

Am I A God 411

Chapter 411: Regaining of Consciousness

After looking at Xiao Yu and Zhao Xue, Zhao Yao was extremely appalled in his consciousness. Accompanied by the ripple in his consciousness, his body that was laying on the hospital bed shook like he was shocked by electricity.

Zhao Xue and Xiao Yu were excited by Zhao Yao's regain of consciousness.

Xiao Yu immediately pressed the buzzer beside the hospital bed. The doctor came in a short while and asked, "What happened?"

"Dr. Liu! Look at my brother, he seems to have woken up!"

Zhao Yao was slightly taken aback. He looked at the female doctor standing before him and thought to himself, "This fellow.. Isn't she the Dr. Liu from Starry Starry Pet Hospital? How can she be attending to humans? Are you sure it's alright for her to be my doctor?! Change my doctor!!"

Dr. Liu adjusted her spectacles and touched Zhao Yao's chest. She then inspected his eyelids and spoke, "Infected by viruses, visceral failure, muscular atrophy, urinal concretion..."

"Ah? My brother's body is in such a bad condition?"

Dr. Liu shifted her spectacles again and spoke, "Oh, he actually doesn't have these but when he regains consciousness, he still requires an operation."

Xiao Yu replied, "Isn't he moving already?"

"He's just having a dream." Dr. Liu replied calmly, "The cure for everything is sterilization. Only with sterilization, he doesn't need to endure the pains and sufferings of a man. Sickneses related to the prostate would not appear. Furthermore, with my experience, the temperament of the man will mellow and he won't be angered easily. He will even be more accurate when peeing and his pee would not drip onto the toilet bowl or the floor."

“You are evidently a veterinarian!” Zhao Yao shouted maniacally, “Isn’t this a way to sterilize a cat?! Who will believe what you are saying! Who will sterilize a person in coma?!”

Zhao Xue deliberated, “But with my brother’s personality, wouldn’t he be extremely upset when he wakes up and realized that he was sterilized?”

Zhao Yao rolled his eyes, “Although the main point isn’t that, your thought is right. Don’t sterilize me, definitely don’t do it!”

“Zhao Xue, it’s okay!” Xiao Yu patted Zhao Xue’s shoulder and said, “Zhao Yao’s already close to thirty years old and still doesn’t have a girlfriend. There’s no difference if he is able to reproduce or not. You have become the man of our family and a man that’s about to get married. You are already ahead of Zhao Yao, even if he can’t reproduce, you are still able to carry on the family line.”

“Ah! This evil student!” Zhao Yao was angered, “Zhao Xue, don’t listen to her! Even though I don’t have a girlfriend, you don’t need to sterilize me!”

At this moment, a nurse rushed into the room and handed over a stack of documents to Dr. Liu. She shouted, “Dr. Liu, things aren’t good. There was an explosion in the neighbourhood and many victims require operation. There isn’t enough resources in the city centre’s hospital and they are going to send over fifty patients to us.”

Dr. Liu looked at the list of patients on the document and was shocked, “They are all so severely injured? All these require sterilization. Hurry prepare for sterilization!” As she said, her eyes were gleaming with excitement and she left Zhao Yao’s room straight away.

“Look at this! She’s a pervert who loves to perform sterilization on patients!” Zhao Yao screamed at Zhao Xue, “Absolutely do not put me through sterilization! If not, your brother will forever not be able to stand and this has a lot of meanings!”

Zhao Xue seemed to have heard Zhao Yao’s incessant shouts and nodded. Zhao Xue looked at him and said, “Rest assured brother. From here on, I will be responsible for carrying on of our family line.”

Bam!

Zhao Yao violently opened his eyes and sprung up.

Zhao Xue was pleasantly surprised, “Brother, you are awake!”

“Damn,” Xiao Yu frowned a little, “He actually woke up.”

“Brother, do you know how long you have been unconscious for. You stay here for a bit, I will get Dr. Liu to check on you.”

“There’s no need!” Zhao Yao grabbed onto Zhao Xue’s arm and spoke sternly, “I know my body is on tip top condition and I can leave the hospital immediately.”

With Zhao Yao’s insistence, Zhao Xue brought him to settle the administrative matters and the three of them headed to the exit. Xiao Yu looked around and said, “The car should be arriving soon, let’s wait for a while.”

Zhao Yao wiped his cold sweat and thought, “That’s a close shave. I can finally leave this damn hospital. But why do I still feel like something’s wrong?”

He sub-consciously felt that there was something amiss about the people, buildings and the world before his eyes. However, after some thought, everything seemed to make sense and was perfectly normal. Hence, Zhao Yao couldn’t figure what was wrong.

Zhao Yao looked through the book and noticed that surface was still there. The supercats and their levels were still intact and he heaved a sigh of relief.

While Zhao Yao was looking at the surface, Xiao Yu shouted, “The car’s here.”

With a creak, Zhao Yao noticed that his panamera stopped in front of his eyes. Xiao Yu opened the door and was unsatisfied, “Noodle, you took so long.”

“Noodle?” Zhao Yao looked into the car and didn’t see any husky. He was puzzled, “You brought your dog too?”

“What are you looking at?” Xiao Yu pointed to the young man in the driver seat and said, “This is Noodle.”

“Eh...” Zhao Yao then noticed the young man and there was a pair of husky ears on his head. There was still a furry tail on his back that kept wagging. Other than that, he was a perfectly normal human.

Zhao Yao further noticed that this person resembled the dead Ho Hao Cang.

Zhao Yao couldn't help but spat out, “How could you be Noodle? This is a lie! Only two years past. Even if you had changed your own heda, you also changed the race of your dog?!”

Xiao Yu shot him a look of disdain, “What do you know? Noodle is only three years old and still undergoing growth. It's normal that there are changes.”

“What kind of minor changes are these?” Zhao Yao pointed to the face of Ho Hao Cang, “This is a complete erasal and replacement of the race!”

Ho Hao Cang looked at Zhao Yao and barked and stuck out his tongue to reveal a silly smile.

Xiao Yu immediately smiled, “Zhao Yao, look. Noodle still recognises you.”

“Damn,” Zhao Yao sprung over and pinched Ho Hao Cang's face. “You think that you are a dog just because you bark! You are Ho Hao Cang! Even if you turned grey, I will still recognise you! Even if you managed to deceive Zhao Xue and Xiao Yu, you can't deceive me!”

Ho Hao Cang let out a pitiful sound.

Zhao Xue assured him, “Brother, you slept for two years. Many things happened and everyone changed. This is perfectly normal and you will get used to it.”

Zhao Yao rolled his eyes and eventually still boarded the car. However, he still thought to himself, “This isn't right. There's definitely something wrong!”

Panamera was a spacious dual-utility sports car. People could sit in both the front and back rows. Hence, Xiao Yu, Noodle, Zhao Yao sat on the car and headed off.

Xiao Yu asked, "Where are we going? Are we going to your house first? Or the coffee house? Oh right, Zhao Yao... You tell me then, Zhao Xue."

Zhao Xue looked at Zhao Yao and spoke, "Brother, when you weren't around, I have handled the matters at the coffee house on your behalf."

"Eh?"

Zhao Xue continued speaking, "I only came to know after that you were also a powerful apostle. You have raised so many supercats. However, after you became unconscious, no one was in control of those cats and they wouldn't listen to us. Now, a majority of them couldn't be located."

"What?" Zhao Yao immediately utilised his ability to enter the extradimensional belly and swept across the space, there was no one to be found. The whole place was filled with catmint and Ares, Lucifer and the rest weren't there anymore.

Zhao Yao was speechless, "Dust Ball..." He tried to call out for Dust Ball but there still wasn't any response.

