Chapter 581: Firepower and Saving Cat

Near the location of the hotel, many people were either strolling or having their meals. And there were resting foreigners, who stood up, their skin effecting changes, revealing the steel structure underneath the flesh.

A golden-haired man extended both his hands and the flesh on them transformed into two huge cannon tubes. At the same time, the shirt on his back bulged and tore apart and two metallic wings appeared on the back unfolding. Waiting for the ion flames to rise up behind, the golden-haired man had already shot up into the sky, rushing towards the Tri-headed Golden Dragon.

There were about ten similar robots, that emitted various colored flames and shot up into the sky. Different machine guns and cannons appeared on their body and they fired on the Tri-headed Golden Dragon.

The sudden changes terrified the passers-by and they fled in all directions. Looking at the robots flying in the sky, it felt like being in a science fiction world.

In fact, the construction of the robots had no close relationship to science. They were the result of the supernatural ability “Robot Fusion”, which could allow any man-made objects to fuse into human flesh, becoming part of one’s body—a half flesh and half robot creation. They looked like the Robocop from the science fiction movies.

The supernatural unit, that was created using Robot Fusion, was American’s main force. Based on the American’s reserves and weapon technology, by fusing various arsenal from the Army using Robot Fusion, the Americans would possess tremendous firepower.

The previously cumbersome machine guns, cannons and rocket launchers as used by a single person, seemed effortless and easy after Robot Fusion. In addition, it was possible to fuse flying components to achieve even greater mobility, resulting in a multi-purpose weapon combat platform.

Combining the small human body shell with the power of planes and cannons, it was now easier to control and execute combined arms tactics and firepower.

At this instant, the robot unit emerged and attacked the Tri-headed Golden Dragon in the sky. Metal storm, rockets and armor-piercing bullets rained on the Tri-headed Golden Dragon. Such numerous attacks were sufficient to explode an a civilian airliner. Although the Tri-headed Golden Dragon's body was humongous and the scale armor sturdy, it bellowed and writhed in pain in the sky.

Roar! The huge dragon bellowed once, its wings flapping a few times ferociously to stabilize itself. Then it descended upon the robot unit.

The large body form that appeared to have the crushing weight of a mountain, swooped down. One robot warrior transformed both his hands into two machine guns that started spitting bullets wildly at the Tri-headed Golden Dragon. Every second, thousands of armor-piercing bullets were fired, enough to explode an armored vehicle.

This kind of terrifying weapon normally required a few American soldiers to carry and were installed on planes, tanks and armored vehicles. Currently, it only required a single soldier to operate with ease. The bullets rained on the scale armor of the Tri-headed Golden Dragon, causing it to disintegrate and fall off.

Roar! The large dragon endured sharp pain. Using its claws to press on the body of the robot warrior, it tossed the body to a distant skyscraper, crashing the outer wall. The robot warrior writhed along the way and then passed out.

After neutralizing this opponent, even more robot warriors locked their muzzles on the dragon's body. Its large body had become an excellent target. At this instant, the man-made combat weapons constructed from steel were much more devastating than most supernatural power.

Violent metal storm shredded Tri-headed Golden Dragon's scale armor. Numerous rockets exploded on its back, shaking its internal organs till they bled.

At this moment, it seemed like the Tri-headed Golden Dragon was under a besieging attack by tens of people. The actual fact was a completely mechanized unit bombing and exploding the Dragon with vicious firepower.

The direct firepower from the modern army was far superior than any supernatural ability.

Under the attack of such ferocious firepower, even a small hill would be flattened by the explosions. How could the Tri-headed Golden Dragon pit against such brutal firepower?

The sky rang with the sharp howling of the approaching Japanese supersonic fighter planes.

The dragon let out roars of pain and directly crashed into a shopping mall by the side, evading the firepower of the robot warriors.

A portion of the robot warriors entered to pursue, while another portion arrived at Apollo's side to provide protection.

Apollo pointed to the location of the Sphinx cat in the sky and shouted, "Use thermal imaging to target that cat!"

Following the targeting by more than ten robot warriors, the Sphinx cat abruptly felt a sense of great danger.

Previously, the supernatural power users used normal attacks. However, the current robot warriors had fused American's modern weapons and their whole body were considered killing machines. Just a focused volley of depleted armor-piercing bullets was sufficient to burn a large hole on the armor plating of a tank and melt various metallic components.

Even if the Sphinx cat's flesh body became stronger, he would not be able to withstand such focused firepower.

If he was on the ground and exercised in high speed, even if there were ten dozens of robot warriors, he would not fear. However he was being lifted up to the sky by the gravitational power, so his mobility was greatly reduced.

"D*mn!" Sphinx cat took in a deep breath and forcefully spat. The inhalation and exhalation were extremely violent, allowing Sphinx cat to travel in the air at the speed of a normal bicycle rider.

Just by using inhalation and exhalation to perform the act was proof of an incredible body constitution. However, to the robot warriors who were taking aim, it was too slow.

Roly Poly grabbed Sphynx cat's neck and urinated from fear. The yellow liquid drenched the Sphynx cat and Roly Poly hollered, "Ah, ah, ah, dead, dead, we are going to die! I do not wish to die here, I have not inherited cat café, have not owned Cat Nation, I do not want to die!"

"Shut up!" Sphynx cat roared furiously. Looking at the robot warriors targeting him, he could not come up with any solution.

At this critical moment, a dark shadow shot up into the sky like a rocket, abruptly knocking into Sphynx cat's body, bringing him up to a higher altitude, thereby dodging the first wave attack of the robot warriors.

It was Bai Quan. He finally arrived on the wedding day. On arrival, he discovered the American apostles besieging and attacking the large golden dragon. Hence, he ambushed one American apostle and eavesdropped on the battle situation via his ear microphones. At the last moment, he leaped on spot. Using his super strong constitution, he shot up to a hundred meters height, grabbed Sphynx cat and managed to evade this wave of attack.

On seeing Bai Quan, who was hugging him, Sphynx cat said excitedly, "Bai Quan, throw me down quickly! I am going to kill all of them!"

Bai Quan did not understand cat language, but he understood Sphynx cat's hand gesture. He transferred the trembling Roly Poly onto his neck and caressed Roly Poly's head. As Bai Quan lifted Sphynx cat, getting ready to throw, he said, "Boss does not allow us to kill."

Sphynx cat revealed a nasty smile and said, "If beaten to half dead, it will not be considered killing."

The next instant, Bai Quan's muscles abruptly expanded and his body executed a baseball throwing action. With a loud bang, Sphynx cat had stirred up a series of air waves. Like a cannon shot, he was tossed by Bai Quan towards the ground.

Chapter 582: Killing Pursuit and Rescue

The throw used up all the strength of Bai Quan. If the speed was not fast enough, Sphynx cat would be easy target for the gravitational power unit once again. Then both of them would be doomed.

Sphynx cat flew out so fast as though it was a real cannon shot. When Bai Quan executed the throw, there was already a loud explosion sound on the ground. After which, a blurry shadow leaped out from the crater, followed by a stuttering of bullets in the crater. It was already too late.

“Below!”

“He is travelling at high speed!”

“Be careful...Boom!”

The stuttering of bullets rang incessantly, followed by explosion flares and blurred shadows. The robot warriors fired on the flickering locations of Sphynx cat with frenzy. However, their reaction time and shifting of the muzzles were much much slower than the movement of Sphynx cat.

“Ah!”

“He is behind!”

“Get away from the wall!”

Boom! A cat’s paw demolished the wall, causing a robot warrior, who was standing at the corner of the wall, to fly out, the body in mid air ringing out a series of explosions and countless robot components were destroyed.

“Gather! Fall in!”

“Back to back!”

“Fly up! He does not have flying ability!”

Following the taking off of a few robot warriors, a cement block weighing a few tons was lifted up into the sky by the Sphynx cat and then thrown towards a robot warrior. After a thunderous boom, that robot warrior was vomiting blood foam and falling down to the ground.

The figure of Sphinx cat disappeared once again. A few rockets arrived late and exploded on his previous position, leaving a trail of crumbling and dilapidated walls.

Having ceaseless high-speed manoeuvres, and frenzied energy fueling the muscles, neither the concrete reinforcing bars, cement nor any others were able to stop Sphinx cat.

Apollo watched with a pale green face, "Robot unit! All gather! Do not be singled out one by one and destroyed!"

Only heavy panting, meaningless screams, explosions and gunshots answered his call.

"He is following me!"

"Oh God! Bullets cannot hit him!"

"Ah! My leg! My leg!"

