Chapter 891: Dignity and Mo Mo

Amakusa was gobbling down the food and licked his lips. “This taste good.”

Giggle was exasperated. “Are you listening to me?”

Giggle looked at Amakusa, who kept on eating and asked, “Do you still remember the awareness country?”

“Awareness country?” Amakusa was surprised and stopped and looked at Giggle. “That is forbidden.”

Giggle laughed. “It is not forbidden here.”

The two cats looked at each other and there was a light that flashed across their eyes.

Then, the owner of the house placed a plate of salmon in front of them. “David Beckham, Jordan, this is the rest of the salmon. Eat it.”

The two cats were attracted to the salmon and looked at it curiously. They were sniffing around the salmon.

Amakusa asked, “What is this? It smells good.”

Giggle said, “Haven’t you heard? These are the leftovers. This is humiliating us!”

Amakusa swallowed his saliva and said, “Why not try it? What if it is good?”

The female owner laughed and looked at the two cats, who were sniffing around at the food. “Stop sniffing David Beckham, eat it. There is no poison in it.”

“This is outrageous!” Giggle yelled and smacked the plate down onto the floor. With a crisp knock, the plate shattered and the salmon was on the floor.

Giggle started meowing. “Do you want to die? How dare you give us leftovers? Hurry up and bring us good food. I shall spare you this time.”

Giggle laughed when he heard the female owner shouted. But, his face fell immediately.

The female owner exclaimed, “David Beckham, don’t eat them off the ground. What if you cut yourself?”

Giggle looked at Amakusa licking the salmon off the ground and raged, “Amakusa! What are you doing! You... you...” He was ashamed. “You eat food off the ground. You’ve disgraced us!”

Amakusa said, “There is no difference whether the food is on the table or the floor. Speaking of it... this is called salmon? It is really good. Giggle, do you want to try?”

“Rubbish.” Giggle shook his head in anger and a demonic light flashed in his eyes as he looked at the female owner. “You asked for it! Woman! Bring all the good food that you have hidden in the house! You have to pay for humiliating us!”

At night, when Matcha and the other supercats left work, they took the golden dragon that Cat Sage had turned into and returned to Cat Island.

Matcha sat in the leftmost position, looked at the night view of Jianghai and was very solemn.

Lightning sat beside him and placed his paws over Matcha’s shoulders. “Today was so tiring. Do you know how hard it was to settle the customers? Let’s go have a drink after this?”

Matcha turned his head to look at the city below him and said, “Not interested.”

Lightning leaned over cheekily and said, “Are you still angry with Zhao Yao? You have been with Zhao Yao for so long, don’t you know what he is like? He loves cats. If you are angry every time he brings a cat back, you should have exploded by now.”

Matcha was speechless. “I am not troubled about that. What does the amount of cats that Zhao Yao brings back got to do with me.”

Lightning laughed and thought that Matcha was trying to hide his jealousy. He pulled out his phone secretly. “Matcha, if Zhao Yao can look for other cats, then have you thought about looking for other humans?”

“What?” surprised, Matcha looked at Lightning. “What was that?”

Lightning was pressing his phone and he said, “Let me introduce you to something good. This is a new application that Cat King of the North invented. It is called Mo Mo.”

Matcha was bewildered. “Mo Mo? What is that?”

“You can ask cats out,” Lightning said excitedly. “As long as you register, then other people and cats can ask you out too.”

“I can understand asking cats out,” Matcha responded, “But asked by humans?”

“What you don’t know,” Lightning said, “is that supercats like us just have to send cute photos and act cute. Then, people will send gifts and ask us out. As long as we let them stroke us, we can earn hundreds. If they book us for the night, thousands. Many supercats are working there.”

“You can do that?” Matcha was shocked. “I can hundreds by letting them stroke me?”

Lightning said, “Yes. You just don’t know the market out there. There are many people who want to play with us supercats. A few hundred just to be stroked for a while. There are a bunch of people who are willing to do it and they are not as stingy as Zhao Yao.”

Matcha asked, "Is it safe?"

"There is nothing to worry about," Lightning said. "They are all contacted by Cat King of the North. They follow the rules and are well mannered. You can look at photos and videos on Mo Mo and go out if you are interested. You can go straight to the hotel if you are afraid of meeting someone you know."

"Normally, they will start stroking when they enter the room and it will end in half an hour or one hour. It is easy money."

The few hundred dollars was not attractive to Matcha. Being the best salesman of the school, he made several millions a month.

However, Lightning did not earn that much and hence Matcha told him. "Be careful."

Lightning was still looking forward to it. "When I earn enough money, I can go and ask the cats out. You haven't seen the popular female cats on the application. Their fur, their mouths and bodies, I cannot resist them."

Then, he looked at Matcha with anticipation. "Matcha, do you want to do it with me? Then, we can form a duo and accept duo stroking. It costs much more than one person."

Matcha rejected Lightning.

Milk Tea ran into Matcha's arms and asked, "What are you guys talking about?"

Lightning turned away and Matcha said, "Kittens don't need to know what the adults are talking about."

Milk Tea puffed up his cheeks and said, "Brother Matcha, has something been bothering you recently?"

"What problems can I have. I am just working everyday," Matcha said.

Milk Tea looked at Matcha suspiciously. “But, I hardly see you and Yellow Mud. I feel like you guys are hiding something from me.”

Matcha’s heart skipped a beat. “How can it be! I have been working hard everyday. What are you trying to imply? Do you think that I am fooling around outside?”

“I’m sorry.” Milk Tea lowered his head and apologized. “I shouldn’t have said that. But, Brother Matcha you have been neglecting me recently!”

Matcha heaved a sigh of relief when he saw Milk Tea apologize and he made a decision to send the kitten away quickly.

He was going to go look at Zhao Xue and see if she was suitable for rearing cats.

Chapter 892: Chores and Search

Matcha stuck his head through the window and looked into the house.

After several renovations, alterations, and expansions, the mansion at the seaside had become a super luxurious place. The mansion expanded outwards from the cliff and it was built entirely out of high tech materials and it is wind and water resistant. Its interior was fitted with the most advanced technological devices. In fact it could be self sufficient for up to 24 hours, with running water and electricity.

Matcha was watching the situation in the living room and he saw that Zhao Xue was only wearing her singlet and underwear. Her legs were fully exposed as she lay on the sofa, eating her chips and laughing while she watched the television.

Her mom came out from the kitchen and frowned when she saw Zhao Xue like this. “Zhao Xue, aren’t you going to start school soon? The holidays are ending. How long do you want to stay at home?”

Zhao Xue took a sip of coke and stretched out her legs. She said calmly. “We are only starting classes in 2 weeks. The hostel is so hot. I rather stay at home.”

Mom’s face fell and said, “You are in your 3rd year already. Shouldn’t you find some internship? You shouldn’t stay at home every time.”

“The money that your brother earns is his. What has this got to do with you?” Her mom was agitated and asked. “Do you expect to rely on your brother and do nothing until you die?”

Zhao Xue leaned back onto the sofa and sighed. “There is no choice. My brother is too outstanding. The amount he earns I will never be able to earn even in 10 lifetimes. Anyways, no matter what I do, people will say that I am relying on him.

