

Am I A God 761

Chapter 761: Fatso and Evil

Zhao Yao looked at Matcha's message then looked at Milk Tea and he could help but picture a scene...

...

Matcha, who was 100kg, was lying on the sofa at home. He was so fat he could not turn around. He was pressing on his phone and shouting, "Zhao Yao! Give me some money! There is a new skin again!"

Zhao Yao was as skinny as bones as he walked up trembling and sighed, "All the money in our house has been spent. There is no more money."

"I don't care! Old Man, give me some money!" Matcha's short and fat limbs hit against the ground repeatedly as he yelled, "Meow wah wah! If you don't give me money. I am not going to eat!"

"There is really no money."

On the other bed, Milk Tea, who was also 100kg started howling, "I want money too! Meow wah wah! Old Man, give me money too! Or I won't eat!"

...

Zhao Yao inhaled a mouthful of air. He looked at Yellow Mud who was staring at him and thought, "I can't let them live idly anymore."

He thought about it and nodded. "Okay, since you want to work so much. I will give you a job." Zhao Yao rubbed his chin and said, "From today on you will be in charged of Cat Wonderland's..."

He thought about it and could not think of what to arrange for Milk Tea.

“Receiving guest in the lobby? No, Milk Tea is too young. Serving the dishes? He does not have the strength. Helping out in the casino? What if he becomes another Cannon? Become a leader? Lead the other supercats? Is that favoring him too much?”

“He has to start from the bottom.”

Zhao Yao looked at Milk Tea and said, “From today on you will be in charge of the cleanliness in the Cat Wonderland. Report to me everyday before you sleep. I will sent a cat to check. The more you clean and the cleaner it is, the higher your pay will be.

“Yeah!” Milk Tea laughed and jumped in joy. “I can work too!” His mind was filled with the image of Matcha working. Milk Tea skipped over to Yellow Mud. “Yellow Mud! Let’s go and work!”

Yellow Mud came out from the corner shyly and nodded at Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao told him. “Your pay will be the same as Milk Tea. This is to make sure that you take care of him.”

Yellow Mud nodded his head and brought Milk Tea away. He thought, “Zhao Yao is quite nice. He is not as unfriendly as the rumors say he is.”

...

In the catmint bar, Matcha was cornered. There were a dozen of tall and strong supercats looking at him and the entire room was locked up.

“You want to activate your powers and escape?”

“You consumed our catmint and want to leave without paying!”

“You still dare claw my face! I was almost disfigured!”

“Beat him up! Beat him until he is willing to pay up!”

Matcha was crying as he messaged, “Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! Hurry up and transfer me the money! They want to kill me!”

Fish Ball stopped the cats and said, “Guys wait! Stop!”

Upon seeing Fish Ball, Matcha shouted, “Fish Ball! Save me! Tell them that I have no money! I am just working at a construction site. How do I produce tens of thousands to suck catmint?”

Fish Ball nodded and looked at the cats. “He is right. This orange cat does not have much money.”

Upon hearing this, all the cats were very frustrated and dejected.

“Why do you come if you have no money!”

“Didn’t you say that he was rich!”

“Tie all of them up!”

Fish Ball saw that he was being raised up too and shouted, “Wait! Wait!”

Fish Ball shouted, “Although this fat cat does not have much money, his owner is rich! His owner is super duper rich! Do you know Jack Ma? He is richer than Jack Ma!”

The cats stopped and looked at Matcha excitedly as if he were at a chest of treasure.

Matcha was agitated as he looked at Fish Ball. “What! You betrayed me!”

“Idiot.” Fish Ball said privately, “I wanted you to come and save me! Why didn’t you bring any cats? Where is Zhao Yao? Ask Zhao Yao to come over. This is a trap. Ask Zhao Yao to come and destroy it.”

“Oh... Oh... Oh...” Matcha nodded and pressed his phone. “I will contact Zhao Yao immediately...”

...

Zhao Yao picked up his phone and read Matcha's message. He shook his head, blocked Matcha and continued to read about the international situation.

It seemed like ever since the Europe incident, all countries had started either placing emphasis on or being more lenient with the development of supercats. The originally dangerous supercats who had been hidden away were in use now. Supercats were behind what happened in the Eastern Desert and in the United States.

The powers of these supercats were either strange or very strong. It was beyond ordinary people's imaginations. They could take on human armies alone.

Zhao Yao looked at the posts on the Cat web. Now supercats and apostles called the apostles or supercats who could take on an army disasters.

"I have to improve my combat skills too."

The best way for Zhao Yao to improve his combat skills was to run Cat Wonderland and increase Cat Wonderland's earnings so that he could increase the monthly settlements in exchange for more Experience Points.

Expanding his share of the catmint market was another way. He had to increase the number of chances at the lottery to get more equipment like the Paralysis Ring, Titanium Dog Eye, Spicy Cat Strips or even fragments of the Cat Prince Costume to redeem the real Cat Prince Costume.

For the Catmint market, with the Catmint prohibition, although there was still a lot of smuggling and unauthorized trafficking going on, with officials fighting against it, Dust Ball Catmint dominated a larger part of the market. Hence, Zhao Yao didn't need to worry about it.

However, regarding the Cat Wonderland, he could help and increase the speed of the renovation.

After all, the Cat Wonderland had only opened 40% of its space. There were still a lot of spaces in the shop under construction and renovation. All these could bring profit.

When he wasn't busy, Zhao Yao helped the construction team with Cat Wonderland's renovation. With the Deflective Field, Time Freeze and the Extradimensional Belly, he could greatly improve the efficiency of the construction team. He could probably finish the renovation by the end of this month.

...

On a TV in Tokyo, Japan.

Project X stood in the raging wind and looked at the vibrant nightlife of Tokyo with a smile.

Behind him was Coffee and the three supercats. They laid there and looked at Project X with admiration.

Coffee asked, "Boss, why did we come here? The United States Army cannot do anything to us..."

"My purpose is not to toy with the human governments." Project X took a deep breath and looked at the streets. "I can feel an evil presence in the West and he has provoked resentment in many of the cats. He will try and stop my plans, hence, I have to get rid of him in advance."

Maine Coon opened his mouth and revealed his teeth. He asked menacingly. "Where is he? Let me go and eat him up!"

"I have not found him yet. There's no hurry. We can search slowly." Then Project X fished out a small poster. He smiled and said, "Before this, let's go and watch a movie."

On the poster was Kaede Hattori dressed as a monster.

Chapter 762: Terror Strikes

In an apartment in Tokyo, posters, magazines and newspapers were thrown over a low cabinet. They were various monster movie posters.

Kaede Hattori sat in the living room and looked at his right hand. Strands of red light solidified and were molded into different shapes.

Ever since he started filming horror movies and decided to act in them, Kaede Hattori could feel his terror energy growing rapidly. It was improving at an unprecedented speed.

Compared to the past where he survived on the Japanese supernatural realm's fear of him, now he could garner so much more.

"Divine Rays of Terror have improved again." Kaede Hattori's eyes narrowed and the red light crystallized. It fell on to the floor with a crisp sound.

"It can already solidify. Even if I use it to intervene in reality, it does not consume as much energy. That's incredible."

While Kaede Hattori was studying how to improve the Divine Rays of Terror, a supercat meowed before walking out of the bedroom. The supercat walked in front of Kaede Hattori and rubbed against his leg meowing.

"Are you hungry, Sakura?" Kaede Hattori stroked her head and Sakura snuggled against his palm.

Looking at the cute supercat, Kaede Hattori couldn't help but smile.

