Chapter 831: Dragon Slaying Saber's Instant Delivery

“What’s the use of this saber?” Zhao Yao felt the message sent by BOOK and he wanted to understand the use of the toothpick-sized saber.

“After an attack by the Dragon Slaying Sabre, the blade will do a verification. Those who fail the verification are not be able to use their superpowers for ten seconds.”

“Oh!” Zhao Yao laughed heartily. “This superpower is very useful and is able to stop superpowers for ten seconds.”

With Zhao Yao’s current combat strength, if his enemies’ superpowers were stopped for ten seconds, they were as good as dead.

“What’s a Dragon Slaying verification?” Zhao Yao thought. “Do I have to slay a dragon?”

Zhao Yao decided to test it as he could not figure it out.

“Anyway, it is just the stopping of a superpower...” Zhao Yao wanted to cut himself with the saber but he had another idea and looked at Red Packet who was in his arms.

“Anyway, it’s just stopping a superpower...”

Zhao Yao gently pricked Red Packet’s buttocks with the toothpick-sized Dragon Slaying Saber.

“Red Packet?” Zhao Yao looked at Red Packet and asked, “What feelings do you have?”

“What feelings?”

Zhao Yao felt puzzled. “Was I too gentle?” After pondering, he jabbed harder on Red Packet.

Red Packet jumped from his arms and exclaimed, “You jabbed my buttocks...”

Without finishing his words, Red Packet lost his consciousness and his vision became dark. He discovered he was in the middle of a white and clean room.

A group of people, who were wearing surgical masks, surrounded him. He wanted to move but his limbs were bounded as he laid on a table.

Seeing the masked strangers about to touch him, Red Packet shouted angrily, “Hey! What’re you doing? Where’s Zhao Yao?”

“Zhao Yao! Save me!”

He was terrified when a masked man took out a surgery knife and slashed repeatedly at the bottom part of his body, which felt cold. The masked man operated on his family jewels.

“No!”

He screamed in pain. When he recovered, he was sprawled on the ground and his two testicles were thrown in front of him. A man stomped on his testicles.

“My testicles! Those are my testicles!”

“Don’t step! Don’t step on my testicles!”

A squishing sound was heard as a large leg stomped on the testicles. Red Packet broke down. He lifted his head and wailed, “Ah!!!”

In reality, Zhao Yao observed that Red Packet was stunned and he fell to the ground with an expression of hopelessness.

Zhao Yao asked curiously, “Red Packet? How are you? Do you have any special feelings?”

Red Packet did not respond as tears flowed from his eyes.

Zhao Yao was anxious and shook Red Packet's body as he said, "What happened, Red Packet? Red Packet?"

Red Packet recovered from his daze and immediately lifted up his leg. After checking the bottom part of his body, he heaved in relief.

"They are still intact... intact..."

He leaned forward and licked his body joyfully.

Zhao Yao was puzzled and asked, "Red Packet, what happened?"

Red Packet told Zhao Yao about the things that happened. Zhao Yao looked in shock at the Dragon Slaying Saber in his hand. "This is indeed a Dragon Slaying Saber! Fortunately, I didn't test it myself."

Seeing Zhao Yao's gaze fixed on him, Red Packet jumped back in fright and said anxiously, "Zhao Yao! What are you going to do?"

"Nothing, nothing." Zhao Yao smiled. He was not going to test on Red Packet as his superpower was not obvious. He wanted a target with an obvious superpower for the experiment.

Half an hour later, Zhao Yao held the Dragon Slaying Saber in his hand, looked to the sky and laughed wildly. "Dragon Slaying Saber... the one blade to rule the world. Who dares defy it?"

Behind Zhao Yao, Matcha, Elizabeth, Fish Ball, Lucifer, and Mango fell to the ground with expressions of hopelessness, their eyes welling up with tears.

Matcha crawled around on the ground shouting, "Where are my testicles? Where did my testicles go to? Who saw my testicles?"

Fish Ball laid on the ground and wailed, "I must have sinned!"

"Tomcats and female cats are all affected by the Dragon Slaying Saber!" Zhao Yao said excitedly. "If they are not verified by the saber, they will break down and pass out. Their superpowers will be stopped for ten seconds. Even Mango cannot hold against it."

Zhao Yao indulged in the magnificence of the saber as he touched the blade, "Fine blade... a very good blade. I wonder if Project X's able to hold against the Dragon Slaying verification."

Zhao Yao shook his head. Project X was different from the fat and cushy Matcha, Fish Ball, and the rest. Project X was a battle-hardened warrior and it was hard to determine if he would pass the verification. Zhao Yao was not willing to test Project X in the Extradimensional Belly.

"It is important for me to be strong." Zhao Yao's happy mood was doused. He strung up the saber like a necklace and wore it around his neck. "My precious..."

With the Dragon Slaying Saber, Zhao Yao felt more confident about his trip to the United States.

After bidding farewell to Bai Quan and Zhao Xue and letting them take care of Cat Wonderland, Zhao Yao left in three days. He turned into a black dot and disappeared into the sky above Jianghai.

...

United States, California.

At the coastline along Highway 66, Zhao Yao stepped gently on the beach. He looked at the endless sea and thought, "The beach is nicer than Jianghai's."

He looked around and it was a scorching summer. Everywhere on the beach were foreigners wearing swimming trunks and costumes. Zhao Yao was eyeing the young women and was astonished by the various shapes and sizes of their figures.

"These girls are well fed by the capitalist's sugar-rich diet."

Zhao Yao gazed at the surrounding beach-goers and they returned the same curious stares.

As Zhao Yao was wearing a black robe that covered his whole body at the beach on a hot summer day, he was looking very weird.

A young woman walked up to Zhao Yao and asked him in English, “Hey, what are you doing? Aren’t you afraid of getting heat stroke by wearing a robe?”

Zhao Yao did not reply. “I came all the way to the United States not to chat with young, pretty and big breasted woman.” He shifted his body slightly and flashed to a distance of several hundred meters.

The beach-goers screamed in shock. They looked around but did not find Zhao Yao and thought he was a ghost.

The young woman who approached Zhao Yao shouted excitedly, “Apostle! That was an apostle!” She turned and shouted to her classmate, “Michael, I told you apostles are real. Do you believe me now?”

Zhao Yao traveled in high speed and arrived at the nearby city.

The supercats underneath the black robe felt dizzy. Elizabeth shouted, “Slow down! Zhao Yao! We are going to vomit if you continue to run so fast.”

“Okay, okay.” Zhao Yao gradually slowed down and walked on the sidewalk. “Let me look for the Star Cats.”

Chapter 832: Inquiry

Zhao Yao came to the United States while Uncle Ho and the rest were in the dark. He did not have the Star Cats’ intelligence. To find them in this large country, he had to be smart.

“Look for the United States supernatural realm, then look for Star Cats’ clues.”

Zhao Yao decided to find a few American supercats or apostles and so he had to look for cats first.

Zhao Yao sniffed the air as he walked along in search of the scent of cats.

His eyes lit up and he followed the scent of the cats at high speed. Soon, he arrived at a two-storey house.

California was a large state with a relatively small population. As it was on the earthquake belt, most of the buildings were not high. As compared to the densely populated New York, Californians were living in two-storey houses with lawns and gardens.

Zhao Yao detected strong cat scents coming from the house.

“There are so many cats which is not logical. The supercats must be up to something.”

Zhao Yao focused and a Deflective Field engulfed his entire body and blocked out his reflection and refraction. His figure disappeared into thin air.

Using the Deflective Field to hide himself was Zhao Yao’s own improvisation so it was far inferior to Roly Poly’s natural and powerful invisibility.

Although Zhao Yao’s figure was hidden, if someone looked carefully at him, they would see a transparent figure.

