

Am I A God 41

Chapter 41: Cat Food

When it saw the man who looked exactly like Xiao Shiyu in front of its eyes, the kitten hesitated for a moment, lifted its head and sniffed hard. Once it confirmed that there was no issue with his scent, it rushed forward immediately, rubbing its head against his palm repeatedly.

“I’ll... I’ll give it to you!”

“I’ll give it to you!”

Once he heard the voice from his head, the man chuckled, “So what are you going to give me?”

“I’ll give it to you!”

The next moment, following the contact between its head and his palm, the man felt an overwhelming force coming from its body, this force, gentle yet firm, felt like it was constantly rushing towards the direction of his brain.

He simply decided to let down his guard and to let this overwhelming force flow right into his brain.

“So, is this your power?” His eyes showed a slight tinge of surprise.

“Miaow.” Xiao Miao let out a purr, stretched out his paw and left a cut on the man’s hand.

But moments after the wound was open, it began to heal by itself.

After wiping away the fresh blood from the wound and to see that the skin on his hand was completely free of the scar, the man chuckled, “This ability is pretty amazing.”

“I have heard that every special human being is able to borrow one special ability, but am I able to borrow these special abilities like how humans do?”

“Erm.... maybe it’s because of the contact between two bodies?”

In the following few days, Zhao Yao followed his usual routine making cat food in the morning, followed by the training of his superpower, completing daily tasks assigned, and checking to see if there was any supernatural activity in Jiangmen City, as he looked forward to seeing the growth of Matcha and Elizabeth every day.

As he entered the kitchen with a high-speed camera, Zhao Yao took a kitchen knife in his hand and aimed it at the radish on the chopping board.

At the next moment, everything seemed to stay still as Zhao Yao used his forearm to cut the radish. After returning to his original position, time continued to flow as normal.

From an outsider’s perspective, the whole process seemed like he merely vibrated his body and finished chopping the radish in one go, and that the whole process of chopping the radish was perfectly hidden by the freezing of time.

As the high-speed camera filmed Zhao Yao, everything seemed like it was vibrating, the radish seemed like they were being chopped by the wind back and forth as if it had been sliced by a sword. In a blink of an eye, the radish was chopped into thin slices like silk.

When the radish was segmented completely, Zhao Yao let out a big sigh, rubbing his temples to ease his nerves.

“It seems there is progress yet again, once I ignited the fire inside of me, the speed of action and thinking multiplied hugely when time froze, thus I now have a stronger grasp with regards to the connection with time.

What he paid attention to was the duration of every single cut of the radish, which represented how much he was able to control time.

“0.3s... 0.5s... 0.7s...” Zhao Yao stroked his chin,” Under a timing of a second, it definitely does not show that I have managed to control time very well, however as long as it is going to be very useful, it should be fine.”

Zhao Yao’s goal was to stop time within a time frame of 0.5 seconds, which represented the time needed to cool-down before he is able to freeze time again.

After all, at the speed he was in when he froze time, with the fact that he was holding a knife, it can be fatal within 0.5seconds. Therefore he wished to reduce his timing, to reduce the timing of his cool-down at the same time.

A cool-down of 0.5seconds can greatly increase his safety when he is out of a time freeze, reducing his loopholes.

“Hmm, at this rate where I am able to quickly cast the power of time freezing, and reduce the cool-down in which I cast this ability, it is going to be very useful. It illustrates that every few milliseconds, I can unleash a fatal stab using my blade during close combat.”

“This means that I need to have a really good grasp of controlling time.”

Zhao Yao moved to a side, in his hand held a kitchen knife, and aimed at a piece of beef.

Thud Thud Thud! The air felt like a blade sweeping and slicing through constantly, as the huge chunk of beef repeatedly becomes segmented into small, thin slices of beef.

As he was strengthening his super ability, Zhao Yao examined the cat food.

“Mmhm. This time, let us try using less nutrient powder, and rely directly on the nutrients from food.”

He shifted his eyes towards the countertop in the kitchen. The countertop had all sorts of ingredients such as chicken breast, heart, liver, beef, salmon, and squid.

During this period of time, Zhao Yao checked all sorts of online resources to understand all types of nutrients. Taurine was said to be the most important nutrient for cats and was the most easily neglected by cat owners. A cat needs to have a sufficient daily intake of taurine, to maintain one's intestines, immunity, vision, and other factors.

