

Am I A God 851

Chapter 851: Promoting and the Killer

On the fifth floor of the Cat Wonderland.

Two well-dressed girls were sitting on a chair and chatting away.

One of them, the short-haired girl said, “You came here to enrol your pet cat as well?”

“No, I came here to fetch my pet cat from school,” Xiao Shiyu said. “Are you here to enrol your cat?”

The short-haired girl nodded and said, “I have been working overtime everyday recently. He’s the only cat at home and only knows how to play all day long. He plays games till 2 or 3am in the morning and won’t listen even when I scold him.

So I want to enrol him in class to educate him rather than letting him play games all day long at home.”

“Aiyo. Let me tell you. It’s not right to let cats stay at home all day and play games, yeah.” Xiao Shiyu shook her head continuously as she said, “If you let your cat stay at home all day and play games, the cat will become more stupid. How old is your cat?”

“Er... Eight months old.”

“Only eight months old? Let me tell you, cats like to play the most when they are eight months old. They will become rebellious as well. If you don’t educate him at this point in time, he will climb over your head in future for sure. By then he will be squatting at home all day asking you for money, just like a NEET.”

Xiao Shiyu sincerely advised her, “That was just how my British Shorthair upstairs was like. We pampered him since young, giving him whatever he wanted. All he did everyday was to play games. Alas, when he dabbled in online football betting last month, he gambled away our house.”

“Ah?” The short-haired girl asked, “But is this school effective?”

“Of course it is. Let me tell you,” Xiao Shiyu said, “My orange cat has been studying here for a month already. He licks his butt everytime after he goes to the toilet now and his paws when he comes back home from outside. The teachers here teach them to be particular about hygiene.”

“Oh? How obedient,” The short-haired girl said. “Which class did you enrol your cat in?”

Xiao Shiyu replied, “Currently, I enrolled him in the foreign language class, football class, and three other super classes. He starts school at 8am and ends at 6pm everyday.

I send him here before I go to work and fetch him after I finish. It’s pretty convenient. I don’t have to worry about his safety being home alone. It’s great for him to come here and play with other cats too.”

Xiao Shiyu said happily, “The foreign teacher for their foreign language class even told me last time that he had a talent for learning foreign languages, just that he did not work hard enough. Aiya, my cat is just so lazy. As long as he puts in the effort, getting top three in the class won’t be a problem for him.”

The short-haired girl exclaimed in astonishment, “They have exams here?”

“A school definitely needs exams to function,” Xiao Shiyu said. “According to the teachers here, they are an autonomous school, set up in collaboration with the government. Their results are recorded in official governmental documents. Both state-owned and private companies take these results very seriously so it would be very beneficial for them next time in finding a job.”

“Finding a job?” The short-haired girl said. “I never thought of asking our cat to work. He’s still a small kitten afterall. I just want to see him grow up happily.”

“Aye, let me tell you. You can’t go on like this,” Xiao Shiyu advised. “Do you know that there are now more than 100 000 supercats in Jianghai? The numbers will only keep increasing and the competition in society will become more and intense. It’s like an army of thousands of men trying to cross a single-log bridge. You can’t let your cat lose at the starting line.

He may be happy now but he will hate you to death next time when he can't find a wife."

Seeing that the short-haired girl was visibly swayed by her words, Xiao Shiyu quickly added, "If you want to enrol your cat you should do it now! Let me tell you, his classes here are very popular. There might be no slots left if you enrol too late."

Matcha hid behind the corner of a wall as he peeked out and watched Xiao Shiyu talk to the short-haired girl. He thought, "Looks like they're chatting happily." He turned back to look at the leader of the Mao Gang, who had been released from the Extradimensional Belly to work in the Cat Wonderland like all others as the Extradimensional Belly was used to seal Project X inside.

Although the leader of the Mao Gang kidnapped Lightning and Red Packet and had even auctioned off supercats before, he had turned over a new leaf and started working hard under Zhao Yao after being constantly educated by Zhao Yao.

At that moment, Matcha stared at the blank look on the other's face, before he typed furiously on his phone, which transcribed into a shout, "What are you staring at? Quick, go and attend to customers."

Matcha turned and saw two cats walking in through the entrance of the mall. His face immediately lit up as he walked up to welcome them. "The two of you look new here, are you guys here to enrol in our Y Academy?"

The two cats that walked in were the leaders of the Cao Gang, Mao Mao, and his multicolored cat sidekick.

However, the two cats had dyed their fur white, making them unrecognisable to Matcha.

Upon seeing Matcha, the two cats glanced at each other before Mao Mao replied, "Heard that we would get a 'Headless Horseman's Disciple' certificate after we graduate from here. Is that true?"

"Yes," Matcha said. "Our academy was personally set up by the Headless Horseman himself. It is the Berkeley of the supercat world, China's equivalent to the Ivy League, something like a filling station for cats..."

"Okay okay, stop boasting," Mao Mao cut him off. "I have tens of brothers under me who just want to get the certificate from here. Can we just enrol here without studying to get the certificate?"

“This is big business, big business!” Matcha thought excitedly as he replied, “Sure, of course you can. May I know how many of your men will be enrolling?”

Mao Mao replied, “There are too many people here. Is there a small room where we can sit down and talk?”

Matcha nodded his head vigorously. He found a small meeting room that was vacant and ushered Mao Mao and the multicolored cat sidekick in.

Looking at the two fat cats in front of him, Matcha spoke with a wide smile on his face, “May I know which class you sirs want to enrol in? We allow our students to choose the courses they want to enrol in here. They can also opt to go for some package deals. Personally, I would recommend the second type of package more, especially our latest package deal, ‘The True Self-Reliant Cat’. It is a 24-hour offline class with a militarized management style. I can guarantee you that all the fat nerds that come in will emerge from the class as tigers...”

Mao Mao slowly stretched out his paw and lazily tapped it on the table. “How much is it?”

Matcha said, “Sir, you came just in time. Today is the monthsary of our Y Academy so we are having a special promotion. There is an 88% discount across all the courses and package deals, with a further discount of 500 dollars with every 10 000 spent. The first ten students to be enrolled will even have the chance to take a photo with the Headless Horseman and keep it...”

Seeing how Matcha was talking endlessly, Mao Mao whispered to his multi-colored cat sidekick, “Now.”

The multi-colored cat hesitated for a moment and glanced at Mao Mao as he asked, “Boss, we’re really doing it?”

Mao Mao said in annoyance, “You don’t say. Also, don’t call me Boss. I am now a professional leopard mercenary. I am a killer cat that can do anything for money.”

The multi-colored cat replied, “But if we really do it, we will become cat murderers. There will be no return for us. If we are wanted by the police, it won’t be easy for us to find more targets next time too.”

Mao Mao got angry, “Look at your useless self. We are cold-blooded killers. Killers are not wishy-washy like female cats. Do you even have any sense of professionalism?”

On the other hand, Matcha continued talking, “... After all these discounts, the promotional price for every student’s package deal would be 58 888 dollars. Both of you felt familiar the moment I saw you two. I’ll take it as making friends and round it down to the thousands. It will be 58 000 per cat then.”

Mao Mao and the multicolored cat stopped communicating telepathically and stared at Matcha.

Mao Mao cocked his head to one side and asked, “How much did you say it was?”

Matcha replied, “Promotional price, 58 000. You will be able to have the ultimate experience of the package down from its original price of 198 000.”

Chapter 852: The Defeat and Thoughts

“What!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!”

