

Am I A God 631

Chapter 631: Return Journey and Seeking Help

“What? You’re unable to lend your ability?”

Bam! The main door was slammed open and Matcha was flung out of the house by Xiaoyu.

“Disgusting little primary school student. You don’t know how powerful I am.” Matcha chided as he got up. “Thank goodness my cell phone is charged.” At this thought, he was very pleased and embarked on his return journey.

On returning to the attic, he discovered that Yellow Mud and Floret had disappeared.

“Eh?” Have they gone out?” Matcha scratched his head and intended to order an online takeaway and let the delivery man leave it on the ground floor. The online payment failed.

After a long while, the attic rang with a scream. “Ah! My bank card is frozen?!”

“Ran out of food. Yellow Mud and Floret... why aren’t they back yet?”

Matcha held his chest as he felt pain in his heart.

“Alas, let me play a round of Mobile Legends to get over my shock.”

Behind the Dimension Portal, Zhao Yao, who was busy for the whole day, laid on the sofa, watching Matcha’s performance. Shaking his head, he commented, “Rubbish, not a single trace of progress.”

Zhao Yao was busy with the catmint business for the past two days so he was not concerned with Matcha’s affair. Based on today’s observation, Matcha had not matured at all.

Dust Ball was also puzzled and she replied, “Not sure, at this time, maybe they are out finding food?”

Zhao Yao furrowed his brows. Although it was a bit strange he didn't think much. He felt that Matcha had not matured. He was out for two days and yet he had not learned how to find food.

Zhao Yao's main focus was not on Matcha so, after a quick update on Matcha, he diverted his attention on his plans.

The catmint market expansion was very effective. Based on the reputation of the Headless Horseman, most of the cat kings accorded respect and supported the Dust Ball catmint, especially as it was of high quality. Hence the market expansion proceeded smoothly.

Meanwhile, the popularity of Elizabeth also soared with Zhao Yao's relentless support. He rewarded more than tens of thousands' worth of rockets daily. Simple, brute splurging but extremely effective.

Zhao Yao opened up Douyu and noticed that there would be a broadcaster popularity event next month. The rules were complex, however in simple terms, it meant that the ranking was based on the reward value spent by the fans.

Zhao Yao was pleased after reading the notice. “Very good, let me splurge on Elizabeth so that she will become the top ranking broadcaster. Then my mission will be accomplished.”

Zhao Yao inquired from Uncle Ho regarding the current situation and got to know that the King of Death had launched no expansion but rather an intensive redeployment of manpower. It was not known what they were preparing for.

“Still in development.” Zhao Yao thought to himself, “Currently the two sides are competing. Let's see who finishes the preparation first to gain the upper hand.”

Next, Zhao Yao contacted Sphinx cat. “How are Zhao Xue and the rest doing? Any danger?”

Sphinx cat lifted his head and looked—Zhao Xue and another feline girl were twisting their body and doing various warming up poses. He replied Zhao Yao, “No danger.”

Sphinx cat pretended not to notice when he received Zhao Yao’s request for photographs.

That day, Sphinx cat followed Zhao Xue, Ah Yuan, and Yellow Bro along the aqueduct to an abandoned school compound. Besides Zhao Xue, Ah Yuan and Yellow Bro were two other feline girls.

According to Sphinx cat’s overheard information, in addition to this group of feline girls in front of him, there was another group which was also resisting the evil organization.

That evil organization was the influential force responsible for inventing the cat transformation medicine.

However, Sphinx cat couldn’t be bothered. He only wanted Zhao Xue to quickly learn the transformation ability so that he could bring her back.

After replying Zhao Yao’s message, he curled up into a ball and emitted rumbling sounds like a normal supercat snoring in slumber.

However, Sphinx cat’s rumbling sounds were extremely loud, like the depressed rolling of thunder before the summer storm. The muscles and bones in his entire body vibrated incessantly.

It looked as though Sphinx cat was sleeping, however, he was training. Because his constitution had become stronger, he felt that the efficiency of his training method was low.

After deliberating for a long time and with repeated experimentation, he had discovered this method of internal training. Although he was not moving, his bones, muscles, and organs were moving minutely. Each minute movement was an exercise using his full strength.

Because all the training was carried out within Sphinx cat’s body and the forces inherently neutralized each other, externally, besides the loud snoring, there was nothing special to be seen.

On the other side of the room, a young girl with white cat ears was facing Zhao Xue and mentoring her on the transformation. “... The crux of the transformation is the control of your automatisms, such as your heartbeat, blood flow, breathing. They are your automatisms, all you need to do is discover them and control them...”

Rumbling sounds.... more rumbling sounds...

When she heard the loud snoring, Zhao Xue smiled in embarrassment. “Apologies Fu Mi, the snoring of Sphinx cat is a bit loud.” The girl before Zhao Xue looked younger than her, definitely not older than sixteen or seventeen. She was the leader of this feline cat unit hence Zhao Xue was very respectful of her.

The white feline girl, Fu Mi, shook her head and said, “Zhao Xue, the situation is getting more dire by the moment. Our enemy is pursuing our trails relentlessly and the final battle may happen any time. The time I have to train you is short. You have to learn diligently and master the transformation ability as soon as possible.”

Zhao Xue said, “Mentor, actually my brother is also an apostle. Do you see the need to call him for help?”

Fu Mi gave a wry smile and shook her head. “It is of no use. Normal apostles are of no use in this battle. As you do not understand, non-humans like us have far superior fighting prowess than those apostles.”

She sighed and said, “Think about it, once the feline girl masters the transformation ability, she will be able to activate the power in the blood serum and awake powerful Psychokinesis. In addition, she has the half human, half cat body, which possesses far superior strength, speed, reaction, acuity, and insight. The movements of normal people are slower than snails in our perception.

This means that we have the Psychokinesis and Super Constitution superpower, however, we have not reached our limit yet. We are still able to use our half-human body to borrow supernatural abilities from supercats and, at the same time, combine three of these abilities. This is not as simple as one plus one plus one equals three. Our power is greater than normal apostles by two dimensions. We are the only ones left to defeat the evil organization.”

Chapter 632: Wounded and Disadvantaged Position

On hearing Fu Mi's words, Zhao Xue thought, "Combining three superpowers within one body and being gifted with super reaction, agility, insight, we are far superior to a normal apostle."

At this instant, Zhao Xue remembered King George endowing her with a super strong body.

"After transforming into a human, my constitution is already stronger than the feline girls. After transforming into a feline girl, my body has further developed." Zhao Xue did some mental calculations. "If I awaken my Psychokinesis and borrow a cat's supernatural ability, then my power will be greater than all the feline girls. In that case, I will be able to protect everyone."

Zhao Xue made her decision. However, she recalled a previous doubt. Since Fu Mi was present, she asked, "Sister Fu Mi, since I have mastered the transformation ability, why is my awakened ability Psychokinesis?"

Fu Mi explained, "Because the cat transformation medicine was extracted from the same supercat. His superpower was Psychokinesis. So once we are awakened, our abilities are all Psychokinesis."

Zhao Xue's eyes brightened and said, "If we extract different medicine from different supercats, aren't we able to have different awakened supernatural abilities?"

Fu Mi gave a wry grin and said, "You are making it too simple. Even the cat transformation medicine itself had a large random factor and is only effective on apostles. The odds are one in a hundred success rate.

A failure means the loss of the apostle potential. A more serious consequence may cause death. To invent other varieties of cat transformation medicine is not that easy. We may have to sacrifice thousands and millions of apostles for testing."

Zhao Xue was shocked. It was her first time getting to know the dire consequences of a failed attempt at a cat transformation. Previously, she only heard from Ah Yuan on how the failure was devastating and the details were concealed. After hearing Fu Mi's explanations, she realized that the process would almost always lead to death.

Fu Mi continued explaining, "The cat transformation medicine was not created by us. It was the perverted Professor Xu from the House of Cats that invented the medicine. His initial intention was to transform all the women in this world into feline girls.

If the cat transformation medicine develops further, it will not be good news for us. It means that the House of Cats has become stronger and it will be more difficult to stop them.”

