

Am I A God 821

Chapter 821: Search and Extortion

Kun Wu was shocked. “What? Is that a power?”

Elizabeth smiled. “What makes this a power, you will know when you meet more humans. These guys are easy to control. If there are troublesome customers, then, we need to use powers to settle them.”

Kun Wu said hurriedly. “What about Zhao Yao? Does it work with him?”

Elizabeth was taken aback and said dejectedly. “Zhao Yao is not human.”

Just when Kun Wu and Elizabeth were discussing about how to deal with humans, the two university girls froze in their spots.

Zhao Yao walked up and took off his ridiculous helmet. “Kun Wu, are you still in contact with Doll?”

“You want to capture Doll?” Kun Wu was nervous.

Zhao Yao said, “I need help from him. This is what happened...” He summarized the story and told Kun Wu. Then, Zhao Yao continued, “It is very hard for me to track them. Doll has many tracking devices, right? Can he help me?”

Kun Wu thought about it and said, “I can ask for you, but he hates you. So, he may not agree.”

Kun Wu gave Doll a call.

Doll sounded surprised. “Kun Wu? Why did you think of calling me?”

Kun Wu said ,”Erm, the Headless Horseman is looking for you. He needs a favor from you.”

“What?” Doll said, “Ask him to dream on. Even if I had to cut off all my electricity and internet, I would not help him.”

Kun Wu raised her head and looked at Zhao Yao. “He says that he would rather die than help you.”

Zhao Yao said, “Pass me the phone. I will speak to him.”

“Hello? Doll?”

“Don’t you think...”

Zhao Yao snapped his fingers and used Deflective Field to cut off the surrounding sound. Then, he said, “Do you want get Kun Wu to like you?”

“Erm...”Doll answered shyly. “What are you talking about. We are just friends...”

Zhao Yao said, “If you help me, I will help you.”

Doll was in disbelief. “How are you going to help me?”

Zhao Yao said, “Kun Wu is working for me. If you come and work for me too, won’t you guys be together all the time?”

“What!”

Zhao Yao continued, “If I arrange you guys to work together during the day and sleep in the same hostel at night, won’t she develop feelings for you over time?”

“Huh?”

Zhao Yao added, “So? As long as you help me, I can arrange for you to be with Kun Wu all the time.” He saw Kun Wu look at him curiously as she could not hear, Zhao Yao raised his thumb. He mouthed, “It’s okay”.

Doll said, “Why do I feel like something is amiss?”

“There is no opportunity for second thoughts. If you won’t take this chance, I will give the chance to other supercats.”

After an hour, the supersonic flying apparatus made by Doll was flying on the coastal lines of Jianghai city. It scattered countless nano detection machines during its flight and flew in different directions to look for Mango.

Zhao Yao held onto his helmet and flew across the ocean to land on cargo ship whose location was provided by Doll.

The moment he landed on the deck, he frowned and looked shocked.

“What... this is...”

Zhao Yao quickly cast a spell, changing the horrible smell into the scent of lavender then he took few steps and saw all the crew lying on the floor covered in curry.

He also quickly cast a illusion spell on himself.

On the way to the cabin, he looked at all the crew whose eyes were filled with despair and numbness and body were entirely covered up, Zhao Yao shook his head. “How tragic, It seems as if nuclear war happened here.”

He searched around for a bit and found the location of Mango and the explosion-proof box. Looking at Aurora who was bleeding excessively, along with hawk-nosed man and supercat Charlie in the room, he shook his head at the sight of Mango who was soundly asleep in the explosion-proof box.

Then, Zhao Yao reached out his palms and tore the box gently. The explosion-proof box made of superalloy came apart.

Mango instantly opened his eyes and happily approached him once it saw that it was Zhao Yao. Zhao Yao carried Mango in his arms.

Instantly, the mission was completed. 5000*2 experience points were gained.

Zhao Yao looked at the people lying on the floor. A spell gently undulated in the air and woke them up with its strong stimulation.

The moment the hawk-nosed man woke up, he screamed, "This cat cannot be touched!"

Charlie cried, "Let me out! Let me out!"

Aurora immediately saw the man wearing a ridiculous helmet, her expression changed and straight away she reached for the gun, aimed, and shot.

Zhao Yao easily stopped the bullet with his hands, threw it upwards, and an explosion was heard. The top of the cabin was now broken with a huge hole.

"How can you!" Aurora looked at Zhao Yao in a daze and looked at the hole over her head with her mouth ajar, not knowing what to say.

Everyone woke up with a fright at this scene, palely stared at Zhao Yao, not daring to resist any longer.

Zhao Yao looked at them and said, "Okay, tell me where are you from and why you want to steal my cat."

Aurora's expression changed and she asked, "Are you the Headless Horseman?"

Zhao Yao waved his hands and cast a spell, "I am asking you a question, not the other way round."

Aurora quickly clenched her stomach and she hurriedly explained, “We are the people from Star Cats. The Star Cats authorities knew that your supercats were there and ordered us to snatch them. Please stop! I am about to defecate!”

“Star Cats?” Zhao Yao raised his eyebrows. Star Cats was the strongest organization in America, originally from Maine, which is where the meteorite fell. There were a large number of superb supercats that had even come into conflict with the American government, which ended in a reconciliation. It was a win-win situation.

“There should be a lot of meteorite fragments there.” At this thought, Zhao Yao turned to Aurora and said, “Contact your boss for me.”

Aurora turned to look at the hawk-nosed man at the side.

The hawk-nosed man asked, “What do you want?”

“What? Obviously compensation.” Zhao Yao said, “You guys stole my cat, inflicted terror on it, and delayed my personal work. Do you know how much money I can earn in one minute?”

Aurora said, “Thousands of millions?”

Zhao Yao said in a embarrassed tone. “In fact, not that much...” Then, he used a ferocious tone and said, “This is none of your business! You guys will have to compensate me. Call your boss!”

Hawk-nosed roared, “You want to extort the Star Cats? Headless Horseman, have you gone crazy?”

Zhao Yao curled his finger and he immediately clenched his stomach screaming, “Enough, enough, stop now! I know what to do.”

Then, he fished out a satellite phone and started making calls. After a few words, he handed the phone over to Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao said, “So you are the boss of Star Cats? You guys stole my cat, how do you plan to compensate me?”

A calm middle-aged man voice spoke on the other end, “Speak of your conditions.”

“I want all your meteorite fragments.”

The other end roared, “You are dreaming, Headless Horseman, do you know who are you extorting? Star Cats will never succumb to anyone or power. I order you to immediately release my men or you will be starting a war that you can only lose.”

Zhao Yao responded with another mirthless laugh.

Chapter 822: Warship

The Star Cats’ boss said coldly, “What are you laughing at?”

“So you stole my cats and refuse to compensate?” Zhao Yao sneered. “You are trying to get away? Let me tell you, the last person who tried this, died. Wait for it.” He ignored the threats and hung up.

At the other end of the call, a middle-aged man looked at his phone with disbelief. “Is this guy crazy?” The man had thin scales on his face that gave off a hint of green. He looked like the mermaids from ancient myths.

He happened to be the greatest apostle in Star Cats and was called Dragon. At the same time, he was a member of the Natural Disaster Representatives and was in the strongest apostle team in Star Cats.

The so-called natural disasters refer to apostles who have the ability to confront an army. This concept was created in Star Cats when the international situation was going through drastic changes.

The Natural Disaster Representatives was a violent apostle team carefully crafted by Star Cats.

Before Dragon become a Natural Disaster Representative, he was already the star apostle in the team stationed in the Pacific, who was feared by countless small Southeast Asian countries’ supernatural men. He saw himself as the boss of supernatural realm in the Pacific.

Hanging up the call, Dragon asked, “Have the reinforcements arrived?”

A subordinate beside the men responded, "The ships of the sixth team are already visible, do you need them to attack?"

"Tell them to not act rashly. The Headless Horseman is not an easy target. Even though it is still unclear how he defeated Project X but this at least proves that he has the capabilities worthy of natural disaster."