Apollo hollered into the communication set, "Hello? Anyone heard me? What happened?"

After a few moments, sounds of gunshots stopped and from the ear microphones, no one replied to Apollo's order.

Sphinx cat was previously having a playful attitude, so he was unwittingly captured by the gravitational force unit.

Once he was serious, the American supernatural units were powerless against him.

In the complex urban environment, combined with Sphinx cat's shocking stealthy speed, facilitated his cover and sneak attacks. The Americans were unable to figure out his location and were being neutralized one by one. The power of the installed weapons and gears were not brought into play, not even ten percent.

Apollo faced a wall of silence and the quiet ear microphone with a heavy heart. "The ones we are dealing with, are they really supercats?"

The next moment, a ferocious cat's head abruptly came out from the crumbled wall and bit Apollo's neck, pulling him into darkness.

Bai Quan looked at the battlefield below and nodded smilingly. "Sphynx cat does not have any issues, we shall help out boss."

Roly Poly grabbed Bai Quan's neck, feeling both of them free-falling to the ground. He trembled with fear and said, "We are falling to our death!" Fearing that Bai Quan did not understand, he immediately made a phone call.

Bai Quan shook his head. "You are wrong."

"You will fall to death. I will not."

Roly Poly's face was distorted and he let out numerous terrified screams.

At this time, pieces of cement blocks shot up into the sky. They were thrown at Bai Quan's position by Sphynx cat.

Bai Quan's eyes brightened. With his whole body twisting, he landed on the cement blocks step by step all the way, until he leaped into an office building.

Roly Poly rolled over his stomach and collapsed on the floor. He was so terrified that he was shedding fur all over his body and his four legs were weak.

Bai Quan patted his clothes and stood up. "Let's go Roly Poly. Let's help boss."

Roly Poly shook his head in fear and roared in his heart, "D*mn, these two insane persons, I will never follow Sphynx cat and Bai Quan into battle again. Too d*mn dangerous, almost scared me to death."

Looking at Roly Poly shaking his head violently, Bai Quan frowned, "Okay, you shall wait here, we will fetch you later."

While talking, he had turned to look at the hotel's location with both his eyes flashing a golden ray. Male virgin power burnt fervently and Death-Endowing Virgin Eye activated. He saw in the direction of the hotel, black orbs the size of a house gathering. They are obviously powerful non-virgin targets.

“So many of them.” Bai Quan's eyes brightened. In the banquet hall, everyone was enemy, with the exception of boss and Nanako, who were both virgins, so there was no worry of accidentally harming them.

At the thought of this, he eyed the huge black orbs in the hotel. First, he shut off the Death-Endowing Virgin Eye. After an assisted run, he leaped and crumbled a huge piece of cement floor from his step. His whole body rushed towards the hotel.

With a loud bang, Bai Quan knocked through the hotel's outer wall and rushed into the midst of the main hall. At the dumbstruck gaze of everyone, he opened the Death-Endowing Virgin Eye and darkness descended.

Bai Quan's Death-Endowing Virgin Eye could see the weakness of non-virgins. The higher the level of non-virginity, that was the greater the number of ***, the greater the weakness.

According to Bai Quan, the weaknesses of most of the apostles in the banquet hall were as huge as a villa. After he rushed into the main hall and opened his Death-Endowing Virgin Eye, he felt pitch black in front and knocked his head into the weaknesses of over ten people.

He lightly raised his hand and gently punched out into the dark in front.

All of a sudden, numerous disintegration sounds rang out, the entire banquet hall were filled with screams of pain. After closing his Death-Endowing Virgin Eye, he saw a large group of both male and female apostles lying in a pool of blood.

The normal people in the banquet had already fled, leaving only the more confident apostles.

Most of the apostles were ordinary people who abruptly obtained supernatural abilities. What would an ordinary person do after obtaining power and influence? Anyway, Bai Quan's gaze revealed that the weakness of a third of the apostles was bigger than a house.

On seeing the shocked gaze of Zhao Yao, Bai Quan smiled and said, “Boss, I hope I am not late.”

“D*mn.” Zhao Yao was speechless. “What have you done? We are having a good discussion and they were warmly receiving me. We are discussing Sino-Jap friendship and collaboration. They called me friend of Japanese Zhao Yao. Even Kaede Hattori acknowledged me as his Chinese father.

Now, you have beaten the sh*t out of them in a flash. You are destroying Sino-Jap friendship. My efforts are wasted because of you.”

“Ah?” Bai Quan scratched his head and looked ashamed after surveying the wounded all over the floor.

“Only using brute force to solve problems. Have you been practising too much with Sphynx cat until your brain becomes muscles?” Zhao Yao hurriedly shouted, “Lucifer, quickly come out and heal the wounded.”

At this point, approximately ten apostles in the main hall grabbed their lower body, lying on the ground, bleeding fresh blood and moaning. It was a pitiful scene. They looked at Zhao Yao and Bai Quan with terror, as if they were looking at two devils.

Looking at the apostles sprawling on the ground, Zhao Yao said hurriedly, “If you do not wish to become a eunuch, quickly inform your supercats to take back your abilities. I can heal your injuries.”

Ares stood behind the Dimension Portal and upon hearing Zhao Yao, immediately raised his hand and said, “Zhao Yao! Please do not! You are sure you want to use Lucifer? Please think thrice!!”

Matcha rushed in front of Ares. It was not known when Matcha put on a white gown and face mask. Matcha said, “Ares, how can you say that at this time? Saving lives is like saving fire, the wounded are dying.”

Matcha, who was wearing a huge white robe, faced the Dimension Portal and shouted, “Nurse Lucifer, follow me to prepare for surgery. Doctor Elizabeth, prepare the anaesthesia. Where is my surgery knife? Ares, is it you who hid it?”

Chapter 583: Treatment

On the other hand, Zhao Yao rushed into the Extradimensional belly and dragged out Lucifer, who was bounded at the hands and legs and whose mouth was gagged with a ping pong ball.

Zhao Yao furrowed his brows with disdain. Abruptly, his eyes brightened and he activated his illusive magic and verified with Bai Quan. This time, his illusive magic was not neutralized. Obviously the fellow who neutralized his illusive magic was seriously wounded on the ground, so he was unable to perform the negation.

As such, Zhao Yao activated his illusive magic, making all his supercats invisible, especially hiding Lucifer's presence.

After doing that, as Zhao Yao was removing the ball and the ropes from Lucifer, he was thinking of how to lower Lucifer's loyalty level, so that he could lend out his ability.

When he was about to take out the ball from his mouth...

Lucifer's loyalty decreased by one point.

"This d*amn cat." Zhao Yao frowned and disregarded the issue of lowering his loyalty. He intended to find a target to heal, else these Japanese would be reluctant to let their supercats take away their abilities.

He sighted Kaede Hattori first and was astonished because Kaede Hattori was entirely unharmed and he was standing at his original location.

"Why is this fellow unharmed?" asked Zhao Yao with surprise.

The Bai Quan at his side slanted his head and said, "Boss, this fellow is still a virgin and his male virgin power is stronger than yours by more than ten times."

Without opening his Death-Endowing Virgin Eye, Bai Quan was able to see the presence of the male virgin power. What he saw in Zhao Yao's stomach was a tiny flame, almost ready to extinguish at any point, whereas Kaede Hattori's one was a ferocious inferno.

Zhao Yao glared at Bai Quan in fury. "Shut up." If Kaede Hattori was no good, then it would be his brother.

Zhao Yao looked at Kappei Hattori's position. He was lying on the ground, holding his lower body with his face revealing total breakdown.

Zhao Yao carried Lucifer over and frankly said, "If you do not wish to die, let your supercats take back the abilities, I am able to regenerate your bottom part."

Kappei Hattori almost fainted from the acute pain, after hearing Zhao Yao, his eyes brightened. He looked at Zhao Yao trembling and said, "You, you are saying..."

"Yes, yes, yes, the most pleasurable one."

Upon hearing the reply, Kappei Hattori immediately took out his phone and contacted his subordinates, telling them to inform the supercats to take away his abilities.

After this was done, he looked in anticipation at Zhao Yao.

However, Zhao Yao would not yield easily. He clapped his hands and attracted everyone's attention. Pointing at Kappei Hattori, he said, "Everyone, please look over here, look over here and witness a miraculous moment."

Under everyone's gaze, Zhao Yao transferred Lucifer over to the blood-smeared body of Kappei Hattori. With his illusive magic, he appeared to everyone as if he was just touching the brow chakra of Kappei Hattori.