For this cat food, Zhao Yao prepared all sorts of ingredients containing taurine.

An appropriate amount of pumpkin promotes digestion and contains many vitamins. But an overdose of pumpkin will cause diarrhea due to excessive carbohydrate intake. He took the ingredients from the countertop and threw them into the blender one by one. “Vegetables such as celery and pumpkin are able to provide magnesium, calcium, and phosphorus too.”

As Zhao Yao noted the various nutrients contained within these ingredients, he threw them one by one into the blender and started to mix all these ingredients together.

As the high-speed blender started to mix the ingredients, the ingredients looked like wonton or dumpling stuffing.

After the blending, Zhao Yao took out the meat mixture and poured into a box to let it steam.

As this mixture did not contain oil or salt, it should be a healthier option for the cats.

Outside the kitchen, Matcha, Elizabeth, and Mango were already getting impatient as they started to purr endlessly.

Roly Poly simply laid itself on the glass door of the kitchen, where its saliva was flowing out like a waterfall.

After he was done with the cat food, Zhao Yao looked at the above comments and slightly shook his head, “This is still considered top tier cat food, but isn’t this too difficult to make? Is it nutritionally unbalanced? Or is there a problem with the ingredients?”

Zhao Yao raised his eyebrows and started tasting the food, allowing him to understand that making good cat food is much more difficult than what he expected it to be.

The contents of the cat food must suit the cat’s weight and condition. Thus, the various levels, standards, proportions, and weight of the minerals, vitamins, fat, and taurine must vary with each cat.

Zhao Yao knocked his head, “At least I’ve learned something about nutrients. In order to create high-quality cat food, it will take me much more effort.”

As he delivered the cat food outside, the cats lowered their heads and started taking big mouthfuls.

Only Roly Poly looked at his small and tiny bowl and noticed that the bowls of Elizabeth and the rest of the cats were much bigger. Roly Poly complained, “Why am I given such a small amount of cat food?”

“Look at your stomach, do you even feel at ease to eat at all?” Zhao Yao twitched, “If I were you, I wouldn’t even consider eating this at all.”

Roly Poly glanced furiously at Zhao Yao, as anger turned into hunger, and gobbled down the cat food. However, he felt the few mouthfuls he took were close to chewing on wax.

“It smells pretty good, but god does it taste awful.” Roly Poly raised its head and looked at Elizabeth and the crew eating heartedly. His eyes showed a tinge of sadness, “And you guys are also able to enjoy this kind of rubbish... sigh.. how I wish to have KFC right now, it has been a long time since I touched their Original Chicken.”

At another corner, Zhao Yao passed the extra cat food over to the stray cats in the room. At this moment, his phone vibrated. He looked at the message, and his eyes showed a sign of dismay.

“The information I got from Big Brother Fei is related to that of the cat killer...”

Chapter 42: The Murder

On the second day at the same hotel, Song Fei handed Zhao Yao a stack of documents, “The details in these documents aren’t what they seem to be. I would advise you to destroy them after reading.”

“The superiors are watching. In fact, this has deeper implications than we thought. You should not delve into it.” Song Fei said with a stern expression.

Understanding the severity of the situation, Zhao Yao briefly flipped through the documents. As expected, the documents were details of tip-offs that Song Fei consolidated. With 12 murder cases already committed, including 2 deceased officials, even with utmost efforts to contain the facts, it can no longer be suppressed. More shockingly, these 12 cases were not committed by just one serial killer, which meant that these acts were done by a diabolical group of them. With no loss of valuable possessions at the scene of crime, it was clear that the killer’s intention was of pure revenge as all the victims’ remains had been cruelly maimed and tortured.

After Zhao Yao was done with the documents, Song Fei grabbed it from him and burned it all to ashes. As he looked up from the charred debris, he said, “Do you understand the gravity of the situation now?”

Zhao Yao nodded, and though he said nothing, he thought to himself, “What exactly could the supercat do? Control humans? Conjure illusions? Shapeshift? This supercat is too dangerous! We have to stop him as soon as possible.”

With no further assistance provided by the police, Zhao Yao turned his attention to the supercat’s case.

“Does anyone have new information on the supercat’s killing spree recently?” Zhao Yao asked in the chat.