Dragon walked onto the deck slowly with a sneer on his face. "The army didn't allow us to interfere with Project X previously, the higher authorities wanted to see them make a fool of themselves too. That is why one cat was able to cause so much trouble. Today I shall see how powerful this apostle who defeated Project X is."

Clearly, the American army was not united with the Star Cats after all. Star Cats was still created by independent supercats. Due to various reasons, they did not initiate attacks against Project X. Instead they allowed Project X to weaken the army, Japan, and even other supernatural realms in Southeast Asia.

While Dragon was talking, he leaped into the sea.

The moment he entered the water, the water around rose as if paying respect to the Emperor's courtiers.

Then, Dragon was seen walking on the waves, bring the constantly surging water towards the other end.

...

On the other end, Zhao Yao looked at Aurora and her team with malicious intentions after hanging up the call. Aurora immediately asked anxiously, "What do you want?"

"Nothing." Zhao Yao said, " Since you guys stole my cats, it'll make sense for me to take all of you back and hand y'all over to the police."

Hawk-nosed man said anxiously, "You can't do that."

Zhao Yao did not pay attention to him and walked straight out of the cabin, intending to jump into the sea and push the boat back.

However, he scanned around when he reached the deck and saw a black dot a few thousand kilometers away. He squinted his eyes and adjusted his pupils and saw a foreign country's warship with foreigners busy working.

"Heh heh, buy one get one free?" Zhao Yao's body flew into the sky, accelerating towards the warship.

Aurora, the hawked-nose man, and supercat Charlie who were behind him were stunned by this scene.

The Hawked-nose man was surprised. "Direct confrontation with a warship? Is he crazy?"

"How fast!" Aurora screamed. "If he gets onto the ship, the warship will be useless no matter how powerful it is."

The next moment, everyone saw a small spark rising from the warship which was four consecutive missiles launched at Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao who was rapidly advancing gave a slight smile at the missiles launched at him without feeling any sense of panic.

He, who had inherited the power of six cats had reached superhuman levels of bodily strength. The missiles may have been incredibly fast, but they were slow in his eyes. It was to the extent where he could see their every single detail.

Then, Zhao Yao who was at a rapid speed accelerated again, caught the tail of the missile, and flung it away at an incredible speed. After a series of metal clanging noises that sounded like the clenching of teeth, the missile collided with the nearby missile and exploded.

Amidst the smoke, along with a golden ray light that flashed, the other two missiles in the air had also successively exploded. While Zhao Yao stood on the top of the warship.

From the warship bouts of anxious cries could be heard and quickly, all sorts of machine guns and naval guns were aimed at Zhao Yao and a torrent of metal rushed towards him.

Facing this wave of attacks, Zhao Yao did not choose to resist. Even a tank would have been shot into a sieve. Even if Zhao Yao was only slightly wounded, Cheese cloak would not be able to withstand it.

While time was paused, Zhao Yao's silhouette disappeared in a flash and all the naval guns, machine guns, and weapons on the warship twisted and were chipped into fragments of scrap metal.

"Devil! This is a devil!"

"Reinforcements, we need reinforcements!"

"Where are the apostles? Where are our apostles?"

However, the apostles did not dare to approach. It would be a joke to approach. It was like asking them to commit suicide. They barely saw his actions and the entire warship was disarmed.

Zhao Yao stretched his palms and moved slightly, the entire steel door was already removed. He threw the steel door on the floor, walked into the room and saw a crew holding a gun aimed at him in panic.

Gunshot sounded but stopped quickly, which meant that Zhao Yao had already taken complete control of this warship.

While Aurora and the others on the other ship stared at each other in shock after the gunshot stopped. They witnessed the scene of Zhao Yao seizing the warship.

"Took control of a warship in one minute," The hawked-nosed man said in a shock, "Headless Horseman is such much stronger than the Intel given."

Aurora pointed at the distant sea and said, "Look! What is that?"

At the horizons, a burst of white could be seen advancing towards their location rapidly.

Supercat Charlie stared at it for a while and screamed, “It’s a tsunami! Damn it, it’s a tsunami! Quickly escape!”

Amidst a rumbling of loud noises, the entire warship was engulfed by a large shadow.

Zhao Yao turned around and saw a wave that was a hundred meters tall approaching, about to swallow the entire warship.

Countless people screamed and felt despair. One can only wait for the arrival of death in front of such a phenomenon.

However, just before the entire warship was about to be swallowed by the waves, the sea seemed to be brought to life and lifted the ship up. The crew, which almost about to collapse, was relieved.

The next moment, people saw a silhouette at the end of the waves and began to cheer.

Zhao Yao also saw the silhouette standing on the waves. It was a foreigner who looked like a mermaid and was standing on the hundred meter tall wave, looking at Zhao Yao condescendingly.

Chapter 823: Tsunami

Zhao Yao was flying in the air and maintained a certain distance from Dragon. “You are a Star Cats apostle?” He looked at the raging waves below him and said jealously, “What a strong power.”

“Dragon, from Star Cats, ” Dragon said proudly. “Headless Horseman, if you stop here, we will let things go. Do not continue.”

Zhao Yao was taken aback and glared coldly. “Let it go?” He clenched his fist and roared loudly. “Looks like you haven’t figured out what’s the situation. I shall beat some sense into you.”

Dragon felt the danger radiating from Zhao Yao and was wary.

He was one of the best Marines in the army. Before he had joined the army, he was also an athlete swimmer. He fell in love with swimming because of his parents and had a special affinity with the sea. He started surfing at ten.

These experiences gave him strong physical capabilities and excellent swimming abilities. After the supercats awakened, he realized that he was very compatible with many powers.

He was the only apostle in Star Cats that could create a hundred meter tall tsunami.

As long as he was at the sea with his powers, he was fearless.

He had defeated countless people ever since he came to the base in the Pacific Ocean. He established his standing on the sea and because of him, many straits and navigation routes had become Star Cats' territory.

In front of the Headless Horseman, although Dragon was wary, he was not afraid. He stood up straight and said, "Headless Horseman, Star Cats is unwilling to start battles but it doesn't mean that we are afraid of battles. If you want to carry on like this, we will grant you your wish."

As they spoke, the waves raged around them. The thick water vapor rushed up to the extent where the sky started to turn gloomy. It was like a thunderstorm was about to occur.

The dark sea waters rose continuously. Soon they became 110 meters... 120 meters... 130 meters...

The golden glow on Zhao Yao was shining brighter and brighter. A chill were spreading outwards and with any contact with it, large amounts of sea water would freeze.

The atmosphere was so tense that everyone was on their toes. If both parties were to fight, especially with Dragon, who could control the ocean, it would be devastating. All the people around them would suffer.

The surrounding air was suffocating and as the water vapor gathered, the air was getting denser and concentrated.

When the fight was about to start, a phone rang.

Zhao Yao looked at Dragon and said, "Wait." He took out his phone and realized it was ruined. He shook his head and looked at his other phone which was connected to the cat web.

This phone was made by the Cat King of the North. It was shock proof and explosion proof. It was this phone that was ringing.

When he picked up, Uncle Ho spoke, "Zhao Yao! What are you doing? Don't engage with the Star Cats."

"They stole my cat and refuse to compensate."

"If you fight with them in international waters, it will start an international dispute. It is not worth it," Uncle Ho advised. "After all, Star Cats is a huge organization, the chances are low if you want them to pay up by threatening them."

"You want me to endure them?"

"No, not endure them... a strategic retreat," Uncle Ho said. "As long as you do not initiate the fight, they will not attack. Please, let this go. If you want compensation, we can give it to you."

"I do not want compensation from you." Zhao Yao turned his head and saw that a warship from his country had sailed over. Evidently, they had found Zhao Yao.

"You have already taught the people at Star Cats a lesson and captured one of their ships. Why are you insisting for compensation?"

Uncle Ho tried to discuss with him and offered many conditions. Finally, he managed to persuade Zhao Yao to agree.

Zhao Yao understood that it concerned the political situation of the two countries and did not wish to make a big deal out of it.

