to fight. He intended to kill Zhao Yao with this single strike.

This pair of cat and human was something Zhao Yao had never expected, be it their physical strength, mental toughness or even how ruthless they acted.

Elizabeth’s illusion would not be able to stop this fatal blow. With the apostle hiding behind Zhao Yao away from his eyes, Zhao Yao was similarly unable to control him using Elizabeth’s power.

Furthermore, time freeze remained on cooldown.

Hence, this left Zhao Yao with only one option – to change to another power.

Zhao Yao screamed at the top of his lungs in his head, “Deflect! Deflect! Deflect!”

“Deflective Field! Come out now!”

During his training, Zhao Yao had calculated the time required for him to switch his powers. It took approximately 0.1 to 0.2 seconds.

Normally, this amount of time would be insignificant in anyone’s eyes. However, times were different. Currently, an extraordinary human had sent his most powerful punch hurling into Zhao Yao’s back. The time difference of 0.1 to 0.2 seconds could easily be the difference between life and death.

“D*mn it! Roly Poly! Use your power of invisibility to scare him!” Matcha had also reacted to the apostle’s ambush and roared at the top of his voice.

Immediately, Zhao Yao’s body gave a violent shudder as the muscles and flesh in his body all evaporated. What was left were simply his bones.

A normal human had instantly turned into a set of skeletons.

Even the apostle was taken aback by the skeleton’s sudden appearance as fear splintered his heart. Subconsciously, he had already slowed down his punch.

However, this had bought Zhao Yao just enough time for the golden sword auras to burst out of Zhao Yao’s body.

Dozens of sword auras crashed into the pair of supercat and apostle. Instantly, blood spurted out of their bodies and rained across the floor. This attack had dealt a significant damage to them as some bones jut out of their bodies and sent them flying off.

The apostle once again vanished into thin air following its teleportation, leaving the Sphinx Cat to fend for itself against Zhao Yao.

Because of the presence of this apostle, Zhao Yao dared not to change to any other abilities for the time being. He could only afford to focus all his attention on the deflective field to attack the Sphinx Cat.

Suddenly, an inordinate amount of sword auras appeared in the sky and rained down on the Sphinx Cat. It began dodging the swarm of sword auras like a gymnastic champion executing its routine as it tried its best to dodge them all.

The next moment, the Sphinx Cat noticed the sword auras in the air gave a light shudder and raised its head instinctively. A giant palm was crushing towards its position. In its attempt to avoid the sword auras, the Sphinx cat had already been forced to a corner. Facing the wall and the impending crush of the giant palm, the Sphinx Cat was left with no room to escape.

The Sphinx Cat's pupils constricted together as a thought flashed across its head. Zhao Yao's initial attack using the sword auras were simply to lure it into this position, robbing it of any chance at escape.

The golden giant palm was the culmination of Zhao Yao's strength and resolves to end this fight once and for all.

Bam! An earth-shattering explosion erupted as the giant golden palm crushed into the Sphinx Cat. Layers of air currents swept across the surroundings before they were engulfed by the rays of golden beams.

Just when Zhao Yao was about to follow up with another attack, a bolt of lightning appeared before him ... no ... it wasn't a bolt of lightning, it was a person that had reached an extraordinary speed. He held a dagger in his hand as it sliced through the deflective field.

Even though the dagger was instantaneously vaporized, Zhao Yao tried to get rid of the person by a flick of his finger which sent a sword aura directly to him. However, all it managed to hit was his afterimages. The person was simply too fast.

Zhao Yao sniggered and was on the verge of pursuing that person before he was interrupted by a loud scream.

"How dare you abuse your power in public! Stop what you're doing immediately!"

An invisible giant hand descended from the heavens and swooped Zhao Yao off the floor and into its palm.

The person who had stopped Zhao Yao was the one who managed to subdue Sun Meng and gang. He was the user of psychokinesis, Yue Shan.

With the power of psychokinesis, Yue Shan, who had a head full of red hair, raised his hand in the air and morphed it into a giant hand and enveloped Zhao Yao within it.

Zhao Yao's temple throbbed with rage as he roared, "Get lost!"

Bam! The psychokinesis palm had been torn to pieces by the blast created by the deflective field. Zhao Yao took a step forward, as a whirlpool of air current blasted him ahead, towards the direction of the Sphinx Cat.

While Zhao Yao was giving chase, the person who tried to attack him at warp speed did not give up either. He was like a bolt of lightning and began striking Zhao Yao ceaselessly. An inordinate amount of flashes flooded the sky. Within that short hundred meters, Zhao Yao had no idea how many times he had been struck by that person.

However, with the protection by Deflective Field, Zhao Yao remained unscathed. The intensity of the person's attack started waning as another of his dagger was vaporized by Deflective Field. The assailant clutched his right arm in his chest as his forehead furrowed together.

The person who had just tried taking down Zhao Yao was none other than Lin Chen., who had received the power of extreme speed. Within that short instance, he had landed a total of 102 strikes on Zhao Yao. However, Zhao Yao sustained no injuries but his right palm grew numb from the intense battle.

He stared at the golden figure as it began to disappear into the horizons. He could not even see Zhao Yao's face clearly. Disappointment clouded his features as he mumbled, "Who is that golden guy?" At the same time, Yue Shan's voice rang in his earpiece, "Lin Chen, try to stall him. I'm going to use my ultimate move."

"Stall him?" Lin Chen's voice was devoid of confidence as he continued, "That's as good as asking for my life."

Zhao Yao's initial fight with Sphinx Cat had already startled the residents in the area. The ensuing battles using the sword auras only made the situation worse.

Coincidentally, Lin Chen and Yue Shan were in the vicinity when the fight broke out. They received instructions from the higher-ups and were the first ones to appear. When they arrived, all they saw was this golden man wreaking havoc in the area. Only one thought sprang into their heads – take that man down.

Meanwhile, Zhao Yao slid Lin Chen a glance and continued pursuing the Sphinx Cat.

He thought, “Is that Lin Chen? His ability is far stronger than before. Evidently, the government has also been training their supercats’ abilities.” Zhao Yao had already predicted this since the government held so many supercats and apostles in their hands. They would surely let the supercats lend out their powers to all the apostles and in the process improved its abilities.

From the looks of it, psychokinesis and extreme speed were the powers that the government had standardized on.

However, this thought only stayed in Zhao Yao’s head for a brief moment. His objective was still to capture Sphinx Cat.

Sadness clouded Zhao Yao’s features when he returned to the Sphinx Cat’s last position.

All that was left were the giant hole. Evidently, this was created during their previous battles. This hole led directly into the sewage systems. Obviously, Sphinx Cat had escaped using it.

“No, my previous attack should not be able to break the surface of the concrete floor.” Suddenly, a glimmer flashed across Zhao Yao’s eyes as he recalled the Sphinx Cat’s behavior during the fight.

“That guy exerted all its strength when it stepped on the ground. At first, I thought it was only using it to produce an even greater force. I guess ... it already knew that our position was very close to the sewage channels underground.”

“That was why it continually damaged the structural support of the concrete ground. With my last attack, the ground collapsed and revealed the sewage channels.”

“Throughout the entire process, we produced such a huge commotion which attracted the attention of the police and the government apostles.”

“While trying to lay an ambush on me, this cat had already prepared its plan B, C, D, E.” When this thought struck Zhao Yao, he could not help but shudder in fear. He never expected this cat to be this crafty. It was a true hustler lurking in the shadows of Jiangmen city as it accumulated its strength.

Zhao Yao took a look at his timer and realized that he was left with two minutes. Hence, he immediately jumped down.

“I still have two minutes. The sewage channels are extremely narrow and complicated. This dark setting would be beneficial for it, with its superior sensory skills. I can’t afford to engage a fist fight with it without my ‘Power Up Card’.”

Chapter 253: The Escape

“I have to find them before my ‘Power Up Card’ expires. If I really can’t find them ... no ...” Zhao Yao’s eyes gravitated downwards and noticed a trail of blood leading to the sewage channels. He bent down and took a few sniffs, “The pungent of blood. Its injuries must be quite serious. They cannot be too far away.”

Zhao Yao instantly jumped into the sewage channels and began his search. His eyes were locked on the trail of blood while his nose was following the unique pungent emanated. However, he suddenly stopped after taking a few steps.

“Something’s wrong.” Zhao Yao’s chest rose as he took in a deep breath, “Why are there no more smell further down? The blood trail is also gone?” He bent forward and saw a thick and giant severed tail lying in the middle of it.

Zhao Yao’s body gave a sudden shudder as he thought, “Did it purposely bite off its own tail and leave it here?”

Finally, Zhao Yao reacted to the situation, “Maybe it didn’t even come down the sewage channels at all! This blood-stained tail was simply a distraction for it to buy time.”