“Okay.” Fu Mi waved her hands and said, “Do not be bothered by this. Practise the transformation energy until you master the ability. After that, awaken your Psychokinesis, then borrow a supernatural ability. By then, you will be able to help us.”

At this time, Ah Yuan, in the form of a feline girl, rushed in while carrying Yellow Bro, who was covered with blood and almost dying. Ah Yuan shouted, “Fu Mi! Bad news, Ah Yuan is seriously wounded!”

Fu Mi’s expression became solemn. She walked up and said, “Do not panic, put her in the treatment room. I will get my mum to bandage her.”

Ah Yuan was quickly carried into the treatment room. Then Zhao Xue and Ah Yuan waited outside. Zhao Xue observed the worried face of Ah Yuan and wanted to console her but she was at a loss.

At this time, two feline girls of similar age to Ah Yuan walked in. One was orange and the other black. They waved their tail as they came in, their ears quivering. Upon entering, the black feline girl asked, “Ah Yuan? How is Yellow Bro? Is the injury serious?”

“Ah Zhe! Shui Yao!” Ah Yuan lifted her head, sobbing as she said, “We went to find new feline girls but was ambushed by the fellows from the House of Cats. They had acquired new abilities, making it very difficult to deal with them, thus Yellow Bro was injured.”

The black feline girl Shui Yao was fuming as she said, “The disgusting House of Cats, I shall teach them a good lesson next time!”

The orange feline girl Ah Zhe said, “Don’t worry, Fu Mi’s mum is very good at healing and the constitution of us feline girls is very strong. Yellow Bro will be fine.”

Ah Yuan nodded her head, snuffling as she said, “Yes.”

Suddenly, the door of the treatment room opened. Fu Mi pushed out Yellow Bro while a middle-aged lady in white robe walked out. She was Fu Mi’s mum, a surgeon. She had been treating the injuries of the feline girls.

Everyone rushed forward. Yellow Bro was sitting in a wheelchair, her body covered with numerous bandages and her face was as pale as a sheet.

Ah Yuan rushed to the forefront. Seeing Yellow Bro, she asked, “Yellow Bro, are you alright?”

Yellow Bro’s pair of ears drooped down dispirited. She grabbed Ah Yuan’s palm as tears welled up in her eyes. “Ah Yuan, I feel like eating steamed custard buns.”

“You only know about eating.” Ah Yuan’s eyes were red as she said, “Once you are well, I will buy a whole carton for you. Now quickly recover.”

Shui Yao said, “Yellow Bro, have a good recuperation. I avenge you in the next two days and beat the as*holes from the House of Cats until their heads are full of big bun bruises.”

Fu Mi exhibited her leadership and shooed everyone out. “Okay, let Yellow Bro have a good rest. This time, a few of her bones were broken. Although she has the strong constitution of a feline girl, a good recuperation is still required.”

Zhao Xue initially thought that the serious injury was an accident, however, the next few days showed that the situation between the feline girls and the House of Cats had become more dire.

Ah Yuan, Ah Zhe, Shui Yao were inflicted either with serious or superficial injuries over the next few days. Their time outside also dwindled. Fu Mi, who was the leader, had become more and more sombre. It was obvious that they had fallen into a disadvantaged position in the conflict with the House of Cats.

On that day in the training room, following a series of strong flashing light, Zhao Xue transformed into a white feline girl. Only this time, it was her initiative. She had mastered the transformation ability.

Fu Mi was overjoyed. “Excellent Zhao Xue, I do not expect you to master the trick of the trade in less than a week. You are the fastest learner amongst us.”

Zhao Xue cuddled her flurry ears and felt a numbing and yet comfortable sensation. On hearing Fu Mi’s words, she thought, “It may have something to do with my superior constitution.”

During this period of interaction with the feline girls, she had noticed a pattern. After taking the cat transformation medicine, the younger the age and the stronger the constitution of the female apostle, the higher the chance of success.

She was the oldest among the feline girls, according to logic, her chance of success should be the lowest. The only reason was that her constitution was far superior and it helped increase her success rate.

Fu Mi's white tail waved in curiosity. With a face of anticipation, she said, "Zhao Xue, quickly test if you can activate the Psychokinesis. If it is successful, I will bring you over to borrow superpowers."

On Fu Mi's side, were two supercat companions, who were able to lend out their abilities every day.

Recently, as the situation had become more dire, it was not known how the House of Cats managed to find supercats that possessed superior superpowers, causing the feline girls to be disadvantaged in every conflict against the House of Cats. Fu Mi was hoping that the joining of Zhao Xue would narrow this gap.

Chapter 633: Telekinetic and Stroking

Fu Mi's eyes lit up and she said, "Very good. You have mastered the power of transformation and psychokinesis. Now, all you have to do is to borrow another power to perfect your abilities."

Zhao Xue nodded her head and activated her psychokinesis. Watching the can fly around her, she thought to herself, "What a useful power."

Sphinx cat also raised his head from his meditation and looked at Zhao Xue. He glanced over Zhao Xue's ears and tail as he thought to himself, "So ugly."

Then, he observed Zhao Xue activate her psychokinesis and frowned. "It is not really impressive but it can't be belittled either."

The attacking power of psychokinesis was insignificant to Sphinx cat. However, the troublesome part was that psychokinesis was too fast. If he wasn't careful and got lifted up by psychokinesis, half of his powers would be useless.

Sphinx cat made a mental note. "If I ever meet this kind of opponent, I must not give them the chance to lift me up."

When Sphinx cat saw that Zhao Xue was going with Fu Mi to borrow powers, he stood up and stretched. After his bones cracked, he jumped off the table and accompanied Zhao Xue.

Meanwhile, Fu Mi said, "Sphinx Cat, during the process of lending powers, others cannot enter. Can you wait here for a while? My apologies."

Until now, Sphinx cat had been following Zhao Xue around and never leaving her side. Fu Mi knew that he was here to protect Zhao Xue under her brother's orders. He seemed to have the power to strengthen his physical body and appeared to be equally fit as the feline girls.

Zhao Xue had only mastered her transformation powers that day. She could transform into a human, feline girl or cat at her wish. Hence, these past days, Sphinx cat had not had the chance to lend Zhao Xue his powers.

However, Sphinx cat had already told her that her strong physical abilities were from him and not from George.

Before this, Zhao Xue had also seen Sphinx cat raising barbells that weighed several tonnes in the Extradimensional Belly. What Zhao Xue didn't know was that to Sphinx cat, the barbells weren't even enough to count as warm up. Normal gym equipment could no longer satisfy Sphinx cat. He was using himself to train himself.

Zhao Xue once asked Sphinx cat if he could lend his powers to the other feline cat. But, she was rejected immediately and he refused to give an explanation.

Naturally, Sphinx cat would not tell Zhao Xue the after-effects of his powers. Furthermore, he was not a rookie in the superpower realm or someone waiting to show off his new found powers. He didn't want to expose his powers and combat strength.

The experienced Sphynx cat waited beside Zhao Xue like a hunter, hiding his abilities and only using them to give a deadly blow when needed.

As even Zhao Yao, who was so powerful, wasn't invincible, Sphynx cat had to treat all unknown enemies with great caution and not expose himself as a target.

Not to mention that the feline girl's psychokinesis was a threat to him.

Watching the feline girls in front of him, he sighed. This was a superpower battle. Even if he was so strong he could kill these feline girls in a split second, due to the characteristics of his powers, the feline girls still posed a threat to him.

Even if he worked out for more than 20 hours every day, he would be defeated with one look from Elizabeth.

If Sphynx cat knew that Zhao Yao could achieve the same effects of his hard work if Zhao Yao pressed the level up option on the BOOK, he would probably be even more depressed.

Looking at Sphynx cat who was distracted. Zhao Xue nudged him. "Sphynx cat?"

Sphynx cat looked at them and said, "You guys can go ahead. I'm fine with it." He twitched his ears. He could hear what was happening on the entire campus. If there was any trouble, he could rush to Zhao Xue anytime.

Hence, Fu Mi brought Zhao Xue to borrow powers. On her side, there were two supercats. One was with Fu Mi. The other one was with the other group of feline girls.

Fu Mi brought Zhao Xue to the basement. From a distance, they could hear women talking. It seemed like they were watching a video.