Zhao Yao took a glance at Dragon and said, "Count yourself lucky." Then, he turned and flew towards Aurora's ship.

Mango was still there.

When Dragon saw Zhao Yao walk away, he thought to himself, “Their high ranking officials decided to back off?” He couldn’t resist but to insult Zhao Yao when he felt like he had the upper hand. “Coward. Are all Chinese as useless as you?”

The crew members and apostles did not know what happened. They thought that Dragon had the upper hand and Headless Horseman was retreating. There was not going to be a fight and they cheered with excitement.

Zhao Yao’s ears twitched and jerked back. “What did you say?”

Dragon froze when Zhao Yao glared at him. But since his superiors ordered him to stand down, the Headless Horseman could not attack anymore. He smiled and said, “Cow...”

Bam! Before Dragon could finish, a palm appeared in front of him at a supersonic speed and stopped him from continuing.

Dragon’s eye grew wide open and he felt an immense pressure hit him in his mouth. The pressure rushed into his body and tried to tear him apart.

Bam! Dragon body was torn apart and it turned into water, merging with the tsunami under him.

Then, the tsunami raged further and formed a gigantic water giant. The giant was more than five meters tall and his body was covered in fish scales, there was even two gills on the side on his face. He roared at Zhao Yao.

Dragon, who had turned into the sea giant, not only had the power to control the oceans but his physical abilities were also enhanced drastically.

“So you want to fight?” Zhao Yao looked at Dragon and laughed coldly. “Let’s change locations.”

When Dragon heard that Zhao Yao was going to change locations, he yelled, “Headless Horseman, are you trying to escape?”

Zhao Yao shook his head. “You are the strongest in the sea, right? Then, I will fight you in the sea.”

Then, Zhao Yao attacked from a distance. A golden palm fell from the sky and slammed towards Dragon.

Everywhere which the palm came into contact with turned into ice. The sea was frozen too. Dragon became a gigantic ice statue.

Zhao Yao flashed and as the air blasted, he charged into the sea and split open the waves in front of him. He grabbed Dragon’s frozen head and descended downwards quickly.

“You want to fight me in the sea?” Dragon felt humiliated and as the ice shattered, he controlled the water around him. It wrapped around Zhao Yao with intense pressure.

“Headless Horseman, you shall die in the ocean today!”

Chapter 824: Beaten

The currents raged and countless water rushed in. Dragon controlled the water dragon to surrounded the both of them.

Before Dragon could be overjoyed, Zhao Yao’s hands ripped the water dragon apart. He punched Dragon’s head and slammed the water giant down.

Roar! Dragon felt a sharp pain on his head and yelled in anger. He waved his palm and water arrows were formed. They relied on the seas’s power and shot towards Zhao Yao.

Bam bam bam bam! Zhao Yao ignored the water arrows that were shooting across the water and came in front of Dragon to give him another punch.

Boom! Dragon’s head received another blow and he fell down.

He opened his mouth and spat out a gushing river. It rushed towards Zhao Yao with astonishing momentum. Then, Zhao Yao reached out his hand and the water turned into ice. Zhao Yao shattered the ice with his legs and shot out like a fish, punching Dragon in the head again.

Roar! Roar! Roar!

Dragon's head was busted. Blood flowed out and stained the entire area of water.

He activated his power in fury and all the waters around him started spinning. It soon became a whirlpool and sent Zhao Yao into the depths of the ocean.

“Headless Horseman, regret in hell!”

The raging waters surrounded Zhao Yao and the pressure from the sky dragged Zhao Yao towards the bottom of the ocean.

Then, as Time Freeze was activated, Zhao Yao appeared in front of Dragon again and punched his head.

Ahh!!! Dragon started attacking Zhao Yao frantically. Despite the violent situation under the water, on the surface of the water, the two ships were swept up by the waves and were shaking violently.

No matter how hard Dragon attacked and how much the oceans raged, Zhao Yao would to appear in front of him to punch him.

After the punches, Dragon's head was fractured, deformed, and filled with blood. His emotions turned from anger and rage to nervousness, fear, and sorrow...

There was another punch in the head and Dragon broke down. He stopped his attacks and raised up both his hands as he yelled, “I surrender! I surrender!”

His answer was another punch and his nose bone broke.

Dragon hugged onto his head and shouted, “Stop hitting! I admit defeat!”

“Admit defeat?” Zhao Yao punched again.

Dragon was rolling about in the water and used his hands to cover his head. “Yes, I admit defeat. I admit defeat!”

“Did I ask you to admit defeat?” Zhao Yao kicked Dragon’s head and shot him out into the ocean.

...

On the surface of the ocean, the raging waves had calmed down and the heavy clouds dispersed. The ocean returned to its calm state.

Everyone looked at each other. “The fight has ended?”

“Who won?”

“It must be Dragon! It is impossible for the Headless Horseman to beat him in the ocean.”

After several discussions, a black figure flew out from the ocean and landed on the warship’s deck.

They looked up and saw that it was a naked Dragon, who had resumed human form.

Dragon was naked, his face was swollen and there were words carved on his chest. “Weak Americans.”

An apostle rushed up and held Dragon. “Dragon! Are you okay?”

Dragon was hugging himself and shivering. He looked at the apostle who helped him up and said in despair. “Don’t touch the Headless Horseman.”

When he said that, another dark figure appeared. Everyone looked up and saw that Zhao Yao was towering over them. He said menacingly, “Don’t worry. I said that I would not kill him. I won’t; he isn’t even allowed to die.”

He flew back to Aurora's ship and came back halfway. "Tell your leaders no one can snatch my things. What is mine, will be mine. I will claim it back."

Mission: Get the Meteorite Fragments back

Mission Objective: Obtain all the Meteorite Fragments from Star Cats

Rewards: 8000 experience points

Punishment: None

Everyone on the ship looked at each in confusion. "Didn't he get his cat back already?"

"Did we take other things from him?"

"Did the superiors send another team to get it?"

Zhao Yao looked at the new mission and laughed, "The book is great. No wonder it is my power." Then, Zhao Yao's phone rang again. He was flying as he spoke. "Don't worry, it's nothing."

"How could I kill someone?"

"Don't worry. All we did was to go for a swim. Dragon and I came to a common consensus. We will live in peace."

As he spoke, he turned and threatened to kill the people on the warship with his hand.

He could let the people on the warship and Dragon go. But, he did not plan to let Aurora and the rest off. He descended upon the ship to their despair.

Aurora was in denial. "He defeated Dragon?"

Charlie was worried. "I heard that the supercats under Headless Horseman lived in living hell..."

The hawked nose man said with regret, "If I knew this would happen, I would have waited for retirement."

"Stop it. Don't make faces. Can't you guys smile? I won't eat you." Zhao Yao said.

When no one responded, Zhao Yao snapped his fingers and activated the illusion. "I said, can't you guys smile?"

A strong desire to go to the toilet arose. That moment, the fear of Mango's control took over their consciousness.

Aurora was the first to smile and she hugged onto her stomach as she smiled. "Stop it. I can't do this anymore." Aurora was filled with humiliation. "This devil!"

When he saw that they started to smile and there was a golden exclamation mark appearing on top of their heads.

Mission: Heal the injuries

Mission Objective: Let XXX's body recover

Reward: 10 experience points

Punishment: None

Zhao Yao nodded with satisfaction and said, "Remember, I control all your shit. I can let all of you die from diarrhea so all of you should cooperate with me. Or..."

The hawked nose man smiled. "Don't worry, Headless Horseman. We will definitely cooperate with you. Please deactivate the power."

"Okay. I shall help you with this." Zhao Yao deactivated the power and said, "Drive the ship back. Oh and clean it up. It is so dirty. I still want to sell the ship."

Chapter 825: Coming Home

After removing the threat of the superpower from their bodies and completing the mission, Zhao Yao finally smiled in satisfaction. “I should clear more missions on the way back. An insignificant mission is better than none at all.”

Everyone else dispersed and went back to work. Only Aurora stayed behind, looking at Zhao Yao with fawning eyes.