It was sufficient to enter the house discreetly. Zhao Yao moved across the lawn and arrived at a window on the second level. His palm moved and the window flew open. He swam like a fish into the building.

Zhao Yao was overwhelmed by a strong catmint smell.

Dust Ball came out from his arms excitedly and sniffed the air as she said, “This is a catmint smell. The fragrance and purity... is this from Mexico?”

Zhao Yao pushed Dust Ball’s head back inside the cloak. His ears quivered as he heard numerous breaths. He followed the sounds to the stairway and extended his head to observe.

In the living room on the first floor, countless American cats laid on the sofa, floor, window sill, bar counter, and television. Some were chatting, eating and sniffing the catmint by their side. All were indulging in their enjoyment.

“Is this their happy hour?” Zhao Yao blinked his eyes and thought, “Let me ask them if they know about the Star Cats.”

Underneath the cloak, all supercats were bored except for Dust Ball. She looked energetically at Zhao Yao and shouted, “Let me go! Let me go! Let me find out about the Star Cats, Zhao Yao!”

Zhao Yao frowned. Dust Ball would mess up his plan because of her interest in catmint. How could he let her go? He decided to send Elizabeth to chat with the foreign cats.

Elizabeth descended the stairs and interacted with them. It was a neighborhood gathering and she blended very well with the locals because of her sweet looks and glamorous fur.

A few female cats surrounded Elizabeth and chatted non-stop.

A female British Shorthair asked, “Elizabeth! Your fur looks very white and shiny. What brand of cosmetic fur powder are you using?”

“Cosmetic fur powder?” Elizabeth was shocked and said, “Is there such a thing? I haven’t used it.”

The female cats cursed to themselves when they heard Elizabeth’s response. They enthusiastically asked, “What kind of vitamins do you take? Do you take lecithin?”

Elizabeth chatted casually with the female cats until she got a chance to ask, “Do you know about the Star Cats?”

“Star Cats?” The British Shorthair, who asked about the cosmetic fur powder, said, “Of course! Everyone in the States knows about the Star Cats. Because of their stand against the government, we were spared from being dissected in laboratories.”

Another American Shorthair said, “Yes, yes. The Star Cats are amazing. I wanted to join but they said my superpower was too weak so I was excluded.”

The British Shorthair asked curiously, “What’s your superpower?”

The American Shorthair said, “I can go without using the bathroom.”

“What?”

“I can go without the bathroom perpetually.” The American Shorthair explained, “I don’t know where this comes from. No matter how much I eat or drink, I can go without the bathroom forever.”

The British Shorthair said, “Is that an illness? Perhaps constipation? Or enterolith?”

The American Shorthair said angrily, “I said that was my superpower.”

The British Shorthair insisted, “If you’re unable to go to the bathroom, it’s an illness.”

Zhao Yao was piqued as he looked at the American Shorthair. “I’m envious of this superpower. It’s convenient not having to go to the bathroom. This is a great leap forward for the supernatural realm. I’ll ask the cat later if she has a home. If she’s a stray cat...”

Zhao Yao was greatly tempted. The more he thought, the happier he felt. “If I contract this cat for her superpower, I’ll be a couch potato for the whole day and drink a carton of coke without the need to use the bathroom. I’ll eat the chafing dish without worrying about piles... no, I’ll lie down on the bed forever...”

Seeing the two cats about to fight, Elizabeth quickly interjected, “I’d like to join the Star Cats. How do I join them? Do you know where they are?”

“The Star Cats have representatives in many cities. The one nearest here...”

“Isn’t Arthas in Beverly Hills?”

“Yes, yes. Wah, Arthas is very charming!”

“He’s very nice! Last I saw him at the South Coast Plaza, we took a selfie! He looks better in real life than on television and doesn’t put on airs.”

“Really?”

Seeing the female cats chatting happily, Elizabeth rolled her eyes. After obtaining the required information, she went upstairs to inform Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao furrowed his brows in surprise. “Arthas? Beverly Hills? The tone of these supercats... I don’t think so...”

The internet had connected the whole world but due to language and some mysterious reasons, there was no free flow of information between China and the United States. A lot of high profile American news was unheard of in China.

If one was to look seriously for the news, they would be able to find it but how many people search for information that they do not know about.

Zhao Yao had always thought of the American supernatural realm as similar to China’s. However, the supercats’ chat revealed that it was very different.

Chapter 833: Country’s Situation

Realizing that the country’s situation was very different, Zhao Yao decided to check the American internet.

As he came out of China illegally, he did not apply for international roaming. Fortunately, he found a notebook computer that was left opened without access code. He browsed the internet to look for news on the American supernatural realm.

He was overjoyed as the information on supercats and apostles were much more than he expected.

In China, supercats news were relegated to minor news.

The American government did not acknowledge superpowers, however, news was not prohibited. During the year of the Awakening, the Star Cats fought against the Army. Then Project X fought against the military. All this supercat news was rampant on the internet.

Various social media websites, live stream, and video platforms were filled with countless information about supercats.

In China, supercats were urban legends. Commoners heard of supercats, half of them had seen one and only a small portion knew very well.

The American public was aware of supercat news but a majority did not believe such news. Only a small portion chose to believe.

Many supercats became internet sensations by using their superpower and good looks to garner more fame and resources.

A portion of the Americans thought that supercats were the gimmicks of the Hollywood industry, supported by their teams of celebrity cats.

Some Americans believed that supercats were new age cults, which were bluffing.

Some Americans witnessed superpowers and strongly believed in their existence. This was the largest growing group.

Humans only believed in what they saw or what they chose to believe. A large portion of the people saw videos of supercats. However, the supercats were out of their understanding, hence they were suspicious of supercats.

Zhao Yao understood that supercats news were more developed in American society as compared to China's.

A lot of supercats had assimilated into American society. As the numbers increased, it created a greater acceptance of them in society. Months, perhaps a year later, the general public would officially acknowledge supercats' existence and they would be part of the American society.

The winds of change would blow across the globe. Supercats' status in China would change drastically and it was anybody's guess what Uncle Ho and the government planned to do.

“It shouldn't be much of a problem. The integration of the Chinese supercats was not as fast as the American supercats but many Chinese people were aware of the supercats. Even if the government officially acknowledges supercats, it shouldn't cause much upheaval.”

Since the Awakening of superpowers, Zhao Yao understood that news concerning supercats had gradually filled the minds of the people. A majority of the people on Earth were prepared for the acceptance of supercats so it wouldn't cause much disturbance.

An advanced city like Los Angeles had a lot of strong believers of supercats.

Arthas, who was mentioned by a few female cats, was the internet sensation that lived in Beverly Hills. He was one of the nine pioneers of the Star Cats.

Mission: Kidnap Celebrity Cat

Mission Objective: Kidnap one of the nine pioneers of Star Cats, Arthas

Reward: A successful kidnap is worth 5000 experience points.

Punishment: None

Seeing the new mission, Zhao Yao could not help smile. “This is a godsend. Let's look for him but before that...”

The invisible Zhao Yao went down the stairs like a stream of green smoke. He came to the back of an American Shorthair and pulled her into his cloak. Then he left the house stealthily.

The American Shorthair saw darkness and felt a powerful force. Then she came to a pitch dark location. As she was about to scream, she discovered furry bodies around her and pairs of eyes leering at her.

The American Shorthair panicked and quickly pleaded, “Who are you? I don’t have a master. Nobody will pay to redeem me. My superpower is going without using the bathroom. It is useless to capture me.”

“I heard you!” Ares looked at the surrounding supercats and said, “Everyone, if there are no objections, I’ll interrogate her.”

For the trip to America, as Roly Poly lost his intelligence and Matcha was not suited to mixed fighting, so they were not brought along with Zhao Yao. The cats with the highest authority were Elizabeth and Ares.