When they walked in, Zhao Xue saw a white Garfield cat with orange stripes sitting in front of a screen, staring at the Ragdoll cat in the computer. The woman's voice was coming from the computer. It seemed like a programmed female voice was speaking for the Ragdoll cat.

"Please support Lizzie! Meow! If you sign up for a card today, you get to participate in our lucky draw. Our prize is 10 packets of Dust Ball Catmint."

Upon seeing the Ragdoll cat on the screen, Garfield cat turned around and looked at Fu Mi. “Fu Mi! I want to buy Dust Ball Catmint! Help me buy the catmint!”

Fu Mi frowned as her tail drooped down unhappily. “Didn’t you just buy catmint?”

“I don’t care!” Garfield cat started rolling around on the floor and whined, “I want Dust Ball Catmint! I want Dust Ball Catmint! I want Dust Ball Catmint! Ah~~~ If you don’t buy it for me, I am not going to eat.”

Fu Mi rolled her eyes and her tail was sweeping around impatiently. “Okay, I will buy it for you.”

Zhao Xue who was behind Fu Mi watched her tail sweep around with great interest. Her pupils contracted and couldn’t resist the urge to grab onto her tail.

Fu Mi turned back in annoyance, moved her tail and asked, “Zhao Xue, why did you grab onto my tail?”

Zhao Xue smiled awkwardly. “I’m sorry. I don’t know why but I just couldn’t resist grabbing it.”

Fu Mi opened her mouth and snarled like a cat. “Don’t touch tails, just like cats, after we become feline girls we don’t like it when others touch our tails. Don’t touch our heads or tails. Do you get it?!”

Fu Mi glared at Zhao Xue after speaking.

Zhao Xue was confused “Why I can’t I touch it?” Then, she couldn’t help but stroke Fu Mi’s head and Fu Mi’s body shuddered as she narrowed her eyes. However, the next moment, she struggled and took a few steps back. She looked at Zhao Xue in dismay. “I told you not to touch me.”

Although Zhao Xue called Fu Mi ‘Fu Mi Senior’, Fu Mi was only around 16 years old. Zhao Xue’s eyes lit up as she bullied Fu Mi. She suddenly felt like being a feline girl was not that bad...

“Why do you have such a huge reaction when I touch your head?” Zhao Xue asked curiously. “And why can’t I touch your tail?”

Fu Mi looked at her curious eyes and protected her tail immediately. She blushed as she said, "Cats.. cats love it when they are stroked on the head and tail. When we become feline girls, we like to be stroked on our heads and tails too." She glared at Zhao Xue and warned, "Hence, you shouldn't touch them."

Chapter 634: Capture and Arrest Zhao Yao

"Okay, okay. I won't touch it." Although Zhao Xue still wanted to try, looking at Fu Mi's wary look, she gave up on that thought. She thought to herself, "So it feels good? I shall go back and try it myself."

Then, Fu Mi asked the Garfield cat to lend Zhao Xue its powers. After a while, a dozen shadows could be seen coming out from Zhao Xue.

This power was the power of the Garfield God from the WeChat group. It could summon shadows for combat.

Fu Mi nodded and said, "This power is very useful for us. The shadow soldiers possess our strong observation and reaction speed. As long as we give them strong weapons, their combat strength will increase.

Furthermore, they are not afraid of death. When they are dead, we can just summon another one. Summoning a soldier requires a lot of physical strength, for ordinary humans, summoning a few times would be their limit. But for us half cats, it is nothing. This is equivalent to carrying an unbeatable army with us all the time.

We can also control them to fight at the front line with our super fast reaction abilities. We can hide at the back and attack or defend ourselves with psychokinesis. When met with danger, we can also summon them to deal with the danger."

At first, Zhao Xue was not very impressed with this power. After listening, the power felt impressive. It was an infinite army of soldiers, when combined with weapons and feline cat's fast reaction and psychokinesis, the possibilities to these were endless.

Zhao Xue tried it immediately. She saw the shadow soldiers in front of her disappear and appear behind her, then disappear again and appear on her right. She could control the position of the shadow soldiers within 10 meters.

Zhao Xue asked curiously, "What weapons do you have?"

Fu Mi raised her head proudly and about 20 shadow soldiers appeared around her. All of them were pointing the different models of rifles, machine guns and snipers towards Zhao Xue.

Zhao Xue gasped in shock. "Where did you get so many guns from? Why do your shadow soldiers have guns the moment you summon them? Why don't my shadow soldiers have them?"

She wasn't surprised that Fu Mi could summon more shadow soldiers compared to her, as this just meant that Fu Mi's character was more compatible with this power.

There was a smug smile on Fu Mi's face as she said, "We snatched these weapons from the House of Cats. Every shadow soldier can carry weapons that weigh less than 30kg. As long as they equip themselves with these weapons, the next time they are summoned, they will still be carrying the weapon. They will carry it until the weapon is damaged or the bullets have been used up."

Zhao Xue's eyes lit up even more. Just by thinking of it, she could come up with more than 10 combat strategies to use with this trait. Combined with her feline girl's physical abilities and psychokinesis, normal apostles will be no match for her.

That night, when Fu Mi, Ah Yuan, Yellow Bro, and the rest were celebrating the awakening of another companion, a feline girl brought bad news.

"What! Luoluo and the rest have been caught?"

Upon hearing the news that the maroon feline girl had brought, everyone was stunned. Luoluo was the leader of the other group of feline girls. They had worked together with Fu Mi to fight the House of Cats. Their combat strength was about the same as Fu Mi's team.

The maroon feline girl was a 13 years old kid with a ponytail. She was crying and her cat ears drooped. "We wanted to rescue a feline girl trapped in the laboratory. However, we were ambushed by the feline girls of the House of Cats. They had new powers and all our attacks were useless against them. Everyone was caught."

The little feline girl was crying as she explained, “Luoluo and the others threw me out with their psychokinesis. That was how I escaped. Wh–Wha– What do we do now? Luoluo and the others have all been captured.”

Fu Mi asked, “New powers? What do the powers do?”

The small feline girl was horrified. “The Feline girls of the House of Cats can turn into gas. All our weapons are useless against them, they pass through their body. The only power that could work on them was psychokinesis, but it could only hold them back. It cannot hurt them.”

“Then aren’t we fighting the invincible? Only they can hurt us but we cannot hurt them?” The orange feline girl was discouraged, “Where did they find such powers?”

“Waaaaa!” the little feline girl cried, “Then what are we going to do? Luoluo and the others are still trapped!”

“You... stop crying first.” Looking at the little feline girl cry, Fu Mi panicked and quickly comforted her until she fell asleep.

Fu Mi sighed, “Try not to go out. Before we think of a solution to counter this new power, everyone has to stay in the base.”

The black feline girl, Shui Yao, stood up immediately and asked with dissatisfaction, “What about Luoluo and the rest? Shouldn’t we go and rescue them?”

“If we go before coming up with a solution, we are just asking for death.” Fu Mi said, “Anyways, everyone needs to hide in the base and think of a solution first. Transforming into gas plus psychokinesis is such a tricky combination. To defeat them, we have to find a way to counter their powers.”

Ah Yuan shook her head. “If it is just being in a gaseous state, we still can try to trap them as pure gas cannot attack. However, they can use their psychokinesis even when they are in a gaseous state....”

The feline girls fell silent. They were all helpless against this new power. All of them were frowning and depressed.

When Zhao Xue saw this, she frowned too. After hearing the little feline girl's description, she couldn't think of a solution either.

"Feline girls possess the power of psychokinesis and strong physical abilities. They still borrowed another power. This is cheating. If the House of Cats is so strong now, how are we going to fight them in the future?"

The orange feline girl suggested, "Should we call the police? Let this matter fall into the government's hands?"

"No, those adults would only want to develop the cat transformation medicine. I don't trust them." Fu Mi said, "Furthermore, normal apostles are no match for feline girls. We have three different powers. Only feline girls can defeat feline girls."

"She is right." Ah Yuan nodded. "The only way is to borrow a new power to fight them. A kind of power that can counter their gaseous state."

Zhao Xue who had been in deep thought remembered the loaning incident and about Xiaoyu who fought by her.