After hearing Matcha’s explanation, the price of 58 000 exploded into 20 exclamation marks in Mao Mao and the multicolored cat sidekick’s mind.

The two cats started conversing telepathically in a flurry. Countless thoughts flew across their minds and were transmitted to each other.

“A supercat academy actually earns this much money?!” Mao Mao’s mouth fell wide open as he screamed wildly in his mind. “One cat is charged 58k? Even if I was sold off I wouldn’t be worth that amount of money. What kind of monsters are attending such a school? Batman??”

“Boss, it’s only 58k today because the Cat Wonderland is having a special promotion,” The multicolored cat said seriously. “The original price is a whopping 198k!”

“198k?” Mao Mao started shivering all over and the tail on his back shot upright like a police baton. “If it’s 198k for a cat, 10 cats would cost... cost...”

Countless zeros appeared in Mao Mao's mind. This number had exceeded his capacity for calculating and the cat shivered as he thought, "Maybe... maybe it can even buy the whole of Jianghai?!"

The multi-colored cat pursed his lips as he thought, "I don't think it's that much..."

Seeing the two cats in silence, Matcha started breaking out in cold sweat on his back as he thought, "Eh? There's totally no reaction? Is the price I quoted too high? These two guys look quite dumb to begin with, I thought I could rip them off easily. If it doesn't work, I'll just have to reduce the price again."

However, Mao Mao whipped his head up and stared straight into Matcha's eyes as he said, "Does every cat here have to pay such expensive school fees?"

"Uhh huhhh," Matcha nodded hesitantly. He was about to come up with reasons to justify the cost and try to reduce the price when he saw Mao Mao kneel on the floor and said with all respect and seriousness to him:

"Boss Matcha, please let us work under your guidance!"

The multi-colored cat sidekick waved at his boss as he asked hesitantly through telepathy, "Boss, aren't we going to be cold-blooded killers?"

"Shut up. There's nothing good about being a killer!" Mao Mao said, "Killing cats for money will stain my paws bloody. Won't you feel uneasy going to sleep every night? I've had enough of living such a life!"

The multi-colored cat said, "But..."

"No buts!" Mao Mao said, "From today onwards, I will be a normal staff of the supercat academy. I just want to lead a simple life collecting 58k from every cat that enrolls. Why are you forcing me?"

The multi-colored cat thought to himself, "He unknowingly revealed his honest thoughts..."

On the other hand, Matcha fell silent upon seeing Mao Mao kneeling on the floor.

After a long pauses, Matcha touched his head and asked, confused, “What do you guys mean?”

Mao Mao immediately rushed up and hugged Matcha’s leg as he screamed, “We want to work here! Please take us in!”

“We can do anything and everything!”

Matcha twitched his lips in annoyance, “Then what about the enrolment you were saying just now?”

Mao Mao did not dare to look at Matcha in the eye as he turned to the multi-colored cat and started conversing telepathically with him again.

“What should we do now? Should we betray those two guys who hired us?”

The multi-colored cat said in exasperation, “Boss, then Matcha would know that we came here with the intention to kill him.”

“Then what should we do?” Mao Mao panicked. “D*mn, I still haven’t earned enough for my son’s allowance next month. My wife and everyone else in the family all look down on me. Every time there is a gathering with all the other Cat Kings, those despicable guys would look at me with disdain. This job... I must get this job!!”

“I suddenly feel a strong sense of resentment...” The multi-colored cat sidekick sighed in resignation. He said telepathically, “The only way is to plead with him sincerely. If we show him our sincerity, it might work?”

Matcha stared at the two supercats kneeling on the floor and sighed in exasperation, “We already have enough workers here. We are not hiring new workers at the moment.”

Mao Mao slammed his cat head on the floor and said in a loud voice, “I will definitely work hard. Even if it costs me my life, I will willingly do it!”

Matcha rolled his eyes. “Did you even understand what I just said? I said we are not hiring any more cats.” As he said that, he stood up. “Get your asses out of here before I call security.”

Mao Mao was not going to leave just like that. He and the multicolored cat leapt towards Matcha who was walking out.

“Please, I’m begging you!”

“We really need this job!”

Matcha flashed and appeared more than 10 meters away. He twitched his lips in annoyance, “Where’s the cats from the Cat Fighting unit? Quick, chase these two cats out.”

More than 10 supercats charged out at once, beating up Mao Mao and the multicolored cat as they chased them out.

Milk Tea ran over from afar and bumped his head into Matcha’s body, “Brother Matcha! Brother Matcha!” He glanced at Mao and the multicolored cat sidekick curiously and asked, “Who are they? Why are you chasing them away?”

Matcha said in an annoyed tone, “They are just two poor cats. Remember, Milk Tea, cats should always look for a high spot to rest on. You must always make friends with rich cats in this world. As for those poor cats, just trample on them mercilessly!”

Matcha raised his paw high in the air as he said ferociously, “The more cats you trample on, the better the view you can see from the top. This is what society is all about!”

Milk Tea nodded his head awkwardly. “Is that so?”

On the other hand, Mao Mao and the multicolored cat were stunned when they saw Milk Tea.

The multicolored cat said, “Boss, that small cat looks just like you.”

Mao Mao muttered, “He doesn’t just look like me. He looks more like that guy Matcha right? He even appeared here. Is he Matcha’s son?”

A few minutes later, the two cats were chased out by a bunch of supercat security guards. They returned to the catmint bar dejectedly.

“D*mn, I got rejected on my first try at getting a job,” Mao Mao said despondently, “Society is too cruel.”

The multicolored cat said in exasperation, “Boss, what are we going to do now?”

At that moment, the man, woman, and white cat trio appeared and walked towards Mao Mao and the multicolored cat.

“Leader Mao, were you guys about to betray us earlier on?”

...

Milk Tea thought about what Matcha said as he walked along the corridor of the Cat Wonderland. “I must step on more poor cats to climb up? Society is really cruel.”

“But how can I step on more cats like Brother Matcha?”

“... This is so tough.”

Milk Tea scratched his head and took out his phone, “Why don’t I ask Master Zhao?”

He sent Zhao Yao a message on Wechat.

He was not expecting Zhao Yao to reply him immediately. However, Zhao Yao seemed to have internet connection right at that moment while he was in the US as he replied immediately.

“Absolute violence.”

“Huh?” Milk Tea thought to himself, “Does this mean I have to rely on superpowers? But I still don’t know what my own superpower is.”

Just as Milk Tea paced around in deep thought, a voice suddenly rang out, “Milk Tea, what are you thinking about?”

Milk Tea turned around and saw Uncle Egg taking Roly Poly for a walk. He smiled at Milk Tea, “Looking at your lost expression, I guess there’s something you’re puzzled about?”

“Yes.” Milk Tea walked over to Roly Poly and stroked Roly Poly’s head. Seeing the cat squint his eyes in delight, Milk Tea asked, “Uncle Egg, how can I discover what my superpower is?”

Chapter 853: Inquiry and Machine

“Hmm, superpower...” Uncle Egg said. “That’s something unreasonable. Just rely on your intuition. Hahahahaha.”

“Unreasonable?” Milk Tea thought for a while and pressed his cell phone with his paw to record Zhao Yao and Uncle Egg’s words.

Uncle Egg asked curiously, “What are you doing, Milk Tea?”

Milk Tea replied as he continued recording, “Yes, Yellow Mud told me to record important information so that I won’t forget it.”

“Your rich experiences are worth noting down. I think they’ll help me learn how to control my superpower.”

