

Am I A God 961

Chapter 961: Napoleon

A small boat slowed to a halt at the beach and the apostles disembarked from the boat.

“Is this Cat Island?”

“Doesn’t look special.”

“Be careful. There’s a few hundred supercats on the island.”

A slim man wearing a dark windbreaker came down from the boat with a Ragdoll cat in his arms.
“Finally, we’ve arrived.”

The Ragdoll cat meowed incessantly and typed on the cellphone that said, “Find Elizabeth! Remember! She’s a Ragdoll cat with very long fur! And very sweet looking!”

The eight apostles were taken aback as the description was not very helpful for identification of Elizabeth.

The man carrying the Ragdoll cat said, “Lord Napoleon, don’t be impatient. Though the Headless Horseman’s dead, we can’t possibly look for every cat. Let’s be steady and capture every supercat as we look for traces of Elizabeth.”

Napoleon frowned and said unhappily, “Humph, who’s my match on Cat Island? I’m here to let Elizabeth know how wrong her decision was!”

The man said, “Lord Napoleon, you are invincible but there are simply too many superpowers in this world. Let’s be careful as we tread on the enemy’s ground.”

Napoleon nodded reluctantly.

Flames abruptly licked the sky. There was a fire somewhere on the island.

An apostle said excitedly, “The Headless Horseman’s dead. If not, there wouldn’t be such a huge fire.”

“Perhaps the supercats were let loose and chaos reigned!”

“Rumors said that Cat Wonderland had lost contact with Cat Island. The supercats are without a leader. Seems like it’s real.”

The man carrying the Ragdoll cat calmed them down and said, “Don’t be excited. They are without a leader but they are powerful. Check your equipment. We’ll start our operation together. Don’t go too far.”

They unloaded anti-explosive vests, electric batons and tranquilizer rifles and equipped themselves as they trudged towards the woods.

They heard screams of cats and sounds of explosions from the deep end of the forest. It seemed like supercats were having a battle.

The men became more excited as they were more convinced that the Headless Horseman had perished and that the supercats were without a leader.

They moved forward with anticipation as they looked for traces of supercats.

The plump front scout stopped and waved to his companions for them to halt. Then he pointed forward.

A thick and long tail protruded from the bushes.

Napoleon’s eyes lit up and said, “That’s a Ragdoll cat’s tail! Capture the cat!”

The apostles looked at each other warily and they separated into two groups as they surrounded the bushes.

They shot out an electric net at the tail and the net tightened on the cat.

They heard a loud scream as a cat struggled wildly in the net. With the flow of electricity, the cat convulsed a few times and became motionless.

The man carrying Napoleon walked forward and saw a drenched Ragdoll cat, who was emitting white smoke, appear before them. He was the Ragdoll cat Caesar.

Napoleon asked in agitation, "Caesar! Are you Caesar?"

Caesar was first drenched before being electrocuted. He was in a terrible state and he squinted his eyes to look at Napoleon before asking bewildered, "You are?"

"It's me, Napoleon," Napoleon shouted. "You watched me grow up when I was young. You engaged Elizabeth to me!"

Caesar recovered himself and looked in astonishment at the handsome and burly Napoleon who had smooth shiny fur.

"You are Napoleon? You've awakened?"

Napoleon said grimly, "Humph, I awakened long ago. While I was exiled, I trained daily and fought in the boundless Asura Arena so that I could return and let everyone know that your decision was very wrong."

Caesar was stunned and looked at the surrounding apostles and the electric net on his body. He smiled abruptly and said, "Great, you are back Napoleon. Let's go look for Elizabeth. She misses you a lot."

As Caesar was about to move, he was grabbed from the net. Caesar asked anxiously, "What are you going to do?"

Napoleon said, "What are we going to do? I'm here to catch all the supercats. Though we know each other, work is work. I have to capture you."

“Capture me? The few of you?” Caesar extended his paws, flicked out his claws and hissed at everyone.

A plump man pressed on him and cut off his claws.

After being drenched and claws being cut, Caesar’s ego was totally deflated. He glared at Napoleon.

Napoleon said, “You better cooperate with us, otherwise it won’t be as simple as cutting your claws. We could shave your fur, mutilate your face, or cut off your tail. Do you understand, Caesar?”

Caesar looked angrily at Napoleon. “What did you call me?”

Napoleon said, “I called you... Caesar... What’s wrong?”

“Why are you treating me like an outsider?” Caesar said, “I know you are on close terms with Elizabeth. From now on, call me Dad.”

“Ah?” Napoleon was at a loss and he said shyly, “Dad?”

“Yes,” Caesar said. “Elizabeth misses you. When you were away, she mentioned you every day.”

“Oh... really?” Napoleon was embarrassed as he thought, “I only thought about her at most once a month... Elizabeth liked me for that long?”

“Of course.” Caesar said. “Put me down. I know where to find Elizabeth. I’ll bring you to her.”

Suddenly meowing and banging sounds were heard from far. The Napoleon-carrying man said in a low voice, “Be careful! Cats are coming!”

The apostles hid behind cover as they remained alert for action.

A yellow and white cat emerged from the bushes and started fighting.

Elizabeth slapped and scratched at Matcha who was howling and retreating at the same time.
“Elizabeth! Are you crazy?”

Elizabeth said, “I’ll cut every strand of fur of yours.”

Matcha flashed and appeared ten meters away. He said angrily, “Enough! If you dare to attack me, I’ll retaliate!”

Elizabeth stood up. Her hat had fallen off during the fight and her clothes were also in shreds.

Caesar was pleasantly surprised. “Matcha! Elizabeth!”

“She’s not my Elizabeth.” Napoleon looked at the Ragdoll cat and said calmly, “Who’s this fat and bald cat?”

Chapter 962: Lay Prone

“Who’s this fat and bald cat?”

Everyone became silent.

Napoleon looked at the frozen Caesar and Matcha and asked puzzledly, “What’s with you?”

Matcha flashed and fled during Time Freeze.

Caesar waved at Elizabeth as he said, “Elizabeth, it’s not my fault! Don’t be rash...”

Napoleon looked at Elizabeth whose red-shot eyes were gazing at him. Elizabeth retorted, “I’ve said this many times... My fur’s too dense... I’m not fat!”

Napoleon glanced at her bald belly and said casually, “Look at your stomach. It’s sticking out and there’s no fur. You’ve eaten too much without exercising and grown fat...”

Caesar said, “Stop it, Napoleon! Elizabeth’s fury is terrifying!”

Napoleon said, “Her looks are pretty terrifying. Forget it, I’m not capturing Elizabeth. She’s too oily...”

Elizabeth’s fur stood on end as her fury peaked. The green veins on her head pulsated as she glared at Napoleon with her red-shot eyes. “It’s normal that my belly protrudes while I squat!!”

The man carrying Napoleon threw him on the ground and he stomped on Napoleon in a frenzy.

“What’s wrong?”

“Stop immediately!”

The other apostles wanted to stop the stomping but their vision became dark as their five senses were deprived and they fell unconscious.

“Die... Die... Die... Death to you...” Elizabeth’s crimson eyes were locked on the man and controlled him to stomp hard on Napoleon. He was going to grind Napoleon into a meat sauce.

The controlled man took out his gun and peppered Napoleon with tens of bullets.

Caesar inhaled a gust of cold air and turned his head away as he could not bear to witness Napoleon’s state. “I told you to be tactful. Serves you right...” Suddenly, he felt his body freezing as though a cold draught had swept by.

Elizabeth asked, “Caesar, what do you mean by that? Are you saying that I’m fat?” The controlled man pointed his gun at Caesar.