"I know a kind of power which may be able to fight them."

While they were discussing, Sphynx cat texted Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao was shocked when he first saw the message. Then he was overjoyed. "What? Are they going to turn Xiaoyu into a feline girl too? That is a good thing. Do they need help? I can make her unconscious."

Sphynx cat answered, "... No, it's not that..." Sphynx cat told Zhao Yao what happened.

A feline girl who had white ears and was wearing a maid outfit brought a cup of coffee for the middle age man.

The middle age man looked at the feline girl's appearance and exclaimed, "What a perfect piece of art! Cat ears, tail, a young girl, cute and obedient. This is perfect! Women are so annoying compared to you."

"Meow!" The feline girl looked at the middle age man and asked, "What do we do now Professor? Fu Mi and the others have taken cover. We can't find them."

"Humph. Can't find them? Then what about the other accident? Smith died in Jianghai University. Where is the girl he met before he died?"

"She can't be found too. Her parents are also missing. We can only find her brother."

Professor Xu frowned and said, "Then capture her brother and bring him to me."

Chapter 635: The Tycoon in the Live Stream

Zhao Yao stared at the information provided by Sphynx cat and thought to himself, "A bunch of spirit feline girls borrowing Nekomata's powers?" He laughed, "That's pretty interesting."

Zhao Yao remembered that Nekomata's power allowed him to transform into spirit form. Spirits alternated between visible and invisible forms. The visible form allowed him to attack others and be attacked, while the invisible form allowed neither of that.

"But will the spirit's power combined with the feline girls' power of psychokinesis allow an invisible spirit to attack others at the same time?"

Sphynx cat sent another message that read, “Do you want to come and see?”

Zhao Yao thought for a moment before replying, “No need, call me again if they can’t win the fight. I have some things to settle these next two days. I will come and help them after I’m done with my own things.” Logically speaking, the combination of Nekomata and the feline girls’ powers should be enough to defeat the House of Cats. Even if they do not win the fight, there will be no threat to their lives.

Furthermore, with Sphynx cat as their aide, Zhao Yao felt that it was only a matter of time before the House of Cats were defeated by Zhao Xue.

For Zhao Yao however, there were only two days left before the end of the month. It was time to calculate the profits earned from the cat café and his share in the catmint market. There were many things to do and it was very troublesome for him. He still needed to help boost Elizabeth’s popularity. On top of that, another issue had come up in the past two days.

“Someone actually dared to pose as me?” Zhao Yao looked at the information sent by some Cat Kings as anger flashed in his eyes, “Fine if you pretend to be me, but you had the guts to snatch my catmint?”

Zhao Yao felt that he had to settle this issue properly. Snatching his catmint was completely unacceptable and lawless.

Coincidentally, another batch of catmint would be dispatched tonight. Zhao Yao decided to personally escort them in secret to catch the brazen culprit that had stolen his goods.

However, before going out tonight, he still had a round of live streams to send gifts for.

Zhao Yao opened Douyu and entered Elizabeth’s channel. As Zhao Yao tipped gifts for her every day during this period, Elizabeth’s popularity reached the hundreds of thousands, attracting even more viewers.

Elizabeth’s live stream fans could be divided into two big groups. One group knew that she was a supercat and treated her as the real host, while the other group thought that Elizabeth was just a normal cat voiced over by a human female host.

The first group mostly consisted of supercats, while the latter mostly consisted of humans.

When Zhao Yao entered the channel, he saw a user with the ID 'Teddy Doll' tipping a Rocket and asking in the comments, "Hey Host, is this cat up for sale?"

Elizabeth rolled her eyes in her mind while she typed a voice message on her phone, "Keke, thank you Brother Teddy for the Rocket, but Little Lizzie is only selling her craft not her body."

In a big bedroom in some city in the north, a teenage boy frowned when he saw the reply on the live stream. He typed his reply, "What's with the act? Isn't that just a cat?"

"I can offer 50 000 RMB, just sell this cat to me."

The veins on Elizabeth's forehead popped as she forced out a bright smile while cursing 'MMP' in her heart.

Though Elizabeth said nothing, comments continued to pop up on the bullet screen. Some comments gushed excitedly over his offer, while others lamented how rich Teddy Doll was.

"D*mn, that's a wise move."

"Stop saying that, Lizzie doesn't like it."

"Leave your address here, I will scratch you to death."

"50 000 for a cat? That's crazy."

"Being rich makes you willful."

"What do you guys know, a ragdoll costs at least 10 000. Even then, 50 000 is still a huge sum."

Teddy Doll scoffed as he tipped another Rocket. He continued to comment, saying, "Money is not an issue. If the host doesn't want to, I will leave."

The teenage boy had chanced upon Elizabeth's channel and thought she was an exceptionally cute cat, so he wanted to buy her. To him, offering a few thousand dollars for a cat was definitely good money for the seller.

Right at this moment, a user with the ID 'Your Cat Master' tipped 50 Rockets in one go and commented, "Get lost, you broke ass."

Teddy Doll narrowed his eyes, annoyed. He wanted to retort by tipping a whole screen of Rockets but decided it was not worth considering the amount of allowance he had this month. He could only reply with, "Tipping so many Rockets for a mere cat... what a fool."

In some northeastern city, a black cat wearing a big gold chain on his neck was busy clicking with an annoyed look on his face. He replied in the comments, "Stupid human, you don't know anything." As he said that, he tipped another 50 Rockets and continued commenting, "Didn't you say money wasn't an issue? Up your game!"

Teddy Doll slammed the table in anger at the comments. He just felt that 'Your Cat Master' was a madman who tipped 100 Rockets just to spite him. This amounted to 50 000 RMB. To let himself be goaded into doing the same was simply irrational and illogical.

Seeing that the other party had become silent 'Your Cat Master' cackled in delight and stared lecherously at Elizabeth as he commented, "Little Lizzie, be my girlfriend please." Following that, he tipped another 50 Rockets in one shot.

Seeing how 'Your Cat Master' had tipped 150 Rockets in one go and had even asked Little Lizzie to be his girlfriend, the bullet screen exploded with comments.

"A live stream of cats f*cking each other will definitely be exciting to watch."

"Being poor puts restrictions on my sexual orientation."

"Boss, do you want guys? Just 10 000 will do."

"No! Little Lizzie is mine!"

“Two idiots,” Elizabeth scolded in her heart, but she giggled and said, “Thank you ‘Your Cat Master’ for the generous tips, but I am not thinking of having a boyfriend at the moment.”

‘Your Cat Master’ replied, “Little Lizzie, I am serious, can I add you on WeChat?”

With the comments and Rocket tips from ‘Your Cat Master’, the whole live stream channel grew and became super lively. Zhao Yao was secretly delighted by this, “Good good, another foolish cat got hooked. It was the right move to raise Elizabeth’s popularity.”

While Elizabeth was still pacifying the other cat, Zhao Yao communicated to her telepathically, “Elizabeth, send him your WeChat. Let him tip more Rockets.”

Elizabeth rejected his suggestion indignantly, “Zhao Yao, are you still human? I won’t betray my feelings for this.”

Zhao Yao sighed. Seeing how ‘Your Cat Master’ stopped commenting and tipping any Rockets, he became anxious and said, “It’s just adding him on WeChat and chatting casually, I’m not asking you to really be friends with him. Quick, send it to him or the tycoon will leave.”

Elizabeth shook her head and insisted, “No!”

Zhao Yao replied, “Then send him Roly Poly’s WeChat.”

Elizabeth stared in astonishment at Zhao Yao. Roly Poly who stayed by Zhao Yao’s side 24-hours round the clock stared at him as well.

Roly Poly said, “That’s not very nice...”

Chapter 636: Transaction and Tax

Zhao Yao sighed, “You think I want Roly Poly to act as Elizabeth to chat with him on WeChat just to cheat his money?”

Elizabeth thought to herself, “Isn’t that the case?”

Roly Poly, who followed Zhao Yao every day gasped silently, “If not just for the money, does it mean he’s after his body as well?”

Looking at their expressions, Zhao Yao seemed to have guessed their thoughts. He replied in a disappointed tone, “Both of you disappoint me so much. Have you all forgotten the motive behind doing the live stream?”

