

Am I A God 781

Chapter 781: Suicide and Cleaning Up as a Team

“What the hell?” In a flash, Sphynx cat had already rushed forward to burst apart the chunks of bloody flesh that were wriggling away.

However, too much bloody flesh wriggled away all at once and most of it had already slipped into all kinds of cracks and crevices. It would have been impossible for Sphynx cat to destroy all of them in that instant.

“Disgusting!”

The chunks of flesh and blood cackled unanimously, “I’ll let you off this time. Kitty, I have already found your weakness. I will be back after a few days until then... prepare for your death.”

Hearing these words, Sphynx cat glared murderously at his surroundings before a bright light burst out from his body, unleashing his powers such that all the chunks of flesh and blood within a hundred-meter range from exploded instantaneously. Alas, this did not stop the other chunks of flesh and blood from slipping away into the crevices.

Just as Sphynx cat thought he would not be able to catch Sang Biao, all the chunks of flesh and blood that were wriggling away paused slightly before reversing with full force. Suddenly, all the chunks of flesh and blood that had escaped seeped out from all cracks and crevices in the walls and up from the gutter and sewers as they charged towards Sphynx cat with full force.

Under the cover of invisibility, Roly Poly seized the opportunity and activated the Titanium Dog Eye power. He shouted to Sphynx cat, “Sphynx cat, I mocked him! You can unleash your powers at full force now.”

At the same time, Sang Biao roared in rage, “B*stard! Are you looking down on me for escaping?”

“You really think I can’t defeat you?”

Seeing that Sang Biao returned to fight, not only was Sphynx cat fearless, he was actually elated. With a few claps of his paws, Sang Biao immediately burst into large masses of flesh and blood charging towards Sphynx cat.

Roly Poly, who was still invisible, stared intensely at the mass of flesh and blood on the floor with his Titanium Dog Eye. Although Sang Biao's flesh and blood were all over the place, they were all connected to his consciousness. Hence, as long as Roly Poly aimed his eye at a part of the flesh and blood, he would be able to completely influence Sang Biao's consciousness and aggravate him to the point that he desperately wanted to kill Sphynx cat.

In a blink of an eye, all the flesh and blood that had gathered in front of Sphynx cat were burst into dust.

These attacks only served to aggravate Sang Biao more. Under the manipulation of the Titanium Dog Eye, Sang Biao continued attacking Sphynx cat madly. At last, he screamed telepathically in Sphynx cat's mind, "You despise me right? Then go to hell with me!"

All the flesh and blood that was wriggling around transformed in a flash, turning into bright colors of yellow, green, and purple. The whole basement level seemed to have blossomed into a field of brightly colored flowers in that instant.

However, these fluorescent colors rang alarm bells in Sphynx cat's mind as a sense of impending doom swelled in his heart.

In the next moment, the colorful chunks of flesh and blood burst apart one by one, emitting toxic green fumes that rose into the air and spread out in all directions.

This was Sang Biao's final suicide attack. He could secrete virulent toxins from his body which even his own flesh and blood was not immune to. The toxins secreted could kill anything within a thousand-meter range.

This suicide attack was a move that Sang Biao had intended not to use in his life. However, after being provoked by Roly Poly's Titanium Dog Eye, Sang Biao was pushed to the point of unleashing it at all costs.

In the very first instance when he saw the toxic smoke, Sphynx cat retreated at once, flying right out of the space, grabbing the invisible Roly Poly along with him.

Sphinx cat screamed as he watched the toxic smoke spreading in no time, “Quick tell all the cats in the vicinity to retreat, as well as the humans on the nearby streets! This toxic smoke is very abnormal...”

Roly Poly typed away furiously on his phone as he informed Zhao Yao and the rest.

At that moment, an invisible force field swept across and covered the ceiling, containing the large volume of smoke that had been rising upwards.

Ares appeared on the edge of the ceiling as he casted the Deflective Field to seal off the toxic smoke. He shouted, “I managed to seal the top. Beware of the bottom, guys!”

On the other side of the entrance, Fūjin rushed forward with torrents of wind circling his body as he blew the toxic fumes in front of him right back into the main hall.

However, seeing as the toxic smoke billowed all over the place and was looking to seep out elsewhere, Fūjin screamed, “Quick think of something else! There’s no way to completely seal off this thing!”

“Watch me!”

Zoom zoom zoom zoom! One by one, the walls in the main hall vanished into thin air. Dust Ball fell from the sky right into the billowing toxic smoke as she ate up the walls in her way.

The next moment, she opened her mouth wide and took a deep breath. It was as if her body turned into a black hole as she sucked all the toxic smoke in the air, swallowing it into the Extradimensional Belly.

In the Extradimensional Belly, Dust Ball exhaled the toxic smoke into huge empty buckets.

Red Packet stared at the diminishing number of empty buckets and shouted, “Hey, what I am supposed to do with the toxic gas? I can’t flush it down the toilet, right?”

“How can you flush it down the toilet?” Lucifer roared and charged towards one of the toxic gas buckets. He grabbed one of it and began to inhale the toxic gas, giggling foolishly as he did so.

Seeing the shocked faces of the supercats around him, Lucifer said in a righteous tone, “Stay back everyone, I will cleanse this place of all the toxic gas today! Not a single cat is to die today!”

Outside the Extradimensional Belly, Fūjin and Ares blew the last remaining bout of toxic smoke towards Dust Ball, who sucked it all in with a single breath. She landed on the floor, patting her stomach before letting out a loud burp, scaring the wits out of Ares and Fūjin who immediately retreated far away from her.

Dust Ball waved at them and said, “It’s a natural response. It’s natural. Don’t worry. I won’t burp out the toxic smoke.” As she said that, she looked at Zhao Yao, who was standing beside her, and asked curiously, “Zhao Yao, is that guy still alive?”

Nobody knew when Zhao Yao had appeared. When he did, he stood in the centre of a depression, holding a glass bottle in his hand. A small piece of Sang Biao’s flesh and blood lay in the bottle.

While the cats were using their powers to resolve the toxic smoke situation, Zhao Yao had activated time freeze and covered Roly Poly’s eyes, removing the Titanium Dog Eye power to scoop up the last remaining bit of Sang Biao’s flesh and blood.

Zhao Yao looked at Sang Biao, who continued to wriggle in the bottle. He scoffed and said, “You want to die? Look at the mess you made.” He pointed to the wrecked main hall before them before he continued angrily, “Don’t even think about dying until you’ve paid off all your debt.”

Roly Poly, who was wearing the eye mask, reappeared from thin air as he rushed to hug Zhao Yao’s leg. “Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! This guy came to find trouble at our place! Not only did he refuse to pay, he even wanted to abduct our cats! Luckily Sphynx cat came in time to stop him. If we didn’t react quickly, he would have gotten his way.”

Zhao Yao patted Roly Poly and nodded, “Great use of the Titanium Dog Eye.”

Roly Poly was still thinking of how to brag about his performance in the situation. Hearing Zhao Yao’s praise, he started giggling with delight.

Sphinx cat walked up to Zhao Yao, staring at Sang Biao doubtfully. “This guy’s power is really bizarre. His physique is totally different from ours. It can transform, reassemble, and even secrete virulent toxins.

If not for the fact that everyone came together and activated their powers, even if I managed to defeat him, a lot of humans and cats would have died in the process.”

In the bottle, the captured Sang Biao continued to wriggle around. The piece of flesh and blood had already turned into a thumb-sized Maine Coon. Seeing the cats and Zhao Yao gathered around him, he began to prance around the bottle rabidly, pressing his body against the glass bottle as he screamed, “How dare you guys! Release me right now! Or I’ll kill all of you!”

Chapter 782: Punishment and Negotiation

Hearing Sang Biao’s threats, Zhao Yao laughed mockingly and said as he stared at Sang Biao in the eyes, “Hehe, d*mn cat, you’re really quite crazy.”