My confidence is crushed and I can only resort to being a rich and withstanding everyone’s jealousy. I have to deal with my share of pressures too. You have no idea how jealous some girls are of me.” Then, she started smiling again.

Her mom felt useless and wondered when her daughter had become like that. She said angrily, “Then, do you expect to live in the house and for me to take care of you forever? From now on, you will clean your clothes and room. Do you hear me?!”

Zhao Xue’s face froze then she remembered something and looked at her mom seriously. “Mom, should we get the cats on Cat Island to clean the house?”

“What?” Mom was surprised. “Can we do that? But, they look so tiny. It’s not so good.”

“It’s okay.” Zhao Xue shook her hands. “They are not normal cats. They are supercats. They have powers and intelligence. Doing household chores is a piece of cake.”

“But, it is not nice to keep doing that.” She then asked, “Do we have to pay?”

“I don’t think there is a need to. Anyways, the cats all work for brother. I will ask brother to pay. It is such a huge mansion and we can’t hire helpers. Mom, it is too hard on you to do the chores everyday,” Zhao Xue said. “Anyways, the cats have nothing to on Cat Island, wouldn’t it be great to do some chores?”

Mom nodded in agreement. “Yeah. The house is so big. I have to spend so many hours cleaning it everyday. I feel like my waist has started hurting recently.”

“The cats can do it.”

“Why not ask them to cook too?”

“Serve us...”

They looked at each other and smiled in consensus.

Then, Zhao Xue’s ears twitched and yelled towards the window. “Who is it!”

She flashed and was at the balcony.

Meanwhile, Matcha who had activated the Time Freeze was panting behind the tree. “It is too scary. I cannot hand the kitten over to Zhao Xue. The kitten will be enslaved!”

Matcha made a painstaking decision. “If all the people from Zhao Yao’s side is not suitable then I have to try with someone else.”

When Matcha used the Time Freeze, on the other end of the earth.

Zhao Yao was surrounded and sighed. “Did Matcha just use Time Freeze?”

There were large batches of soldiers pointing their guns at Zhao Yao and there were even planes and tanks who drove overhead. It was as if there was a war.

“Surrender, surrender immediately! You have been surrounded!”

Zhao Yao blocked his face and thought. “It is too late to use an illusion now. Many digital devices are already looking here.”

“I still have to be careful of their attacks. The cat in my arms cannot endure severe impacts.” Zhao Yao thought about it and shook his head. “There is no way. I have to charge my way out.”

Then, to the soldiers’ shock, a golden aura flew to the sky and spread out with Zhao Yao in the center. The golden aura rushed outwards like a shock wave a hit all the soldiers that were within a hundred meter radius.

Zhao Yao used Deflective Field to resist the countless rocket and armor piercing bullets. He walked out slowly.

He was thinking as he walked out. “I need so many more experience points to Level 10. To obtain the Awareness Dimension’s powers, I have to level up Elizabeth, Diana, or Catherine to Level 10. Diana is the most reliable option for getting into the Awareness Dimension.”

But, Diana is only Level 7. She is new and I will need 170 000 experience points to level her up.”

Zhao Yao sighed helplessly. “I only have 70 thousand experience points now. I have been accumulating the experience points and I only have a few thousand experience points. The America trip brought about more experience points. I still need so many experience points. How long will I need? Should I upgrade Elizabeth first? Elizabeth is Level 9 and I only need 90 thousand experience points to level up.”

Zhao Yao thought about it and shook his head. “What if after Elizabeth has evolved, she does not master the powers of Awareness Dimension? It would be wasting my experience points. From the powers they have, Diana have a higher chance.”

Zhao Yao did not stop walking when he was thinking and he soon walked through the battlefield. It didn’t matter if it was normal bullets or tank shell’s, they could not pass through the Deflective Field.

Then, he looked at the missile in the sky and changed to Time Freeze which had cooled down. He disappeared before the missile touched the ground.

Chapter 893: End of holiday and Rubbish

Zhao Yao disappeared before the missile exploded and the soldiers cheered as they thought that Zhao Yao had turned into ash.

However, after Time Freeze, Zhao Yao had already appeared in front of another general and asked him while holding onto a photograph, “Do you still remember this cat? You kicked him right? You fractured his bone.”

When Zhao Yao spoke, all the surrounding soldiers pulled out their guns and pointed at Zhao Yao.

The golden Deflective Field brought along an air wave that deflected all the bullets. Then, it pressed the soldiers against the walls till they were immobilized.

The general stared at the photo in a panic and said, “What do you want? You have been surrounded. If you kill me, you won’t be able to leave.”

Sheriff, who was in Zhao Yao’s arms said, “It’s him.”

Zhao Yao nodded. “The cat tasked me to come for revenge. Are you ready?”

The general’s face changed and he pointed his gun at Zhao Yao. The moment he completed the action, his gun appeared in Zhao Yao’s hands. Zhao Yao twisted it and threw it onto the ground.

The general panic when he saw Zhao Yao walk over. “What do you want! If you kill me, you will be hunted down. You are not the apostle, we have the Divine Fire Palace’s support. They will not...”

Bam! Zhao Yao kicked the general in the leg and fractured his shin. The general fell to the ground yelling.

Then, in everyone’s astonishment, Zhao Yao took his phone out and started filming.

Zhao Yao saw that the general wasn't moving and he said reluctantly, "Can you cooperate? Your leg is fractured. Can you hug it and scream? Or my employer will think that I lied."

When Zhao Yao saw that he did not understand, Zhao Yao sighed and kicked him.

Then, the general hugged into his leg and started yelling. Zhao Yao videoed it and sent the video. Soon, he got a satisfied reply.

He looked at the mission panel. Mission completed, 3000*2 experience points. Zhao Yao nodded.

"I have finally settled a debt. This was one of the missions with the most experience points. It was so hard." Zhao Yao shook his head and walked out. Just when everyone thought that it was the end and that they had escaped.

Zhao Yao turned his head and looked at the general. He said with a concerned face. "Hey, do you need help with anything? As long as it doesn't go against my morals, I can help."

"It can't be finished!" Fish Ball cried. "I really can't finish it. It is too much!"

Upon hearing Fish Ball making noise, Xiao Yu turned and asked, "What? Are you done?"

Fish Ball typed, "It can't be finished Xiao Yu! It really can't be finished! There is too much!"

Xiao Yu said with disappointment, "If you can't finish, then eat it. When my mum and dad come back, I will tell them that you tore up my homework and ate it."

Fish Ball was crying and typing on the phone. "It is okay Xiao Yu, I will finish the homework before holiday ends!"

Xiao Yu smiled and walked up to stroke Fish Ball's head. "Fish Ball, you are so obedient. When you finish the homework, I will buy good food for you."

Then, she looked at Noodle and asked gently, "What is it Noodle? Do you have any problems?"

Noodle was scared by Xiao Yu's gentle tone and typed quickly. "There is no problem Xiao Yu. I have written all the diary entries! Look!"

Xiao Yu opened her homework happily and on the first page was written, "Today mum and dad brought me to eat curry pork chop. I am very happy. After I got home, I went to beat the cat up."

