

Am I A God 941

Chapter 941: Meeting

“My name is Latte. Who are you?” Latte asked warily

Milk Tea said, “My name is Milk Tea! I’m a supercat from Cat Wonderland!” He looked curiously at Latte and said, “Latte? Are you new here in Cat Wonderland?”

“Matcha is a supercat working in Cat Wonderland, I... am I considered one too?” Latte said shyly, “Hmm, I’m new here.”

Milk Tea’s eyes lit up as he said, “We haven’t had new kittens in Cat Wonderland for a long time! You are not familiar with anyone here. Let me introduce everyone to you!”

Milk Tea showed Latte around Cat Wonderland excitedly. He explained Cat Wonderland, the places to eat and play, who the fierce and kind supercats were, to Latte...

Both Milk and Latte had not had the experience of having childhood friends.

A kitten which was less than a year old was by nature energetic and lively and would run and scratch around. Though supercats’ requirement for fun was higher, they were restless in their kitten stage.

The two orange kittens bolted and chased each other around Cat Wonderland. Occasionally, they would roll and knock into other large cats and be scolded. They would then flee to a safe place and laugh together.

Fish Ball rubbed his eyes and saw two orange cats running up the stairs. He shook his head and muttered to himself, “What’s going on? Why did I see two Milk Teas? Am I too tired?”

A cat paw pressed on his head and Fish Ball turned back in shock. “Li Li? Why are you here?”

The Cat King of the North, Li Li complained, "I call you daily but you haven't come so I had to come over."

Fish Ball said with embarrassment, "You're impatient. I said I'd find you."

Li Li said shyly, "You said you'd bring me to see your owner three months ago but I haven't seen her yet..."

Fish Ball felt cold sweat dripping down his head. "I'm busy with work and have to work overtime in Cat Wonderland. I want to provide a blissful life for you."

Li Li said, "You don't have to work overtime. I receive a lot of government subsidies every month. When we are together, I can support you."

"Support me?" Fish Ball replied angrily. "Who wants you to support me? If other cats know that you are supporting me, they'll think I'm a useless husband. How could I face other cats outside? Don't you care about your reputation?"

Li Li lowered her head and said, "Fish Ball, don't be angry. I'll pass the money discreetly to you so that other cats don't know. Is that okay?"

Fish Ball's eyes lit up and shook his head as he said, "No, I'm not that kind of a cat. You can't bribe me with money!"

Li Li frowned and glanced at Fish Ball's swinging tail as she thought, "He's obviously interested. He knows how to act."

Li Li said gently, "Fish Ball, how's your work in Cat Wonderland? There are rumors saying that Zhao Yao's in trouble."

After Zhao Yao discussed with the higher-ups, his death was classified as information at the highest security level.

Only a very small number of people knew about Zhao Yao's situation. Even Uncle Ho was in the dark about Zhao Yao's situation.

“Those are rumors. I’m working in Cat Wonderland daily. Wouldn’t I know about Zhao Yao? He went on vacation. I have no idea where he’s gone gallivanting.”

Fish Ball continued enviously, “Cat Wonderland is now managed by Bai Quan. Besides Zhao Yao, I rarely get to see Matcha, Elizabeth, Ares and Dust Ball.”

“Oh.” Li Li acknowledged and said, “When are you bringing me to see Xiao Yu? When are you moving to my place?”

“Li Li,” Fish Ball said, “Don’t be impatient. I am a young supercat with some skill. It’s time for me to develop my career. There are lots of opportunities for me in Cat Wonderland and the management think highly of me. I want to concentrate on my career and not think of others...”

Li Li’s eyes emitted cold rays. “Are you shirking from responsibility?” A sea wave gushed out from her mouth and flooded Fish Ball, pinning him to the wall.

Li Li said viciously, “Fish Ball, I’m warning you! I’m three years old and I’m not young. My sister and brother already have grandchildren. You have to give me an answer as to when we are getting married.”

Fish Ball swallowed his saliva and said, “Cats who are in love stay together, as for marriage...”

Crackling sounds were heard...

The strong water pressure disintegrated the wall behind Fish Ball who said anxiously, “Cats who are in love should get married and don’t worry too much.”

The water wave was retrieved as Li Li smiled and said, “Good Fish Ball, let’s start preparing for it early. Why don’t you meet my sister and brother...”

Fish Ball looked sweetly at Li Li but felt helpless inside. He found a chance to send out a Wechat message to ask for help. “Who’s coming to save me? I’m being forced into marriage.”

“Congratulations!” Matcha said, “Don’t forget to take in deep breaths.”

Matcha's cell phone vibrated and it was Yellow Mud's message.

"Latte's missing!"

Milk Tea chased after Latte and managed to pounce on him. They rolled and stood up. Milk Tea swung his tail and started fleeing. "Latte! It's your turn to catch me!"

Latte meowed as he chased Milk Tea. Both cats ran happily along the corridor but they failed to turn the corner and they rolled together, knocking into the wall corner. They jumped up together.

Milk Tea spat his tongue and said joyfully, "Latte! Are you hungry? There's a free buffet downstairs! I'll bring you to eat!"

"Buffet?" Latte was dripping saliva as he said, "Bring me! Let's go immediately!"

In the cat restaurant below, Latte eat voraciously at a large bowl of salmon.

"This meat's delicious!" Latte said in a pleasant surprise, "What meat is this?"

"This is salmon! I'll get more for you since you like it that much."

Latte looked at the meat and said earnestly, "Salmon... it's awesome. I haven't tasted such delicious meat!"

Latte put his backpack on the table and opened it. He wanted to take out his favourite chicken canned food but he hesitated as he could not bear to share it. Finally, he put the chicken canned food in front of Milk Tea.

"This is my favourite fish canned food!" Latte looked at Milk Tea with a heartache and said, "I'm giving it to you!"

Milk Tea looked at the canned food and thought, “Oh? I am sick of this canned food which is our staple food daily.”

Milk Tea gazed at Latte who was looking with anticipation and he let Latte open the canned food. He took a bite and said joyously, “This canned food’s awesome. I like it very much.”

Latte smiled and waved graciously as he said, “Have more if you like it! I am giving you this canned food.”

Milk Tea quivered his whiskers and looked at the canned food which he took daily and said, “Okay, give it to me.”

After a few bites of the canned food, Milk Tea looked at Latte and asked curiously, “Latte, what’s your superpower?”

Latte lifted his head and licked his mouth as he said in embarrassment, “My superpower’s ordinary. I know what’s going to happen for the day when I wake up.”

“Oh?” Milk Tea said, “Isn’t that interesting? Did you know that you would be meeting me?”

Latte shook his head, “I don’t know a lot of things everyday. I don’t even know what’s going to happen in Cat Wonderland.” He lowered his head and continued eating. He let out occasional munching sounds of satisfaction.

Latte munched as he asked, “What about you Milk Tea? What’s your superpower?”

Chapter 942: Finding

“My superpower?” Milk tea tilted his head and looked anguished. “I don’t know my superpower. I tested for a long time to no avail.”

