Chapter 771: Revenge

Zhao Yao turned around and looked at Cat Sage and Roly Poly. “Have you guys figured out what their powers are?”

Roly Poly stood up and reported to Zhao Yao. “I have communicated with Cat Sage. According to what he saw, those guys have powers like ice body, mind reading and ability to neglect... These are the powers they showcased. After all, not all of them showcased their powers.

Except for electric shock collars and tranquilizers, they don't have other special powers neither did they poison the cats.”

“Yes.” Zhao Yao nodded. “Have you tried to talk to Matcha?”

Roly Poly pursed his lips and said, “I tried to chat with him privately but I can't wake him up.”

Zhao Yao shook his head in exasperation. “This fellow.”

Then, the alarm went off. Fish Ball was shining red.

“He is here?!” Zhao Yao shouted immediately. “Elizabeth! Hurry!”

“I know!” Elizabeth nodded and activated her illusion. All the Dimension Portal and models disappeared.

All the surrounding cats scattered and acted like the meeting never happened.

Right after everything was covered up, Milk Tea skipped into the Dimension Portal and ran towards Zhao Yao. He was running and shouting, “Master Zhao! Have you seen Brother Matcha? I can't find him anywhere.”

Milk Tea’s eye turned misty. “Brother Matcha is dead?”

“No.” Zhao Yao sighed, “He went on a business trip. He would be back tomorrow.”

After Milk Tea left, Zhao Yao heaved a sigh of relief and said, “Let’s continue.”

Instantly, all the supercats gathered again. Everything went back to how it was a few minutes ago.

Zhao Yao pinched his chin and said, “Check Matcha’s current situation. If there is no problem, I will activate Time Freeze and save him. Then, we can deal with these crooks however we like.”

Roly Poly shrugged at the direction of the Dimension Portal and said, “Matcha can’t be woken up.”

Then he saw that on the other side of the Dimension Portal, Fūjin, Rakshasa, Airplane and other cats were shouting at Matcha telepathically. However, Matcha just turned over and continued to sleep soundly.

“Stupid cat.” Zhao Yao went over personally and shouted in Matcha’s consciousness. “Matcha, until when do you want to sleep? Can you wake up?”

Suddenly, Matcha sat up straight and stared at his surroundings.

“Why do I hear Zhao Yao’s voice? Is it because I miss him too much so I am starting to have illusions?” Matcha sighed. “I am indeed a faithful cat.” Thinking of this, he started licking his fur.

“Idiot, look here!”

Matcha looked towards the direction of the sound and saw Zhao Yao and rest behind the Dimension Portal.

The orange cat was excited and ran towards the portal immediately. As he ran, he meowed, “Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! You have finally come to rescue me!”

However, he ran about two meters and was pulled back by the metal chain and fell to the ground.

“Big Yellow, keep quiet and go to sleep.”

Speedy woke up and glanced at Matcha. He grabbed Matcha back in his arms and continued to sleep. He was not given the authorization to use the Dimension Portal so he could only see Matcha and not the Dimension Portal.

Matcha was in Speedy’s arms and he looked at Zhao Yao with great grief. “Zhao Yao! Hurry save me!”

Zhao Yao’s face fell when he saw this. “Snatching my cat?”

He suppressed his anger and asked in detail, “Okay, are you poisoned or are there any powers casted on you? Did they do anything to you?” After a series of questions, he confirmed that Matcha was fine and wasn’t going to explode when he was rescued. Then, he activated the Time Freeze and brought along the Rice Cake-Vibrating Sword.

He walked in front of Matcha and sliced the chain in two. He brought Matcha back into the Extradimensional Belly.

Once back inside the Extradimensional Belly, Matcha hugged Zhao Yao and started wailing.

“Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao! I thought you didn’t want me anymore!”

Zhao Yao stroke Matcha’s head and smiled. “This is not just my doing. Everyone played a part.”

“Everyone...” Matcha turned and saw the supercats around him. He was touched.

Roly Poly, Elizabeth, Ares, Dust Ball, Sphynx cat, Fish Ball, and the others all gathered.

Looking at Matcha's state, Roly Poly sneered, "Useless. You still have to rely on us to rescue you."

Elizabeth licked her paws and said, "It's okay. As long as you are back. Don't be so stupid and let others kidnap you again."

Dust Ball said, "Matcha, can you clear your debts? I am worried that you will lose your way again. Then, who am I going to get the money from?"

Cannon came up and said, "Matcha, I bet that you will be captured again. You want to bet?"

Matcha turned his face and looked at Zhao Yao revengefully. "Zhao Yao! You have to take revenge for me!" After he spoke, there was a golden exclamation mark on top of his head.

Mission: Stand up for them!

Mission Objective: Stand up for the cats and take revenge on the criminals. Trample them emotionally and physically.

Reward: Based on Matcha's satisfaction. The lowest experience points 100, highest is 2000.

Punishment: None.

"Hahahaha." To Matcha's delight, Zhao Yao nodded and said, "That's what I intended to do." He thought about it. "But, if it is based on the satisfaction of Matcha..."

A few minutes later, Speedy felt a cool breeze blow against his face and he opened his eyes. He saw an orange cat's back.

"Big Yellow, what are you doing? Your chain..." Speedy saw that the chain had been ripped apart and was astonished.

He saw Matcha turn around and his orange fur became golden. Matcha was flying towards the sky and he was surrounded by golden flames. Flames fanned out from his body and turned into a breeze that blew in all directions.

He looked towards Speedy and raised his paws. A deep male voice spoke. "Human, the cat I am now is not what I was before. It is time for you to experience it..."

Zhao Yao, who was standing in the Dimension Portal, asked Matcha. "Are you sure you want to talk like this?"

Matcha turned and looked at Zhao Yao with his eyes wide open with desire. Zhao Yao sighed.

Then, Speedy heard the voice pause for a moment before continuing, "Now, you shall experience how scary a Jianghai Scottish Fold is after awakening."

Speedy was stunned. "Big yellow, you can speak?"

Don't call me Big Yellow!!"

Then, Speedy felt the golden light flicker and Matcha appeared in front of him. Matcha pressed his paw on Speedy's forehead and a force as strong as the mountains and sea pressed down on Speedy. It pressed Speedy into the ground and his body shattered into small ice chips.

Chapter 772: Speed is the best attack

Speedy felt that he was thrown into the depths of the Earth. There was a violent force crushing him that immobilized him. If his body hadn't turned into ice, he would have died.

Then, Matcha zoomed across the sky. One of his paws grabbed Speedy's head while the other paw slapped Speedy incessantly.

Bam! Bam! Bam!

Speedy raged and his arms turned into two ice spears. He stabbed Matcha fiercely, only to see Matcha tense his muscles and the ice spear shatter.

“What?!”

To his astonishment, two red lights shot out of the orange cat’s eyes and hit Speedy. In a few seconds, they evaporated all the ice below Speedy’s head.

Speedy was horrified. Although he would not die because of his powers, the thought of only having a head was too terrifying. He desperately tried to grow out his body but every bit of ice that was regenerated was evaporated by Matcha.

Soon Speedy gave up. He looked at Matcha in terror. “What do you want?”

Matcha laughed loudly. “Scream! Cry! Then go and die!” Then, he kicked Speedy’s head like a soccer ball.

“No!” Speedy’s head shot out, knocking down the walls. He shouted, “It’s going to be the toilet!”

Then, a loud bang was heard and Matcha watched Speedy’s head knock down the walls and satisfyingly fall underground.

Ares, who was controlling the Deflective Field for the various powers, frowned. “Matcha looks full of himself.”

“It is more than self-satisfaction.” Elizabeth, who was using her illusion for the special effects, added. “I think he may explode anytime.”

Then, Matcha looked over to them grinning. He told Elizabeth and Ares, “Elizabeth and Ares, you guys have worked hard. I will treat you to a meal when we go back.”

The two cats looked at Matcha in astonishment and telecommunicated privately.

“This is Matcha?”

“Is this a fake?”

“This is so scary. Listen to how he speaks. I feel like my fur is standing.”