Caesar shook his head as though he was a vibrator and said fearfully, “No! You’re my cutest Lizzie. How could you be fat? Let him put down the gun.”

A laugh filled the air. Caesar turned to see Napoleon, who was face-down and whose body was shaking while ominous sounds emitted from his lower body.

“Hahahaha, fatso, you thought that was the end of me?” Napoleon smiled grimly. “You won’t be killing me with your superpower! See, my superpower’s invincible!”

Caesar was puzzled. “This Napoleon... Why is he talking face down?”

Napoleon lay prone on the ground and said proudly, “Come on! Attack me! Understand how inferior you are compared to my invincible superpower!”

Caesar asked curiously, “Is your superpower activated while facing the ground?”

“You... What nonsense is that?” Napoleon smiled and said, “I’m too lazy to stand up. I’m too lazy to stand up and fight with second rate supercats!”

Elizabeth controlled the man and stabbed Napoleon with a knife.

The knife was unable to cut his flesh as Napoleon’s body was protected by an invisible barrier.

The controlled man passed out and was robbed of his five senses. Elizabeth looked at Napoleon and was unable to control him.

Napoleon said, “Humph, do you understand now? Your tricks are useless against me.”

The apostles who were unconscious started moving and lay prone on the ground. They were unaffected by the illusion and they aimed their capturing devices at Elizabeth.

Elizabeth activated her power of illusion and tried to control the apostles in vain.

A large net spun out from the capturing devices and ensnared Elizabeth.

A few tranquilizer darts shot out and landed on Elizabeth’s body.

Though she had a strong power of illusion, Elizabeth’s body was not stronger than most common cats. The tranquilizer came into effect and she wavered before falling to the ground.

The apostles surrounded her and excitedly put her into a sack.

“This supercat’s powerful! It will fetch a high price.”

Another apostle said, “Sell her for a profit? Didn’t you see how she controlled people? We’ll borrow her superpower and we’ll become rich.”

After securing Elizabeth, the apostles crawled on the ground and headed towards the interior of the island. Caesar was in the sack and he tried to wake Elizabeth by communicating with her telepathically but in vain.

Napoleon and his men crawled forward. All superpowers were useless against them when they lay prone on the ground. They captured tens of supercats and they anticipated good results.

Lightning knocked into one of the apostles. The super static electricity did not come into effect. After a shocked exclamation, Lightning was dumped into the sack.

Uncle Egg’s electrical attacks had minimal effect on the apostles. He was tranquilized and dumped into the sack.

Meow...

“Too many, there are too many supercats here.”

“After we round them up, we’ll sell half of them while we keep half. We won’t have to worry about our finances for the rest of our lives.”

“Silence. Supercats are coming.”

Scurrying footsteps were heard. Bai Quan emerged from the trees and looked at the apostles who were lying prone on the ground. Bewildered, he asked, “What are you doing?”

The captured supercats meowed with agitation. Bai Quan said, “Stop meowing. You are all guilty of the commotion tonight. Wait until boss wakes up...”

Whoosh! Bai Quan caught a tranquilizer dart and threw it back at the apostle.

Seeing the apostle intact, Bai Quan raised his brow and said, “Oh?”

...

In the Prison Valley, on Cat Island, which was for locking up Project X.

Asser and Arria closed their eyes tightly as they lay on the ground. They convulsed occasionally and their faces showed terror.

Zhao Yao’s figure appeared out of thin air in front of them. He used Diana’s superpower to enter their dreams and to return back to reality.

“I’ve almost convinced both cats.”

Zhao Yao frowned and his ears quivered as he heard about the events that occurred while he was away.

Chapter 963: Finding Cat

Hearing the commotion on Cat Island, Zhao Yao frowned, looked at Asser and Arria sleeping and decided to imprison them in the Extradimensional Belly.

The moment he opened the Dimension Portal, seawater gushed out and drenched him.

Zhao Yao opened his mouth and inhaled gently to suck the seawater into the Extradimensional Belly. He closed the Dimension Portal and swallowed himself into the Extradimensional Belly.

Seeing the seawater flooding the Extradimensional Belly, Zhao Yao shouted angrily, “Dust Ball! What are you doing?!”

...

On top of a cliff, Dust Ball was laughing heartily as she sprayed the Royal Cat Guards until they retreated. “Where’s Matcha? Hand over Matcha! Otherwise I’ll drench you twenty times.”

Airplane lifted his drenched head and said furiously, “Dust Ball! You are in trouble after drenching all of us. Zhao Yao will not let you go.”

Dust Ball scoffed, “Humph, Airplane, are you more important than me in Zhao Yao’s heart?”

I’m earning a hundred times more than you. I’m cute and cuddly. My superpower’s stronger than yours. Even if he knew that I was bullying you, would he care?”

Airplane and other Royal Cat Guards were agitated and glared at Dust Ball. “Just you wait. Matcha will avenge us! He’s Zhao Yao’s favourite!”

“Matcha?” Dust Ball sneered and said. “He’s unable to fend for himself. How’s he going to avenge you? I advise you to confess your crimes before Zhao Yao interrogates you regarding the shedding of fur. Otherwise, no one can save you.”

A black Dimension Portal opened behind Dust Ball and Zhao Yao’s head peeped out. Dust Ball’s body froze immediately.

Dust Ball shouted, “Zhao Yao, listen to my explanation! Things are not what you think...”

A huge hand grabbed Dust Ball’s head and pulled her into the darkness of the portal.

Meow!!

Dust Ball screamed in her shrill voice and extended her paw fearfully in an attempt to crawl out but she was restrained by the huge hand. She left a long trail of scratch marks as she was dragged into the Extradimensional Belly.

Seeing the portal vanish gradually, Airplane nervously heaved out of relief.

Airplane licked his fur as he said, “Thank goodness... Zhao Yao didn’t look for me.”

Suddenly, Zhao Yao extended his head out from the thin air and looked at Airplane who shivered and peed on Meat Bun's face.

Zhao Yao glared at Airplane and said, "Go to the bathroom and blow yourself dry. Whoever gets sick, I'll eat them alive."

Meow! Airplane and the guards stood up and bolted to the bathroom.

Zhao Yao returned to the Extradimensional Belly and looked at the trembling and fur shedding Dust Ball. He said, "Dust Ball, did I do something wrong to you?"

Dust Ball shook her head and said, "No, no, no..."

Zhao Yao touched her head and said, "Did I forget to feed you? Or cuddle you? Did I not provide you with good food and lodging?" He looked at the flooded Extradimensional Belly.

All the computers and the cat toilets were spoilt by the water. Zhao Yao's eyes were filled with murderous intent.

Dust Ball opened her eyes widely and said, "Zhao Yao! You can't blame me! It's Matcha who burnt my catmint farm! I fought with them because of this!"

Zhao Yao was stunned. "What?"

"Matcha!" Dust Ball said, "Matcha burnt the entire catmint farm! The catmint stock for next month was destroyed!"

Zhao Yao's eyes emitted cold rays and his murderous intent intensified. Dust Ball was so terrified that she drooped her ears and curled her tail into her stomach.

"I'll look for Matcha regarding this." Zhao Yao looked at Dust Ball and said, "You'll stay here to repent and clean up the mess. I'll come back later to deal with you." Zhao Yao pointed at the unconscious alien cats and said, "Watch over them carefully."

Zhao Yao walked out of the portal and flew towards the villa, leaving a series of after-images behind him.

Bam! The villa door was opened and Zhao Yao surveyed the interior and saw Zhao Xue in her night dress, rubbing her eyes as she walked down the stairs half awake. “What were you doing tonight? I was unable to sleep from the commotion.”

Zhao Yao asked, “Did you see Matcha?”