The next moment, Kappei Hattori's mouth emitted shocking screams.

"Ah! Pleasurable, extreme pleasure!" Kappei Hattori was seen on the ground turning and tossing, his face showing indulgent pleasure.

After witnessing this scene, many apostles revealed signs of bewilderment and suspected that Zhao Yao could be using an unknown ability to harm them. After all, Kappei Hattori's reaction did not appear to be a healed patient.

After that, Zhao Yao helped Kappei Hattori up and said, “Everyone, his wounds had been healed by me. If you do not wish to be a disabled person for the rest of your life, quickly cut off your abilities. Then I can treat all of you.”

Many apostles looked at each other. On seeing the freely moving Kappei Hattori, they began to trust.

Moreover, the acute pain from the wounds was unbearable, hence an apostle immediately raised his hand and screamed towards Zhao Yao, “Quick! Save me! My cats have taken back the abilities!”

A moment later, this apostle shouted a few times and leaped up, happily saying, “I am good, I am well again?!”

As such, numerous Japanese apostles shouted and begged for Zhao Yao to save them.

Zhao Yao went to each and everyone. During the process of regeneration, moans of pleasure were emitted—The regeneration process could be quite addictive.

Hideki Kujiyo grinded his teeth, enduring the pain while Nanako and Sylvie anxiously stood by his side, feeling sad and helpless over his wounds.

Zhao Yao walked over to Hideki Kujiyo and said, “Are the supernatural abilities taken back?”

Nanako immediately nodded and said, “My brother has already taken away the supernatural abilities, Zhao Yao, please save him immediately!”

Zhao Yao shrugged his shoulders and lent Lucifer’s ability to Hideki Kujiyo.

At that instant, the usually composed Hideki Kujiyo could not resist opening his mouth to inhale a gust of cool air. He wanted to endure but let out a groan immediately, causing Nanako and Sylvie to look at each other.

“Treated, next.” Zhao Yao patted Hideki Kujiyo’s shoulders, stood up, and walked to the next wounded apostle.

Hideki Kujyo looked at Zhao Yao with mixed feelings. An insignificant person that he scorned, managed to defeat hundreds of Japanese supernatural warriors and possessed regeneration and wounds healing ability.

“Dying, dying!”

“No! No!”

“Wow, is there such an ability?”

“With this ability, do I still want women? I could play with myself forever.”

Everyone gazed at Zhao Yao with astonishment once again. The ability to kill was terrifying, however the power to save lives was highly respected.

Looking at those rapidly healed apostles that stood up, everyone’s gaze on Zhao Yao had changed. If one had this ability, how many lives would be in his hands? If those who were wounded or killed could be healed, and even various diseases could be treated, then this ability was too formidable.

Moreover, the thought of having pleasure from the regeneration caused them to have restless and uncontrollable feelings to surface in hearts.

Everyone’s gaze towards Zhao Yao was now filled with even more anticipation.

On the other hand, if Kappei Hattori endured for just a little while, his entire body would feel as though it was bitten by millions of ants. It was extremely itchy and only if he cut himself viciously a few times, then the rapid regeneration would ease the discomfort.

Once again, he tasted the pleasure that permeated into his bone marrow. And that caused the relapse of his addiction disorder. After a few minutes, Kappei Hattori could not bear it anymore and used his finger to stab viciously at himself.

Even with such a tiny stimulation, he was pleased to the point of humming out. Soon he used more force and eventually proceeded to insane self-mutilation.

The other apostles who experienced the rapid regeneration for the first time, were indulging in the weird pleasure. On seeing Kappei Hattori beating himself, they seemed to realize something. They looked at each other and recognize the weird gaze in each other's eyes.

Hideki Kujyo saw the situation and immediately turned his head to ask, "Zhao Yao, what was the previous pleasure about?" He pointed at Kappei Hattori and said, "What happened to him?"

Chapter 584: The Men Who Changed Japan

Zhao Yao shrugged his shoulders and said, "I endowed all of you with the rapid regeneration ability. With this ability, any wounds would rapidly heal. All feelings of pain would be amplified to pleasure, to prevent the suffering caused during the wounds and the healing process."

He looked at Kappei Hattori who was beating himself with more and more force and shook his head. "So this a normal phenomenon, he is giving himself pleasure."

Finally, there was a person who could not bear the curiosity. Relishing the pleasure from the regeneration, he beat himself forcefully. Feeling his body shudder with pleasure, he laughed loudly and knocked his head viciously on the floor.

Just like an ignited fuse, more and more apostles started masochistic actions—knocking heads on walls, beating each other, even stabbing with knives.

Looking at this scene, Ares shook his head and sighed. "Japan's superpower realm is finished."

Hideki Kujyo looked at the self-mutilating apostles and felt urges to do the same. However, being the dominant leader of the Kujyo clan, his willpower was extremely strong and he forcefully endured the urges.

On the other side, Zhao Yao finally arrived in front of Kensei Yagyu and looked at his sorry state and said with ill intention, "Treatment?"

Kensei Yagyu's wounds were not caused by Bai Quan just now. He devoted most of his life on Budo. Although he was no longer virgin, according to Bai Quan's Death-Endowing Virgin Eye, his weakness was only as large as a ping pong ball.

Nevertheless, he was severely injured by Zhao Yao. He suffered broken bones and severed tendons, unable to even stand up.

Hearing Zhao Yao's words, he nodded his head, feeling ashamed. He thought, "Never thought that the insignificant ant that I was going to kill easily, was actually a Godzilla."

Zhao Yao revealed a strange smile and lent Lucifer's ability to Kensei Yagyu.

Immediately, Kensei Yagyu's wounds were healed by the rapid regeneration. He sat up with a face of weird expressions, his eyes glimmered with various doubts and hesitations.

However, Kensei Yagyu was a warrior whose willpower was battle-hardened. With regards to enduring such pleasure, he was able to do better than Hideki Kujyo. As such, he quickly suppressed the urges. However, seeing the surrounding apostles who succumbed to the urges of pleasure, his suppressed urges began to surge from the bottom of his heart.

At this time, a gust of fierce wind swept by. Following the thunderous bang of the air, the invisible Sphinx cat appeared next to Zhao Yao, his mouth holding Roly Poly, who was dripping urine.

Roly Poly shivered and said, "You ran too fast! Put me down quickly. I feel my back breaking."

Sphinx cat spit out Roly Poly on the ground with disdain. "A strong urine stench. If Zhao Yao had not asked me to take care of you, I would not bring you along."

After listening to their conversation, Zhao Yao also spoke in their awareness, "Sphinx? Roly Poly? Things settled? Where is Cat Sage?"

Sphinx cat said, "Those Americans were settled. However, the Japanese cops and army came and Cat Sage is dealing with them."

Outside the restaurant, Cat Sage who was being brutally attacked by the Americans and whose scale armor was shredded, rushed out of the shopping mall and vented his fury on a group of Japanese cops.

The normal pistol shots that landed on his body were unable to penetrate his armor. Numerous police cars were crushed underneath his paws like toy cars.

When the cops witnessed the creature from fantasy, they exclaimed “Ghidorah” and fled.

Roar! Cat Sage looked satisfactorily at the terrified crowd, then bellowed and roared as he ascended into the sky. However, just as he was airborne, two distant fighter planes closed in and the machine guns spat comet-like bullets on Cat Sage.

As compared to the attack by fifty or more robot warriors, the firepower from the two fighter planes was much inferior to the fused weaponry of the robot warriors.

The body of the large dragon twisted with agility under the control of Cat Sage, allowing him to evade most of the bullets. At the same time, a pair of golden wings protected his body like a bullet-proof vest and shielded a portion of the attack.

Next, he let out a loud roar and a pair of wings flapped to create surging air waves. He accelerated towards the fighter planes in the sky.

The loud commotion from the battle attracted many people’s attention, especially the flying Tri-headed Golden Dragon, which became the main focus.

Numerous people in the offices, in front of the glass windows of the shopping mall and on the streets let out gasps of astonishment on witnessing the Tri-headed Golden Dragon pursuing the fighter planes.

Someone quickly took out the handphone and aimed it at the Tri-headed Golden Dragon in the sky.

“Ghidorah!”

“Is it really King Ghidorah? Or balloon or kite?”

“Could it be a promotional gimmick by a computer game?”

Looking outside the window, Bai Quan saw the commotion created by Cat Sage and informed Zhao Yao in a hurry.

Zhao Yao face-palmed and shook his head. “This fool, Bai Quan, bring Roly Poly along with you and stop those police cops from approaching.” After that, he faced the apostles in the huge hall and said, “I have some matters to attend to.”