Meanwhile Matcha looked towards the cats behind the Dimension Portal and raised his paws. “All of you have worked hard. I will treat all of you to a meal. I hope all of you will come.” The cats were so shocked that they started shedding.

Roly Poly looked at Matcha in shock. “This stupid cat knows how to improve relationships now?”

“Although this kidnapping was pretty uncomfortable, it was not unfruitful,” Matcha thought to himself. “Last time, I only wanted to make Zhao Yao happy. Now, I’ve realized that it is important to maintain a good relationship with the other supercats too. Without them, Zhao Yao would never have found me.

I, Matcha, have evolved again! I am getting closer to the Cat King’s position!”

Then, Matcha waved his paws and shouted in his heart, “Catch up!”

The dozen of apostles in front of him were his strongest and most loyal apostles. He not only knew their detailed background story, but he also had their families under surveillance. Among them, two were his brothers.

All of them had borrowed the strongest powers he owned.

Even so, he only told them that they were going to snatch Speedy’s orange cat and nothing about the cat’s powers, Time Freeze.

The temptations were too strong. He did not want to test his men.

Richard was giving orders on when and how to attack, when something exploded. The wall beside them was ripped apart and a shadow glided through them. It knocked into one of the apostles and slammed the apostle into the next wall then into the toilet.

“What happened?”

“Is there an enemy?”

Amidst the shouting, Matcha slowly flew out of the hole.

Looking at Matcha, Richard was shocked. The next moment, a strong sense of desire flashed past his eyes. “It’s him!” He pulled out his gun, pointed at Matcha and shouted, “Don’t move!”

When Matcha saw that he pulled out his gun, he was overjoyed. “It is time for me to act cool again!”

Matcha waved his paw and Richard’s gun flew over to him.

“Pistol?” Matcha stretched out his paw and touched the gun. “Of all the powers, speed is the strongest.”

A gunshot was heard then suddenly Matcha’s paw had wrapped the Deflective Field around the bullet. To everyone’s astonishment, he said slowly, “No matter how fast your gun is, can it be faster than my powers?”

Edward screamed, “Stop!” He was raging in his mind. “Time Freeze, it must be the Time Freeze! He must have used the Time Freeze to catch the bullet! But how could he catch a bullet the moment it was fired? His Time Freeze is stronger than I expected! Is it a passive effect? Or does it increase the reaction time?”

No matter what, after Matcha caught the bullet, Edward had a greater desire for this orange cat.

All the apostles stopped and they saw a energy tentacles reach out from the void and trap Matcha.

Then, Matcha glared and all the tentacled shattered into dust. He looked at all the apostles and said calmly, “My gaze is like a sword. Even its aura can kill. I have no sword in my hand but a sword in the heart.”

All the apostles who were gazed upon by Matcha felt a chill. Then, great pain seized their bodies.

As the time froze and flowed again, all of them were bleeding profusely and they backed off. It was like they had been stabbed with a knife a dozen times.

When everyone was panicking, the mind reading apostle paused. He started shouting, “Be careful! It is not sight, it is...”

“What?” Matcha glared at the mind reading apostle that was shouting and then he fell to the ground covered in blood.

Chapter 773: Satisfaction And Money

Seeing his own apostles failing, Richard was extremely shocked and said, “What a cat! Perhaps he has other superpowers besides Time Freeze?” He was determined and shouted, “Dead or alive! Shoot! Shoot immediately!”

Gunshots pierced the air. Matcha allowed the bullets to land on his body and even on his eyeball. The bullets flattened upon impact and fell to the floor. Matcha didn’t flinch at all.

Elizabeth activated her power of illusion and everyone saw the scene clearly. Before they suspected that something was amiss, they were filled with shock and fear.

“Too insignificant.” Matcha dashed towards the attacking apostles. He grabbed an apostle’s head, pressed it to the floor and gave him a severe beating.

He pressed the apostle’s head with one paw and beat his body with the other. With every strike, the apostle screamed in agony as his bones cracked.

The surrounding apostles attacked using their handguns and energy tentacles, however, the bullets were unable to break Matcha's defenses and the energy leeching tentacles were not able to close in on Matcha as they were shredded the moment they appeared.

"Monster!"

"Our attacks are ineffective."

Seeing Matcha's invincible body, the apostles panicked. They were a bunch of criminals who bullied the weak and fought easy battles. Once they encountered strong opponents they lost their will to fight.

Edward shouted, "Don't panic! Attack from below! Restrain him!"

His two brothers knelt down and touched the ground. Numerous energy tentacles squirmed out from the ground underneath Matcha and gripped onto his legs.

Light flashed from Edward's hand and he took an anti-tank rocket launcher from his Dimension Bag. He launched the rocket at Matcha and jumped through a big door to the next room.

Everyone screamed in terror as they fled in all directions. Firing a rocket in a confined underground space was a disaster. With the powerful blast, everyone could be buried alive.

Speedy, who had been beaten until he was left with a head and kicked into the bathroom, had recovered his original body. He stood up as his body emitted cold air.

"D*mn cat!"

As Speedy was about to join hands with Edward to fight against Matcha, he saw the rocket flying towards Matcha.

Matcha opened his mouth and swallowed the rocket. His body shook slightly after an internal explosion.

Matcha flashed and appeared in front of an apostle. He placed his palm on the apostle's head and hammered him like a pillar into the ground.

Edward stuck out his head to peek at Matcha hammering the apostle. Without any delay, he fled with his two brothers, disregarding the life and death of the other apostles.

Hearing the screams behind him, Edward turned his head and saw an apostle being knocked into the wall by Matcha's tail.

Edward shouted at Speedy, "Speedy, where did you steal this cat?"

"I don't know!" Speedy denied and then said with uncertainty, "He mentioned that he is one of the Headless Horseman's cats?"

"S*it!" Edward wished Speedy dead and said angrily, "You dared to capture the Headless Horseman's supercat? Are you mad?"

Speedy retorted, "Isn't it just another Cat King's cat? When I captured him, he was very weak. God knows why the cat went into a killing spree!"

"You!" Edward was so furious he felt he would explode anytime. "Ignorant fool! We are going to die because of you!" Actually, Edward was overcome by greed and wanted to own the cat when he witnessed the Time Freeze. He did not consider the background of the cat carefully.

No one would blame themselves for their mistakes. Edward thought of a plan to enact revenge on Speedy when he was safe.

He had no intention to seek revenge on the Headless Horseman. As he was well-informed, he knew that the Headless Horseman was not an ordinary Cat King and had defeated hundreds of apostles in several battles. He had to be tired of living to antagonize the Headless Horseman.

The fleeing group arrived at the entrance only to see a bald cat sprawled quietly in the middle. When the cat noticed them, he used the cell phone that said, "Fleeing after stealing Headless Horseman's cat?"

He waved his right hand and it transformed into a panel-sized ice hammer. He smashed the ice hammer that weighed a few tons on Sphynx cat using his full strength and vented his pent-up frustration.

Sphynx cat was exhilarated and did not dodge his blow.

A loud explosion rang out and his ice hammer shattered into pieces. He backed up dozens of steps in a daze and gazed at the intact Sphynx cat in astonishment.

“Run! Edward was terrified. He took out a bank card and threw it on the ground. “There is one million in the card! Please forgive us and let us go!” He swiveled and walked a few steps to test Sphynx cat’s reaction. When the coast was clear, he bolted.

He was secretly pleased and thought, “According to rumors, the Headless Horseman’s subordinates can be bribed.”

Speedy was taken aback. He searched his body but could not find any money or bank card so he stammered, “I didn’t bring any money, could I put it on credit? I will send money to you later.”

They gazed at each other. Seeing Sphynx cat sitting quietly on the ground, he retreated warily, then turned and fled.

Sphynx cat slammed the floor with his paw in frustration as he thought, “Zhao Yao is spoiling Matcha. He let me guard the entrance so that Matcha can deal with them personally, which I think is stupid.”

As he walked towards the bank card, he saw a hand grab the bank card and a voice came from the thin air.