“No.” Seeing Zhao Yao’s grave expression, Zhao Xue asked excitedly, “Something’s happened?”

Milk Tea ran down the stairs and asked, “Master Zhao! Did something happen to Matcha?”

Zhao Yao stared with his dead fish eyes and said, “Dust Ball said Matcha burnt the catmint farm.”

“Ah!” Milk Tea was shocked but recovered and said, “Master Zhao, though Matcha’s disobedient at times, he wouldn’t dare burn the catmint farm. There must be more to this than meets the eye.”

Zhao Yao nodded and said, “Don’t plead for Matcha. I’ll find out the truth.” He turned to look at Milk Tea and asked, “Do you know where is Matcha?”

Zhao Yao listened carefully but could not detect Matcha’s breath.

Milk Tea swallowed his saliva and said, “Matcha quarreled with me and left. I don’t know where he went...” He thought, “Did Matcha do something rash because of his destroyed runes and my quarrel with him?”

Milk Tea became anxious and he clasped his paws to plead. “Master Zhao, bring me along with you to find Matcha. His runes were destroyed and he’s in a terrible mood. I’m afraid something might happen to him.”

“His runes were destroyed?” Zhao Yao detected something amiss with these two incidents. He put Milk Tea on his shoulder and walked towards the door.

Zhao Yao sniffed and detected Matcha's scent. He followed the smell and saw the figures of a Ragdoll cat and an orange cat.

Diana pressed down on Latte's head with her paw while Latte kicked his hind leg at Diana. She slapped Latte's nose and he fell to the ground.

As Diana was going to attack again, Latte screamed in pain and said, "You... You! Why are you so ruthless?" Latte lay on the ground motionless as though he had passed out.

"Ah?" Diana was puzzled. "Did I hurt him?"

Chapter 964: Interrogation

Latte, who fell to the ground, was pleased. "Humph, this super tactic of playing dead was taught by Matcha. I can save myself from a beating."

Diana walked to Latte and sniffed him. "He doesn't seem dead. I didn't use too much force."

"Did I hit a fragile cat?"

A shadow was cast on both of them. Diana lifted her head and saw Zhao Yao in front of them.

"Zhao Yao!"

Zhao Yao looked at Diana, whose fur was cut from her head to back and said, "What did you do? Do you know that this fur style is not suitable for you. There's no sweetness of a Ragdoll cat left and you look like a fool."

Diana looked sadly at the fur on her back and said, "I didn't cut it! It's Matcha! Not only did he cut my fur, he also cut Elizabeth's fur!"

Zhao Yao nodded gravely at Diana. He opened the Dimension Portal and said, "I understand. Go in first. I'll get a hold of Matcha to clear the air."

Diana entered the portal. Zhao Yao frowned as he looked at Latte and said, “Enough. Get up. You can stop pretending.”

Seeing Latte remain motionless, Zhao Yao rolled his eyes. “Latte... When did he learn to play dead?”

Milk Tea ran forward, shook Latte with his paws, and said. “Enough, stop pretending and get up.”

Latte said telepathically to Milk Tea, “Milk Tea, stop pushing me. Zhao Yao’s testing me. If I ignore him, he’ll believe me!”

“Who’ll believe you?” Zhao Yao slapped Latte’s head and pointed at the Dimension Portal. “Get inside. Remember this. Learn from Milk Tea. Don’t pick up bad habits from Matcha.”

Latte walked into the portal disheartened as he thought, “He can see through my tricks. Where did I go wrong?”

Sheriff, who was in Zhao Yao’s arms laughed. “Little devil, your mistakes are so obvious.”

After getting hold of Diana and Latte, Zhao Yao pursued Matcha based on his scent. Zhao Yao traveled with haste and he arrived at a large pit.

Bai Quan was standing by the pit as he looked helplessly at the pit.

Hearing the wind behind, Bai Quan turned his head and said, “Boss? You’re awake?”

“Hmm.” Zhao Yao looked at the pit and asked, “What’s this?”

Napoleon and his apostles were crawling inside the pit like caterpillars and they shouted angrily at Bai Quan.

“B*stard! Do you dare to fight with us?”

“You are not a hero for trapping us in a pit! If you have the guts, let us out and fight fairly!”

“Don’t worry. I’ve got it. We can stick to the ground and crawl out of this pit.”

Bai Quan pointed at the apostles and explained, “Their superpowers are to crawl on the ground and become invincible. I tried all methods of attack in vain so I dug a pit and led them inside.”

“Oh? Crawl on the ground and become invincible?” Zhao Yao’s brow pulsated as he looked at the apostles face-down in the pit. He lifted his hand and sliced them with the Deflective Field that had transformed into sword energy. However, it was ineffective.

“Interesting.” Zhao Yao’s troubled mind became lighter. He swept his gaze at the apostles inside the pit and rested his gaze on Napoleon. He stroked his chin and said, “The superpower came from this Ragdoll cat?”

Bai Quan said, “Should be him. After he lay prone on the ground, all my attacks became useless.”

Zhao Yao nodded with satisfaction. “Not bad.” He opened a Dimension Portal in the pit and said, “Bai Quan, lead them into the portal. I have things to discuss with them.”

Caesar and Lightning, who were rescued by Bai Quan, ran over. They saw the unconscious Elizabeth, who was hit by tranquilizer darts and a glum Zhao Yao. They pointed to Elizabeth’s bald head and stomach and said, “Matcha did it.”

Caesar said, “According to Elizabeth, Matcha cut her fur.”

Zhao Yao covered his eyes and shook his head. He waved his hand and said, “Get into the Extradimensional Belly. I have things to say.”

Zhao Yao saw Bai Quan thinking of a way to lead the apostles into the portal and thought for a while before saying, “It’s too troublesome to make them go in one by one. Let me try.”

Zhao Yao intended to use a Level 10 or higher superpower to see if it could affect this invincibility superpower. He switched to Catherine’s superpower and made the apostles fall asleep.

There were some apostles sprawled motionless on the ground. Zhao Yao's superpower was not able to affect all apostles.

"Even with the help of the power of awareness, my superpower's not 100% effective against this invincibility superpower." Zhao Yao sneered while pondering. He saw the apostles fall asleep one by one and said to Bai Quan, "Good, carry them into the Extradimensional Belly."

Bai Quan tried to carry them but in vain. Though, they were asleep, they retained their invincibility while laying prone.

Though he was unable to carry them, he could carry them and the ground below them together.

Bai Quan carried the apostles with their accompanying ground into the Extradimensional Belly.

Zhao Yao continued to track Matcha using his scent.

"Ares, what are you doing?"

Zhao Yao lifted Ares, Lucifer, and the cats who were beating Cheese. Then he looked at Cheese, whose fur was cut. Zhao Yao covered his forehead and said, "What are all of you doing?"

Zhao Yao got hold of all the brawling supercats and threw them into the Extradimensional Belly to await his reprimand.

Zhao Yao arrived at a cat dwelling and saw Matcha, Rice Cake, and Gaia laying on a bed playing computer games. They were playing happily, totally oblivious of what was happening outside.

Zhao Yao snatched their computer games and Gaia shouted angrily, "Zhao Yao, what are you doing? Why did you interrupt our computer games?"

Matcha and Rice Cake glared at Zhao Yao as they felt angry and indignant.

Zhao Yao looked at Gaia and said, "Still playing at this hour? How long have you played today? Beware of sudden death and sleep early. Can't you wake up early to play?"

Gaia was unhappy and said, “You’re bothersome. What wrong with playing computer games? It’s better than fighting, damaging the sofa, and sleeping with female cats!”

“Stop playing today and sleep early.” Zhao Yao stroked Gaia’s head.

Gaia walked off in a huff. The angry Rice Cake and Matcha wanted to leave but was stopped by Zhao Yao.