As such, Roly Poly was crying as he was being dragged away by Bai Quan. Zhao Yao once again walked to the center location and clapped his hands and attracted the attention of all the apostles. He said frankly, “As you have seen, I control death on my left hand and life on my right hand. Submit to me and my son Kaede Hattori and together, we unify the Japanese superpower realm.”

At this point, Old Cat finally transmitted this awareness into Hideki Kujyo’s mind, “This man... perhaps can change Japan.”

Hence, Hideki Kujyo furrowed his brows, stood up and said, “You are thinking of unifying Japanese superpower realm? As a Chinese man?”

“Not me.” Zhao Yao pointed at Kaede Hattori and said, “My son Kaede Hattori, he shall be the leader of the Japanese superpower realm and lead you in the rise of Japan. I will be behind, assisting him. I will endow all of you with great abilities and an invincible body. From now on, the government will still retain governing power, and we.... control their life and death.”

Under the effect of the illusive magic, golden rays coiled around Zhao Yao’s body. Pointing his finger at the sky and the other at the ground, the milky way appeared above his head, however underneath the feet, was the Earth. He seemed to have broken out of the universe and occupied everyone’s field of vision.

“This pretence seems pretty good. The conquering mission will be completed.” Zhao Yao stroked his chin with satisfaction. On looking down, he discovered a group of apostles lying on the ground — some stabbing themselves with knives and crying out in pleasure bleeding while others knocked their heads on the ground incessantly, their face revealing besotted expressions.

And those who beat each other up, emitting a series of moans as they hit.

Only Hideki Kujiyo, who was just brainwashed, looked at him with bright eyes and thought, “This man... perhaps can change Japan.”

“The Japanese superpower realm... is finished. D*mn, how can I answer to Uncle Ho when I returned? Will the Japanese government blacklist me, banning me from touring Japan? I have not properly toured Akihabara.” Zhao Yao looked speechless at them and then finally said, “Whoever joins, I will endow you with regeneration ability everyday.”

“Me!”

“I am joining!”

Chapter 585: Retreat

On Zhao Yao’s mission panel, with the joining of each apostle, the chain mission completion rate related to Kaede Hattori accumulated very fast. Finally the second step of the chain mission was completed.

After the mission completion rate reached seventy percent, Zhao Yao sighed in relief.

At his moment, sounds of explosion rang out from outside. Cat Sage in the guise of a tiger escaped from outside and looked at Zhao Yao, saying, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao! The human army is approaching, Bai Quan and Sphinx cat are unable to hold much longer.”

The massive body and weight of the Tri-headed Golden Dragon provided its destructive power, however it is also an easy target for concentrated firepower. After the arrival of the Japanese army, Bai Quan and Sphinx cat let Cat Sage to return first.

After hearing Cat Sage, Zhao Yao furrowed his brows. “The chain mission had reached seventy percent, only very few remained.” He walked to the front of Kaede Hattori and indicated to Elizabeth to release control of Kaede Hattori.

Kaede Hattori felt the power of the control and was unable to even move his finger. The power that stopped the Divine Rays of Terror from activating slowly dissipated.

He stroked his cheeks, looked at Zhao Yao and said, “What are you trying to do?” After experiencing the nonsensical events in the banquet hall, Kaede Hattori could not understand what Zhao Yao was trying to do.

Because he was very clear, he had no relationship with Zhao Yao. If there was, it would be hatred.

He believed Zhao Yao also knew this point. Then why was he trying to subdue the Japanese superpower realm for him? For him to pit against the government? This was quite possible. The Japanese government would not sit by and watch the Hattori clan unify the Japanese superpower realm and transform the Special Higher Police and various powerful supercats into weapons of the Hattori clan.

To create chaos in the Japanese superpower realm? This was quite possible as these fellows were being subdued by Zhao Yao’s power and schemes and it would not be long before they rebel.

Various possibilities surged within Kaede Hattori’s mind and he was unable to ascertain for sure. However, he was sure Zhao Yao had ill intentions.

On seeing the doubtful gaze of Kaede Hattori, Zhao Yao patted his shoulders and said, “Of course to help you realize your ambition. Now that you have subdued the Japanese superpower realm, what other wishes do you have? Let daddy help you complete.”

Upon hearing Zhao Yao’s address, Kaede Hattori’s face became gloomy. However, he said, “What do you intend to do next? An open war with the Japanese government? The Americans had already intervened, they would not allow us to live.”

At this time, Bai Quan returned once again to the hotel main hall, his whole body dusty and dirty. An indication that the situation outside was grim.

The appearance of the Tri-headed Golden Dragon and the extermination of two of American’s supernatural unit had greatly shaken the Japanese government, so they sent out a large portion of the army. Because of the city, the government was unable to deploy complete mechanized units, however the current force were sufficient to repulse Bai Quan and Sphinx cat.

“Boss, time to go.”

Zhao Yao nodded his head. He had no intention of pitting against a country directly. As such, he opened the Dimension Portal and shouted to everyone in the main hall, “Everyone, the army is here, it is not time for us to fight with them, follow me.”

Zhao Yao could not allow these Japanese apostles to flee on their own. At least, he had to completely erase their memories before letting them go.

Like chasing pigs, the apostles in the main hall were hurried into the Extradimensional belly. Zhao Yao and Dust Ball raised their hands and swallowed the entire hall into the Extradimensional belly to ensure no evidence was left behind.

As such, when the Japanese army rushed into the hotel, only an empty space greeted them. Even the floor of the banquet hall was missing.

Zhao Yao stood beside the soldiers, relying on Roly Poly’s invisibility and Elizabeth’s illusive magic to stay perfectly hidden by the side.

“Good, the remaining eye witnesses are those Americans.” Zhao Yao patted Sphinx cat’s head and said, “Sphinx, bring me to them.”

Hence, Zhao Yao followed Sphinx cat, who was made invisible by Roly Poly, onto the streets to look for the trails of the American apostles. After discovering an American apostle lying in the ruins, Zhao Yao opened the Dimension Portal and tossed him into it.

At the other side, the commanding officer of the supernatural unit, Apollo was being lifted onto a stretcher. His entire body was full of cat claw marks and his face revealed slight traces of terror.

A Japanese soldier at his side comforted, “Do not be afraid, Mr Apollo. You are rescued and nobody is able to harm you.”

Apollo swallowed his saliva and said, “Quick, give me a phone, I have important intelligence to report.”

“You need rest.”

“Quick, give me the phone, fool!”

The next instant, at the shocked gaze of the soldier, Apollo abruptly disappeared. He was being tossed into the Dimension Portal by the invisible Zhao Yao.

After leaving with all the Japanese supernatural unit and ensuring that all eye witnesses were in the Extradimensional belly, Zhao Yao nodded his head with satisfaction. He brought his own supercats into the Extradimensional belly, leaving a chaotic Tokyo behind.

On this night, the entire Japan or the political, military realm of the world were in turmoil because of the devastating change in Tokyo.

On the Japanese side, more than a hundred powerful apostles and more than ten powerful supercats went missing.

On the American side, two supernatural units disappeared, including one officer that disappeared in the presence of a Japanese soldier. Six hours later, on the streets of Ginza in Tokyo, the local police discovered the missing members of the supernatural units.

However, they were naked and lost all gears, including the memories for the past 24 hours.

The high level Japanese and American government was shaken. A Sino-Jap investigation section was created just for this incident. The elites from the two countries were deployed to find out the truth of this incident.

For the civilian's side, the greatest impact was the sky above Tokyo's busiest downtown area. The appearance of the never seen before Tri-headed Golden Dragon caused the explosion of the news on Japan's internet.

Fantasy film industry took responsibility for the incident and admitted that it was a promotional activity for the "Godzilla versus Ghidorah" movie. The Tri-headed Golden Dragon in the pictures were created using modern stereoscopic 3D effects combined with huge machinery.

As for the civilians in other countries, after seeing the news of the monster on the internet, they treated it like various discovered zombies, vampires, and tribulation transcendence postings, and dismissed it with a smile.

Most of the countries did not ban such information. With the rapid development of supercats and apostles, more and more people all over the world were beginning to accept and assimilate such intelligence. The world society was progressively welcoming the joining of these new members.

Twelve hours later, after Zhao Yao had destroyed all witness and material evidences and deeply hidden in the dark, he brought Kaede Hattori to a hill by a naval port, overlooking the distant American base.