Sphynx cat rolled his eyes and sat down again muttering, “This is not my day.”

As Edward and Speedy were fleeing for their lives, they heard a sinister laugh.

Matcha extended his paw as he floated towards them and shouted eerily, “You can’t escape!”

They braced themselves and sprinted halfway when they heard a scream. They turned to see a laughing Matcha squirm out of the chest of Edward’s brother, who was full of blood. Matcha licked his paw and said, “None of you can escape.”

As Matcha was extending his paw to kill them, Edward knelt on the ground, offered a gold card and begged, “In this card is 5 million dollars, please let us go!”

Matcha was overjoyed to see the gold card. As he was about to help himself, it disappeared and Zhao Yao’s voice rang in his ears.

“I will save it for you and return to you when you grow up.”

“Meow!” Matcha slapped Edward till he flew away. Matcha yelled enraged, “Don’t insult my character with your money! Money will not save you!”

Everyone screamed in terror and ran for their lives.

Matcha roared as he chased after them. Zhao Yao followed them as he surveyed the mission panel and said, “Satisfaction level is 70... huh? Dropped back to 60? This silly cat is insatiable.”

Looking at the unconscious criminal, Zhao Yao flicked his finger and the Great Flow of Idleness superpower went into the criminal’s mind. Zhao Yao resumed the chase and caught up with Matcha.

Chapter 774: Squeezed Dry

Another scream was heard coming from the entrance in front, which was guarded by a gigantic golden dragon. An apostle was standing too close to the dragon and was swallowed. The pupils of the dragon looked grimly at everyone and they shivered and felt a great sense of terror.

“Dragon?” Richard was depressed as he thought, “Another creature of the Headless Horseman?” He yelled, “Run! Run to the other side!”

A majority of the men fled in terror while a minority lost their minds and rushed screaming towards the golden dragon, who opened his mouth and breathed fire. The scalding flames shot out and incinerated the entire underground passage. It was purged clean of life.

Speedy ran in the front while his body emitted cold air. Behind him were Matcha’s sinister laughs and screams of agony coming from the apostles.

“I am d*mned! Why did I capture such a hideous creature?” Speedy had a single thought and that was to run as far away as possible.

After turning a corner and seeing the final exit, he was filled with hopelessness.

Richard was not far behind as he came up second to the collapsed exit and gaped. He muttered dejectedly, “Our last hope is gone. Are we going to die?”

The other criminals arrived at the collapsed exit, which was filled with sand and mud, and were at a loss.

Matcha’s evil laugh filled the air again as he said, “Hehehehe, come play with me.”

Argh!

Matcha lifted his paws and slapped the remaining apostles till they flew and landed on the ground bleeding and passed out.

Richard shouted in desperation, "I have money. I have lots of money. I can give you all my money. Please let me off!" All the apostles knelt on the floor and begged for mercy.

Speedy was enraged as he yelled, "Do you think he will let you off after pleading? You have begged for mercy, is it useful?" He grabbed Richard and tried to haul him up as he shouted, "Get up and fight him to death! Even if we die, we will perish together!"

As Matcha was about to kill them, Zhao Yao stepped out of the Dimension Portal and appeared behind him.

"It takes a lot for a man to kneel down. Since you have knelt down sincerely to plead for mercy, I will forgive you."

Zhao Yao was disguised as the Headless Horseman while he caressed Matcha's head and said, "If you give me all your money, I will let you go. I am not a devil after all."

Seeing the mysterious headless man, everyone exclaimed, "Headless Horseman!"

Richard crawled forward on his knees, took out all his bank cards and said, "My entire fortune is here! I will write the access code in my cell phone! Thank you Headless Horseman for letting me go."

Zhao Yao kept the bank card and the cell phone, nodded in satisfaction, and said, "You may leave!"

Everyone was excited to hear Zhao Yao's words.

"Wait!" Speedy who wanted to fight to his death, shouted. As everyone watched in astonishment, he knelt down, offered his cell phone and yelled to Zhao Yao, "I didn't bring my bank card with me. This is my cell phone bank account. I am now giving it to you."

Zhao Yao took over the cell phone and laughed heartily. "He who understands the times is a wise man. Since you are so sincere, you may leave."

As Speedy left happily, the remaining apostles were exhilarated and they happily queued up to offer their money to Zhao Yao. They relaxed after knowing that they were not going to die.

“Haha, I am not going to die.”

“Fantastic, I am not going to die after giving my money.”

“The Headless Horseman is not as cruel as the rumors said!”

Though the criminals were happy, Matcha felt very unhappy and pouted his lips at the leaving criminals.

Satisfaction level dropped to 56%

Satisfaction level dropped to 54%

Satisfaction level dropped to 51%

“Zhao Yao, if you let them go after receiving money, once people know about this, we will be called out for being unprofessional and become a laughing stock.”

As Matcha’s satisfaction level was dropping, Zhao Yao rubbed Matcha’s ears and said telepathically, “Silly kid, do you think I will let them off? Follow them and see for yourself.”

Matcha was shocked and followed a leaving criminal. He discovered that the criminals would fall into the Extradimensional Belly after exiting and become the mission targets of the supercats.

“Do you need any help?”

“I am asking you, do you need any help?”

“Scratch him, scratch him until he cries for help!”

Seeing the criminals crying and screaming, Matcha was depressed. From money to experience points, the criminals were squeezed dry.

Recalling that they were ruthless cat and human kidnappers, Matcha felt better.

As Speedy was being shoved into the microwave oven, Matcha ran over and shouted, "Release that man, let me do it!" He shut off the oven. Before Speedy gloated over his fortune, he heard Matcha say, "Microwave oven is no good, where is the ice crusher? Bring the ice crusher over!"

After Zhao Yao finished collecting the criminals' money and sending them into the Extradimensional Belly for the experience points, he noticed that Matcha's satisfaction level stagnated at 90%.

Although the satisfaction level was not full, he had drained the criminals of a few million dollars and obtained noteworthy experience points. It was profitable.

Zhao Yao decided to complete the mission and received 1800 experience points. He also received a few hundred experience points from the Extradimensional Belly's supercats who completed missions of the harassed criminals.

He released the kidnapped apostles and supercats. The criminal supercats were captured by Zhao Yao as he intended to reform them so that they would not commit any more crimes.

Among the captured supercats was a mind reading supercat who was highly regarded by Zhao Yao.

"With the mind reading superpower, I will know what Matcha and the rest are thinking and it will be easier to manage them."

After ending Matcha's revenge mission, Zhao Yao intended to meet the mind reading supercat and have a good chat with him. He wanted to convince the cat so that he could use his superpower.

Chapter 775: Is this human being a devil?

A black sheriff cat sat uneasily in a metal cage. Beside him were other supercats whose thoughts filled his mind.

“What shall I do? What shall I do?”

“We are doomed once we are captured by the Headless Horseman!”

“I heard he likes to play with cats. We will surely be played to death.”

After hearing the panicky thoughts of the nearby cats, the black sheriff supercat shook his head and shut off his superpower. He felt better when all was quiet.

An obese black and white cat came to the cage and sized him up before saying, “Are you sheriff? The mind reading supercat?”

The black sheriff supercat looked intensely at Roly Poly and listened to his thoughts.

Roly Poly thought, “If you listen to my thoughts, I will torture you to death.”

“Well...” The sheriff said reluctantly, “Yes, I am. Though I can read minds, I don’t usually use it as it affects my quality of life.”

“You are wise. Knowing too many things will shorten your life.” Roly Poly nodded and opened the cage as he said, “Follow me. My boss wants to see you.” As the sheriff walked out of the cage, Roly Poly reminded him, “Be smart. Don’t offend my boss otherwise you will suffer.”

The sheriff nodded and said, “I understand.” His eyes rolled around as he listened to Roly Poly’s thoughts.

Roly Poly thought, “He is pretty smart. Well, I didn’t expect Matcha to gain the favor of the supercats by inviting them to a sumptuous meal. Previously, he was only interested in playing Mobile Legends. This is going to be difficult for me...”