“Oh? Is that so?” Seeing Milk Tea’s diligence, Uncle Egg straightened his back unconsciously and thought, “Matcha is currently managing the Cat Wonderland. As the successor of Matcha and the favourite cat of Zhao Yao, though I am unhappy, I have to admit...”

“Milk Tea is very likely to succeed Cat Wonderland.” Uncle Egg’s eyes flashed. “My words of wisdom could influence the future successor of Cat Wonderland and affect the lives of millions of supercats.”

Uncle Egg felt enthusiastic as he gazed at Milk Tea and coughed. “I have a deep understanding of superpowers.”

Milk Tea looked at Uncle Egg curiously and said, “Really? Could you share this with me?”

Uncle Egg paused and curled his beard as he said, “Superpower depends on age.”

“What? Age?”

“Of course!” Uncle Egg waved his paw and said, “Age deepens the understanding of society and the world and that makes your superpower more powerful. Age is the important factor.”

“Is that how superpowers work?” Milk Tea nodded and recorded it quickly.

Uncle Egg said, “Old supercats are not accorded respect in Cat Wonderland. Old cats should be employed and given more speaking rights...”

A supercat ran over and shouted, “Uncle Egg! Bad news! Cats are fighting in the private room!”

Uncle Egg said, “I’ll go deal with it right now!”

Seeing Roly Poly sniffing here and there, Uncle Egg frowned and said to Milk Tea, “Milk Tea, could you help me take care of Roly Poly? I will be back soon...”

Uncle Egg flashed and vanished. Milk Tea held Roly Poly’s guiding rope and looked into Roly Poly’s eyes.

After a while, Milk Tea said, “You are fat.”

“I only need to take care of Roly Poly, I might as well ask other supercats how to control a superpower.”

Milk Tea pulled along Roly Poly to find other supercats in the Cat Wonderland.

“Superpower?” Red Packet scoffed. “What’s so good about violent superpowers? Money is the most important thing in this society. With money, even Zhao Yao would work for me...”

Cat Sage said, “With regards to the superpower awakening, it’s doing what you like. I activated my superpower the first time while watching cats and rats. Milk Tea, you can try doing things that you like.”

Cannon said, “Superpower awakening? Humph, you have asked the correct cat. If you lend me 500 dollars, I will tell you... wait, wait, wait... 300 dollars work too... 200 dollars are good. Once I win, I will return the money to you! Please Milk Tea!!”

Noodle smiled mysteriously. “You want superpowers? That’s easy, just... swallow this... Hey! Come back! It stinks the first time. Once you are used to it, it’ll be okay.”

Nekomata remembered and said, “The first time I used my superpower? I can’t remember. It’s like I wanted to escape from the cage and I turned into Spirit form. Oh? She found me? If a small girl asks if you have seen me, say no.”

“Sphynx cat, are you able to hear me? If you can, show yourself and tell me how to stimulate my superpower!”

The sound of something falling was heard.

Looking at Sphynx cat’s head on the ground, Milk Tea recorded, “What’s the meaning of a head hitting the ground?”

“Are you talking about superpower?” Kun Wu said with experience. “Once you’ve awakened your intelligence, you have superpowers. You haven’t understood the use and activation yet.”

“Really?” Milk Tea said excitedly. “That means I have a superpower?”

Kun Wu nodded and said, “Of course, once you’ve awakened your intelligence, you have a superpower and you need to stimulate that superpower. Let me think... Doll!”

Doll turned his head and said, “Yes?” His eyes illuminated and American cities and streets appeared in his eyesight.

Kun Wu said, “Didn’t you develop a machine that can help supercats stimulate their superpowers?”

“Oh, it’s Lazy Cat Training Machine.” Doll touched his chin and said, “Zhao Yao asked me to develop the machine to stimulate Matcha... No, it’s for the college to force the supercats to train. However, the machine is unstable...”

“No problem!” Milk Tea said with anticipation. “I’d like to try!”

Roly Poly was behind Milk Tea meowing.

Half an hour later, Milk Tea was tied to a bed inclined at 45° and his body was stuck with strange shaped objects.

He wore a huge helmet.

Roly Poly sprawled at the side obediently, watching Milk Tea curiously.

Milk Tea said puzzled, “Doll, is this machine safe? I feel it’s kind of dangerous.”

Doll said, “Don’t worry. Although it’ll cause pain in the nerves, it’s absolutely safe and will not harm users.” Doll pressed the start button and electricity flowed through Milk Tea’s body, stimulating his muscles, nerves, and bones.

Doll asked, “Is it manageable?”

Milk Tea nodded and felt numbing sensations on his body as he said, “It’s strange but it’s not painful.”

“Let me increase the intensity.” Doll increased the machine intensity while scanning the images sent from the United States.

Numerous surveillance drones floated in the skies above major American cities, collecting intelligence for Doll.

“I thought Zhao Yao would make quite a splash in the United States. He’s actually quite discreet.”

Chapter 854: Stimulation and kidnap

Suddenly, Doll was shocked. “That is ...”

Milk Tea, who was lying on the bed, said, “It’s getting painful.”

“Hey, Doll, stop for a while.”

“Meow-ow!!!”

As Milk Tea screamed, dark flames danced in his eyes.

Doll immediately shut off the training machine.

Seeing the broken training machine and the collapsed Milk Tea on the ground, he felt as though cold sweat was dripping on his head.

“Milk Tea... I suppose he won’t die.”

Milk Tea laid motionless as he passed out on the ground. Doll felt as though his mechanical body was dripping cold sweat.

“Milk Tea is Zhao Yao’s favourite cat, if he knows about this...”

Doll saw the image of the red-eyed Zhao Yao sticking him into a boiling oil pot with a fork and trembled as he said, “No! I must save him!”

“Headless! Scan Milk Tea’s vital statistics!”

“Where’s the automated surgery kit? Quickly find and activate it!”

Headless said, “Master Doll! He has stopped breathing. Do I activate the cremation procedure?”

“No, don’t activate!”

“How could it be? The training machine at the highest intensity isn’t capable of killing a rat! How could Milk Tea be mortally wounded?”

“Ah!” Doll leaned on Milk Tea’s body to detect his heartbeat and jumped with fright.

“Doomed!” Doll grasped his head and paced up and down. “There’s no heartbeat at all!”

Doll was filled with fear as he knelt down. “No, I’m doomed. Zhao Yao will kill me. What should I do?”

“My relationship with Kun Wu is getting better and better.”

“Machine development is also improving.”

“Why did I become a cat killer all of a sudden?”

Headless said, “Master Doll, according to my data analysis, you may want to watch ‘Prison on Fire’, ‘Prison Break’, ‘Shutter Island’, and ‘Prison School’. They will be extremely helpful for your prison life.”

“D*mn you! Shut up!!” Doll said, infuriated. “It’s your fault for causing the machine failure! I should hand you over to Zhao Yao.”

“That won’t work as Zhao Yao’s not that easy to deal with.”

Doll fell to the ground and tossed and turned in anguish.

Headless said, “Master Doll, if you don’t want to enter prison, according to my research of 21 works of fiction such as ‘Hannibal’, ‘Law Abiding Citizen’, ‘Death Note’, ‘Case Closed’, etc, your choice of action is to destroy the carcass.”

“Huh?” Doll turned his head and looked at Milk Tea on the ground. “Destroy the carcass?”

Doll shook his head and said, “No, how could I do such a thing?”

“Headless, what temperature is required for the carcass to become ash?”