“So many of you up against just one of me, it’s not a fair battle!” Sang Biao scoffed in return. “Laugh as hard as you want now, human. There’s not much time left for you to laugh anyway.”

10 minutes later...

“Release me now!” Sang Biao, who was reduced to a thumb-sized Maine Coon wailed, “You’re inhuman! You’re a devil!!”

In front of Sang Biao, Roly Poly stood up and trembled a little before walking out with satisfaction, leaving an enraged and ashamed Sang Biao behind.

Just as Roly Poly was about leave the toilet, he saw Ares waiting in line behind him. The two cats exchanged glances and smirked at the same time.

Roly Poly said, “Ares, you’re here as well.”

“Yeah, how was it, Roly Poly? Is this guy good?” Ares chuckled as he asked.

“One word: amazing.” Roly Poly ginned with satisfaction. He patted Ares’ shoulder and said, “Enjoy buddy. I’ll make a move first.”

Ares walked up excitedly and saw Sang Biao trapped in the cat toilet under the Deflective Field. He walked up and squatted slightly. Swishing sounds were heard as he peed in the cat litter.

After peeing, Ares’ body shook a little before he walked over to Sang Biao’s side. He found a clean spot on Sang Biao’s body before picking up the thumb-sized Maine Coon and using him to wipe his butt.

The smell of pee assaulted Sang Biao’s nose as he felt his body being rubbed against the other party’s ass. Sang Biao was so angry that all the fur on his body burst out in rage.

Ares was surprised and delighted. “You’re even better to use with your flared fur!!”

“You guys! All you... idiots! Dirty! Shameless and immoral things!” Sang Biao felt as if he was going to explode from anger when he suddenly heard voices rushing in from outside the toilet, “Ares, are you done?!”

“Quickly!”

“So many cats are waiting!”

Ares shouted back, “Okay okay, I’m done.” When he came out he saw Yellow Mud enter immediately.

Sang Biao looked at the long, snaking queue outside the cat toilet and suddenly felt as if his world had turned into a dark abyss. He broke down and screamed, “Human! What exactly do you want?”

Zhao Yao, who was standing beside the toilet, smiled condescendingly. “Foolish cat, you still insist on being crazy?”

Sang Biao opened his mouth and was about to continue lashing out when he saw Yellow Mud coming into the cubicle. His expression immediately turned sorrowful as he said pitifully, “You can’t do this to me.”

Zhao Yao scoffed as he replied, “Think about the mess you made. Just the ground floor, wallpaper, ceiling, and all other kinds of furniture and decorations alone would cost me more than 100 000 dollars to refurbish and renovate the entire place. Not to mention how you scared off hundreds of my customers. When the word goes out, it will affect thousands more customers. Consequently, this amounts to approximately one to two hundred millions in losses...”

As Sang Biao listened, he felt his brain slowly spiralling into despair as numerous zeros appeared in his mind as if he was scrolling down a screen of zeros. However, he still understood the core of the whole ramble. Basically, his destructive power was too strong. It caused widespread destruction, and massive losses.

He could not help but smile as he thought, “My powers are truly magnificent!”

Zhao Yao continued, “... Given such massive losses, you should naturally be the one to pay the price. Starting from today onwards, you will be used as the toilet paper here. I will pay you 10 dollars a day. Once you’ve paid off one billion, I will let you go.”

“Hold up. One billion?” Sang Biao felt like his brain was slowing down as he could not calculate properly.

Zhao Yao continued, “Of course. You think calculating the cost of damages alone would suffice? My crew of service cats has been profoundly startled by your actions. Shouldn’t you compensate for their emotional damages?”

They won’t be able to work for the next few days. Shouldn’t you compensate for their pay? Even if you don’t count their pay, they need money for food. Don’t you need to be fed too? Some of the service cats weren’t in a good mental state to begin with and fell into depression because of your actions that creates medical costs as well... After adding all these miscellaneous costs together, is the total amount any less?”

Sang Biao was hesitant. “Really?”

“Obviously, you’re an uneducated cat that didn’t even go to elementary school. I’m a university graduate. I’ve studied so much in my life. I wouldn’t lie to you,” Zhao Yao continued. “You can either work as toilet paper and earn 10 dollars a day here or choose a different punishment. I can soak you in a shit pit as well. Just one year of that will be enough for my anger to subside and let you go.”

“But...” Sang Biao started calculating in his mind. “A total of one billion. If I earn 10 dollars a day, I will earn 100 dollars in 10 days, 1000 dollars in 100 days...”

He bellowed in rage, “So, how long do I have to be toilet paper for exactly?”

Zhao Yao said casually, “Not too long actually. Maybe a few hundred thousand years. You don’t want to be toilet paper? Then you can soak in the shit pit. One year will do.”

Sang Biao was silent for a moment. He looked at another approaching supercat and started struggling madly again, “No!!! I don’t want to be toilet paper for hundreds of thousands of years! I don’t want to soak in the shit pit for a year either! Is there any other way?”

“There are other ways too,” Zhao Yao replied. “But seeing your arrogance, if I let you do other jobs, you might not be willing to do them.”

Sang Biao broke down in despair as he cried, “I am willing, very willing. I admit defeat! Don’t let me be toilet paper anymore!”

Zhao Yao gestured with his finger to sheriff at the side, signalling at him to unleash his psychic powers and read Sang Biao’s mind. He continued asking Sang Biao, “You admit defeat? So tell me, why did come to my Cat Wonderland to make a scene? Who sent you here? Did anyone tell you to?”

At the side, the sheriff watched Zhao Yao’s actions and thought to himself, “This devil...”

Hearing his words, Sang Biao thought for a while before replying, “No one instructed me. I came here on my own to seize the cats here.”

“No one?” Zhao Yao glanced at the sheriff, who shook his head.

Sang Biao paused, “Not exactly, there was someone who sent me to catch cats but he didn’t specify the location...”

Zhao Yao's eyes flashed and immediately asked, "Who is it?"

Sang Biao shivered and curled up his body. He shook his head with determination as he replied, "I can't say. I'm not supposed to."

Seeing Sang Biao's reaction, Zhao Yao turned towards the sheriff and asked telepathically, "How is it?"

The sheriff did not reply as he was immersed in Sang Biao's thoughts. He could see in Sang Biao's memories a bizarre cat that was radiating limitless rays of light from his body. That cat was soaring freely in the sky, spreading hope and dreams of a future for various cats, just like a guardian angel of cats.

This was apparently the image of Project X in Sang Biao's heart.

The sheriff frowned as he thought, "There's such a cat?" Suddenly, he felt a huge hand pressing down on his head. He turned and saw that Zhao Yao was touching him.

"Sheriff, can you see who's the one instructing him?"

The sheriff looked again at Zhao Yao's heart. He was surrounded by black smoke and had horns on his head, emanating an evil aura. He sighed in despair, "In reality, the devil is still more powerful. I can only be a cat spy."

Hence, the sheriff quickly described to Zhao Yao what he saw in Sang Biao's mind.

Chapter 783: Mind Reading and Shock

"Oh? A weird cat?" Zhao Yao heard the Sheriff's report, rubbed his chin, and asked Sang Biao. "You don't dare to speak of him? Are you afraid that he would take revenge on you? It's okay. I will protect you."

Sang Biao remained immobile and curled up in a corner without saying anything.

Although he said nothing, deep inside, he was conflicted.

“Forget it. I shall endure it today.”

“Anyways it’s just going to be one or two days. Project X will come and save me.”

“Just endure it.”

“But, I can’t endure it anymore! If I can endure being toilet paper, I might as well kill myself.”

“But I can’t reveal information about Project X. If I do, I can’t even be tissue paper anymore. Project X will chop me up and barbecue me.”

Sang Biao hesitated and his eyes lit up. “Wait, I can provide fake information for them. They won’t even know if I am speaking the truth.”