Zhao Xue spoke, "Let's go to the cat cafe first. Everyone must be looking forward to seeing you. Upon knowing that you were awake, they must be very happy."

Hence, Zhao Yao was brought to the cat cafe by the rest. From afar, the exterior appearance of the cafe still looked the same as before. Zhao Yao heaved a sigh of relief.

Upon opening the door, it was accompanied by a ring. Xiao Shiyu who was at the bar raised her head and revealed a look of pleasant surprise upon sighting Zhao Yao. She emotionally covered her mouth and shouted, "Zhao Yao! You! You are awake?"

Zhao Yao smiled and nodded. He lightly exhaled and thought, "Luckily Xiao Shiyu is still normal."

Xiao Shiyu stepped out from the counter and headed towards Zhao Yao.

However, after a few steps, a handsome man suddenly kneeled down in front of he and said, “Miss Xiao, I’m the CEO from xx Corporation. My annual income is ten billion and am the wealthiest man in Asia. My parents are dead and I only like one person!” He then revealed a diamond the size of his fist and presented to Xiao Shiyu, “Please marry me!”

“Oh, but...” Xiao Shiyu didn’t finished speaking and another fair-looking man blocked the way of the handsome man and said, “No!” He looked at Xiao Shiyu and said, “I’m 1.9 metres tall. My lower torso measures to 1.3 metres. I am well-built and I have abs. I’m only 20 years old and I was already awarded the Golden Horse Award and Golden Rooster Award. But I have yet to dated anyone and that’s because I only like you!”

Xiao Shiyu looked at the both of them and let out an awkward smile. Accompanied by her smile, there was a sudden rainbow that rose behind her. Zhao Yao could even smell the scent of flowers and there were butterflies dancing in the air.

The guys around both set their eyes on her and spoke in unison, “This is too beautiful!”

Zhao Yao was speechless, “This... This is overly-dramatic. Evidently there is something wrong with Xiao Shiyu too.”

“You are all good guys but we are not suitable. I have someone I adore already.” Xiao Shiyu smiled and rushed over to Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao was breathless, “It cannot be.”

Xiao Shiyu picked up speed as she ran.

“This is impossible?”

Xiao Shiyu leapt and jumped in his direction.

“This cannot be explained.” While Zhao Yao was talking, he had already extended his arms and hugged her.

At the next moment, Xiao Shiyu leapt into the embrace of Zhao Xue and smiled, “This is my fiancée.”

Zhao Yao was taken aback, “This really is weird. There’s something wrong with Xiao Shiyu too.”

A group of people sat down and Zhao Yao observed them. They wagged their tails and crawled around chasing cats. He frowned and didn’t care about them after a while.

He looked towards Xiao Shiyu and asked, “Where’s Hanako and Baiquan? Matcha, Roly Poly and Elizabeth? Why didn’t I see them?”

Xiao Shiyu and Zhao Xue exchanged glances and Zhao Xue nodded, “Tell him. Brother should ought to know.”

Hence, Xiao Shiyu spoke, “Hanako and Baiquan left for over a year. I don’t know where did they go. As for the supercats in the cafe...”

After a moment of silence, Xiao Shiyu continued, “After you were away, Matcha and Roly Poly both felt like they were the ones who should be in-charged. They had a big fight and the cats picked their sides to support Matcha or Roly Poly.”

“Ah?” Zhao Yao clenched his teeth, “These two damn cats. While I’m lying in bed, they are already fighting for the inheritance?”

Zhao Yao lifted his head and asked, “So where are they now?”

“After you left, Matcha didn’t had the control of anyone and revealed his true character. Now he was coined as the leader of the evil cats. He gathered a bunch of other wanted supercats to do evil. They now reside in an old castle in the Western suburbs. A few of the cats who were under you are with him now.”

“As for Roly Poly, he is now known as the saint. He always tried to stop Matcha and prevent his evil doings. But no one really know about his whereabouts.”

“Damn it.” Zhao Yao stared coldly and as he stood up, “Bring me to Matcha. Since we know his whereabouts, I will bring him back first.”

Zhao Xue hesitated, “But, Matcha is strong now and he has gathered a group of supercats. We are not really in a position to match against them.”

Xiao Yu nodded in agreement, “We can still go. Since you’re back, Matcha wouldn’t do anything to us. But you shouldn’t have any expectation of him coming back. Two years had passed, they are not the cats that you knew.”

...

The loud rumble was accompanied by lightning that struck. A sea of white encompassed the skies, revealing a pitch-black castle in the middle of the forest.

The castle was surrounded by dried plants and sounds of bats flapping could be heard. Frequent shrieks could also be heard from the direction of the castle.

Zhao Yao rubbed his eyes and said, “This fellow is living here?”

Xiao Shiyu nodded and shouted, “Yes, he lives in the middle tower of the castle. If you want to see him, you can just head straight up. Since you’re his owner, he wouldn’t make things difficult for you.”

“Why must you shout?” Zhao Yao turned around and stared at Xiao Shiyu who was at least a hundred metres behind him. He was angered, “Why must you stand so far away from me?”

Zhao Xue shouted, “Is that very far? I think it’s okay? Since it’s so spacious, let’s spread out.”

Zhao Yao looked at Zhao Xue who was two hundred metres away and was speechless, “Why are you all so fearful?”

Xiao Yu and Noodle who were seated in the car and prepared to drive off at any moment said, “Zhao Yao, you enter by yourself. We will wait for you outside. You rest assured, we will wait for you to return before leaving.”

“At least stop the engine!” Zhao Yao exclaimed, “Don’t talk about cutting off the engine, Noodle, your foot is already on the accelerator? I can hear the sound emanating from the car.”

After looking at the people who were ready to escape at any moment, he still headed in the direction of the castle. The ability assigned to the book as well as its ability had recovered to its normal usage. He thought to himself that there shouldn’t be any problem for him to settle Matcha.

Chapter 413: Entrance

Zhao Yao walked along in the pitch-black forest as the shrills continued. He rolled his eyes and said, “This Matcha, why is he staying here? And why are Zhao Xue and the rest so frightened?”

As he thought, there were some updates on the book.

Mission: To search for the cat.

Mission description: Search for all the supercats and place them back in the extradimensional belly and find out what’s the reasons for all changes that took place.

Reward for accomplishing: For every contract supercat that was retrieved, you will be awarded 500 experience points. For every non-contract supercat, you will be awarded 100 experience points. 1000 experience points will be awarded for finding out the reasons behind the changes.

Punishment for failing: None.

Zhao Yao nodded at the assigned task and that was exactly what he wanted to accomplish. It was a long time before he was assigned a task as he was satisfied with his life and there wasn’t many tasks for him to accomplish.

When he was awoken, he realised the whole world had changed and even the supercats went missing. This resulted in Zhao Yao wanting to investigate and to retrieve all his supercats.

“There are so much experience points for the mission this time. With my 2x experience points card, if I were to retrieve Matcha, Elizabeth, Dust Ball, Ares, Lucifer and Sphynx cat these 6 cast, I would have already attained 6000 experience points. With the rest of the non-contact cats and after finding out the reason for the change, that will amount to 2000 experience points.”

Zhao Yao took a look at the surface, Book: Lv 6 (3602/20000)

Matcha Lv 7 (3800/20000)

Elizabeth Lv 6 (3300/10000)

Dust Ball Lv 8 (4555/50000)

Ares Lv 6 (3600/10000)

Lucifer Lv 6 (2000/10000)

“Hm, when I complete the mission, there will be sufficient experience points for Lv 6 of my book. But if I temporarily don’t raise the level of my book, I can use it on the supercats.”

As he thought, his eyes shone and he picked up his speed as he headed towards the castle.