“Don’t activate the cremation procedure. I’m only asking!”

Doll looked at Roly Poly abruptly and Roly Poly gawked at him and said, “Meow?”

“Isn’t Roly Poly retarded?” Doll schemed and thought, “If I frame Roly Poly as the one who attacked and ate Milk Tea... No, no, gosh, what am I thinking?”

As Doll laid on the ground feeling hopeless, Milk Tea shivered, opened his eyes and stood up.

Doll was astonished.

Milk Tea massaged his head and said to Doll, “What happened? Did I pass out?”

Doll and Headless exchanged messages in a frenzy.

Headless said, “All vital statistics of Milk Tea had returned to normal. This is a healthy supercat.”

Doll thought, “Huh? Did Milk Tea come back from death?”

“No, he did not come back from death. He didn’t die at all.”

“Yes, my Lazy Cat Training Machine can’t kill a rat at the highest intensity.”

“There must be a problem with the sensors, Milk Tea’s fine.”

“That must be the case.”

Milk Tea looked at his paws and asked bewildered, “Doll, what happened to me just now? Is my superpower activated? I can’t recall anything after I lied down on the bed.”

“Ah, you...” Doll said, “Slept on the bed. It’s a pity, my Lazy Cat Training Machine is unable to stimulate your superpower.”

Seeing Milk Tea leading Roly Poly away, Doll heaved in relief. “I was scared stiff. Thank goodness, Milk Tea’s alright.”

His paws stepped on a machine fragment. Looking at the Lazy Cat Training Machine fragments strewn all over the floor, Doll scrutinized the fragments and discovered numerous sensor data coming out from them.

“Hmm... fragments of the machine? Why did the machine break into pieces?”

Headless said, “Master Doll, over in the United States...”

“Yes, we haven’t finished scanning the American intelligence.”

...

Milk Tea led Roly Poly in the Cat Wonderland and was upset as he thought, “How can I stimulate my superpower?”

“Roly Poly, do you know how to stimulate my superpower?”

Roly Poly looked deeply into Milk Tea’s eyes, meowed abruptly, licked his paws and cleaned his face.

“Well, how could you know?”

At this instant, Roly Poly’s body shook violently. He braced his chest and his sharp eyes scanned the surroundings.

“Huh? Roly Poly, are you alright?”

Roly Poly charged wildly. As his weight was three to four times that of Milk Tea, Milk Tea was unable to restrain Roly Poly and was dragged along. They charged out of the Cat Wonderland’s main door, ran along the streets, and arrived at a fried chicken stall.

Seeing Roly Poly looking at the fried chicken, Milk Tea said, “No, you can’t eat fried chicken, Roly Poly.”

Milk Tea tried his best to restrain Roly Poly but was pulled by him towards the stall.

Behind them tens of meters away, Mao Mao and his deputy, who was a multi-colored cat, were creeping on the wall edge, observing Milk Tea and Roly Poly.

Mao Mao said, “Hmm... isn’t that Matcha’s kid? He came out from the wonderland?”

The deputy said, “Gang leader, what shall we do? Do we make a move on them?”

“We have no choice.” Mao Mao said, “If we don’t act, that three guys will not let us off. Cat Wonderland is too dangerous. Let’s kidnap Matcha’s son and force Matcha out.”

Mao Mao gazed at Milky Tea and said, “Follow them closely. Once we have the chance, act immediately!”

Chapter 855: Chaos and Connect

In a temporary house in America.

Zhao Yao was thinking while he lay on the sofa with his eyes closed.

Arthas was laying by his side as he watched Zhao Yao. “What kind of terrible idea is this devil thinking of again? Why is the organization so slow. They need to come and save me. Haven’t they realized that there is something wrong?”

Coco Wang was eying Zhao Yao suspiciously too. “Arthas had leaked a lot of important intel just now. Zhao Yao must be thinking of a way to deal with Star Cats. What will be his next step? It is so hard to imagine.”

Zhao Yao thought to himself, “Should I call pizza or Mexican food for delivery?”

“I should get Mexican food. I heard it is really popular in America now.”

Zhao Yao thought about it and reached his hand out to grab the phone.

Arthas and Coco Wang were watching him. “It’s here! Is he going to make a move?”

An hour later, Arthas and Coco Wang were speechless. “In the end, all he did was order food.”

Zhao Yao sighed while eating. “What should I do next?”

According to the intel that Arthas had given him, the meteorite fragments in Star Cats were with the nine creators. Which meant, if he wanted to get the meteorite fragments, he had to attack the other eight creators.

“If Arthas’ capture got out then the rest of the cats will be in high alert.” Zhao Yao thought about it, “Even Arthas does not know where the other cats are. What should I do?”

Zhao Yao looked at Arthas and had an idea. “Or should I just use Arthas and sneak in? Sneak inside Star Cats and attack them unexpectedly.”

“With Sheriff’s mind reading powers and Elizabeth controlling Arthas, he shouldn’t have the opportunity to play tricks.”

“This is the easiest solution.”

Two hours later, Arthas returned to his mansion with the Dragon Slaying Saber hanging on his chest. Behind him was Coco Wang and the apostle in black. The apostle had been wiped of his memories for the last 24 hours.

Upon seeing Arthas, someone ran up immediately and asked, “Boss, where have you been? The other creators are very concerned about you.”

Although Zhao Yao and Arthas had fought in the dream, Zhao Yao had managed to capture the cat and the two people who escaped.

Beside Zhao Yao and a few others, the rest of them no longer remembered what happened in the dream.

The fight where Zhao Yao was chasing after Arthas was too small scaled and fast. Hence, no one had noticed it.

Of course if Arthas remained missing then it would raise the suspicions of the other creators in Star Cats and eventually they would be lead to Zhao Yao.

However, since Arthas was back now then there was nothing wrong anymore.

The few Star Cats workers talked to Arthas for a while and went back to report.

Arthas looked at the Dragon Slaying Saber hanging on his neck and sighed. He brought Zhao Yao to the sofa in his living room.

Ares and the rest were still following Zhao Yao and within Zhao Yao’s Deflective Field. With an illusion, they were hidden from the eye.

Lightning saw Ares pondering and whispered, “Trust me, it will be more comfortable if you shave.”

"I am not thinking of that!" Ares chided Lightning. Then, he asked curiously. "Is it really that useful?"

"Of course!" Lightning said. "Trust me, after you shave you can deal with real physical damage."

"Really?" Ares was hesitating.

Meanwhile, Elizabeth was staring at supercat Mary. "She ate so much but she really hasn't been to the toilet for more than 24 hours. What a great power!"

Zhao Yao looked at Arthas and said, "So, get as many creators over as you can."

"This fellow, he is thinking of taking down the other cats? No, I have to find a way to contact the other supercats. I must inform them of the situation here."

Just when Arthas was thinking of that, Sheriff whispered in Zhao Yao's ear.

Zhao Yao raised his eyebrows and he snapped his fingers. The Dragon Slaying Saber on Arthas's neck floated up with the Deflective Field and rubbed against Arthas's chest.

"Arthas, stop thinking of other things. Ask the other supercats to come over. I am not going to kill them."

Chills ran down Arthas's spine when he looked at the Dragon Slaying Saber. He tried to remain calm as he thought, "Does he have a supercats with the powers to read minds? Why does it seem like he knows what I am thinking about."

Sheriff said, "He is guessing that we have mind reading powers."

"It's okay." Zhao Yao looked at Arthas and said, "Okay. Call your friends over. Stop playing tricks with me."