Elizabeth replied in a quiet voice, “To be famous?”

Roly Poly added, “To earn money?”

“Wrong!” Zhao Yao continued, “Being a host on a live stream is a job that sells dreams. It is for nerdy cats like Matcha feel that they have a pretty member of the opposite sex playing with them, for poor cats like Fish Ball to experience a life they could never have, and for fat nerds like you, Roly Poly, to interact with your goddess.

For each lonely soul out there to find an island of peace in the vast sea of the Internet, for those seeking warmth, dependence, and comfort from each other. This is the true meaning behind being a live stream host.”

Zhao Yao pointed to the screen and said, “Elizabeth, you are the dream of ‘Your Cat Master’. Behind the computer screen, he might just be a fat and ugly cat that has nothing but money. This live stream gave him the chance to interact with you. WeChat would be the platform that fulfills his dream of becoming friends with his goddess.

The main point lies in the dream itself. As to whether the cat behind the screen is you or Roly Poly, does that really matter?”

Roly Poly was confused, “Doesn’t it?”

Zhao Yao stepped on Roly Poly as he said, “Is that important?”

Roly Poly immediately shook his head, “No it’s not.”

“So you guys are not lying to him, but helping him to fulfill his dream of interacting with his goddess.”

Roly Poly thought to himself, “Scumbag.”

Elizabeth was gasped in her heart, “Wretch.”

Zhao Yao continued, “Roly Poly, delete the photo of yourself in your WeChat and upload a photo of Elizabeth. In the future, you will continue chatting with him so that he will continue to tip Elizabeth some Rockets. He can give you red packets directly as well and you can split half with Elizabeth.”

Roly Poly’s expression changed immediately as he said with a serious voice, “I understand now. We are not creating a dream but are the middlemen transporting dreams and earning commission from it.”

Elizabeth controlled the computer and gushed excitedly, “Roly Poly quick, I sent him your WeChat already.”

Zhao Yao stared at Roly Poly and Elizabeth working together with satisfaction as the popularity of the live stream rose to new levels.

The popularity of the live stream was not bad so Zhao Yao did not tip any more Rockets. He grabbed Roly Poly who was using WeChat and turned into the Headless Horseman again as they went to the catmint field.

When he saw him approaching, Cannon from Japan, who had been focused on planting catmint exclaimed, “Zhao Yao, you’re finally here! That d*mn guy actually stole our catmint. If I was still the old me, I would have scratched him to death.”

“Alright, that’s enough,” Zhao Yao patted the agitated Cannon and the latter immediately lay flat on the floor, giggling with pleasure. Zhao Yao asked, “How’s it going? Have the goods been prepared for today?”

“They have already been packaged, Dust Ball will also be coming to dispatch them personally.”

Zhao Yao found Dust Ball, who was pacing around menacingly. Though she was only the size of his palm, her actions gave off the feel of a tiger guarding its territory as she paced around the box of catmint, staring at everyone as if they were all thieves.

She relaxed a little upon seeing Zhao Yao. “Zhao Yao, I will come with you this time. I must catch that d*mn guy.”

Zhao Yao pacified Dust Ball and reassured her that she need not come along. Afterall, given how capable Dust Ball was at guarding the catmint, on top of the superpowers in the Extradimensional Belly, he was afraid that Dust Ball would not give the other party a chance to steal the catmint at all.

Following Zhao Yao’s advice, Dust Ball gave up on her plan to come along. Zhao Yao chose Red Packet and Fish Ball to go with him instead.

It was past midnight. The field was dead quiet without a single soul around. It looked empty and forlorn.

More than 10 wild supercats walked discreetly towards the track bordering the field. Their leader was the fat orange cat that resembled Matcha.

“Mao Bro,” a multi-colored cat beside Fat Matcha said, “Looks like the cat rascals of that Headless b*stard aren’t here yet.” The Headless b*stard, Zhao Yao, had gained another nickname for himself in the supercat realm in Jianghai. That was what most of the cats selling catmint called him.

Seeing no reaction from Big Bro Mao, the multi-colored cat said again, “Heard that recently a few transactions had been intercepted and snatched by other people. The snatcher claims to be the Headless Horseman. Maybe that Headless b*stard is double-crossing us?”

“What double-crossing nonsense?” fat Mao Mao said, “We are legitimate business cats doing legitimate business. Selling catmint is not illegal, so how is that double-crossing? We are law-abiding citizens being robbed.”

The multi-colored cat continued, “But, we didn’t pay tax. Previously the supercats from the government came to collect tax from us saying that we are operating illegally and that they will fine us.”

Mao Mao was enraged by his words and shouted, “Pay what tax? We supercats will never pay tax!”

“They want me to pay tax? I would rather die!”

“Good!”

“Well said!”

“We would rather die than pay tax!”

Hearing these words, the cat underlings behind them all raised their paws and cheered in unison. The gravity of supercats evading tax in Jianghai was obvious.

As the emerging generation of smart lives on Earth, these lawless supercats were born with tax-evading genes. The cats saw paying tax as an insult and evading tax as an honor, inciting much criticism and concern from the higher authorities.

To tackle this issue, Uncle Ho and his team had organized a special unit of tax-collecting supercats, who were responsible for chasing the supercats in Jianghai to pay tax. Mao Mao and his cats were on the blacklist of the tax-collecting unit, classified as parties to be strictly monitored.

Just as Mao Mao and his underlings chanted their catchphrase, Red Packet and Fish Ball had arrived on the other end of the field and slowly walked towards Mao Mao.

Both parties locked eyes and Fish Ball dropped the bag of catmint held in his mouth as he asked, “Here are the goods, where’s the money?”

Mao Mao let his underling push a luggage forward. Opening the luggage revealed a mountain of coins and some notes scattered around. “The money is all here. I want to inspect the goods!”

Fish Ball nodded and Mao Mao looked at the multi-colored cat beside him. The multi-colored cat walked up and slashed the bag of catmint with his paw, leaving some catmint dust on his paw. He sniffed the bag slightly before breaking into a relaxed smile.

He nodded at Mao Mao and said, “There’s no problem Boss, it’s the real stuff.”

Fish Ball continued, “Don’t worry Mao Mao, our Dust Ball Catmint has always been the purest.”

“Business is still business. I have so many cat brothers under me, so I have to be careful.” Mao Mao gestured to his underlings, who proceeded to push the money to Fish Ball.

Just as Fish Ball was about to take the money, sirens rang out from all directions as rays of bright light flashed in the sky.

A loud meowing sounded out, “You’re caught red-handed! You guys are involved in unlicensed transactions and evading tax! You have all been surrounded, stop resisting and surrender yourselves!”

Fish Ball stuck out his paw instantly and snatched back his catmint, shouting, “There are too many police officers here. Today’s transaction is canceled. Let’s all try to escape!”

Chapter 637: Lots of Brothers And Windfall

Accompanying the police light and loud yelling, numerous apostles rushed forward and started capturing supercats.

Although many supercats were captured, more than half of them used their abilities to break the siege. Red Packet and Fish Ball, under the cover of Zhao Yao, grabbed the catmint in their mouth and escaped.

As they passed by a large building, a person in a black robe, whose head was covered by black cloth, gazed at the movement of the two cats. He looked almost like the Headless Horseman.

He was Black Panther, the guy who was rescued by Zhao Yao from the hands of King of Death.

Ever since he had become brothers with the King of Death and was rescued by Zhao Yao, he felt a difference in the world when he activated his own superpower.

When he shut his eyes and start sensing the locations of his brothers, his mental space flashed densely with countless illuminated spots.

Numerous strangers that he had not known before had become potential stabbing targets. Black Panther felt very weird and puzzled.

Black Panther was not aware of the abilities of the King of Death. After he became brothers with the King of Death, the large number of puppets controlled by the King of Death also became his brothers—This was not known by Black Panther either.

If Zhao Yao or Uncle Ho saw the image that Black Panther had, they would understand that the current puppets controlled by the King of Death had far surpassed all the numbers they were previously shown.

Hence, Black Panther made use of the puppets of the King of Death to activate Teleportation and the effect was similar to lighting up the map.