Ever since he left the Japan Special Higher Police, he had set up an organization to fight against the American apostles to ensure the independence of the Japanese supernatural realm. He kept the supercat by his side as the safest place in all of Japan was by his side.

He stood up, opened the canned food and placed it in front of Sakura. He smiled with satisfaction when he saw Sakura curling her tail and eating the food happily.

Then, the doorbell rang.

"Delivery!"

"Delivery?" Kaede Hattori frowned. "I ordered a delivery?"

Outside the door, several armed American soldiers were pointing their guns at the door.

Recently, because of Kaede Hattori's actions, the American army had been met with severe hindrances in the region of the Pacific Ocean. Capturing Kaede Hattori had become their priority.

This time, they not only found his location but all the apostles who came were fully armed. They had all consumed a newly developed tranquilizer and had a certain amount of resistance against Kaede Hattori's Divine Rays of Terror.

When they were ready for battle, a red wave surged out from under the door and charged towards the apostles in the corridor.

"Be careful! The target has appeared!"

"Charge!"

The Divine Rays of Terror swept past their bodies. Although a few apostles fell to the floor trembling, the majority of the apostles who had taken the tranquilizer only paused for a few moments. Then, they took a few seconds before becoming calm again.

Then, their bodies started to change and Robot Fusion was activated. Cannons started emerging from their bodies as they charged into the room.

When they stepped through the door, they felt like they had entered another dimension. On the endless dark red floor, hordes of zombies rushed in their direction.

When they were about to shoot, red tentacles crawled out from the dark red floor and wrapped around their bodies.

Soon, all sorts of screams rang throughout the building.

...

After a few minutes, on the roof of a building in Tokyo. Kaede Hattori looked at the Divine Rays of Terror on his hand and nodded. “Now, my Divine Rays of Terror can solidify, parts of them can even distort dimensions and create illusions. The creatures can listen to simple instructions.”

Thinking of this, Kaede Hattori laughed. As long as his fear spread, soon he would become the most terrifying apostle in the world.

Sakura was behind Kaede Hattori and was rubbing against his leg. Then, she suddenly stopped and snarled continuously at the shadows. She was emitting Divine Rays of Terror from her body.

Kaede Hattori turned his head sharply and shouted coldly, “Who is it?”

A large Maine Coon walked out from the shadows, opened his mouth and revealed two incisors that were more than 10 cm long. He drooled as he looked at the human and the cat.

“What’s this?”

Kaede Hattori was shocked and when he saw the Maine Coon pounce towards him. He released the Divine Rays of Terror towards the cat.

Then, he saw the Maine Coon pass through the Divine Rays of Terror like they were air. The cat continued charging and was about to claw his head.

“The Divine Rays of Terror don’t frighten him?” Although Kaede Hattori was surprised, he did not panic. The Divine Rays of Terror solidified and became a dozen tentacles that wrapped around the cat.

However, the tentacles, which were strong enough to destroy an entire truck, were struggling to trap the Maine Coon.

“Hahaha.” The Maine Coon, who was wrapped in the tentacles, laughed. Then, the part below the Maine Coon’s neck started to distort and a mouth grew out of it. “You like to play with tentacles?”

Then check this out!!”

Swish! A part of the Maine Coon's body started to swell and soon it exploded revealing long and thick tentacles from within. It tore apart the solidified Divine Rays of Terror and whipped towards Kaede Hattori.

"What is this?" Kaede Hattori's eyes jerked opened and released more violent Divine Rays of Terror. The Rays collided with the cat.

As the battle continued, Kaede Hattori got more surprised. The cat was like a terrifying monster that did not know what fear was. No matter how many Divine Rays of Terror he released, they did not even halt the cat for a moment.

The Maine Coon's body was more like a monster than the monsters created with his Divine Rays of Terror.

The Maine Coon was like a combination of several life forms. He could grow claws, teeth, even eyes, ears or a spear in his tail.

As their battle was getting more intense, a voice called out to it.

Maine Coon stopped immediately and retreated even if it meant getting a blow from Kaede Hattori. His tail dropped and the Maine Coon retreated back to Project X and snuggled against Project X's body.

Chapter 763: Cruelty and Making Money

The tail, full of bone spurs, looked alive as it jumped around after landing on the ground. Then it jumped to Maine Coon's legs, where it merged with his body.

Project X patted Maine Coon's head and said gently, "It's alright. This man has some abilities. It is normal if you are defeated."

Kaede Hattori ignored the Maine Coon and turned to look at Project X, who had come out of nowhere. He said grimly, "What... kind of a creature are you?"

He felt strongly oppressed after seeing this half-human, half-feline creature, like a rat seeing a cat or a little chicken encountering a wolf.

Kaede Hattori, who possessed the Divine Rays of Terror, felt an instinctive fear.

Meow!!! Even Sakura, who was at his feet, purred with apprehension, her fur standing up.

Project X caressed the head of Maine Coon, from whose back dozens of tentacles and sharp claws protruded. The bone spurs on the tail shrunk back inside and the cat had become a huge Maine Coon, who knelt at one side licking his paws.

Project X turned to look at the purring Sakura and raised up his paw to beckon her to keep quiet.

Sakura kept quiet and wagged her tail restlessly. She didn't make any other sounds.

Project X looked at Kaede Hattori and said, "What do you think... is the real fear?"

As Kaede Hattori was about to answer, his eyes saw darkness and he felt dizzy. When he opened his eyes, he felt a debilitating weakness affecting his whole body.

"What happened?"

"Why... do I feel so weak?"

He lifted his head, surveyed the surroundings and discovered that he had fallen in a small alley. A man's figure, who was squatting nearby, made popping sounds.

"Hey!" Kaede Hattori raised his hand to catch his attention and discovered he was meowing and his hand was a soft paw.

"What happened?"

"Have I turned into a cat?"

The squatting man turned his head, looked excitedly at Kaede Hattori and said, “Don’t be impatient. It will be your turn soon.”

Kaede Hattori looked behind his back and saw a bloody female cat lying on the ground. Her limbs were contorted and her eyes popped out from her head. She abruptly pounced on his calves but only managed to bite his trousers.

The female cat continued biting and struggled feebly.

The man was antagonized and he lifted a rock and smashed it on her body.

He stood up and walked towards Kaede Hattori.

“D*mn! Is he abusing cats?”

“What is he going to do next? Kill me?”

“What about my Divine Rays of Terror? Where is Sakura?”

Kaede Hattori tried all his might to activate his superpower. He wanted to stand up and run. Instead he rolled over and moved a few centimeters.

He realized that he was a newborn kitten, barely the size of a palm, unable to stand up or run. For him, activating superpower was out of the question.

The approaching man looked menacingly larger. He looked almost like a giant and his every step shook the ground.

The man bent his back and grabbed Kaede Hattori.

Kaede Hattori used all his strength to move his body but only moved by a few centimeters. He looked dejectedly at the palm approach, brushed his body, and grab a kitten next to him.

Bam! The kitten was thrown up the sky and made to land on the mud floor.

The kitten convulsed in the mud before it was kicked and sent flying over a distance of more than ten meters. A boundless fear arose in Kaede Hattori.

It was the instinctive and great fear that arises in all lives when faced with imminent death.

“Hahahaha, it’s your turn.”

The man grabbed Kaede Hattori, who struggled violently with his four limbs to be free of his palm. However, the man’s palm had the weight of a gigantic mountain that a little kitten could not push off.

He clawed at the man’s hand but his new claws were unable to break the man’s skin.