The second page showed, "Today, mum made curry chicken potato for me. Mum's curry is really good. When I grow up, I want to learn to make curry too."

On the third page was written. "Today dad bought curry beef rice for me. I want to make curry beef rice when I grow up .."

Xiao Yu read through the thing and her face grew darker. She looked at Noodle and said, "It is so well written. I think I need to reward you with a truck full of shit."

Noodle's eyes lit up. "Really?"

"Before you eat, I will chop off your head!" Xiao Yu yelled. "What rubbish are you writing! Who eats curry everyday?! I am not an Indian!"

Noodle's head drooped.

Matcha was watching this in fright. He yelled in his heart. "This is miserable. Fish Ball and Noodle are so pathetic. I suddenly feel blissful to be owned by Zhao Yao."

Although he had to work during the day, at night he could do anything he wanted. However, Fish Ball and Noodle had to do homework. It was torture.

“I cannot hand the kitten over Xiao Yu.” Matcha jumped down and landed in the grass. He thought, “Humans are unreliable. If this is the case, then should I hand the kitten to other supercats?”

“I need to observe them carefully. The cat must not have any unhealthy habits, must be optimistic and hardworking. The cat must have a stable job and income. It is best if the cat can have its own house, so there is no need to keep moving. The other members in the house must be agreeable too and they must accept my occasional visits...”

Matcha wrote down the criteria for adoption and the names of the supercats that were running through his head.

A few days later.

In the United States, Amakusa was lying on the dining table happily. The female owner’s eyes were in a daze and she fed Amakusa fish slowly like a puppet. There was a lot of food beside him. There was fried chicken, hamburgers, fries, pizza, cake, steak and more.

Amakusa was eating happily and said to Giggle. “Hey, you should try the Surströmming. Oh my, it must be a gift from god.”

Giggle rolled his eyes and then he slammed the table. He yelled, “I am dead again?” He looked at the screen unbelievably and said, “It... it mocked me?”

Chapter 894: Changing the World and Housework

Giggle felt very angry and his fur stood on end.

He immediately revived his game avatar and pursued his killer. After a shocking turn of events, his avatar was killed by his opponent again.

A dwarf jumped on his avatar's corpse and said, "Don't let me see you again. I'll kill you every time I see you."

Giggle exploded with anger but he did not give up. He revived his avatar, charged and attacked like a tiger. As Giggle's avatar was about to kill his opponent, his opponent's companion arrived and both of them killed Giggle's avatar.

The dwarf jumped as he said, "Not yielding? You are finished. Our guild's going to kill you until you concede defeat."

Bam! A flower pot exploded. Within the room, powerful energies emanated from the air. Numerous electrical appliances and furniture started to quake as though they had a life of their own.

Giggle's eyes shot out two feet of bright rays and Amakusa was shocked as he stood up and exclaimed, "What's happening? What's happening? Who's attacking us?"

Giggle looked at his mistress and asked, "My opponents in the game, how can I find them in the real world?"

The mistress looked dazed as though she was controlled by Giggle. She did not react to the strange phenomenon in front of her and replied, "Only the game company has their contact details. However, this is user privacy. The game company will not divulge their customers' information."

Giggle was so furious he swept the computer to the floor. "What a lousy game! If I encounter them in real life, I'll squeeze these primitive men to death. Yet, I'm being humiliated by them? This is not fair. Some cat has to change this."

His fur stood on end as he breathed in large gulps of air. The more he thought, the angrier he became.

Amakusa looked puzzled at Giggle and said, "What are you doing?"

“I’m going to buy this game company... No, I’m going to use this online game to build an awareness country!” Giggle said indignantly. “I’m going to torture them to death in my online game. No, I’m going to use the awareness country to harvest the awareness energy on this planet.”

Amakusa said, “Hey bro, don’t be too hot-headed. Let’s go out and have something to eat. This woman said a shop’s lobster is delicious. Giggle, do you know what a lobster is?”

“You’re trash!” Giggle said angrily. “We’re being bullied! The primitive men on this planet are lacking in manners. They are showing disrespect to their alien friends. It’s about time we teach them the universe’s protocols.”

“As you wish.” Amakusa shook his head and looked at his mistress as he pointed to a pudding and said, “What’s that? Forget it, just feed it to me.”

During this period, he had worked the hardest in his life due to pressure from Project X and the unknown alien force. He completed mission after mission to let his supercats upgrade their levels so that he would not lose future battles.

He passed by Jianghai and intended to go home and rest.

Zhao Yao came to the seaside villa on Cat Island as he wanted to have a meal with his family and a good night’s sleep before leaving.

When he opened the door, Zhao Yao was blinded by the brightness. The interior of the villa looked extremely clean as though it was new.

Zhao Yao noticed that not only was the interior clean, but objects were also arranged according to their type. Various cups, bowls, chopsticks, drinks and paper towels that before were strewn carelessly were properly arranged and categorized.

Zhao Yao felt he was in a showflat.

As Zhao Yao opened the door, Zhao Xue, who was wearing a singlet and hot pants walked over and said, "Dad and Mum, you're back..." When she saw Zhao Yao, she was taken aback. She immediately swiveled and walked inside.

Zhao Xue sprinted and replied, "I can't, I'm going to the bathroom. I can't hold it any longer!"

Zhao Xue flashed like lightning and she appeared in front of her room. As she was about to enter, she felt someone behind and was lifted up by Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao squinted his eyes and he gazed at his sister. "Why did you run when you saw me?"

"Nope, I'm going to the bathroom," Zhao Xue said nervously, "Put me down immediately. Otherwise I might wet your body."

Zhao Yao looked at Zhao Xue suspiciously and asked, "Why is the house so clean? Did you do spring cleaning recently?"

Zhao Xue laughed heartily and said, "Not me, it's mum and dad."

The main door creaked open and the voice of Zhao Yao's mum rang at the doorway. "Zhao Xue, I'm back. Didn't you ask for takeaway?"

Dad said, "Zhao Xue... she must be playing computer games."

Zhao Yao looked at the embarrassed Zhao Xue and asked, "Isn't the university semester starting? Aren't you supposed to be studying? Why are you staying at home?"

Zhao Xue said, "Tomorrow... tomorrow, I'll be back in university."

Zhao Yao's ears quivered and he grabbed Zhao Xue as he went downstairs to the kitchen.

Milk Tea heard something behind him and turned his head to see Zhao Yao. He smiled and said, “Master Yao, you’re back? Do you want something to eat? I prepared preserved egg and minced meat porridge. Would you like me to warm it up for you?”

Five minutes later, Zhao Yao sat speechless on the sofa, facing Zhao Xue and his parents.

Milk Tea sat on one side of the sofa, looking muddle-headed as he had no idea what had happened.

Zhao Yao covered his face and said, “Are the three of you devils? Why did you let a kitten do housework for you?”

Milk Tea said nervously, “It’s alright Master Yao. Cat Wonderland’s pretty clean now and there’s nothing much to be done. I volunteered to clean the house.”

Zhao Yao sighed and said, “Enough Milk Tea, don’t say anymore. This is not your problem... Zhao Xue...”

Zhao Xue was red-faced as she turned away her head. “No... no, brother, it’s not what you think!”