Thinking of this, Sang Biao replied, “You guy really can protect me?”

Zhao Yao listened to the Sheriff’s mind reading and laughed coldly. On the surface he said, “Of course. As long as you tell us who is behind all of this, you no longer need to be toilet paper.”

Sang Biao pretended to hesitate for a while and answered, “Okay... I will tell you. The person who instructed me to come here was a guy. He looks really ugly and loves to abuse cats. He always scolds and hits us...”

When Sang Biao was lying, his mind recalled information about Project X. This information was retrieved with Sheriff’s mind reading without him knowing and was conveyed to Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao asked again. “What other cats so you have? What powers?”

As Sang Biao was engrossed in lying, he couldn’t help but recall the powers of his buddies and Project X.

The more Zhao Yao heard from the Sheriff, the more surprised he was.

When the Sheriff was reading Sang Biao's mind, he was even more shocked. He was astonished. "There are such powerful cats in this world? Can I... deal with such cats?"

When he heard that that guy had already gone to the United States and Japan to create chaos and was coming to China to capture supercats. Then, he realized.

"Are they the group of cats that Nanako talked about?" Zhao Yao fell solemn and his light-hearted mood disappeared.

Although he was confident about his supercats' powers, the destructive powers that Sang Biao had shown and their experience against the United States' army and apostles all showed that Project X was not to be belittled.

Especially Project X, according to Sang Biao's memory, he had the power to take other supercat's powers.

"According to Sang Biao, Project X has at least a hundred different powers." Thinking of this, Zhao Yao was alarmed.

A cat with hundreds of powers. It was like Buddha from the legends.

Now, Zhao Yao had to fight against such a cat. Even he felt that it wasn't a simple matter.

"However, in a superpower battle, the biggest danger is to belittle the opponent. Even with hundreds of powers, he isn't invincible." From what Project X is doing, he will not let me, Cat King of Jianghai, go.

Furthermore, I captured Sang Biao. This war is inevitable. However, since Project X has come to Jianghai, how can I not ambush him, surround him, or poison him?

Thinking of this, a plan formed in Zhao Yao's mind. He looked down at the Sheriff and touched his body. Zhao Yao immediately felt the trembling.

Zhao Yao looked at cat fur on his hand and spoke to him privately. “Sheriff? Are you scared?”

Sheriff laughed and said, “I’m fine. Anyways Zhao Yao, you are sure to win.”

Zhao Yao’s eyes narrowed as he carried Sheriff. “You can follow me now. I have never really carried you properly.” Sheriff was a newcomer and used to provide criminals with powers. Hence, now that he knew of Project X, Zhao Yao had to be wary of his betrayal.

Meanwhile, when Sang Biao saw that Zhao Yao had stopped asking he said hurriedly. “Is it okay? I have said whatever you asked for. I can even help you deal with him as long as you let me go.

“Well, you are very sincere and the information you provided is very useful.”

Sang Biao was laughing in his heart as he said, “Hahaha, this idiot. He fell for my lies.”

Then, a meow came from beside Sang Biao. “What are you laughing at?”

Sang Biao looked up and saw an orange cat walking around him and look disgusted. “All the sides are used. How am I going to use it? How can Zhao Yao do this just to save up a little bit of money for toilet paper. I think I am better off licking myself.”

Then, Matcha left the toilet in disgust.

When Sang Biao saw Matcha’s disdain, he got angrier. “Damn it! You dare to look down on me? Normally, I am cleaner than all of you!!”

He looked at Zhao Yao and said hurriedly. “Hey, aren’t we a team now? Can’t you let me out? I need to clean myself! It is too dirty here!”

However, he felt that the invisible chains on him were still not released. No matter how hard he yelled, he no longer got any reply.

Outside the toilet, Zhao Yao called Ares to watch Sang Biao and he left the Extradimensional Belly.

“From what Project X has been doing, my fight with him is inevitable. Then, why not strike first and have the upper hand.”

Zhao Yao thought, “The monthly settlements will come in tomorrow. If I can fight them tomorrow, it would be more advantaged for me. By then, after adding the experience points, leveling up the cats and trying the lucky draw, I can let Sang Biao go secretly and follow him to ambush Project X.”

“But this is the best case scenario. However, in this one day and night, we are most likely going to encounter Project X coming to Cat Wonderland to find the missing Sang Biao. Then, we have to attack them here.”

Zhao Yao thought about it and made a decision.”Let’s prepare for both scenarios. One is attack after the monthly settlements and the other is to set up an ambush in Cat Wonderland.”

Zhao Yao was very serious about this, he felt unprecedented pressure from the information about Project X.

He left Extradimensional Belly and return to Cat Wonderland to begin his plans.

Meanwhile, Sang Biao was still screaming in the toilet, however, Zhao Yao had already left.

“You jerk! You lied to me!”

“Humans are indeed unreliable creatures!”

Sang Biao got angrier as he thought about it. Although he still was toilet paper, because he was too dirty no cat used him.

“Phew, I’m luckily no cat came in.” Sang Biao sighed out of relief. “But I am still so angry!”

When Sang Biao was sulking, a sneaky head poked into the cat toilet.

Sang Biao looked at was alarmed. “Is that a dog? What is he doing here?”

Then, he saw Noodle sniffing outside sneakily and look at Sang Biao with a gleam in his eyes.

“This...” Noodle looked at Sang Biao and flabbergasted. “This is a concentration of heavenly nectar! It is magical!” He charged into the cat toilet.

However, the cat toilet was for cats. Noodle was too big for it, hence, only his upper body could fit inside.

About ten meters away, in the cat bed, Ares, who was in charge of watching Sang Biao, saw Noodle sticking his head into the toilet. Ares was confused. “What is that guy doing?”

After a few minutes, a terrified howl came from the toilet.

“What are you doing!”

“Stop it!”

“Don’t lick there!”

However, the husky was more and more awake. He felt there was a power him.

“Yes! It is this feeling! Hahahaha, my powers are back!”

Ares frowned and looked at Noodle wag his tail happily. “Looks like this husky is definitely a pure breed.”

Then, his phone started vibrating. Ares looked at his phone and realized that he was added in a group chat. Zhao Yao was talking in it.

“Everyone please take note. Cat Wonderland will be close for the next two days but this does not mean that you guys are on a holiday. The details are below...”

Chapter 784: Kun Wu

At night, in the suburbs of Jianghai.

There was an abandoned warehouse beside the road and the entire warehouse looked pitch black from afar. A thick darkness seemed to cover every inch of space. Even if one walked in to observe, the situation inside could not be seen.

Outside the warehouse, there was a mouse running around under the moonlight. It would lift its head and sniff around for food.

However, just when it ran under the window of the warehouse and tried to enter the warehouse, the shadow behind the window started shifting. The mouse started screaming and fell to ground, too frightened to move.

The next moment, countless black blades came out from the shadows and cut the mouse into several pieces before throwing it out.

Thousands of miles away, Doll shook his head. "The mouse died. It seems like they have the power to control shadows and change the shadows into a sharp blade."

Kun Wu was grabbing onto her tail and biting the fur off her tail. Her eyes were filled with tension and fear.

Doll reported the situation again but Kun Wu still did not react. He patted Kun Wu on the head and asked, "Kun Wu? Kun Wu?"

Kun Wu was trembling and spoke in a tearful voice, "Doll, I am very scared."

Ever since Kun Wu had come to Jianghai, she had been uneasy. This uneasiness grew deeper as she tracked down Project X. When they were only a thousand miles away, the fear in her heart was like knives dangling above her heart and neck.

Seeing Kun Wu like this, Doll licked her fur immediately and comforted her. "Don't be afraid, Kun Wu. I am protecting you. We are so far away. He will never discover us. Furthermore, we brought so many robot cats with us. No matter how powerful he is, he is only powerful with those with powers. He cannot control these robots."

Kun Wu was trembling. "But... Can't you feel?"