Elizabeth nodded and said, “As you wish.”

Ares looked at the American Shorthair and asked, “What’s your name, female cat?”

The American Shorthair said, “I’m Mary.”

Ares consoled her and said, “Mary, don’t be afraid, we won’t harm you. It’s good news. Do you know the Headless Horseman?”

Mary shook her head. “I don’t know him.”

Ares sighed as she was unaware of the famous Jianghai’s Headless Horseman.

Ares said, “The Headless Horseman’s our boss, who owns a few hundred supercats. He’s the biggest supernatural force in Jianghai. Do you want to join us?”

“Gang membership?” Mary was terrified. “I’m only an ordinary supercat. I don’t mix with gang members. Please let me go.”

“We’re not gang members,” Ares said, exasperated. “We’re doing business in entertainment and our boss has a huge Jianghai mall worth billions of dollars. Profit every month is about a few million.”

Mary asked warily, “Are you sure?”

“Of course.” Ares thought for a while and activated his Deflective Field to get his cell phone from his bag. He browsed the photographs in the cell phone to show to Mary.

Mary looked at photographs showing rows of luxurious rooms, casino tables, grand restaurants, cinemas, main hall and asked suspiciously, “Are they yours?”

Zhao Yao put a stack of US dollars into his cloak and shoved them into Mary’s mouth.

“Don’t say anymore. This is your salary for this month. Is it enough?”

“Enough, Enough.” Mary quickly nodded when she saw the US dollars in her mouth as she was afraid that Zhao might regret his decision. “Why don’t you pay me for a few months?”

Zhao Yao said to Ares and the cats telepathically, “Did you see that? You can’t reason with these capitalists. Just throw money at them. They will do anything for money.”

Ares frowned and thought, “As if the cats in Cat Wonderland weren’t greedy for money as well.”

After employing Mary, Zhao Yao bolted towards Beverly Hills. Due to his astonishing speed, distorted light rays surrounded his body making him look like a spirit. He arrived at the Beverly Hills in a short time.

Chapter 834: Arthas and the Banquet

Los Angeles was made up of a cluster of hundreds of districts. It was different from central cities like that of New York and Jianghai. Los Angeles was like a pizza. The residents here settled in the various districts based on differences in race, culture, religion, and income.

Beverly Hills was one of the most famous districts in Los Angeles. Many billionaires, Hollywood stars and sports celebrities lived in the area. The area also boasted the most upscale, high-end brands on its commercial streets as well as many mansions. It was truly an affluent district.

Zhao Yao arrived at Beverly Hills with the intention to trace down Arthas, the master cat behind Star Cats.

However, Beverly Hills was not a small area. Some skill was still needed to find a cat here.

Zhao Yao asked Mary, who was hidden under the cloak, "Where does Arthas live?"

Mary replied, "I don't know."

Ares gave Mary a tight slap on her face, "Didn't you say you were his fan?"

Mary clutched her head and said pitifully, "Everyone was talking about him then, I just went along without knowing anything."

"You!!" Ares was so angry his tail shot straight out as he slapped her head again.

After a few slaps, Lucifer stopped Ares halfway and interjected, "Brother, stop hitting her. If you continue hitting her she will die. You can hit me instead."

Seeing Lucifer's expression, Ares retracted his paw with a look of disdain on his face. "How did you become like this?"

Lightning said, "Mary, quick say where Arthas lives. Ares will only hit you when he's angry but if our Boss gets angry, you won't get away with just a beating." He smiled viciously right after saying that.

Looking at the Pallas cat that had been shaven bald by Project X, Mary felt that his words were very convincing.

Mary said pitifully, "But I really don't know."

Just as the few cats started quarreling with each other under the cloak, Zhao Yao cut them off. "Alright, stop talking. I have a solution."

Zhao Yao stood invisible atop a roof. He was eyeing a limousine on the nearby street.

“Arthas is considered a famous cat after all. The rich people here should have their own social circles, maybe they know where he lives?”

As he thought of that, Zhao Yao had already jumped off, catching up with the limousine nearby.

Not long after, in a remote alley, Zhao Yao held up a man and asked, “Where is Arthas?”

“Arthas? That supercat?”

Zhao Yao was stunned. “You know him?”

“Which rich man in Hollywood doesn’t know him?” The man quickly responded. “This guy throws banquets at his house everyday and invites all the famous people in the city over. I heard that the amount he spends every day on a banquet amounts to millions of US dollars.”

“There’s such a thing?” Zhao Yao exclaimed. “You’re not lying to me right?”

Sheriff, who was under the cloak said, “Zhao Yao, what he said is true.”

Zhao Yao continued to ask, “Where does Arthas live?”

After getting the answer he was looking for, Zhao Yao threw the guy on the floor and knocked him out.

“Interesting. Throwing banquets everyday huh?” Zhao Yao thought. “The Star Cats are constantly socializing with the elites. Are they trying to integrate into the upper echelons of the human society in this way?”

Zhao Yao thought of Arthas’ motives as he sped up.

After half an hour, Zhao Yao arrived at a mansion. By then, the sky had turned dark. He watched as limousines drove into the manor, as if there was an event going on.

“This is troublesome. There’s so many people. If I force my way through, the American troops will be alerted to the scene,” Zhao Yao stroked his chin and thought carefully. “I think the best way is to maintain the battle at the level of the superpower realm, rather than escalating it to the international level.”

Zhao Yao thought for a while before he suddenly turned his gaze on the entrance to the manor. He watched as a Rolls Royce pulled to a stop. When the car door opened, an American Shorthair jumped out.

“So humans aren’t the only ones attending his banquet?” Zhao Yao nodded to himself. “Right, this banquet is not only for the Star Cats to integrate into the elites of society. It also serves as a venue for supercats and humans to interact with each other. They want to unite the interests of both cat and humans.”

Zhao Yao’s pupils constricted for a moment, extending his vision further. He could clearly see the arrogant face of the American Shorthair that had just got out of the car, standing with his chest puffed up. A servant walked over and carried him to attend the banquet, walking wherever the American Shorthair wanted to go.

“American Shorthair? Maybe I can pass off as one and sneak in.”

Mission: ‘Sneak’ is just one word

Mission Objective: Sneak into Arthas’ banquet and find Arthas

Reward: 1000 experience points

Punishment: None

“Not bad,” Zhao Yao smiled in satisfaction. He noticed that as his level in the Book increased, it became more in tune with his character and wishes. Most of the time, the missions would arise based on who his targets were.

“This truly deserves to be an ability of mine. It’s clever enough.”

The next moment, Zhao Yao moved towards the manor in a flash. The optical invisibility provided by the Deflective Field was even better at night. He infiltrated the manor like a night spirit, reaching the back of that American Shorthair.

When the servant holding the American Shorthair turned at a corner, out of everyone's sight, a paw stretched out in the dark, pulling both cat and man into the darkness.

The American Shorthair felt as if his world had reversed before he realized he was in a pitch-dark space. Green, red, and yellow cat eyes stared at him in the dark.

"Who are you guys? Why did you catch me? No wait..." The American Shorthair immediately raised his paw and covered his eyes. "My fellow brothers, I know the rules. I didn't see anything or hear anything. The cat lover that takes care of me at home is the governor of California. I can give you guys any amount you want. Please don't hurt me!"

Lightning was stunned. "What the f*ck, we caught a big fat fish this time."

Zhao Yao said, "What's your name?"

The American Shorthair replied earnestly, "I am Cameron."

"Very good. Cameron, as long as you cooperate with us from now on, we will let you go after the banquet ends."

When Zhao Yao spoke halfway, he saw Cameron trembling in fright as huge blobs of fur started dropping from his body. The smell of urine wafted over from his lower body, making Zhao Yao disgusted as he threw the Deflective Field over to collect the urine.