Zhao Yao’s dad stopped Zhao Xue who was about to defend herself. He looked at Zhao Yao and said, “Yes, don’t say anymore Zhao Xue. Your brother’s correct. It’s our fault.

But Zhao Yao! You don’t understand how it feels like being taken care of by Milk Tea!”

He carried Milk Tea dotingly and said, “This kitten’s very sensible! We can’t go by a day without him!”

Zhao Xue and Zhao Yao’s mum hugged Milk Tea and nodded at Zhao Yao. “We’re now family, nobody can separate us.”

Milk Tea was moved to tears as he stared at them.

Zhao Yao covered his forehead and said, “Are the three of you trying to shirk away from housework?”

Chapter 895: Porridge and Awareness

Looking at their pitiful face, Zhao Yao looked up and sighed deeply. “Don’t look at me like that. I’m not going to let Milk Tea do your housework. That’s too much.”

Zhao Xue wailed loudly as she hugged Milk Tea and said miserably, “I don’t want Milk Tea to leave me!”

Milk Tea said shyly, “It’s alright Master Yao. I can do the housework.”

Zhao Yao looked at Milk Tea’s earnest gaze and he felt sorry for Milk Tea as he remembered Matcha, who would always indulge himself in pleasure after work.

“Milk Tea, don’t say anymore. You’ll not help them with the housework. Zhao Xue’s only using you. Don’t be deceived by her.” Zhao Yao looked at Zhao Xue and his parents and said, “I’ll think of something for the housework.”

If he let his dad and mum do housework in such a big seaside villa, then he was making them work instead of enjoying themselves.

With his current situation, it was not suitable to get a common cleaner for the housework as the cleaner might turn out to be a spy for his enemies. Moreover, he could not be sure it was safe for his family members.

The Cat Island’s supercats had to work in Cat Wonderland everyday. If they were to work in the villa, it would be too tiring for them.

After much pondering, Zhao Yao sent a message to Doll that said, “Are you able to create a robot maid to do housework...”

After settling the housework problem, Zhao Yao lay down and rested for a while. He said to Sheriff, Anthony, and Merlin, “You may play in the villa. Remember, I will always be watching you. Don’t let me catch you escaping.”

The three cats had been with Zhao Yao for many days and they were aware of his way of doing things. They nodded at his instructions.

As the bowl passed by the table, Zhao Yao saw Milk Tea supporting the huge bowl like a drunken man.

Milk Tea put the bowl in front of Zhao Yao and smiled merrily as he said, “Master Yao, you haven’t had your meal! This is the preserved egg and minced meat porridge I prepared! Have some before resting!”

Zhao Yao looked at the steaming and fragrant porridge and he felt for Milk Tea. “I don’t feel so tired anymore. Milk Tea’s so obedient as compared to...”

He turned his head away subconsciously and he imagined Matcha strangling him and pulling him out of his sweet dreams. Matcha was shouting, “Zhao Yao! Zhao Yao! Help me charge my gaming account with more money!”

Zhao Yao shook his head and scooped up the porridge as he said, “Milk Tea, I told you not to do any more housework.”

Milk Tea nodded and said with embarrassment, “You haven’t tried the porridge that I prepared for you. Try it. Isn’t it delicious?”

Zhao Yao smiled as he tasted the porridge with a spoon. His brain was filled with overwhelming senses as though lightning had hit him.

“The soup’s clear taste mixed with the smooth texture of the preserved egg and the sweet fragrance of the minced meat was like the first light rays of the universe! The preserved egg and minced meat were like the Big Bang's neutrons, protons, electrons and photons that 150 billion years ago continued to spread, cool down and transform into star clouds."

Zhao Yao looked at Milk Tea and thought, "Milk Tea... is a porridge genius?"

"How is it? How did it taste?" Milk Tea stared with his big round eyes and his small paws rested on Zhao Yao's thigh as he asked, "Is the porridge delicious?"

Zhao Yao was taken aback but he nodded in agreement. "Very delicious, Milk Tea. If you want to make porridge, feel free to do so and you can ask other supercats to help you."

This incident reminded Zhao Yao of another matter.

"I fed Matcha and other supercats the legendary cat rice daily and it's worth 100 experience points per day..."

After Zhao Yao had awakened his superpowers, he was able to examine the quality of cat meals by using the BOOK. He experimented endlessly to improve the nutrition, taste, and ingredients of the cat meals. Gradually, he elevated the quality from good to excellent to epic and legendary.

The final legendary cat rice required the Light of Creation of the Extradimensional Belly to cultivate high quality supernatural cat grass for its ingredients.

As the Extradimensional Belly was used to imprison Project X, the supply of the supernatural cat grass was cut for a few days. At Dust Ball's insistence, a single-sided Dimension Portal was installed on Cat Island and the Light of Creation was let out to cultivate a small patch of cat grass and catmint.

Because of the small size of the Dimension Portal, the quantity of supernatural plants was limited and could only support his daily requirement for the cat meals.

Previously, the daily 100 experience points for providing cat meals seemed considerable but now it proved too little. To upgrade supercats' current levels required tens of thousands of experience points. The cat meals could only provide 3000 experience points per month and was insufficient for upgrading the supercats.

Zhao Yao stroked his chin as he thought, "Perhaps I could upgrade the cat meal? If I were to upgrade the legendary cat rice, what should I do?"

Zhao Yao pondered for a while. "Previously I used normal methods to upgrade the taste and nutrition of the cat meals and added supernatural ingredients to complete the upgrade. If I want to upgrade the cat meal further, I have to make use of superpowers."

Zhao Yao was going to keep a lookout for cat meal solutions while he completed other missions.

As he was too tired, he fell asleep while thinking about his situation.

A few hours later, Zhao Yao's eyelids opened and he saw Arthas walking warily by him, his face filled with worry as he stared at him.

"What happened?"

Arthas said, "I discovered someone using the Dream Dimension or the supposed Awareness Dimension's energy."

"Huh?" Zhao Yao became grim. Since he knew that cats similar to Project X had captured Doomsday via the Awareness Dimension, he had been looking out for related intelligence. He was worried that they were still lurking on Earth.

Zhao Yao worked very hard to gain experience points so that he could prepare for the coming crisis.

Arthas said that someone was using the Awareness Dimension's energy, so it was highly possible that there were cats similar to Project X.

Zhao Yao said gravely, "Tell me what happened."

A few minutes later, Zhao Yao followed Arthas to Gaia's wooden cat dwelling which was in a mess. There were cables, snacks, and among the drinks was a cleared space for putting a Google-like visor.

Zhao Yao asked, "That's the one?"

Arthas nodded his head excitedly and said, “Yes, that’s the object. As Gaia was using this object, I felt the Awareness Dimension’s energy.”

Zhao Yao looked at Gaia and asked, “What is this object? Where did you get it?”

Chapter 896: Closers World

When Zhao Yao questioned him, Gaia immediately replied, “This is the latest VR game console from Apple! Zhao Yao give it back to me please!”

Zhao Yao did not care about Gaia, who was jumping at his feet trying to snatch the game console back. He stared at the eyewear in his hand as his heart skipped a beat. “This can’t be... Does that mean this uses the power of the Awareness Dimension...”