Zhao Yao swept his head backward and was about to make his escape when he heard the police and government apostles arriving at the entrance to the sewage.

If he went over now, a battle between him and them would be inevitable.

Zhao Yao's forehead creased together when he took a glance at his countdown timer. Just when he was about to activate Roly Poly's power of invisibility, a loud roar echoed down the sewage channels.

"This place is too dark."

"Everyone put on your night vision and infrared imaging goggles."

"Be careful, the target is an extremely dangerous person. Shoot on sight!"

Zhao Yao's right eyebrow shot up as he thought, "These government apostles are getting smarter and smarter. I didn't expect them to come here so prepared." Zhao Yao knew that he was left with a single life and dared not switch his abilities when he was still vulnerable to a sneak attack.

Matcha's eyes gleamed as he commented, "Zhao Yao, stop pursuing them. This is getting extremely complicated. The carry should never chase the opponents too much in a team fight."

Roly Poly was taken aback by Matcha's wise comments and thought, "When did Matcha's words suddenly turn so legitimate? Is this an illusion?"

Zhao Yao let out a long sigh and muttered, "It's true that I cannot pursue it any longer." Zhao Yao simply went down the long channels and made his escape.

At the same time, Sphinx Cat was actually hiding above Zhao Yao. Its entire body was scrunched up into a ball and was hidden between the cracks along the gravel. A naked eye would simply see it as just a regular gravel.

Blood continued oozing out of the spot where it chopped off its tail. Its two front claws had also suffered a serious fracture.

Regardless of the burning pain pulsating through its body, the Sphinx Cat gritted its teeth and endured the agony. By controlling its breathing and heartbeat, it had completely camouflaged into its surroundings, just like how it hid when it first snuck up on Zhao Yao.

“Have I finally managed ... to escape?” The Sphinx Cat was staring at Zhao Yao’s body disappearing beyond its sight with a tinge of fear remaining on its face. If not for the police’s arrival at that juncture and the fact that Zhao Yao got distracted, the outcome might have been totally different.

Zhao Yao’s finishing blow was truly too powerful. Coupled with its initial injuries, the Sphinx Cat had suffered wounds that it had never experienced in its lifetime. Waves of cold air emerged from its injuries as a result of Zhao Yao’s deflection field abilities, causing it to tremble uncontrollably. Previously, it managed to resist these cold waves through its incredible body composed of muscles as strong as steel. Now, these cold waves were the straw that would potentially break the camel’s back.

Initially, it had planned to use the complex layouts in the sewage channels to escape from Zhao Yao. However, the searing pain only intensified as it continued running. If it continued to escape, it would be depleted of energy and would instantly die. That’s why it resorted to using the trick of cutting away its own tail.

The Sphinx Cat took a deep breath and held it in. By contracting the muscles around the tail region, it had temporarily sealed the injury. It could hear the mass of police personnel gathering outside.

“The next time I see him, I must ... I must give him a surprise.”

The Sphinx Cat thought, “No matter how strong he is, there is still a limit to his powers. Contrary, my powers are infinite. When I take part in the Cat King competition ... I’ll have more and more apostles to harvest my powers from. Next time, I’ll also bring along members of Muscle Society ...” As it spoke, a glimmer of terror flashed across its eyes.

However, its body suddenly froze at this moment.

Beneath it, Zhao Yao who was coated in Roly Poly’s power of invisibility was sniggering as he looked towards the Sphinx Cat’s direction. A red glimmer flashed across his eyes. With the power of ‘Three is better than two’, Zhao Yao had acquired cat’s night vision.

“I’ve found you!”

With the activation of Elizabeth’s power, the Sphinx Cat had instantly lost control over its body.

...

On a rooftop, a muscular man was staring downwards at the hordes of police officers and government apostles scurrying around the place as they tried to conceal themselves.

“It’s still not out yet?”

“Or maybe ... it has already been captured?” A cold shiver ran down his spine as images of Zhao Yao flashed across his mind, “I never expected such a strong person to appear in Jiangmen City. I guess it’s time to assemble the members of Muscle Society. Hmph, I hope you didn’t do anything stupid to the Sphinx Cat.” His body locked up with rage when the thought of Sphinx Cat being captured crossed his mind.

...

With the Sphinx Cat under his control, Zhao Yao had made his way back to Jiangmen University.

He knew that the government would never turn a blind eye to this incident of such massive scale and destruction.

Furthermore, Fit Bro had some important intel regarding Jiangmen University. Hence, this place could no longer act as their permanent hideout.

Zhao Yao’s most pressing task was to relocate his hideout immediately.

“If anyone, be it members of Muscle Society or government personnel, knew about the incident involving the lamp God or the pregnant cat, they would definitely come over here and investigate. Hence, the dugout ... no ...the entire Jiangmen University can no longer be used as a base.”

Even though Zhao Yao had Sphinx Cat in his hands, he still vividly remembered the guy in black who tried to sneak an attack on him. Not only did he embody Sphinx Cat’s physical strength, he could also borrow superpowers from other supercats. He was far more dangerous than Sphinx Cat.

“He would not be the only person in Muscle Society to have such skills. They would not give up their search for Sphynx Cat.”

Zhao Yao knew that he would be inundated with a flood of enemies.

Meanwhile, Zhao Yao took a glance at his mission panel and realized that he had missed the multiple changes made to his mission panel when he was too absorbed in the fight.

Firstly he had earned the 100*2 experience points for completing the first chain mission to establish the cat nation. Consequently, the second chain mission had appeared. Evidently, the bunch of supercats which had spent the entire day in the extradimensional belly had met the requirements for 10 supercats.

Chain Mission No.2: Happy Cat Nation

Objective: The cats living in Cat Nation deserve happiness. Ensure that all the cats living within Cat Nation experience happiness

Reward: 200 experience points

Punishment: Nil

Zhao Yao skimmed through the contents and thought, “Did the reward for the second mission double? It would be great if the reward for these missions continues growing exponentially.”

Secondly, Zhao Yao had unknowingly completed a mission, Survive at all costs, and earned 300*2 experience points. This mission was completed when Zhao Yao was on the verge of death.

Mission: Survive at all costs

Objective: Survive!

Reward: 300 experience points

Punishment: Nil

As Zhao Yao read through the contents, he could not help but relived the moments when he almost entered the gates to hell. He muttered, “There would be no next time. I will never let anyone kill me.”

Finally, he had completed the mission which required him to capture the Sphynx Cat.

Mision: Catch that cat!

Objective: Capture the cat which has the ability to train non-stop.

Reward: 500 experience points

Punishment: Nil

“Capture the Sphynx Cat?” Zhao Yao’s eyes squinted into a line as he thought, “500*2 experience points is not bad at all!”

Chapter 254: The Plan

Because of Zhao Yao’s insane fight, Inspector Ho had a lot on his plate for the day. He had to cordon off the entire area, get rid of the mess, appease the residents, explain to the media, put an end to the gossip and most importantly catch the fugitive.

All the government apostles in Jiangmen City were taken aback by the news.

As the most eye-catching suspect of the day, Golden Man was declared as the number one most wanted fugitive among them.

...

Zhao Yao earned a total of 2500 experience points from the night's worth of escapade, turning his BOOK to lv4(3628/5000).

Sphinx Cat had also left an indelible impression on Zhao Yao from their fight the previous night, be it its incredible infiltration skills with the use of its superior body control or even the tenacity it displayed throughout the fight, the cunningness it employed during the sneak attack and its final scheme to escape.

This Sphinx Cat was the strongest supercat Zhao Yao had ever met in terms of its physical prowess combined with its intellect.

The most frightening aspect of this cat was that there were no limits to how strong it could potentially become.

"Luckily I managed to capture it."

At the same time, Zhao Yao had to reevaluate his perception of his abilities.

Zhao Yao let out a sigh of despair and muttered, "I have really belittled the supercats and apostles in Jiangmen City. All the victories that I have earned had numbed me and made me too cocky."

Matcha, who stood beside Zhao Yao, nodded his head and spoke in a solemn tone, "Zhao Yao, you have truly gotten a full of yourself. Look at you, what have you been doing these days? All you know is to play PUBG at the end of the day. If not for my help, you would have been dead already!"

Zhao Yao instantly sent a slap across Matcha's face and roared as anger surged through him, "You have the cheek to criticize me? Do you even know what you have been doing these days? Furthermore, the outcome of today's battle was because of my wit and smart thinking!"

"Do you actually think that I spent all those time just to play a game?" Disappointment sagged through Matcha as he stared indignantly at Zhao Yao and explained, "By spending time playing Mobile Legends, I'm devising ways in which I can apply superpowers into our daily lives! If I didn't get Roly Poly to scare it, you would already have been beaten to a pulp!"