However, at this moment, he raised his eyebrow and covered his nose. He thought to himself, “What’s this stench? What’s up with this stench of cats’ poop.”

He took a few more steps and saw heaps of cats’ poop in the forests and there were scatters that could be human’s or cat’s. Some words were written on the tree.

“Peeing and Pooping on the ground is the rights of a cat! This sacred rule cannot be violated!”

“Hail King George!”

“The Saviour of the wicked cats!”

...

At the same time, in a particular office in Jiangmen City.

Uncle Ho spoke sternly, “What’s going on? A consecutive of over a hundred incidents, over three hundred police and apostles broke contact. We don’t know the whereabouts of over fifty supercats. Who’s waging war on us?”

Lin Chen replied, “I’m afraid it’s not war. Although we haven’t confirmed the reason behind all these, but from what we have confirmed...” Lin Chen frowned with deliberation and spoke at the next instant, “They... fell asleep and can’t be awakened.”

“Fell asleep?” Uncle Ho was enraged, “How’s that possible? At the same time, so many of them fell asleep? What a joke, was it the apostles? But it’s so large scale and the destruction was too stunning.” Uncle Ho scribbled on the map on the table, “First it was here and here and then... Eh? The parameters are shifting? The apostles or supercats were moving and emanating their abilities. Lin Chen, come and see. Lin Chen... Lin Chen?”

Uncle Ho was shocked when he lifted his head and looked at Lin Chen.

Lin Chen had already shut his eyes as he lay on the chair. He lightly snored as he fell asleep.

...

In Zhao Yao’s house, rustles could be heard from the cat’s toilet. The door was knocked open and a pair of yellow abnormal pupils were revealed.

The mango’s head drilled out from the toilet and looked at the people and cats laying on the floor. His head tilted a little and revealed a blank look.

He seemed to not comprehend why everyone fell asleep at such an early timing today.

As he stepped over their bodies, he leg suddenly wobbled. He lowered his head and realised he had stepped on Matcha's face.

...

"Eh?!" In the castle, Matcha sprung up on his bed, "Why did I felt that something stepped on my face."

"King, are you awake?" Old Cat asked respectfully.

"Yes," Matcha opened his mouth and revealed his sharp teeth. He let out a yawn and jumped off the bed.

However, when his feet landed on the ground, with a squish, Matcha's expression changed. He looked at his feet and immediately exclaimed, "Who pooped in my room?"

Old Cat said awkwardly, "King, yesterday night you were smoking weed and when you were high, you did this."

Another cat at the side giggled, "Didn't you say it was our privilege to do it anywhere. From today on, all the cats don't need to do it in the toilet."

Matcha held his head and said with disbelief, "I said that?"

At this moment, moans could be heard from the bed. Matcha turned around and saw Lion Head sat up. He licked his lips at Matcha and said, "Matcha, you were impressive last night."

"*****" Matcha gasped and he was unable to close his mouth. He was shocked as he looked at the bed and then at Old Cat, "What's going on? Her her her... Me me me..."

Old Cat said, "King, you forgot? You snatched her over from Roly Poly. After you finished pooping yesterday night, you asked a cat to bring her over. You said you wanted to insult Roly Poly and make him a cuckold."

Matcha covered his face with his paws and said, "Why didn't any of you stop me?"

Lion Head shifted and the bed let out a horrendous squeak. She grabbed onto Matcha's paw and said, "Matcha~ Why are you ignoring me?"

Matcha felt a shudder and stood up immediately. He withdrew himself from Lion Head with some struggle and headed out of his room. He pointed in the direction of Lion Head and signalled to Old Cat to finish her off.

"I hand this over to you, find an opportunity to secretly finish her off."

At this moment, a shout sounded and a bolt of lightning rushed over. He shouted, "King, things aren't good! Roly Poly had rushed in!"

"Hm, this scum still dares to come here!" Matcha's eyes shone and lifted the corner of his mouth. He revealed a cruel and savage grin.

A black cloak was placed over Matcha and he entered a hall via the long corridor and said, "My cats, follow me and finish off this damn cat!"

Meow! In the surrounding walls, countless green and yellow pupils shone.

Chapter 414: Retrieval

As Zhao Yao threaded along, there were more cats' poop beneath his feet. He couldn't take it anymore and activated his ability of repulsion. His body floated slightly above the ground and flew ahead.

"This damn cat, why do all his subordinates not know how to use the toilet?" As Zhao Yao controlled the repulsive field, it seemed like he had a pair of invisible legs stepping on the ground. "Initially the use of repulsion is mystical. It was like using a pair of invisible limbs to move about. But I had to use it in this circumstance."

At this moment, Zhao Yao's ear twitched. He vigorously turned towards the direction of the castle and heard the shrieks from cats.

“What happened?” Zhao Yao’s eyes shifted and instantly flew in the direction of the castle.

“Matcha!” The white-furred Roly Poly stood up straight. He raised a paw and shouted at Matcha who was standing on a faraway raised platform, “Your action is incorrigible! I’m determined to send you to the depths of hell!”

“He he he he!” Matcha covered his face as he smirked to himself.

“Roly Poly, you’re the foolish cat! I’ve already evolved into a new era of species and had become the god of this world! A limited cat like you aren’t able to defeat me!” Matcha laughed maniacally, “This is like a mice trying to defeat a cat and you’re the mice.”

“I’m the cat that inherited the cafe. And it can only be me!”

“Ah!” Airplane and Uncle Egg shuddered at the sight of Matcha.

Uncle Egg exclaimed, “What a strong force of evil! Matcha had already completely see himself as an entity beyond a cat!”

Roly Poly stood squarely in front of the two cats. He licked his white fur and said coldly, “Matcha, you thought you are the only one improving? I’ve continued training to prevent you from scheming to inherit the cafe. When the cafe was harassed by you, I didn’t appear. When Lion Head was humiliated by you, I didn’t appear. I didn’t appear for the rest of my old friends too. Even my body of white fur was a result of my training. I have maximised my ability to defeat you!”

Matcha looked at Roly Poly and stopped the surrounding cats who were ready to start a fight. He shouted at them, “Don’t interfere in this fight. Only I will take him out!”

“Roly Poly!”

“Matcha!”

At that instant, they collided and their paws swiped at lightning fast speed. They continued colliding and loud thuds emanated.

“Too weak, too weak, you’re too weak!” Matcha smirked, “That’s your everything? Roly Poly! Compared to my far superior abilities, you’re lacking by so much!”

At that instant, time stopped and Matcha directed countless punches at Roly Poly and this resulted in a him being heavily bruised.

As time continued, Roly Poly fell onto the ground and Matcha stepped on his face, “This has ended. Roly Poly, the sole inheritor of the cafe is me, Matcha.”

“You’re wrong, Matcha! You have committed a fatal mistake!” Roly Poly squinted his bloody eyes. He pointed his paw at Matcha and shouted, “I’ve already calculated the length of your time stoppage. Looking at my injuries, you’ve finished utilised your ability in one breath!”

“What?” Matcha was shocked.

At the next moment, starting from Roly Poly, the surrounding objects became invisible and this started spreading throughout the castle.

“Matcha! You have landed yourself in my hell of invisibility!” Roly Poly began retaliating. Not to mention that Matcha wasn’t even able to locate Roly Poly, he didn’t know even know where himself was.

As the whole castle became invisible, Matcha couldn’t detect anything.

Zhao Yao who was hiding in one corner witnessed this battle. He was evaluating the changes to the two cats too, “In terms of abilities, there weren’t much differences. As for personality, Matcha can be said to have revealed his true inner character.”

As he witnessed Matcha who was screaming in distress, Zhao Yao shook his head and said, “It’s time for me to interfere.”

