

Am I A God 951

Chapter 951: Rescue and Investment

Zhao Yao looked at the Level 12 Asser and was curious. Besides his supercats and the alien cats, it was his first time encountering other cats with the power of awareness.

“Sheriff, are you able to read his thoughts?”

Sheriff, who was hidden in Zhao Yao’s chest frowned as he listened intently with his ears. He shook his ears and said, “Not very clear. I could only hear simple phrases.

From the meeting until now, I heard beef steak ten times, cramps five times and the name Arria once.”

“Beef steak? Cramps? Arria?” Zhao Yao was puzzled, “What’s the meaning?”

Sheriff was unable to hear all his thoughts and it was just as Zhao Yao expected. After control of awareness, supercats were resistant to superpowers. A Level 12 supercat was able to resist most of Sheriff’s mind reading.

For Level 15 Diana, Sheriff could only hear one or two phrases in an hour.

Asser could not stand Zhao Yao’s scrutiny and turned his head away and said, “Shreev, let’s go. Arria could recover his full power any time. Let’s go and stop him.”

Zhao Yao interjected and said, “Are you dealing with the rebels? I can help.”

Asser sighed and said, “You don’t understand how dangerous it is. Listen to me and leave quickly.”

Zhao Yao smiled and didn’t reply. Seeing Asser and Shreev leave, he talked to his cats telepathically, “Dust Ball, follow them.”

Dust Ball frowned and said, “Going after a new cat?”

Behind Zhao Yao’s back, Dust Ball controlled the Dimension Portal and flashed continuously as she followed Asser and Shreev.

“Good, I’ll find them later. I’ll complete Xiao Ming’s mission so that there are no other problems.”

Zhao Yao flashed and appeared in the factory. He found Xiao Ming and said, “You saw that. This place is watched by the rebels. Though I’ve defeated them but they are likely to return. You are in danger here. Leave with me.”

Xiao Ming hesitated. “If I go, won’t the factory be destroyed by them?”

Xiao Ming’s point was valid. If the rebels were unable to defeat Zhao Yao, they might blow up the factory.

Zhao Yao could not possibly keep watch at the factory the whole day. He said, “If you don’t follow me, I’ll tear down the factory.”

Xiao Ming was speechless. He thought angrily, “What’s with him? Shouldn’t he console me? Why is he tearing down the factory?”

Xiao Ming shook his head and said, “My life depends on this factory! I’m not leaving! I’m staying with the factory for life and death!”

Zhao Yao said, “Tsk.”

Xiao Ming turned his head to look at Zhao Yao and said, “Did you tsk at me?”

Zhao Yao said, “No.”

Xiao Ming said, “I’m sure I heard it. What’s with your impatience?”

Zhao Yao said, "Tsk."

"You did it again!" Xiao Ming looked suspiciously at Zhao Yao and said, "Since you've returned, you've become impatient..."

"Enough." Zhao Yao waved and said impatiently, "You set up a business because of money. Give a call to your debtor and explain your situation. Your debtor's not a scumbag. Perhaps he'll forgive you. Then you don't have to worry about the factory."

Xiao Ming said doubtfully, "Huh? Really?"

"Of course," Zhao Yao said. "If you don't believe me, give a call. It's harmless to try."

Xiao Ming took out his cell phone and thought for a while before drumming up his courage to make the call.

Zhao Yao activated his power of illusion and maintained his current look. Then he pulled out his cellphone and received the call.

Xiao Ming said, "Zhao Yao? It's a long time... about the money I owed you..."

Zhao Yao exclaimed and said, "You're not paying up?"

Xiao Ming quickly said, "No, no, I'll think of ways to pay you..."

Zhao Yao said, "I'm just joking. We're good friends. Why would I force you to pay up?"

Xiao Ming was moved. "Zhao... Zhao Yao, you're my good buddy. I'm setting up a factory in Africa. The business environment is good and the country's peaceful. The labor's cheap and gullible. I'm able to earn a few million every month. Are you interested in investing?"

Zhao Yao was speechless.

“Don’t keep quiet,” Xiao Ming said. “Don’t think that because I lost my previous investment that this one’s no good. This time’s a good chance to invest.”

“Do you know how many condoms are needed in Africa every year? The people are plagued with security and sickness issues. They can’t even relieve themselves safely! They are eager for us to rescue them.

This is an undeveloped virgin land! Whoever controls the place becomes Africa’s king!”

Zhao Yao turned around and looked at the babbling Xiao Ming. He hung up the cellphone and slapped Xiao Ming’s head.

Xiao Ming recovered himself and looked at the distorted figure as he asked, “What’s wrong?”

Zhao Yao said, “I let you plead but what nonsense are you saying?”

Xiao Ming was enlightened and said, “My debtor’s a super rich tycoon with lots of money but very stingy. If I asked him to waive my debt, he would not agree but it’s different if I discuss about earning money.

If he’s willing to invest, then I won’t need to worry about my business in Africa! I might become the condom king and the second Durex!”

Xiao Ming looked at Zhao Yao and smiled sinisterly, “Since you’re powerful, perhaps you know him too. If you help me, I’ll give you 0.1% shares of my company. Don’t underestimate this 0.1%. You are in control of tens of thousands of these people’s happiness.”

“This guy...” Zhao Yao looked at Xiao Ming and knocked him out with a bang. He pulled Xiao Ming’s leg as he flew towards the airport. “I’ll bring him along.”

After Zhao Yao sent Xiao Ming to the airport, the mission of rescuing Xiao Ming was completed and he obtained 2000 experience points. Zhao Yao shifted his focus on Simba and the warriors in the Extradimensional Belly.

They were tied and laid on the ground. They were being squeezed dry of experience points by the supercats.

Chapter 952: Control and Tailing

Zhao Yao returned to the Extradimensional Belly and saw Elizabeth, Lucifer, and Ares, who were below Level 10, using the rebels to earn experience points. Zhao Yao nodded his head in satisfaction.

“Buck up, upgrade to Level 10 so that I can let you evolve.”

After encouraging the cats, Zhao Yao curled his finger and Simba, who was laying on the ground, flew over.

“I’ll ask and you answer.” Zhao Yao looked at Simba and said, “Where are you revived?”

Simba said, “I’ll never let you know!”

“Are there requirements for revival? What’s the limit count?”

Simba said, “Hahaha, kill me. I won’t tell you even if you kill me.”

“What does your supercat look like? Where is he?”

Simba said, “Pooh!”

“Do you know about the power of awareness?”

Simba said, “Humph!”

“What superpower does your supercat have?”

Simba looked at Zhao Yao as though he was a fool and said, “Do you think I’ll tell you?”

Zhao Yao ignored Simba's replies and continued asking, "Do you have any weaknesses? What could stop your revival?"

Simba scorned him and showed his tough face as he intended to stonewall all his questions.

Simba was not aware that his heart-felt answers to Zhao Yao's questions were secretly read by Sheriff, who informed Zhao Yao.

"Door of Everlasting Life? Hidden in the Gobi desert?" Zhao Yao squeezed his chin as he considered the information he had received from Sheriff. "Simba hasn't seen their supercat. They weren't apostles and the supercat didn't lend them any superpower. The supercat only used his superpower on them."