Zhao Yao folded his arms across his chest and grumbled, "I guess I have to thank Roly Poly then." Zhao Yao squatted next to Roly Poly and gave a forceful rub across his head, "Roly Poly, I guess I can always depend on you during such critical times. You carry the heavy responsibility of taking care of my assets in the future.”

Roly Poly forced an excited look on his face but thought, “Hmph, can I actually trust this old man? Don’t tell me he actually intends to pass down the cat café to me?” However, Roly Poly was still overwhelmed by the prospect of possibly succeeding the entire business from Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao squeezed his hands into a fist and thought, “Now, I’ll have to focus all my attention on completing more missions. At this rate, I’ll be able to upgrade my BOOK and the supercats at the end of the month.”

“Also, it’s time to start using the supercats inside the belly to my advantage. If I managed to pull Ares and the ragdolls out for the fight, I would have easily won the battle.”

A blueprint aimed at improving his combat prowess started formulating at the back of his head. Firstly, he had to complete more missions in order to upgrade both his BOOK and supercats. Next, he had to find some way to leverage on the supercats living in his belly.

“Thankfully I had already found the pattern behind all these missions. Now, I just have to spam them all!”

However, as he made his way back to the dugout with the Sphynx Cat slung over his shoulders, his ears shuddered as an ear-piercing shriek erupted. His body gave a slight quiver as he slapped his hand over his mouth, “D*mn it! I knew it! I had forgotten about something!”

....

“King George! Get out now!” Zhao Xue’s exasperated voice echoed throughout the place as she made her way from one tree to another.

After quite some time, Dust Ball appeared out of thin air with an amiable smile plastered on her face. She had just returned from her extradimensional belly.

However, a giant hand instantly greeted her by strangling her neck.

“Dust Ball!” Zhao Yao stared at her with a pair of dead fish eyes and questioned her, “What are you doing?”

Dust Ball’s fur puffed up a little before she immediately devoured herself into her belly. The cat had disappeared it following the swirl of the space-time dimension.

However, a bright light flooded her eyes moments after she returned to the belly. She was once again vomited out of Zhao Yao’s mouth.

“Hmph,” Zhao Yao’s eyes remained glued on her.

Dust Ball could only muster an awkward smile and replied, “Meowhaha, I thought all of you had already left! Hence, I decided to help train you sister, Zhao Yao!”

Zhao Yao played along and started laughing, “In that case, let me train you as well. From today onwards, you will only receive the catmint that you managed to find. If not, you will have none of it.”

“No, Zhao Yao!” Dust Ball pleaded non-stop and started rubbing against Zhao Yao’s calf, “This is unfair. How can you go against your words? We had an agreement!”

At the same time, Zhao Xue’s screams interrupted their conversations. Zhao Yao’s eyebrow shot up and he was left with no choice but to coat himself with illusion. With the Sphinx Cat, Dust Ball, Matcha and Roly Poly next to him, he made his way to his sister.

When Zhao Yao finally found her, she was squatting in a corner as her fingers started tracing an invisible circle on the ground with a look of utter despair. After a night of ‘training’, her clothes had been tattered and her body covered in mud. She looked just like a refugee.

“Don’t tell me that a pretty girl like me would be stuck in this godforsaken place?” Zhao Xue’s eyes reddened with anger as she roared, “B*stard! Why do I have to be stuck in this place? King George, get the hell out right now!”

Zhao Yao waved his hand towards Matcha and instructed him, “Go up.”

Hence, King George, with a halo above his head, reappeared in Zhao Xue's eyes. Zhao Xue noticed him and instantly pounced towards him and pressed Matcha's head against her chest. She bawled and screamed, "I thought you were just gonna leave me here forever!" As she spoke, she began wiping her snot and tears on Matcha's fur.

Matcha looked at her with a face of disdain and tried his best to break free from her clutch. However, Zhao Xue held on to him extremely tightly as she was afraid that he would disappear again. Matcha looked towards Zhao Yao and shouted, "Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! Get a hold of your sister! I'm going to suffocate to death!"

Zhao Yao looked towards Matcha with a face of indifference as his voice rang in Zhao Xue's head, "Zhao Xue, your current combat abilities are far too weak. From now on, you will have to train every day."

"Huh?" Zhao Xue's breath shook as fear crossed her face. She mumbled, "Is it gonna be the same as today?"

Zhao Yao suppressed his cough and explained, "You don't have to come to this dugout anymore. I have forsaken this place. From now on, report to Utopia district at 8 pm every day."

Zhao Yao knew that supercats' presence and influence in Jiangmen City was only going to grow. Seeing that Zhao Xue was bent on participating, he had decided to lend out Roly Poly's power. Furthermore, Roly Poly could also grow stronger by lending out his power to Zhao Xue and Baiquan.

"Hmph? Zhao Yao, isn't that our house?" Matcha asked with a curious expression.

Zhao Yao answered telepathically, "You don't say? I'll be going out for my missions at 8 pm every day I can just settle it in our district. Do you expect me to come to her university every day? That'll kill me!"

Zhao Xue immediately replied, "However, that's very far from where I live. Can we meet somewhere nearer?" As she spoke, she bent down to Matcha and gave him a soothing rub on his chin. She pleaded, "King George, please. I'll deliver fish to you and offer you massage services daily. Can it be a little nearer?"

"No." Zhao Yao instantly shot down her proposition and sniggered, "Do you think I'll actually fall for your fish and massage traps? I'm not even a cat."

Matcha curled his lips in disgust and thought, “Is that even something to be proud of?”

After sending his sister away, Zhao Yao retrieved the collars from his supercats and lifted the illusion within the dugout before making his way home.

With Roly Poly’s power of invisibility and Elizabeth’s power of illusion, they were able to conceal themselves throughout the journey. Even the Sphinx Cat lay obediently in the car.

Zhao Yao let out a long sigh as he placed the muscular Sphinx Cat on the floor. All sorts of ideas swarmed his mind as he kept thinking about how to deal with it.

“Wah, this has such a nice view. No wonder Matcha always love to spend his time here.” Roly Poly thought as he rested on Matcha’s massage throne. A smile crept up his face as he observed his surroundings, “This will be my home the day Zhao Yao dies.”

“Get lost!” Matcha shouted as he pushed Roly Poly off of his throne. He mocked, “This throne is reserved for the king.”

Roly Poly crashed against the ground as he stared furiously at Matcha. Matcha shouted, “Fatso, you have grown quite cocky recently.” Matcha raised his paw into the air and unleashed his claws. He continued, “Do you see this? These are the paws capable of performing the world’s classical pieces. They are even capable of tapping on the screen 12 times in a single second.”

“Matcha boss, you have wronged me!” Roly Poly forced a smile and continued, “Matcha, you will always be my boss!”

Chapter 255: Predicament

A contented glee appeared on Matcha’s mouth upon seeing Roly Poly’s submission. Matcha gave a dismissive wave of his hand and remarked, “Get lost. This is the last time I’m reminding you of your status here.”

Roly Poly instantly scrunched up his face the moment he turned his body around and muttered, “This stupid orange cat, you’ll learn your lesson when Zhao Yao dies ...”

Matcha sat comfortably on his massage thrones as his eyes swept from the living room to the bedroom, bedroom to the toilet and back to the kitchen before he finally nodded his head happily.

“An ordinary cat needs to physically walk around to inspect his territory. However, I, Matcha, am not an ordinary cat. I can inspect my territory with a simple visual inspection.”

Meanwhile, Hanako and Baiquan remained fast asleep since it was still the middle of the night.

However, the cats inside the apartment scampered over when the Sphinx Cat was brought over.

The Pallas’s cat, Lightning, ran over and started sniffing its body from head to toe. He stared curiously at it and asked, “What is this thing? Why is it so ugly?”

“This is a Sphinx cat. They are commonly known as the furless cat.” Zhao Yao continued by offering him an advice, “Do not come too close to it. This cat is extremely dangerous.”

Elizabeth let out a sigh at this sight, “Zhao Yao, why do you always bring stray cats back home? There’s already not enough space in your apartment.”

“I didn’t voluntarily bring this cat back. This cat attacked me in the first place.” Elizabeth noticed the red glimmer in Zhao Yao’s eyes. This meant that he was still controlling the Sphinx Cat.

Mango hobbled down from his bed and crept towards the Sphinx Cat with an innocent expression on his face. Somehow, he buried his entire body in the Sphinx Cat’s lower body and began rubbing himself against it. Zhao Yao had no idea what he was doing.

Zhao Yao immediately grabbed Mango by the back of his neck and retorted, “Mango! What are you doing? Stop it!”

“Furless?” Rice Cake threw a condescending glare at the Sphinx Cat and muttered, “What a shameless cat.”

Zhao Yao then went over to Elizabeth and gave her a gentle rub on the back of her head. Zhao Yao mustered his most police voice and asked, “Elizabeth, could you kindly get your family to lend me a helping hand? I need to erase this cat’s memory.”