The sheriff quivered his ears and asked warily, “How should I address you?”

“This cat will be placed in an important position by Zhao Yao.” Roly Poly looked askance at the sheriff and said, “Call me Master Roly.”

The sheriff complimented Roly Poly, “Master Roly, you look quite gentlemanly. Though you are young, you look impressive and powerful. I suppose you are one of the highly regarded supercats of the Headless Horseman?”

Roly Poly frowned and said, “Yes, indeed.” He was flattered and he thought happily, “Good lad, he is able to see my qualities beneath my thick fur. With such a glib tongue, he will... have a bright future.”

The sheriff scoffed at Roly Poly in his heart but he blinked his eyes and asked innocently, “Master Roly, why am I being summoned? I am new and ignorant so I need your guidance, Master Roly. I will be very grateful to you.”

Roly Poly looked surprised as they walked into the Extradimensional Belly. Roly Poly said, “Let me give you some advice so that you won’t die here accidentally.

“Thank you, Master Roly.”

Roly Poly said slowly, “You have seen the place. There are more cats than humans. The most important and powerful person here is the Headless Horseman, Master Zhao.”

Roly Poly raised and clasped his paws in the direction of Zhao Yao. “Master Zhao cares for all cats and possesses the power to move both Heaven and Earth. We depend on him for a living. If you want to survive, you have to love and respect him.

I am giving you a word of wisdom. You have to remember this in your heart. Heaven is great and the Earth is large but neither compare to Master Zhao. Do you understand?”

“Oh...” The sheriff nodded and said, “I understand, thank you, Master Roly, for your advice.”

“Don’t mention it. I am worried that you are green, overestimate yourself and will offend Master Zhao. Then I will be concerned with you.”

Roly Poly swayed his head and said, “Remember what I am about to tell you. Besides Master Zhao, you cannot antagonize Lady Zhao and Steward Bai. Lady Zhao is Master Zhao’s blood sister. She has the ability to transform into a cat that only Master Zhao is allowed to touch and cuddle. Previously a few people tried to touch her and were severely punished by clearing night soil that is at least 30 meters high.”

Roly Poly pointed at the nearby Midnight and Lang Gou who were working hard clearing night soil.

The sheriff pitied them and nodded as he said, "I will remember. When I see female cats, I will not touch them."

Roly Poly nodded and said slowly, "Steward Bai is Master Zhao's most trusted man. Most of his assets are managed by Steward Bai. You must not antagonize him."

The sheriff nodded wildly.

Roly Poly continued saying, "Let's talk about cats. In Cat Nation, there are six sections and their leaders are the elite supercats that you cannot afford to offend. Look over there, those criminals who kidnapped Matcha are going through their tribulations."

The sheriff turned his head and saw Matcha shoving Speedy into the ice shaver machine. He felt a cold shiver as he thought, "The cats here are terrifying!!"

"I understand." He nodded and said, "Master Roly, you are so smart and capable, you must be one of six sections' leaders."

"Hehe, you are observant." Roly Poly said, "The Royal Cat Police Force, one of the six sections, is led by me. We hold the responsibility of watching over hundreds of cats." Roly Poly laughed arrogantly and said, "Besides the six sections..."

His eyes turned and he saw Milk Tea playing with the toy rat nearby. He laughed merrily and said to him, "Milk Tea, are you playing by yourself? Why isn't Matcha with you?"

Milk Tea glanced at Roly Poly and ran away with his toy rat, thinking, "Brother Matcha told me not to play with this fat cat as he will lead me astray."

Seeing Milk Tea run away, Roly Poly's face turned grave and he said, "Why is Matcha so lucky to have a son?" He sighed silently. "Since Matcha had a son, Zhao Yao showed him some favor. Could this be a grandfather's love for his grandson? Perhaps Matcha gained favor by having a successor and Zhao Yao is less worried about him? Why don't I have a son too?"

Although the sheriff activated his mind reading, he pretended not to hear anything. However, he thought, “It is not easy to survive in the Headless Horseman’s Cat Nation. There are so many supercats. They scheme against each other and their methods are extremely ruthless. This is going to be much more tiring than my time with the gangsters.”

Roly Poly walked with the sheriff and showed him around. After leaving the Extradimensional Belly, they went into Cat Wonderland to meet Zhao Yao.

There were luxurious fittings and numerous supercats strolling about Cat Wonderland. The sheriff gaped like a country bumpkin and tripped over Roly Poly.

“Don’t act like a country bumpkin.”

The sheriff composed himself and said with astonishment, “Master Roly, where are we? Why is the renovation looking so slick? Why are there so many supercats?”

“This is Millionaire’s Cat Wonderland. It belongs to Master Zhao.” Roly Poly grabbed the sheriff by the neck and dragged him to Zhao Yao’s office upstairs.

Before entering the office, they saw Lucifer, whose body was lacking in good fur, slowly crawling out. He was moaning and left a trail of blood in his path.

The sheriff asked Roly Poly in shock, “Roly Poly, this cat...”

“He is called Lucifer and is one of Master Zhao’s favorite play cats.” Roly Poly said telepathically.

“Play?” Seeing the moaning and crawling Lucifer, the sheriff shivered in fear. He looked at the office door and a great sense of terror arose in him. “The Headless Horseman is a pervert!!”

Lucifer crawled around the corner as the sheriff looked on with terror and sympathy. After crawling for a few meters, Lucifer stood up intact and walked off with a satisfied face.

Roly Poly brought the sheriff into the office and gave a flattering smile to Zhao Yao as he said, “Zhao Yao! I have brought the cat.”

The sheriff looked behind the office desk and saw a human figure hidden in the shadows cast by the sofa. The shadows seemed to absorb all the light and obscured Zhao Yao's face.

The sheriff activated his mind reading superpower to listen to his thoughts. He was immediately overwhelmed by pervading dark shadows as though black ink had been poured into clear water. Images of cuddling cats, pinching cats, beating cats, torturing dogs, blackmail, smuggling catmint, extortion, robbery, murder, bullying flashed by and stunned the sheriff for a long while.

“Is there such evil in this world? Is this human being the devil?”

Chapter 776: The Murder

After the sheriff listened to Zhao Yao's thoughts and looked at the figure in the sofa's shadow, he was so frightened that he almost peed.

“The devil of all devils, the scumbag of the scumbags, the number one enemy of cats! Why is there such a person in this world?”

Zhao Yao stood up from the sofa and moved out of the shadows. He sized up the sheriff and said, “Are you able to read my thoughts? What am I thinking?”

The sheriff was so scared that he fell to the floor. Roly Poly was getting impatient and kicked him, saying, “What are you doing? Master is asking you. Stand up properly and answer! No manners at all... Was my advice wasted?”

The sheriff did not make any moves. He trembled as he listened intently to Zhao Yao's current thoughts.

Zhao Yao thought, “Well, I don't feel like working. I want to play God of War. It is newly bought and I haven't touched it...”

The sheriff was shocked and thought, “Who is God of War? Another cat? He just made a cat disabled and he is thinking of another one. He is a horrible human...” He shook his head and said, “I don't normally use my ability because the noisy thoughts will cause headaches.”

“Oh? Is that so?” Zhao Yao pinched his chin and thought, “Feels useless, might as well send to the gallows.”

The sheriff’s fur immediately stood on ends and he wanted to rebuke but he suppressed his urge and thought, “Test, he must be testing me! I will pretend not to hear!”

He heard Zhao Yao’s thoughts that said, “Killing him will mess up the place with his blood. I might just throw him away.”

The sheriff wagged his tail happily and shouted joyfully in his thoughts, “Very good, throw me away immediately!”

Zhao Yao noticed the changes in the sheriff and rolled his eyes. “He is indeed reading my mind. His expressions are written all over his face.”

The sheriff shook his head like a rattle-drum and thought, “No... I didn’t!”

“Humph, I am not afraid of your mind reading.” Zhao Yao folded his arms and said, “I am upright so I am not afraid of my own shadows. My thoughts are righteous so I am not afraid of you listening to them.”

Zhao Yao placed his head in front of the sheriff, looked into his eyeball and said, “Is that correct?”