“Feel?”

Kun Wu looked towards the warehouse and said in fear. “The malice... It’s so strong. It is as if hell has been brought to Earth. Let’s... let’s stay further away.”

Looking Kun Wu’s frightened state, Doll reached out his paws and nodded. “Okay, let’s retreat another five kilometers.”

After a few minutes, two cats appeared on the rooftop of a small building. There were dozens of monitors in front of them and it showed the warehouse’s exterior.

Doll said, “All the armed forces have taken their positions. Kun Wu, we are about to take action.”

“Wait!” Kun Wu shook her paws and said, “Let me take a look. Let me look at the situation.”

Doll knew that because of unknown reasons, Kun Wu could share Project X’s vision and hearing. However, as she was growing more and more afraid, the sharing would bring about great psychological damage, hence, Kun Wu had not done it in a long time.

After hearing Kun Wu, Doll advised. “There’s no need to. Kun Wu, we can watch them through the camera. Don’t force yourself.”

Although Kun Wu was still trembling, she shook her head firmly. “Doll, although I am really panicky and there is an indescribable fear in my heart, but you know, it is because of this fear that I have to be even more careful. I need even more confidence to deal with Project X.”

Kun Wu laid slowly onto the floor as she spoke and closed her eyes. “Let me take a look. Don’t worry. I will not force it.”

Then, Kun Wu closed her eyes. Doll waited for a while and shook his paws in front of Kun Wu. “Kun Wu? Kun Wu, can you hear?”

Doll was thinking. “Connected already?” He sat down beside a monitor and after a series of operations, he logged into the forum on Cat web.

“Anyways since I have nothing to do, let’s take a look at the effects of my plan.”

He pressed in and Doll saw the entire screen was filled comments hurling insults at the Headless Horseman.

“Shocked! The Headless Horseman goes after male cats!”

“Secrets about the Headless Horseman that 99% of you don’t know!”

“The top 10 crimes of the Headless Horseman! All the cats who have seen them cried.”

Looking at the ID scolding the Headless Horseman, Doll couldn’t help but laugh. All these posts were posted by the Internet Water Army that he had created. There were IDs in charge of scolding, impersonating haters, posting fake information, and some pretended to be upset fans.

All of them were specially designed by Doll for the Headless Horseman.

“Humph, I will first spoil your name,” Doll thought to himself. “When this ends, I will show Kun Wu these posts then she will not think of the Headless Horseman anymore.”

Meanwhile, Kun Wu could feel a call from the void. She kept hearing the call and felt that her consciousness seemed to extend towards it.

Then, her vision went dark and suddenly, there was a phone in front of her. There was a blue paw on the phone and the cat paw was strolling through the information.

Kun Wu was shocked. “This is... Project X’s point of view. The information on the phone is...”

She looked carefully at the phone and saw information on individual supercats.

A cat’s voice sounded. “Boss, how is it?”

Project X was looking through the information and said calmly.”These are the supercats files in the government records? All the main supercats aren’t inside.”

“Yes.” The voice spoke again. “The four Cat Kings in Jianghai: the Headless Horseman’s cats, Ivory and Claw’s cats were not recorded. It should be hidden in a more secretive system. I need technical assistance to get ahold of the information.”

Project X nodded to acknowledge what he had just heard and said, “With your powers, it is easy to get into any chamber. But you can do nothing about information inside a computer. It is okay; we can capture them and we will know what powers they have.”

Upon seeing this, Kun Wu was worried. “I knew it, he has started to capture the supercats here. The more supercats he captures, the worse the situation gets.”

Coffee bowed and said, “Boss, Sang Biao and Slaughter are late. Do I need to pick them up?”

“It’s okay.” Project X answered causally. “If they can’t capture the target, it means that the target is strong. Then, I will go personally. You can come with me.”

Then, a voice spoke again. “Boss, Slaughter is back.”

Project X smiled. “Looks like the Cat King of the South is here.”

Chapter 785: Doll

To Kun Wu’s astonishment, a cat that had a crystallized body walked up. The crystal was so clear that she could see the cat’s organs.

The crystallized supercat had a cat in his mouth. It was Fish Ball’s girlfriend, the Cat Queen of the South, Li Li.

Li Li’s body was filled with burns and her fur was burnt black. There was a scar on her head.

The crystallized Slaughter put Li Li down and looked at Li Li, who had passed out. “She was hard to deal with. Honestly, if we were by the beach, I would not have defeated her.”

Project X looked at Li Li in admiration. “The power to control water? Not bad.” Then, Li Li floated in front of Project X.

Project X placed his paws on Li Li’s head and muttered, “Child, let me see your powers.”

Li Li’s eyes jerked opened and fear, confusion, resistance, and at last loss flashed through her eyes.

Project X withdrew his paw and Li Li fell to the ground. Li Li looked around panicked and ran out hobbling while she meowed.

While Li Li ran off, neither Project X, Slaughter, or Coffee stopped her.

Project X opened his mouth and a stream of water flew out, circling his body like an obedient snake.

Project X was playing around with the power and said with satisfaction, “What a good power.”

Coffee and Slaughter bowed when they saw this.

These supercats had awakened because of their powers and survived due to their powers. Project X, who could take away their powers was like God to them.

Kun Wu, who was watching all of this got more frightened.

“A supercat... just got obliterated.” Kun Wu’s body started trembling. “If I am caught too, will I be obliterated like this too? Returning to my original form, without consciousness and intelligence...”

When, Kun Wu thought of this, her fear grew even more. She was not afraid of death as she could be reborn from the flames.

However, if she was deprived of her powers and intelligence... the thought of it sent chills down her bones.

Then, Project X’s voice sounded. “It is you again? Who are you?”

Kun Wu was shocked. “He noticed me again?”

Her vision started to become blurry and Project X’s voice was getting dimmer and dimmer. When Kun Wu reacted again, Doll and dozens of monitors were in front of her.

Doll went in front of Kun Wu’s face and asked, “Kun Wu? Are you okay? You look like you are in a terrible state.”

“I am... fine.” Kun Wu paused and became agitated. “Project X is ripping other supercats of their powers! He took away the Cat Queen of the South’s powers and she turned back into an ordinary cat. She didn’t even have her intelligence anymore!!”

Doll was shocked. “There is such a power?”

Kun Wu shouted, “Doll, we have to stop him. We need to stop him now. If he continues to grow, it will be doomsday for every living thing on Earth! We cannot give him the chance to attack. We have to kill him with one blow!”

“Rest assured!” Doll’s body emitted countless signals. The robot cats army waiting in ambush started to get restless.

Doll: “Feline robots! Attack!”

Then, hordes of nano feline robots attacked the warehouse. A huge explosion sounded from the warehouse but Kun Wu was still very uneasy.

Doll said confidently, “Humph, there are five thousand feline robots and on every robot there is enough gun power to destroy an entire street. Project X is sure to die!”

On the screen, 5000 plasma streams were blasted towards the warehouse. The temperature was so high that the walls melted.

The next moment, all the plasma halted in mid air and gathered towards the center of the warehouse.

Project X walked over slowly and the bundles of plasma gathered together in his paw. It was like he was raising a small sun. It grew brighter and brighter, hotter and hotter.

“A strong electromagnetic field is detected!” Doll was horrified. “Electromagnetic powers? This guy used his electromagnetic powers to restrain my plasma! How is this possible? How did he do it?”

Project X looked at the feline robots surrounding him. He smiled and pushed his paws. They sent all the plasma back into the sky through the clouds before it exploded.

Followed by a shock wave equivalent to a level eight typhoon, the clouds were spread out and countless people in Jianghai watch the fireball in astonishment. They looked at the fireball in the sky like it was a detonated nuclear bomb.

Doll felt the fur on his back stand up. Then, the feline robots gave up on far ranged attacks and changed to weapons like saws, high frequency knives, and claws to attack Project X.