Zhao Yao knew everything about the ragdolls’ power. The three of them could induce sleep, create dreams and wipe out memories. With this power, Zhao Yao could erase all the Sphinx Cat’s memories of its fight against Zhao Yao. That would also be Zhao Yao’s first step in educating the cat.

“No. None of them will even bother listening to me.”

A smile crept up Zhao Yao’s face as he sniggered, “Silly girl, but we can control them.”

Throughout this entire process, the Sphinx Cat could not even move an inch. However, it was still capable of feeling emotions. A wave of anger swept through it as it listened to Zhao Yao and Elizabeth’s conversation. Fury and fear poured out of its eyes as it tried with all its might to break free from this restraint. However, it was futile. It could never escape from Zhao Yao’s control.

However, Zhao Yao gave up on the idea of erasing its memory eventually. If he employed such a method to deceive the Sphinx Cat, it would simply give Muscle Society an opportunity to expose Zhao Yao’s actions. This would instantly become a time bomb. It would be a better idea to come up with a process to make the Sphinx Cat submit to Zhao Yao.

“However, I need to come up with something to temporarily restrain this cat. I can’t just put it under my control forever!”

Suddenly, a glimmer flashed across Zhao Yao’s eyes when he was deep in thought, “Oh yes, I can control gravity inside the extradimensional belly. I can just keep it inside. Neither can it hurt other cats nor can other cats hurt it.”

Hence, Zhao Yao instructed Elizabeth to control the Sphinx Cat while he crept to a neighboring construction site to steal some iron beams. With the help of his deflection field, he managed to construct an iron cage and absorbed it into his belly.

By pointing all his sword auras at the Sphinx Cat’s neck, Zhao Yao forced it to enter Dust Ball’s mouth on its own accord.

The Sphynx Cat could detect the ominous dark clouds gathering at its back as it roared, “You will regret this! It’s futile even if you managed to capture me. Among the apostles which I’ve bred, there are so many of them who are far stronger than me. You will be dead the moment they find you!”

Zhao Yao instantly gave the Sphynx Cat a slap on its face with Deflective Field. Zhao Yao shouted, “I didn’t expect you to be so cocky even after losing a fight! Just get the hell in! I’m telling you that it’s useless even if your apostles found their way here. I will just beat them to a pulp as a welcome gift.”

The Sphynx Cat could feel the razor-sharp sword aura pressing precariously against its neck. Any sudden movement would mean certain death. Given its current condition, it knew that it was in no position to fight. Hence, it gave in to Zhao Yao’s request and walked in helplessly.

...

A thunderous thud shattered the silence within the extradimensional belly as a heavy iron cage fell from the sky. This instantly captured the attention of all the supercats inside.

Ares and a few cats instantly scurried over to take a look at this mysterious cage. They surrounded the cage and began sniffing at it from top to bottom. A similar thought sprang up in all their heads, “A cage? What is a cage doing down here?”

Soon after, a soft crackling sound rang from the cage. What they saw caused their chest to tighten with fear. A furless cat was inside the cage.

Gaia shouted at the top of his voice, “Huh? Everyone, take a look! There’s a pig here!”

The commotion surrounding this cage instantly attracted all their attention. Hence, Fūjin, Lucifer, Ares, Gaia, Rakshasa, Caesar, Diana, Catherine, Lion Head, Airplane, Baozi, Sausage, and Uncle Egg immediately rushed over to take a look at what happened. All of their heads peered over one another to steal a glance at Sphynx Cat which was held within the cage.

The Sphynx Cat’s eyes squinted into a hard line as it thought, “There are so many supercats here? Are they all kept here after getting captured by that man?” However, it did not bother finding out more. It simply shut its eyes and began healing its injuries.

With its superb control over the muscles in its body, it could even will the torn muscles to seal on their own, hastening the recovery process.

Similarly, it could control its muscles and positioned them in a spot to support and immobilized its fractured bones. It was a makeshift plaster cast.

Furthermore, its vitality was far stronger than any ordinary cats. Hence, its recovery process was also far quicker than theirs.

Its only concern was food and water. However, it had thought about it already and assumed that Zhao Yao would not bother starving it since he had already decided to hold it captive.

Just when it had focused all its thoughts and energies on recovering its body, Zhao Yao had changed to Dust Ball's power and altered the gravity affecting its body.

Bam! The stronger gravitation force instantly slammed its face against the cold hard ground. Its entire body started shaking like a leaf due to the effects of the enhanced gravitational force. It could hardly stand on its feet.

"Are you kidding? Why did my body ... when did it suddenly turn so heavy?"

Zhao Yao had increased the gravitational force affecting the Sphinx Cat by ten folds. Naturally, the toil it took on the body to maintain its regular respiratory process or even simply survive had exponentially increased. It could no longer participate in any strenuous activity. In that case, Zhao Yao no longer had to worry about the Sphinx Cat breaking free from the cage and injuring the other supercats.

Gaia pointed its finger at the Sphinx Cat and exclaimed, "All of you, take a look! There are so many wounds all over this pig! Did this pig just escape from a pig farm?"

Caesar who stood beside Gaia started scrutinizing its appearance and remarked, "This pig actually looks like a cat."

Sphinx Cat was already infuriated by the effects of the new gravity. The cats' constant blabbering only managed to fan his anger as his temples throbbed with rage. Finally, it had enough and shouted, "I'm a f*cking cat, not a f*cking pig. All of you, shut the f*ck up!"

The surrounding supercats had never expected this sudden outburst and were struck with fear.

Gaia simply shouted, “Hey guys, did you hear it? The pig has spoken!”

The Sphinx Cat’s face reddened with anger as it continued shouting, “I told you that I’m a god d*mn cat, a supercat. You are the stupid pig!”

Gaia did not believe a word it spoke and sniggered, “If you are a cat, explain why you are furless?”

“I’m a mother f*cking furless cat!”

Chapter 256: Solution

Ares raised his paw in the air to signal Gaia to stop his incessant squabbling with the furless cat, “Alright, Gaia, stop arguing! He is really a cat. I have heard from Ho Hao Cang that there was a species in this world called the furless cat. These cats do not have fur.”

The Sphinx Cat was pleasantly surprised by Ares and nodded in his direction, “You are rather knowledgeable.”

However, Ares continued with his lips drawn into a snarl, “But these cats are as good as a human without clothes. They roam along the streets naked, like some sort of pervert.”

The Sphinx Cat simmered with anger before retorting, “What are you trying to say?”

Ares did not bother explaining but replied by stretching out his paw and started strangling him with the use of deflective field. With his eyes staring straight at Sphinx Cat, Ares uttered, “I don’t care who you are, but as long as you are here, I will be your boss. Even if you are a tiger, I also expect your total submission. Do you understand?”

The Sphinx Cat detected the change in the atmospheric pressure as an invisible force started pressing against his neck. His heart skipped a beat and thought, “This sensation ... this is exactly the same as that man's power ... did he borrow the power from this cat? However, I'm 100% sure that I did not see this cat on the battlefield. Then how did he manage to switch his powers at will?"

Regarding his defeat to Zhao Yao, there were still many things which he had problems understanding. Chief amongst them was how Zhao Yao could simply switch his powers at will.

The Sphinx Cat did not bother refuting Ares when he heard his insolent comments. He simply chose to remain silent.

The Sphinx Cat was no ordinary supercat. He had spent more than half a year lurking in the shadows of Jiangmen City, with only himself to depend on. He had been searching for apostles, training and gathering new strength all in the dark. He would even resort to cut off his own tail if it meant survival. His endurance had far surpassed any ordinary cats.

Furthermore, he would never refute Ares given his current conditions. His heavy injuries had almost rendered him incapable of escaping. Coupled with the unknown force restricting him and Ares's power, Sphinx Cat chose to accept the insults in silence.

Hence, he shut his eyes as a tirade of abuse rained down on him.

"Mother, this cat doesn't even have fur on it." Diana asked her mother with her face flushed in embarrassment, "It's so erotic."

Catherine simply shielded her eyes from this sight using her paws and replied, "Stop looking at this cat, Diana. It is illegal to walk around naked. Never learn from this cat."

Airplane pranced towards the mother and daughter with a licentious smile, "Diana, take a look at me. Do you like how beautiful my fur is?"

Lion Head had enough of Airplane's nonsense and instantly bit on his tail and swung him into a corner and bellowed, "Airplane, take a good look at the pervert inside the cage. If you continue behaving in this manner, you will be the next one inside that cage."

"So it's actually not a pig?" Sadness clouded Gaia's features as he shook his head dejectedly, "This means it's simply a pervert that doesn't wear clothes. Lane. I might as well play my games instead." With a spring in his steps, Gaia had already returned to his laptop and resumed Diablo 2.