Arthas said helplessly, "I may not be able to..."

“Hmph?”

“No, actually... It is that... We are not on good terms,” Arthas said awkwardly. “Haha, they are not on good terms with me.”

“What.” Zhao Yao looked at Arthas with disgust.

Arthas was angry. “Do you think it is easy to work in Star Cats? You don’t understand the pressures of a big enterprise!”

“Whatever.” Zhao Yao tugged the corners of his mouth and said, “Pass me your phone. How do you guys normally communicate? I will contact them.”

Arthas handed him his phone and pointed at the few cats in his contacts.

Zhao Yao rubbed his chin. “The cat that is named Volcano lives the nearest to you right? A male cat?”

Arthas said, “He is a stupid barbarian that lives in prehistoric times. I am in terrible terms with him. He will never reply.”

“Is it so?” Zhao Yao looked at Elizabeth and said, “Elizabeth, smile.” Then, he took a picture of Elizabeth.

He shook his head when he saw Elizabeth looking bewildered. “Elizabeth, you need to look sexier and full of temptation.”

“Lift your leg higher.”

“Yes, yes. Stick out your tongue.”

“Lift your tail higher.”

“Be a bit more wild.”

“Yes. This is it.”

Zhao Yao looked at the photo satisfyingly and sent it Volcano.

Chapter 856: News and Magma

After Zhao Yao sent the picture, Volcano’s profile picture lit up.

“Arthas, do you think having a few photos are impressive? Let me show you what pictures of cats are called.”

Then, he saw that Volcano had sent over a dozen pictures. He had sent pictures of British Shorthairs, American Shorthairs, Ragdoll cats and Persian cats and they were all professionally taken.

“This fellow...” Zhao Yao clenched his teeth and replied, “All the photos that I have sent are taken on the spot.”

Volcano laughed.

Zhao Yao video called Volcano and pointed the camera at Elizabeth, Catherine, and Diana. Then, he grabbed Artha over.

Volcano saw three extremely good looking Ragdoll cats appear on the phone screen and there was a very ugly paw touching the Ragdoll cats.

With Volcano’s eyesight, he could tell immediately that it was Arthas’s paw.

While Volcano was getting more and more excited and as the content got more explicit, the video call ended.

Volcano replied anxiously, “Arthas! Why aren’t you continuing! Why did you hang up!”

Zhao Yao replied, “Stupid. The next few scenes cannot be captured on camera. My paws and mouth are busy.”

Volcano was stunned and he was thinking of the circumstances in which both his paws and mouth would be occupied. Then, he got more excited. “Turn on the camera! If you can’t hold it with your mouth then put it at the side!”

Zhao Yao: “You want to watch it?”

Volcano: ” Yes, yes, yes! (☹ω☹)”

Zhao Yao: “No.”

Volcano: “(†°A)”

Volcano: “Arthas! Are you kidding me? Do you know who you are talking to?”

Zhao Yao, “I, Arthas, love to play with cats who think highly of themselves. I have a hundred ways to make sure you scream and you will be helpless against all of them.”

“What!” Volcano’s head started burning and the flames rushed up to the sky. He was so angry that he couldn’t control his powers. He raged, “When has Arthas dared to speak to me like this? Is this the Arthas that I had control over?”

Then, Volcano yelled in pain and felt the pain spreading on his head. “Oh no! I’m burnt!”

“Quick! Extinguish the fire!”

Immediately, staff in thick fire fighting suits who rushed over. They sprayed large amounts of fire extinguisher before extinguishing the fire.

Volcano looked in the mirror and saw the bald patch on his head. He was even more angry.

He started typing furiously, “Arthas! I order you to turn on the camera now! You have to do whatever I ask you to do! Or I will burn your house down!”

Zhao Yao, “Haha, it’s okay. You can call all the cats that you know over here.

I don’t mind playing with you.”

“This fellow!” A flame started burning on Volcano again. A staff member on the side started shouting, “Volcano! Control your temper. Your head is burning again!”

After a few minutes, the bald patch on Volcano’s head increased and Volcano got angrier.

“Arthas, I want all three Ragdoll cats. If you don’t hand them over, I will roast you.”

Zhao Yao, “I don’t like to waste my time talking rubbish. If you think you have the ability to play with me. I don’t mind entertaining you.”

Volcano yelled, “Arthas! You are too rude!”

Ask Apollo and his men to go over there!

I am going to snatch his female cats from in front of him, shave all his fur, burn his house, and teach him how to respect his elders.”

...

In Yellowstone National Park, under the lava. Fiery dragons could be seen tumbling and jumping around.

Several human shaped flames were fighting.

Accompanied by their actions, the magma around them looked like it had been sucked out of energy as it gradually extinguished and turned cold.

Roar! There was a yell from the flames as a flame that was ten meters tall exploded and spread outwards. It rushed out in a ring and blew the rest of the flames apart.

After the blast ended, it solidified again. It formed a two meter tall man that had muscles as solid as marble. He had fiery red long hair that was constantly burning and of the same temperature as the surrounding magma.

There were hints of red glow emitting from under his skin. He looked like a human but actually was a body completely made of flames.

He was a natural disaster representative under one of the nine creators. Most of them called him Apollo and he was the strongest apostle under Volcano.

Meanwhile, the other human shaped flames turned back into humans and looked at Apollo in awe. It was not just because of his powers but also because of his impossibly strong will power.

To increase the compatibility with his powers and to increase his combat strength, Apollo had not returned to human form for three months.

He stayed in the magma everyday, remained in the fiery form, and maintained his existence from absorbing heat from the magma.

To improve his control over the power, except for going to Volcano and borrowing the powers everyday, he stayed in the magma for 24 hours and maintained his fiery body.

In the magma, even if he had the power to turn into flames, if he accidentally deactivated the powers, he would be killed by the high temperature, poisonous gasses, and high pressure immediately.

He was placing himself in a highly dangerous situation, constantly forcing himself to expand his potential and adapt to his abilities.

Now, Apollo's powers were a form of instinct. They were like breathing, swallowing, and his heartbeat. He was in the fiery state every moment.

After feeling Apollo's status, everyone there was taken aback. Especially when he looked at them with the fiery eyes, they felt as though their blood had stopped flowing. They felt uneasy even though they were in their fiery state too.

"Apollo's compatibility with his powers is getting higher and higher."

"He looks like a real human if you don't look closely."

"Did he overcome his human instincts? His willpower is so scary."

Apollo looked at them and said, "What did you guys come over here for? I said not to disturb my training if there is nothing important right? Fire Wolf?"

Fire Wolf felt an intense pressure when Apollo looked at him. The magma around him seemed to have stopped flowing and pressured towards him.

Chapter 857: Catching the cat and defeat

Fire Wolf answered quickly, "Boss wants you to go and capture a cat for him."

"Boss?" Apollo nodded and said, "Okay." Then, he turned into a flame again, broke through the layers of magma, and charged towards the exit.

Fire Wolf heaved a sigh of relief and said, "Let's go and gather too."

...

After two hours, there was a rumbling sound from the sky.

Coco Wang ran to the side of the bed and looked towards the sky. There was a flame flying around the sky like a meteor.

Looking at this Coco Wang sighed, “The Natural Disaster Representative from Volcano is here. He is as arrogant as always.”

Zhao Yao walked behind Coco Wang and looked at the sky too. “As always?”