"They are clueless about their supercat."

"As for the weakness... persons revived from the Door of Everlasting Life are afraid of this item?"

After Zhao Yao knew what he wanted to know, he looked at Simba and pointed his finger. Simba turned to ash, vanished in the air and was revived.

...

The darkness within the Door of Everlasting Life swirled and a pale palm crawled out followed by a naked body.

Simba walked step by step from the Door of Everlasting Life. His eyes emitted cold blue rays and he opened his mouth as he felt the body change with surprise.

"Ah!"

A scream was heard as a frost wave exploded from his body and froze everything in a radius of 500 meters.

Simba lifted his head and saw the restless swirling inside the Door of Everlasting Life. Frost covered the huge door.

“The Door of Everlasting Life has evolved?” Simba pinched his palm and felt a shocking stream of frost at his disposal. He could freeze his enemies in an instant.

He heard noises behind him and turned around to look. His fellow warriors were revived. Their eyes emitted cold rays and their breaths were frosty.

Simba shouted, “Let’s go. We’ll kill that guy!”

A warrior hesitated and said, “Simba, let’s forget it.”

Another warrior was fearful as he said, “He and his supercats are too perverted, cruel, and evil. Let’s not antagonize them.”

“What are you afraid of?” Simba was angry and said, “We are immortal! He can’t kill us! He should be afraid and he’ll live forever in our shadows!”

Simba changed his tone and said, “He doesn’t know our weakness and he wouldn’t be able to guess it. He can only tremble and wait for our pursuit... What are you afraid of?”

As Simba tried to boost morale, a shrill beastly roar came from the Door of Everlasting Life.

Undead warhorses galloped from the door, leaving a trail of frost behind them.

With a loud meow, a cold but imposing voice came from within.

“My riders, capture more men. I need more souls! And more power of awareness!”

Simba rode on an undead warhorse which leaped and galloped into the sky.

Simba laughed excitedly, “What are you waiting for?”

Simba and the warriors rode on the warhorses in the direction of the factory. The warhorses galloped in the air and left trails of frost in the air.

...

On a cliff a few kilometers away, Asser and Shreev surveyed the Door of Everlasting Life. Asser frowned and said, "The Door of Everlasting Life has evolved. Arria's power has recuperated a bit. We have to make full use of our time."

Seeing the riders galloping at speed, Asser said, "Follow them."

Asser's back spurted out blood and it coagulated into crimson wings. He brought Shreev along as he flew in pursuit.

Seeing Asser speeding off, Dust Ball tried to control the Dimension Portal to catch up as she shouted, "Zhao Yao, their speed's too fast! I can't catch up."

Zhao Yao walked over and said, "No problem. Leave the rest to me. You'll go to the other side to prepare the Dimension Portal."

Seeing Zhao Yao setting up the other location, Dust Ball became glum and shouted, "What're you doing?"

"Don't worry, it's not going to affect the Extradimensional Belly."

Zhao Yao stepped out from the Dimension Portal and became invisible using Roly Poly's superpower. He ran in pursuit of Asser.

If Zhao Yao flew, he would be discovered. Hence he chose to tail them on the ground.

Zhao Yao had no intention to confront him directly as the supercat had control of the power of awareness. Zhao Yao intended to collect more information before making his move.

Zhao Yao narrowed his eyes like a telescope adjusting its range. He could clearly see Asser and Shreev who were up thousands of meters high in the sky.

A few hundred meters before and below them, Simba and his warriors galloped without discovering Asser in pursuit.

Zhao Yao noticed Asser's wing trembling as if tiny objects floated out.

The last rider of Simba's group froze for a while before running again.

Zhao Yao thought, "Superpower to control blood? Remote controlling of people? Using this superpower to deal with the everlasting riders is effective."

As expected by Zhao Yao, the controlled warrior closed in on other warriors, who froze and became controlled. His control spread like a plague and the whole legion was controlled.

Chapter 953: Deadlock

When Simba discovered that he was controlled, it was too late.

Asser brought along Shreev as they appeared in front of the riders. One of the riders was forced to strip in order for Shreev to wear his costume while Asser hid in another rider's clothing. The flying riders made a turn and flew towards the Door of Everlasting Life.

Asser controlled the riders' legion and charged headlong into the door with dark swirling vortex. He had entered the interior of the fortress.

Zhao Yao hid within the Dimension Portal as he gazed at the dark door for half a day and hesitated whether to enter.

Asser must be very familiar with his opponent to dash headlong into the door.

Zhao Yao was not aware of the supercat behind the Door of Everlasting Life. Nobody knew what preparations Asser had done and what kind of superpower to expect.

He decided not to intrude into unfamiliar superpower realm.

After pondering, he got hold of Doll. “Doll, send some nano bugs into the door to take a look.”

...

Within the Door of Everlasting Life, it was pitch black and there was an ominous and terrifying atmosphere. The ceiling reflected subtle fluorescent lighting, barely providing sufficient light to be able to make out the environment.

Shreev walked inside and could not help saying, “Why is this place built like a tomb?”

Asser said, “Arria’s very afraid of humans but he likes this gothic style which is mouldy, wet, and stuffy, so he had cat moss every year. He’s such a fool.”

Shreev was surprised and said, “You’ve got cat moss too...”

“Of course! We’re using the Earth cat’s body. If the cat grows cat moss, we’ll have it too!” Asser said, “Enough of idle chat. When we find Arria, follow my instructions. Do not take unnecessary actions.”

Shreev said softly, “You’ve been talking all this time.”

Asser walked round and round the complex passageways as though they were in a labyrinth. Shreev could not help asking, “Why are we walking in circles? Do you know the way...”

“I don’t,” Asser said. “But I can feel the guy’s boundary. We are nearing him. Prepare to activate your superpower.”

Twenty minutes later, Shreev looked at a fridge and said, “This is our third time passing by this fridge. Are you able to find him?”

Asser was puzzled. “Something’s not right. It should be here. Why aren’t we finding him?”

Shreev rolled his eyes as he lost confidence in Asser’s senses. He walked to the fridge and said, “Forget it, I’m thirsty. I’ll take a drink and rest for a while.”

Asser said, “No, we don’t have time for rest! The Door of Everlasting Life Is getting stronger every moment! We have to stop him!”

“Perhaps you’re too tired. Take a rest and you might be able to sense him better?” Shreev walked to the fridge and opened it. “I wonder if there’s coke...”

Shreev froze as he opened the fridge. “Hey, Asser, is this the one?”

“Huh?” Asser turned his head and saw a long-furred Persian cat curled in the fridge. The cloudy eyes were opened widely and looked as though the cat did not sleep at all.

The Persian cat looked blankly at Shreev and said, “You are?”

Shreev slammed the fridge door and flew to Asser’s side.

The fridge was forced open with a bang as an angry Persian cat walked out. His body emitted freezing air streams and he had an ice crown on his head. There were numerous ghost figures struggling and distorting behind him.

“You’ve intruded into my home, kidnapped my men, and opened my fridge without my permission!”

“Unforgivable.”