“You are so disappointed just because I’m not a pig? I’m so sorry for disappointing you.” This thought flashed across Sphynx Cat’s head which caused his eyelids to quiver with anger. Even a vein popped out on his forehead. However, he knew that his anger at this supercats was futile and pretended to sleep by shutting its eyes.

After the initial ruckus, the crowds of supercats had vanished along with their initial excitement.

Since returning to the extradimensional belly, they had started playing the games Zhao Yao had pre-installed on their laptops. As compared to the epic games on their laptops, this furless cat was far less interesting. They had grown bored of him the moment his novelty wore off.

“D*mn it, I died again! Dark Souls is too difficult!” Lucifer muttered before he plunged himself into the game once again. This kind of game had a perfect balance between being difficult and yet interesting. It enticed Lucifer to just try again after his countless deaths. This was the first time Lucifer had ever grown so addicted to a single game.

Gaia was still fully absorbed in the game of Diablo 2. As compared to the other games, this was significantly less complicated and only required the player to grind and grind. This was right up Gaia’s alley.

Catherina, Diana, and Lion Head were all huddled over a tiny phone screen as they continued watching Scarlet Heart.

“Fourth prince is so cool.” Diana exclaimed with a twinkle in her eyes, “How I wish I had such a person to clean up after my shit.”

Lion Head began licking her paws licentiously and remarked, “Isn’t’ the eighth prince far cuter? I would die to rub my body against his.”

However, Ares did not return to his game. Even though Gwent: The Witcher Card Game was absolutely captivating, his gut instincts told him that there was something unique about this furless cat.

This was the first time a supercat had entered the extradimensional belly in a cage.

Hence, Ares's eyes remain glued to the furless cat before he opened his mouth and asked, "Do you have any idea how you got in here?"

The Sphinx Cat opened one of his eyes and glanced at Ares. However, he chose to remain silent.

Zhao Yao could finally heave a sigh of relief when he saw the situation within the extradimensional belly, "Finally, I have found a method to temporarily restrain him."

From this encounter with Muscle Society, Zhao Yao understood that he needed their power.

However, it was already late at night and they had just spent their day escaping from the gates of hell. Zhao Yao and Matcha simply went back to bed after a simple dinner.

...

Zhao Yao was awoken by an intense stench the second morning.

He opened his eyes to the sight of Mango running around on his bed. He struggled to keep his eyes open as he observed Mango trying to get rid of the urine stain on his blanket.

"Mango!" Zhao Yao bellowed at the top of his voice.

Mango instantly puffed up his fur and jumped from Zhao Yao's bed before escaping into the living room.

"D*mn it!" Zhao Yao took a glance at the pool of urine before sweeping his eyes towards Matcha, "Matcha, don't you know how to take care of that stupid cat? You didn't bother stopping him even when he peed on my bed?"

Matcha remained fast asleep on the bed. His ears twitched a little but he showed no signs of waking up at all.

"Matcha! Get the hell up right now!"

Matcha's ears quivered again and swung his tail from left to right. It seemed like he was trying to tell Zhao Yao that he had heard him.

Zhao Yao gave Matcha a gentle push but Matcha simply rolled to a corner of the bed.

"This stupid cat." Zhao Yao grew tired of reasoning with him and simply kicked him off the bed as he prepared to clean up the mess which Mango made.

Finally, Matcha lifted his head as he let out a loud yawn, "Why are you making such a fuss over some urine? Can't you just bury it?" Matcha let out another yawn before his body collapsed on the bed again.

Hence, Zhao Yao's morning was destroyed by Mango's wake-up call. Zhao Yao could hardly keep his eyes open when he finally reached the café with Baiquan and Hanako.

He brewed a cup of coffee to focus his attention as he started brainstorming his next course of actions.

"On one hand, I must continue creating new missions and completing them. On the other, I have to reach some sort of agreements with the cats inside the belly."

With the thought at the back of his head, Zhao Yao channeled Dust Ball's power to take a look at the situation inside the belly.

"Hmph, these guys seem pretty contented with all their computer games and dramas. By using King George's identity coupled with all the illusions, Matcha had managed to earn a rather credible image in their eyes. Maybe I can use Matcha to talk to them and get them on my side.

The only problem is with Ares and gang."

Zhao Yao was involved in a catastrophic battle against Ares and he could not know for sure if he still harbored any hostility towards him.

However, an idea had already sprung into Zhao Yao's head.

“I guess it’s better for the person who created all these troubles to put an end to it.”

Chapter 257: The First Encounter and Satisfaction

Zhao Yao summoned Elizabeth, Dust Ball and Matcha over and instructed Elizabeth to cast an illusion on them, preventing the customers from seeing what they were doing.

He then began explaining his upcoming plans to the three cats.

Matcha burst out laughing and began rolling around the floor in bouts of laughter. With a horny smile plastered on his face, Matcha started pounding his chest and roared, “Zhao Yao, you are so scheming! I never expected you to come up with such a ploy! I guess it’s just a matter of time before we reign over the cat world.”

Zhao Yao ran his fingers along Matcha’s spine and laughed along, “Of course! There is nothing that we will not do as long as it doesn’t involve money.”

Dust Ball and Elizabeth were left speechless by Zhao Yao’s proposition and curled their lips in disgust.

Ten minutes later, Fūjin, Ares, Lucifer, Gaia and Rakshasa who were originally engrossed in their computer games suddenly appeared in the cat café.

They froze on the spot. In front of them sat two men which they had never expected sitting together, “You ... you ... you ... you!”

The two men were Ho Hao Cang and Zhao Yao. Obviously, Ho Hao Cang was simply an illusion.

A smile appeared on Hao Cang’s face when he noticed Ares’s arrival and said, “Ares, long time no see.”

“Who are you?” Gaia roared at the top of his voice. Shock and confusion flooded Gaia’s face as he muttered, “Why does this guy look so familiar?”

Zhao Yao could not believe his ears and thought, “This stupid cat! Can’t he even recognize his owner? It has only been less than two months!”

Zhao Yao managed to suppress the anger raging with him and spoke calmly, “Don’t you guys remember me? I am Ho Hao Cang, your previous owner.”

“Oh,” Gaia started nodding his head cluelessly, “Oh I remember! You are the person who used to feed us every day! You are Ho Ho Cang!”

“It’s Ho Hao Cang!” Before Zhao Yao could even scold Gaia, Ares had already sent a slap across Gaia’s cheeks and roared, “Stop pretending as if you had managed to recall who he is.”

Gaia’s head sank into his chest as he pressed his paws against his forehead dejectedly. A thought flashed through his head, “So what if I have forgotten about him? You don’t have to resort to violence! I’m almost bald from this constant beating.”

Ares’s eyes wandered between Ho Hao Cang and Zhao Yao before he finally spoke, “So what happened? I thought you guys were still engaged in an intense battle?” Ares’s words had attracted the supercats’ attention as they stared curiously at them.

Ho Hao Cang explained, “Thanks to King George, Zhao Yao and I had finally managed to resolve the disagreements between us. From now on, Zhao Yao will continue staying here to serve King George. Meanwhile, I feel like retiring from this complex world of supercats and spend my time leaving a peaceful and simple life.”

At this opportune moment, Matcha stepped forward with a gleeful smile on his face, “Alright, I guess you guys have already bid your farewells. From now on, I will be in charge. Zhao Yao will be working under me as the Lord of Cat Shit. Do look out for him.”

In reality, during Zhao Yao’s penultimate fight against Ho Hao Cang, Ho Hao Cang’s final attempt at victory using his suicidal move had almost annihilated the band of supercats. It was Zhao Yao who had saved them from the gates of hell. Naturally, they were not too against him.

Also, after spending the past month playing computer games and watching dramas inside the extradimensional belly, their feelings towards Hao Cang had also gradually faded.

Conversely, they had witnessed King George performed multiple miracles over the past month. It was also King George who had given Ares a power boost. Currently, they accorded this ordinary-looking cat unfathomable respect.

Hence, Ares and gang instantly accepted the proposition set forth by Ho Hao Cang.

Gaia interrupted, "Alright, alright. I already understand the new terms. Can we just get back now and resume our games?"

Zhao Yao let out a sigh of disappointment when he realized how eager the supercats were to return to the extradimensional belly. He thought, "I never expected this to end so smoothly. These are truly a bunch of heartless fellas. I dare not imagine how Matcha and the rest will react when I die."

After addressing the problems regarding Ares and his gang, Zhao Yao was only left with the remaining cats inside the belly.

Hence, after sending the five supercats back into the extradimensional belly, Zhao Yao also entered the place alongside Matcha.

As compared to Ares and gang, the remaining supercats were even more receptive to Matcha's propositions. Since arriving here, they had witnessed all his miraculous feats. To them, Matcha was as real a God as it got.