“I’m still quite confident about my looks.” Aurora brushed through her long hair as she stared at Zhao Yao. “Sir Headless Horseman, my stomach feels so painful. Can you come and check if there’s a problem with me?”

“Your stomach still hurts?” Zhao Yao was surprised. “That can’t be, I already removed the superpower.”

“But it’s really still painful.” Aurora pouted and whined. “Can you come and check me please?”

Zhao Yao paused for a moment. He observed Aurora for a moment. Aurora was elated as she thought, “Has my charm worked on him?”

Zhao Yao waved his hands as he said, “You should just go and change first. You’re really smelly and your butt is covered in blood. I feel uncomfortable even if you don’t.”

“Ah!!” Aurora screamed in humiliation and anger as she walked off.

Zhao Yao let out his breath. “She looks pretty decent but I’m not such an easy person.” He stroked his chin and muttered to himself, “But just touching her is harmless right? No, Zhao Yao, you are the Headless Horseman, the model of justice in Jianghai. You can’t leave any black spots on your name.”

Cheese, who had turned into the cloak, thought exasperatedly, “Why care about black spots when you’re turning into a black hole already...”

Under Zhao Yao's orders, everyone started cleaning the ship as it was steered back to Jianghai.

Once the ship arrived in Jianghai and the criminals handed over to Uncle Ho, Zhao Yao brought Mango back to the hospital.

After a round of inspection, there was found to be nothing wrong with Mango. Surprisingly, he was recovering well and in good health, and could even be discharged from the hospital at any time.

Zhao Yao stroked Mango's head and sighed, "Mango ah, Mango. What exactly is your superpower?"

Although he used Mango's power a couple of times, Zhao Yao was still unable to fully grasp the mechanisms behind his power. Afterall, he could only see part of its performance each time he used the power. Furthermore, Mango was a supercat with no intelligence, hence he could not communicate telepathically, making it more difficult to grasp the mechanisms behind his superpower.

Zhao Yao did think of signing a contract or letting other people borrow Mango's superpower. However, he was not sure if Mango's lack of intelligence was a side effect of his superpower so he did not dare to try it out so casually.

Especially after the explosive expulsion of superpowers during Mango's battle with Project X previously, where Zhao Yao gained a much deeper understanding of the dangers of Mango's ability.

"Mango's superpower still can't be used casually. It should only be used during critical moments."

Hence, after rescuing Mango, Zhao Yao brought him back to Cat Island. Thereafter, Zhao Yao decided not to let Mango out of Cat Island again unless it was necessary, not even to Cat Wonderland.

...

A few days later, in the headquarters of Star Cats in Maine, United States.

Shadows of nine cats appeared one by one on the huge screen.

Below the screen, Dragon was sitting on the chair, panic-stricken.

In the screen, a large shadow of a cat with considerably long fur asked, “Dragon, what exactly happened? How did the Headless Horseman defeat you in the vast sea?”

The moment Dragon heard the name ‘Headless Horseman’, fear flashed across his eyes, “We can’t touch him... The Headless Horseman can’t be touched.”

Another cat shadow bellowed, “What exactly are you scared of? What powers did the Headless Horseman use?”

Dragon sank into silence. He slowly said after a long pause, “He kept banging on my head.”

“Banging on your head?”

Dragon replied, “Maybe his superpower is being able to hit the target’s head under all circumstances.”

Silence fell. The voice of a small girl from a petite cat shadow broke the silence as she asked, “Is Dragon’s head permanently damaged?”

“Let’s run a test on him.”

“If it doesn’t work, read his memories.”

“We must find out what the Headless Horseman’s ability is.”

“No one should be allowed to belittle the Star Cats.”

“We show the Headless Horseman our prowess!”

“Look at all the posts on the Chinese Cat Web! The Headless Horseman’s actions are really bone-chilling.”

“How can such an evil being exist in this world?”

“This guy is a racist inside out, especially towards the supercat race. A person like that with such great superpowers seriously threatens the existence of us supercats.”

The supercats began discussing fervently about this and it ended up becoming a strong condemnation of the Headless Horseman mixed with feelings of righteous indignation.

...

In the office of the Cat Wonderland, Zhao Yao was looking at the intel sent over by Uncle Ho. It was about the Star Cats.

“The largest superpower organization in the United States, also the earliest superpower organisation that went against the government.” Zhao Yao stroked his chin and thought, “After receiving my monthly payout at the end of this month, I will be able add to the experience points earned from the previous month. Thereafter, I will make a trip to the United States and retrieve all the meteorite fragments there.”

“By then, I should become strong enough to defeat Project X in battle.”

When he thought of Project X, the thought of recovering the intelligence of Roly Poly and the other cats, as well as reviving Sphinx cat came to his mind.

By healing Roly Poly and the rest, as long as Zhao Yao’s powers surpassed that of Project X, he could easily defeat him.

However, judging from Project X’s words, reviving Sphinx cat would not be an easy task.

Even Project X himself did not have the ability to revive lives. His proposed solution was to find a supercat with revival abilities. He was referring to a supercat that should have actually died thousands of years ago.

Zhao Yao turned on his computer and stared silently at the world map, “Does it really exist... that cat...”

Right at that moment, knocks on the door rang in his ears. Zhao Yao called out, “Come in.”

Mr. Matcha, who was clad in a thick layer of cat clothing walked in. Kun Wu and Doll followed in his lead.

Zhao Yao was confused when he saw the thick clothing on Matcha. He asked, “Why are you wearing such thick clothing? You might get a heatstroke from that.”

Matcha was wearing a lion onesie which had a huge brown mane around the neck.

Hearing Zhao Yao’s words, Matcha replied, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao, don’t you think I look more majestic and imposing like this? Doesn’t this give you the feel of a lion prince? More female cats came to chat with me today.”

“Well, if it makes you happy.” Seeing the redness on Matcha’s nose, Zhao Yao could not help but remind him, “Drink more water. Don’t get a heatstroke.”

“Don’t worry. My body is top-notch, I will never get a heatstroke.” Matcha panted heavily with his tongue out as he strode out of the door. “Let’s not talk about that anymore. I need to go and show Elizabeth my new clothes, it will definitely give her a scare.”

Zhao Yao turned his gaze on Doll and Kun Wu and said, “How is it? Are you guys having fun working here?” As he said that he thought to himself, “Both of you suddenly came together to find me... Are you guys going to demand for higher pay? I must vehemently suppress such unhealthy practices and evil phenomena.”

Doll was nodding her head vigorously as Kun Wu said, “Zhao Yao, we do the same jobs as the others and eat the same things. Why are we restricted to stay in the Cat Wonderland dormitory while you guys can all go back to the Cat Island to rest. Do you not trust us?”

Doll immediately chimed in, “Yeah, do you not trust us?”

Chapter 826: Dreams and A Connection

“Yeah, do you not trust us?”

As Doll said that, he eyed Zhao Yao, trying to get his attention as he mouthed the words, “Don’t listen to her.”

Zhao Yao thought to himself, “Luckily they’re not asking for higher wages.” He smiled kindly at Kun Wu as he said in a gentle voice, “Why would I not trust you guys? We are one big family in Cat Wonderland. I regard every employee here as my family.”

“Ey,” Doll thought, “It’s starting. Zhao Yao’s hoodwinking her already, that guy’s true superpower...” He glanced at Kun Wu and thought, “Don’t ever believe his words, Doll.” After working in the Cat Wonderland for the past few days, Doll had seen enough of supercats falling into the hellhole of debt, working overtime, and working extremely hard at their jobs.

Kun Wu said to Zhao Yao, “Then why are we only allowed to stay in the dorm here. Why can’t we stay on the Cat Island?”

Zhao Yao replied, “So this is what you were thinking of Kun Wu?” He shook his head with disappointment. “Kun Wu, do you know why I let you work front-line at customer service right from the start when you came in?”

“No, why?”

Zhao Yao continued, “Kun Wu, do you know what I saw in your eyes the first time I laid eyes on you?”

Kun Wu asked curiously, “What?”