“I’m going to destroy you! Humans!”

Shreev could not resist saying, “Because of this small matter, you are destroying mankind...”

Just as Arria appeared, Asser shot out countless blood rays from his body towards Arria.

“It’s you? Asser!” Arria roared in fury and the ghostly figures behind him shot out and collided with the blood shadows.

...

Outside the Door of Everlasting Life, Zhao Yao watched the video sent by the nano bugs. “Oh, they’re fighting.”

Watching the images with blood rays, ghostly figures and cold streams flying around, Zhao Yao commented, “It’s hard to determine their combat power. The power of awareness can’t be determined by appearances.”

Meow! Meow! The two cats fought and rolled together. The blood shadows turned into numerous paws that slapped his opponent. The ghostly figures turned into countless paws that slapped. It looked as though they were having a slapping match.

“Fighting like small kids,” Zhao Yao commented.

Shreev also activated his superpower and fresh blood spurted out from his body. He was as pale as a sheet. His attack was too sudden and Arria was bound by his blood.

“You’ve done well Shreev. Bind him tightly!” Asser roared and his blood shadows curled around Arria as the controlled Simba and the warriors’ charges towards Arria.

As Arria was about to be subdued, sounds of galloping rang in the air. Walls disintegrated as a horde of riders with undead warhorses arrived to rescue Arria.

Both sides escalated their fighting and caused large portions of the fortress to collapse. Tens of thousands of riders arrived continuously to attack Asser and Shreev.

The controlled Simba and the warriors were stampeded until they became meat sauce and they vanished for revival again.

Arria escaped from Shreev’s bondage and ordered his riders to surround Asser.

Asser did not give up. His body emitted countless blood streams and controlled large amount of riders.

The blood streams expanded and contracted as the target's life force was drained. Asser grew very large and was filled with blood spikes like a scarlet hedgehog. He brought along his expanding controlled riders and charged into Arria's army, forcing his opponents to flee.

This was the base of the Door of Everlasting Life. The killed riders were immediately revived. All other riders were ordered by Arria to kill themselves, revive and surround Asser and Shreev.

The battle became an endurance contest.

Simba laughed loudly as he charged and was impaled by the blood spikes. He fell in front of Asser but he smiled and said, "You can't win!" He vanished in a trail of smoke.

"Is that a deadlock?" Zhao Yao squeezed his chin and thought, "I've watched enough. It's time for me to show off."

Zhao Yao appeared instantly in the middle of the battlefield. The Deflective field bounced and killed a large portion of the revived riders.

He turned back and looked at Asser and said, "I'll help you."

Simba's eyes lit up when he saw Zhao Yao as he was overjoyed.

With the army's siege and Arria leading the battle personally, Zhao Yao dared to show himself. Was he tired of living?

Chapter 954: Breaking Out

Simba ran to Arria's side and mumbled a series of words. He told Arria the story of how he and Zhao Yao had fought.

Arria gazed at Zhao Yao and ordered, "Kill him."

A horde of riders changed direction and began to siege Zhao Yao.

Asser frowned at Zhao Yao and said, “What are you doing here? Run away immediately. This is not a battle for you.”

Zhao Yao smiled as his monocle, the Battle Scanner, showed Level 12 above Arria’s head.

As compared to the Level 15 Diana, Arria and Asser were like her brothers. It was a good exercise to test out fighting with them using her power of awareness.

Time froze and Zhao Yao flashed. He appeared behind Arria and squeezed his head. Arria smiled coldly as he convulsed and dropped dead.

The dark streams of the Door of Everlasting life swirled and Arria appeared once again. “Meow hahaha, I’m everlasting!”

Seeing the surrounding riders, Zhao Yao froze time and flashed. He pointed at Arria’s head and killed him.

Even though Arria was killed, his superpower prevailed and the riders continued charging. When they were killed, they revived within the Door of Everlasting Life.

Asser sighed and said, “It’s of no use. Normal physical attacks on him are meaningless as he can kill himself in order to be revived. His awareness can only be damaged by using the power of awareness to attack him.”

Zhao Yao dodged and evaded the surrounding attacks while he stabbed Arria with the Dragon Slaying Saber but there was no effect. The +4 Dragon Slaying Saber was unable to get past the defenses of a Level 12 awareness.

Zhao Yao was surrounded by an army of undead legions. Riders with swords, staves, machine guns and grenades to attack Zhao Yao were everywhere. Some riders even used suicide attacks. Zhao Yao was annoyed by their attacks.

Zhao Yao was dodging attacks while trying to break out of the siege. Simba laughed mockingly. “Idiot, you’ve done the most foolish thing in your life!”

In Simba's eyes, Arria's undead legion was invincible. No matter the army or apostle, when faced with such relentless attacks, they would succumb in a matter of time as nobody knew the weakness of the undead legion.

Under the relentless attacks of the elite riders, Zhao Yao was buckling under the pressure. It was his first time encountering such a large number of opponents.

Zhao Yao attacked while fending off the riders. He switched to Dust Ball's superpower and said, "Dust Ball, act now."

Dust Ball said angrily, "Why are you asking me to act? Why don't you let Catherine induce them to sleep?"

The only supercats with power of awareness were Level 12 Catherine and Level 15 Diana. The remaining supercats' superpower were ineffective against Aria.

Zhao Yao said, "I can't kill them with sleep. I have to get rid of their bodies' superpower."

Dust Ball frowned as her face creased like a chrysanthemum. "I don't want to!"

Arria, who was caught in Zhao Yao's hands, turned to dust. A new Arria emerged from the Door of Everlasting Life. "Meow, hahaha, I've told you that I'm invincible. No matter what you use to control or wound me, there's no way for you to stop my superpower."

"Humph." Zhao Yao said, "Elizabeth, control Dust Ball."

Zhao Yao went into the Dimension Door and vanished from view.

Arria squinted his eyes. "Dimension superpower? Running away?" He turned his head to look at Asser and smiled cunningly. "It's your turn Asser!"

Asser's blood spikes on his back trembled. "We shall see who prevails!"

Arria said angrily, "You are still fierce? Don't you remember your mistake?"

“My mistake? Where have I gone wrong?” Asser replied furiously. “When I woke up that morning, I saw you coming out from Ashley’s room and you were licking the fur near your bottom!”

Arria said, “I told you it was a misunderstanding. I went into the wrong room.”

“I don’t believe you!”

The two supercats clashed again. Arria was able to revive his warriors while Asser was able to absorb his opponents’ life force while attacking. With Shreev’s help in absorbing life forces, the battle became a test of endurance.

Asser frowned and gaped as he lifted his head to look.

A hole appeared in the sky and Zhao Yao stood by the Dimension Portal and said coldly, “Flood the Seven-Nation coalition!”

Bam! Large amount of rubbish flowed out from the portal like a waterfall and flooded the Door of Everlasting Life.

“No!!” Arria screamed, “Stop him!”

He ordered the riders to stop the rain of feces but he saw a rider charge forward, lose his superpower, and flee after being drenched by the feces.

The riders tried to freeze the feces as it was falling but they were quickly overwhelmed as there were simply too much feces.