“If you utter nonsense, I will take down your head.”

The sheriff shuddered and said gravely, “Your thoughts are good and kind. I am so moved that I want to cry.” He wiped his face and continued, “I have never met such a kind person.”

Zhao Yao nodded and said, “Tell me about yourself. Gang activities, kidnapping, hurting others, how many of crimes have you committed? I am sure you are aware of that?” Zhao Yao returned to his sofa as he spoke. “Since you committed so many crimes, a gunshot should suffice. However, I think you have the potential to be a great cat so I am giving you a chance.”

“Thank you honorable Headless Horseman.”

“Skip the formalities. Just call me Zhao Yao. We are all equal.” Zhao Yao said but his thoughts were different. “All cats have to equally listen to me. I will kill all disobedient cats.”

“Equality is good, equality is good.” The sheriff teared as he nodded and said, “Tell me what I can do for you!”

“Not much things for now but I will find you when the need arises. I called you over for a meet and greet.” Zhao Yao said. “You will help out in Cat Wonderland. Roly Poly, he will be under your supervision.”

Roly Poly nodded in agreement and was overjoyed as he thought, “Excellent, with the sheriff’s help, I will be able to understand what Zhao Yao is thinking with ease. Excellent!”

Zhao Yao thought, “Humph, I shall send the mind reading cat as a mole in the cat section. Won’t I be able to figure out what they are thinking? This will preempt them from creating trouble.”

The sheriff was speechless.

Meanwhile, in a condominium in the rural area, the entire building was cordoned off by the cops.

Numerous workers walked in and out collecting evidence in the building.

Uncle Ho stood on the 12th floor and looked at the blood stains on the ground silently.

He said in a rough voice, “How’s the situation?”

Lin Chen shook his head and said, “Twelve dead and three unconscious and seriously injured. They are most likely apostles.”

“Are there any evidences of the murderers?”

Lin Chen said, "There is only one murderer and he has no intention of hiding it. We found large number of footprints, hair, and blood samples."

"Oh?" Uncle Ho was pleasantly surprised and said, "Is he in the database?" Early morning, he had received a call about a serious murder which was committed by apostles.

While they were investigating the case in the first location, someone reported several murders in the current second location. The murderer was arrogant and disregarded the cops.

While they had a news blackout, the superior wanted them to solve the case as soon as possible, thus giving Uncle Ho immense pressure.

After being informed that the murderer left a lot of evidence, Uncle Ho was happy.

Lin Chen shook his head and said, "The evidence is cat paw prints, footprints and cat fur. His body is larger than a tiger. We cannot be sure it is the supercat's body or a human's body after transformation. From the blood analysis, it is not human."

Uncle Ho heaved heavily and said, "What about the victims' testimony?"

Lin Chen shook his head again and said, "They are still in critical condition or in a coma. As for the testimony of the passersby, no one saw the murderer."

Uncle Ho frowned and said, "This case is tricky."

Lin Chen said, "The only lead we have is that the supercats of both locations went missing. The murderer's intent seems to be stealing these supercats. Tracking these missing supercats might be our breakthrough for the case."

Uncle Ho nodded and said, "Put all your efforts into these two cases. I will support you. The murderer is extremely cruel and dangerous. If the ruthless murderer continues to stay in Jianghai, we would be not be able to answer for the safety of the citizens. We have to catch him."

Lin Chen nodded and hesitated before asking, "Shouldn't we inform the Headless Horseman?"

“We can’t possible depend on him for everything.” Uncle Ho said, “If we ask for his help every time, aren’t we dependant?”

At this time, Uncle Ho’s cell phone rang. After taking the call, his face turned grave and he replied, “Okay, yes, I know. I will send someone over.”

Seeing Uncle Ho’s expression, Lin Chen asked, “What happened?”

“The murderer has struck again.” Uncle Ho was ghastly pale as he said, “This time it is a cat house, all seven members are dead and the cats went missing.”

Lin Chen exhaled deeply, his face looking grim as he said, “This is too savage! I will bring the team over.”

Seeing the receding figure of Lin Chen, Uncle Ho pondered and pressed on the cell phone screen. The contacts list indicated Zhao Yao’s contact number.

After thinking for a while, he eventually shook his head, sighed, and shut off his cell phone. He didn’t make the call.

Chapter 777: Reward And Intelligence

After Zhao Yao saw the sheriff, he waved his hand and sent the two cats off. While the sheriff was leaving the office, he saw Milk Tea leaping and jumping as he ran into the office, with Yellow Mud behind Milk Tea yelling, “Don’t run so fast! Take care not to fall!”

The sheriff shook his head and thought, “Such a pity that a little kitten is going to be...” He sighed and left with Roly Poly.

Milk Tea jumped into Zhao Yao’s arms, scraping here and there and saying, “Master Zhao! I received my salary!”

Zhao Yao smiled as he nodded. “Where did you clean today?”

Milk Tea gestured with his paws and said, “We cleaned the main hall and the casino below. We started yesterday once the business was closed when there were no guests around!”

Zhao Yao was pleased as he cuddled Milk Tea’s head and said, “Milk Tea, you’re so skilled.” He took out a wad of dollars and gave it to Milk Tea. “Take this Milk Tea. This is your reward!”

Seeing so much money, Milk Tea opened his eyes in surprise and looked at Yellow Mud. He shook his head and said, “No... I can’t. My salary is not worth that much.”

Zhao Yao was moved as his eyes flashed with the image of Matcha.

“Zhao Yao! I have no money!” Matcha bit the lap of Zhao Yao’s pants and wailed, “No money! No money! No money! No money! No money! No money! No money! No money...”

“Enough, I will transfer 500 dollars to you.”

“That is not enough for me!” Matcha leaped on Zhao Yao’s head and shouted, “Give me money! I want money! Money! Money! Money...”

“They are both orange cats. Why is the difference so great?” Zhao Yao sighed with mixed feelings and caressed Milk Tea’s head. “It’s alright. You did your job well so I am rewarding you.”

“No, I can’t!” Milk Tea bat the cash with his paw and looked at Yellow Mud, who was encouraging him by nodding. Milk Tea inhaled deeply and said, “My salary is not worth that much. Master Zhao, I can’t take this hard earned money from you.”

“Silly kid.” Zhao Yao cuddled Milk Tea’s back from the head to the tail. Seeing Milk Tea squint his eyes in comfort, Zhao Yao asked, “Okay, I will not reward you with money. Since you worked so hard, I will reward you with a gift. Tell me what you want. I will get it for you as a gift. Don’t refuse.”

Milk Tea stared at Zhao Yao with his large eyes and hesitated as he wagged his tail. He said with anticipation, “Master Zhao, can you play with the cat stick with me? I saw it on the television. People were playing with the cat stick with the little kittens.”

Milk Tea’s gaze was full of yearning. Zhao Yao covered his mouth and thought, “Yes, almost identical to Matcha when he was young...”

He recalled the past and thought of the current Matcha.

The cat stick waved in front of Matcha before he became impatient and pushed the cat stick away as he said, “What are you doing? Trying to fool me?”

“This is a cat stick Matcha! You loved playing with this when you were young!”

“You are boring me with the past. I am already grown up! I don’t play with such silly things now.” Matcha said and he abruptly leaped on Zhao Yao’s legs. He turned and tossed as he yelled, “I want money! Help me charge my game account with money! Money, money, money! If you don’t help me, I won’t get up!”

Zhao Yao stroked Milk Tea with mixed feelings. He took out the cat stick that had not been used for a long time and played with it with Milk Tea.

As the cat stick was waved and turned around, Milk Tea’s body was twisting and turning correspondingly. He looked intently at Milk Tea, who would occasionally swipe his paw at the cat stick.

Seeing Milk Tea happily playing and focusing on the cat stick, Zhao Yao could not resist smiling and thought, “I hope, Milk Tea, that you will grow up happy and healthy. Don’t be like your unreliable dad.”

In the Extradimensional Belly, Matcha was lying below the ice shaver machine licking the ice shavings when he had an idea and sat up.