“Dreams. The first time I saw you, I knew you were a supercat that was willing to risk everything to chase your dreams.” Zhao Yao sighed. “I could sense the boundless potential in you.”

As he said that, Zhao Yao stood up and walked to the window. He narrowed his eyes slightly before he kicked at the wall harshly. The wall shook so hard that the supercat, Meat Bun, who was resting on top of the wall, dropped down as he shrieked in fright.

Meat Bun whipped out his phone and sent a message, “Bad news, Brother Airplane. I got found out eavesdropping on Zhao Yao and Kun Wu.”

After shocking away Meat Bun, Zhao Yao continued nonchalantly, “Kun Wu, I saw boundless potential in you. The only thing you lacked was an opportunity to shine and I can give you that platform to shine. Cat Wonderland allows you to develop yourself, train your ability, and make your dreams come true step by step. This is a chance for you to realize the true value of your supercat life.”

Kun Wu was astonished. “Zhao Yao actually thinks so highly of me?”

By the side, Doll watched Kun Wu’s expression nervously. However, he could not openly show his nervousness. Afterall, this feline robot was merely a robotic clone he controlled from afar and not his own, so he was totally unable to communicate telepathically with Kun Wu to remind her to be cautious.

Zhao Yao picked up Kun Wu and raised her above his head. He stared into her eyes and said, “That’s why I assigned a front-line job to you the moment you came in to work. I wanted to raise you through the ranks so that you would eventually dominate and lead Cat Wonderland and understand how the whole Cat Wonderland operates.”

“Eh? Is that really the case?” Kun Wu was dazed for a moment. “Zhao Yao actually had such real intentions behind his arrangement?”

Doll thought for a bit as well, “He made it sound so convincing.”

Zhao Yao lowered Kun Wu into his arms, cuddling her as he said, “Kun Wu, I know that living on the Cat Island is more comfortable than living in Cat Wonderland but is enjoying luxury at a young age what you really need?

Don’t keep thinking of seeking gain when you’re young. Think about what you can contribute first. At your age, gaining experience is much more invaluable compared to earning some quick money. Because once your ability upgrades and your experience increases, money will naturally come to your hands.”

Kun Wu thought to herself, “This kind of makes sense.”

Zhao Yao continued, “You’re around the same age as Elizabeth right? Do you know that her live stream tips totalled more than 10 000 dollars last month? You’re being left behind by cats of your age!”

“Ah!” Kun Wu was about to go crazy. “I’m only earning 10 dollars a day now! While Elizabeth is already earning so much? I feel so anxious suddenly!” Kun Wu started biting her own fur involuntarily.

Zhao Yao went on, “The biggest regret in life is not ‘not working hard enough’. It is, ‘you could have done that’.”

Kun Wu thought, “This suddenly became so deep!”

Zhao Yao added, “A supercat’s life without working overtime is incomplete!”

Kun Wu was stunned. “I didn’t know working overtime was so important!!”

Zhao Yao: “Don’t ask what your Boss can give you! Ask yourself what you can give your Boss!”

Kun Wu was alarmed. “I can’t give anything! What should I do!”

Zhao Yao stared into Kun Wu’s eyes and asked, “Kun Wu, now you want to happily go back to Cat Island with Matcha and the rest. But compare living a mundane supercat life there to one in the Cat Wonderland, training your abilities and becoming a better version of yourself to catch up to cats of the same age. Which would you choose?”

Kun Wu gritted her teeth. She really wanted to say that she would rather stay in the Cat Wonderland but at the thought of Project X, as well as the feeling in her body, she insisted, “Sorry, I… I still want to stay on Cat Island.”

As she said that, Kun Wu lowered her head, not daring to look Zhao Yao in the eye. She felt that she disappointed him.

Zhao Yao smoothed his shirt at the chest area. Sheriff, hidden beneath his clothes, told him telepathically, “Kun Wu still wants to go and see Project X. However, she doesn’t seem to know why she wants to either.”

Zhao Yao nodded and said to Kun Wu, “Since you want to go to the Cat Island so badly, you can, it’s not impossible. As long as you hit the top sales record for this month, I will trust that you will be able to withstand the temptations on the Cat Island and let you stay there.”

Kun Wu was elated. “Really?”

“Of course.” Zhao Yao stroked Kun Wu’s chin and said, “I believe in your talents. Topping the sales records is only the first step. There are much better positions waiting for you at Cat Wonderland.”

Kun Wu said, “Don’t worry, Zhao Yao, I will definitely work hard!”

Zhao Yao turned and looked at Doll at the side. To his surprise, Doll knelt to the ground and screamed, “Boss! I want to work overtime!”

Sheriff, hidden in Zhao Yao’s clothes, was not amused at all as he remarked, “Two idiots.”

After sending off Kun Wu and Doll, Zhao Yao recalled, “Project X and Kun Wu’s appearance do resemble each other in many ways. However, their abilities are worlds apart. Is that a coincidence? Or do they share a special relationship?”

Zhao Yao had already questioned Project X on similar topic but judging from Sheriff’s mind reading ability, Project X himself was unsure if he had any connection with Kun Wu. Project X was even uncertain about his own background. It was as if...

“As if they had amnesia,” Zhao Yao browsed through various information on supercats on the Cat Web. He thought to himself, “Meteorites awakened the superpowers in cats. Project X seemed to have come to Earth by riding on a meteorite, while Kun Wu transformed from a normal cat to one that resembles Project X. And that supercat with the revival ability...”

Zhao Yao felt that there was some sort of hidden connection amongst all these things. However, a part of the puzzle was still missing. This made it difficult to connect the leads to form a coherent picture.

Chapter 827: The Advertisement

“In any case, I should just focus on improving my skills. I shouldn’t let Kun Wu and Project X meet unless I’m very sure of my capability to overpower him, lest anything happens and spins out of my control.”

After making that decision, Zhao Yao opened the browser and started shopping online.

Zhao Yao saw rows of masks listed on the webpage, making him undecided on which to choose. He asked, “Sheriff, which one do you think looks better?”

Sheriff stuck his head out from Zhao Yao’s collar and thought to himself, “Does he want to be flattered again? This guy is so troublesome.” He revealed a flattering smile on his face and said sweetly, “Zhao Yao, you’ll look handsome in any mask.”

When Airplane saw the message from Meat Bun, he was shocked and immediately asked him to go into hiding for the time being while he began to panic in earnest.

“Matcha’s status has been rising continuously. I feel like I’m going to lose my post as the head of the Royal Cat Guards soon,” Airplane thought to himself. “I really want to know what Zhao Yao is thinking. But it seems like eavesdropping will be too difficult...”

As he thought about it, Airplane ran towards another part of the Cat Wonderland. From afar, he could see that on the sofa in the lounge, Matcha was rolling around in his lion onesie, meowing out loud.

Matcha said excitedly, “Elizabeth, look! Don’t I look really majestic now? And really imposing? Doesn’t this give off the feel of a lion?”

Elizabeth side-eyed him and said, “Idiot.”

Matcha laughed, “Are you jealous of my thick and sexy mane?”

Elizabeth pursed her lips and activated her power of illusion. Matcha immediately felt as if his mane was on fire as he started shrieking wildly and rolling around on the floor.

Airplane watched the scene before him silently. “I wanted to discuss with Matcha about this at first, but is there really a need to discuss anything with this guy? Forget it. Even if he takes over as the head of the Royal Cat Guards, I can still manipulate him right?”

With that thought, Airplane suddenly felt the burden on his shoulders lessen and instantly relaxed.

“I should go back to work. I’m really thinking too much.”

...

Half a day passed and Zhao Yao was still choosing a mask. He still had not found one that he really liked.

“This doesn’t make sense. Would a Headless Horseman with a mask still be called the Headless Horseman?” Zhao Yao pinched on his chin as he thought, “Is there a way to restore my reputation to its former glory?”

One by one, the abilities of the supercats flashed across Zhao Yao’s mind. Suddenly, his eyes lit up.

“Our vision is due to the reflection and refraction of light. If I can prevent the light rays from reflecting and refracting, maybe I can conceal myself.”