Zhao Yao shouted, "What are you doing?"

"Meow-ow-ow!" Cameron started crying dramatically. "I know what you mean! You're going to kill me when you say you're going to let me go! You guys don't want anything. You just want me to cooperate. You guys must be up to no good. You all will definitely silence me after you're done with your business."

Looking at how much he was trembling, Zhao Yao pursed his lips. “This guy’s tenacity is too weak. Should I just control him with the ability to control superpowers?”

At that moment, Ares said, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao, why don’t you let Fish Ball pass off as him?”

“Fish Ball?” Zhao Yao stared at Fish Ball, who had been watching shows all along.

Fish Ball was eating the small dried fish in his backpack which Xiao Yu gave him. When he saw everyone staring at him, Fish Ball dropped the small dried fish on the floor before he had closed his mouth.

“I can’t. Although we’re both American Shorthairs, our face shape is different. His face is not as round and soft as mine.”

“Don’t worry about that.” Ares slapped Cameron in the face. “You guys will look the same after I slap his face swollen.”

Elizabeth rolled her eyes and said, “Idiot, what’s the use of swelling up his face? The point is to make Fish Ball look like him.”

Cameron was confused beyond words.

Mary comforted him at the side, “Don’t worry, you will get used to it after a few hours.”

Chapter 835: The Imposter

Ares secretly gloated at Fish Ball, who was at a loss of what to do.

“Serves you right for being so arrogant all the time. You have no abilities, fighting skill, and basically no talent, yet you still managed to date so many cats. The only thing you have is that pretty face.”

The more he thought about it, the angrier he got. Ares said, “Fish Ball, let me pinch your face so that it becomes smaller.”

Elizabeth said, “What b*llshit is that. Are you trying to make his face deformed?” She walked up to Fish Ball and sized up his face. She glanced at Cameron for a while before she said, “It’s not an impossible task. Let me groom Fish Ball’s fur and add some illusions. That should do the trick.”

As she said that, Elizabeth put down her backpack. She took out bottles and cans of beauty hair powder 1 , talcum powder, cat paw wax, deodorant spray, perfume, silver vine... and many other things.

Ares was speechless when he saw Elizabeth smearing all those products on Fish Ball’s face. Ares thought to himself, “She said she didn’t know what beauty hair powder was...”

Elizabeth’s ears twitched. She turned and glared at Ares. “What did you say?”

“Would Fish Ball look okay like this?” Ares quickly asked. “Will the two of them really look alike after using these things?”

“Humph,” Elizabeth swayed her luscious, furry tail and said, “Makeup is only one of the steps. Once I touch up Fish Ball’s face shape and his fur I will use illusions to make further adjustments. After these are done, they should look almost the same.”

After a moment, Fish Ball and Cameron stood side by side. The two cats looked really similar and were almost indistinguishable from each other.

“Not bad, not bad,” Zhao Yao nodded in approval and said. “Then that’s settled. Fish Ball, you will masquerade as Cameron.”

Hence, not long after Cameron and the servant disappeared, Zhao Yao had donned the servant’s clothes and carried Fish Ball in his arms as he walked towards the manor.

There were supercats all around Zhao Yao, protected by the optical invisibility of the Deflective Field complemented with some illusions. Normal people would never be able to sense the presence of this mini village among them.

Fish Ball said in a slightly nervous tone, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao, I can’t even speak English. What am I supposed to do later?”

Zhao Yao said, “You just need to talk to cats. There are no language barriers in telepathic communication.”

Just as the two were communicating telepathically, they had already reached the main hall of the manor. Zhao Yao could not help widening his eyes in amazement at the grandeur that greeted them when they walked in.

Everything about the main hall was exquisitely detailed. Every table and chair had intricate flower patterns and grooves carved on top-grade material. The influential and wealthy of all kinds of trades walked around the hall. Zhao Yao was momentarily blinded by the shimmering reflection of the gold, platinum, diamonds, and shiraishi diamonds all around.

“Why don’t I just rob everyone here and go back home. Forget about the meteorite fragments.”

Zhao Yao quickly shook his head and cast aside that temptation. “No no, I can’t do that. Sphinx cat and Roly Poly are still waiting for me to save them.”

Zhao Yao carried Fish Ball and walked into the main hall as he spoke, “Fish Ball, find a few supercats to talk to and ask them about Arthas. It’s best if you can find out what his superpower is.”

Zhao Yao was walking around idly with Fish Ball in his arms, trying to find a few supercats to dig out information from when two servants hugging a Garfield cat and a Ragdoll cat stopped in front of him.

“The Garfield cat who was being held started laughing scornfully. “Hahahaha, everybody come and look, isn’t this Cameron? You actually have the guts to come here today to attend Mr. Arthas’ banquet?”

Fish Ball paused for a moment before he raised his head up and looked down on the Garfield cat condescendingly, not saying a word. However in his heart he was shrieking in panic at Zhao Yao, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao! What should I do! Seems like we ran into that cat’s acquaintances.”

Zhao Yao replied, “It’s okay. I don’t think they’re nice friends. Just keep at what you’re doing now.”

When the Garfield cat saw Fish Ball’s arrogant and nonchalant demeanour, he got so angry he started wagging his tail in anger. “Cameron! Don’t you dare look down on me! Who doesn’t know that that governor in your house is about to step down. Let's see who will be able to protect you with those mediocre abilities of yours!"

Fish Ball snorted at the Garfield cat without saying a word, making the Garfield cat burst into tears of rage.

Next, he suddenly jumped into the other servant's arms. He licked the Ragdoll cat as he said to Fish Ball tauntingly, "Hehe, Cameron, look right here. Selena has agreed to be my girlfriend. Doesn't that anger you so much... yet you can't do anything about it?"

Fish Ball said angrily, "Zhao Yao, although I don't know this guy, he's being down right despicable right now. Can I beat him up?"

Zhao Yao took a step forward and pushed Fish Ball towards the Garfield cat and the Ragdoll cat as he said, "Do it."

Seeing how close he was to the Garfield cat, Fish Ball panicked. "Don't put me so close, what if he bites me?"

The Garfield cat screamed, "Cameron! What are you doing? I'm warning you don't you dare get violent at Mr. Arthas' banquet! Or else you won't walk out here alive!"

As the Garfield cat started waving his paws around madly, the servant hugging him quickly took a few steps back.

The Ragdoll cat shook her head in exasperation. She looked at Fish Ball as she said, "Cameron, don't blame me. You won't be able to give me the kind of life I want now. I don't want to be dragged down by you, let's just be friends from now on."

As she said that, the Ragdoll cat waved her paw and pointed to a different direction, leaving together with the Garfield cat.

Fish Ball was furious. "Zhao Yao! Why didn't you teach them a lesson! Somehow I feel like I've been made a cuckold."

“Cuckold your head. Don’t be too invested in acting. We are here to catch Arthas. Everything else here is none of our business.” Zhao Yao carried Fish Ball and walked a few steps more before he saw a group of supercats gathered around a leather kitty tower.

A few of the supercats clearly knew Cameron as they began to greet him from afar.

“Cameron! You’re still in the mood to come for the banquet!”

“Cameron, Tom is looking for you everywhere. Be careful.”

Tom was obviously that obnoxious Garfield cat they met just now.

Fish Ball asked them, “Do you guys know where Arthas is?”

“Who knows?” A black cat shrugged his shoulders and said, “Although Arthas threw this banquet, he won’t appear everytime.”

“He’s one the big nine elders in the Star Cats Alliance after all. There’s too many things he needs to do everyday.”

“Have you all heard the news? I heard the Star Cats also sent apostles as reinforcement to the beach this time.”