Milk Tea wanted to control his superpower and he asked a lot of cats and people and tried many ways. Uncle Egg, Doll, and Matcha also helped him test his superpower but they failed.

Latte patted his chest and said, “No problem Milk Tea, I’ll help you! I know how to control superpowers!”

Milk Tea looked doubtfully at Latte and said, “Oh? Really?”

“Of course!” Latte looked at Milk Tea and said solemnly, “Have a full meal. The fuller you are, the better your superpower is! Get more salmon, I’ll eat with you!”

Milk Tea looked speechless at Latte as he thought, “He must be thinking of eating more salmon...” Milk Tea did not expose him. Instead, Milk Tea raised his paw and shouted, “Waiter! Four more plates of salmon!”

Seeing Latte munching the salmon, Milk Tea went into a daze and thought, “When can I understand my superpower?”

After a while, Latte lay on the table contentedly with a huge belly and his paws facing the sky. He said in satisfaction, “I’m very full. Sleep’s the best after a full meal!”

Latte looked at Milk Tea and said, “Milk Tea, let’s sleep together! After a good rest, you can use your superpower!”

Milk Tea pressed his paw on Latte’s head and said, “Good, sleep if you’re tired.”

Milk Tea brought Latte to a room and Latte fell asleep quickly. Milk Tea shook his head and looked at Latte’s face and muttered, “His face is very adorable. I wonder how Brother Matcha and the cats are doing...”

He his tail drooped dejectedly. “This is frustrating. I’m unable to use my superpower... I cannot be of any help.”

“Milk Tea!”

“Huh?” Milk Tea lifted his head and looked.

Latte rolled to the bedside and his upper body lay down on the window sill as he muttered, "Milk Tea! Take more salmon to awaken your superpower!"

Milk Tea rolled his eyes and thought, "I hope I don't become his salmon provider..."

One hour later, Latte opened his eyes and climbed down from the window sill slowly. He raised up his paw and stretched his back as he yawned.

"It's comfortable to sleep here."

"Yes! I almost forgot! I'm here to look for Matcha!"

Latte looked at Milk Tea, who was playing with his cell phone and asked, "Milk Tea! Do you know Matcha?"

"Huh?" Milk Tea looked at Latte in surprise.

Latte said, "Hmm, you might not know him as Matcha's in a high position. He's the owner of the Cat Wonderland and in charge of tens of thousands of people and cats. You are a cleaner here so you might not know."

Milk Tea was speechless.

Latte said, "I'm going to look for Matcha! I'm here to see him."

Seeing Latte leaving with his backpack, Milk could not resist asking, "Latte... why are you looking for Matcha?"

"Why?" Latte tilted his head and thought for a while. He edged closer to Milk Tea carefully and looked earnestly at Milk Tea. "Milk Tea, are we good friends?"

Milk Tea said with mixed feelings, "I guess so..."

Latte said solemnly, "Can I share my secrets with you?"

Milk Tea turned his head away as though he expected something. “Matcha... what tales did he spin...”

Milk Tea said, “You don’t have to tell me...”

Latte said, “My father’s the owner of Cat Wonderland. He’s in charge of Jianghai’s numerous supercats. His fortune’s worth billions. His every action affects countless people. He’s Matcha!”

Milk Tea said, “Uh... sounds good.”

“Sounds good?” Latte said excitedly. “He’s the saviour of countless supercats, the King of supercats, the beautiful side of the world, the bearer of light in the shadows. He’s the premium life who’s helping the humans with important development!”

“I see...”

“Many people would like to cause him harm. Even in Cat Wonderland, a few supercats are backstabbing him,” Latte said warily. “I had been raised in secret from young so that I won’t be discovered by Matcha’s enemies.”

Milk Tea said, “... Because he’s the strongest supercat... and positioned above all supercats?”

“You knew that too? This proves that his fame is far and wide,” Latte said. “You have to help me keep the secret.”

After keeping silent, Milk Tea could not resist saying, “Latte, my dad likes to tell me about his awesomeness and sometimes he’s boasting...”

Latte looked at Milk Tea with sympathy and said, “You’re unfortunate. Let me ask my dad to talk to your dad so that he won’t boast anymore.”

Matcha thought helplessly, “Latte’s optimism is quite similar to...”

...

Matcha paced around anxiously at the cat dwelling of the district. “Why is he missing?”

“Could he be captured by cat torturers?”

“Or being taken by other humans?”

“Latte’s so small! What if he’s sold into the mountains!”

Matcha searched in the small district for a few hours but did not find him. Matcha became worried.

At this instance, his cell phone vibrated and he saw Milk Tea’s message.

“Latte’s with me.”

Matcha arrived at Latte and Milk Tea’s room. Latte immediately jumped up and pounced on Matcha. “Matcha! Matcha! I’ve found you!”

Matcha slapped Latte on his head and said furiously, “Who let you run around! Don’t you know how dangerous the world is?”

“I know...” Latte hugged his head and said pitifully, “I have grown up. My superpower can be put to use!”

“Wrong... you can’t win the lottery. Your superpower’s not accurate...” Matcha’s head turned around to look for Milk Tea. “Where’s Milk Tea? Didn’t he call me over here? Don’t you know where he is?”

The door was opened as Milk Tea walked in and said, “I’m here.”

Chapter 943: Denial And Maturity

Milk Tea looked at Matcha and said telepathically, “Latte said you’re his dad, what’s going on?”

Matcha showed his weathered expression as he said, “I remember that year at the Da Ming river, I saw her and she gaze at me...”

Milk Tea said, “Brother Matcha... Let’s talk politely.”

Matcha looked sadly at Milk Tea and said, “Milk Tea, you were very obedient when you were young. You would listen attentively until I finished. Six months have passed and you’ve grown up. You’re now interrupting me...”

Milk Tea was no longer the naive kitten he was half a year ago. He had matured very fast in the complex Cat Wonderland.

Matcha looked grudgingly at Milk Tea and said, “Milk Tea’s grown up and despises me.”

Milk Tea said, “You know I don’t despise you. Hmm...” He gazed at Matcha and said, “Brother Matcha, you’re changing the topic? Is Latte your son?”

Matcha lowered his head and hid his head in his buttocks as though he was autistic.

Milk Tea said, “If you don’t tell me, I’ll inform Zhao Yao...”

Matcha immediately replied, “Yes, I was intoxicated and taken advantage of by a female cat. That’s how Latte...”

Milk Tea exposed his lies and said, “Haven’t you been playing Closers World for the past few months? Yesterday, you were complaining you haven’t chatted more than 20 lines with female cats for the past year, how could you get into a sexual relationship in your drunken stupor?”

Matcha’s face froze and he said indignantly, “I have internet affairs! Do you understand what internet affairs are?! Milk Tea, you don’t know my charm on the internet!”

“Internet affair?” Milk Tea looked suspiciously at Matcha. “Weren’t you complaining to Lightning yesterday that your internet love interest was a man weighing a hundred kilograms?”

Matcha swung his tail in anger. “Lightning’s a snitch! How could he divulge my secrets?!”