Looking at the distant Red Packet and Fish Ball who were fleeing, Black Panther closed his eyes. “Near here... there are two...”

He ran in the direction of Red Packet and Fish Ball and disappeared in the next instant. A scream rang in the night sky, Black Panther apologized and continued his pursuit. After running for tens of meters, his body flashed and knocked down another passer-by.

“Sorry!” After bowing, Black Panther bolted again. This time, he managed to stop in front of Red Packet and Fish Ball.

Upon the appearance of Black Panther, Red Packet and Fish Ball were shocked. They were specially selected by Zhao Yao because they were the weakest of the supercats, so they were easy targets and baits for the perpetrators.

When they saw someone impersonating the Headless Horseman, Red Packet immediately said, “Fish Ball, let’s throw the catmint away and flee. It is not wise to fight...”

He turned his head to look while speaking, only to discover that Fish Ball had already ditched the catmint at their location and he had fled to a far distance of more than ten meters.

“This fellow...” Red Packet was fuming as he scurried.

Black Panther saw the two cats dropping the catmint and then fleeing. He shrugged his shoulders and walked to the front of the catmint. “This is an object of illegal transactions. I, the Headless Horseman, shall be Robin Hood and rob the rich and give to the poor.”

“Robin Hood?” Zhao Yao’s voice rang behind Black Panther, who turned around and joyfully exclaimed, “Headless mentor?”

Zhao Yao said with a gloomy expression, “Black Panther, why did you impersonate my identity and steal my catmint? You want to be Robin Hood?”

“Heh, heh, heh, heh.” Black Panther gave a hollow laugh. “Just joking. Do I dare to steal from my Headless mentor? I have a question for you. The old man who captured me the last time, who exactly is he?”

After being rescued by Zhao Yao, Black Panther was made unconscious and left by the roadside. So he was not able to listen to the conversation between the King of Death and Zhao Yao. Therefore he was in the dark regarding the identity of the King of Death.

There was one thing that Black Panther was very clear about. Ever since he acknowledged the King of Death as his brother and that period was his only acknowledgment with the King of Death, his superpower revealed a dense network of brothers.

Hence, he robbed Headless Horseman’s catmint just so that he could understand the identity of the King of Death and figure out what actually happened.

As Zhao Yao and Black Panther were conversing, in a distant high-rise building, a middle-aged man put down his binoculars and said to his cell phone, “Boss, Black Panther and Headless met.”

“D*mn. Didn’t I order you to capture Black Panther at all costs? Why did you let them meet?” The cell phone on the other end emitted the exasperated voice of the King of Death. During this period of time, he was annoyed by Black Panther as he would be stabbed in the kidneys frequently, as though a fly was whizzing by his ears and he could not swat it.

He especially hated when Black Panther always appeared behind the puppets of the King of Death, frightening him. Even though he was unwilling to face off Zhao Yao, he sent a small team in secret to Jianghai, hoping to figure out Black Panther’s problem.

After an exasperated scolding by the King of Death, the middle-aged man asked, “Boss, shall we make a move?”

“D*mn you... do you not see where the Headless Horseman is?” The King of Death exhaled deeply. “Withdraw, find another opportunity.”

Every time the Black Panther flashed, the King of Death was able to sense it as most of the stabbings were on his kidney. Hence he had many opportunities to find Black Panther.

“The only headache is Headless Horseman. Zhao Yao, what are you going to do about this fellow?”

Meanwhile, on the street, Matcha was sitting down at a kebab stall by the cross-roads, gazing at a passer-by. Matcha saw him holding a kebab and could not resist drooling.

At this moment, Matcha’s fur had dried and the ends split. His body was as thin as a rake and he looked almost like a stray cat.

The man only glanced at Matcha before hurrying off. He had no intention to be bothered.

“I am famished. After eating the cat food strewn by the young lady, I have not eaten for twelve hours...” Matcha gawked at that man with the kebab in his hand, his nose sniffed the aroma of the meat and he drooled all over the floor. An impulse arose to steal.

“Activate Time Freeze, activate Time Freeze, steal the kebab and run. Nobody will know.”

“No, Matcha, you are a righteous cat. Stealing is wrong.”

“If not stealing, are you thinking of picking through trash?”

“Picking through trash is tiring. I better continue my begging beside the kebab stall.”

Looking at the receding kebab, Matcha stood up subconsciously and tailed that man. The man looked back at the orange cat and felt terrified by its gaze. He quickened his pace, only to find his stalker, Matcha, quickened his pace too.

As Matcha’s resolve was beginning to waver and he was about to activate Time Freeze to steal the kebab, loud yells and sounds of police cars rang from a distance.

Matcha yawned. “It is so late into the night and they are still chasing people?”

The next instant, a soft sound was heard. A floret cat dropped from a flower terrace. It carried a huge suitcase. The cat fainted in front of Matcha and the luggage was knocked open, spewing out money before Matcha’s eyes.

Chapter 638: Decadence

Looking at the sudden movement, Matcha was dumbstruck. That floret cat lifted its head to look at him and uttered, “Fur... fur...”

Before finishing, the cat passed out.

In the far distance, several government apostles ran over and shouted, “Found him!”

“Do not move!”

Matcha’s eyes flashed and emitted green rays.

“Cops?”

“Laundered money?”

A series of images appeared in his mind—supercat criminals pursued by cops and escaping the siege with their stolen goods, however, due to serious injury, they collapsed unconscious.

Hence, Matcha hesitated for about 0.1 seconds before activating Time Freeze. He shoved the money from the luggage into a small yellow bag in a wild frenzy.

“All laundered money!” As he shoved the money, he thought, “It is a pity if I do not take the laundered money, which is stained with numerous sins. May as well use it to relieve this pitiful stray cat and accumulate some merits for the laundered money.”

The small yellow bag was shoved to its full capacity and it looked as though it was going to explode. Matcha had completely emptied the luggage of money. He surveyed the frozen cops and the collapsed furet cat, then bolted.

After fleeing to a small alley, Matcha opened up the small yellow bag overflowing with money and laughed heartily. “Fleeing after stealing money, that is d*mn exciting.”

“Having so much money, it is time for me to enjoy myself.” At this thought, he slung the money over his back and disappeared into the sewers.

During this period of time, Matcha was trying to make a living on the streets but with poor results. However, he had a better understanding of the situation of the wild supercats.

With the money in his hands, he would not patronize the human malls. Rather, he was taking the money to Cat Street to splurge.

Cat Street was a subterranean black market where lots of supercats and apostles gathered. Once, Red Packet and Lightning had shopped at the Cat Street of Ürümqi and were targeted by cat smugglers.

Meanwhile, behind the Dimension Portal, Lightning was unable to find Matcha and he panicked. “Dust Ball, are we allowed to look for Matcha?”

“Yes, yes.” Elizabeth said, “Not sure if he is able to beg for food today.”

Dust Ball shook her head and replied, “Not in the mood. Wait for my catmint to come back first.” She looked at the other side of the Dimension Portal where Zhao Yao and Black Panther were conversing.

Moments later, Zhao Yao brought the catmint, which was ditched by Fish Ball, into the Extradimensional Belly. Following him was Black Panther, who was disguised as the Headless Horseman.

Black Panther was astonished seeing the Extradimensional Belly and the hundreds of supercats. “Is this the secret base of my Headless mentor? So many supercats? This is too awesome!”

Zhao Yao waved his hand and brought Black Panther to Cat Island. At the same time, he tossed the catmint to Dust Ball and proceeded to the Cat Island. With regards to Black Panther, he had a lot of issues to settle.

“You are too concerned about Matcha, what is so interesting about a useless cat? Dust Ball controlled the Dimension Portal and scanned the streets. It was not long before they spotted a fat orange cat running in the green belt.

Lightning gazed at the plump version of Matcha on the other side of the portal and asked bewildered, “This Matcha, how did he gain so much weight?”

Meanwhile, Matcha had arrived at Jianghai’s Cat Street. The spacious subterranean street was full of humans and supercats. There were makeshift stalls, brick and mortar shops, and lots of food outlets and entertainment spots. According to hearsay, this underground space was constructed using the superpower of a certain cat king. Because of its spaciousness and discreet location, which was not easily found by normal people, it flourished.