“The supercats in the anti-government armed forces are very powerful. It’s very natural for the army to ask for help from the Star Cats.”

As he watched their conversation slowly go off track, Fish Ball had no choice but to interject again. “Speaking of that, do you guys know what Arthas’ power is?”

In that instant, the few supercats quietened down. They stared at Fish Ball in astonishment.

Fish Ball was confused by their reaction. “Why? Did I say something wrong?”

Chapter 836: The Attack

“The abilities of the nine elders in Star Cats are top secret,” A supercat reminded him. “You must be crazy, Cameron, asking this question at his house.”

“Looks like your problem at home affected you quite a lot.”

“Let’s stop talking about this. Have you guys heard? Dragon was defeated by a Chinese apostle.”

Once he sensed that he was not able to get an answer from them, Zhao Yao quickly took Fish Ball away and continued to walk around the main hall, looking for news of Arthas.

At that moment, an Asian man kept staring at Zhao Yao before he finally walked up to Zhao Yao and said, “Zhao Yao? Is that you?”

Zhao Yao was stunned for a moment as he thought, “What the f*ck... what’s going on? How did someone here recognize me? Is he kidding?”

The guy smiled slightly when he saw the stunned expression on Zhao Yao’s face. He said in surprise, “Zhao Yao? Don’t you recognise me? I am Coco Wang, your university friend Coco Wang.”

Zhao Yao paused for a moment before he replied, “... I remember that Coco Wang is a woman.”

“I had sex reassignment surgery! I went to Thailand,” The guy said. “You know that right? Slicing XXX off, extending OOO, then slicing XXX into...”

Zhao Yao gulped when he heard that and quickly interjected, “Okay, okay. I get it. You can stop there.”

“Keke, I am Wang Jiuyang now. The Americans call me Peter.” Wang Jiuyang seemed to have only noticed Zhao Yao’s get-up and asked curiously, “Zhao Yao, what are you busy with these days? How did you end up here?”

Zhao Yao was speechless. He did not want to reply to him at all. After all, it was too much trouble to be recognized by someone here. He thought of how he should find a chance to let Elizabeth and her family wipe out this guy's memories.

Seeing Zhao Yao's speechless face, Wang Jiuyang patted Zhao Yao's shoulder knowingly and said, "There's no obstacle too difficult to overcome in life. This is my name card. Come and look for me anytime if you need help."

Zhao Yao had no choice but to accept the name card. He glanced at it and realized that he had actually become the CEO of a tech company and seemed to be doing well now.

After all, if he could attend Arthas' party, he should be pretty well off.

Wang Jiuyang said somewhat gloatingly, "It's all because of the help I got from friends and family. I remember you did pretty well in your professional courses back in uni, being a servant here is too much of a waste for you. If you want to find a job, come and look for me anytime."

When he finished talking, he patted Zhao Yao's shoulder and walked off. After all, Zhao Yao's speechlessness and exasperation made Wang Jiuyang believe that Zhao Yao did not want him to see himself at this low point in his life. "It's been five years since graduation. Things may have remained the same, but the people have changed so much."

Seeing Wang Jiuyang leave, Zhao Yao rolled his eyes and said, "Keep a close watch on this guy. Brainwash him before we leave and wipe out this part of his memories."

Zhao Yao and Fish Ball walked around for a while more. At that moment, the whole hall suddenly blacked out before a ray of light lit up in the dark, shining on a spot at the staircase on the second floor.

A fully white cat stood there, as if it came right out from a picture. In that instant, everyone's attention was fixed on him.

His eyes were blue and yellow, emitting an alluring and charming aura. Even humans felt the urge to hold him in their arms and care for him.

When he slowly descended the steps, the movement of every muscle, every hair on his body were clearly imprinted in the minds of the crowd, as if someone carved it into their minds with a knife.

At that moment, everything else was dark. This white cat became the center of everyone's attention.

Next, sound waves floated across everyone's minds as he said, "Hi everyone. Greetings and a warm welcome for all you who attended my banquet today."

Zhao Yao mumbled to himself, "Arthas... This voice is directly sent to the mind. It's not telepathic communication. It's through directly controlling the brain's surface layer to receive information..."

Zhao Yao was an expert at using illusions himself. Elizabeth's sensory illusions were right on his fingertips, ready to be used. He was all too familiar with things like directly controlling the brain to receive messages.

"A troublesome superpower. I wonder what's his medium of control and the extent of his control."

Although Arthas revealed this power the moment he stepped out, it was still too little information. Zhao Yao was still unable to figure out the whole picture behind his superpowers.

Just as everyone was mesmerized by Arthas' movements, a gunshot was heard. Zhao Yao could clearly see a bullet flying through the air and bursting through Arthas' body in an instant, causing blood to spurt out of the cat's body as he rolled down the stairs.

Screams! Fury! Panic! Pandemonium broke out at once.

Zhao Yao did not move an inch as he focused his senses on the surroundings.

"That Arthas is a fake. He has no heartbeat or smell at all. It should be an illusion."

"There isn't only one hitman. The whole hall has been surrounded."

"Do they all have rifles with them? Looks like it's not an average superpower force."

However, the next moment, a change in the hall shocked everyone, even Zhao Yao. An invisible wave of power spread out from the center of the hall in all directions. Where it passed every apostle and supercat screamed in shock.

“What happened to my ability?”

“Why is my superpower gone?”

“What on earth is happening?”

As the superpowers of every cat and man disappeared, the sound of a gunshot was heard, scaring everyone into wanting to flee. However, they realized that all the exits in the main hall were blocked by men in black who had rifles in their hands.

As the superpowers lost their effects, the supercats on Zhao Yao’s body were no longer invisible and appeared one by one beside Zhao Yao, dropping on the floor.

However at that moment no one cared about the cats on Zhao Yao’s body anymore. Everyone was too frightened by the sudden attack that rendered their superpowers useless.

“Stop moving! Squat down! Put your hands over your heads! Cats flip over with your stomachs facing up.” A brown-haired, brown-eyed guy raised his rifle and shouted, “As long as you guys cooperate obediently we will not hurt anyone.”

Every human squatted down, and every cat flipped over with their stomachs facing upwards.

A few men in black with rifles in their hands ran over to the spot where Arthas fell. Just as Zhao Yao predicted, the Arthas lying on the floor turned into a puff of smoke and disappeared after being kicked.

The brown-haired leader scoffed and shouted, “Arthas, I know you are in the main hall. Quickly come out, unless you want to make all these people here be buried with you.”

Arthas naturally did not reply. The brown-haired guy laughed mirthlessly. “Don’t waste your efforts. The whole manor has now become a superpower-banned realm. No one and no cat can use their superpowers.”

“Get the hell out here, Arthas! You weren’t such a coward when you sent apostles to attack my hometown.”

Seeing how Arthas was hiding like an ostrich with no intention to come out, the brown-haired leader said, “Great, so you don’t want to come out? Then I’ll kill these hostages until you come.”

He scanned around the main hall. Suddenly, Fish Ball, Elizabeth and Ares and the bunch of cats caught his eye. He aimed his gun right at Fish Ball and said, “Arthas, I’ll count to three. If you still refuse to come out, I will shoot.”

“1!”

“Ah!!”

Chapter 837: Moral Backbone and the Gunshot

Tom, the Garfield cat who had insulted Cameron previously, started laughing in glee when he saw the gun being pointed at Cameron (Fish Ball).

“Haha, Cameron, you’re so unlucky. You’re the biggest jinx in the world. He actually pointed to you out of all the cats here.”

When the gun pointed at him, Fish Ball felt his whole body freeze on the spot. An unprecedented sense of fear arrested his whole body.

He conversed anxiously to Zhao Yao telepathically, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao! What should I do! Quick save me!”