Milk Tea said, “Though this may not sound nice, you’re not that to female cats. You don’t have the muscles of Sphynx cat, your fur’s not the latest color, your breed’s just normal orange. You are tactless and you sounded feminine...”

“Stop!” Matcha slammed his paw on the ground and said in pain, “Is breed that important? Don’t orange cats have a chance?! I’m not yielding!”

Milk Tea said anxiously, “No... no! I like you a lot Brother Matcha! Female cats may like Lightning or Fish Ball as they are special breeds but I believe that once they get to know your character and integrity, they’ll like you.”

Matcha said angrily, “Those female cats only look at fur. I heard that Koreans have discovered a new fur implant technique. Let me change all my fur...”

“Let’s not discuss this,” Milk Tea said. “Is Latte your son? Or...” His eyeball rolled and looked suspiciously at Matcha, “If you don’t have a girlfriend... is it related to Doomsday?”

“Ah!???” Matcha looked fearfully at Milk Tea and said, “What... what nonsense... Are you saying... Who’s Doomsday? I don’t know him!”

“This is too suspicious,” Milk Tea said. “If you had a girlfriend, you would send daily photographs to our Wechat group to boast. Was it caused by Doomsday? Latte and you almost look alike. Was it Doomsday’s cloning superpower?”

“To confirm, shall we do a DNA test?”

Matcha was shocked speechless. “D*mn... Milk Tea’s inherited my intelligence? How did he guess that?”

Matcha sprawled on the ground and said feebly, “Milk Tea! Milk Tea!” He crawled to Milk Tea’s leg and hugged his calf. “Don’t ever tell anyone about this! I won’t be able to face everyone!”

Milk Tea looked at Matcha and said, “Don’t be like this... Latte’s looking.”

Latte looked curiously at Matcha and Milk Tea as he said, “What are you doing?” Matcha and Milk Tea were facing each other and conversing telepathically. Latte could not understand what was going on.

Matcha stood up and said, “Nothing much Latte. I’m thanking my little brother for finding you. Let’s go home quickly. Yellow Mud’s sick with worry.”

Matcha walked forward and held Latte’s neck in his mouth as he dragged Latte away. “Milk Tea, we are leaving. Don’t be bothered by us. Pretend nothing has happened today.”

Latte tossed around and hugged Matcha as he shouted, “No! I don’t want to return to the dirty and smelly cat dwelling! I want to stay here! The food’s good, the place’s big and the bed’s soft! Why can’t I stay here...”

Seeing Latte struggling, Matcha hesitated.

Milk Tea said, “Brother Matcha, inform Master Yao and the supercats. It’s not feasible to let Latte stay outside. Don’t worry. You were affected by Doomsday’s superpower. They won’t laugh at you.”

Matcha sprawled on the ground and hid his head in his fur like an ostrich. “No!

Milk Tea said, “Brother Matcha, you’re a big cat. You can’t always hide from your problems.”

Matcha said, “What’s wrong with hiding? This is my survival experience! No matter what problem, as long as it’s delayed, it’ll vanish by itself!”

Milk Tea said, “That’s too optimistic...”

Milk Tea looked at Latte and said telepathically to Matcha, “Isn’t Latte pitiful? I was also a stray cat when I’m young. Brother Matcha, have you gone through such a life before? It’s very cruel to let a small cat survive outside!”

Matcha said optimistically, “No problem. I’ll buy a new cellphone for Latte and let him play Mobile Legends.” He looked at Latte and said, “Latte, I’ll buy a cellphone for you and we’ll play Mobile Legends when we go back.”

“Yeah!” Latte was excited as he said, “I’ll have my cellphone to play Mobile Legends! Let’s go home! Let’s go home!”

Matcha looked at Milk Tea arrogantly and said, “Did you see that? When faced with problems, playing games will solve the problems. That’s my precious life experience.”

Milk Tea rolled his eyes as he was no longer easily appeased like a small kitten. He looked at Latte and said, “No, I’ll inform Master Yao. Latte’ll stay with us. Don’t worry Brother Matcha, they won’t laugh at you.”

Chapter 944: Acceptance and Changes

“Hahahaha!” Lightning sprawled on the grass, turning and tossing. He lifted his head and pointed at Matcha as he laughed wildly. “Matcha? Giving birth? Hahahaha!”

“Ah!” Lightning screamed in pain as he convulsed. “It’s painful! My stomach’s in spasms! Help me....”

Matcha slapped on Lightning’s stomach and said, “No thanks.” His brows pulsated as he looked at the laughing Cannon. “What’s so funny?”

“It’s hilarious!” Cannon hugged his stomach and trembled as he guffawed. “How did you give birth? Up or down? Hahahaha.”

Latte stayed behind Matcha warily as he looked at the laughing supercats. He frowned and asked uneasily, “Matcha, are they laughing at me?”

Matcha said, “They’re silly cats. Don’t be bothered by them.”

Matcha glared at Lightning and activated Time Freeze. He beat up Lightning and Cannon who laughed the loudest. When time resumed, he shouted at him, "Quit laughing and shut up."

Lightning and Cannon were on the floor and they looked astonished and fearfully at Matcha. They could not figure out why Matcha was serious and fierce about their teasing when he could not be bothered last time.

Zhao Yao, who was sitting by the side, finally spoke.

"Enough, stop fooling around." He walked to Matcha and knelt down as he looked at Latte who was hiding under Matcha's stomach. He felt like caressing Latte.

Seeing Latte becoming more frightened, Zhao Yao did not caress him. He knew that small kittens were extremely afraid of strangers, especially under the gazes of many cats.

Zhao Yao caressed Matcha instead and said, "Since Latte's here, don't leave him outside. People may think that I'm unable to support a kitten."

Latte patted Matcha's big belly and said telepathically, "Matcha! Matcha! Am I staying in Cat Wonderland?"

Matcha lowered his head and licked Latte's head fur. "Yes, don't worry, I'm influential. If I want you to stay, nobody can oppose me."

Milk Tea looked at how Matcha protected Latte and felt strange. It was sour and happy at the same time. He thought, "Brother Matcha's becoming more mature."

He recalled when he was young, Matcha did not like him and would be pushed off if he got close. It was so different from the current Matcha who protected Latte.

Zhao Yao looked at Latte, Matcha, and Milk Tea and thought about Mao Mao. He felt strange. "Even if orange cats look similar... with four orange cats looking alike, even the frown lines look similar and it feels weird."

He asked Matcha telepathically, "Matcha, what's Latte's superpower?"

Matcha told Zhao Yao and he started thinking. “Foretelling the future? Or receiving information from the future? Foretelling dreams?” No matter how Zhao Yao thought, he felt it was a time related superpower and it had potential.”

“Is it because Latte was cloned in Matcha’s body?”

Shaking his head, Zhao Yao put aside his thoughts and started his plan for the day.

For the past two months, he had been hiding in the dark, accumulating energy for evolution, experience points and lottery chances.

Zhao Yao’s power had taken a large leap forward.

Catherine had attained Level 12 while Diana had reached Level 15.