Simba looked in shock at Zhao Yao. “How... how did he know about our weakness?” Simba and his riders retreated in a panic as they would lose their superpower if drenched in feces. They watched helplessly as the Door of Everlasting Life was flooded with massive amounts of feces.

Arria was so furious that he trembled with rage.

He knew about the weakness of his undead legion. Once they were in contact with feces, they would lose their superpower and become normal people.

Even if his opponent knew about this weakness, he would be unable to disperse enough feces to affect his agile undead war horses and riders.

What was happening with the guy at the sky? Did he have the excretion superpower of the Heavens? A guy with feces superpower has appeared on Earth? How is Arria going to survive?

He pointed at Zhao Yao who was in the sky and screamed, "Kill him!"

Simba led the remaining undead riders as they charged towards Zhao Yao who did not simply defend himself.

The tide had changed. Zhao Yao pointed with his finger and Rice Cake Vibrating Sword turned into a silver thunderbolt and shot towards the undead legion.

A great horde of the undead legion charged towards Zhao Yao while a weak silver light that looked like it was on the verge of extinction flew towards the legion.

When they collided, the effect was different from expectations.

Chapter 955: The Descent

The silver thunderbolt was like a huge drill spinning at high speed. The undead warriors were ground into meat sauce and dropped to the ground.

The small silver light was an impervious wall that stopped millions of warriors. It shredded everyone like a laser barrier.

Once the undead warriors were killed, they turned to ash and large amount of flaming dust dispersed in the air and it looked as though the sky was burning.

Simba saw darkness and lost his perception. When he recovered, he had been revived within the dark swirling mist of the Door of Everlasting Life.

“Fortunately, I’m able to revive.”

As he was about to walk out, the feces flooded him and he lost his superpower.

He lifted his head to see the sky raining feces and he understood Zhao Yao’s thoughts.

When riders revived and walked out the door, they would be drenched with feces and lose their undead superpower.

Half of the undead riders were dealt with by Zhao Yao. The remaining undead riders hesitated as they gazed at Zhao Yao from afar. They did not dare be killed by Zhao Yao.

Large numbers of riders, who had lost their undead superpower, stood in front of the door in a daze, their bodies full of feces.

Arria was so furious he vibrated his tail and his fur dropped in large numbers.

Asser and Shreev gaped at the battle as the result was totally unexpected.

Zhao Yao looked at the hesitating warriors and laughed. With the aid of Cheese’s Cloak, he flew towards them at supersonic speed and defeated the remaining warriors.

After defeating the undead legion, Zhao Yao flew in pursuit of the fleeing Arria.

Arria curled up his body and used his paw to swipe at Zhao Yao while he hissed and said, “Don’t grab me! Release me!”

“You won’t capitulate?” Zhao Yao swung Arria wildly in his hands and asked, “Are you yielding?”

Arria bit Zhao Yao’s hand but almost broke his teeth. He looked at Zhao Yao in pain. “I’m not yielding!”

“Hmm, still that determined?” Zhao Yao extended his thumb and index finger and flicked Arria’s bottom. “Are you yielding?”

Arria screamed in agony. “If you’ve got the guts, don’t use feces. Let’s have a fair duel!”

Zhao Yao remembered that feces was still falling from the sky. He knocked out Arria and stepped into the Extradimensional Belly.

In the middle of the Extradimensional Belly, two Dimension Portals were facing each other as the Deflective Field engulfed both portals.

One of the connected Dimension Portals was above the Door of Everlasting Life while the other portal was connected to a large feces pool.

Dust Ball opened her eyes widely and gazed at the smelly contents flowing between the two portals and shed her tears. She felt she would never be clean again. by v ip novel. com

Zhao Yao immediately shut down the Dimension Portals and brought Arria to the sky above the Door of Everlasting Life.

“Where’s the other one?” Zhao Yao frowned and looked for Asser. His body abruptly trembled and he felt a strong menace descending from the sky.

“This feeling...” Zhao Yao stepped back and hid in the Dimension Portal.

As he hid inside the portal, Giggie’s awareness descended from the sky above the Door of Everlasting life.

Violent power of awareness swept towards the Door of Everlasting Life. The power of awareness faded abruptly as the sound of vomiting was heard.

Giggie cursed, “Who’s that uncivilized? Polluted the area with that much feces?”

Zhao Yao kneaded his brow tightly in the portal. He did not know why Giggie was here. Perhaps Giggie traveled in the Awareness Dimension and descended upon the material realm. He was an alien cat that controlled strong power of awareness.

Zhao Yao tried shifting the location of the Dimension Portal as he wanted to use the Battle Scanner monocle to determine Giggle's Level.

He saw an undead rider, who had fainted from his fall from the sky, getting up on a cliff. He was forcefully controlled by Giggle.

Giggle surveyed the disgusting battlefield and covered his nose.

For the past two months, not only was Zhao Yao developing his power, Giggle had also expanded his power outside of Closers World.

Giggle dominated the American supernatural realm and controlled half of the American government. He had spies all over the world to locate the Closers World's intruder.

Because of his extensive intelligence network, he discovered traces of the power of awareness in Africa and arrived at the first opportunity.

"Is that Giggle? Possessing another body again?" Zhao Yao narrowed his eyes as a Level 19 indicator appeared above Giggle's head.

"Four more levels. If Diana evolves four more levels, I won't be afraid of him."

Giggle's superpower was not that terrifying as it was controlling people but his Level 19 awareness was immune to most of his supercats' superpower.

Giggle was unable to deflect superpowers that affected Zhao Yao or the world, for example, Time Freeze, Extradimensional Belly and Ultra Rapid Regeneration.

Seeing Giggle searching for something, a fire lit up within Zhao Yao's heart.

"Should I... do a sneak attack?"

Zhao was very tempted to do a sneak attack on Giggle.

He was relentlessly pursued in the dreamscape and Zhao Yao was helpless to resist as it was a battle of power of awareness.

In the material realm, he could use Time Freeze and the Extradimensional Belly so he was tempted to attack Giggle.

Finally he decided it was not worth it as Giggle was not using his real body and it was of no use to kill him now.

To defeat the alien cat required pure power of awareness.

Giggle's eye caught Asser and Shreev fleeing.

He attacked using his awareness and controlled both of them.

Both the cat and man abruptly vanished and Giggle was stunned.

“What’s happening?”

He swept his power of awareness around incessantly but could not find Asser and Shreev.

“D*mn!” Giggle looked furiously at the feces drenched riders. He controlled them using his power and awareness to find out what happened.

Chapter 956: Stealing Men

As Giggle was about to extract information from the dozens of riders, they flashed and vanished as if they never existed.

“Huh?”

Giggle knew something was wrong.

“Someone with a superpower is moving them?”

Giggle glared and swept the area with his power of awareness. “I don’t believe you can moving that many people away.”

Wherever he looked, the riders vanished. Almost more than a hundred riders vanished in his vision.

The vanishing stopped and Giggle sneered, “Reaching your limit?”

Giggle controlled the hundredth rider with his power of awareness and asked, “What happened just now?”

When a rider was about to answer, a rock hit his head and he fainted.