To accomplish that, the first power that came to Zhao Yao’s mind was the Deflective Field.

“Let’s set the deflecting target of the Deflective Field to light. Then...”

Zhao Yao covered his whole body with the Deflective Field before he tried to prevent light from reflecting and refracting away from his body.

After trying for half an hour, he was still unable to fully conceal himself, though his body was distorted into a weird shape as if he was staring at a distorting mirror.

Even then, Zhao Yao did not lose hope. In fact, he became more confident.

“This really changed visual perception. This proves that my train of thought is correct. As long as I can prevent light from reflecting off my bod and make it pass around my body like ripples, I will be able to conceal myself.”

However, the whole process was obviously not so simple. Given Zhao Yao’s current power of six cats, superhuman perception, reflex, calculation abilities, he was still unable to achieve this after training for one whole hour.

Hence, Zhao Yao decided to take a break before training again. He went on the Cat Web to search for more news of the location of the meteorite fragments.

Suddenly, an advertisement appeared.

“Are you still vexed over disobedient supercats?”

“Are you still racking your brains to plead him to lend you his abilities?”

“Are you still heartbroken over your supercats emptying out your bank account?”

“The Light of Dawn Supercats Training Academy will let your supercats become more obedient than dogs.”

When he saw this advertisement, Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up instantaneously. He immediately clicked on it and realized it was a video advertisement.

A woman opened the room door and saw a badly scratched sofa. Cat snacks were scattered all over and there was even some cat poop outside the toilet.

A chubby fat cat lay on the sofa, glancing at the female master with disdain.

“Mei Mei is a tabby cat I picked up from the streets three years ago. Around two years ago, she was still a smart and obedient who would come and bump me when I came back home from work.” The woman started crying as she said, “But after she awakened, everything changed. She refused to eat cat snacks, and insisted on eating whatever I was eating.

Once the cat toilet got slightly dirty she would shit right outside it.”

“Afterwards, I gave her my phone to play with so that she would stop making a fuss. Little did I know that things would spin out of control.” The woman sobbed uncontrollably. “She wants to snatch my phone from me to play with it everyday. After that she peeked at my PIN when I was sending money so that she could secretly top up more than 50k into her game. She even knew to cancel the message notifications from my bank.

One day, I wanted to withdraw money. That was when I realized there was only 3.60 dollars left in my bank account. I went to check my bank records before I realized she used all my money for her game boosters and even tipped a live stream host called Lizzie.”

Voice-over: “Then after you found out, did she apologize? Did you hit her?”

“Why would she apologize?” The woman sighed. “I really wanted to hit her, but I know that I’m no match for her. Even when I just pat her head she bares her teeth and snarls at me. She even used her superpower to make the cup on the table break into pieces.”

Voice-over: “Then what were you thinking of at that time?”

“Then I just thought that this cat was beyond redemption and that I couldn’t keep her as a pet anymore. But I couldn’t bear to ditch her. Afterall, I picked her up when she was just the size of my palm and raised her for so many years.”

Voice-over: “What happened afterwards?”

“After that, I told my best friend about this. They said I couldn’t continue raising my cat like this or else something worse would happen. She said she knew a cat trainer that was worth giving a try.”

The woman sighed. “At that time I had really lost all hope and couldn’t think of any other solution, so I decided to make a Hail Mary effort and give it a try.”

Voice-over: “Mei Mei is the classic evil cat who unleashes her tyranny at home and walks over her master. A family is about to break apart because of her and her owner is already at her wits’ end.”

“But just after a month, a miracle happened.”

The scene immediately changed into a happy one.

The owner was running in a field with Mei Mei tagging behind when a wolf suddenly appeared.

“Mei Mei, attack!”

“Dodge the attack, Mei Mei!”

“Use the Light of Death and Destruction!”

The video came to an end as a line of small words appeared on the screen, “Every cat lover can become a supercat trainer.”

Chapter 828: Y Academy

After watching the whole advertisement, Zhao Yao’s eyes were sparkling with delight.

However, Sheriff came out from his collar feeling unnerved. “D*mn, don’t tell me Zhao Yao is thinking of sending us to this dubious academy?”

“Hold up.” Sheriff read Zhao Yao’s thoughts carefully. His expression became weirder as he did.

“A supercat training school is such a brilliant idea.” Zhao Yao slapped the table excitedly. “Whose money is the easiest to earn now? Women, children and cats. The field of supercat education will become such a huge market.”

Sheriff paused for moment. “Are there really people who would send their supercats to be trained in a school?”

“Of course. The supercat population in Jianghai had already surpassed 10 000. Among them, more than 20 000 supercats are family pets, while the apostles that own them have mostly mastered the methods to earn money by borrowing the superpowers of their supercats. They might even receive funding from the government, so they will definitely not be poor.”

Zhao Yao spoke as if from experience, “Although supercats are intelligent, they lack social skills and experience. Coupled with their supernatural powers, if they are not properly trained, most of them will become small tyrants in their own right, beyond the control of their original masters.”

“So I have decided to open a supercat academy that specializes in helping others to educate and train their supercats, so that they can adapt to this society – understand its rules, mannerisms and thereafter, use their superpowers for a proper cause.”

Sheriff nodded in agreement. “Sounds just like Project X’s school for battle cops.”

“No, it’s totally different!” Zhao Yao said indignantly. “We’ll charge school fees and it will be really expensive.”

The more Zhao Yao thought about it, the more he felt that it was viable business. Especially with his reputation as the Headless Horseman. It would definitely attract many people to send their supercats for training and education.

“Whatever you lack, you should never lack education. Which supercat owner wouldn’t want their supercats to be obedient and earn money with their superpowers? A supercat school is definitely a lucrative business.”

“I have decided, the school will be built on the fifth floor of the Cat Wonderland. It will be named Jianghai School for Talented Cats and called Y Academy in short,” Zhao Yao thought. “Besides the original casino, massage parlour, beverage shops, and all other forms of entertainment, this will become another huge source of income for the Cat Wonderland. If 10 000 cats come to the cat school and we collect 10 000 school fees from each cat, that would amount to 100 million dollars. How many experience points would that give me at the end of the month then?”

Sheriff was silently feeling sorry for the supercats that were about to be enrolled into the academy. “You can only blame your bad fate for this...”

Very quickly, the news of the Headless Horseman starting a Y Academy spread through the whole of Jianghai. Everyone was curious as to what the academy would be like, especially if it, as the Headless Horseman had said, would magically educate and train supercats.

Of course, as much as there were humans who were curious about and supported the cause, there were also supercats who were strongly against it.

On the day of its opening, there were supercats that came to the Cat Wonderland and shat right at its entrance to protest against what they saw as a form of abuse towards supercats.

However, the five supercats that committed the act were caught on the day itself as Zhao Yao sniffed them out. They became the first batch of students to attend Y Academy.

...

Zhao Yao stroked his chin and observed the situation in Y Academy. He was vexed by the turnout. "What's going on? No one actually came to sign up. Is it because the advertisements were too little? Or is the telephone number wrong?"

He turned to Matcha and said, "Matcha, go check if the telephone number is written correctly."

Matcha checked and reported back, "It's correct."

"Then why is this happening?" Zhao Yao could not understand what was going on. However, right at that moment, his ears twitched as he heard something from the back of his head.

However, Zhao Yao did not move at all. Only the muscles on his body tensed up, before he started laughing coldly.

Not long after, an ear-splitting scream came from behind him.

Black Panther was clutching his right hand, feeling as if it was about to fracture.

He stared at Zhao Yao's kidneys and remarked in shock and amazement, "Teacher, your physique is really good."

“Heh heh.” Zhao Yao brushed it off. “Ever heard of iron kidneys?”

Seeing how Black Panther was trembling in pain, Zhao Yao asked, “Didn’t you go and help Uncle Ho and his men find the remains of King of Death? Why did you come back? Is there something wrong?”

Black Panther replied, “We can’t find any trace of King of Death at all. We don’t know where he went. I came here this time because I heard that you, teacher, had just opened a Y Academy. A friend of mine wants to sign up, so he wanted me to ask you if there were any discounts and to give him a tour of the the school as well.”