“It’s okay. We have close combat.” Doll looked at the situation on the screen and comforted herself while his fur dropped. “The nano feline robots can’t be trapped or killed. He is flesh and blood. We can exhaust him.”

Project X looked at the overwhelming number of feline robots, smiled, and stretched out a paw in front of him.

“Speaking of this, I am missing some armor.” Then, countless nano feline robots disintegrated into silvery metal powder and converged towards Project X.

“Electromagnetic conversion...” Doll hugged his head and groaned, “My feline robots are being controlled by him!”

On the monitor, more and more nano metal powder converged towards Project X and formed silver armor. Kun Wu’s fear had hit her peak.

Flames appeared behind Kun Wu and became a fiery tunnel.

“We have to leave,” Kun Wu said trembling. “He can see me. I can feel it. He can see me! He wants to eat me?!”

Then, Kun Wu grabbed onto Doll and escaped into the fiery tunnel.

When Kun Wu stepped into the tunnel and as Doll was about to step inside, a black tentacle reached out from Doll’s shadows and grabbed Doll’s waist.

“Is it that Shadow cat?” Kun Wu was surprised and then she reacted. “He was here long ago! I am not the only one watching him. He is watching me too?”

Before Doll could react, the combat program in his body was activated. His fingers flicked and they turned into plasma claws as he grabbed the tentacles.

When, Doll ripped apart one tentacle, more tentacles came out from the shadows. Doll was mummified instantly and dragged out.

Doll’s plasma propulsion on his back was activated and his body propelled forward. Then, shadow blades sliced across the propulsion which burst into flames and was destroyed.

“Doll!” Kun Wu stood in the tunnel and grabbed onto Doll’s hand. “Think of something!”

Doll felt the shadow continuously destroying his body structure. He looked at Kun Wu and smiled. “Run!”

Then, Doll’s arm broke apart and he pushed Kun Wu into the tunnel.

Chapter 786: Artificial Intelligence and Defeat

“Find the Headless Horseman!”

Doll yelled in the darkness and Kun Wu appeared on a beach a dozen kilometers away. She looked at the sea in a daze.

“Wait, Doll’s main program should not be in that mechanical cat. He should be fine.” Kun Wu comforted herself and thought about it again. “If we mainly rely on mechanical creatures, we will be too limited. Who knew that he would have electromagnetic powers and that he could wield them so well. If this carries on...”

Kun Wu lifted her head and she looked towards the Jianghai district. “Look for the Headless Horseman?”

Meanwhile, after sending away Kun Wu, Doll was engulfed in a dense shadow that could not be penetrated.

A meow sounded from the shadows.

“Haha, trying to be a hero?”

“Do you think that by staying behind, she can escape? She will be caught sooner or later.”

Doll laughed coldly. “You think too much. I stayed because I was afraid that when I kill you guys, it would hurt her accidentally.”

“You’re stubborn.”

Then, countless shadows sliced past Doll’s shadows. Every time Doll’s shadows were attacked, Doll’s mechanical body was left scarred and sparks flew.

Doll: “The power to attack shadows?” Then, Doll’s electronic eyes glowed with red light and shot out two beams of light. It shone onto the shadows like a searchlight.

Ahh! The shadow backed off while screaming and Doll charged towards the edge of the building.

The light could only fight off the shadow momentarily. When, Doll turned his head, more shadows were on the ground chasing his shadows.

When Shadow saw that Doll was at the edge of the building, he sneered, “You have nowhere to hide.”

Then, Doll jumped out from the ceiling and to Shadow’s astonishment, silver flashes sliced across the sky and flew onto Doll’s body like an armor. Instantly, he was armed.

Doll had become a two meter tall, metallic, feline robot. He aimed his paws towards the roof of the building, several holes opened up on his arms and shot out several laser beams that covered the entire rooftop.

Everything on the roof was shattered immediately. The shadow was still wriggling. It did not look like it had received any damage.

Doll was surprised. “The supercat is not on the roof? Is he controlling from a distance? Or is he concealed as the shadow?” He shouted, “Headless, scan the entire building for biological activities.”

“Yes, master.” Zhao Yao voice came out of Doll’s metallic body. “The building is XXX highschool’s building. There is no large or medium sized biological activity inside.”

“Not inside?”

Electron imaging, thermal imaging, sonar imaging and all the relevant information about the building poured into Doll’s brain.

Headless was a cat artificial intelligence created by Doll. It provided all kinds of long distance support for Doll.

Doll did not do this work himself and had created this artificial intelligence because the artificial intelligence needed to be constantly connected to a large database. It had to do things like data exchange, commanding all the production lines and mechanical forces and much more.

All these task required an absolutely rational, objective, and emotionless artificial intelligence to be completed.

If Doll was to do this himself, he would have had to obliterate all the emotions in his main program. Furthermore, because he had feelings, being in contact with a massive amount of data would influence his character. He would become apathetic and regard himself too highly.

To separate his work from himself, he created this cat artificial intelligence. The cat artificial intelligence helped him complete all sorts of work. All he had to do was just to control the cat artificial intelligence.

As for why the cat artificial intelligence was called Headless, used the Headless Horseman's voice, and addressed Doll as Master, it was for a mysterious reason.

On the roof, the shadow was distorted as thousands of black blades shot out from the shadows at Doll.

"Headless!"

As Doll sent out the signal, in a split second, the cat artificial intelligence had already activated the Type I Dodging program. High speed particles were shot out from Doll's back and paws. He flew at high speed and dodged all the black blades.

Headless: "Although I am a useless cat artificial intelligence, I can dodge."

"Shut up. Turn off the low self-esteem mode and add emotional algorithm into the learning plan. The keyword is flattery."

"Yes sir. I understand."

Doll let Headless control the mechanical cat for dodging, while he activated the 12 rocket artillery behind him. After confirming that there was no life in the building, he pointed his 12 rocket artillery at the 12 supporting points of the building.

"Since there is no life then either the shadow is controlled from a distance or that cat is in the shadows. Let's try physical isolation first."

Then, the 12 rocket artillery was fired from Doll's back. The rockets had graceful trajectories as they hit the building in different locations.

Bam! Bam! Bam!

The entire building collapsed and all the dust flew into the air.

Looking at the ruins under his feet, Doll thought to himself, “He wanted to capture me? He isn’t that powerful anyways. If it was not for Project X’s electromagnetic powers, I would have gotten rid of him myself.”

Headless: “Boss, your strike was so spectacular, breathtaking, bloody, water streaming...”

“Shut up,” Doll said out of exasperation. “What are you talking about?”

Headless: “Boss, these are the compliments found on XX web posted by their users regarding firing a rocket artillery...”

“Pull the XX web into the black list.” Doll answered and looked at the ruins of the building. Then, Headless’ warnings rang.

“Boss, the police are here. Let’s go.”

The surveillance footage of a cluster of police cars driving over flashed across Doll’s eyes.

Then, when Doll’s body was about to emit plasma flames to leave.

Whoosh! A beam of light slashed across the sky and wrapped around Doll.

Doll’s body started to melt as soon as he was engulfed by the white light. The warnings from Headless rang repeatedly.

“Boss, we seemed to have met with a high-energy laser beam. The exterior temperature is over 60 000 Degree Celsius. The percentage damage in the mechanical body is more than 15%...26%... 37%...”

Doll crashed down in flames and hit the ground, creating a large pit in the floor.

Chapter 787: Capturing And Focus

Dark shadows came out from the surroundings and engulfed Doll, even though his body was smothering hot.

Slaughter, who had shot down Doll with a high-energy laser, smiled as he came over. “That is not good, Shadow. Boss is unhappy you are unable to capture a small cat.”

“Humph, even if you didn’t come to help, he couldn’t escape as I had attached to his shadow.”

As the two cats were about to bicker, Project X, who was covered with a layer of white metal, landed with Coffee from the sky. The two cats immediately sprawled down on the ground with respect.