Giggle surveyed the direction where the rock came from but saw nothing but the endless plain. There were no men or cats.

He frowned and swept his power of awareness over the area in vain.

“Shifting again?”

Zhao Yao hid behind the Dimension Portal and looked at the suspicious Giggle. “Giggle’s unable to find me.” He stroked his chin and looked at the black men behind him. They were trembling and drenched in feces.

Arria, Asser and Shreev were knocked out on the ground.

He had used Time Freeze to capture them.

Matcha pulled a roll of plastic tape and wore a toy sheriff’s hat as he said, “Attention all citizens, attention all citizens. We have found strong pollutants. Do not approach the quarantined area as it’s life threatening.”

Latte looked astonishedly at the feces drenched men and said, “Is this how they play? The limit here is unfathomable.”

Milk Tea covered Latte’s eyes and said, “Latte! Don’t look!”

Dust Ball was so furious that her fur exploded. She pointed at the feces drenched men and exclaimed, “Zhao Yao! What are you doing? They’re so dirty! Why are you bringing them inside?!!!”

Zhao Yao consoled Dust Ball and said, “It’s alright Dust Ball. Is there any difference if the feces is in the stomach or on the head? You’re too narrow-minded and will evolve slower than the rest.”

Dust Ball shouted in rage, “Shall I take your feces from your stomach and put it on your head?” She abruptly looked at a black man who was swinging his arm. She screamed, “Don’t swing your feces! I’ll kill you!”

Zhao Yao swung his hand and used Elizabeth’s Deprivation of Five Sense to knock out the feces drenched men.

Dust Ball screamed in a shrill voice. “What are you doing Zhao Yao? Don’t let them lay on the ground. Won’t I have to scrub the floor to death?!”

Zhao Yao swung his hand and said, “No problem, let Ares use his Deflective Field.”

Ares who was chatting with Catherine turned his head and said unhappily, “The Deflective Field is my hand. How can I use it to do such dirty work?”

Roly Poly shouted, “Stop squabbling, look outside!”

Giggle controlled the remaining rebels, gathered them together and made them walk away. He used his power of awareness to sweep the environment to prevent sneak attacks.

Zhao Yao stroked his chin and thought, “The rebels saw my distorted image just now. If investigated, it would lead to the Chinese Embassy. I can’t let the alien cat bring them away for questioning.”

Zhao Yao's eyes glimmered and he walked to the front of the Dimension Portal.

Giggle saw a white ring appear in the faraway sky. The ring expanded rapidly and attracted everyone's attention.

As Giggle was defending against sneak attacks, the controlled crowd behind him fainted on the ground.

With a strong power of awareness, Giggle was immune to Catherine's superpower.

Zhao Yao wore the Cat Princess Dress, which could activate one more superpower, and charged using Time Freeze and Deflective Field.

In the time frozen world, Zhao Yao used the Deflective Field to capture the crowd.

When time resumed, Giggle tried to control the crowd but he could not stop them from vanishing.

Those people who vanished appeared again and Giggle was dumbfounded.

Under his stunned expression was his confident sense of control.

The alien cat Tom had possessed one of the black men when they were being moved.

While Tom was being moved, he would be able to capture the opponent.

Time froze and Zhao Yao was dumbstruck by a Level 17 sign above one of the black men.

"This is... another alien cat? A Level 17 awareness?"

Zhao Yao recovered himself. This was another alien cat possessing a black man, waiting to be transferred into the Extradimensional Belly.

Fortunately, he had the Battle Scanner monocle to detect the alien cat, otherwise the consequences would have been dire.

“If I skip the alien cat possessed black man, this will reveal that I can detect them. Why don’t I feed him false information?” Zhao Yao carried the black man and threw him tens of thousands of kilometers into Korea using the Dimension Portal.

Then he continued carrying other black men.

The rider vanished and appeared one by one. Finally every rider went through the process and lay on the ground.

The Tom-possessed black man was placed in Korea and shifted back during Time Freeze.

Giggle did not know that when the rebels vanished, they lost their memories a few hours back. Caesar had erased their memories.

Zhao Yao decided not to attack the alien cats in order not to alert them.

With Time Freeze, the Dimension Portal and preparations, he would be safe from the alien cats.

Without a chance to defeat the alien cats, letting them know his superpowers and identity was a bad idea.

After erasing the riders’ memories, Zhao Yao closed the Dimension Portals and returned to Cat Island.

Giggle was not able to stop Zhao Yao from using Time Freeze and Dimension portals.

After Zhao Yao retreated, Giggle looked at a rider and asked, “How’s it, Tom? Where were you shifted? Did you find their base?”

“Yes.” Tom stood proudly and said, “Don’t underestimate me. I’ve recorded that location!”

Chapter 957: Heartfelt Conversation and Craziness

Zhao Yao erased the black men's memories and closed the Dimension Portal. He returned to the Extradimensional Belly and exited from the Cat Island portal.

As Zhao Yao was about to exit the portal, Dust Ball screamed in a shrill voice, "Zhao Yao! Scrub the floor!"

Zhao Yao looked at Midnight and his companions who were preparing meals and said, "Did you hear that? Scrub the floor."

Zhao Yao returned to Cat Island and surveyed his rewards—the unconscious Asser, Arria and Shreev.

Zhao Yao did not wake them up as he intended to talk to them in their dreamscapes.

Though the two cat's power of awareness were inferior to Diana, he could not underestimate them.

Giggle's power of awareness was superior to Zhao Yao, hence he was no match for the alien cat in dreamscapes. He only had a chance in the material realm against the alien cats.

With Diana's superpower, Zhao Yao was able to control them in dreamscape such that they were unable to use their superpowers.

...

In the hazy environment, Asser felt that he had slept for a long time. He opened his eyes and found himself sprawling on the ground.

He stood up unsteadily and found himself on a street.

Cats were walking around in the environment and it looked like a cat's habitat. They studied, worked, bore children just like normal humans.

Asser looked curiously and thought, “Where’s this place? Are they supercats?”

He walked one round on the streets and discovered that it was a small town. A murder had occurred in town recently.

Asser’s ears quivered and he listened to the private conversations of the nearby cats.

“Did you hear that? A kitten’s dead again!”

“Isn’t Zhao Yao dead? Who’s torturing cats again?”

“Who knows. I heard someone dreamt of Zhao Yao!”

“I heard a few kittens studying in elementary school bled when dreaming about Zhao Yao. This is frightening.”

“Humph? What’s up?” Asser frowned and yawned abruptly. “So tired. I feel... like... sleeping...”

Arria opened his eyes and found himself sitting in an ordinary home. The television in front was showing snowflakes.

Arria licked his paws and calmed down. He tried to recall slowly what happened.

He remembered his Door of Everlasting Life was flooded with feces and he trembled with rage.

As he was fuming, the television a year ago flashed and the snowflakes vanished. A well appeared.

“What’s that?” Arria looked blankly at the television screen. He saw a long-furred cat crawling from the well.

The cat’s fur was black and dense. Even the face was covered with fur. The cat climbed out gradually from the well and walk towards the camera.

Arria was frightened and felt an ominous malice coming towards him.

...