He was extremely weak. Even a rat could bite him to death so a human could do him a lot more harm.

“Why... why do you want to kill me?...”

He was shrouded by a deep sense of hopelessness and his fear of death was amplified by the instinctive need for survival.

“Why do you want to kill me?”

After he was tossed up and he gradually plummeted to the ground, the fear increased exponentially. When he landed with a loud bang, excruciating pain, hopelessness, and fear exploded within his body.

Boom!

When Kaede Hattori recovered from his daze, he was standing on the balcony, his body wet from the cold sweat. Project X, who was standing before him, came out of nowhere. His feline face smiling merrily at him as he said, “The most terrifying thing in the world are not illusory monsters but from the cruelty of reality.”

Kaede Hattori was still feeling that great sense of hopelessness and shuddered as he said, “Who are you?”

Project X’s paws slowly touched Kaede Hattori’s head, his pupils contracting to a single line as he uttered grimly, “I... am your greatest fear.”

...

In the Cat Wonderland, Milk Tea’s head was covered by a towel and his four paws were wearing small shoes as he pushed the cleaning cloth and ran around polishing the floor tiles in the main hall.

Huff and puff!

After a hard time cleaning half of the hall, he paused for a while, panting heavily. Yellow Mud, who was similarly dressed, held a bowl of water in his mouth and said, “Drink some water to prevent heat stroke in this warm weather.”

Milk Tea put his tiny head into the bowl and started gulping the water.

He abruptly lifted his head, exhaled and said, “So tiring... Working is very very tiring.”

Yellow Mud tapped Milk Tea’s head and said, “Milk Tea, you must appreciate every precious dollar earned from work. It is not easy to make a living.”

At this moment, his phone received a notification from Wechat which Yellow Mud picked up, looking happy as he said, “We are receiving yesterday’s salary.”

“Huh? Our salary is paid? Milk Tea happily opened his cell phone but was disappointed by what he saw. “We have done so much... We are only paid about 100 dollars...”

He thought he could obtain 100 dollars easily just by asking and felt depressed.

“It’s already a lot.” Yellow Mud consoled him. “After you have worked and understand that money is hard to earn, you shouldn’t take other people’s hard-earned money.”

Milk Tea recalled the pool of money in the Extradimensional Belly and nodded. He thought to himself, “Master Zhao must have worked very hard as it is not easy to earn so much money. I have to work hard to earn more money.”

Chapter 764: Cleaning Floor And Keeping Cats

After Yellow Mud’s encouragement, Milk Tea cleaned the floor diligently.

After cleaning for a while, he lifted his head puzzled and asked, “What’s happening? I remembered I cleaned here before. Why did it get dirty again?”

A few minutes later, the clean floor tiles were dirtied with paw prints. Milk Tea was frustrated and said, “Who is the mean culprit? Didn’t they see that it was wet? And they still stepped on the tiles wilfully?”

Milk Tea pouted his lips and followed the trail of black paw prints. He saw a ruffled Matcha, looking like a refugee, sprawled on the ground and hugging a pail of water. Matcha spat out his tongue and drank like he had not drunk for days. He looked like he had been raped by many people.

Matcha said viciously, “Those people thought they were smart and yet I escaped. I will rest for a while before I bring some cats over to wreck their place. Let’s see if they dare gang up against me.”

Milk Tea walked in front of Matcha, frowned at him, and questioned him angrily, “Brother Matcha, why did you dirty the floor that I cleaned? There are other places to walk. I will have to clean the dirty floor again.”

Matcha looked condescending at Milk Tea and said, “You are cleaning the floor?”

“Yes!” Milk Tea stood with his chest out and said, “I want to earn money!” He fumed. “Do not walk on the areas that I have cleaned. Wait until it dries before walking on the floor!”

Matcha scoffed at Milk Tea and said, “Silly kid, why do you think you can depend on cleaning for a living? Because of people like us who dirty the floor and give you a chance to clean. You depend on us for a living. If we do not dirty the floor, no one will employ you to clean the floor.”

“Oh!” Surprised, Milk Tea gaped at Matcha and asked, “Is that so? Do you earn money?”

“Of course not.” Matcha sneered and said, “We provide free labor and let you earn money.”

Milk Tea nodded although he was confused.

“Be grateful!” Matcha tapped Milk Tea’s head and shouted, “Without us, you wouldn’t have the chance to earn money. Go clean the floor.”

Milk Tea was speechless and he returned to cleaning the floor silently.

Matcha was agitated as he opened up Wechat on his cell phone and pulled Fish Ball, Elizabeth, Ares, Dust Ball, Old Cat and other supercats into a group chat where he shouted, “I was bullied by the catmint bar’s cats! Who is following me to wreck their shop?”

Fish Ball echoed, “Wreck them!”

The group became deadly quiet... Traditional Jianghai Dust Ball Catmint (Dust Ball) left the group chat.

Matcha said angrily, “They said the cats from Cat Wonderland were a group of shameless cats who cheated money. I was indignant and argued with them but was badly beaten. They said that they would beat each Wonderland cat that they see! Are you able to bear this insult?”

I am not Elizabeth (Elizabeth) left the group chat.

Matcha was so furious he wanted to throw his cell phone away. The supercats at home were neither united nor sensible.

“Humph, if Zhao Yao hadn’t ignored me, I wouldn’t need such a motley crew.” Matcha looked anxiously at the increasing number of cats leaving the group chat and contemplated.

While thinking, he laid on the ground and muttered, “It is not easy to think of a solution. Let me play a round of Mobile Legends.”

...

In the home of Kujiyo in Japan.

In and outside the huge manor, many servants and security guards were on the floor.

Hideki Kujiyo knelt on the ground and looked at the unconscious Nanako and Sylvie. Then he turned his head to look at Project X and the four strange supercats who were by his side.

“Where did the cats come from?” Hideki Kujiyo tried to remember. “I have to protect Nanako from harm.”

Project X, who was sitting above him, said, “Superpower to control sound? Interesting, where are your supercats?”

Hideki Kujiyo swallowed his saliva and looked at Project X. “How will you guarantee our safety?” He pointed at Nanako and Sylvie and said, “If you send them to a safe place, I will tell you the location of the supercats.”

Suddenly, numerous black shadows transformed into giant vipers that circled Hideki Kujiyo, ready to strike him.

As Project X sat down, the black shadows transformed into a supercat and roared menacingly at Hideki Kujiyo.

Hideki Kujiyo was not affected and replied coldly, “If you kill us, you will never know the location of the supercats.”

Project X laughed, extended his hand slightly and threw Hideki Kujiyo up in the air.

Hideki Kujiyo struggled hard but was restrained by formless Psychokinesis. He was brought face-to-face, eye-to-eye with Project X.

“Look at my eyes.”

Hideki Kujiyo was completely hypnotized as his mind relaxed and he answered all the questions asked by Project X.

Moments later, Hideki Kujiyo was thrown carelessly on the ground. Project X clapped his hands and said, "Coffee, bring a cat with you to the portrait located at the first level stairway. Below the portrait is a secret passage to the basement. Bring the hidden supercat back."

Coffee nodded and said to Maine Coon, "Maine, follow me."

Maine Coon roared and said, "Call me by my name, Sang Biao!"

Coffee rolled his eyes as he felt the name was uncouth but seeing his serious face, he said, "Sang... Biao, follow me."

Project X was pondering Hideki Kujiyo's intelligence. "Momo? Spirit superpower? It is an interesting supercat." He looked at Shadow cat and said, "Shadow, go to Special Higher Police and investigate the whereabouts of Momo. I want her superpower."