At that moment, Zhao Yao suddenly felt his legs give way and found himself slowly sinking into the ground. Gaia actually activated his burrowing ability to make Zhao Yao sink down.

When he saw Gaia pouncing on the game console, Zhao Yao said with exasperation, “Okay fine, I’ll return it to you after I try it. I’m not going to snatch it from you.”

Gaia replied angrily, “This is linked to one’s identification card! Only one person is entitled to one console and one user ID! If you use it, I won’t be able to use it anymore!” Gaia widened his eyes as he continued, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao! I waited a really long for this game console, I will die if I don’t get it. Don’t snatch it from me, please?”

Zhao Yao thought for a while and said, “I’ll buy another one for you. Let me use it today first.”

“Noooo,” Gaia said as he started to panic. “Today is the opening day of Closed World! I want to level up quickly!”

Zhao Yao asked curiously, “Closed World?”

Gaia quickly explained, “It’s the game in the VR game console. This is the only game in it for now. It’s called Closed World!”

“So it’s an online VR game,” Zhao Yao said as his eyes flashed with delight. Even if this thing had nothing to do with the Awareness Dimension, he had to try playing with it.

He was too fixated on completing missions every day and night, so he did not know about the release of this game console.

Though it was only released recently, news of the game had gone viral even before it appeared on the market as it was a VR gimmick produced by a renowned brand like Apple.

Seeing Gaia’s pitiful face, Zhao Yao did not want to bully his own cat either. Hence, he returned the game console to Gaia and left the Cat Island. He headed to the Apple exclusive retailer downtown to buy one for himself instead.

However, he found out that this game was actually really hot in the market as it was sold out in the store and would only be restocked after two days.

Hence, Zhao Yao decided to just buy it at 10 times the original price from a buyer who had just bought the game console. He rushed back to the Cat Wonderland excitedly to try out the game.

Zhao Yao said to both cats, “After I start using this thing, you guys should observe carefully to see if there is indeed a relation to the Awareness Dimension...”

After instructing them, Zhao Yao switched to Diana’s dream abilities and turned on the game console. After burst of rainbow-colored light, he realized he had appeared in the midst of a vast grassland.

Smelling the light fragrance in the air and hearing the hustling of the wind in his ears, Zhao Yao could not help feeling touched as he stared into the endless horizon on the grassland.

“Virtual reality huh...” He grasped his knuckles. If not for the fact that his physique was changed to that of a normal human with his five senses greatly reduced, he would almost have mistaken it for reality.

However, Zhao Yao’s expression hardened instantly. If this so-called VR was created from the power of the Awareness Dimension, it would mean that the immensely strong supercats from outer space had actually arrived on Earth and started to make their move.

“In that case, is this a dreamscape?” Zhao Yao closed his eyes as he willed himself to activate his superpowers.

However, just as he thought of doing so, bright red light suddenly flashed in his eyes as a bolt of lightning struck. A monstrous beast which radiated lightning bolts all over its body suddenly appeared in front of him and said, “Closer, do you want to start your journey?”

Zhao Yao was dazed for a moment, but he recovered almost instantly. That must have been the opening scene of the game, skillfully created using VR.

However, Zhao Yao did not answer him and his eyes remained closed. He wanted to activate Diana’s ability to see if he was in a dream.

However, as Zhao Yao activated Diana’s ability to enter a dream, the grassland before him turned into two colors, black and red, as countless police sirens rang all around him.

Zhao Yao immediately opened his eyes and saw a giant cat appearing slowly in the sky, though he could not see it clearly.

The cat silhouette looked in Zhao Yao’s direction and said, “Is that a superpower you carry around with you? However... it’s too insignificant.”

“I’ll let it go this time and suspend your ID for 3 days. If you use your superpower to penetrate the Closers World again, your ID will be permanently suspended.”

Zhao Yao was taken aback. “This is...”

The next moment, cat paws filled the sky and slammed down on him. Zhao Yao felt his vision turn dark as his body started aching in pain all over. When he opened his eyes again, he was back to reality.

He wanted to stand up, but he suddenly groaned and clutched his head as he frowned in pain. At that moment, he suddenly had a headache and his body felt weak. He felt like he badly needed sleep.

“Would I feel so terrible if I died in there?”

Diana immediately leapt on Zhao Yao and asked, “Zhao Yao, Zhao Yao, are you alright?”

Zhao Yao exhaled and slowly said, “Yeah, did you guys spot any problems?”

Arthas said in a serious tone, “I felt a connection between your body and the Awareness Dimension just now. It was unbelievable. This place is unlikely to be the link to the Awareness Dimension. However, you could actually connect to it through this game console.”

Diana said, “Zhao Yao, you fell asleep just now. I wanted to enter your dream but I was totally barred from it. As if... as if your dream had become an impregnable fortress. I could not enter it at all.”

Zhao Yao nodded. “The virtual reality I just entered must have been some sort of dreamscape. However, this dreamscape is very unique. It might just exist within the Awareness Dimension.”

Looking at the game console in his hand, Zhao Yao said, “If we guessed correctly, the other party must have created a special dreamscape in the Awareness Dimension. Everyone can be connected to the dreamscape through this game console and supposedly play a game.”

Arthas said seriously, “Zhao Yao, actually I sensed another thing. After you fell asleep, there were signs of activity in your mental energy, as if something was being sucked into the Awareness Dimension.”

“Is that so?”

Zhao Yao's expression hardened. Though he did not know what the other party was planning to do, the difference between them was obvious.

The other party had created an online game-like dreamscape in the Awareness Dimension, while he could not even activate his abilities to enter this dream.

Even after he was connected to this dreamscape through the game console, he was killed instantly.

“Applying this to the Awareness Dimension, the power difference between me and them is too great. I must speed up.”

Chapter 897: The Game and the Search

After recognizing the power gap between them, Zhao Yao decided not to rest anymore, or else he would be totally powerless against the other party.

Zhao Yao decided to get on the move again and continue completing missions to earn enough experience points so that he could level up his supercats.

Before he left, Zhao Yao also gave Arthas a mission. He gave him the task of figuring out the mechanisms behind the game, Closers World, to see why the other party had created this thing and how they could counterattack.

The other thing would be to let Milk Tea try using supernatural ingredients and cat rice formula to prepare a cat meal. However, the experience points that earned did not increase. It remained at 100 points a day for the Michelin-starred cat meal.

Zhao Yao thought, “So Milk Tea's superpower has really no relation to preparing meals? I should find a supercat with a similar superpower to try making the cat meals.”

Hence, as he went on to complete more missions, Zhao Yao also kept a lookout for related news.

“A bunch of unreliable cats,” Matcha thought. “Ares just goes around fighting and killing with his gang of brothers all the time. If I leave the small cat in his care, the cat will either end up in the hospital or jail.

Elizabeth and her family are a bunch of p*ssies. If I leave a male cat in their care, he would grow up to be as cowardly as Caesar.

Lightning, Cannon, and Dust Ball are out of the question as well. If I leave him in their care, he will become a young gambling addict. That would ruin his cat life.”

Matcha had been observing the cats around him closely for the past two days. He realized that none of the supercats were good cats that were motivated, hardworking, or rich with a house of their own.