Catherine had also gained the Awareness Dimension’s energy and transformation superpower after evolving to Level 12. After transformation, she was able to absorb 20% of an awareness attack to replenish her power of awareness until it was at 100%.

With the absorption of the awareness, the power up of her superpower was between 10% to 100%.

After transformation, Diana’s physical immunity factor was 55% and her power up factor was 150%. She could kick players offline and pull them into her dreamscapes.

With the evolution of two supercats, Zhao Yao gained a deeper understanding of the power of awareness and the Awareness Dimension.

“Everyone, please close your eyes.” Zhao Yao looked at Diana and Catherine in the distance as he said, “Please begin Diana and Catherine.”

Catherine and Diana faced each other as Catherine activated her superpower. Both of them shook and their bodies collapsed to the ground as they were sleep induced.

It was different from the 20 seconds Sleep Induction. The affected Diana awoke after a few seconds and was fearful but she didn't panic and run around. She held her ground and shed some fur.

Zhao Yao nodded his head. "As compared to the Level 1 to 10's development of new superpowers, the evolution is about control of the Awareness Dimension's power and the overall increase of the superpower. The power of awareness was also able to resist most superpowers."

Hence Diana had resistance against Catherine's superpower.

After a series of tests, Zhao Yao discovered that Catherine had developed resistance against Diana's dreamscape superpower.

As Catherine's level was inferior to Diana, her resistance was weaker and her mental damage upon entering the dreamscape was slightly reduced.

Zhao Yao looked at Uncle Egg and said, "Uncle Egg, try it."

Uncle Egg attacked Diana with lightning but she tilted her head and felt nothing. Catherine's fur quivered slightly and she felt nothing too.

"After evolution and control of power of awareness, the supercats receive strong resistance against superpowers," Zhao Yao thought. "In the case of the alien cats..."

Zhao Yao thought about the pursuit by the alien in Closers World and the alien cat's perception of awareness.

"As compared to Diana and Catherine, the alien cats were at least Level 17 or 18. Most of my supercats' superpowers are ineffective against the alien cats."

Even Diana, who had the highest level, found it difficult to induce the alien cats into the dreamscapes. Zhao Yao had to flee and hide in the dreamscape as he waited for the alien cat to enter the dreamscape voluntarily.

When Diana attained Level 18, she would have a chance to defeat the alien cat. If he had several Level 18 supercats, he could defeat the alien cats directly.

Chapter 945: Power of Awareness

In the material realm, supercats with control of awareness developed a resistance to superpowers. In the Awareness Dimension and dreamscape, supercats with control of awareness were able to attack with their power of awareness.

Under the direction of Zhao Yao, Catherine and Diana entered the dreamscape. The material realm's superpowers were useless in the dreamscape so they manipulated their power of awareness to attack each other.

Both supercats left the dreamscape after a while. Zhao Yao thought, "The battle in the Awareness Dimension was simple but violent and dangerous. It was a pure brute force pitting of awareness power.

Just like the previous encounter with the alien cat. I have no choice but to flee as my power of awareness was too inferior."

Zhao Yao speculated, "Those alien cats with powerful awarenesses will battle in the Awareness Dimension while the weaker cats escape to the material realm to use their superpowers for a chance of winning."

"If the difference in the power of awareness is too great, he would be like Doomsday and taken away without any chance of escaping."

"Fortunately, Diana's superpower is related to dreams so her superpower can be used in dreamscapes."

Dreamscapes existed in the Awareness Dimension. Diana did not have direct attack abilities in the material realm but in the Awareness Dimension, she could enter dreamscapes and distort the dream using her superpower.

Dreamscapes were Diana's specialty.

“There are alien cats who control other people’s awareness. I think it’s their superpowers.” Zhao Yao recalled how the alien cat almost controlled his awareness and thought, “Their superpowers are to control other people’s awareness.”

Besides Diana and Catherine, Zhao Yao did not know of other supercats with power of awareness. He had to figure out the fighting tactics based on his personal research and the alien cat’s exhibition of superpower.

For the past two months, besides Diana and Catherine’s evolution, Zhao Yao had gained lots of experience points.

The Book panel showed that he had accumulated 70 thousand experience points over the past two months and a cumulative total of 140 thousand experience points.

Zhao Yao awarded the experience points to Matcha and he was upgraded to Level 10.

After using two skill points, Zhao Yao let Matcha learn all the Level 9 and 10 skills in the skill tree.

Matcha had become stronger. The Time Freeze duration increased to 18 seconds and he had increased ten times in speed. The cooling down period for Time Distortion was reduced to three hours. During the cooling down period, every attack had a chance to reduce the cooling down period by one second.

The Jianghai market share of the catmint had increased over the past two months. Zhao Yao obtained 150 lottery chances, which drew many experience points, Spicy Cat Strips, and other items.

Zhao Yao obtained a new item, Battle Scanner.

He took the monocle out from his pocket and wore it on his left eye.

He saw changes in the scene. Matcha, Ares and Elizabeth became trash bags and their heads were floating with these words: Trash with combat rating of less than 5.

When he was looking at Diana and Catherine, Catherine’s head showed Level 12 while Diana’s head showed Level 15.

This battle scanner allowed Zhao Tao to see the power of awareness of his targets. Only targets above Level 10 were measured. Those without control of awareness were labelled as trash.

Zhao Yao also obtained seven Improvement stones and attained 66/80 Cat Prince Costume Fragments.

Zhao Yao thought, "After collecting all the fragments of the Cat Prince Costume, I wonder what's the use of it. I hope it has to do with power of awareness."

"Next is the Improvement Stone."

Zhao Yao endured for a long time and since the weather was good, he decided to use the stone on the Dragon Slaying Saber.

He slapped an Improvement Stone on the Dragon Slaying Saber and it changed from +1 to +2. The prohibition of superpower increased from 20 seconds to 30 seconds.

"Great!" Zhao Yao said joyfully, "My luck's pretty good today." After thinking for a while, he slapped two Improvement Stones on the Saber and the Dragon Slaying Saber became +4.

Besides the normal Dragon Slaying verification, the prohibition of superpower was extended to 50 seconds and a side effect of weakening of awareness.

"Not bad, the Dragon Slaying Saber's upgraded and now has an awareness attack capability." Zhao Yao rubbed his hand excitedly and slapped another Improvement Stone on it. "If I continue using the Improvement Stone, would I be able to use it directly in the Awareness Dimension?"

The Improvement Stone failed and instead of the saber becoming +5, it became +3.

Zhao Yao was glum and used the remaining Improvement Stones on the Dragon Slaying Saber. Finally the saber became +4.

"Shit!" Zhao Yao wanted to continue but he ran out of Improvement Stones.

Zhao was furious. “This is frustrating!”

“If only I had more Improvement Stones.”

Zhao Yao sighed as he looked at the Dragon Slaying Saber +4. He could only upgrade the saber in the future.

The cellphone vibrated and Zhao Yao’s eyes lit up as he received a message regarding the Revival cat’s location.

Zhao Yao gathered the supercats to find Revival cat so that Sphinx cat could be revived.

“Very good!” Zhao Yao said, “Supercat Armor! Gear Up!”