Number 1 dried fish fan replied, “It must have been a moggy cat. These killers are the most psychotic and ill-tempered.”

“Don’t joke about the breed!” Meow Gibson said, “I think I’ve heard of this before, why do you want to know?”

Just as Zhao Yao was about to reply, he held back and wondered if the Supercat was also in this group chat. Playing on the side of caution, he replied, “I heard it from a friend. Just curious.”

“You shouldn’t be bothered about this.” Meow Gibson replied, “I heard that these cats are just seeking revenge for the abuse they have gone through. ”

“Though humans are strong, not all are bad. I don’t support the actions of these revenge-seeking killer cats.” Meow Gibson continued, “Everyone here is a neutral party If you see these cats, don’t get too close to them. A war with humans will not only make us suffer but so will every other innocent cat.”

Chubby Luban Assassin interrupted, “I’m not afraid of humans. I’ve killed over 2000 humans in People’s Square and even the tanks couldn’t stop me. If not for my stomach-ache, I would have invaded the City Hall!”

“Stop showing off, chubby” Leopard Head replied. “Wasn’t it just yesterday that you were sat on by the house husky?”

“How could I bring myself to kill such an adorable and playful husky?” Chubby Luban Assassin said defensively.

Realising that they were drifting off topic, Zhao Yao placed his phone down and thought hard about deciphering the supercat’s thinking and rationale for killing.

He muttered to himself, "I guess for now all I can do is to check the internet constantly for any supernatural cases and garner more evidence of the possible location of these cases from my daily patrol. Hopefully, this will lead me straight to supercat."

Zhao Yao's phone suddenly rang aloud. It was Xiao Shiyu.

"Hello, what's up?" Zhao Yao asked.

"Zhao Yao, do you know what's with Bai Quan?"

"Bai Quan?" Zhao Yao expressed concern, "Did he do something to you again?"

"No", Xiao Shiyu's voice broke, "This morning he came apologizing to me, saying that he will not harass me anymore and then quit his job right after."

"Oh," Zhao Yao smiled, "isn't that great?"

"But it was too sudden. This is so unlike him. Is this your doing?"

"I did speak to him, he's a nice chap!" Zhao Yao laughed.

"Oh, so it was really you? I haven't thanked you for buying a property near me yet." Xiao Shiyu smiled.

"So, my savior, can I treat you to a meal soon?"

"Sure, when?"

"How about tonight?" Xiao Shiyu said. "An ordinary girl like me can't afford to treat you to a luxurious meal. I hope you don't mind."

Zhao Yao smiled and said, "What time do you get off work, I can come and pick you up."

Upon reaching home, Matcha was playing with his phone, Roly Poly was lying on the floor with a look of boredom and Mango was running around in the living room. Zhao Yao looked at the window seal and found Elizabeth playing with her phone. Realizing that Elizabeth had just gotten a new phone this morning, Zhao Yao asked her, “Are you Yiyi in the Wechat group?”

“Yes, it’s me!” Elizabeth exclaimed excitedly and jumped down from the window seal, her lush and fluffy fur ruffled as she landed. “Do you have any news on the killer supercat?”

“Oh..” Zhao Yao thought about it and decided to tell Elizabeth about the information he gathered about the killer cat.

“For now, the killer cat’s location is still unknown, but I plan to gather more information from the internet and the SuperCats WeChat group. I will also be patrolling every day and look into more suspicious locations.”

With beautiful sparkling sapphire blue eyes, Elizabeth asked Zhao Yao very seriously, “Can I come along? I want to contribute to this search too.”

Zhao Yao continued with his usual routine, prepared food for the cats and did a workout. He then continued online to search for possible suspicious locations.

That night, as he drove over to pick Xiao Shiyu up for dinner, he brought Elizabeth along, with plans of exploring the suspicious places with Elizabeth after dinner and hopefully obtaining some trace of SuperCat.

Being left at home, Matcha and Mango started indulging in their food but Roly Poly was not enjoying it. He thought, “What kind of life is this? Why do I have to eat the same thing every day, it’s like living in hell. I can’t take it anymore.”

Making sure no one was watching him, he whipped out his phone and opened the food delivery app.

At that very moment, Matcha crept up from behind Roly Poly and asked, “What are you doing?”