Chapter 586: The Attack

After entering the Extradimensional belly, witnessing the terrifying flexibility of the Dimension Doorways, and seeing the numerous other supercats within the Extradimensional belly, the Special Higher Police and other Japanese apostles, including Kaede Hattori, Hideki Kujyo and the others were all convinced of his powers.

Especially when it came to Kaede Hattori and Hideki Kujyo, to them, as long as such abilities were carefully managed, even if the goal was to conquer the world it would not be impossible. As such, they became even more eager to cooperate with Zhao Yao, hoping to use him to achieve their own ambitions.

This also achieved Zhao Yao's aim of wanting to 'help' them, and very quickly he received the third mission of the chain mission from Kaede Hattori, which was also the last mission.

Chain Mission: Kaede Hattori's Wild Ambitions

Mission Objective: Help Kaede Hattori achieve his wild ambitions step by step. The third step would be to steal the American supercats stationed in Japan's base.

Reward: Steal various supercats to receive varying mission completion rates. The current mission completion rate is 70%. Rewards would be calculated at the end based on the completion rate of the whole chain mission, which includes a vast amount of experience points, the Paralysis Ring, the Dragon Slaying Saber, activating a new ability, and other great rewards.

Punishment: None

In the specific list of mission rewards, all of it were the four supercats listed in Kaede Hattori's intelligence. These four supercats provided for all the abilities of the American superpower unit stationed in Japan, including the gravitation field and robot integration powers.

If all four supercats were stolen it would amount to 30% of the mission completion rate, which meant that the whole chain mission would be completed.

The reason why there were only four supercats was because the nine times nine different varieties of supercats owned by the Americans were all situated in their homeland. The supercats that were sent out to different parts of the world were only used for lending out their powers, hence, the quality of their powers were valued more than their quantity, for their powers would be good enough as long as they could lend them out on a large-scale basis to complete various missions.

Zhao Yao looked at Kaede Hattori at the side and said, "Are you sure the American supercats are all here?"

Kaede Hattori nodded, "No matter what kind of supercat it is, their powers could only be lent out for at most 24 hours, hence the American troops that were stationed across the world all have accompanying supercats stationed with them. As for the supercats stationed in Japan, they are all gathered in the base here."

After saying this, Kaede Hattori looked at Zhao Yao with worry and asked, "Are you sure you want to go in alone? The defense in this base is very strict and complex, full of various high-tech American products, as well as various supercats with strange powers."

"Don't worry Kaede, I will make it quick."

As he said that, Zhao Yao's body disappeared like powder dust in front of Kaede Hattori's eyes.

The Zhao Yao now was still in his supercat armor, relying on Roly Poly's invisibility and Elizabeth's power of illusion for cover as he walked towards the base of the American troops.

However, compared to previous instances where he had to infiltrate into a place, it would certainly be more difficult to do so this time, based on the hundreds of movies, TV shows, novels and anime that Zhao Yao had watched before. For bases like these, apart from surveillance and physical troops stationed there, there would definitely be various other measures in place to prevent people from infiltrating in, such as infrared, lasers, quality control and many other things.

Afterall, Zhao Yao was not a professional, so he was very cautious and serious this time round, and had formulated a detailed plan.

First he called out Gaia and borrowed his power to burrow into the ground, burrowing into the magma below the surface of a warehouse located within the base.

Following that, he traversed upwards till he reached the surface of the ground, and after seeing that there were not much people around, he quietly released Mango into the warehouse and prepared to cast the power of illusion.

Mango's yellow eyes widened as he stared blankly at the warehouse in front of him before yawning lazily as if he was about to sleep.

On the other side, Zhao Yao had already casted the special illusion that he had created just to lower Lucifer's loyalty level.

"Be constipated for one whole day."

Mango's eyes flew open and became rounded as he started pacing around anxiously, looking for a cat toilet.

However, Zhao Yao had already followed up with more illusions, "Be constipated for 2 whole days... ten whole days... half a month."

Looking at Mango who was severely alarmed, Zhao Yao sighed and said, "Sorry Mango, but this is the pain of growing up. Be it cat or human, this is a problem we will face someday..."

In the next moment, Zhao Yao clutched his belly and ordered Gaia to burrow downwards.

"Quick burrow down, the Mang-weapon is about to explode!"

As the illusion waves reached him, Mango's eyes became rounder and rounder in anger, and as he was seriously unable to find a cat toilet in this circumstance, he had no choice but to rely on his natural instinct, which was to activate his power.

Zhao Yao finally managed to hide up to 100 meters below the ground surface level before he quietly let out his breath, “Mango’s ‘let’s all have diarrhoea’ power has been activated, it’s a really scary power. If this power was cast uncontrollably, it might just destroy the whole world.”

Elizabeth speechlessly rolled her eyes. ‘Let’s all have diarrhoea’ was the name Zhao Yao gave for Mango’s superpower, but Elizabeth had always felt that Mango’s ability was not so simple. She thought to herself, “Shitting should just be this child’s hobby, not the basis for his power. His ability should be something more complex and more difficult to explain.”

After a while, large crowds of soldiers rushed out of the base, and more than half of the base was in chaos as all sorts of bad smells filled the air, as if a chemical weapon had been released in the air.

A commander rushed out of his office and looked at the chaotic crowd running around as he bellowed, “What is going on? Is someone attacking us?” The office that he was happened to lie outside the range of Mango’s power waves.

But at the next moment, one soldier was seen clutching his stomach and pointing towards the commander’s office and saying, “It’s there! There’s a toilet there!”

Boom! When he saw the mass of soldiers running towards him like zombies, the commander slammed the door closed and dialed the phone.

“Hello? Reinforcement, we need reinforcement here, the soldiers are staging a rebellion!!”

“What? The soldiers are rebelling? What happened?”

Bang! Bang! Bang! The commander’s door was being thumped on crazily, as if all the soldiers outside had just taken glycerine enema as they shouted, “Open the door! We need to use the toilet!”

Mango’s ability was something Zhao Yao had not been able to figure out until now, and did not dare to try experimenting with, as it was too troublesome to do so. However, there was one thing Zhao Yao understood, which was that Mango’s power waves were very strong and could spread far, to the extent that almost all the methods known to him now, including the Deflective Field, Anti-Radiation Layer, Diamond Panel, the power of vacuum, and many other methods were unable to prevent the spread of his power waves.

The only way was to hide far far away, such that there was enough distance from Mango's location.

Hence, Zhao Yao hid deep below for around 5 minutes to wait for his power of illusion to end, before he could dare to resurface and call Mango back.

On the the other hand, the situation in the base at this moment was in chaos. Being invisible, Zhao Yao speedily went around the base to first turn off all the power sources and standby power sources.

After that, he began to search for the supercats. Reinforcement from outside would arrive soon, hence he had no time to waste in finding the supercats.

When he passed by the interior of the base, Matcha's paws waved uncontrollably in the air, "This won't do, I can't control the prehistorical powers in my body. I really want to bury all these things."

At the side, Ares had already clapped his paws and extended his Deflective Field over, digging up the cement around them to bury the lumps of 'curry' (shit) lying around.

Ares: "I really want to bury this whole base."

Chapter 587: Catching Cats

Looking at the mess around the floor and smelling the strange odor, Zhao Yao felt a bit disgusted and could help frowning deeply, "No, at this rate I might just puke."

As such, Zhao Yao quickly casted an illusion on himself and the supercats around him, pixelating all the 'curry' around them and turning the bad smell in the air into a floral one.

"Feels much better now."

Zhao Yao continued to venture deeper into the base. Fortunately, Kaede Hattori had previously prepared sufficient intel about the base, so he followed the descriptions according to the intel and reached the front of a fortification.

Using the power of burrowing beneath the surface, he successfully bypassed layer after layer of defense and opened a secret underground chamber. Zhao Yao immediately found a bunch of supercats inside, but frowned at once when he saw them.

This room for taking care of the supercats was actually pretty well-furnished. In terms of size, facilities, arrangement and decorations, the room was very suitable for supercats to live in, and even had electricity and Internet connection, as well as food and drinks.

However there were pixelated images all over the room, and a strong floral scent assaulted their senses.

The key thing was that Zhao Yao only saw two supercats, not four.

The two supercats were one male and one female respectively. The female cat lay on the floor and her butt area was covered with pixels, while the other male cat was leaning his back on the wall, and was covered in pixels from head to toe.

Zhao Yao thought for a bit, and decided to reveal his presence, but in the illusion of a soldier.

When he saw Zhao Yao and his company suddenly materialize, and the look of disdain on their face, the pixelated cat immediately said, “This has nothing to do with me, I didn’t stuff anything into her. The moment I climbed on her she started shitting like crazy, shooting out everywhere like a machine gun. The whole room is covered in her shit, which is so scary, too scary.”