Old Cat was concerned and typed the words that said, “What happened, Sir George?”

Matcha frowned and his expression turned grim. He licked on the ice shavings and said, “I feel that it will be better with strawberry sauce!”

“Understood!” Old Cat shouted to the cats to the side, “Get some strawberry sauce!”

Speedy who was stuck in the ice shaver machine roared, “That is enough! My ability is limited! I can’t possibly produce ice forever!”

Matcha kicked the ice shaver machine and said, “Why are you yelling? The weather’s hot and we are wearing a thick coat of fur so we may get heat stroke. Why are you complaining when you are only contributing a small amount of ice? What a miser.”

Speedy looked at the long queue of supercats standing before the ice shaver machine and wept but failed to shed a tear. “You call this a small amount of ice?”

Matcha shouted at the top of his voice, “Free strawberry slurpee! Come and help yourself!”

Zhao Yao played with Milk Tea for more than half an hour. Milk Tea started panting heavily, his stomach rising and flattening but his large eyes remained focused on the cat stick.

Zhao Yao let Milk Tea lie down as he made the cat stick dance above Milk Tea, who swiped happily at it.

Yellow Mud looked at the scene and giggled discreetly. “That is great, I shall play with the cat stick with Floret too. It had been a long time since I played with her.”

As Zhao Yao indulged in playing with the cat stick, his cell phone rang.

“Someone called me directly on my cell phone? What happened?” Zhao Yao looked surprised as he picked up the phone. “Nanako?”

His brow raised as he opened up the phone and heard a feeble voice coming through.

Nanako said, “Mr Zhao Yao, sorry to bother you.”

“Nanako?” Zhao Yao was surprised and asked, “Your voice sounds very bad, what happened?”

“I...” Nanako’s voice was filled with tremendous sorrow as she said, “My brother... has passed away.”

Zhao Yao was dumbfounded and he answered gravely, “I send my condolences. Is there anything I can help you with?” He stood up and his body exuded a serious aura.

When he last saw Hideki Kujiyo, he was a smart and capable young man. Zhao Yao did not expect him to pass away in just a few months.

Milk Tea felt the change in Zhao Yao’s attitude. He climbed up and stood by the side obediently.

Nanako inhaled deeply and said, “Five supercats attacked us and they were powerful and cruel. After they created a lot of trouble in the United States, they came to Japan.

They attacked all the powerful apostles in Japan and stole their supercats. According to the latest intelligence, they have arrived in China.”

“Oh!”

“Mr Zhao Yao, you have to be careful. They are extremely dangerous.”

Zhao Yao comforted Nanako and said, “Don’t worry Nanako. If they look for me, they will be in a very bad shape.”

Chapter 778: Special Service

Zhao Yao chatted with Nanako for more than half an hour before hanging up. He thought, "I wonder if Uncle Ho knew about this."

Zhao Yao texted Uncle Ho to check if he knew about the situation.

"They were able to create trouble in the United States and Japan so those five supercats were worth keeping." Zhao Yao looked at his cell phone and thought, "Tomorrow is the end of the month. I shall finish accounting before looking for those cats."

Late night along the Jianghai coastline.

Sound of the lapping waves filled the air. Rows and rows of feline robots came up the shore as though they were marines doing a coast landing.

The silver metallic shell of the robots seemed both cold and hard and their crimson ray emitting eyes gave people shudders.

A fire lit passageway appeared beside the feline robot army. Kun Wu had traveled over a long distance and arrived at Jianghai.

Looking at the brightly lit and glamorous view of the city, Kun Wu was in deep thought. "The time has come, Project X... I will stop you."

A feline robot lifted his head and said, "Kun Wu, are you looking at Jianghai and thinking of the Headless Horseman again?"

Kun Wu rolled her eyes and said, "Doll, you are very annoying."

"Annoying?" The feline robot said in shock, "You find me annoying? You find me annoying now? Previously you asked me to speak more instead of typing!!"

Kun Wu sighed.

Doll was concerned and said, “You are getting impatient.”

Kun Wu frowned and said, “Nope.”

Doll said, “You are obviously getting impatient. Do you find me annoying?!”

Kun Wu sighed.

“You are sighing again!” Doll shouted. “Do you dislike me now?”

“No...” Kun Wu said dispiritedly. “Project X has arrived in Jianghai. Shall we defeat him first?”

At the underground reception of Cat Wonderland, everyone looked at the entrance and exclaimed in shock.

A gigantic Maine Coon pushed himself in and stood beside the supercats. He looked like a tiger as he paced up and down the main hall, occasionally pushing other cats to the side.

The Ragdoll cat, Caesar, who was in charge of receiving guests, went up to greet him and said, “Greetings, big brother, you are huge, furry, and you look amazing! Is this your first time at Cat Wonderland? How should I address you?”

Maine Coon looked askance at Caesar and said dully, “Call me Sang Biao.”

“Brother Sang Biao.” Caesar smiled merrily and said, “What would you like to play with in Cat Wonderland? We have a plethora of food and entertainment to satisfy you. Even if you want...”

Caesar looked left and right before moving close to Maine Coon’s ear as he whispered, “... Even if you want special service, I can make arrangements for you.”

“Special service?” The ears of the Maine Coon straightened as his eyes lit up. “You provide special services here?”

“Of course!” Caesar said as he pulled Maine Coon to one side to avoid hindering the flow of customers. “You have come to the right place, Brother Sang Biao. If you are looking for special services in Cat Wonderland, we have service attendants from Thailand, Singapore, Indonesia, and other countries to suit your taste.”

Maine Coon nodded happily and said, “Good, very good, I want special services.”

Caesar smiled happily as he brought Sang Biao to a private room at the deep end of the Cat Wonderland and said, “Brother Sang Biao, please wait a moment while I bring the cats over.”

Sang Biao laughed loudly and nodded. “Yes, yes, I will wait here.”

Sang Biao lay on the bed with anticipation and thought, “I already heard that Cat Wonderland had lots of cats and a lot of entertainment. So, it is real. I will enjoy myself before capturing all the cats.”

The intention of Sang Biao was not to have fun. Rather, it was to capture the supercats for Project X.

He was involved in the few cases of missing supercats in Jianghai.

Before capturing the cats, Sang Biao intended to indulge himself so he sprawled on the bed and waited for the services to begin.

Sang Biao heard a door knock and he opened his eyes widely just to see Caesar lead numerous supercats into the room.

“Persian, Ragdoll, British Shorthair, American Shorthair...” Seeing numerous cats with long or short fur, that were slim or plump and had dark or light colored skin, Sang Biao’s tail straightened. As he looked at the procession, he felt happier and pleasantly surprised.

“Cat Wonderland is so amazing with so many different kinds of supercats. I must capture all of them!”

As Sang Biao’s eyes glimmered and his mind filled with sordid thoughts, he stared with his big eyes at Husky, who walked in last with his tail wagging.

“Woah! Even dogs? ” Sang Biao was astonished and exclaimed, “This place is quite liberal.”

Caesar laughed heartily and nodded. He looked at Husky and said, “This is Noodle, our top favorite and the only superdog in the world! He had served a lot of customers who came especially for him as they wanted to have the pleasure of a dog’s service.”

Noodle nodded and wagged his tail at Sang Biao as he thought angrily, “Fish Ball is taking revenge on me. He forced me to go underground to earn money from the supercats, who were getting more and more foolish. It is easier to earn their money as compared to the humans.”

Sang Biao stood up and walked around Husky. Suddenly he lowered his head, stared with his large eyes and shouted, “What? His family jewels are larger than mine? Is he a male dog?”

Caesar coaxed, “Yes, he is male and that is good. He is strong and skillful. Our customers were raving about him.”

Sang Biao looked suspiciously at Noodle.

Caesar asked, “How’s it, Brother Sang Biao? Who are you choosing?”

Sang Biao thought for a while and laughed loudly as he slammed down his paw on the ground, shouting, “I am taking them all!”