In shock, Roly Poly hastily apologized, “Sorry, sorry, sorry, I wasn’t planning to order delivery !”

“Oh? Food delivery?” Matcha snatched over Roly Poly’s phone to take a look at the app. “Oh my, you have money??”

Upon seeing Roly Poly nodding his head, Matcha patted his head proudly and asked slyly, “Brother, have you played Mobile Legends before?”

Chapter 43: Blackmail

Cats belong to a group of animals that have a strong guarded mentality and most of them are actually very timid.

Favourite hangout spots for cats include any small spaces that resemble a tiny cave as it gives them a feeling of security. Hence, most cats enjoy lounging under the bed, in the closet or in a box.

Only after living in the house for a long time, will they slowly get used to the environment and treat it as the safest place, and slowly become more relaxed.

Even though he might be a little black-bellied, he always seemed especially weak in front of humans or other cats.

Just like now, looking at Matcha, who had a wicked smile on his face, Roly Poly’s fat body trembled once. He said, “I’ve not played Mobile Legends before.”

“Is that so...,” Matcha licked his lips, “I’ll teach you then, it will be fun.”

Ten minutes later, Roly Poly was still playing the Mobile Legends tutorial helplessly and when he saw that it finally ended, he couldn’t help but silently heave a sigh of relief.

At this moment, Matcha, who was beside him, stretched out his claws and rapped the floorboard. The clear and sharp sound frightened and startled Roly Poly.

“...This is extortion...” Looking at Matcha’s claw slowly stroking the floor, Roly Poly said with a crying face, “I...I don’t have much money either.”

“It’s fine, you just have to help me buy the 28.8 monthly gift box.” Matcha showed off his sharp teeth, “I’ll help you get on the ranking board in return.”

“But I don’t want to play Mobile Legends, I just want to eat Kentucky.” Looking at Matcha’s sharp teeth, Roly Poly did not dare to speak his mind.

Seeing that Roly Poly had not yet bought the monthly gift box, Matcha tilted his head, his expression darkened and said in annoyance, “Well? Do you think that I will not return you the money? Do you think that I can’t even afford to repay you this measly amount?”

Saying so, his claws lightly scraped across the floorboard, producing a screeching sound.

“N...N...No it’s not like that.” Roly Poly trembled and bought Matcha that monthly gift box.

The account that he used to pay with was opened using his previous master’s identity documents, which he had stolen using his invisibility powers. The few thousand dollars earned by him and his brothers were saved in this account.

Since his master did not use a payment account, they were able to go undiscovered.

Nevertheless, the few thousand dollars that Roly Poly had secretly saved had been accumulated little by little.

“Hahaha, you’re indeed a good brother.” Matcha looked at the diamonds and monthly gift box in his paws and smiled instantly. Patting Roly Poly on his head, he said, “Come, let me help you get onto the leaderboards.”

Saying so, he fished out the cell phone that Zhao Yao bought him and said, “Perfect, let’s try this baby out.”

“One doesn’t let me eat, another snatched my money.” Roly Poly was crying on the inside, and silently roared, “This human and this cat are both hooligans – bullies! Who will save me! I must escape from here!”

On the other side, Zhao Yao was driving with Elizabeth in his Panamera to Xiao Shiyu’s workplace.

Although the Panamera was not a sports car, it cost a million dollars and was considered expensive for most people.

When the people in the shop saw this scene, they immediately started gossiping.

“Who’s this? Xiao Shiyu’s boyfriend?”

One person said jealously, “Xiao Shiyu’s so lucky to find herself an affluent second generation man.”

“Sigh, if only I had someone to drive me to and fro work in a sports car.”

“Give me awhile more, I still have some work to do.” Xiao Shiyu said to Zhao Yao.

About a 100 meters away from Panamera stood a middle-aged man dressed in a blouse and pants, his pupils started dilating as he looked at Xiao Shiyu and Zhao Yao, who was sitting in the car.

“To kill...”

“To kill...”

Confusion was written on his face, “If I kill, it will be against my principles. But if I don’t, this power will still be useful, and if she took it away, I would be in trouble.”

Looking at Zhao Yao, the middle-aged man thought, “Boyfriend?”. He recalled that Xiao Shiyu did talk about something related before, like, “Yep, find a rich boyfriend and I will be able to live in Jiangmen City.”