The pixelated cat was obviously traumatized, and could only repeat the four words ‘so scary, too scary’ at the end.

Zhao Yao stared at this cat for a while, but he was fully pixelated, making him say in exasperation, “Which one of you is going to clean him up? I can’t even tell which one of the four cats he is.”

All the cats shook their head to show their unwillingness, angering Zhao Yao, “When it’s meal time all of you come rushing forward, why is it that when it comes to the dirty job no one is willing to help? I will only give you all a minute to choose a cat among yourselves to lick him off.”

All the cats stared at each other, and started to discuss noisily among themselves in their consciousness, with all sorts of power and money transactions happening at the same time, including catmint, game coins and RMB.

Conversations across consciousness started opening up as if they were all in a group messaging chat.

At first, the biggest consciousness chat group, which all the supercats were involved in, started off discussing noisily but it all ended in silence towards the end.

After which, it split into small groups of two or three supercats discussing among themselves in their own consciousness chat groups.

However, there was only one cat at the scene, Fish Ball, who glanced at all the cats around him with a strange look as he monitored his only consciousness chat group, the chat where all the supercats could hear in, and screamed out, “Why have all of you stopped talking?”

All the other cats turned their heads and stared at him, a strange glint flashing in their eyes.

One minute later, Fish Ball was dragged towards the pixelated cat by Zhao Yao. Fish Ball struggled and thrashed about wildly as he was being dragged, and shouted and screamed wildly, “You guys can’t do this! I’m going to tell Xiao Yu! You guys are bullying other people’s cat!”

Zhao Yao coaxed him and said, “Don’t worry, I will send you home in a bit. Xiao Yu will wash you clean, and look...” as he said that, Zhao Yao snapped his fingers, and the pixelated cat had turned into a huge pile of small dried fish.

“Licking this won’t be a problem right?”

Fish Ball hesitated for a moment, desire lurking in his eyes, but at the next moment he regained his senses and shook his head agitatedly saying, “No! I don’t want to lick that s*it!” Suddenly, his eyes brightened and he said, “Wait! Wait... wait, I have an idea!”

One minute later, Noodle slowly walked out from the dimension doorway and appeared in front of everyone. Once he stepped into this secret underground chamber, he was immediately influenced by the surroundings and saw pixels all around him.

He frowned and asked Fish Ball, “Fish Ball, why did you call me here? I am very busy you know, I have no time to play games with you guys.”

Zhao Yao asked curiously, “Hey, Noodle, why were you so near my house?” If he was not anywhere near that 18-storey building of his, he would not have been able to find him so quickly.

Noodle’s expression stiffened as he casually replied, “I was just walking around, what’s wrong with that,” as he thought to himself, “D*mn it, why can’t I find the ‘curry’ that I ate last time.”

Zhao Yao stared at him suspiciously, “Really?”

Fish Ball quickly communicated with Zhao Yao through his consciousness, “Zhao Yao, quick, remove the illusion for Noodle!”

“Huh? Why?”

Fish Ball shouted, “Stop asking, just trust me!”

Zhao Yao hesitantly removed the illusion for Noodle and in the next moment, he saw the husky stand up abruptly, looking at the pixelated cat in disbelief.

The husky’s heart thumped in excitement, “An average-looking Dragon Li that’s covered in fresh yellow ‘curry’ is the perfect combination between cat and ‘curry’, how could there be anything tastier than this? One lick of this would not only give the taste of a cat’s fur, but also the rich smell and taste of fresh ‘curry’.”

In the next moment, Noodle had already charged forward as he was drooling. Just like a cat lover seeing a cat, a cat seeing catmint, and the husky seeing shit, he charged forward crazily and started licking the pixels around the pixelated cat.

Once the pixelated cat saw a husky charging towards him, he immediately screamed in fear, “Save me! This dog wants to eat me!”

As he watched the pixels being slowly licked off, revealing the real look of the Dragon Li, Zhao Yao shook his head, “If I remember correctly, this cat is neither the gravitation or robot integration cat.”

Matcha asked curiously, “Then what is his power?”

“Peeing with a very accurate aim,” Zhao Yao stroked his chin and said, “That’s what it appears on the surface, but I heard that after borrowing his power it could give one a near-perfect shooting aim of almost 100%. Anyone could become a sharpshooter from that, and this could be considered a commonly used power among the American apostles. The effect is considerably good, and appears discreet, which is very good for field work.”

As for the other supercat who had passed out from shitting around the whole room, Zhao Yao had already checked her out and confirmed that she was neither the gravitation or robot integration cat.

In this case, he could only steal two out of four cats, achieving a mission completion rate of only 85%.

“D*mn it, they must have changed the location for placing the supercats.” Zhao Yao asked the two supercats, but they too had no idea where the other two cats had been transferred to.

Zhao Yao stared at the mission panel. With a completion rate of 85%, the mission could be considered complete, but on second thoughts, the rewards for an 85% completed mission could definitely not compare to that of a 100% fully completed mission.

“Does that mean I wouldn’t get my Paralysis Ring and Dragon Slaying Saber?”

At the same time, loud noises were came from the outside, as the reinforcement had arrived.

Although he felt indignant, Zhao Yao was still able to think rationally as he knew that the remaining two cats would not be easy to find. Hence, he retreated out of the base and found Kaede Hattori to fulfil his task.

Chapter 588: Completed At Last

After leaving the American base, Zhao Yao found Kaede Hattori who was waiting anxiously, and presented to him two supercats that had been licked clean.

“There were only these two in the base, the gravitation cat and robot integration cat were nowhere to be found.”

Even so, when Kaede Hattori saw the supercats in Zhao Yao’s hands, he still walked up to him excitedly, “Great, with these two supercats gone, the superpowers of the American forces in Japan would at least be reduced by more than 30%. By the time they sent more supercats over, a few weeks would have passed, which would be enough time for us to do many things.”

With Kaede Hattori’s reply, Zhao Yao had completed this whole series of chain missions. He looked happily at his mission panel and saw that a ‘Mission Completed’ option had appeared.

When he tapped on that option, the chain mission disappeared, and was replaced by a huge rewards roulette.

Looking at the different kinds of rewards displayed on the roulette, Zhao Yao could not help but laugh, as he wanted every reward that was on display.

But as he saw that the 85% mission completion rate reduced his chances to 8 roulette spins, Zhao Yao felt the frustration rise up in his heart again.

“Looks like every 10% of mission completion rate gives one chance at winning a reward,” Zhao Yao thought to himself, “That’s right, even if I didn’t win over all the Japanese apostles in the previous two steps of the chain mission, I would still have been able to advance to the third step, just that my mission completion rate would be lower, giving less chances to spin for a reward.”

Although Zhao Yao really wanted to try spinning for a reward right now, he raised his head and glanced at the crowd before him, knowing that now was not the time to do so.

Hence, he called everyone over and clapped his hands as he said, “Everyone look here.”

Kaede Hattori, Hideki Kujiyo, Kappei Hattori and even Kensei Yagyu, Nanako, Sylvie and the rest all looked at Zhao Yao, feeling curious and astonished at the same time.

Kaede Hattori: “This man... he might just be the hope of the whole supernatural realm in Japan.”

Hideki Kujyo frowned and thought to himself, “Does he like Nanako? Should I let Nanako date him? D*mn it, the thought of Nanako dating him, **** with him, **** again, **** after that makes me really uncomfortable.”

Nanako’s face turned red and her heart started thumping as she thought, “isn’t Zhao Yao and Baiquan...? But he actually became enemies with two great countries like Japan and America for my sake, I actually made a gay guy straight again! What if he confesses to me?”

Sylvie: “This man... he went to clubs so many times previously and still stayed in a twin room with two other men, going out with dark eye circles every time. Will it really be good if my lady gets together with him? Should I tell Ms. Nanako all these things?”

Kensei Yagyu: “This man... he actually has so many supercats, I really want to touch them... but that might be too frivolous of me right, d*mn it...”

Kappei Hattori: “I really feel like mutilating myself again, but why isn’t anyone else taking action? Is everyone else all holding it in? Their tolerance level is really high, maybe I should take the lead and start on my own? D*mn, I feel like I can’t hold it in.”

Zhao Yao looked at the crowd staring at him and nodded his head in satisfaction, “Hi everyone, next we will...”

In a whoosh, Zhao Yao’s body disappeared into invisibility with Roly Poly’s help, exposing the ragdoll cat mother, Catherine, behind him.