Caesar walked out of the room pleasantly surprised. He immediately messaged Roly Poly, “This is amazing Roly Poly. A Maine Coon came and booked all my service attendants. Do you have any more cats? I will take them all!”

Roly Poly was surprised and replied, “Maine Coon? Where did he come from? What are his connections? Did you take a look at his background? Is he able to pay?”

Caesar wiped the sweat off his forehead and said, "I forgot to ask but it should be alright. Who dares come here without paying?"

Roly Poly was still worried and messaged, "I will get Uncle Egg to bring the cats over. You will lay in ambush outside. If he dares create trouble, capture him and shed his fur."

As Roly Poly and his men were laying in ambush, Maine Coon was in the room, lying contentedly on the bed. Several cats spat out their tongues and licked the long fur all over his body.

The only annoying thing was Husky's huge tongue. Every lick was extremely wet and a lot of his long fur was stuck on his tongue.

Seeing other cats, the Maine Coon was both happy and excited as he thought, "They started out with licking? What kind of services are they providing next? I am looking forward to it..."

Chapter 779: Catching Cats

Half an hour later, the Maine Coon began to wag his tail impatiently as he looked at the cats that were licking his body. He suddenly cleared his throat loudly and said, "Are you guys done licking? Quickly start on the next service!"

A Persian cat asked, "The next service? Do you need a massage?" As it said that, it stretched out its paws and started massaging the Maine Coon.

The Maine Coon suddenly glared and spat out, "I want an in-depth service. Do you all only know how to lick fur?"

The Persian cat replied, "We really just lick fur here. What else do you want us to do?"

Hearing these words, the Maine Coon suddenly kicked out his paw, flashing all five claws on it as he raged, "Who asked you to lick my fur for so long?" He flipped over and immediately grabbed an American Shorthair. "You! Lick me down below!"

All the supercats around them shrieked and retreated in shock instantly. The American Shorthair could not escape no matter how much she struggled as an immense force held her neck in a deathgrip. She could only plead pitifully, “Sir, we don’t provide such services here.”

“You don’t?” The Maine Coon suddenly burst out laughing. The next moment, his body vibrated as the fur on his back split open, turning into a mass of flesh and blood which split apart again as more than 10 tentacles erupted from his back.

All the cats were dumbstruck at the sight of this monstrosity. They screamed all at once and started running out of the room.

However, Sang Biao was not about to let them off so easily. His tentacles shot out in an instant and swept across the supercats like bolts of lightning, capturing all of them. He dragged all the female cats onto the bed, leaving only the husky behind. He stood rooted to the ground, immobilized with fear.

Sang Biao burst into raucous laughter after capturing all the female service cats at once. He dragged one Ragdoll cat and licked her face rabidly before stuffing her towards his ass.

Sang Biao threatened viciously, “You better serve me well or I’ll eat you up.”

The Ragdoll cat shrieked in fear before she burst out wailing miserably, “No!!! I don’t want to! I don’t know how to! Someone save me please!!!”

Sang Biao cackled sadistically, “Cry! Cry louder! No one will come and save you even if you cry your lungs out!”

Right at that moment, Sang Biao suddenly felt a sharp pain on his body. The husky was tearing ferociously at one of his tentacles.

“Go to Hell!” Sang Biao raged, retracting his tentacles with a loud explosion that sent the husky flying to the ground. Blood flowed out from the husky’s mouth as he groaned in agony.

The husky continued to spit out blood from his mouth as he crawled to his feet arduously and screamed, "Wait, let her go!"

Sang Biao stopped and looked at the husky slightly amused, "Haha, you want to save her? With what?"

The husky stared gravely at Sang Biao. He finally sighed as he thought, "I can't watch the cats be tortured like this." He waved his paws in defeat as he continued in a righteous tone, "Let her go. I will service you in her place."

"Are you playing with me?" Sang Biao said scathingly before shooting out one of his tentacles at the husky. It was as if lightning had struck as it split the air which howling as it passed.

Once the force struck, it would be enough to split the husky alive. Sang Biao was bent on killing him.

Right at that perilous moment, a bolt of electricity swept across the room, and smacked right into Sang Biao's tentacle. His tentacle flinched and lost its aim, launching the bolt to the side of the husky's body. The ground cracked and erupted to form a huge rock at the spot where the force struck.

Sang Biao turned and stared at the entrance of the room, where more than 10 supercats charged in and surrounded him. An old cat amidst them, Uncle Egg, had bolts of electricity flashing on his claws. Clearly that was the cat that had stopped him from killing the husky.

Uncle Egg looked at the service supercats that were pinned on the bed by the Maine Coon's tentacles. He roared in anger, "How brazen of you. Do you even know whose territory you are on? You actually have the guts to cause trouble here?"

Sang Biao scoffed, "Ignorant fool."

As he said that, the surface layer of his skin flared up, forming a thick, black scaly layer. Countless black tentacles vibrated on the surface before lashing out at Uncle Egg and the surrounding supercats.

Uncle Egg unleashed multiple bolts of electricity but they no longer had any effect on Maine Coon. He exclaimed in shock before retreating as he could not believe what he saw, “He grew a scaly layer that is electric shock-proof almost immediately! What exactly is his power?”

One by one, the supercats were sent flying from the blows of Sang Biao’s tentacles. The flesh and blood on his body rippled, slowly swallowing the supercats on his body. It was as if the flesh and blood swelled to form a jail cell, encasing each supercat in his body, leaving only their heads exposed on the surface of his body. The supercats screamed in agony and fear, startling the other supercats.

Sang Biao nodded with satisfaction as he licked his lips and said, “I’ll keep all the supercats here.” As he said that he slowly stood up from the bed. The next moment, a loud bam was heard as he pounced towards Uncle Egg.

After a while, ear-splitting screams erupted from the main hall as countless supercats were shrieking and running out from the entrance.

Behind them, Sang Biao had become a two-meter tall, five to six-meters long, monster. Flesh and blood ebbed and flowed all over his body as hundreds of tentacles stretched out from his body, occasionally swallowing a supercat into its body, leaving only the head of the supercat on the surface of his body to let out agonizing screams.

All the supercats in Cat Wonderland were terrified by this monstrosity and started running off in all directions. Sang Biao chased after them, swallowing the supercats in his way as he burst out with barbaric laughter.

“Stop right there!” As it was one of Roly Poly’s subordinates who had admitted Sang Biao, the cats from the Royal Cat Police Force were the first ones to react to the scene.

Lion Head, who had the ability to enlarge and shrink her body, led the force as she charged forward. Her body grew and turned into the same size as Sang Biao in a matter of seconds before she collided into him and started tearing viciously at him.

Lion Head slammed her claws on Sang Biao’s head and screamed, “Go to Hell! Quickly release them!”

Sang Biao laughed like a maniac as he said, “You guys are the ones going to Hell! You kittens are sheltered in this safe environment. While I was battling the strongest army in the world you guys were still digging for shit in sand pits.”

The two were wrapped in a vicious battle. However, Lion Head was no match for her opponent at all even though they were of a similar size. In a few moments, Lion Head was whipped mercilessly and trapped by countless tentacles. She was terrified as she watched herself fall helplessly to her defeat.

Roly Poly was angered and anxious at the same time as he kept sending out news and calling for reinforcement.

Meanwhile, hundreds of tentacles had completely wrapped around Lion Head’s limbs and head. The huge cat was stuffed towards Sang Biao’s body as her whole body began to be engulfed by the mass of plasticine-like flesh and blood.

Meow!!!

Lion Head felt herself being ‘consumed’ by her opponent’s body and began to struggle violently and desperately. However, there was no way she could break out of the clutches of those tentacles.

When Lion Head stopped struggling, the only thing that was left on the ground was Sang Biao, who had now swelled to twice his original size as if Lion Head had been completely eaten up by him.

Sang Biao cracked his head and licked his lips as he commented, “Tastes pretty good.”

“You scoundrel!” Roly Poly grabbed his eye mask immediately and shouted, “All of you step back! I will deal with him personally.”

Sang Biao eyed the fat cat in front of him as his lips curved into a savage smile. He licked his lips again and said, “Calm down kitties. All of you will be in my stomach sooner or later.”