Cat Street was filled with both good and bad people. A few powerful cat kings and their men overlooked the place, ensuring basic order.

In order not to be swindled, one had to be street wise.

Matcha walked arrogantly along Cat Street, carrying a bagful of money. He felt his back straightening up.

“My boss ran away with the dog! We had to sell these cell phones at low prices!”

Matcha caressed his growling hungry stomach. He intended to have a sumptuous meal and found the largest cat restaurant on Cat Street. Sitting down on a paper carton, he asked, “What delicious food do you have?”

“Okay, okay.” Matcha licked his lips and said arrogantly, “Give me one of each!”

After being satiated, he left the restaurant and strolled leisurely on the lively and busy Cat Street. “So much money in the bag, if I do not finish spending it, I won’t feel at ease.”

After walking a few rounds, Matcha found a female cat in a small alley waving to him. Matcha’s eyes brightened and he willingly scurried over.

The female cat said, “Mister Handsome, want some service?”

Matcha laughed heartily and said, "Of course, what services?"

The female cat blinked flirtatiously at Matcha and said, "Mister Handsome, come in and you'll know."

Matcha followed her into a small black house. When the light was lit, tens of female cats streamed in.

The leading female cat said to Matcha, "Mister, these are our service ladies. They're all pretty, with good singing voices and services."

Each female cat introduced herself.

"Mister, service lady number one, I come from Dong Bei."

"Greetings Mister, I am number two from Japan."

"Greetings, I am number three from Hainan."

After listening to their introductions, Matcha opened his mouth and his ears quivered excitedly. "Good, Dong Bei's ladies are vigorous. I want the lady from Dong Bei."

All service ladies left except number one, who walked up to Matcha and said, "Greetings Mister, I offer a small job, medium job, and large job, which do you prefer?"

"The large one! Of course, the large one!" Matcha wagged his tail excitedly. "I have no lack of money."

"Mister lay down comfortably. Let me service you."

Matcha laid down with a face of anticipation. He felt a soft tongue licking his fur.

"I'll start by licking the fur. Would you like to clean your bottom part of your body too?" Matcha breathed deeply and white mist seemed to blow out from his nostrils.

One hour later, Matcha gawked at the ceiling and asked with a tired expression, “Little sister, you have licked for one hour, if you continue, I will be licked bald. When do we proceed to the next stage?”

“Mister, you have selected full body, three hundred and sixty degrees, no dead spot, large fur licking job, just a bit more and it is almost done.”

Ten minutes later, Matcha walked out of the house fuming as he looked at his body which was full of saliva. “Scam shop! A scam shop!”

Matcha was so furious, he found another restaurant and binged ate and drank. Waving his bag full of money, he continued binging and made friends with two supercats. As they were sniffing catmint, one of them said, “Matcha, do you know the most exciting place on Cat Street?”

Chapter 639: Matcha Looking for Some Fun

Hearing that, Matcha’s eyes lit up, “Where is it?”

“Hehe,” the other cat smiled mysteriously and waved at Matcha as he turned around.

The three cats stumbled to the front of a mysterious door.

“Place your final bets!”

“I won again! Hahahaha!”

“Lend me 1000, someone lend me 1000! I will recover my losses for sure!”

In a big hall packed with all kinds of supercats, all eyes were fixed on a big screen at the front end of the hall. The screen showed more than 10 dogs racing each other on a track. When all the dogs had crossed the finish line, the whole hall erupted into a ruckus. The ones that won cheered excitedly while those that lost sighed dejectedly.

The supercat beside Matcha briefly explained, “We are all supercats, a normal casino won’t be able to stop us from playing dirty tricks with our powers, hence the Boss of Cat Street came up with this idea of betting on dog-racing, so no supercat can cheat. It’s super exciting.”

“Dog-betting?” Matcha’s eyes lit up as he stared at the dogs on the screen excitedly.

After half an hour, Matcha stared at the winning dog on the screen and jumped in rage, “Place 100 more for me!”

After an hour, Matcha’s face was fuming with anger as he shouted, “Place another 100 for me on No. 3, I don’t believe he won’t win.” Sadly, when he opened his bag, he realized he had no money left.

“Sir, you have no more money?”

Matcha scoffed and took out his phone as he replied, “I just bought this Huawei phone a year ago, can I mortgage it for 500? Place my bet on No. 3 again!”

After half an hour, Matcha walked out furiously and slammed his small yellow pouch in front of him, “Trade this for 100 RMB.”

The other party stared at the bag and said, “Sir, this bag is only worth 10 dollars at most.”

“This is a branded bag I bought from Tokyo, can’t you tell?” Matcha screamed, “What about my fur, how much can you give me for that?” As he said that, he reached down and grabbed a whole bunch of orange fur out.

“Sir, we do not accept fur as collateral here.”

After a few minutes, Matcha slumped on the floor in anger, covering his eyes with his small white paws, looking like he was in agony.

A cat with a sharp chin resembling an inverted triangle stared at him from afar and said curiously, “Is that Brother Mao Mao of the Cao Gang?” The supercat beside him nodded, “Looks like it, but he looks much slimmer now.”

The inverted triangular face walked up and laughed as he said, “Brother Mao Mao, long time no see. Why did you come here to bet on dogs?”

Matcha let down his paws and stared at the inverted triangular face in front of him in confusion.

The other party laughed gleefully, “Lost all your money? Do you want to borrow some money to recover your losses?”

Matcha jumped up immediately and said, “Yes! Brother, I have already figured out the rules of this game. As long as you give me a chance, I will win until this dog-racing competition falls apart.”

After an hour, Matcha zoomed out of the dog-racing betting hall and ran for his life.

“Pay us back!”

“Catch him!”

“Stop right there!”

Matcha screamed, “Only idiots would stop!” But the other party would not let him off so easily. One by one, the supercats unleashed their powers of teleportation, ground burrowing and passing through walls to catch up with him. Matcha could only rely on his time freeze to avoid them.

Suddenly, as Matcha turned at a corner he bumped into a cat and started cursing, but he realized that the cat in front of him was the one who lent him money.

“S*it!” Matcha was scared to death as he thought to himself, “I spent all his money.” He raised his head and saw more than 10 other supercats glaring at him from behind, all covered with scars, bald or fierce-looking muscles.

“D*mn, one look and I can tell that these guys are not good cats. I must drag time and drag it until the time freeze ends.” Just as Matcha thought of that, the multi-colored cat exclaimed in shock, “Boss, why have you slimmed down so much?”

Matcha paused for a moment as his eyeballs whirred with his thoughts. He replied, “Because I was worried for you, so I lost weight from worrying about you.”

The multi-colored cat was evidently touched, “Boss!!”

Right at this moment, the loan shark cats caught up with them, “Catch that d*mn orange cat!”

The multi-colored cat screamed back, “Who dares to touch our Boss!” The bunch of cats behind him came forward and stood in line as their powers of fire, wind, and rocks burst out from their bodies.

The leader of the loan shark cats said, “Cao Gang, your Boss owes...”

Matcha rushed forward and punched that cat as he shouted, “Kill them all!”

Behind the dimension portal, Lightning, Ares and Elizabeth eyed the Fat Matcha, Mao Mao, on the other end of the portal suspiciously.

Especially after seeing how the other party expertly threatened the stray cats and snatched their food, they became even more suspicious of him.

Lightning remarked, “This guy...”

Ares frowned, “He’s not Matcha right?”

Elizabeth stood up immediately and said, “We lost Matcha! Quick, go tell Zhao Yao and let Zhao Yao come and find him!”

However, just when she stood up, Dust Ball bit on her tail to hold her back. Elizabeth turned and saw Dust Ball staring pitifully at her as she said, “Don’t tell Zhao Yao please, he instructed me to keep watch on Matcha. If he knew I lost Matcha this time, he would definitely get angry at me.”

Elizabeth shook her head and said sternly, “Dust Ball, although Matcha is an idiot, he is still one of us. Now that we’ve lost him, he might get sold overseas at any minute given his limited intelligence. We have to inform Zhao Yao immediately, Zhao Yao will definitely be able to find Matcha quickly.”

Dust Ball held back the tears in her eyes as she nodded, “Okay.”