Project X looked at the melted Doll and said, “Bring him to the prison.”

Coffee asked, “What about Sang Biao?”

“Our activities here have attracted the attention of the humans.” Project X said. “There are more cats over there. Once we finish our work, we will find Sang Biao.”

They brought Doll’s robot body with them and left the ruins.

A few minutes later, three police cars arrived at the ruins and the cops gaped at the scene.

Uncle Ho and Lin Chen rushed to the ruined school at the earliest time.

Uncle Ho’s cell phone rang incessantly. He looked at it and hung up.

Lin Chen was curious and asked, “You didn’t pick up the call from the secretary. Is there any problem?”

“If I pick up all my calls, I wouldn’t be able to work.” Uncle Ho stepped on the ruins and said gravely, “What’s with blowing up the school? First, it was murder, kidnapping, mega explosion of fireworks and now, blowing up a school. Thank goodness it was at night, if it was daytime...”

Uncle Ho was worried and asked, “Are you able to find out who did it?”

Lin Chen said, “The surveillance records were erased but an eyewitness said a group of robots did it.”

“Robots?” Uncle Ho was shocked, “Give a call immediately to the surveillance team. I want to know Doll’s situation.”

When the King of Death turned over a new leaf, he surrendered Doll to Uncle Ho.

The King of Death was unaware that Kun Wu had rescued Doll before he handed over Doll’s clone to the police.

Uncle Ho’s telephone rang again. As he was about to hang up the phone, he hesitated as it was a call from Zhao Yao.

After thinking for a while, he picked up the phone.

“Hello? Zhao Yao? I am sure you are aware how busy we are tonight? If there are no matters of importance, I am hanging up.”

Zhao Yao laughed and said, “Yes, I know.” He had just witnessed the huge explosion in the sky. “I think I know who is the culprit.”

Uncle Ho’s eye glinted. “Who is he?”

Zhao Yao explained intelligence of Project X and his team to Uncle Ho, who was shocked and replied, “The same group of cats that created trouble in the United States? They have arrived in China?”

Zhao Yao reminded Uncle Ho, “Uncle Ho, he has a special ability to leech superpowers. Take good care of your supercats.”

“I understand.” Uncle Ho said. “All the supercats are under our protection...”

“I am hanging up,” Zhao Yao said. “Let’s inform each other if there are new developments.”

Lin Chen’s cell phone rang. Moments later he shouted to Uncle Ho, “Uncle Ho, Li Li is in trouble.”

Uncle Ho said, “What? What happened?”

“The Cat King of the North couldn’t contact Li Li so he used GPS to locate her.” Lin Chen said grimly, “Li Li lost her superpowers and her intelligence...”

“... She became an ordinary cat.”

“We are getting into serious trouble...” Uncle Ho was stunned as he recalled his conversation with Zhao Yao. His face turned gravely pale as he said, “Seal all news. Get all personnel on standby within half an hour, including those on leave. Inform the Cat King of the North to gather together so that they will not be picked out one by one.”

“Yes, there is Zhao Yao too...” Uncle Ho said as he took out his cell phone to text his latest intelligence.

Suddenly, Uncle Ho’s eyes widened and he exclaimed, “Yes, the supernatural prison!!” He shouted at Lin Chen, “Get everyone to reinforce the supernatural prison! S*it! Do you have Cat King of the West’s cell phone number? Call him!”

...

The basement of the supernatural prison.

The Cat King of the West was bored as he looked at the computer screen and said, “What’s with Lizzie today? She is not live streaming today. Is she putting on airs after getting rich?”

He opened WeChat, entered a secret group and texted, “Hey, any new Lizzie video?”

A cat replied, “Don’t ask that. The group administrator is not available today.”

“D*mn.” The Cat King of the West laid on the floor and directly texted Lizzie, “Lizzie, what’s happened? Why are you not live streaming today?”

The Cat King of the West waited for a long time but there were no replies.

As the Cat King of the West was feeling depressed, the prison quaked and shook. Then all became quiet.

“An earthquake in Jianghai?” The Cat King of the West tilted his head when the phone rang.

“Hello?” The Cat King of the West typed the words on the cell phone and it said, “Lin Chen? Don’t try to persuade me. I am not playing Justice Online. It is hurting my health.”

Noises came out from the cell phone and Uncle Ho spoke, “The Cat King of the West! Are there any problems at the prison?”

“Everything’s fine.” The Cat King of the West smiled merrily and said, “It’s excellent.”

Uncle Ho heaved in relief and said, “Be careful, a group of supercats are... coming... Li Li... captured... Be very careful...”

“Hello?” The Cat King of the West furrowed his brows and said, “Is the signal bad?” The room’s light flashed and the entire prison went into darkness.

“What’s going on?” The Cat King of the West looked bewilderedly at his cellphone. Not only was there a blackout, his cellphone signal went dead.

“What did Uncle Ho say just now?” The Cat King of the West tilted his head and walked towards the door. “Forget it. I’ll get someone to fix the signal.”

Behind the Cat King of the West, a tentacle came out from his shadows and edged carefully towards him.

...

Zhao Yao looked at the text by Uncle Ho and frowned, "Project X is going around capturing all the supercats?"

He looked at Cat Wonderland which was full of deadly traps. There were seals of illusion, Dimension Portals, poisoned artifacts, Mango and Lightning's fur, in addition to Matcha, Roly Poly and other supercats' ambush.

He had the highest chance of success at this place.

If Project X accumulated a lot more powerful supercats before confronting him, then it might not be advantageous for him.

"If the battle is delayed until tomorrow, I can upgrade my superpowers, however, Project X can steal more superpowers."

Waiting in ambush at the Cat Wonderland improved his chances of defeating Project.

But no one was able to stop Project X from capturing more supercats.

Zhao Yao squeezed his chin as he pondered his dilemma. "Should I take initiative to attack or continue to wait in ambush?"

"He has the time to capture supercats while he is dealing with me. He is pretty arrogant."

Chapter 788: Armed and Choice

While Zhao Yao was hesitating, Uncle Ho called.

“Zhao Yao, assist the supernatural prison immediately!” Uncle Ho said nervously. “Project X has brought cats to launch an attack on the prison. We have lost contact with the prison. I have sent a large number of soldiers over, however, they are no match for Project X. We need your powers.”

“Okay.” Zhao Yao nodded. “I will be there. However, Project X is very strong. I need some time to prepare. Try and delay him until I get there.”

After he hung up, Zhao Yao sighed, “I can’t let him do whatever he likes. Then, I shall have to...”

After half an hour, Zhao Yao was wearing the Cheese Cloak and Elizabeth Scarf. On his waist was: Ares Sword and Rice Cake Blade. He had Roly Poly on his shoulder, wore the Paralysis Ring on his hand, and had Dust Ball controlling the Dimension Portal behind him.

Zhao Yao was fully armed for this battle.

“And...” Zhao Yao pressed his palms together. “Divine Mode!!”

Zhao Yao nodded satisfyingly. “In Divine Mode, I can be invisible and read my opponent’s mind. In a superpower battle, this is the best way to retrieve intel.”

Beside him, Bai Quan had borrowed Lucifer’s powers so he had extraordinary physical abilities and was almost an immortal warrior.

Matcha, Sphynx cat, Old Cat, Cat Sage, Uncle Egg, Fūjin, Catherine and the other supercats were all sitting on the floor solemnly.

All the cats participating in the fight were in the Cat Wonderland, except for Roly Poly and Sheriff who were on Zhao Yao. All the cats who weren’t participating in the fight were placed on the Cat Island.

Matcha was chatting privately with the other cats. “It is finally time for me to showcase my abilities. When I meet Project X, there is no need to talk about morals. We can just surround him and hit him until he calls us daddy.”

The cats rolled their eyes and Roly Poly, who was on Zhao Yao's shoulders sneered. "Matcha, I shall help you tell Zhao Yao that you want to be the first to go up. We will cover you from the back."