Zhao Yao said hesitantly, “You just wait for a while first. I think I can’t use my superpowers anymore.”

“What the f*ck!” Hearing Zhao Yao’s reply, Fish Ball began shedding fur all over his body.

“Is this the fear of death?”

“This time even Zhao Yao can’t save me?” Fish Ball felt a warm feeling run through his body.
“Should I be a coward forever? Or should I be a hero for once? Even if it’s only for a few minutes?”

“Ah!”

After an ear-splitting scream, Fish Ball had already slumped on the floor, flipping around wildly in front of the man in black.

“Nonsense! As long as I can live, so what if I am a coward? This coward is one I’ll definitely be!”

Just after he counted 1, the leader of the men in black saw Fish Ball screaming in front of him before collapsing to the ground to beg for mercy. However, he just shook his head and said, “There’s no use pleading with me. Blame Arthas if you want. We are not after any of you guys. As long as Arthas comes out, I promise I will let all of you off.”

This was obviously a move to pressure Arthas.

Tom told the Ragdoll cat beside him, “Do you see that, Selena? Cameron is just a useless cat. You should have broken up with him a long time ago.”

The Ragdoll cat did not reply but stared at Fish Ball in disdain.

Zhao Yao was speechless at what Fish Ball was doing too. “Why are you begging him? Do you know you look like you have no moral backbone at all?”

Fish Ball was angry. “He didn’t point a gun at you. Of course it’s easy for you to say that. I’m about to die right now. What’s wrong with begging for mercy.”

Zhao Yao was exasperated. “You don’t need to be scared as long as I’m here.”

Fish Ball retorted, “Why are you still putting on a strong front when you have no superpowers? Everyone is in the same boat now. Who knows, maybe the way you beg for mercy will be even more humiliating than mine!”

The vein on Zhao Yao's head popped as he said coldly, "Although I can't use my superpowers now, I can still use my power of six cats."

Fish Ball suddenly broke out in cold sweat. He cursed at himself in his heart. "D*mn! How did I forget about that! Zhao Yao is now a devil-like muscle man!"

He immediately begged Zhao Yao for mercy, "Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao, I was talking rubbish just now. Please don't take it to heart. I'm good friends with Matcha, even if you don't like me, at least save me on behalf of Matcha."

"Don't worry, I will definitely save you or else Xiao Yu will trouble me to no end."

Fish Ball heaved a sigh of relief. With Zhao Yao, who had the power of six cats, backing him up, he suddenly felt like his legs were no longer in pain, his waist no longer sore and his heart no longer afraid.

He stood up in a sudden and stared arrogantly at the leader of the men in black and scoffed, "Hey kiddo, kill me if you dare. Come come come, shoot here. You see this?"

Seeing how Fish Ball shouted as he kept patting his head, the leader of the black men was stunned. He did not understand what this cat was doing.

Fish Ball stretched out a paw and pointed to the other party. "Don't think I'm scared of you just because you have a gun. Although I have no superpowers now, I still have a heart full of courage and justice. Even if I die, I will not beg for mercy from a scoundrel like you."

The humans did not understand what Fish Ball was saying, but the supercats around them did. Their gazes immediately lit up with admiration, idolization, and respect for Fish Ball.

Tom was shocked. "What the f*ck? Since when was this Cameron so ballsy?"

Beside him, Selena's gaze also lit up while staring at Fish Ball, "I didn't think Cameron was a cat of such character."

The surrounding supercats all started meowing as they cheered, "Well said! Cameron! We are not scared of these humans!"

In the few minutes where Fish Ball gave his speech and the supercats around them started cheering in unison, Zhao Yao began thinking rapidly in his mind.

Given his rich experience in battles ever since he discovered his superpower and with the superior physical strength and intellect given to him by the power of the six cats, he was able to think more critically and even faster about the situation at hand.

“Looking at the situation now, this supercat Arthas went into hiding while the armed forces are standing in the open, using hostages to threaten Arthas into appearing.”

“However, aside from the armed forces, there is actually another cat hiding in the dark. It’s the supercat or apostle that took away the effects of all our superpowers.”

“What Arthas wants to do the most now is to find this cat or person while in hiding and finish off the other party with his henchmen. The remaining armed forces wouldn’t be a problem then.”

“What the other party wants, on the other hand, is to find Arthas and kill him in this anti-superpower area.”

“Whoever gets caught first loses,” Zhao Yao thought. “The scene looks really rowdy but in fact, the true powers of both parties are all hidden. These guys would be fighting over who’s the best at hiding, and might even have some other trump card under their sleeves. I should observe a bit more for the time being and refrain from making the first move.”

On the other hand, though the leader of the men in black did not understand the cat language, he definitely realized that the situation had changed and bellowed, “Arthas, since you refuse to come out, I will kill this cat!”

As he said that, his finger moved and slowly pressed down on the trigger.

Zhao Yao narrowed his eyes slightly. As he became extremely nervous, he became very focused. Under a superhuman mental state, the world around him seemed to slow down.

It was just like the world had been when he used supersonic teleportation after he had been strengthened with the power of the six cats.

He could even see a drop of sweat slowly dropping off from the chin of the men in black's leader, and the leader's finger moving millimeter by millimeter on the trigger.

Right before the leader of the men in black pulled on the trigger fully, Zhao Yao had lightly tapped his finger on the floor. An enormous, wild burst of energy surged like a dragon circling through the air as everyone near them felt the floor vibrate vigorously.

As the floor shook, the leader of the men in black lost balance, tilting the aim of his rifle as he pulled the trigger.

Fish Ball lost his balance too and collapsed to the ground when it suddenly vibrated.

One party had a slanted aim while the other collapsed on the floor. Hence, when the leader of the men in black pulled on the trigger fully, the shot was slanted and the bullet burst through a nearby window. Fish Ball, on the other hand, was totally unharmed.

Fish Ball got a shock when he heard the gunshot. He started licking his body immediately. When he realized that he was totally fine, he exhaled deeply out of relief.

Chapter 838: Hidden

The black robed people on the other side were tensed up. The earthquake just then had not occurred naturally. The guns were pointed at everyone and the leader of the black robed gang's gaze swept past everyone.

He was very taken aback. "Who attacked just now? Everyone and all the cats should not have powers."

Zhao Yao's attack was very prominent, however, he did it very subtly. No one saw what happened, hence, the leader of the black robed mob was unsure of who had attacked.

Fish Ball knew that it was from Zhao Yao. He became more confident instantly.

Then, Zhao Yao's voice sounded. "Hey, it's okay."

Fish Ball said happily. "It's okay. It's okay. It is all thanks to you or I would have been dead."

"As long as you are safe." Zhao Yao said, "Can I ask a favor from you, Fish Ball?"

"What?" Fish Ball answered natively. "What do you need help with?"

Zhao Yao smiled and continued, "It's simple. Stand up and fight the black robed. Pretend that the attack was by you."

Zhao Yao was thinking to himself, "It can't carry on like this. The person who is gonna be most affected by the power ban is going to be me. I can use so many powers. I need to find the guy who can ban powers, without giving away my identity..."

Fish Ball: "What...?" He glanced at the black robed gang and said in despair. "They will kill me! I am not even able to bite a hole in their coat, how am I going to fight them?!"

"Don't worry," Zhao Yao encouraged. "I will be helping you from the back. What are you afraid of? As long as you stand up and attract their attention, it will do."

Ares added, "Yeah, Fish Ball. With Zhao Yao protecting you, what are you afraid of?"

"Zhao Yao is not some devil." Elizabeth joined. "Do you think he will let you die?"

Fish Ball thought about it. "It makes sense."

Zhao Yao concluded. "Rest assured. I will make sure that you are safe. If you are unwilling, then I will have to do it myself."