At the next instant, Zhao Yao utilised Elizabeth's sorcery. An invisible wave spread throughout the castle. At that instant, all the cats' five senses were taken away from them. Even for Matcha and Roly Poly, their visions became black and fell to the floor.

As the blurly tried to regain their consciousness, they felt a pair of huge hands touching them.

Matcha was the first to open his eyes. As he witnessed Zhao Yao who was stripping him, he shrieked, "Zhao Yao! You're awake?" He was unhappy on the inside as he thought to himself, "This old guy actually woke up."

But at the next moment, he grabbed onto Zhao Yao's arm and cried, "Zhao Yao, I miss you!"

Roly Poly was rudely awoken by Matcha's cries. When he saw Zhao Yao in front of him, he sprung on him, "Zhao Yao, you are finally awake!" Roly Poly thought to himself too, "Damn it. Almost, the cafe was almost mine!"

As he saw the two cats crying like children, Zhao Yao smiled gladly. "At least I didn't waste my efforts doting on you."

Matcha pointed at Roly Poly and shouted, "Zhao Yao, Roly Poly wanted to snatch over the cafe when you were asleep. He also wanted to chase us out and he even pooped on your bed. I want justice to be served."

Roly Poly covered Matcha's face with his palm. "Zhao Yao! Matcha wanted to snatch over the cafe first. He even took the cafe's money to buy games. He almost cause the cafe to shut down!"

"Roly Poly didn't even visit you at the hospital!"

"Matcha embezzled the money used for your hospital fees!"

As he listened to them, Zhao Yao's expression became more gloomy. With a thud, the cats' heads slammed on the ground simultaneously. "Shut up."

He opened the door to extradimensional belly. Zhao Yao looked at Old Cat, Uncle Egg, Airplane, Sausage, Meat Bun and Lion Head who were briefly awoken and said, "All of you head back. You all had enough."

As he listened to Zhao Yao, Old Cat and the rest didn't dare to resist and headed back with a shudder. As for Matcha's guys, they did not dare to do anything as they witnessed that Matcha and Roly Poly did not dare to retaliate.

As he watched the cats headed in one by one, Zhao Yao smiled with satisfaction. Matcha, Roly Poly, Old Cat, Uncle Egg, Airplane, Sausage, Meat Bun and Lion Head amounted to one contract cat and seven non-contract cats. Zhao Yao was hence awarded a total of 2400 experience points. This was a great outing.

"Okay, we are going to find the next cat." Zhao Yao headed out of the castle, "This castle, as well as the forests and landscape of the surroundings... I don't remember there's such a place near Jiangmen City. Not only the cats and human, the whole world didn't seem right."

Zhao Yao exited the castle and looked at the skies. He was stunned.

The sun that was hanging in the sky had changed to a cat's face smiling onto earth.

This cat's face was Fish Ball's. Fish Ball was looking down with affection as he emanated his warmth.

"There's really some problem with this world."

Chapter 415: Ponder

Speaking about the changes to humans and cats as well as the weird landscape and structures, the length of two years could probably explain those changes. However, the sun that had changed into Fishball's face was simply unexplainable.

Zhao Yao patted his face and muttered, "Am I under some spell?" He withdrew his five sense and immediately returned it back.

He looked at his surroundings, lifted his head but the sun was still Fishball's face.

He deeply exhaled, "This spells trouble."

"This isn't an illusion, this fantasy..." Zhao Yao shut his eyes and the ominous feeling became more evident in him. He slowly began thinking of events that took place.

"I can remember what happened prior to I was awake. When I returned home, Matcha and the rest were asleep. I went to sleep after washing the dishes. But when I was awoken..."

He tried to recall the various happenings, the people and cats he met. However, besides the familiar faces, he could barely remember the rest.

With Zhao Yao's concentration and his abilities, his memory was incredible. To not even remember a single face, it was not possible.

"Am I... dreaming?" Zhao Yao recalled when Matcha and the rest fell onto the ground as well as the changes that happened to Xiao Yu, Zhao Xue and the rest. It seemed to be what they wanted to change into, "This isn't my dream? It's a connected dream of ours?"

It seemed like this situation was more complicated than it seemed, Zhao Yao hence decided to retrieve the rest of his cats.

"Irregardless, I will retrieve all the cats first and gain the experience points." Zhao Yao suddenly frowned, "If this is really a dream, I wonder if the book's task is real. I can ask Zhao Xue and the rest."

When he exited the forest, Zhao Yao pointed to the sun and asked them, "What's up with this?"

"Ah?" Xiao Yu looked at the sky and was suspicious, "Isn't it just the sun? Why?"

Zhao Yao was speechless, "That's Fishball! This is obviously Fishball!"

"Fishball? The sun is just the sun, how can it be Fishball?" Xiao Yu was puzzled, "And Zhao Yao, you're out so quickly? Where's Matcha, Roly Poly and the rest?"

As Zhao Yao looked at Zhao Xue, Zhao Shiyu and Xiao Yu who thought that the sun was still the same and had forgotten the existence of Fishball, he could not help but sighed. “No one is aware of the oddness of the sun? Only I’m aware that this might be a dream?”

As he sat on the car, Xiao Yu and the rest drove back to the cafe. He began conversing with them. He started asking the outsiders about things that they could not possibly know about him, Zhao Xue and Xiao Yu when they were young. As he heard them answer, he asked a few questions that he did not have the answer to too.

“Zhao Xue, when did you start like women?”

“Xiao Yu, when did you start having your dog?”

As he saw them answer fluently and explaining with details. Zhao Yao could somewhat confirm that Xiao Yu and Zhao Xue were real people. If not they could not have known so much. Even for details that Zhao Yao didn’t know, they could answer sincerely with details.

Zhao Xue curiously looked at Zhao Yao and said, “Brother, why do you have so much to talk about today?”

“He he, I couldn’t remember many things after sleeping for two years. I am just trying to confirm some matters.” Zhao Yao looked at the two of them and asked his last question, “What did you all have for dinner yesterday?”

As they listened to this simple question, Zhao Xue, Xiao Yu and Xiao Shiyu revealed blank stares. They seemed to be trying their best to recall but couldn’t remember anything.

In dreams, some memories would be blurry. With the human’s consciousness, we cannot possibly every specific detail in the world. Hence, there were some that would have been neglected by our consciousness.

Just like Zhao Xue and the rest, they did not actually spent two years in their dreams. The context of the dream allowed them to feel like they had actually spent two years. If they tried to recall specific details like what they ate and how much they spent on a daily basis, it would be a blur.

As he looked at their expressions, he was more or less confident that they were existing in the same dream.

But he still couldn't comprehend why Noodle became Ho Hao Cang.

"Perhaps Noodle saw Ho Hao Cang previously and thought that he was too handsome and wanted to become this man?" Zhao Yao could only think of this explanation. Even with his wonderful imagination, he still couldn't think of the real reason for that. Their consciousness had overlapped and this weird occurrence took place.

Zhao Yao stroke his chin and thought, "Looking at things now, even though this dream is connected by many people and cats. However, they could only change themselves and not others. Zhao Xue becoming a guy, Xiao Yu becoming a beauty, Matcha and Roly Poly fighting for the cafe. The rest of the supercats would have probably become what they envisioned. This dream seemed to be triggered by an ability and probably by a supercat or an apostle."

"And to escape this scenario..." The first thought Zhao Yao had was death. "Let's try other methods and if all of them don't work out, let's see if death can escape the dream."

After all, Zhao Yao still has two lives. There's capacity for him to try, even if he died once, he wasn't afraid.

"I'm able to awaken myself in my sleep, this probably still had to do with my ability of five cats." This ability was holistic and apart from endowing his body, it also enhanced his consciousness. Hence, he could be awoken in his dream.