“Rice Cake, do you know that your brother’s fur was cut. Why are you still playing computer games?”

Rice Cake was nonchalant. “Without his fur, he’ll be clean and comfortable. If he doesn’t like it, he can wait for the fur to grow.”

Zhao Yao shook his head helplessly and pointed to the Dimension Portal behind him. “Get in.”

Once Rice Cake had left, Zhao Yao looked at Matcha and asked, “What have you done tonight?”

Chapter 965: A Lad’s Braised Cat Meat

“What did I do?” Matcha looked innocently at Zhao Yao and thought, “Has my deception of Milk Tea and Airplane been exposed?”

Zhao Yao listened to Sheriff’s mind reading while he looked suspiciously at Matcha and said, “Did you cut Elizabeth’s fur?”

“Elizabeth?” Matcha recalled Elizabeth’s hilarious state and laughed loudly. “Are you referring to furless Elizabeth? Humph, she started the fight so I bit off her fur.”

Sheriff said telepathically to Zhao Yao, “Matcha was beaten by Elizabeth so he bit off the fur from Elizabeth’s buttocks. Matcha had no memories of cutting Elizabeth’s fur as if he had not done it.”

Zhao Yao stroked his chin and pointed at the Dimension Portal. “Go in and stay there. I’ll talk to you later.”

Zhao Yao was about to catch other troublemakers when his ears quivered. He turned his head and saw blue rays of light. The Star Cats Arthas, Merlin and Anthony brought along their remaining cats and arrived before Zhao Yao.

Roly Poly walked out and said to Zhao Yao, “Zhao Yao! I brought Arthas and the cats to capture the troublemakers. There’s now law and order on the island.”

“Oh?” Zhao Yao stroked Roly Poly’s head and said, “You’ve done well.”

Roly Poly smiled merrily and rubbed his head against Zhao Yao’s palm. He thought, “It feels so good to help Zhao Yao... I want to help him... Manage Cat Island...”

Sheriff listened to Roly Poly’s thoughts and informed Zhao Yao, who caressed Roly Poly and said, “Roly Poly’s very obedient.”

Project X thought, “Good riddance, Roly Poly had controlled his thoughts and he’s becoming more powerful. I didn’t choose the wrong cat.”

Zhao Yao looked at Arthas and the Star Cats, who were behind Roly Poly and said, “You’ve done well. Bring the troublemakers into the Extradimensional Belly. I’ve things to say.”

Sheriff listened to Arthas, Anthony and Merlin’s thoughts and informed Zhao Yao, “They were convinced by Roly Poly to join the Royal Police Cat Guards.”

“Oh?” Zhao Yao looked astonished at Roly Poly. The eight Star Cats were powerful supercats. If they joined the Royal Police Cat Guards, Roly Poly would become the most powerful supercat.

Zhao Yao could not understand how Roly Poly could convince the Star Cats with his superpower.

“Listen to the Star Cats’ thoughts and find out how Roly Poly convinced them.” Zhao Yao waved his hand and said, “Let’s go into the Extradimensional Belly.”

...

In the Extradimensional Belly, Napoleon awoke and found things amiss. He was tied and hung from the air.

Bai Quan lifted them up to remove the soil and rock from them. He threw them into the Extradimensional Belly to prevent them from lying down and becoming invincible.

Napoleon looked at the surroundings and found his companions' legs and hands were all tied up as they hung from the air. Some shouted for help, some threatened, some roared in anger while others pretended to be innocent.

“What are you doing?”

“Put us down immediately! We have a hundred more apostles waiting at the beach. They'll come for us!”

“We were shipwrecked and came onto the island by mistake!”

Hearing the commotion, Zhao Yao waved his hand to deprive the apostles of their senses and stopped their actions.

“Keep quiet. It's not your turn to speak.”

Napoleon and his men were deprived of their senses and lost control of their bodies. They surveyed the surroundings and discovered that they were in an unknown room. There were about 200 supercats sprawling or sitting on the floor, looking at Zhao Yao.

Napoleon was stunned when he saw Zhao Yao. “This... this is Zhao Yao? Zhao Yao from Cat Wonderland! Is he the Headless Horseman? Isn't he dead? Why isn't he dead?”

His companions panicked when they found that Zhao Yao was not dead.

Napoleon thought, “This is frustrating. Am I being captured by the Headless Horseman? I heard that all cats that he captures are made to work like slaves. I'll have to endure this for a time and find a chance to escape.”

Napoleon thought, “Humph, I have a strong superpower. I’ll let the Headless Horseman know and he’ll think highly of me. I might become his favorite cat. When there’s a chance, I’ll escape as I’m not a pet.”

Zhao Yao was not concerned about their thoughts. He sat on the sofa and looked at the surrounding supercats and said, “I’m very disappointed with your behavior. How long have I slept? Less than ten hours and what have you been doing on the island? Playing with water, damaging property, fighting, cutting fur. Are you getting out of hand?”

All the cats looked down in fear. They dared not look into Zhao Yao’s eyes.

Zhao Yao looked at Dust Ball and sneered. “Dust Ball, you chased all the cats from the Extradimensional Belly and used the seawater to spray the cats. You had made a mess of the Extradimensional Belly...”

Dust Ball dashed out and sprawled on the ground. “Zhao Yao, I repent! I know I’m wrong! Please don’t drench me with water! Don’t cut my fur! I’ll work hard to earn money for you!”

Zhao Yao shook his head, walked up and lifted Dust Ball. He stroked his chin and said, “Dust Ball, I have kept you for several years. Why are you so tiny?”

Dust Ball froze and had an ominous feeling. “Huh?”

Zhao Yao examined Dust Ball and said, “You are not plump after feeding. You are disobedient, damage other people’s property and bully other cats. This cannot go on. I can’t keep such a cat here. Why don’t I...”

“Make braised cat meat out of you!”

Dust Ball was so scared she nearly peed. She smiled out of embarrassment and said, “Zhao... Zhao Yao... Are you joking?”

“Am I joking?” Zhao Yao said. “Braised cat meat is delicious. Add some eggs and flavorings...” Zhao Yao threw Dust Ball to Midnight and said, “Go and make some braised cat meat from it. Remember to add a few eggs.”

Napoleon gaped at Dust Ball struggling and wailing as she was dragged into a container kitchen. In the midst of screaming, fresh blood splattered on the doorway.

Napoleon was scared stiff and peed on the ground. He already heard that the Headless Horseman was the public enemy of supercats and a cat torturer. He did not expect the Headless Horseman to be so perverted he ate cats.

“Didn’t you say to work hard and earn money?!!”

“Why did you eat cat meat?!!”

Chapter 966: Accountable

Just as Napoleon was shaking with fright, Zhao Yao hooked his finger and said, “Ares, come here.”

Ares whizzed to the Dimension Portal. “I don’t want to be eaten! I don’t want to die! My flesh is not delicious!”

Ares ran for a few meters before Zhao Yao caught his tail and dragged him back slowly.

“Did you see how fat you are? I’m unable to afford your voracious appetite. Your action of cutting other cats’ fur is deplorable and you messed up the island. I’ll make barbecue cat meat out of you.”

Seeing another supercat being sent into the kitchen, Napoleon was so shaken that he could not stop his teeth from chattering. His tail curled up into a bundle and he peed a large pool of urine on the ground.

“What shall I do? What shall I do? What shall I do?”

“Will I be eaten? Will I be eaten? Will I be eaten? Will I be eaten? Will I be eaten?”

“I’m going to die! I’m going to die! I’m going to die!!!”

The panicked Napoleon was repeating himself in a low voice like a broken record.