Ares, who was chatting with Fish Ball on Wechat, messaged, “I’m going off. The supercat armor’s gearing up. It’s my turn to transform.”

Elizabeth, Ares, Rice Cake and Cheese transformed into a scarf, sword and cloak on Zhao Yao’s body.

Catherine, who had control of the Awareness Dimension’s energy, ate a Cat Spicy Strip and became a white glowing ring behind Zhao Yao’s back.

The light ring could appear, vanish, enlarge or shrink according to Zhao Yao’s will. Those who gazed at the light ring would fall asleep. Though the light ring didn’t transmit sound, the enlargement could let more people see it and force them to sleep.

Zhao Yao looked satisfactorily at his light ring. He was anticipating new changes in items after his supercats evolved.

Diana ate a Cat Strip and became a small grey flame burning at Zhao Yao’s brow chakra.

Zhao Yao could also choose to make the flame appear or vanish and lead all life forms within a radius of 500 meters into his dreamscape.

Chapter 946: Traces of Resurrection

Once his supercat armor was completed, Zhao Yao looked at his status, "Indeed the combination of both looks and strength, however, it can only work in the material world."

When he wore the armor, Zhao Yao's combat power was doubled or sometimes multiplied by more.

After wearing the armor, Zhao Yao looked at Roly Poly and Sheriff on the floor. "Roly Poly, Sheriff."

Roly Poly can be seen leaping and crawling onto Zhao Yao's shoulder. Since he had the Titanium Dog Eye, Zhao Yao did not feed him a spicy strip but just kept him invisible beside him.

Meanwhile, Sheriff also hid in Zhao Yao's clothes, prepared to provide any information he learnt from reading minds for Zhao Yao anytime.

In Roly Poly's conscious, Project X said excitedly, "It's so unexpected that the resurrection cat's traces were really found."

Roly Poly pouted and said, "Shut up! What is there to be excited about. Beware of being heard by the Sheriff!"

Project X said, "What are you afraid of? I am in your subconscious, he cannot hear me. Just worry about your own disguise"

"And..." Zhao Yao looked at Matcha and said, "Matcha, Lucifer and... You guys come into the Extradimensional Belly. Stand by to provide assistance."

Everything was ready.

The next moment, Zhao Yao could be seen rising into the sky, parting the atmosphere, flying towards the west.

On the African grasslands, a jeep accelerated at high speed along the dirt road.

It was trailed by ten modified cars. The men on the cars continuously raised their AKs, sending out rounds of bullets and shooting the people in the jeep as they screamed and shrieked.

One of the females looked terrified and said, “What is going on! Why do they want to attack us?”

“I don’t know,” The guide at the front said. “This should be the territory of General Black’s. There should not be any dispute going on!”

While he was speaking, along with a soft sound, a bullet directly went through the guide’s palm, scaring the people in the car.

“It’s over. It’s over, they are catching up!”

Looking at the jeeps behind them getting closer and closer, something flashed in front of everyone’s eyes. A young man appeared in the car, stabbing the female host’s kidney.

Looking at everyone’s stunned faces, Black Panther said, “Stop looking at me, hurry and grab onto me!”

The next moment, along with a short blackness, everyone in the jeep disappeared.

While the jeep slowly came to a stop, the fighters closed in and saw the empty jeep, all of them were puzzled.

While in a patch of grass roughly sixty to seventy meters away, Black Panther straightened his index fingers, making a sign for everyone to keep quiet.

Shortly, as the other party left, Black Panther heaved a sigh of relief. “Almost, almost and we would have been killed by them. My abilities do not seem to work very well in the grasslands.”

Lifting his head to look at everyone that was still not over the fight, Black Panther said, “You guys came here to film online shows right? Xiao Ming made me come over and save you guys, are y’all okay?”

The young Native man by his side said angrily, “Why do you have to stab me so deeply? I feel like you stabbed through my back.”

Clearly he was the one hiding in the brush in advance, allowing Black Panther to teleport everyone to the young man after Black Panther teleported to them.

Black Panther looked at everyone he had saved from the car and said, “A war has started in this area. You guys need to quickly leave.”

“War? How did the war start?”

“Wasn’t it alright before?”

“How do we go?”

“Will you send us?”

Looking at the lost film crew, Black Panther could only comfort them while thinking about the cause of this war in his heart.

This is the territory of a famous general in Africa. However, a few days ago, an armed force made of dissidents suddenly rebelled, even though their soldiers have poor equipment and poor combat power, they have resurrecting powers.

Every time, not long after being killed, they appear on the battlefield again.

Even a large sum of soldiers and people, after seeing these resurrecting soldiers, chose to join and this made the rebel force’s numbers snowball.

The local military forces here were only able to bully the normal people. They lost their ground quickly, in the face of such a large number of immortal troops, losing a large portion of their territory.

China also had large investments on this land. They quickly used their powers to retreat and evacuate the Chinese.

Black Panther who was opening factories here with Xiao Ming, was hence contacted by Uncle Ho to help with the retreating.

Next, Black Panther led everyone to hide in a secluded truck far away, driving everyone back to the embassy in the city. He only found out that the entire city was surrounded by rebel forces when he was going to the airport with everyone else.

This city in the Northern part of Africa would only have been a small country town in China, thus, the entire city was already surrounded completely with only ten thousand rebel forces.

The entire embassy was in chaos.

Black Panther rushed out of the crowd, to one of the soldiers and asked, “Officer Ye? What is the situation? I heard that they surrounded the city?”

Officer Ye shook his head and said, “We have already contacted the rebel forces’ leader Huai Te, however, he insisted in containing the entire city, even threatening us to recognise his rule as legal and surrender the general...”

Black Panther asked, “Then, how about us? So many of them are unable to get out!”

Officer Ye said, “Wait here for now. They do not dare to attack the embassy, our country had already sent warship over...”

Just then, an explosion sounded, the rebel forces outside the city were attacking.

In a moment, the entire city was engulfed in smoke, all sorts of bombs and bullets sound could be heard, reducing everyone in the embassy to tremors.

Black Panther followed Officer Ye upstairs and saw the firing squad flashing on the streets while consistently advancing in the direction of the embassy.

Clearly, the forces on the general’s side was being defeated, unable to fight against immortal rebel forces that sent out waves of suicidal attacks.

The situation was worse than what Black Panther and Officer Ye expected. After half an hour, even the embassy was already surrounded by the rebel forces.

Just then, a figure slowly appeared beside the two of them. “How is the situation?”

Black Panther and Officer Ye quickly turned around and saw a distorted and faint figure behind them. When they were just about to respond, they felt their body stiffen and were already unable to move.

Zhao Yao said slowly, “I am the assistance from China. What is the situation now?” Then, Officer Ye’s phone rang, Zhao Yao controlled him to pick up the call and Officer Ye quickly became relieved.

After telling Zhao Yao the situation, Officer Ye continued, “We have our own apostles here too, what is your ability? If you all are able to cooperate with each other, the best thing to do would be to break out of the circle and send the civilians in the embassy out first...”

“Too troublesome...” Zhao Yao spoke at a slow speed. “I will do it myself.”