But he also realised that he couldn't change himself like what Zhao Xue and Xiao Yu did as he wasn't actually dreaming and didn't have the ability to change himself and his experiences.

"But the person orchestrating this isn't that powerful." From the situation, if the person could properly orchestrate the dream, the dream wouldn't be like that.

The scenes and rules in the dream possibly still had to fulfil everyone's consciousness. Only their personal areas could be altered.

Chapter 416: The Search

Upon reaching back to the cafe, Zhao Yao still wasn't able to formulate a plan to resolve the dream. He still thought of completing the mission first to attain the experience points.

“Completing the task in this illusion would be useless. However, albeit the illusory, it still wasn't a whole another world. Also, after I was made aware that this was a dream, the task on the book didn't alter. There was still a chance that I could attain real experience points upon completing the task.”

Til here, Zhao Yao decided to continue finding the rest of the cats. Firstly, he called out for Dust Ball in the extradimensional belly but there was still no response. He asked Xiao Shiyu and the rest but they didn't had a clue where they were.

At this moment, he saw the broadcast on the television in the hall.

“Welcome the China's Best Cat. Let's welcome Contestant Number 12...”

As he looked at the performance of cats dancing and singing, Zhao Yao was curious, “Why is there this programme? That's not right, this must be under the influence of some person or cat.”

As the show continued, the contestants, the contestants' parents were all anticipating the judges' turning of chairs.

When one chair turned, the cat was actually Elizabeth.

She said to the contestant that finished his performance, “What's your dream?”

Elizabeth had a body full of white fur. She was toned and seemed to have trained her body.

“I know your dream of performing.” Elizabeth sat in her hair and she teared, “I'm touched by your story. It has been long since I saw a young person like you who sacrificed so much for music. When I looked at you, it reminds me of when I was young. Let's all give her a round of applause.”

As she returned to the backstage, she walked as she cleaned away the eyedrops. She was unsatisfied and said, “What's this all about? This person's out of tune and I have to ensure that she wins? Even if I have won Oscar, I can't continue acting. You all really think the audiences are blind?”

Elizabeth's assistant Xiao Ji nodded in agreement. "Miss Elizabeth, you don't be too angry. We have no choice, the company and sponsor want us to secure the first place for her. The following ten years contract was already signed. You just have to tolerate for a little bit."

"Then tell her to practise her singing. She can't even enunciate properly."

Elizabeth sat in the dressing room backstage as she looked at her make up assistant. She was very unhappy as she exclaimed, "And is the host a fool? Stole my line? Crazy trying to be famous? Tell the director to tell him not to disrupt me when I speak."

The manager carefully walked to her side and handed over a document, "Sister Elizabeth, this is the contract as the ambassador for Chanel watch. Take a look..."

"Only $50,000 annually?" Elizabeth frowned, "What's the price for Bai Baihe previously? Tell them that whatever her worth is, I want double of that."

Her manager nodded. He dialed a number and headed out.

Elizabeth shrieked as she looked into the mirror. "What's this? Do you know how to perm? My fur's naturally more robust, you didn't pull them straight. I will look too fat when I'm on television."

Her assistant immediately explained, "Sorry Sister Elizabeth, she just joined us yesterday and she's still inexperienced."

Elizabeth rolled her eyes, "Be more professional okay? If you don't know you can flip through my portraits. When was my fur that robust?"

The manager came back, "Sister Elizabeth, you have dinner with Boss Huang tomorrow..."

"I'm not going." Elizabeth was enraged, "This old pervert. It was okay if he only stroke my back. The last time we had dinner, he touched my stomach for almost half an hour. Do you know I went back and had diarrhea for a day? You can't just touch a cat's stomach."

At this moment, the phone rang and the manager placed the phone carefully beside Elizabeth's ear. "Sister Elizabeth, a call from your mother."

"Hello? Didn't I just transfer you money?"

"You finished spending already?"

"Are you all cats? I spend the entire day working in the limelight. You actually finished spending my hard-earned money!!"

Bam, the phone was swiped onto the floor and Elizabeth spoke with annoyance, "If they call, don't pass it to me."

At the same moment, Zhao Yao had already arrived at the lobby of the broadcasting company. He smiled as he looked at the building, "This Elizabeth..."

The security guard looked at Zhao Yao as he entered and rushed to stop him. "This gentleman, you need to register to enter. If you don't have permission, you can't just enter."

Zhao Yao was unconcerned and casually said, "Is Elizabeth inside?"

The security guard revealed an expression of annoyance, "If you are really Elizabeth's fan, please wait outside. I can't let you enter to find her."

"I'm her fan?" Zhao Yao smiled and shook his head, "Forget it. There's no point speaking to a NPC like you. I will just enter to find her."

Since he had sufficient confidence that this was a dream, he didn't need to have as much considerations. But since it was a dream connected with many others, he didn't know if they would remember him when they were awoken.

Utilising Roly Poly's ability, his head vanished. Followed by the security guard's scream, the whole building became invisible. A golden glow was showing and it spread to the top of the building.

“What?” Elizabeth who was at the dressing room was shocked at the building turning invisible. She managed to react at the next instant, “This is Zhao Yao?”

At the next moment, the floor beneath was teared open and Zhao Yao stepped up with a golden glow.

“Elizabeth, it’s time to return home.”

As Zhao Yao brought Elizabeth out of the building, many police cars were already headed in his direction.

Zhao Yao squinted and revealed a slight grin, “Interesting. Even though this is a dream. There were many illogical happenings to cats and human. But for society as a whole, it still reverted back to reality.”

“That’s good too. I will just make it bigger scale and see if I can lure out the person behind all these. At the same time, I will let Dust Ball and the rest know I’m awake.” Zhao Yao smiled, “And let’s see how far I can go in this society.”

In reality, even though Zhao Yao’s abilities were considered superb. He still had considerations like family, friends and hence couldn’t maximise his abilities and fought in whatever way he wanted. However, in the dream, he didn’t need to care about his identity and fought.

Chapter 417: Attack

Zhao Yao always knew that his abilities were strong and were extremely strong. If it was just him, he could still safely be up against the weapons of nations. In this dream, he could finally maximise his abilities.

Zhao Yao slightly manoeuvred his hand and a golden glow of repulsive field flashed past. The cars that were approaching came to a halt. The policemen on the cars lost consciousness at that instant.

Zhao Yao smiled and looked at Elizabeth, “Where’s your father, mother and sister?”

...

“Emergency news! A headless man entered xx Broadcasting Company and abducted famous movie star, Elizabeth. Assaulting the police...”

“Headless man breached the blockades of armed police. Over thousands of police could not stop him!”

“Armed personnel are in action. xx Squad entered the town...”

“All citizens, the suspect is dangerous, please evacuate...”

In a short while, Zhao Yao’s action was disclosed to everyone in the dream. Those apostles that were in the dream were notified of the news too.

In the training room, Yue Shan just thought for a moment and all kinds of natural elements emerged and filled up every inch of his surrounding space. It turned a tank in front of him into scrap metal.

“I have trained hard for 2 years. The strength of this did not change much but the my technique has improved to an unimaginable level. But it is too bad that the Headless Horseman is missing.”

Yue Shan exhaled. After the two years in the dream, he felt that his ability improved quickly and was extraordinary. But once he reached the pinnacle and looked around, there wasn’t a competitor on his level as the Headless Horseman had already disappeared for two years.

At this moment, his phone rang. As he opened his message inbox, he ravished with joy.

He rushed out of the training room and arrived at the field. He saw a streak of silver glowing on the running track. It was like a silver ring that covered the track and it was Lin Chen running.