Meanwhile, Sang Biao brought a white cat to Project X.

The white cat trembled as he looked at the surroundings and wagged his tail when Project X approached. The white cat did not dare to resist.

Project X stroked his head and smiled. "Good boy."

Moments later, the white cat ran out of the manor with a blank face and played with the stray cats that were by the roadside.

...

In an underground factory in Southeast Asia.

Kun Wu awoke in her cat dwelling, screaming in a shrill voice.

Doll, who was charging her batteries by the cat dwelling, looked concerned at Kun Wu and asked, “How are you Kun Wu? Having nightmares again?”

“He has come.” Kun Wu curled into a ball, her fur shedding uncontrollably. She looked like she was balding and her eyes looked hazy from the anxiety.

“Who has come?”

Chapter 765: Raiding Shop

“He has come.” Kun Wu muttered. “He has finally come. No supercats are a match for him. He is a natural winner.”

Doll looked very grave and said, “The cat you have been mentioning has come? Do not be frightened Kun Wu. Our robot army is getting stronger. Even if he is stronger than the Headless Horseman, he is also not our match. Even if we don’t defeat him the first time, with the evolution of our progress, it is a matter of time before we defeat him.”

“Yes, I still have you, Doll.” Kun Wu looked at Doll as though she had found a pillar of support. “You are my last hope. Only you can defeat him.”

Doll nodded and said, “Don’t worry.”

Kun Wu shook her head, hugged Doll’s head and said, “You do not understand. Do not let him win. We definitely cannot let him win. I can feel his thoughts and they want to destroy. Besides destruction, there is nothing. There is... nothing...”

...

Meanwhile, Matcha was so enraged that he threw the cell phone on the floor and hammered the screen.

“How could they play like this...”

“Don’t they know how to play the archer?”

“They don’t know how to kill monsters!”

“All my teammates are cheaters?!”

“This matching mechanism is not working!”

After playing Mobile Legends, Matcha was even more enraged than before. “No, I cannot let the catmint bar’s cats off. If the cats at home won’t help me, I will seek help from Zhao Yao!”

Moments later, Matcha sprinted to the fourth level of Cat Wonderland, an area that was under construction and saw Zhao Yao using the Deflective Field to arrange layers of bricks on the ground.

Matcha leaped on Zhao Yao’s body, hugged his thigh, and cried pitifully, “Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! Your cat was bullied by other cats outside!!”

The cat meow was a heart-rending cry that attracted attention from nearby people.

Zhao Yao frowned and said, “What is it?”

“Cats outside scolded me, gave me a beating and threatened to castrate me!” Matcha cried. “Why are you asking me in such a calm manner? Am I not your cat?!” He started sobbing again.

Zhao Yao scoffed at Matcha and said, “Did you provoke them? Or used my alias to lie and cheat?”

Matcha replied with a face full of grievances, “Zhao Yao, why don’t you believe your own cat? I didn’t provoke them. It’s them...”

Matcha explained but exaggerated the incident at the catmint bar to Zhao Yao and sobbed. “Zhao Yao! I told them I was protected by the Headless Horseman but they gave me a beating. They are treating you with contempt. If news leaks out, won’t you be a laughing stock for everyone?”

Zhao Yao raised his eyebrows and tapped Matcha’s head as he said, “Who let you use my alias?”

Matcha noticed the raising of eyebrows and was secretly happy as it meant Zhao Yao was piqued so he cried louder, “I overheard them talking about Jianghai’s greatest warrior and I mentioned the Headless Horseman.

I heard them say that Headless Horseman was a timid villain who did not dare to show his face. He was hiding in Jianghai and bullying the cats there. I was indignant and argued with them.”

Matcha rolled his eyeballs, recalled things he had seen in the catmint bar and cried, “They were smuggling catmint from other places and said that the Headless Horseman was a treacherous dog of the government who supported a despotic policy like catmint prohibition...”

The properly laid bricks exploded and a brick was blown away. Zhao Yao turned his head. His face was grave as he spoke, “Are they really smuggling catmint from other places?”

“Yes, yes.” Matcha shouted. “I tasted it personally. Correction... I saw with my own eyes that they were selling catmint from other places. They used cheap catmint and put it in Dust Ball Catmint packaging to imitate our original Dust Ball Catmint.”

“How dare they do that!” Zhao Yao was furious as he said, “The catmint prohibition was enforced a long time ago and yet there are smugglers selling prohibited catmint? Guards!”

The Dimension Portal opened and more than ten royal cat guards rushed in.

“Matcha, you will lead the royal cat guards to raid this catmint bar.”

“Meow hahahaha.” Matcha swiped his paw and laughed wildly. “Brothers, follow me!” More than 20 supercats followed Matcha.

After sending off Matcha and the guards, Zhao Yao pondered for a while, opened the Extradimensional Belly and shouted at Dust Ball, “You will follow Matcha in secret. He is brash and careless. I am worried he will get into more trouble.”

Dust Ball frowned, opened the Dimension Portal reluctantly and followed them. Cannon came up to Dust Ball, rubbed his hands and asked shyly, “Dust Ball, can you lend me some money?”

“No!”

“My luck is extremely good. I will double what I owe you after I win.”

“I am not you anything!”

“I will forgo my catmint bonus. Will you lend me money from my bonus?”

“All your bonuses have been paid. I am not lending you anything.”

Dust Ball was so bothered by Cannon that she forgot to follow Matcha. She turned her head to look for Matcha but he was already gone.

“He was in such a hurry. Where did he go?”

Matcha brought 20 supercats and barged into the catmint bar. He waved his paw and shouted, “Today, I will wreck this shop. Those who are not involved are to get lost!”

The cats who came to sniff catmint saw the 20 fierce-looking supercats and fled out of fear.

The catmint bar manager, who was an orange cat, came up, pointed at Matcha and shouted, “What do you mean? You dare to create trouble here? Do you know who is the owner of this shop?”

The other workers of the catmint bar came up and looked furiously at Matcha and his guards.

“Humph.” Matcha scoffed at them, looked at his paws and said slowly, “Beat them.”

A gust of autumn wind swept away the fallen leaves outside while 20 supercats gave the helpless catmint bar employees a good trouncing.

Matcha stepped on a cat’s face and laughed arrogantly. “Aren’t you overbearing? Fancy beating me the last time? I dare you to give me a beating again.”

The orange cat on the ground looked fiercely at Matcha and refused to give in. “D*mn fatso, our boss will not let you go.”

Old Cat smiled merrily as he came up and typed furiously, “Master Matcha, take a look at this.”

A few royal cat guards pushed two boxes and opened them, revealing the cash inside.

Matcha was shocked and said, “The money was earned illegally in this shop? Is it that profitable to smuggle catmint?”

“Yes, Master Matcha.” Old Cat finished typing and placed the cell phone next to Matcha’s ear. The phone said softly, “We also found a box of money behind their counter. I have sent it to your cat dwelling.”

“Huh?” Matcha looked astonished at Old Cat and said angrily, “What do you take me for? I hate officials who are corrupt.”

Old Cat thought he had made a mistake when Matcha said, “Send the two boxes of money to my cat dwelling too. I shall account for all the money. All of you are brash and careless. What if you make a mistake in the accounting?”

“Yes, Master Matcha, we will carry all the boxes to your cat dwelling straight away.”

“Hahahaha!” Matcha shouted excitedly. “Continue to search! I want to find all the illegal money earned by this shop.”

The orange cat on the floor cursed in anger. “Filthy thief! You will die a horrible death!” He was stomped a few times by Matcha.