Coco Wang said, “Volcano’s power is the ability to turn into flames, absorb heat while being in the fiery state, and send out heat waves. If they can maintain this state then it is very restrictive for Arthas.”

Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up and nodded.

Arthas’ dream powers, if cast first, gave him the upper hand 99% of the time.

But, if Volcano’s powers were to turn into flames then he could not be placed under hypnosis.

However, if they were in the Dream Dimension, it was a different story. Arthas was desperately trying to improve his Dream Dimension powers as he wanted to be able to fight Volcano.

“However, Volcano has many apostles, much more than Arthas.” Zhao Yao thought about it, then understood. Although the power to turn into fire was very strong, it was for a straight battle. No matter how strong the apostles were, they would be easy to control.

Arthas’s psychological powers were hard to notice. The hypnosis and dream powers were all hard to detect. That’s why Arthas did not dare to lend his powers to too many apostles, in case there was something wrong with his apostles.

Meanwhile, Apollo turned into a human-shaped flame and looked at the manor coldly.

There were three beams of fire that attacked the ground and as it exploded it left a black pit filled with scorch marks and soot.

The security personnel from the manor rushed up and started shouting.

The three beams of fire formed into a five meter tall fiery human and Fire Wolf looked at the security personnel that were surrounding them. He sneered and spat out fire sparks. "Get lost if you don't want to die."

Then, he waved his palm and a fire ring rolled out. All the grass turned into ash and the security personnel backed down in alarm.

The three fiery man walked towards the the living room and left scorch trails everywhere. They knocked down the door to the dining hall and saw Coco Wang and the other apostles looking at them.

Upon seeing Coco Wang, he placed his attention on her, the best apostle under Arthas. He did not bother to look at the other apostles.

"Coco Wang, where are the three female cats?" Fire Wolf asked coldly. "Volcano asked for us to bring them back. Hand the cats over or we will burn down the house."

The other two apostles started laughing upon hearing this.

Zhao Yao, who was next door, frowned. "He is so timid. He didn't even dare to come over himself and had to sent his men."

Zhao Yao wanted to hide and sneak an attack on Volcano, who knew that Volcano would be cautious and had no intentions of coming personally.

In the hall, Fire Wolf said impatiently, "Hey, can you hear us? Coco Wang, you should know that after we turn into flames, you are like an ordinary human to us. Hand over the three ragdoll cats and don't ask for trouble."

It wasn't the first day of Volcano and Arthas being in a conflict. Most of the time, they could defeat Arthas. Not to mention it was only his apostles and not Arthas himself.

Hence, Fire Wolf and the other two were fearless.

Coco Wang frowned and glanced towards the next room. She told Fire Wolf, "I don't know what you are talking about."

“What?” The flames on Fire Wolf grew and the air around him started to distort. Coco Wang was the first to feel the scorching heat.

Then, he raised his right leg and stomped on the ground. The fire spread out in a ring with Fire Wolf in its center.

The floor was burnt and the sofa turned into ash. All the wallpapers and furnishing yellowed, fell off, or turned into ash...

Coco Wang was the first and felt a surge of heat, her hair curled, and there was an astonishing heat radiating off her skin.

She activated her mental powers, but she could not defend against the attack.

However, the fire stopped when it touched Coco Wang and dispersed into the air.

Fire Wolf looked at the defenseless Coco Wang and said, “Hand the cats over or it will not be so simple the next time.”

Coco Wang swallowed her saliva and said, “I don’t know what you are talking about...”

Fire Wolf tugged the corners of his mouth and fire leaped out. It slowly moved around Coco Wang and it started to increase in temperature. “Volcano wants the cat. Stop making it hard for us.”

When Zhao Yao, who was deep in his thoughts, heard that. He looked up in their direction and broke down the wall to the living room.

Then, he clenched his fist and the Deflective Field covered the three of them.

“Who are you?!”

Fire Wolf and the others were experienced fighters and they reacted almost immediately as they shot fire at Zhao Yao.

There was a soft clash and invisible powers came out of nowhere. The fire was blocked back by the Deflective Field.

Then, the Deflective Field brought the fire and attacked Fire Wolf. It tightened with a clench of Zhao Yao's fist.

Bam, bam, bam, bam! The three of their faces changed as they turned into flames and exploded out.

The scorching heat wave crashed against the Deflective Field and nothing happened. In comparison, after turning into flames, they were squashed by the Deflective Field and eventually became three fireballs. They floated in front of Zhao Yao.

Fire Wolf clenched his teeth and looked at Zhao Yao nervously. "Who are you? Coco Wang, what do you want to do? Ask him to release us!"

Coco Wang looked at Zhao Yao and remained silent.

Then, Zhao Yao waved his hand and grabbed Arthas.

Upon seeing this, Fire Wolf was alarmed. "This guy, he is holding Arthas as hostage?" But, thinking that Apollo was waiting for him in the sky, he heaved a sigh of relief.

"At least Apollo is still here..."

Arthas said nervously, "Why are you so rash! There are dozens of apostles in the sky! Especially Apollo! I heard that he has turned his powers into a form of instinct. He is not easy to deal with.

Especially when there are so many people. If they leak the news, we will be surrounded by Star Cats."

Zhao Yao turned around and said, "I will go and catch them."

Arthas said nervously, "Wait, it is too easy for them to escape outside. I will think of a way to lure them in..."

“There is no need for the trouble.” Zhao Yao walked towards the door. “Any apostles whose powers are exposed will not even have the chance to escape.”

Before Fire Wolf, Coco Wang and Arthas knew, Zhao Yao had disappeared.

Before, they could react, the doors of the hall were kicked open again and Zhao Yao grabbed Apollo’s head like he was a chicken. Behind him were several apostles dragged by the Deflective Field.

Apollo and his men were defeated.

Chapter 858: The Capture

In the hall, Apollo, Fire Wolf, and the rest were standing in front of Zhao Yao obediently as they looked at Zhao Yao nervously, frightened, and warily.

Zhao Yao was sitting on the sofa like a boss as Arthas peeled a banana and handed it up to him.

Coco Wang stood beside Zhao Yao and was massaging his back. She thought to herself, “This Zhao Yao, it has just been a few years and he is completely different from his school days. He is like a completely different person...” She thought back to the lowkey and honest Zhao Yao that looked harmless. Coco Wang sighed, “Guys turn bad when they have cats...”

Zhao Yao took the banana that Arthas had peeled and told Apollo and his men, “Do not say that I did not give you guys a chance. 10 seconds, I give you guys 10 seconds to run.”

Everyone froze and Apollo asked coldly, “What are you trying to do?”

“9.”

An apostle's face changed and he turned into a flame and broke out of the window.

Upon seeing this, the other apostles were slightly surprised and they escaped one by one. Even Apollo turned into a fiery meteorite and escaped.

There were not fools, Zhao Yao had the power to kill them immediately. Before figuring out his powers, they would not confront Zhao Yao easily.

Now, Zhao Yao was actually stupid enough to let them leave. Naturally, they would not try to stay behind.

They flew out thousands of meters and rejoiced.

"We met with a fool? He really let us go?"

"Inform the organization immediately! Organize an army to take down this fellow!"

"Our phones were taken away. We have to look for the nearest telephone."

"He will regret what he has done today!"

Arthas saw this and was anxious. "Zhao Yao, what are you doing? It will be over if you let them escape. Do you know how fast they can fly?"

Zhao Yao said, "Relax, they can't escape...8...7"

Arthas was even more anxious. "Stop counting! They are about to escape. Hurry up and chase them."