The moment they saw Catherine, everyone in the crowd fainted one by one, and at Zhao Yao’s command, Diana and Caesar walked up to crowd together and started erasing all their memories from the past 24 hours.

After an hour, the missing people from the Tokyo incident reappeared on the streets of Akihabara. When they were discovered by people, they had already lost their memories from the last 24 hours, and all the electronic products they had with them had disappeared without a trace as well.

Afterwards all of them were subjected to interrogation by the Japan-United States joint investigation team, and the Hattori family was also heavily suppressed by both Japanese and American forces, losing their esteemed status as the strongest family in Japan, so Kappei Hattori and Nanako's wedding naturally did not continue as well.

Of course, because of this incident, there had been profound impacts on the supernatural realm in Japan, on the Special Higher Police, the Kujiyo family and many others, while Zhao Yao, who was already on the plane back currently, was totally unaware of all these things.

Zhao Yao was now looking in delight at the content of his rewards lottery panel.

He discovered that the rewards lottery panel activated after the completion of this chain mission was not a one-off kind, a rewards lottery module which the Book had directly added.

This meant that aside from the supercat panel, mission panel and diamond hall, there was an additional page for a rewards lottery.

Zhao Yao thought to himself, "Does this mean that whenever I take on a mission from a burning exclamation mark, it will give a mission that has a rewards lottery with multiple draws?"

However, fearing that the rewards lottery would make a scene, he decided to draw the lot when he reached home. But once he alighted the plane and opened his phone, he received a call from Uncle Ho.

At this moment, Uncle Ho was rubbing his bald head with a pained look on his face as he sighed and said, "Zhao Yao, the Tokyo incident has nothing to do with you right?"

"What incident?" Zhao Yao pretended like he knew nothing and continued, "I don't know what you are talking about."

"Cut your act," Uncle Ho said, "The Japanese side just sent the news over, and they hope you can go back and cooperate with their investigation."

Zhao Yao's heart stopped for a bit, but he regained his composure almost immediately as he realized that it might be because he was in the guest list for the wedding, so he continued saying, "They must be mistaken, there are so many people called Zhao Yao, I just travelled there for a normal holiday these few days, what's there to investigate. Oh no, the signal is getting bad suddenly, hello, what are you saying, hello..."

After ending the call, Zhao Yao hurriedly left the airport and found a toilet to go into and immediately swallowed himself into the extradimensional belly.

Afterall, he took the plane back just for the purposes of fulfilling the visa paperwork requirements, so he just went into his extradimensional belly straight away.

However, because of the Tokyo incident, Zhao Yao had still used his dimension doorways, and the doorway to the cat cafe was used up by him in the battle, so the extradimensional belly only had the doorways to the 18-storey building and the Cat Island.

Baiquan smuggled in to Japan illegally to begin with, hence he did not take the plane and straight away entered the extradimensional belly, reaching Jianghai a few hours earlier.

Zhao Yao looked at the surrounding supercats whom started to fight and play around with each other as if nothing ever happened, and walked towards the Cat Island leisurely.

“The world has returned to peace, and it is time for me to strike lottery 8 times in a row as well.” Zhao Yao had decided to come to the Cat Island and washed his hands before finding a nice place with beautiful scenery to start drawing his rewards.

But at the next moment he suddenly remembered, “Oh right, I might as well take Red Packet here and hug him in my arms as I draw the reward lots.”

Red Packet’s money-making ability is related to luck, so even though it was unclear if he could increase Zhao Yao’s luck at the rewards lottery, he decided that it was worth a try anyway.

Chapter 589: Paralysis Ring

In the extradimensional belly, Red Packet was standing outside the catmint field and saying to Dust Ball, who was lying on the ground in the fields, “Dust Ball, listen to me, your catmint quality is so good, if we sell it out we will definitely make a profit.”

His eyes burned with passion as he said, “We will first set up a stall to sell catmint in the small district. Once we have saved enough we can open a shop, once the shop is famous we can find Cat

King to discuss investment plans and open a franchise, from two shops to four and four to eight, eight to 16 and go on to become a listed company on the market, following which we can gather our finances to invest in stocks. With that, we can go on to invest in land and become listed on the market separately. By then, just the money from the dividends alone would make us laugh our asses off.”

“With so much money, you can buy as much catmint as you wish.”

Dust Ball’s eyes glowed brightly as he heard this and replied, “Although I don’t really understand, but it sounds really amazing.”

“Of course,” Red Packet wanted to continue saying something, but all of a sudden a pair of big hands had already scooped him up. When he turned to look, it was Zhao Yao. “Zhao Yao, what are you doing? I’m still in the midst of discussing some big plans with Dust Ball?”

“Draw the reward lots with me.”

Zhao Yao did not say anything else and brought Red Packet back to the Cat Island with him as he prepared to start drawing the rewards.

When he opened the rewards lottery page, it was yet another row of Dragon Slaying Saber, Paralysis Ring, Spicy Cat Strips, Meow Meow Woad Root, Cat Prince Costume many other equipment which appeared on the page. Of course, apart from these numerous different equipment, there were also 10 points, 50 points, 100 points, 500 points worth of experience points to be won on the page.

“If I’m lucky, I would be able to draw some equipment from here, if I’m not, then I’ll only get the experience points.” Zhao Yao stared at the page before him. Although he did not know the function of these different equipment, he was sure that it would definitely be worth more than the experience points. He could gain experience points whenever he wanted, but these equipment could only be drawn from the rewards lottery.

After preparing for a while, Zhao Yao tapped on the rewards lottery, and a golden ray of light wide enough to cover his shoulders flashed out as it flipped across each of the equipment items and experience points listed, until it came to a slow stop at the end.

“The Cat Prince Costume!” Zhao Yao saw the image where the draw stopped at and laughed in excitement.

Out of all the equipment in the rewards, this Cat Prince Costume was one of the things he really wanted to get. Based on his experience with the Cat Princess' Little Dress which he had exchanged for in the diamond hall previously, this Cat Prince Costume might just be another item which would enable Zhao Yao to cast two powers at the same time while wearing it.

“My luck is pretty good, let me see how I can take this out.”

After drawing the lot for the Cat Prince Costume, Zhao Yao saw that at the bottom of the rewards lottery page, an image which looked exactly like the Cat Prince Costume popped up. Zhao Yao tried to focus on the image to retrieve it from the page.

But at the next moment, his face stiffened as he realized, “D*mn it, it’s actually the fragments of the Cat Prince Costume?”

As he sensed the message that came up from the image, Zhao Yao’s face turned really black.

Fragments of the Cat Prince Costume (1/80)

“You actually played this fragments trick on me? Isn’t this the favourite routine of mobile phone games that usually rip people’s money? Does this mean that I subconsciously like these things?”

Nonetheless, once the image of the fragments appeared, Zhao Yao knew that this rewards lottery system was not that simple. If the Cat Prince Costume required 80 fragments, the difficulty of drawing those fragments increased proportionately as well.

However, the Cat Princess' Little Dress can be acquired with 5 diamonds, and Zhao Yao could get 2 diamonds every day with the completion of his daily mission to take care of the supercats, which meant that it was way more difficult to acquire the Cat Prince Costume compared to the Cat Princess Dress.

“The Cat Princess Dress can only exist for 10 minutes. Since the difficulty level of acquiring this Cat Prince Costume is so high, and can only be drawn from the rewards lottery, who knows, it might enable me to cast two powers at the same time while wearing it, and it might exist permanently as well.”

At the thought of this, Zhao Yao became more excited and expectant of the Cat Prince Costume and quickly pressed on to draw from the rewards lottery for seven more times.

The rewards from eight times of lottery draw include: Cat Prince Costume Fragments (2/80), three bags of Spicy Cat Strips, 550 experience points, and the Paralysis Ring.

“Eh?” Zhao Yao was stunned for a moment, “Eh!!”

“The Paralysis Ring is actually not a fragment? Which means, aside from the fragments, there exists the possibility of drawing an equipment item in one try?”

Zhao Yao looked back again and realized that among the various equipment still available in the rewards list, there was no more Paralysis Ring.

Zhao Yao could not wait as he focused his consciousness on the image of the Paralysis Ring, and the next moment, a ruby ring had materialized in his hand.

A message was also transmitted to his brain as the ring appeared.

“The ruby stone on the ring can release a spot of red light, which has a strong attraction power.”

“D*mn it!” Zhao Yao threw the ruby ring on the beach and said angrily, “Isn’t this just some infrared light toy for cats! This can’t paralyze anyone at all, how can it be called a Paralysis Ring!”