“If I kill you, I should kill him too.”

The middle-aged man smiled back, thinking, “Eh? He is so sensitive, that’s quite rare for a human.”

“If he’s so sensitive, would it also mean that he will be able very good at detecting when someone is suffering ?”

Thinking of which, he couldn’t help but shiver. Like a cat when it sees a mouse, like a lion when it sees a lamb, having the desire to pounce on the prey. Just then, images of predators indulging on their prey appeared in his thoughts.

“No, I can’t”

“I can’t kill.”

Giving Zhao Yao one last look, the middle-aged man held back his temptation to kill and left.

Zhao Yao frowned.

Elizabeth asked, “What happened, Zhao Yao?”

Moments later, Xiao Shiyu carried her handbag and went into Zhao Yao’s Panamera but caught a glimpse Elizabeth lying in the back seat with bright eyes sparkling in the dark.

“That is so adorable! Zhao Yao, you have another cat?”

Xiao Shiyu excitedly returned her gaze towards the back seat where Elizabeth, with fur so soft and luscious, laid gracefully. The impeccably adorable ragdoll characteristics of Elizabeth completely won over her as she swiftly went over and picked Elizabeth up.

“What is the cat’s breed? Why does it look so much like a princess? It’s so soft and fluffy!” Xiao Shiyu said as she caressed Elizabeth in her arms after failing to plunge her head into the luscious fur of Elizabeth having been stopped by her paws.

As ragdoll cats are a new breed of cats that only surfaced in the past 10 years, it was no surprise that many did not know of its existence.

“How much is this? I want to have one too!” Xiao Shiyu exclaimed in curiosity.

Zhao Yao pondered for a moment and replied, “Normally they cost around 10 to 30 000 dollars because of they are bred in small quantity and not many cat breeders sell them.”

Astounded by what Zhao Yao had said, Xiao Shiyu's mood turned from excitement to disappointment as she muttered, "Oh, this is such an expensive cat only the rich can afford. I guess I can only play with your cat then."

"Oh yes, what's her name?"

"Elizabeth"

Chapter 44: Dinner

At 6 pm in the evening, the restaurant seemed to have just opened for business. There were not many customers, but employees were still setting up more tables and chairs.

On the way, the aesthetically pleasing Elizabeth, together with Xiao Shiyu, attracted the attention of numerous people. Elizabeth was rather indifferent to all that attention but urged Zhao Yao to eat quicker telepathically.

Xiao Shiyu smiled, "After thinking for so long, I just decided to bring you here to eat. This place might not look very grand, but the food here is really good! They make food from my hometown, and it's one of the best here! The owners are an honest couple, so don't worry about the ingredients."

"No problem." Zhao Yao naturally did not have any objections, "Not bad. Oh right, regarding Bai Quan..."

"Come to think of it, it really is weird." Xiao Shiyu continued, "In the early morning of yesterday, he was waiting for me at the office. I thought he wanted to cling onto me when I first saw him, but he bowed to me and said he wanted to apologize."

“Oh, this is the case...” Zhao Yao smiled, “Actually his personality is not bad, just slightly childish...”

The two laughed while having their meal. Although this restaurant seemed very normal, its food was indeed excellent. Their conversations were also more personal than before. They chatted about some interesting happenings back in university and laughed about them together.

People were like that. There might have been some awkwardness in the past in college, some embarrassing moments. But looking back after graduation, people will always find the experiences meaningful and interesting.

Zhao Yao then asked something he was curious about, “Xiao Shiyu, I remember your grades were not bad in college. You also interned at a big company, why then...”

“Big company...” Xiao Shiyu’s gaze left for a moment, before continuing, “A 9-5 internship in a big company with a gym and swimming pool. There were yearly company retreats, and we enjoyed good food and also team building functions. There were even courses to improve our skills, I actually liked it a lot... But looking at the pay, I thought the money might have been too slow.”

Xiao Shiyu smiled, and asked Zhao Yao, “Am I too practical? But there’s no choice, we’re only thrown into the cruel reality of Jiangmen City after graduation. All the aspirations back in college about changing the world and becoming a person of importance. Only when we started working did we understand how hard it actually was. Currently, I only want to purchase a house in Jiangmen City. Money comes too slowly through ordinary jobs and skills. I felt that the most money could be earned through sales, that’s why I changed profession.”