Without any known reason, over the 2 years, besides Yue Shan, even Lin Chen’s improvement was incredible. The speed of improvement was unimaginable. He could reach any corner of Jiangmen City within three minutes.

As he watched the silver ring that formed on the track, Yue Shan shouted, “Lin Chen! The guy is here. The Headless Horseman, he finally arrived.”

With a soft buzz, the silver glow dissipated and Lin Chen appeared behind Yue Shan instantly. His eyes filled with a vigour and said, “What did you say?”

Beside Yue Shan and Lin Chen, all the apostles in the dream improved at ridiculous speeds and reached a level which they could not even imagine. As they looked at the Headless Horseman which had appeared, some of them looked with disdain, some sneered, some were angered as they sought revenge.

Zhao Yao didn't know all these, he appeared in front of a big villa. His ear twitched and could hear the movements inside.

In the hall of the villa, three fat ragdolls were lying on the sofa. There were maids all around serving seafood, beef, mutton and all kinds of delicacies to them.

Since Elizabeth became a huge star and earned a lot of money, they had totally become leeches. They just laze around in the villa, watched television and movies, play games and ate all the delicacies that were served to them. They even required people to carry them to the toilet, wipe their buttocks. Their lives were considered to be of decadence.

But this lifestyle was one which they considered to be lovely.

The fat Catherine placed down the phone and was displeased, “Elizabeth don't want to pick up my call, the money for our Japanese cattle is almost up?”

“What happened to her?” Diana who was perming her hair for more volume said, “I just ordered new clothes from Europe. I paid the deposit and I am still waiting for her to transfer the rest of the money.”

“Exactly,” Caesar said as he chewed on the beef that was served to him, “The furnishing at home should be changed. Staring at the same decorations everyday makes my mood worse.”

While these three cats were conversing, the whole villa shook and the roof was lifted up. Zhao Yao whose head was invisible stepped down with a golden glow.

“Diana, Catherine and Caesar, time to go home.”

Zhao Yao employed his repulsive field which resulted in the abilities of the rest rendering useless.

As he saw the cats returning back to his extradimensional belly, he smiled with satisfaction as his experience points increased by 1,000.

“Even though I don’t know where are the rest of the supercats, they should already been notified that I am awake...”

At this moment, silver light across the sky suddenly exploded out. The endless streaks encompassed his body.

Even though the streaks seemed limitless, they were still unable to infiltrate Zhao Yao’s repulsive field.

Zhao Yao curiously looked at the silver streaks, “What’s this?” When he was about to employ his ability, the streaks had already disappeared.

The first to caught up to Zhao Yao was Lin Chen who had incredible speed. In the dream, his speed was even more terrifying. From appearing to attacking to retreating, Zhao Yao did not even clearly see him.

“Hmph!” Lin Chen who retreated to a thousand metres away exhaled and was happy, “Evidently after two years of tough training, even the Headless Horseman couldn’t resist my attack.@

Lin Chen revealed a grin as he thought of his opponent being stunned when he struck and offered no resistance.

“But that turtle shell is still troublesome. It looks like I need to strike it a few more times.”

Lin Chen exhaled and entered a state of haste. His surroundings came to stand still as he appeared beside Zhao Yao.

He appeared, attacked and retreated with immense speed. This was his tactic. But when he came to where Zhao Yao was, he wasn't there.

"Eh? Invisible?" As he saw that there wasn't anything in that space, Lin Chen smiled, "How did I forget that you had the ability to turn invisible?"

He then utilised the lens on his right eye to observe the thermal distribution in the surrounding. He then observed Zhao Yao's heat map and slashed at it.

In the state of haste, the surrounding came to a stand still yet again but his digital lens wasn't affected as the speed of operating that was even faster.

But as the silver streaks enveloped Zhao Yao's body, time really came to a stand still.

Zhao Yao's purpose to become invisible wasn't to hide but to utilise Cat Princess' dress to employ both abilities.

While time came to a stand still, Zhao Yao configured and the repulsive field had already enveloped Lin Chen. When time continued, Lin Chen felt like he had become amber and was hung in mid-air and could not move at all.

Zhao Yao looked at Lin Chen who was solidified like a statue. He smiled, "So it's you. Thought of being faster in your dream? Even though it's a dream, you still can't beat me."

"How is this possible? How did he catch me while I was in the haste? Even bullet couldn't catch me now, what did he do?" He couldn't comprehend this at all.

Zhao Yao casually clapped and Lin Chen fell onto the ground and pain reverberated throughout his body and was temporarily paralyzed.

At the same time, sirens could be heard. Zhao Yao lifted his head and fleets of armed helicopters surrounded him.

“Headless Horseman, immediately...”

“These things, just don’t deploy them.” Zhao Yao said. The boundaries of his repulsive field extended by three hundred metres. The golden glow swept across all the helicopters in the sky and caused them to drop from the sky.

At the same time, in the clouds up high, a cat that resembled a purple fog was floating up there. Rays shot out from the eyes as he seemed to be observing Zhao Yao’s battle.

“Such a troublesome apostle was brought in.” The purple cat frowned, “Whatever, kill him first. If he continued doing whatever he wanted, it would affect others’ dreams.”

Varying from Zhao Yao’s inference, the person that brought in all the people and cats weren’t able to control them but were able to orchestrate all the NPCs in the dream.

“Hm?” After settling all the helicopters, Zhao Yao’s ear twitched. With a scream, two fighter planes shot out from the skies and dropped two missiles which headed in his direction.

Chapter 418: Explosion

As the missiles approached Zhao Yao within a three hundred metres range, a streak of gold stretched across the sky at that instant. The two missiles in the sky were blasted out of thin air and smokes engulfed.

Even though the missiles were of high calibre and were enough to cause a few small buildings to collapse. However, to Zhao Yao, they were not much.

But this wave of explosions was only the start. Accompanied by screams, more supersonic fighter planes were up in the air. A few kilometres out, over hundred tanks and military vehicles headed straight at Zhao Yao.

As he saw that the human army was closing up on Zhao Yao, Purple Cat up in the sky smiled, “The abilities aren’t meant for usage during war from the start. No matter the strength of the abilities, they can’t match up to the cannons and missiles of humans.”

At the same time, the tanks stopped and adjusted their cannons to face Zhao Yao and locked him as the target.

“Eh?” Zhao Yao frowned and suddenly felt a huge threat.

At the next instant, the tanks violently shook and the cannons shot out with large flares, tens of artillery were already headed in the direction of Zhao Yao.

The cannonballs would explode into fittings. The shrapnels and bearings would decimate anything in a radius of ten metres and this formed a death zone.

This round of attacks was just the start. After that, all the tanks roared. After each round, the ammunitions were reloaded and within a few minutes, over hundreds of cannonballs were in the sky again. The cannonballs had already covered Zhao Yao’s hundred over metres of area. They produced holes all about and resulted in scorched soil.

“It’s ended.” As he looked at the area which Zhao Yao hadn’t left from since the attacks, Purple Cat heaved a sigh of relief, “With these attacks, even if it was iron man, he would have become scrap iron. This is the prowess of a modern army. To confront face-on, these abilities can’t match up. Only my ability of creating dreams should be where abilities should be developing.”

But as the fog cleared to reveal what was inside, it left Purple Cat stunned.

The Headless Horseman stood there in his original position without any scratches. He looked at the army with a look of curiosity. He had already removed the little dress.

“How is this possible? He received such powerful attacks?” Purple Cat squinted. As the creator of the dream, he instantly detected that Zhao Yao was different.

Even though Zhao Yao could be seen, but his surroundings couldn’t be seen.

He seemed to be standing in a white painting like he existed in a two-dimensional platform.