Zhao Yao shook his hand and assured that it was alright. He counted to ten and stood up slowly as Arthas looked at him anxiously.

Then, his body flashed and appeared a few seconds later.

As Zhao Yao appeared, Apollo, Fire Wolf, and all their men were back in the living room. It was as if they had never left as they looked at Zhao Yao in fear.

All they remember was that there was a flash and Zhao Yao appeared in front of them, then it was a blur. Before they could react, they were back in the living room.

Zhao Yao chased after them with his Time Freeze and used the Deflective Field to bring them together. He then used Sleep Medusa to turn them back into humans and dragged them back.

Due to the Time Freeze, his superhuman abilities, and Cheese Cloak, to others it looked like he flashed and brought everyone back in an instant.

Upon seeing this, in Arthas, Coco Wang, Apollo, and his men's hearts, Zhao Yao became increasingly unpredictable.

Zhao Yao ate his banana as he looked at everyone. He said slowly, "You guys saw the situation. It is not that I want to be straight forward but all of you humans and cats combined are trash to me. So, stop running, resisting, and wasting everyone's time. Tell me, where is Volcano?"

Volcano's apostles looked at each other. Evidently, no one wanted to speak.

Zhao Yao laughed, "No one is willing to speak?" He indicated Arthas to come over with his fingers and Arthas ran over immediately.

Zhao Yao grabbed onto the Dragon Slaying Saber and took it off Arthas's neck.

He shook the Dragon Slaying Saber and asked, "I will ask one more time. Where is Volcano?"

Upon seeing that the apostles were unwilling to cooperate, Zhao Yao reached out his hand and the Dragon Slaying Saber flew towards Apollo.

Apollo's expression was cold and looked onto the floor emotionless. It was as if nothing concerned him.

Zhao Yao controlled the Dragon Slaying Saber and asked, “You are the leader of the team right? Where is Volcano?”

Apollo’s head was still lowered as he looked onto the ground without a reaction.

Fire Wolf looked at him in awe. Now, they were no longer in fiery state. They did not know how that guy had turned them back into human form but in this state they were no different from ordinary humans. Any weapon could hurt them.

“Apollo deserves to be Volcano’s best apostle. He has a will power as strong as a rock. Normal injuries and torture are ineffective against him. This is the real iron man.” Fire Wolf sighed in his heart. “Apollo, show him the courage of the Natural Disaster Apostles. Even if his powers are overpowering, he will not have the location of Volcano.”

Meanwhile, Zhao Yao used the Dragon Slaying Saber and stabbed Apollo’s shoulder.

Looking at the injury, Apollo looked at Zhao Yao in disdain. “That is all you can do?”

Zhao Yao smiled and looked at him grinning.

Then, Apollo’s face changed. Cold sweat dripped down from his forehead, his body started shivering as his eyes were filled with bulging veins.

The others looked at Apollo who was shivering on the floor. They did not understand why such a small injury hurt Apollo so much.

Only Arthas and Coco Wang looked at Apollo in pity. They understood his pain.

“How? Will you speak?” Zhao Yao looked at Apollo and asked, “Tell me where is Volcano.”

He looked at Apollo who refused to speak and held up his thumb. “Good job. What a tough guy.”

Fire Wolf was nodding in his heart and looked at Apollo in awe. “Good job Apollo. Don’t concede defeat towards this Asian.”

When he saw that Zhao Yao was about to stab him with the Dragon Slaying Saber again, he fell to the floor and spoke quickly. “Volcano is in the Yellowstone Park!!”

Zhao Yao was slightly surprised and laughed.

All the apostles around Apollo were dejected and looked at Apollo with disappointment.

Sheriff, who was invisible, was thinking, “I already told Zhao Yao the location but he still wants to stab them. What a freak.”

Zhao Yao looked at the apostle’s head in disappointment. “There is no mission? The Americans are not as friendly as the Japanese.”

Although Apollo and his men did not provide him with a mission, Volcano’s mission came.

Mission: Capture the cat

Mission Objective: Go to Yellowstone National Park and capture Volcano

Reward: 5000 experience points

Punishment: None

“Soon.” Zhao Yao looked at the panel and thought, “At this rate, when I get hold of all the nine cats. I can probably upgrade to get the first Level 10 cat.”

Looking at Project X in the Extradimensional Belly, Zhao Yao felt that he had to work faster.

Chapter 859: Ambush

In an underground base at Yellowstone National Park.

Volcano was in a fireproof room, scrolling his phone in boredom.

“Aye, why aren’t Apollo and the rest back yet?”

He rolled on the floor and he recalled the three Ragdoll cats he saw in the video and his saliva dropped from his mouth.

Then, a head popped out from the floor and stared at him in the eye.

The head that appeared in front of Volcano was Zhao Yao, who was sneaking in with Gaia's powers.

When he made eye contact with Volcano, Elizabeth activated her powers and controlled Volcano easily.

Volcano wanted to shout, move, and activate his powers, but he realized that his body was very stiff. It was as if his body wasn't his anymore. He was captured easily by Zhao Yao.

Upon seeing Volcano, Zhao Yao smiled and looked at the 5000*2 experience points he had obtained.

It was different from the fight with Arthas. The battle with Volcano had ended swiftly.

After all, although Volcano's powers were very useful against Arthas, it was not a threat for Zhao Yao. Furthermore, with Apollo and Arthas's intel, Zhao Yao could ambush Volcano easily.

He defeated Volcano in one move.

Volcano was feeling very angry, after all he did not even have the chance to attack.

"Damn it! Who is this guy?"

If Volcano transformed into flames, he was a complete natural disaster. The temperature of his flames was higher than Apollo and the rest's. He could vaporise the entire underground base.

It was because of that, therefore, he did not dare to maintain his fiery state. It would be a great burden for America and everywhere he went would be burnt.

He stayed in the normal cat form in the base too just in case he would burn the phones, computers and internet cables.

With Volcano's destruction powers, if Zhao Yao was hit, he would die too.

However, Zhao Yao did not give him a chance to showcase his powers.

Zhao Yao held onto Volcano and descended underground again. He finished walking the entire base.

Then, as the illusion activated, everyone in the base fell unconscious and was gathered together by Zhao Yao. He handed them to Elizabeth and the rest to eliminate their memories of the last 24 hours.

The Meteorite Fragment was not on Volcano, with his capabilities, if he continued to grow, he may not be able to control himself. By then, he may become a walking natural disaster and it would be a serious problem.

So, Volcano wasn't wearing the Meteorite Fragments for months.

Zhao Yao looked at Volcano and said, "Where is your Meteorite Fragment?"

Volcano looked at Zhao Yao with hatred and kept his mouth closed.

Sheriff was listening to Volcano's mind and telling Zhao Yao the position of the Meteorite Fragment.

After several minutes, Zhao Yao came to the box with the Meteorite Fragment and watched the Meteorite Fragment diffuse into his palm. He smiled with satisfaction.

The collection of Meteorite fragments grew to 28%.

After doing all of this, Zhao Yao held onto Volcano and went back to Arthas's manor happily. He left behind a bunch of people with their memories and records wiped off.

In less than a day, Zhao Yao used Arthas and Volcano's connections and defeated three more supercats.

Out of the nine Star Cats creators, Zhao Yao had caught five of them and left behind a bunch of people with their memories wiped. The Star Cats did not even know what was going on.

Zhao Yao's experience points and Meteorite Fragments collection increased by a large amount.