An apostle asked, “Napoleon, do you know what they’re talking about? Is this guy Zhao Yao? If he is, shout once. If not, shout twice...”

“D*mn shouting! Why did you drag me to Cat Island?” Napoleon was so angry that he broke into tears. “I was doing well as Elvis in university and you forced me to come to Cat Island. I didn’t find my Elizabeth. Instead, I will be eaten!”

Napoleon became sadder the more he thought and became a wailing cry baby with mucus on his nose and face full of tears. “Whoo-hoo!”

Latte, who was beside Matcha, gaped in fear. He pushed Matcha and pointed at Zhao Yao. Then he pushed Matcha and pointed at Zhao Yao again.

“Maaaaa... tcha!”

“Someone ate a cat!!”

Matcha turned his head, restrained the terrified Latte and said, “Don’t say a word! Don’t attract Zhao Yao’s attention! Follow me and look at your own paws as if nothing happened.”

“But, but! He’s going to eat a cat!! ”

“Don’t worry Latte. He’s scaring them. He won’t eat them,” Matcha said. “You must endure this and remain calm. Even if he doesn’t eat the cats, if we are being targeted, who knows what Zhao Yao’ll do.”

After dealing with Dust Ball and Ares, Zhao Yao looked at Cheese, Diana, and Elizabeth, whose fur was cut. He asked with concern, “Are you alright? Did you have a cold or are you running a fever? If you’re sick, I can only make stewed cat meat out of you.”

Elizabeth, who was lethargic because of the anesthesia, quickly shook her head frantically. “I’m alright. I’m perfectly fine! I’m feeling cool after the fur cut and very comfortable too!!”

“It’s a pity. Stewed cat meat with catmint is delicious.” Zhao Yao showed a hint of regret. He looked at Matcha and asked, “Matcha, Elizabeth and Diana said you cut their fur and Dust Ball said you burnt the catmint farm. What do you have to say?”

Matcha froze as his hind legs became weak. He fell to the ground, unable to stand up.

“I ... I... I... I I, I, I, I, I, I, I ... ”

Hearing Matcha stutter for a long time, Zhao Yao said, “Are you saying that you didn’t do it?”

Matcha trembled heavily as he said, “Yes, yes, yes, yes!”

“If you didn’t do it, who did it?” Zhao Yao’s gaze swept across the supercats.

Project X felt a cold sensation even though he did not have a body. He felt as though cold sweat was forming on his body.

“Why... why do I feel so frightened? Hey, is your plan foolproof? Will Zhao Yao eat the both of us?”

“What plan?” Roly Poly was puzzled. “Why would Zhao Yao eat me? I have just accomplished a great feat for him. I restored order to Cat Island.”

“You forgot you...” Project X was stunned as he spoke. “Roly Poly was too calm. He always communicate with me telepathically. Even if he suppressed himself, he could not be so calm... unless...”

“Did he erase his memory?”

“Did Caesar do it?” Project X looked at Caesar from Roly Poly’s eyes. “If the thoughts of Caesar were being read... wait... Caesar’s memories must be erased. If Roly Poly’s memories were erased and Caesar’s memory of erasing Roly Poly’s memory was erased, then the plot will become a complete secret. Did Roly Poly think of this... when did he do that?”

“Why didn’t I detect it? Unless!!”

Project X looked surprised at Roly Poly, "I'm unable to detect because my memories were erased."

"Why didn't he erase more of my memories? Why did he leave snippets of his plot..."

"Did he intentionally place the memories with me? Because I'm hidden in his subconscious and Sheriff's unable to read his subconscious, so he placed his plot with me?"

"To prevent Sheriff from reading his thoughts, Roly Poly used me as his memory backup." Project X thought. "Roly Poly might be able to..."

Midnight entered and sent a large pot of braised meat to Zhao Yao.

"Boss, this is today's braised cat meat."

He opened the lid and fragrance pervaded the air. Pieces of braised meat floated on top of the soup.

All the supercats were in a state of fear and suspicion.

"Did Dust Ball become braised meat?"

"I don't think so. If it is, Zhao Yao is too..."

"You are efficient Midnight." Zhao Yao tasted the meat with his chopsticks. He chewed as he said, "The meat's smooth and fragrant. It's better than pork and it tastes like beef."

Under the fearful gaze of the supercats, Zhao Yao continued eating the meat and said to Napoleon, "What are you doing on Cat Island?"

Napoleon was more fearful than the other supercats. He peed as he wailed. "I didn't want to come! They forced me to come here! I knew Caesar's family and I grew up with Elizabeth!"

"Don't eat me! I'm your cat! I'm your cat!"

Zhao Yao looked at Elizabeth and asked curiously, “You grew up together?”

“I don’t know him.” Elizabeth turned her head away coldly. “He was singing a different tune when he met me. He said he’s going to capture all the cats on the island. He was not leaving any cats behind.”

Chapter 967: Settling Accounts

After hearing Elizabeth’s words, Napoleon froze as though he was hit by lightning.

“Is this bald and fat cat really Elizabeth?”

“I’m finished. Zhao Yao will know that I’m here for the cats.”

“Am I going to be eaten? Braised or steamed? Steaming sounds very painful!”

Numerous thoughts ran through his mind and it was about to explode. He did not know what to do and looked in a daze at Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao said, “You’re here to capture my cats? You are brave. I’ll...”

“No!” Napoleon recovered himself and shouted in a shrill voice, “Don’t eat me! Don’t eat me, I’ll do whatever you say! Ooo, ooo, ooo, please don’t eat me!”

Zhao Yao finished a piece of braised meat and said slowly, “Whatever I say?”

“Whatever you say!” Napoleon roared, “Don’t eat me! I’ll be your slave!”

“Great, I like your sense of responsibility. Remember your words.” Zhao Yao straightened his body and showed his admiration. “You’ll help me earn money to repay the debt.”

Napoleon heaved in relief and thought, “Finally, I’m safe.”

Matcha and the cats looked at each other and they looked at Napoleon with pity.

Matcha thought, “The future of Napoleon... no... Napoleon has no future.”

Elizabeth thought, “Pitiful cat. Napoleon has to live in Zhao Yao’s shadows.”

Roly Poly thought, “It doesn’t mean Zhao Yao’s going to really eat him. Paying his debt means he’s selling his 10 kilograms of meat to Zhao Yao...” When Roly Poly recalled that he was paying his debt to Zhao Yao monthly, Roly Poly lowered his head and shed tears of sadness.

Zhao Yao counted with his fingers and said, “Since you are willing to pay, then things are easy. I’m a reputable person. I’ll tell you how much money you owe me. I’m a just person. You’ll never pay more nor pay less than your debt.

When you pay for all the damages caused on the Cat Island, I’ll release you.”

Napoleon nodded and he was feeling moved. “Who said the Headless Horseman’s unreasonable and despotic? He’s understanding. I caused damages here so I should compensate.

Fortunately, I’ve been saving up these few years for a house. Should be about five million? I think it’s sufficient to pay...”

“Hmm, let me calculate.” Zhao Yao squeezed his chin and said, “Environmental conservation fees for damaging the trees and grasses... Fees for causing mental anguish to supercats... I’ll give you a discount. An eight figure sum.”

“Eight figure sum?”

“Eight billion.” Zhao Yao said, “I’m giving you a chance. If you transfer eight billion to my account by the end of the month, I’ll let you go.”

“Eight billion?!!” Napoleon stuck out his tongue in shock. He gazed at Zhao Yao and said, “You... could you calculate again? You didn’t use a calculator and you counted in a few seconds...”

Napoleon was angry inside. “You are bulls*itting. How did I cause eight billion in damages?!”