Moments later, a supercat ran out and said excitedly, “My lord, I found a secret room!”

The orange cat on the ground was fearful.

Matcha said happily, “Let’s go, let’s go. A secret room? I shall confiscate all your filthy money earned from the smuggling!”

The orange cat shouted in a shrill voice, “Stop! Fatso, you are in big trouble!”

Matcha stomped him a few times and laughed loudly as he walked to the secret room. He opened his eyes widely at the interior of the room.

Old Cat swallowed his saliva and typed the words that said, “Master Matcha, quickly inform Zhao Yao. This is something we can’t deal with.”

Matcha nodded and took out his cell phone from his bag. As he was typing, a gigantic human hand appeared behind his back and pinched his head. The owner of the hand said, “Orange cat, are you looking for death?”

Chapter 766: Catching Cats

A burly man with an unkempt beard and tattooed arms grabbed Matcha’s head and lifted him up.

Matcha meowed exasperatedly. His paws clawed at the hand and scratching sounds were heard but the gigantic hand did not budge.

Old Cat was agitated and shouted, “Save Sir George immediately!”

The surrounding supercats roared and attacked in unison.

Sluggish Movement, Metal Blade, Flaming Arrow, Frost Beam... Various superpowers hit his body, forming numerous ice cavities and peppering the floor with ice scraps. He was not harmed at all.

The strong man’s body was created from ice. The newly incurred injuries were filled with freshly formed ice, healing the body.

Matcha was so scared by the direct attacks that he peed. Although the superpowers were not aimed at Matcha, they landed on the burly man’s body and very close to Matcha.

Matcha was dripping urine as he screamed piercingly. “Stop! Everyone Stop! Whoever injured me, I will wipe out your entire family!”

Old Cat realized that they had encountered a powerful apostle and his supercats might not be able to defeat him so he shouted, “Stop! Don’t harm Sir George!”

Old Cat extended his paw and stopped all the supercats. He said to the burly man, “Do you know who you have captured? If you harm this noble cat, your whole family will be in trouble!”

Old Cat disregarded Zhao Yao’s prohibition of him not speaking. If Matcha was injured or worse, captured, he would be in hot soup.

Old Cat spoke out in a bid to brainwash the opponent.

Hearing Old Cat speak human language, the burly man looked surprised and said, “You are able to speak? Interesting.”

“Release Sir George immediately! Your entire family and organization will be in trouble. Do you know who this cat belongs to...”

Hearing Old Cat’s fluent speech, the burly man looked more astonished. “Your superpower is human speech?”

“You wanted to know my superpower? Release the cat and I will tell you. If you release this cat, we will pretend nothing has happened...” Rambling... more ramblings... Old Cat rambled with uncouth words as he wanted to reach 500 words so that he could plant a thought in the man’s mind.

Seeing his flapping mouth, the burly man frowned and said, “Why are you so long-winded?”

Old Cat was filled with anxiety. “Am I too impatient? Did he discover something? I only have to speak a bit more before planting the first thought.”

The burly man shook Matcha and said to them, “This seems like an important cat to you. If you want him to live, gather together and surrender.”

Old Cat said, “Do you know that you are holding Headless Horseman’s cat? If you antagonize the Headless Horseman, you will not be able to leave Jianghai.”

“Hahahaha.” The burly man gave a forced laugh and said, “Headless Horseman, I am so frightened of you. Gather together with your back facing me. Do it now!”

Seeing the supercats hesitating and the rambling Old Cat, the burly man tightened his grip on the head of Matcha, who screamed in agony. He commanded, “Do what I say, otherwise I will kill this cat!”

Matcha yelled out of desperation, “Do as he says! Do you want me to die? Gather together!” Seeing the supercats hesitating, Matcha said angrily, “Gather!”

The 20 supercats gathered and sprawled on the ground reluctantly, their backs facing the burly man.

Old Cat said anxiously, “We have followed your instructions. Release the cat.”

“I didn’t say I would release him.” The burly man smiled, raised his other empty hand, whose fingers transformed into icicles and flung them towards the supercats.

All the cats were knocked unconscious except for Old Cat, who heaved in relief as he completed speaking 500 words and planted a thought in the burly man.

The thought could not go against his nature and Matcha had to be safe.

After much pondering, Old Cat decided to plant this thought...

“This orange cat is very cute. Don’t harm him.” The burly man looked at the unconscious supercats on the floor and carried Matcha in his arms.

Old Cat assessed the current situation and sighed. During normal times, he would carry the favor of his opponent and slowly manipulate him. If there had been no threat to Matcha’s safety, he could have brainwashed the opponent while the 20 supercats engaged in the fighting. It was a pity that he was knocked unconscious in the next instant.

The burly Iceman turned around and said, “Come in, this is a bumper harvest.”

The apostles strolled in and were pleasantly surprised to see all the supercats on the floor.

“So many supercats?”

“Hahahaha, we have struck it rich! We have struck it rich!”

“22 supercats altogether. Incorrect, there are 23 supercats including the one that boss is carrying. We are making a fortune!”

The Iceman shook his head and looked at Matcha in his arms. “This cat is very adorable. I am keeping it.”

He walked into the front of the secret room and looked at the goods in the metal cages. He smiled and said, “We have blown our cover. Tell everyone to prepare and leave.”

“Yes!”

In the metal cages were disheveled and dirty-looking men and women who showed faces of hopelessness. There were about ten of them and they possessed apostle potential.

“In this world, supercats are valuable and apostles are priceless.” The Iceman smiled and said, “Whether it is to increase the superpower of supercats or to perform experiments, apostles are essential resources.”

He looked at the caged men and women and smiled. “Once you are out of the country, you will be worth a lot of money.”

The caged humans were kidnapped by Iceman and his men. They were the “goods” intended to be sold overseas and the source of Matcha and the supercats’ surprise when they discovered the caged humans.

Matcha was depressed as he laid in the Iceman’s arms. Seeing his cell phone, he struggled to pick it up but Iceman held his body down and said coldly, “You want the cell phone?”

Matcha nodded cutely.

Iceman smiled and stomped on the cell phone which broke into many pieces. “From now on, you are Speedy’s cat and not related to anyone. Do you understand?”

Seeing Matcha’s dull face, Speedy laughed loudly and said to his subordinates, “Quickly, move quickly. These supercats might belong to the Headless Horseman. Although we are not afraid of him, we do not need to fight him in his territory. Work diligently and leave. Once we sell the supercats and apostles, we will be able to enjoy our fortune.”

Chapter 767: The Escape

Matcha intended to activate Time Freeze to escape, however, he was gripped tightly around the neck so he waited.

“He is detestable. Before another opportunity arises, I must not divulge my superpower. Once I have the chance, I will use Time Freeze to escape and look for Zhao Yao to give all of you a good beating!”

As Matcha was pondering, Speedy shouted, “Get a shackle!”

Moments later, Matcha touched the shackle on his neck as he looked at Speedy pulling the other end of the shackle and panicked.

Speedy laughed heartily and said, “I know you are not willing but it is of no consequence. From now onwards, we shall sleep and wake up together until you yield.”

...

After Iceman and his men had left, Dust Ball maneuvered the Dimension Portal to the catmint bar entrance.

“Hmm? Is this the place? Why is it shut?” Dust Ball looked at Fish Ball and asked, “Are you sure this is the place?”

Fish Ball licked his paws, looked outside the Dimension Portal, and said, “Yes, we were bullied by the cats in this shop.”