Without the help of powers, I will have to fight with full concentration. If you were to be shot in the stomach, have your limbs broken, or your head was to be busted, I can't help you."

Chills ran down Fish Ball's spine and he said in exasperation. "I understand."

Then, Fish Ball stood up suddenly and yelled. He pointed at the black robed and shouted, “What do you think you are doing? Stop! I, Cameron, shall teach you guys a lesson!”

Although the black robed leader did not understand what Fish Ball was saying, his attention was on Fish Ball. Zhao Yao squatted down and pressed his palms against the ground. He crushed the marble below him easily and hid the crumbs of the marbles in his hands.

When the black robed pointed their guns at Fish Ball, Zhao Yao wrist flicked and shot the marble crumbs out. Accompanied by a soft hit, a black robed member flew out. He was yelling and his chest was torn apart in mid air.

The black robed shouted, “Be careful! This cat still has powers!”

All the black robed pointed their guns at Fish Ball. However, as long as they pointed their guns at Fish Ball, marble pierced through their bodies.

With Zhao Yao’s observation and the careful inspection of the positions of the black robed gang , it was easy to keep all of their actions under surveillance. He would throw a stone at anyone who attempted to fire.

Within such a short period of time, there were heavy casualties and no one dared to point their guns at Fish Ball anymore.

Fish Ball laughed loudly. “A bunch of rubbish. You dare to fight against me? Can you see my powers!”

Tom and Selena in the distance were shocked.

“Cameron is so powerful?”

“What is his power?”

When Fish Ball heard the gasps from the surrounding supercats, he was overjoyed.

“Is this the feeling of being powerful? It is so good. If only I was really this strong.”

When the black robed leader saw Fish Ball raise his middle claw, although he didn't understand cat language, he knew what Fish Ball meant. He was angered instantly and yelled, “What are all of you waiting for? Take action!”

Then, the rest of the black robed tore their clothes apart, showed their muscular bodies and faces which were oddly similar to that of beasts.

Zhao Yao thought to himself, “The power to turn into beast? It still can be used when power has been banned? Is it some kind of long lasting effects from a power? They have become a new species?”

The black robed were prepared to fight under banned powers. They were searching for large amounts of supercats just to find the one who could allow them to fight when powers were banned.

The half beasts roared and launched towards Fish Ball. They were so fast and powerful. They had the strength of many tanks.

Zhao Yao's eyes narrowed and he shot the stone in his hand. He shot the few half beasts and they were injured. However, their bodies were much better than a human. Despite being injured, it only angered them and they charged towards Fish Ball with their eyes red.

“This is the trump card of the black robed? Then, where is the guy who could ban powers?”

When he was attacking the half beasts, Zhao Yao's eyes were searching around for a suspicious target. However, he was still unable to locate the person or cat who banned powers.

Looking at the half beasts who were approaching Fish Ball, Zhao Yao was about to stop them. Then, someone sighed, the half beasts slowed down and were immobilized.

“Aye.”

Then, Wang Jiuyang stood up and walked towards the leader of the black robed. There was a white gentle light radiating off his body. His appearance alone brought about a peaceful and calm feeling.

“You guys are the anti-government armed forces, from the Divine Fire Palace right? I killed about five thousand of your people in the desert. Who knew that you guys would dare to come here?”

The leader of the black robed was shocked. “You! Who are you? Why do you still have powers?”

“Who am I?” Wang Jiuyang shook his head and gave Zhao Yao an assuring smile as he walked past.

He walked in the air and soon, he was walking on the marble pillars, upside down.

There were countless black robed who tried to fire at him, but their guns malfunctioned.

Wang Jiuyang was walking on the ceiling and was mumbling, “It is all a dream. Who knows what I have sacrificed...”

Then, Wang Jiuyang walked with the hum. His body became more and more hazy, then he twisted his body and he transformed from a decent looking guy to a girl in white clothes.

Chapter 839: Dream

The black robed leader looked at the girl in white on the ceiling and yelled in shock. “Female Demon of Death!”

Wang Coco’s eyebrows drooped and looked heartbroken. The people who looked at her couldn’t resist and wanted to protect and care for her. “Why do you want to call me that? I don’t really like that nickname.”

Everyone who have heard of the Female Demon of Death’s name, looked down immediately in fear.

The name really encompassed too much blood and terror.

Female Demon of Death was the strongest apostle under Arthas and was a Natural Disaster Representative.

Before she became an apostle, Wang Coco graduated from the same university as Zhao Yao. However, different from Zhao Yao who came out to work after graduation, she chose to study abroad. She studied a Masters in psychology at Harvard.

After the powers awakened, she became an apostle. As she had a high compatibility with Arthas, she was chosen by Arthas and trained specially to become the strongest apostle under Arthas.

She was different from Dragon, who was stationed at one place. She never stationed at one place. She would go around and kill countless Star Cats' enemies. Hence, she left behind the bloody legends of the Female Demon of Death.

Maybe it was because his gaze was from different from the other curious and avoiding looks, Zhao Yao stared at the girl in white from head to toe and back up again. It made Wang Coco feel embarrassed.

“Why is Zhao Yao staring at me? Has he fallen for me?”

Wang Coco could only pretend that she did not notice Zhao Yao's gaze and looked at the leader of the black robed gang. “Who is the apostle of Forbidden Devil?”

The black robed leader clenched his teeth and said, “Kill me then. I will never tell you even if I die.”

“It is not so easy to die.” Then, Wang Coco blew at the leader of black robed and he started to age rapidly.

Watching yourself grow old, skin turning dry and wrinkly, hair getting thinner and white. Watching yourself die from this rapid aging, it was an unimaginable torture.

The arrogant leader of black robed gang yelled, hugged his head, and fell to the ground.

Everyone else who saw this scene were shivering too.

However, Zhao Yao was curious. He looked at Wang Coco and the old and frail Leader of black robed gang.

“They really changed. No matter of the change was from Wang Jiuyang to Wang Coco or from young to old. It is like a real transformation. It is not a normal illusion. At least, from my observation, I can’t tell it’s fake.”

“However, I still cannot use my powers.”

Zhao Yao used the power of six cats and observed constantly. He thought to himself. “This is what makes it unusual. This kind of power...” He looked at the scene before him and he remembered the Nightmare Cat.

“Is this a power to control the dreams? But, when did I enter a dream? And it is a dream with so many people?”

“If it is a dream? Then, will what happen in the dream affect reality?”

When Zhao Yao was speculating on Wang Coco’s powers, he saw the leader of black robed kneel onto the floor and begged Wang Coco. “I don’t know. I really don’t know who it is. Everything was done secretly. Please, stop it. Stop turning me older!”

“Is it?” Wang Coco mumbled and the next moment the leader of the black robed gang fell onto the ground. He was like a skeleton.

Then, the other black robed member fell to the ground one by one and went unconscious.

Wang Coco smiled at everyone and said, “I shall ask for the cooperation of everyone. I will make you unconscious one by one. If after someone faints everyone’s powers resume, then they will be the person who cast the power ban.”

Upon hearing Wang Coco, everyone nodded in agreement.

Wang Coco blew at them and there was a light fragrance in the air. Then, the guests started going unconscious one by one.

Zhao Yao asked Diana. “Diana, do you think this is a dream?”

Diana’s powers were to enter dreams. She could create dreams, enter dreams, and observe others’ dreams or even affect their dreams.

Upon hearing Zhao Yao, Diana shook her head. “I don’t know. I can’t activate my powers, however, under normal circumstances, dreams are not reality. It is the conscious recollection of a being. So, no matter how realistic the dream is, as long as he is dreaming, something will not make sense.”

“Something illogical?” Zhao Yao thought to himself. “In the power ban, Wang Coco can still use her powers. This is illogical. But, if this is a dream, then how do I wake up?”