“I don’t have to use a calculator. Don’t think that I’m a normal person. My brain calculates faster than a calculator. Don’t worry, I won’t make a mistake,” Zhao Yao said gently. “How’s that? Are you using Alipay or credit cards?”

Napoleon gazed at Zhao Yao and thought gloomily, “What Alipay? Where can I get eight billion? You are too unscrupulous!”

Zhao Yao looked at Napoleon and said, “What? You aren’t willing to pay?” He took a piece of braised meat and swallowed it as he gazed menacingly at Napoleon.

Napoleon nodded his head and said, “I’m willing... I’ll pay... pay the money!!”

“That’s good.” Zhao Yao took out a piece of paper from his back and put it in front of Napoleon. “Sign and put down your paw print. From now on, I’m your debtor. As long as you pay up, you won’t be eaten. You’ll have peace daily.”

“Yes, I’ll be safe from being eaten and I can lead a peaceful life.” Napoleon signed the paper and printed his paw on the agreement. He thought, “The Headless Horseman is well prepared. I’m able to sign immediately.”

Zhao Yao took back the signed agreement and examined it. He smiled with satisfaction and said, “Good, from now on, you’ll be my cat. What’s your name?”

Napoleon said in a daze, “Napoleon.”

Zhao Yao smiled merrily and said, “Fine, Napoleon, please wait a moment before I make work arrangements for you.” Zhao Yao looked at the humans, who were with Napoleon, and said, “As long as you finish paying for all the damage, I’ll let you go.”

Napoleon heaved in relief. “Everyone will help to pay the eight million. If that’s the case...”

“What nonsense.” Zhao Yao said in surprise, “Each one of you pays eight billion.”

Napoleon gaped for a long time.

An apostle who was tired of living jumped out and shouted, “Eight billion?! Why don’t you kill me? I’ve got no money but you can take my life!”

“Hehe.” Zhao Yao laughed coldly and everyone felt a cold draught blowing on their bodies.

“Tired of living?” Zhao Yao took out his Dragon Slaying Saber from his neck and said, “I’ll never kill the innocent and I’ll never kill you.”

“Thinking of not paying up? Where’s the law and order?” Zhao Yao flicked his finger and the saber turned into a golden ray and stabbed the apostle’s arm.

The apostle screamed in pain and rolled on the ground violently. His gut wrenching screams made everyone’s hair stand up and they felt depressed.

As the saber was about to stab him again, the apostle screamed, “I’ll pay! I’ll pay! Don’t stab me.”

Zhao Yao glanced at other apostles and asked, “Is anyone else not paying up?”

All the supercats felt disheartened. Midnight, Lang Gou and other companions, who were busy in the kitchen, looked at each other and said, “Finally, we’re getting help in the kitchen.”

Chapter 968: Revive

After condemning them to pay off their debt, Zhao Yao curled his fingers and then Ares and Dust Ball, who were tied up and had something stuffed in their mouths, flew out of the kitchen. The supercats who were watching heaved a sigh of relief.

Matcha said, “I knew it. Although Zhao Yao is a bit sadistic, he has not reached the stage where he would eat cats.”

Latte heaved a sigh of relief and fell to the floor. “It scared me so much...”

Napoleon was confused.

Zhao Yao looked at the two cats then looked at the other supercats and said, "I have been very understanding. I do not really control you guys. I turn a blind eye towards those who play games through the night, date, and even give birth.

Zhao Yao continued. "However, you guys caused a havoc on Cat Island when I was asleep. What do you guys want to do? Rebel?"

Zhao Yao looked towards Ares and Dust Ball. They were relieved that they were not going to be eaten. Zhao Yao said coldly, "Ares, Dust Ball, you two are the leaders of the Plantation department and Cat Fighting Unit. Yet, you do not help in keeping order on Cat Island. You brought cats to bully other supercats and caused chaos on Cat Island. You two will not receive any salary for the next year, do you have any objections?"

Although Ares and Dust Ball could not bear to but they didn't dare to have any objections to make. They nodded in agreement.

Zhao Yao turned and looked at the other supercats involved in the fight. "The rest of the cats who helped in the fighting, you will not receive salary for the next half a year. If you guys do this again, I will barbecue all of you."

Napoleon was in deep thoughts when he saw the supercats being punished. "Er... Something doesn't seem right."

When Zhao Yao was lecturing the cats, Sheriff was reading the minds of all the cats. It was to observe their reactions and it was also to find the culprit who burnt the catmint field and shaved Elizabeth's fur.

However, after reading all their minds, especially after the few suspects that Zhao Yao had in mind. There was no result at all, the culprit was not found.

Zhao Yao was thinking, "Every cat on the island is here... Why... unless the cat thought of a way to avoid the mind reading."

In Zhao Yao's mind, there were dozens of ways and combination of powers to avoid the mind reading. However, there was none which could be proven immediately.

“Humph, there is a cat being mischievous again.”

Zhao Yao decided to pretend like he had not noticed and find a chance to catch the cat red-handed.

Zhao Yao looked at Matcha and chatted privately. “Take the blame and I will buy all the runes for you.”

Matcha was stunned and then he spat out his tongue like a dog. “No problem.”

Zhao Yao said, “Matcha, did you shave Elizabeth and Diana fur and burnt the catmint field?”

Matcha spat his tongue and said, “Yes.”

Milk Tea and Latte looked at Matcha. Milk Tea said, “Brother Matcha! You cannot admit it when you didn’t do it!”

Matcha kept his tongue and said coldly, “Humph, I will admit to what I have done. In my life, I have never done something that needs to be hidden away.”

Matcha looked at Dust Ball and Elizabeth. “I have endured you guys for very long. This time it is just shaving and burning, if you piss me off again. I will kill both of you.”

Looking at the angry faces of Dust Ball and Elizabeth, Matcha looked at the sky in disdain. He thought, “Hehehe, am I being very cool and arrogant?”

Zhao Yao frowned and said privately, “It’s too overboard.”

Matcha fell to the ground and flipped over on his back. “Zhao Yao, it was not me! I did not shave the fur or burn the catmint field! I was acting cool just now! It was all lies.”

Zhao Yao said, “There is solid evidence. Stop denying. I will cut your salary for three years and you will be imprisoned. For the next three years, without my permission, you are not allowed to leave Cat Wonderland and Cat Island.”

Roly Poly saw Matcha looking depressed and his eyes were gleaming. Project X was thinking. “Roly Poly has succeeded?”

After dealing with the issues on Cat Island, Zhao Yao also ordered for the reconstruction of Cat Island, importing of catmint and for Napoleon to follow Bai Quan around to work. The apostles who barged onto the island had to pay Bai Quan, if they did not have the money, they would have to work to repay it.

After taking care of all of this, Zhao Yao brought the sleeping Arria and Asser to Sphinx cat’s tomb.

At first, he wanted to settle Sphinx cat’s issue immediately when he woke up. Who knew that he would be met with so many issues that had dragged on till now.

Looking at Sphinx cat’s frozen body, Zhao Yao woke Arria and Asser up.

The two cats crawled up and hugged each other while trembling when they saw Zhao Yao.

Asser: “Zhao Yao! What do you want! I am not afraid of you!” As he spoke, he hugged tighter onto Arria.

Zhao Yao looked at Arria and said, “You have the power to resurrect cats or humans.” He pointed at Sphinx cat and said, “I want you to resurrect him.”

Arria looked at Sphinx cat, who was in an ice coffin and said, “I need the Door of Everlasting Life and it has been destroyed by you. I can’t resurrect anything.”

Zhao Yao grinned. “I know your powers clearly. I will help you create a Door of Everlasting Life...”

When he dragged the two cats into the dream, Zhao Yao did not just scare them. He used all the scenes in it to test the two cats and get more information on how they work.”