Both Fish Ball and Matcha were trapped in the catmint bar. Fish Ball had flashed his blinding light and Matcha had used Time Freeze to escape together.

Dust Ball was following Matcha until she was distracted by Cannon. She was unable to find Matcha so she went to look for Fish Ball to find the catmint bar.

Dust Ball looked at the bolted main door, pondered, and finally shouted, “Who is going to help me open this door?”

Boom!

Dust Ball said, “Thank you Fūjin.”

Fūjin blew the dust off his paws and said, “We are family. Do not mention it.”

Dust Ball went into the catmint bar and discovered the shop in disarray. All items had been carried off or thrown carelessly on the ground. It looked like they left in a hurry.

Fish Ball stood beside Dust Ball and shouted, “This is the place! We were trapped here before. Where are all the cats?”

Dust Ball had an ominous premonition and she told Fish Ball, “Call Matcha.”

Fish Ball made the phone call and shook his head, saying, “His phone is off.”

Dust Ball said, “Call Old Cat or some other supercat. I don’t believe that they all turned off their phones.”

Fish Ball shook his head and said in shock, "All phones are off."

Dust Ball jumped up and said, "Quick! Inform Zhao Yao! Matcha is missing!"

Moments later, the entire Extradimensional Belly and all of Cat Island were in a frenzy.

Elizabeth said astonished, "Matcha is missing? Perhaps he had too much fun and forgot to come home?"

"He is really missing?"

"Inform Zhao Yao immediately!"

In Cat Wonderland, Zhao Yao gazed gloomily at the floor and said calmly, "How long ago was that? In Jianghai, not many people dare to touch my cats."

He looked at Dust Ball and Sphinx cat and said, "Sphinx cat, you will track Matcha's location. Dust Ball, follow Sphinx cat. Once Matcha is found, don't be rash. Set up the Dimension Portal for me to come over."

Sphinx cat said, "Don't worry. I will find him."

Elizabeth said, "Sphinx cat, you have to find him."

"Matcha's trash. Fancy him being captured." Roly Poly frowned and said, "Why don't I follow Sphinx cat? I can make myself invisible and won't be easily discovered. I may even have the chance to rescue Matcha."

"I will follow as well." Ares said, "Once I see Matcha, I can protect him with the Deflective Field."

Seeing the supercats volunteering, Zhao Yao shook his head and said, "Enough, don't volunteer anymore. Let Sphinx cat and Dust Ball find Matcha. More cats may slow things down."

Zhao Yao looked at Sphinx cat and said, "Since he defeated Matcha and more than 20 supercats, he is not a novice apostle. Once you discover them, do not engage. Wait for my arrival."

Seeing Sphinx cat leave, Zhao Yao heaved in relief. Whether the enemy was selling or using the supercats for their own use, they would not harm them during this period of time. Instead, they would be well fed so safety was not a concern.

With Sphinx cat's acute five senses, as long as they left a trace, he would be able to track them. His only concern was that the enemy had special superpowers and had used vehicles to hide their trail. He could not afford to put all his eggs in a single basket.

It was too risky so Zhao Yao took out his cell phone and gave Uncle Ho a call.

"Sorry to trouble you, Uncle Ho."

"Don't worry, none of the orange cats will leave Jianghai tonight."

"Great, that's all for now."

Zhao Yao hung up the phone, pondered and looked at Fish Ball. "Do you know the boss of that Cat Street?"

Fish Ball nodded and Zhao Yao looked at Bai Quan, who was by his side, and said, "Bai Quan, follow Fish Ball to that Cat Street and bring back the boss. I want to investigate that catmint bar."

Bai Quan said, "Okay," and left with Fish Ball.

The office door was opened and Milk Tea walked in confused as he said, "Yikes! Why are there so many cats?"

Milk Tea was not aware that Matcha was missing. Zhao Yao informed other cats telepathically, "Don't let Milk Tea know about Matcha."

Yellow Mud walked in from behind Milk Tea and said, "Boss, I have finished our chores for today."

Milk Tea leaped and bounded as he ran forward and grabbed Zhao Yao's shoe. "Master Zhao, let me tell you, we cleaned a lot of places today."

Zhao Yao cuddled Milk Tea's head and said, "Hmm, Milk Tea you're very obedient."

After sending Zhao Yao had sent Milk Tea away, half an hour later Bai Quan dragged two cats and a man in. He told Zhao Yao, "Boss, they are the leaders of that Cat Street."

Zhao Yao sat on the sofa and sized them up before speaking, "Has Bai Quan has told you about the situation? What is the background of the catmint bar? Are you able to contact them?"

The man lifted his head and revealed a hideous smile. "Big brother, supercats don't have identity cards. We skimmed through the details of the owners before letting them set up shop. How do you expect us to find them?"

"Huh?" Zhao Yao lifted his head to gaze at the man before putting a fruit knife into his pocket.

The man felt his face being sliced by the knife. Shocked, he said, "They... they left a contact number. Let me try giving them a call."

...

Meanwhile, in a truck, Iceman carried Matcha and sat beside the driver. The cargo area was filled with cages containing supercats and apostles with electric shock collars around their necks. Iceman's subordinates kept watch over the prisoners.

As they were driving along the highway, check points were set up at the exit and entrance points. Numerous vehicles were stopped for checking.

Iceman frowned and asked, "What happened?"

The driver said, "I don't know, I haven't encountered checkpoints at this place before. Perhaps the police is checking for drunk driving and overloaded vehicles."

Chapter 768: Jailbreak

Tokyo, Japan. In a Japanese Special Higher Police cell.

Momo was lying on the floor and her chin was placed on a bowl. She was eating beans as she watched the show playing on the TV: Cat chasing the Mouse.

She watched and complained, “I thought that this show would be relaxing. Who knew that it would be so tragic? Can I change the show?”

As she was ranting, she stuck out her tongue and shoved a few more beans into her mouth.

Then, there was an explosion sound and the sound of steel columns and cement cracking.

Momo was bewildered. “What is going on? Another earthquake? Then shouldn’t they let us out?”

An old cat who was in the cell opposite hers said, “It doesn’t sound right. It seems to be coming from above.”

Momo laughed and said, “Is there someone trying to break into the prison? The person should tear the whole place down. I may go crazy if I stay here.”

The cracking sound grew nearer and nearer, when Momo thought that the crack was going to spread to the wall in front of her, the sound disappeared. Everything fell silent.

“What is going on?” Momo put up a strong front but her body was trembling uncontrollably. It was like an ant experiencing an earthquake. The fear she was experiencing overwhelmed her.

The cat in the opposite cell was trembling too. He quivered and asked, “Is it really a big earthquake?”

Then, they heard a creak above their heads. It sounded like someone was twisting ten million steel columns at the same time. It made Momo’s scalp go numb as she stared upwards.

Her eyes widened when she saw that the ceiling above her was crumbling inch by inch. The top part of the jail cell was torn open.

Under a cloud of gun fire, a blue furred cat appeared. One of his paws was pointing at the sky as he stood on two hind legs. He stood on a fiery cloud as he descended slowly in front of Momo.

Project X looked Momo, who was stunned, and laughed, "You are Momo?"

When Project X spoke, hundreds of missiles soared into the sky. All he did was turn his head and look at them. Then, the hundreds of missiles came to a halt and flew back.

During the series of explosions, Project X descended and landed in front of Momo. He put down his paw and put down the ceiling which he had torn off.

Momo swallowed her saliva and asked, "I am Momo. Who are you?"

"You can call me Project X." Project X reached out his paw and lifted Momo's chin. He rubbed her chin and asked, "Are you willing to go with me?"