Zhao Yao was having a heartfelt conversation with Arria and Asser.

In the Extradimensional Belly, Matcha looked at Lucifer licking at his blood-stained paws and asked, "How's that? Feeling good?"

Lucifer lay down on the ground lazily and nodded. "Good, very comfortable. You are awesome Matcha, much better than Ares and the rest."

Latte, who was following Matcha, asked, "Matcha, this cat isn't afraid of a beating. Is he fond of being beaten?"

Matcha said casually, "Yes."

Latte said curiously, "Such a cat exists?" His eyes illuminated as he asked, "Matcha, could I try?"

"As you wish." Matcha said, "Beat him as you like. Go on and try it."

After getting rid of Latte, Matcha was about to play computer games on his cellphone when he discovered someone tagging him on Wechat.

Lightning messaged, "When are you arranging for the next venture into the Closers World's dungeon? @Matcha."

Matcha frowned and felt unhappy.

Old Cat messaged, "Don't tag Sir George directly. Don't you know that he's busy with lots of matters? Are you bothering our administrator? I don't want to see a second tag."

Old Cat said, "There's no sense of propriety."

Airplane said, "All members please take note of your status and your attitude when messaging the administrator @All members."

Matcha nodded and thought for a while before messaging, "During the last mid-autumn festival, a lot of cats sent wishes to me. I discovered that a lot of cats from the Royal Cat Guards had not done so. I don't know what you meant by that. Had too much catmint?"

"Do you think that this is a simple message? This represents our Royal Cat Guard's unity! The Royal Cat Police Force, cat café section and the Cat Fighting Unit's cats sent well wishes to me. If I meet other section leaders in the future, will I listen to them speak ill of my section?"

"Do what you seems fit. I'm very disappointed. @All members please reply after seeing this."

Matcha shook his head. "Hmm, I'm too easy going so the Royal Cat Guards are getting lax in discipline. It's time to teach them a lesson."

...

Roly Poly saw Matcha's group message and mocked Matcha in his thoughts. He did a screen capture and sent it to Zhao Yao. "Zhao Yao, take a look! Matcha's abusing his authority again. We're all your cats. His behavior is inappropriate."

Project X scoffed, "You are snitching on Matcha again."

"What do you know? This is called intelligence work!" Roly Poly typed excitedly as he talked to Project X, "My few words are more powerful than your battle with Zhao Yao!"

Project X said, "Enough. Stop boasting, I'm tired of all of this. Place a book by the side for me to read."

Roly Poly took out Hundred Years of Solitude for Project X to read. Then he checked his cellphone and thought, "Zhao Yao didn't reply to me? Is he still playing with the two new cats?"

"So slow, when will he reply to me?"

Project X said, “Roly Poly, help me turn the page. I’ve finished the first page.”

Roly Poly turned the page casually for Project X and thought, “Perhaps the dirt on Matcha isn’t big enough? Yes, it must be that.”

Roly Poly felt a sense of danger. He recalled that Matcha was able to participate in combat. In the African battle, he beat up Lucifer to assist Zhao Yao and Time Freeze became more effective.

...

The next morning, Matcha tossed his body and pushed his paws forward and backside backwards. He straightened his body and stretched his back.

He yawned as he opened up his cellphone and glanced at the bed. “Zhao Yao didn’t come back last night. Where did he go off to ?”

Matcha checked the internet as usual as he muttered, “A riot broke out in Seoul, Korea... more than a hundred people contracted unknown mental illness...”

After checking the news, Matcha opened up Mobile Legends happily. He intended to practise a few rounds before having his meal.

A soul wrenching scream pierced through the air of Cat Island.

“Who destroyed my runes!! Totally sick guy!”

“This is war! This is a terrorist attack! Someone’s declaring war on me!”

The invisible Roly Poly extended his head from the window and peeped at the frustrated Matcha and laughed sinisterly. “I’ll make you go crazy before destroying you.”

Matcha lay on the massage chair with his paws facing upwards, his half closed eyes drooping down and his face depressed.

“Oh...” Matcha moaned and said, “My runes!”

Milk Tea came over with a towel and put it carefully on Matcha’s head. He said with concern, “Brother Matcha, don’t be sad. You’ll get sick with grief!”

Latte sat by the side munching canned salmon and looked occasionally at Matcha as he said, “You’ve got to be happy as a cat. The runes will not come back even if you’re upset. Shall I open another can of salmon for you?”

“Get lost!” Matcha threw his towel at Latte and shouted, “You don’t know how sad and upset I am! All 15 sets of runes were lost! Do you know how many days and nights I played to obtain the 15 sets of runes?”

Matcha covered his chest and trembled violently.

“Brother Matcha!”

“Matcha, how’re you feeling?”

“Sir George, you have to brace yourself!”

Milk Tea, Latte, Old Cat, Airplane, Lightning surrounded Matcha, who was holding his chest and convulsing. They were concerned about him.

Matcha bit Milk Tea’s paw and shivered as he said, “You’ve got to catch the perpetrator! You have to catch him! Otherwise I won’t rest in peace.”

Milk Tea nodded and said, “Don’t worry Brother Matcha, we’ll catch him. Don’t ruin your health.”

Old Cat came forward and typed, “Don’t worry Sir George, we’ll capture this guy who deserves a thousand lashes.”

“Old Cat!” Matcha looked sadly at him and said, “I feel terrible inside.”

“I understand,” Old Cat said. “We all understand. Take care of yourself. It’s not worth it to ruin your health.”

“Catch him! You have to catch him!” Matcha wailed and he convulsed violently as his head tilted to one side. “Oh!” His tongue stuck out and he became motionless.

“Matcha!” Milk Tea exclaimed in shock and pounced on Matcha.

Latte opened his mouth and the salmon inside fell to the ground.

Airplane was astonished as he said, “Matcha’s agitated to death?”

Old Cat hurried over and examined his nose and chest. He sighed and typed, “He’s not dead. He probably fell asleep after staying up all night.”

Milk Tea was relieved and licked his chest fur as he said, “Matcha’s condition is going to worsen as he can’t eat or drink. This is worrisome.”

Old Cat said, “The only solution is to catch the perpetrator to sooth Matcha.”

Milk Tea shook his head and said, “How long will it take? I have an idea. Why don’t we use our money to buy a few sets of runes?”

“This is frustrating!” Airplane sighed deeply and said sadly, “I’m useless. I’m a spendthrift and can’t contribute money at critical moments! I’m really useless!” He slapped himself using his tail.

Lightning saw Milk Tea looking at him and turned his head away as he shook his head and sighed. “Milk Tea, you should have told me earlier that you need money!”

It's frustrating. I lent my money to Cannon this morning. I'm a good brother so when he asked me for money and I lent it to him without saying a word!

When can I change this shortcoming of mine? Let me look for Cannon and ask him for my money..."

Milk Tea said, "It's alright. I've worked in Cat Wonderland these days and saved some money. I'm thinking of using my money to help Matcha but you must help me hide it from him. Just tell him that we came up with the money together to buy his runes."

All the supercats looked at each other and agreed.

Latte frowned and squatted down as he looked at Matcha's quivering tail and pounced on it. He gave it a good bite.