“Let everyone close their eyes.”

The next moment, a huge ball of light rose from Zhao Yao’s head, like the moon surfacing from the horizon, immediately attracting countless attention from the people in the city.

Chapter 947: Intel

The rising white circle shocked the people at a distance.

The battlefield was the place where all the newest weapons would be used.

Powers were a breakthrough compared to conventional weapons. From the first year they were awakened, they were used on the battlefield.

This was the third year of the awakening of powers. As soldiers, even if they had not met with any yet, they would have heard about powers.

After seeing the rising white ring, everyone knew that it wasn't something good. They reacted differently. Some wanted to turn and run, some took cover, while some were just at a loss...

It didn't matter if it was the soldiers, apostles, officials, or commoners. No matter what reaction they had, all of them fell to the floor in an induced sleep of 20 seconds after seeing the light.

The entire city fell silent. The heated war seemed to be stopped in a simple and brutal way by an invisible pair of hands.

Officer Ye and Black Panther looked at each other and they were both spooked by the eerily silent city.

"What did this guy do?"

Zhao Yao looked at the both of them and said, "Okay, let's go. You can tell me the details on the way. What is the situation with the resurrecting army?"

Zhao Yao came to this place on the orders of the higher authorities. As he had tasked Uncle Ho to collect news of the Revival cat for him.

However, due to Zhao Yao's change in status and his fake death, the job was handed to a higher authority. It was a department that Zhao Yao had never heard of.

They had higher confidentiality and could guarantee that Zhao Yao's intel would not be leaked out. They could also create fake intel to mislead others. Like for the news of Zhao Yao's death this time, they covered the loopholes in the information when they took over.

Zhao Yao rushed over when he heard the news. He also came to look for the Revival cat to revive Sphinx cat.

After all the Rebel forces that rose suddenly had powers similar to resurrection and their location matched with the information given by Project X too.

As Zhao Yao attacked, Officer Ye organized his men and started to escort the commoners out.

After 20 seconds of Sleep Induction, the entire city was 'bustling' again. Countless screams and shrieks rang across the sky and within them, there was beast like roaring.

The commoners were uneasy when they heard the weird commotion.

However, as the white ring rose again, the city fell silent again.

This time the Sleep Induction increased from 20 seconds to 40 seconds. It was obvious that the city was going to fall into the eerie silence again and again.

Zhao Yao led Black Panther up onto the roof of the car and asked him about his mission escorting the commoners.

Black Panther recalled what he knew and told Zhao Yao everything he knew, including when he opened factory with Xiao Ming.

"Wait..." Zhao Yao said, "Xiao Ming and you were starting a business here? Opening a factory?"

Black Panther said, "You know Xiao Ming?"

"Kind of... I guess."

Black Panther answered bitterly. "We came here as there many attractive policies here and labor was cheap. Xiao Ming and I worked hard to get our starting capital and wanted to come over. Who knew that the war would start not long after we opened our factory. Now, we can't continue running our factory. It is a loss everyday."

Zhao Yao patted Black Panther on the shoulder and said, "It has been hard on you guys. Where is he? Is he okay?" Secretly, he was thinking, "Xiao Ming can probably never pay back the 30 million..."

Sheriff was thinking, "Is he a devil..."

Black Panther answered, “He said he was going to be in the factory. He should be still in the factory.”

Mission: Rescue Xiao Ming

Mission Objective: Save Xiao Ming from the factory

Reward: 1000 experience points

Mission Penalty: None

Looking at the Mission, Zhao Yao thought, “It is better than nothing.” He asked Black Panther for the exact location of the factory and continued asking for more information about the rebels.

Black Panther said, “They were a bunch of robbers in the north. I heard that they found a supercat and then got the resurrecting powers.”

Zhao Yao: “How does the resurrecting work?”

“Physically, they are the same as any other ordinary human. They will still die if they were injured by knives, fire or guns.” Black Panther frowned and continued. “However, their body will disappear after they die and they will return to the battlefield again. Hence, most of us think that they can’t die and they can resurrect.”

“What? Resurrect?” Zhao Yao was determined to get his hands on this supercat.

Then, the entire city was bustling again. The sleep induction was over.

Black Panther continued, “The government tried to capture them alive and study them, but it was to no avail. Afterall, it was a matter of powers. However, there gathered some intel. It seemed like they were all resurrected at the same spot...”

Zhao Yao continued asking Black Panther about the rebels.

Then, there was a gun fire and the rebels was driving their tank and ramming around the streets. When they saw the embassy troops, they charged over.

Zhao Yao narrowed his eyes. "Let me try it out."

The rebel was hysterical, their logic had been lowered drastically.

Looking at the troops, they rushed over like hungry wolves.

The leader shot towards the sky and yelled with his bloodshot eyes. "Kill all of them!"

Looking at the rebels, the troops were restless and when Officer Ye was about to retaliate, there was a cold gush of air.

Zhao Yao stood in front of the troops and pulled out a golden sword. The sword was the center of the cold gush of air and Zhao Yao slashed towards the rebels.

Then, a white light rose and the white shock wave shot out. It completely destroyed everything within 200 meters of the troops.

Chapter 948: Two Cats

Black Panther watched Zhao Yao with cold chills running down his spine. Zhao Yao sheathed his golden sword as the 200 meter long street transformed into a pure white snowy world.

All the rebels and their armored cars had become ice statues in the snow.

After the supercats had grown in power and skill level, the effects of their transformation after taking the Spicy Cat Strips had evolved.

The Ares sword in Zhao Yao's hand used to emit sword energy but now there was an additional frost attack.

The frosted rebels disintegrated as their flesh turned to ash and vanished in the air.

The bearded leader gradually faded as he glared at Zhao Yao. “Just you wait...” He turned into ash and vanished into the air.

Zhao Yao surveyed the vanishing rebels and thought, “This feeling...”

After escorting the convoy to its destination, Zhao Yao flew towards the rebel’s base camp.

...

A fortress was seen in the Gobi desert.

There was a 10 meter tall door in front of the fortress. It was dark inside and it looked like dark energy were swirling within.

A few warriors were sporadically seen emerging from the huge door. They ran to one side to assemble as they grabbed their weapons and left in their armored cars.

The bearded leader, who was killed by Zhao Yao, emerged from the door. He massaged his head as he looked on in a daze.

War torn country... burning houses... shrill screams of children... fresh blood everywhere...

The horrifying scenes flashed in his mind. He grabbed his head as his eyes clouded.

A black warrior shouted, “Simba, let’s go! I want to kill him!”

The bearded Simba recovered himself as his mind locked on the distorted image of Zhao Yao.

“Kill him?” Simba nodded as he smiled cruelly. “I want him to know how terrifying it is to face a stalking undead devil.”

He turned to look at the warriors emerging from the door and shouted, “The few of you! Follow me!”

On a cliff a few kilometers from the fortress, a youth lay flat on the ground as he spied on the fortress with his telescope.

“That’s the Door of Everlasting Life?” The youth said, “Did you say that revived people emerge from it?”