“Thinking about it, it’s best to let Yellow Mud and me take care of him. But doesn’t this mean I have to take on another burden? I’m not even married yet and I already have two children. Does this mean I won’t be able to get married for the rest of my life? Is this a joke?”

Matcha’s face darkened the more he thought about it. He followed the other cats around him aboard the dragon in a daze. When he returned to the Cat Island, he saw a bunch of cats chattering noisily as they gathered in one direction, bustling with discussion about something.

Fūjin stared at Gaia and said, “Gaia, bring us on board with you today.”

Gaia said ambitiously, “No, I agreed to train my level with Rice Cake. We want to be the first to finish leveling up in the world!”

Lucifer said, “You can ally with me, Fūjin. I am already Level 20, we can train together.”

Fūjin turned away with disdain and said, “You’re always the first to die. Nobody wants to be allied with you.”

Fish Ball bustled over to Gaia’s side and said, “Gaia, Gaia, let’s train together, alright? Can you just count me in?”

Gaia glanced at Fish Ball and frowned. “Why are you on Cat Island? Didn’t you move back to your house?”

Fish Ball laughed gleefully. “I don’t even have a phone at home. It’s not as good as being here on the Cat Island, where there are phones, computers and game consoles available everywhere for free. Everyone here is nice too, so I love the Cat Island more.”

Gaia nodded. “Okay, your gaming skills are not too bad anyway. You can train with us.”

Matcha frowned. “What are you guys talking about? What game?”

Fish Ball gasped at Matcha before saying, “Matcha, do you not know? It’s Closers World. We are all playing Closers World.”

“What game is that? Is it fun to play?”

“Of course it’s fun!” Fish Ball exclaimed excitedly. “I have never played such a fun game in my whole life. It’s the only game I play everyday now. I have lost interest in all the other games. This is the attractiveness of a VR game! Do you know even know what VR is?”

“Of course I know! VR games are actually released?!” Matcha was evidently excited about this, so much that he threw the small cat issue to the back of his head. He immediately asked, “Where are you guys playing it? Can I try?”

Hence, after a few minutes, Matcha followed Gaia, Fish Ball, Fūjin and the rest to Gaia’s cat bed. Arthas and Diana were already there, playing the game.

The box beside them was full of VR game consoles. It was Zhao Yao who had bought them for Arthas and Diana to experiment with the game.

Matcha casually took one of them. Under the guidance of Fish Ball and the rest, Matcha put on the device and lay in the cat bed.

As the game console turned on, his vision turned black. When Matcha opened his eyes again, he realized he was in a vast expanse of snow-covered land.

A huge black bear roared at him before asking in a low, masculine voice, “Closer, do you want to start your adventure?”

A few options appeared before Matcha in a flash. They were “Start”, “Leave” and “Help” and many other options to choose from.

He naturally chose to start the game. A man clad in thin rags appeared before him. Rows of buttons appeared beside the man. As long as Matcha concentrated his attention on the buttons, he could adjust the man’s physical composition, even his sex and age.

Matcha began to customize the man excitedly. A two-meter tall man with a bald head and muscular physique appeared before him in no time.

After pressing the “Confirm” button, he reached the next stage to name his character. He could do so via voice message or typing on the virtual keyboard.

“Eh? What should I name him?” Matcha thought for a while. He entered the name ‘Zhao Yao’, but realized that the ID was already taken.

He entered the name ‘Matcha’, but it was taken as well.

“D*mn.” Matcha thought for a while more before he entered ‘Matcha Latte’, but the username was still taken. He tried again with ‘Matcha Latte Half Sugar’, but it was yet again taken...

After he finally secured a username, Matcha decided to start the game. His vision turned black, and he realized he had appeared on a field. An elder said to him, “Welcome to the Hundred Beasts College, Matcha Latte Half Sugar No Ice With Boba. I will introduce you to the courses you will need to learn next...”

It was the introductory course now, but Matcha was not listening to the elder. He was too fascinated by the novelty of his character’s body that he began to play around with his movements. This was his first time being human and using a human body to move. It was a fascinating feeling.

He touched his palm and jumped on the spot. Matcha said happily, “So this is how Zhao Yao feels normally? So tall!” Matcha stared at the bizarre wooden buildings in the distance before turning on the spot and breaking into a run.

“My body feels much stronger now, but much heavier as well. I can’t lick my butt anymore, and my tail is gone...” Matcha suddenly started screaming and shouting excitedly, “Wait... I can speak? I can speak directly now?”

Though he could communicate telepathically in the real world, normal humans would not be able to understand him.

However, at that moment, in Closers World, Matcha realized that the male character he controlled could actually speak in the same voice he normally used in telepathic communication.

The ability to control all sorts of human body movements now also enthralled him. After attending the introductory class, Matcha bounced off to find Fish Ball and the others and could not wait to train with them.

After a few days, the supercats in the Cat Wonderland were all playing the game under Arthas and Diana’s lead to explore and research the Awareness Dimension.

Zhao Yao was flying in the sky above the great desert, trying to find a special supercat as he completed more missions and earned experience points.

Chapter 898: Revival Journey

“Huh? There’s a small town?” Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up as he saw a small town a few thousand meters away. He leaped, made a turn in mid-air and flew towards the town. He landed stealthily a few hundred meters away and entered the town like a normal tourist.

Once he walked in the town, he felt gazes of animosity directed at him. He noticed a few local men staring at him under the eaves.

Zhao Yao greeted them and said, “Hi, do you know the way to the Divine Fire temple?”

The local men looked at each other and shook their heads at Zhao Yao. Their hidden animosity had become more intense.

Zhao Yao ignored them. This war-torn area was one of the most chaotic places on Earth. Conflicts could occur at any time and in any place.

Asians were especially out of place here like fish out of water. Traveling in this war zone, he was susceptible to various attacks and dangers.

“Because of the chaotic situation, more people needed my help.” Zhao Yao thought, “I could complete more missions here.”

Since he started completing missions a few days ago, he discovered greater efficiency than in large cities.

He located the only hotel in the small town. He tossed some US dollars on the table as he sat down and ordered a few dishes. He requested a cup of water as he took his meal.

A young girl served him water and glanced at him. She hesitated for a while and said, “Leave once you’re done. The locals don’t like you.” She left without waiting for Zhao Yao’s reply.

Sheriff, in Zhao Yao’s arms, said, “Zhao Yao, the townsfolk’s... animosity is intense.”

Zhao Yao smiled and replied, “I want for them to treat us as enemies, otherwise how do we find the cats?”

As Zhao Yao ate the dishes halfway, his ears quivered and he heard a large vehicle convoy coming from outside.

A few minutes later, dozens of jeeps and combat vehicles screeched to a halt in the middle of the town. The rebels disembarked and lay siege to the hotel.

The hotel owner and the young girl hid behind the door trembling while Zhao Yao sat at his original position and finished his meal casually.

Bam! More than ten rebels wearing an assortment of equipment and carrying various weapons barged in like ruffians and started yelling as they surrounded Zhao Yao.

A rebel leader gazed at Zhao Yao and said, "Are you that Asian bounty hunter? Did you attack three of our strongholds?"