Zhao Yao, who was chatting with Black Panther on the Cat Island, received the news quickly. He frowned and looked at Black Panther, “Black Panther, I kind of get what you are saying. This situation is very complex.” As he said that, he took out a phone that could connect to the Cat Web and passed it to Black Panther, saying, “You can search Ivory and King of Death here. If you still decide to take the risk with me after reading all that, I will bring you along.”

Black Panther nodded and said, “I understand, Headless mentor.”

Zhao Yao nodded and walked away with his phone in his hand, “These stupid cats, I really can’t trust them with tasks. Luckily, I made preparations beforehand.” He sent a message with his phone, “Luckily, I installed a location tracker on Matcha’s phone, let me check now...”

After half an hour, a headless Zhao Yao appeared in the dog-betting hall donned in a black robe. When he appeared, the whole hall broke into chaos.

“The Headless Horseman!”

“The headless one is here!”

“Everybody run!”

Looking at the supercats fleeing in all directions, the dog-betting hall emptied in an instant. Zhao Yao pursed his lips as he stared at the staff cat worker of the dog-betting hall trembling in fear and thought, “His location was shown to be here, why don’t I see Matcha?”

He thought for a bit before he whipped out his phone and showed a photo of Matcha asking, “Have you seen this cat?”

The cat in question replied immediately, “Mao Mao from the Cao Gang? This guy owes the loan shark cats a mountain of debt, he ran away just now.”

Chapter 640: Finding Matcha and the Feline Girls’ Sudden Attack

Hearing the cat’s words, Zhao Yao thought of the real Mao Mao that Dust Ball and the other cats had told him they were following.

Thinking of that, and hearing how Matcha raked up a huge debt with the loan sharks, a murderous look flashed across Zhao Yao’s eyes. However, he kept his cool as he asked, “Where did he run to?”

Meanwhile, in the Mao Restaurant along Cat Street, inside the biggest cardboard box, more than 10 supercats from the Cao Gang gathered around Matcha.

“Boss, you were so brave just now.”

“Yeah Boss, I thought your punches were getting weaker, but actually you’re so agile.”

Matcha was so nervous he started dropping fur from his body. He forced out a laugh, “That’s no big deal.”

A multi-colored cat beside him asked, “Boss, what about the money?”

“Money?” Matcha trembled as heard that. His fur started dropping even faster.

The multi-colored cat nodded, “Yeah Boss, weren’t you the one who took the money from me and ran away to distract the police from chasing me further?”

Matcha paused for a moment and thought to himself, “This cat’s imagination... is better than mine.” He sighed, “It’s hard to describe in a few words.”

The multi-colored cat asked, “Don’t tell me the money was stolen?”

Matcha sighed, “Yeah.”

The crowd of cats shouted agitatedly, “Who snatched the money!”

“Who dared to snatch our Cao Gang’s money!”

“Mutilate him!”

“Throw him into the Huangpu River to feed the fish!”

Hearing the cheers from the cats around him, Matcha felt that his fur was about to explode in fear and alarm. He smiled awkwardly, “That rascal took it.”

The multi-coloured cat was enraged and shouted, “So it’s Fish Ball and his gang?”

The moment he said that, shouts of fury erupted from the cats all around.

“I knew there was something wrong with Fish Ball and his gang!”

“Since they snatched our money, they must pay double the price for it.”

Matcha was shocked. “How did Fish Ball, Dust Ball, and the rest get dragged into this? Are they the ones selling catmint?” At the thought of this, he awkwardly smiled and said, “Maybe there’s something more to it? Let us investigate the issue first.”

A bald-headed cat whipped his head around and shouted in rage, “Boss, you want to admit defeat? What about our money?”

In that instant, all the supercats turned and stared at him. Matcha felt the murderous air around him as the paws of each supercat glowed ominously.

Matcha paused for a moment before he pumped his paw up and said, “Kill Fish Ball!”

“Kill Fish Ball!”

“Kill Fish Ball!”

Outside the cardboard box, Zhao Yao, who had searched everywhere and interrogated cats until he found Matcha there stopped and listened to what the cats were saying. He glanced at Matcha who was commanding them at the top of his voice and scoffed before he opened the dimension portal.

Roly Poly, who was squatting on Matcha’s shoulder, covered his mouth as he giggled in glee.

Zhao Yao stepped into the dimension portal and said to Dust Ball, “Keep a close eye on this d*mn cat and record every single mistake he makes after this. Hmph, I will punish him for his wrongdoings after the seven days.”

After settling the situation there, Zhao Yao returned to the Cat Island to find Black Panther. Black Panther’s powers were of great importance to him, as they would greatly help Zhao Yao defeat the King of Death.

It was a busy night for Zhao Yao, Matcha, and the Cao Gang.

Outside Zhao Yao's cat café, two pairs of furry ears emerged behind the fence. Two feline girls around 14 to 15 years old with orange cat fur peered out. Flashes of green light reflected in their pupils as they stared at the cat café in front of them.

"Seems like they stay in the cat café. They never come out even after work."

"Professor wants us to capture Zhao Xue's brother. He should be sleeping in the cat café now."

As Zhao Yao's 18-storey building was still under renovation, he basically lived in the Extradimensional Belly and the Cat Island. Hence when he returned after work, he would just pass through the dimension portal in the cat café.

The feline girls who had observed the cat café for a long time naturally suspected that he slept in the cat café everyday.

"Let's go and catch him now, the Professor is pressuring us already."

As she said that, the two feline girls sped towards the cat café, leaving a trail of white smoke behind them.

"What are the two of you here for?"

Just as they were about to sneak into the cat café, their ears heard a voice come from behind them. They turned into puffs of white smoke that trembled slightly with fear.

Bai Quan stared at the two puffs of white smoke in front of him and asked curiously, "Both of you are apostles?"

"Now!"

When they saw Bai Quan appear, the two feline girls glanced at each other before activating psychokinesis simultaneously. Invisible forces wrapped around Bai Quan's body, immobilizing his physical self.

When they saw Bai Quan immobilized, the two feline girls let out their breaths as one of them shouted, “Who are you? Why are you here?”

Bai Quan blinked and said, “I am feeding the cats supper. Anyway, I should be the one asking that question. Both of you have been squatting there the whole day and being so noisy.”

The feline girls stared at Bai Quan in confusion. They did not understand what he had just said.

Bai Quan shrugged his shoulders in exasperation, “Forget it. We can have a good talk after I catch the both of you.” As he said that, he had reached out to grab the white puffs of smoke with the flash of a hand. Surprised, he exclaimed, “Oh? Your bodies are really white puffs of smoke?”

“Ah! How are you still able to move!” The feline girls shrieked as they intensified their psychokinesis powers. Bai Quan’s clothes tightened as they began to tear apart, while the cement beneath his feet cracked inch by inch.

“Bet you can’t move now!”

Just as the feline girls thought that, Bai Quan rushed towards them and tried to grab the white puffs of smoke, but to no avail. This was a shock to him, as he thought, “There’s such a power?”

Compared to Bai Quan, the feline girls were even more shocked, or to be more exact, terrified, “How can this be? Psychokinesis doesn’t work on him?”

They unleashed their psychokinesis powers as much as they could to restrain Bai Quan. However, as if a Godzilla was hidden beneath his average-looking body, no matter how hard the feline girls tried, they could not immobilize even an inch of his body.

“How can this be? Our psychokinesis power can distort even the strongest steel columns, but this guy appears totally unaffected!”

The two feline girls stared at Bai Quan in disbelief, “Aim at his neck and cast our powers to make him faint!”

The intense wave of psychokinesis power rushed towards Bai Quan's neck. The inch of air near his neck seemed to be distorted at that moment, resulting in "ka-cha", "ka-cha" sounds emanating from the intensified air resistance.

As the feline girls exerted their powers, the white puffs of smoke bubbled vigorously and started to destabilize.

Seeing the skin on Bai Quan's neck vibrating vigorously, the feline girls thought, "Has it worked?"

Despite exerting their full power, they only managed to make the skin on Bai Quan's neck vibrate. Bai Quan was totally nonchalant about the psychokinesis power surrounding his neck as he cracked it and said, "Eh? My neck feels better now after some massaging."