“Your friend wants to sign up?” Zhao Yao immediately broke into a smile. “We have standard package deals here, split into upper, middle, and lower profile deals. I personally recommend the middle profile package, ‘The Filial Grandson Shun Sun’ which can move the heavens. In just a month, I assure you, your supercat will be as close to your father as he is to you.”

“That expensive?” Black Panther sighed. “Is there a cheaper one?”

“Cheaper one?” The passion on Zhao Yao’s face immediately reduced by 99%. He continued nonchalantly, “There’s a ‘Happy Cat’ package, just 10 000 will do. It will teach the cat how to adjust to modern society and become a cat that won’t scratch, bite, or abuse their superpowers on other people, becoming a cultured cat that understands cat lovers.”

Black Panther asked, “Then can we have a tour around the school?”

Zhao Yao yawned as he was bored, “Matcha, show Black Panther around. I’m going to take an afternoon nap.” As he said that, he closed his eyes and slumped on the table to sleep. His body trembled slightly as he snored.

Matcha brought Black Panther up to the fifth floor of the Cat Wonderland with delight, “Hehe! This sale will be counted under my name!”

Once they entered the academy on the fifth floor, Matcha used his phone to introduce the place as he brought Black Panther around. “Our Y Academy is a legitimate supercat school. The teachers here have undergone strict training and are very experienced in teaching, adopting an international educational model...”

Black Panther interjected, “I heard that no students have enrolled here so far?”

“How is that possible!” Matcha jumped as if he was being stepped on his tail. He typed furiously on his phone as the voice recording spoke, “There are many supercats that have already enrolled at our school. I will show you if you don’t believe me.”

As he said that, he brought Black Panther deep into the heart of the Y Academy.

The first cats they saw were the cats, Rice Cake, Meat Bun, Airplane, Sausage, Cheese, and Kimchi. They sat on the field quietly. Elizabeth sat before them, holding a cat stick in her mouth.

Matcha introduced, “These students are having physical education lessons now. This part of our school has no wifi or internet connection, so the supercats that come in here will no longer feel like playing games after they graduate, even if they were addicted to games before this. They would prefer exercising with humans more.”

Black Panther nodded. He saw Elizabeth instructing the supercats before her, “Class, let’s play with the cat stick today.”

Rice Cake jumped with joy, “Great! I love playing with the cat stick!”

Airplane chirped, “Teacher! Let’s play with the cat stick together. It will be so fun!”

Cheese chirped, “It’s such a great day playing the cat stick with my sister!”

As Elizabeth threw out the cat stick, the supercats waved their paws lazily.

Black Panther frowned, “They don’t seem very excited about it?”

“How is that possible?” Matcha screamed. “How can they not be happy!”

Rice Cake and the other cats could be seen speeding up instantly from afar. They leapt at the cat stick fervently, wagging their tails as they played together with their ears cocked upright, as if they were really into it.

Me-ow!! All of a sudden, an agonizing scream split through the air.

Black Panther cocked his head to one side. “Why do I hear agonizing screams...” He stared at the room in the distance and saw the sign on it, “What’s that counselling room for?”

Matcha immediately ran up and shut the door as he said, “This is for the student and the psychologist to have deep conversations. Our Y Academy specially arranged for a psychologist with a rich cat life experience for students to talk to the teacher about their troubles and relieve their stress.”

In the counselling room, Uncle Egg was wearing a large white coat and pointing on the supercat’s body on the bed, “Do you still dare to shit wherever you like in the Cat Wonderland?”

As a bolt of lightning flashed and convulsed, the supercat lying on the bed immediately screamed, “No! No! I won’t ever dare to shit again!”

Chapter 829: Finish One Chapter

Black Panther looked at Rice Cake and the cats playing on the field, nodded, and felt very good.

Matcha waved as he walked towards Black Panther and punched on his cell phone which said, “Mr Panther, let’s proceed to the level below. We trained the students from young to have an international outlook and be multilingual. So we arranged for a foreign tutor for them to converse in a foreign language during the course of teaching.”

Black Panther’s eyes lit up as he asked, surprised, “Oh? You have a foreign tutor?”

“Yes.” Matcha said, “Once the supercats have learned foreign languages, they will be good translators for Zhao Yao. Besides superpowers, we are uncovering the supercats’ other potential.”

Black Panther nodded with satisfaction as he felt this was fantastic. He followed Matcha to the outside of a classroom and saw Fish Ball, Cannon, and Lightning sitting and staring at the blackboard obediently.

Noodle stood in front of the cats and barked non-stop. Fish Ball and the rest of the cats followed the barking.

Black Panther was astonished and said, "Is he the foreign tutor? A husky?"

Matcha nodded and said, "Yes, the husky was a superdog tutor hired from Alaska. His nationality and race are so uniquely different. He is indeed the best of all foreign tutors."

Black Panther asked hesitantly, "Superdog? What's he teaching?"

"He's teaching dog language." Matcha said, "The structure of a cat allows us to make hundreds of different sounds. Foreign languages are a piece of cake to us."

Black Panther nodded and said, "Awesome."

Seeing Black Panther nod with satisfaction, Matcha felt happy and thought that he was going to make the deal. He brought Black Panther to the canteen.

They saw Midnight struggling to prepare cat meals in the kitchen.

Midnight said, "Zhao Yao's a b*stard to make the three of us help out with the buffet. Now he makes me prepare cat meals while Lang Gou and his buddy help out at the buffet. He is squeezing us dry."

Matcha explained, "Our school is isolated from the outside world and disconnected from the internet 24 hours per day, 7 days a week. The food that the cats eat is selected personally by Zhao Yao and according to American ANC animal feeding standards. This happy cat meal ensures a healthy body, beautiful fur, improved intelligence, and elevated superpower."

Black Panther nodded and Matcha asked, "How's it Mr Panther? Do you want to sign up today? Let me check the sign up list..."

Matcha pretended to look at his cell phone, "Woah! There's only a single spot left!"

He looked anxiously at Black Panther and typed furiously on his cell phone that said, “Mr Panther, I am not bragging but you have witnessed the amazing facilities, curriculum, and tutors which makes us the Stanford of cat education and the Ivy League of China. There’s only one spot left and it will be extremely popular.”

Black Panther frowned and said, “This is a private school. Let’s not discuss the standards of the education. Is the graduation certificate recognized outside?”

“You are smart! You had hit the nail on the head,” Matcha said. “Please take a look here...”

Matcha brought Black Panther to a large wall with a gigantic name register. Zhao Yao, the Headless Horseman, appeared at the top of the list.

“All the cat scholars who graduated from our college Y will become the disciples of the Headless Horseman. I don’t have to remind you of the Headless Horseman’s fame in Jianghai, do I?”

Matcha meowed excitedly, “A disciple of the Headless Horseman can do what he wants in Jianghai.

When you buy cat beans and don’t pay, nobody’ll dare to say a word. What we want is a domineering and confident attitude. Don’t you agree that this certificate is invaluable?

I work here every day. I would like to stay here, study and pave way for my future.”

“Hmm...” Black Panther was tempted and scratched his head in embarrassment. He hesitated and said, “The 10,000 dollars in fees... could they be cheaper?”

Matcha frowned with scorn and his ears drooped as he said, “Sorry, our college is the Ivy League of China. The stated fee is already the lowest. If you find it expensive, go through the entrance, turn left and walk for 500 meters. There is a pet shop that provides foster care for 20 dollars a day. You can get a graduation certificate too.”

Black Panther gritted his teeth and hesitated.

Matcha furrowed his brows and cleared his throat loudly. An orange cat scurried from a distance and knocked into Matcha’s stomach.

Matcha introduced Milk Tea to Black Panther, “This is one of our graduates, Milk Tea. Do you feel a difference in our graduated supercat?”

Black Panther looked at Milk Tea, who widened his eyes, rubbed against Black Panther, sat down obediently beside him and hugged his leg happily.

Black Panther was shocked and thought, “This cat is very obedient!”