Now, Zhao Yao was glad that he did not expose his identity from the start. If this was a dream, it would no doubt be his weakness.

“It is so troublesome. If I knew that Arthas’s powers were related to dreams, I would have left him for last.”

Meanwhile, as the middle-aged man fell to the floor, everyone realized that their powers had returned to them.

Evidently, the guy who fell onto the floor was the apostle who could ban powers.

Wang Coco waved her hand and two security men walked up to drag the man down. She looked at the audience and smiled. “I am sorry for the disturbance. The armed forces have been captured. The banquet will begin again, may everyone enjoy their meals.”

When the banquet began again, the crowd cheered. However, they looked at Wang Coco in awe.

Zhao Yao looked at the old leader of black robed gang; he was still old and frail. There was no signs of him recovering.

Zhao Yao frowned and thought. “We are still in a dream? Or is this not a dream related power? This is so troublesome. What should I do?”

However, Fish Ball was surrounded by a bunch of female cats as they looked at him in admiration.

“Brother Cameron, you are so powerful!”

“Yeah, Cameron, you are so brave!”

“Okay, don’t make a big fuss.” Then, he winked and glowed slightly in front of the female cats. “I was just doing what a cat should be doing.”

All the female cat’s heart starting beating rapidly.

“Oh my, his eyes are so pretty.”

“What a deep gaze. Cameron is this handsome?”

“So deep! There seemed to be many secrets with this cat.”

“Strong, handsome and mysterious! I have to talk to him privately later.”

Meanwhile, Zhao Yao used illusions and the Deflective Field to hide the cats on himself and looked warily at Wang Coco, who was walking towards him.

“If this is a dream, will she notice my abnormality?”

Wang Coco walked in front of Zhao Yao and said confidently. “Hi classmate, looks like you aren’t ordinary too.”

She flicked her finger and sighed, “Be honest and tell me which side are you from. Don’t put me on the spot.”

Chapter 840: Temptation

He laughed bitterly when he saw Wang Coco look at him and he started thinking of solutions.

“Should I start the fight? However I have not found Arthas yet. In fact, I don’t even know if the image of the white cat is him.”

“How much does Wang Coco know? Did she see through my Headless Horseman identity?”

“If this is really a dream then she would have seen through my powers and the cats on me...”

Zhao Yao thought to himself, “I shall try to cover it up first, then check if this is a dream.”

Hence, Zhao Yao smiled bitterly and looked at Wang Coco sincerely. “Actually... I like you. I followed you all the way here.”

Wang Coco was alarmed. She blushed and was slightly annoyed. She chided Zhao Yao, “What are you talking about?”

Zhao Yao turned and grabbed Elizabeth and stuffed a Spicy Cat Strip into her mouth. He did it so swiftly such that it looked like he turned around and pulled the scarf out.

Wang Coco was about to ask him where the scarf came from, but when she looked at Zhao Yao again, her heart became flustered. All that was left in her mind was ‘So handsome!’

Zhao Yao looked at Wang Coco affectionately and said, “Coco, I have liked you since University. Ever since I knew that you were studying abroad in America, I wanted to come over to find you...”

“Er...” If just now, Zhao Yao’s words made her slightly annoyed...

... Then, after wearing scarf, they made Wang Coco blush and feel flustered.

Fish Ball, who was surrounded by female cats, was stunned by this scene. “It is such a simple and direct way to settle the opponent by good looks! This is so amazing. Zhao Yao is so amazing. There is so much for me to learn.”

Meanwhile, Ares looked at Elizabeth, who was scarf, in shock. It was the first time he saw the effects of the scarf. It was amazing.

“I want this too. With this, I can...” Ares couldn’t help but imagine, him appearing in front of Catherine and the good time he would have with Catherine.

Wang Coco, who was under the illusion, her entire face was red and her eyes were dreamy. She looked at Zhao Yao nervously and could not speak.

Upon seeing this, Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up. At first, he wanted to just get over with it. Now, his thinking changed.

“It is so effective against her? Is it because I am handsome?” Zhao Yao thought. “She looks like she is very engrossed in my looks. If it is this way, why not just trick her and kidnap her... Then, I can interrogate the whereabouts of Arthas.”

Thinking of this, Zhao Yao looked into Wang Coco’s eyes. He said gently. “Coco, there are too many people here. Why not speak somewhere else where there are less people.”

Under the illusion of Elizabeth Scarf, not only were her five senses controlled but her sixth sense was altered and controlled too.

Wang Coco found Zhao Yao, who was wearing the scarf more and more pleasing to the eye. Her gaze grew dreamy and she was feeling dizzy. She could not hear what Zhao Yao said, she let him pull her out of the hall and into the woods outside. When the cool wind blew, she realized. She pushed Zhao Yao away and asked shyly. “Why did you bring me here?”

Behind Zhao Yao and Wang Coco, were Ares, Lucifer, Dust Ball and all the other cats. They looked at them curiously and Fish Ball got rid of the female cats around him to follow Zhao Yao secretly.

Ares said excitedly. “What do you think they are going to do?”

“What else can they do?” Dust Ball said in disdain. “Isn’t it just the same The male will lay on the female, then in a few seconds it will be done. What a waste of time.”

Ares explained, “Not every cat ends in a few seconds.” Then, he puffed up his chest.

Dust Ball looked at him in disgust. “You? It is not that I look down on you, Persian cats, but it is that you guys really can’t do it. Your furs are too long. I am afraid that I won’t even be able to find it.”

Ares was frustrated and he looked at Catherine, Diana, and the others who were looking at him. He yelled loudly. “What are you talking about! How can you frame a cat like this!”

Fūjin said natively. “Brother, don’t you always complain that your fur is too long? Such that you always pee on your fur!”

When he saw Catherine and Diana look at him in shock, Ares look at Fūjin furiously. “I..” He slapped Fūjin in the face and was too angry to speak.

Lightning joined in. “Ares, why are you so angry. I am a cat with long fur too. It is normal for long fur cats to have such problems. Look how comfortable I am after I shaved. I will not have things sticking to my fur anymore. Do you want to shave your fur too?”

When Ares glared at him, Lightning continued as if he couldn’t feel Ares’s anger. “I am great at shaving. If you are unwilling to shave all your fur, I can just help you shave below.”

Then, he looked at Ares mysteriously. “It is very magical. I am only telling you this because we are a family.”

Ares slapped Lightning. Ares, activated the Deflective Field and wrapped himself up. “Shut up, I don’t need this kind of rubbish.”

Lightning shook his head in pity.

Then, Lucifer started shouting, “Look, is Zhao Yao about to take action?”

Then, Zhao Yao touched Wang Coco's blushing face and said gently. "Coco, is it tiring to work for Arthas? Do you guys have insurance in America?"

"No." Wang Coco lowered her head and spoke softly. "Star Cats pay us directly and we don't have to pay taxes."

"No need to pay taxes!" Zhao Yao was shocked. "Looks like Star Cats really has a big influence in America."

"Yeap." Wang Coco's intelligence seemed to have been lowered. She had some unspeakable trust towards Zhao Yao and said, "FBI and CIA have no right to arrest us. Every year we have two overseas travel and we have about 50 days of annual leave.

They also help with the getting permanent residence and with household registration. They even have subsidies for house and cars. There is also a great retirement pension. Why not join Star Cats too? They have really good benefits here. It is better than roaming around aimlessly."

Then, she was afraid that Zhao Yao would be hurt and explained, "I am not saying that you aren't great. It's just... it's just..."

Zhao Yao did not want the topic to be diverted and he stopped her. "What about Arthas? Is he strict on you guys?"

"Teacher, he..." When she mention Arthas, Wang Coco grabbed onto her head in pain. Her eyes flashed between confusion and sobriety. "I... I can't say..."