Xiao Shiyu’s words might seem casual but Zhao Yao could hear her bitterness in her words.

Xiao Shiyu exclaimed and ran over and saw a group of stray cats. The litter of stray cats then ran towards her.

“I can’t have cats at home, so I can only feed stray cats around the area.” She looked around the vicinity and continued, “There’s a small cat here who was knocked over by a car. I thought he was going to die, but he survived. Now, it’s active and lively, as though it doesn’t have a problem at all. The survivability of cats is indeed strong. Oh? He doesn’t seem to be here today?”

“Really?” Zhao Yao looked around and said, “Maybe he went elsewhere.”

In one of the rooftops of the small district, there was a girl who looked exactly like Xiao Shiyu. Her pupils were a shade of yellow, focused on Zhao Yao and Xiao Shiyu, thinking to herself. The small cat at her foot continuously gave off meows.

“Troublesome woman.” Saying this, her right finger, like a knife, sliced across her own arm. A large wound appeared, and blood oozed out relentlessly at that moment.

“Everytime the skill can last for 24 hours, is this the limit?” Through the experiments these few days, she had come up with some theories behind the ability of the small cat. Seeing the bleeding wound, she used her ability and the wound closed up, “In this case, I should have you lend me your ability every day. If it’s like this...”

The next moment, her expression changed slightly, and said rather painfully, “I said to not kill recklessly.”

On the other side, after sending Xiao Shiyu home, Zhao Yao drove around, searching for the strange supercat. Elizabeth asked, “Zhao Yao, do you want to mate with that girl?”

Zhao Yao was frozen for a moment before replying, “You cats, are you all so direct in your words?”

“Yes or no.”

“Not to the extent of mating, we are just normal friends.” Zhao Yao said, looking at Elizabeth, “And to hide your existence, I probably can’t stay with other people for a long time.”

Zhao Yao then searched the web for weird findings, but there were no leads to any weird supercat.

“This guy, does he want to attack me again?” Thinking that it was unlikely, Zhao Yao went up and asked him, “Why are you here?”

Seeing Zhao Yao in front of him, Bai Quan showed a face of joy, “Mr. Zhao! Let me follow you.” He then gave a bow.

Zhao Yao showed a look of annoyance, “I don’t need a subordinate.”

“I’ll do anything. Maid, nanny, security guard, chauffeur. I’ll do whatever you want me to do.”

Zhao Yao shook his head speechlessly and went up the stairs. Bai Quan followed closely behind and said, “Mr. Zhao, with such a noble presence, how can you do everything by yourself? I can fight underlings, hell...”

Chapter 45: Faeces Disaster 2

“Hell...”

Seeing Zhao Yao’s slanted gaze, Bai Quan immediately stopped talking. He gave a hinted glance at Zhao Yao, “I understand, I understand. I won’t leak information out.”

Bai Quan followed Zhao Yao upstairs, “Mr. Zhao, please believe me. I really want to follow you wholeheartedly! Give me a chance! I won’t disappoint you!”

Once he opened the door, what caught his attention first was Matcha, who was sprawled over the floor with white foam at his mouth. His claws were on the sills of the door as if he was smacking the door before passing out.

The next moment, a pungent smell overwhelmed the place. Elizabeth, who was on Zhao Yao’s shoulder, shrieked and ran to a safe passage. Zhao Yao held his breath and thought helplessly, “Mango had diarrhoea again?”

Just then, Bai Quan cried out in shock, “So smelly! Did Mango have diarrhoea again?” The previous incident had given him a lasting impression.

“Brother, have you cleaned faeces before?”

“It’s already so late, it’s not nice to disturb the cleaner.” Saying this, Zhao Yao already had his arms around Bai Quan. He patted his shoulder and continued, “You want to join hell? You’re not even willing to clean faeces? Once you settle this today, you’ll join hell and be one of our generals on Earth.”

“Clean clean clean, I’ll clean.”

On a cabinet in the living room, Roly Poly’s nose was stuffed with two pieces of tissue paper. Looking at the scene in front of him, he could stand it no longer and thought, “So scary.... This person and his cats, they’re all evil. Bai Quan and I are stuck here.”