Zhao Yao surveyed the rebels and said telepathically to Merlin, Anthony and Sheriff, "We can't use superpowers as we're in the Forbidden Devil's zone. Looks like there's a Forbidden Devil's apostle here."

Anthony smiled and said sarcastically, "It's ironic that this band of poor rebel soldiers have the Forbidden Devil's Zone supercat. If everyone doesn't have superpowers, aren't they the weakest?"

Zhao Yao's target was to capture the Divine Fire Palace's supercats while completing his mission. He was especially interested in the supercat with the Forbidden Devil's Zone superpower.

He agreed to exterminate the rebel soldiers for the local government as it was worth 5000 experience points.

He could accumulate supercats and experience points at the same time.

Zhao Yao thought, "With the Forbidden Devil's Zone, Extradimensional Belly and Elizabeth's Control superpower, I should be able to subdue Project X completely. I'll treat Roly Poly and Sphynx cat so that they can help me with the missions and increase my efficiency."

He was not sure if the Forbidden Devil's Zone superpower was effective against the alien cats.

Zhao Yao's current priority was to fight against the alien cats so he was seeking ways to increase his combat power and efficiency.

Zhao Yao thought that after the trip to America, he would be stronger and could subdue Project X. Then he could revive Roly Poly and Sphynx cat.

The increase in Project X's power went beyond Zhao Yao's expectation. To completely subdue Project X, he had to capture the Forbidden Devil's Zone supercat or complete the upgrades of his supercats. Then he could revive Roly Poly and Sphinx cat.

Zhao Yao thought that the Forbidden Devil's Zone supercat was within his reach. However, the rebels thought otherwise. The rebel leader smiled cruelly as he looked at Zhao Yao and said, "How's that? Did you feel powerless without your superpowers? Fools, don't you know about the Forbidden Devil apostles? Even the Star Cats can't defeat us, you are like ants to us."

Since Zhao Yao captured the nine pioneers of the Star Cats and their supercats, the Star Cats were so badly weakened that they were taken over by the government.

As the Natural Disaster Representatives had lost their superpowers, they lost their ability to control the global US military power and the American supernatural realm declined.

In the desert area, the Star Cats and the US army initially held the upper hand against the rebels and the Divine Fire Palace. Now, they had turned the tables as the rebels were pressing their attacks at the capital's doorstep.

Zhao Yao smiled merrily at them as they were worth a lot of experience points. "Greetings, I surrender. Bring me back to your base."

The rebels looked at each other and felt strange. As they had more men and guns and Zhao Yao was forbidden from using his superpowers, they thought Zhao Yao had no chance at defeating them.

Two rebels came forward to capture Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao frowned. Sounds of tires screeching and gunshots rang outside. Hundreds of American soldiers in the latest battle gear fought into the hotel.

The rebel leader exclaimed, "The Americans are here!"

"Let's fight them!"

“No, defend the hotel! I’m calling reinforcements!”

In the chaotic gunfire, the rebels held their ground in the hotel. As their equipment was inferior, they sustained the growing casualties.

Less than half an hour later, the rebels surrendered and squatted in the courtyard with their hands hugging their heads.

The American troops stormed into the hotel and saw the trembling hotel owner, the waitress and Zhao Yao, who was having his meal.

The American leader, Mike, frowned as he said to Zhao Yao, “Who are you? Why are you here?”

Zhao Yao said harmlessly, “I’m here as a tourist. You don’t have to bother about me.”

Mike and his adjutant looked at each other. Then Mike waved his hand and said, “Bring him back.” He looked at Zhao Yao and said, “I don’t care who you are. You better behave yourself. Once we verify your identity, we’ll let you go.”

Looking at the approaching troopers, Zhao Yao sighed and said, “Are you done with all this nonsense?”

A few seconds later, a loud rumbling sound rang in the air as a glow of fire flashed by. The hotel roof was torn open and a young girl with flaming wings wielding a flaming longsword descended from the sky. Her cold gaze, which was filled with murderous intent, was fixed on the American soldiers.

Chapter 899: Incoming Feces

“Divine Fire Palace’s Divine Lady!”

Seeing the flaming lady, the American troopers were shocked and they aimed their guns on her.

A dense bullet storm flew towards the young lady. The flames reversed direction in the air and vaporized the bullets before they reached her.

The flames swept downwards and incinerated the American troopers until they fled in terror.

“Where are our apostles?”

“Call our apostle unit for reinforcements!”

The young lady flapped her flaming wings and they grew to a length of over a hundred meters. Countless flaming arrows rained down on the soldiers and turned into an inferno. Even the accompanying apostles were burnt to ash.

“Surrender or die.”

The American troopers knelt down to surrender.

The young lady said to the rebel leader, “Tie them up and bring them back.”

Zhao Yao looked amused at the war-torn town and thought that this place was indeed chaotic. Within an hour, there were several gunfights and dramatic change of events.

A few rebels walked towards Zhao Yao but the Divine Lady said, “What are you doing? Besides the Americans, don’t harass the commoners.”

The rebel leader said, “Your Highness, he’s the apostle that wrecked our strongholds.”

The Divine Lady turned to glare at Zhao Yao as though she was going to kill him and said, “Take him away.” She pointed her finger and a stream of white flames formed a ring that surrounded Zhao Yao.

The Divine Lady looked sternly at Zhao Yao and said, “You better behave yourself, otherwise I could reduce you to ash with my thoughts.”

Zhao Yao looked astonished at the flaming ring around him. “This ring’s pretty impressive. Why don’t I feel hot? Did you suppress the temperature? That requires strong control of fire.”

The Divine Lady frowned at Zhao Yao, who was strangely composed and ordered, “Take him away.”

The American soldiers and Zhao Yao were put on trucks and driven to the rebel base.

On the truck, Zhao Yao looked pleasantly surprised at the twenty odd American troopers, whose heads were flashing the golden exclamation mark above.

Zhao Yao looked excitedly at a soldier and said, “Hi, you don’t look good. Do you need my help?”

The American leader, Mike, looked at Zhao Yao, whose body was surrounded by the flaming ring, rolled his eyes and ignored him.

Zhao Yao patted Mike’s shoulders and said, “I can help you escape.”

Mike sighed and said, “You better help yourself first.” He looked sympathetically at Zhao Yao and said, “We expect them to blackmail the American government. Once they’ve received the ransom, we will be released. As for you...”

He shook his head and said, “I expect them to decapitate you on their internet video platform.”

Zhao Yao said confidently, “Don’t you worry, I’m a powerful apostle. I let them capture me so that I could sneak into their lair.”

The American troopers did not believe Zhao Yao and ignored him.

Zhao Yao sighed and stopped arguing with them as he would use his actions to prove himself. Then he could complete their missions.

He sat inside the truck, smiling happily.

With the protection of the Divine Lady, the rebels arrived at a nearby rebel base.

Zhao Yao was in the truck when his ears quivered and he frowned.

Within moments, he heard conversations within a radius of a few hundred meters. He discerned that this was not the headquarters of the rebel soldiers and the Divine Fire Palace.

“It’s alright. This base’s huge so they are not small fries. If I can find their mid-level leaders and discuss with them, they will understand and bring me to their headquarters.”