Asser had the power to control blood. He could control life by controlling blood, he could also heal injuries and increase powers by absorbing blood.

As long as there was life for him to absorb nearby, he could battle immortally. If he absorbed millions of people's blood, he would temporarily be stronger than Sphynx cat.

For Arria, his powers were more special. He could create the Door of Everlasting Life. Strictly speaking, resurrecting was not Arria's powers, it was the Door of Everlasting Life's powers. Arria's powers was to create the Door of Everlasting Life.

After the Door of Everlasting Life was built, he could revive himself countless times. He could also drag other cats or humans into it and resurrect them countless times.

Of course, such horrifying powers, also had strong side effects or price.

Arria looked at Zhao Yao and answered hesitantly, "The power of resurrection is not without a price. There is no free meal on earth and to resurrect a dead cat it would be even more..."

"I know that there needs to be a price and I also understand the complications behind it. It's okay. I am willing to pay it." Zhao Yao carried Arria and placed him on top of the coffin to see Sphynx cat clearly.

"All I need you to do is to create the Door of Everlasting Life and revive him. I will provide you with everything you need."

Chapter 969: Door of Everlasting Life

"The price to pay for the Door of Everlasting Life is a life for a life right?" Zhao Yao looked at Arria and said, "One of the most important materials in building the door is fresh blood. The blood is best when taken from a life with intelligence right?"

Arria looked at Zhao Yao in surprised. "How do you know?" Then, he remembered his experience in the dream and nodded. It was natural for Zhao Yao to know.

For Matcha and the rest it was just one night but, for Arria and Asser it was an eternity.

After all Diana was Lv15 and when she cast her powers, every second that passed in the real world was twenty plus hours in the dreamscape. If she cast her powers after transforming, the time in dreamscape could be more than thirty hours for every second in the real world,

Arria and Asser was stuck in the dream for the whole night and spent many years in dreamscape.

They were surrounded by zombie Zhao Yao, chased by ghost Zhao Yao, terrified by hundred meters tall monster Zhao Yao and was under pursuit by robotic Zhao Yao across several continents ...

The experience they had in one night was enough for them to write novels of a few million words and of multiple genres like spiritual, sci-fi, city life and more.

Due to the lasting memories of the dreams, they had an ingrained fear of Zhao Yao.

Zhao Yao continued. "I will ask all the cats on the Cat Island to help you build the Door of Everlasting Life as for the fresh blood that you need for building the door, I will be providing that."

"You will be providing?" Arria said. "The amount of blood required is huge. Especially if the blood is not from a being with intelligence, the amount needed will be multiplied by ten times. The last time I built the Door of Everlasting Life, I used animal blood and it took us very long to collect them.

It also has to be a life for a life. If animals are used, the amount of animals needed is also alarming. I could only gather enough animals because I ruled the entire kingdom..."

"Don't worry. I will do it."

When Arria saw that Zhao Yao did not say anything, he thought to himself, "Judging by how cruel this devil is, he may do anything to build the Door of Everlasting Life."

With Zhao Yao's full support, hundreds of supercats used their powers and a stone door that was a dozen meters tall was built in the north of the Cat Island.

It was different from the giant door and fortress in North Africa, there was no need to build Arria's palace here. Only the door would be built. With hundreds of cats using their powers plus Zhao Yao and Bai Quan transporting the materials personally, in less than three days, the general structure was ready.

This day, Arria stood on top of the Door of Everlasting Life and looked at Zhao Yao. “Now, we need to use fresh blood and pour it onto the Door of Everlasting Life to activate it. But... where is the blood you prepared?”

Arria looked at the empty patch of land in front of the door and had no idea where he was going to get a large amount of blood to pour onto the Door of Everlasting Life.

Zhao Yao grabbed Lucifer out from his arms and said, “It’s here.”

Arria was taken aback. “A cat?”

Zhao Yao did not hesitate to stab Lucifer in the chest and accompanied by Lucifer’s groans, fresh blood poured out. The blood splashed across Arria’s foot.

Arria frowned. “One cat is not enough...” Then, he thought. ‘What a cruel and evil guy. How could he do this to his own cats.’

Before Arria could finish his sentence, he saw Zhao Yao left the dagger in Lucifer’s chest. Then, Zhao Yao pressed Lucifer’s body to squeeze out more blood.

“Ahh!” Lucifer was struggling. “Zhao Yao... You... what do you want! Don’t stab me.”

Arria saw how ‘cruel’ Zhao Yao was and chills ran down his spine. “This fellow is too brutal, I better not offend him.”

Zhao Yao looked at the amount of blood Lucifer was producing in dissatisfaction. “This is too little, this will take too long.”

Then, to Arria’s surprise, Zhao Yao released Deflective Field’s sword aura, chopped off one of his own arms and watch the gushing blood pour onto the Door of Everlasting Life.

“You! You! You!” Arria was shocked by Zhao Yao’s action and thought to himself, “This is too brutal! Isn’t this too inhumane? He chopped himself?”

However, after watching a while, he saw the Zhao Yao’s arm heal and grow out then, he understood. “This is the Ultra Rapid Regeneration power? Even if it is Ultra Rapid Regeneration. it will still hurt right?”

He saw Zhao Yao tremble when he chopped off his arm again. Arria thought, “He is so cruel, it must hurt. How can he endure it? However, even if this is the case, wanting to use his own blood to supply the door is ridiculous.”

Five hours later...

Arria was lying on the Door of Everlasting Life in shock, he looked at the puddle of blood under him and looked at Zhao Yao, who was still bleeding. He thought, “This works? Even if it is Ultra Rapid Regeneration, is he a robot? How can he torture himself like this?”

Another five hours passed and Zhao Yao looked at Arria and said, “Is it enough?”

Arria nodded his head. “It is enough.” The Door of Everlasting Life under him was giving off a blood red glow and the red glow grew darker and darker under Arria’s control. It seemed like it was gradually turning black.

In the middle of the door, there was a gust of black smoke and it seemed like the Door of Everlasting Life had been connected to an abnormal dimension that gave out a chilling aura.

Arria shouted, “The Door of Everlasting Life was been opened. In the next hour, there must be life sacrifices for the process to be complete or all the work will be wasted.”

Arria looked at Zhao Yao and it there was a cold gleam in his eyes. “Sacrifice 10 lives with intelligence or 10000 farm animals or 100000 birds or one billion insects... Kill them and throw them into the Door of Everlasting Life. This is the price for opening the Door of Everlasting Life.

All the life has a price with the Door of Everlasting Life. Opening it, closing it, and reviving will all require different prices.”

Looking at Zhao Yao, Arria thought. Using other people's lives to save one of your own, as long as the Door of Everlasting Life is opened, it will be a path of endless slaughter. He is destined to be the world's enemy. What will he do now?"

In the Arria's shock, Zhao Yao walked in front of the Door of Everlasting Life, took a step forward and chopped off his own head.

He watched Zhao Yao's body and head fall into the Door of Everlasting Life. Arria's mouth opened in disbelief and he could only shout. There was only one reaction in his brain.

"F*ck f*ck f*ck"

Chapter 970: The Return of Sphynx Cat

"He actually sacrificed himself?!" Arria was stunned. "Has this guy gone mad?"

He was dumbstruck as he stared at the spot where Zhao Yao had vanished. More black fog billowed out from the Door of Everlasting Life as Zhao Yao's corpse crossed over. The thick black fog continued billowing, as if it was brought to life.

"This guy, just because he wanted to save his cat, he actually..." Arria shook his head. He was still stunned by what had just happened.