The pungent smell was soon dispelled from the house with the thorough help of Bai Quan. Zhao Yao, with Mango in his arms, lied on the sofa. Seeing his naive and clueless expression, Zhao Yao could not help but ask, “Why do you have diarrhoea everywhere all the time?”

Matcha regained consciousness and said, “No... This can’t do. Mango is too terrifying. Zhao Yao, you have to assign a specific toilet for him alone, use the toilet which no one uses.”

Elizabeth also walked over, with some fear in her eyes, “I have never in my life smelled s as smelly as this.”

Zhao Yao agreed and immediately went online to shop for a new toilet for Mango. He planned for Mango to have a toilet all to himself.

This house had 5 rooms and 2 common areas. One room to Zhao Yao and Matcha, one to the 15 big stray cats, one to the 3 small stray cats, one to Elizabeth, and as for Roly Poly, he slept in the common area.

The last room now seemed like it was going to Mango and his diarrhoea.

Zhao Yao looked at his phone and went online, only to chance upon a piece of

“There was a terrorist attack at America’s wall street at 8.16 am that morning, causing 65 deaths and more than 300 injured. The police, as of now, is still exchanging fire with the suspected terrorists. Shangwu extremist organization has taken responsibility for this incident...”

“Surely not? Isn’t this a terrorist attack? This sort of incident...” Zhao Yao had seen related information online. In the moment, it seemed as if the entire world was discussing the same incident.

Ever since he was punched by that man, Lin Chen had experienced a series of mysterious incidents.

First, he was taken away by the bald man for interrogation and a series of weird tests.

What he didn't know was that when he was going through the tests, his home information, his parents and even grandparents were investigated as well.

And the result was...

Lin Chen looked at the white female cat in his arms, which was about 5-6 months old. A look of annoyance flashed in her eyes.

"We went through all that just for me to raise a cat?" Lin Chen curled his lips and thought of the scene in which the bald man handed the cat over to him. He couldn't help but think jokingly to himself, "Such a tough guy on the outside, who knew he actually liked cats so much?"

Just then, the doors of the meeting room opened. The bald man he was thinking of barged in and seeing the cat in Lin Chen's arms, he smiled, "Hey, how are you? Getting along well with Milk?"

Milk was the little white cat's name.

Lin Chen pouted slightly and said, "What exactly are you planning to do? Didn't you say you were going to find that guy? Why are you making me raise a cat now?"

The bald man smiled and retrieved his laptop from his bag. He replied, "Initially, the superiors wanted to withhold this information and deliver them more gently. However, now that that incident happened in America, many people have lost their sense of security. Some pertinent things, such as the economy and the society, could not be thought over so much. When things happen, we have to adapt accordingly."

As he finished, he shoved the laptop in front of Milk and asked, "Milk, what do you think of him?"

Lin Chen asked curiously, "Inspector Ho?"

The next moment, something shocking happened right in front of him.

Under his shocked gaze, Milk jumped out from Lin Chen's arms and sat in front of the laptop. She then began typing key by key.

"Although this idiot isn't very smart, he treats me well. The important thing is that he can withstand my ability, he'll be the one for now."

Seeing the words appear on the screen, Inspector Ho smiled, "As long as you're happy. It's not easy to find someone who can withstand the ability with a good physique and clean background, someone we can trust."

Lin Chen saw all of this unfold in front of him and pointed at the cat astonishingly, "In... In in in inspector Ho, did you see that? This cat is typing, she's typing!!!"

"I see it, don't kick up such a fuss." Inspector Ho said, "Isn't it just a cat typing? After a supercat awakens, its intellect is comparable to that of humans. They can interact with each other, but not with humans. They can only use written words to communicate with us."

Lin Chen's mind was blank in this moment. He stared at Milk blankly, then both his eyes gave off an extremely perplexed gaze.

Milk sighed and shook its tail, typing, "Once we go back, remember to buy me some sand. I don't want to use newspapers to clean up, so dirty and smelly."

"She, she, she, she, she!" Lin Chen continued, pointing at Milk.

"I know, typing right?" Inspector Ho said indifferently, "Once supercats awaken, apart from the increased intellect, the most important thing is that they'll obtain a special ability. For example, moving very quickly, spitting fire, spitting water, telekinesis or even farts and other stuff."

"Farts? Farting can be considered as a special ability?"

"If a fart can blow a car away, obviously it's considered as a special ability."
