

Chapter 103 Surprise

Calliope

My Warriors had search every Hotel and Motel in the area, but so far no luck on finding Umayza and I was slowly losing my patience. Malik was pacing the hall outside our hotel-rooms and I could understand he wanted this over with as soon as possible, after all he wanted to get her home to complete the marking and mating.

Wenonah had looked rather sated when she showed up for breakfast and when Cederick had asked her how her night had been she had told him in detail what she had done. Which caused him to throw me over his shoulder and take me into our bedroom.

He hadn't been gentle when he ripped my panties out of the way and I had screamed in pleasure when he had shoved his rock-hard cock into my pussy. Cederick knows how I like to get fucked and he delivered in more ways than one, he took me in every way he wanted.

It was nearing lunchtime when a Warrior finally linked me with good news, he had found out they were staying in a park on the other side of Blue Crystal Pack and they were not in the cottages at that moment. I informed the others we would be leaving after lunch to get Umayza.

Wenonah had asked Malik what he planned on doing with Umayza and his answer had intrigued both of us, "Whatever I am going to do with Umayza is something you will never be able to think off." He had refused to say anything else after that and I wonder what he could have planned for her.

Wenonah and Cederick had both linked me from time to time to share their thoughts with me on what they thought he had meant and a few of those thoughts had me press my thighs together, but he said we couldn't think of what he is going to do with her.

I am looking at the Park in front of us and Wenonah is standing next to me while Cederick and Malik are checking out the cottages. When I wanted to send Wenonah in Malik had asked if that was smart and when he told me she might get pulled into a memory, which could cause them to get caught I agreed with him.

We wanted to attack the cottage where Umayza was staying and knowing she was with a Squad that only consisted of males I concluded she would have a cottage of her own. Cederick volunteered to join Malik and he actually welcomed Cederick's company.

None of us knows what Umayza smells like, so we have to let ourselves get guided by what we see and I believe Cederick and Malik will be capable of finding the right cottage. It takes them about an hour to narrow it down to the cottage to my left and whoever thought of giving it to her was a smart male, it is the most strategic cottage for her to stay in.

She has multiple ways to escape whoever is attacking her, but they didn't count on me and my determination to get my Granddaughter. I know Cederick will look at every angle and come up with the best plan to get her, he wants her home as much as I do and I will enjoy starting her training.

Cederick and I hope her ability is stronger than mine and that she can relive memories that are older than two years without getting physically ill. If her ability is stronger than mine we will be able to make a very good living, I can ask a lot of money when someone wants to find out something that happened a few years ago.

Not that I have my hopes up, no one in our bloodline has ever been able to relive a memory from a few years ago and I doubt anyone will ever be able to relive memories from more than two or three years ago. Smelling the scent of my Mate pulls me from my thoughts and I look at him to hear what he came up with.

"We will take two Warriors with us to keep an eye on the other cottages and we will stay near the back of the cottage, Malik can go in through the back as she enters the front. He will be able to catch her off guard, marking her will be fast and then we can get out of here." Cederick explains.

I make sure I take two of our most seasoned Warriors with us, I don't want anything to go wrong and these two Warriors have been around long enough to know what I expect from them. We quietly make our way over to the cottage and then the waiting game begins.

Malik just informed me through the mind-link he is going to check on our two Warriors, he wants to see if their point of view on the cottages is enough to warn us in case of trouble. He is barely gone a minute when Wenonah gets grabbed by a female and from the corner of my eye I see Cederick's Wolf collapsing on the floor.

I try to get away from the scene, but it is futile as I get tackled to the floor by a male and another male is quick to grab my arms. I look around to see where Malik and my Warriors are, but I hadn't expected to see Malik holding onto both of them in their Wolf form.

"Mom, what the fuck is Malik doing?" Wenonah asks through the mind-link, but her guess is as good as mine at the moment. Wenonah and I are staring daggers at him, but I doubt it impresses him much and when another male shows up with a bag Malik grabs the silver chains without flinching.

He makes quick work of the chains and cuffs, making Cederick and my Warriors shift back to their Human form. None of them says anything to Malik, but for some reason they trust him and I wonder if he has been playing us all these years.

"Evander, everything okay in there?" One of the males asks and I see a Lycan step into my view. More than half of the males are Lycans and the females are all Werewolves. "Yes, Captain. Conri and Orion are sleeping on the couch in the living room. He answers.

Royal Warriors appear from behind one of the cottages and Council-member Boaz is with them. Looks like I just ran out of luck, I doubt I will get out of this and I think Malik might have something to do with it. Evander walks back into the cottage after he has asked two females to keep an eye on my Granddaughter.

My jaw drops when I hear Evander explain that my investigator had not been completely honest with me and like Wenonah I wonder why I need to know that his Lycan's fur is a silvery color because he is part of a twin. I am annoyed with the fact he thinks I give a damn about the color of his Lycan.

Wenonah voices my annoyance and I want to ask how any of us are supposed to know the color of Umayza's fur, but Evander doesn't waste time as he informs us that she has a silvery colored Wolf. It takes me a few moments before I realize that it means that Umayza is part of a twin.

With the silver cuffs in place I can't link anyone for help or to find Umayza's twin, I can't even link Cederick to tell him about her and I think back on the day we caught up with Baylinn and Gray. How did they manage to keep her hidden from me and why did no one ever see her?

"Calliope, do you want to know why I told you about the color of my fur?" Evander asks and I tell him I already figured it out. "Good for you. Do you know that you have spent quite a bit of time with Umayza's twin?" Not only I stare at him in confusion, so do Wenonah and Malik.

"Umayza was surprised to find out that silver fur meant that she was part of a twin and then she thought she had not only lost her Mother but also her twin, but guess what?" Evander asks. "Her twin survived and was raised by an Omega as her own Pup.

He grew up in a Pack that didn't hold it against him that his origin was unknown, nor did they hold it against him that he was raised by an Omega and he made quite a name for himself. Hell, you even hired him." Evander explains and I am stunned to hear my investigator is Baylinn's Son.

Wenonah is staring at Evander as if she doesn't believe him, but I think I finally figured out why Cederick had felt that there was something strange about him. I see Evander looking behind me and when I turn my head I am looking at my Grandson.

"Did you know?" I ask him. "No, not until Umayza told me her life story. I tried finding answers as I grew up, but I never found any answers. I don't regret my life or the way I was raised and a part of me is even grateful for it. I doubt I would have been in this line of work if I had been raised by my Father and that would have meant I didn't get this assignment.

I wouldn't have been able to warn Umayza about the danger she was in or for me to help the Council catch you. I did have a little help though and I think you already know from who." He answers me as Malik walks towards him with a smile on his face.

They greet one and other and after that he introduces Malik to Evander and his twin Brother. Something tells me he wants to tell Malik something else, but he is smart enough not to say anything in front of us.

Four Royal Warriors show up and they pull Wenonah and me to our feet, before they start pushing us towards the SUV's. Part of me wants to ask Malik why he betrayed me, but I don't ask him anything.