BOOK: Level 7 (70077/50000)

The progress for the collection of meteorite also reached 49% and Zhao Yao had obtained 3 skill points.

If Zhao Yao was willing, he could upgrade a bunch supercats and use the three skill points to improve his capabilities greatly.

But he did not do that. Star Cats were not a big threat to him. He wanted to leave the experience points and skill points to deal with Project X.

Now, Zhao Yao was hugging onto Gaia and headed for another Star Cats base.

His goal was the supercat Leo. According to the last supercat's intel, he sneaked in and popped his head out once in a while to check the directions. Soon, he was at his designation.

Zhao Yao's head popped out from the ceiling and saw a cat's back facing him. The cat was typing on the computer constantly.

He looked at the stripes on this cat and looked at the photo. He compared both and thought, "This cat does not look like Leo."

Zhao Yao eyes flashed as he controlled the cat. He turned the cat around and asked, "Hey, you aren't Leo right? Who are you? Where is Leo?"

The cat looked at Zhao Yao with hatred. "So it was you who caught Volcano and the rest?"

Zhao Yao was alarmed. "I have been discovered?"

Although Zhao Yao tried his best to cover up his tracks, for supercats like Arthas and Volcano to be caught, there was no way he could hide it for long. The moment they couldn't reach them and they searched, they would realize the problem.

Zhao Yao was lucky for being discovered only after he caught five cats.

Then, as a series of blue light flickered, many figures appeared in front of Zhao Yao.

Hundreds and thousands of apostles surrounded Zhao Yao and the room.

"Mass transfer?" Zhao Yao was alarmed. He knew that there was a cat in Star Cats that could mass transfer.

Evidently, after realizing that there were supercats missing, the Star Cats had gathered a large army and were ready for mass transfer to ambush the kidnapper.

Looking at the continuous flashing of blue lights, the increasing number of apostles and the numerous number of guns pointing at him. Zhao Yao rubbed his head and said, "Now I am in trouble."

"Yes, you are in deep trouble, Zhao Yao."

Hearing that, Zhao Yao was stunned. They had discovered his identity already?

A metallic golden hand reached out from the blue light and grabbed Zhao Yao's head. He said softly. "If you don't want your head to be squashed by hundreds of tonnes, don't move."

Behind Zhao Yao was a shiny silver and golden metallic man. He was holding onto Zhao Yao's head and talked into the walkie-talkie. "I have caught the intruder. He is under my control."

"Okay. I will bring him over."

Chapter 860: Plunder and Breaking Siege

Feeling the energy from the head, Zhao Yao blinked and stood up gradually.

The Metal Man behind him became grim and abruptly applied pressure to restrain Zhao Yao once again.

He discovered that Zhao Yao was like a self-turning star.

No matter how much force he exerted, he was unable to change the trajectory of Zhao Yao or lift him up.

“Ah!” The Metal Man roared as he slammed both hands on Zhao Yao’s head.

Normally, he was able to flatten a metal globe into a disc. His enormous strength caused an explosion as his hands collided with Zhao Yao’s head and made his hair ruffle noisily.

Zhao Yao’s head was intact, not even a slight deformation was found. Instead, the Metal Man felt a strong reactive force coming from Zhao Yao’s head that shook his arms violently and he fell back on his butt on the ground.

He looked in shock as Zhao Yao’s palm grabbed his head as though he was a puppet and lifted him up with ease.

“Little friend, what did you say?” Zhao Yao applied pressure from his palm and crunching sounds were heard as cracks appeared on the Metal Man’s head.

“Let me go!” The Metal Man shouted in panic. He flung his strong hands and legs at Zhao Yao. Hundreds of tons of energy landed on Zhao Yao’s, creating loud banging sounds and large cracks on the ground beneath them. However, Zhao Yao remained intact and did not move an inch.

His long arms were like invincible beams that were fixed firmly in mid-air, as he grasped the Metal Man’s head tightly.

“Release him!”

“Release him immediately!”

“Cover your head! Kneel down!”

The surrounding apostles were agitated and aimed their weapons at Zhao Yao, ready to fire and kill him if he failed to cooperate.

Seeing their attention fixed on him, Zhao Yao said grimly, “Shut up.”

After Zhao Yao activated Sleep Medusa, all the apostles fell to the ground and passed out.

...

In the faraway command center, a Natural Disaster Representative, Steve, was directing the battle operations.

He heaved in relief when Zhao Yao was surrounded and captured. “Be careful. Let David and his team take precautions. The enemy is an apostle with complex superpowers. Don’t let him escape.”

The images of the surveillance monitor ignited cries of shock in the command center.

The Metal Man David was defeated with ease and groups of apostles fell to the ground. Zhao Yao walked out casually and melted into the base walls.

“What’s happening?” Steve said bewilderedly. “What’s happening to David?”

“I don’t know! Everyone passed out!”

“Revive them immediately!”

No matter how David and his team used the sound wave weapons and the automated firefighting equipment, they were unable to revive the unconscious apostles.

While they were at a loss, the unconscious apostles finally woke up.

Steve shouted into the microphone, “David! How’s everyone? What happened? What superpower is that?”

Steve was met with replies of shrill screams. The awakened apostles ran around wildly as if they had seen something terrifying. Nobody paid attention to Steve’s order.

After eight seconds, the pandemonium stopped and the apostles were dazed. Once they recalled their actions, they felt fearful.

Steve’s adjutant shouted, “Bad news officer, our target’s missing.”

“Check all surveillance monitors!” Steve shouted. “Activate the highest base defense level one. We have to find him!”

Zhao Yao activated Time Freeze, Tunneling, Illusion, and Deflective Field Invisibility so they only managed to see Zhao Yao appearing at various parts of the base and were unable to capture him.

“This is outrageous!” Steve said in anger. “Is he having a stroll in the park?” He turned to the adjutant and barked, “What about the automated defense system? And the intelligent weapon systems? Those systems cost a hefty 5 billion dollars and they promised an advanced and powerful defense system that can’t restrain a single person?”

“No!” The adjutant explained. “He possesses Optical Invisibility and Sense-Shielding Invisibility. Our surveillance monitors and image recognition system were unable to detect him. Even apostles are unable to determine his presence...”

“His Tunneling superpower bypasses all the base defenses with ease.”

“Disperse the apostles throughout the entire base. I want them to guard every inch of the base!” Steve roared. “Once the target’s located, attack immediately. Leave no mercy!”

Warning sirens filled the entire base as numerous apostles ran hurriedly to their stations with anxiety on their faces.

After searching for half a day, they did not discover Zhao Yao's trail. When everyone thought he had left, a transparent figure descended from the roof of the command center.

Zhao Yao looked at the crowd in the command center and asked, "Hey? Where did you hide the supercats?"

Everyone looked up when they heard the voice but they could not see anything. Elizabeth's power of Illusion deprived them of the ability to see Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao did not wait for the reply and exited through the ceiling, leaving a gaping crowd looking at the ceiling.

Sheriff, who was in Zhao Yao's arms, closed his eyes to do mind reading. "Turn right... turn left at a cross junction."

Steve raged in the command center and shouted, "Insolence! He's too arrogant! Capture him!"

The adjutant said in surprise, "He found the supercats in the base!"

"What?"

Everyone looked at the huge screen showing the surveillance video. One by one, the supercats in the safe house disappeared.

Though the supercats were not the nine pioneer supercats, they were powerful supercats stationed to protect the base. Everyone's eyes turned red as they witnessed Zhao Yao capture all their supercats.