Lightning said, "Milk Tea, the runes looked expensive. Do you have enough money?"

Milk Tea said, "Besides my salary, Master Zhao also gave me some red packets. I think it should be enough..."

All the supercats were stunned by the figures on Milk Tea's cell phone.

"Are those figures from the red packets?"

Old Cat said, "You won't need that much, Milk Tea..."

Milk Tea smiled and said, "It's nothing. I seldom use the money. If I can make Brother Matcha happy and healthy, I'll be happy."

Latte bit and pulled Matcha's tail. It was so painful that Matcha shook his body and said telepathically to Latte, "Latte, stop it!"

Latte was astonished. "Matcha, aren't you asleep?"

Matcha said angrily, “Idiot! Don’t bother me. Get lost and don’t bite my tail.”

Latte rolled his eyeballs and said, “Oh! You are pretending! I’ll tell the rest!”

Matcha said anxiously, “Don’t speak nonsense!”

Latte said, “I heard there’s a new canned salmon...”

Matcha said helplessly, “I’ll buy it.”

Milk Tea looked at Old Cat and the supercats and nodded. “Let’s make a move first. When Matcha’s awake, tell him about it... Airplane, please help to investigate who deleted Matcha’s runes.”

“Don’t worry Milk Tea, Matcha’s my big brother. I’ll find out the truth.”

As the supercats left, Milk Tea turned to look at Latte and said, “Latte, let’s go...”

Latte looked at Milk Tea and shook his head. “No, I’ll stay here to watch over Matcha.”

Milk Tea looked surprised at Latte and smiled. “Latte’s grown up. Keep him company. I’ll come back later.”

After Milk Tea left, Latte looked at Matcha and said, “They’re all gone. You can wake up now!”

Matcha sat up and laughed loudly. “I’ll get back my runes. Fat hope if you think you can delete my runes!!”

Latte said, “What about my salmon?”

Matcha said, “I know, I’ll get it for you.”

They looked at each other, laughed heartily and jumped around excitedly.

Matcha said, “Yeah! I’ll have my runes again!”

Latte said, “Yeah! I’ll have my salmon again!”

Both cats jumped happily as they smiled in anticipation of their future rewards.

Bam! They saw Milk Tea open the door. He was holding a can of salmon in his mouth and looking grimly at both of them, who were frozen in space.

Chapter 959: War

Invisible, Roly Poly walked out from Matcha’s room and laughed sinisterly.

Project X said, “They have a lot of superpowers. They’ll discover it was done by you.”

Roly Poly said confidently, “Do you think that’s my whole plan? This is just the beginning. I’ll make sure all of Cat Island burns to ash, then I will rise from the ashes and become the Island’s first supercat.”

Project X was curious and said, “What do you intend to do?”

Roly Poly ran towards the catmint farm on the eastern side of the island. He squatted stealthily a hundred meters outside the farm and spied at the few supercats patrolling the boundary.

“Catmint?” Project X asked curiously, “Are you stealing catmint?”

“Humph, stealing catmint? You’ve underestimated me.” Roly Poly walked to a tree hole and started scavenging as if he was looking for something.

He pulled out a doll that looked like Matcha on his head. He activated invisibility and moved in the trees. It looked like Matcha was running in the woods towards the catmint farm.

The guards at the farm were chatting as they patrolled.

The leader Red Packet said, “Everyone be on alert as the catmint’s about to be harvested. If things go wrong, sister Dust Ball will bite our heads off.”

Cannon said, “Brother Red, we got it.” He rubbed his paws and smiled merrily. “I’m tight with my finances. When’s our pay day?”

Red Packet glanced at him and frowned. “Gambling again?”

Cannon pushed out his chest and said, “Training. Do you know the ten thousand method? I think it’s logical. After I’ve gambled ten thousand times and become an expert, I’ll earn as much money as I want. Now’s the learning fee.”

Red Packet rolled his eyes and said, “When we sell the catmint, then we’ll pay you your salary. Did you borrow money from Lightning?”

“Lightning’s a scumbag,” Cannon scolded. “He promised to lend me in the morning and he disappeared at night...”

The supercats’ ears quivered abruptly and they heard movement sounds. An orange cat figure flashed and jumped around in the catmint farm.

“Who’s that?” Red Packet chased after the orange cat. “This is the catmint farm’s restricted area! Who let you come here?!”

“Catch him!”

“Don’t let him run away!”

“Stop immediately!”

“It’s Matcha!”

Moments later, huge tongues of fire licked the catmint farm. Seeing Matcha fleeing into the woods, Red Packet fell and sat on the ground as he muttered, “Finished. We are in trouble.”

“The sky above Cat Island is changing.”

Roly Poly laughed sinisterly after disguising himself as Matcha and burning the catmint farm. He hid the Matcha doll carefully and gazed at the black smoke and fire in the distance. "I've succeeded!"

Project X said, "You are creating infighting?" He became excited and asked, "How will Dust Ball react? Would the catmint section fight with the Royal Cat Guards?"

Project X shook his head. "Isn't it going to be a minor conflict? Once Zhao Yao appears, everything will be under control."

"Nonsense, I'm not making them kill each other." Roly Poly scoffed, "Project X! You have been learning from me for such a long time, you haven't learned anything. This is called pulling firewood out of one's stove."

"How did Matcha obtain his current status? Wasn't Zhao Yao the one who supported him?"

"Why did Zhao Yao support Matcha? Because he was Zhao Yao's first cat." Roly Poly sighed and said, "In a human's heart, the first cat will always have a special position and will be the most memorable one."

"To weaken Matcha, I'll have to destroy his position in Zhao Yao's heart. I'll let Zhao Yao know that Matcha's a bad cat who always create trouble."

Project X said, "Isn't Matcha always in trouble? Isn't that enough?"

"Humph, what do you know? When it comes to politics, you are still green," Roly Poly said. "When Matcha was in trouble, it was all connected to the other supercats at home. Till now, his troubles did not cause real large loses for Zhao Yao."

"If a cat poops at the door of the toilet and on the bed, are the consequences the same?"

"Only when a cat knows his limits, then he can sustain his position in the family."

"It's the same for other things."

Project X, “Oh, You are going to let him create big trouble? What are you going to do when Zhao Yao returns?”

“Zhao Yao will not come back that quickly. I asked Diana and Catherine, Zhao Yao’s still having heartfelt conversation with the new supercats in their dreams to convince them. It won’t be done that fast. This is the best time to frame Matcha.”

“Let’s go. There is more to be done.”

Moments later, a scream rang from Elizabeth’s cat dwelling. Elizabeth looked at herself in the mirror. Her fur was cut from her head and her stomach.

Looking at the orange fur left in her cat dwelling, Elizabeth sniffed at the orange fur and gritted her teeth. “Matcha!”

Diana woke up and laughed at Elizabeth’s pitiful look. “Sister, why did you shave the fur from your head and stomach? Tsk, tsk, look at your small belly. It’s exposed.”

Diana shook her head, “We’re Ragdoll cats and it’s not appropriate to cut off our fur. Who’s going to cuddle you now?”