Matcha shook his head in disdain. "You don't have to add that. Even if I do not do anything, I am also the most important. After all, my powers are Time Freeze. It is the most important part of the plan. Without me, all of you will die."

Roly Poly glanced at Matcha scornfully, however, he was filled with jealousy. "He is getting more and more shameless. Damn it. Why can't my powers be stronger! I am so jealous!"

Zhao Yao looked at Matcha. "Matcha, go back to Cat Island."

"What?!" Matcha was angry. "Why! Aren't I one of your main strengths?!"

Zhao Yao said, "According to Sang Biao's Intel, Project X can rob other supercats of their powers. After taking their powers, the cat who loses the powers will become an idiot. He still does not have the ability to Freeze Time. If you go there and you are so weak, aren't you giving him new powers?"

He saw the surrounding supercats look at him and he felt that these supercats were laughing at him. He shouted in embarrassment. "Zhao Yao! Don't look down on cats! I have brought my equipment!" Then, he pulled out his bag and dropped it onto the floor.

The things in the bag fell out, there were all sorts of scissors, daggers, nail clippers, hammers and a few suspicious hairs.

Matcha said sorrowfully. "After I activate Time Freeze, I can use weapons and attack too! I am very powerful!"

Zhao Yao explained, "Project X has the power of regeneration, metallic body and other elemental defense powers. These things are capable of dealing with ordinary people but it is too risky to do the same with him."

Matcha was angry and pointed at Fish Ball. "Then why can he participate? He is useless!"

Zhao Yao said, "According to the Intel from Sang Biao, Project X has a Shadow cat. He can control shadows and attack shadows. Fish Ball's light can restrain him and he can be used as a flash bomb."

Fish Ball was smiling and his forehead was shining with the word "genius" as he looked at Matcha proudly.

Matcha was so angry, but he could not rebut. He clenched his teeth and pointed at Noodle. "Then, why can the dog go? He doesn't even have powers. He is useless!"

Before Zhao Yao could explain, Noodle stood out and slammed his paws on the floor. Accompanied by a loud explosion, the tiles were shattered and a small pit was formed.

Noodle shook his paw at Matcha. "Obviously, I am not useless."

Matcha hugged his head and shook it unbelievably. "How can this be? How did a dog become so powerful? God! Did you suck too much catmint?"

Zhao Yao said, "Noodle's physical abilities are very strong, he is just a bit weaker than Zhao Xue. He may even be stronger than me. Furthermore, he is a dog. He can be kept as a surprise. Now, do you understand? You are the only one here that is unsuitable for going to battle."

Matcha looked at Zhao Yao pitifully and talked to him privately. "Zhao Yao! There are so many cats watching, can you save me some face? You can agree for me to participate on the surface but I will just stay behind and watch. Can I? If I go back to the Cat Island alone, it is so embarrassing."

Matcha thought to himself. 'Milk Tea is on the Cat Island too. If I let him see me going back, how can I continue to act like a big brother in front of him?'

"This fellow, normally it is so hard for him to do a mission, why is he so enthusiastic this time?" Zhao Yao looked at him and pulled out a Spicy Cat Strip. "If you want to stay, you have to eat this and become a brick. Then, I will bring you."

Matcha frowned. He did not want to become a brick. "Is there any other way?"

Zhao Yao pointed to Noodle. “Noodle, show him how you become stronger.”

Noodle laughed and took out a bottle from his bag. It was a smaller version of Sang Biao as a used toilet paper.

Sang Biao. “Let me out! This dog is a pervert! He is crazy!”

Then, in all the cat’s shock and disgust, Noodle licked Sang Biao and showed Matcha his teeth. “Matcha! Come lick it. You will obtain strong powers after this. Do you want to try?”

Zhao Yao said.”It’s either you eat the Spicy Cat Strip or lick Sang Biao. Choose.”

Matcha ran to Zhao Yao and jumped up to bite the Spicy Cat Strip. “Okay, I will turn into a brick.”

Chapter 789: Plan, Gather and Departure

After solving Matcha’s problem, Zhao Yao looked at his phone and said, “Bai Quan, take them with you and get ready to ambush. I will bring the cat there and you guys will act according to the plan. Attack with full force.”

Bai Quan nodded. “Okay Boss. But Zhao Xue...”

Zhao Yao was confused. “What about her?”

Zhao Xue pushed open the office door and asked with dissatisfaction, “You dare ask? Why did you seal the Extradimensional Belly and what is with the Cat Wonderland? Are you guys hiding something from me?”

Zhao Yao sighed. Although Zhao Xue had strong combat powers, as his sister, Zhao Yao did not wish for her to go onto the battlefield. Especially when his opponent was the unfathomable Project X.

Since Zhao Xue had noticed and was inside the Cat Wonderland, Zhao Yao had to explain everything to her.

Zhao Xue said, "I want to join. Project X is very dangerous right? You guys don't even know his full capabilities and the plan may not be successful. My physical capabilities are about the same as Bai Quan's. If you are afraid that I will be in danger, you can lend me Lucifer's powers."

Zhao Yao frowned and pondered for a while. He nodded his head reluctantly. "Okay, I will ask Lucifer to lend you his powers. But, you still have to be careful. If you're in danger, you have to save yourself."

Zhao Xue laughed, "Okay, I know. Don't worry."

Then, Zhao Yao flew to the sky with Cheese's Cloak and arrived at the prison with supersonic speed.

He looked at the chaotic prison and made himself invisible. Then, Zhao Yao called Uncle Ho to inform him that he had arrived.

After contacting him, Zhao Yao charged into the prison while staying invisible.

...

Just when Zhao Yao left, Kun Wu's head stuck out from the corner of the street and looked at the Cat Wonderland.

"Even if we do not join the Headless Horseman, I at least have to get the news to him," Kun Wu thought to herself. "Maybe he doesn't know much about Project X yet. If he is defeated too..."

She recalled all the powerful supercats Headless Horseman owned. If they landed in Project X's hands... Kun Wu shuddered.

"But, how should I inform him?" Kun Wu looked at a photo of Cat Wonderland. "I heard that Cat Wonderland was opened by the Headless Horseman. I just don't know if he is there now."

Then, she saw a girl stomp towards the door of the Cat Wonderland.

Xiaoyu was slamming on the doors. “Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! Get out!”

Zhao Xue opened the door and asked, “Aunt Xiaoyu, why are you here? We are not open today.”

Xiaoyu was angry. “Who is here to play? Zhao Yao brought Noodle and Fish Ball here to entertain guests, now they have both picked up bad habits! Noodle is eating poop everyday and Fish Ball has attracted all the female cats in the area so that they come look for him everyday. There has been dozens of cats peeing in front of my door!”

Zhao Xue was stunned and said awkwardly, “My brother isn’t in today. Can you come look for him tomorrow?”

Xiaoyu said angrily, “I have come here several times to look for him! Every time, he isn’t here! If he dares to do it, why doesn’t he dare own up to it! I tell you, if Zhao Yao does not give me an explanation today, I will report you guys!”

Zhao Xue could not let Xiaoyu come in and after much comforting, she finally convinced Xiaoyu to go. Zhao Xue heaved a sigh of relief. “Aye, looks like we can’t let Fish Ball and Noodle work here anymore.”

However, Xiaoyu did not give up so easily. She left and turn into spirit form, disappearing into the air.

“Nekomata! Let’s go!” Xiaoyu said angrily. “I have to speak to Zhao Yao face to face. This is too much. How can he give Noodle and Fish Ball so little pay.”

“Why are there screams at night on Cat Street? Why did the cats from the countryside suddenly get rich? Why can you hear huskies groan in the toilet at night? Are all these behaviors twisted cat nature or corrupted human nature?” Nekomata was typing on his phone as he floated behind Xiaoyu. “Ladies and gentlemen, we will now sneak into the most famous gold vault in Jianghai and unveil its mystery.”