At that moment, his image of Zhao Yao had completely changed. What he first thought of as a completely evil, demonic person who bullied the kind and oppressed the weak was actually a genuine, sincere, devoted and humble person, a fool who would actually give up his own life to save a cat.

"What a fool, even if you sacrificed yourself, it would only be one life. What use would that be?"

Arria shook his head ruefully. However, he smiled when he saw that the Door of Everlasting Life had been built. "I'm free again... Now I need to think of a way to open the door and catch some men to work for me so that I can upgrade the Door of Everlasting Life..."

Just as Arria was imagining his great future, he suddenly saw a flash of a human shadow. Zhao Yao walked out of the Door of Everlasting Life in one piece, as if nothing ever happened to him.

Arria's eyes almost popped out of his sockets as he gaped at Zhao Yao, who looked perfectly unharmed. Arria rubbed his face hard with his paws as he stared at Zhao Yao again. It dawned on him that Zhao Yao had really stepped out from the Door of Everlasting Life.

“What's going on? Did the Door of Everlasting Life lose its powers?”

He sensed it again and realized that the Door of Everlasting Life had actually received a sacrificial intelligent life form. There was nothing wrong with the Door.

“What on earth is happening?”

For the whole of that night, he perched atop the Door of Everlasting Life as he watched Zhao Yao bring over the apostles he had held captive with him, Midnight, Lang Gou and gang, as well as Bai Quan and the rest.

Next, Zhao Yao decided to let Matcha lend his time freeze ability to these people. However, when he saw that Matcha's loyalty was full at 100 points, he snatched over Matcha's phone and deleted the runes that he had just gotten from topping up his game credits.

Amidst Matcha's screams, his loyalty slipped by a few points.

Matcha's Loyalty -1

Matcha's Loyalty -1

Matcha's Loyalty -1

...

Next, Zhao Yao let Matcha lend his ability to the apostles before he helped Matcha top up his game credits on Mobile Legends again.

After that, aside from Bai Quan who killed himself, all the other apostles were killed by Zhao Yao and thrown into the Door of Everlasting Life. Thereafter, they were able to revive and walk out using Time Distortion.

Although all the apostles had the power of Time Freeze, they were defenseless against Bai Quan and Zhao Yao, who were far more superior in physical strength. Hence, they had no choice but to be sacrificed.

In less than half an hour's time, the sacrifice for the Door of Everlasting Life was completed. However, Zhao Yao did not stop at that. Instead, he spent the whole night killing and dumping bodies into the Door of Everlasting Life to make up for the number of human lives needed for the Door of Everlasting Life.

When the night had passed, Zhao Yao let Caesar erase some people's memories so that they could forget the whole experience of borrowing Time Freeze and the revival process.

Arria was dumbstruck by the countless number of times whereby Zhao Yao and the others killed people to sacrifice them. He slowly began to understand the rationale behind this.

“This guy's supercats also have the ability to regenerate and revive?”

When Arria realized that, his view of Zhao Yao changed yet again.

Revival is undeniably an immensely strong superpower. The stronger the user is, the greater the effects of the regeneration ability.

Now, Zhao Yao had a Level 10 Matcha. He had the ability of Time Distortion, which allowed him to revive once every three hours. His regeneration abilities could be said to be at the level of Bug.

When such an ability met that of the Door of Everlasting Life, it was a perfect match as it truly maximized the use of the Door of Everlasting Life. It would create an unprecedented synergy effect.

Just like that, he repeated the process of revival with the crowd every three hours and relied on this to fulfil the required sacrifices.

Zhao Yao stared at the cold, foreboding Door of Everlasting Life in satisfaction as it billowed thicker and thicker with black smoke. “This is as good as accumulating revivals using the Time Distortion ability.”

Zhao Yao smiled slightly when he turned and looked at Midnight and the other people who have lost their memories of the previous night.

However, to Midnight and the rest, his smile was creepily sinister and full of bad intentions.

In fact, this was true as Zhao Yao had considered letting these guys commit suicide every night to boost the Door of Everlasting Life.

Even if they could revive, the pain and the fear of death would linger forever. Committing suicide everyday would definitely not be an enjoyable experience.

The only thing to be glad about was the fact that their memories of every night that was to come would be erased. At least they could still feel a sense of novelty in killing themselves every night.

Midnight stared at the black smoke billowing at the Door of Everlasting Life. Though he could no longer recall what the Door was for, he had this lingering sense of uneasiness about it. He could not help asking, “Boss, what is this thing?”

Zhao Yao smiled and said, “This thing is called The Midnight Paramount. There are hundreds of human pleasures beyond that Door. You guys can come here and play every day after midnight from now on. It’s a very fun place.”

Arria thought to himself at the side, “More like hundreds of ways to commit suicide...”

Zhao Yao’s attitude now was unbelievably nice, which made Midnight and the rest feel overwhelmed by his sudden kindness.

However, this was because of the new function Midnight and the rest served for Zhao Yao. In Zhao Yao’s eyes, their utility had surpassed the average man, to the point where they had become human poppies. Keeping them by his side was a much needed boost for him.

Midnight thought, “What is this Zhao Yao up to? Why is he looking at me with such lecherous eyes. Is he...”

Lang Gou glanced at his pants and touched it before he put his hand to his nose to smell. “Why did I wet my pants? How come I don’t remember wetting my pants?”

After pacifying and sending Midnight, Lang Gou and the rest home, Zhao Yao turned to Arria and said, “The price of revival should be enough right? Can I revive Sphynx cat now?”

“It’s not enough,” Arria said, “The Door of Everlasting Life contains 32 lives now. If you let him become my horseman, every life in the Door now can revive him once. However, the cat that you want to revive was not my horseman while he was alive. Also, he had been dead for so long. He is an immensely strong cat as well, so you would need to accumulate at least 100 lives to be enough to revive him.”

The revival ability of the Door of Everlasting Life was interlinked with the deceased’s strength, time of death and the condition of his corpse. The stronger the deceased, the longer his death had been and the poorer the condition of the corpse, the greater the price of revival.

Zhao Yao nodded. The Door of Everlasting Life was actually very similar to his Book in some aspects. There were some rules to be adhered to before one could stand to gain, and there were various transactions involved as well.

However, Book’s function was for completing missions and leveling up supercats, while the Door of Everlasting Life’s function involved the process of sacrificing lives, revival and leveling up, on top of strengthening Arria’s horsemen.

This was also the first time Zhao Yao came across a superpower that worked in a similar way as the Book.

Hence, Zhao Yao spent the next two days bringing apostles to The Midnight Paramount to ‘play’. Once he accumulated a 100 lives, he was finally able to hit the target required to revive Sphynx cat.

Zhao Yao pushed the freezer containing Sphynx cat into the pitch black abyss of the Door of Everlasting Life. Beside him, Arria’s eyes turned bright blue.

The black smoke in the Door of Everlasting Life began billowing rapidly and tumultuous, as if an invisible beast was roaring and charging around within it.

The next moment, a strong cat paw slashed through the black smoke and emerged from the Door of Everlasting Life.

...

At the same time, in the capital city in the North.

A huge group of leaders were gathered together in a conference room. Amidst their confused stares, an elder with a cat in his arms stepped forward.

Starting from the United States, Giggle, who had secretly gained control of numerous political elites in big countries, raised his head. As he stared at the leaders before him, his power of Awareness flowed out instantly, controlling all the political leaders, security and apostles at the scene in a flash...

“From today onwards, your countries all belong to me,” Giggle slowly said, “Just like most other countries on this planet, the only reason for your existence is to ensure that I can lead a happier life.”

“Next, I will be giving you guys two missions.”

“The first mission is to promote Closers World on all fronts. I want every cat and human in your country to play this game.”

“The second mission. Help me find an apostle...”