Elizabeth turned to look at Diana as her eyes flashed with crimson rays. Diana froze slightly but she retained control of herself.

Diana smiled merrily at Elizabeth as she waved her tail and said, “It’s no good, my good sister. Your superpower has no effect on me.”

Elizabeth sneered and said, “I just want you to see yourself in the mirror. It’s okay if you don’t want to.”

“See myself in the mirror?” Diana ran to a mirror and screamed.

The fur on Diana’s head and back was cut, revealing the flesh underneath.

...

A few hundred meters away, Roly Poly packed the white fur in a bundle and hid it from sight.

Project X did not understand and asked, “Why are you hiding it?”

Roly Poly said, “To sell for money. Elizabeth’s original fur is priceless. Once the matter blows over, I’ll sell it for a profit.”

Project X was speechless.

After the fur was well hidden, Roly Poly heard the commotion on Cat Island. He smiled and said, “War... is starting!”

Chapter 960: Chaos

As time passed, more lights lit up on Cat Island and the commotion became louder.

The chaos spread from the Royal Cat Guards, catmint section, cat café to Ares, Cat Sage and the Royal Cat Police Force.

The peace and order on Cat Island was broken.

One hour later, Roly Poly stood on the highest cliff on the island and surveyed the chaos as his smile became broader.

He gazed at the forest in the middle of the island.

Cheese sprawled on the grass plain, his ears quivering and listening to surroundings. After some time, Cheese said telepathically, “Let’s go Rice Cake. There are no cats nearby.”

The two cats advanced towards their target—a cat dwelling more than a hundred meters away.

Rice Cake typed on her cell phone as she walked, “Leopard, Leopard, this is Bald Eagle, we’re in position.”

Cat Sage replied, “Leopard acknowledged. Bald Eagle, wait for the signal to act.”

With the roar of a dragon, Cheese and Rice Cake charged forward.

More lights lit up and more cats meowed.

The golden dragon that soared in the sky was pulled down by Ares’ Deflective Field. Cat Sage exclaimed in shock, “There’s an ambush!”

Cheese and Rice Cake intended to escape by flying off but were shot down by Fūjin’s wind bullets.

“Run Rice Cake!” Cheese sent Rice Cake flying off. “Don’t turn back! Run immediately!”

Seeing Rice Cake flying off without turning her head, Cheese frowned. “She didn’t turn her head. Is that my sister...”

Rice Cake turned her head abruptly and said, “Why are you standing there like a fool? Run!”

Cheese shook his head as he smiled satisfactorily. “It’s too late.”

He was lifted up in the air as the Deflective Field turned into countless sword energy and engulfed him.

Cheese shouted, “Run, Rice Cake! Run!”

Rice Cake gazed deeply into Cheese’s eyes and bolted. She heard Cheese’s soul wrenching scream behind her.

Rice Cake could not resist turning her head to see her brother’s fur being shredded and turning him into a pig. His brother wailed in pain as he landed on the ground. “Brother!”

Rice Cake held back her tears and turned her head forward as she fled into the forest.

Roly Poly's gaze shifted from the middle forest to the northern beach.

In the sea off the beach, the Dimension Portal traveled above the sea as it sucked in vast amount of seawater, forming a cyclone.

In the southern Cat Island, Dust Ball opened her mouth and shot out water that flooded and drenched the supercats in front of her.

Uncle Egg lay on the ground as electrical sparks flashed on his body. He convulsed as he shouted, "Stop! Stop! Stop your splashing!"

Caesar lay drenched on the ground, looking listless and in a daze. "Stop splashing us... we're all wet..."

Seeing the drenched supercats asking her to stop, Dust Ball closed her mouth and shouted angrily, "If you want me to stop, tell me where is Matcha? Otherwise I'll drench you until all your fur sheds."

Uncle Egg shivered as he stood up and said, "We don't know where Matcha is!"

Dust Ball said furiously, "You were with Matcha all day and still don't want to tell me?!"

Uncle Egg said in pain, "It's Old Cat who's with Matcha. I haven't been with Matcha for a long time."

Dust Ball asked, "You aren't Old Cat?"

Uncle Egg said, "I'm Uncle Egg, Dust Ball! Did you recognize the wrong person?" He shook his body violently so that Dust Ball could have a good look. Cats could see clearer when things were moving.

Dust Ball was in a shock.

Dust Ball squinted her eyes as she tried to recognize the voice from her blurred vision. "Why is my vision getting blurry recently? Did I watch too much TV? He doesn't sound like Old Cat..."

She sniffed and only smelled seawater. “I depended too much on my sight... I’ll sniff first before spraying water.”

In the silence, Dust Ball sprayed Uncle Egg with seawater again. “Don’t disguise yourself as Old Cat and don’t let me see you again!”

Roly Poly narrowed his eyes on the cliff. He did not take the Royal Cat Police Force’s beating to heart. Project X said, “Your subordinates are being beaten. Why aren’t you helping?”

Roly Poly said, “I don’t have time.”

“If you don’t help, won’t it be harder to lead them? You’ll lose the respect of your subordinates.”

“Respect? What’s the use of respect?” Roly Poly sneered. “If you could become stronger after eating feces, would you take it?”

“No,” Project X said. “I am an elite supercat, why should I take it? Even if I become stronger, it will be a taint in my life.”

“Hence you are totally defeated.” Roly Poly said as he turned his head to look at the villa by the sea.

“Matcha’s coming out...”

Matcha jumped down from the balcony with Latte following behind. Latte said fearfully, “Milk Tea looks scary when he’s angry.”

Matcha said, “If he’s not a kitten, I’ll slap him.”

Latte opened his wide eyes as he said, “Really Matcha? Let’s go back. I haven’t finished my salmon.”

“Eat, eat, eat. You only know how to eat.” Matcha slapped Latte’s head. “If not for you, I would be playing computer games on my sofa. I haven’t completed my daily routine yet.”

Latte drooped his ears and followed Matcha silently.

After some time, Latte said, “Matcha, I’m hungry.”

Matcha ignored him.

Latte said, “Shall we apologize to Milk Tea?”

“I’m not going!” Matcha scoffed. “I won’t apologize to Milk Tea.”

Latte said, “Oh, I’m going then.”

Matcha stopped Latte from leaving. “What are you doing? You’re apologizing because of the salmon?”

“Yes,” Latte said earnestly. “In order to feed my stomach.”

Seeing Latte’s innocent face, Matcha sighed. “Hungry? Okay, wait here for me. I’ll apologize to Milk Tea.”

As both cats returned to the villa, a pair of yellow, green and red eyes lit up in the darkness.

Elizabeth walked out from the woods. “Matcha...”

Matcha looked at Elizabeth bewildered and asked, “Elizabeth, why are you wearing clothes? And with a hat too?”

...

In the sea off the Cat Island.

A pair of eyes fixed its gaze on the misty Cat Island.

“Elizabeth! I’ve finally found you!”

A few men stood beside him as he gazed at the Cat Island. “Is this Cat Island?”

“There are rumors saying that the Headless Horseman’s dead, leaving his supercats on Cat Island.”

“Be careful. His supercats are powerful. Do not underestimate them.”