Looking at this, Purple Cat was anxious, “What other ability is this?”

Actually Zhao Yao just activated the powers of his extradimensional belly and utilised the door to look at the outside world. As the extradimensional belly would emit a white flow, hence he looked like he existed in a white painting.

As the owner of the extradimensional belly, he had the authority to control the door to it. Hence, he could at will but those cannons, fragments and shock waves simply could not infiltrated. It just looked like very close explosions. But because of the separation of dimensions, there was a world of differences.

If Zhao Yao was willing, the people on the other side wouldn't even see him. But he wanted to attract the attention of the opposition and lured out the person behind this whole dream, hence he didn't just disappear.

“This is the power of a modern army?” Zhao Yao nodded his head, “I'm afraid besides the separation caused by my extradimensional belly, I couldn't head them face-on with all my other abilities.”

Facing this batch of anti-personnel weapons, even Ares' repulsive field would be shattered. Super speed regeneration would result him in being decimated into a pulp.

He could attempt to escape by stopping time but he was not able to face them ahead on. The power of illusion wouldn't work either.

“But with my extradimensional belly, I am undefeatable. This is my strongest defence, it's just that there wasn't an opponent that required me to use this.” Zhao Yao gently smiled, “I could try out this new tactic in the dream.”

With a thought in his mind, a gate appeared eight metres away from him. Similar to the ability of the absorption, the limit of the distance between gates was eight metres.

Hence, two gates appeared on the battlefield which showed Zhao Yao's front and rear view.

As the first gate disappeared, another gate appeared eight metres ahead with a thought in Zhao Yao's head.

Hence, a weird occurrence appeared. It was like a white painting as Zhao Yao appeared and disappeared as he headed towards the direction of the tanks.

Purple Cat stared in amazement, “What the hell is this ability?” He wasn’t sure of what was going on as what Zhao Yao was doing was too strange.

“Hm, there’s limitations to whatever abilities. I don’t believe I can’t finish you off. Continue the explosions!”

As the creator of the dream, he couldn’t control those who entered but he had the ultimate control over the NPCs.

With the thought in his head, the tanks continued firing as fireballs rained the earth as they scorched the soil where Zhao Yao was originally on.

As the fog disappeared, Zhao Yao still continued flashing past with no injuries.

“Ah? What’s going on?” Purple Cat was enraged, “The rest of the army, come on!”

The armoured vehicles rushed forward and the guns were targeted at Zhao Yao. Hundred of thousands of bullets pelted at Zhao Yao’s direction. A bullet was able to tear apart any person and this round of attack swarmed like hornets.

But as Zhao Yao weaved through the gates, these bullets were just like an illusion passing through his body and weren’t able to enter the extradimensional belly.

At the next moment, the fighter planes screamed and released missiles from directly above and exploded around him.

The blaze, high temperature, metal shrapnels and shock wave decimated the whole area. Even the earth vibrated like a mini earthquake took place.

Purple Cat glared at the area of decimation –

With the sheer force of the onslaught, Purple Cat was sure no apostle or cat could face that head-on. Even if tanks were under these attacks, the people inside would long be dead.

But at the next moment, Headless Horseman flashed past the explosions and reached the front of a tank. With a golden flash, the tank was held up by the cannon. A loud explosion ensued and the tank which weighed over a hundred tons was torn apart. With a dump, it flew out and rolled along.

After the gate, he had reverted to Ares' repulsive field.

That was the tremendous part of his tactic. Standing after the gate, he had immunity against the onslaught of the army. Even as he changed his ability, the gate wouldn't disappear.

This meant he wouldn't need the little dress, he could hide behind the gate and change his ability to continue his attack. Only when he needed to move about, he would revert back to the extradimensional belly.

Just like now, Zhao Yao's body flashed past and rushed into the sea of tanks. The golden glow flashed frequently and tore the tanks apart like they were toys.

The Headless Horseman flickered about on the battlefield as he weaved through the army. It was like the cannons, armour piercing shells, guns and attacks were useless against him. Everytime he swiftly approached, the armoured vehicles and tanks would be ripped apart.

Facing Zhao Yao, the modern army was rendered helpless.

"How is this possible?" Purple Cat looked at the scene beneath him. He stared in disbelief, "The abilities could reach this stage?"

"Then let's try this."

Purple Cat had been developing his ability. But reaching this level of connectivity between the consciousness of people and cats, to continue maintaining this, it required a matured set of regulations.

Purple Cat could not mess around like in his own dream, he needed to operate revolving around the others' consciousness.

Also, to ensure that they would not wake up, he needed to maintain the regulations and ensure that it resembled reality. If it was too ridiculous, the people would be awakened from the dream.

However, the greatest factor he could rely on was his ability to control the NPCs. His presentation of the modern army was holistic. To the people who were in the dream, it was like that of a divine presence.

With Purple Cat's control, an intercontinental missile shot into the sky a few hundred kilometres out. It sped towards Zhao Yao at supersonic speed. With telecontrol and pin-point accuracy by satellite guidance, he could control the speed and direction as he set Zhao Yao's position.

While Zhao Yao finished off a large portion of the tanks, he saw that the opposition started to retreat. He didn't pursue, he stopped and rubbed his chin, thinking to himself, "This squad of tanks wasn't my match. But as for those in the skies..."

Zhao Yao looked at the fighter planes circling but there wasn't much he could do. With his current abilities, there wasn't one that he could use to attack a supersonic jet that was more than a thousand metres away.

"This is my limit. I could protect myself but I couldn't attack."

At this moment, two streaks of shadows galloped over from the horizon. Zhao Yao squinted and was shocked, "That's Sphynx cat and Baiquan."

Baiquan was holding onto Sphynx cat's neck as he was on Sphynx cat's back. They glided across the sky, heading to Zhao Yao.

But looking at the look of this, they were a little shocked. Only when Zhao Yao signalled to them by hooking his fingers, they then rushed towards him. With Zhao Yao's permission, they entered the same dimensional space.

Zhao Yao looked at them and asked, "How did you find me?"

Sphinx cat and Baiquan came over after knowing all the wild happenings. After all, Sphinx cat knew the real identity of the Headless Horseman.

After a series of explanations, Sphinx cat looked at Zhao Yao and said, "You created such a big mess, you should know that you're existing in a dream right?"

Because of Sphinx cat's superior condition, his sense was far better than any ordinary organism. Hence, when Zhao Yao entered the dream, he had already regained his senses and realised where he was.

As for Baiquan, he had strong resilience and sense, along with Sphinx cat's assistance, he regained his senses too.

After they were awakened, they searched for many means to escape this dream but were not successful. They were also detected by the person behind the dream and felt that everyone in the dream was secretly observing and against them.

It was till Zhao Yao entered and created the big news that they came over.

At the same time, the intercontinental missile ripped through the sky and was already reached a distance of a thousand metres away from Zhao Yao. With the increase of speed and adjustment in direction, it spiraled towards him like god's sword.

In the extradimensional belly, he heard about Sphinx cat's experiences. He raised his eyebrow "You tried so many methods so you all believed that only death could remove you from the dream?"

"Exactly," Sphinx cat replied, "Based on our investigations, the person behind the creation of the dream wants to catch us and kill us. He wanted to get rid of us from the dream by killing us as we were abnormal so as to sustain the dream."

"That's why? But a test by dying, you all aren't brave enough to do it right?" Zhao Yao smiled, "He he, even if everyone knows that they can escape by dying, who will actually go try it out. Let me do it myself then."

Zhao Yao's eyes flickered as he continued, "But if I really manage to escape, I still need to return. After all, I have to kill all the people and cats in this dream for them to escape. The two of you aren't enough."