As he stared at the description of the ring he became even more angry, but after thinking about it, it was still an item that he had spent much effort to draw out, hence Zhao Yao still went to retrieve the Paralysis Ring.

As he thought about it, Zhao Yao wore the Paralysis Ring on his finger and thought to himself, “How do I activate this? How does it light up?”

Just as he was thinking of this, the ruby on the Paralysis Ring flashed red and aimed at the beach, where another spot of red light appeared.

“D*mn... This is exactly the same as infrared light, so tell me, why you deserve to be called a Paralysis Ring?”

In the next moment, an agitated man’s voice was heard saying from the Paralysis Ring, “Paralyze! Paralyze! Paralyze! Para-! Para-! Para-!”

Zhao Yao: “... the heck, they actually used my voice?”

At this moment Zhao Yao quickly thought of stopping the ring in his head and the noise from the Paralysis Ring stopped immediately, and the infrared light spot disappeared as well.

“Hahahaha, Paralysis Ring right, so when you release the infrared light you use my voice to shout ‘paralyze’, very good, very good, props to you,” Zhao Yao laughed sarcastically at the ring on his hand and had decided to hide it somewhere and not use it for the rest of his life.

Right at this moment, Red Packet who was by his side paced around the beach and asked, “Zhao Yao, where did that red spot of light go just now? Where is it? Why is it missing?”

Zhao Yao stared at Red Packet in astonishment, “Supercats like to play with this too?” His impression of Matcha, Elizabeth and the other supercats was that they did not care much about infrared light.

However, as he continued to experiment with it for a few times, Zhao Yao discovered that this red light had a strong attraction power for supercats, and as he watched Red Packet chasing the infrared spot around the beach non-stop, Zhao Yao thought, “It actually has such a power of attraction? Even supercats can’t avoid it?”

Hence Zhao Yao returned to the extradimensional belly, and with the Paralysis Ring in his hand he shouted, “Para-! Para-!” A ray of infrared light spot appeared on the ceiling of the extradimensional belly, and hundreds of supercats mobilised in an instant.

Bang! An explosion was heard, as Sphinx cat was the first to rush to the spot where the infrared light was, following which, many other supercats rushed over to the red spot of light as well.

As Zhao Yao observed the scene, even Matsuo and Faceless (leader of the Mao Gang) had rushed towards the infrared spot and were attracted to it.

Looking at the people and cats gathered and running around that infrared light spot, Zhao Yao's lips curved into a smile, but as he heard the shouts continuing from the Paralysis Ring, he could not help furrowing his eyebrows again.

Chapter 590: Cat Latiao

After verifying that the Paralysis Ring was not as useless as he thought it was, he continued to experiment with it. He found out that the red laser beam shot out by the Paralysis Ring could attract humans and cat but, not the holder of the ring.

Hence, if someone else uses the ring, Zhao Yao would also be attracted to the red laser beam.

Furthermore, the attraction of the red laser beam was not long lasting. Its attraction fell with time.

Zhao Yao tried it on Sphynx cat, he realised that the red laser beam could only catch Sphynx cat's attention for one minute..

The Paralysis Ring had to be used half an hour later for Sphynx cat to be attracted to the red laser beam again.

"So this last for one minute and cool-down for half an hour? It's not bad." Zhao Yao nodded satisfyingly. This Paralysis Ring was more useful than he thought.

Then he looked at the other prize he had won, Cat Latiao.

After looking at the Luck Draw page, Zhao Yao realised that the Cat Latiao was unlike the Paralysis Ring. The Paralysis Ring could only be redeemed once, however, the Cat Latiao was available for repeated redemptions.

He concentrated his attention on the image of the Cat Latiao and the next moment, there was a pack of Cat Latiao in his hands and a series of information about the Cat Latiao in his mind.

“Cat Latiao is a kind of cat food that is made up of a mysterious ingredient. Upon consumption, one can obtain amazing powers.”

“The information is as good as useless.” Zhao Yao looked at Ares who was passing by, carried him up and stuffed a Latiao into Ares’s mouth. Since he redeemed three packs of Latiao and one packet has 10 latiao in it, It didn’t matter if he just used one.

The instant Ares ate the Cat Latiao, white smoke exploded from him. When the white smoke cleared, Ares had disappeared. In his place was a golden colored longsword. Galaxies and stars were craved on one side of the blade, mountain and trees were craved on the other. There were also agricultural knowledge on one side of the hilt and the art of warring on the other.

The longsword gave out a menacing aura.

” It’s so cool.” Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up upon seeing the sword. He picked up the longsword and there was a strong power radiating out from the sword.

Zhao Yao could tell that the power radiating out from the longsword was the Deflective Field.

Then, he tried to control this power. The radiation got stronger and stronger till it turn into several golden flames and exploded in the air.

” It is the enhanced Deflective Field.” Zhao Yao got excited,” The Cat Latiao can turn the cats into weapons and allow me to use their powers anytime?”

Zhao Yao wield the sword and a sword aura that was one meter wide and 10 meters long charged upwards. It hit the roof of the Extradimensional belly and it sounded as loud as millions of thunder acting up together.

” No, it can only take the form of Sword aura and not any other form. However, it is as strong as when it is enhanced.”

” What a great sword!’ Zhao Yao touched the blade happily. Then, a voice sounded from the sword,” Zhao Yao! What are you doing? Why have I turned into a sword? Turn me back!”

Zhao Yao was smiling as he said, "What's wrong with being a sword? Look, now you are better looking and you are free from daily troubles like eating and going to the toilet. Isn't it great?"

The golden longsword started vibrating violently, "You jerk! Turn me back or I will kill you!"

However, vibration looks like the only thing Ares was capable of doing for now. He couldn't even activate the Deflective Field.

Zhao Yao was even more satisfied, "Not bad, not bad. It is such a rare sword. From today onwards, you shall be name Xuanyuan Sword."

As he was speaking, he wielded the sword a few more times with great satisfaction. Several golden sword aura that was 10 meters long charged upwards, bringing about menacing aura as it charged. It hit the edge of the Extradimensional belly and finally disappeared into the air.

The raging sword aura gives Zhao Yao the impression that it could cut a building apart.

"The sword aura was as strong as the enhanced Deflective Field. Furthermore it was released in the form of sword aura, its attacking power and cutting abilities are stronger."

Of course, Zhao Yao could not let Ares remain as a sword forever. About an hour later, Ares turned back into a cat himself.

Ares was so angry that he started snarling at Zhao Yao. In the end, Zhao Yao finally comforted him with a 500 dollars red packet.

The commotion over at Ares's side had long caught the attention of the other supercats. Upon seeing that Ares had turned back, Matcha started shouting excitedly, "Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! I want to try too!"

Zhao Yao frowned but since he still had 29 latiao left, he passed one to Matcha.

After the white smoke cleared, a weapon was lying on the ground where Matcha was.

Matcha, "Zhao Yao! How is it? Am I very good looking now?"

Zhao Yao picked up the orange brick from the ground and hesitated,” ... it’s not bad. Let me try your powers.”

After some consideration, Zhao Yao picked up the brick and threw it towards Ares who was still complaining.

Ahh!

As Ares shouted in pain, the world came to a stop.

Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up and started walking around in the halted world. Immediately, he realized that this was the same effects as the enhanced time stopping effects.

After the time resumed, Ares raged,” Zhao Yao, What are you...”

Zhao Yao threw the brick again. But, this time, it was stopped by Ares’s Deflective Field.

” Time didn’t freeze? So I still have to abide by the cool down rules?”

After a series of experiment, Zhao Yao was clear about the effects of the brick. Basically, there was hardly any difference from the enhanced Time Freeze powers from Matcha. The only difference was that the brick had to hit someone to be activated.

The brick started vibrating,” Zhao Yao! Give me a name too! I want a name as impressive as Xuanyuan sword.”

Zhao Yao touched his chin and said,” Although you are powerful, looks harmless and can kill people unexpectedly. But, compared to the legendary ultimate killing weapon, Deadly 3000, you are still a bit weak. Lets name you, Deadly800.”

Zhao Yao muttered in his mind to cancel the effects and Matcha turned back into a cat.

” This Cat Latiao is not bad.”

After experimenting the Cat Latiao and Paralysis Ring, Zhao Yao returned to Cat Island and placed his attention on the other ring.

It was Kaede Hattori's engagement ring that had Meteorite Fragments on it. Zhao Yao plucked out the Meteorite Fragments and held it in his hands. The next moment, he felt that the Meteorite Fragments had melted into liquid form and seeped into him.