Matcha rested on Zhao Yao's head while the supercats huddled around them in a circle. From time to time, Matcha would tap on Zhao Yao's head and roar, "Do you understand? This person here, Zhao Yao, is my subordinate! If he requires your help, I expect your full cooperation! Of course, if you guys require any help, feel free to communicate them to Zhao Yao."

The supercats' head cocked from side to side as they stared curiously at Zhao Yao. This was still the first time they had been formally introduced to this character.

Suddenly, Gaia raised his paw and exclaimed, "Zhao Yao! The cat toilet is almost overflowing with shit. Can you come here twice a day to get rid of the shit? Once a day is really too little."

Zhao Yao curled his lips in disgust but continued to remain silent.

Lion Head also raised her paw and struggled to string her words together, “Erm ... erm ...” Her face turned crimson with embarrassment as she asked, “What happened to the fat, black and white cat? I haven’t seen him in the Village of Dreams.”

“Oh yes! What happened to my brother, Roly Poly?” Caesar joined in by asking, “King George, do you know what happened to him? I have not seen him since the day I returned here.”

Matcha simply rolled his eyes and was simply indifferent to their questions, “Oh, you’re asking about Roly Poly? I think he might be dead already.”

“Huh?” Sadness clouded her features as Lion Head muttered, “How did this happen? Is that why they always say that handsome and beautiful cats tend to die at a young age?”

Similarly, Caesar let out a deafening shriek, “How can my brother be dead? I must exact revenge for him!”

Zhao Yao began screaming at Matcha in his head, “Matcha, what the f*ck are you saying?” Meanwhile, he mustered a cheerful smile and explained, “Everyone, please do not worry. Roly Poly is not dead and is living happily. He is currently dispatched out on a mission. King George was simply joking with you.”

Lion Head and Caesar only managed to heave a sigh of relief when they heard that news.

In the far corner of the extradimensional belly was the Sphinx Cat confined within the cage. His heavy eyelids drooped over his eyes as he began observing the interaction between the cats and Zhao Yao.

A thought sprang into his head, “So this orange cat is actually the true leader?” Originally, the Sphinx Cat had thought that Zhao Yao was the true conspirator behind this entire saga. However, from the looks of it, this orange cat seemed to be the actual leader amongst them. That man was simply a slave the cat ordered around.

Zhao Yao began chatting with the supercats when he suddenly recalled his second chain mission.

“My second chain mission is to allow the cats to experience happiness. What should I do to achieve this? Should I splurge on food and drinks?”

Suddenly, Zhao Yao's eyes glimmered with excitement when he noticed Uncle Egg sitting alone in the corner with sadness clouding his features. He seemed to be unable to fit in with the rest.

“Oh yes, I can also obtain missions from supercats! Elizabeth gave me the mission to save her family members previously!”

“At this rate, I'll be able to receive missions from the supercats inside the belly and earn some additional experience points. In the process, I can help them and forge stronger bonds with them. Maybe, I can even borrow their strength in the future and raise their satisfaction level. Ultimately, I can complete my second chain mission!

This is as good as killing three birds with one stone!”

With this thought lingering at the back of his head, Zhao Yao had already started prancing towards Uncle Egg's position with excitement pouring out of his eyes.

Chapter 258: Catmint Mogul

Uncle Egg raised his head and glanced at Zhao Yao before lowering his head once again. He seemed devoid of any spirit or happiness.

Zhao Yao started scrutinizing this old white cat from head to toe. His white fur was maintained in an immaculate state, free from a single speck of dust or dirt. It was evident that this cat was especially particular about its cleanliness. It must also be fairly healthy in order to maintain this image.

However, he seemed extremely lethargic with disappointment sagging through him. Evidently, there was something bothering him right now.

“That's great, it will be even better if he requires my help!” This thought sprang into Zhao Yao's head as he squatted right next to Uncle Egg. With his finger running through the fur on his head, Zhao Yao asked, “How are you? Are you happy? If there's anything bothering you, please feel free to confide in me. I'll be more than willing to lend you a helping hand.”

Uncle Egg slid Zhao Yao a lifeless glare and explained, “Hey kid, I have been hanging around Jiangmen University for close to 10 years. I have bitten people at the age of six months. I started my own catmint business days after celebrating my first birthday. I have met every single kind of person in my life.

From the looks of your palm, I can already deduce what kind of person you are. Speak, what do you want from me?”

Cold sweat beaded Zhao Yao’s forehead as he mumbled, “This sly old cat...” However, he mustered up his most amiable smile and explained, “I truly would like to help you. Feel free to voice any concerns that you might have. I just want all of you to enjoy a wonderful time here.”

“Hmph?” Uncle Egg’s forehead furrowed slightly as he stared at Zhao Yao. His eyes were filled with suspicion and doubt, but after much deliberation, he decided to share with Zhao Yao, “I would like some catmint. This stupid place only has cat food, canned food, and plain water. It doesn’t even have a single ounce of catmint. I’m getting so sick and tired of this mundane diet.”

As Uncle Egg spoke, the familiar golden exclamation mark had magically appeared at the top of his head. With a beaming smile spreading from ear to ear, Zhao Yao tapped on his mission panel to read through its contents.

Mission: How can cats survive without catmint?

Objective: Provide Uncle Egg a batch of satisfactory catmint.

Reward: The experience points rewarded were dependent on Uncle Egg’s satisfaction level. The experience points rewarded range between 10 and 100 points.

Punishment: Nil

Zhao Yao instantly accepted the mission and comforted Uncle Egg, “Do not worry. I will immediately order a new batch of catmint for you. The quality would definitely be to your liking.”

After leaving the extradimensional belly, Zhao Yao immediately made his way towards the cat toilet and started rummaging through the self-cleaning litter boxes.

Dust Ball grew somewhat flustered at this sight and caught up to Zhao Yao before asking, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao! What are you searching for?”

“Hmph, nothing much, I’m just arranging some stuff.” Before long, Zhao Yao had managed to locate a bag of catmint hidden within an indentation beneath the litter boxes.

Meow! Dust Ball let out a screeching shriek and pounced at the catmint in Zhao Yao’s hand. She exclaimed, “Zhao Yao! How do you even know I hid the catmint here?”

Images of Roly Poly sneaking around last night flooded his mind.

“Zhao Yao Zhao Yao! I have discovered where Dust Ball had kept all her catmint. She hid it under one of the automatic self-cleaning litter boxes!” Roly Poly announced as he sneakily went up to Zhao Yao, “Don’t tell her that I’m the one who betrayed her.”

Zhao Yao patronized Roly Poly by rubbing him on his head and showering him with a few compliments. Roly Poly then walked away with spring in his steps and his butt swinging from left to right proudly.

However, Zhao Yao turned a deaf ear to Roly Poly’s request and gave Dust Ball a three-worded reply, “It’s Roly Poly.”

“This stupid fatso!” Dust Ball screamed as she grabbed the bag of catmint for dear life. She continued screaming, “Zhao Yao, these are the catmint you promised me! You cannot take them away!”

Zhao Yao began prying her paws from the bag of catmint, one finger by one. Zhao Yao whispered, “Do not worry. I’m just borrowing this from you. I’ll return it to you tomorrow.”

“No!”

“I’ll return you double the amount tomorrow. Deal?”

“You promise me?”

“Don’t worry. I, Zhao Yao, am known for being a man of his words. Would I actually lie to my own cats?”

Zhao Yao finally managed to pry Dust Ball’s paws away from the goods before making his way to the second floor. He stopped directly beneath the ventilation pipe on the ceiling.

Upon seeing Zhao Yao’s sudden stop, shivers instantly ran down Dust Ball’s spine.

“Zhao Yao! What are you trying to do?”

Just when Dust Ball’s voice rang in Zhao Yao’s ears, Zhao Yao had already raised his hands in the air and activated his deflection field. Immediately, a parcel levitated out of the ventilation pipe and into Zhao Yao’s hands.

Dust Ball was barely able to breathe at this sight. With all her fur puffed up, she exclaimed, “Zhao Yao! Let go of your hands! These are premium Polygonum cat stick! These divine goods are made with the premier catmint! I’ve stashed these things for such a long time and I can hardly bear to eat them myself. Where are you bringing them to?”

“I’ll return double the amount tomorrow. Do not worry. Count today your lucky day. I’ll just return double the amount of goods that I’ve taken today.”

Dust Ball could only watch as her precious treasure was taken away from her. Her eyes were glued to the goods as she followed Zhao Yao down. She would even let out a series of heart-wrenching scream from time to time.

...

Zhao Yao returned to the belly and pushed the containers containing the weapons and props to a side. He laid out a small but comfortable mattress before placing an assortment of bottles and cans on top of it.

Once ready, he went over to Uncle Egg and said, “Uncle Egg, take a look at the catmint which I have prepared for you. It will definitely be to your liking.”