At that moment, a black shadow seemed to flash across the air.

As a loud explosion erupted, a cat paw gently pressed on Sang Biao’s head. However, it was as if a mountain had landed on Sang Biao at that moment as his head crashed to the ground. Under the immense pressure of the force, his head was flattened on the ground. However, the force did not stop there as it continued pressing downwards, flattening and crushing his head into pieces.

Chapter 780: An Intense Battle and the Escape

Roly Poly heaved a sigh of relief after seeing Sphynx cat slam Sang Biao to the ground with just a paw. “Sphynx cat! You came just in time!” He pointed at Sang Biao and shouted, “He swallowed a whole bunch of cats into his body. Save them quickly!”

“Okay,” Sphynx cat nodded and glanced coldly at Sang Biao. Although he slammed his head into the ground, Sang Biao’s body continued to writhe and wriggle. One by one his tentacles extended, creating illusions of thousands of tentacles that split the air where they passed. The sound of the air exploding reverberated thunderously as the tentacles lashed out at Sphynx cat.

“You’re still pulling these tricks?” Sphynx cat scoffed and struck out his paw. With that, he unleashed a majestic force that distorted and molded the air around them and resulted in a deafening explosion. White smoke visible to the naked eye burst out from his claws, tearing apart more than 10 tentacles at once.

Sang Biao cried out in pain, stunned by his abilities as he thought to himself, “This Cat Wonderland actually has such a strong and powerful cat?” He roared like mad dog, “I’m going to tear you apart!”

Sphynx cat scoffed again, “Let’s see who’s the one being teared up!”

Sphynx cat landed on Sang Biao’s body. After tearing the tentacles apart, Sphynx cat immediately stood upright. Starting from Sang Biao’s head, he walked straight ahead. His footsteps left a trail of illusions as he advanced forward. With every step he took, he stomped on Sang Biao’s body which continuously exploded. Chunks of flesh and blood sprayed outwards as his bones exploded under the crushing impact of Sphynx cat’s footsteps.

The power Sphynx cat exerted in every step he took was perfect. Not only did he burst Sang Biao’s flesh and blood but every time he stepped on him, the force exerted on Sang Biao’s body went right into the core of his bones. Every supercat that was trapped in Sang Biao’s body was expelled together with his chunks of flesh and blood. This sent them flying into the main hall that was dozens of meters away. Sphynx cat even caught Lion Head by the tail and threw her out of Sang Biao's body.

Roar!

Sang Biao let out a deafening roar after suffering such a sudden, defeating blow. The organs in his body were transformed at once and emitted bolts of electricity that immediately electrocuted Sphynx cat.

How fast was the speed of the electricity? It would be impossible even for Sphynx cat to avoid it. All the nerves in his body were numbed upon electrocution. Right in that instant, Sang Biao whipped his giant tail and slammed it right at Sphynx cat and sent him flying out like a baseball. Sphynx cat crashed into the wall in the main hall with a deafening explosion as huge, web-like cracks appeared almost immediately upon impact.

Sang Biao roared in rage as the chunks of exploded flesh and blood slowly shrank and collected back on his body. Sharp bone spurs protruded from his back one by one. They flashed with bolts of electricity as an electric current was transmitted between the bone spurs.

"Guys, go save the cats first! Bring the service cats to safety! Leave this guy to me and Sphynx cat." Roly Poly commanded his subordinate cats to bring away the supercats that Sphynx cat had saved while keeping a close eye on the chameleon-like Sang Biao whose body continued to transform into different powers. Roly Poly was trying his best to figure out Sang Biao and thus a strategic counterattack to his powers.

"This guy can actually change into different forms? These chunks of flesh and blood are just like plasticine."

Roly Poly frowned deeply as he gradually went into invisibility mode. He was trying to guess Sang Biao's ability. "First, it was the tentacles. After that, it was the electric insulation on his skin. Now it became electric bone spurs. Does this mean that this guy's ability is continuous physical evolution to adapt to different kinds of battles?"

Sang Biao no longer cared about the supercats that had been taken away to safety. His prime target was now Sphynx cat whom he eyed viciously as he roared in rage again, "Stop feigning death. The amount of strength I exerted just now will not kill you! Get on your feet right now to fight!"

As he said that, the electric bone spurs on Sang Biao's back fired up with greater intensity. It was as if bolts of electricity were transmitted across the void, illuminating his sinister aura.

Bang! Sphinx cat dusted off the cement and bricks on his body as he got back on his feet. He cracked his neck as he stared at Sang Biao in front of him and said, "Brilliant. If you can still survive after being struck by 10% of my strength, your ability should be among the top 100 supercats across the universe."

"Arrogant fool." Sang Biao let out a low growl as a few more bone spurs emerged on his back and radiated with electric waves. "So what if you have immense physical strength? The strongest ability is one that can continuously evolve and adapt to this world, to the universe. That is truly the strongest ability."

As he said that, he growled with rage as bolts of electricity struck his own body. Sang Biao was instantly covered in a flash of white light from the electricity surrounding his body as he howled madly like a Lightning God.

The next moment, the trail of his shadows followed behind him as he blazed towards Sphinx cat like a bullet train.

Sphinx cat became serious as his body entered into speed reaction mode in that instant. His feet lightly tapped the ground as he moved, causing a huge part of it to collapse. It was as if he had teleported to the side of Sang Biao's body who was at the same time charging towards him at full speed.

Sphinx cat threw a punch aimed at Sang Biao's body but he immediately felt an intense, sharp pain zap his whole body. He could even feel the burning sensation in his eyeballs.

"His electric current is too strong. It wouldn't make sense to fight him head-on..." Sphinx cat paused ever so slightly. His rich experience from countless battles and quick-witted mind allowed him to think critically and decide on battle strategies, even in speed reaction mode.

In that split second, he had already retreated more than 100 meters. He watched as Sang Biao slammed into where he had been right, blasting the wall apart and creating a depression in the ground.

Sang Biao whipped around and slammed right through a stone pillar as he charged towards Sphinx cat again.

Both big and small cats blasted their way across the main hall of the Cat Wonderland. Where they passed, large chunks of debris littered their trail.

Sang Biao cackled madly, “Run! Continue running! Do you think you can run away?”

“Idiot.” Sphynx cat scoffed and rolled his eyes before he dodged another blow from his opponent. He suddenly stopped on the spot and stamped with all his might on the floor.

Bam! It was as if countless explosives were ignited at that moment, blasting open the floor of the main hall as it collapsed all the way down to the second basement.

Sang Biao skidded to a stop as he dropped down with the rubble. He was shocked as he realised, “This guy had been trying to wreck the floor all along? Just for this one blow? But so what if I fell down, I...”

Bam! A huge block of cement flew towards him like a meteorite. With the additional force exerted by Sphynx cat, the huge block of cement slammed hard into Sang Biao’s back, crushing more than 10 bone spurs at once as blood and flesh splattered all over the floor and walls.

Sang Biao looked up and saw Sphynx cat standing at the edge of the collapsed floor with all sorts of bricks, cement, and steel columns around him.

Sang Biao immediately came to his senses as he realized what it was all about. “This guy was trying to target me as I was falling and kill me with long-range attacks...”

The next moment, a storm of attacks assaulted Sang Biao as Sphynx cat sent out steel columns and cement with every blow, making them rain on Sang Biao like meteor showers. In that instant, Sang Biao exploded into chunks of flesh and blood in midair as he let out gut-wrenching screams of pain and agony.

As the smoke and dust subsided, the floor of the second basement level looked just like the surface of the Earth. The cement floor had been smashed into a bumpy surface covered with potholes. In the center of the floor lay a blurred mess of bloody flesh. It looked just like minced pork on a chopping board. There was even more bloody flesh that was scattered around the whole floor.

“Is he dead?”

Just as Sphynx cat thought so, the chunks of flesh and blood suddenly wriggled out in all directions to escape. In the blink of an eye, the chunks of flesh and blood had already slipped into all sorts of cracks, holes, and sewers.