A domestic cat beside the youth said, “That’s the Door of Everlasting Life. Arria’s dead souls are revived inside. Unless we defeat Arria’s body, the process of revival will not stop.”

“He can turn normal people into his Everlasting Warriors. We have to stop him as it is a matter of time before he corrupts the entire planet.”

The youth looked sadly at the scene as he pondered how he was embroiled in this conflict.

He was getting up from bed, having his normal meal and playing his new computer game.

When he was emptying his trash outside, he discovered a stray cat that had fainted.

Looking at the pitiful cat, the youth Shreev gave him some unwanted meat and the result was unstoppable.

Shreev could not stop caressing the cat and the cat rubbed Shreev incessantly.

They went from the trash can, the doorway to the home sofa as Shreev caressed the cat from head to toe. He found that he could not be parted from the cat.

The cat treated the place like his home as he dined, slept and used the bathroom... Then he told Shreev that a world crisis was coming and only they could save the world.

Looking at the fortress, Shreev felt it was unreal. “Asser, shall we call the police?”

“What’s the use of calling the police? Asser said, “This can’t be solved by humans!”

He started recalling his memories as he said, “Thousands of years ago, while the primitive men were toying with clay, I was battling with Arria. We distorted the men’s awareness, controlled their lives and deaths and changed human history. He possessed far greater power than the human civilization.”

Shreev said, “Don’t we have supercats now? Perhaps we can seek help from supercats?”

“Normal supercats are of no use.” Asser said, “They are just some lucky offspring of Arria. Though we were dormant for a few thousand years and our control of awareness has deteriorated, normal supercats were no match for us.”

Asser’s voice rang in Shreev’s mind. After hearing Asser’s words, Shreev did not feel like going.

Shreev said, “It’s getting late. Let’s go home and get some sleep. If I stay up late, I’ll get pimples.”

Asser said furiously, “Don’t you understand what’s happening? Your planet’s in danger. We are the only ones able to save the world! The more awareness energy that Arria accumulates, the more his strength would recuperate. Then, we will be unable to stop him!”

“We have to stop him before it’s too late!”

Shreev said reluctantly, “Why did you find me? Let’s look for my classmate. He does bodybuilding and runs 20 kilometers daily. His arms are as thick as my thigh. Why don’t you look for him?”

Asser said, “Do you think I’ll like to find a useless person like you? It’s because our superpowers’ compatibility is high. It’s not easy to find such compatibility. Don’t be mistaken, even if you borrow my superpower, I don’t expect you to defeat Arria.”

“I’ll confront him directly while you use superpower to assist me.”

A small group of armored cars left. Asser perked up and said, “Follow them! We can sneak into their midst and go inside the Door of Everlasting Life.”

Shreev said sadly, “I’ll be beaten to death or decapitated. I haven’t gotten married and I don’t want to die a virgin.”

“Nonsense!” Asser jumped on his head and slapped hard. “Start your car quickly or we may lose them.”

Chapter 949: Debt and Attack

Shreev drove Asser in a car as they followed the trails of Simba’s armored car.

Simba took out a cell phone and said, “Hello? Where’s their convoy? Are they found? I want to find their leader!”

Simba reversed his armored car and drove in the direction of Xiao Ming’s factory.

...

Zhao Yao flew at supersonic speed and left a trail of air vortex behind him as he circled in the sky before flying to Xiao Ming’s factory.

He landed at the factory entrance. His ears quivered and he discovered that the factory was empty.

His figure flashed and Zhao Yao’s after-images appeared at the entrance, empty lots, grass patch, and the corridor before he arrived at the manager’s office.

His ears quivered and he heard a person’s voice inside.

“Xiao Ming?” Zhao Yao pushed open the door as he shouted, “Are you inside?”

He saw Xiao Ming struggling as he was hung from a rope.

Zhao Yao was stunned. He immediately flashed, cut the rope loose and caught him on the ground. “Are you killing yourself?!”

Xiao Ming covered his throat and said dejectedly, “I... I...” He turned his head to look at Zhao Yao and was frightened.

Zhao Yao got Roly Poly to activate the invisibility but it was only partial invisibility. The revealed parts of his body showed distorted flesh and Xiao Ming got a fright.

Xiao Ming screamed and backed up as Zhao Yao said, “I’m an apostle. I’m using invisibility. Don’t be frightened.”

Xiao Ming recovered himself and looked at Zhao Yao. “Who are you? What are you doing here?”

Zhao Yao said, “Black Panther asked me to save you. What happened to you? Even if you fail at business, there’s no need to kill yourself.”

Xiao Ming was disgruntled and said, “Fail at business? Do you know how much money I owe?” His eyes were clouded as he recalled his memories. “I come from a rich family. Ever since I met this one person, I was cursed. My family went bankrupt and all my funds were frozen.

I participated in a promising business venture in Pakistan and was cheated of my remaining money. I sold my house to invest in stocks, hoping for a comeback.”

Zhao Yao thought, “I told you that business venture was not reliable.”

Xiao Ming said, “I went through the historic stock market crash and lost all my money.”

“I told you not to sell your house.” Zhao Yao sighed in his thoughts. “You are a stock market dummy.”

Xiao Ming said, “Later I was duped into joining a pyramid scheme and almost couldn’t get out.”

Zhao Yao thought, “Why don’t you mention how I saved you?”

Xiao Ming said, "From that moment onwards, I turned over a new leaf and stopped taking short cuts. I started from scratch. I collaborated with KFC, then McDonalds, Burger King and Wallace. In the day time, I went to the fresh market to get investments."

Zhao Yao said, "Get investments?"

Xiao Ming said, "We called this a multi-area personality investment, a charity venture to hit the target's weak points. By having a face to face discussion, we eliminate psychological barriers. We discuss money with friends and make friends with money."

Zhao Yao was befuddled and asked, "What do you mean?"

Xiao Ming said, "Sometimes, outsiders call this begging."

"D*mn, this is outright begging." Zhao Yao said, "Your starting from scratch is absurd."

"This is called a step a footprint," Xiao Ming said. "Finally I accumulated enough money. I heard from Black Panther that the commoners in Africa were cheap and easily conned... cough... warm and friendly. Africa's rich in land and resources so I came here to set up a factory..."

Xiao Ming sighed. "Two days after the factory was set up, a war broke out. The workers fled and the orders dried up... The factory closed down and I owed someone in China a few million dollars. When I think of this debt, I can't sleep and eat..."

Zhao Yao said, "... Talk nicely with him, he will understand."

Xiao Ming said, "Really? If I got him to invest in this factory, would he agree?"

Zhao Yao stood up abruptly and looked at the main door as his ears quivered. "Someone's here. Don't move, I'll protect you."

The bearded Simba was at the main entrance. He sneered as ten more armored cars arrived and hundreds of warriors disembarked.

Behind a rock a few hundred meters from Simba, Shreev and Asser got down from their car and peeped at their targets.

Shreev said, “They seem to be looking for this factory?”

Asser said, “I can’t let them hurt the innocent. I am going after them. Follow my instructions to use your superpower.”

“Hey, wait, I haven’t...”