“And all of this will be shot secretly. For those of you who support UP, make sure you subscribe.”

...

In the supernatural prison, all the cell doors were opened.

All the cats looked out of their cell curiously and started escaping towards the door.

However, when they reached outside, there was a transparent cat sitting there looking proudly at them.

Slaughter said, "If you all don't want to die, stay where you are."

None the cats that were held prisoner in the jail were timid cats. They were the most fierce and cruel.

After hearing Slaughter, none of them bothered to obey. There were even supercats who shot out lightning bolts at Slaughter.

Then, they found themselves floating.

Coffee pointed to the sky and told all the supercats who were now floating, "Everyone, will you guys please keep quiet?"

When he saw that the cats with flying powers were trying to escape, he sighed and increased the force of gravity weighing on them. All of them crashed towards the floor.

Slaughter pointed at the sky and a thick light bolt slashed across the sky. The high temperature made the atmosphere bend.

All the cats quieted down when they saw the laser cannon.

Outside the prison, there were countless spirits floating around. From time to time, screams and gunshots could be heard. It was Momo using spirits to hold back the official apostles who had come to handle the situation.

Coffee frowned. "Slaughter, go and back Momo up. She is no match for the apostles. I can handle this alone."

Slaughter laughed cruelly at the cats who were floating and dragged them onto the floor with gravity. He said, "I can see you guys from outside. If anyone escapes, you will be shot by me."

The supercats were trembling. This was worse than being in prison.

When Zhao Yao arrived at the prison, he saw Coffee suppressing hundreds of cats.

Zhao Yao looked around and realized that the Cat King of the West was not there.

"Unless he is still inside?" Zhao Yao thought. "Should I use this opportunity to get rid of the gravity cat or save Cat King of the West? No, I have to save Cat King of the West first. His powers are transmitting his own behavior and preference. If Project X gets hold of this power, it will be troublesome."

When Zhao Yao was contemplating his options, he saw a bald cat running out from the shadows. The cat looked frightened and behind him was a shadow spike charging towards his shadow under his feet.

"It is the Cat King of the West!" He activated the Deflective Field and grabbed the Cat King of the West.

At the same time, he asked Roly Poly to make the Cat King of the West invisible.

Chapter 790: Wait and Attack

Shadow stopped when the Cat King of the West disappeared. He looked around hesitatingly.

Coffee, who was in a distance, frowned and shouted, "Be careful. It may be some kind of invisible power." Then, he started sniffing around trying to find the hidden supercat.

Zhao Yao held onto the Cat King of the West and talked to him privately. "Hey, where's Project X? How many powers have he gotten from the prison?"

However, the Cat King of the West was struggling in Zhao Yao's arms. He kept kicking, looked frightened, and wanted to scream.

Zhao Yao covered Cat King of the West's mouth to stop him from screaming. "Have his powers already been taken?"

Roly Poly and Sheriff looked at Cat King of the West's regressed state and were in anguish.

Losing their intelligence and regressing back to an ignorant and clueless state was what the supercats were most afraid of.

Zhao Yao tried to confirm what had happened. "What is he thinking?"

"Scared, escape and pain..." Sheriff was upset. "He is like any other stray cat. He no longer has any intelligence."

"Is he?" He looked at the Cat King of the West, who was trembling, and threw him into the Dimension Portal. Dust Ball would transfer the Cat King of the West to Cat Island.

For the first time, Roly Poly was angered and asked, "Zhao Yao? Are we going to attack?"

Zhao Yao shook his head. "We wait for Project X." He took a step back, retreated into the Extradimensional Belly, and watched the situation in the prison from the Dimension Portal.

Then, countless shadows poured down like a waterfall and searched every inch. They were trying to find the Cat King of the West who had disappeared.

Meanwhile, Coffee was distorting gravity on large tracts of land. Countless furniture, windows, and walls were crushed. He was looking for the Cat King of the West too.

If Zhao Yao wasn't in the Dimension Portal, he would have been discovered.

Coffee frowned. "He already escaped?"

Then, the ground shook and a crack that was about ten meters long appeared on the floor. Project X, who was covered in silvery-white floated out from it. Doll was floating behind him, all broken.

When Coffee and Shadow cat saw Project X, they prostrated themselves on the ground and Shadow cat said, frightened by Project X. “Boss, the Cat King of the West escaped.”

Cat King of the West had lost his powers and was turned back into a normal cat. However, he still wanted to hunt the Cat King of the West down for fun. Who knew that there was a cat in the prison with powers to avoid him and Coffee and rescue the Cat King of the West?

“Without me, he would always have been an ordinary cat.” Project X answered causally. “Who would be afraid of an ordinary cat?”

When Shadow heaved a sigh of relief, he heard Project X say, “But, I asked you to catch him and you can’t even capture an ordinary cat?”

A black cat walked out from the shadows and fell to the floor trembling. “Boss, I didn’t expect that there would be a supercat not under our control in the prison. Coffee and I have searched the entire area, it is not simply invisibility powers!”

“Is it not?” Project X looked at Coffee.

When the three cats were talking, Zhao Yao was ready to attack.

“Sheriff, read their minds. This is Project X right?”

“Yes, according to their reactions, this guy is Project X.”

“Okay... start...”

Time froze and the clouds in the sky stood still. Every cat in the prison turned into a silent statue.

In this absolute silence, Zhao Yao charged out from the Dimension Portal and with the help of Cheese Cloak, he dashed behind Project X. He wielded Rice Cake Blade and slashed Project X harshly.

“Go and die!”

Project X was too dangerous, when Zhao Yao didn't know what kind of powers the opponent had, his first step was always to kill the opponent directly.

However, when the blade was about to touch Project X, a strong malicious force swept across him.

Zhao Yao's senses were improved by the five cats, especially in the absolutely still world. The sudden malice was too obvious. It came as a shock to Zhao Yao.

In his disbelief, all the possible scenarios flashed past his mind.

“His mind is still active?”

Without any hesitation, Zhao Yao dodged and retreated with supersonic speed with Cheese Cloak.

In that instant, the silvery white metal on Project X had turned into a long spike jabbing where Zhao Yao was standing.

If Zhao Yao had struck, Project X would have been cut into two but the spike would have gone through Zhao Yao's body. While Zhao Yao was still unsure if Project X would die from being cut into two, he was unwilling to be pierced through by the spike.

He retreated several meters and stared at Project X. His brain was in chaos. “How could it be? He can Time Freeze too?”

However, while Zhao Yao was staring at Project X, he realized that after the attack, Project X had returned to being a statue. He was immobilized and did not look like he had the power to Time Freeze.

Even the metal spike that had shot out was frozen in mid air, like any other object in Time Freeze.

“What is going on? Why could he attack me just now?” Zhao Yao started thinking. “I am sure that this guy attacked me. Why? How could he have done it?”

Zhao Yao's eyes narrowed and he cut out a piece of stone from the floor. "Let's try it. Anyways we still have time."

...

While Zhao Yao was in the prison, a few thousand miles away in Southeast Asia.

In an underground basement, there were many computers placed in a circle. Doll was lying in a metal coffin in its center. There were thousands of wires connected to his body.

In his vision, Project X's back was flickering.

"He seems to be very unfamiliar with computers, software, and the internet," Doll rubbed his chin and thought. "After failing to obtain my powers, he brought my mechanical body around with him. Does he want to study it?"

"However, if he can use an electromagnetic field to control my robots and plasma that means that this guy knows physics. Unless he never learned about the internet and computers?"

Doll was pondering and kept watch on what was happening to his mechanical body. "Since they are busy capturing supercats, he does not have enough time to do anything to my mechanical body. I shall it use for surveillance."

Then, Doll send out a signal. "Headless!"

"Yes! Boss!"

"How many carbon nanotubes are there left in store? I need to use them to create a new body..."