Milk Tea climbed up Black Panther’s pants to his shoulders and pressed his paw on Black Panther’s shoulders.

Matcha was at the side, using his cell phone to translate, “He said you looked tired, so he is helping you massage your shoulders.”

Black Panther was moved as he recalled his cat, who would only ask for money. Milk Tea had only met him the first time and massaged his shoulders so Black Panther could not resist caressing Milk Tea’s head. “You are so obedient.”

Seeing Milk Tea rub his palm, Black Panther ground his teeth, stamped his feet, and said, “Okay, reserve one slot for me.”

Matcha was exhilarated. At a nearby corner, Fish Ball, Elizabeth, Lightning, Rice Cake... popped their heads out to spy on Matcha and Black Panther.

Elizabeth said, “When Matcha is swindling people, his intelligence is extremely high.”

Fish Ball spat out his tongue and said, “He’s followed Zhao Yao since he was young. He must have learned it from Zhao Yao.”

Rice Cake showed her tired face and said, “Finally, we have an official student. Do we still have to carry on acting?”

Zhao Yao nodded when he saw the done deal. Looking at Matcha approach him, he said, “Not bad Matcha, you have grown up during this period.”

“Of course, I am no longer the silly cat who resorts to violence.” Matcha puffed up his chest and looked at Zhao Yao as he said, “Don’t worry Zhao Yao, this is only the beginning! There will be more and more students in college Y. I have planned a new batch of advertisements, however, the expenses...”

“You shall report the expenses to me. As long as it is reasonable, I will support you. Matcha, do your best.” Zhao Yao looked at Matcha leave excitedly and pinched his brow chakra as he thought, “Matcha preferred swindling to fighting... he loves making money and entrepreneurship. Perhaps he is more suited to business than fighting.”

“Did you mention swindling just now?” Sheriff curled up in Zhao Yao’s clothing and thought, “Hmm... how many innocent cats are going to be swindled this time?”

Chapter 830: Level Up!

In the following month, Zhao Yao completed missions everyday and managed Cat Wonderland. College Y, under Matcha’s active promotion, gained considerable prestige and enrolled dozens of students. For a local Jianghai cat, it was tempting to be a disciple of the Headless Horseman as they would feel more empowered in a fight.

This income paled in comparison to Zhao Yao’s assets but they helped earn valuable experience points.

A month passed by very fast. During this uneventful period, Zhao Yao earned a considerable amount of experience points.

End of month summary:

For Cat Wonderland’s account, after deducting costs, the month’s profit was 6 276 541 dollars and Zhao Yao could earn 12 500 experience points and start the next month’s missions.

Zhao Yao smiled as he thought about Cat Wonderland’s burgeoning fame, the expanding plethora of food and entertainment in the Wonderland and college Y’s income. This month’s profit had increased.

Zhao Yao pressed on the mission panel and obtained 25 000 experience points.

Adding up the experience points earned from completing missions and providing cat meals, the mission panel showed:

BOOK: Level 7 (62077/50000)

Matcha: Level 8 (10810/50000)

Elizabeth: Level 9 (5600/100000)

Dust Ball: Level 9 (4900/100000)

Ares: Level 8 (4900/50000)

Lucifer: Level 7 (5000/20000)

Sphinx Cat: Level 7 (5000/20000)

Catherine: Level 6 (3000/10000)

“Hmm, Dust Ball and Elizabeth are headed for level 10, so it is difficult for them to upgrade as the experience points required is large.” Zhao Yao frowned and said, “Sphinx cat is unable to upgrade leaving only Matcha, Ares, Lucifer, and Catherine. Who should I upgrade?”

Zhao Yao started thinking though he had considered many times this month. He was unable to make a decision as he did not know what special skills would appear after upgrading a level.

“The guiding principle for a level upgrade is survivability.” This was the lesson he had learnt after Zhao Yao fought against Project X.

“As long as he is able to survive, he will have the chance to defeat the opponent. A standing DPS (Damage per second) is a hero.”

Zhao Yao scanned through the names of the supercats and thought, “The ones with the highest survivability are Matcha and Lucifer. Catherine is also a suitable candidate. Should I upgrade one level? Or contract another cat?”

Zhao Yao shook his head. “My experience points are insufficient. If I upgrade a cat, then contract a cat, the level upgrade is limited and strength is low.”

Zhao Yao gazed towards Matcha, Lucifer, and Catherine as he pondered.

“Catherine is the best choice as her level is low, she will upgrade faster, gain more skills, and the upgrade will be more significant. The remaining experience points can be used to upgrade Lucifer.”

Zhao Yao awarded Catherine experience points and she was upgraded two levels to level 8. Another 15 000 experience points were given to Lucifer, who was upgraded one level to Level 8.

After upgrading the two cats, Zhao Yao happily opened up Catherine’s skill tree to see the new abilities.

Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up and he chose very quickly.

The first one was Dual Mode Transmission. Catherine’s Sleep Medusa was upgraded to transmit by both visual and audio cues. Besides looking at her, anyone hearing her voice would fall asleep and wake up in terror.

Zhao Yao saw that after two more level upgrades in the future, people who saw Catherine via video or thought about her would fall asleep. That would be a powerful ability to have.

The second skill was Doubling Duration. Once the Sleep Medusa was activated, within a day, the duration of the sleep and terror state of the consecutive exposure would be doubled.

Catherine was at Level 8. The affected victims would sleep for 8 seconds, followed by 8 seconds of waking up in terror. The second exposure would cause 16 seconds of effects while the third exposure would result in 32 seconds of effects.

“Not bad, whether people see or hear Catherine, they will fall asleep and wake up in terror.” Zhao Yao nodded with satisfaction. “Repeated exposures will result in doubling of the effects duration. This is a good superpower.”

Without special equipment and support of superpowers, his enemies would have to shut off the eyes and ears when fighting with Zhao Yao. That would severely handicap his enemies.

After upgrading Catherine’s superpower, Zhao Yao looked at the Level 8 Lucifer.

He chose Advanced King of Death: When constitution dropped below 15%, the regeneration rate would increase 100 times for 10 minutes and the cooling down period was six hours.

“The constitution level has risen from 10% to 15%, the duration from 6 minutes to 10 minutes, the cooling down period from 12 hours to 6 hours. Not bad, my survivability is getting stronger.”

Zhao Yao was very pleased with the newly acquired skills and turned his attention to the catmint market account.

The Dust Ball catmint had taken 57% share of the market and it provided Zhao Yao 57 lottery chances.

“Pretty impressive, 57 lottery chances. Will I get lucky?”

Zhao Yao washed his hands, got hold of Red Packet and pinched him very hard.

Red Packet frowned and thought, “Why am I being pinched by Zhao Yao at the end of every month?”

After pinching Red Packet, Zhao Yao felt extremely lucky. He closed his eyes and used up 10 lottery chances.

Experience points, experience points, experience points, one packet of Spicy Cat Strips (10 strips), Cat Prince Costume Fragments...

Zhao Yao inspected his goodies and did not discover anything special. He sighed and used up all remaining 47 lottery chances.

“Experience points... experience points... experience points... Spicy Cat Strips... fragments...”

In the next instant, Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up.

“Huh? Dragon Slaying Saber?”

Having drawn the Dragon Slaying Saber, Zhao Yao was very excited. The name sounded like a special weapon but he did not know the superpower of the blade.

He accumulated more than a thousand experience points, more than ten packets of Spicy Cat Strips, eight Cat Prince Costume Fragments and the Dragon Slaying Saber.

“Cat Prince Costume Fragments (19/80)... I can wear it in a few months.” Zhao Yao felt wonderful as he looked at his goodies. “I have lots of Spicy Cat Strips and this Dragon Slaying Saber.”

After rubbing his hands, Zhao Yao selected the saber and his palm emitted white mists. A solid gold saber, which was carved with numerous dragon motifs and exuded splendor and an imposing aura, appeared in his hands.

“This Dragon Slaying Saber...” Zhao Yao’s thumbs squeezed on the handle and thought, “Isn’t it small?”

The Dragon Slaying Saber was only as large as a toothpick.