While thinking, he grabbed Elizabeth's sister, ragdoll Diana. He looked at the fat ragdoll and asked, "What's your ability? Tell me with specifics."

At the same time, the intercontinental missile was just over a hundred metres above Zhao Yao. It then exploded and created a huge fireball which covered an area with a radius of over a few hundred metres.

Looking at the blaze outside, Zhao Yao smiled. He didn't want to continue with the opposition and hence closed the gate.

After over ten minutes, the blaze and smog dissipated. Purple Cat looked at the empty space and heaved a sigh of relief, "He's finally finished? Once the abnormality is gone, this dream would continue being sustained."

Chapter 420: Get Out!

Charred ground desecrated the place as plumes of smoke spiraled into the sky. It was horrific.

Surrounded by the four elements encircling him, Yue Shan floated in mid-air as if he were a god. His eyes peered down at the burning crater beneath him as he sighed, "Dead already? Headless horseman?"

A blinding beam of light streaked across the sky as Explosive Man appeared right next to Yue Shan. Bursts of flame continued to shoot out from his feet as he traversed the vast sky. Explosive Man had turned into a real-life Iron Man.

"Weak! This simply means that this man has fallen behind the times!" Explosive Man muttered, "For years, I trained relentlessly in hopes of teaching him a lesson. Never did I expect him to lose to a bunch of army gimmicks. Weak."

Lin Chen had also reappeared in the battleground. He had only managed to escape by the skin of his teeth on account of his extreme speed and the army's intervention. With the result of the military bombing staring straight at him, he commented, "I must admit that his offensive and defensive skills are strong. However, he is simply too slow. Faced with an attack of such scale, he can only clash against it head-on. It's no wonder that he died in their hands."

Li Li, the Cat King of the South, was encapsulated within the body of a water monster as she slowly sauntered towards the battleground. Scenes of the scorched earth and ruins left behind zoomed past her eyes. She thought, "I never expected the government to stoop to such means. At this rate, even the bodies cannot be recovered."

Suddenly, a white figure whizzed past Li Li's eyes as the object slowly descended on top of the water monster's head. The white figure was none other than the Cat King of the East, Milk.

This cat was responsible for endowing Lin Chen with his extreme speed. Based on government's record, Milk was the fastest supercat around and hence the rightful Cat King of the East.

Milk tried his best to suppress the yawn as he asked, "Tsk, why did you have to call me for reinforcement when it was settled so easily?" With that said, Milk had already disappeared, leaving behind a whiff of smoke. No living creature could possibly keep up with Milk. He was simply too fast. Even Lin Chen couldn't.

At the same time, hordes of apostles had started to stream towards the battle scene. The ruins lying in front of their eyes baffled them as chatters broke out amongst them.

"Is the headless horseman really dead?"

"Hmph, I bet any of us here are more than capable of taking him down in this day and age."

Many apostles and supercats who craved for a stronger and more lethal power populated the dream world. Their prowess wielded in the dream world was umpteen times stronger than those in the real world.

While the masses were all absorbed in their discussions, Explosive Man's bellowing laughter caught all their attention, "The headless horseman is already dead. Now that everyone is gathered here, isn't this a perfect opportunity for us to fight it out and declare who is the strongest amongst us all?"

With that said, he slid a condescending glare towards Yue Shan who continued to float in mid-air. The arrogance in Explosive Man's eyes was enough to make anyone's blood boil.

However, Yue Shan kept his mouth shut. He didn't even bother to look at Explosive Man. Suddenly, a wave of immense force swept towards Explosive Man, leaving him no time to respond. A thunderous boom exploded into the surroundings when Explosive Man's body was smashed mercilessly against the ground.

Yue Shan answered coolly, "What makes you think that you're deserving of a fight against me?" He let out another sigh as he stared at the ruins beneath his feet. Immediately, he had disappeared, leaving the masses in a state of confusion and fear.

...

After settling the troublesome apostle, the purple cat thought that it was finally time for a break. However, he was wrong. Suddenly, his eyebrows shot upwards as he realized, "Hmph, someone was left out of my dream." He could acutely detect an individual completely unaffected by his ability despite how much he focused his power on the target.

Immediately, he began by closing his eyes before he disappeared into a body of purple smoke, evaporating from the dream world.

At the same time, that same body of purple smoke spiraled out of Zhao Yao's apartment. The purple smoke began to contort into the shape of a British Shorthair. This was the cat responsible for controlling all the NPCs (non-player characters) in the dream world.

"Hmph, based on the data collected, the individual who has completely disregarded my power should be hiding somewhere here." Nightmare Cat said as he made his way through the unconscious bodies strewn across the floor. A smile tugged at his lips as he muttered, "All soundly asleep. Where is that obnoxious one ..."

He began his inspection on Dust Ball. A pool of purple fumes, which was invisible to the naked eye, poured out of his mouth before entering Dust Ball's head. Immediately, Nightmare Cat could see everything in Dust Ball's dream state.

Currently, Dust Ball was fast asleep in the middle of a borderless catmint field. With her body scrunched into a ball, a wide grin remained plastered on her face, just like those drunkards found on the streets.

Nightmare Cat scowled at this sight and muttered with a voice of disdain, “Just another useless catmint addict. What a boring dream.” From there, Nightmare Cat continued with his inspection and realized that everyone was happily absorbed in their dreams. Nothing seemed wrong.

At this moment, a loud meow echoed from a corner of the room as Mango appeared from his toilet. His eyes were brimming with excitement when Mango stared at this cat which looked exactly like him.

However, Nightmare Cat did not share the same excitement as Mango. Instead, he responded by sliding him a condescending glare before grumbling, “This fool! He stinks of poop and pee!”

Meow! Mango let out another meow before dashing straight towards Nightmare Cat with a wide grin on his face. He was excited to meet a new friend who looked just like him!

“Stop! Stop coming to me!” Nightmare Cat roared as he watched the filthy cat sprinting towards him. He threw his paw over his nose as he whined, “Get lost, you smelly piece of shit!”

However, Mango was completely indifferent to the insults. Instead, he began to run faster and faster as his paws slid across the granite floor. It seemed like Mango was flying towards his ‘new friend’.

“Tsk, just another ordinary cat who can’t even speak?” Nightmare Cat muttered as he twirled the whiskers in his paw.

However, seeing that the smelly cat was not about to stop, Nightmare Cat had no choice but to activate his power, “Go to sleep!”

The same purple fumes, which were invisible to all except Nightmare Cat, began to spread from his mouth and towards Mango. Instantly, the entire body of purple fumes had been absorbed into Mango’s body.

However, the image of Mango instantly collapsing to the floor did not happen as he had expected. Instead, Mango simply froze for a moment before he started to jump up and down again. Mango then pounced towards Nightmare Cat before sending a flurry of licks across his face.

“D*mn it, how did this stupid cat manage to resist my power even in such close proximity?” Nightmare Cat could feel the disgusting saliva slathered all over his face as anger swelled up in him. In a fit of anger, he roared, “How dare you try to lick me? How dare you try to make me your subordinate?”

He then stretched open his tiny mouth before exerting every ounce of strength within him to vomit a giant body of purple fumes. The fumes enveloped Mango’s body before he absorbed it in one clean breath.

To Nightmare Cat’s shock, that stupid cat was totally indifferent to it! Instead, he reached his paw forward before stuffing it down his outstretched mouth.

“Oh my god! What’s that smell? When was the last time this cat showered?” Nightmare Cat almost went unconscious from that putrid smell. He struggled relentlessly, in hopes of pushing this stupid cat away from him.

However, Mango’s entire weight was weighing down on him, rendering his struggle futile. In Mango’s eyes, this was just another game as he continued to trample over Nightmare Cat’s face with his filthy paws.