Zhao Yao looked at the American troopers and said, “I’m ready to go, would you like to follow me?”

He smiled when the Americans ignored him. Then he tested his superpowers and found that he was forbidden from using them. He discovered that a Forbidden Devil apostle was sitting at the truck’s front seat.

“I can’t use my superpowers. I can only resort to violence.” Zhao Yao thought for a while and stomped his right foot.

Boom! Zhao Yao burst the truck’s tires with his Taikoo Dragon strength. His heel penetrated the truck’s floor plate and landed on the ground.

The entire truck shook violently but Zhao Yao’s foot was like a strong pillar that pinned the truck to its position.

The truck driver smashed headlong into the windshield while the American troopers behind fell inside the truck.

The rebels panicked as they did not know what happened. The Divine Lady was the first to discover that something was amiss. She flew into the sky and surveyed the commotion.

She noticed a figure with a flaming ring running out of the base.

“It’s him?” The Divine Lady’s face was filled with murderous intent. She focused and the flaming ring shrunk. She wanted to burn Zhao Yao to ash.

Zhao Yao was able to use his superpowers after leaving the Forbidden Devil Zone. His Deflective Field destroyed the flaming ring with its low temperature of  $-60^{\circ}\text{C}$ .

“He’s powerful.” The Divine Lady became grim and gave orders through her microphone. Every rebel and apostle got ready their guns and gear to prepare for combat.

Zhao Yao used Cheese’s cloak to fly in the sky and surveyed the ant-like activities of the rebels in the base.

All the guns were aimed at Zhao Yao as the Divine Lady looked at him and grew tens of meters of flaming wings. She prepared to take off and engage Zhao in a fight.

“What did he say?”

“Sounded like... incoming feces?”

“Are you joking? You must have heard wrong!”

As the rebels were shocked by Zhao Yao’s words, sound waves of Zhao Yao’s illusion engulfed them and they saw the sky crack behind him. Mud-like objects fell from the sky like a waterfall, burying the entire rebel base.

Chapter 900: Barging Alone

The Divine Lady was shocked by the amount of sh*t dropping down from the sky.

“Why are there ... such disgusting powers in this world?”

She looked at the feces helplessly. She had the urge to run and not fight.

But, she could not leave her comrades behind. She could only fight. Her wings spread open and she flew towards the sky with fire waves.

Then, when the powers clashed, the feces started burning when it met with the fire. There was a violent explosion and an indescribable smell rushed into the Divine Lady's nose. She almost fainted.

“The smell...”

The Divine Lady wanted to leave. This was impossible to fight. She would be stunk to death.

Then, the horrific voice sounded again.

“Oh? You can still take it?” Zhao Yao's voice sounded like thunder through the entire base.

“Shit again!”

Bam! The black soil rumbled and an infinite amount of shit fell from the sky. It was like the entire sky crashed.

The Divine Lady looked at this scene in shock. She had no will to resist. Her mood turned from shock to disgust, then to fear.

“So... powers can be that strong?”

Then, she felt her eyes black out. Her body was engulfed in the darkness.

In the sky, Zhao Yao descended slowly and in the base, all the rebels had succumbed to the illusion. Some were lying on the ground with white foam in their mouths. Some were shivering and some were in shock with their eyes wide open.

Zhao Yao did not bother with them. He walked to the truck and grabbed with his hand. He tore the truck apart and the American soldiers were feeling groggy inside.

Zhao Yao specially created these illusion for them in order to gain experience points.

Zhao Yao looked at the golden exclamation mark on top of their heads and smiled with satisfaction. He asked nicely, "Do you guys want me to save you?"

Mike looked at Zhao Yao and raised his hands. He said weakly, "Save... save me!"

Hence, he dragged the soldiers out of the truck one by one.

When Mike and the rest saw the rebels all over the ground, they were shocked.

"What is this apostle's power?"

Zhao Yao had become an unfathomable apostle in their eyes.

Zhao Yao told them, "It's okay. The entire base has been overturned by me. You guys can go out yourselves. I will not send you."

Zhao Yao was happy about obtaining the few hundred experience points. Although it was not a lot, but it was obtained easily.

After completing the mission, Zhao Yao walked leisurely to the Divine Lady's position. He wanted to interrogate her and if she didn't know then he would look for other authorities.

He looked at the lady who was lying on the floor with her eyes closed looking very uncomfortable.

Zhao Yao woke her up and asked, "Can you tell me where are your headquarters?"

In the Divine Lady's eyes, the feces that was surrounding her rose up and formed a human figure. The human figure looked at her menacingly and said, "Tell me, where are your headquarters."

The Divine Lady said, "I will not tell you. Just kill me."

"Hahaha, why would I kill you?" The monster made of feces laughed and said pervertedly, "I was just thinking if I should eat your shit or should you eat mine."

The Divine Lady was alarmed.

After half a minute, there was an ear piercing scream and the Divine Lady looked at the monster in fright. “Stop it! I will tell you everything! Stop it!”

Actually, Zhao Yao did not need the Divine Lady to explain herself. Sheriff had already gotten all the information from the Divine Lady.

However, Zhao Yao still listened to the Divine Lady description of the Divine Fire Palace. Then, he grabbed her and flew towards the Divine Fire Palace’s headquarters.

In the Divine Lady’s eyes, she was grabbed by the air and flew to Zhao Yao, leaving all the feces behind.

In the headquarters of Divine Fire Palace, the leader Carl sat in front of his desk and he looked at the map of the country with a smile. His eyes were glistening with ambition.

At first, the Divine Fire Palace was controlled by the army and Divine Fire Palace was about to disband.

Who knew that suddenly the American Army would weaken and the number of apostles and powers decrease at an alarming rate. The Divine Fire Palace started to win all the wars and defeated the special operations team.

In a blink of an eye, the Divine Fire Palace that he was leading swept the country and the army started retreating everywhere.

“Humph, as long as I attack the capital and imprison the president, the Americans will have to admit that I have unified the country.”

Carl got excited. “Then, if we share resources and open the market n a few years, I will be able to take down the neighboring country and I will make America great again.”

When Carl was thinking about his plans ambitiously and how he was going to have his name recorded in history. There was a loud bam and it seemed like a house had collapsed.

“What is the situation?” Carl shouted. “What is happening outside? Is the government here?”

Zhao Yao descended and charged straight up the heart of the base like a sword.

Everywhere he went, he would tear down the walls and tanks he met.

When he met with an enemy that retaliated, he would engulf them in illusion. The rebels, apostles and terrorists would watch themselves vomit out tonnes of shit and faint in fear.

“People who block me will die from shit!”

A thunder roared and then he passed through the entire Divine Fire Palace. He looked at the middle building where the leader stayed and laughed. Zhao Yao changed his powers to formless palm and grabbed in direction of the building.

However, when the palm was about to touch the building, it became formless and dispersed into the air.

“Forbidden Devil territory?”

“You are the one I am looking for!”

Zhao Yao laughed and knocked the Divine Lady unconscious. He left the three cats outside and then shot himself towards the building like a missile.

In a loud rumbling, the entire building collapsed and Zhao Yao walked out of the ruins grabbing Carl’s head.