Asser charged out like a lightning for more than a hundred meters and gradually slowed down. Then he fell to the ground motionless.

Shreev was stunned. “Why is he not moving?” He waited for a while and found Asser motionless. He was puzzled. “Did something happen to him?”

After thinking for a while, he walked slowly to Asser’s side and said, “What’s happened?”

Asser turned his head with his distorted face. He was full of tears as he said, “My leg! My leg’s cramped! This body’s too weak!”

Seeing Asser in tears like a crybaby, Shreev was very doubtful about them saving the world.

“Why don’t we go home. I’ll make some beef steak for you.”

Asser shook his head. “No! Let me defeat Arria before that.” He stood up in pain as he looked at Simba and said, “Forget it, this distance is sufficient.”

Threads that transformed from Asser’s blood oozed out from his body. Like blood snakes, they squirmed towards Simba.

Before Asser attacked, he saw a grotesque man walk out from the factory.

At the factory entrance, Simba and his men smiled cruelly at Zhao Yao's appearance. "You thought you are able to escape? After offending us, you would be pursued forever till the end of the world!"

"Great, you are everlasting and indestructible. Aren't you an unlimited experience points juicer?"

Zhao Yao laughed sinisterly. "If I'm not satisfied, all of you won't be able to leave."

"This is not what we expected. Why is his laugh more badass than us?"

After hearing Zhao Yao's laugh, Simba and his warriors felt a strange terror as if they had gotten everything wrong.

Chapter 950: Squeezed Dry and Level 12

The uneasy Simba and his warriors raised their guns to attack but Zhao Yao had flashed and appeared in front of a warrior, who knelt down on the ground, trembling as he covered his stomach.

Zhao Yao activated Time Freeze and touched the warrior's belly lightly. Then he resumed time.

"Great, I can use these people for testing my new tactics."

After a warrior went down, Zhao Yao did not attack but merely flashed and dodged their attacks as if he was waiting for something.

"What's happening? Why didn't the cooldown period reduce?" Zhao Yao dodged a bullet and extended his hand to grab a bullet aimed at his groin. He shouted furiously, "Hey! Don't you know how to aim? Why aim at my groin?"

He dodged another wave of bullets and took out his cellphone to message Matcha, "What's happening? Are you doing your job?"

"Didn't I say to help me once I activate Time Freeze?"

"Are you playing computer games?"

In the Extradimensional Belly, Matcha, who was playing Mobile Legends on his cellphone, threw down his cellphone as though he was electrocuted. He shouted anxiously, "Lucifer! Lucifer? Come out and do your job!"

Latte pounced and caught hold of the falling cellphone. He stuck out his thumb and said, "Don't worry, leave the rest to me."

"I'll leave it to you, Latte!" Matcha said gratefully, "Don't let my winning rate of 40% drop! It concerns our future competition career!"

Milk Tea rolled his eyes and felt a headache. "I can't let Latte be addicted to computer games. I have to think of a solution."

With Matcha's call, Lucifer ran over and shouted, "What's up, Matcha? Any matters?"

"Silence!" Matcha gestured for him to keep silent and concentrated on his hearing. Lucifer was puzzled.

Time froze and resumed. At the first instance of time resuming, Matcha raised his paw and slapped Lucifer's face hard.

"Ouch! Why did you hit me?"

Matcha jumped on Lucifer's face and punched him viciously. Latte was terrified.

Latter asked in shock, "What's happening? What are you doing Matcha? Why are you hitting this cat?"

Milk Tea said, "It's alright. Don't worry. They're just fooling around."

Latte pointed at Lucifer and said, "But... but the cat's face is bleeding!"

Matcha's paws were filled with fresh blood. Every punch on Lucifer's face caused blood to spurt and his body to convulse.

Latte said in fear, “He... he’s dying.”

Milk Tea said, “It’s alright. Brother Matcha knows what he’s doing.”

Latte looked at Lucifer’s distorted face and thought, “This is going beyond limits. His brain juices are coming out!”

“What’s with the reaction of the surrounding cats? Why did everyone act as though everything’s fine?”

“Perhaps... perhaps this warm and cosy family is actually a gang-related clan? An evil power?”

Latte looked at Milk Tea and Matcha who was pounding Lucifer. He felt that they were extremely evil.

...

In the material realm, Zhao dodged the bullets and felt the changes in Time Freeze.

“Matcha’s attacks are reducing the cooling down period.”

Since Matcha was upgraded to Level 10, he had the ability to reduce the cooling period when he attacked physically after the end of Time Freeze.

Zhao Yao used up 10 seconds of Time Freeze and Matcha beat Lucifer for four seconds. The cooling down period disappeared. by vip novel. com

“Very good. In this case, I’ll let Matcha stay in the Extradimensional Belly to reduce the cooling down period. Time Freeze became more effective.”

Zhao Yao flashed and Time Freeze ended. Tens of rebels screamed in pain as they flew out like flour sacks and landed immobilized on the ground with broken bones.

A few seconds later, all the rebels lost their mobility. Zhao Yao focused his mind and the guns flew from the rebels' hands as they were gathered by the Deflective Field and thrown on the ground.

Simba looked fearfully at Zhao Yao but remembered his everlasting body and shouted viciously, "This is not over yet. Just you wait! We'll return! We'll pursue you..."

"Finished? I'm not done yet. This is only the beginning." Zhao Yao snapped his fingers and a dark Dimension Portal opened behind him.

"Dust Ball, round all of them up and squeeze them of all available experience points. Then let them return to revive."

Dust Ball walked merrily out of the portal and shouted into the Extradimensional Belly, "Brother, collect our goods!"

In the Extradimensional Belly, Latte looked at the seriously wounded rebels being pulled in and became more alarmed. "What are they doing?"

"This place is totally different from what I expected!"

...

In the material realm, Asser and Shreev hid in a distance and witnessed the entire scene.

Asser shook his head. "This man's too meddlesome. Can't he just run away? I've followed the rebels in vain."

Asser's plan was to use his superpower to sneak into Simba's team and find a chance to enter the Door of Everlasting Life. Then he would defeat Arria and stop the power of the Door of Everlasting Life from expanding.

An unknown apostle appeared and wrecked his plan.

Asser shook his head and said, "Let's go and find another target."

A sound came from behind his back. “After watching for so long, aren’t you saying something before leaving?”

Asser and Shreev turned their heads and saw Zhao Yao smiling behind them.

“Your constitution’s very strong but is useless when faced with real strong cats.” Asser glanced at Zhao Yao and said, “I advise you to leave this country. There would be more and more powerful soldiers pursuing you. You won’t be able to resist forever.”

“This guy...” Zhao Yao was stunned by the sound he felt in his mind. It was different from his telepathic communication with his supercats. He took out his Battle Scanner and put on the monocle to scrutinize Asser and Shreev.

Shreev was trash while Asser was glowing with light and his head showed Level 12.

“Level 12 supercat? Wrong...” Zhao Yao was shocked as he looked at Asser. “Besides Book, other supercats do not have level indication. He has the power of awareness and is equivalent to Level 12 Catherine.”