Uncle Egg simply shook his head in disappointment, “Hmph, I’ve been feeding on catmint since the day I’ve set foot on earth. Young man, I have seen and tasted every single catmint in this world. The catmint that you find will be considered magnificent if it manages to let me relax by just a little...”

While listening to Uncle Egg’s grandiose claims, Zhao Yao had lifted him off the ground and entered a container. He rested Uncle Egg on the mattress and explained, “Uncle Egg, allow me to introduce you to the goods.”

Uncle Egg stared nonchalantly at Zhao Yao. However, he was rather curious as to what kind of catmint Zhao Yao had managed to procure.

Zhao Yao tore open the first can and introduced, “These are the freshest goods shipped directly from Yun Nan. After drying them, these were infused with vitamins and chlorophyll. It is the perfect culmination of taste and authenticity. Have a try.”

Uncle Egg reached out his trained paw and swiped a handful off of Zhao Yao’s hands before carefully dabbing his tongue. Instantly, his eyes shut together as he muttered, “Hmph, this is not bad at all. I can even taste the fragrance of the sun shining on it after it was left out to dry. This is good. Do you have anything else?”

Zhao Yao noticed the changes to his mission panel and realized that he had already completed the mission. However, the experience points which he could receive were only 10 points. This meant that the catmint was barely satisfactory.

Zhao Yao went on to open a new box of catmint and explained, “After drying, this catmint were ground to powder for consumption.”

Uncle Egg’s eyes instantly gleamed with excitement. As a stray cat, all the catmint which he had seen were still in their most natural state. One sniff of the powdered catmint had shown him the brilliance of it.

“By taking one sniff worth of powdered catmint, the catmint had immediately entered my bloodstream and into my head. This is truly too high! You humans really know how to enjoy life.”

Uncle Egg had collapsed to the floor with the euphoria rushing through his body. He mumbled, “However, it is still not as fresh as the catmint freshly plucked from the gardens.”

Zhao Yao's eyes squinted into a line as he saw the 30 experience points up for grabs. He proceeded to the next can and said, "Take a look at this then."

Chapter 259: Crazy Dance Floor and the Mission

Zhao Yao proceeded to the next can and revealed a few pieces of green biscuits from within. He explained, "These are catmint biscuits. They are created by incorporating tuna into premium catmint ..."

Uncle Egg's pupils dilated and his jaw went slack the moment he saw these wonderful creations. He immediately rushed over to take in a few sniffs.

"Tuna plus catmint? I didn't even know that this was possible." Uncle Egg stuck out his tongue and took a single lick. Instantly, he was overcome with euphoria as he collapsed to the ground and started rolling around. He exclaimed, "Incredible! This is incredible! It contains both the fresh taste of the sea from seafood and the intense flavoring of catmint. This is the perfect union of seafood and vegetables!"

Immediately, Uncle Egg went on his feet and gobbled down the entire biscuit with a few bites, "This is simply too delicious! I can feel the tuna literally bouncing along my tongue as the exhilaration sensation explodes in my brain!"

The experience points which Zhao Yao could earn had skyrocketed to 60 points.

A smile found its way up Zhao Yao's mouth as he moved on to the next can, which contained a few brown solids. He explained, "This is the premium cat chewing gum. It is made by combining three different types of seafood with a sprinkle of Linseed oil. Finally, all-natural catmint oil is added to the product. This is literally the best catmint."

Uncle Egg immediately reached out his paw and grabbed one handful worth of cat chewing gum into his mouth. Instantly, beams of golden ray shots out of his eyes.

"Uncle Egg, can you differentiate the three types of seafood present in it?"

Uncle Egg's head tilted skywards as he whispered, "It's a kind of fish. I taste it. It is salmon, tuna, and fresh cod. They are really sashaying down my tongue with the catmint as their partners." He covered his mouth with both paws as tears welled up in his eyes. He started hallucinating because of the catmint and uttered, "I see so many fishes surrounding me and dancing with me."

The experience points which Zhao Yao could redeem had increased to 90 points.

Zhao Yao decided to use his final weapon. Out of his pocket appeared a lollipop-like object which landed right in front of Uncle Egg's eyes.

Uncle Egg's body instantly froze the moment he noticed the object. His eyes were glued to the movement of the lollipop-like object as he struggled to speak, "This ... This is ..."

"This is the five-star Polygonum cat stick. It is the epitome of all catmint related products."

Excitement poured out of his eyes as Uncle Egg staggered towards this rarity. He immediately grabbed the Polygonum cat stick into his arms and exclaimed, "How can they just ruthlessly combine catmint with Polygonum?"

He continued speaking after a few licks, "However such a simple and ruthless method had created a perfect product which encapsulated the essence of both ingredients. Every lick would produce a tingling sensation on the taste buds, cushioned with the perfect taste of catmint. I feel as if my body had been slashed by bolts of current."

"It's delicious!"

"This is truly delicious!"

"How can such a perfect lollipop exist in this world?"

The experience points finally reached the maximum, 100 points.

With a beam that stretched from ear to ear, Zhao Yao immediately tapped on it.

Suddenly, his ears quivered and he turned his head around and noticed the crowd he had attracted. Airplane, Baozi, Sausage and Caesar had all gathered at the foot of the entrance, with their eyes sweeping across the cans of catmint.

Zhao Yao simply laughed and invited them in, “Come in, just grab anything that you fancy.”

Excitement poured out of their eyes as the cats dashed inside. Airplane buried his entire head into the container and devoured a bag of catmint biscuit instantly.

Meanwhile, Caesar picked up a bottle of powdered catmint from the ground before taking a few sniffs. Instantly, his limbs went limp as he collapsed to the ground. His eyes rolled back as his hind legs stretched upwards and started kicking against his chin.

As more and more supercats entered and took a sniff of the catmint, the place had turned into a dance floor flooded with eccentric dances.

With the Polygonum cat stick cradled in his arms, Uncle Egg could not stop licking it. Suddenly, his body froze and crashed to the floor, unconscious.

Baozi who was busy eating his catmint chewing gum was startled by this scene and exclaimed, “Emergency! Uncle Egg had fainted because of the catmint. He got too high!”

“Move to the side, all of you!” Lion Head appeared out of the swarm of supercats and sat on top of Uncle Egg. She raised her paws in the air and landed a barrage of slaps across his face.

Finally, Uncle Egg woke up all groggy to the chorus of all the supercats.

“Uncle Egg has finally woken up!”

“Uncle Egg you took too much catmint and almost died from an overdose!”

“Thankfully, Lion Head Sister was here to save your life!”

“That’s true! Uncle Egg, you should limit your catmint intake in the future.”

Uncle Egg could not even keep his eyes open and definitely failed to hear what they were saying. Hence, Lion Head craned her neck forward and shouted into his ears, “Uncle Egg! Have a good rest!”

Uncle Egg finally nodded his head to Lion Head’s instructions and replied, “Oh, I’m alright. Just let me take a quick nap.”

“Since Uncle Egg is in no condition to sniff catmint, I shall just take the lollipop from him.” Airplane snatched the Polygonum cat stick from the box and raised it in the air. A trickle of saliva trickled down his lips as he stared excitedly at it.

Uncle Egg smelled and realized something was wrong. Immediately, his tail went up and he began pointing frantically towards Airplane, “Quick! Someone help me up! I can still take a few more sniffs!”

Suddenly, a swirling vortex appeared out of nowhere and in came Dust Ball who stared angrily at them.

“Hey, it’s the dark knight!”

“Is she here to take a sniff of the catmint as well?”

However, Dust Ball was completely indifferent to the chatters amongst the cats. She simply walked forward and grabbed a handful of catmint biscuit before emptying them into her mouth. Only one thought flashed across her head during this binge-eating process, “This is mine! All of these belong to me!”

There was a huge commotion within the container that held all the catmint. However, not all the supercats were interested in it. For example, Ares, Catherine, and Diana were completely indifferent to it.

Also, some cats had stronger determination. For example, Gaia remained rooted in front of his laptop, with both eyes glued to the screen. Even though the smell of the alluring catmint constantly pulled him there, he managed to resist it.

“Hmph, from today onwards, this container will be used as the storage unit for catmint.” Happiness filled him like sunshine when he glanced at the experience points earned. Currently, his BOOK read lv4(3848/5000).

“I need to continue working harder and harder!”

Next, Zhao Yao focused his attention on raising the supercats’ satisfaction level. He began interacting with them and playing with them.

...

“Ares, are you satisfied?”

“Hmph, the Village of Dreams is a little too dark. Can you bring some light in?”

Hence, Zhao Yao instantly went on TaoBao and purchased some sun-shaped night lamp and installed it inside his belly. These lamps were connected to the portable generator and hung in the middle of the place. Instantly, the entire belly was encapsulated in a layer of warm, faint glow.