Momo was taken aback for a moment and thought, "He is interested in me?" She hesitated and asked, "Where? What is your job? Are your parents supercats?"

"What?" Project X froze. He had approached many supercats but this was the first time he was asked such silly questions.

"Is she mentally disabled?"

He knocked Momo unconscious and carried her on his shoulders. He tapped the ground and the floor below him split open, forming a bottomless underground passage.

Project X turned around and saw the dumbfounded supercats in the other cells. He said, "If you guys want to come, follow me."

Then, all the cell doors opened and the chains on the supercats shattered.

All the cats watched Project X go into the passage and they jumped in after him.

In Jianghai, at a highway exit. The cars were queuing for a road inspection.

Speedy watched from a distance and said, “Turn back. Let’s change places.”

The driver answered, “Boss, I can’t turn back here. It is just a road inspection. We only have humans and cats here. If they don’t say anything, the police can’t find anything.”

Speedy turned around and looked back at the humans and cats in the trunk. The cats didn’t matter. As for the humans, they had succumbed to the beatings. If it was normal traffic police, they could not save the humans either. Neither would they report it.

Furthermore, they had powers to hide their trace.

However, Speedy was still feeling a bit uneasy.

Then, his phone rang and Speedy looked at it. It was from the person in charge of Cat Street, where the Catmint bar had been.

Speedy did not pick up the phone. Since he had decided to escape with the cats, he did not intend to return or contact this person anymore. He hung up, crushed the phone and threw it out of the window.

Speedy told his men at the back, “Triangle, when we are going through the inspection, use your powers to cover them up.”

A young apostle answered, “Okay.”

Hence, the few apostles, who were being trafficked by Speedy, had a triangle drawn on them. The cat cages were also covered in white cloth and a triangle was drawn. Even Matcha, who was in Speedy’s lap, was stuffed into the cage.

When the traffic police would check the truck, they would not notice everything that was marked with the triangle. Even if they saw it, they would subconsciously ignore it.

However, Triangle's powers could only last for half an hour so they could only be used when in need.

They passed through the inspection and the truck left Jianghai. It drove on the highway for six hours and came to a small city near the sea.

They drove until midnight and the truck finally stopped in front of a mini mart. Speedy got out of the truck and looked at the surroundings. After ensuring that everything was fine, he waved and asked his men to unload the supercats and apostles.

Speedy knocked against the mini mart's door and waited for quite a while before a voice asked, "Who is it! I need to sleep."

"It's me." Speedy answered coldly. "I have goods."

The door opened and a greasy middle aged man stuck his neck out, he nodded and said, "Come in."

Old Cat looked at the direction of the mini mart and left a few drops of urine through the cage onto the floor.

They followed the obese guy into the stairway and came to the basement. There was an extensive network of underground tunnels.

Matcha looked at the situation in front of him and was worried. "Why hasn't Zhao Yao found me yet? I am about to be sold overseas!"

At first, Matcha was still calm and confident that Zhao Yao would rescue him. Now, he was flustered.

As time passed and there were still no one following them, Matcha became more and more anxious.

"What if they don't want to save me anymore?"

His mind imagined the scene of Zhao Yao finding out that he was lost.

Chapter 769: Treasure and Tracking

Zhao Yao laughed loudly. “Matcha went missing? That’s great! Now, we have one less cat that spends so much. I don’t have to give him money anymore.

Roly Poly heard the news and was rolling around happily. “Meowwww! That cat is finally gone. I have no opponents in Cat Nation anymore! I will inherit all of Cat Nation!”

Elizabeth pointed at the banner on the wall. “It is crooked. Move it to the left a bit more.” Ares controlled the banner and moved it to the side.

On the banner was written: “Matcha’s Farewell Party!”

Under banner was a black and white photo of Matcha. It was covered by a pile of dog shit.

Dust Ball was sprinkling catmint around and shouting, “I have endured that idiot for too long. Every time he would take the catmint without paying! Finally he is gone!”

Fish Ball sucked a mouthful of catmint and sighed, “What a pity, Matcha was from a family of Cat Gods. He just left like that.” Then, he started laughing and threw a pile of shit onto the black and white photo. “I never have to bring this noob to play Mobile Legends anymore!”

...

“Damn it!” Matcha was getting more and more angry. He clawed at Speedy’s hand continuously and rubbed against his body. “Have I really been a terrible cat?”

“Ahh! I should have done my work properly. I shouldn’t have bullied the cats at home. I shouldn’t have played so much Mobile Legends and should have studied instead.”

“Those guys must be so happy now. When I go back, they’ll see how I will deal with them.”

“No! God, if you give me a chance to return home, I will definitely turn over a new leaf! I will be a good cat!”

At the same time, Speedy had reached a basement. It contained a bunch of cages with supercats and apostles in them.

Speedy looked at Matcha, who was clawing him until ice shavings fell off. He laughed and shook his head. He patted Matcha's head and ordered his men. "Lock the supercats up separately. Check the shock collar and fill it with a tranquilizer."

The obese guy saw that Speedy had brought so many supercats and apostles. His eyes lit up. "Brother Speedy, you have caught so many of them? You are going to earn a hefty amount."

Speedy smiled confidently. "I was lucky this time. Is Boss not around?"

"I have informed Boss. He should be on his way," The obese guy replied.

Then, a foreigner came in through door and looked at the supercats and apostles in the room.

The obese guy smiled and said, "Boss, you are here? These are the supercats that Speedy just caught. It is a great harvest this time."

The foreigner looked delighted and nodded at Speedy. "Speedy, you have done well."

Speedy nodded in response. This foreigner was called Richard. He was the boss there. He was the person who collected these apostles and supercats from them.

Although the cats and apostles were being sold overseas, Speedy did not have any contacts overseas and could not go overseas himself. Hence, he would sell all the cats and apostles he caught to this foreigner. Speedy heard that this foreigner had a sales network overseas. He would sell the cats and apostles to other foreigners overseas.

As Richard paid them quickly and had a strong background, most of the 'goods' they caught, they would sell it to him.

Speedy guessed that Richard was a foreign influence's spokesperson who interested in buying supercats in China.

However, all of this was none of his business. He only cared about the money.

Then, a dozen of apostles and two supercats walked in. They were about to check the powers of the supercats to estimate their value. They had apostles who could read minds responsible for checking the supercat's powers.

Speedy stood by the side patiently as the supercats were pulled out of their cages for checking and interrogation. He would always watch the supercat's powers be evaluated as this concerned his pay.

Richard looked at Matcha, who was in Richard's arms, and asked curiously. "Are you not selling this cat?"

"Nope, I have decided to rear him."

"Oh? The cat is very powerful?"

Speedy shook his head and stroked Matcha's head. "I don't know what power he has but I like him. So, I want to rear him for fun."

Soon, Richard's men shouted in surprise. He pointed at Old Cat. "Boss, this is good."

Richard walked up and looked satisfied when his men reported to him.

Speedy walked up and asked, "What is it?"

Richard smiled to him. "Speedy, this is a rare and precious supercat. It has the potential to be a natural disaster.

"Natural disaster?" Speedy was familiar with the new name that had become popular internationally. It meant a cat or apostle who had the power to fight an entire army.

Upon hearing this, Speedy and his men were all excited. Such supercats were rare and could be sold for up to hundreds or thousands of million.

Old Cat was anxious when his powers were exposed and couldn't help but look at Matcha. He tried hard to control himself to not think of Matcha's powers and not think of anything related to Matcha.

Fortunately, Old Cat managed to do it as he was counting in his head.