Cats themselves already had the power of night vision. Hence, these light were already more than enough for them.

50*2 experience points earned.

...

“Lion Head, are you satisfied?”

“I’m not! Where did that fatty go after he confessed to me?”

“Oh, are you referring to Roly Poly? That’s a piece of cake!”

Five minutes later, Roly Poly had been transported into the belly with confusion plastered on his face. He noticed Lion Head standing opposite him and thought, “Hmph, extradimensional belly?”

He began giggling and mumbled, “That’s impossible. Zhao Yao adores me so much. How can he possibly bear to send me here? I must be dreaming.”

Chapter 260: The Sacrifice and the Movie

“Fatso, it’s you!” Lion Head instantly pounced atop of Roly Poly with both paws caressing his neck. Lion Head even began licking Roly Poly all over his forehead.

Roly Poly was left dumbfounded by Lion Head’s unexpected behavior. He was screaming in his head, “How is this possible? Am I really back inside the extradimensional belly? Why? Why am I back here?”

He struggled to break free from Lion Head’s loving grip but it was to no avail.

“What the f*ck! Why is this bitch so strong?” Roly Poly struggled with all his might and sent his paws flying in all directions. However, Lion Head’s front paws were as tough as iron casts. He could not move a single inch despite how fiercely he struggled.

Lion Head’s face was flushed with embarrassment as she whispered into his ears, “Hmph, you horny fatso. Can’t you just wait for a bit more? You don’t have to get into it the moment we meet.”

“Let go!” Roly Poly roared, “I’m just trying to escape!”

“Hmph?” The shy smile instantly dissipated from Lion Head’s face. She threatened him, “I thought you were an honest and dependable cat. I didn’t expect you to shirk your responsibility once you’ve taken advantage of me.” With one paw pressing against Roly Poly’s forehead, she began death-glaring Roly Poly. Immediately, her body turned bigger and bigger.

In the blink of an eye, she had already morphed into the size of a tiger. She continued pressing against his forehead with her paw as anger and fury poured out of her eyes.

Meanwhile, Roly Poly was shaking like a leaf as he came face to face with this monster. He struggled to explain, “When ... when ... when did I ever take advantage of you?”

Lion Head's lower lip protruded in a sulky pout as her claws left behind a trail of scars on Roly Poly's forehead. Her face turned crimson once again as she explained, "You pounced on me the moment you saw me previously. Are you going to deny and pretend that that never happened?"

As she spoke, she raised her tiger-like paws in the air and reflected the light beams from the night lamp, instantly blinding Roly Poly. Suddenly, the giant paws plummeted from the skies and stopped centimeters away from Roly Poly's face. Roly Poly was barely able to breathe as he began shuddering from head to toe.

At this moment, Roly Poly's eyes gleamed with excitement when he noticed a familiar figure at the corner of his eyes. Roly Poly could finally sense a shred of hope as he screamed at Zhao Yao telepathically, "Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! Get me out of here! This fat bitch is gonna kill me!"

Zhao Yao could not bear to look at Roly Poly. He let out a long sigh of despair and explained, "Roly Poly, just endure for this little bit. I promise you that you will be my right-hand man in the café once this ordeal ends. Beneath you would be tens and thousands of cats."

"Huh?" Roly Poly looked towards Zhao Yao as his face plunged into despair. However, he suddenly found himself in a dilemma after hearing his words.

Zhao Yao continued saying, "Roly Poly, you can only be a great cat if you have endured the hardships of the world. How can you be their leader if you have not sacrificed one bit for them? How can you convince them to submit to you?"

Resolute flashed across Roly Poly's eyes as he swept his head towards Lion Head. However, he almost burst out crying the moment he saw Lion Head's face. He exclaimed, "But isn't this too big of a sacrifice?"

Zhao Yao finally looked towards Roly Poly with an extremely serious and solemn expression, "Roly Poly, among all the cats inside the café, you are the one who I have pinned all my hopes on. Matcha is too naïve. Elizabeth is too snobbish. Dust Ball is simply just a loner. I'll be happy if Mango can even survive with his intellect. Rice Cake is stricken with that burdensome illness.

This heavy responsibility is now resting upon your steady shoulders. A cat's estrus period only lasts for at most one week. This week will be over in the blink of an eye. I will receive you at the end of the week and crown you as my number one henchman."

Roly Poly's pupils instantly constricted. These promises had managed to sway Roly Poly's stance quite significantly.

Zhao Yao decided to increase the stakes by announcing, "Roly Poly, if you promise me, I'll instantly transfer RMB 5,000 to your account right now. Do you know how long it takes for a regular working adult to save up RMB 5,000? Just one week and that money will be comfortably resting in your pocket."

"Stop tempting me!" A tinge of despair flashed across his eyes before he slammed his paw down on the floor, "I'm going to do it."

After uttering his last words, Roly Poly shut his eyes and embraced Lion Head's enormous head in his chest.

Lion Head was pleasantly surprised by his sudden initiative and instantly reduced in size. She had instantly shrunk to half her original size and could pass off as any ordinary cats in the neighborhood. Her face turned crimson as she complained, "Why do you have to suddenly turn so violent?"

With her head firmly clasped in his paws, Roly Poly was staring death directly in its eyes as he whispered into her ears, "Bitch, I like you."

Bam! Roly Poly's words were like a cupid's arrow which instantly plunged into her heart as her body collapsed into his arms.

60*2 experience points earned.

"Roly Poly, I never expected this day to come in my lifetime. It feels as if I had just managed to marry off an ugly son. As your father, I feel both proud and happy for you." Zhao Yao rubbed against his tearless eyes and turned his body around. He did not want to interrupt their first night together as a couple.

BOOK: lv4(4068/5000)

"Soon, soon! At this rate, I will be able to upgrade in a matter of days!" A smile danced on his lips and he could not wait to start another mission.

Hence, Zhao Yao spent all his time running around the extradimensional belly, lending a helping hand to all the supercats. Some cats managed to reward him with missions and experience while some left him empty-handed.

After this tumultuous journey harvesting experience points from his cats, his BOOK had finally reached lv4(4668/5000). From this period of interaction, he had managed to forge a deeper bond with all the cats by leveraging on his identity as Matcha's right-hand man.

A faint smile continued to be plastered on Zhao Yao's face when it was time to knock off.

"This is unexpected. At this rate, I'll be able to upgrade my BOOK by tomorrow. But should I spend the points on the BOOK or should I pump them on the cats instead?"

Zhao Yao had not decided on the allocation of the experience points as of yet. After all, upgrading was not on the top of his priority list. His most pressing task was to collect more experience points.

Shi Yu walked past Zhao Yao and noticed the silly smile that had been hanging there the entire day. A frown crept up her face as she sneered, "Zhao Yao, why are you so happy? You have been smiling the entire day while your butt is glued to this seat. Have you cleaned the café yet? Have you swept the café yet?"

"Immediately!" Zhao Yao remained immersed in his daydream as he instructed Elizabeth to activate her illusion while he cleaned up the place using Dust Ball's abilities.

With the help of extradimensional belly, Zhao Yao managed to make the cafe spick and span in a matter of minutes. Hanako and Shi Yu stood in a corner as they observed Zhao Yao humming to his favorite tune while cleaning the place. They were all taken aback by this weird scene.

Since introducing his right-hand man, Zhao Yao, to the supercats, King George had not set foot into the extradimensional belly. Without internet in there, Matcha would never enter that place willingly.

When he noticed Zhao Yao's exuberant mood, he could not help but asked Dust Ball, "What did that stupid guy do inside your belly? Why is he so happy all of a sudden?"

Dust Ball slid Matcha a glance and explained, “He has committed all sorts of atrocities that you could possibly imagine inside it. He had literally turned my belly upside down, inside out. Does he really treat that place as his home?”

“Oh,” Matcha nodded his head to Dust Ball’s complaint, “In summary, he simply did whatever he deemed fit.”

Dust Ball nodded to Matcha’s summary and continued, “You are right! Zhao Yao is growing increasingly cocky these days.”

A glimmer of excitement flashed across Matcha’s face as he thought, “The cats have started to grow unhappy against Zhao Yao’s rule. Zhao Yao, we, cats, have elevated you to your current position. Similarly, we can bring you down as well.

“Hmph, I guess he has already lost the cats’ confidence. This means that I’m a step closer to succeeding his throne.”

At this moment, Zhao Yao had finally finished cleaning the café and announced, “Time to go! Elizabeth, we’ll go back home for a while before I bring you to the cinemas!” Zhao Yao had actually lived up his promise to Elizabeth.

Elizabeth’s eyes sparkled with excitement as she raced towards Zhao Yao.

“Elizabeth, do you have any movie preference?”

“Tiny Times!”