Matcha panicked when he saw Old Cat look at him.

"Shit, they have mind reading powers."

"What if my Time Freeze is being read."

The more Matcha tried not to think of it, the more Matcha couldn't resist thinking of it. After a few minutes, Richard's men looked at Matcha in bewilderment and whispered to Richard.

Richard was calm at first but after that he started breathing heavily. He looked at Matcha with great desire.

This time, he did not ask Speedy if he was selling. He signaled his men.

Time freeze was such a rare power. If it was real, Richard did not plan on paying. He planned to snatch Matcha and sell him. He would not have to worry for the rest of his life.

He did not plan to talk to Speedy. He wanted to send a team to ambush Speedy when they were the most relaxed and snatch the orange cat.

...

Meanwhile, not long after Speedy entered the supermarket, Sphinx cat was sniffing around and was near the supermarket.

Dust Ball who was lying on Sphinx cat's back vomited and ranted, "You are too unstable!"

Sphinx cat was sniffing and replied calmly. "It is hard to track a car. If I hadn't moved this fast, I wouldn't have caught up."

He followed the scent to the door of the supermarket and his eyes lit up. "It is here. I can pick up Matcha and Old Cat's scent." He circled around and said, "Yeah, this is Old Cat's urine. He peed here. Aye, the smell... his kidney is not very good."

"Finally." Dust Ball heaved a sigh of relief. "Let me open the Dimension Portal. Let's report to Zhao Yao quickly."

Chapter 770: Goal

In an apartment in Tokyo, the landlord was on the floor, unconscious.

Kun Wu opened her eyes and she saw a sofa in the living room, a paw pressing on the TV remote control and the news on the TV.

"In the Shinjuku area... the gang fight incident..."

"... gas explosion... the current number of casualties..."

An unfamiliar voice spoke. "They hid our presence from the public? Although this is easier for me to execute my plans, this means I cannot try out my terror powers."

She looked down and saw a blood red ball of light gathered on top of a furry paw. It was the Divine Rays of Terror.

Momo walked out from behind him and stared at the Divine Rays of Terror curiously. Momo felt that the supercat was so mysterious, so charming.

The unfamiliar voice asked, "Momo, what other interesting cats are there in Japan?"

Momo thought about it with her eyes wide open and said, "I heard that there is a cat in Kyoto that can change colors. There is also a cat who can poop out cat food. Oh ya, I heard that in Hokkaido, there is a cat who could manipulate poop..."

"Okay, okay." The voice stopped Momo from continuing.

However, Momo was still chattering, “And then, I used to know a cat. His powers were virgin powers, they could...”

When Momo wouldn't stop talking, the voice shouted, “Shut up.”

Momo's mouth was closed and her voice disappeared.

Then, Kun Wu heard the voice think to himself. “This batch of supercat's intelligence is... aye...”

Then, his eyes turned to Coffee and he said, “Let's get ready to leave Japan. Have you collected information on the Chinese supercats?”

Coffee nodded and passed the phone over to him. “This is the intel I have gathered on the supercats with potential. Take a look...”

Looking at the information, the voice laughed. “Interesting. Maybe the evil presence that I felt is in China.”

Then Project X looked at the mirror and smiled. “Why don't you come too?”

...

Kun Wu jerked open her eyes and started panting.

Doll asked with concern, “What is it?”

Kun Wu shook her head in disbelief. “He noticed me?”

“How could it be?”

Kun Wu was troubled. “I don't know. He asked me to go to China with him. He is going to China to capture the supercats.”

“China?” Zhao Yao’s face appeared in Doll’s mind.

Kun Wu said, “Yeah. We cannot let him continue to grow. China has many powerful supercats. We should stop him before he gets a hold of these cats.”

Doll nodded and answered, “Okay, I will send the robot troops to China now. We can control them from far so that we won’t be in danger.”

Kun Wu said, “Maybe we can join the Headless Horseman. He is powerful...”

“No!” Doll shouted in exasperation and stared at Kun Wu. “We are not contacting him...”

Kun Wu was bewildered. “Why? The Headless Horseman is pretty useful...”

“No.” When Doll recalled the Zhao Yao’s shamelessness, he felt his voltage rising. He looked at Kun Wu and questioned her. “Did you forget how did that pervert treated you in OX city? I am never going to work with him!”

Kun Wu said, “He just thought I was cute and couldn’t help but stroke me. What is the big fuss?”

Doll looked at Kun Wu in disbelief, ran up to her, and grabbed her head. He questioned her. “Stroke you?” Before he finished, he was pushed away by Kun Wu.

Doll looked at Kun Wu with sorrow. “All I did was to touch your head and you reacted this way. He touched your tummy!!”

“Why are you comparing yourself to him...” When Kun Wu saw that there were sparks emerging from his body, she continued. “Don’t be so angry. Look your voltage is raising again. Hurry, release some charges.”

“I am not angry!” Doll yelled. “How is he better than me? I...” Halfway through his sentence, he froze.

“Look at you, you are so angry that you have to reboot. Yet you still say that you aren’t angry.” Kun Wu rolled her eyes and waited for a few seconds. She realized that he was still frozen there. She said impatiently. “Why is it taking so long? Are you infected with a virus?”

She waited for another couple of seconds and sighed when she realized he was still rebooting. She turned into a flame and disappeared into the air.

After a while, when Doll’s eyes lit up again. He saw the empty space in front of him and was disappointed.

“Ahh!” He lay on the floor and shouted, “Headless Horseman!”

...

Zhao Yao raised his head and saw Dust Ball opening the Dimension Portal. He nodded satisfyingly and said, “You found them? Let me take a look.”

He crossed the Dimension Portal and went into the Dimension Bag. He looked at the supermarket and rubbed his chin. “You guys haven’t been inside right?”

Dust Ball said, “The moment we found the place, we came to report back to you. Just in case.”

Zhao Yao was satisfied and stroked Dust Ball’s head. “Very good. Matcha is in their hands. There are so many different powers. We cannot take any risks. Let’s go find out more about them first.”

Toxins, seals, brainwashing, and dimensional powers could all be used by his opponents and Matcha was in their hands. Zhao Yao was not going to take any risks. He wanted to learn more their abilities before taking action.

There are times to be headstrong and times to stay low. Zhao Yao was experienced. He knew the difference clearly.

After some consideration, Zhao Yao called Cat Sage, Roly Poly, Dust Ball, and Elizabeth.

Cat Sage's transformation, Roly Poly's invisibility, Dust Ball's Dimension Portal and Elizabeth's illusion were all powers that were perfect for surveillance and collecting intel. If they cooperated with each other, they would be more powerful and almost invincible.

Under the effort of the four cats, the entire supermarket was searched.

In Extradimensional Belly, Zhao Yao was sitting on a chair and in front him was a model of the supermarket. Small figures appeared in the models.

Zhao Yao nodded and said, "Dust Ball, what is the situation like inside?!"

Dust Ball raised her paws and she shouted, "Report! The entire supermarket has 48 people in total. On the surface, it is an ordinary supermarket with two guards. However, it is all a cover up. The space underground is the real deal. There are three exits, 19 rooms... Matcha is here..."

The scene shown in the model kept changing until a fat cat was shown. Zhao Yao was appeased.

He looked towards the Dimension Portal and the Dimension Portal was behind Matcha. He could see clearly that Matcha was in Speedy's arms. Both were sound asleep on the bed.

"He is kidnapped and he still can fall asleep?" Zhao Yao frowned. "Is he pretending to be asleep? For the guy to let his guard down?"